TEXAS AUTO FEES CUT $11,000,000 TAXES COMING IN

State and county taxes which became due October 1st, are coming in much better this year than last, according to Collector Len Irvin, who states that this year's automobiles license tax will be due January 1, instead of December 1, as of last year,
although the 1930 plates were received a month ago.

Texas automobile owners will have $11,000,000 pocket change left over after January when they register their cars for the new year, as compared with the costs this year, said Mr. Irvin.

The four-cent gasoline tax will gradually absorb much of this, having been raised from 2 cents this mid-year, but this will be taken so gradually that it will be painless.

License fees for 1930 will range from one-half to two-thirds this year's cost. Light cars will run just half, with a sliding scale based wholly on weight, ranging up to two-thirds the old fees on the heaviest passenger cars.
The reduction will average $10
each on the 1,000,000 cars to be registered.

Registration cannot start until January 1, the attorney general's department has ruled, and must be finished before midnight of February 1.

Present combined weight and horsepower basis for fixing the license fees
has been abolished, and weight alone will govern the fees in 1930. A scale of weights and costs has been prepared, by which the owner of a car may figure out for himself what his new number plates will cost him. Weight of his car can be ascertained from his present registration slip. To this 100 pounds for water, gasoline and oil will be added. Following is the table of charges on the various weight brackets:

| Weight     | Cents per 100 lbs. |
|------------|--------------------|
| Up to 2000 | 28                 |
| 3001-3500  | 36                 |
| 3501-4500  | 46                 |
| 4501 up    | 50                 |

UNION SERVICE AT BAPTIST CHURCH ARMISTICE EVENT

Special union services will be held Sunday night at the Baptist church in observance of Armistice Day, the sermon to be delivered by Rev. Geo.
Turrentine, pastor of the Methodist church.

"Happy" Jordan and his community
chorus will have charge of the music for the occasion.
Everyone, regardless of church affiliation is invited to join in this patriotic service.

An offering will be taken for local charities.

Close Armistice Day

Practically all business concerns in Littlefield will be closed next Monday, Armistice day, from 9:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m., according to report.

Perhaps with some it will be just another day of rest and recreation;
but with others it will be a day of patriotic sentiment. Some will attend special religious services, while others, among them many ex-soldiers will join in celebrations of various kinds in keeping with the token of the day.

BECK TO SERVE 66

Phillips Petroleum station on South
Main street, has returned to his home in Lubbock.

His place is being taken by Ben R.
Beck, formerly of Littlefield, who will have charge of the station in the future.

Mr. Beck is well and favorably known here, and his return will be pleasurably greeted by many of his old friends.

THE THANKSGIVING TURKEY MARKET IS NOW OPEN IN LFD.

Present indications are that the turkey market in West Texas, which opened Wednesday of this week, will average around 10 or 12 cents per pound lower than this time last year.

On account of large turkey productions in other states the market future now looks rather bearish, and local turkey raisers are urged to not delay excessive length in disposing of their birds, according to a local dealer.

It is pointed out that following local buying, and then concentrating for dressing, that it takes birds an average of eight days to get by freight to the New York markets, November 24th being the latest date
freight shipments of turkeys can arrive in New York city for the Thanksgiving market. Birds shipped from Littlefield later than the 13th to 15th must naturally go by express in order to make the market, consequently the price paid for them will be correspondingly lower as the cost of transportation increases.

According to the last issue of "The Produce Packer," Kansas City, official organ of produce dealers, Texas buyers of turkeys from the eastern market are going to be scarce this year,
those in the market now demanding a cost reduction of around 10 cents per pound under that paid for such birds
last year.

Needless to say grades will be more strictly adhered to this year and the grower with large well fed birds will benefit by the top prices.

ALL FORD AUTOS REDUCED IN PRICE EFFECTIVE NOW

Substantial reductions have been made in all Ford cars and trucks, effective at once, according to John H. Arnett, Littlefield dealer, these reductions amounting from $5.00 to $200 each, according to model.

A detailed list of the reductions is being advertised by the Jno. H. Arnett Motro Co., in this issue of the Leader.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS MEET

At the Camp Fire Girls meeting
Tuesday night there were 19 present.
The girls sang new and old songs.
Later they discussed ways and means of getting funds. There were three new members added to the list.

They are hoping all of the members will attend the next meeting to be held Tuesday, November 12. The meeting will start about 7:00 o'clock
p. m.

It's great to be a Texan!

COTTON GINNINGS

As this newspaper goes to press,
a report from the four local gins
in operation here shows a total of 6,903 bales of cotton ginned to date.

There have been 17,000 bales
turned out by the local compress.

NEGROES TO BUILD CHURCH AND HOMES ON 50 ACRE TRACT

A meeting of Littlefield's colored citizens was held Sunday afternoon
in the basement of the First Baptist church, at which time a campaign for the selling and populating of 50 acres by the negroes of this section.

The meeting was opened by Prof.
E. J. Hoffman, former superintendent of the Slaton colored public school, who was followed in address by E. A. Bills, stating the purpose of the meeting, and that Littlefield would welcome into her midst colored citizens of quality and character, who were thrifty and industrious, also, emphasizing the value of a particular plot whereon they may build their homes and have their religious and educational circles.

Rev. Joe Grizzle, of the First Baptist church, tendered the negro people the use of the church's basement
each Sunday afternoon at three o'clock for their services, until their own church building was completed.

Mayor Otto Jones told of the occasion of a tract of land, comprising 50 acres, lying north of the Santa Fe railroad and east of the Farm Bureau gin, stating that as soon as the population of the new section warranted it, the city would give electric light and water service.

It is understood several lots have already been sold in the new addition,
and some buildings have been started.
A colored Baptist church is to be erected in charge of J. E. Bailey, pastor, and a school building will be constructed for the benefit of the children of that race.

Another public meeting will be held
in the basement of the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon, November 17.

Prof. Hoffman assured those present that the leaders of his people would do everything within their power to bring here people who would make good dependable citizens of the town and respected farmers of the rural community.

FUTURE FARMERS OF L.F.D. VISITED DALLAS ST. FAIR

Delegates from the Littlefield chapter of the Future Farmers of America attended the state convention at the Dallas Fair. Over thirteen hundred boys from all parts of Texas attended this convention. Some of the schools close to Dallas had their entire membership present. Saturday, October 27 was set aside by the Fair officials as Future Farmer Day. Four hundred and fifty delegates and their advisors were taken care of in the Encampment building, and were given their meals free. The others were given rooms in the Jefferson and Adolphus hotels at very reasonable rates.

At the meeting a new constitution was adopted, and it was voted to make the convention at Dallas an annual affair. About four hundred and fifty schools in Texas now have organized Future farmer chapters. There are four grades of membership, the Green Hand, The Farmer, Lone Star Farmer and American Farmer, which are based upon achievement and qualifications.

Those representing Littlefield were Paul Roberts, president of the local chapter, and Melvin Ross, secretary.
Others who attended were H. B. Hutson and Parker Burford. R. A. Box, their instructor and advisor, accompanied them. All report a very good trip, the exhibits at the fair being worth making a much longer trip to see.

ROTARY CLUB MEET

The Rotary club meeting last Thursday noon was just one per cent short of total membership when Member Dick Weaver took charge of the program, which he conducted in a snappy and interesting manner.

Miss Sue Brannen gave a very interesting reading on "My Home Town," and Jake Hoping, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Hoping, sang a very pleasing number.

It was announced that Clyde Hil-
bun, Jimmie Ware and Joe Grizzle had been enmeshed in the cogs of Rotarianism, and a speech of welcome by J. S. Hilliard was made to the new members.

HUGHLY GIVES BOND

Sheriff Len Irvin returned Saturday
from El Paso where he went in connection with an alleged charge of grand larceny preferred against E. A.
Hughly, during the last session of the grand jury.

Hughly gave bond in the sum of $1,000 remaining in El Paso.

A DOUBLE HEADER BASKETBALL TILT HERE FRIDAY NITE

A double header basketball game is scheduled to be played at the high school gymnasium Friday night, beginning at 7:30.

The first game played will be between Littlefield and Olton High school girls teams. Much rivalry exists between these two quintets, and a hard fought game is assured.

The second game will be between the Littlefield Athletics, a team of young men experienced in the tossing
art, and a men's team from Lubbock.
The Lubbock team is composed of players who are all either past or present college stars. This is to be a meeting of the two best teams in the Panhandle, and will be an exhibition of rare interest.

Littlefield Athletics

The Littlefield Athletics club was organized October 1 with a membership of 15, and since that time has been rapidly growing, from 15 to 20
members being present at each meeting.

Much interest has been shown in the basketball team put out by the organization, and recently 10 fifty new suits have been ordered, which the members will don next Friday night for the first time. The fans are assured of a real night's entertainment in the fast games to be put up by the Littlefield lads and the girls
high school team.

Music will be furnished by the Littlefield band.

Game at Tech.

Thursday night the local Athletics
play the Texas Tech. team at Lubbock. Under direction of Coach Vic Payne, the Tech aggregation has been doing some rigorous fundamental work during the past month in anticipation of this particular coming game.

The Athletics have four other games scheduled with Tech. this year, two being in Littlefield and two to be played in Lubbock. The local club deems themselves fortunate in securing these games with the Tech.
team, which this year promises to be the best five-ball organization in the history of the school. Fans of this section may look forward to some interesting sport in the basketball line
this winter.

Oklahoma Man Buys 671 Acres of Yellow House Land Paying $23,485.00

That P. M. Hopper, of Seminole county, Oklahoma, is sold on the Littlefield country in general and the Yellow House lands in particular, is evidenced from the fact that he has just closed a deal for the purchase of 671 acres of this fine land, paying spot cash for it and at the rate of $35.00 per acre.

He has had the tract cut into six separate farms, on which he is now erecting six distinct sets of improvements, his son to occupy one of them.

It is understood that he is negotiating with this company for the purchase of another large tract of this same kind of land.

The College Press Club organized by Miss Fields, is making rapid progress. More work will be accomplished by the following officers: Mrs. Ava Berry Shelton, Editor-in-chief, Nova Austin, Assistant Editor; E. W. Wooten, Business Manager; Viola Fisher, News Editor; Addie Hammons, Joke Editor; Clifton Winans, Athletic Editor; and Class reporters, Karrol Kitching, Edwin Brannon, Addie Hammons, and Thelma Smith.

Edwin Brannon of Winters, has enrolled in the college this week. He comes from Winters High School.

Mac Weatherford and family are arranging to move on their ten acre tract, which they have recently bought from the college.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Latham and son Hillman, of Woodson, were visitors on the campus.

THINKING

If you think you are beaten, you are; If you think you dare not, you don't. If you'd like to win, but think you can't,

It's almost a cinch you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you're lost, For out of the world we find Success begins with a fellow's will, It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you're outclassed, you are;

You've got to think to rise, You've got to be sure of yourself before You can ever win a prize.

Life's battles don't always go To the stronger or faster man; But sooner or later the man who wins Is the one who thinks he can.

High School Organized

The high school classes met and organized into a high school group with the following officers: President, Clifton Winans, Vice-President, Jack Vaughn; Secretary, Thelma Smith; Reporter, Karrol Kitching. Program and social committees were appointed, and Miss Fields was elected sponsor. The colors chosen were blue and white, and the motto selected was: "Go anywhere as long as you go forward." This organization planned to give programs in the student assembly general assembly and on other occasions. A short one act play was planned for Wednesday morning Dec. 4th at 10:00 o'clock to which the public will be invited.

Girls' Athletics

The Girls' Athletic club is showing a spirit of enthusiasm and interest in their meetings, both in-door and outdoor, under the able direction of Miss Robertson. This club meets three times each week for either basketball, tennis or gymnasium work. The new suits selected for basket-ball will be here soon. The match contests, which were scheduled for last week, were postponed on account of the bad weather. Tennis contests have been held between members of the club and members of the faculty.

Have Pep Squad

Real "pep" and enthusiasm was shown at the students assembly meeting last Friday night. Oh, boy! we have a real pep-squad with Jack Vaughn, leader. You should have heard our pep-songs and yells. Athletics were discussed, and further arrangements were made for the boys' basket-ball team. Mr. Kitching will be coach.

The work of the college is progressing fine, and more interest is being manifested by the organization of the various clubs. Some of the clubs have been at work actively, and more work and play will make and is making school life more interesting.

Pleasure in Achievement

Our times of greatest pleasure are when we have won some high peak of difficulty, trodden under foot some evil, and felt day by day so sure a growth of moral strength within us that we cannot conceive of an end of growth.—Stopford Brooke.

FOR SUCCESS IN GROWING CATTLE

Success in growing cattle for market depends to a large extent upon the start which is given the calves. This, aside from the calf's breeding, is probably the most important consideration. In straight beef production only a small quantity of feed in addition to milk is needed for the calves up to weaning time, but nevertheless they should be taught to eat grain and hay so that the change during weaning will not result in loss of flesh.

When calves are intended for baby beef they should be started on some grain when between four and six weeks old. A mixture of equal parts, by weight, of shelled corn, whole oats, and wheat bran is satisfactory. The corn and oats may be fed ground until the calves become accustomed to eating; then they may be fed whole. When fed whole they are less likely to cause scours. The grain allowance should be increased gradually up to weaning time so that the lack of milk will not hinder growth and fattening.

Calves from cows that are milked should be taught also to eat supplemented feeds within a few weeks after birth. The quantity of grain and hay consumed at first necessarily will be limited, but should be increased gradually until the calf can do without milk when from six to eight months old. Fall calves that are fed skim milk and other feeds during the winter months put on very good gains on pasture the following summer.

After weaning, alfalfa or clover hay and silage may form the greater part of the roughage and one-half to three-fourths of a pound of cottonseed meal or linseed meal given in addition to grain. The grain ration may be increased gradually until the calves are receiving a fattening ration.

Calves that are to be finished on pasture may be handled in about the same way as those to be fattened in the dry lot. The grain allowance may be smaller at first but after the calves are turned on pasture it should be increased as they become able to utilize greater quantities of grain.

Calves that are to be "fed out" as long yearlings or two-year-olds or sold as stockers and feeders may be fed considerably more cheaply during the first winter. The winter ration may consist principally of silage and cheap roughages, but some concentrates should be used to keep the calves growing in a thrifty condition. They should be run on pasture the following summer and sold in the fall as feeders or fattened out the following winter as long yearlings. If it is desired to keep them longer, the cattle may be "roughed" through a second winter and fattened the next year.

Salt Fed Regularly to Hogs Ideal Plan

Salt fed regularly to hogs will pay in added pounds of pork. Without it they cannot make the fastest and most economical gains nor remain in the healthiest condition. Hogs do not need as much salt as cows, but they must have some in order to carry on the digestive functions properly. Salt is used chiefly in making the hydrochloric acid of the digestive juice.

Salt may be fed free choice style to hogs. However, if they have been without it for a long time there is danger in feeding it that way until they become accustomed to it. A pig getting too much salt will die of salt poisoning. There is little danger if it is fed in the form of large hard chunks or bricks.

If hogs are used to salt it may be fed in flaked form in boxes or self feeders. It is well to mix the salt with the feed. A pound of salt to 100 pounds of feed mixture is sufficient. Salt may also be added to the mineral mixture.

Colt Needs Attention During Winter Season

A colt should be fed rolled oats or coarse ground oats three parts and one part coarse bran. Begin feeding as soon as it is a month old, using about one-half pint of this mixture, and increasing it according to the breed and size of the colt until at six months old it is receiving four quarts daily on good pasture and good hay. If the foal's dam is working, wean it at four months of age; otherwise at five to six months of age. If milk is obtainable, begin at weaning time feeding the colt one quart three times a day. This will produce bone and tone up the coat. Above everything else, remember to have the colt out in the sun every day that it shines. Keep it out of rainstorms and snowstorms after the winter coat begins to grow. Brush the coat often.

Garbage-Fed Hogs

There still is a great difference of opinion among producers of garbage-fed hogs as to whether the hog raised on garbage from the beginning is better than if on the market at about 100 pounds weight. As a rule the hog accustomed to garbage early in his life should be more successful, since this feed is bulky and a greater stomach capacity is necessary. The hog raised on garbage is started as a garbage-fed pig and his stomach is capable of being distended.

RECENT WALL STREET CRASH SHOULD BE A VALUABLE PATIENT THRIFT LESSON TO ALL

By S. W. STRAUS, President
American Society for Thrift

The recent disturbing events in the stock market should serve one useful purpose at least and this is that we have great need in this country for a more widespread understanding of the values of true thrift.

It is not the purpose of this writer in this article to attempt in any way to analyze the Wall Street situation either past or present. The only point sought to be made here is that greater thrift among the American people would have prevented much of the trouble that has occurred.

It is hard sometimes to make people believe that fundamentals do not change that it is always risky to try to get something for nothing, to try to get rich over night, to try to run a shoestring up to a million.

Once in a while someone proves the exception to these rules but such instances are exceedingly rare.

In the long run it is better to be satisfied with such returns for your money as are safe and sound. Through the processes of compound interest or reinvestment of proceeds one can build one's capital to such a great volume as might sound truly amazing. These processes are slow at first. It requires much patience to let your earnings grow along sound lines when those around you apparently are reaping prodigious profits and getting rich from their speculative activities.

But while these methods are slow they are dependable and there are millions of people today who are thanking their lucky stars that they have been satisfied to put their money in safe places even though the profits may have seemed small.

As long as we stick to the fundamentals of thrift we are safe. Whenever we get away from them there is no likelihood what financial disaster may overtake us.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lamb County—Greeting:

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to summon C. W. Goodson and his wife Mrs. C. W. Goodson, and the unknown heirs of the said C. W. Goodson and wife Mrs. C. W. Goodson, or either of them, if they or either of them be deceased, and all persons owning, claiming or asserting any right, title or interest in and to the land and premises hereinafter described, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Lamb County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Olton, Texas, on the second Monday in December A. D. 1929, the same being the 9th day of December, A. D. 1929, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 5th day of November A. D. 1929, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 496, wherein L. S. Dewett and wife Kate Dewett are plaintiffs, and C. W. Goodson and wife Mrs. C. W. Goodson, and the unknown heirs of said parties, if they or either of them be deceased, and all persons owning, claiming or asserting any right, title or interest in and to the land and premises hereinafter described, are Defendants, and a brief statement of plaintiff's cause of action, being as follows:

Plaintiffs allege that they were on the 5th day of January, 1929, the owners in fee simple of all that certain lot, tract or parcel of land lying and being situated in Lamb County, Texas, and being Lot No. 7, in Block No. 34, in the town of Littlefield, Lamb County, Texas, as shown by the map or plat of said town recorded in Vol. 6, pages 509-502, Deed Records of Lamb County, Texas, and being a part of Labor No. 19, League No. 664, in said County; that on said day the defendants entered upon said premises and ejected the plaintiffs therefrom, and withhold possession to plaintiff's damages $600.00; that the reasonable rental value of said premises is $600.00 annually; that C. W. Goodson is the common source of title; that this action is brought as well to try title as for damages. Plaintiffs additionally plead that the said C. W. Goodson executed three notes to William Trondson in part payment for said property secured by deed of trust to Arthur P. Duggan trustee, providing that failure to pay either of said notes would mature all said notes, said notes being for the sum of $74.00; $100.00 and $100.00, respectively, dated January 12, 1914; that notes Nos. 1 and 2 were not paid and at the request of said Trondson the trustee sold said land and premises under said deed of trust on Apr. 6, 1925, after giving notice as required in said deed of trust, and same was sold to said Trondson to whom the trustee executed a deed and the said William Trondson became the holder and owner thereof in fee simple with title superior to that of defendants; that by mesne conveyances plaintiffs became the owners thereof with superior title to that of any of the defendants; that plaintiffs own, hold and claim said land and premises under the three, five and ten years statutes of limitation, alleging they have owned, held and claimed the same by actual, visible, notorious, exclusive, peaceable and adverse possession for a period of more than ten years; that they have held peaceable and adverse possession thereof and paid the taxes thereon for a period of more than five years under deeds duly registered and recorded; and that they have been in peaceable and adverse possession under title for a period of more than three years. That defendants claims cast a cloud on plaintiff's title.

Plaintiffs pray for citation, that defendants be divested of all right, title and interest in said land, and that title be vested in plaintiffs; that plaintiffs have judgment for title and possession and that writ of restitution issue; that the cloud on title be removed and plaintiffs title be quieted, and for costs of suit and general relief.

Herein Fail Not but have before said Court, at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Olton, Texas, on this 5th day of November, A. D. 1929.

A. H. McGavock, Clerk, District Court, Lamb County, Texas.

A committee was appointed for a Thanksgiving program and that program will be had at the home of Mrs. Walter Schrier, Friday 22nd of November. Those who fail to come that day will miss a real treat. Mrs. L. Y. Jameson is out for the next meeting which is on Friday in November. Subject is, made-over clothes. Bring your old material and it can be done with it. Everyone should be prepared to answer roll call with a household.

Pep Paragraphs

The succession of misty, rainy days last week prevented cotton picking in this vicinity. The freeze of the previous week caught much of the grain and feed stuff uncut. Since then the services of those owning binders are at a premium. It is likely much feed will blow down before binders are available.

School began Monday after six weeks recess for cotton picking. Many of the children are still kept out. This is discouraging to the teacher but it is far more discouraging and disastrous to the unfortunate pupil who, as a rule, is weak in his school work by years of similar retardation and is handicapped and further discouraged by having to compete for the remainder of the term with children stronger and better prepared for the work.

The Pep gin has ginned over a thousand bales of cotton a week ago. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Urbanczyk and children, his father and J. Blaschke, all of Knox county, are visiting the family of W. T. Jungman.

J. H. Arend is improving his place near Pep.

H. J. Greener went to Lubbock, Sunday.

Miss Agnes Horak attended Divine services in Pep Sunday.

Last Sunday a horse ridden by Clarence Albus became unmanageable and ran through a gate with the little boy hurting his knee by crushing it against a post.

Two new pupils, Billy Yohner and Everett Welty, were enrolled in the school last week.

Learning and Age

In refutation of the theory that men and women stop learning at the age of twenty-five, educators declare in investigations show that many persons continue to acquire "book learning" until they are seventy and beyond.

FARM STOCK

OHIO HOG GROWERS RETAIN OLD SOWS

Other States Use Greater Proportion of Gilts.

Swine growing practiced in Ohio differs decidedly from that in other states at least in one respect—the keeping of old brood sows from year to year to raise pigs, instead of producing the pigs from gilts which are marketed after they have raised one litter of pigs. Ohio is ninth among the states in the number of hogs on farms on January 1 this year, but near the top of the list when it comes to the number of brood sows kept from year to year. Many of the leading hog states west of Ohio produce the greater number of pigs from gilts.

This spring 75 per cent of the litters of Ohio pigs came from sows which previously had produced one or more litters, while in Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Kansas, less than 20 per cent were from old sows, and more than 80 per cent from gilts farrowed for the first time. Only Pennsylvania ranked lower than Ohio this spring in the percentage of litters farrowed by gilts.

Ohio's swine growers this year saved an average of 6.7 pigs to each litter. The average for the country as a whole was only 5.7 pigs.

Live Stock Diseases

Cause Tremendous Loss

A timely and very attractive poster has just been gotten out by the Iowa State Veterinary association, in which attention is called to the tremendous annual loss which the live stock industry sustains on account of disease. Among other things the poster suggests eight practical ways in which the farmer can help reduce the losses. These are:

First, select sound, healthy breeding stock; second, keep buildings and premises thoroughly clean and sanitary; third, feed well balanced, wholesome rations; fourth, isolate diseased animals promptly; fifth, use officially approved disinfectants; sixth, dispose of the carcasses promptly by deep burial, burning or rendering; seventh, vaccination against preventable diseases; eighth, consult your local veterinarian promptly.

These suggestions are all very good and there is no doubt that if they were methodically carried out millions of dollars would annually be saved to the live stock industry.

Influence on Quality

and Quantity of Wool

Quantity may go hand in hand with quality in wool production. Investigations by the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, show that length of staple and weight of clean wool per fleece are associated with superior quality. The inheritance of the sheep, its feed, management and seasonal environment are the most important factors that influence quality and quantity of wool. Successful sheep raisers have found that rigid culling of aged ewes and light producers is a good practice for the immediate improvement of their flocks.

Comfortable House Is

Essential for Swine

It is a time of year when hog houses come into their greatest usefulness. We may differ on the size and style of hog houses but we can be of one opinion on the desirability of eliminating or avoiding slippery floors, floors with large cracks or holes in them, low doors, narrow doors, high door sills, heavy banging doors, poor ventilation, and such like. We can agree that a pig can stand considerable cold weather if it has dry sleeping quarters. Comfortable quarters, therefore, are largely a matter of a tight roof, a well-drained floor, and proper circulation of air—ventilation.

Short Feed Supply

Farmers who must choose between selling young stock or good dairy cows are advised to sell off the former, as producing cows will usually pay better for purchased feed than the young animals. Where animals must be sold on account of lack of feed, it is usually best to dispose of them as early as possible, since in that way more feed is saved for the animals to be retained, while a prompt sale of those that cannot be carried gets them to market in a fresher condition than if they are held.

Avoid Wormy Pigs

The ease of having the young pigs free from worms removes all excuses for having wormy pigs. Just before the pigs are due, one should place the sows on clean ground in a good disinfected house. The udders should be washed with warm water to which has been added any disinfectant. After the pigs are farrowed, they should be kept on ground that has not been contaminated. If the lot has not been used for hog pasture the past six months, there is little danger.

LFD. CATS vs. BROWNFIELD WILL PLAY HERE ON FRIDAY

Obituaries, cards of thanks, and resolutions of respect will also be charged for at the same rate.

In case of errors or omissions in local or other advertisements, the publisher does not hold himself liable for damage further than the amount received by him for such advertisement.

CANDY AND COURTING

Most any Littlefield mother will tell you that when she was a girl the young man who called upon her seldom came empty-handed; he always carried a sack of candy to sweeten the evening's conversation. But the modern swain seems to take it for granted that candy is a part of the young lady's daily diet, and that she keeps it in the house all the time, the same as her mother keeps coffee and lard.

The candy-makers of the U. S. recently conducted a survey and found that a total of 1,600,000,000 pounds of candy was consumed last year, but that of the entire amount only 16 percent was purchased as gifts to somebody outside the family. All the rest was bought for family or personal use.

Changes in our eating habits have brought a demand for candy to a point undreamed of a few years ago. Today housewives often use it in making desserts, and men who once spurned it as a childish luxury now treat themselves to it most lavishly, while some carry it in place of the once essential "plug" of tobacco. The modern miss may get her sweets from the family sideboard, but we wonder if, after all, if they taste as sweet as the candy her Dad used to carry to her mother. Somehow or other it seems to us that today's young man is missing a good trick when he doesn't go on a courting excursion armed with a generous supply of candy.

Why go to the trouble of building quiet, smooth-running motors when there's so much noise in the back seat.

BEING CHECKED

It was only a few years ago that we were expressing alarm over the general migration from the farm to the city, but this drift seems to have subsided and the pendulum is beginning to swing the other way.

In 1925 more than 800,000 rural dwellers deserted the farms and flocked to the cities; in 1926 this number exceeded 1,000,000. Last year it was reduced to 600,000. Farm labor appears to be learning that unemployment in the cities makes it constantly more difficult to secure work, and since the rush from the farms is being checked city labor realizes there is less chance of landing a job on the farm. So, viewed from both sides, it is proving a fine thing for both farm and city.

We still have a labor problem in this country, and we always will have. But drifting about isn't going to solve it, and the farm laborer around Littlefield who has steady employment at a fair wage will be doing the wise thing if he sticks to his job.

Shakespeare said "All the world's a stage," but he couldn't find words to express just how most of us love a dress rehearsal.

FOOLISH FOOD FADS

In an address at Louisville a few days ago, Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of The American Medical Journal, asserted that "food faddists" are a menace, and that nothing so upsets digestion as for someone to deliver a talk on dieting at the dinner table.

Modern science, he said, urges a balanced meal containing a variety of food substances—"breakfast that will include fresh fruit, cereal, milk, butter, bread and perhaps, eggs and ham or bacon; a noon meal that will include vegetables and one in the evening that will be complete from soup to dessert."

He doesn't encourage over-eating, nor does he favor "gorging." But he does believe that a balanced diet that will appeal to the appetite is sure to produce good health and longer life than can be obtained through any system of dieting that the "food faddist" may suggest.

Wilbur Volvia of Zion City says the world is flat, but New Yorkers claim it only tastes that way on account of Prohibition.

BOYS AND BULLETS

In the midst of the hunting season, we feel it timely to caution Littlefield fathers against leaving guns, shells or ammunition of any kind lying around where the children can get hold of them. Only last week four small boys in an eastern town were injured while attempting to drive a bullet from a cartridge shell with a hammer and nail, the cartridge exploding while they were hovered over it. That is but one of scores of like incidents happening all over the country.

When weapons are kept in the house they should be put away where the children cannot get to them, and especially is this true of the ammunition intended to be fired in them. To keep them loaded and within reach of the little ones is nothing short of criminal.

Weapons have their place, and they are all right in that place. But they are a menace in the hands of the youngsters under any and all conditions.

Some mysterious person in Florida is shooting mules at night, possible under the delusion that they are jazz bands.

PUBLICITY SEEKERS

Now a woman drives a car for 80 hours without stopping for sleep in order to establish an endurance record for women. A boy sets up a pole in his back yard and remains perched on the top of it for days just to make a record. One woman even claims to have set the record for continuous rocking in a porch chair. This rage for doing useless things just to "set a record" is getting as ridiculous as it is silly.

The one purpose behind it all, of course, is to secure publicity—the ones trying for "endurance records" being far more interested in seeing their names in the papers than anything else.

Just why a sane person should want such publicity is more than most of us can understand. But they do, and they continue to disgust the public, and probably will until the newspapers of the land cut out mentioning the "stunts." That will stop them in a hurry, for there'll be no more of them when there's no more publicity.

LITTLE LEADERS

Some of our weather prophets are forecasting a hard winter. But where is the Littlefield man who ever saw a soft one?

Our idea of a supremely happy citizen is the Littlefield man who feels as important at home as he does in a lodge room dressed up in a lot of regalia.

Another good example of optimism is that displayed by the Littlefield boy who expects a girl to warm up to him on an ice cream cone.

Maybe more Littlefield girls would study domestic science if they didn't know that women who can cook have to.

If some fellows around Littlefield didn't think there was milk and honey flowing free as water up yonder they would never sing songs about going there.

This week's fairy story: Once upon a time a Littlefield man told his boss just what he told his wife he was going to tell him.

Some fellows have been in office so long that a lot of babies they once kissed are now voters.

PAVEMENT PICKUPS

"Any old sort of rattle will quiet a girl baby," declares Earnest Williams "but when she grows up she wants the rattle to be in an auto."

Payne Wood declares that raisins are only grapes that worried too much and got wrinkles.

FARM STOCK

MANAGEMENT OF ANY BEEF HERD

Profitable beef production commercially depends upon the grade-cow herd and the use of a good, pure-bred bull, managed so that each generation of cows selected is an improvement upon the preceding one. In order that this may be true the best heifer calves should be kept each year to take the place of barren or shy-breeding cows. All other calves produced may be sold either as weaning calves at six to eight months old, as stockers or feeders at one or two years, or finished as baby beef at from sixteen to twenty months, or as fat steers at an older age.

Small farms in a high state of cultivation and where large quantities of feed are produced may be stocked with breeding cows to their greatest carrying capacity and the calves disposed of at weaning time or fattened as baby beef to advantage. In that way practically no cattle other than the breeding herd are maintained, whereas if the calves were carried over as stockers and feeders to older ages more feed and pasture would be required. This practice is often found to be very profitable. If, on the other hand, a limited quantity of feed is produced on a farm of this kind it would be more profitable to sell the calves at weaning time to men who make a specialty of feeding that kind of cattle for the market.

Breeders who operate large holdings where extensive pastures are available and feed enough is grown to carry the calves through winter as stockers often find it more profitable to carry them to an older age and get more weight per head.

If in either case a certain method for disposing of calves is adopted, more than likely it will become necessary to vary from that method occasionally on account of changes in conditions. Unfavorable years for growing feed may make it necessary to sell the calves at weaning time. Also, on farms where it is intended to carry the calves over as stockers, pastures and winter feed crops may be cut short by drought or some other unforeseen condition, making it necessary to dispose of the calf crop earlier than usual.

Minerals for Range Cattle Are Required

A shortage of phosphorus in the ration often causes cattle to have depraved appetites and even to become lame and emaciated. This trouble may be remedied cheaply and quickly by the use of sterile bonemeal, spent bone-black mixed with equal parts of fine salt and kept before the cattle at all times. A daily feeding of one to two parts cottonseed meal or cottonseed cake also proves effective in the ration of cows.

A fatal disease known as "loin" disease was found by Dr. H. Schmidt of the Texas experiment station to be caused by a filterable virus the cattle get from chewing putrid bones on the range. Bonemeal and salt cured the craving for bones and practically eliminated the disease.

Lessen Danger of Flu Infection Among Hogs

Roomy sheds, open to the south, especially when they are deep enough so the hogs need not lie close to the opening, when properly bedded, are about as satisfactory as anything that can be supplied for hogs in the way of cheap shelter. Colony houses, if they are available, may be used to good advantage for brood sows and other hogs during the winter months. The point is, that when hogs are supplied with good shelter where they can keep dry and not be subjected to drafts and where plenty of bedding can be supplied, there will be much less danger of flu infection than where little or no attention is paid to the housing problem.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ORGANIZED INTO VARIOUS CLUBS FOR EFFECTIVE RESULTS

The students of Littlefield High school organized themselves into clubs for extra-curricular activities last Friday afternoon. The purpose in the organization of these clubs is to give an opportunity for further development of the high school students in the direction of their greatest interests. These interests will lead to special training derived from the club work which will likely be impossible to gain from regular traditional subject matter classes. The local high school faculty is attempting to adjust the school to meet the needs and interests of the student and this is one of the steps in that direction.

A list of clubs with officers elected Friday are as follows:
Freshman English club—Pres. Tilden Wright; Vice-Pres. Lucille Hall, Secretary, Jewel Glover, Treasurer, David Keithley; Reporter, Inez Wallace; Sponsor, Miss Floyd.

TURRENTINE GOES TO ANNUAL CHURCH
MEETING MONDAY

Bishop John M. Moore, of Dallas, will preside at the annual session of the Northwest Texas Conference, Methodist Church South, to be held at Pampa, beginning November 13, according to Rev. Geo. Turrentine, pastor of the Littlefield Methodist church, who will leave next Tuesday for the annual church meeting. There will be approximately 500 delegates and visitors in attendance, this meeting being of particular interest in the fact that delegates are to be selected for the General Conference to be held in Dallas next May. There will be five clerical and five lay delegates selected from this conference.

Commenting upon the year's work of the Littlefield church, Rev. Turrentine stated there had been considerable advancement, and that 75 new members had been added to the church rolls. The basement for a new church building has been put down, money collected for the building and brick ordered for the superstructure.

He did not know whether he would be returned here for another year, but rather thought he would be appointed to another charge. Rev. Doak, presiding elder of the Lubbock district, having served the four years allotted time, will also be transferred to another district or sent to a station charge.

NEARLY $1,800 IS RAISED FOR BAND
EXPENSE THIS YEAR

The Littlefield band is now a certainty for at least a year, according to J. E. Norman and C. H. Grow who have been doing some effective work the last few days. The past week a subscription list was made up to take care of the expenses of the band and Mr. Bowren the director is arranging to move to Littlefield as soon as he can find a house to move into.

New music is being ordered and new members are coming in. Old band men who have played in "Monty's" bands at other places are planning to locate here. Two band men from Post were at rehearsal last Monday night and both are planning to make this place their future home. The band has assurance that they will get to make the trip to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Abilene next year and are arranging to make a trip to Amarillo within the next two months to broadcast a program over radio.

Mr. Bowren is organizing an orchestra and will be able to furnish music for any public gatherings. He has the music for the orchestra and rehearsals will begin the first of next week.

A junior band will probably be organized, and any one desiring to join will be welcomed. There will be no dues. A charge of 50 cents per lesson will be made for private lessons.

A public concert will be given some evening during this month at a place announced later. At this time a good program will be given and the public will have opportunity to see the progress that is being made, and to enjoy an evening of good music.

TO OPEN BONNET SHOP

Mrs. Ruby Nolen, formerly of Seymour, will open "The Bonnet Shop" in the building next door to Evans Tailor Shop next Monday, carrying a complete line of millinery and feminine novelty goods, later on putting in a stock of gift goods for the holiday trade.

Mrs. Nolen comes to Littlefield highly recommended by her fellow citizens of Seymour, and there are people here who have known her for several years past. Seeking a change of location for her business, she states that after considering scores of other towns Littlefield had by far the strongest appeal to her as a prosperous and coming city of increased growth and business magnitude, and she is happy to cast her lot in the metropolis of Lamb County.

SALESMAN SIR SIDNEY SMITH SAGACIOUS SAGE

Sidney Smith, not the famous English novelist who every Fourth of July used to wish he "could lay his flesh aside and just sit in his bones" because he was so fat, nor the Sidney Smith, famous cartoonist; but Sidney Smith the noted hunter—well he used to travel for the Quality Mills at Austin—but the point being driven at is the fact that this prominent member of the Smith family with the cognomen handle of Sidney was in Littlefield this week.

Sir Sidney S. is not only a hunter of customers, but also of ducks, geese—and chickens (!) At least he has that reputation down in Travis county and, according to his old time friend R. T. Badger (who is standing between the reporter of this article and the penitentiary) the first thing he did upon arriving in the metropolis of Lamb county was to form contact with some of Littlefield's sportsmen for a duck hunt.

Rumor has it that the hunt was successful, ultra-supereminently successful; but whether the said Sidney kept his bag limit within the pales of the law deponent sayeth not.

The SANDMAN STORY

FORGETFUL MAGGIE

"OH, DEAR, oh, dear, oh, dear," said Maggie, "whatever will I do, I've lost my stocking and I'm getting dressed to go to the party. 'It's one of my best stockings, too. Dear me, where can it be? 'Where could that stocking go?' She looked and she looked and she looked. She pulled out her bureau drawers, she pulled out things from her shelves, Looked Everywhere and Kept Calling Out to Everyone.

She looked under chairs, under the bed, behind chairs, behind the bed. She looked everywhere, and she kept calling out to everyone. "Please look for my stocking. Can anyone find my stocking?" Then she began calling out: "I'll give a penny to anyone who finds my stocking." Quite often Maggie did offer a reward like that, for she thought it made people look for her things a little harder, and she was apt to lose her things. Not for long, of course, but she had put them somewhere else than remembered. For instance, if she said to herself: "Now, I'll remember and put my piece of candy to eat after lunch on the mantelpiece instead of on the sideboard, for I'll be going into the living room right after dinner," then she would be sure to be looking for it on the sideboard and would be saying: "But I'm sure it must be on the sideboard, for I thought it would be so much better to have it in the room where I was finishing my dinner." So Maggie offered a penny reward for the stocking. It was true they did hunt for her things more when she offered a reward.

It was hard on Maggie's allowance to have to offer so many rewards, but then she was always taking up everyone's time in looking for things! But the stocking, all by itself, back of the washstand where Maggie hadn't looked, where it had fallen when Maggie had left them there when she had got up in the morning—so they'd be all ready for the party, was quite sad and felt quite absurd. "She found the other stocking which was right on the washstand and she didn't look for me," the stocking objected. "Or maybe she didn't even know that she had picked the other stocking up from the washstand. "But how can she say that I'm lost? I didn't run away. I'm right here. I can't go anywhere without a leg to take me. "I couldn't help falling. I haven't been anywhere, and I don't intend to go anywhere. "Dear me, dear me, I wish I could be found." And then, Maggie somehow remembered the stocking she had on had been on the washstand and she remembered about it. She looked back of the washstand for the other stocking and there it was. How glad she was. And she didn't have to give a reward, either. She was indeed fortunate, and the stocking was so glad to go to the party and not to lie, limp and useless, back of the washstand. It was so true, the stocking kept thinking, how little it could do unless it was worn. (Copyright.)

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

A "KNIGHT OF THE ROAD"

IT MAY exhilarate the tramp who rides surreptitiously in the baggage car and solicits pie at the kitchen doors to realize that in the name "Knight of the Road" with which we have humorously dubbed him, he is descended from the aristocracy of old. In the same spirit in which we today call the vagrant a "Knight of the Road" the term was applied in the old stagecoach days to the bold highwayman who took toll from travelers whom he regarded as his legitimate prey. Because of occasional acts of kindness to his victims, or chivalrous action to women among them, these characters took hold on popular imagination and romantic stories were woven around them like the famous old English legends of the delightful outlaw, Robin Hood.

The original "Knight of the Road" however, takes us back still further to no sham gentry, but to the true and literal knighthood of Europe during and subsequent to the Crusades. Our modern phrase had its beginning with their "Knight Errant," "errant" meaning to wander, being derived from the old French error, "to travel." He was the wandering knight who, after the objective of the Crusades had been removed, traveled through France and Spain in search of adventure, of a mission, of work for his lance.

Horse Central Feature of Gypsy Divorce Case

The sacrifice of a horse was the central feature of a Scottish gypsy divorce 100 years ago. The animal was taken into the room of the woman concerned, and if it proved docile that was taken as an indication that her behavior had not been very bad. If, on the other hand, the horse became violent she was considered to have been extremely vicious. Then the husband and wife would walk around the horse in contrary directions, and finally part, walking north and south, never again to meet. The husband afterward set the horse's heart at a solemn feast, and from time to time visited the grave to see that it had not been disturbed, and to mourn over it. It was said that there were occasions when the woman as well as the horse was sacrificed.

SAVINGS ARE MADE EASY IF ONE HAS A DEFINITE OBJECT

By S. W. STRAUS, President

American Society for Thrift

"I never knew what it meant to save money until I decided that I should like to own a home of my own. Then, in some way, just as soon as I had this definite idea in mind, I found that it was not only not hard to save a regular part of my income but I got a big kick out of it."

The writer recently received a letter from which the above is an excerpt and it is here made public in the hope that it will serve as a good suggestion to others. It is an incident of common human experience. No man can read the future and it is not unwise to save money even though we have no definite object in view. Sooner or later the amount of money accumulated in our bank account will serve a useful purpose in our lives. It may help us over a tight place or it may prove to be the foundation of a future fortune. No one should ever be without a certain amount of resources even though the immediate need for them is not apparent.

But it is a fact that with some saving is extremely difficult unless there is a definite object in view. It may be to buy a home, embark in business, secure an education, own an automobile, take a trip abroad, or invest in good securities. Or it may be any one of a thousand other worthy objects. The point is that if you are one of those who cannot save without something definite to save for, then you should find such a definite objective.

Many really think they cannot save. The writer has heard many say, "Money goes through my hands like water through a sieve." This is an admission of unnecessary and unjustified weakness and the best possible way to overcome it is to establish an objective.

Get into the habit of saving. That is the main thing for the longer you save the easier it will become.

Save for a definite purpose. Choose some object that you very greatly desire; then save persistently and systematically until you acquire it. That is an excellent way to begin the practices of thrift.

Texas expects to ship 1,200 carloads of dressed turkeys to Northern and Eastern markets this fall.

Adults Contract Children's Diseases

Adults can, and do, contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For instance, many adults contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite and weight, grinding the teeth and restless sleep, itching of the nose and anus, and abdominal pains. And, the same medicine that surely and harmlessly expels round and pin worms from children will do the same for adults — White's Cream Vermifuge, which you can get at Stokes-Alexander Drug Company

JUNIOR HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The Juniors celebrated Hallowe'en in the gymnasium of High School Friday night, November 1, Mrs. Etter, Junior sponsor, was there with the Hallowe'en spirit.

As the shadows of night were descending over the town and the darkened recesses were becoming spooky, witches, gnomes, and stealthy figures were making their way to the High School.

One game played was the operation of a patient, which was in a dark room and the operation being performed behind a white curtain with a light and huge knives, a hammer and saw. The tongue and brains were passed around for the different persons to examine. Imagine the shrieks and screams!

We had great delight in trying to find out who each other was because of the queer shaped masks and dress.

After many amusing games were played punch and sandwiches were served to 36 Juniors. If you don't watch out the goblins will get you!—on your way home.—Reporter.

SOPH. HALLOWE'EN PARTY

A large number of Sophomores and several teachers gathered at the High School gymnasium Wednesday night, October 30, for a Hallowe'en party. Fortunes were told and Fortune lane was visited.

As we have a good sponsor and one who knows how to conduct a party, we were playing some kind of game all the time. A little disturbance occurred during the party, but it did not stop us.

Unintentional Suicide

Many people are slowly poisoning themselves just as surely as if they drank iodine every morning for breakfast. They are daily absorbing the toxins, or poisons, created by accumulated waste matter in their constipated digestive systems. Sooner or later disease will conquer their weakened bodies.

If you have dizzy spells, headaches, coated tongue, bad breath, insomnia, no appetite, bilious attacks or pains in the back and limbs, you are probably suffering from self poisoning caused by constipation. ### SENIOR HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The Senior class of Littlefield High school held their annual Hallowe'en party last Friday evening.

They first went to the Theatre at seven o'clock and after the first show went to the dining room of the Masonic hall which had been attractively decorated by the entertainment committee.

After everyone had tired of throwing confetti, refreshments were served to 21 members of the senior class, and to Mrs. Pat Boone, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Boles and children.

Following this a number of silly yet interesting games were played. Everyone pronounced it a perfect day about 12 o'clock.

POULTRY

CHICKEN BREEDER MUST PICK BIRDS

"To make progress in breeding poultry for egg production, a poultryman must be able to select breeding stock that will transmit to his offspring the most desirable egg qualities. These qualities are correct size, shape, color, and shell texture of the eggs, and a tendency to lay a large number of eggs," said Prof. G. O. Hall of the Cornell poultry department, speaking on breeding poultry for egg production recently.

"In any breeding program there are three fundamental principles which must be kept in mind. They are first, a standard of excellence or ideal; second, constant breeding toward that ideal; and third, courageous culling from the time eggs are selected for the incubator until the time when males and females are put in the breeding pens.

"Aside from the personal element of the poultryman himself, two sets of factors control results. The first set can be grouped under the term, 'heredity'—those causes which are internal and relatively hard to control. The characteristics of an individual due to this set of factors are possessed by the individual at the time of birth, although they may be influenced a great deal by the second set of controlling factors. Inherent characters are dependent, in part, upon this second set of factors, environmental conditions and influences, under which a bird lives. Feeding, housing, and general care and management fall under environmental conditions and influences.

"The most accurate method of controlling heredity is by the use of a system of individual pedigree hatching and progeny testing. Such a system requires trapping and carefully-kept records. Birds to be pedigreed should be carefully selected and only such mating or lines which show progress towards the desired goal should be continued from year to year. "When it is impossible to do individual pedigreeing, pen mating may be used. In pen mating, from three to five males may be used in as many pens with 12 to 20 selected females each, and the progeny from each pen may be marked so that the different lots can be identified later. The offspring from each pen can then be observed, and the male lines continued from only those birds which show best results.

"Egg production may be improved also by selecting the best individuals, both males and females, and mating them by the flock or mass method. This is the most common practice among farmers. Progress with it is slow, however, and after a time a point is reached where the average egg production increases little, if any, from year to year."

Skim Milk Is Excellent

Feed for Young Turkeys

Sweet skim milk should be the first feed given to poults (young turkeys), according to "Turkey Talk," a University of Minnesota bulletin on raising turkeys. It is first fed at thirty-six to forty-eight hours of age, and continued as the only liquid for several weeks. No water is recommended. A pound of dry skim milk in four or five quarts of water will give the fresh, sweet product desired.

Poultry Facts

Feed grain liberally when using lights.

Be regular in management and the use of lights.

The hen's comb is a good index to the activity of the egg organs.

Oat hulls should be eliminated from chick rations on account of their indigestible character.

Finely ground oats cannot be handled by young chicks, as the hull is still too bulky and indigestible.

Geese should not be used for breeding purposes until they are two years old. A gander may be used the first season.

Mixing 10 or 20 per cent of whole oats in the all-mash feed was very satisfactory in recent tests at the Ohio experiment station.

Many poultry keepers regard oats as an important part of the ration for laying hens, providing a satisfactory way of feeding this grain can be found.

Little chicks are like children in the respect that disorders of the bowels and digestive apparatus are quite common among them.

Early chicks should, if possible, be reared in indoor brooders, placed in houses which may be well ventilated and which have ample sunlight.

The addition of finely ground oats to the mash mixture is a popular method of feeding with some poultry men, but they often find it difficult to get the oats finely ground.

Peanut Butter Biscuit
Delicious at Any Meal
 Whether you serve them for breakfast, luncheon, afternoon tea, or evening refreshments, everybody will be sure to like these peanut butter biscuits, provided you give "it"—which, in biscuit making, means a light touch and an instinct for managing the oven just right. The bureau of home economics says to bake in a "quick oven," meaning at an oven temperature from 450 degrees Fahrenheit to 500 degrees Fahrenheit.
 4 tbs. peanut butter 1/2 tsp. salt
 2 tbs. fat 2 cups flour
 4 tsp. baking powder
 Sift the dry ingredients and rub the fat and peanut butter into the flour with the tips of the fingers. Make a well in this dry mixture and, stirring from the center, add slowly enough milk to make a soft dough. On a lightly floured board, pat out the dough to a layer about 1/4 inch thick and cut in small rounds. Bake in a quick oven from 12 to 15 minutes or until light brown. Serve at once.
