Second Lieut. Edward Bowlds of Omaha shows his certificate of appointment to a girl friend. Bowlds, 19, has been commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U. S. army reserve and may soon be directing rookies twice his age. He is a 1942 high school graduate.

Victory At Stake At Planting Time

The Food For Victory campaign can be won or lost at planting time.

That's the warning W. E. Bentley, chairman of the Lamb County USDA War Board, gave today in urging farmers to consider carefully their plans for seeding this year's crops and to put forth special efforts to do a good job of planting.

The War Board Chairman reminded farmers that cotton and wheat allotments still were in effect and urged that all farmers plant within their allotments so as to release as much acreage as possible for the production of food and feed crops needed to win the war.

"America has a two-year supply of wheat and more than a two-year supply of most kinds of cotton," Bentley declared.

Fieldton Singing Convention Sunday

On account of bad weather the Lamb County Singing Convention at Fieldton was postponed from last Sunday until this coming Sunday afternoon, March 8, commencing at 2 o'clock.

All lovers of song are invited to be on hand to receive the new books and practice for the All Day singing at Littlefield, March 15.

It was pointed out that it will be necessary to look over the new songs in the new books, and practice some as a large number of singers from a distance will be at Littlefield, and local singers should be familiar with the new songs. Also local singers are urged to be on hand at Fieldton, to make arrangements for the Littlefield singing.

Japs Retreat back In Java 7 Miles

It was reported Wednesday that the Dutch and the Allies had driven infiltrating Japanese invaders back 7 miles in an important sector, and were beating forward in a supreme counter-offensive aimed at chasing everyone of the enemy into the sea.

The push, location of which was undisclosed, followed a three-day stand during which the Allies had yielded no ground since the Japanese invasion began.

Allied bombers and warships likewise were in heavy action against the enemy's ships and sea lanes.

An upward turn in the fortunes of Allied forces afield already had been indicated by the declaration toward midnight of an authorized spokesman:

"It can be stated without reservation that the situation remains well in hand on all fronts."

DATES SET FOR REGISTERING UNDER SUGAR RATIONING PLAN

Individual Users To Apply Monday, Tuesday, Mar. 9-10

Trade Will Register For Ration Books March 18, 19 And 20

Littlefield individual users of sugar will register and receive ration books at the local elementary school Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 18, 19 and 20, while all trade users, up to and including the wholesale level, will register and receive ration books at the high school building on Monday and Tuesday, March 9 and 10.

A meeting has been called by the Lamb County Rationing Board, of which C. O. Griffin is Chairman, and Joe Wells and Guy Willis, members for Saturday afternoon, March 7, at 3 o'clock, at the Court House, Olton, where all County Superintendents are urged to be present to receive instructions, and be issued ration books for the various cities and communities in the County, which they will, in turn, transmit to the teachers.

As previously announced, the Federal Government has asked that public school faculties issue sugar rationing stamp books.

Dan A. West, Director of the Consumer Division of the office of Price Administration, has advised that:

"Consumers will have to certify the amount of sugar they have, on hand when they register for War Ration Book No. 1. For all sugar in excess of two pounds per person, stamps will be torn out of the ration book, preventing further purchase of sugar until the hoards are (Continued On Back Page)

Heart Attack Fatal To Father-In-Law Of Lieut. Tilden Wright

Cecil Shane, 55, of Blytheville, Ark., father-in-law of Lieut. Tilden Wright, prominent attorney and Vice-President of the State Bar Association, passed away suddenly Thursday morning, February 26, about 10 o'clock, as a result of a heart attack.

He had walked down town, accompanied by his wife, he going to his office, and she to a beauty shop, and was only in his office a short time, when the tragic ailment struck.

Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family residence in Blytheville, with Rev. S. B. Wilford, Pastor of the First Methodist Church of that city, officiating; and interment took place in the Elmwood Cemetery of that city.

Mr. Shane, who was a Captain in World War No. 1, was survived by his wife, and only daughter, Mrs. Tilden Wright, the former Miss Patricia Shane; three brothers, Sam and Chris Shane of Paragould, Ark., and J. E. Shane of Hollywood, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. H. M. McKelvey and Mrs. Thomas Bentley of Paragould.

Lieut. and Mrs. Wright, in response to the death message, left immediately Thursday by train for Blytheville, Ark., where Mrs. Wright remained with her mother for a few days, while Lieut. Wright returned to East St. Louis Monday.

Cars Released Monday; Trucks, Pickups March 9

As announced by C. E. Cundiff, Clerk of the Lamb County Rationing Board, passenger cars were released Monday last, and trucks and pickups will be released after March 9, and may be sold to those who are able to qualify and obtain a certificate to purchase.

Application for Certificate may be made to the Lamb County Rationing Board, of which C. O. Griffin is Chairman. Other Members of the Board are Joe Wells and Guy Willis.

Boys Are Building Air Raid Shelters

Avery Sullivan Ordained Tuesday

On Tuesday evening at the First Baptist Church, Avery Sullivan was ordained to the full work of the gospel ministry.

Taking part on the ordaining council were, Roy Shahan, pastor of local Church, who led in the examination of the candidate. The Ordination sermon was preached by Rev. A. A. Brian of Levelland, Rev. W. J. Jackson led in the Ordaining prayer. Rev. J. E. Moore delivered the charge to the church. Rev. L. S. Jenkins gave the charge to the candidate. Rev. Aubrey McAuley was clerk of the Ordaining Council.

Rev. Sullivan has been called as pastor of the Circle Back Baptist Church and is now serving the Church in that capacity.

Other Ordained Ministers present were, Rev. F. N. Allen, Anton, Harold Russ, Earth; Rev. Benny Hays, Amherst.

FFA And 4-H Show Set For March 28

The date of the Littlefield F.F.A. and 4-H Club Project show has been definitely set for Saturday, March 28, according to R. L. King, local agriculture advisor.

All members of Future Farmers of America clubs in the Littlefield districts, comprising 10 schools, and 4-H Club boys in Lamb county will be eligible to exhibit animals in the show.

U. S. cruisers can travel 15,000 miles without touching land.

Air Raid Shelter? . . . Sure hope they are not needed in Littlefield . . . but, in case they are, there will be two—soon completed—at Dr. Coen's and Paul Pharris' homes.

Bobby Coen, Charles Paul and Kenneth Pharris, Joe and Buster Owens, Jr., have been digging several weeks on these air raid shelters. On a recent Sunday afternoon, these boys, instead of going to the show or bicycling, or playing ball, had far more serious thoughts in their minds, as they worked with shovels and picks at the shelter at the rear of the Dr. Coen home, on east eighth street.

Along came Jackie Dodgen, riding Prince, the favorite horse among all the boys.—The lariat from Prince's saddle was used to help with the excavating. As the boys would dig the dirt loose, Prince would back up (Continued On Back Page)

Oil Activity In County Increases

Additional activity, indicating that there will be extensive oil drilling operations in this section in the not distant future, became known this week.

The latest development is a well confirmed report that representatives of a number of the major companies are in this territory in connection with contemplated drilling operations.

The Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. will make a location immediately in the Fieldton section, it is reliably reported. This company is known to have extensive lease holdings in the Fieldton section.

A block of leases is being assembled southwest of Enochs, but it is not known for whom these leases are being obtained.

Machinery Materials Directed At Food For Victory Goals

Production of food and feed and conservation of metals, rubber and other materials needed for guns, tanks, ships and planes, is the double war responsibility Lamb County farmers have this year, V. F. Jones, member of the county USDA War Board said this week.

Materials used in manufacture of new machinery is being directed at Food for Victory goals, he said. At the same time output of equipment needed in turning out our farm products under 1942 goals is being stepped up, equipment for products less essential to the war program is going down.

For example, Jones explains, quotas of metal and rubber for use in manufacture of dairy machinery and equipment range up to 213 percent of the materials used for similar purposes in 1940, since a large increase is being called for in the dairy products.

In contrast, materials necessary for making one-horse, single-row corn planters are limited to 35 percent of the 1940 level. For combined (Continued on Back Page)

Patriotic Program Tonight (Thursday)

Another of the series of Our America Programs will be held Thursday evening, March 5, at the Littlefield High School auditorium at 8:30 p. m. These meetings, at which the attendance is rapidly increasing, are sponsored by the local Civilian Committee for the development and Maintenance of Home Morale during the present national crises.

At the Thursday night meeting the same general procedure will be followed. Group singing of various favorite American songs will be conducted and key citizens of the community will make brief announcements concerning general problems of local and national interest.

These meetings are free and open to the entire public as far as the auditorium capacity will go.

Judge Doss Advised Tuesday That Lamb Eligible For Plan

Application For Food Stamp Program Made By Judge Two Years Ago

The food stamp plan is expected to be established in Lamb county soon, as announced in a letter from Congressman George Mahon to the Lamb County Leader, dated February 27. In his letter Mr. Mahon also added;

"Your County and City Officials are to be commended for the successful efforts".

Tuesday the Leader was in receipt of the following wire from Latham White, Assistant Regional Director, Dallas;

"The following wire was sent to County Judge Stanley A. Doss—Conformed with the interest expressed by Congressman Geo. H. Mahon, as well as local interests, this will confirm District Supervisor C. B. Hodges invitation to attend meeting in Amarillo today regarding inauguration food stamp program Lamb County. If negotiations are completed immediately organizing can start at early date."

Judge Doss, was unable to attend the meeting in Amarillo Tuesday, but later in the afternoon was advised by wire from the Regional Director, Dallas, that Lamb County was eligible now to go ahead and prepare for such a food stamp program, which will be inaugurated as soon as the County can qualify.

In an interview with Judge Doss he stated;

"I made application for the Food Stamp program over a year ago, and made two trips to Dallas in (Continued on Back Page)

Committees Go To Work Under Salary Allotment Program

Large Establishments Cooperate 100% Before Canvassing Gets Started

A special campaign is now underway in Littlefield to bring about the universal use of the salary allotment plan in the purchase of Defense Bonds and stamps.

Pat Boono is Chairman of Lamb County, while Mancel Hall has been elected Chairman for the Littlefield campaign, and the members of his committee are Arnold Purtell, W. D. Watkins and Elmer Moore.

At a meeting Monday committees were selected to canvass the business establishments of the city; and at a committee meeting held Tuesday night at the City Hall, the city was divided by blocks and the Committees were assigned their work.

The canvassing of the business establishments got underway Wednesday morning by the following committees:

Mancel Hall and Dennis Jones; C. O. Stone and Jimmie Ware; M. M. Brittain and I. D. Onstead; Homer Hall and Bill Chesher; Grover Dennis, J. C. Elms and Gene Yeager; Lester Hewitt; Bill Jeffries and Buster Owens; Lloyd Sewell and Lowell Short; George Sandidge and Earl Luce; Elmer Moore, Arnold Purtell; Dodd Weatherly and Gene Lair; W. G. MONEY TO BURN

It may be difficult to locate people who are making more money than they can spend, but the government estimates that there will be over 30 billion dollars of unspendable money paid to the United States during 1942.

The experts say our national income during 1942 will amount to at least 95 billion dollars and that the things available for purchase, including homes and all kinds of merchandise, will amount to only 65 billion dollars worth.

When people make more than they can spend, it usually means that prices go up. It means competition among purchasers. If there are 100,000 bicycles available and 200,000 people wanted to buy bicycles, ordinarily the price would soar to the point where half of those people would be forced out of the bidding.

But with price control, the whole picture changes. If prices are stabilized at present levels, there may actually be 30 million dollars jingling in the pockets of Americans which will be unusable during 1942.

This means there would be nothing to do with that money but put it in the bank, buy defense bonds or bury it in the back yard.

We used to talk about "poverty in the midst of plenty"—about producing goods which people couldn't buy because they didn't have the money. Now the whole situation is changing to riches in the midst of scarcity.

But if inflation can be avoided and our people can put up to 30 billion dollars in defense bonds and other savings, we can certainly anticipate the highest standard of living we have ever known after the war.

When the war ends and industry is geared to record production levels, then we can draw out that 30 billion dollars and really go to town. In spite of our nation's huge debt and its present war problems, it looks as though we may be able to look forward to a future which will fulfill our fondest dreams.

13,204 NEWSPAPERS

This newspaper is one of 13,204 newspapers which are published in the United States. In addition, there are 5,709 magazines and other periodicals, bringing the total publications of all kinds to almost 20,000.

To read all of the material which is printed in one week would take any one individual a good number of lifetimes. But the interesting thing about America's publications is that each one is published to fulfill a definite desire of a specific group of people.

There is a different magazine to discuss the problems of each line of business. There is a magazine to satisfy the requirements of every type of literary taste. There are magazines to aid you with hobbies, with housework, with domestic problems and with the care of children.

The reason so many newspapers are necessary is because people are primarily interested in local news. The big dailies report the news events of the whole world, but even in these days of war an analysis of any daily shows column after column devoted to the news of the particular city in which it is published. A Chicagoan cannot hope to enjoy reading a New York newspaper as much as he does one of his city papers which report what is happening in his home city.

To fulfill the demand for local news... the news of Lamb county and adjoining territory... and in particular news in which farmers are interested... are the chief reasons for the publication of this newspaper.

Of all the thousands of publications there are, your county publications are the ones intensely interested in you, your welfare, and the progress and development of your county.

So, in spite of the thousands of publications our readers could read each week, we feel that this newspaper gives them something they want which they could not obtain in any other way.

AAA Meeting New Demands On Program

War is making new demands on the national farm program and the program is meeting those demands, according to R. P. Vance, chairman, Texas CROA War Board.

Included in the crops affected by new changes designed to aid and speed the agricultural war production effort are peanuts, castor beans, potatoes and rice, Vance said.

"New amendments are intended to strengthen previous changes, which in general, have opened the way to greater planting of essential war crops, and at the same time provide for maintenance of minimum soil building requirements," the chairman said.

One change in the program provided that full payment will be made on peanut acreage allotments only if at least 80 percent of the allotment is planted. Peanut oil is being depended upon to help relieve the shortage of fats and oils.

Looking to the future, farmers in 24 Texas counties are being asked to plant 3,000 acres of castor beans to help assure plenty of seed for planting in 1943 in case our import situation gets in worse shape.

To encourage greater potato production, maximum potato payments will be contingent upon the planting of 800 percent of the acreage allotment.

Vance stated further that wheat acreage, totally destroyed by cause beyond control of the grower can be replaced, and the original acreage will not be counted as planted to wheat. Rye for pasture has also been added to the list of crops which will qualify for meeting minimum conserving requirements.

A popular theory about the Christmas Star is that it may have been a configuration of the three planets Mars, Jupiter and Saturn; this triple arrangement happens once every 800 years.

ORGANIZE SUDAN CIVILIAN DEFENSE

First steps in the organization of a Sudan civilian defense set-up have been made with the appointment of various officers by Mayor A. Stuart.

Joe C. Hutchinson has been named chief of voluntary participation; L. T. Hunt, fire; Dutch Crow, police; Charles Glenn, public works and utilities; Mrs. Lennie Horn, nutrition; Mrs. D. C. Morrow, public health; conservation, Drew Watkins; raw materials, S. H. Russell; recreation, F. H. Gilley; welfare, Lloyd Robinson.

Further plans await the arrival of instructions for each appointment from the national Office of Civilian Defense.

SUDAN CITY ELECTION TO BE HELD APRIL 7

The first election of the year is not far ahead for Sudan voters.

The city election will be held April 7. The offices of commissioner now held by Lloyd Robinson and Doyle Morrow, and the office of Mayor now held by A. Stuart, will be filled.

No formal announcement by present office holders as to whether they will seek re-election, has been made.

Stuart has been mayor for four years. Morrow has been a commissioner since spring of last year when he was appointed to take the place of D. L. Brown.

BRYANT FEED LOT CATCHES FIRE

About one hundred men of Oton and community went to the aid of Don Bryant Sunday afternoon, February 22, when the feed lot in which he had been feeding out nearly 200 head of cattle caught fire while the Bryants were not at home. The fire was discovered by D. A. Barnette, who lives nearby, about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. When he saw that he could not put out the fire he went to Oton and a fire alarm was sounded. Enough men soon gathered to carry water and prevent the fire from scattering to nearby barns. The fire burned for several hours in stalks and litter on the feed grounds. The high west wind of that day made the fire extremely hard to keep under control, however, there was no loss of property.

TWO CAN SING

by JAMES M. CAIN

CHAPTER VII

SYNOPSIS

Despite Leonard Borland's protests that his bank account is ample, though the contracting business in New York is dead, his pretty, opera-struck wife Doris resumes her "career." Interrupted by her marriage at 19 and the birth of two children, Borland knows her avowed purpose, to bolster the family income, is just another subterfuge. Hugo Lorenz, her teacher, always around, irritates him. After Doris gives a Town Hall recital, Cecil Carver, opera singer, phones Borland. At her hotel, Cecil says Doris has a good voice but lacks style. Cecil is to sing for war veterans but hasn't the words of a certain song. He sings it and she says she has a fine voice. Cecil knows of Doris' baritone voice. Cecil is hopelessly in love with Doris, and that Doris tortures every man she gets in her clutches. Leonard ought to wake her up by giving a recital, she says. "Go get yourself a triumph. Hurry here where it hurts." Cecil demands payment for lessons—Cecil pays but declares he loves kisses. He spends much time with Cecil, making good progress. Doris tells him Jack Leighton is getting her engaged in a movie palace Cecil, an engagement in a movie palace Cecil, on tour, wires him, he sings in upstate on tour, wires him, she gets him recitals, makes a hit and she gets him an engagement with an opera company. Again he is scared stiff but manages to hold his own. A performance of "La Boheme" is on, and Parma, the tenor, is speaking.

So the next thing I knew I was up there in my room with a score, and by one o'clock I had it learned.

"Make 'em dolce. Make 'em nice, sweet, no loud at all. No big dramatic. Nice, a sweet, a sad. Yeah?" Parma begged.

"I do my best," Leonard said.

"You do like I say, we knock 'em over."

So we went out there and got through the gingerbread, and he threw down his pen and I threw down my paintbrush, and we got out the props, and the orchestra played the introduction to the duet. Then he started to sing, and I woke up. I mean, I got it through my head that when that bird said dolce he meant dolce. He sang as though that bonnet of Mimi's were some little bird he had in his hand, so it made a catch come in your throat to listen to him. When he hit the A, he lifted his eyes, with the side of his face to the audience, and held it a little, and then melted off it almost with a sigh. When he did that he looked at me and winked.

It was that wink that told me what I had to do. I had to put dolce in it. I came in on my beat and tried to do it as he did it. When it came to my little solo, I put tears in it. Maybe they were just imitation tears, but they were tears.

We went into the finish and laid it right on the end of Mario's stick, and stopped out the tears in buckets. Buckets? We turned the fire hose on them. I stopped the show. They didn't only clap—they cheered, so we had to repeat it. That's dead against the rules, and Mario tried to go on, but they wouldn't let him. We got through the act, and Parma flopped on the bed for the last two "Mimi's" and the curtain came down to a terrific hand. We took our first two bows, the whole gang that were in the act, and when we came back from the second one Mario was back there. Cecil yelled in my ear, "Take him out, take him out!" So I took him out. I grabbed him by one hand, she by the other, and we led him out, and they gave him a big hand, too. That seemed to fix it up about that missed cue . . .

It was a half-hour before I could start to dress. I went to my dressing room and had just about got my whiskers pulled off, when about fifty people shoved in from outside, wanting me to autograph their programs. I obliged, and signed "Logan Bennett." Then I washed up and met Cecil, and we got a cab and went off to eat.

We went to a night club. It had a dance floor, and tables around that and booths around the wall. We took a booth. We ordered a steak for two, and then she ordered some red burgundy to go with it and sherry to start. That was unusual with her. She's like most singers. She'll give you a drink, but she doesn't take much herself. She saw me look at her. "I want something. I—want to celebrate."

"O. K. with me. Plenty all right." "Did you enjoy yourself?" "I enjoyed the final curtain." "Didn't you enjoy the applause after the O Mimi duet? It brought down the house." "It was all right." "Is that all you have to say about it?" "I liked it fine." "You mean you really liked it?" "Yeah, but I hate to admit it, but I really liked it. That was the prettiest music I heard all night." The sherry came and we raised our glasses, clinked, and had a sip. "Leonard, I love it." "You're better at it than in concert." "You're telling me? I love concerts. But opera—I just love it, and if you ever hear me saying again that I don't want to be a singer you'll know I'm temporarily insane. I love it; I love everything about it, the small, the fights, the high notes, the low notes, the applause, the curtain calls—everything." "You must feel good tonight." "I do. Do you?" "I feel all right." "Is it—the way you thought it would be?" "I never thought." "Not even—just a little bit?" "You mean, that it's nice, and silly and cockeyed, that I should be here with you and that I should be an opera singer, when all God intended me for was a dumb contractor, and that it's a big joke that came off just the way you hoped it would, and I never believed it would, and—something like that?" "Yes, that's what I mean." "Then, yes." "Let's dance." We danced, and I held her close, and smelled her hair, and she nestled it up against my face. "It's gay, isn't it?" "Yes." "I'm almost happy, Leonard." "Me, too." "Let's go back to our little booth. I want to be kissed."

So we went back to the booth and she got kissed, and we laughed about the way I had hid from Mario, and drank the wine and ate steak. I had to cut the steak left-handed, so I wouldn't joggle her head, where it seemed to be parked on my right shoulder . . .

We stayed a second week in Chicago and I did my three operas over again, and then we played a week in Cleveland and another in Indianapolis. Then Cecil's contract was up, and it was time for her to go back and get ready for the New York season.

The Saturday matinee in Indianapolis was "Faust." I met Cecil in the main dining-room that morning, around ten o'clock, for breakfast, and while we were eating, Rossi came over and sat down. He didn't have much to say. He kept asking the waiter if any call had come for him and bit his fingernails, and pretty soon it came out that the guy who was to sing Wagner that afternoon wouldn't come to the theater, on account of a writ his wife would serve on him if he showed up there, and that Rossi was waiting to find out if some singer in Chicago could come down and do it. His call came through, and when he came back he said his man was tied up. That meant somebody from the chorus would have to do it, and that wasn't so good.

And then Cecil popped out: "Well, what are we talking about, with him sitting here. Here, baby; here's my key. There's a score up in my room. You can just hike yourself up there and learn it." "What? Learn it in one morning and then sing it?" "There are only a few pages of it." Cecil said. "Faust is in French, isn't it?" I said, hopefully. "Oh, dear. He doesn't sing French." But Rossi fixed that part up. He had a score in Italian and I was to learn it in that and sing it in that, with the rest of them singing French. So the next thing I knew I was up there in my room with a score, and by one o'clock I had it learned; and by two o'clock Rossi had given me the business, and by three o'clock I was in a costume they dug up, out there doing it.

That made more impression on them than anything I had done yet. You see, they don't pay much attention to a guy who knows three roles, all coached up by heart. They know all about them. But a guy who can get a role up quick and go out there and do it, even if he makes a few mistakes, that guy can really be some use around an opera company.

Rossi came to my dressing-room after I finished in "Traviata" that night and offered me a contract for the rest of the season. He said Mr. Mario was very much pleased with me, especially the way I had gone in on Wagner. He offered me $150 in on Wagner. He offered me $150 a week. I thanked him, and said no. He came up to $175. I still said no. He came up to $200. I still said no, and asked him not to bid any higher, as it wasn't a question of money. He couldn't figure it out, but after a while we shook hands and that was that.

That night Cecil and I ate in a quiet little place we had found where we were practically the only customers. After we ordered she said, "Did Rossi speak to you?" "Yes, he did." "Did he offer $150? He said he would." "He came up to $200." "What did you say?" "I said no." "Why?" "I'm no singer. What would I be doing trailing around with this outfit after you're gone?" "They play Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, and Pittsburgh before they swing west. I could visit you week-ends, maybe oftener than that. I—I might even make a flying trip out to the coast." "I'm not the type."

"Who is the type? . . . Leonard, let me ask you something. Is it just because his $200 a week looks like chicken-feed to you? Is it because a big contractor makes a lot more than that?" "Sometimes he does. Right now he doesn't make a dime." "If that's what it is, you're making a mistake, Leonard, everything has come out the way I said it would, hasn't it? Now, listen to me. With that voice, you can make money that a big contractor never even heard of. After just one season with the American Scala Opera Company, the Metropolitan will grab you sure. It isn't everybody who can sing with the American Scala. Their standards are terribly high, and very well the Metropolitan knows it. Once you're in the Metropolitan, there's the radio, the phonograph, concert, moving pictures. Leonard, you can be rich. You—you can't help it."

"Contracting's my trade." "All this—doesn't it mean anything to you?" "Yeah, for a gag. But not what you mean." "And, in addition to the money, there's fame—" "Don't want it." She sat there, and I saw her eyes begin to look wet. Then she said, "Oh, why don't we both tell the truth? You want to get back to New York—for what's waiting for you in New York. And I—I don't want you ever to go there again."

"No, that's not it." "Yes, it is . . . I'm doing just exactly the opposite of what I thought I was doing when we started all this. I thought I would be the good fairy and bring you and her together again. And now, what am I doing? I'm trying to take you away from her. I'm just a—home-wrecker."

She looked comic as she said it, and I laughed and she laughed. Then she started to cry. I hadn't heard one word from Doris since I left New York. I had wired her from every hotel I had stopped at, and you would think she might have sent me a post card. There wasn't even that. I sat there, watching Cecil and trying to let her be a home-wrecker, as she called it. I knew she was well; I respected everything about her; I didn't have to be told she'd do anything for me. I tried to feel I was in love with her, so I could say let's both stay with this outfit and let the rest go hang. I couldn't. And then the next thing I knew I was crying, too . . .

We hit New York Monday morning. I put Cecil in a cab and went on home. On the way, I kept thinking what I was going to say. I had been away six weeks, and what I had kept me that long? The best I could think of was that I had taken a swing around to look at "conditions."

When I got home I let myself in, carried in my grip, and called to Doris. There was no answer. I went out in the kitchen, and it was empty. There wasn't a soul in the house.

Starvation facing Occupied Countries

Reports received in London Friday indicated that famine and starvation are facing the occupied countries of Europe, which are being systematically pillaged by the Nazis to provide food for the German people and their armies.

While hundreds of thousands in conquered lands are undergoing untold hardships, the Germans themselves are so well-fed, the report stated, that in some countries they are the principal suppliers of black markets—the illegal food centers where fantastic prices are charged for staples which only a few can buy.

Ironically, dispatches from Switzerland reported the Germans were taking increasingly drastic measures to stamp out illicit trading in food and clothing. Five persons were said to have been executed in Germany or German occupied territory during the past week for such offenses, and heavy fines and imprisonment were being meted out to others.

The inter-Allied committee, which represents every Allied nation in London, said the German pillaging program, "masquerading as purchase," probably would bring starvation to 500,000 in Greece alone before the winter ended.

"One whole generation appears to be already doomed" in Greece said the committee's 6,500 word report.

In France, whence "every day train loads of food go to Germany," the report added, "the whole race is in danger."

Three sources were cited by the committee as the basis of its statements: German official pronouncements; articles in the German controlled press, and evidence obtained from persons escaped from occupied territories.

Mrs. W. L. Chappell Is Complimented At Bridal Shower

Mrs. John Cary, Mrs. Estelle Emberson and Mrs. C. M. Eudy were joint hostesses Wednesday evening, February 25, at a bridal shower at the Emberson home on East Third Street, complimenting Mrs. W. L. Chappell, who prior to her marriage was Mrs. L. J. Carl.

The honoree was the recipient of a large array of beautiful gifts. Those attending and to whom refreshments were served, were; Mr. and Mrs. Press Rains, Mrs. Beulah Orr, Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Carroll, C. M. Eudy, Mrs. Marie Chappell and daughter, Wanda Faye; Betty Jean Cary, Mrs. Bill Salmon, Mrs. Owen Head, Mrs. Mamie James, Mrs. W. S. Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Parker, and Mrs. H. L. Teague.

Sending gifts, but unable to attend, were; Mesdames O. K. Yantis, Jr., Hazel Parker, Evelyn Atwood, Stanley Parker, and L. P. Gordon, and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Gregg, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dysert.

Additional Story To Be Added To Amherst Hospital

Plans for an additional story on the South Plains Cooperative Hospital building at Amherst, are being considered by the Board of Directors, and according to officials of the association it is highly probable that construction of the additional building facilities will begin in the near future.

Tentative plans by the architect indicate that there will be 17 additional patient rooms with a capacity for 20 or more patients, there will also be a delivery room, storage rooms, rest rooms, etc. on the second floor.

Russians Plea For Opening Second Front

The Russian plea for opening of a second front to capitalize on Red Army gains against Adolph Hitler's war machine was laid anew before the Allies by Ambassador Maxim M. Litvinoff Thursday night with a declaration that victory might be won by summer.

Hitler stakes all of his hopes on a spring offensive, Litvinoff told the Overseas Press club in New York.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

York. "He knows that either he will win this campaign and win all, or he will lose it and lose all" the envoy said. "We should like our Allies and friends to see this as clearly as Hitler does and act accordingly."

The possibility of an Allied nutcracker action from western Europe or an oblique alignment through the Balkans or Scandinavia is obviously considered thoughtfully in Berlin.

A Berlin dispatch received via Stockholm by the London News Chronicle said "British and American plans are in being for an imminent attack on the northern Norwegian and Finnish coasts in order to secure communications with Russia through Curmansk."

Sport . . . Scraps

BY WILSON BRAZZIL

As it will soon be "curtain" time for basketball in this area, we wonder if it wouldn't be possible to organize a City Softball League. The cost of equipment is slight, talent is plentiful, and a League of this sort would go a long way toward furnishing good clean fun for a large percent of Littlefield's male population.

Employees from various local business firms would no doubt be glad to sponsor a team and a regular playing schedule could be worked out with very little trouble on the part of any one concerned.

Another sport that we think should be inaugurated in West Texas is six-man football, among the smaller schools at the opening of the next football season. It's primarily for schools who can't scrape up enough money or players for a full eleven man squad and it has become quite a favorite sport in some sections of the state. The rules are very nearly the same but due to the small number of players composing a team, the plays are not so complicated to the spectator and moves along a lot faster. We're sure there's a lot of small schools in Lamb and adjoining counties who would enjoy playing six-man football.

Several local basketball fans journeyed to Lubbock Monday night to see the world's tallest basketball quintet, the North Texas Buffaloes, tangle with the Tech aggregation. Incidentally, early in the season, the Buffaloes had a six game average of approximately 70 points per game.

And speaking of basketball, the State Girl's tournament is due to be played in Waco in the near future and this year, as in the past, the South Plains will send their strongest schoolgirl team to compete for state honors.

Over a period of several years, teams from nearby communities have been in the thick of the battle and last season the Anton girls captured the State championship.

Quite a few local bowlers, unable to resist the longing for a game of ten pin or duck, have been frequently visiting the lanes at Levelland and Lubbock.

Generally speaking, the Texas Plains are not very well adapted to winter sports, such as skiing and ice skating, but we did see several motor drawn sleds cruising around hereabouts through the 'snow' over the week end.

The tire shortage will no doubt cause many summer vacations to be spent at home and local tennis courts, golf courses, horse-shoe pitching grounds and even the "ole swimming hole" is in for a busy season.

Last Rites Held For Infant Sons Of Lieut., Mrs. Webster

Last rites were conducted by a Baptist Pastor at the Craeger Funeral Home, Lockney, Texas, Friday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, for Malcolm J. Webster, infant twin son of Lieut. and Mrs. George Webster, formerly of Littlefield, but who has been stationed at Camp Bowie, Brownwood. Interment took place in Lockney Cemetery.

Two sons were born to Lieut. and Mrs. Webster at the Medical Arts Hospital, Brownwood, Wednesday, February 25, and Malcolm J. passed away the next day, 14 hours after birth.

Later on Saturday, February 28, the other twin son died at the Brownwood Hospital, three days after birth.

Funeral service for the second infant was conducted at the Craeger Funeral Home, Lockney, at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, with interment in the Lockney Cemetery beside his brother.

Lieut. Webster was formerly connected with the West Texas Cotton-oil Company here; was stationed at Brownwood until very recently, and has now been transferred to camp in Louisiana. Mrs. Webster is still confined in the Brownwood Hospital. Her condition though serious, is slightly improved.

Attending the funeral services from here Friday were; Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Bigham; and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Brown and niece, Miss Anna Neale, of Littlefield. Mrs. Bigham is a sister-in-law of Lieut. Webster.

READING GIVEN AT CLUB MEETING

The following is a reading given at a recent meeting of the Blue Bonnet H-D Club:

The Defense Program has allotted us rural women the job of being just what we should have been all the while—good homemakers. None of us have completely measured up to this standard, so our new war-time orders are:

"Make the good better and the better best". We are also asked to conserve our time as well as our resources. We should study nutrition more effectively by using our knowledge in practical demonstrations in our homes, then watch the results and profiting there.

The study and practice of furnishing food clothing, and happiness in our own homes, so as to develop sound bodies and healthy, happy minds in our children is our part in winning the war.

V for Victory which is real and potential must be in the morale of the homes of America". This is our job and it is not an easy one. In order to assume our task we have to almost forget our own emotions and reactions during this time of stress. We must be brave enough to keep our own heads up no matter what comes.

We cannot afford to bow our heads, yielding to sorrow because it would easily have paved the way to defeat.

The rural home makers of America must not only keep on doing all the tasks we have been doing, but doing them much better, and we must, as much as possible, radiate a glow of happiness and light through the stormy gloom of sorrow which has spread over the earth.

These are our orders:
Be thou the rainbow to the storm of life;

The evening beam that smiles the storm away.
And tints tomorrow with prophetic ray.

The need for more families of Christians will be stressed, and a prize will be given the largest family group attending.

This Should Interest Ripley

Here's one that should interest Ripley.

Highway Patrolmen Herman Cusser and W. C. Lehman, who are stationed at Littlefield, Saturday chased an army sergeant from one mile west of Lubbock to Sudan, a distance of approximately 55 miles.

For a good percentage of the chase the police officers' automobile was floor boarded at 95 miles per hour.

The officers first noticed the army man's car when it is reported to have passed a truck on the right, and they gave chase. At Shallow-water they turned on the siren and the chase got underway in earnest.

When the officers caught up with the sergeant's car, the young man, who was accompanied by a girl friend, told police that he had obtained a one-day leave, and that he was on his way to visit his parents in New Mexico.

When the army man left Sudan he was $14 lighter by a fine of that amount on a speeding charge.

And the officers reported the occurrence to the sergeant's commanding officer. Did the sergeant keep his stripes? Perhaps he did . . . and perhaps he didn't.

Farmers Spring Offensive Underway

COLLEGE STATION, March 2.—Agriculture's spring offensive is under way.

All over Texas farmers are planting the crops which will supply America with the record supply of food needed to win the war. America's armed forces, workmen, and people as a whole, as well as her Allies, will need vast amounts of food if they are to carry on to victory.

Calling attention to the launching of this spring offensive, the farmers of Texas will observe Plant for Victory week, March 1-7, as proclaimed by the Texas USDA War Board.

"This farm offensive is just as important as any military drive," B. F. Vance, chairman of the board, declared, "for without the food which agriculture will produce this year, our armed forces will be slowed down, our producers of munitions will be slowed down, our people's moral will be lowered."

Recognizing the importance of agriculture's part in the war effort and the contribution the national farm program is making to the success of that effort, President Roosevelt, Vice President Wallace and Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard will address the farmers of the nation on a nation-wide broadcast, 8:30 p. m. to 9:00 p. m., Monday, March 9, Vance announced. Throughout the state county USDA War Boards are sponsoring meetings of farmers to listen to the broadcast and to discuss local problems affecting agriculture's war program.

SECTION PRODUCES 8,000,000 BARRELS OF OIL MONTHLY

The Permian basin of West Texas has enough oil "to throw Hitler and his ilk into a jealous rage," writes Joe Pickle, Big Spring newspaperman in the February issue of West Texas today.

Pickle asserts that the largest known oil reservoir in the world is that "semi-arid stretch of country sprawling roughly between the 100th meridian on the east and El Paso on the west, the 35th parallel on the north and the Rio Grande on the South". Within this stretch production since the discovery strike in 1920 has exceeded the 1,500,000,000 barrel mark. "Indeed," writes Pickle, "such a chunk of territory would be the answer to the enemy's prayer—but it is so geographically located and so well distributed, and defended by a brand of people the like of none other in the world, that there is small possibility of one drop of oil ever being pumped by foreign direction."

Latest statistics on the Permian basin, as given by Pickle, show monthly production of 8,000,000 barrels from 12,861 wells flowing or pumping. The potential rating of these wells is 12,000,000 barrels a day.

On The Home Front

Ample Clothing Available Fashion will lead the way in conserving scarce fabrics and hoarders who rush out to buy supplies of all the materials which they think may be scarce are going to find themselves badly out of step, both with regard to patriotic sentiment and to style.

This comes from WPB's Bureau of Industrial Conservation, which points out that although silk is out of the picture for civilian use and wool supplies are limited, reprocessed wool, rayon and cotton will furnish a large field from which stylists can choose. Military needs will claim many chemicals used for dye-stuffs and for bleaching, but there still will be print patterns, with grounds so white it will be difficult to believe they have not been bleached.

Refrigerator Supply Limited

Orders to manufacturers, distributors, and retailers freezing and controlling all stocks of new refrigerators—freezing all stocks except those in the hands of retailers or actually in transit to retailers, and allowing retailers to sell one-twelfth the number of refrigerators they sold in 1941, or 100 new refrigerators, whichever is greater, after which the freeze will apply to stocks held by them and future disposition of refrigerators will be only under WPB authorization. Refrigerator production will cease after April 30.

Can Salvage Proposed

Proposed construction of two plants in Texas where tin cans will be prepared for a leaching process used to increase copper production was announced last week through the Bureau of Industrial Conservation in Washington. The plants will be built at Dallas and Houston.

The new plants, which are expected to be in operation by late spring, will clean and shred the tin cans, after which the metal will be shipped to copper mines.

So that the new plant may be assured a plentiful supply of tin cans, mayors of cities where the plant will be located have been asked to be ready to launch local tin can collection campaigns, as soon as the tin shredding plants are built. Meanwhile, however, there has been no appeal for tin can salvage by housewives.

Priority Aid For Farmers

A priority rating of T-10 has now been made available to farmers for maintenance and repair of agricultural machinery. The rating may not be used, however, to obtain or replace items of capital equipment, nor is there any guarantee that the A-10 rating will be sufficient to obtain delivery of all types of repair supplies containing scarce materials.

County H. D. Agent

Job No. 1 In Growing A Food-For-Freedom-Garden:

Determine where you'll plant vegetables and how much land you'll use. For the housewives convenience put some of the well fenced garden plot near the house.

Those who have the land should plant cucumbers, cantaloupes, watermelons, sweet and Irish potatoes, tomatoes, field peas and beans in the field with the row crops; plant those where the soil is favorable; where windbreak protection will be provided; and where cultivation with regular farm labor and equipment will be easy.

On most farms there should be a frame garden to lengthen the season for the quick growing vegetables such as tender greens, spinach, lettuce, radishes, and green onions.

TEXAS HENS DOING THEIR PART IN ALL OUT WAR EFFORT

College Station, February 23, -- Texas hens are doing their part in the all out war effort, judging from the announcement of the State U.S.D.A War Board today that over 1,990,000 pounds of dried eggs at prices between $1.06 and $1.10 per pound, were purchased from egg drying plants in the state during January by the Surplus Marketing Administration, U.S.D.A. for Lend-Lease shipment and other purposes.

Since about three dozen medium-sized eggs are required to make one pound of dried eggs, purchases last month represented around 5,970,000 dozen shell eggs, it was pointed out. "Dried eggs are especially important these days because they take up only a small part of the shipping and storage space fresh eggs would require and they do not need refrigeration," Emmett A. McBryde, Austin, SMA Assistant District Supervisor and member of the Texas U.S.D.A War Board, said.

Purchases of dried eggs and other farm commodities for Lend-Lease shipment, community school lunch programs, meeting Red Cross orders, and similar purposes, are being made by the Surplus Marketing Administration as a part of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's broad plan to help assure farmers a fair return on their full production, it was explained.

"At the same time, these and similar programs are helping to build and maintain the fighting strength of soldiers, workers and the people —both at home and abroad—in the struggle against aggression," McBryde said.

Y. W. A. House Party At Wayland College

The twelfth annual session of Y. W. A. House Party was held at Wayland College on Friday and Saturday Feb. 27-28.

The Theme for the meeting was, "The Light of the World". The program was under the general direction of Mrs. J. Lowell Ponder, Young Peoples leader of District nine.

Miss Wilma Weeks, a Missionary from China, who is back in the states on furlough, brought very informing and inspiring messages about conditions in war torn China. Though these Chinese people are suffering much at the hands of the Japanese, they face the future with anticipation for better conditions ahead.

Those attending from local Baptist Church were, Mrs. Roy Shahan, Miss Ruth Jordan, Miss Inell Biffle, Miss Roy Jean Shahan, Miss Nellie Carter, Miss Wilda Callis, and Miss Roverta Sullivan.

and Mrs. J. M. Thomas here. R. C. Thomas and W. W. Thomas are brothers of J. M. Thomas, and they came here to observe with the Thomas family the birthday of the Littlefield man, who was 74 years old on February 26.

Local Pupils Compete In Amarillo Music Festival

Music should have its place in the National Victory program, believes Mary Ruth Boles, teacher of Applied Music in Littlefield.

In order to encourage pupils to make the most of their lessons; to help parents to realize the most from money well invested in music lessons for their children; as well as to contribute to the National Victory program, Miss Boles is offering Defense Stamps as prizes to her pupils for various achievements.

For each ten hours' practice, a ten cent defense stamp will be placed in the pupils' individual stamp book. Likewise, each piece memorized, each piece played from memory in public, each piece transposed to every major key, each step in learning scales and chords completed, each section completed in the music scrapbook will win a defense stamp.

Plans are underway for the B. Natural Club, of which Miss Boles is Counselor, to take part in the Competitive Music Festival to be held in Amarillo, March 28 by the National Federation of Music Clubs. Those preparing numbers to play or sing there, are; Billie Marye Hopping, Connie Wray Hopping, Jackie Farr, Billy Orr, Deann Kinkler, Mata Dell MacFarland, Grace Verneal Clark, and the girls quartet, consisting of Helen Heathman, Bettye Walters, Billie Lou Pruitt, and Roy Jean Shahan.

Mrs. Storey's Mother Injured In Fall

Mrs. C. L. Wines, 82, of Brownfield, mother of Mrs. W. D. T. Storey, was unfortunate enough to fall Saturday, causing a fracture to her right hip. Another daughter, Mrs. Earl Anthony, who had been staying with Mrs. Wines, had stepped out for a few minutes, when her mother fell.

Mrs. Storey went to Brownfield Sunday to be with her mother, whose condition is critical, though it is not known now just how serious the results of the fall might be.

R. L. Gibson Would Like Some Of His Mom's Cooking

The many friends of R. Lee Gibson will be interested to learn of a letter received Monday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gibson, which was dated from Barking Sands, Kauai, T. H., February 21, and postmarked Honolulu, Hawaii, February 23, as follows:

"Just a few lines from your soldier boy to let the world know that I am still able to kick. Send my wishes that all are happy and that Texas is not under water yet.

"Yesterday I was sent over here to replace a Sgt. Petty, who broke his arm. Will be here until he is able to take over again. This is a nice place here—still I don't get cooking like yours, Mom, (as tho' I ever will until I get home again). "Three more of my buddies in the company are going to Officers Training School—Sgt. Segwell, Sgt. Salamon, Cpt. Hamilton. Would like to be going, too. However, I haven't tried as yet.

"One of these days if I can get a pass here I want to look through the Wimea Canyon. It is called the second Grand Canyon, only this is one is Hawaii's version. Probably some propaganda like all the rest about these "Paradise Islands".

"There is so very little to write about now. Nothing about weather, one's work, can't tell you about where some of my friends went or hardly anything I do now.

To Vote May 2 On Marketing Quotas

Nearly 100 million bushels more than last year, or the greatest supply on record, describes the present wheat situation, according to Charlie L. Thomas, State AAA committeeman and wheat grower from Pampa.

"We'll go to polls, Saturday, May 2, to vote democratically and co-operatively on whether we want to continue marketing quotas, and that's more than other farmers in the world can do," he said.

To be in effect, quotas must be approved by two-thirds of the farmers voting. Last year, in the first referendum, wheat farmers approved quotas by an 81 percent majority.

Island Paradise Target for Jap Attacks

After the fall of Singapore, Bali, the island paradise in the Netherlands East Indies, became one of the principal targets for Japanese invasion attacks. Strong Japanese landing forces are said to have invaded the island which lies only one mile east of Java, the main Allied base. Here is a scene in the picturesque island. A patron god sits guard at a crossroad.

Chief Executive Outlines U. S. Strategy

President Roosevelt declared in a world-wide radio address that the United Nations will "soon have the offensive" in the war. The President said that if we withdrew our forces from the outposts of the United States it would make the course of the Axis powers easier in Europe and Asia and that we would not follow an "ostrich" strategy to win the war. He is shown pointing to map as he made his momentous talk to the world.

J. E. Brooks Now Operates City Garage On Highway

J. E. Brooks, formerly of Hale Center, but who has been operating the garage at the rear of the City Service Station on Highway 7 east of town, for the past several weeks, recently purchased the City Service station from M. W. Brewer, and is operating it in conjunction with the automobile repairing.

Mr. Brooks operated a garage doing general automobile repairing in Hale Center for three years previous to coming to Littlefield.

Mr. Brooks also purchased the M. W. Brewer residence across from Improvements Are Underway At Morris Service Station

Improvements are underway at the Morris & Son Service Station on Highway 51 owned and operated by H. F. Morris and son, Floy. An addition has been erected adjoining the present building on the south side, which will be used as an office, and a further addition will be erected on the south of the structure. The service station already has two cement driveways, and a third driveway is under construction. They now have 7 gas pumps and a kerosene pump, having installed four new pumps in the past month. Elton Jones and Buford Nichols are doing the work.

New Furniture Store Is Established Here

A new Littlefield business enterprise is the Wilson Furniture Store, which is being installed this week in the Barnes Building, just north of the Santa Fe Grille, by J. E. Wilson, who for the past three years has been in the furniture business at Plainview, operating with a partner, Mr. Dye, under the name of Dye & Wilson Furniture Co.

The new concern will carry on business under the name of Wilson Furniture Co.

They will handle a full line of new and used furniture, and also buy used furniture.

Sidewalks At Church Now Being Laid; Pews To Be Installed

Work is now underway on laying the sidewalks at the Methodist Church, which is expected to be completed this week, according to Rev. Jim Sharp. A. H. Lollis and J. D. Richards are doing the cement work.

"The lawn will then be prepared for spring," said Mr. Sharp.

It is expected to complete the interior of the church within the next two weeks, and to install the new pews and chairs for the choir in about that time.

CROSS KNITTING WOOL TO BE AVAILABLE WITHIN 30-60 DAYS

Announced by Mrs. Simon D. Chairman Production Committee Lamb County Chapter American Cross, headquarters has released following information concerning the wool for knitting of articles for the United States Armed Forces. The available 1,300,000 pounds of yarn will be distributed to chapters throughout the United States on a per capita basis of 1 pound for each 100 population. The types of garments to be made will be determined by the needs of the Army, Navy and Air Forces and will be allocated to each chapter by Headquarters. This wool will be available, it is hoped, within 30 to 60 days.

"It is realized that the curtailment of the knitting program in some of the communities will be a keen disappointment to many women who have been participating in this work. I am sure, however, that their real desire is to cooperate fully with the government in its plans to utilize all existing resources to meet the most urgent needs of the moment. And these women, I am sure, will hold themselves in readiness to resume activities on an expanded scale on short notice whenever that should become necessary", says Mr. Williams B.

Less Poll Taxes Paid This Year

After a recent check of the poll taxes paid this year, I. B. Holt, Tax Assessor-Collector reveals that 4,136 Lamb County citizens are qualified to vote in the 1942 elections. There was a decrease in payments in most of the 16 precincts of the county compared with 1940. Earth, North Sudan and Pep, all have more poll taxes paid than in 1940.

The following comparison is given.

boxing tournament Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, March 5, 6 and 7, according to announcement today by Coach Sam Bryan of the high school.

A regular high school tourney will be conducted, plus three weights for amateur outsiders, Bryan explained. Special divisions will be created for boys 95 pounds or above and for boys 105 pounds or above. The other divisions will be as in Golden Gloves tournaments, except that light heavyweight and heavyweight divisions will not be offered to high school students. For outsiders three divisions — light, welterweight and heavyweight — will be offered.

Trophies will be awarded first and second place winners among high school teams and golden gloves will be awarded first and second individual winners.

Bryan said he was expecting entries from a widespread area. The tournament will replace an annual Lions Club boxing tournament which was discontinued this year.

Production Credit Encourage Home Gardens This Year

Production Credit Associations are encouraging members to increase home gardening this year as one of the vital phases of war production efforts, according to President Virgil P. Lee of the Production Credit Corporation of Texas.

"The associations, which are farmer-stockmen owned cooperatives that provide credit service for every county in Texas, have always maintained that live-at-home programs are a fundamental principal of sound farm management", he said. "In this all-out war effort there are added incentives for producing and consuming food at home. Transportation and distribution facilities needed for military purposes will be released, families will be better nourished and home labor can be turned into cash savings."

The 36 associations in Texas have notified member-borrowers and other farmers and ranchmen in their respective territories that they are ready to take on additional business to aid in the national effort to attain Food For Victory goals, Lee said, pointing out that the associations all feel that home gardens are a basic part of the program.

and haul it out of the "air raid" shelter. Prince finally balked, when the shovels got too close to him, so the hard task of lifting dirt out was again started by the boys.

"When we get this one deep enough, we'll build it up even with our rock fence, and see, here will be the entrance," Bobby told the writer. We're sure the top will be covered with sheet iron.

Work on the shelter near the garage at the Pharris home is also progressing, as these boys have been pals a long time, and take time about, working on them.

They will need to insure these shelters though!

The last house built by the boys, ably assisted by Miss Mary Jane Coen, was just a frame building, but they had a stove in it. One afternoon when they were making candy on this stove, (That was before sugar rationing was started) . . . the house caught fire and damages were estimated "a total loss." Even one of the boy's jackets burned! . . . Also, that was before United States declared war.

All of these boys are Boy Scouts, so they are doing their part for National Defense.

"I think it will only be a short time before the Government will send someone here to setup the program, which is worked out by the Department of Agriculture. Under the present setup needy families as well as WPA workers receive their grocery allotment from the government warehouse, but under the Stamp Food plan, they will be obliged to buy them from the local merchants. Under the program they will buy a certain number of stamps, with which they may purchase any merchandise they wish, but with that certain number of stamps bought they will be given free food stamps according to the number in the family and with those stamps they must buy surplus commodities from the local merchants.

"The Government supplies people on relief with certain surplus commodities. Under the stamp plan this will be stopped, and stamps will be issued, and they must buy from local merchants the same surplus commodities.

"There will be considerable preliminary before the program can get underway. The Government will send a man here to make a survey of the county; cooperation of the merchants will have to be secured; plans will have to be made to open an office, and a Government man will need to be here to sell and take care of these stamps."

The Stamp food program will apply to all merchants in Lamb County, according to the County Judge.

"Under the rationing plan, sales of sugar will be restricted to something less than a pound of sugar per person per week. Sugar rationing will work no hardship on anyone.

"He suggested that every household figure out approximately the amount of sugar to which it will be entitled under the plan. "Try limiting your use of sugar to that amount. If you find you are using more than that, see where you can eliminate and cut down things like cake frosting, home candy making, rich desserts and heavily-sweetened beverages. Then when the rationing plan is in operation you will know how to make the best use of your family's ration.

Used Clothing Needed By Housekeeping Aid Project

Necessary To Give These Practice In Making Garments

So To Supply Need of Clothing For Welfare Needs In Littlefield

According to the Lay Committee Housekeeping Aid Project in Littlefield, there is an urgent need for making over into other garments, the purpose of which is to give the aides practice in making over garments from used materials, and at the same time help the need of clothing for well-needs.

Plenty of Action

clothing so donated must be clean and suitable for making over. This group will appreciate very much any donations of clothing, which is urgently needed at this time.

Tom McFarland, U. S. Marine, Hopes To Get Home In Time To Finish College With Sister

The U. S. Naval Censor, instead of blacking out the words used in letters from boys in the service that shouldn't be told, started several months ago cutting the words from the letters or envelopes.

However, the first letter to arrive at this office that had been "wheeled" on, was from Tommy McFarland, who is, no doubt in the east Indies, and the letter was mailed on the USS Houston.

The letter was brought to the Leader office last week end by his father, A. H. McFarland, who resides on Oklahoma Ave. The letter was dated and postmarked December 29, 1941, and Mr. and Mrs. McFarland and daughter, May Dell received it February 19. Tommy enlisted in the U. S. Marines June 1, 1941.

His letter in part is printed below;

"Dear Family;

"Well, I guess you remember me? Your Prodigal Son. Having some time down here, but boy, is it hot, this old sun really comes down, but evenings are cool. Went ashore yesterday and walked until I was so sore I couldn't hardly handle a pen this morning. Didn't see anything of much interest except a few — (Cut Out) — and a lot of pretty flowers. Bet you would enjoy those Mother.

"Well Kids, I can't say too much, and, of course, nothing about operations. But don't worry about me. I'm in the safest place I could be in . . . (Cut Out) . . . Just have my room ready for me when I get back, for believe me I'm going to fix her up, and I'll have the material to do it with.

"Would certainly like to see a little of that snow and feel the need of an overcoat again.

" . . . I'm sure my little sister is quite a young lady now, how about that. . . Well, maybe I will be able to graduate from college with her. Wouldn't that be swell, though.

"Well, tell all hello for me, and hold the fort down. I'll be home one of these fine days, asking a lot of questions, and my pockets full of tea, but until then just don't worry.

"Your Son, "Tom"

P. S. Gained four pounds since war was declared."

His father said he weighed 198 pounds the last time he was at home.

Mrs. E. S. Billings Has Interesting collection Of Birds

Interesting, indeed, is the variety of singing birds which E. S. Billings has in cages at the Billings Hatchery here.

Mrs. Billings, besides her chickens, is much interested in various kinds of canaries and singing birds. At present she has 64 singing birds on display at the Billings establishment. These include the German Rollers, of a variegated white and blue color, and the Canary Chopper, which are in plain yellow and spotted black and yellow.

Mrs. Billings explained to the Leader reporter that the German Rollers sang with their mouths closed, while the Canary Chopper sings with his mouth open.

She also explained that the German Rollers were available in almost any combination of colors, including red and white, blue and white, etc.

Briefs From County Agent's Office

Clean quarters and sanitation is one very important step in growing baby chicks. If the chicks are to be put in a house that has previously been used for poultry, be sure and give it a good cleaning. Sweep as clean as possible and then scrub the floor and lower part of the wall with hot lye water.

Have the brooder regulated and everything fixed just right before the chicks are placed in the house. It will save trouble later on.

Use every precaution you can to reduce the fire hazard. Fire prevention is more important now than ever, not only around the brooder house but on the entire farm. Many things that might burn cannot be replaced. We must save everything we can.

We believe that best results can be obtained in feeding baby chicks by using a good commercial chick starter, at least until the chicks are 6 weeks old, however, if you want to use a home made mash we recommend the following formula.

6 lbs. meat scrap, 6 lbs. cotton seed meal, 6 lbs. soybean meal, 20 lbs. shorts, 8 lbs. whole ground oats, 42 lbs. ground yellow corn, 2 lbs. dried whey, 5 lbs. dehydrated alfalfa leaf meal, 1 1-4 lbs. poultry bone meal, 2 lbs. chick oyster shell, 1 lb. salt and 1-8 lb. cod liver oil.

If you have trouble with toepicking and cannibalism with the chicks we suggest the following remedies.

Keep the chickens outside of the house as much as possible. If that does not stop the trouble, or if the weather is too bad for them to be outside, add one tablespoonful of salt to the gallon of drinking water. Give this for one-half day and then give fresh water. Repeat the treatment if necessary. Two pounds of salt added to the mash feed or a mash feed containing a high percentage of whole ground oats should help prevent cannibalism.

A district meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau will be held in Lubbock on March 16th. It is expected that a representative group of Lamb County farmers will attend this meeting.

You know that the most economical way to feed a hog is to provide green pasture, a self feeder containing threshed grain and a protein supplement. If you don't have the milk, use a mixture of tankage and cotton seed meal mixed half and half as the protein supplement. A pig with that kind of a chance will make a hog out of himself.

Green feed is a very important part of the ration of a laying hen. If you do not have green feed available, a good substitute is to soak alfalfa hay overnight and feed in racks.

March 1 to 7 has been designated in Texas as "Planting for Victory Week." It is too early for us to plant in this part of the state weeks visiting Mr. Fair's brother, Claude Fair, and family at Paris, Texas. Mr. Otto Fair was suffering from rheumatism and went to East Texas for his health. He is improved.

but we can do some planning. Are you making plans to produce all of the food commodities that you possibly can this year? Are you planning your farm operations to require just as little hand labor as possible? The farm labor situation will be serious by summer, it may be that your own family labor is all you can count on—so planning is important.

In a deal consummated last Thursday, L. J. Simmons purchased the stock of the Wingo "66" Service Station on west highway 8, and is now operating the station as the Simmons "66" Service Station.

Mr. Simmons has been connected with local service stations the past year, and has many friends in this vicinity whom he invites to visit him at his new location. He is married and has two children.

driver forced into the spot of leading a fleet of trucks over the Burma Road is moving and heart-warming.

Laraine Day creates an unforgettable portrait of a woman's blind devotion to her man, whatever the consequences—until she sees the havoc he has wrought.

The story opens in New York with the capture, single-handed, of two killers by Nelson. He is invited to lead the caravan, wants to refuse but is trapped by his own ego. He meets Miss Day in Rangoon. She talks herself into passage in order to meet her husband, held captive by the Chinese. Their trip over the Burma Road provides all of the thrills, action, comedy and pathos one can ask of any film.

"Ride 'em Cowboy," Comes To Palace With Dick Foran, Anne Gwynne, Johnny Mack Brown

Hailed as the most elaborate as well as the funniest of the Abbott and Costello starring comedies, Universal's "Ride 'Em Cowboy" takes over at the Palace Theatre, Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday. Headliners in the large supporting cast are Dick Foran, Anne Gwynne, Johnny Mack Brown, Samuel S. Hinds, the Merry Macs and Ella Fitzgerald. Featured musical and dancing aggregations include The Hi-Hatters, The Buckaroo Band and the Ranger Chorus of 40.

Backgrounded against an Arizona dude ranch, "Ride 'Em Cowboy" is said to contain everything necessary in the way of parade grounds for the antics of the two stellar zanies, including indians, rodeo aces, bucking broncos, wild steers and feminine pluckitude. Among the players are a bevy of bathing beauties and the seven most beautiful cowgirls in the world.

Two of the most picturesque dude ranches in Southern California—the B-BAR A near Newhall and Rancho Chihuahua in Solemint Canyon—were among the four location sites used by Director Arthur Lubin in the production of the offering. A third spot was Ravenna, a whistle stop 60 miles from Hollywood, where Universal built a tepee village. Romantic interest in "Ride 'Em

Let's all keep in mind that the production of food is increasing in importance every day. Food is the most important item necessary to carry on a war.

Particular emphasis should be placed on the production of dairy products, pork, lard, poultry products, and fats and oils.

It is up to the farmer to do everything he can to produce these commodities and as cheaply as he can. It is not only a good patriotic thing to do, but it will also pay off in dollars and cents.

Our milk production in Lamb County can be easily increased by better feeding.

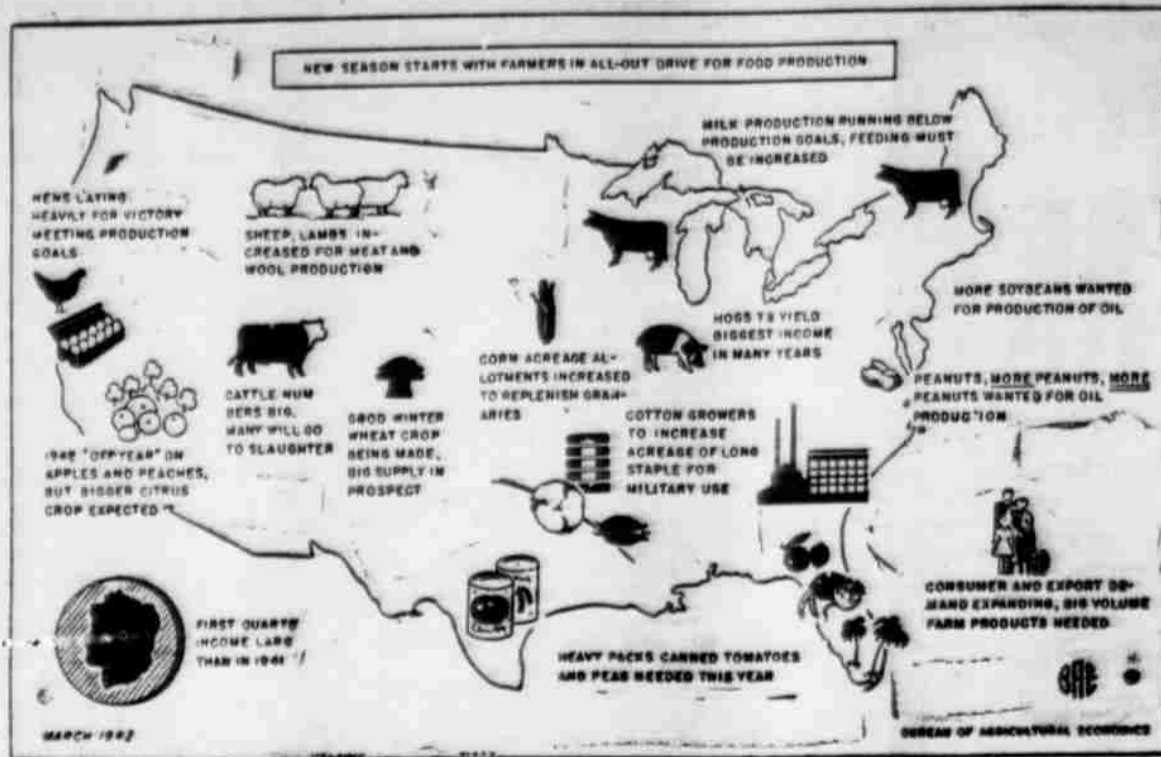

We know that good management and good breeding makes for production, but the production must be fed out of the cow.

Feed a balanced ration and feed three and one-half pounds of grain feed for each gallon of milk. Give the cow all the roughage she will eat, too.

The average cow will not get enough salt from licking a salt block. Provide some additional salt.

If you have alfalfa hay available,

Current U. S. Agricultural Picture

four pounds per cow per day is sufficient to prevent any trouble from vitamin A deficiency. One pound of alfalfa leaf meal will serve the same purpose.

We would like to hear from more of you men who may be interested in planting sugar beets this year. If you are interested, let us know and as soon as we have something definite, we will get in touch with you.

Aubrey Bingham, who has been in charge of the Triple A work in Lamb County for the past 18 months has joined the navy and reported to Dallas last Wednesday.

It is likely that within a short time there will be only women left in our county office—and maybe an old man.

If any adult farmer of Lamb County would like to bring some pure bred animals to the 4-H-FFA livestock show at Littlefield March 28 for exhibition, he should contact W. B. McAllister, Assistant County Agent, not later than March 20. These animals would be only for exhibition and would not compete for premiums.

H. T. Duke, former assistant county agent who is now serving in the Army, will give a gold medal to the 4-H Club boy who exhibits the best showmanship at the Littlefield show.

This is to again remind you of the district meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation meeting at Lubbock next Saturday, March 14. The meeting will be at the Lubbock Hotel and will start at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Ernest Gaston was hostess to the Blue Bonnet H. D. club this week.

Mrs. W. E. Stephens opened the program with a reading.

Subject of lesson—Getting the most from your garden.—Thou shouldst eat to live, not live to eat.

Mrs. Meyer gave some helpful suggestions on frame gardens. For best success, dig down ten or twelve inches and remove soil. Mix well with fertilizer. Place tilling about center of bed. Replace soil that has been removed and mixed with fertilizer.

Make a frame about a foot high or more and cover with thin material. Do not make a frame garden too small. Should be nearly 20 feet long and five or six feet wide.

First planting should be lettuce, radishes, spinach, and mustard.

Morris Dulaney New Scout Field Executive Here

Two new Boy Scout field executives have been assigned to South Plains Boy Scout Council, reporting Monday, to replace men who have gone into Army service, according to announcement Saturday by Jack O. Stone, chief executive of the council.

They are Morris Dulaney of Waurika, and O. K. Reynolds of Swenson, Okla., succeeding Bob Dennis of Littlefield and J. C. Grimes of Plainview. Stone is accompanying them this week to areas of the council on get-acquainted visits. Both are married, and Mr. Reynolds has one child.

Mr. Dulaney, 31, is a former student of Oklahoma A. & M. college, and has been engaged in Boy Scouting activity in Black Beaver Council, Chickasha, Okla. Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney will live in Littlefield. They are members of the Methodist Church, and his territory will include also Amherst, Sudan, Anton, Muleshoe, Matador, Spur, Dickens, Mrs. Gaston and Mrs. Brontner were appointed to display Victory Garden seed.
