MASS MEETING SET FOR MONDAY TO CONSIDER PAVING PROGRAM

Drastic Rodent Control Program Is Underway In County

Health Measure To Be Instituted In Each Community State to Furnish Expert in Rodent Control

With the upward trend of typhus fever, bubonic plague and other rodent insect born diseases in the nation and that plague infested rodents have recently been found in the South Plains area, Major John J. Essex of the United States Public Health Service met with the commissioners court at 11 a. m. Friday and asked authorization of the court for the initiation of a rodent and ectoparasites eradication program, such program to be under the supervision of the State Department of Health.

After receiving the information furnished by Major Essex the court deemed it necessary that such a program go into effect as soon as possible and granted authorization for the county.

According to federal regulations, Major Essex will also have to receive authorization from each incorporated town in the county before the program can be started by the department.

W. G. Street, city secretary, advises that a meeting of the city commission will be held today (Thursday) at 2 p. m., at which time Major Essex will present the situation to the city.

When this eradication program has received sanction throughout the county, the State department of health will furnish a man for thirty days following, to work with local appointees, teaching them the principles of rodent control.

When asked by the members of the commissioners court as to the nearness of the area where infested rodents were found, Major Essex, replied, "dangerously close, an adjoining county."

These plagues are said to be of Oriental origin, with their appearance in the states following the opening of commerce between the nations, but since the recent war, with a greater number of ships going and coming from the orient the disease has become more prevalent in the states, and the United States health authorities are making an extensive fight toward rodent control. The diseases are more deadly at or near sea level and spread to human beings by fleas from infested rodents.

It is believed the program will be received throughout the county not only in a health measure, but from a financial standpoint in that rats and mice are the No. 1 destroyers of the nation.

Mahon Reports Favorable Action On REA Funds

J. H. Carl, manager for the Lamb County Rural Electric Cooperative, is in receipt of a letter dated January 30 from Hon. George Mahon to the effect that favorable action on the application for additional loan of $175,000 for extension purposes is being taken, and that these funds would be available at an early date.

Congressman Mahon, who until recently has been serving as chairman of the Appropriations Committee in Washington, has given his undivided attention to this matter, and it is primarily through his efforts that the REA is able to foresee an early commencement of the work.

These funds will finance additional lines to be built from the north part of the county into Castro, energizing 211 additional homes in Lamb and 15 in Castro.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Hendricks returned Thursday night from Fort Worth, where they had spent two weeks on business.

Mrs. F. E. Forgy visited Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Linton at Sudan Thursday afternoon. Mr. Forgy went after her Thursday evening.

PUMPHREY—

following which he was transferred to Lamesa, where he served as operator two years. He was then transferred by the Santa Fe to Sudan as agent, where he served two years in this capacity before he was sent to Southland. After spending six months there as agent, Mr. Pumphrey was transferred back to Littlefield as agent, relieving Mr. Cundiff, who entered private business in this city.

Was Also Agent at Lamesa

After serving here two years as agent, Mr. Pumphrey was again transferred to Lamesa in 1924 as agent, and after remaining there two years, was returned to Littlefield in the fall of 1926, where he has been agent continuously since that time.

Children Reared Here

Mr. and Mrs. Pumphrey have four children, three sons and a daughter, all of whom were reared in Littlefield, and attended the Littlefield schools and are graduates of the local high school.

All three sons served overseas in the recent World War.

H. C., Jr., is now attending Texas Christian University, Fort Worth; Mrs. Nelson Riensch, formerly Miss

Ruth Pumphrey, is living near Anton, Odell, who is married and has a young daughter, Martha Jeanne, was graduated from Pharmacy School at the University of Texas January 23, last, and is now here visiting his parents; and Paul Pumphrey, who is attending Texas University, Austin.

Mr. Pumphrey stated that it was not known as yet who would take his place as agent at the local depot, but that Mrs. C. P. Blair, telegraph operator, would be in charge until his successor was named, which he believed would take place in about ten days or two weeks.

Mr. Pumphrey has on various occasions been offered promotions by the railway company, which would necessitate his moving to another city, but he has repeatedly refused them and remained in Littlefield.

C. H. Morrow returned Thursday from Houston where he had been for the past month. Mr. Morrow underwent a major operation for ulcerated stomach at the Methodist Hospital, Houston, and was a patient in the hospital three weeks, following which he spent a week recuperating at the home of his brother, Otto Morrow. Mr. Morrow returned to his duties as manager of the Morrow Lumber Company Monday.

School Board Votes Living Allowance For Teachers

For several weeks the school board has been trying to arrive at some method to pay a cost of living adjustment to the local teachers. In the regular session Monday night, February 3, a solution to the problem was finally reached.

The Littlefield District does not qualify for salary aid; therefore, they will not be eligible to receive any additional money from the state for this purpose. We will have to pay any increase in salary from local funds. All other schools in the county are eligible for salary aid and will receive help from the state, pending legislative action.

The board voted to pay each teacher a cost of living adjustment of $300 for the 1946-1947 school year, subject to the following conditions:

1. Those finishing the full 1946-1947 school term.
2. Those starting after the beginning of the 1946-1947 term and finishing will be paid a pro-rata part of the $300.

ishing will be paid a pro-rata part of the $300.

3. Those starting the 1946-1947 term but did not finish because of authorized leave of absence.

4. This adjustment is to be paid with the regular May salary check.

The school board appreciates the fact that teachers have been very loyal to the school and to the community. The rise of prices is something the board has not had any control over; however, the board is in sympathy with the teachers and is willing to do everything possible to secure a better school. It is sincerely hoped that these efforts will accomplish this end.

Those present at the meeting were: Dr. W. N. Orr, Carl Arnold, Frank Lehman, Buston Owens, G. G. Wilson, Bob Lewis, J. Harlan, Jack Farr, and Supt. Joe C. Hutchinson.

J. N. Bowen Buys Squires Grocery; Clyde Hudson Leases Meat Market

Mrs. W. C. Squires, who has operated the Squires Grocery and Market for the past seven years, sold the business this past week to J. N. Bowen, who has taken possession.

Clyde Hudson has leased the market, and is busy rearranging and restocking the cases with the best of meat.

In an interview with Mrs. Squires, she stated she had made no definite plans, but that she would take a well-earned rest.

Both Mr. Bowen and Mr. Hudson are well known in Littlefield. Mr. Bowen has been operating cafes in Littlefield for a number of years, having owned and operated the Highway Cafe and Bowen's Cafe. Mr. Hudson was recently a partner in the BT Cafe, until he sold his interest; previous to that he was in the meat market business.

Mr. Bowen and Mr. Hudson invite all their friends and former customers to visit them in their new business.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinson Entertain at '42' Party Monday Night

VOLUME XXIV

Littlefield, Lamb County, Texas, Thursday, February 6, 1947

NUMBER 46

March of Dimes Well Underway

On the arrival of the late President's birthday the Littlefield March of Dimes was well under way.

E. M. Shaw, county chairman went to Earth Thursday night, as he has done to other schools in the county, and at a meeting at the theatre, organized the school and town into a working program.

It is Mr. Shaw's desire that every individual in the county be given an opportunity to contribute to this great fight against infantile paralysis, and that it not be left to a few individuals.

All civic clubs, Rotary, Lions, Women's Study Clubs, Home Demonstration Clubs and various other clubs are being contacted.

"I am not in the least uneasy about raising the Lamb County apportionment," said Mr. Shaw, "unsolicited gifts as well as solicited ones are arriving daily in generous amounts."

The Pioneer Club of Littlefield was the first organization to respond, when Swede Kling, chairman, handed in a check for $40.00 last week.

A Methodist Sunday School class was the first among organized groups to make unsolicited gifts. Unsolicited gifts were in the amount of $100 last week. The Littlefield goal is $1000 to $1200.

Last year Lamb County had four cases of polio. One case alone cost over $500.

When asked if Lamb County had the funds to handle all those expenses without applying to the National Infantile Paralysis Fund, Mr. Shaw said, "Yes, we did, but it exhausted our funds."

So great were the demands last year over the United States upon the National Foundation that it was necessary for them to take funds amounting to $7,500,000 over the amount set aside by the foundation to return to counties who could not finance their own cases. "We are glad none of it came back to Lamb," said Mr. Shaw.

Fifty per cent of the funds raised will go to the National foundation and 50 per cent will remain in Lamb County.

Visual Training Aids Johnny To New Outlook on Life

Johnnie was loitering on his way home from a school. His mother had told him to hurry home, but he had no intention of doing so. This was the day he was supposed to see an optometrist, but he had seen so many different people in the last two years that now he just wanted to be left alone. He was now busily engaged in trying to invent an excuse for not going home. Perhaps he could say he had a headache—that had worked before.

You see, Johnnie was a reading problem case. His parents, his teachers, and the other children all knew about it and Johnnie knew it too.

Johnnie Fails
At first it had been rather fun. All of the attention surrounding "a reading difficulty" had made up to some extent for the feeling of chagrin and resentment that he had felt when he first recognized that he was failing to keep up with his friends at school. He had failed the first time at the end of the third grade. Until that time he thought that he was just like the other fellows, usually being rated satisfactory, an occasional "unsatisfactory"; but it had really been a blow when he realized that he was not to proceed with this class the next year. Of course, he had pretended even to his parents that he didn't care. So he repeated 3A.

His Difficulties Increase
In the 4th grade his difficulties increased. True, he could always get arithmetic, but spelling and reading just didn't work. He had tried and tried to do the work as well as the other children, but try as he might he could never quite do what was expected of him. Of course, he didn't want anyone to know that he was trying so hard, and that his failure came in spite of his efforts. No, he reasoned, it would be much better to have everyone think he just wasn't trying, that he could do it if he wanted to. Then, at last, some of the fellows would think he was pretty brave to defy the teacher by not doing his work.

Of course, there had been the incident of Billy Smith. He recalled with satisfaction the fight he had had with Billy on the way home that night. "Totally unprovoked," the teacher had told his parents. Johnnie was careful to conceal the fact that he just couldn't take Billy's smirk any more when he would gleefully recite the lessons that were becoming nearly impossible for Johnnie. He remembered with resentment his last interview with his father, when he was deprived of one of those cherished fishing trips because his grades were low and he had again been accused of not trying. He had tried to tell his Dad about how much he hated school (that's what the gang said), and it would be better to have his father think he wasn't trying than that he was dumb.

Relatives and friends had made helpful suggestions. Someone thought it might be his eyes. So they took him to have his "eyes examined." But he could read all the letters on the wall and it couldn't be his eyes. Someone else thought it might be his tonsils. His tonsils were removed, but that hadn't helped either. Someone else thought that perhaps he wasn't happy, and they had asked him lots of questions about his sister and brother. He was quite proud of the fact that he had carefully concealed the fact that he hated his brother most intensely. Why shouldn't he? All of his life his teachers and relatives had talked about how unfortunate it was that Johnnie was not as bright as his elder brother. But he'd get even with brother someday, he promised himself.

Reading Problem Case
It was in the next year that a sympathetic teacher had discovered that he was a reading problem case. He had felt so relieved and important, too, when after a long test a special teacher had announced that he was bright enough, but that he just hadn't learned to read by the usual methods. So, there was a reason for his failure. He was assigned to do some work with a very kindly remedial reading teacher who had taught many other children to read. He was certain that now his troubles would be over. As time went on, he made the 5th grade with difficulty, but he realized by now that even his new teacher was not too pleased with his progress. "We have tried all of our usual methods," he had heard her tell his mother, "but we do not get the usual results." But somehow he didn't feel that she thought he was a total failure because she kept working with him and watching him. He couldn't quite figure out, now on his way home whether she, too had decided that he was hopeless, because it was she who had persuaded his mother to see this optometrist. Well, Miss Jennings has been nice to him, and he liked her, so he decided he might as well go through with it. He then quickened his pace to make up for the time he had lost.

The optometrist proved to be a kindly man. He took many different kinds of tests and told them to come back the next afternoon to complete "the visual analysis," he called it. Johnnie was hopeful again, because he heard the optometrist explain to his mother that he thought he would be able to help him.

Difficulty in Reading
After all tests were made, the optometrist looked over the records before him and said, "You see, Mrs. Black, there is nothing wrong with Johnnie's eyes. We have determined that there is not ocular pathology (diseased condition) nor is there any ocular manifestation of a general order. His vision at both distance and near is good, but these tests show that Johnnie cannot use his eyes effectively at near point. He cannot hold single vision nor clear vision at reading distance without difficulty. He tends to double, and, when changing fixations, extreme effort is used to keep him from seeing two objects, hence his eye movements are faulty and jerky. In this test, he shows that he reads faster and with fewer errors when reading with eye separately than when he reads with both eyes." He went on, "Then, too, his span is very low. I mean by that, that he can only see about three letters at a time which means that he must move his eyes many times across the page, and, with his already faulty movement, reading becomes almost impossible."

Then he said something which drew Johnnie's interest. "You see, that is why Johnnie can't possibly remember what he reads even after he makes the effort. He must devote so much of his conscious effort to keeping the print clear and single that he cannot concentrate on the meaning of what he reads. Then he must re-read in order to remember."

Then Johnnie spoke up. "Why yes, that happens all the time, and then I lose my place and the words don't mean anything after I've read them. That's why it takes me so long to study anything at all."

Teaching How to See
Johnnie's mother exclaimed, "Why didn't you tell us this before?" But the optometrist saved Johnnie the necessity of answering. "Johnnie couldn't have told you, Mrs. Black, because he had no way of knowing that all children didn't have the same difficulty." There were tears in Mrs. Black's eyes as she looked at Johnnie's eager face as he exclaimed, "Doctor, do you mean that you think I'm not dumb?" Certainly not," replied the optometrist, "We'll fix you up in a short while. First, we'll prescribe a pair of glasses for you. You'll not be able to see right away with them, but they will make your reading much more comfortable. Then, you will come down to our office three times a week, and we'll teach you how to see." Teach me HOW to see?" Said Johnnie, "Don't I know how to see now?" "Yes," replied the optometrist, "But you haven't learned to use your eyes properly at near point. All this difference is not different than if you had taught your own self how to play the piano. Some people could do that and make a pretty good job at it—others wouldn't succeed at all. Just so, you haven't been able to learn by yourself of the intricate adjustments necessary to carry on the highly complex thing that we call reading. Turning to Mrs. Black he said, "We propose to go back and teach him the basic visual skills, and then we shall correct his faulty fixations, increase his "span" and when we are through," he promised Johnnie, "you will be able to learn to read as well or better than anyone else. In fact, even those children whose grades are up might be better students if they had been taught how to use their eyes properly for reading."

This was the beginning of the solution of Johnnie's problem. Visual training was instituted. Gradually reading became less difficult. The remedial reading teacher stayed on with the case in order to help Johnnie make full his newly acquired visual ability and to make up the work that he had missed.

At the end of the year, Johnnie was well on the way to being a happy, successful, well adapted young man, ready to go with the heavier work of the upper grades with confidence and ability.

Just another case record in a modern optometrist's office, but to Johnnie it made all the difference between a life of unhappiness and failure, and a potential life of useful happy citizenship.

There are many children all over the country being classified as indifferent, careless and uncooperative, who are suffering the ignominy of failure all on account of a visual difficulty which nobody has found and nobody has understood. This could be avoided if everyone would understand, as Johnnie's mother and teachers now do, that a test taken on letters across the room has little or nothing to do with a child's ability to use his eyes affectively at school work, and that a complete visual ease study should be made on every child at least by the time he reaches the third grade. Only then, can anyone know how a child is meeting the visual demands made upon him.

Attend Salvation Army Dinner At Hilton Hotel

Mrs. Ira Woods and Mrs. Oscar Wilemon, advisory board members of the Salvation Army and Ensign and Mrs. H. C. Seago and daughter, Bettie, and other members of the Littlefield Salvation Army post, went to Lubbock Thursday where they attended a dinner at the Hilton Hotel given in honor of Brigadier Davidson, who for many years before the war was a Salvation Army Missionary in Japan. At 7:30 Mr. Davidson made a talk at the Salvation Army building to Salvation Army delegations from Pampa, Amarillo, Plainview, Big Spring, Abilene, San Angelo, Clovis, N. M., and Littlefield. He discussed the political situation and opportunities for evangelical service in Japan. Forced to leave Japan when foreign missionaries were driven from the country before the war, Davidson was in Singapore when that city fell to the Japanese. Though his wife and daughter escaped to Australia, he was taken a prisoner of war.

After his release at the end of the war, he started to see his wife in Australia, but she died before he arrived. He then was sent back to Japan to investigate possibilities of re-establishing Salvation Army work there and served for a while as a member of Gen. MacArthur's staff for religious contact work. Having seen Japan both before and after the war, he believes that "if our occupation forces stay in Japan long enough, it is entirely possible that the Japanese people will embrace democratic ideals." Davis is a native of Aberdeen, Scotland. Others attending this meeting at Lubbock from Littlefield were Mr. and Mrs. Myda Sinard, Charles, Bobbie and Billie Smith, Jackie Whitten, Elsie Mae Real and Alice Thaxton.

ANTON AND SUNDOWN WIN IN TOURNEY

Anton and Sundown got off to a slam-bang start in the Jaycee-sponsored Levelland Independent Basketball tournament at Levelland Thursday night forging into the second-round with evening-night victories. Denver City moved into the second round by virtue of a forfeit from Littlefield. Anton, with Horace Byerly dumping in 23 points, outshot Bill Dean Motors of Lubbock, 55-37, in the opening tilt. Seth Murphy topped the motormen with nine markers. Sundown tripped the Ropesville quintet 25-20 in the second tourney contest with Barnes of Ropesville and Sundown's Joe Beck splitting scoring honors with 10 points each. SPAAF civilians from Lubbock go against Plains in Friday's opener, followed by Levelland and Denver City. Idalou and Anton wind up the second round of play.

International Harvester Announces New Line of Trucks Showing Recently at Fort Wayne, Indiana

International Harvester has just announced a new line of motor trucks. The initial showing of these new "KB" models was in Fort Wayne, Indiana, a few days ago before a gathering of several hundred members of the press from all parts of the United States and officials and department heads of the company. Included in the exhibit were Harvester's recently introduced "Western" models.

At the same time, according to Shorty Yohner, of the Littlefield Truck & Tractor Company, local International Truck dealer, ceremonies depicting the company's 40 years of progress in the truck industry were conducted.

"International Harvester is introducing new models now for two reasons," said Mr. Yohner. "First, to provide operators with improved truck performance; and second, to provide operators with better looking trucks. Even though new models are being introduced, production has not been slowed down. The old models are rolling off the line right alongside the new ones—without a single moment's assembly line stoppage. Trucks are too badly needed to stop production for a minute.

"This year," continued Mr. Yohner, "has a special meaning for International Harvester, quite aside from the fact that we are building new models. This is Harvester's fortieth anniversary year as a truck manufacturer. Yes, forty years ago Harvester began production of the then impressive schedule of one hundred International Auto Wagons, high-wheeled, low-powered vehicles designed, as we then said, 'to pull the farmer out of the mud.' "Contrast between the first International and the new 40th anniversary models is marked, I assure you. But as antique-looking as the 1907 International Harvester Auto Wagon is, it was the glamor wagon of its day, and served American businessmen and farmers both profitably and well."

Throughout Harvester's new "KB" line of trucks, in addition to new styling, are 95 new features or mechanical improvements. All of these are contributions to improved performance, longer life and greater economy. International models, Harvester officials point out, are not matters of the calendar. New features and improvements are under constant study and constant test. As quickly as a new feature of improvement proves its worth, it is incorporated into current production. That's the way the new Internationals were created. New features and improvements were steadily incorporated into current production until the features and improvements themselves, with some new styling, created the new models.

Mr. Yohner also called attention to the fact that there are 21 basic models in the International truck line—15 "KB" models and 6 "W" or "Western" models. The gross vehicle weight ratings of these 21 models range from 4,400 to 90,000 pounds.

Following a wedding trip the couple plan to operate a farm either in the Pep or Littlefield territory.

Miss Jungman is a graduate of Pep High School with the 1945 class.

Miss K. Nafzger and Carl S. Sjogren Wed at Plainview

Sunday, January 26, Miss Katherine Nafzger of Olton became the bride of Carl Stanford Sjogren of Kress, at 3 p. m., at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Plainview. The Rev. Nolan Abermuller of Plainview performed the double ring ceremony before an impressive altar. White tapers burned on the altar, and on either side were candlebrms, tall baskets of yellow gladiolus, blue iris and pink carnations. The aisles were marked off with blue and yellow ribbons. Pink bows denoted the family pews.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Albert Bertelson, organist of Plainview, played "Prayer," "Sunset" and "Recreation March." The traditional wedding march was used as a professional. The recessional was "Jesus, Still Lead On."

Mrs. Tony Barbian of Kress and Miss Evelyn Obehan of Plainview sang "O Perfect Love" as the entire wedding party stood before the altar. Just before the ceremony, they sang "Crown with Thy Benediction." The bride, given in marriage by her father, Arthur S. Nafzger, wore a white satin dress, a yoke of georgette. The skirt, very full, extended into a long beautiful train. The fingertip veil was fastened with tiny seed pearls. The bride carried a white Bible, a gift of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Waggoner of Plainview, topped with an orchid and a sweet pea shower. She wore a double strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. The matron of honor, Mrs. C. A. Fleming, Jr., of Kress, wore a blue taffeta dress and carried pink carnations tied with yellow ribbon. Miss Helen Hinkle of Lubbock, maid of honor, wore a gold chiffon dress and carried blue iris, tied with pink ribbon.

Little Miss Mary Jo Wehrheim of Plainview was flower girl. She wore a soft blue taffeta dress and carried a large white taffeta rose with rose petals.

Andrew Behrends, Jr., of Dimmitt, cousin of the groom, served as best man.

Groomsman was Emmitt Edwards of Kress.

Ushers were Kenneth and Marlin Reuter, cousins of the bride, of Ocheyden, Iowa; Owen Jones of Plainview, and Franklin Ormsby of Kress.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Nafzger of this community. She graduated from Olton High School in 1940, and attended Lippert's Business College. She is employed in the office of Dr. F. W. Wehrheim at Plainview.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Sjogren of Kress. He graduated from Kress High School in 1938. He served 44 1/2 months in the Navy.

For travel the bride chose a brown gabardine suit with a white net blouse. Her corsage was an orchid.

After a short trip the couple will be at home west of Kress, where Mr.

Sjogren is engaged in farming with his father.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Waggoner, 509 Quincy Street in Plainview.

Lem's Dogs vs Thad's Chickens

Running a newspaper, you get to know a lot about human nature. Thad Phipps was in the other day, all burned up. Wanted me to run an item on how Lem Martin's dog had raided his chickens again, and ought to be put away by law. I told him: "Lem was in on Saturday. Said you shouldn't be allowed to keep those chickens so close to his house—and in a residential zone, at that." Thad shuts up right pronto then. And that very evening I see him making his peace with Lem at Andy Botkin's Garden Tavern—over a friendly glass of beer. From where I sit, anyone can find something in his neighbor to complain about. (Some folks may even disagree with Thad's right to enjoy that glass of beer with Lem!) But where would we be if everybody tried to have a law passed against everything they disagreed with? We wouldn't have many neighbors left!

"Carelessness and ignorance represent two of the most powerful factors in spreading communicable diseases from man to man. No more emphatic example of this fact exists than the continued ravages of tuberculosis. In spite of this knowledge of its cause and spread, and of curative methods, tuberculosis is still a very serious problem not only in Texas, but throughout the United States," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"It is true that tuberculosis no longer is first on the list of killing diseases, as it was formerly," Dr. Cox said, "but despite having been reduced to fifth place in Texas, it still is responsible for more deaths between the ages of fifteen and forty-five than any other disease. And this fact exists even though the majority of tuberculosis patients could have their condition arrested if it were recognized early and proper treatment applied.

"Treatment of the early recognized case is essential. It is of equal importance, from a public health viewpoint, that the spread of this devastating infection be prevented. A more intelligent appreciation of this fact would result in saving of thousands of lives.

"When a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, examination of all of the other members of the immediate family should follow as a matter of course. Tuberculosis runs in families, not because of any especial susceptibility to the disease, but because it is communicable, being usually transmitted through close and prolonged contact with the active case."

To reduce the number of deaths caused by tuberculosis, Dr. Cox suggests periodic examination of all adults, a check-up by physicians of the known active cases and contacts, regular examinations of high school children, isolation of hospitalization of the active tuberculosis case, and a more intelligent application of hygienic living principles.

WOW Local Camp
Awarded U. S. Flag
For Service

OMAHA, Nebr.—Camp No. 3871, Woodman of the World, of Littlefield, has been awarded a large United State flag for being one of 100 Woodman camps that performed the greatest service last year to their communities, the country and their members.

Ten other Woodman camps of Texas also received this award. These are the camps at Austin, Beaumont, Corsicana, Dallas, Fort Worth, Harlingen, Laredo, Muldoon, San Antonio and Waxahachie.

Competition was keen for the awards in this "Service Center" contest as thousands of Woodman camps increased their activities in the society's 1946 "Fraternity in Action" program. Their services covered a wide range of fraternal, civic and patriotic projects.

R. E. Rucker, Jr., has re-enlisted in the service, and is now stationed in Virginia.

Santa Fe Depot Is Busy Place
These Days

As H. C. Pumphrey, local Santa Fe Agent, was rushing to the Court House Tuesday morning of last week for the purpose, as he said, "to pay taxes," a reporter from the Leader office accosted him with the usual "What do you know?"

This is what Clay said: "We have had the biggest business this fall in four years . . . I haven't been up town for a week. The Compress is compressing all California and New Mexico cotton, and the oil mill is processing all the soy beans raised in Illinois, and we have handled more cars out of here this fall than we have in four years."

Clay rushed on—that was the most this reporter could secure from the Santa Fe's top hand as he sped south on Phelps avenue.

To Fight Water Legislation

PLAINVIEW. — Unalterably opposing "any legislation which declares ground water the property of the state of Texas," directors of the High Plains Water Use and Conservation Association voted in a meeting here to fight the proposed legislation to control underground water in the winter garden valley of Texas and any other area in the state.

The action was taken by representatives of 14 High Plains counties which cover an area of approximately 5,000,000 acres of irrigated farm land.

A committee composed of W. O. Fortenberry, president of the High Plains association; Capt. Winfield Holbrook of Plainview and Lyle Blanton of Hereford was authorized to stage a legislative lobbying campaign against the proposed legislation.

Action came after a revised copy of the proposed bill which affects DeWala, Dimmitt, Atascosa, Frio and Salle counties was read and analyzed by Meade F. Griffin of Plainview, A. B. Tarwater, former state representative from this district, and

L. A. Howard, Lubbock attorney.

All three men described the proposed bill and "vicious legislation" written as a local bill but which was in reality state wide in scope and if passed would govern irrigation in the High Plains area.

Among those attending the meeting from this area were: J. H. Lee from Littlefield; Gus Parrish, Spring Lake; Ross Goodwin and Jess Osborn, Mulshoe; and Sam Gilbreath, Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Hasley and granddaughter, Lillian Hasley, are have moved from about 3 1-2 miles northeast of Sudan to six miles north of Weatherford, where they have purchased a farm of 120 acres. They had an auction sale and sold their furniture, farm implements, etc. Jack Rowan conducted the sale, and Charles Clark was clerk.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hanks left Littlefield recently for Hood River, Oregon, 60 miles east of Portland, where they plan to make their home. Mrs. Hanks has a sister and brother-in-law living on Hood River. Mr. Hanks plans on being employed in the lumber industry.

LEADING ROOKIE . . . Del Enns, Philadelphia outfielder, who was chosen the leading rookie of 1946. He has made a New Year's resolution to obtain a batting average of .350 for 1947—and to play the season without an error.

ITALY'S PRIME MINISTER . . . Alcide de Gasperi, as he arrived at Washington, the guest of the United States government. In addition to visits to various government departments he will meet with leading Italians to report as their prime minister.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jones of Goree, Texas, left recently for home after spending a week with relatives here, including Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Houk, and Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Jones. Mrs. Kenneth Houk and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jones visited Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones at Artesia, New Mexico, for three days, and went through the Caverns.

Mrs. Marie Murphy, night supervisor of the Littlefield Hospital, returned recently from a week's trip by plane to Great Bend, Kans., where she visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lomar.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardul is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* this helps build resistance for the "time" to come.
 - 2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.
- Try Cardul. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Install Heating, Air Conditioning Systems at Hospital

As announced by C. W. Smiley, installation of the heating and air conditioning of the Lamb County Memorial Hospital has been completed, and work will get started in the installation of an elevator in the building in the near future.

The elevator is being built by Frank Clements and his helpers, who will install it, which work is expected to start any day.

It is expected that the building will be ready for the equipment to be installed within the next 30 days, according to Mr. Smiley, who added that electrical work was about completed, and the carpenter work is nearly finished.

C. C. Keeling Buys Interest of J. P. Young in Butane Co.

C. C. Keeling of Littlefield has purchased the interest of J. P. Young in the Hall & Young Butane Company, and the concern is now known as Hall & Keeling Butane Company.

In an interview with Mr. Keeling, he stated he received a new shipment of propane and Butane tanks Monday, and was carrying all appliances, including stoves, hot water heaters, etc.

Mr. Young is devoting his entire time to managing his implement house at Carlsbad, N. M.

W. H. Heathman Now Operating As Jobber Instead of Consignee

A deal was consummated recently whereby W. H. Heathman is now operating as the local Phillips Petroleum wholesale agent under a new setup, having purchased the Phillips equipment, including all pumps, tanks, and all truck tanks. He is now operating as a jobber instead of a consignee, having bought the entire equipment except the warehouse property and storage tanks.

Mr. Pond, Phillips Petroleum Company's auditor, spent a day recently in Littlefield and assisted Mr. Heathman in putting the new setup through. Considerable improvements have been made at the Phillips Petroleum Company's property here. The warehouse space has been doubled by the adding of a new building, and office space is now three times the original space. Also additional improvements are planned. It is the plan to pave the property from the buildings out to the highway and increase storage capacity 33-per cent.
