

Local Piggly Wiggly Store Changes Ownership

W. E. HUMPHRIES AND J. M. DAVIS THE NEW OWNERS

Yeager Is Now Manager With Paul Hyde as Assistant

Deal was consummated Saturday, March 18, whereby W. E. Humphries and J. M. Davis, operators of Davis & Humphries, well known wholesale grocers, Lubbock, Tex., and from J. O. Garlington, operator of the Piggly Wiggly grocery, Littlefield, Tex., have purchased the Piggly Wiggly grocery, Littlefield, Tex.

Partners For 30 Years

Davis and Mr. Humphries have been partners for over thirty years in the grocery and produce business, and for the last fifteen years have been operating as Lubbock, Tex.

Yeager To Be Manager

Yeager, who has been employed by the local Piggly Wiggly store for the past three years, was made manager of the store under the new ownership. He is being assisted by Paul Hyde, Vernon Roberts, and Gene Yeager, who have also been employed with the local establishment for the past several years.

Operated As Formerly

Foust, who owned a half interest in the Piggly Wiggly market, purchased the interest of Garlington, and is now sole owner of the market.

market will be operated as before with Kenneth Hauk in charge of the home bakery department.

Established 7 Years Ago

Local Piggly Wiggly grocery store was established 7 1/2 years ago by Garlington with Olan Stewart as a partner, which partnership continued for three years until Mr. Garlington sold the interest of Mr. Stewart that time Mr. Garlington became the sole owner.

Install New Fixtures

Interview with Mr. Humphries Monday he stated: "It is our intention to make this a better store than it has ever been. Since we are in the wholesale business, our prices will always be as low as possible. Within the next three weeks new fixtures will be installed, and the interior redecorated, so as to offer ever comparable to the shopping experience of the other stores in the city."

Mr. Humphries and Mr. Davis are successful business men of standing, who maintain a reputation of much higher than the average in their business dealings and policies, men whom Littlefield may well be proud to claim as owners of one of its leading establishments.

Interior View of Piggly Wiggly

New floor fixtures and display stands are being installed which will add greatly to the attractiveness and convenience of the main section of the store.

YEAGER IS NEW MANAGER OF PIGGLY WIGGLY

Gene Yeager, who has been in the employ of the Piggly Wiggly store for the past three years was made manager last week under the new ownership.

Mr. Yeager has been a resident of Littlefield for the past 14 years, and is highly regarded by all who know him. He is considered one of Littlefield's most progressive young business men, and regarded by Mr. Garlington, former owner of Piggly Wiggly, as a very valued employee, worthy of trust and responsibility.

HYDE IS ASSISTANT MANAGER OF PIGGLY WIGGLY STORE

Paul Hyde, who has been a resident of Littlefield for the past six years, is the assistant manager at the Piggly Wiggly establishment under the new setup.

Mr. Hyde is a graduate of the 1933 class of the Spade high school, and attended the Southwestern State Teachers college in Oklahoma.

Mr. Hyde is a young man of pleasing personality, which has won for him many friends in this section, and made him popular with the Piggly Wiggly customers.

LARGE SELECTION OF FRESH, CHOICE MEATS ALWAYS AVAILABLE AT PIGGLY WIGGLY

In the Piggly Wiggly market, nothing but the best meats and other produce are sold. The two large show cases, which always contain a large selection of the freshest and choicest meats, fish, butter and other market produce obtainable anywhere.

Carries High Grade Meats

This market has always maintained a reputation for offering meats of a higher than average quality.

Kenneth Hauk Manager

This department of the Piggly Wiggly concern was established 7 1/2 years ago when the store opened, and has continuously been under the capable management of Kenneth Hauk, who has many years experience in the art of cutting meats.

capable management of Kenneth Hauk, who has many years experience in the art of cutting meats.

Is Owned By Ellis Foust

The market was owned by Ellis Foust and J. O. Garlington jointly until recently, and is now solely owned by Mr. Foust.

W. E. HUMPHRIES AND POSTMATER OLD FRIENDS

W. E. Humphries, one of the new owners of the Piggly Wiggly store, and W. D. T. Storey, were reared in the same county, Red River, attended school together at Clarksville, and are friends of long standing.

J. O. GARLINGTON BUYS TWO LARGE LUBBOCK STORES

Cloice Knowles to Be Manager With Miss Martin as Bookkeeper

Following the sale of the stock, equipment and franchise of the Piggly Wiggly grocery to Davis & Humphries, Mr. J. O. Garlington announced his purchase of two of the largest grocery stores in Lubbock, which will be operated under his personal supervision.

In reporting the sale and purchase Mr. Garlington said: "I closed the contract for the Lubbock stores Saturday night at 11 o'clock, and by 8:30 Sunday morning I had made a deal to sell this store to Davis & Humphries. We started at 11 o'clock to invoice, and completed invoicing by 8:30 that night."

Cloice Knowles Manager Lubbock Store

Cloice Knowles, who has acted as manager of the local Piggly Wiggly for sometime, will be manager of one of the Lubbock stores now owned by Mr. Garlington, and Miss Faye Martin, who has served as bookkeeper of the local store for sometime, will be bookkeeper at one of the Lubbock stores.

Mr. Knowles and Miss Martin left Saturday to take over their new duties.

Active In Civic Matters

Mr. Garlington, who has always taken an active part in civic matters, and been a leader in all movements for the progress and good of Littlefield and territory will be sorely missed, as he could always be counted on to do considerably more than his share when some project vital to the city or county's progress was at stake.

Is Director Rotary Club

Mr. Garlington has served as president of the Littlefield Rotary club and director of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce.

He established the local Piggly Wiggly seven and a half years ago, with Olan Stewart holding a half interest. Under his management the store progressed rapidly, and at the end of three years, Mr. Garlington purchased the interest of Mr. Stewart.

Established Tahoka Store

He established a Piggly Wiggly store at Tahoka on March 7, 1935, with Olan Stewart as partner. Later he purchased Mr. Stewart's interest, and sold a quarter interest to Roy Young.

Opened Brownfield Store

In 1936 Mr. Garlington established a grocery store at Brownfield. In reporting this Mr. Garlington laughingly said: "I opened the store on Friday, the 15th, in the year 1936, and a month later—on the 13th I sold it."

Later Mr. Garlington, with Lloyd Reid as partner, established a Piggly Wiggly at Morton, which they sold two years later.

A LETTER TO MY GOOD FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS OF LITTLEFIELD

DEAR FOLKS:

Ever since I have been in the grocery business on the South Plains—I have dealt with the firm of DAVIS & HUMPHRIES. Aside from your own fine and loyal support, their square dealings and friendly cooperation through the years—has been the greatest single contributing factor towards my success in serving you.

I wish to take this opportunity to congratulate DAVIS & HUMPHRIES upon their fine judgment in keeping intact the organization that has helped me build up the store at Littlefield.

May I bespeak for the new owners of the Piggly Wiggly store—a continuance of the patronage and friendship that you have accorded me.

I shall always feel grateful to the people of Littlefield for their abiding faith in me and their countless manifestations of true friendship.

Sincerely,
J. O. GARLINGTON.

DIETS GIVEN FOR ADEQUATE DIETS NUTRITION SPECIALISTS FOR THE AMERICAN FAMILY AT MODERATE COST

The country's abundant supplies, many thousands of which are still not what nutritionists call well fed. Some of the poorest to pay the cost of food. Others fail to combine the combinations of the diet that may make all the difference between abundant vitamins and mere possible good health.

Bureau of Home Economics completed an extensive study of the diets of families of workers, in which Dr. Hazel Stiebeling and her co-workers tabulated 4,000 weekly food records, and in 43 cities in 8 regions of the country during 1934-37.

The study is a vital part of the great national movement to conserve the country's resources—its human resources. It is designed to prevent "human waste" to use Doctor Stiebeling's phrase.

Measured against present day standards of good nutrition, the diets of fully half of these families were found to be deficient in 60 percent—were found to need of improvement.

Of these not-so-good diets were satisfactory except in one or two respects. But, of course, most of the really poor diets failed to meet the needs of the body in several ways. Sometimes there was not enough food of any kind.

Among the diet faults, there was a striking need for more calcium and more vitamin A. Often a family's food selections did not give them a liberal allowance of the other vitamins and minerals.

Fewer than half of all these families chose foods that would give them what nutritionists call a "safe allowance" of calcium, necessary for the building of bones and teeth and some of the body processes.

A surprisingly large number of all the families, nearly 4 out of 5, did not receive the generous allowances of vitamin A now recommended. Only about one-third of the families got enough vitamin A to fully protect them against what is known as nutritional "night blindness"—the failure of the eyes to adjust quickly from bright to dim light, or vice versa.

Although there are many inexpensive sources of vitamin B1 (thiamin), only about half of these families selected foods that would give them a liberal allowance of this vitamin.

And as for vitamin C (ascorbic acid), probably half of the families went without the daily allowance that nutritionists recommend. Ascorbic acid is the vitamin that is so often destroyed in cooking, and must be supplied daily because it cannot be stored in the body.

Only about half the families could be sure of plenty of iron from the foods they selected. The diets of 1 out of every 4 families were plainly short in this mineral, which is essential to the work of the red blood cells.

Families with only very small sums to spend bought largely of foods that satisfy hunger at low cost. Their diets were one-sided and rated as "poor" in the studies. Those that spent more money for food had a better chance for well-balanced fare, for most of them bought more milk, eggs, vegetables and fruits, than the very poor families.

But plenty of money for food did not always mean good diets, and small expenditures did not always mean poor diets. Some housewives managed to serve their families excellent meals, from the standpoint of nutrition, at very low cost. Others spent more, but made poor selections. Out of every 10 families spending enough to get completely satisfactory diets, only 2 to 4 made really wise selections.

Two easy-to-follow rules for securing a diet adequate in all respects are advocated by nutrition specialists.

The first, proposed by Dr. H. C. Sherman of Columbia University, tells how to apportion the food dollar: "Spend as much for milk and cheese, and as much for fruit and vegetables, as you do for eggs, lean meat, poultry and fish."

The second, proposed by the Bureau of Home Economics in "Diets to Fit the Family Income," gives details for the use of the different types of foods in moderate cost diets:

Milk: Allow one quart daily for each child, 1 pint for each adult. (This includes fluid, dried, or evaporated milk used in cooking. Milk may also be in the form of cheese or ice cream).

Vegetables and fruits: At least 4 or 5 servings per person daily. Every day, at least one serving of each of the following, potatoes or sweet potatoes; tomatoes or citrus fruits, leafy, green, or yellow vegetables; and fruit.

Eggs: At least 2 or 3 a week for adults, at least 4 or 5 for young children, some in cooking.

Meat, fish or poultry: Five times a week. Daily if desired.

Serve a cereal dish daily, and bread and butter at every meal.

In this plan, the most common diet faults are carefully guarded against.

First calcium. Calcium is provided in milk—milk of all kinds—and cheese. Skim milk is at least as rich in calcium as whole milk; and milk does not lose its calcium when it is dried, evaporated, condensed, or made into cheese. Leafy green vegetables may meet much of the body's need for calcium if they are served frequently and eaten in generous quantities.

The plan keeps the need for vitamin A in mind from beginning to end. A daily serving of leafy, green, or yellow vegetables provides this vitamin in its least expensive form. Such vegetables as carrots and sweetpotatoes, and leafy greens as kale, spinach and turnip tops, are excellent choices. Milk—that is whole milk—butter, egg yolks, and tomatoes also furnish vitamin A.

Ascorbic acid (vitamin C) is provided in the daily serving of tomatoes or citrus fruits. These foods are especially good partly because their acid helps protect the vitamin, but nearly all the fresh fruits and vegetables we eat furnish ascorbic acid. "Eat some raw fruits or vegetables every day," is a good slogan, for vitamin C may be destroyed in cooking, and the body cannot store a supply.

To be sure of a generous supply of vitamin B1 (thiamin) choose whole grain cereals and other foods that are not highly refined, and serve dried beans and peas often. Pork muscle and chicken and certain vital organs are rich sources of thiamin and most of the "natural" foods such as milk, fruits and vegetables furnish some.

Leafy and green vegetables and whole grain cereals are inexpensive sources of iron. Egg yolks are rich in this mineral, and some of the other good food sources are liver and dried fruits.

Tire Blow Out Causes Auto Wreck, Slight Injury to Occupants

As a result of an automobile mishap about 15 miles south of Sweetwater on the San Angelo highway Thursday afternoon, Joe Pace of this city suffered slight injury, including cut over eye and chest bruises. His companion in the car at the time, Mr. Lowe of Sweetwater was more severely injured, suffering from bruises, and was taken to the Sweetwater hospital.

A tire blowout is reported to have caused the automobile in which the two men were riding to have left the road, taking a nose dive, and turning halfway over on the radiator of the car. The car was badly damaged.

Mr. Pace who was enroute to Blackwell on business, arrived in Littlefield Friday.

PNEUMONIA TREATMENTS NOW VERY MUCH MORE EFFECTIVE

But Coughs From Colds Break Down Resistance

The scientists and doctors of the world have made great strides in the diagnosis and treatment of the dreaded pneumonia.

Most doctors agree that when a person's resistance is low he is much more susceptible, and that coughs following a cold certainly break down your resistance.

At the least suspicion of pneumonia, call your doctor at once, and at the first sign of a cough due to a cold start taking Mentho-Mulsion immediately.

Mentho-Mulsion is that time-tested cough remedy, made from ingredients used by many doctors for years. Now fortified with both Vitamins "A" and "D."

Primitive Baptist Church Completed At Spring Lake

The new Primitive Baptist church, one-quarter mile north of Springlake has been completed and services are being held there regularly.

The church is 30x40, is of frame and stucco and plastered inside. A light line running from the high-line at Springlake furnishes the light. At a later date trees and shrubs will be set out around the building which will enhance the already handsome appearance of the building.

Approximately twenty five people have their membership there and it is confidently hoped and believed that the membership will grow steadily now that this denomination has a place of worship that is adequate.

The land upon which the building is located was donated by J. N. Baker and comprises some two acres.

Regular scheduled services are on Saturday and Saturday night before the first Sunday and on the first Sunday of each month. The pastor is Rev. Lloyd Denton of Cane, Texas, who fills the pulpit at the stated services. On the next third Sunday either Rev. J. M. Denton of Lubbock or Rev. Dale of Cane will preach. Lunch is served on the premises at these services. The public is invited to attend.

LAMB COUNTY LANDMARK TO BE RAZED; MODERN BUILDING TO BE ERECTED WHERE EARTH HOTEL NOW STANDS

One of the few landmarks of pioneer days left in Lamb county will probably be razed within the near future, when work starts on the razing of the Earth hotel, to make room for 75-feet of modern stucco buildings with brick fronts.

The hotel was built in 1923, back in the years when a large portion of the northern part of Lamb county was included in the Halsell ranch, and Mr. Halsell saw the need for a hotel to accommodate the many people who came to that section. Dad and Mother Reeves were the first proprietors, and it is the only landmark left in the town of Earth today. The old frame building has served many tired cowboys, and the activity of the community has centered around that one landmark.

The structure is owned now by Mr. Harton who resides north of Earth and who foresees the possibilities of making additional business space for the firms already established in that city.

In 1936 he blocked out the Cochran county ranch and sold to farmers, and he saw one of the largest patches of cotton in Texas on the land that he sold the 6,000 acre farm put into cotton by F. O. Masten in 1937.

LOANS NOW AVAILABLE TO FARMERS FOR CONSERVATION PROGRAM IN LAMB CO.

In an effort to further assist the farmers of Lamb county, the Farm Security Administration will make immediate loans to those who are complying with the Agricultural Conservation Program so they may have funds to undertake needed protection of their lands from wind erosion.

"Farmers unable to participate in the 1939 AAA soil conservation program because of lack of funds for material may now secure FSA funds for this work," announced L. H. Hauter, regional director, yesterday. "We feel that the farmer needs the money now if he is to undertake the correct land conservation practices. The Farm Security Administration has been designated by the Department of Agriculture to furnish this short term credit to the farmer."

Loans will be made up to 60 per cent of the anticipated Triple A payment. The entire amount of the loan must be used for necessities to prepare the land for a crop, which will also serve as a wind erosion prevention crop, such as sorghums, millets and sudan grass. These necessities can include machinery, gasoline, oil or other supplies.

"In order to be eligible for these FSA loan, an applicant must be recommended by the AAA committee and be unable to secure the necessary credit elsewhere," says T. Euel Limer, local FSA supervisor. "This is in line with the FSA's policy of making loans only to farmers unable to secure credit from any other source," he said. "The borrower who can get financing when he needs it, from his bank or any private institution, is not eligible for FSA loans. The farmers also must agree not to execute an assignment of their payment other than to the Farm Security Administration."

Thirty six hundred farmers in Region XII last year took advantage of these loans. They borrowed a total of $712,292, which was used for soil conservation practices and repaid from ACP payments.

Detailed information about the loans can be obtained from the Farm Security office in the City Hall building in Littlefield or from the local ACP committee.

Work to Start on Highway 51 in Hockley County

The engineering plans by which Highway 51 will be built south of Levelland to Brownfield are almost completed, and from present prospects it would seem that actual construction will begin early in May, according to reports last week. The work will probably be done by contract, while the labor will likely be furnished by the Works Progress Administration.

Highway No. 51 is the route passing through this county from north to south and is a segment of the International Parks Highway, which passes through eastern Colorado, the Oklahoma Panhandle, and enters the State near Dalhart, passing through Channing, Vega, Hereford, Dimmitt, Littlefield, Levelland and to Brownfield. From the latter place it is paved south to Odesa and Crane. Its southern terminus, according to proposed plans is at Dryden, on the Rio Grande River.

From Crane to Brownfield it passes through or near the various oil pools of the Permian Basin for almost its entire length of over 130 miles. Its completion to Levelland would connect it with the Slaughter and Duggan oil fields which are the most northern developments of that Basin.

It is generally conceded that this gap in the highway will be completed within this year.

Completion of Lines Promised Before April 30

All the directors and members of the board who have served the past year for the Lamb County Electric Cooperative, Inc., were elected without opposition at a special meeting at the high school auditorium Monday night.

A large delegation of farmers and customers attended. Members of the board who were re-elected include:

C. W. Smiley of Littlefield, Ben Gann of Hart Camp, J. R. Kuykendall of Spade, C. G. Barnett, Fieldton; J. W. James, Lums Chapel; C. A. Thomas, Amherst, and Homer Hall of Sudan.

Supt. O. K. Woodall reported that the setting of the poles and the wire strung will be completed by Monday, with steady progress being made in house wiring. The contracts state that the contractor and his men must have the job completed by April 30, which means that Lamb county homes will soon have the conveniences of the city, and the customers of the REA will realize their dreams and expectations.

LARGE NUMBER ATTEND LEGION MEETING FRIDAY

A good representation of Legionnaires and auxiliary members were present at the meeting of the American Legion Post of County, which was held at the Legion Hut, Amherst, Friday evening, and which was pronounced as one of the most widely attended ever held.

E. E. Stagner, Commander of the Amherst post, presided, and introduced O. G. Dickinson of the Amherst high school, who led a group in singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The program also included a quartette given by four Amherst people, a one act play "Pin a Pin on Me," directed by Miss Dorothy Lofland, who is a teacher in Amherst schools, in which those taking part were: Mrs. Margaret Hunter, Christine White, Maggie Alma Lanier, Bill Bradley, Connie Duffy, and Rose Fisher, all of Amherst, and Bennett Phillips of Littlefield. Miss McGee of Olton rendered several wartime songs. Jim Wilson, commander of the 19th District of American Legion, gave a very fine address, stressing the Legion's part in preserving peace and freedom, and guarding the rights of the American youth.

MEETING OF FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN

Littlefield Has Good Chance to Secure New Industry

Farmers of this section, together with a number of prominent local and Lubbock business men, will hold a mass meeting next Monday night at the Littlefield high school auditorium. The object of the meeting is to stimulate interest in the proposed "Agrol" plant.

It will be remembered that this new industry for the Plains was suggested by W. H. Cunningham, John I. Bowling and David Schein, some months ago. A committee composed of Cunningham, Bowling and Donald Turner, attended the Chemurgic congress at Gladewater last fall and there contacted Dr. Christensen the head of the Agrol corporation of Kansas. Since that meeting Mr. Cunningham has worked incessantly on the project. He has worked with a group of Lubbock capitalists and agriculturists who are trying to promote this large plant for the South Plains. The Lubbock group has now informed Mr. Cunningham that they are ready to proceed with definite plans and have requested that a meeting be arranged in Littlefield.

Agrol is a fuel alcohol distilled from grain sorghum. The by-products are protein feed and — with additional manufacturing equipment the elements from which dry ice is produced. The cost of the proposed plant would be between $500,000 and $700,000. Assurance has been received from Washington, that the Federal agencies stand ready to help the farmers finance a cooperative company.

Mr. Cunningham states that there is a very good chance for this important industry to be located in or near Littlefield, even if it is promoted at the instigation of the Lubbock group because this section offers a number of advantages over

PAVING SURVEY CONTRACTS LET BY COMMISS'RS

Application to Cover About 51 Blocks

Contract was let Wednesday afternoon by the Littlefield City Commission to an engineering firm to draw up an application for a WPA grant for a city-wide paving project of approximately 50 blocks. The project will also include sidewalks and street markings.

The French & Pruitt Engineering company of Abilene and Big Spring will start to work immediately, drawing up the application.

In the event that the application is not approved by the WPA administrator in Washington, D. C., the city will probably make an effort to secure some other way to pave the Littlefield streets.

It is estimated that the cost to property owners will probably be $75 per 50-foot lot. B. L. Cogdill, local secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Stated.

If the project is approved, more than 100 local WPA laborers will be used.

Chronic Opposition

We have always been under the impression that any member of an executive or legislative body, is honor-bound to abide by—and support, the decisions of the majority.

The tempest in the teapot, which has been caused over at Texas Tech through the interference of chronic objectors but serves to illustrate how much damage can be done by thoughtless interference.

The Court of Civil Appeals has granted an application from the Assistant Attorney General to file a writ restraining Judge Kirby from further contempt proceedings against the regents who elected Clifford Jones President of Tech.

There is very little doubt but what the trustees will be able to secure confirmation of President Jones. It is to be hoped that Mr. Jones will stay with them and with the institution that he—more than any other human has helped to build to its present fine status.

The people of Lubbock were jubilant when the directors persuaded Mr. Jones to take over the reins of the institution. They know what he has done for Texas Tech and for Lubbock.

No sane minded observer can possibly fail to see this interruption in its true light and—therefore Mr. Jones will be just as strong in the presidency as all Lubbock and West Texas—hoped and knew he would.

Men With Wings

Nobody knows how long ago men first tried to emulate the birds, but the dream of flying must have come to many in the earliest dawn of human consciousness.

Among the ancient legends that have come down from the earliest times are mythical stories of men who devised artificial wings and flew with them. The Biblical concept of angels as man-like beings with wings is almost as old as human thought.

With the inauguration of the regular trans-Atlantic flying service the climax has been reached of man's age-old dream of flight.

In the words of the old hymn: "There, there, on eagle's wings we soar." Those of us, that is, who are fortunate enough and courageous enough to take the 18-hour passage from New York to England in the great new "Yankee Clipper," the largest and finest passenger aircraft ever built.

Carrying 74 passengers and a crew of ten, there is every reason to expect this great ship of the air to perform as its designers and engineers expect it to. Much longer flights, and many of them have been made across the Pacific and are being made almost with the regularity of railroad schedules.

But the Pacific, as its name implies, is a much milder stretch of water than the North Atlantic. Extraordinary precautions, we are told, have been taken to guard against the unstable air conditions over the sea which Englishmen still refer to as the "Western Ocean," though it is east of any point from which we in America view it.

Both American and British aviation companies are ready to launch more cross-Atlantic flying boats before the coming Summer is over.

The new ships of the air are smaller than the Santa Maria, the flagship of the little fleet in which Columbus made the first trans-Atlantic crossing 436 years ago. But he took four months whereas the new "Yankee Clipper" will literally enable its passengers to eat breakfast in America and dine the same day in England. And that seems to us to be something wonderful.

Howdy Folks: Exactly ten years ago—the Governor of our neighboring state was removed from office following his impeachment for "general incompetency."

I have been doing some free-lance prophecying lately. After all—when it comes to the question—"what will Hitler do next?"—my guess is as good as anybody's.

The World Fairs at New York and San Francisco, will cost the people of this United States millions upon millions of dollars this summer.

Four months ago, a gay, adventure-bound crew set sail from Gloucester harbor, in an 89-foot brigantine schooner, for the South Sea Islands.

brated his birthday the other day by making a reminiscent talk before the Lions Club of his town. Incidentally—Mr. Kellis has been county surveyor for 40 years.

After studying pretty carefully historical data of a hundred years ago I can't see that there have been any changes of consequence in the outlook of the general run of people.

There is still, I am thankful to say, a very large number of people who don't ask any favors. The only fear I have for the future of America is that we may get so fixed in the habit of expecting the Government to do everything for us that we will be willing to give up our natural liberties in exchange for what seems, at the time, a greater measure of economic security.

Going back into history a lot farther than a hundred years, I find the records of many nations who were sold on the same idea.

MOTHER OF RAY RIDDLING PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY AS RESULT OF HEART ATTACK

Mrs. J. B. Riddling, 67, mother of Ray Riddling of this city, passed away suddenly as a result of heart trouble early Saturday morning, March 25, at her home at Bovina, Texas.

Mrs. Riddling had been in ill health for the past four or five years. Her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Darsey, of Dimmitt, had been watching over her mother. About 1:30 Saturday morning Mrs. Riddling told her daughter that she believed she could "go to sleep," and suggested that Mrs. Darsey turn out the lights and go to bed. When her daughter awoke in the morning about 6 o'clock, she found her mother had passed away.

Ray Riddling, who is employed at the Maddox Cleaning shop here, received the death message by telephone early Saturday, and accompanied by his sister, Mrs. P. T. Findley of Lubbock, left immediately for the death bed. He returned to Littlefield Monday. Funeral services were conducted at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, March 26, at the Methodist church, Bovina, with the pastor officiating and interment took place in the Bovina cemetery.

Surviving deceased are her husband, and four daughters and two sons, Ray of Littlefield, and Glenn Riddling of Santa Fe, N. M.; and Mrs. P. T. Findley, Lubbock; Mrs. F. L. Patterson, Mesa Rica, N. M.; Mrs. Lee Hardesty, Valley Ranch, N. M.; and Mrs. H. C. Darsey of Dimmitt; and two brothers, Ernest and John Cunningham of Saint Jo, Texas.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank those who so graciously extended to us any kindness during our recent sorrow in the death of our sister. For the floral offerings --- for each word of comfort and expression of sympathy --- we are deeply grateful.

We especially wish to thank the ladies of the First Baptist W. M. U., and O. E. S. for the meals they so graciously served.

When your hour of sorrow comes we pray that such true and faithful friends may attend you.

BRENTWOOD—

He certainly knows his Bible. He can preach all around any preacher I ever heard before. But you'll hear him. You'll see what he's like."

"Well, I hope I shall be able to keep from going crazy over him," Marjorie smiled.

Ted turned red. "Oh, you're not like that. You're sensible! But he's a prince, you know. I'm not blaming 'em for going crazy over him. If I was a girl I might do it myself."

"Did Betty used to go to church with you when you lived in Brentwood," asked Marjorie.

Ted's face darkened.

"No!" he said shortly. "She wouldn't go. She said she had no time for church. She was all taken up with a poor fish in the office where she worked. He usta come out in a second-hand roadster and take her places. He made me sick. Had one of those little misplaced eye-brows on his upper lip, thought he was smart, could smoke more cigarettes in an hour than anybody I ever heard of, and wore his hat way off on the back of his head like he was bored with the world and thought he was too good to associate with common people."

"Then she doesn't know Gideon Reaver?"

"No, she wouldn't be introduced one day when I brought him home. She said she didn't care to know preachers, they would bore her, and it might be embarrassing to have him hanging around. Oh, she makes me sick sometimes."

"I guess she's had rather a hard time," suggested Marjorie gently.

"Sure she has! We've all had a hard time. And she's been a good scout, worked like everything to take care of Mother and Father, and all that, but still—sometimes she makes me sick."

He suddenly broke off and his voice grew jubilant. "There's Brentwood now! See it up there on the hill? And that's our house, that long low stone house with the white pillars to the porch! Isn't that some swell location? And there! Upon my word if there doesn't come Gideon Reaver now!"

Then Marjorie looked up to see a tall finely built young man coming toward her with astonishingly wonderful eyes that seemed to have seen further into life than most men see, yet they had a deep sweet settled peace in them. She wondered if it could be real. She had never seen a young man who had that look.

JUNIOR MUSICIANS TO MAKE FIRST PUBLIC APPEARANCE AT SUDAN SUNDAY, APRIL 16

Who knows? Future violin artists, who will take the places of Albert Spalding, Fritz Kreisler, Maude Powell, Gachabei Feitz, or Ysaye, probably are among the group of Junior Musicians in Littlefield!

These Junior Musicians practice every Saturday morning at the Legion Hut, and they now have their own orchestra as a result of their efforts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hall of Lubbock are in charge of the Littlefield branch of the Junior Musicians of America, and they have been doing some credible work with these boys and girls who are interested in studying the finer art, and being able to play the violin and the guitar.

The group will make its first public appearance Sunday afternoon April 16, at the First Baptist Church in Sudan.

A musical program has been arranged to be held at the Legion Hut in Littlefield Saturday, April 29. The Junior Musicians' Mothers' organization will give away a beautiful quilt on that day, and the public is invited to attend the concert. The time of the program will be announced at a later date.

The Musicians' Mothers elected officers for the next quarter, in their regular meeting Saturday morning. Mrs. Herbert Martin was elected president, Mrs. Warren Rutledge, vice-president; and Mrs. Morgan Easter of Anton was named secretary.

The future violin artists are James Sizemore, Herbert Martin, Jr., Paul Humphrey, Kenneth Johnston, Frank Lane, Billie Gene Smith, Emma Lou Bolton, Warren Rutledge Jr., Connie Hopping, Rex Easter, DeAnn Kinkler, Betty Montgomery, Jimmie VonLankin, L. E. Miller Jr., and Bobby Foust.

Guitar players included M. C. Street, Jr., Lynn Castle, Ray Pierce, M. D. Abbott, Jr., and A. M. Johnston.

Levelland Is on Building Spree; Business Progressing

Levelland, the town that 15 years ago was a wide place on a cattle trail and known and shown on maps as Hockley City, now has a severe attack of growing pains, with nearly a half of a million dollars in construction underway and still more contemplated.

A huge refinery, 3,000 barrel capacity, is being built at an estimated cost of $275,000. An additional $100,000 pipe line is building also.

Wallace Blankenship, theater owner, has begun a $50,000 theater, his second modern building of that kind there. Foundation has been finished and brick work will start shortly.

Paving work under way will cost in excess of $30,000. There will be 28 blocks paved, in all.

Just finished a few days ago was a $58,000 grade school building. Within the next 30 days, having still further delays, will be a $72,000 jail finished and ready for occupancy.

During the past 18 months a number of business buildings have been erected and new firms have moved in and started. The paving work has kept many local people at work during the winter, as well as the construction work.

Subject to Your Support at the City Election Tuesday, April 4th

In making announcement of my candidacy for the high office of Mayor of Littlefield—I wish to First of All—thank those men who have prevailed upon me to enter the race. No young man could be unmindful of this fine compliment and the confidence which it implies. I have never been in politics nor sought office of any kind. I made every effort to dissuade my friends from their purpose of drawing me into the race. Having finally agreed to announce my candidacy—I feel that the tax payers of Littlefield are entitled to an expression as to my stand and my objectives.

I have lived in Littlefield since 1925 and have been in business in our city since 1929. All I have is in Littlefield. I have not or will not make a single promise or pledge contingent upon my election except—to give you the very best I have in the way of experience, ability and knowledge of our city's needs.

If elected I shall—of course, continue to look after my business interests but I will give all the time required for the fulfillment of the duties of your Mayor.

BEST FORMS FOR FREE COTTON SEEDING READY FOR GROWERS

The making request for the planting of cotton of their own are available to one community and after one government groups at the Station showing office in the division of cotton marketing, George E. Miller, who is in charge of the office, announced today.

Representatives of six cotton improvement groups are making use of these application forms by applying to the bureau's office. The address is P. O. Box 44, Smith, Texas. Groups qualifying may apply any time after January 1, 1939, and are granted their cotton, but their applications will be given preference after November 1, 1939, for the allotment of planting seed in Cotton Belt.

Mr. Miller said about a million applications for the free seedling may come in from a many to 100 to 2,000 cotton improvement groups this year compared with the 100 for which the bureau planned cotton during the past season. The first part of the seedling, "Early Hybrid" or "improvement" is said, "will help the clearing office expedite the large amounts of work expected this year and many growers and their groups will be among the first to receive their seed." An application will be accepted later than Sept. 1. The bureau will accept the cotton market news service from the year to September 15, 1939, for the cotton improvement groups. With this service, the groups can have the market news service times each day or within a week period in local papers or other means accessible to their members.

Birds Migrating Here

Wild ducks and geese on the South Plains were dying from lack of proper protection, several years ago, but for the past two years, they have been migrating in this section.

Brush Serves as Sanctuaries

Brush piles that serve as sanctuaries for quail have been fixed, and the birds are fed and encouraged to stay in this preserve. A large number of prairie chickens were seen last fall.

Blue Crane Noticed

Besides quail, ducks and prairie chickens, curlews, and sand cranes are numerous at the preserve, J. K. Walton, superintendent of the project, told the visitors Sunday. Mr. Walton also said that he noticed a blue heron crane on the shore of one of the lakes Sunday morning. He saw a few sea gulls there in the winter, and there are probably as many as 75 different kinds of birds to be found on these 5,810 acres. Some of these birds come from the Great Lakes, and as far north as Alaska in the winter, it is believed.

Ducks and other shore birds feed on the Widgeon plant that grows in the water in these lakes. The upland birds are fed wheat and other grains.

Migration is one of the greatest wonders of nature, but not all birds migrate. It is now believed and has been rather definitely proved by experiment that birds find their way over thousands of miles of their migration routes to the very spot where they nested the previous year, by means of a sixth sense — the sense of direction, which is so nearly developed in man that he can scarcely appreciate its power in the bird.

Natural cliffs, hills and caves help to make this place attractive, and with the 65,000 trees planted last year, and the 50,000 this year, Mr. Walton hopes to make the bird refuge a beautiful and interesting place to visitors, as well as serve as protection for the birds. Wild plums, white mulberry, and desert willows are among the kinds of trees that are being planted. One variety of tree, the juglan nigra, comes from Yugoslavia, and Mr. Walton stated that these trees were among the healthiest on the preserve.

Project Supplies Work

Besides protecting the birds, this project includes WPA labor used in planting trees, and a six room house is being completed for Mr. Walton and family. A garden has been planted, and Sunday, the asparagus plants were being watered. An electric power plant has been installed, with an electric pump for the water supply.

Mr. Walton has been in Civil Service work for a large number of years, and he has been supervisor of this project since August, 1937. Mr. and Mrs. Walton and two sons had their farm overflowed twice, when they lived on the banks of the Mississippi river, in 1923 and 1927. While telling about the mud, their home being washed away, and their two weeks stay in a barn, Mr. Walton remarked, "just give me the West Texas dust storms."

furnished by the WPA. Commissioner Vann, in whose district the clubhouse will be located, stated that it was the intention of the county commissioners to make this a community building for the use and benefit, of all the people in the county. Approximately five acres will be landscaped and beautified to make this a real attractive outing and gathering place.

Plans were prepared, and work will be under the general supervision of Architect G. S. Glenn of Littlefield. The building should be completed in two or three months and in readiness for use by July 1.

At next Monday's meeting an organization will be formed for the purpose of devising ways and means to secure this valuable industry.
