

WOULD PREVENT OUTBREAK OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS HERE

City Urges Every Cooperation In General Cleanup

Is Communicable Disease Says Health Officer, Carried By House Fly

At a special meeting of the City Commission Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, the recent infantile paralysis epidemic in some cities of the State was discussed, and steps were taken on the part of the City to issue a warning to the citizens and urge on all the fullest cooperation in the fight against any outbreak here of this disease.

This action has been taken on the advice of the City Health Officer, Dr. C. E. Payne, who states that infantile paralysis—also known as Poliomyelitis—is a communicable disease, and that the disease is carried by the house fly and other unsanitary means.

The City, therefore, is publishing this week elsewhere in this paper a warning to all citizens of this city, urging them to cut all weeds and keep their homes and yards clean and sanitary, stating that if weeds, dry garbage or tin cans are put in boxes and left at the back of lots the city will carry it away.

Mayor Homer Hall pointed out that in some localities the authorities are threatening to prosecute and are prosecuting individuals for violations of laws and ordinances regulating sanitation, but that the City Commission are of the opinion that Littlefield residents will cooperate when the need is pointed out to them. It is felt by the entire City Commission, as well as the City Health Officer, and the medical (Continued On Back Page)

Back The Attack With War Bonds

"Back the Attack With War Bonds!"

That, Secretary Morgenthau, Jr., of the U. S. Treasury notified Frank Scofield, Texas War Bond Administrator, will be the stirring slogan for the Third War Loan Drive in September.

Secretary Morgenthau, Jr., telegraphed Mr. Scofield that this trumpet call to Texas to invest more millions in War Bonds for our fighting forces was inspired by the march of United Nations forces against Fortress Europe and Japanese bastions in the Pacific.

"Thousands of Texas volunteers, men, women and children, who daily back our attacks on the enemy by constant sales of War Bonds and Stamps readily will rally to the Secretary's war cry for the Third War Loan Drive," Mr. Scofield declared.

"The United Nations are on the march," Secretary Morgenthau said. "The first rumblings of the big offensive are being heard in all the Axis nations. Thousands of our men are storming Sicily. Tons upon tons of bonds are dropping on Germany. We are attacking Jap-held territory as never before. This is a great day for us."

Asserting this means the time has come for us to really tighten our belts on the home front, Secretary Morgenthau continued:

"We have come to a most crucial period in the war. The success that we will have on the fighting fronts will depend to a considerable extent upon the degree to which we here at home are willing to work and sacrifice for ultimate victory."

He emphasized that victory is going to be costly. Billions of dollars more must be spent to keep the material of war going to our men at the fronts. Your government must call upon you, the American people, for that money.

"The real war has now only begun. Everything is at stake."

Produce To The Limit . . . Conserve To The Bone

"Produce to the limit, and conserve to the bone. Every extra pound of meat on the hoof . . . every extra bushel of feed produced this year will mean another step toward Victory."

The foregoing is the motto of the nation's 4-H "livestock brigade" enrolled in the National 4-H Meat Animal Production activity. The chief objectives of this vital enterprise are to learn to raise and fatten farm animals in line with wartime conditions, using home-grown feeds and balanced rations. The activity looms large in the 4-H program to "Feed a Fighter in '43."

As incentives to achieve outstanding records in this activity, merit awards are provided by Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago packer and chairman of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. These awards include medals to county winners, gold watches to State champions, trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago to the top ranking participant in each of the four extension sections, and a $200 college scholarship to each of three national winners.

The activity is being conducted,

Alaska—The Land That Time Forgot

Have you ever had the experience of seeing your home blown up from the impact of bombs "Made in Japan?" Have you ever waded through ice cold Pacific waters to build a base on a deserted Aleutian isle? Have you ever seen a Japanese plane shot down from the sky, and felt a thrill of pride in the brave men flying the plane that shot the enemy down? Have you ever had to fight your way through an Alaskan blizzard to dig a foxhole that might mean the difference between life and death for yourself? Have you ever felt a thrill of pride shoot through you, as you watched American planes take off to bomb the enemy from a field which you had a part in building?

These are just a few of the thrills which have been a part of the life of those who have lived and fought in Alaskan Territory. To many of you, it may seem a remote and far away battle front, but to those who were there and saw their friends killed and wounded and to those who took part in the bombing and fighting of the enemy over Kiska and Attu, the battle of Alaska was a very real thing. Although the fighting there has been on a minor scale, the men who fought there have taken part in one of the toughest battles of the war. Not only did they have the little yellow men to fight; they also had to fight the weather and the treacherous Alaskan williwaw. Through the entire year, there are not more than two dozen clear days in the Aleutians. To those of you who have never spent any time there, it is hard to believe, but to those who had to live there, and work in the weather, it was a grim reality. There were times when it was all your life was worth to step outside of your hut or tent—depending on which you lived in. But the work had to go on, and the men who were responsible for doing it never shirked their duty. They fought the weather, and they fought the Japs, and, while they did not drive the weather from Alaska, they won both battles, nevertheless. And the men who gave their lives there in the bleakness that is the Aleutians, gave up only when they were too weak to fight any more. They died, but they knew they had fought a winning battle, and that their comrades would continue their work, and keep the Japs from getting a foothold on the continent of North America. For, if those men had weakened, the Japs might have taken important bases and put himself in a position to bomb the United States and Canada.

So, each one of us owes an eternal debt to those men who kept the enemy away from our shores and enabled each of us to breathe easily in the knowledge that American soldiers were prepared for anything the Japs might throw at them. When the time came, they defended their country's outermost boundaries in a manner which all of us can be proud of.

Hats off to Alaskan soldiers, and the safety they brought us.

Would like to tell you what the Japs did to some friends of mine"

LIEUTENANT (j. g.) ANN B. BERNATITUS, U.S.N.—a nurse, back from Bataan. I have a message for you . . .

"Those American boys—who fought for you with their backs to the wall, waiting for help that never reached them—came from the land of plenty. But when their lives were at stake, all they had was . . . plenty of nothing!"

"They were outnumbered, outgunned, and out-supplied. They were so short of ammunition that the aircraft gunners often had to hold their fire until the enemy planes were on top of them. They were so short of bandages and gauze that we nurses had to wash out the old ones and use them again.

"But they were never short of courage. They never spoke of surrender. They just went on fighting, and hoping, and dying. And no sacrifice was ever too great.

"Let me give you an example. One terrible day on Bataan we had 285 patients on our operating tables in 8 hours—a new patient every two minutes of the day.

"A sailor was brought in with his abdomen blown to bits. He was a goner and I think he knew it. 'Doctor,' he asked, 'is there any hope at all?'"

"The doctor wished to reassure him and replied, 'We'll do everything we can!' The sailor tried to roll over. 'Doc,' he begged, 'get me off this table and save one of those other fellows who still has a fighting chance.'

"That was the kind of men we had at Bataan. And they would want you to remember not only what they did, but what they did without.

"They would want you to remember it, but not with flowers and memorials. The flowers are for yesterday and the monuments for tomorrow.

"Remember them now—this month and every month—by buying War Bonds!

"Buy guns and planes and shells and ships and tanks—for those other countrymen of yours who are fighting so far from home. See to it that never again, any place in the world, will American fighting men be caught short as they were on Bataan! That never again will American wounded perish for the help your dollars might have sent!

"Certainly taxes are higher. Certainly the cost of living has gone up. But the men on Bataan were never ten-percenters!

"They gave everything they had. And now it's up to you to buy War Bonds not only if you can, but all you can! Please believe me, folks—that's the way the boys on Bataan would like to be remembered!"

Listen to Morgenthau-Marshall Tell Power of Payroll Savings!

Washington, D. C.—How important is the average worker's war bond purchases out of his pay every payday in the grand strategy of the Allied High Command? Does the extent of his or her War Bond allotment have a part in determining when, where and the strength of our military blows?

Any worker listening in on a recent conversation between General George C. Marshall, President Roosevelt's Chief of Staff, and Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., learned the answers to these questions.

Said General Marshall:

"Mr. Secretary, I want you to answer a question for me and to answer it with complete frankness. Can we military leaders plan to fight this war in an orderly way—in the surest and most effective manner—or must we take extraordinary risks for fear the money will not hold out?"

Replied Secretary Morgenthau: "General, the American public will take care of that. What they have done in the Second War Loan drive—the money they have produced and the spirit they have shown—is proof enough for me that they will not let our fighters suffer from lack of support until we achieve complete victory, no matter how long that may be nor how much it may cost."

Up your War Bond allotment out of your wages today. Figure it out for yourself how much above 10 per cent it should be.

THE TIMID SOUL

By Webster

Young Johnny Clay of Rocky Mount, North Carolina, is typical of farm children raising victory pigs and devoting profits to War Bonds.

Farm Youth of U. S. Looks to Tomorrow

TOMORROW'S farmers and farm homemakers are second to no school group in their enthusiasm for investing in War Bonds and Stamps to make sure their future is secure. Through the Schools At War program they are investing what they save and earn in War Stamps and Bonds.

First evidence of this is the amount the 4-H Club boys and girls and the FFA boys invested in war savings in 1942 from "Victory Pig" and other projects. A million and a half 4-H Club members put $6,000,000 of their own savings in War Bonds and Stamps and sold $2,500,000 worth of War Savings to their neighbors. Nearly a quarter million members of Future Farmers of America invested more than $1,500,000.

Spurred by the realization that the financial welfare of farm families the next 20 years depends on how wisely they use today's higher incomes from increased food and other wartime production, both groups have set their goals still higher for 1943.

These farm youths are building financial reserves, and urging their parents to do the same, for after-the-war necessities, to meet financial emergencies and to help them get started in college.

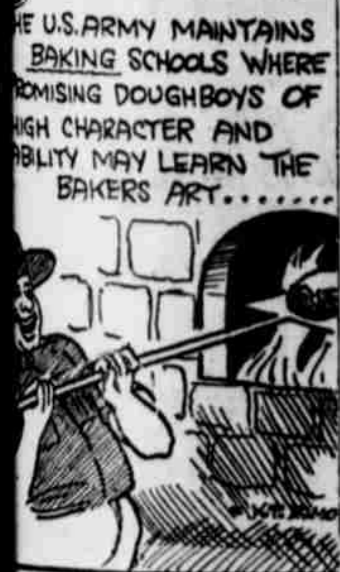

They're building reserves today for tomorrow's farm buildings and for the other things they will need when they're tomorrow's farmers and homemakers.

CITY AUTHORITIES AND PHYSICIANS ISSUE WARNING TO PREVENT INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Littlefield has been fortunate so far in not having a case of infantile paralysis, but we cannot tell when the disease may strike us.

Therefore it behooves us to do all we can to prevent the disease spreading to our community, and we believe that it is only necessary to call attention to the matter in order to get our people to take proper precautions.

In some localities the authorities are threatening to prosecute and are prosecuting individuals for violations of laws and ordinances regulating sanitation, but we are of the opinion that will not be necessary here, as our people will cooperate when need therefor is shown.

Medical authorities have announced that infantile paralysis — also known as poliomyelitis—is a communicable disease and that the disease is carried by the house fly and other unsanitary means.

We therefore urge you to aid in preventing the spread of this dreadful disease to our community by keeping your premises in a sanitary condition.

PLEASE DO THESE THINGS:

1. Kill all flies and eliminate all breeding places of flies and mosquitoes.
2. Keep the yards and all out houses clean and sanitary.
3. Place all garbage in securely covered garbage cans, first wrapping wet garbage in paper.
4. Do not eat out of doors or in a place not adequately protected from flies.
5. No hog pens should be maintained near your premises or those of your neighbors.
6. Do not permit children to play in the hot sun.
7. See your physician at the first signs of fever, headache, stiffness in back or neck or other illness.

We ask that you please cooperate with us in seeing that our city is made and kept sanitary. By doing so we may probably prevent this disease from spreading to us.

Cpl. Ralph W. Turner left Saturday night for his camp in Cleburne, La., where he is stationed in the Field Artillery there as a Technician.

Cpl. Williams has been in service for about one year, and has been home on a 12-day leave, during which time he married Miss Audrey Ham. His wife, however, will not return to camp with him.

Tech. Sgt. Henry C. Slate recently arrived home in Sudan on his first furlough since September, 1939 when he enlisted in the Army Air Forces and was sent to Hawaii.

A flying combat engineer and crew chief, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Slate of Sudan. He has been awarded the Air Medal and the Order of the Purple Heart.

He was wounded at Midway. "I got in the way of a 7.7 machine gun," he said.

He was in one of the first planes that flew over Guadalcanal and he took part in the Coral Sea and Solomon Islands battles.

"I have been on every island in South Pacific," he said. "For 11 months I never saw a woman, either black or white."

Slate enlisted as a mechanic. He was crew chief when Pearl Harbor was attacked. He was sent to the Southwest Pacific immediately afterward.

Whitharral May Be Scene Of Oil Play

Rumors of an oil play west of Whitharral are afloat.

About three years ago a large acreage was leased for the Stanolind Oil Company. Recently oil men from Midland came in, and have leased several tracts north of the old well already drilled, and west of Whitharral. It is believed they completed the blocks already started.

It is believed by those in a position to know something of what is happening, that there will be a well drilled there this summer or fall.

Remarks Over WHO Regarding Joe Wells' War Bond Drive

In response to the last drive staged by Joe Wells for the sale of War Bonds in which he sent, through C. O. Stone, $3,375 to Robert Burlingame, of WHO, Des Moines, Mr. Wells received a copy of the transcript of remarks made over WHO on June 23, which will, no doubt, be of interest to many of the Leader's readers, and which is as follows:

"Tonight's bond-club list is one of the most unusual this reporter has ever seen, since WHO began selling freedom securities about 11 months ago.

"Out of 38 individual subscriptions, 25 came from the single town of Littlefield, Texas . . . and only three are credited to Iowa. However, one of the latter was a splendid 15 thousand dollar order from the National Travelers Casualty Company of Des Moines. The day's total business amounted to 21 thousand 225 dollars . . . and raised the bond-club total to 3 million 659 thousand 400 dollars.

"The Littlefield honor-roll . . . which has come to be a regular part of our bond-club project . . . is headed by Volos Jones, with a thousand dollar order. Dennis Jones is represented by a 500 dollar purchase . . . while Joe Wells and Morley Drake each added 200 dollars to the Littlefield showing. In the hundred dollar bracket from that community are: Henry Boyles, Less Barker, Earl Luce, Bob Cox, Howard Atwood, Lester Hewitt, William Jeffries, Leonard Irvin, William Madden, Ellis Foust, and Irvin Onstead. To these Littlefield residents to 50 dollar securities: Arthur Ray, Everett Winston, Mrs. Minnie Stephens, Hugh Bartley and Hugh Rice. The following will receive 25 dollar bonds: Francis Yohner, Mrs. Minnie Graham, Jackson Brannen, Ben Lyman and William Blackman.

"Once again we wish to express our appreciation to Littlefield, Texas . . . and particularly to the leadership of Joe Wells . . . for the fine support that city has given the WHO Bond Club. Littlefield, Texas, and Summerville, Georgia, share a special place in the affections of this newscaster . . . although he has never had the privilege of visiting either town. We wish there were thousands of such communities throughout America, because there would then be no cause for worry about this country's home-front."

Mr. Wells says that he is ready to start again on a "one man" drive just as soon "as some of these burglars will start him off with a couple or three good sized checks."

Now come along boys and don't keep Joe waiting. He might get laying brick and not be able to get loose to pick up the checks, let alone conduct a drive.

In America—and ONLY in America—every citizen can set his own goal with the right to work toward it unhampered by any system of caste or class . . . serene in the knowledge that he and his loved ones can ultimately enjoy the peace and security his labors have won.

Freedom of the future—the right of every American to earn his living as he chooses—to gain and hold success through his own initiative, careful planning and hard work. To many peoples of this earth that is only a beautiful ideal. In America it is a reality—a reality worth fighting for hard, as long as it may take, until Victory!

With South Plains Men In U. S. Service

Hall, who would have been old next month, is the first man to be reported dead in World War II. His parents, Mr. L. M. Hall, received a letter last week from the Inter-Red Cross stating that he had been in a Japanese prison camp in the Philippines. The Red Cross has additional information in its files to follow.

On June 30, 1942, the Halls heard that L. M. Hall was missing in action. In January of this year word came from the Red Cross that he was a prisoner of the Japanese.

Hall, who attended school at Olton, entered the service in January of 1941, and was stationed at various posts, including Fort Bliss and Fort Brown, Texas. He was with the 27th Infantry Group when he sailed from San Francisco in November of 1941. A letter from his parents received in Littlefield was written just before the States.

Details entering pre-flight training at the San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center. There were 691 from Texas.

At this post, the largest of its kind in the world, they will receive training to prepare them for entry into primary flying schools, from which their course of instruction leads to basic and advanced flying schools and the silver wings of army pilots.

Pvt. W. H. (Dub) Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Jackson of Olton, has been promoted to the grade of Private First Class, upon assignment to the Technical School, Army Air Forces Technical Training Command, Sioux Falls, S. D., training as a radio operator mechanic. Pfc. Jackson entered the service April 21, 1943, and was inducted at Fort McArthur in Wilmington, Calif. In civilian life he gave as his occupation pipe welder. In 1940-41 he partook in football, track, basketball and tennis at Olton high.

Young men from Olton, Otis and Howard D. Walthall, among the latest class of cadets.

Staff Sgt. Emery K. Criswell, former Anton boy, is reported missing in action since June 28, notification of which was received by his father, J. R. Criswell, Monday of last week.

S-Sgt. Criswell was a gunner on a bomber, and was known to have been in England about two and a half months.

He was also known as Kenneth Criswell to many of his friends.

Lieut. (jg) Charles L. Storrs, U. S. N. R., former coach at Littlefield High School and one-time Texas Tech halfback, has been transferred from the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight school to an undisclosed naval unit, it was announced Saturday. Lieut. Storrs served at Athens, Ga., since June, 1942, as commander of a platoon of cadets, and recently as a military track instructor for the more than 2,000 future Navy pilots in training there. A native of Lubbock, Lieut. Storrs played two years varsity football at Texas Tech, graduating in 1941. He was on the Littlefield High staff for one year before entering the Navy.

Smyer community but now reside seven miles northwest of Lubbock. The two boys recently returned to San Diego after spending a short leave with their parents. They both are seamen, second class.

Guy Aldridge, who has been in training at Claremont, Okla., for the past three months, is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Aldridge, here while awaiting his transfer to another station. Mrs. Aldridge is making her home with her mother at Crosbyton, while her husband is in the Service.

B. W. Yearly, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Yearly of Littlefield, has graduated from an intensive course in glider mechanics at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, Texas, and now is prepared to blast the Axis as one of America's "commandos in coveralls." Sheppard Field, near Wichita Falls, is one of the many schools of the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command which trains the specialist technicians to maintain our mighty air armada. He is now eligible to win a rating as a corporal or sergeant and to play a vital role in a now pioneering branch of the service—gliders.

Before entering the school, he was trained at one of the basic training centers of the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command and learned to fight the Axis with other things besides the tools of his trade.

Newly arrived at Dodge City Army Air Field, Kans., is Pfc. Alonzo L. Dunn, who was transferred there from Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, Texas. He is a member of the Hq. and Hq. Squadron, 95th Glider Training Group.

Dedicated to providing the world's sharpest pilots for the world's speediest medium bombers, Dodge City Army Air Field, second and newest pilot school of its kind in the nation, trains hand-picked officers (just graduated from AAF advanced flying schools) in operation of the hard-hitting B-26 Marauder, deadly flying powerhouse) now smashing the Axis on many fighting fronts.

Gy. Sgt. Maurice Mooneyham has been in the Service as a Marine for three years, and before going into the Service he made his home in Littlefield, where most people remember him as "Slick" Mooneyham.

Sgt. Mooneyham, before and after the war, has served his country in many other countries . . . the Hawaiian Islands, Australia, China, Guadalcanal and at sea. December 7, 1941, found him at Pearl Harbor stationed on the U.S.S. West Virginia, which was sunk at that time.

Sgt. Mooneyham visited friends in Littlefield around the first of June, and also his parents, who now make their home at McKinney, Tex. He is now stationed at Camp Elliott, Calif., as an instructor of enemy weapons.

The Leader is proud to have Sgt. Mooneyham on its mailing list.

Ensign Lester L. Henry of Jacksonville, Fla., has been visiting his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Henry, while he is on a 10-day leave. He left Tuesday of last week for his new camp in San Diego, Calif.

Ensign Henry is in the Navy.

Aviation Cadet Alvin R. Gerik, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gerik of Pep, has entered the advanced Navigation School at Selman Field, Monroe, La.

Cadet Gerik attended Pep High School. Before entering the service he was employed by Sootheran Electric at Seattle, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Jones just received a V-Mail letter from their son, Sgt. Volos R. Jones, from Somewhere in North Africa, which will be of interest to his many friends, and which is published below:

"Dear Folks:
"Just finished another Fourth of July. Have seen a lot of them, but this is the first one I have observed in Africa. Not much excitement other than the general routine. . . .
"I am just getting along fine, so is Farley. It hasn't rained where I have been in about three months. Don't think it gets as hot here as it does in Florida. A very nice climate. But I would gladly exchange it for Texas. But guess I am just plain lucky I haven't had a case of the blues yet. However, I have to use my willpower sometimes.
"Well, can't think of much to write so will close for a spell.
"Love,
"VOLOS."

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Byers received word recently from their son, Roy Byers, Jr., who is a Seaman First Class, and is somewhere in the Pacific, that he is getting along fine and is still getting The Lamb County Lender. He stated that it was about one week old when he got it, but that he enjoyed it just the same, since it was just like a letter from home to him.
Byers joined the Navy in May, 1942.

SYNTHETIC RUBBER NEWS

Phillips Petroleum Company
Announces the Completion and First Operation of its 90,000,000 Lb. Butadiene Manufacturing Plant

For an annual production of rubber equivalent to 11,000,000 tires

A MODERN miracle of petroleum research and chemistry has figuratively transformed a few acres in the Panhandle of Texas into one-third of a million acres of rubber plantation.

Here rubber will be drilled from the depths of the U. S. earth, instead of tapped from East Indian and Malayan trees.

From wells overlying the greatest raw gas field ever discovered, will come the natural gas to be processed into butadiene, the basic and major ingredient in synthetic rubber.

This great plant . . . designed and built by Phillips . . . based on Phillips research . . . using Phillips own patented processes . . . independent of German research . . . will make butadiene for an equivalent of 30,000,000 rubber trees.

Thus is brought nearer the no-longer distant day of U. S. self-sufficiency in rubber. Thus is Victory made more certain. And with that great day will come the full peacetime benefits of this outstanding wartime development.

Brief Notes about Phillips as Trail Blazer in the Synthetic Rubber Field

Tires containing rubber produced from Phillips butadiene have been on the nation's highways for more than two years.

In 1941 Phillips produced, for commercial rubber use, more than four times as much butadiene as any other oil company.

Phillips has freely supplied technical data on butadiene, styrene, and other related processes, to the petroleum and other industries participating in the Government rubber program. As a matter of company policy, Phillips advocated the production of butadiene by all dependable processes, from all possible raw materials, including products of the farm.

While here he and Miss Mozelle Nance, daughter of John Nance, were married.

Last Rites For Lloyd C. Glass

Funeral services were conducted in the Chapel at the Hammons Funeral Home Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for Lloyd C. Glass, 51, local supervisor for the Republic National Life Insurance Agency, who passed away suddenly in a local hospital Sunday evening, July 11, about 7:45 o'clock, as the result of a heart attack. He was reported in the hospital about an hour, when he died.

Rev. C. Frank York, local Methodist Pastor, officiated at the services.

Mr. Glass has been serving as local supervisor for the insurance company since January last, and making his home at the Rumback Hotel. During this time he had made an outstanding record with the company. He was the first salesman to graduate in the course "Successful Selling," a course which the company offers to all their employees. He had also attained the ranking of "Brig. General."

Pallbearers were: J. W. Keithley, Eli Gregg, E. Ivery, Eddie Glass, Hugh Rice and Henry Banks.

Due to inability to find relatives, J. W. Keithley has been appointed Administrator, and T. Wade Potter, attorney representing the estate.

Just received a large shipment of office supplies at the Leader Office.

APPOINTED TO U. S. NAVAL ACADEMY

The many friends of George Frank Richards of Olton will be happy to learn that he has received an appointment to the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland, and arrived there on July 2, 1943, for his enrollment. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Richards of Olton and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Richards (deceased) of Olton and also the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Stall of Wellington.

RECENT GRAVES NEED ATTENTION

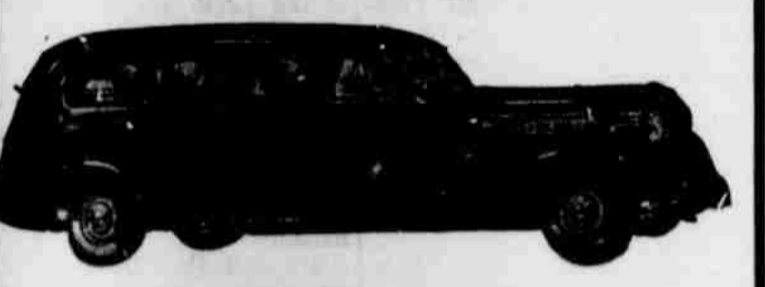

According to L. A. Ratliff, in charge of the Littlefield Cemetery, since the heavy rains some of the recent graves in this cemetery are getting in bad condition; and he asked the Leader to suggest that people having loved ones buried in this cemetery take steps to remedy the condition.

World Time-Table On Display In Littlefield

The clock-board shown above is now on display in the show window of the local Wm. Cameron & Co. Store. Beginning Monday, it went on display for a week, and is a most unusual display. It is a large octagon shaped clockboard showing the faces of ten electric clocks. The center clock shows Littlefield time, and the others show the time of more than a dozen important cities in every part of the world. Flags of the various nations flank the clocks, and by a simple method of plus hours and minus hours painted on the clockboard, it is easy to see which cities and nations are ahead of Littlefield time, and which are behind.

Saturday morning this clock-board will be put in the window at the Southwestern Public Service Company, where it will remain Saturday and Sunday.

Buster Owens, manager of the Cameron Store, urges everyone to see this world time-table as it is more interesting and informative.
