Sandhills Philosopher

If You Think Quiz Shows Are Rigged, Try Farming

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm brings up a novel idea this week, but he's probably confusing farming with what he does.

Dear editor: Now that everybody has pretty well found out that television quiz shows were fixed, I have been looking around here and doing some heavy thinking and have come to the conclusion that the investigating committee that brought this to light has only scratched the surface.

If you think television quiz shows are fixed, you ought to try farming. Do you reckon farming is fixed?

It has a lot of the earmarks. For example, like a T.V. contestant you start out on a farming year feeling like you're going to hit the jackpot, you've got the answers this time straight from the experts ahead of show time, but when the time comes to cash in, it seems that the producers of the show trip you up and run in another contestant known as the middle man who winds up with the big money.

Do you ever search frantically through the attic of memory for the name of a book? You read it once - it's gotta be there! Yet seek and sort as you will, the name of book or author won't separate itself from a jumble of shadows.

We once loaned a favorite book to a young woman who was new in town. When she returned it, she enclosed a little thank-you note that was really a summing-up of the book's impression on her. And by formulating the thoughts it inspired to share with its owner, she had also deposited a neatly labeled package on her own mental bookshelf.

The other day, thanks to finding the woman at home from whom we once borrowed a book whose title was eluding us, we could polish off an idea while it still challenged. But we aren't always that lucky.

One of the joys of reading is to find a comparison between what happens today and what an author once said so well. A treasure hunt may be prompted by experience, conversation, or more reading, as we try to recapture some fleeting thought that darts to-and-fro across memory's window.

We propose a new type of memory jogger: one to put away in a drawer beside the address book, the birthday and anniversary reminder, and the picture album.

It's a book diary - what we read, who wrote it, what idea and what character was most provocative. Then when we begin midnight fencing with a ghost-like character that won't go away, we could get up and go to the little book and find him! Once he was confronted face to face, he'd either vanish or else fit properly into the pattern of our reverie.

... The 1960 DeSoto, at Batson Motor Company's Showroom

New DeSoto Showing At Batson Motor Co.

DeSoto for 1960 is now in the showroom of Batson Motor Co. The new models feature advancements in styling and construction, billed as having more new features in one car than has been built in any car, DeSoto included.

When a rider is in the seat it will not move. Also included in the "what's new" are the thru-way pilot, ultra-fi record player, plus features such as power assist for brakes, steering, seats and windows, and pushbutton controls for automatic transmission radio and heater.

Starting with the unibody construction, which combines body and frame members in a solid, tightly welded piece of steel, the company has added more room inside. DeSoto's outward appearance is identified by sweeping, unadorned lines. Torsion-Air ride is again included in features of the 1960 DeSoto. The auto will offer choice of four engines, one of which is the new Ram charge engine, most powerful of the power plants. A pair of four-barrel carburetors and a special intake manifold "ram" more air into the combustion chamber similar to supercharging. Other power units are the turbo-flash, adventurer and adventurer Mark I. Automatic swivel seats will be retained in the 1960 model DeSoto, with improved features over 1959 construction. The seats swing out when the door is opened, and are swung back to position and are locked when the door is closed.

Make-Believe

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Philippians	1	18-19
Monday	Luke	13	22-30
Tuesday	Philippians	4	12-13
Wednesday	Job	11	18-19
Thursday	Colossians	4	2-4
Friday	Matthew	19	13-15
Saturday	Romans	11	33-36

This is make-believe . . . tying a bundle to a stick and pretending to set forth upon a great journey. His lively little imagination glows as he thinks of all the things that will happen on his adventure. Maybe, right around that bend in the road, he'll run smack into a big brown bear . . .

And because that's a "scary" idea, he takes off his hat, puts down his bundle, and contents himself with playing blocks in the middle of the living room floor. Yes . . . it's fun to make-believe. But only when you can do it right in the safety of your own home!

Home, just now, is his place. In it, he feels a wonderful sense of security, basking in his parents' love, knowing by instinct that they are there to help and guide him. At night when he kneels to say his prayers, his mother tells him the beautiful story of Christ. She is preparing him for the day when he will go to Church School, when he will become part of the Church. She knows that, during his life, when he actually sets forth upon journeys, the Church will be his home, and that it will help protect and guide him when she cannot.

TOWN AND COUNTRY BY WENDELL TOOLEY

"WELL, COTTON PICKIN'!", that's an expression that we folk of the South have heard all our lives... and it's a saying that means a lot to Lamb County's economy year in and year out. There's a lot of excitement about cotton picking time! As the crop is brought to the gin and grades are returned the farmer begins to sort a get an idea about what the crop is worth... he thinks about being able to pay some debts... his wife is ready to go to town and begin layaway purchases for Christmas, there'll be some money to pay church pledges, and all in all it's a happy time for everyone.

Spade's Longhorn travel to Bula good job of sweeping cotton lint off the sidewalks every morning at opening time... yet subconsciously they're glad to see it... they know it's coming from nearby bins that are running night and day.

Jimmy Guillotine, publisher of the Hereford newspaper is getting quite a reputation for weather predictions... so we'll quote his November forecast of a wet month. Of course that's wheat country up there and a good wet November would suit the bill... if they can get the milo out by then, they have duck trouble up that way again... ducks are bothering the irrigation ditches... eating up the milo. Looks like they'll be good and fat by the time the season opens.

Boy, if all these rumors that we hear of new businesses coming to Littlefield materialize, this is going to be quite a town. We know that around 20 new families are moving to Littlefield each month, we know the town is growing and it's good to see so many old buildings being torn Senate Appropriations subcommittee which handled 96 percent of the total budget. I know from long personal relations with the Senator, that he has consistently worked for economy and a balanced budget, while at the same time sponsoring relatively inexpensive but vital items which have been of great assistance to farmers.

Although Sen. Robertson has received numerous plaudits for this effective work on the several important financial committees of Congress, in the opinion of this writer his religious heritage and religious activities are responsible for his absolute integrity and fairness at all times.

We are most fortunate in having such a large number of men and women as Congressmen and Senators who likewise have religious backgrounds and who are noted for their honesty and devotion. Just to list the names of these men would more than fill this column.

What Are Senators Made Of? At a public meeting of the Ways and Means Committee of the House, in 1941, my wife remarked: "The fourth man on the Democratic side has such a splendid personality; it accents kindness and even a degree of serenity. Who is he?"

When I called on this gentleman (then Representative Robertson in his sixth term as a member of the House) I learned that his father was a Baptist minister, a ripe scholar who could read the Bible fluently in Greek, Latin and Hebrew; that he devoted the best years of his life as a home missionary serving mountain churches in southwest Virginia, or as Rep. Robertson expressed it at that time, "He rode a mule all over those mountains so as to preach in small churches."

As a result of this heritage Sen. Robertson has been an active member of the Senate Wednesday breakfast group which discusses Biblical teachings, and he tried to serve the Nation in a manner pleasing to the Lord.

While a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, in which all tax legislation must originate, the Virginia statesman helped write 12 tax bills, steered the Hull Reciprocal Trade Agreements Program, was largely responsible for simplification of income tax forms, and for the "pay-as-you-go" tax plan.

Economy in Government His fiscal studies first as a member and then as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, served him well on the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, on which he served 12 years before becoming Chairman, and in his work as member of five down and new buildings and parking lots replacing them. It all adds up to a progressive town and progressive people!

WHISTLER, the artist, had a French poodle of which he was extravagantly fond. The poodle was seized with an infection of the throat one day, and Whistler had the audacity to send for the great throat specialist, Mackenzie. When Mackenzie saw that he had been called to treat a dog, he felt incensed, but said nothing. He prescribed, pocketed a big fee, and drove away.

The next day he sent posthaste for Whistler. And Whistler, thinking he was summoned on some matter connected with his beloved dog, dropped his work and rushed to the home of Mackenzie. On his arrival, the great specialist said, gravely, "How do you do Mr. Whistler? I wanted to see you about having my front door painted."

KEN MORLEY writes that there is an old story of three sparrows and a loaf of bread that teaches a good lesson on human behavior. The loaf bounced from a basket as the baker's delivery truck turned the corner. As it hit the pavement a crumb broke off. Almost instantly three sparrows made a swoop for the crumb. When their little argument was over two of the birds flew away without a bite and one carried off a small fragment of bread for his breakfast. But the big loaf lay untouched and unrecognized. We often go through life like the crumbs and let the real source of supply go unnoticed. We struggle for a fragment and fail to see where it came from. The crumb is the pickup, the big prize is right beside it.

Littlefield super markets blast because it's all property of our with a lot of good bargains this week... the Shurline grocers, Foust, Yarbrough, and Renfro are entering their regular Shurline Carnival. I've always said that you can save enough in grocery bargains to more than pay for subscription to the Littlefield newspapers.

Some lucky person will get a 350 Oldsmobile for only $18.50 at Falso-Barcus Sunday. The person under the wheel at 3 p.m. will get the car... and it runs, for only $18.50.

On the department store front, we see that Penney's comes out with the regular EOM (End-of-Month Clearance) and Anthony's offers three more days of the big Harvest Sale.

West Texas State College Homecoming Slated Nov. 7

CANYON - Incorporating the best features of homecomings of the past, the Golden Anniversary Homecoming Nov. 7 at West Texas State College is expected to attract the largest crowd of returning ex-students in the 50-year history of the college.

Preparations are being completed to make the slate of events on Homecoming Day full and attractive to former students. The Homecoming celebration is one of four major observances scheduled for WT's Golden Anniversary.

Homecoming events include a parade, barbecue, football game, club teas, parties, and smokers, and a dance. Pre-Homecoming activities include Western Week, a Homecoming assembly, open house, a B team football game with Texas Tech, concert and play in the new Fine Arts Building.

The 25th anniversary class of 1934 will hold its reunion, and members of the college's early classes will also meet.

Exes planning to attend the barbecue, which will be catered by Walter Jetton Foods of Fort Worth have been urged to make reservations through the Ex - Students Association. Cost per plate will be $1.25.

Registration and a business meeting of the exes are scheduled at 9 a.m. in the Administration Building. The parade through Canyon will start at 10:30 a.m. and the barbecue, to be held in the Fire Arts Building Nov. 6. The music and speech departments will present special short programs, and the art department will hang an exhibition of student art.

Class of '34 and friends will be guests at an open house at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton "Buff" Morris. Members of the early classes will meet in the Education Building on Homecoming Day.

Dr. J. A. Hill, WT president emeritus, will autograph copies of his book, "More Than Brick and Mortar," a history of WT, at the Ex-Students Office throughout the day.

Tech Raiders Meet Tulane

LUBBOCK - Texas Tech's Red Raiders engage Tulane's Green Wave in New Orleans Friday night.

Although the Red Raiders have dropped their last three games, Texas Tech, with a 3-3 mark, is still ahead of the pace predicted in pre-season forecasts. With only five seniors among their 10 returning lettermen from last fall, the Raiders' biggest margin of defeat has been only eight points.

Southern Methodist last week handed Tech its worst defeat by that scant, eight-point margin, 21-13, and was forced to come from behind to do so. Tech this season defeated Texas A&M 20-14, Oregon State 15-14, and Tulsa 8-7 before dropping contests to Texas Christian 14-8, Baylor 14-7, and SMU.

SERVING as freshman senators at West Texas State, Canyon, this year are Ronnie Vaughan of Littlefield, top, Nadyne Faulkenberry of Seagraves, Jo Becker of Dimmitt, and Bill McKenzie of Levelland, seated.

Now Is Time To Think About Terrace System

At the time of year when the road where the land is not terraced, the Lamb County Soil District are thinking of a complete terrace system constructed on their farms.

You will be able to see a definite difference where the rain-fall was held on the land and where it was allowed to run off. Several farmers in the Lamb County Soil Conservation District where there are seven terrace systems installed. One of these is W. H. Cunningham at the crops on the ham, who says that on his farm and compare them he was able to hold all the rains just across the fall he received and also a lot of the water which has been running across his farm from his neighbors farm, thus utilizing a lot of his neighbor's water which normally would be allowed to run into a playa lake and never used by a crop.

J. C. Withrow, who farms south of Sudan, had about 6.5 miles of standard field terraces constructed on his farm last fall. The farm had had terraces constructed on it years ago by the owner who had the farm before Withrow got it, but the terraces had been farmed down and were not functioning properly and the farm had washed quite a bit the last several years.

In 1958, without the terraces on the farm, the yields on grain sorghums ran about 800 pounds per acre and this year with the terraces holding the rainfall on the land, the yields jumped to about 1900 pounds per acre, which at the current market price, represented an increase of about $15.40 per acre over last year's production.

The total cost on the terraces ran about $260 and the increased yield averaged about $1540 for the entire farm. Thus you can see that the terraces actually made the operator money after he paid the cost of construction of the terraces.

Weldon Gibbs, chairman of the 1960 South Plains Maid of Cotton Contest, in announcing the opening of the contest this year, stated, "The Maid of Cotton, as a representative of the 13 million people in the American Cotton Industry, has a very important public relations job to do. She is chosen not on the basis of beauty alone, but on pose, personality and background as well."

An applicant for the South Plains Maid of Cotton must have her home residence in one of the following South Plains counties: Bailey, Borden, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Yoakum. Applicants must be between the ages of 19 and 25; be at least 5 feet 5 inches tall; never have been married; now wear glasses; and have been born in a cotton producing area.

Applications, together with photographs, must be submitted to the South Plains Maid of Cotton Committee, P. O. Box 561, Lubbock, Texas, not later than 12:00 Midday, Nov. 10, 1959. Official entry blanks may be obtained at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, 902 Texas Avenue, or at the local Chamber of Commerce in any of the South Plains counties, or through the directors of the Plains Cotton Growers Association.

The South Plains Maid of Cotton Contest includes two full days of activity on November 23-24, 1959. Preliminary judging will begin at 9:00 a.m. on Monday, Nov. 23, continuing throughout the day. At 9:00 p.m., the Fourth Annual Maid of Cotton Ball will open with music provided by the Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra under the direction of Lee Castle. Dancing will continue until 1:00 a.m. Judging will continue on Tuesday, climaxed by the spriding finals at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 24, in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium. The young lady selected as the South Plains Maid of Cotton becomes an automatic finalist in the National Maid of Cotton Contest in Memphis, Tenn., in January. She will be presented with a $1,000 all-cotton wardrobe and receive an all expense paid trip to Memphis for herself and the chaperone of her choice. This year, which marks the end of a decade of this great event, the first and second alternates in the finals will be presented with gift certificates of $200 and $100 respectively.

Speaking for the South Plains Maid of Cotton Committee, Chairman Gibbs said, "There is no reason why, with the abundance of attractive, charming girls to be found on the South Plains, that the 1960 National Maid of Cotton should not come from this great cotton producing area. We urge participation in this most exciting, interesting, and rewarding experience."

About Your Health

One thing about the "good old days" of yesteryear - people probably didn't have to put up with as much of the pang of indigestion as we modernists do.

There is evidence that the stresses and strains of modern life, the lack of exercise and improper diets, cause the stomach to over-secrete and bring on the aggravating gas and burning sensation of many types of indigestion.

One of the most common forms of stomach upset, physicians say, is caused by nervous excitement. You can likely recall days when an important business deal, an unexpected event, an accident or pressure of work set your stomach churning. The stomach is, of course, largely controlled by the involuntary nervous system.

Hasty eating, improper chewing of food is another common cause. Foods having an irritating effect on stomach lining are important sources of trouble. Among them are those which are highly seasoned with salt and pepper and spices.

Things were different in the "old days. Life was clamer, less hurried and less hurried. And drought will less indigestion.

Modern use of condiments and strongly flavored foods cause the stomach to over-secrete hydrochloric acid. In normal people the stomach tends to neutralize what it over-secretes, but people with ulcers suffer painful "indigestion."

Greasy foods are particularly troublesome for people with malfunctioning gall bladders or liver disease. Fats stimulate gall bladder action, thus creating an outpouring of bile. Extra exertion of the defective gall bladder is felt as a painful cramp.

The degree of ripeness of a fruit or vegetable might be responsible for fermentation in the stomach, causing an unpleasant belching or more severe stomach upset.

Tannic acid is contained in three of America's most commonly used hot drinks. Nicotine, a product of tobacco smoke, is known to be a powerful stomach irritant.

So called persistent indigestion should always be checked by a
