R. B. Freeman At General Conference Dallas This Week

R. B. Freeman, pastor of the Methodist church, is this week in attendance at the 21st General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which convened in Dallas, Wednesday.

About 2,600,000 Southern Methodists are centered in Dallas at the estimation of the attendance.

With a membership of approximately 100,000, the general conference is the law-making body of the church, meeting every four years for a period of from two to three weeks. In addition to making church laws to govern its members, it reviews the work of the church for the preceding year and receives reports from general superintendents, who are elected from the general boards.

The conference elects and consecrates bishops or general superintendents for the work of the church throughout the world. The general conference is a representative body, membership composed of delegates from the annual conferences in America and foreign countries. There are 15 mission conferences.

It was estimated that from three to five bishops will be elected at the conference this time, although the most conservative guess was that there would be four, two from east of the Mississippi and two from the west, of these probably from Texas.

Mr. Freeman is also visiting his wife who is a student in Texas Christian University.

Midget Golf Course Attracts the Players

Midget Golf course was opened in Littlefield on lots just north of the residence of Mrs. Courtney last Saturday night by Pat Boone owner, and to be operated by Earl Hopping.

The midget course is something of an innovation in this section having been introduced in this state only during the past year. There are similar courses now located in Lubbock, Amarillo, Abilene and Roswell, N. M.

All the equipment is nicely painted green and orange, and comprises 18 holes, each green having a different type of hazard, including curved hazards, and a 12 inch cannon which the player must shoot through, in the hole the ball dropping through a hole that deposits it in the main hole, indicating the game has been won. The entire course may be completed in 40 par. Thirty couples may play at one time. Night playing is possible by four large electric lights which give excellent illumination.

A large patronage of local golf fans attended the opening of the new course.

$53,732 Distributed Co-op Cotton Growers

Members of the 1928-29 cotton crop upon which final payment has as yet been made, received an additional one cent a pound distribution week, with the mailing of checks amounting $253,732.00, according to an announcement by Harry Williams, general manager. Mr. Williams stated that even with this additional cent per pound distribution, final settlement of the 1928-29 crop will then have been completed, although cotton of the 1928-29 crop will then have been sold up to sixteen cents a pound, a middling payment.

It is doubtful if there has been any other matter which has taxed the patience of the directors and the members, as has matters relating to the previous year's business.

The next distribution on the 1928-29 crop will be a final settlement, Williams said, "and the members may rest assured that no opportunity will be passed up to rush these additional sums to the members at the earliest possible date."

State Telephone Mgr. Announces New Lines Lubbock to Littlefield

R. B. Fairly, general manager of the State Telephone Co., with headquarters at Lubbock was in Littlefield Monday, and in company with the local manager, Jimmy Singer, was looking over property interests here.

Mr. Fairly expressed his satisfaction over the rapid growth of Littlefield, and his appreciation of the growing business accorded his company here.

He stated that preparations were being made to run another group of toll lines from Lubbock to Littlefield just as soon as ordered material arrived, and such would probably be completed within the coming six or seven weeks. These lines, he said, will eventually be built on to Clovis, New Mexico.

Build Rural Lines

He stated it was the policy of his company to first get the local exchanges in first class order, then take up the development of rural lines. Approximately $750,000 has been expended by his company for improvement work during the past year.

Last week the company completed a rural line running six miles north and five miles east of Littlefield, which started service with 15 subscribers. A line to Pep will probably be constructed in the near future. Other contemplated rural lines will run out of Amherst and Muleshoe to Earth.

P. W. Walker, this city, received a message Monday morning announcing the sudden death of his father, R. W. Walker, 72, Gonzales, from a paralytic stroke.

He is survived by his wife and five children. The funeral was held Wednesday from the late home of the deceased in Gonzales.

Mr. Walker left on the Monday noon train.

The cotton gin at Fieldton which was burned last year, is to be rebuilt, according to information. W. W. Terry is owner of the new construction.

It is also said that efforts are being made to locate a post office at that point.

A big barbecue and celebration is being planned in Littlefield for July Fourth, sponsored by the American Legion and the Chamber of Commerce. The event will also include baseball games, a carnival, automobile races, public speaking and other attractions not yet decided upon.

It is said several beeves will be slaughtered for the accommodation of the 10,000 guests expected on that day.

This will be Littlefield's first barbecue in several years.

Safety Razor Sluggers Beat Bewhiskered Bunch Here Monday, 15-9 When Littlefield Cats Scratch Beard of House of David Club

Last Monday afternoon the House of David, world's traveling base ball club from Benton Harbor, Michigan, invaded the local base ball park for a nine inning tilt with the Littlefield Cats. After traveling from Amarillo via Texico from 9:00 a. m. until 1:30 p. m. before arriving in Littlefield the visitors seemed rather fatigued from their long jaunt here.

With big Newt Moore doing mound duty for the locals and Dick Ratliff on the receiving end, the bearded boys were stopped in their tracks in the 1st inning without a score. While Tolles on the hill for the visitors failed to show any new tricks with his left arm delivery to the home nine, Fleming did the catching.

Mick Ratliff first to face Tolles connected for a four ply swat to deep left field. Al Mueller was retired, Dick Ratliff hit safely and Hanks tripled to left center scoring Ratliff. Walker went out to first, Hanks scoring on the play. Thornton walked and scored on Art Mueller's triple to left field. Johnson was thrown out to first. Making a total of four hits and four runs for the home club.

The Whiskered boys came through with three hits and three scores in the second inning, falling short by one to even the count with the Cats.

In the second half after Moore skied out, Mick Ratliff singled sharply to right field. In rapid succession hits by D. Ratliff, Al Mueller, Hanks, Thornton's out and Art Mueller's double to center five more scores were registered before the side was retired.

Tabernacle Baptists Have 40 Additions To Church From Revival

As a result of the revival meeting which came to a close Sunday evening at the Tabernacle Baptist church, about 40 new-members were added to the church rolls and interest was greatly revived.

Rev. Roy A. Kemp, local pastor of the church, conducted the preaching services and John Sparks was in charge of the choir.

At the Sunday evening service the church auditorium was packed to capacity, and many stood in the aisles during the service, while many were turned back at the door due to the overflowing crowd.

The baptismal service was said to be one of the most impressive ever held in Littlefield. The candidates being immersed in waterfall type baptistry with running water, as flood lights played upon the scene.

Lfd. Population Is 3,218 Says Official

The population of Littlefield is 3,218, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the fifteenth census as furnished the Leader by Owen M. Unger, supervisor of census, Plainview.

The statement also says that 23 farms were enumerated in this area.

Along with practically every other town and city in West Texas, the population of Littlefield, ran lower than was generally estimated, it being commonly thought there were between 3,500 and 3,600 people here. When it is considered some adjacent suburbs contain several hundred people, not within the corporate limits, the total will run nearly to that sum.

NEW HIGHWAYS SERVE PEOPLE TO LITTLEFIELD

Traffic has begun on the road leading north from the Amherst-Olton highway, six miles north of Littlefield, across the sand hills into the Spring Lake community in the north part of Lamb county, making Littlefield markets quite accessible to the citizens of that section.

The road has been graded and surfaced with clay, and is in good condition. It connects with the Muleshoe-Earth-Olton highway and is joined on the north by the Dimmitt highway.

Another road under construction is the one leading north from Littlefield two miles and east to the Hale county line, connecting with the Hale Center and Plainview highway.

Entertainment Week In Lfd. Draws Big Crowds

This is entertainment week in Littlefield.

First and foremost, is Harley Sadler and his 40 people, well known and popular troupe of actors and musicians, playing under new and larger canvas than ever before and with an entirely new bill of attractions that are super-pleasing to the patronizing public. Sadler and his bunch of entertainers have been here before. They never fail to play return dates because once you have seen them it is simply a case of await the next time in big anticipation for their joyous return.

Next is Vernon Bros. shows, with a varied line of attractions. Wild animals and tame people—around 300 of both. A bunch of interesting side shows, carnival attractions, Ferris wheel and other dizzy makers and whirl-a-gigs that destroy your physical equilibrium, inextricably mix up your mental machinery and give one a thrill that makes 'em want to come back again.

The new Midget Golf course opened last Saturday night is also receiving its share of patrons. It's something new in these parts—get all the kick of real pasture pool minus the long walks and plenty of putting practice for the big game on this peewee course of 18 holes.

At the Palace theatre Manager Bill Chesher has on a big bill of talkie movies, real serious drama coupled with plenty of mirth-making, side-splitting comedy, news reels, etc.

Take your choice, folks, and have a good time. Awake like this won't come again for a long while.

Lfd. Beats Olton In Practise Game, 8-7

Last Sunday afternoon the Olton team came over to give the Littlefield team a practice game before the big game with the long whiskered boys the following Monday.

With one or two of the regulars out of the lineup and Moore held in reserve, the Littlefield Cats gave a poor exhibition of base ball at times during the game with Olton. However, Walter Evans, who hails from Levelland and desiring a tryout with the Cats turned in a very creditable performance for the locals. His support was very ragged at times and then he was given some neat assistance with men on bases by the aid of three double plays pulled during the game.

With the count standing at 7 to 4 in the 8th against the locals a rally was staged and the count tied to end the eighth inning. By some timely hitting in the ninth, Dick Ratliff put the winning run across after two were out.

The Olton boys have asked for another chance at Littlefield since their last two engagements with the boys here were very close games.

AIRY SUN SUITS FOR YOUNG GIRLS

Cretonne or Print Will Have All Health Essentials.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Ready for a morning on the beach—or at the sand pile in the back yard—these two little girls, dressed in their gay sun suits of cretonne and print, will have all the benefits of the health-giving ultra-violet rays of sunshine on a large portion of their skin surface.

Sun baths should be given to all well children to keep them well and to many sick children to help make them well. When the weather permits and the sun is not too hot, arrange for the youngster to be out doors in the sunshine as much as possible. Most modern children who are well can take their sun baths as part of their usual playtime. Of course, these little girls have been accustomed very gradually to playing in the direct sunshine. Short periods of sunning were given at first, and the garments worn exposed a less extensive area of the body. Both the time and the amount exposed were increased until a coat of tan was acquired.

Almost any well-fitting commercial romper pattern can be modified for use in cutting sun suits, says the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. (The bureau does not distribute patterns.) As a beginning it is well to select a pattern conforming as closely as possible to the sun suit desired. In the picture one little girl is wearing a sun suit made to match romper, pattern, fastened at the shoulders instead of down the back. The front is cut in one piece. The crotch is slightly shaped, and the drop seat is as flat as possible with a deep plait on each side. The back is cut away under this piece except for sufficient material to keep it from pulling out.

The other little suit of durable cotton print is cut from a pattern that had a crotch cut on the fold of the material so as to give as much freedom and protection as possible. As the front of the suit and the back of the waist are in one piece, only four buttons are necessary. However, in order to make buttoning a little easier than in the overall type of garment, the back of the waist is extended at each side so that it may carry all four buttons. Both the front and the drop seat fasten onto the button directly under the arm. The result is a garment very easy to make and to launder. The fabric in this sun suit has a conventional design of tiny oranges and lemons among green leaves. The edges of the garment and of the large pockets are bound with orange bands.

Live Stock Facts

A very good ration (from Purdue) for weaned pigs is 50 pounds tankage, 25 of linseed meal, 25 pounds of alfalfa meal, mixed with all the shells, corn they want.

Now that the beef grower as stockman can see a good profit in his business, he should be mindful that modern times require intelligent and progressive methods.

Milk loses some of its feed value when it sours. If real sour it's dangerous to young pigs. For older ones clabbered milk is a good feed, but if acid-sour, it may harm even these.

When the pigs have reached 75 or 100 pounds leave out the bran from their ration. Corn and tankage, or corn with soy beans, and either of the mineral mixtures will keep them thriving.

Rigorous culling of unfit breeding animals is one of the fundamental factors of success in live stock improvement and applies to swine in the same degree as to other classes of farm animals.

For fattening pigs a ration with wider nutritive ration should be used. A ration of corn nine parts, plus a protein supplement made up of 50 per cent tankage, 25 per cent linseed oil meal, and 25 per cent alfalfa meal, using one part of this mixture, makes a satisfactory ration.

PRE-NUPTIAL SHOWER TO MISS SIBYL GLENN TUES.

A pre-nuptial shower was tendered Miss Sibyl Glenn by a number of her friends Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. D. G. Hobbs.

As the guests arrived they were met at the door by Miss Tommy Killough, being led through the hall to the dining room where they were served with punch by Miss Gladys Porter.

After all had been comfortably seated, a short program was given, as follows:

Reading, "Encouragement," by Miss Naomi Freeman.
Lecture on "Husbands," Miss Erma Simmons.

At this point Miss Gladys Wales appeared at the front door clad in rain coat and hat and carrying an umbrella. She casually remarked, "she thought it was going to rain, but guessed it was only a shower." She was followed by little Jackie Cogdill, pulling a wagon well laden with gifts for the bride-to-be.

Mrs. Cogdill then gave a toast to the bride and to the "left-overs," concluding with some pertinent advice on "How to Keep Husbands."

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the following:

Misses Gladys Porter, Maude Joe Fields, Tommie Killough, Irene Hobbs, Ruth Courtney, Ruth Matthews, Corinne Wright, Erma Simmons, Gladys Wales, Bernice Wales, Naomi Freeman, Eva Gertrude Chisholm, Josephine Glenn, Lucille Killough, Ruth McKee, Edith Grantham, Daisy Rose, Eunice Wright, Louise Chisholm, Dixie Durfee, Donnie Lou Adams, Dahlia Hemphill, and Jackie Cogdill, Mesdames Loyd Neeley, E. Monte Bowron Quits As Band Is Dissolved Here Last Thursday

Monte Bowron, director of the Littlefield band for the past year, resigned Thursday night of last week.

In tendering his resignation Mr. Bowron expressed his appreciation to the members of the band who had so diligently labored to improve themselves in music and toward the perfection of an organization of which the community might well be proud, but since the community did not seem to appreciate the efforts that were being put forth in behalf of such a musical organization and the further fact that they were behind considerably with his salary, he deemed it advisable that he resign at this time. Other members of the band present also deplored the lack of co-operation given and the fact that the organization was to be disbanded.

It appears that this band disorganization came to a climax as the result of a mix-up during the past week over arrangements of a well known tent show which was to play here as a benefit for the organization, thus furnishing the necessary money for expenses of the band to attend the annual meeting of the West Texas

Chamber of Commerce to be held in Abilene the latter part of this month.

Resolutions of appreciation were passed in behalf of Mr. Bowron for the excellent services he had rendered the organization in tutoring the younger members and in building it up to one of the best bands to be found anywhere in West Texas, also thanking J. E. Norman for his good offices in looking after the financial interests of the organization, the resolution being signed by all members of the band present, and is as follows:

Resolutions

WHEREAS, the members of the Littlefield Band have given freely, and gladly and without charge, of their time and talent for the perfection of a musical organization of this kind in Littlefield that would be a credit to the city, and

WHEREAS, through the combined efforts of members and director this organization has reached a point where it is the consensus of opinion among people capable of critical judgment that it is one of the best brass bands to be found anywhere on the South Plains today, and

WHEREAS, there is an apparent lack of appreciation and co-operation on the part of the citizenship in encouraging and financing the organization;

THEREFORE, be it resolved that this band is herewith dissolved.

RESOLVED, that the members of the Littlefield band do hereby express their confidence in, and leadership of its director, Monte Bowron, and their sincere appreciation for his faithful and skillful services as a musical director, and be it further

RESOLVED, that the membership also express to Mr. J. E. Norman their deep appreciation for the interest and labor he has set forth in looking after the finances of the organization, and to all citizens who have contributed to the upkeep of the band.

SIGNED—Troy Howton, president; C. L. Ogilvie, vice-president; Olin Smith, business manager; Blanche Brannen, secretary; Mildred Wharton, R. L. Price, Irene Hobbs, Sue Brannen, Jas. E. Norman, Jr., D. P. Kay, Webster Wiseman, A. C. Tremain, Jr., Jack Norman, T. P. Cain, Jess Mitchell, Nina Ogilvie, P. L. Henson, Fern Thornton, Jess Woosley, R. A. Davis.

Cuts and Threshes All Small Grain and Seeds

WHEN you invest in a combine you want a machine that does more than head and thresh grain. You want a bonest-to-goodness harvester-thresher that can harvest and thresh all small grain and seed crops year after year—under adverse as well as favorable conditions—that is able to cut the grain regardless of whether it is lodged and tangled, short, or light and fluffy. You want a combine that gives dollar-for-dollar value—and more.

The McCormick-Deering No. 8 Harvester-Thresher is the combine that never slips over the heads in lodged and tangled grain and that gets the heads in extremely short grain. It actually cuts a 4-inch stubble. The long guards raise the tangled crop—the sickle cuts it without loss—it is delivered upon a grain-tight platform canvas and carried evenly to the cylinder.

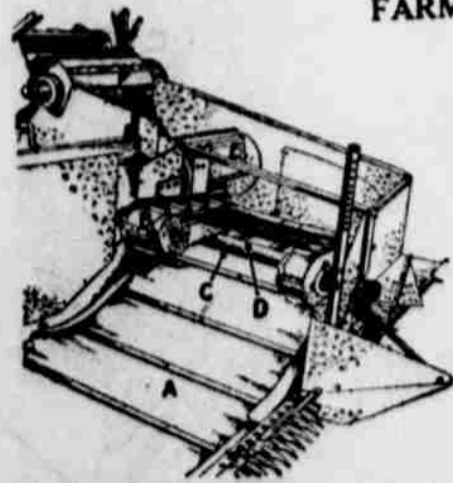

The wide, grain-tight platform canvas is the only sure method of harvesting and saving grain that is down and tangled. And it is the only way seed crops and flax can be handled. It has stood the test of harvesting and threshing all over the world for many years.

We strongly recommend the McCormick-Deering No. 8 as the harvester-thresher that will pay its way on all crops and give you a full return on your investment. Come in and see this harvester-thresher—let us go over its many features that result in cleaner grain and more profit to its owners. Examine, also, our complete service and parts departments that have been built up through years of selling and servicing McCormick-Deering Harvester-Threshers, Harvesting Machines, Threshers, Tractors, and other Power-Farming Equipment.

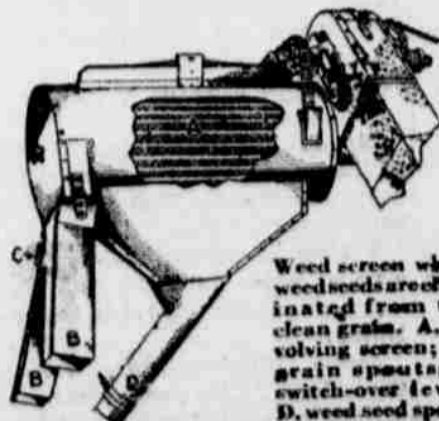

12 Important McCormick-Deering Points

1. Adjustable to cut low. Gets lodged and tangled grain.
2. Continuation of grain-tight platform canvas forms lower elevator canvas. No grain lost at end of platform. Large-capacity, wide elevator carries all grain to feeder.
3. Chain and slat feeder carries grain, heads first, into the cylinder. Direct front feed.
4. Spiked beater in feeder assures positive feeding and controls delivery of grain to cylinder.
5. Ninety per cent separation at cylinder. Straw and grain thus separated never mix again.
6. Four-section straw rack. Extends entire length of thresher from cylinder to straw spreader. Combs straw apart, drops it three times, thoroughly shakes out all the grain.
7. Extra long chaffer and cleaning sieve thoroughly cleans grain.

Contributors To The Littlefield College Asked For a Receiver

Wednesday of last week a suit and petition by several partitioners of the fund to purchase the Littlefield College site was filed before District Judge Charles Clements enjoining the College from selling or otherwise disposing of any of its assets and P. W. Walker, this city, was appointed to receive all property owned or claimed by the College.

Walker has made bond in the sum of $5,000; has taken over the books, records and other physical property, also sent out notices to the creditors of the College to file their respective claims.

It is understood the Court order provides that the classes may continue and teachers may continue their work until the close of the school year, which is about one month longer. It is thought probable the Court may order sufficient of the property sold to pay the teachers for their services.

The petition filed before Judge Clements appears to be one of breach of contract, and is signed by W. S. Mitchell, J. S. Hilliard, Arthur P. Dugan, Pat Boone, W. H. Harris, R. E. McCaskill, J. M. Stokes, Joe Wells, J. E. Brannen, F. G. Sadler, A. C. Chesher, Max McClure, H. C. Thornton and J. T. Elms in behalf of the college site contributors, and C. O. Stone as trustee for plaintiffs.

The petition in preamble recites an alleged history of negotiations with certain committees and individuals representing the proposed College relative to its location in Littlefield, stating that contract for locating such college was entered into February 26, 1928 and duly executed by R. O. Connor and John R. Freeman, representing the Board of Directors of the College.

It is further alleged in the petition that defendants in this suit promised and agreed as a consideration for said land to establish and maintain a standard, affiliated, fully accredited, non-sectarian Junior college, carrying all the usual courses offered by such colleges, and in addition thereto courses in Vocational Agriculture, Home Economics, Manual Training and Music.

It is alleged that the College officials have not maintained a standard Junior college on said site and that the State department requirements have not been complied with.

The petition claims a college campus of 30 acres has not been set aside as per agreement, and that an agreed demonstration farm has not been allotted; that 90 modern stucco Spanish type houses have not been constructed, as per agreement; that an administration building has not been constructed as per agreement; that two dormitories, one each for boys and girls have not been erected.

In the petition plaintiffs claim damages in the sum of $70,000, also recite alleged debts of the institution approximating $40,000, claiming the defendant to be insolvent.

Attorneys Bills & Hazel and T. Wade Potter have been retained to represent the plaintiffs in the suit.

According to a statement made by Receiver P. W. Walker, the Yellow House Land Co. holds a loan of $19,000 on 750 acres of the land turned to the College. There are $20,000 in bonds outstanding and sold to people generally, principally members of the Church of Christ. There is a debt of $700 against the dormitory and some other buildings located on the grounds.

Back salaries to employes will run between $4,000 and $8,000, he said, some of which will be paid. There is between $7,000 and $10,000 debt against equipment, including the cafeteria, library and dormitory. There are about $4,000 due people living in and around Littlefield. Sixty of the 10-acre tracts have been sold, leaving four unsold and unencumbered.

Spring Green Grass Tempting Dairymen But May Mean a Loss

Temptation comes to the dairyman not in the form of an apple, in the cool of the day, but in the form of lush green grass in early spring. Many are the dairymen who fall for this temptation, quit feeding grain and turn the cows out to pasture.

"Now I can quit feeding grain and silage—the cows hardly touch them anyway after getting a taste of grass" says the tempted one to his conscience. "Now my feed bills will be lower, and I shouldn't be surprised to see the milk flow pick up a little. I'll get my profit while I can. When the grass is gone I'll have to feed grain."

This April-fooling of cows and conscience hurts just one thing—dairy profit. The tonic effect of early-spring pasture makes the cows outdo themselves. For a short time they literally turn the tissues of their bodies into milk. Then comes a slump.

The essential thing to remember about grass is this: Grass should take the same place in spring and summer rations that hay and silage hold in the winter rations. In short, grass is roughage. Just as grain is needed with hay in winter, so is grain needed with grass in spring and summer. Don't try to April-fool your cows or your conscience by believing otherwise. Cows able to do as well on grass alone as on grass plus grain are not the best cows for progressive dairymen to keep.

After a cow has filled herself with the first green grass, she will not be so eager for grain—may refuse it altogether. Don't blame the cow. Give her grain before she goes to pasture.—The Farm Journal.

It looks like they could find a way to enforce prohibition from the 100,000,000 opinions on how it can be done.

TAKE IT FROM DAD

By Frank H. Cheley

Traveling With the Wrong Crowd

"Dad, I need to have a chat with you," said Bob in kindly affectionate tones as Mr. Smith-though came into the living room, his arm loaded with papers and arranged his big chair under the reading lamp.

"Yes, kid, what's on your chest now? Hope you aren't broke again?"

"No, Dad, got money but I wanted to talk to you about a little incident that occurred at school today."

Mr. Pringle, the principal, seems to have taken an uncommon interest in me this semester. Every time he meets me in the hall he slaps me on the back and says, 'How goes it?' Well, yesterday he called me into his little private office and said, 'Bob, I've had my eye on you for some time now and I want to make a suggestion. I think you're traveling with the wrong crowd.' Why, Dad, he knocked the pins right out from under me but he did it so nicely I couldn't get mad. Now, what I want to know, Dad, is how can a fellow know that he isn't traveling with the right crowd? Bill and Harry and Chub have all been here many times. You know them most as well as I do. They aren't particularly bad are they? Just because they're a bit noisy and collegiate doesn't stamp them as undesirable?"

Dad waited for more but evidently Bob had 'shot his wad' as he would have said.

"Pringle is a very competent man, Bob, well thought of throughout the city, a real educator, interested beyond his mere job. His suggestions on any point would be worthy of a careful consideration. I've said to your mother several times that I thought Bill and Harry were 'lightweights.' Evidently Pringle thinks so, too.

"Bob, we were talking the other day about laws. Do you recollect how many there were in every realm of life and how much progress after all was just a record of our having discovered new laws and understanding old ones and more nearly aligning our lives in harmony with fundamental laws?"

"Yes, Dad, I do, but what's that got to do with the gang?"

"A very great deal and here is how. There is a law, a most fascinating thing, which establishes the fact that all forms of life, from the lowest up, thrown together intimately under the influence of the same environment, tend decidedly to become alike. In other words Bob, a fundamental law of life says you tend to become like the thing with which you intimately associate.

"Boys gang as naturally as bees hive or sheep flock, and having ganged more or less spontaneously; the law of association begins to work and the individual units in the group begin an elaborate process of give and take in every realm of life. Group opinions begin to form; group attitudes to every conceivable thing begin to shape themselves without the group scarcely being conscious of it. Group opinions and group attitudes soon determine group actions and then you have results, for Bob, to a great degree we are what we do.

"The fellow who plays clean and fair is a good sport. The fellow who cheats and takes unfair advantage is a poor sport. The boy whose manners of acting is genteel and thoughtful of others is a gentleman.

"Let's see further. If you wish to become a great sprinter who do you train with, a coach with a wooden leg who never ran a race? Or suppose you wish to become a great violinist, with whom do you study, a trap drummer? Great athletes become like their coaches, musicians become like their masters and so the marvelous process goes on and on and on.

"Of course it is possible for a person by determination and sheer will power to resist the influence of the group and stand upon his own but the tendency under such circumstances is for him to withdraw from the group in which he is not congenial and gravitate to a group with interests like his own. So while it is true that you can modify the law of association in a way, you ultimately tend to become like the group with which you intimately live.

"Undesirable associations account for more crime than any other single fact.

"If your principal, who is friendly to you, who sees you every day and feels your influence in the school says to you, 'Bob, you're traveling with the wrong crowd,' then your associations are beginning to show. He knows that you are capable of better things. He expects more of you than he is getting by way of a positive stand on moral principles."

"But, Dad, can't one boy reform a gang?"

"Ha, ha, my boy, that is the alibi that keeps many a boy from stepping up forward—a false loyalty again. No you will not reform your gang, Bob, very rarely if ever. If your gang influence is not of the best, get into one that is. Have all the advantage of a lift, and none of the disadvantage of a drag."

State I. L. Meet

In the State University Interscholastic League which met at Austin, May 1, 2, and 3rd, Littlefield was represented by three contestants out of the five that qualified for the meet. These contestants were Percy Carter, Richard Herring and Carson Glass. These boys with Prof. F. O. Boles report a very nice time in Austin, as they visited many interesting places and saw many interesting things. Besides visiting the Texas Capitol, these boys visited the Texas University and went through many of its buildings.

In the contests Richard Herring was not allowed to compete as the other members of our track team were not there. Percy Carter, who was a contestant in the 440 yard run fell down throwing the javelin the day before his final race and hurt his legs badly. He ran the race, however and placed sixth.

Carson Glass, who was entered in the Extemporaneous Speaking contest was defeated in the final contest and placed fourth. At least he cannot say the best man won as a girl from Temple won the contest.

It is thought Littlefield has done exceedingly well to have delegates to the State Interscholastic meet as very few small cities are represented.—Reporter.

The Harrisons Entertain

Prof. and Mrs. E. M. Harrison entertained and served refreshments to all the teachers of the Littlefield schools, at their home, Tuesday afternoon following the faculty meeting.

A pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all present.

Senior Day

Whoopie! ! Aint it a grand and glorious feeling to be a Senior and be able to enjoy that day of all days, "Senior Day."

We, Seniors, have been looking forward to this day since last September considering the fun and "good eats" and we were certainly not disappointed in the day.

The sun rose clear and the day promised to be a typical spring picnic day, but much to our contempt, by the time we were well on our way a good old West Texas sandstorm was raging in full swing, with a little of the natural rain mixed with it.

By the time we reached our destination, Buffalo Springs, which is 15 miles east of Lubbock, the sand had cleared away but not the clouds.

We found this place to be a very delightful picnic ground, having a lovely swimming hole, furnished by natural springs. A creek ran through the canyon with a small foot bridge spanning it and below the rock dam numerous water falls rippled over the rocks and trickled onward down the canyon. On either side of the creek, hills which seemed as mountains to the plains reared students, rose stately against the east and west horizon.

As it was almost lunch time when we arrived we spread a delicious lunch consisting of sandwiches, pickles, olives, fruit, cookies and eskimo pies.

After lunching we roamed about the grounds taking pictures and amusing our selves as would be expected of a group of boys and girls. Some of the class felt rather lucky, so they attempted to paddle their canoes with spades. Can you imagine the results?

This picnic was not onl enjoyable but instructive as well. Fleddie Dunagin had two startling encounters with nature, and some students in the class found out that water was cold even on Senior day.

After about four hours of such amusement as swimming, attempts at boat riding, swinging, playing leap frog and exploring the hillsides, we returned to Littlefield very tired but extremely happy.

Besides the Senior class and the sponsor Mrs. Boone, we were accompanied by Mrs. Hopping of Lubbock, acting as hostess.

LADIES BIBLE CLASS

Mrs. R. L. Mayhew was hostess to the ladies of the Church of Christ, Tuesday afternoon.

We were glad to have Mrs. Gentry as a visitor.

Following the lesson, delicious apple whip, cake and punch were served the following: Mesdames J. C. Hilburn, Claud Clark, S. L. Adams, R. V. Armstrong, Jim Davenport, C. O. Stone, C. C. Beebe, Robt. JOHN JOSEPH GAINES MD

"HEART MEDICINE"

Are you going to believe me, when I tell you that you have the best and most dependable heart remedy known always within your reach and absolutely free from cost to you? Well, you most certainly have. In these days of sudden death from "heart disease," it seems worth while to me to a lot of sober thinking.

The horizontal position—the recumbent posture—lying in bed—call it whatever you please—is first and foremost in caring for a tired heart, I saw an aged man, not long ago, with a rapidly failing heart; one month in bed completely restored him so far as I could discern; he shows no signs of heart failure today, and is apparently healthy as a man of his years can be. He took perhaps sixty cents worth of medicine! The recumbent position cured him; he was not permitted to even sit up to take his meals orders were orders here; disobedience might have cost him his life.

Of course your heart isn't like that But do you know that the eight hours you should spend in bed each night does the very thing for you that was done to the old man? And don't you know that the heart does three times as much work when you are up and doing as it does when the body is in the horizontal position? Then, if the heart becomes weakened, failing in its strength and function from overwork and abuse—the very first thing to do is, give it REST. In many cases that's all it needs.

The heart may be abused—overworked, in a thousand different ways; what are you doing to your heart? Are you giving it the rest that it absolutely must have? You, who are up all day, and extend the festivities till past midnight? Then, do you whip up the tiring vital organ with cigarettes, heavy food, or with alcoholics? Or with "medicine"? Let me tell you: You are tampering—flirting with danger to your life!

Contributors To The Littlefield College Asked For a Receiver

Wednesday of last week a suit and petition by several partitioners of the fund to purchase the Littlefield College site was filed before District Judge Charles Clements enjoining the College from selling or otherwise disposing of any of its assets and P. W. Walker, this city, was appointed to receive all property owned or claimed by the College.

Walker has made bond in the sum of $5,000; has taken over the books, records and other physical property, also sent out notices to the creditors of the College to file their respective claims.

It is understood the Court order provides that the classes may continue and teachers may continue their work until the close of the school year, which is about one month longer. It is thought probable the Court may order sufficient of the property sold to pay the teachers for their services.

The petition filed before Judge Clements appears to be one of breach of contract, and is signed by W. S. Mitchell, J. S. Hilliard, Arthur P. Dugan, Pat Boone, W. H. Harris, R. E. McCaskill, J. M. Stokes, Joe Wells, J. E. Brannen, F. G. Sadler, A. C. Chesher, Max McClure, H. C. Thornton and J. T. Elms in behalf of the college site contributors, and C. O. Stone as trustee for plaintiffs.

The petition in preamble recites an alleged history of negotiations with certain committees and individuals representing the proposed College relative to its location in Littlefield, stating that contract for locating such college was entered into February 26, 1928 and duly executed by R. O. Connor and John R. Freeman, representing the Board of Directors of the College.

It is further alleged in the petition that defendants in this suit promised and agreed as a consideration for said land to establish and maintain a standard, affiliated, fully accredited, non-sectarian Junior college, carrying all the usual courses offered by such colleges, and in addition thereto courses in Vocational Agriculture, Home Economics, Manual Training and Music.

It is alleged that the College officials have not maintained a standard junior college on said site and that the State department requirements have not been complied with.

The petition claims a college campus of 30 acres has not been set aside as per agreement, and that an agreed demonstration farm has not been allotted; that 90 modern stucco Spanish type houses have not been constructed, as per agreement; that an administration building has not been constructed as per agreement; that two dormitories, one each for boys and girls have not been erected.

In the petition plaintiffs claim damages in the sum of $70,000, also recite alleged debts of the institution approximating $40,000, claiming the defendant to be insolvent.

Attorneys Bills & Hazel and T. Wade Potter have been retained to represent the plaintiffs in the suit.

According to a statement made by Receiver P. W. Walker, the Yellow House Land Co. holds a lein of $19,000 on 750 acres of the land turned to the College. There are $20,000 in bonds outstanding and sold to people generally, principally members of the Church of Christ. There is a debt of $700 against the dormitory and some other buildings located on the grounds. Back salaries to employees will run between $4,000 and $8,000, he said, some of which will be paid. There is between $7,000 and $10,000 debt against equipment, including the cafeteria, library and dormitory. There are about $4,000 due people living in and around Littlefield. Sixty of the 10-acre tracts have been sold, leaving four unsold and unencumbered.

Spring Green Grass Tempting Dairymen But May Mean a Loss

Temptation comes to the dairyman not in the form of an apple, in the cool of the day, but in the form of lush green grass in early spring. Many are the dairymen who fall for this temptation, quit feeding grain and turn the cows out to pasture.

"Now I can quit feeding grain and silage—the cows hardly touch them anyway after getting a taste of grass," says the tempted one to his conscience. "Now my feed bills will be lower, and I shouldn't be surprised to see the milk flow pick up a little. I'll get my profit while I can. When the grass is gone I'll have to feed grain."

This April-fooling of cows and conscience hurts just one thing—dairy profit. The tonic effect of early-spring pasture makes the cows outdo themselves. For a short time they literally turn the tissues of their bodies into milk. Then comes a slump.

The essential thing to remember about grass is this: Grass should take the same place in spring and summer rations that hay and silage hold in the winter rations. In short, grass is roughage. Just as grain is needed with hay in winter, so is grain needed with grass in spring and summer. Don't try to April-fool your cows or your conscience by believing otherwise. Cows able to do as well on grass alone as on grass plus grain are not the best cows for progressive dairymen to keep.

After a cow has filled herself with the first green grass, she will not be so eager for grain—may refuse it altogether. Don't blame the cow. Give her grain before she goes to pasture.—The Farm Journal.

It looks like they could find a way to enforce prohibition from the 100,000,000 opinions on how it can be done.

Installment Buying In Lfd. Growing Rapidly Repossession Is Small

The growing custom of installment buying in Littlefield is no greater than in other towns and sections all over the United States according to statements made this week by local business men. In fact, said one of them, merchandising by the installment plan has grown so much during the last 10 years that it is now recognized as being an important factor in an amazing variety of manufacturing industries and as constituting a real influence in banking circles.
Sales on the deferred payment plan in Littlefield last year ran up into the thousands of dollars, while it is estimated an authority that for the entire year the total reached in the neighborhood of eight billion dollars.
Among the list of articles purchased on installment plan automobiles and radios head the list. Then there are phonographs, pianos, stoves, refrigerators, furniture, electrical and gas accessories, washing machines, to say nothing of a large list of farm machinery, and other productive equipment. Diamonds and clothing are being purchased on the installment plan in larger quantities each year.
The test of the installment credit business is the repossession of articles sold to the public. Articles are re-possessioned when buyers fail to meet their installment payments. In this section repossession is small, it being estimated that not more than two per cent of the amount sold on the deferred payment plan in Littlefield has to be taken back by the seller. The record indicates that the American people as a whole are honest and pay their debts.

THE LEGION'S APPRECIATION

Members of the Littlefield American legion post wish to express their appreciation for the hearty co-operation shown them and the large attendance given the "World War" picture shown here last week. People from all sections of the county produced an attendance far beyond our expectations.

Thrifty Man is Able To Force Favorable Life Opportunities

By S. W. STRAUS, President
American Society for Thrift
"You can do more than strike while the iron is hot; you can make the iron hot by striking." Thus the philosopher, Colton, epitomized a great lesson in personal progress. It was in much the same spirit that Napoleon is said to have exclaimed upon an occasion to one of his generals, "Circumstances? I make circumstances!"
One of the great values of thrift is that it enables us to take advantage of opportunities for self-advancement when they are available. But a still deeper value comes through the creation of opportunity. Fortified by thrift one often may force the issue with fate rather than wait patiently for opportunity to come knocking at the door.

The great difference between the thrifty and the thrifless man is that the former is always sure of his destiny—his star is continually in the ascendancy while the other irrevocably is marked for failure.
Lafontaine's great fable of the grasshopper and the ant contains a depth of meaning for all of us. When skies are clear and the sun is shining we may get along very well without provision for the future but when adversity and hard times come, the foresight and providence of the ant prove their worth.

Thrift is essential to progress whether our pathway leads to adversity or opportunity. If disaster awaits us we shall need the material resources and the strength of character which are ours through thrift. If we are more fortunate we shall be able to take advantage of favorable opportunities when they come or create them for our own uses.
Through thrift we overcome adversity, create opportunity, conquer destiny.

The main cause of all these prison riots over the country seems to be that the convicts think they can get away with it.

City Beautification Is Aim of St. Louis Heads

Dr. George T. Moore, director of Shaw's Garden, is to be thanked and St. Louis home owners congratulated upon the proposed substitution of a school for the training of practical amateur gardeners in place of the custom of training landscape architects that has been in force at the garden for many years. While the service to St. Louis and the St. Louis district through the training of landscape architects has been great, the service by which practical gardeners and home owners who may be classed as amateurs are instructed in proper methods of home beautification in caring for shrubbery, flowers and lawns must be considered of greater importance. Greater because through this method of disseminating information the property of thousands of owners who cannot afford the ministrations of landscape architects will be improved and the entire city made more beautiful, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

There can be little doubt that lack of proper knowledge on the part of individual owners is responsible for a lowering of the standards of property beauty in cities. Persons who may have had success in maintaining velvet lawns, proper distribution of flowers and shrubbery in back yards in smaller towns or even in former years in the crowded city lose interest when the same efforts fall on ground that has become impoverished as residence districts grow older and more densely populated. So they give up and let unlovely city nature take its course.

Southern Cities Study Chance for Improving

Service of making semi-technical industrial surveys is being offered to small cities of Virginia by members of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute faculty. The work of making these surveys will be in charge of Reuben L. Humbert, who has served as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Harrisonburg, Va.

The survey will determine such essential facts about the city being surveyed as the number of industries already there, the kind, number of persons engaged, the amount of weekly pay rolls, and what inducements are offered for new industries to locate.

In addition to this, certain primary factors such as climate, amount and kind of raw materials, natural resources, type of labor, average wages offered, working conditions prevailing, living conditions, amount of power and its cost, kind of freight and express transportation, type of schools and churches, development of recreational facilities, and the tax rate will be tabulated.

Other factors to be studied are municipal improvements such as sewerage, water, light, police and fire protection.

Good Lumber Is Vital to Sturdiness of Home

Houses may be constructed of stone, brick, or like the Grace Park of St. Louis, of brick, but one ingredient is necessary to all: good lumber.

Much of the success and sturdiness of a home is dependent on proper bracing and spacing of materials. Joists should be of sufficient size to insure perfectly rigid floor surface. They should be strengthened under all bearing partitions and stair wells.

In the Grace Park the first floor joists rest on substantial wall plates and girders, and are placed on 16-inch centers, properly bridged to prevent buckling or twisting. Subflooring is laid diagonally over these joists in the shape of 3/4-inch yellow pine shiplap, nailed to the joists.

Outside walls are also sheathed with 3/4-inch yellow pine shiplap, well nailed to studding and overlaid with building paper, with outside siding of red cedar. All window and door frames are of good quality and properly set.

Face Brick's Value.

Colorful face brick will make your new home a real home—substantial, comfortable, satisfying—one that will serve you a lifetime and pass down to your children's children, lovely with the mellowness of the years, precious with the cherished memories of family, fireside and genial friends.

In the wide range of attractive face brick colors and textures you will find just the right tones to suit your particular house and your own individual tastes.

Durable, comfortable through all the seasons, safe from fire, slow to depreciate, with low insurance rates and smaller fuel bills, freedom from repairs and painting costs, your face brick home will in the long run cost no more than the house built of less enduring materials.—Chicago Evening Post.

Beautifying California.

A state-wide campaign to clean up and beautify the roadsides of California has been launched by the Automobile Club of Southern California. Civic organizations, women's clubs, newspapers and city officials are co-operating.

POULTRY

CULL AND MARK PRODUCING HEN

Fall is a season of year when flocks of poultry should be culled, according to L. H. Schwartz of Purdue university. Getting rid of the nonproducers now means better living conditions for the birds which are left. It gives the better birds a chance to produce eggs from now on when the price of eggs begins to rise. It will also reduce the feed bill.

Poultry flocks should, of course, be culled regularly. Any birds which show indications of positive sickness, poor laying capacity and lacking in vigor should be culled whenever seen. This is the time when a number of birds will take a vacation from laying. The nonlaying bird will show a comb which is either dried or beginning to dry up, a close space between the pelvic bones and keel and between the pelvic bones themselves. The longer they are out of laying the heavier may be the deposit of fat on the pelvic bones.

The birds may also be in a molt. All molting may not be due to poor laying. It may be the result of feeding a ration which is not high in protein. Purdue university recommends the following ration to feed to laying birds: Grain, 300 pounds yellow corn and 200 pounds of wheat; mash, 100 pounds each of ground yellow corn, wheat bran and middling; and 75 pounds of meat scrap.

It is very desirable also not only to cull the birds now, but to mark those which show every indication of being high producers. Those birds which show no molt have a large body capacity and have a large soft abdomen are the ones which should be marked as possible breeders for another year.

Many folks who have culled their flocks at this season of the year have received, actually, more eggs from the remainder of the flock than they did when they had the culs in with the whole flock.

Whitewash Henhouse in Fall for Winter Use

A coat of whitewash or cold water white paint on the inside walls of the poultry house will brighten up the interior and make it lighter during the winter months when the hen needs all the light she can get.

To make whitewash: Slack a half bushel of quicklime or lump lime with boiling water, keeping it covered during the process. Strain it and add a peck of salt dissolved in warm water, three pounds of ground rice boiled in water until it is a thin paste, a half pound of powdered Spanish whiting, and a pound of clear blue dissolved in water. Mix these together well and let the mixture stand for several days. Heat it and apply as hot as possible with a whitewash brush. Alum added to whitewash will make it stick better. Use an ounce to a gallon. Molasses makes the lime more soluble and makes it penetrate wood or plaster more deeply. Use a pint of molasses to a gallon of whitewash. A pound of cheap bar soap dissolved in a gallon of boiling water and added to five gallons of thick whitewash will give the finished job a gloss like that of an oil paint.

Let Wing Feathers on White Leghorns Alone

The practice of pulling out the wing feathers to prevent the birds from flying the fences (a vice especially peculiar to Leghorns) is both slovenly and harmful to the birds themselves. The butt end of the feather quill of a growing bird contains juices which are essential to its satisfactory development, and the wing feathers should therefore be cut, unless the poultryman wishes his birds to undergo a setback.

Probably it is cheaper in the long run to buy a good commercial pullet mash, ready mixed, rather than to mix one's own ingredients. Several well known firms of feed merchants supply excellent pullet mashes at a price which justifies the saving of labor and possible noting, however, that it is more than advisable to deal with a reputable firm in this matter.

Good Mash Feed

What is a good mash? That depends. If you have plenty of skim milk for your fowl, say a gallon daily to 20 hens, why then a mixture of such feeds as wheat middlings, ground oats, wheat bran and corn meal will do very nicely—with maybe a little meat scraps or high-grade tankage to tempt the appetite. But if you have no skim milk, the mash should contain 15 to 20 per cent of meat scraps or high-grade tankage with the other feeds mentioned.

Hens to Select

In selecting hens pick those that have capacity for feed. The little short, dumpy kind of a hen cannot consume enough feed to make her a profitable layer. Chickens with good capacity and good appetites are the ones that fill the egg basket. If chickens eat a lot of feed and still do not lay, it is time to look at the rations and find out what is lacking. One of the faults of many feeders is that they do not give their hens enough feed, rather than too much.

 A large crowd was present Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour at was filled by Rev. C. A. Bickley, pro-siding elder of the Lubbock district.

 At noon dinner was spread at the church and the afternoon was given

AGRICULTURE NOTES
 By D. A. ADAM
 Lamb County Farm Agent

Sweet Clover pastures that have been planted during the past few months by farmers are now coming up to a good stand since the recent rains. T. B. Priddy, W. H. Reynolds and many others have reported to the County Agent their early plantings are now up to a good stand.

More than 4000 pounds of White Sweet Clover seed has been distributed among farmers of this county during the past three months. Lets have a slogan of 1000 farms in Lamb County with sweet clover included in their annual pasture program.

Now is the time to plan for the pastures for the coming year. One acre of sudan to the cow, 14 acres of sweet clover to every 5 cows, and about 15 acres of winter pasture, such as barley, rye, or wheat, to every five cows.

During the past month, Robt. L.
 May, dairy demonstrator, cooperating with County Agent D. A. Adam, has learned one valuable thing from his cow test records; when cows regular pasture habits are interfered with they will cut down on production.

At present he has seven cows on test, and for several months has been grazing these cows on wheat pasture in the mornings, turning them into alfalfa pasture in the afternoon. So, one Saturday afternoon he became busy in town and did not get to turn his cows out on the alfalfa pasture and stalk fields, and upon weighing his milk that night at the usual milking hour he found that his herd had lost 15 pounds in milk production, ranging from 1 to 4 pounds per cow, when each daily milking before for a good period of time his herds production had not varied more than 3 pounds.

His variation in his feeding program here figured on a 30 day basis would mean a loss of 450 pounds of milk, and is it had tested 5 percent which is his herd average, would have meant a loss of 22.5 pounds butter fat worth on present market conditions $6.98.

Caponizing demonstrations have been held at the C. A. Womack farm

Olton, Roy Spann home, Littlefield, and several others in the near future will be held. All of these under the jurisdiction of County Agent D. A.
 Adam.

Half feed and half cotton is a mighty good rotation for the Plains, and especially Lamb County.

Begin now to make your arrangements to feed out some feeder cattle this fall. Feeder cattle offer the best market there is for your feed stuff. See your banker.

Andy Lee, Amherst reports to the county agent that he has not lost a single hen after a demonstration given by the county agent for fowl cholera control. Hemorrhagic Septicemia Bacterin was used, and has given good results throughout the county.

Use Nicotine Sulfate or Sodium Fouride for louse control among your poultry flocks. There seems to be a greater infestation of lice than ever before, according to reports received by the county agent.

Fair Association Buys Land For Its Buildings

The Lamb County Fair Association has purchased 40 acres of land, in the Southeast part of Amherst for fair grounds.

Plans for an agricultural building, poultry building, cattle building, and sheep and swine building have been adopted, and cost estimates on them are being figured.

"We urge everybody in the county to co-operate in putting the fair over" said R. L. May. "Let us all work and plan for a great agricultural and live stock exposition for our fair next fall."

"The primary purpose of a fair is educational, and there is no better method of advertising our resources, and nothing that inspires greater effort on the part of producers. Let us make our fair a great county institution, with none of the commercialized mess and hulabaloo that has ruined so many county fairs," said May.

MISS GLENN HONORED

In compliment to Miss Sybil Glenn, bride elect, Miss Gladys Wales was ment for the evening, where in Miss Dahlia Hemphill was awarded a dainty crepe handkerchief for high score honor.

At the close of the games the hostess brought in a tray laden with many pretty handkerchiefs for the honoree.

 ped cream and strawberries, and pineapple parfait was served to the following guests: Misses Sybil and

PRESBYTERIAN PREACHING

Rev. Parker, of Post, will fill the pulpit Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church at the 11 o'clock hour.

Every member of the church is asked to bring dinner, which will be served in the church basement at noon.

OFFICERS MAKE LIQUOR RAID IN PEP VICINITY

Last Sunday, under the direction of State Ranger Sam Mays, a liquor raid was made on the residence of Charley Barton, who lives 1 1/2 miles northwest of Pep, in Lamb county.

Those accompanying Ranger Mays were the deputy sheriff of Lubbock county, assistant district attorney of this district, Mr. Burks, Sheriff L. P.
 Williams and deputy E. L. Cannon.

A thorough search of the house and premises were made and no direct evidence of a violation was found, but a copper still of about 40 gallons capacity was found some distance from the house in a pasture. The still showed signs of having been recently used and it is thought owing to raids having been made in other parts of the county the previous week that this precaution was taken.

No arrests were made, but the Hockley county officials brought the still to Levelland and it was exhibited on the court house lawn.—Hockley

Colored Baptist Meet Closes; Nine Received Section is Developing

Rev. H. V. Curtis, pastor of the Littlefield (colored) Baptist church, closed a very successful revival meeting Wednesday night, wherein there were nine additions to the church, three being by profession of faith.

Through the columns of the Leader Rev. Curtis desires to express the hearty appreciation of himself and members of his congregation to the white citizens of the community for their hearty co-operation and financial assistance in the erection of their school and church building, and especially to Millard Phillips, who was one of the leaders in their behalf.

Rev. Curtis states the work of his church is progressing very nicely since he was called as pastor last March. The 50 acres section set apart for the colored population is also developing, several new homes having been recently erected in that portion of the town.

Rotarians Give Report Plan For Celebration

The Rotary club met Thursday at the regular weekly luncheon in the basement of the Baptist church, with 30 members in attendance.

President Dr. C. C. Clements presided over the meeting, wherein Secretary J. S. Hilliard was called upon to make a report of the district convention, which was held in Temple April 23-24.

He stated that despite the fact that the attendance at the convention was disappointing, a splendid session was held. Roy Ronald, director of Rotary International, of Mitchell, South Dakota, was in attendance and made a splendid address. Past vice-president, Walter Cline, was also present and made a splendid talk on "International Friendliness." Ray Nichols, of Vernon, was unanimously chosen as governor of the 41st district.

J. H. Ware, commander of the local American Legion post stated that the post was sponsoring a fourth of July celebration, and asked that a committee be appointed to work with a like committee from all other organizations of the city, in making necessary arrangements for the approaching occasion. The president appointed a committee composed of R. T. Badger, Herbert Teal, Walter LeMond, F. G. Sadler, C. H. Grow, and C. E. Willis.

Herbert S. Brown, manager of the West Texas Gas Company, and Walter LeMond, manager of the Texas Oil company, were welcomed into the club as new members.

The meeting was turned over to J. H. Ware, who in turn introduced Mrs. H. L. Moody, who entertained those present with piano numbers.

Visitors present were: Mrs. Moody, Rotarians Rex Everett and Frank L. Adams, of Levelland.

There is no method of accurately forecasting the future, but the past, if studied, will give you more than a haphazard lead.

PEP PARAGRAPHS

The Pep club meeting last Friday night was a very pleasant occasion. A short program was given by the pupils of the school. It included a wand drill by the intermediate pupils and talks by Misses Blanche and Lucille Stengel, Ida and Gladys Jungman. The club elected A. G. Jungman as the community delegate to the Hockley County Permanent Fair committee. A nice lunch of cake, lemonade, and coffee was served after the adjournment of the meeting by the social committee, Mrs. Greener, Mrs. W. T. Jungman and F. S. Murphy.

The School Board recently purchased a new Delco light plant for the school. Miss Elizabeth Lupton accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Heinen, attended the Passion Play in Lubbock, Saturday.

The following pupils missed some time from school last week because of illness: John Richard Allison, Sylvester Greener and Elga Petree.

The following pupils from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades won places on the spelling honor roll for the past month: Wilma Gerik, Venson Carr, Valeria Jungan, Mildred Logsdon, Elga Petree, John Wm. Stengel, and Lawrence Williams.

Mrs. B. D. Gentry, the Pep dressmaker, was in Littlefield, Tuesday. J. F. Albus was attending to business in Levelland, Monday.

J. E. Stengel visited Littlefield, Saturday.

RAIN A-PLENTY, THANKS

The weather prognosticators of the South Plains section are all awry. Old Jupiter Pluvius has completely upset their direct predictions and there is an abundant precipitation all over this part of the state.

Numerous showers and heavy rains falling during the past week have stored an abundance of moisture in Mother Earth for the use of farmer, gardener and stockman. From every direction surrounding this metropolis of Lamb County farmers are coming into town with smiles so wide they have to turn sidewise to get into the bank doors and declaring they are "sittin' jake," so to speak.

There is plenty of planting going on right now, and another week will see practically every field having its surface massaged by the agricultural beauty specialists in their of growing green which face of their fields.

THE TABERNACLE

Sunday at the Tabernacle church the pastor will speak "Lord Will See to It." Sunday evening at 8:30 splendid Mother's day rendered, many character Come and welcome. —ROY A. KEMP, Pastor

Community Building

"Desecration" of Rural England Much Deplored

The destruction of countryside beauty by the building of modern highways and the "developments" that attend their course is evoking protest in England. Walls, fences and even wayside cottages, many of them old and picturesque, adorned by long-cultivated growths of shrubs and flowers, have been destroyed or marred, says the Kansas City Times. The villages have lost their quaint and restful aspects, and in many instances sequestered cottages and inns have given way to obtrusive modern structures of the most utilitarian type, bidding for the passing trade of the much traveled highways. These disfigurements and the increasing use of billboards are a grief to those of natural English pride.

With the exception of a few of the older eastern states, American villages have not been greatly marred by modern roads. In very many instances the advent of a highway and its passing parade of motor cars have been incentives for towns to adopt more progressive policies. Better paving, better kept premises and houses, attractive little parks frequently have been invitations for the motorist to stop to rest or trade.

With us there is no great problem of destroying the countryside by road building, although a new highway certainly is anything but attractive within its right of way. Whether in the course of years the roadsides shall be made attractive with the growth of grass, wild flowers, trees and shrubs—well, perhaps. In this country the pressing problem is the wayside shack and the ubiquitous billboard. These we shall have, and have more oppressively, unless there is a check on those whose greed has no respect for beauty.

Process for Rendering Lumber Fireproof Found

A new process for fireproofing lumber discovered by H. A. Dorr, a fireproofing expert, has been announced. Maple, fir, yellow and white pine and white oak lumber treated by the new process have been tested by the Columbia university testing laboratory, and have been found acceptable for use in the interior construction of fireproofed skyscrapers by the bureau of buildings of New York city, whose regulations are regarded as the most stringent in the country.

The new process involves the impregnation of lumber with a non-poisonous chemical solution, after which it is kiln-dried for a period not exceeding 48 hours, according to the type of wood. Apparatus has already been constructed which treats lumber up to 2 1/2 feet in length and 1 1/4 inches in thickness. The treated wood retains its natural color, and can be worked as easily as plain wood, without injury to machines or tools. It accepts paint, varnish, shellac or other veneers and does not warp or rot.

The process has also been tried out successfully with a number of the better-known insulation materials.

Blue Prints Keep Tab on Where Money Goes

Building a house without blue prints and specifications is the easiest way to waste money. Properly drawn blue prints, with accurate specifications, are simply a detailed plan for the spending of your money. It means that you have things planned out in advance of building and that all expenses have been anticipated. You know what you are going to get from the beginning to the end.

Accurately prepared blue prints and specifications are worth many times more than they actually cost, for without them time is lost in trying to study out how the different parts go together, and there are endless opportunities for the making of changes and substitutions, with an accompanying greater expense and probably cheapening of the quality of materials.

Preparing Garden Soil.

Unmade beds in the garden are untidy. A good garden keeper will set them in order and have them neatly made for spring occupancy. It is an excellent plan to dig the beds, even if they aren't planted, allowing the soil to weather before working it next spring. The success of annuals is directly in proportion to the care given them in the way of soil preparation and fertilizer. A zinnia, for instance, is either a giant or a medium-sized bloom, according to the treatment given it. Seed from the same packet will show a vast difference in the bloom produced under varying conditions of fertility and culture.

Wisdom in Remodeling.

Want to remodel your house? Consult your local bank, your own local building and loan association, a mortgage company or co-operative bank. You will find these financial organizations helpful in assisting you to improve your home and to arrange the all-important money question.

Home's Worst Enemy.

Neglect is your home's worst enemy. Unpainted siding, trim and roof, weather and decay. Paint protects, preserves and beautifies.

Bearer of Good-Will Message from Japan

These four Japanese girls, selected to bring to the United States an expression of their nation's gratitude for the assistance given at the time of the great earthquake, were chosen as the most beautiful maidens of their country. The older woman on the left is their chaperon, Mme. Matsudaira. The girls are her daughter Yoshiko, Miss Sumiko Takuda, Miss Kimiko Ashino and Miss Keika Namahara.

Another trouble with this country is that too many men are more careful of the kind of alcohol they put in their radiators than they are of the kind they put in their stomachs.

The difference between a necessity and a luxury is about twelve payments.
