

White Deer To Invade City For Opening Football Game

Littlefield Wildcats will invade the city for the opening game of the season on Friday night at 8 o'clock. The boys are new at the game, they show the fighting spirit that is essential to give good competition. With the splendid coaching of Coach Bill Sanders and Assistant Coach Frank Selfridge, the boys will be prepared to give stiff competition to their first opponents. Maxie McKnight is captain of the local squad and Ed Anderson is co-captain.

Only five letter men return from last year's team and they are playing the second season. James Elms, Maxie McKnight, Nolan Walker, Ed Anderson and Olen Walker are the veterans.

Other candidates are James Bacus, Darwin Pierce, Buford Humphries, Pat Boone, Jr., J. W. West, Dewey Connell, Junior Walraven, Billie Holder, Avery Sullivan, Howard Latimer, J. T. Aven, James Stokes, Alph Lee Wright, Don Eagan, Bartee Haile, Franklin Patrick, Virgil Zimmerman, Granville Clark, Tom King, Joe Nichols, Odell Pumphrey, Donald James, Eugene Dirickson, Johnny Lippard, Calvin Fraley, Othell Dunagin, Sam Blessing, Boyd Glover, Durwood Yantis, Thomas McKinnon, F. H. Glazener, Merlene Pickrell, Charles Anderson, Pryor Hammons, and Curtis Anderson.

Don't fail to see this game Friday night, and help give the boys a good send-off!

Say Contest For 4-H Club Boys To Be Held

George Mahon, president of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, announced at their regular luncheon meeting Tuesday that the subject will be "Why Lamb County Farmers Should Feed More Livestock."

The following rules shall apply: 1. The subject shall be "Why Lamb County Farmers Should Feed More Livestock." 2. Must be in the boys own handwriting. 3. Only boys enrolled in Lamb County 4-H Club and carry demonstrations are eligible to compete, or boys enrolled in 1938 and that have not started their demonstrations but will secure either a calf or a pig on the day the prizes are awarded. Record books will be checked when essay is turned in. 4. The essay to contain not more than 1,000 words. 5. Contestants must quote at least one Lamb County Farmer other than his father if he quotes his father. 6. Contestants are required to give references as to the source of information, giving credit where credit is due. This may be done by direct quotation with references in the body of the essay or may be shown in a bibliography. 7. Essays will be graded on following basis: 1. Contents—100 points. 2. Composition—100 points. 3. News value—100 points. 8. Three judges working separately will judge the contents, one person will judge the contents, one person the composition, and one person the news value. The grades will be totaled and the boy having the highest grade will be winner of the first prize. The boy having the second highest grade will win the second prize, and the boy having the third highest grade will win the third prize. 9. The essays must be in the County Agent's office by 5 o'clock October 22, 1938.

Interesting Reports Made At Luncheon Meeting

George Mahon expressed his happiness at all times to be associated with the community. He pointed out how the cities and towns were developing in the rural communities. "Rural electrification is one of the things that is going to change the country life and make it more attractive."

Lamb County Cannery Busy Place; Handle 14,000 Cans During Month

The busiest place in Lamb County for the past few weeks has been the Cannery in Littlefield, which has canned more than 14,000 cans during the month that it has been operating. The record day for the cannery was Tuesday, September 6, when 1800 cans were filled. Peas and corn were canned, and those who were employed at the cannery worked until 12:30 that night to complete the filling of the cans. The cannery is equipped with three large cookers that will hold 57 cans, several small cookers, two large pots, with gas burners under them, a large vat, or plunger, and two sealers. Under the supervision of Mrs. J. D. Dodgen, farmers bring their products for canning and those people in town who do not have gardens are taking advantage of the offer to work for some canned foods. Of these 14,000 cans, the County has some 5,000 that will be distributed through the County Welfare Office. When a Leader reporter visited the cannery this week, she was not amazed to find trailer loads of corn, and bushels and bushels of peas brought in for canning by the farmers who are preparing for winter.

LOT PURCHASED ON PHELPS AVE. FOR STRUCTURE

Construction To Start Within A Week On Building

Authorizing the announcement that a third theatre would be erected on Phelps avenue, and that the Ritz would be beautified by a modernistic new front, W. J. Chesher, manager of the Palace and Ritz theatres, left last Monday on a hurried business trip to Dallas to complete details preparatory to the actual building activities. The lot upon which the new theatre will be erected is located between the Southern Auto Stores and the new brick store building being built by Sam Replin. It is 25 feet in width and of sufficient depth to provide ample seating capacity. The purchase of the property was consummated last Saturday. Mr. Chesher stated that work would be started within the next few days. In all probability work will be carried on with all possible speed as it is the desire

FIRST BALE GINNED

RECEIVE CUTS WHEN TWO CARS COLLIDE HEADON

Delmar Swain and Pen Hinds Receive Gashes On Face

What might have easily been a serious accident for both parties happened about half way between Littlefield and Levelland Saturday night late, when the light car driven by Delmar Swain travelling towards Littlefield collided head-on with an automobile driven by Pen Hinds, going south in the Levelland direction. Mr. Swain suffered a deep gash across his forehead and eye, and Mr. Hinds received a deep cut on his chin. After receiving aid and being bandaged up by local physicians, they were able to go to their homes. The cars were both badly wrecked. Mr. Hinds operates a farm in Oklahoma Flats, and Mr. Swain is employed by him. In Starr county, three crops have been harvested this year from 4,500 acres covered by five irrigation demonstrations.

Premium of $55.00 Is Awarded To Owner of First Bale

Lamb County's "first bale of cotton" was brought to Littlefield Monday morning, and ginned at the Lowmore-Irvin Gin. The bale was grown and gathered from the Bill Elliott farm near Fieldton, and brought to Littlefield by J. K. Elliott. The bale weighed 460 pounds, was graded middling and was auctioned off from the Elliott cotton truck on Phelps Avenue, opposite Stokes Drug Store, bringing 10c per pound, or a total of $46.00 for the owner. A premium of $55.00, contributed to by the business men of Littlefield, and sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce, was awarded Mr. Elliott.

MANY ATTEND BARBECUE AT WHITE RANCH

Pastor Harris and Friends Complimented with Celebration

Complimenting the newly installed Pastor W. Donald Harris, Mr. and Mrs. George White were hosts at a barbecue picnic last Monday, at their ranch home south of Littlefield. More than 250 guests enjoyed the bountiful feast which was prepared under the supervision of Mr. White and the guests were served by the genial host personally. The guests of honor were: Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Harris and Collin Harris, parents and brother of the pastor; Dr. R. Thomson, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church of Amarillo; Rev. J. Hoyte Boyles, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Tulia, Rev. Paul Stephens of Slaton, and Rev. Don Harris. Those who were fortunate enough to attend this very unusual celebration, will long remember the Officers and directors of the Blanco-Canyon South Plains Highway Association will meet with the State Highway Commission in Austin Monday morning, when Geo. Garrett, District Engineer for the State Highway Department, will ask for the direct designation of the East-West road as a State Highway. Those who will attend from Littlefield are Mayor Pat Boone, Lon Smith, Judge L. R. Crockett who is president of the association and G. M. Vann. The contemplated highway will include Lamb, Bailey, Floyd and Hale Counties, and representatives of these counties will also attend.

Brilliant Ceremonies Mark Installation Of Reverend Donald Harris Sunday

In a very beautiful and impressive ceremony Sunday night, Rev. W. Donald Harris was installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city. The installation ceremonies began at 8 o'clock, and were conducted by the Rev. Clarence N. Wiley of Canyon, Moderator for this district. Dr. J. Hoytt Boles of Tulia delivered the opening sermon, with the interesting subject "Dare To Be Futile." He was followed by Moderator Dr. Wiley, who propounded the constitutional questions to the new pastor. Dr. J. W. Harris, father of the pastor, gave the charge to his son, and Rev. Paul Stephens of Slaton delivered the charge to the congregation. An appropriate musical program was arranged, and a very large crowd attended the unusual services. Dr. J. W. Harris brought the Sunday morning message, and he told of the Isle of Enchantment, Puerto Rico, where he spent thirty-two years of his life as Missionary, and established the Polytechnic Institute in San German. His message about the island with a "House for every Hill and a Hill for Every House" left the congregation spell-bound, and the majority of those who heard his wonderful talk felt that they had been with him to Puerto Rico, so vivid were his descriptions.

Howdy Folks:

No use trying to talk to folks about business, crops or war—this week. It's football time, and you won't be heard or even understood, unless you can discuss kicks, lateral passes and touchdowns. Might as well make up your mind, that until the cotton starts coming in you will have to adopt pigskin English—that is—if you want to take part in the general conversation.

Tried to sell one of the victorious candidates another ad for this week, and he couldn't understand what there was that he could possibly say to the voters now. So—I suggested that he run a card "Thanking the people for congratulating him." No Soap! Sure hate to get off the political gravy train that we've been riding so comfortably all through a dull summer.

Now that Benito has drawn Julius Caesar's toga around his portly frame, and Adolph has assimilated the Alexander complex, they are strutting through Europe—"United and Invincible." But—wait until they but into that hornets' nest called Bohemia. Did you ever see a Bohemian vagrant, beggar or coward? No—they are thrifty, hard working, God fearing people, and they are unafraid. You will find, that these homeloving, industrious folks, will go to all lengths to preserve peace and amity—and that they will fight to the last drop of blood, to protect their loved ones; their property and their independence. If this prediction is wrong—I'd be badly fooled and—terribly disappointed. Wouldn't you?

Bill Chesher told me this morning, that we are to have another Opey House. The Cheshers have bought the property and will have the Super Playhouse up within thirty days. I'm anxious to find out—how they can manage to do it. Every week, ever since I've been here, they've advertised the Greatest Show Ever Attempted, for each of their local theatres. I suppose, they will confine the new house to Super-Sensational - Mammoth Gigantic - Spectacular Productions. Seriously—tho, its wonderful news to all of us—who are betting on the progress and growth of Littlefield. Any town that can—within a few short years, attract enough people to justify three modern theatres; a large, permanent amusement rink; a new telephone exchange; a large federal building; two modern hospitals and countless other fine brick buildings, must have "IT."

Just learned that my good friend Joe Cowan of San Saba, is the new Journalism Prof. at Texas Tech. You've got something there—Lubbock. In my humble opinion, he's the greatest all-round newspaperman in Texas. This youngster who grew up in the San Saba Star office under the guidance of his brilliant father and mother, worked his way through a couple of colleges by operating a linotype machine. When he was about twenty three years old, he taught journalism at T.C.U. He came back to San Saba a couple of years ago and made a whale of a good job of building up his own paper, the San Saba Star. In the early part of 1937, I had the pleasure of working with Cowan in San Saba. I marvelled at his complete knowledge of every task contingent upon preparing and publishing a newspaper, from the front office right through every mechanical operation. I may have—in the past, sneered at some of these highly advertised "Journalism Plants"—but I take it all back—now that they're starting to put practical, qualified men like Joe Cowan in the teachers' chairs.

Fellow came up to me the other day, and whispered this to me—"Heard a rumor about —." That's as far as he got—when I told him to wait until he could actually see or feel, some of the foundation before he peddled the rumor around and helped it grow. When I was very young and very credulous, I had some sad experiences taking stock in rumors. Yes—it even cost me a good newspaper job once. After all—people read a newspaper in order to gather facts. They can indulge in gossip anywhere, any time, without

Photographing An Inspiration

For a long time, I have been trying to secure a word photograph of an inspiration. Last Sunday my daughter Doris came home from church after listening to Dr. J. W. Harris, the father of our own Pastor Harris. I never saw her quite so enraptured and—when she started to repeat the message she had thrilled and uplifted her—I suggested that she put it down on paper. Here it is:

By Doris Schein

"The word of the Protestant" took me some 2100 miles east of Galveston, Texas Sunday morning as I traveled with Dr. J. W. Harris to the Isle of Enchantment. There I saw through the eyes of a man who has devoted the greatest part of his life to the teaching of Christian living, a country equal in many respects to my own idea of Paradise. A tiny island imbued with grace and beauty is Puerto Rico.

I visioned an old building with a teacher and a single pupil, as I turned back the pages of time to 1912—and saw the establishment of a school which was destined to become the guiding influence in the education of the Puerto Ricans through the efforts of this man. From a hundred acres of land and this one old building housing the original grammar school, there has grown the present Polytechnic Institute of Puerto Rico. This school has four aims for its students; intellect, Christian living, rural training for the improvement of the country, and physical development. Against terrific odds, this one person had foresight enough to behold the future and build through struggle and determination the thing that he saw.

He told me that the people would easily follow a leader if they were not pushed. In telling this little did he seem to realize that many of us would easily and gladly follow such a leader as he has proven to be. He started in a country where illiteracy was dominant. Although he would not admit it, I am fairly convinced that it was almost entirely through his efforts, that today the little island ninety-nine miles long and thirty-three miles wide has a fully accredited college and twenty-five high schools, some of which have as many as two thousand students.

I saw the giant palms that form arches over the highways, the hills that mount like steps, and the "House for every hill". I saw—too, the great sugar plantations and, farther inland, the coffee plantations that he has helped so much by establishment of rural schools which teach the natives how to work and think. In his school everyone must work with his hands. The light thrown upon this island by the man who had such great love for it and worked so hard for 32 years as teacher, builder and guiding power made everything seem beautiful and desirable.

Yes, I am like the natives of Puerto Rico. I, too, would follow you, Dr. Harris, and feel utmost confidence when I said, "The word of the Protestant".

*"THE WORD OF THE PROTESTANT" has become a byword with Puerto Ricans. They use it expressing their faith in Protestant leadership and the sincerity of Protestants.

Rotary To The Rescue

At last week's meeting of the Littlefield Rotary Club, it was announced that the directors had decided to devote the club's activities during the next few months, to raising a sufficient amount to complete the construction of the Boy Scout's Hut.

The scoutmasters and sponsors have been at work for some months trying to float a government loan or secure aid from Federal agencies towards this project. They already have a lot which was given them by the city and much of the material was offered by George White. When the sponsors of the scout hut realized that it would be almost impossible, at this time, to secure government aid, the Rotarians took a hand and decided to see the thing through.

Rotary clubs have always been very much interested in the youth movement and the guardianship of the citizens of tomorrow. Their decision to complete this project and secure the finances is a real milestone in the service record of the local club.

They will secure the necessary fund by staging various entertainments, dances and other benefit affairs. It is their intention to secure this fund without taxing or assessing the members. Of course, they will be invited from time to time, to dig into their purses. Judging from the enthusiasm with which the announcement was received by the members, there will be no difficulty in visualizing the dream of the local boy scouts and, quickly too.

We wish to join all Littlefield in congratulating and thanking those fine Big Brothers of Rotary.

Real Good News

Another theatre for Littlefield, is just one of the cheering bits of news that was made public this week. The erection of the new Hospital and Replin store buildings; the large roller rink; the building of the boy scout hut by the Rotary Club; a fine Federal building and a number of other improvements and new business enterprises, go to make up the record of wonderful progress that is now being inscribed on the city's skyline.

Where there is so much building there must be a real foundation. The forward march of our city during the Twenty Five years of its being; the steady development of our trade area and the continuous increase in population, constitute the justification for these numerous investments and improvements.

Littlefield is definitely out of its swaddling clothes. We are going forward and building for permanency. The improvements and investments that have just been announced were made with confidence in the Greater Littlefield of the future. The people who are backing their faith with their money—are plenty wise—and will cash in—in a Great Big Way.

Nothing can stop Littlefield's expansion and development now. There is no longer any room for doubts or skepticism. We are going forward industrially and commercially. Our cultural progress and the betterment of our social and educational facilities are keeping step with the material growth of our community.

Yes—this is THE BEST OF NEWS and it is ABSOLUTELY TRUE.

T. WADE POTTER ATTORNEY AT LAW Office in First National Bank Building LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS

The Feud at Single Shot- (Continued from story page) It took Laredo three minutes to get a saddled horse from the livery stable after he had left the sheriff's office.

He rode slowly north up the valley, lading the horse. When he was out of sight of the town, he left the road and started up the mountains to the east. Where the mountains broke for the railroad tracks in a deep pass he paralleled the tracks for three miles or so.

He greeted Laredo quietly, a glint of amusement in his deepest eyes. "Hullo, cowboy." "Howdy, Chuck."

They mounted and started back over the same trail Laredo had come. Laredo's companion studied him. Finally, he spoke. "When are you goin' to tell me what this is all about, Laredo? Why all the secrecy?"

"It's a long story, Chuck. A lot of it I don't know, and I'm dependin' on you to tell me." "What about?" "I donno," Laredo persisted. "That's what I got you up here for. All we got to do now is to ride for a while and then you can tell me."

"Ride how far? I should catch the night train out." And after that Laredo did not talk. When they had passed the lake on the way to the D Bar T, Laredo left the trail that angled down to the ranch and picked his own. The two horsemen skirted the base of Old Cartridge which jutted down to the lake and headed north toward the mountains.

by the lantern followed Laredo. The canyon narrowed until its width could be spanned by stretching the arms, and a cool dank smell of wet rock surrounded them. Suddenly they stepped out of the bottleneck on to the sparse grass of a little amphitheater.

"Here's the place," Laredo said. He squatted on his heels by the lantern and rolled a cigarette carefully. "For a month, off and on, I been watchin' a hombre dig here. What I want to know is, what is it he dug?"

He picked up the lantern and moved over toward one of the walls. A tight-mouthed tunnel appeared before them and Laredo motioned Chuck inside. Chuck set his lamp on the floor at the end with a smothered oath. A single, short-handled pickaxe lay on the floor.

"Have you been lookin' at the walls here?" he asked Laredo slowly, unbelievably. Laredo nodded. Chuck pointed. "Hell, he don't need a pick. You can pick those nuggets out with a pocket-knife."

"So it's gold?" Laredo asked. "We've passed fifty thousand dollar's worth in the last twenty-five steps," Chuck said slowly. "Man! Somebody's so rich they can use solid gold bits for every horse in their stable. Who owns it?"

Laredo shook his head and spat precisely. "Not me. Not the jasper that's been minin' it either." "You mean somebody that does not own it has done this work?" Laredo nodded. "He figured it would be his some day' so it wasn't wasted."

LAMB COUNTY F. F. A. CHAPTER IS ORGANIZED

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED AT RECENT MEET

Committees Named And Program of Work Is Set Up

Wednesday, Sept. 7, advisors and boys from the F. F. A. department of Lamb County met at Spring Lake and organized a Lamb County F. F. A. Chapter.

Mr. H. C. White of Sudan stressed the importance of working together and helping each other.

The following officers were elected: President, to be elected from Littlefield. Vice President, Weldon Barton, Spring Lake; Secretary, Leo Harrison, Olton; Reporter, Ben Olglesby, Sudan; Farm Watch Dog, R. B. Poteet, Olton; Parliamentarian, to be elected from Littlefield; Treasurer, Aubrey Earl Fife, Sudan; Song Leader, Wix Price, Spring Lake; Historian, George Bohner, Olton; Advisor, H. C. White, Sudan.

The program of work was set up as follows:

1. Improve leadership contest.
2. Improve the certificate of merit set up.
3. Conduct a Green hand Chapter conducting contest.
4. Hold a yearly encampment.
5. Hold annual basketball tournament.

Other objectives may be added at our next meeting.

Committeemen were appointed, one from each chapter for the following committees: Certificate of Merit, Leadership contest, and Encampment.

The chapter hopes to carry out a program of work that is really worthwhile.

School Enrollment Reaches 1388 Monday Morning

Not only is the enrollment of the Littlefield Public School a record, with 1388 students in school Monday morning, but there are more students in high school, with a larger Pep Squad, Band and Football Team than ever before. The 1388 students will compare with 1336 enrolled at the end of the first month last year, Supt. F. A. Hemphill reported Tuesday afternoon. The enrollment will easily reach the 1400 mark before the week is out, and the total enrollment will probably reach 2,000, but there won't be that many students attending school regularly, Mr. Hemphill added.

The first general assembly was held Tuesday afternoon at the high school, and the Pep Squad, composed of 56 girls, gave the football team a good send-off. Under the direction of Miss Virginia Baker, the Pep Squad will be one of the outstanding factors of the school. The leaders are Velma Lee Lowe, Thelma Crockett and Christine Carpenter. The girls will receive new suits, and they will be at the first football game of the season, Friday night, "right behind the Wildcats."

SOCIETY.

Woman's Study Club Meets For First Time This Season

The Woman's Study Club met for the first time this year, Wednesday afternoon, September 7, in the Library Room at the City Hall. The Roll Call was answered with the Laws Pertaining to Women. Mrs. W. D. T. Storey, president, presided over a business session. Mrs. Mancel Hall was elected secretary, to take the place of Mrs. D. Dodgen, who recently resigned.

Mrs. David Schein was made a member of the club.

A very interesting program, "The Evolution of Woman and Her Law," was led by Mrs. L. C. Hewitt, who gave a very interesting presentation on the "Evolution of Woman." Mrs. F. O. Boles discussed, "The North Carolina Woman Before the Law."

Those attending were Mesdames: E. Barnett, E. A. Bills, F. O. Pat Boone, W. J. Chenier, C. E. Cooper, Ivan L. Gardner, L. T. Green, L. Hall, A. R. Hendricks, L. Hewitt, J. C. Hilburn, Earl R. W. Lewis, M. B. Norwood, C. E. Payne, Bill Pass, Ben T. Wade Potter, G. M. L. T. Shottwell, J. G. Singer, W. D. T. Storey, W. Street, J. E. Whicker, O. P. Wiseman, H. W. Wiseman, Ira E. Wood, and Max Wood.

Mancel Hall Entertains At Bridge-Luncheon

In a courtesy to the Luncheon Club, Mrs. Mancel Hall entertained at a bridge luncheon Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The luncheon was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Cogan, Westside Avenue. A complete table of beautiful napkins graced the table.

Following the luncheon bridge was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Mancel Hall in the Daggan Addition by the following: Mesdames: Wilemon, Bill Pass, Jack R. E. Dennis Jones, members and Glyn Pass and Mrs. J. H.

Miss Olga Henson and Lieut. Fullbright Wed Here Tuesday Evening

A wedding of considerable interest was solemnized here Tuesday evening at 7:15 o'clock at the First Baptist Church, when Miss Olga Reed Henson became the bride of Lieut. Thos. F. Fullbright in a beautiful ring ceremony, with Rev. Roy Shahan, Pastor, officiating.

The only attendants at the ceremony were: Mrs. T. A. Lenson, mother of the bride; and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Henry and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sewell, sisters and brothers-in-law of the bride, and Capt. McKeever of the CCC Camp.

Morgan Layfield presided at the organ.

The bride was charming in a teal blue frock with navy blue accessories. Her only jewelry was a gold bracelet set with five pearls, originally owned and worn by her great grandmother, and over 100 years old.

Mrs. Fullbright has been a resident of Littlefield for the past 14 years; is one of the most popular among the younger set of this city; is a graduate of the 1928 class of the Littlefield High School, and has been employed by the West Texas Gas Company for over a year. Previous to that she was employed by the First National Bank of this city.

Lieut. Fullbright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Fullbright of Texarkana, and has been connected with the local CCC camp for the past seven months. Previous to this Lieut. Fullbright was in army service in San Antonio with the 15th Field Artillery for about a year and a half.

He is a graduate of Texarkana High School and of the University of Texas.

Immediately following the ceremony the happy couple left for points in New Mexico and Arizona. The bride's travelling costume was a navy blue tailored suit with navy Larnett, guests.

High score was awarded to Mrs. Rumback, with second honors to Mrs. Barnett.

Mrs. Jameson Initiated Into Grove No. 2178

Members of the Jennie Lindbloom Grove No. 2178 of the Woodmen Circle met Thursday night at the Legion Hut, with the Guardian Mrs. Margie Beisel in charge of the meeting.

One new member, Mrs. Faye Opal Jameson of Lubbock, was initiated in a beautiful ceremony.

Mrs. Baby Blair, district deputy of this grove, returned from Sangreves in time for Lodge, and gave an interesting talk on her visit in Sangreves the past two weeks. Mrs. Blair has been assisting Mrs. Jennie Lindbloom, district manager of Amarillo, in organizing a grove in Sangreves.

Ways and means for raising money to send the local drill team to the State Convention at San Antonio, in March were discussed. The members are making great plans and preparations to win the Loving Cup at the coming convention this fall. The team that wins this time will get to keep the cup. Littlefield, Plainview and Brownfield have won one time each. Brownfield was the last winner.

It was voted for the drill team to meet once each week for practice.

Following the business and initiation, refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served to guests and members by Mrs. Catherine Rumback, and Mrs. Marjorie Beisel.

The next regular meeting will be at the Legion Hut Thursday night, September 15th. All members are requested to be present.

Nephew of Mrs. J. M. Jordan Loses Arm In Automobile Mishap

The left arm of Terrell Weeks, 23, of Lorenzo was cut off above the elbow when two cars collided about 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning between Lorenzo and Idalou. Mr. Weeks is a nephew of Mrs. J. M. Jordan, who recently moved to Littlefield, where her husband is employed in the Bryan Drug Store. Mrs. Jordan and J. M. Jr., have been residing in Denton.

Mr. Weeks is also a second cousin of Mr. Jordan.

His arm was clipped off when the car reported to be driven by Weeks and one said to be driven by Winston Watson of Lubbock and Haskell scraped sides. Week's left arm apparently was resting on the door of the car.

The impact of the collision overturned the Watson car, which rolled over "two or three times." The occupants of both cars were taken to Lubbock for treatment.

Weeks was weak from loss of blood when he entered Lubbock Sanitarium. The stump of the arm was amputated near the shoulder.

A similar accident occurred less than a week ago, when the left arm of Wendell Townsend was torn off Tuesday morning of last week. Two other persons were riding with Weeks, just as there were two other occupants of the car in which Townsend was riding. Both of the victims had the stump of their arms amputated near the shoulder, and the portion of Week's arm that was clipped off was picked up from the highway, just as Townsend's was six nights before.

BULA NEWS

From half an inch to an inch of rain fell in this community over the week end which will be very beneficial to crops.

Mr. W. A. Locker and sons, Ernest, Fred and Morgan and G. B. Salyers returned home Sunday from the Colorado River where they have been fishing. All reported a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill visited in the A. J. Wallace home Wednesday.

Mrs. A. J. Wallace and son Eddie Nelson returned home last Thursday from Colorado City where she attended the family reunion.

Mrs. Ernest Lacker and children were Sudan visitors last Monday.

Mr. Latour Green was brought home Wednesday from West Texas Hospital where he has been taking treatments for the past several weeks.

Mrs. W. C. Thompson was operated on Saturday for appendicitis.

covering and the planting.

This group of people were confident that the garden would be well worth the effort for the next future and coming year. It will be the answer to the needs in West Texas for gardens, according to Miss Adkins. The fifteen inch board fence around it will protect from shifting sands and wandering chicks, the sub-irrigation will prevent the quick drying out that is common with surface irrigation, and the gunny or feed sack covering protects from the hot sun in the summer, and the cold in the winter. The most significant part of it is that the cost is nil, since all parts can be made from scrap material found on the average farm.

Miss Adkins states that she will be glad to give any information necessary to any one interested in building a frame garden for year 'round vegetables.

Home Demonstration Notes

By Mrs. C. A. Thomas, Reporter

The Westbrook Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, Sept. 16, in the home of Mrs. H. W. Walls where an interesting lesson was given on "Reading Hour in the Home".

The efficient homemaker of today, both men and women, budget their time as well as money. An item in the time budget should be club reading and the money budget should include books, says Mrs. Ruth E. Perry, H. D. A.

Every family library should contain a good Atlas, a dictionary, a brief comprehensive encyclopedia, a general history, a world almanac and a Texas almanac to get at any definite information about almost anything, the average person may find necessary or interesting to know or to enable one to read intelligently of people and events.

A library, a good reading light a comfortable chair, are just as essential to the health, the comfort and the happiness of the individuals in a home as a pantry, a cook stove or a good kitchen light.

The most important thing about reading is to get the habit so that something in you hunger for a book as your body hungers for food. Reading serves two purposes. These purposes are to give information and to give pleasure. The ideal type of reading combines both.

Those present were Mesdames C. A. Thomas, W. S. Baker, E. T. Phillips, W. B. Williams, Jay Phillips, E. E. Alexander and the hostess, Mrs. H. W. Qualls.

The next regular meeting will be September 20 in the home of Mrs. C. A. Thomas.

Aunt of Geo. W. Sandidge Passes Away At Abernathy

George W. Sandidge attended the funeral of an aunt, Mrs. W. H. Sandidge, 64, at Abernathy Monday morning at 10:30. Services were held in the First Christian Church, Rev. Griffith of Olton officiating. Burial was made in the Abernathy cemetery. Mrs. Sandidge suffered a heart attack that proved fatal Saturday morning. Survivors include her husband and three children, two sons of Fort Worth and a daughter of Bonham.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hicks of Odessa arrived Monday to spend a couple of days with friends here.

Tri-State Fair At Amarillo To Have Many Attractions

Amarillo, Sept. 14.—W. Lee O'Daniel and his Hillbillies will "pass the biscuits" at the Tri-State Fair here, September 19.

And every day during exposition week cinema celebrities and other notables will attend.

"This is the sixteenth year of the Tri-State Fair and the association is spending more money than ever for attractions," said Ray Pinkney, the president.

There will be an improved midway, with many free attractions, including a death-defying loop, Beutler Brothers rodeo and "Calvacade of Hits," a spectacular show on which the association has taken out rain insurance.

The famous cowboy band from Hardin-Simmons will play a concert each afternoon at the rodeo which will be of championship caliber with star performers appearing between the spills and thrills of the cowboy contests.

"For beauty, comedy and all around entertainment for the whole family 'Calvacade of Hits' is unsurpassed and I predict record crowds every night to see it and the climax of fireworks," said President Pinkney.

Farm Security Sketches

One more frame garden has been added to the county, according to Miss Freddie Adkins, Home Management Supervisor for Farm Security Administration. On Wednesday morning, September 7, Miss Adkins met with Mrs. M. P. Hamilton, Willard Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Barker, on the Hamilton farm, two miles west of Littlefield. The work started about 9:00 A. M. with the digging up of the ground, and when it was time to put on the beans for dinner, the garden was ready for the burlap

MR. AND MRS. W. E. HEATHMAN ENTERTAIN PHILLIPS SOFTBALL TEAM ON LAWN FRIDAY NIGHT

The lawn at the rear of the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Heathman was the scene of a very delightful party Friday night when members of the Phillips 66 Softball team and other friends were present.

The guests registered in a book that was hand drawn, with the Phillips 66 emblem on the cover, and tied with an orange ribbon. The book was presented by Rev. W. J. Luecke, who was sponsor of the Phillips 66 team.

In the center of the lawn was a miniature softball diamond, and the number 666 were in the center of the diamond. The group was entertained by an orchestra, composed of Charles Heathman, Sam McCaskill, Glen Burleson and Jim Winston, who played several selections, Bobby Taylor played sang two numbers, and little Jimmie Ray Erwin sang "Says My Heart."

Rev. Roy Shahan spoke to the group, and Rev. W. J. Luecke gave a discussion of "Playing The Game of Life." Mrs. C. H. Hufstader read two selections, "The Murderer Started." Rev. Luecke reviewed several of the high points of the past softball season, and with the help of Jimmie Timian and Ewing Thaxton, demonstrated a few of the interesting and amusing plays of the games.

Following the program, iced watermelon was served to the guests after which they enjoyed balloon volley ball. Plate favors were Phillips 66 emblems.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hufstader, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Thaxton, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Timian, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Scott, Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Luecke, Johnny Sparks, Howard Reid, Rev. Roy Shahan, Misses Patsy Anderson, Helen Heathman, Margaret Bandy and Angeline Evans.

Miss Ila Greene and Aubrey Loyd Are Wed At Portales, N. M.

Mrs. Katie Greene announces the marriage of her daughter Ila, to Aubrey Loyd, which took place Saturday, September 10th in the parsonage of the First Baptist Church in Portales, New Mexico, with Rev. Joe F. Grizzle officiating with the single ring ceremony. The couple was accompanied to Portales by Miss Dorris Lloyd of Olton, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Jennie Parker, Mrs. Katie

MRS. C. E. PAYNE ENTERTAINS AT COFFEE AS COURTESY TO MISS JANELA PAYNE

Greene, and Mrs. Ewing Thaxton, grandmother, mother and sister of the bride, respectively.

The bride wore a Windsor tan sheer wool dress with navy accessories, and the attendants, Mrs. Thaxton and Miss Lloyd, wore navy with corresponding accessories. The wedding ring, presented to the couple by Mrs. Jennie Parker, has been in the Parker family for 55 years, and has been used in the marriage ceremonies of seven couples.

The bride, youngest daughter of Mrs. Katie Greene, was born and reared in Littlefield. She was graduated from Littlefield High School in 1937, and president of the Senior class that year.

After her graduation she worked for the Chamber of Commerce in Littlefield during the summer, and for the past year has been senior stenographer in the County Agent's office at Amherst.

The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. F. A. Lloyd, sheriff of Lamb County. He attended Texas Tech for three years, and has been connected with the Lloyd Drug Store in Amherst, and is mayor of that city.

After a brief honeymoon in New Mexico, the couple will make their home in Amherst.

Formal Dance Given By Jack Garlington

Mrs. C. E. Payne entertained with a coffee Wednesday morning September 7, from 11 to 12:30, at her beautiful new home in the Duggan Addition, as a courtesy to Dr. Payne's niece, Miss Janela Payne, who visited here last week from Dallas.

The table was laid with a linen lace cloth, centered with a silver bowl of pink and orchid asters on dance given by Jack Garlington of this city at the Country Club, Lubbock, Thursday evening.

The guest list included: Misses Ernestine Cundiff, Myrtle Marion Shaw, Louise Thornton, Betty Ann Hilliard, Nell Wayne Carlisle, Ida Sue Payne, Nettie Belle Batton, Maxine Cash, and Jack Norman, J. E. Chisholm, Owen Loyd, Stacey Hart, T. A. Hilbun, Dan Hemphill, James "Red" Norman, and Paul Hyde.

Besides dancing, indoor games were also enjoyed by the group.

Semi-Annual Plateau Singing Convention At San Jon Sunday

The Semi-Annual Plateau Singing Convention was held at San Jon, Quay County, N. M., Sunday last.

The program began at 10:30 A. M. and continued throughout the day, with a basket dinner on the grounds furnished by Quay County people. Many out of County singers were guests of Quay County.

BOYS 4-H CLUB AND ASST. COUNTY AGENT SPONSOR REGISTERED PIG CLUB

The Boys 4-H Club sponsors and Assistant County Agent announce the 1938-39 Registered Gilt and Pig Club of Lamb County.

The reasons for sponsoring such a club was that Lamb County does not have the quality hogs that they should. Encouragement should be given our boys to raise more livestock. The sponsors also felt that with better hogs available in the County the feeders would have a tendency to buy their pigs at home rather than buy cholera hogs from other sections of the State.

The pigs will be secured and delivered to the boys on Saturday, October 29 at which time the Essay contest will terminate.

Only regularly enrolled 4-H club boys or prospective 1939 4-H club boys are eligible.

Requirements of Boys entering Pig Club:

1. Each club will determine the kind of registered hogs.
2. Secure a registered gilt or pigs on October 29.
3. Provide pasture for the gilt (this may be done by fencing a pasture or by cutting green feed and feeding it each day.)

4. Provided a watering trough with a cover.

5. Provided a V-type slop trough.

6. Provide a self-feeder with two compartments, one for green and one for protein.

7. Provide a mineral though near the self-feeder and keep in it two parts lime stone and one part of salt.

8. Provide shelter and shade.

9. Show pigs and sows at Lamb County 4-H Livestock Show.

Calf Club Rules Outlined By Sponsors

The 4-H Club sponsors and Assistant County Agent announce the Lamb County Calf Club Rules. Any 4-H Club Boy is eligible to compete.

1. Boys will buy one or more calves.
2. Boys will feed their calves only home grown feeds except protein supplement and alfalfa.

3. Records will be kept to determine rate of gain and cheapness of gain.

4. Calves will be shown at the Lamb County 4-H Livestock Show, and will be appraised by livestock buyers as to value.

5. The placing of the show will be made on the following basis:

1. Rate of gain.
2. Cheapness of gain.
3. Placing in show ring.
4. Price that buyer would pay.

Each to be given some value and boy having the highest grade will be winner of first prize. The boy having second highest grade will win second prize, and the boy having third highest grade will win third prize.

The calves to be fed will be determined by each individual club, and if possible calves will be secured and delivered on October 29, 1938.

COTTON AROUND ANTON WILL MAKE FOURTH TO HALF BALE SAYS RICHARDS

"We have pretty good crops around Anton and generally over the Anton territory, and will make one-quarter to one-half a bale to the acre," stated H. G. Richards, Editor of the Anton News, in an interview Saturday.

Mr. Richards, who called at the Leader office, stated that crops were better than lots of people thought, and that they looked good to him around Anton.

tell Mary of his suspicions about her husband and asks her help to prove his findings. Laredo evolves a scheme to arrest Crowell as a murder suspect in order to hold him for questioning. By a clever ruse, Dave escapes his captors and then frees Dorsey who was held prisoner for ransom.
"You're hit," she cried. "And you—"
"I forgot," Dave answered. The last shot of the outlaw had seared his arm. Dorsey banded it expertly.
"How did you get here?" he asked. "I heard 'em talk about a girl and I thought it was Mary."
"I went home a little after dark. I put Pancho in the stable and went in the house. In the kitchen a man grabbed me and told me not to make a noise. There were two of them and one asked the other if they'd left the note. Then they put a sack over my head and tied me on my horse and we rode all night, it seemed. They treated me all right." She looked at Dave, her eyes puzzled. "What's this all about?"
"I dunno," Dave answered. "I was forced to sign over my half of our ranch to Crowell."
"Crowell? The man you and dad are looking for? The one behind the dynamiting?"
"Yeah," Dave nodded. "I thought he was behind it but there's someone else. Some one they all call boss. He's payin' Crowell for gettin' the ranch an' mine; Sayres and his gang for the dynamitin'—" A wave of anger swept over Dave. "I'm goin' to get out of here an' track him down like—"
"Yes, that's your way, isn't it?" Dave swung around to face her. "Why, what else should I do? What would any man—" he caught himself. "Here's the horses," he said quietly.
It was close to dusk when Dave and Dorsey neared the pass. Dave had been scanning the rock ridge ahead of them that barred their way to the valley.

"It's a prison," he pronounced.
"What will we do," Dorsey asked.
"A little more butcherin'!"
"Do you have to?"
"We've got to get by the guard at the pass," Dave said, "and he'll shoot."
They pulled in at a small draw and dismounted. Dave took the carbine from the saddle-boot.
Dorsey came close to him and laid a hand on his sleeve.
"Isn't there any other way besides blood?" she asked quietly.
He shook his head somberly. "It's us or them. It's gone too far to settle with words—or with law."
"I didn't make this war. When I got out of prison, I swore it would take plenty to rawhide me into goin' for my gun." His eyes narrowed and he looked off to the far horizon. "But that's not the way the world gives a man what belongs to him, I reckon. It's fight or die. I died for eight years. I'm goin' to live now for a little while."
Dorsey caught her breath. "Then it is true," she said slowly, "you are hard. You're cruel and ruthless. You're a—murderer!"
Dave flinched as if struck with a whip.
"Dorsey," his voice was pleading, "can't you see?"
"Please go, she said quietly.
Dave's lips were a grim line as he turned on his heel and strode off into the gathering dusk.
Dave paused to remove his boots. In the stillness, they seemed to make the noise of an army on the march. Paused, he suddenly jerked erect and listened. Behind him, farther down the ridge he could hear the crunching of boots on rock.
"Some ranny saw me and is followin'," he thought savagely. He raised his head above the edge of the rock and waited.
Slowly, the man was making his way forward against the skyline. Dave saw him raise up and listen. Dave drew a bead on him, then let his Colt slack. A shot would alarm the guard for sure and give him away. The man was close now. He could hear the quiet breathing of the man as he paused by the rock, apparently listening. Strangely, then, the man seated himself on the rock behind which Dave was hidden.

With noiseless effort, Dave hoisted himself out of the crevice, got a toe-hold on the rock and lunged at the sitting figure. The force of his spring took them both sprawling on the ground. Dave's hand was on the stranger's throat, but the force of the man's great strength was not easy to calm.
Suddenly, the man ceased struggling and Dave eased off his hands.
Then, "Dave Turner, jug-headed, murderin' fool!"
"Rosy! My God—I thought you'd be dead."
"I hear am," Rosy muttered.
"How'd you know it was me?" Dave asked.
"When you lowered your head, I hit that place where the bush whacker slammed you, but you was hanging on to me like a burr. I aimed to play dead so's you'd take your hand off my throat."
"Did the guard see you?"
"I don't think so."
"And he's on this rock?"
Rosy said he was. They sat a moment listening to see if they had alarmed the guard, but the night was soundless.
"Dorsey Hammond's here," Dave said tonelessly. "They kidnaped her."
"Dorsey Hammond?" Rosy asked incredulously. "Why—I never heard about it. Are you sure? he checked himself. "Let's go on. We got some work ahead of us. Near as I can make out, this here rock he's on is cup shaped, and a little higher than the rest of the hill."
They decided that Dave was to go down the slope, circle around, hide himself and open fire. Rosy was to approach the rampart from the ridge.
"Then let's go," Rosy said.
Dave disappeared down the side of the scrap and Rosy continued ahead. Worming his way forward for nearly twenty minutes, pausing to listen occasionally, he finally achieved a round knob of rock which he had noted from below as being near to the rampart.

He could smell cigarette smoke, hear the slight movement of the man on top in the cup. A veering of the wind carried the smell of cedar smoke to him and he guessed the man had built a small fire.
He smiled. "Fool," he thought. "If he looks out into the night from that fire he couldn't see a calvary troop."
A shot from below electrified him and he knew Dave was caged cozily behind a rock, shooting at random. Rosy heard the loud hiss of water on coals as the guard extinguished his fire. The answering shot was loud and close.

Rosy hoisted himself up. With a stifled curse he heard his gun butt scrape loudly on the rock.
The guard whipped around, raised his rifle and a lance of orange licked out. Rosy fanned the gun desperately, waiting for a bullet to pick him off and send him careening down among the rocks. He saw the limp body of the guard inch down the wall until it rested in the smoking fire.
Rosy pulled himself over the rim and huddled loudly. Dave answered him dimly from below. Then he turned the body over, struck a match and saw the man was dead, three bullets in his chest.
He loaded his Colt thoughtfully shrugged and let himself down the slope.
Dave was waiting with Dorsey at the pass when he reached it.

Make no mistake!... Phillips 66 Poly Gas is not an aviation gasoline.
But of all the motor fuels made for cars, trucks, and tractors—selling at regular price—Phillips 66 Poly Gas is the one whose volatility (or high test) most nearly and consistently approaches the U. S. Government specifications for aviation gasoline.
Remember, leading authorities say that volatility is the most important quality in gasoline:
Says a well-known scientist: "The more volatile fuel can be used with a leaner carburetor setting, and hence with less fuel consumption."
Says a professor of chemical engineering: "Increased volatility... is very effective in shortening the warm-up period... providing more uniform distribution of fuel to the different cylinders... reducing choking... and producing snappier acceleration and throttle response."
Says an editorial in an oil magazine: "Outstanding in the characteristics of improved motor fuel... for superior performance... is volatility."
Accurate laboratory research proves that your gasoline money buys more volatility in Phillips 66 Poly Gas. In fact, it contains nearly four times as much natural high test gasoline as the average motor fuel.
This extra volatility costs you nothing extra, because Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline. Why not try a tankful, at any Orange and Black 66 Shield?

FIELDTON ORGANIZE COMMUNITY CLUB; 125 ATTEND FIRST MEETING

One hundred twenty five men, woman and children met at Fieldton Friday night, September 9th and organized a community club and enjoyed a watermelon feast.

G. C. Barnett was elected chairman, J. P. Tooley, vice chairman; Mrs. Vera Buck, secretary; and Miss Dorris Reed, reporter.

The program committee is Mrs. W. E. Owens, Chairman, T. M. Moore, Miss Heartville and Mrs. T. M. Moore. The refreshment committee is Mrs. Addie Spike, chairman, Mrs. J. B. Perry, Mrs. C. G. Barnett.

The regular meeting night will be the first Tuesday night in each month.

The purpose of the organization is to become better acquainted with our neighbors, have a planned recreational program, encourage our children in their club work, and develop the natural talent in our community, all working to a better cooperation within the community.

1939 PLYMOUTH IS ON DISPLAY AT BATSON'S

The first of the 1939 Plymouth cars made their bow in Littlefield last Tuesday when the Batson Motor company displayed a beautiful Tudor and DeLuxe Sedan. The new cars are heralded as one of the most beautiful cars in America. They are designed along similar lines that featured the Royal Chrysler.

The new Plymouths were first displayed at the Michigan State Fair and according to reports received by Plymouth dealers, orders have been swamping the Plymouth plants.

Mr. Batson has already secured orders for several of the new cars and suggests that those interested make their reservations as early as possible.

The new Plymouth is radically different from any car ever designed and bears a number of new features that have hitherto only been found in the highest priced cars.

Local Postmaster To Attend Meeting At St. Paul, Minn.

Postmaster W. D. T. Storey, Mrs. Storey and son David, accompanied by Postmaster W. D. De Graaf of Amarillo, are planning on leaving Friday for St. Paul, Minn., where they will attend the Postmasters' National Convention.

Enroute to St. Paul, they will attend a banquet in honor of Mr. Howes, First Assistant to Postmaster General, which will be held at the Sherman Hotel, Chicago Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Storey and son expect to be gone about ten days.

Semi-Annual Singing Convention To Meet At Amherst Sunday

Amherst will be host to the Semi-annual Singing Convention in Lamb County Sunday.

All lovers of song are urged to attend, bringing your lunch basket to help Amherst entertain the large number who will attend, including quartettes from a distance. A good time is expected.

The convention meets at some place in the County twice a year.

Since Amherst is a central point, all those who can are urged to attend and help entertain the visiting singers, and make this convention the largest yet. This cannot be assured without the cooperation of all.

Eidelweiss Club Entertained At Garlington Home

Members of the Eidelweiss Dinner Club were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Garlington Thursday evening.

Following the serving of a delicious covered dish dinner, bridge provided the diversion for the balance of the evening.

High score honors were awarded Mrs. Clyde Hilburn and Mr. R. E. Lewis.

Those enjoying this social affair were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Boone, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. T. Wade Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hilburn, and Mr. and Mrs. Garlington.

most wonderful dinner prepared and served in true ranch style; the singing and speeches which followed the meal; the joyous spirit of young and old; the inspiring starlit setting and above all, the gracious hospitality of the hosts.

The speakers and all the guests, acclaimed the party as the most unique and pleasant one they had ever attended. When Don Harris called on George and Wandel, the cheers echoed through the hills of the vast estate. At the close of the evening Mr. White announced that he had decided to perpetuate these friendly gatherings and invited all the guests to come each year when he would repeat the feast.

Boy Scouts

announced that the club had decided to raise a sufficient sum to complete the building of the Boy Scouts Hut. The club will stage a number of benefit dances and entertainments throughout the Fall and Winter seasons, using the proceeds towards a fund of about $1000, which, it is figured, will be sufficient for the initial financing of the project. The scout sponsors had originally intended to erect a much more elaborate and complete building. They made ef-orts to secure aid from one of the federal agencies but found a number of obstacles and the Rotary Club which has always lent itself to any activities on behalf of young people, decided to see the plan through. The announcement was enthusiastically received by the Rotarians present at the luncheon and it was freely predicted that work on the hut would soon be started.

Today's program will be turned over to Linton H. Estes of Wichita Falls who will be a visitor in the city. Mr. Estes is Governor of the 127th Rotary District which is comprised of 51 Rotary clubs including the Littlefield club.

serve the people of his congressional district, but stated that on some occasions the problem to him had been as to how to vote—just what was the right thing to do on certain occasions.

He expressed himself as very happy to be present at Tuesday's luncheon.

Congressman Mahon is stationed at Lubbock for the present.

B. L. Cogdill, Secretary of the Littlefield Booster group, gave a report on the paving project underway, stating that the owners of 33 blocks in the City had signed up for the paving, and that he and W. G. Street, City Secretary, were going to Lubbock Tuesday afternoon to interview WPA officials, with the object in mind to get the project started. Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Streets, L. F. D., Second and Third Streets are among those planned to be paved.

Judge L. R. Crockett reported on the progress of the East and West highway, stating that he and delegations from the four counties met with Highway Engineer Garrett and asked him to send recommendation to State Highway Department.

Judge Crockett reported the matter would come up Monday before the Highway Commission at Austin, at which he and representatives from the four counties concerned would attend.

He also reported that an application was made to Garrett at the meeting for the paving of the street running from the water tower to the school buildings, and that Engineer Garrett stated that he would recommend it.

Judge Crockett stated that work had been underway for the past 30 days on the north end of Highway No. 51; that over 100 men were thus employed, and that work would get started on the section closest to Littlefield as soon as possible.

E. A. Bills reported that $160,000 had been allotted for the purpose of building 175 miles of line in this county; that plans and specifications are now nearly complete, and as soon as finished, contract will be let, and that the work should get started in October, and be completed by January.

Mr. Bills also said: "We have been promised an allotment, and the money has been earmarked for the purpose of building 100 extra miles into new and additional territory, and there is a chance of getting Cotton Center into our district as territory to be covered by this electrification project."

Mr. Bills suggested that the Chamber of Commerce cooperate with the Project Superintendent, on the electrification program, and suggested the appointment of a committee for this purpose.

He also reported that the electricity would be purchased from the Texas-New Mexico Utilities Co.

An Electrification Committee was appointed as follows: W. D. T. Storey, chairman, to be assisted by Dr. Ira E. Woods, M. M. Brewer, J. C. Elms and Lester Walters. Miss Freddie Adkins, Home Supervisor for Farm Security Administration, whose headquarters are at the City Hall, was also a visitor and gave a talk on the duties of her office.

Among other things she stated that her duties were to help farm wives plan their program for the year, and that they endeavored to get the farmers' wives to produce 75 percent of their food on the farm, but that this was rather difficult to do in West Texas, but that many came close to this.
