YOUR MAIL'S CARRIED LADY-LIKE

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

Martha Drake and Eula Jackson see that the mail goes through. Through rain, sleet, snow and sand storms, these two women have carried rural star route mail for a combination of 35 years.

Mrs. Drake started carrying the mail during WWII when people had to have ration stamps for gas and tires. "Bread trucks couldn't make deliveries to the small rural communities on my mail route," Mrs. Drake said, "so I'd take bread to the stores and leave loaves of bread, pies and cakes in the mailboxes on my route."

"I STILL DO errands for those on my route," Mrs. Jackson said, "especially elderly people. I pick up medicine for them, or bring their trading stamps to town and redeem them and take their merchandise back to them the next day. I love to help people if I can."

The two women represent quite a safety record, too. Neither of the two have had an accident.

MRS. DRAKE'S star route two serves 195 persons over a 78 mile round trip. She has been carrying this route 20 years. This is in addition to the three and one-half years during the war and acting as a substitute mail carrier for several years.

Mrs. Drake has an estimated 600,000 official miles to her credit with a perfect safety record.

"Oh, I've run the wheels off," she laughed, "and had dozens of flats. I always carry two spares. There have been times when I used both spare tires and was needing my third by the time I got back to the post office."

"I've wound up out in plowed fields during sand storms when the dust was so bad I couldn't see the road. And once during a snow storm I was stranded in my car for about three hours and the car was almost completely covered in snow before help arrived."

THE WOMEN'S husbands usually accompany them on their routes during snow storms and blizzards. "It's a good idea to have two people along when the weather is really bad," Mrs. Drake said.

Mrs. Drake's route goes from Littlefield to Fieldton and Hart Camp, to Olton, then Spade and back to Littlefield again.

MRS. JACKSON sub-contracted her dad's route when he retired 11 years ago. Mrs. Jackson's father was N. M.

Crowd Expected For C-C Banquet

By JOELLA LOVVORN
News Editor, Leader-News

An outstanding speaker, a colorful theme of "We're All Wrapped Up In Littlefield", and presentation of the community's top awards will highlight the program for Littlefield's annual Chamber of Commerce banquet.

The event is set for Thursday night, Jan. 30, at 7:30 in Littlefield High School Cafeteria.

"We expect 350 to 400 persons to attend, when Littlefield's 'Outstanding Citizen' and 'Outstanding Farmer' will be recognized," said Jim Kelly, Chamber executive vice president.

Kip Cutshall, ticket chairman, states that approximately three-fourths of the expected ticket sales have been made, and he expects quite a few last minute purchases. The $3 tickets may be bought from any member of the ticket committee, or at the Chamber Office.

Outgoing officers and directors and incoming officers and directors will be presented by Bob Wear for recognition.

Pat Boone, Jr. will present the "Outstanding Citizen Award", and Joe Montgomery will present the "Outstanding Farmer Award".

A special presentation will be made by new Chamber President John Clayton, prior to the speech by the featured speaker of the evening, Dr. Walter Kerr.

Dr. Kerr of Tyler, an internationally famous Texas youth leader, is widely known for his colorful career as lawyer, minister and entertainer, as well as youth leader.

A graduate of University of Texas Law School, Dr. Kerr served for a time on the legal staff of the governor of Texas.

He received his doctorate of divinity in his early years and has served 21 years as a Methodist minister.

General banquet chairman is Charles Duval, and Mrs. Beulah Dunlap and members of "We

The Women" are in charge of decorations for the annual event.

The "Dirty Dozen", a musical group from Littlefield High School, will present special music for the program.

John Clayton is incoming Chamber of Commerce president; new president-elect is Jim Jones and treasurer is Jim Vandenberg.

New vice-presidents are Pat Downs, Joe Montgomery, Doyle Patton, and Bill Turner.

Other directors are Warren Dayton; Charles Duval, James Lee, Arthur Duggan Jr. and Kenneth Ware.

Members of the executive staff are Executive Vice President James M. Kelly and his secretary, Mrs. Lois Owen.

Officers and directors for 1968 have been Warren Dayton, president; John Clayton, president-elect; Kenneth Ware, Joe Montgomery, Bill Turner and R. B. Chandler, vice-presidents; and Jim Jones, treasurer.

Other directors for 1968 were Gene Pratt, James Lee, C. A. Duval, E. J. Foust Jr. and Arthur Duggan Jr.

License Plates On Sale Feb. 3

License plates for 1969 with the new white reflectorized background and black lettering will go on sale Feb. 3 at all Lamb County tax offices and sub-stations.

Herbert Dunn, county tax assessor-collector, said 21,099 plates for all types of vehicles, including passenger car, commercial and farm, will go on sale Monday, Feb. 3, and the office will not be open Saturday, Feb. 1.

"Owners of vehicles must bring titles and 1968 license receipts to our office, or to the sub-station where the plates are to be picked up, before we can issue them," said Dunn.

Prices for the tags are based on weight of the vehicle and are divided into three categories. Vehicles weighing up to 3,500 pounds will cost the owner $12.30; those weighing from 3,501 to 4,500 pounds, $22.30; and those weighing from 4,501 to 6,000 will require a fee of $30.30.

License plate money collected in Lamb County last year totaled $371,183.07. Of that amount, the County keeps the first $50,000. After the county reached the $50,000 mark, money was divided 50-50 with the state, until the County portion reached $175,000, then the state received the balance.

"Plates must be on cars by April 1," Dunn concluded.

SEX: Mixed School Classes Learn At Whiteface

A trail-blazer in sex education, as far as mixed classes are concerned especially, is Charlie Booz, Whiteface High School principal and instructor of the sex education program there.

Sex education is practically non-existent in the Littlefield School system. Teaching has been considered here, according to Paul I. Jones, superintendent of schools, but he added that he feels time is needed for the subject to be publicly accepted.

Joyce Oliver, school nurse, shows films on menstruation to girls in the fifth grade, Jones said. In advanced grades, films on smoking and narcotics abuse are shown in health classes, and personal hygiene is taught.

"Nothing specific in the way of sex education is taught here," Forrest Martin said. "A few things about the reproductive system and some personal hygiene is correlated in the health and science studies."

An article by Charles Booz is reprinted in today's issue on Page 10. It is from the November, 1968, issue of the Texas Outlook, official publication of the Texas State Teachers Association.

A list of questions and answers at the end of the reprinted article is taken from the question and answer sessions which follow films and class discussions under Booz's direction.

Five Die In Pulverizing Head-On Crash At Anton

A former Whitharral driver, her husband and two children were four of five people killed in a pulverizing head-on, two car crash Sunday night near Anton.

All five occupants of the cars were pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace E. L. Ford of Levelland. The dead include Marion Dean Andrews, 34, of Lubbock, the occupant of one car, according to Don Kuykendall, investigating officer. Andrews was driving on the wrong side of the road.

The other dead were Joseph William Labenz, 24, of Wolfthorpe, driver of the second car; Beverly Labenz, 29, and her two children, Kim Starnes, 10, and Craig Starnes, 2.

Mrs. Labenz was the former Mrs. Beverly Overman. She attended school at Whitharral. In 1959 she married M. H. Starnes who was later killed in action in Vietnam.

She moved to Wolfthorpe from Lynn County in 1967 where she later married Labenz.

Donald Kuykendall of the Texas Department of Public Safety said the accident was apparently not caused by the weather. Though the highway surface was slightly moist at the crash site, fog which had shrouded much of the South Plains was absent in the area.

Kuykendall said there was no indication of another vehicle entering the wrong lane of the highway since there is no intersection in the immediate area. He said he could find no skid marks from either vehicle.

The head-on crash forced the motors of both vehicles back against the passengers and the wreckage of the small late model Labenz car had to be loaded onto a trailer before it could be towed away more than an hour after the mishap.

Force of the crash carried both vehicles about 30 feet north of the highway before the Labenz car careened off the side of the road.

Kuykendall said the collision was one of the worst he had seen. All five bodies were pinned in the wreckage of the two cars.

See the obituary column for funeral arrangements.

Lamb County Vets To Get More Money

Increased benefits are on the way for Lamb County veterans and their dependents.

Their monthly compensation and pension checks will be bigger than ever, thanks to two laws passed by Congress during the past year.

In addition, for those who are veterans of World Wars I and II and hold G.I. insurance policies, there will be an increase in dividend payments.

One of the laws provides for a new schedule of compensation payments to veterans who were disabled while in active service.

It increases, by $235 million, the annual amount to be paid to the 1,952,000 veterans now getting such aid. They had been receiving $2 billion a year, which averaged out to $1,025 per person. The new average will be $1,145.

Just how much any particular veteran will receive will depend upon the extent of his disability.

Those with 100 percent disability will now get $4,800 a year, as compared with $3,600 previously. For those with 20 percent disability, on the other hand, the compensation will be $516.

Approximately 160 of Lamb County's veterans will be getting bigger compensation checks as a result. Payments to

Voters Must Register By Jan. 30

Less than half the number of persons who registered to vote in last year's elections have registered so they will be eligible to vote this year. The deadline is Jan. 31.

Herbert Dunn, county tax assessor-collector reports that voter registration is going much slower than was expected. He reminds citizens there is less than a week to get their certificates.

Dunn said that too many books were out over the county to know the total certificates issued to date, but he said that more than 10,000 application blanks were mailed out with the tax statements.

Any person eligible to register may apply for registration by mailing an application form to the county tax office of his residence. Mailed in applications must be postmarked by Jan. 31.

Registration certificates will be returned by mail to those applying by this method.

Registration may be done by voters applying in person at the county tax assessor-collector's office or at any of the sub-stations at the city halls in Amherst, Sudan, Earth and Olton. Loveless Appliance in Olton and Jones Cotton Office in Sudan also are sub-stations issuing voters' certificates.

For the first time in Texas history, it is necessary for persons over 60 years old who live in rural communities and towns under 10,000 population to register. Heretofore persons over 60 were required to register only if they lived in a city having more than 10,000 inhabitants.

In applying for registration, the husband, wife, father, mother, son or daughter of a voter may act as the voter's agent if the relative is a qualified voter in the same county.

Except for these listed relatives, which do not include those related by marriage, no one may act as agent for another in applying for registration. Application forms for relatives not listed may be obtained at the tax assessor-collector's office however.

School Census Taking Underway In County

January is "school census month" in Texas according to Paul I. Jones, superintendent of Littlefield schools.

Rex Gilstrap is census enumerator for Littlefield schools. The purpose of the census is to compile a complete list of all school-age children, especially those who will be six years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1969.

Jones asks that parents whose eldest child will be six before school starts next fall to phone the primary building, 985-4551, or come by the principal's office at 214 N.

Westside Ave. and fill out necessary forms.

The school census includes all children six years through 17 even though they may be married.

The census includes those who are mentally retarded, deaf, physically handicapped, or who are not attending school for any reason, Jones said. Such problems should be indicated at the time of registration, however.

Farmers are asked to be sure the children of their farm hands are counted. Deadline is January 31.

How can you make more money?

In these times, that's a question you ought to ask yourself, especially if you're between the ages of 25 and 45. For, during these crucial years, most men either make good or they don't. They begin to realize their ambitions...or slide slowly into the stifling routine of average jobs.

Too many men who could be making twice their present salaries are just coasting. They "postpone" their way through the most productive years of their lives. They pass up thousands of dollars in added income.

Fortunately, there is always time for the man who faces up to reality. He analyzes his true worth, painful as the process may be. Then he sets his goal and finds out how to make himself promotable, how to gain greater income, recognition and prestige.

Inevitably, he discovers that the single most important factor to success is ability to deal with people. That means the ability to lead instead of drive, to think and talk on his feet any time, any place, to get others enthusiastic about himself and his ideas. He learns that these personal abilities are as vital as technical skill or job experience.

What about you? How many times have you made a mental note to seek ways to develop these abilities in yourself?

An Invitation And A Challenge

You'll never find a better time than right now, nor a more effective program for personal advancement than the Dale Carnegie Course.

Georgia Sallaska, a niece of A. H. Scivally of Fieldton is the author of her first book.

It's an epic adventure which would appeal to readers whose interest in Greece goes past the past activities of Aristotle and, according to book editor Montgomery.

The story is told in first person by Hippolochus, a noble, broken and penniless king who was formerly the most king in his part of the world.

Mrs. Sallaska said she spent four years writing and researching the book. It is published by Doubleday and priced at $6.95.

THE FARMER'S WIFE

A New Era

By LIBBY MUDGETT

NOW AMERICA has a new President.

He's been accused of having ice water in his veins and heaven knows he'll need it.

I liked the Inauguration Ceremony. There was more an overtone of spirituality than in any other Presidential Inauguration in my lifetime.

THERE WERE FIVE different prayers: one each offered by a Roman Catholic, a Greek Orthodox, a Rabbi, a Protestant, and someone I never could place. Nixon and Agnew both chose to take their oaths with their hands placed on a Bible. The Marine Band played "God Bless America". The Mormon Tabernacle Choir sang.

SO EVERYBODY should have been pleased except the atheists. In his Inaugural Address, Richard Nixon pleaded for America to lower her voice; the government would listen if we'd lower our voice so they could hear our words.

Well, okay. I'll try to cooperate. But if it works, it'll be the first government in my memory that listened to anybody that spoke softly, gave nobody any trouble, and threatened in no way to overturn the boat.

BUT I'LL go along. I'll even comment on the way Lyndon has bent over backwards to make this transition of leadership smooth and not even speculate as to his reasons for such reason.

Barry Goldwater said that for the first time in thirty-five years, our nation is now starting on the right road and not to expect too much real soon, but ere long we'll see what he means.

MAYBE SO, but I don't know what all he means.

Jeanne Dixon (oh you know, that prophetess) says that Nixon has "excellent vibrations" for the good of America and will serve his country well. She also said the same thing about Sargent Shriver, so evidently all the "excellent vibrations" aren't in one political party.

JEANNE PREDICTED back in 1964 that Richard Nixon would be our President come 1968. She also said then that Johnson's War on Poverty would fail unless more spirituality was introduced into the program because "man does not live by bread alone, and it takes more than food and money to restore the dignity of man."

Nixon said more or less the same thing in his Inaugural Address. He also said quite a bit about simplicity, and about the simple things of life being the most important things.

SIMPLE REFLEXES, conditioned by years of listening to politicians, caused me to wonder if he was trying to tell us to get ready for a depression, higher taxes, or something even worse whereby all we'll have is the sun in the morning and the moon at night.

But there I go again being suspicious before the man has even gotten started. I agree heartily about the simple things in life.

RIGHT NOW as I write this, Nixon and his family are watching the Inaugural Parade.

He's in a simple dark suit, Pat's in a simple red coat-dress with a fur hat I'm sure has a simple price tag, Tricia's in an expensively simple blue frock, and Julie's in a green suit that's simply stunning.

NEVERTHELESS, simple good wishes to Richard Milhous Nixon.

And I don't mind saying, as much trouble as Lyndon Baines Johnson has given me for five years, when he and his family took off in Air Force Jet No. 1 headed for his home on the range, I got a lump in my throat.

Not that I want him back! It's just that he's already accomplished what Nixon's favorite slogan is—"Bring us together."

Lyndon Johnson united more Americans into being against him than I think Richard Nixon will be able to unite in any way whatsoever.

BUT WE SHALL SEE. We shall see.

HOWDY NEIGHBOR!

Recently I read of a newspaper publisher who seemed to always get some word out of order or misplace the periods and commas. Here is his sad story:

It seems that a man with a sewing machine to sell placed a classified ad in his paper.

The next day the ad appeared and then was followed in subsequent days by three more ads as follows:

Monday

"FOR SALE: R. D. Smith has one sewing machine for sale. Phone 958. Call after 7 p.m. and ask for Mrs. Kelly who lives with him cheap."

Tuesday

"We regret having erred in R. D. Smith's ad yesterday. It should have read: FOR SALE: R. D. Smith has one sewing machine for sale cheap. Phone 958 and ask for Mrs. Kelly who lives with him after 7 p.m."

Wednesday

"R. D. Smith has informed us that he has received several annoying telephone calls because of an error we made in his ad yesterday. His ad stands corrected: FOR SALE: R. D. Smith has one sewing machine for sale. Cheap. Phone 958 after 7 p.m. and ask for Mrs. Kelly who loves with him."

Thursday

NOTICE: I, R. D. Smith, have no sewing machine for sale. I smashed it. Don't call 958 because the phone has been taken out. I have not been carrying on with Mrs. Kelly. Until yesterday, she was my housekeeper but she has quit.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

A great big THANK YOU to you and your staff for helping make "Lamb County Spottless".

We feel the campaign was a great success with 501 students and 176 pre-school children immunized. Thank you again.

Sincerely,

THE PHILOSOPHER New System

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm ignores the international situation this week and concentrates on domestic issues.

Dear editor:

Three items in one newspaper that turned up out here on this Johnson grass farm yesterday have convinced me that the saying, "Nothing succeeds like success," should be changed to "Nothing fails like success."

One item reported that the Saturday Evening Post, with the largest circulation in its 175-year history, is closing down because it's busted.

It had so many subscribers and such a shortage of advertising it couldn't make ends meet. It even tried cutting 3 million subscribers off, but still it didn't work.

Another item reported that college football, breaking all attendance records at higher ticket prices, is losing money, and some coaches are arguing they ought to go back to one-platoon football, where one player plays on both offense and defense.

Like it is, it takes four teams, two for offense, counting the No. 1 team and the No. 2 team to back up players who get hurt, and the same for defense. "It costs too much money for scholarships and equipment for that many men," some coaches argue.

I don't know what the solution is, but those coaches ought to know that if they switch to one-platoon ball, they can't expect the boys to play double time for the same money, so the total salary bill would be the same.

They might save a little on headgears, but I doubt it since they too would be used twice as much and last only half as long.

The third item reported that the U. S. Post Office Department is getting so much business it's in worse shape than football or the Saturday Evening Post. The more business it gets, the more money it loses.

I have thought of one-platoon mailing, where it's all right to get a letter but against the law to answer it, and while this would cut down on volume all right, some soreheads would object.

I don't know what the answer is, but Congress ought to get to work on the problem as soon as it gets its salary raised and other routine business out of the way. It's bad enough to lose the Saturday Evening Post, but we can't have the Post Office shutting down too.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

This Is Littlefield

With the turn of the new year, Spring is once again just around the corner.

The coming of Spring is a reminder of cleaning, not only in the home but throughout the entire community.

Littlefield has long had a need for a good, general cleaning of its vacant lots, alleys, curbs, and even yards. Though there has always been the period of clean observed, participation residents, and sometimes even city itself, has lacked enthusiasm.

A community with a real rake.....This is Littlefield.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Revival Time

By BOB WEAR

THE LIFE dear to most of us is being very strongly challenged. In the midst of present-day conditions, it is alarming that so many folk seem to have the feeling that there isn't much that can be done.

This is part of what is wrong; this feeling that there is nothing to be done. This feeling adds too much burden to burdens already too heavy.

The spirit of defeatism which is most undesirable is obviously widespread.

THERE IS SOMETHING all of us can do. We can help revive the victorious human spirit. This may not change the world, but it will help sustain the persons in whom the revival occurs.

We seldom hear a strong expression of dynamic confidence based on truth and reality. In fact, most people don't say much one way or the other.

The general attitude seems to be; I will just wait and see what happens.

THE PRACTICE of "sticking our heads in the sand" is popular in our time. There seems to be a feeling that if we ignore the problems they will go away.

In the meantime, the potentially victorious human spirit continues to grow weaker.

WE ARE BLAMING each other. The political parties blame each other; our public officials point the finger of criticism at one another; educators accuse the general public; the public says that the educational system is at fault; the school blames the home; the home blames the school; and almost everybody blames the church.

This damaging subterfuge goes on and on, ad infinitum. The tragedy is in the fact that this present mood is part of the devitalizing, degrading condition which threatens us.

ARE WE LOSING CONFIDENCE in our integrity? Are we afraid to face the future and assume our share of responsibility for doing our best as individuals? We must not give up.

THE CURRENT SPLURGE of self-indulgence is dissipating very spirit of life itself. Too many of us are willing to enjoy present manifold blessings; but forgetful and neglecting their origin. This is too much drifting along with the tide.

We are becoming more and more like those who "killed the goose that laid the golden egg".

WE SURELY KNOW that the spirit which includes dignity, strength, confidence, courage, faith must not die, but must be revived. The dynamic spirit of that is the life indeed is not dead. It may be dormant, and apparently being badly neglected, but it is not dead.

This spirit can be revived, nourished night and day, it will flourish again. We must dedicate ourselves to the hopeful task of reviving it.

We must settle down; we must become responsible; we must get to work; we must restore balance found in putting things first. There is no time to waste.

THE REVIVAL MUST START with you and me.

Much too long, we have been contented with "passing the buck," blaming one another and waiting for somebody else to assume the responsibility for reviving and preserving the spirit of living.

WE MUST REVIVE the spirit of faith in God, courage in the right, truth in all things, devoted to duty and readiness to sacrifice when necessary. This is the spirit of life for us. It is revival time.

PAUL HARVEY

Marijuana Not Harmless

THESE ARE DIFFICULT days for conscientious parents. On every hand, the old absolutes are contradicted.

For previous generations, it was simpler. The medieval scholar said "according to Aristotle"—and that was the last word on that.

Fundamentalists ended any debate over right and wrong with "the Bible says....."

TODAY CHURCHMEN are publicly in dispute, scholars and scientists revise or reject ancient "truths" to conform to new discoveries.

Dr. Richard Foster Jones rationalizes. "Fortunately however the truth about a star may change, its beauty remains."

You and I grew up believing that alcohol and tobacco were "bad for us." Artful advertising tended to refute that notion.

NOW WE HAVE a report from researchers at Boston University on the subject of marijuana. This purports to be a comprehensive scientific analysis and evaluation of "pot". It suggests that marijuana is not really all that bad.

And alert school-agers, to their anguished parents, say, "See!"

BOSTON U. RESEARCHERS say that marijuana is a "relatively mild intoxicant", that smoking "grass" does slightly impair thinking and co-ordination, but only temporarily.

But this report, as most others I have seen on this subject, stops short of adding the irrefutable statistical fact that marijuana most frequently leads the smoker into the use of more volatile drugs.

SAID ANOTHER WAY, almost every heroin addict started with the "innocent" weed.

True, many drug addicts go directly from pills to the needle without ever smoking anything. But most who end up in jail or in institutions because of an uncontrollable addiction are graduates of pot parties. They started on marijuana!

New York State Narcotics Commission Chairman Lawrence Pierce says, "Records compiled by the Board of Health show that youths who acquire the marijuana habit in their teens are four times as likely to be heroin addicts in their 20's".

FEDERAL NARCOTICS Commissioner Henry Giordano agrees. He says, "There is a dangerous attitude developing among some people that there is nothing wrong or harmful with marijuana; it is in fact a dangerous drug."

He says, "Individuals who start using marijuana are looking for kicks and after a while the marijuana kicks are not enough and they go on to heroin."

WHETHER MARIJUANA is, itself, addictive is now academic since the introduction of a form of marijuana from North Africa into the United States a variety known as "kif"—which assuredly is addictive. "It compares to the Mexican variety like whiskey compares to beer."

The American Medical Assn.'s Committee on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence cites "psychiatric implications" in the use of marijuana. "Continuous use may be associated with the development of psychiatric illness."

Those who want to go to pot should go there with their eyes open.

Starting A New Term

Kathy Turner

Those tests were "choppers" everyone of 'em. And now we're over. We're all waiting for that great report card day. Students this week have been looking a little different. They're starting a new semester. (THRILL) Some with a smile and a few without!

We've all started realizing school's half over, so we'd better start thinking about our school work. Might as well, there's nothing to do. (With the exception of the weekend!!)

Last look at the semester! Where did it all go? What did we accomplish? Well, where it went is beyond us, but we accomplished absolutely, without any doubt, exactly.....nothing!

No, really the semester had its good times, and yet it had its BAD TIMES. As a whole, it's been a lot of fun.

Let's all put everything we've got into making this the cruddiest semester ever! No, seriously, let's make the best of it. So keep that right foot in front and tell the left one to "keep up!"

Since a new golf class has been instituted at L.H., we'd like to put in our own personal comment:

Golf is no longer a rich man's game. There are millions of poor players.

Last Thursday, Levland never did show up for the game! But we guess the reason was because the game wasn't scheduled for then.

There isn't a game THIS Thursday either, but there is a tournament. It's at Muleshoe and depending on whether we win or lose, the boys will play Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Let's all join in to back them to victory! Show some SPIRIT!!

Hey Jerry? How did your "love-in" turn out???

This coming Wednesday is the day the Ed students will take their written test.

Good-luck to every one and we're all hoping that each and everyone of you will help make this world a safer place to live in by failing your test!!

And we're also sympathizing with the rest of the people in the world who are going to have to drive on the same highways as these well-trained students.

No, really, good luck! Study hard and smile pretty when they take your picture!

Mr. McBride looking at Barbara's report card: "It's too bad that they don't give a grade for courage. You'd get an "A" just for bringing home this card."

Last Saturday, several L.J.H. Band students traveled to Lubbock for all-region band tryouts. Tryouts were held at Atkins Junior High.

Twenty-two out of thirty of our band students made it, making up approximately one-fifth of the entire all-region band.

Students making it were:
 French horn, Jon Berry
 Trombone, Amy Owens
 Baritone, David Barton and Ferris Foley
 Cornets, Johnny Wimberly
 Bassoons, Annette Henry
 Contrabass Clarinets, Tina Russell
 Baritone Saxophone, Rene Tellis
 Bass Clarinets, Druanne Wilkinson, Martha Brown, Denise McCurry.
 Alto Clarinets, Cindy Stansell, Leslie LeBoeuf.

(The entire Alto Clarinet section is from Littlefield) Clarinets, Annette Harris, Bruce Hall, Karol Terry, Carol White, Kathy Wright (first alternate).
 Flutes, Threiss Bingham, Kathy Turner, Mary Shotwell, Patricia Wedel. The concert will be held at Texas Tech, Feb. 8.
 Congratulations!!!

WHITEFACE is a small Texas town — population about 500. Of this number, approximately 120 attend Whiteface High in grades 9 through 12. But the size of a community is not the determining factor in deciding whether sex education is included in the school curriculum. The only requirements are nerve and the sincere feeling that there is a definite need for the course.

Three years ago our students asked for this type program. That is when we began collecting material with the idea of presenting the program to the school board and the community for approval. This we have done.

In September 1967 we began our program with a class in home economics — home and family living, a mixed group of boys and girls of junior and senior standing. The class included 10 girls and 5 boys, all but one of whom were given parental approval to participate in the sex education phase of the program.

Sex education was taught two days of each week to those students and the other three days they attended the home and family living portion.

This year, we have 44 students enrolled in the course, out of 52 eligible, and we have included an additional section in our curriculum.

The ultimate good or bad that results from this program can be attributed almost completely to the person who presents it to the student. Therefore, it is critical that the teacher chosen to teach the course accept it so that the presentation will be positive and agreeable. A teacher with any reluctance toward this program should not be expected or permitted to present it to young people.

Acceptance

Achieving acceptance of a school sex education program is critical, even though this is a time when the idea of sex education has become fashionable in our society.

Almost every parent, teacher, member of the clergy, and community leader will agree that sex education for our students is necessary. With this in mind, we presented our material to the school board and leaders of the community. We felt that all must realize our program was based on the simple facts of human sexuality.

We wanted them to know that sex would be equated with love and beauty as a natural part of God's plan. After our material was presented, it was readily approved by everyone present.

Parental approval. The parents of the students were informed by letter as to the scope of our program, including an outline of what would be taught. Both parents had to give their written permission before the student could attend class. We had only one parent who refused to let her daughter attend classes; and we thought 14 for and only 1 against was sufficient for us to carry out the program.

Church approval. We have four churches and ministers in our community. We invited each of these ministers to our school and presented the materials to be used. We went over the materials and answered their many questions, and each agreed that we should present the program. They were invited to attend any session they so desired, and they have participated often.

Community approval. Leaders of our community met with us, as did the ministers, and the result was always the same — unanimous approval. A commitment by these leaders, after they had carefully reviewed and evaluated the program, provided us with additional assurance that the program would be acceptable to our community.

Objectives

We outlined 13 objectives of the program, the purpose being to help the student. Included in our list:

1. Understanding the relation of attitudes and concepts to physical sexual behavior
2. Enabling the individual to accept his own sexuality and know the ranges of normal behavior
3. Understanding possible consequences and outcomes of various courses of conduct
4. Giving a clear understanding of the place of sex in marriage and intersexual relations
5. Understanding important features of masculine-feminine behavior as related to sexual behavior
6. Correcting and alleviating some common worries and misconceptions in the field of sexual adjustment
7. Through adequate information, alleviating curiosity and compulsive urges to find out by experimentation
8. Clarifying the relationship between personality adjustments and sexual behavior
9. Showing the relation of sexual behavior to social welfare
10. Building a sense of responsibility in the individual for assisting goal adjustment and education of others

SEX EDUCATION AT WHITEFACE

By CHARLES E. BOOZ

Reprinted from November, 1968, Issue of TEXAS OUTLOOK

We believe in encouraging participation in a warm, friendly attitude. We comment frequently and give credit for good ideas, especially the quiet ones. There are times when they like to participate — with encouragement, good ideas are brought up by participants, attention should be given them; and the idea further elaborated upon by the leader.

Often the discussion begins by itself, but instructor must be ready to start the discussion if it goes on.

We use all types of audio-visual equipment such as films, transparencies, recording magnetic tapes.

We obtained our equipment from:
Tapes and recordings — Upper Peninsula Life Bureau of Escanaba, Michigan

Transparencies — 3M Company, St. Paul, Minnesota

Films — Brigham Young University, Utah; University of Michigan, Ann Arbor; New Mexico University, Portales; and Cinema Films, Los Angeles, California

Lectures — any person from the community can be of help to us.

A veteran educator, Charles E. Booz has 22 years of teaching experience, 18 at Whiteface where he is also the secondary principal. He is also the teacher of the sex education program which was initiated in 1964 at the high school and which is the subject of his article. Booz has a bachelor of business administration and a master of education degree from Texas Technological College.

Q-When and where should sex education start?

A-Sex education begins with family relations and children playing together, and carries on in everyday relationships all through our lives.

If a child is lucky, his formal sex education will begin at a very young age by having simple questions on sexuality and human reproduction answered directly and honestly by the parents. Also, if they are lucky, their parents will supplement their questions with further knowledge on sex education, using good judgment as to what should be explained at what age. A four- or five-year-old child should know that babies come from mothers. By the time the child reaches eight or ten years, he should have a basic and simple understanding of what sexual intercourse is — what causes the baby to start. Before puberty girls should know about menstruation and boys should know about wet dreams. From here on, most of sex education will involve attitudes, morals, and ethics; and parents will do what they can to see that their children have a positive and acceptable outlook on life.

Unfortunately, most boys and girls do not receive an adequate sex education at home. Formal sex education which is being taught in schools usually comes after the boy or girl has learned it someplace else. At best, existing school programs are able to straighten out some misconceptions about the opposite sex, reproduction, or definitions. It can also help to form our attitudes or let us reevaluate our attitudes.

Q-Why won't our parents talk to us?

A-The idea of frankly discussing sex is still quite new. Many of our parents have had a whole lifetime of conditioning (habit forming) which said, sex is secret, sex is unclean, sex is only for reproduction, sex is duty, etc. These things make it hard to talk about. Often, our parents delay telling us anything about sex because they don't know where to start. Perhaps you can help them by starting communication with them. Let them know that your sex education course is telling you all about it and that it is given in the framework of love and beauty.

Q-What age should dating start?

A-The answer to this will depend upon the maturity of the person and the different kinds of dating. Occasionally going to a dance or a movie with a member of the opposite sex, but in a group, is a form of dating. Dating also includes going out with a girl or boy alone on Friday and Saturday nights or offener. The thing to keep in mind is that once dating starts in the boy-girl alone manner, a marriage situation usually develops within three years; that is, if a girl starts dating at age 13, by 16 she will probably be thinking seriously of marriage.

Q-What should be the limitations on dating?

A-Most students can answer this question themselves, and most students want limitations on their dating because they do not want to get into trouble. Here are some guidelines. During early years of dating, the couple should have a specific place they are going and a specific amount of time to get home. Going in groups or at least double is advisable. Students and parents should keep in mind that dating is a progressive thing; that is, more freedom is expected as the dating continues. If no limitations are placed upon dating, the progression from early dating to marriage can take place very quickly. Dating should be confined only to Friday and/or Saturday nights — at least through high school. Times for returning home should be fair yet realistic. Once midnight has been "approved", you won't appreciate going back to eleven o'clock. The same is true for later hours. If possible, talk it over with your parents. They want to be fair and will usually take your side into consideration when the rules are set.

Q-Is going steady good or bad?

A-Going steady can mean anything from a few dates together to engagement. It can be good or it can be bad. Here are some things to keep in mind. You may be under great social pressure to go steady because all of your friends do. Don't let this become a trap. Going steady may prevent you from becoming acquainted with more people that you might like better. It may also put you in a necking or petting situation, simply because there isn't anything to talk about with this person. Some general advice: Become acquainted with as many people as you can during this time when the opportunities are greatest. Spend more time with those people you like best. Think of your first going steady experiences as ways of becoming better acquainted.

Q-What about parking?

A-We'll assume that by parking you mean necking. It isn't surprising that couples enjoy necking. Holding and being held feels good and it's one of the new experiences in growing up. But there are a couple of things about necking that we should keep in mind. First, necking is a great substitute for communications. It too often becomes easier to neck than to talk to each other about things that are important in learning about each other. The second thing has to do with the first. If you spend a lot of time necking, at some point petting will begin and may continue to go a little further each time. While this is happening, you may not even get to know each other because while necking and petting, there is no talk.

This heavy necking and petting forms the basis for some marriages, and what usually happens soon after marriage is that the couple are then forced to become acquainted through talk. This may not be easy if you are almost total strangers in everything except your sexual relations.

Q-Are thoughts about lovemaking wrong?

A-Thoughts about lovemaking are natural and normal in boys and girls who are growing up, experiencing sexual curiosity, and feeling sexual urges as their sexuality develops. Lovemaking is a very important part of an adult's life, and it is natural that more and more thought be given to this as a young man or woman grows up.

Q-What do boys expect?

A-Young men are pretty much like all other people in the sense that they are always testing. In a necking situation a boy may test a girl by placing his hand on the girl's breast or leg. This doesn't mean he expects her to allow him to do it. It may mean he is finding out if it is possible. This girl may not want to turn him down — first, because she likes him a lot; and, second, because she fears he may become angry or may sulk. For the most part, boys will go as far as they can go and will stop when stopping and will be glad you stopped them if they really think a lot of you.

Questions, Answers In The Course

Q-How can petting be controlled?

A-Boys and girls should understand that petting can be controlled. The problem is, once you let it get started your reasoning becomes affected by your sexual desires. You may begin telling yourself that you actually can't control it. If you started petting, it will take some will-power to quit. It will take even more will-power to hold it at a certain stage. If you haven't started, the best control is not to.

Q-Why do boys keep trying?

A-Young men of your age are feeling strong sexual desires which is a new experience in their life. Oftentimes, they are very curious about the female body; and they are under the social pressures of their friends who may be boasting about their sexual experiences. If you put these things together, you have a boy who probably will experiment with petting if he is encouraged. In practically every case, he won't keep trying once he knows he can't. It may seem silly that a boy who is trying that hard to pet actually wants you to say no, but quite often this is true. They may act angry or sulk for awhile, but in the long run they will respect you more.

Q-How to stop a boy.

A-If you remember, in the talk it was said that petting stops communications. Well, the opposite is also true — that communications is a good way to stop petting. If you are in a heavy necking situation and the boy in his persuasiveness begins to pet, try talking. You may simply ask him why he's doing that; or, if this seems harsh, talk about anything — even the weather. Chances are this will cool off the situation very quickly.

Q-If I stop the boy, I'm afraid he won't like me. (Refer to question, How can petting be controlled?)

A-The problem here is if you don't stop the young man you are with when he begins petting, when will you stop him? And won't this question also pertain to sexual intercourse? You can be pretty sure that if you stop him from going too far, he will like you more than if you don't. It's quite difficult for a young man to really like a girl he doesn't respect. If you stop him and he stops going with you, you will have to assume that he is too selfish to know how to appreciate a girl as a personality rather than something to be "conquered."

Q-Are boys greatly frustrated sexually if they don't have intercourse?

A-Boys and girls between the ages of puberty and marriage will feel sexual frustration at times. Even married people experience sexual frustrations until they become adjusted to each other. A boy in a necking or petting situation will feel sexually frustrated when he stops. The longer and heavier the petting has gone on, the more frustrated he will feel. This is why he's better off if he doesn't get into a passionate petting situation.

Q-Is sexual intercourse mostly just for men?

A-It should not be. A woman who is spiritually and emotionally prepared for intercourse will receive as much satisfaction as a man.

Most men reach a climax every time they have sexual intercourse. Women may not, and may become sexually frustrated if intercourse doesn't take place in a setting of love and consideration. A thoughtless man could cause his wife to think that sex is just for men.

Q-Why do boys want intercourse before marriage?

A-There are several possible reasons. First, it is often something new to him, and there is a strong curiosity to find out more about it. Second, young men who have reached puberty begin to feel sexual desires as a natural part of growing up. Finally, a young man is under strong social pressure by his friends. He has heard about some of their sexual experiences and may feel inadequate if he doesn't have some sexual experience to boast about. He may feel insecure or unsure of himself as a man and may try to use sex as a way to prove himself.

Put these factors together and it can help explain why some fellows feel at times like they should experience sexual intercourse before marriage.

Usually, however, they are quick to say that they don't want to marry a girl who had experience with sexual intercourse.

Q-Is sexual intercourse important to marriage?

A-Yes, most important, since it is the most intimate relationship a couple can have. In a setting of love and consideration, it is a beautiful fulfillment of the Christian two-in-one-flesh concept.

On the other hand, if a couple become sexually frustrated because they fail to talk it over or are not considerate of each other, their problems with sexual intercourse can spread through all of their marriage, causing many areas of disagreement and unhappiness.

Q-Isn't sexual intercourse a way to show love for a boy?

A-This is the greatest reason for sexual intercourse before marriage. A girl who loves her guy wants to do things for him. Young men who are easily aroused sexually can become very persuasive in a heavy necking or petting situation.

Sadly, many girls who show their love by giving in actually lose out because their guy may lose respect for them. It's not unusual that he will lose respect for them. It's not unusual that he will lose respect for himself and blame the girl. He may begin to doubt that it was the first time for his girl. Or he may simply begin to drift away from his girl because he doesn't like the idea of being "committed" to one girl yet.

There are many other ways to show your love which are usually more appreciated by a young man. If your attempts to show your love in ways other than sexually aren't acceptable to him, he probably isn't really interested in love at all.

Q-Why is it wrong to have intercourse before marriage? (Is premarital intercourse between high school students wrong?)

A-All Christian religions teach that it is wrong. Responsible adults agree that it is wrong. Parents hope that their children will wait until marriage before having intercourse. Perhaps it may have come to be "wrong" because it simply doesn't work very well.

One common result of sexual intercourse is babies. Any baby coming into the world should have a chance to grow up in a loving home. Too often this doesn't happen in the case of premarital intercourse.

In order for sexual intercourse to be really satisfying, it has to take place in a setting of love, consideration, and mutual sharing of the experience. The question is: Can it be satisfying when it is surrounded by feelings of shame, guilt, dishonesty, or fear of getting caught? What often happens is that relations are spoiled so badly that they may be years after marriage before can really be enjoyed the way it should be.

Q-Do boys reach a point in necking or petting where they "have to have intercourse"?

A-It is doubtful that a young man ever reaches the point where he loses all of his self-control. But he desires become very powerful when a male is aroused through petting, and may reason much differently than he would if he were not aroused. He most likely think of every possible reason why he should have intercourse and the reasons why he shouldn't seem very unimportant.

When petting reaches this point, a young man really can't win. If he succeeds in having sexual intercourse, he will probably feel very guilty and disappointed. If he doesn't have intercourse, he will certainly be sexually frustrated for awhile.

Q-If you have once had sexual intercourse, are your sex drives stronger?

A-Having sexual intercourse may have either of two effects. It may have some disappointing in terms of the trouble and worry involved that won't be tried again. Or, it may stimulate further curiosity or interest which causes the person to think about it and pursue it even more.

If a young man or woman becomes obsessed with sex, it may be because they are using in their search for acceptance or love. Here, sex intercourse becomes merely a substitute for satisfying friendship and association with others.

Q-What's wrong with intercourse without love?

A-Intercourse without love can be any more than a momentary stimulating sensation.

We all know or have heard of about some "great love" who has a "trail of broken hearts." It sounds so romantic, but in real life our lover is searching in vain for someone to take the place of real love he is selfish to ever know.

Q-Is intercourse the only way to become pregnant?

A-Normally, sexual intercourse is only way to become pregnant; however, it is also possible to become pregnant if sperm is ejaculated at the opening of vagina.

The Wolverettes, led by Vicki Gregory's whopping 36 points, humbled their opponents 73-54.

S-E kept in the game through the first three periods, trailing 11-8, 22-18 and 36-30, but the Longhorns broke the game wide open in the final quarter with 19 points, winning 55-36.

Perry O'Hair was high for the Lamb County club with 15, but Johnny Hodges had had 19 for the 'Horns.

PREVENT WRINKLE

Remove clothes from the dryer when tumbling stops to reduce wrinkles. Overloading the clothes dryer also tends to increase wrinkling and lengthens drying time.

Sudan Clubs Sweep Kress

The Sudan Hornets remained in the Number Two slot of District 3-A after edging Kress 58-45 Tuesday night, thus keeping their title hopes alive.

And the Hornets remained undefeated with a win as well, 44-28.

Jerry Bellar emerged high scorer for the first time this season, leading Hornet point production with 15 tallies. David Cantrell had 19 for the Kangaroos.

After leading by only two points, 26-24, at halftime, the Hornets broke the game wide open in the third period by establishing an 18-point spread, 48-30.

Ticket Sales For Banquet Start Friday

Tickets for the annual Littlefield Quarterback Club Football Banquet, which will feature Dallas Cowboy star Dan Reeves as speaker, are expected to go on sale Friday.

Club president James Lee said the tickets, which will be sold at $2.50 per person, should be out of the printer's presses Friday morning and into the hands of Club members to sell.

Members are to contact Lee for their tickets to be sold.

The Banquet, which is held annually to honor the Wildcat football team, is slated for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 18, in the high school cafeteria.

THIRD LOOP LOSS

Lobos Top 'Cats, 82-53

Locals Travel Friday To Clash With Slaton

Littlefield's Wildcats watched the Levelland Lobos put the game out of reach here Tuesday night in the final quarter, and absorbed their third consecutive District 3-AAA zone loss, 82-53.

The 'Cats had hung in the game through all three earlier quarters, and were down only 13 points as they began the fourth period of play. But they couldn't buy a basket that last period, making only three of 16 shots from the floor while the Lobos were racking them up.

For the second straight game, junior substitute Eddie Hickman came off the bench to play in each of the quarters, and emerged high scorer for the locals with 11 points. He hit five of eight field goal shots.

Levelland's all-district returner Mike Dukes, suffering only seven points in the first half, came on like Gang Busters in the second to rack up 24 points. Even after hitting only three of 10 attempts in the opening period, he still finished the evening hitting an even 50 percent.

Dukes was backed by spunky guard Charley Flowers, who racked up 18 points, hitting eight of 14 from the floor and two-for-two at the charity line.

Charley Holt, with five free shot hits, won second high for the Wildcats with 10 points.

The 'Cats trailed only after the first quarter, 37-23 at halftime.

As a team, the 'Cats percent of their free shots of 34, but were only percent in field goal attempts. In the first half they somewhat hotter, sinking percent from the floor.

The Lobos hit 22 percent from the floor, 40 percent from the floor.

Friday night the Wildcats travel to Slaton.

Slaton, like Littlefield, thus far winless in conference action, 0-2. The 'Cats are to AAA competition slightly better in the week column than Littlefield as compared with 1-17.

Slaton's two zone have been to Estacado, and Levelland. Littlefield's losses to the clubs were 59-47 and 20, respectively.

Richard Washington, only Slaton player among top 20 scorers of the district, but he stands in fifth with 39 points in two games. Littlefield has none in the top 20.

The game, which starts at 7 p.m., will wind up Littlefield's first half of zone round play.

BOWLING NEWS

A junior varsity game start at 6:15. Against Levelland Tuesday, Littlefield's slowly gave way to the experienced junior Levelland. They trailed 12-13 after first quarter, 26-31 at the end of the second quarter, and 35-47 at the third of rest stop before finally 71-44.

Albert Sanchez was high for the locals with 15 points. Levelland's Terry Petty led victors with 17.

Littlefield outscored Levelland at the charity hitting 61 percent by six 22 of 36 shots, while visitors hit 50 percent on 19 of 38 shots. Levelland put the nets for 31 field goals. Littlefield's 11, spelling difference.

LOPSIDED SCORES

Whitharral, Three Way Split

Whitharral and Three Way split their games Tuesday night, with the host Three Way boys winning by a whopping 93-38 and the Whitharral girls coming out on the 38-24 long end.

Three Way established a 24-13 first-quarter lead and continued the routing by adding 25 points in the second period while holding the Panthers to only six, 49-19. Third period score was 74-29.

Larry Gage was the only Panther able to find the range, cashing in 22 points on 11 field goals.

Kathy Lynn Williams canned 24 points in leading the Pantherettes to victory.

The girls jumped to a 17-7 first-quarter lead, but had that narrowed in the second frame to only 21-20. A third-period spurge saw them leap out to another comfortable lead, 38-24.

Whitharral hosts Bula Friday night with the girls tipping off at 7 p.m. for a doubleheader.

Mustangs Top Whirlwinds

The Olton Mustangs took the bluster out of Floydada's Whirlwinds Tuesday night, 83-55, but the outcome was just reversed in the girls' outing, with Floydada winning 52-38.

Kenneth Johnson and Charles McClain were the major factors in the Mustangs staying in the thick of the 3-AA title race, scoring 24 and 23 points, respectively.

The 5-1 Mustangs, who have lost in loop play only to Dimmitt, led 41-21 at halftime against the 'Winds.

The first and third quarters all but took care of Olton's girls. They were held to five points in the first quarter and two in the third. After trailing 12-5 at the end of the first quarter, they pulled to within four, 26-22, by halftime. But Floydada extended the lead to 36-24 in the third and coasted from there.

Kathy Carson was high for Olton with nine; Cindy Ward had 24 for the victors.

Amherst 125, C. Center 39

Amherst humbled Cotton Center 125-39 Tuesday night, but it took two games to do it.

The Bulldogs thumped their visitors 69-20, with Royce McAdams outscoring his opponents by racking up 21 tallies. High visitor was Dennis Barnett, seven.

The girls won their part of the evening's scorefest with a 56-19 runaway. Christi Batson led the undefeated victors with 18. Ruby Johnson had 11 for Cotton Center.

Tomorrow night Amherst and Spade clash at Spade.

Mail Carriers

Little and he carried star route one mail many years.

"I've only missed getting mail to one-half of my route once in the 11 years I've been carrying the mail," Mrs. Jackson said. I got stuck in a snow bank and tore my transmission up.

One time I couldn't see the road during a blinding dust storm and I followed the lights of a truck ahead of me in from Bula.

MRS. JACKSON drives a "right-handed" car. When people meet her on the road for the first time, they think they are meeting a driverless car with a passenger sitting in the front seat, she said.

"But it sure is easier on my back not to have to do all that stretching," she added. "When I first got the car, it sure seemed funny to be sitting on the right side, especially when I was driving downtown, but I soon got used to it and I like it.

"NO, I DON'T mind telling my age one bit," Mrs. Jackson laughed. "I'm 63-years-old and I hope to carry the mail two more years before I retire.

Mrs. Jackson's route is 106 miles. Her first rural box is near Littlefield Hospitality House and goes on to Pep, Morton, Maple, Enochs, Bula and back to Littlefield.

More than 323,000 miles are credited to Mrs. Jackson without an accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson moved to Littlefield from Olton when she started carrying the mail. Jackson drives a maintainer for precinct three.

THE JACKSONS have two children, Mrs. Norma McClain of Littlefield and Mrs. James Ellis, Texhoma, Okla., and six grandchildren.

Mrs. Jackson enjoys sewing and crochets for a hobby.

"Everybody asks me when I'm going to quit carrying the mail," Mrs. Drake said. "I just laugh and say, 'I'll quit when I get tired.' I've been telling people this for years, but I don't know when I'll get tired. I'm not the least bit tired yet. I just enjoy everything.

Those postal employees down there at the Post Office are the nuttiest, sweetest bunch of people," Mrs. Drake concluded.

"MARTHA'S NOSE turns pink when we call her 'granny,'" Leroy McCormick said. "She said she is grandmother, but not granny. And Eula Jackson is 'snuffy'— Yep, those two women are 'granny and snuffy'," McCormick quipped.

THE DRAKES SEVEN grandchildren belong to two of their three boys, Jackie of Lubbock and Jerry of Fieldton. Walter is married and lives in Cocoa, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Drake have lived in Lamb County since 1936. They farmed at Lums Chapel and owned the store there for two years. Jessie is a cattle buyer, constable of Lamb County and operates Southside Laundry.

Mrs. Drake's hobbies include a "moonlighting" job as a cosmetics representative and collecting rocks and antiques.

Veterans

them will total $183,000 this year, it is estimated.

The increased rates will show up in the checks for January, which will be arriving in February. The Veterans Administration states that recipients will get the increases automatically, without application.

The second action taken by Congress will boost payments to other Lamb County veterans who are getting pensions for total disability that was not incurred while in active service.

The average increase, for the 1,100,000 throughout the country who are getting such pensions, will be $110 a year.

Their increase will be based upon a new formula that relates the amount they will get to other income they are receiving.

The VA announces, also, that local veterans who served in the two World Wars and have G. I. insurance policies will share in $236 million in dividends that will be distributed during the course of the year. It is $13 million more than was paid out last year.

CASING THE MAIL for patrons on star route one is Eula Jackson. Through rain, sleet and sand storms, the mail goes through.

FIRST CLASS MAIL to be delivered to sub-stations along the route goes in the trunk of Mrs. Drake's car before departure.

City Wrecks Involve Six Vehicles

Three wrecks resulting in approximately $1,000 damage to six vehicles were investigated by City patrolmen since last Thursday.

Thursday afternoon, a 1968 Chevrolet pickup driven by Loyd Collins of Amherst pulled onto Hall Avenue and started to make a U turn at 15th Street when a 1964 Pontiac driven by Mark D. Hanson of Littlefield, who was traveling south on Hall Avenue, skidded approximately 120 feet and hit the Collins pickup on the left side with its right side and came to rest on the median.

Damages amounting to approximately $350 resulted to the right rear and right front fender of the Hanson car. The Collins pickup was damaged on the left rear panel, left door and left front fender, resulting in approximately $140 damages.

Saturday afternoon, a 1955 Oldsmobile, driven by Mrs. Cecil M. Brown of Littlefield was stopped at a red light at Third and Phelps when a 1967 Ford pickup, driven by Ovale H. Askew of Littlefield, backed up and struck the Oldsmobile.

The Oldsmobile received $75 damages to its right rear fender and the pickup was not damaged.

Monday afternoon, a 1959 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Patricia C. Strunk of Littlefield was traveling east on 13th when the driver "didn't notice" a 1968 Ford sedan, owned by Richard Lee Eddings of Littlefield, parked on the south side of 13th, until she was right upon it," said the officer's report.

The right front fender of the Strunk vehicle collided with the right front bumper and right front fender of the Eddings vehicle.

Old Piano Rolls Tell History, Test Of Time

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

When you wore a tulip, a big yellow tulip, and I wore a big red rose...whispering while you cuddle near me.... Memories, memories, dreams of days gone by.....

Sound like Lawrence Welk on Saturday night?

Could be. But these happen to be just two of the many piano rolls of rinky-dink tinkling melodies that have been played so very many times on the player piano owned by Mrs. Helen Saxon of Littlefield.

"You can always tell the favorite ones," Mrs. Saxon says, examining a roll yellowed with age, wrinkled with time and use, and patched with tape to hold it together.

The player piano in Mrs. Saxon's living room was bought by her late husband, W. B. Saxon, in 1917.

"At one time we had 85 rolls," she said, "but now some of them are missing."

The player piano rolls are musical history. The oldest are WWI songs. "Honor and Glory March," "So Long Mother," "Bring Back the Kaiser to Me," are all First World War songs.

"Here is 'Keep the Homefires Burning,'" Mrs. Saxon said, "see we almost wore it out."

The list of toe-tickling tunes reads like the Lawrence Welk program indeed: "When We Come to the End of a Perfect Day," "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," "Beautiful Ohio,".....

"I like JoAnn Castle on Mr. Welk's program," Mrs. Saxon said. "Her playing sounds just like these old rolls."

"My husband could sit and play these songs hour after hour. I like the German pieces. They're really music. Not hopped up like the music we hear today."

Many of the tunes have survived the test of time. Some of these are "Yankee Doodle,"

"Dixie," "Arkansas Traveler," "Anna Laurie," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Beautiful Ohio," "Blue Danube," and "China Town" are still heard today.

"Oh, we did have some good ones," Mrs. Saxon reminisced. The piano is operated with pedals which in turn works the bellows. "You can play a few rolls and find you had muscles you didn't know you had," Mrs. Saxon said.

It has been some time since Mrs. Saxon has played any of the rolls. "I need to have some work done on the piano," she said. "The bellows have some holes in them. I've been thinking about getting it fixed. I sure could spend many a lonely hour."

Mrs. Saxon has one son, Emmett, who lives with his wife and three boys at Skellytown.

Mrs. Saxon does handwork and knitting as a hobby.

HISTORY ISN'T ALWAYS found in books. Mrs. Helen Saxon of Littlefield can go back in time by looking through her large collection of tinkling, toe-tapping piano rolls that go with the piano bought by her husband when the piano was new in 1917.

SOME STUDENT QUESTIONS

- Why don't our parents talk to us?
- Is going steady good or bad?
- Are thoughts about lovemaking wrong?
- What is petting?
- Do girls feel differently about sex?
- Can a teen-ager be in love?
- What is sexual intercourse?
- Is intercourse possible during pregnancy?
- What are contraceptives?
- What is homosexuality?
- Is masturbation wrong?

Student Comments

"I believe that this class should be required for all students. It will help you in many ways if taught correctly and thoroughly as has been done in this class. I think the freshman year would be a good time to start this course."

"I feel that through this sex education class I have gained a deeper and clearer understanding of sexual relations and parenthood. I believe that sex education should be taught to all high school students and especially around the seventh and eighth grade when children first start getting pretty interested in the subject, and because so many parents have lowered the dating ages of their children to junior high level."

"Going into marriage with this information, I feel that my marriage will be sounder than it would if I entered into it without this knowledge. I think that this class should be a required subject throughout the nation. It would reduce premarital intercourse, illegitimate birth rates, and cases of venereal disease. The sixth grade is a good age to start a form of sex education."

As initiators of the sex education program at Whiteface High, we are in full agreement that the classes should begin at least with ninth graders, some phases beginning with seventh and eighth graders.

OBITUARIES

MONTE E. WARD

Services for Monte Edward Ward, 17, of Taylor, were conducted Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 22, in First Baptist Church of Littlefield with Rev. R. B. Hall, pastor, officiating.
