

Crowds Jam Muleshoe For Celebration

6000 People Reported To Enjoy Festivities

***
Texas A&M University has named its honor students for the spring semester of 1990, recognizing some 3,000 students for outstanding academic performance.

Local students among those recognized were: Sue Michelle Haire, psychology major, from Muleshoe.

There will be a board of directors meeting for the Muleshoe Meals on Wheels, Inc. tomorrow, Monday, July 9, at 2 p.m. in the office of Aging Services at the Bailey County Courthouse.

Glen Williams, president, has released the following agenda:

Call to order; approve minutes of previous meetings; financial report; approve new subscribers; elect directors for those positions whose terms are expiring; and miscellaneous business.

***
To the Citizens of Muleshoe and the Surrounding Area -- from Chief of Police Wayne Holmes and Fire Marshal Jimmy Mills:

We would like to thank you for your cooperation regarding the use of fireworks in the city limits over our 4th of July activities.

In consideration for our extremely dry conditions, the citizens of Muleshoe and the surrounding area made this Independence Day celebration a big (and safe) success by showing their respect for the laws governing the use of fireworks and by taking special care due to the high threat of fire this year.

Again, thank you for making this 4th one of the best yet.

New Rotary Officers Installed On Tuesday

In an impressive patriotic ceremony, J. D. Cage installed the new officers for the Rotary Club last Tuesday.

As that was perhaps the largest crowd ever to attend a Rotary meeting looked on, Cage reminded those present of our heritage, and the firm foundation our country was built on.

He said gratitude was owed to the outgoing president, Terry Hutto, and his directors, who also laid a firm foundation during the past year for Rotary to build on.

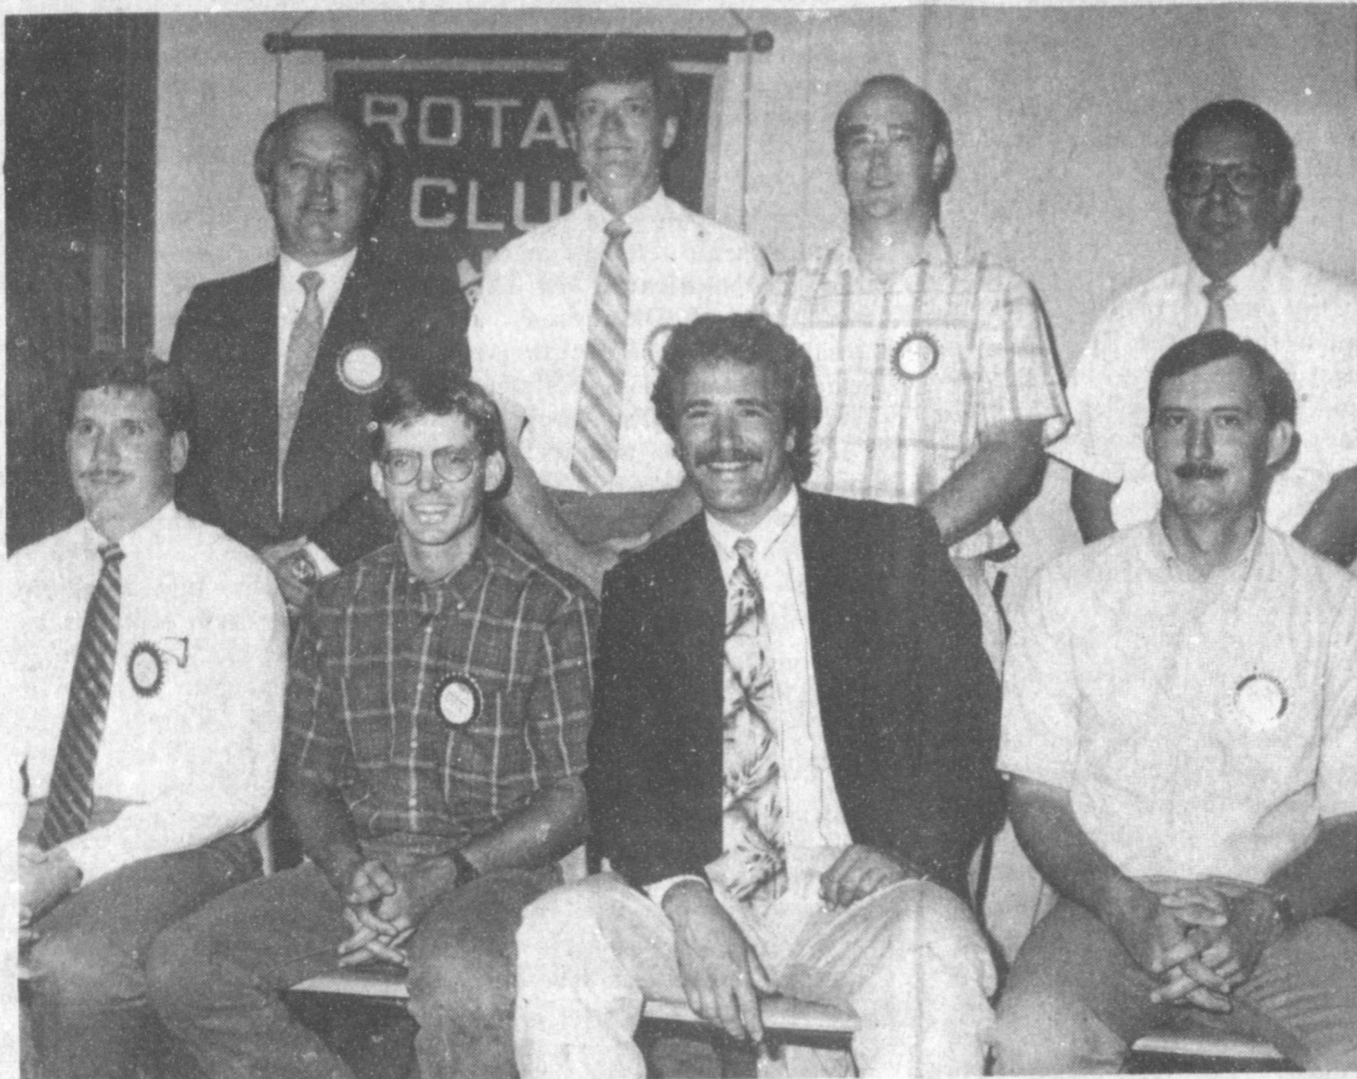

He installed Bruce Purdy, president; Randy Field, vice president; Bret McCasland, secretary; Abel Arguello; and directors, David Tipps, Scott Campbell, James Turnbow and

Baptist Church Planning Annual Bible Classes

First Baptist Church of Muleshoe will be sponsoring Backyard Bible Clubs during the week of July 16-20. Beginning at 10 a.m., and concluding at 11:30 a.m., they will meet at the following locations:

East City Park; 417 E. Dallas (Sam Burgeson); 1729 W. Avenue F (Stephen Bell); 1901 W. Avenue G (Kenneth Henry); and 906 W. 6th (Bary Moynihan).

All children who have completed first through sixth grades are invited to attend the Backyard Bible Clubs, at the location nearest them, for this time of music, Bible stories, and activities.

For July, Danny Noble, county executive director of the Bailey County ASCS, has released the following information: FINAL CERTIFICATION DATE

The final date to certify or request aerial measurement service on all spring seeded crops, conservation use acreage (CU), and ACR is July 16, 1990.

A complete acreage report must be filed including all program crops, sunflowers, soybeans, alfalfa, vegetables, etc. by this deadline.

An accurate certification is very important, so don't guess.

The reported acreage cannot differ from the measured acreage by more than the larger of 1.0 acre or five percent, or the farm could be ineligible for program benefits.

MEASURING SERVICE

Remember!! As soon as the ASCS gets your farm measured you will be notified of the measured acreage and you only have five workdays in which to adjust (if any) and certify your acres at the ASCS office.

Please notify the office if you have to adjust prior to destroying any crop.

FAILED ACRES

Any program crop that has failed due to drought, excessive moisture, hail, or for any other reason beyond the producer's control, MUST be certified and an ASCS-574 (Disaster Application) filed before the crop is disturbed. All required ACR must be maintained for the failed acreage. These requirements must be met for program crops to be eligible for program benefits.

MAINTENANCE OF ACR AND CRP

Weed control measures MUST be carried out in a timely manner on acreage designated as ACR throughout the calendar year.

Weed control measures also MUST be carried out timely on CRP land throughout the lifespan of the CRP contract.

Any CRP participant who fails to control weeds to the point that they interfere with the approved cover on their farm or any other farm is subject to have the annual rental payment reduced by the rental rate per acre affected.

EMERGENCY HAYING AND GRAZING APPROVED

Bailey County has been approved for emergency haying and grazing during the 5-month nongrazing period which is May 15 through October 14.

Acreage designated as ACR, CU for pay, and the required eight percent SHALL NOT be hayed or grazed under the emergency haying and grazing provision if irrigation has or will occur on the designated acreage. Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

Large Wasp 'Harmless' To People

By Spencer Tanksley
Bailey County Agent-Ag

We have had several inquiries already this year regarding an extremely large wasp found in area yards.

Wasps of this group are commonly called "cicada killers" or "ground hornets."

The scientific name of this species is Sphecus speciosus.

This wasp is approximately 1-1/2 inches long and is one of our largest species. It is active during July and August.

Both male and female wasps may be encountered on flowers and in nesting areas.

Males exhibit territoriality and investigate all intruders vigorously. Territories may be 100 sq. feet in size in the vicinity of an emergency hole. Mating occurs when a newly emerged female flies through a territory.

The burrows angle into the soil for a distance of .3 to 1.2 meters, ending in a number of branches and cells. Each branch may terminate in 2-3 loosely grouped cells. Burrow entrances are left open during provisioning and may not be closed until the job is done.

Depending upon their size, 1-4 adult cicadas are provisioned per cell. They are usually paralyzed by a single sting in the membrane at the base of a front leg. Eggs are laid on the last cicada in the cell. As many as four females may provision on a single nest simultaneously, although only one of them made the initial excavation.

These wasps are not poisonous but could inflict a very sore area if a person was stung by one of them. No one should try to kill them. It is best to leave them alone and let them run their life cycle.

If you desire additional information, please contact the local County Extension office.

"All I have to say is a very B-I-G THANKS TO MULESHOE for everything that was done to make our Muleshoe Lee Horsley Fourth of July Celebration the GREATEST!" was the comment late last week by Nancy Kidd, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

"Our parade, 155 entries, was a masterpiece. We thank and salute all who participated.

"Those who worked the activities, thanks. And, to the organizations who had food booths, thank you. You fed us well."

Mrs. Kidd, who headed up the activities at the CofC, added, "We appreciate the crowd for cooperating with MAC and the security towards the Horsley family. It adds to the success of our day when we don't have any 'incidents.'

She was proud of the crowd at the park listening to what she termed a fantastic band. "At the same time, you could either watch the square dancers or a soft ball game. What more would you want?" she asked.

It was estimated that at least 6,000 people were in downtown Muleshoe during the day to enjoy the fast-paced, all-day activities and events.

The CofC manager ruefully commented, "And, someone once said, 'there's nothing going on in Muleshoe!'"

She also reminded, that those who still could move, had fun at KMUL's street dance after the fireworks.

"A great day, and you all made it happen -- many thanks," concluded Mrs. Kidd.

And, of course, Lee Horsley and his family rode in the parade, then he signed autographs during the afternoon following the MAC Buck drawing in downtown Muleshoe.

Horsley also made appearances at the Mule Plex reduction Co.'s Family Fun Nights on Monday and Tuesday night, and attended the Muleshoe Rotary Club meeting on Tuesday.

For the parade, the first place float was entered by Muleshoe Area Health Care Center; in second place was the B-Boppers and in third was Watson Junior High Cheerleaders.

Winners in the Mule division was Spring Wagon, first and Joe Rhodes' Stage Coach and Mules, second.

In the animal division, the Fourth Calvary was the winner.

K-C Muffler won first in the commercial division with their train and Five Area Telephone Cooperative was second. A Packard, entered by Ouri Jones won first in the antiques and in the unique division, Lonnie Adrian's 1969 VW dune buggy won.

Winners at the MAC drawing were Linda Tosh, $300; Lela Sue King, $105 and Olga Chavez, $90.

Bob Bomer won the Rotary Club's Hawaiian Trip.

For Alpha Zeta Pi's Kids Activities, winners were:

Kiwanis News

By R.A. Bradley

Eleven Kiwanians and one guest met Friday morning at the La Placita Cafe. The Kiwanis Club would like to say Thanks to the La Placita Cafe for opening up special on Friday mornings just for the Kiwanis Club. We are looking forward to a long and enjoyable fellowship with one another.

President Jim Lutz called the meeting to order. Randy Lewis led the club in the pledge to the flag and the invocation was given by R. A. Bradley.

Jerry Hutton did not give the friendship coin away as change through the 4th celebration, so Jerry gave the friendship coin to Robert Montgomery as Robert always needs a friend.

There was no program and the Kiwanians just talked and recapped the events that went on from Monday thru the 4th here in Muleshoe.

This writer would like to say thank you to each and every one who had a hand in the celebration -- Monday, Tuesday and all day Wednesday -- the Chamber of Commerce - Mule Plex Production - MAC Committee, all the clubs and individuals who worked hard and long to make this one of, if not the best, July 4th ever in Muleshoe.

A big thank you to Allie Horsley and her family for helping make this July 4th so wonderful.

Of course, the biggest thank you of all goes to you the wonderful people of this community and surrounding communities for turning out and coming to Muleshoe. Without the fine people and backing of all - nothing could really be done for this community. The Kiwanis Club wishes to say thank you for letting us be a part of this community and the July 4th celebration.

We thank everyone who purchased fireworks from the Kiwanis Club and a big thank you for everyone who lets us put the USA flag out in front of your business.

We would like to put a flag in front of every business in town and we would love to put a flag in front of your house.

If anyone in Muleshoe would like a flag put in front of your home, please contact me at Fry & Cox, Inc. - 272-4511 -- and we thank you in advance.

It would only cost you $27 per year to have the flag placed by the Kiwanis Club at your home. The Kiwanis Club members will put the flag in place, and then take it down. When the flag starts to become worn and tattered, it will be replaced -- again by the Kiwanis Club.

And remember, each and every penny received by the Kiwanis Club for any of their projects, stays in Muleshoe, to be used for the youth and senior citizens. You can't go wrong at $27 per year. This would also be your statement "I am proud of my state -- and I am proud to be an American."

I don't know about you, but I am very proud of the U. S. flag. The flag is something very special to me, and I would like to see a flag in front of every home also. The flag would be placed in front of your home at least nine (9) times per year for your $27 -- as well as on other special occasions deemed proper by the Kiwanis Club.

We should be, and show how proud we are of our country. Our country has many faults, but it is still the most wonderful country to live in, in this old world. To really decorate this town, let us put a flag in front of your home.

Again, the Kiwanis Club says thanks to you, the public, and everyone who made our July 4th so wonderful and this country a wonderful place to live and raise our families.

Report From Larry Combest

"Clean, safe drinking water will finally be a reality for the people of West Texas and the Panhandle," said U.S. Representative Larry Combest after today's passage of legislation authorizing control of salty water from Lake Meredith. As sponsor of the Lake Meredith Salinity Bill, Combest authored the legislation contained in H.R. 2567 designed to intercept natural brine seepage along a 150 mile reach upstream of Lake Meredith.

"The quality of the drinking water that serves 11 communities from Lamesa to Lubbock and in to Amarillo has been continually deteriorating to a point that it is sometimes below health and environmental standards," said Combest. "My bill authorizes a financial partnership where the federal government will pay about one-third of the cost of this project."

Production wells, observation wells, pipelines, pumping plants and brine disposal facilities are designed to intercept the salty sediments before they reach the river and dispose of them by deep-well injection. The total cost of the project is estimated at $8 million.

The levels of total dissolved solids (TDS) are more than three times as much as the recommended maximum levels set by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). EPA's maximum TDS level in drinking water is 500 milligrams per liter; TDS levels in the reservoir have been measured at a level as high as 1,800 milligrams per liter.

Communities affected by today's Lake Meredith desalination bill are Brownfield, Lamesa, Levelland, Lubbock, Plainview, Slaton, Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, O'Donnell and Tahoka.

summer nights in northwest Oklahoma, near Waynoka and Freedom.

On July 12-15, 1990 the Chamber of Commerce in Waynoka will be sponsoring a four-day festival called "DRAGON DAZE" in commemoration of an expedition made in 1843. Led by Nathan Boone himself, the expedition of more than sixty (60) uniformed Dragoons sought out to make a reconnaissance of what is now western Oklahoma, learning, if possible, the exact location of the Great Salt Plains.

Dragon Daze will commence on Thursday, July 12th at 8 o'clock a.m. in Freedom, Oklahoma with a thirty-two mile trail ride. The excursion will take riders south along the Cimarron River through some of the most scenic territory in the State. As indicated in the Chronicles of Oklahoma, a journal was kept by Capt' Boone during the expedition. It states, "The Semarone (Cimarron) lay on our right all day with its high gypsion banks ranging along its southern shore." Just as Nathan Boone and his Dragoons experienced the beauty and wilds of the area, so will each rider. The thirty-two mile trail ride will overnight on the Cimarron River and return to civilization on Friday to join the other Dragoon Daze activities in Waynoka.

The Cimarron River Stampede Rodeo begins at 8 o'clock p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday with a dance featuring "Murphy's Law" following on Friday and Saturday nights. The rodeo is in its 54th year and attracts cowboys from all over the United States.

On Saturday, July 14th the living history will continue as the soldiers participate in a downtown parade that will begin at 11 o'clock a.m. Immediately following the parade, at high noon, a real old fashioned "Shoot-Out" with sheriff's posse and bank robbers will capture your imagination and get you ready for an ice cream social and judging contest. Arts and Craft booths will be assembled for those with money to burn.

On Sunday, July 15th join the Cavalry Regiment once again in the historical church on East Cecil Street for church services, 5th U.S. Cavalry style.

...so saddle up ole Paint, grab your coonskin cap and join us July 12-15 for a celebration in Living History.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The Muleshoe Heritage Foundation would like to thank everyone who came to see the John N. Janes House during the Fourth of July festivities.

The Board of Directors hope that the ranch house lived up to the expectation of those who viewed it. It has been a wonderful labor of love. So many of you who came had such fond memories and stories

Evah Jo Doty Funeral Services Held At Sudan

Funeral services for Evah Jo Doty, 86, of Sudan were held at 1 p.m. Friday, July 6 in the First Baptist Church of Sudan with the Rev. Cliff Hargrove, pastor, officiating.

Interment was in Sudan Cemetery under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home. Mrs. Doty died at 11:23 a.m. Tuesday in the Methodist Hospital at Lubbock.

Born Feb. 2, 1904, in Larue, she had been a resident of Sudan since 1929, moving there from Vernon. She was a homemaker and a retired School Teacher. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Sudan and the Sudan Eastern Star. Her husband, Homer Doty died in 1956.

Survivors include three sons, Wayne Doty and J.C. Doty, both of Sudan, and Kelton Doty of Shallowater; four sisters, Inez Bellar of Amarillo, Lela Walker of Odessa, Ama Lee Glover of Dimmitt and Sybnel Darling of California; a brother, Ross Nettles of California; 11 grandchildren; and 12 great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by a daughter, Doris Jean Renfro in 1988.

in Osage County, Okla. and had been a resident of Muleshoe since 1948, moving here from Big Spring. He was a farmer and rancher. His wife, Josephine died Nov. 4, 1968.

Survivors include a son, Bobby G. Free of Muleshoe; a daughter, June Saylor of Clovis, N.M.; six grandchildren; and nine great grandchildren.

Pleasure is the most real good in this life.
-Frederick The Great.

which made the experience of being able to listen to you a thrill and something that should be written in a history book for the house. If you know of something special or have photographs of the house that you would like to share, that would be a great help.

The paint colors were researched and the original color of each room was matched. The colors were and are beautiful together. The original bath fixtures give one a sense of how special the house was in the early nineteen hundreds.

The kitchen sink is a replica of the original sink when the house was new. Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Langer donated the sink to the house.

In the kitchen, if you viewed the house Wednesday, July 4, you would have seen a Hooser Cabinet donated by the family of Betty Jo Carpenter. Mrs. Carpenter said that her mother saved her egg and cream money to purchase the cabinet. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Throckmorton rebuilt and refinished the Hooser cabinet.

There are beautiful pieces of etched glass in the four doors that house the flour bin, spice racks and shelves for staples.

In the ballroom were the radiator covers which have been refinished and will be placed in some of the rooms.

I am interested in any information that might help in locating memorabilia, history, old photographs, etc. which would be helpful in restoring the furnishings back to the original decor and time period. If you have something that might be of help, call 946-3626.

The Heritage Foundation will soon be opening a store front office, small museum, and gathering place for donations for the Heritage Foundation Museum.

Joe and Darla Rhodes have donated a building at 115 South 1st Street to be used until the buildings at the complex are finished, and can be used for showing the collections of area memorabilia.

The Foundation will be needing volunteers to help with the work as soon as the office can be set up. More information will be forthcoming in the near future.

The Heritage Foundation would also like to thank the City Council for the Hotel Motel Tax money and those who helped with the fundraiser in June. Without this money, the Janes House would not have been open July 4.

Muleshoe is a town with a generous heart and shares what it has. The Heritage Foundation Board has one goal and that is to make a place that is both beautiful and educational for our children and their children.

Thank you again, MULESHOE, TEXAS.

Dear Robert:

I would like to thank the nice people I met while on my short stay here in Muleshoe. I met the nicest people I met in my life.

I would like to thank the girls at Leal Restaurant, girls at Sonic Drive In, the lady at J&L Fashions, also the nice folks at the VFW.

Most of all, Robert Orozco for being so nice and so helpful. Of course, the staff at Heritage House Inn, then again, why not nice, we are all Texans -- Right?

Thanks again for a great time. Sorry it took me so long to come back. Will try to come back again when I can spend more time.

Mr. Lea and Pat Lucero. (Editor's Note: Lea Lucero is believed to be the first Hispanic born in Bailey County.)

(He also wrote -- My outfit I was with was D-I-2 (Dog Company), 1st Battalion, 2nd Marine. We were a machine gun outfit attached to B-Co. for the landing. As you can see, we were the first troop to land against Japan in World War II.)

Creative Living

By Sheryl Borden

Information on using convenience foods, the history of Pepper Patch, and taking advantage of microwave cooking will be the featured topics on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, July 10 at 12 noon and Saturday, July 14 at 2 p.m. (All times are Mountain.)

Bonita Snyder is with Bama Pie, Ltd. in Tulsa, OK. Ms. Snyder is going to talk about using convenience foods and adding a personal touch to make them seem even more special. In this case, the convenience foods are pie and tart shells. She will show how to use prepared pastry to make several different snacks.

Dot Smith is president and founder of Pepper Patch in Franklin, TN. She turned her hobby of cooking into a thriving national business. Even though the business is no longer operated out of Ms. Smith's own kitchen, the methods remain unchanged. Pepper Patch is known for using only the best produce, the best grains, and the best dairy products. Each item is baked with homemade goodness. Ms. Smith will demonstrate some of her favorite recipes.

Janet Emal is a specialist in the area of microwave cooking and spokesperson for the Pillsbury Co. She will show how to prepare vegetables in the microwave oven and will also introduce a new Pillsbury microwave cake mix that is on the market. Ms. Emal is from Phoenix, AZ.

On Tuesday, July 10 at 9:30 p.m. and on Thursday, July 12 at 12 noon, "Creative Living" will present information on computer software available for the home office and recipes for cooking for the diabetic.

Joe Glover, founder and president of Learning Technologies in Dallas, TX, will discuss the advantages and uses of his home computing software called "Go!". The software makes writing a simple letter, recording recipes, balancing a check book, even keeping track of the kids' schedules much easier. The computer can be a real asset—if you know how to use it effectively.

Vickie Watts, Marketing Home Economist with Southwestern Public Service Co. in Roswell, N.M., will demonstrate helpful methods of cooking for the diabetic. Vickie will show her recipe for the Diabetic Holiday Cake which uses artificial sweeteners and is cooked in a convention oven. "Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show is carried on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO. Viewers can request copies of materials offered on the show by sending one 25 cent stamp for each handout requested. Send the stamps, along with your name, address and booklets requested to:

DIABETIC HOLIDAY CAKE
2 cups flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1 cup whole cranberries
1/2 cup walnuts, chopped
8 maraschino cherries, chopped
1/2 teaspoon orange extract
1/2 cup dates, chopped
1/2 cup currants
1/2 cup orange juice
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons oil
1/2 cup sugar or 2 tablespoons liquid artificial sweetener
2 tablespoons hot water
1 tablespoon orange rind, grated

Preheat oven to 350 F. Combine flour, baking powder, salt, soda and spices in a large mixing bowl. Add cranberries, nuts, cherries, dates, and currants; toss to coat with flour mixture. Combine orange juice, egg, oil, sugar, and hot water, blending well. Add orange rind and orange extract. Pour liquid mixture over the dry ingredients and mix only until they are moistened. Spoon into a greased loaf pan. Bake 50 minutes to 1 hour or until brown on top (top will have a firm crust). Cool slightly and remove from pan.

Makes 12 servings.

Library News

by Anne Camp

CALLING ALL KIDS!...The 1990 Summer reading Club will start with registration on Monday, July 9th, for kids from kindergarten thru 5th grade. It will be five weeks of reading fun with treats and prizes and Movies every Friday. The special program for pre-schoolers will be a "Read-To-Me", where a parent or older person reads their books to them, and keeps a record of books read, with certificates earned, and treats and prizes just like the older children get.

So, Kids, get out your detective hats and equipment--this year the secret code is R.E.A.D. and get ready to solve untold mysteries and search for hidden clues in activities at the library this summer! A parent needs to come with their small children to register. Every child will need to have their library card, or their family card when they come, and have a clean library record. If you need a card or need to pay back fines, you can take care of that before July 9th.

The Texas State Library sponsors, in cooperation with local libraries, the Texas Reading Club and furnishes posters, bookmarks, and Certificates using the theme for the year as well as a handbook for the librarian to use. The Reading Club offers a structured program with a variety of literature related activities, films and other events.

The ever faithful Friends of the Library have been signing up sponsors with treats for the kids to earn. So far we have: Bob Donaldson-Pay & Save Grovery, Fry and Cox, Gordon Wilson, Put-Put Golf, Feature Attractions, Pizza Hut, Sonic Drive In, Dairy Queen, Trophys and More.

If there is anyone else who would like to help encourage kids to read, please contact the library or Kay Graves...and our kids thanks to all who help!

Provence, Kay Engagement

Those At Risk Should Handle Uncooked Eggs With Care

For healthy adults, the risk of contracting Salmonellosis from raw or undercooked eggs is extremely small, but others are vulnerable to this disease.

"The very young, the elderly pregnant women and people with weak immune systems due to illness are more susceptible to food-borne illness," said Dr. Mary Kinney Sweeten, nutritionist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Eggs are perishable and should be properly stored and cooked to prevent the growth of potentially harmful bacteria, such as Salmonella enteritidis, she said.

"Always keep eggs refrigerated before preparation," Sweeten said. "They should not be stored at room temperature or allowed to sit for more than two hours before or after cooking."

Sweeten said that people considered in the high-risk category for food-borne illness should take these special precautions:

- Avoid eating raw eggs and foods containing raw eggs such as home-made ice cream, Caesar salad and Hollandaise sauce. Home-made eggnog and home-made mayonnaise also should be avoided, but commercial forms of these products are safe to serve since they are made with pasteurized eggs. Commercial pasteurization destroys Salmonella bacteria.

- Cook eggs thoroughly until both the yolk and white are firm not runny, to kill any bacteria that may be present. There may be some risk in eating eggs lightly cooked--soft-cooked, soft-scrambled, or sunny-side-up.

- Eating lightly cooked foods containing eggs such as soft custards, meringues and French toast also may be risky for people with weakened immune systems and other high-risk groups.

Chemical Waste Must Be Handled With Care

Fertilizers and pesticides are common chemicals used on the farm and at home. The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 reminds homeowners and agricultural producers to use safe chemical handling procedures during storage, usage and disposal to protect human health and the environment.

PROPER STORAGE

Proper chemical storage by agricultural producers and homeowners prevents hazards and extends the chemical's shelf life.

Chemical containers should be stored in a locked cabinet located in a well-ventilated area. If the containers are too large to be placed in cabinets, then they should rest on a firm, level base on barn floors. The containers should be regularly inspected to make sure they are leak-free. It is important that all chemicals be stored in their original container with a legible label.

Chemicals in storage should be protected from extreme temperatures and direct heat sources. Chemicals with flash points of 140 degrees F or less can be fire hazards. (Water boils at 212 degrees F.)

Dusts and wettable powders may cake when subjected to wide temperature variations. Liquid formulations may crystallize out of solution and lose their effectiveness when exposed to temperatures of 32 degrees F or below.

To reduce the potential for groundwater contamination, it is important that agricultural and household chemicals never be stored near wells or in well-houses.

STORING LARGE CHEMICAL AMOUNTS

If chemicals in storage exceed more than a few gallons, producers and/or homeowners should note the following storage practices.

Chemicals should be kept in a locked storage area which is well-ventilated and clearly identified as a chemical storage area at all entry points. Stored

Lee Horsley, who was in Muleshoe for a family meeting, spoke to the group and the first thing he did was to thank everyone for being so great to "my dear grandmother (Allie Horsley) and I wish my grandfather (Chet Horsley, deceased) could have been here."

Horsley told of acquiring an interest in the entertainment field around the age of 17, while still a high school student.

After graduating from high school, and attending college, he went to New York, and was very broke, and according to the TV star, "down to eating chicken wings," when he was offered a place with a TV soap opera. He said his agent suggested he turn down the stint with the soap opera, and sure enough, a TV slot came through with "Nero Wolfe."

Horsley said a TV star's career is very similar to an athlete's career. He commented "You just never know. You're only as good as your last part."

He talked about getting into 'the business,' commenting, "You really have to prepare for it. You have to learn to face rejection, and not take it personally. And, once you get there, you better know what you're doing."

Being a family-oriented person, the TV personality said his favorite role is his current role in "Paradise." He said he most enjoys family shows, those where he can sit down and enjoy them with his children.

He also said he believed TV was finally becoming an event again, and is not "just a distraction" as it was for many years in the past.

The TV personality fielded a lot of questions from the audience before he again sat down.

Also, his wife, Stephanie, suggested that people should let the networks know what TV we want in our homes. She said we need to let them know what programs you want your family to watch.

Visiting Rotarians were Doris Reding of Levelland and Jack Greathouse of Portales.

chemicals should rest on a stable base and should be kept away from feed and seed.

All chemical containers should be dated, and a log of all chemicals and the amount stored should be maintained.

Chemical containers should be regularly inspected for any leaks, tears or punctures.

Persons storing large quantities of agricultural and/or household chemicals should check with fire protection authorities and public health officials concerning possible legal ordinances. Those persons who store more than 55 gallons or 500 pounds of chemicals combined are governed by Texas Agricultural Hazard Communication Act provisions.

Empty chemical containers should be kept in a separate, safe storage area pending disposal.

PROPER CHEMICAL USE

Homeowners and producers should use special care when applying fertilizers and/or pesticides.

It is important to purchase and apply only the amount of chemicals needed. Stockpiling chemicals only increases the potential for accidental spills.

Read and follow the manufacturer's label directions. Persons should use the recommended lowest effective chemical application rate. The old adage, "if one pound is good, then two pounds is better," doesn't apply to agricultural or household chemical use.

The proper protective gear is a must when applying agricultural chemicals. A long sleeve shirt, gloves and a face mask are recommended to protect applicators.

In order to reduce the chance of chemical spills near well sites, producers should move their nurse tanks about 100 feet from the well.

During the nurse tank filling operation, producers are reminded to use check valves in hoses to prevent back-siphoning from the tank to the well. If check valves are not used, then the water supply hose should be secured above and out of the liquid in the nurse tank.

Producers are also reminded that they should never leave a filling tank unattended, since it could overflow. The label recommended chemical amount should be added to the nurse tank only after it has been filled with water.

PROPER CHEMICAL DISPOSAL METHODS

All empty chemical containers should be properly disposed of to avoid chemical contamination.

Producers should pressure rinse or triple rinse empty chemical containers and add the rinse water to the solution to be sprayed on the field. Chemical containers should not be re-used except for refills of that specific chemical.

Producers should properly dispose of chemical containers according to the product's label directions. Unwanted chemicals should never be poured into open, abandoned water wells or other openings in the ground.

Homeowners and producers should use a minimum amount of rinse water when cleaning spray equipment after use. If the chemical was applied outdoors, the rinse water should be sprayed back on the field or yard.

After the empty container has been thoroughly rinsed, homeowners can wrap it in newspaper and/or a paper sack and place it in a dumpster for disposal in a sanitary landfill.

For more information on agricultural/household chemicals and groundwater, contact the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas 79405 or call (806) 762-0181.

Letter To The Editor Policy

The Muleshoe Journal and Bailey County Journal welcomes letters to the editor on issues of concern to readers. Such letters must meet certain qualifications in order to be considered for publication.

Letters must bear the writers signature, address and phone number in order that the authorship may be confirmed.

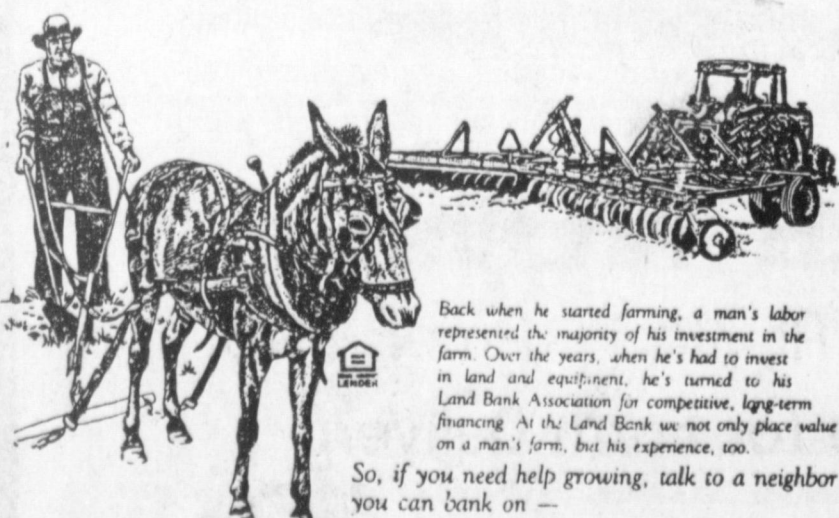

Under some circumstances we will delete the name of the writer, if, in our judgement, the request to do so is justified.

Letters should not exceed 250 words and must meet standards of good taste as well as legal guidelines. Letters attacking another person, a church or specific religion will not be published. Comments on issues are encouraged in order to maintain a forum for discussion of public views.

Experience —

We consider it money in the bank.

A face lined by dry, hot summer days, harsh winter, and seven-day work weeks. But there is sparkle, too, remembering warm spring sun or gentle rains and acres of cotton.

Back when he started farming, a man's labor represented the majority of his investment in the farm. Over the years, when he had to invest in land and equipment, he turned to his Land Bank Association for competitive, long-term financing. At the Land Bank we not only place value on a man's farm, but his experience, too.

So, if you need help growing, talk to a neighbor you can bank on —

Material Available To Save Wildlife

By-products of the pulp and paper industry produced in Bellingham, Washington have given new hope to those struggling to develop ways of saving beaches and wildlife during an oil spill disaster like that in Alaska or this month's Mega Borg spill off Galveston.

Tests have shown that the materials can nearly eliminate damage to marine organisms living on beaches during a spill and experience by wildlife experts has shown the product to be effective in saving the lives of birds and animals caught in a spill situation.

Bill Friesen, general manager of Absorption Corporation, the makers of Absorbent W and its sister product, Absorbent AA, recounts the company's experience during the Prince William Sound spill in Alaska as an example of what the products can do. "As a test, we were invited to treat a beach with our product while a second beach nearby was treated with the conventional procedure of direct skimming of oil," he says. "Thirty days later all of the steamer clams on the conventionally treated beach were dead while mortality on the beach protected by Absorbent W was at 0 percent. That's a pretty impressive record and is tremendously significant to states like Texas and Louisiana where spills are almost inevitable over time."

Absorbent AA was used to save American Bald Eagles during the Alaska spill. According to James R. Scott, a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine at the Arctic Animal Hospital, "ABSORBENT AA's performance was a significant factor in our ability to save eagles injured during the Alaska spill. The eagles brought to us at the Camp Carroll Eagle Facility were the ones that had been captured and were not expected to live because of the quantities of oil ingested. We desperately needed a highly absorbent, low dust, non-toxic material to use as bedding in the animal cages. This product performed wonderfully and was a tremendous help in allowing us to save several dozen bald eagles that might have otherwise died."

The importance of a material capable of high absorbency and non-toxicity to wildlife rehabilitation during a traumatic event like an oil spill is stressed by Nancy Summers of the Wildlife Center for Disease & Toxin Investigation in Kenwood, Calif. "For years wildlife rehabilitators have tried to find a material that is both safe for birds and animals and allows us to minimize contact with the injured patient," she says. "This absorbent fills the bill on all counts and has allowed us to save many patients that would have died without it."

With the success it has demonstrated in mitigating the effects of oil spills on beaches and wildlife it would seem that the Absorption Corporation products would be widely used but that, according to Friesen, is not yet the case. "We have a product that's fairly new on the market," he says. "Before a spill happens there isn't a high priority placed on testing and obtaining a product like ours and once a spill actually takes place, more traditional and less environmentally beneficial products are used because no one wants to take a chance with something they haven't used before. It's a kind of bureaucratic catch 22 but we're confident that public pressure to save the beaches and animals during an oil spill will eventually result in our product's being used throughout the world. It's mostly a matter of educating company and government officials to the fact that the best way to control a spill and reduce its effects on the environment is to act before a spill takes place rather than react after the fact."

Friesen said he hopes the Mega Borg fire and oil spill will act as a spur to officials responsible for spill mitigation on the Gulf Coast to investigate products like his and stockpile necessary quantities so that future spills can be controlled and environmental damage reduced to as near zero as possible.

Texas Visitors Fond Of Flowers, Spring Scenery

The beauty of Texas, freshened by the green of springtime and splashed with the color of roadside flowers, is highly rated by visitors to the state, according to the latest edition of the Texas Auto Visitor Survey.

The spring survey was taken during March, April, and May. Almost 62 percent of short-term visitors (those staying less than 30 days) gave "scenery" as one of their answers to the question "What did you enjoy about Texas!" And nearly 47 percent of them mentioned wildflowers.

Long-term visitors liked our wildflowers, too. That was the second most popular answer, right behind the perennial number-one response, Texans' legendary friendliness. Scenery was cited by 70 percent of long-term visitors.

The most-visited city in this quarter's survey for all visitors was San Antonio. For short-termers, Dallas and Houston ranked second and third, as usual, while those staying more than a month reported Brownsville and Harlingen as the second and third most-visited cities.

The Texas spring also brings migrating birds--and migrating birders. More than 46 percent of long-term visitors reported bird-watching as one of the activities they engaged in, as did 18 percent of short-term visitors.

The survey report includes statistics for the previous four quarters and an annual average. The 17 survey questions include the age of the travel party, accommodations used, miles driven, and attractions visited.

The survey is completed by visitors who stop at Texas Travel Information Centers. The centers serve as Texas' front doors, where travel counselors extend hospitality to tourists arriving from all directions. On the average, more than a third of survey respondents say their information-center stop influenced them to see more attractions, and more than a third say they were induced to see more of the state.

A free copy of the detailed report is available by writing Texas Auto Visitor Survey, Box 5064, Austin, Texas 78763.

Smokers Reap Benefits Of Quitting

No "butts" about it--smoking is hazardous to your health and the sooner you quit, the better. On July 5th, one day after Independence Day, the American Lung Association will urge Texans to join millions of Americans in declaring their freedom from smoking. Non-Dependence Day calls attention to the dangers of nicotine dependency and the benefits of quitting. It is also a day when family and friends of smokers can encourage their loved ones to quit.

"We want to make people realize that there are both immediate and long-term advantages to kicking the habit," said Edward Carter, executive director of the American Lung Association of Texas. Within two weeks of quitting, a person's energy level rises, toxic gases will no longer irritate the eyes, nose, and throat, and one's sense of taste and smell improve. Over time, the risks of developing lung cancer, emphysema, and chronic bronchitis, are greatly reduced by stopping smoking.

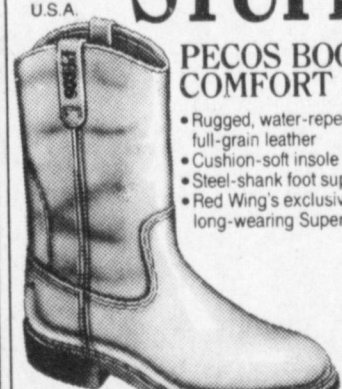

If you're ready to declare your freedom from smoking, the American Lung Association has a few tips:

- Throw away all smoking materials and ashtrays;
- When you feel the urge to smoke, take ten deep breaths;
- Prepare a non-smokers kit that contains: Toothpicks, straws, chewing gum, sunflower seeds, and raw vegetables;
- Make a list of the reasons you stopped smoking and keep it with you; and
- Practice saying, "No thank you, I don't smoke."

For more information on smoking cessation, call Dain Gilham at the American Lung Association of Texas at 1-800-252-LUNG or (512) 343-0502.

There is a need to look back occasionally to get our bearings for the future. Past experiences often guide future action. What has proved good and profitable in the past will often prove to be the same in the days ahead. Serving God and our country through our churches and through civil and community service has always elevated us as a people and contributed to our image as a free and just country. We will not go wrong in adhering to these practices.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Texas Historical Commission Hosts Hearing

The Texas Historical Commission will host a public information meeting in Austin to determine the need for creating a Historic Cemetery Coordinator position on the THC staff. The hearing will take place at the John H. Reagan Building, Room 103, 105 W. 15th Street, on Thursday, July 12, at 1 p.m.

Grave markers and burial sites of pioneer cemeteries and community and family plots often reveal significant data about Texas' settlement patterns, its ethnic origins, and its cultural folk art. They provide essential statistics that are valuable to historians, archeologists, genealogists, and students of culture generally. However, historic cemeteries frequently are vandalized, neglected, built-over by developers, or opened to cattle grazing.

Increasingly, the THC receives calls for assistance from preservationists across the state who have little knowledge about or recourse for protecting these plots. Many cemeteries are located on private land and often are inaccessible. "Cemeteries are cultural and historic resources for which no centralized preservation assistance is available currently," said Cindy Sherrell-Leo, director of the THC's County Historical Commission and Museum Services Department. "By creating this position we'll be able to provide a clearinghouse of information and respond more effectively when cemeteries are threatened. We'll also be able to offer much needed workshops to inform preservationists about identification and survey methods and ways of protecting these resources."

The THC is the official state agency for historic preservation. Its staff administers a variety of programs that seek to protect the state's historical, archeological, and cultural heritage.

Anyone interested in preserving Texas history is invited to attend and participate in the hearing. Parking is available free at the Capitol Visitor Parking lot, located at 15th Street and Congress, one block east of the Reagan Building. For further information, contact Cindy Sherrell-Leo, 512/463-6100.
