Search For Rutledge Abandoned Monday

The search for Robert Rutledge, a Navy pilot, son of Mrs. W. H. Rutledge of Littlefield, who bailed out of his Cougar jet over the Pacific Friday, was abandoned Monday night.

Forty-one Navy and Coast Guard ships and planes have searched the ocean southeast of Catalina Island for the missing man.

No trace of the pilot or his plane has been seen when the aerial search was halted.

The Navy identified Rutledge as the missing pilot. He lived at 4572 Westview Drive in La Mesa, California.

Rutledge was seen parachuting from his F9F Cougar jet plane at 11:30 a.m. Friday by a fellow pilot from Miramar Naval Air Station, the Navy said. The location was about 15 miles southeast of Catalina Island.

The search began immediately, building up to one of the largest ever conducted in the ocean of Southern California. Propeller-driven planes from North Island Naval Air Station, helicopters from Ream Field, and Navy vessels from Long Beach, including the carrier Philippine Sea, joined the search.

Two PBM's, an amphibian plane, a helicopter, two 35 foot patrol boats and the cutter Perseus were sent to the scene by the Coast Guard in San Diego.

Lt. Commander Walter Bolton, USCG, said a 3,500 square mile area was searched.

Nearly News

BY BETTY WILLIAMS

Dad had his 89th birthday today. I sent him a wire telling him I planned to be there Sunday to celebrate with him. It reminded me of the day he was 70 years old. We were unusually busy at the office and it was almost impossible for me to get home.

I kept telling myself how disappointed Daddy would be if I didn't get home for such an important occasion. Finally, I dropped everything and got so much pleasure in my home that it would be well worth all the struggle.

When the girls and I arrived, they had already greeted us. I asked the question, "Where's Sam?" "Surely was sorry but he was too busy to get loose," I said.

"Daddy grunted, 'If I'm busy you ought to be helping him.' That's exactly how he felt!"

News of Robert Rutledge's plane crash spread a veil of sadness over the entire community. Many families were torn apart by those dreaded "We regret to inform..."

Kind and gentle manner made her happy disposition made her beloved by all of his associates. She had planned and was successful to travel in the company of his only brother, a young Presbyterian minister.

She died long until I had an inkling to her hidden strength. A frail little gray-haired lady so concerned over others she had little time to suffer her personal loss.

If you aren't satisfied, join us

A month ago Josh Simmons came up to me, red in the face and waving his arms, and started to chew out the Chamber of Commerce for "working at the wrong projects and neglecting more important ones."

I soon saw that what he was really angry about was that we were not working at his pet project—a very natural reaction.

There was an easy comeback: "If you don't like the way the Chamber operates," I said, "you can do something about it right now. Why don't you join the C. of C. and use your influence to direct its activities toward the projects that you consider most important?"

"This is a democracy, you know," I continued, "and one of the best places for a businessman like you to sound off about his favorite enthusiasms is in his local Chamber of Commerce. It gets results."

"So take the plunge. Join us. We need men like you. Work with us to make your ideas prevail. You'll benefit local business and yourself as well."

Baptist Youth To Direct Program In San Angelo

Five members of the Hammons University Baptist Union will present a youth rally at Belmore Church, San Angelo, Saturday, John Petry, of religious activities, announced.

The Rev. Jack Strickland, pastor of the church, will be speaker for the rally.

"With farm population decreasing, agriculture is now a minority group," Neuenschwander declared. "Already Labor and Industry are asserting their strength in the state and national capitals. Unless farmers pull together in one united effort, we will never have a higher standard of living on this farm."

Neuenschwander stated that the effectiveness of the American Farm Bureau Federation lies in the fact that it is organized in all 48 states and that it is thereby able to exert influence on all Senators and Representatives in Washington. He said that the Texas Farm Bureau was organized in 187 counties and was a power to be reckoned with in Austin.

Manager Predicts 4.5 Million Will Be Loaned In County

ASC Office Deluged With Grain Loan Applications

ASC office has been deluged Monday with applications for grain sorghum loans. The market is $1.45, and the market is $1.45. D. Aten, manager of the ASC office, predicts that the ASC will loan four and one-half million dollars in grain loans in Lamb County this fall. The yield of the milo is of excellent quality and the dryland milo is averaging 2000 pounds per acre. That yield is considered excellent for irrigated land is averaging 4000 pounds per acre. Grain had received more rain this week. They are looking on the bumper crop of next year's grain.

Calling Saturday to extend congratulations to Drew Watkins and members of the Watkins family for the occasion of the twentieth anniversary in the ginning business in Sudan were Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Fulcher and daughter, and Charlie Tyler. At the left is Mrs. Drew Watkins. In the right foreground is Doyle Watkins, who is associated with his father in the ginning business. (Scott Photo)

Many of the elevators still have gain in storage from last year and will not likely be able to handle all of the grain that will need to be stored.

Aten announced that facilities of the ASC office are to aid farmers and any information may be obtained by coming into the office at the courthouse.

Long Beach Subsidence Is Studied By Prof.

Lubbock—When oil production causes land to sink, threatening millions of dollars worth of industrial property, it is a problem too unique for a petroleum engineer to ignore.

For that reason Prof. W. L. Ducker, Texas Tech petroleum engineering department head, has made a trip to Long Beach, Calif., to make a quick survey of the Long Beach Subsidence.

As oil is pumped out of that petroleum-rich area, the land is sinking. Extensive damage to building foundations, bridges, oil well casing and power cables is the result. While such subsidence is not uncommon in oil fields, this is the first case of land sinking under a large industrial area.

Ducker found that oil companies will attempt to prevent further settling by water injection back into oil reservoirs.

Annual FB Convention To Be Held Oct. 10

Lamb County Farm Bureau will hold its annual convention in the District Court room on October 10, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Herman Neuschwander, President of the group has asked that all resolutions be turned into the Farm Bureau office in writing, before the convention.

Election of officers for the county-wide group will be held at this meeting and also election of 3 new community directors.

Resolutions passed at this meeting will become policies to run the county organization and the resolutions that apply to State and National will be sent to them to be voted upon at the State Convention in Dallas in November at Dallas.

Jack Wattenbarger, General Agent for the Southern Farm Bureau Casualty Ins. Co., Kenneth Boone, Special Agent for Citon and Springlake, and Freddie Maxey, Special Agent for Pleasant Valley and Earth have been selected to entertain at the Banquet of the Texas Farm Bureau Convention in Dallas on November 18, 1957.

Winter Pasture Pays Off Says Specialist

College Station — Winter pastures are not an expense — they are an investment. They are the only dependable source of green grazing in the late fall, winter and early spring. Good quality winter grazing can help to reduce the cost of wintering livestock and to maintain growth and production, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist.

Winter pastures pay off from the soil standpoint, too, points out Trew. They cover the soil preventing severe erosion and the roots add organic matter.

The seed should be planted at the proper time even if dusting is in necessary, advises the specialist. Operators who have planted at the regular time in the fall — even when they had to dust the crop in — were way ahead when rain did come. The plants came up, grew off and gave grazing much sooner than where seeds were not sown until after the rain. However, some subsoil moisture is usually necessary for successful dry seeding.

A legume-grass combination often gives the best winter pasture, notes Trew. Such a combination often gives greater total production, a forage that is higher in protein and minerals and a grazing season that is frequently extended over a longer period of time. Annuals such as oats, barley, rye, vetch and sweetclover are among the plants most frequently used for winter grazing.

Sod seeding is beneficial in two cases — when the operator doesn't have enough cultivated land to allow planting the needed amount of winter pasture and when winter pastures on a prepared seedbed are too wet to graze for long periods. In most cases, oats (sometimes ryegrass) are planted into a Bermuda or dallisgrass sod. For successful sod seeding, he says not to seed until the Bermuda sod is dormant or practically so and use ample fertilizer.

The importance of fertilizer cannot be overlooked. It pays big dividends when needed. Trew recommends a soil test to determine the soil requirements. For information on adapted varieties, disease susceptibility, earliness of grazing and planting suggestions, Trew says to ask local county agents for L-258, "Winter Temporary Pastures."

The fellow who burns the candle at both ends is not always the fellow who gets the most work done.

Beer Tax Nets 4 Million Dollars More Than Corn And Onions

Brewing Industry Contribution To Texas and National Economy Mounts; Beer Taxes Aggregate $33,422,000 in 1956 for 130 Percent Increase in 10 Years

NE WYORK, Sept. 30 — Texas' entire corn and onion crops brought farmers $4,018,000 less than was collected in taxes on beer and ale in Texas last year, the United States Brewers Foundation reported today in a special economic review.

Taxes on beer and ale in Texas amounted to $33,422,000 last year, including $14,957,000 in state collections, and $18,465,000 in federal taxes. These aggregate taxes were $18,903,369, or 130 per cent, more than in 1946, indicating the brewing industry's increased impact on the state and national economy. State taxes over the 10-year span increased $11,508,722, or 334 per cent, while the federal taxes jumped $7,394,547 over the same period.

By way of comparison, Texas' farmers last year received $14,742,000 for their onion crop and $14,654,000 for their corn crop, according to recently released U. S. Department of Agriculture statistics.

Texas' six breweries rolled 2,677,148 barrels of beer and ale off their production lines last year, 44,909 barrels less than in 1955, but 686,000 barrels, or 49 per cent more than 10 years before, the Foundation disclosed. Texas ranked 16th among the nation's leading beer-producing states in 1956.

Last year 96 per cent of Texas-produced beer and ale sales were packaged and 4 per cent draught compared with the national average of 78.9 per cent packaged and 21.1 per cent draught, the Foundation reported.

Breweries in Texas used a whopping 118,069,218 pounds of premium grade agricultural products last year, indicating their purchases included $8,204,400,000 worth of farm products, the Foundation reported.

374 pounds of barley, 100 pounds of corn, 2,217,500 pounds of rice, 250 pounds of soy bean products, 100 pounds of sugar and 500 pounds of hops and extracts.

Texas had the distinction of sharing honors with New Mexico for showing the greatest increase of per capita consumption over the last decade. Texas increased their consumption of malt beverages from 11.2 per person in 1946 to 14.1 per person last year. Texas consumed 4,136,575 barrels of beer and ale last year, 40 per cent less than in 1955, but 1,942,000 more than in 1946, or 59 per cent more than 10 years before, the Foundation reported.

First Football Games Drew Crowd Of Ten Spectators

Ever thought about how football originated in Littlefield? Where the first games were played? Who the coach was? How many players or who they were?

The first Wildcat Football team was organized in the Fall of 1922. Hopping, a member of that team said that the games were played on what is now the school playground about the oil well is located.

Eight or ten spectators watched the games. Hopping Shepherd was the coach. There were twelve players. Even played and the one who played whatever position needed him.

Members of the team were Hopping Gray, captain; Foss Parker, Earl White, Ross Leonard, Wright, Alph Todd Williams, Cecil Lloyd Springer, Bonn Milton and Luther Hargrove.

Hopping recalled that the first games were the worst in Littlefield's history. The game was played with Ploinview "skunked" the Cats, 78-0. Lubbock then paid $40 to play them. Lubbock then a worse "skunked" the Cats, 108-0. Several received a broken nose, arms, and several broken ribs. That gave him a week's stay in the hospital. The substitute Bonn Hamilton, then took his place on the team and Hopping became the substitute.

Jokingly, Hopping said that that started the team on a winning streak and from then on that season they won, except for Slaton, who beat them 18-2. They beat Brownfield, Farwell and Hale Center.

Regardless of what happened that year, it was Littlefield's best football team, for that team inaugurated football in Littlefield and gave the team the Wildcat tag. And to many opponents, the Cats have proved to be Wildcats from that year to date.

Whitharral PTA Honors New Faculty Members

Whitharral (Spl.) — The first meeting of the Whitharral P.T.A. for the year was held Tuesday evening with Mrs. Ralph Wade, presiding. A welcome was given the faculty members.

Teachers and parents from each class were counted and the fifth grade was given the $2.00 prize for having the most representation.

All parents are urged to come to P.T.A. and help their children win the prize for their class.

Coffee, "cokes" and cookies were served in the luncheon following a "special get-acquainted" hour.

Members of the National Honor Society and the Future Teachers of Littlefield High School served as ushers and gave information to visitors at Back-to-School night Monday night at the high school.

State Fair To Open Sunday

The 1957 State Fair of Texas will open Saturday, Oct. 5, for sixteen days and will run through Sunday, Oct. 20.

The traditional opening day parade through downtown Dallas will start at 10 a.m. Saturday and will be led by Governor Price Daniel, who will then officially open the Fair.

The opening day will be Rural Youth Day, and more than 100,000 Four-H club boys and girls, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers are expected to attend from every corner of Texas.

Top entertainment attractions of the Fair this year include "My Fair Lady," the Ice Capades, the Aut Swenson Thrillride, the free Aztec-Mayan Spectacular, the Jimmy Savo Show, and of course the million-dollar Midway.

The beef and dairy cattle, swine, sheep and goats entered in the Pan-American will be on display throughout the first week of the Fair, and the steers, dairy heifers, lambs and pigs of the Junior shows will be brought during the second week. There will be horse shows all three weekends of the Fair.

Unusual things to see at the Fair will include the "miracle" kitchen that performs household tasks electronically, a replica of the earth satellite, the Army's newest guided missiles, Santa Fe Railroad's antique, Cyrus K. Holliday train, free home-sewing fashion shows, the futuristic "idea cars" in the Automobile Show, the big Food Show, the International Center with exhibits from any foreign countries, the latest farm machinery, the Agriculture Show and its bounteous product displays and literally a thousand-and-one other free exhibits.

Cosden Petroleum Ends Biggest Year In History

BIG SPRING, Texas—With the closing of its fiscal year on April 30, 1957, Cosden Petroleum Corporation, with general offices in Big Spring, completed the biggest year in its history. As part of a continuing program of expansion and diversification, the corporation added more than $16 million to its properties while boosting its sales volume 30 percent for the year, according to R. L. Tollett, president.

Of the $16,754,698 capital expenditures last year, $8,800,000 went to increase crude-oil production and to boost crude-oil reserves. Virtually all of the balance went to the corporation's refining division.

Expenditures within the refining division included the purchase of refineries at Hawley and Colorado City, Texas, with daily capacities of 7,000 and 12,000 barrels respectively. Cosden's pipeline system was extended; marketing properties and facilities were improved and expanded; and some $4½ million went for additions and improvements at the Big Spring Refinery.

The Big Spring plant's Rexformer was completed and in operation in July, 1956. The first wholly-integrated unit of its kind anywhere, the Rexformer produces a blending component of automotive gasolines. The product is re-cycled to reach an octane count exceeding 100. It makes possible the upgrading of all gasolines produced by Cosden.

Cosden's styrene plant, completed last February, attracted the attention of refiners everywhere through its completely-new processing concept. It is the first plant ever designed for recovering ethyl benzene from gasoline by distillation. Its four ultra-fractionation towers—each almost 200 feet high—are among the tallest ever erected. These towers separate ethyl benzene from a stream of mixed xylenes. Then the ethyl-benzene product is converted into styrene monomer, base material for many of today's plastic products and a component of synthetic rubber. Purity of Cosden's styrene is described as having established a new standard in the industry.

Other improvements made last year at the Big Spring Refinery include a new personnel building, additions to steam generating capacity, and a number of auxiliary features. Additionally, Cosden's crude-oil gathering system was expanded from 125 miles to 293 miles of lines, ranging from two to eight inches in diameter. Also under lease as a common carrier is a system of products pipelines lining the Big Spring, Hawley, and Colorado City refineries and available for delivering products to Cosden's Abilene products terminal and to air force bases at Abilene and Big Spring.

Largest single property investment is the refinery at Big Spring. Last year, this plant processed 12,144,135 barrels of crude oil and natural gas liquids—an increase of 605,814 barrels over the year before. The Hawley and Colorado City refineries, both acquired late in 1956, accounted for an additional 1,721,238 barrels processed before the fiscal year's end.

Dollar volume of refinery product sales was up 30 percent last year. About half the increase was from the two new refineries. Approximately half of sales revenue is from automotive-grade gasolines—both those marketed by Cosden and those custom-refined to other marketers' specifications. Other products, asphalts, residual fuels, aviation gasolines, jet fuels, and 24 plugged as dry holes. Drilling accounted for a net increase in reserves of 3,184,541 barrels.

Direct purchase accounted for another gain of 3,896,106 net barrels in reserves. These purchases included a one-fourth interest in 17 wells on seven separate leases in the Jo-Mill Field, Borden County, Texas, and other leaseholds acquired when Cosden bought the Colorado City refinery. Daily average crude-oil production last year was 4,091 barrels; it was 2,791 barrels the previous year.

According to Cosden's annual report, released at its stockholders' annual meeting last month, (Sept. 16, 1957) this program of expansion and product-diversification is scheduled to continue into the future. It is a management program that has brought the corporation from bankruptcy in 1938 to become one of the world's largest independent inland refineries today—a profitable holding for nearly 7,000 stockholders.

"Present indications," states corporation president Tollett, "are that gross sales during the current fiscal year will cross the 90-million-dollar mark, and net income will exceed 7 million dollars for the first time in Cosden's history."

This is one corporation's contribution to oil progress, exemplified in most of its advertising by one line that reads, "... and at Cosden, progress is part of the plan."

Improvement In Child Support Laws Proposed

TYLER, Oct. 3 (Sp.)—Improvements in Texas support and custody laws to eliminate present hardships on dependent children and their parents were proposed for the legislative program of the State Bar of Texas' Judicial Section, meeting here today.

Judge Sarah T. Hughes of 14th District Court at Dallas made the recommendation in her programmed speech before the State's Judges.

"Family law is probably the most important phase of the law," Judge Hughes said.

"It is likely to work a distinct hardship on a mother who lives in Texarkene with five children if she has to bring a suit for support in El Paso, where the father resides. The result in all probability will be that there will be no sense of responsibility. The statute provides that the father, as well as the mother, may be ordered to make periodic payments."

Judge Hughes also expressed her opinion that, among changes, court decisions should be clarified concerning custody of a child.

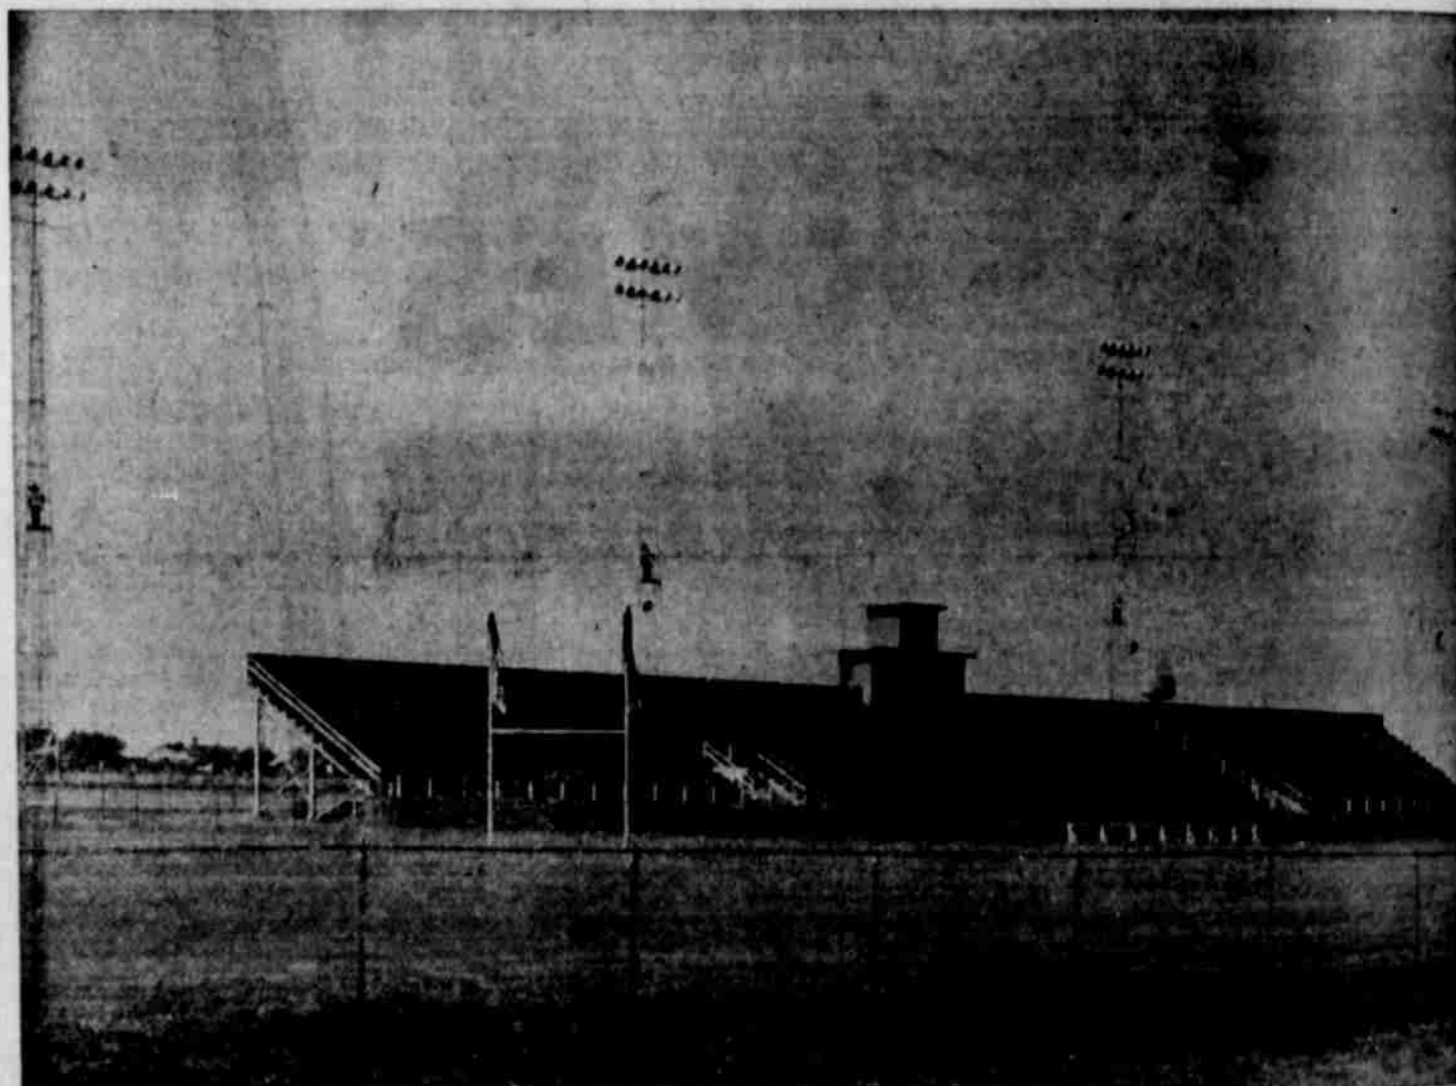

"It seems to me that there should be a clear case of a child which would fit the child before a court award is changed," she said.

"Too often where there is the slightest change in custody, the parents all too frequently are not concerned with the child as much as wanting to hurt the other. Emotional conflicts are created in the child which may result in serious permanent damage."

Fire is the test of gold. The strength of strong men.
