MDTA School To Start Here

The Manpower Development Training Act school is scheduled to start here Nov. 1, J.R. Lynch, TEC manager stated yesterday.

The twenty week school will provide for ten weeks of training persons on irrigation and an additional 10 weeks on tractor driving and maintenance.

The school is primarily designed for heads of households with the basic pay being $31 per week plus an additional amount for each dependent. If the trainees live out of the Littlefield area they will receive an additional $35 per week. The basic pay is also raised from five to thirty dollars a week after the student has completed five weeks of schooling.

Lynch stated that the opening of school will depend on the number of applicants as a class of 30 is required. Persons interested in attending the school should contact the TEC office within the next day or two as a report must be submitted so that a definite date and number of students can be determined, stated Lynch.

Day Changed

Jim Latimer, of the Lubbock District office and Social Security field representative for this area has announced that a change has been made in his schedule.

In the future he will be available in the County Courtroom at 9 a.m. each Tuesday morning. For the past twelve years he has been in Littlefield on Thursday's.

School Board Agenda Light

Littlefield School Board members discussed proposals for the construction of bus facilities as one of seven items acted upon at their meeting Monday night.

Plans involving the construction of a paved parking lot for the buses and the building of a maintenance shop were discussed, with the possibility of having the area fenced in.

The new construction would be a replacement for the bus garage which was blown down last July.

In other action the Board approved the athletic budget with minor changes and approved the financial statement submitted by the superintendent.

The Board also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Karlin Bowman, special education teacher in the elementary grades. She has resigned to take a teaching position in the Amherst School system.

The Board also approved the appointment of Ronald Dreith as Distributive Education teacher and the hiring of Mrs. Hubert Henry to replace Dreith as a high school teacher.

Superintendent Manning outlined the afternoon milk break program put into effect in the primary school last week and stated that over 430 half pints of milk are being given out each day.

The superintendent also outlined the work being done on the Elementary Secondary Federal assistance to schools determined by the number of children from low income families. The Littlefield school system will receive approximately $96,000 from the program.

HOMECOMING

Wildcats Ready For District Race

The victory hungry Wildcats, put to good use the open date of last week, to get their offense in shape for the 3AAA district opener against the Chiefs of Lakeview.

To give added zest to the fare the Wildcats will be spurred to additional heights by the spirit of homecoming, and will be playing before the largest crowd of the year when they attempt to get the district chase off to a flying start.

The Wildcats' proved, against Denver City, a couple of weeks ago they are capable of playing a real good brand of ball, and the spirit demonstrated against the Mustangs has given the squad added desire.

The local crew has spent the last several days working on their offense which has so far failed to come around. Coach John Howle said the scrimmage session held Tuesday afternoon was not what the coaching staff had hoped for, the line continued to look good, but the timing of the 'Cats was off, and the tackling was not as sharp as it should have been. However, Howle said, 'we still have time to get the boys up for this one, and we plan to take them one at a time.'

The Chiefs, who have the doormat of the district for the past three years will come into Wildcat Stadium looking for their first win of the year, and will be out for blood, having nothing to lose, other than taking the Wildcats out of the running.

Scouting reports indicate the big beefy crew cannot be taken lightly. Coach Gene Franklin, who scouted the Chiefs, against Brownfield, said they are the biggest team we have faced this year, and the added weight in the line provides good protection for quarterback Larry Smith who likes to throw the football.

The Chiefs will bring with them a passing game which will be a test for the Wildcat secondary, and much of the defensive work these past days has been devoted to working on the patterns run by the visitors.

One big change in the offensive alignment is the moving of Wilmar Williams to the strong tackle spot, a move brought about by the blocking ability of the former big end, Royce Bussey will take on the chore Williams held down. In the backfield the line up will remain as it has for most of the season with Steve Lewis calling the signals, Larry Schovajsa at running back, Tim Tapley on the wing and Charlie Powell at full. Schovajsa turned

ENTERTAIN KIDS -- Members of Littlefield Volunteer Fire Department played with more than 400 children last Saturday at the Fire Department as part of Prevention Week. Firemen handed out ice cream, donated by Vigo Peterson, Cokes, bubble gum, suckers and doughnuts from 1 to 6 p.m. as hundreds of young boys and girls saw the fire equipment and enjoyed themselves.

OVER 600 WINNERS

Citywide Treasure Chest Event Begins Today

The merchants of Littlefield today kick-off a giant city-wide treasure chest event which features over $2000 in prizes and will have over 600 winners.

The big two day event is being staged with the cooperation of the Retail Council of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, and has more than 40 participating merchants who are offering gifts ranging from hair sets, to sport coats and free hamburgers and malts.

A key is attached to today's copy of the Lamb County Leader, excepting those going through the mails, if the key opens the lock on the big treasure chest located at Fourth and Phelps, you are a winner of what is listed on the slip you draw from the chest. Hours for the big event are from 9 to 5 Thursday and Friday.

In addition to the big treasure chest the Littlefield merchants have gone all out to provide many unusual bargains, in an effort to show their appreciation for the support their customers have given them through the trying days of the summer when the big downtown project was underway.

The merchants of Littlefield have extended an invitation to everyone to come in and try their keys, and maybe they will be the big winner.

A Chamber of Commerce vice president, Leon Slaughter said if the weather during the event becomes unfavorable the chest will be moved into the old Southwestern Public Service Building in the 400 block of Phelps.

Five Orders Passed By Court

The Lamb County Commissioners Court passed five orders at their October meeting Monday.

The Court approved the payment of bills and then approved reports from County Agent Bill Kimbrough and Home Demonstration Agent, Lady Clare Phillips.

The third order passed was the leasing of four rooms in the County Courthouse basement to the Farmers Home Administration for a period of approximately two months until offices of the FHA in the basement of the Post Office are remodeled.

The commissioners court then approved the quarterly report submitted by the County Treasurer Lucy Moreland.

The last order passed by the court was the approval to purchase an additional 34 sections of shelving for the County Library for new books.

FHA Office Moves Location

Truman Jones, County Supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration announced that for approximately the next two months the FHA offices will be located in the basement of the Lamb County Courthouse.

The move is due to the remodeling of the Post Office building and Jones stated that they will move back to their former offices upon completion of the Post Office project.

Jones also announced that the annual farm tour conducted by the FHA will be conducted next Monday afternoon. The tour will leave from the County Courthouse at approximately 1:15 p.m. Monday and all interested persons are invited to participate in the tour.

undoubtedly go higher. Livestock production, on a small or large scale, is worth any farmer's consideration.

We hope you will take advantage of all the homecoming activities Thursday and Friday nights, beginning with the bonfire on Thursday and carrying through with the Pancake Supper, sponsored by the Lions Club, Friday night and then on to the ballgame beginning at 7:30. Homecoming is a time when you have the opportunity to renew old acquaintances and discuss how it was when you were in school. It is one of the finest times of the year for many people, and one we are in favor of. It gives us the opportunity to see how our classmates are doing, and even a chance to pick up ideas on what the city they are living in is doing. It's a good time for all and one that should be supported by the entire community. We hope we will see you Wildcat fans at a number of Homecoming functions Thursday and Friday beginning with the bonfire.

EAT PANCAKES WITH THE LIONS FRIDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Chisholm In Business 40 Years

Among the pioneer residents who have seen Phelps Avenue develop from a dirt road lined with hitching rails and mud holes into a beautiful street complete with planter boxes, covered canopies and piped-in music, is Mrs. J. E. Chisholm, who has been a Littlefield resident 40 years.

Mrs. Chisholm has the distinction of being in business here longer than any other woman, most of the time on Phelps Avenue. She and her husband, the late J. E. Chisholm Sr., and three children moved here from Lamesa in 1925.

They put in the first school store here, which was located next to the building that is now Elementary II. It was under construction at that time and served as the high school until about 1950. Mr. Chisholm was grade school principal and teacher about nine years.

In 1927 the couple opened the first photography studio which they operated until 1946. It was the only studio in the county for a number of years.

Predominant in the changes noted by Mrs. Chisholm are the numerous and modern churches now in Littlefield. When the Chisholms arrived there were only five or six churches. There were very few brick buildings and many of the houses were made from boxcars or were half dugouts.

During the four years their son, J. E. Chisholm Jr., was in the Air Force, Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm managed the florist shop for him as well as operating the photography studio. That was during the time florists raised their own flowers and Mrs. Chisholm recalls the concern they had of early freezes.

Mrs. Chisholm and daughter, Miss Louise Chisholm, opened Louise's Dress Shop at 402 Phelps Ave. in 1947 and have operated it continuously since that time. Mr. Chisholm was still eager to work so in 1949 he opened another photography lab in the back of the dress shop, which he operated until his death in 1953.

Mrs. Chisholm was born at Pilot Point and graduated from high school there. She is a longtime member of the First Methodist Church. Her children are J. E. and Miss Louise Chisholm, Littlefield and Eva Gertrude Moony of Clovis, N.M.

PIIONEER SUPER MARKET

Oldsmobile's introduction of the Cutlass Supreme for 1966 brings a four-door hardtop to the F-85 line for the first time. Displaying the same "Hollywood" styling of the full-size, four-door Oldsmobile, the Cutlass Supreme features an extra-luxurious interior and optional vinyl-clad roof. Like all of the Cutlass models, the Supreme is powered by the 10.25-to-1, 330-cubic-inch Jetfire Rocket V-8 which may be teamed with the highly efficient Jetaway automatic transmission.

1966 Oldsmobiles Go On Display At Jones Motor Company

Jones Motor Company, 801 Hall Avenue, will introduce the new 1966 Oldsmobile line, which is one of the most exciting in the company history. The Oldsmobile is introducing for 1966 a completely restyled line of F-85's and 98's and the Toronado, powered by front wheel drive, according to Mr. Jones. Mechanically all 1966 Oldsmobiles—including the F-85's, Vista-Cruisers, Jetstar, Dynamic and Delta 88's and the 98's—have undergone changes to improve ride and handling, performance, comfort and safety. Safety improvements which are standard equipment include: front and rear seat belts, backup lamps, outside rear view mirror, 2-speed windshield wipers with washers, padded sun visors, and glare reducing surfaces on windshield wiper arms and blades, and on instrument panels.

The Toronado is offered in one body style, a 6-passenger hardtop coupe. It is also available in a deluxe version. The Toronado's modified 385 h.p., 425 cubic-inch Toronado engine is mounted slightly to the right of center. The transmission's torque converter is attached conventionally to the rear of the engine. The remaining section of the Turbo Hydra-Matic transmission is mounted along the left side of the engine, facing forward. A link chain transfers power from the converter to the transmission gear box. Bolted to the gear box is a planetary differential which feeds torque through the two axle shafts to the front wheels.

The Toronado has a perimeter "stub" frame, which supports the drive components and front suspension, terminating with a rear cross bar that supports forward eyes of the rear springs. The rear eyes of the springs are mounted to the underbody. The new adjustable front torsion bar suspension system, and single leaf springs at the rear, augmented by sets of vertical and horizontal shock absorbers, were designed solely for the new automobile. The Oldsmobile 88's and 98's for 1966 have been redesigned to give them a longer and lower look. Rectangular headlamp housings, and new grilles add to the impression of width. The Starfire coupe has undergone extensive exterior changes. New bucket seats are standard, with the full width bench seat optional.

Improvements in instrument panels, interior trims, fabrics and appointments add to the comfort of the full-size Oldsmobiles. In the F-85 lineup, interiors and exteriors are completely restyled. Basic styling of the new F-85 gives the cars a smoother, longer look.

For the first time, Oldsmobile is offering a 4-door hardtop in the F-85 series, available as a deluxe, or as a Cutlass Supreme. The Cutlass Supreme tops the F-85 line.

Oldsmobile is continuing to offer its 330-cubic-inch Jetfire Rocket on F-85 and Jetstar 88 models. The 330, and all other Oldsmobile V-8 engines, are equipped with a new heat valve, a new sealed, higher capacity fuel pump, and a new rocker arm mechanism for improved durability. Four-barrel versions of all Oldsmobile engines, including the 425-cubic-inch Super Rocket powering the Dynamic and Delta 88's and 98's, utilize the Quadrajet 4-barrel carburetor. This new carburetor results in increased engine output, better performance, improved economy of operation, and better idle characteristics.

Plan For Disaster Relief Under Study By State

Texas' plan for offering medical care in times of major disaster has passed the scrutiny of the organizations which will have to make it work. The 10-member State Advisory Committee on Disaster Medical Care have gone over the plan for the third time here and pronounced it "workable and efficient."

Under terms of the Texas plan, in the event of an over-riding emergency situation such as a nuclear attack, various health-related organizations would immediately set into motion their phase of the pre-arranged plan under the general direction of Dr. J.E. Peavy, state health commissioner and executive head of the State Department of Health.

Dr. Peavy's co-director would be Dr. Ben A. Merrick of Dallas, chairman of the Texas Medical Association's committee on disaster medical care.

Most observers of such matters feel that the public health controls which are taken for granted in normal times would be a shambles following a nuclear attack. Dealing with these conditions would be the responsibility of public health personnel.

But actual care and treatment of casualties can only be provided by private physicians, the Texas plan emphasizes.

State associations intimately involved in making the Texas plan work are: medical, dental, pharmaceutical, nursing homes, funeral directors and embalmers, veterinary medical, hospital, osteopathic and graduate nurses.

The American Red Cross and the Fourth Army at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio are also involved.

All these organizations were represented at last week's meeting at the Texas State Department of Health. Reports were presented on the procurement of narcotics in times of disaster; the handling of the San Antonio, Texas flood last spring; and the progress of the medical self-help program in which Texas has led the nation for several successive months.

The objective of medical self-help training courses is to teach at least one member of every Texas family the fundamentals of medical care in situations where the services of a doctor are not likely to be available for extended periods. A subsequent report revealed that the State Health Department now has 107 hospitals, 200 beds each, packaged and pre-positioned at strategic locations throughout the State. Dr. Merrick said the Texas plan was being examined by disaster medical car authorities in other states and on federal government staffs. He said it is likely that the effort in Texas could be the pilot for other state plans to follow.

"Planning like this, particularly the pre-packaged hospital concept, has already proved its value in many natural disasters," Dr. Merrick told the group.

REDUCTION OF CHROME and attention to lighting detail is evidenced in this Cadillac Calais Hardtop Sedan. Moldings around the headlamps are finished in body color paint and the popular and practical Cadillac cornering light is fitted into the front fender, adding to the long appearance of the 1966 model. The parking lamps are an integral part of the grille.

Jones Motor Company Has 1966 Cadillac Show Today

Jones Motor Company, one of the outstanding Cadillac dealers in West Texas, announced the showing of the 1966 line of Cadillac in its show rooms, 801 Hall Avenue.

Engineered for ease of driving with more riding comfort and convenience, the 1966 Cadillac includes a freshly styled, but traditional Cadillac look in front and rear.

"Twelve models -- one more than last year -- go on sale in dealer showrooms on October 14," according to Harold G. Warner, general manager of Cadillac Motor Car Division and vice president of General Motors.

"In the 1966 models a significant improvement in driving ease is accomplished with the introduction of Cadillac's exclusive variable ratio steering," Mr. Warner said. "This new feature gives the same good road feel in straight ahead steering while fewer turns of the steering wheel are required for parking and traffic maneuverability."

New in the Cadillac line-up for 1966 is the Fleetwood Brougham, first introduced last year as an option of the Fleetwood Sixty Special sedan. The extreme popularity of this option, distinguished by a vinyl padded roof, special moldings and nameplate, results in it being offered as a new model.

The Fleetwood Seventy-Five sedan and limousine are completely restyled from bumper to bumper and include all of the 1966 mechanical and engineering features. This is the first major body change in these limited production models since 1959. Two comfort and convenience options are now standard on the Seventy-Fives--a completely new automatic dual heating air conditioning system for front and rear compartments, individually controlled, and automatic load leveler introduced last year.

Added to Cadillac's already established safety features as standard equipment are retractable rear seat belts and padded sun visors. A new safety option is a traffic hazard warning system. This flashing four-way light option is required equipment on all cars sold in New York state.

Dimensionally the new models in the Calais, DeVille and Fleetwood series remain unchanged except for the Seventy-Five sedan and limousine which are slightly lower and longer.

With the new variable ratio steering, first on an American production car, the result is a subtle feel at the steering wheel that gives the driver a better sense of control and allows him more maneuverability with no increase in effort. Full travel of the steering wheel from one extreme to the other is accomplished in one third less turns than in the 1965 model.

The striking front appearance is highlighted by a bolder and broader looking grille, particular attention to lighting detail and the reduction of chrome on the headlamps and fenders.

Although retaining its familiar cross hatch design, the massive look of the grille results from increased spacing of the vertical and horizontal anodized aluminum pieces which are extruded this year rather than stamped. Rectangular parking lights are fitted into the grille and the vertically mounted headlamps are framed in moldings finished in body color paint. The front fender crown moldings have been removed, adding to the clean and lower look of the hood and fender lines.

The side view appears longer because of the way Cadillac's popular and highly functional cornering light is integrated into the front fender extension ahead of the front wheel opening.

A newly styled "going away" look has been accomplished with a redesigned deck lid and new lighting in the tall, rear bumper outers which are split vertically by a heavy chrome bar. The tailored appearance is further enhanced by body color paint in the lower half of the bumper. At night and when the brakes are applied the entire tail light surface shows red.

Additional styling features include a vinyl-covered padded roof, available in five colors at an extra-charge on three DeVille models and the two Seventy-Fives. It is standard on the Fleetwood Brougham. Also included for the first time is a tinted glass rear window on both convertible when soft ray glass is ordered.

Sixteen standard paint colors are available--nine of them new--for 1966. In addition, five new firemist paints are standard on the Eldorado convertible and are available on other models at extra charge.

Interior design and decor is accomplished from a selection of 171 upholstery options, ranging from elegant new brocade fabrics to one of 17 different leather colors.

High customer demand for additional comfort and convenience resulted in the Fleetwood Brougham becoming the top-of-the-line model in 1966. Included in the interior of the new Brougham are two illuminated fold-down trays recessed into the back of front seats, carpeted foot rests and adjustable swivel-type reading lamps. A special touch of luxury is found in this model, the Sixty Special sedan and Eldorado convertible with the use of thick, sculptured walnut wood in the upper door panels and window sills.

Automatic Climate Control-- Cadillac's automatic heating and air conditioning system (formerly called Comfort Control) becomes standard equipment in the Seventy-Fives with individual systems and controls for front and rear compartments. It is available at an extra charge on all other models.

New Elegance! New Excellence! New Excitement!

The finest of all Cadillacs is here! It greets you with an exciting new elegance surpassing even the Cadillac styling triumphs of years gone by. Its dazzling new look is highlighted by a totally new split-level grille and by new clean-swept body contours. And its interiors have never been more breathtaking! New leathers, new fabrics and new appointments with dramatic walnut paneling on all Fleetwood models impart an air of unrivaled distinction and luxury. And Cadillac's traditional engineering excellence rewards you with a number of suspension, chassis, and acoustical advances which result in an almost incredible smoothness and quietness of operation. Finally, consider the excitement of Cadillac's new performance. You'll marvel at the new alertness and the wonderful handling ease provided by Cadillac's exclusive variable ratio power steering. Visit your Cadillac dealer and drive the great new Standard of the World!

To call attention to the value and achievements of this program, the President of the United States has proclaimed Oct. 10-16 as National School Lunch Week.

The President cited the national school lunch program as 'an outstanding example of a local-state-federal partnership to protect the health and well-being of the nation's children.'

About 3,415 Texas public and private schools are operating under the national school lunch program, which provides federal funds, foods and technical assistance to help keep the price of meals low to students.

Texas students pay an average of 31¢ per lunch, according to Mr. Charles Hicks, chief consultant, school lunch program, Texas Education Agency.

USDA-Donated foods are distributed to schools by the Texas Department of Public Welfare. The school lunch program is handled at the federal level by USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Last year, Texas schools received about $6,660,000 in federal funds and 50,796,583 pounds of USDA-donated foods, according to John J. Slaughter, southwest area director, food distribution programs, C&MS, Dallas.

BUICK INTRODUCES A NEW HARDTOP

...er in Buick's 1966 line is the four-door hardtop, featuring a new roof design. The Skylark body, bumpers and ornamentation are com-
... Interiors also feature new styling materials. Instruments and controls are on a chrome die cast frame extending across the entire panel. A new upper cover extends across the full width of the panel. Standard engine in the Skylark is the V-6. Buick's high compression 340 cubic inch V-8 with four-barrel carburetor, or a 300 cubic inch V-8 are available as options.

Keeling Motors Show 1966 Buick

1966 Buicks, called "the new car" go on display at Ray Keeling's Buick store, 800 E. 4th. There are seven Electra models to choose from this year: Electra 225 and Electra Custom series. Two sport sedans and a convertible.

...er has his choice of engines. The standard horsepower Wildcat 445 is optional 340 horsepower 455. Standard items on Electra 225 includes over 30 items designed for driving more pleasurable. The items are power windows and brakes, a deluxe wheel, electric clock, key locking system plus safety features now standard on every Buick. The 225 has over 40 inches of room in both the front and rear and over 38 inches of room. Shoulder room is 60 inches. The 1966 Electra 225 has a wheelbase and has a heavier frame in front for lower spring rates and at the upper level. Engineering tests show that this system of ventilation will keep the interior of the car comfortable in 70-degree plus temperatures without opening the windows. Other new models in the 1966 Buick line include the Skylark four-door hardtop featuring a new concept in roof design; the Special series with seat belts front and rear as standard equipment; the Skylark with a new grille, new sheet metal and side treatment, new bumpers and a new rear end. The Wildcat and the Wildcat Gran Sport.

A new ventilation system--Circularaire-- makes window vents unnecessary. Fresh air is taken into the car through a grille in the rear window ledge, passing under the window to an exterior grille in the rear deck. Elimination of the window vents reduced wind noise in the front compartment. Inside the car, the air is circulated at two levels, through vents on each side of the passenger compartment at the lower level and through three vents in the instrument panel Introducing the tuned car. 1966 Buick.

What makes a car a car is styling, performance, ride and handling. Only when they're all tuned together is the car a Buick. Like this 1966 Riviera Gran Sport.

You know how well your car's engine runs after a tuneup? Buick tuning has the same effect on the whole car. Not just the engine. The whole Buick. Everything blends with everything else. Styling. Performance. Ride. Handling. All tuned to work together in harmony. That's what the tuned car is. A Buick. Only Buick is the tuned car. (And every Buick is the tuned car.) What the tuned car is a masterful blending of all the things that make a great car greater. The Riviera for 1966 is the tuned car. It features six-passenger seating, disappearing headlights, a silently efficient new ventilating system and the kind of roadworthiness you'd expect in a car that costs twice as much. (You can get a Riviera for your desk as well as your garage. Send $1 in check or money order to Riviera, P.O. Box 68, Troy, Mich., for an accurate 1/25 scale model '66 Riviera.) But Riviera's not the only tuned car. LeSabre is, too. And Wildcat, Electra 225, Special, Skylark, Sportwagon. See them all at your Buick dealer's. The tuned car may not mean much to you now. But then you haven't had a chance to drive one yet.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

Physicians To Take Army Physicals

About 450 physicians are currently being ordered to take physical examinations by Texas draft boards, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Friday.

This is part of the preparation for anticipated calls for doctors, dentists, and veterinarians to enter on active armed forces duty in January.

The Texas share of anational call for 1,529 physicians, 350 dentists, and 100 veterinarians has not been received, Colonel Schwartz said. The Texas quota is expected to be about 5 percent of the national total, he said.

Some dentists and veterinarians will also get physical examinations, but not so many as physicians because only those born in 1937 or later will be affected by the order at this time.

CITY BITS

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Roberts spent the weekend in the home of her mother, Mrs. Annie Kretschmer and other relatives at Haskell.

Ten Costly Errors Lead To Financial Problems

Many men and women who would dream of burning a ten-dollar bill commit money blunders which are amazingly more expensive. Ten costly errors are especially prevalent, according to financial experts.

1. NOT KNOWING HOW MUCH CREDIT COSTS. As a nation, we owe over $68 billion in consumer credit debts--yet many of us have only the foggiest idea of what credit costs.

4. FAILURE TO BUDGET THE "BUGGY". A major expense that trips up many families is the family car. Many people fail to realize that they should "depreciate" their cars the way businesses depreciate equipment.

6. HAVING INADEQUATE INSURANCE. "Spending money to have money" may seem like a contradiction in terms--but it's far from that.

vestment mistakes: being dazzled by the low price of a stock; reaching for excessive profit against the advice of a broker; buying the wrong kind of stock for your age and situation.

be making two or three transportation dollars do the work of one. Do you wind up throwing out half of that money-saving--and now stale--"family size" loaf of bread?

2. OVERINDULGING IN CREDIT. When does credit ease become credit squeeze? Some economists advise that installment payments on old and new credit purchases should not total more than 20% of your disposable income--the amount you have left after taxes, housing and insurance are paid for.

5. BEING AN IMPULSE SHOPPER. Nothing wrecks a budget faster than impulse buys. In the supermarket, they add up. . . and up. They can choke your closets with ill-chosen "bargains", turn a charge account into Frankenstein's monster.

7. BEING A "GOOSE" IN A BULL-AND-BEAR MARKET. Taking a "hot-tip" is seldom a hot idea--as many stock market investors have found to their cost. Experts point out that the few people who really have confidential information on a company's stock are usually too ethical to broadcast it.

8. FAILURE TO KEEP ADEQUATE FINANCIAL RECORDS. This common blunder can cost you a pretty penny at tax time--and a good deal of inconvenience any other time.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q - What do you do to keep yourselves busy after April 15? When you get all the returns filed by that date out of the way, I would think you'd not have much to do.

A - The Revenue Service has more than enough to do both after and before April 15. Tax administration is essentially a year-round job.

Besides all the returns that come in around April 15, there are millions of returns that come in at other times. Growing numbers of taxpayers are required to file and pay quarterly declarations of estimated tax. Then there are the countless business returns we receive.

Employers are required to report what they withheld for income and employment taxes on a quarterly basis. There are also quarterly returns required for excise taxes collected by manufacturers and retailers.

In addition to the returns that come in at other times of the year, the Internal Revenue Service handles its return examination program on a year-round basis. Currently, returns at the rate of 3 million a year are being examined for completeness and accuracy. This calls for an examination of a taxpayer's records.

Q - What kind of training do you need to be a Revenue Agent?

A - Most of the new agents we hire are college graduates with either an accounting or a legal background. If you are interested in a career as a Revenue Agent, contact the personnel office in the District Director's Office. Booklets are available covering the various types of jobs with the Internal Revenue Service.

Q - Do you have any films or booklets that tell about our tax system?

A - Yes, we do. Get in touch with our local office to find out which will be most suited to your needs.

The Internal Revenue Service also sends speakers to civic groups and other organizations interested in various aspects of the tax system.

Q - I read in the paper recently that you sent some of your officials to South America. What are they doing there?

A - Our tax officials are there under the Alliance for Progress Program. Tax reform has been set as a major goal of many South American nations and this country is providing what assistance it can to help reach this, and other goals, of the Alliance. The role of the Revenue Service is to provide assistance in the area of tax administration, in cooperation with the Agency for International Development of the State Department. We currently have tax teams in 14 Latin American countries and have been hosts to their tax officials touring our operations here.

The Revenue Service provides similar assistance to underdeveloped nations in other parts of the world.

Q - I just returned from military duty in Viet Nam. What should I do about my tax return? I didn't file one while I was over there.

A - There is an automatic extension of 180 days for taxpayers who did not file their return because of military service in Viet Nam. This means you have 180 days from the time you left Viet Nam until your return has to be filed. Servicemen hospitalized outside the United States as a result of wounds, disease, or injury received while serving in Viet Nam have 180 days after their discharge from the hospital to file their return.

Commissioned officers do not have to pay tax on up to $200 a month in pay received since January 1, 1964, for active duty in Viet Nam. Enlisted men may exclude all such pay.

Q - I just received a letter asking me to come in for an audit of my tax return. The problem is that the letter is from the office in the town where I used to live. What can I do about it?

A - Inform the Internal Revenue office that sent the letter that you have moved and furnish both the address shown on your return and your new address. Arrangements will be made to have your file transferred to the office that serves the area where you now live.

Q - I've just been assigned by my employer to a job some 100 miles from here. As it will last for several weeks, I'm going to commute or at least come home on weekends. Will my rent and board while away from home be deductible?

A - If you work at this job for a short period, then your living expenses while away from home may be deductible. However, if the end of the job can't be fixed within a short period or is for an indefinite period, then the job location becomes your home for tax purposes and living expenses will not be deductible.

Whether your expenses for rent and board are deductible or not depends on whether the job is temporary or is for an indefinite period.

Beta Sigma Phi Convention Will Be In Lubbock This Week

Walter W. Ross, founder of Beta Sigma Phi, the world's largest non-academic sorority will be the guest speaker for the West Texas Area Convention to be held in Lubbock October 15, 16, and 17.

Ross founded Beta Sigma Phi in 1931 in the depth of the depression. At that time many young women who ordinarily would have gone to college were obliged to remain at home. Beta Sigma Phi provided them with the intellectual aspect of the college in liberal arts and some of the social life of the campus. After 34 years Beta Sigma Phi has 150,000 members in 7,000 Chapters in the US and 13 countries.

Over 500 delegates representing 35 West Texas towns, which include Littlefield will convene in Lubbock this week-end for three days of assemblies and forums, dances, football, style shows and hospitality.

Headquarters of the Area Convention designated as 'The Old Cotton Fields Back Home' will be the Koko Palace. Registration begins Friday, October 15 and will continue Saturday.

A 'hootenanny' will heard the early birds of the Friday registration. Saturday's events include a brunch and style show, general assembly, forums, and a buffet dinner. The Oklahoma State, Texas Tech football game and a dance will also serve as a highlight of the day. Sunday's activities are an inter-denominational devotional and luncheon. George McCleskey, a Lubbock Attorney, will lead the devotional and Founder Ross will speak at the Sunday luncheon.

Beta Sigma Phi is noted for its generosity in scholarships and philanthropic organizations, including Girls Town USA.

All members of the Lubbock Beta Sigma Phi City Council will be dressed in checked shifts during the convention, with each of the 12 Lubbock Chapters wearing a different color. Mrs. Kenneth A. Jones, is City Council president and Miss Mary Ledford is convention chairman.

To Open Offices For Youth Assistance

The Texas Employment Commission this week announced the opening of Texas' first youth office in San Antonio on October 6. The center is one of an estimated 100 employment offices throughout the nation designed to provide specialized vocational and personal counseling service as well as job placement assistance of youth 22 and under who are experiencing difficulties in finding employment.

TEC youth offices are scheduled to open later this fall and winter in Ft. Worth, Dallas, Houston, and El Paso. In addition, a number of special youth counseling and placement units are scheduled to be established in regular TEC offices in other cities when funds are available.

'Plans for the youth offices have been in process for over a year, with the actual staffing and opening held in abeyance for several months pending receipt of operating funds,' R. L. Coffman, TEC's state administrator, pointed out.

The five youth offices will be housed apart from regular TEC offices. Both the youth offices and the special youth units will be staffed by TEC personnel, including a number of counselors who have received special training in service to disadvantaged and underprivileged youth.

'These offices and special youth units will cooperate closely with other community agencies and services, both public and private, in guiding the individual youth into productive work in line with his aptitudes, interests, and abilities, including coordinated inter-agency referral designed to bring youth into contact with needed rehabilitative services such as additional basic education, vocational training, literacy training, corrective medical services, and even psychiatric services,' Coffman explained.

Each TEC youth office will have on its staff a community organization coordinator who will devote a major portion of his time to bringing the full resources of the community to bear upon the needs of individual youth. Staff members will also stay in contact with employers to solicit job opportunities for youth, including part-time and short-term jobs which will sometimes become an important part of the personal and vocational development of disadvantaged youth as well as providing economic necessities during training or remedial education when needed. Summer and part-time jobs for non-disadvantaged youth will also be handled through TEC youth offices and special youth units.

PTA Study Course Set

The Primary-Elementary and Junior-Senior High PTA units are making plans to sponsor a study course in modern math.

Tuesday, October 19, is the date set for the first meeting. It will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the High School auditorium.

A fee of $2 per person will be charged. More details will be announced in the Sunday edition of the County Wide News.

U.S. Citizens Best Fed In World

United States citizens are among the best-fed, best-housed, best-clothed and healthiest people in the world.

They can thank the many people who use pesticides safely for their benefit. The rancher protects his livestock from insects that take the pounds off the animals by irritating them and feeding on or within them. The same rancher controls unwanted weeds on his range that will poison his livestock and crowd out the grasses and other forage.

The farmer is forced to wage an all-out war against the insects and weeds that compete with him in his cotton and grain fields. The grain elevator operator must protect his product from a cost consuming combination of insects and rodents.

Other folks use pesticides, too. The forester sprays to reduce the unwanted hardwood undergrowth in a stand of pines. He will apply seed to a new growth area that has been treated with a rodent repellent to give the seed a chance to sprout.

The man who owns a farm pond will clean away the moss and algae in the water so that the fish have sunlight and room to "breathe." He will also spray or dust his yard once a year to control some insect that is being particularly destructive or irritating. His wife will use a pesticide when the wireworms get into her young garden.

The benefits from the use of pesticides are countless. When a certain type of cotton destroying insect is held in check by pesticide applications, you pay less for a shirt or a dress.

You are assured of stronger and more uniform lumber for your homes because the wood boring insects were controlled in some far-off forest years ago. The average state of health is much better and people now live longer due to pesticides developed for control of disease carrying insects.

Everything it takes to create a distinguished luxury car has gone into these new Caprices.

Beneath the formal styling elegance that sets the Custom Coupe apart, for instance, you'll find the richness of thick wall-to-wall carpeting, comfort-contoured seats and the look of hand-rubbed walnut on the instrument panel, glove compartment and inside door panels.

They're custom cars in every sense. In the Custom Coupe, you can order a finely instrumented console, together with new Strato-bucket front seats. In the Custom Sedan, a new Strato-back front seat is available with bucket-type contours separated by a fold-down armrest. And in the equally opulent Custom Wagons, offered in 2- or 3-seat models, you can even order carpeting for the cargo area.

Each model, with its own specially tailored suspension refinements, rides super Jet-smooth. And for incomparably smooth power, you can specify Chevrolet's advanced Turbo-Jet V8 in either a 396- or 427-cubic-inch version. Some 200 custom features are also available, including front-seat headrests, AM-FM stereo and a Tilt-telescopic steering wheel.

The price of it all? Somewhat more, naturally, than you're used to paying for a Chevrolet. But less—surprisingly less, as your dealer will happily confirm—than the select class of fine cars these new Caprices invite comparison with in every detail.

Halloween Is Night For Trick-Or-Treat

Given evening in the Fall, and haunting sights between town and city. More than three feet tall -- and-in-hand with pint-roosters, devils and Bonneted Bo-Peeps and Chinese coolies end energetic bartering of chicken corn candy, blue-eyed, sheeted ghosts carrying bags that bulge with candy.

Of course, you've seen this costumed continuity know the night is Halloween.

Buy art department of Smith Inc., members of Crayons, a great deal into this special been done by the artists for creating Halloween costumes.

Have found that Scotland stronghold of Halloween and fun, Scottish were the first to carve patterns - from large turkeys instead of pumpkins! And once believed that witches had sold their souls to the devil changed into witches between and flew up their broomsticks at black cats.

You know that Halloween known in Europe by the Nutcrack Night and Snanight? Actually, the name comes from the fact October 31 is the eve of All Hallows Day, American custom of "trick-or-treat" possibly sprang from the fact that, in Ireland, presents go from house to house on Halloween, collect money, butter, breadcake, and eggs for a feast.

Custom in Ireland and Scotland was brought to the United States by a special dish of the evening, mashed potatoes and chopped onions. A bowl of colcannon is placed in the center of the table; it is a gold ring. The one who gets the portion containing the ring is certain to be married within the year. But if already married, then the simply means good luck.

Country, Halloween follows these traditions, small ghosts still walk, and masked or wearing costumes made by mot-the front edge. It's best to past additional paper or tape on the "wrong" side to re-inforce the costume around the armholes, front edge and backbone.

To stiffen the tail, paste a strip of cardboard near the top edge of both halves of the tail. Color bright tail feathers with crayon on a single thickness of paper. Cut out the feathers and crayon the other side. Now, put the feathers between the two halves of the tail and staple all three layers together.

Punch two or three identical holes in the backbone of both halves. Using a string to lace the rooster together just as you would a shoe.

On Halloween, close the front of the rooster with brass paper fasteners. Then adjust the fit of the costume by tightening or loosening the laces. Change the location of the paper fasteners, too, if needed.

To make the rooster's head, use two more pieces of stiff paper. Color both sides with crayon in brilliant shades. Staple the two pieces together like a helmet, leaving an opening for the face. Stuff the top of the head with newspapers.

Teenage Marriages Are Increasing

Parents of pre-teens, here's a question for your consideration: Will your youngster soon join the ranks of married teenagers?

Not much chance with your youngster, you may say. But you had better look again if your teenager is a girl, says Mrs. Patsy R. Yates, extension family life specialist at Texas A&M University.

"Studies show that you have almost a 50-50 chance of a teenage daughter marrying before she is 20," says Mrs. Yates.

In 1960, 48 percent of all Texas girls—or some 150,000 young women between the ages of 14 and 19—were or at some time had been married.

This high rate of teenage marriages isn't likely to go down a great deal, Mrs. Yates predicts.

"You can help prepare your daughter or son for the responsibilities of marriage and a home by encouraging them to enroll in high school home economics courses which teach management in the family and consumer buying. You can also urge them to take courses which may be offered in family relationships or family living."

These courses may not prevent teenage marriages, but they do afford a chance to prevent some teenage divorces. A frequent cause of marital problems is money. Parents can give their youngsters sound preparation for the future by teaching them to do the family grocery shopping or keeping the family business records or paying the family bills, Mrs. Yates adds.

Tax Man Sam Sez

We have reached the age of education in our country. As a Nation we demand that all our young people not only graduate from high school but also get a college degree. Many companies want most of their key men to have a Ph.D. My advice to every taxpayer is to get as near to a Ph.D. on your personal tax affairs as possible. Ignorance costs you—in getting better jobs and in saving on your taxes.

Eight Sources Of Danger To Toddlers Revealed By Home Accident Research

When you cook your family's next evening meal, beware. The hours before dinner can be a pressure cooker of danger to your youngsters.

That's when the 'late afternoon syndrome' of home accidents strikes. Researchers say the hours from 4 to 6 p.m. are the time of day when accidents are more likely to occur in the home, especially to preschool children.

A new public service motion picture, 'The Toddler's Hours of Hazard,' has been produced by Aetna Life & Casualty to alert parents to the everyday home situations that accidentally kill 6,000 youngsters annually and injure a million more.

Filed in cooperation with The Children's Hospital Medical Center, Boston, 'Toddler's Hours' illustrates emotional stresses in the hectic day of one typical family that explode into near tragedy for the toddler of the household.

The movie focuses on the following eight major accident-producing situations and suggestions for overcoming them:

1. THE HUNGRY CHILD. A hungry child will try to eat anything including poison. Forget the clock and feed the child when he is hungry. If he is especially hungry during the dangerous hours before the evening meal, give him a snack, even if it means delaying your dinner. It could prevent a needless accident.
2. FATIGUE. A tired child is more accident prone and a tired mother is less capable of preventing accidents. Forget rigid nap schedules. When fatigue sets in, take naps.

3. OVER-ACTIVE CHILD. Continuing close supervision is the best safety answer for the quick-moving youngster.

4. ILL OR PREGNANT MOTHER. When the mother is 'out of sorts' she should perform essential duties and rest as much as possible.

5. VACATIONING FAMILY. Children often need closer supervision than usual when in a strange environment away from home.

6. UNRELIABLE BABYSITTER. Children's accidents rise when babysitters neglect their responsibilities. Be sure your babysitter is reliable.

7. QUARRELING PARENTS. Accidents are high in families in which parents argue frequently, especially in front of children. Youngsters are upset by their parent's quarrels. Try to keep arguments to a minimum and then out of hearing of the children.

8. RAPIDLY-DEVELOPING CHILD. Never underestimate your child's abilities. Parents whose children have been hurt in accidents frequently say, 'He never did that before.' Anticipate your toddler's ability to climb, walk, and 'get into things.'

Organizations interested in home safety may obtain 'The Toddler's Hours of Hazard' on a free-loan basis by writing to the Information and Education Department, Aetna Life & Casualty, Hartford, Conn.

Parade To Feature Anton Homecoming

Something new and different in the way of parades will be the order of the day when Anton High School and Community celebrates Homecoming on October 22.

In addition to a football game with Amherst and the usual Lion's Club Pan-cake supper, there will be a Pet and Doll Parade beginning at 3 p.m.

Participants in the parade will be the young folk of the area. They will display their favorite pets, dolls or enter a float geared to their size and age. Parents may assist in anyway that is necessary.

Interest in the parade is good as is indicated by returns from an announcement sent out by all school children. Entries will vary from special costumes, decorated bicycles, horse drawn covered wagons, entries that are inspired by children's stories and clowns.

Best in the classes will be given cash awards. There will be prizes for all entries.

Entrants are asked to let Mrs. R.R. Pritchard know as soon as possible of their intentions to participate.

Batik-Printing Is Latest Hobby For Homemakers

Thanks to the updating of an ancient craft, you can now be a designing woman and have handsome wall hangings to show for it.

For a fascinating hobby, try your hand at batik-printing -- a method of putting designs on cotton fabrics with the use of wax and dye. Originated centuries ago in Java, the process produces distinctive prints with a rich, marbled look.

Batiking is an ideal home craft for all ages, reports the Nation Cotton Council. Materials are inexpensive and the whole process can be done in the kitchen. All you need is a piece of cotton fabric, a few boxes of some dye, paraffin, and a brush.

Bula To Celebrate Homecoming

Bula High School will observe homecoming Friday and Saturday, October 22 and 23 and in conjunction with the homecoming, the school will celebrate its 40th anniversary.

The celebration will begin Friday evening at 7:30 with a bon fire and a pep rally.

Activities begin at 10 a.m. Saturday morning with the start of registration followed by a program 'Revealing the Roaring Twenties' which will be staged by the earliest residents of Bula. The program will include a dress review, a barber shop quartet, a mustache judging contest and rehearsal of a 1920 style wedding.

Also on Saturday morning there will be an old time fiddlers contest starting at 11. Pictures and antiques will also be on display.

A basket lunch will be served in the school cafeteria from noon to 2 p.m. with Bula residents acting as hosts. Following the luncheon, the ex-student association will hold a meeting in the auditorium for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year.

The evening activities will start with a pep rally at 5:30 followed by the homecoming supper served in the school lunch room.

The climatic event of the homecoming will be the game between Bula and Whitharral starting at 8 p.m. The homecoming queen will be crowned during half time activities.

Coffee and donuts will be served to exes by the seniors following the game and homecoming at all the churches will be held Sunday morning.

This is the 40th anniversary of the Bula School started in the fall of 1925. Classes were held in the old Nordyke store building which was located in the present town of Bula, with Miss Gladys Butler as teacher. By mid-term the room became so crowded the school was moved into the old Tabernacle Building (community church) and this crowded condition required another teacher, Miss Agnes Stanley was hired.

The present school was built in 1926 and the first term was 1926 and 1927 with W.P. Davis as superintendent. In 1929, M.K. Maples was hired as superintendent. The first basketball team was organized. 'The Bulldogs', the name still stands in the sports field. In 1931, P.O. Smith was hired as superintendent and during his time the Bula School was affiliated.

Committees working with superintendent McDaniels to promote this homecoming and 40th anniversary of the school are Jimmy Drake, homecoming executive president; Dewayne Neel, vice president; and Georgia Bahlman, secretary.

Also the committees for the old settlers program are, shaving permit committee, John Blackman, C.L. Cannon, Staff Jones and F. L. Simmons. Costume judging, Mrs. Pearl Walden, Mrs. B.L. Blackman, and Mrs. Lula Harlan.

A batik design is made by brushing melted paraffin or wax on certain portions of the fabric and dipping it into a dye bath. The dye colors only the unwaxed areas.

After the fabric dries, apply wax to the dyed portion. Then dip the fabric into a second dye bath. The process of waxing and dyeing is repeated for each color in the design.

The intricate, marbled effect -- so typical of batik prints -- is created when the wax cracks and dyes seep in.

For your first endeavor, choose a cotton fabric like batiste or muslin. Cottons produce the most effective batiks because of their natural ability to absorb and retain dyes. It's best to start with a simple design. Sketch your own design or copy a printing with simple lines and no more than three colors.

With practice, you'll soon be ready to move on to more complex compositions. It's easier than you think to capture on cloth the simple lines of a Braque painting or the textured look of a Van Gogh.

Here are step-by-step instructions for creating your own batik:

1. Sketch design on piece of paper the same size as fabric.
2. Trace design on fabric, and stretch fabric taut on wax paper. Weight corners or thumb-tack to a board.
3. Melt paraffin in double broiler and apply generously with brush to areas which should not be dyed. Be sure wax penetrates fabric thoroughly, and cools.

4. Dissolve one package of low-heat home dye in two quarts of lukewarm water. Use enamel pan or kitchen sink for dyeing.

5. Dip fabric in dye bath for 20 minutes. Rinse thoroughly in lukewarm water. Let dry.
6. Remove wax by placing dry batik between layers of paper toweling or newspapers. Then iron, using a medium heat setting. Papers will absorb wax. 7. Repeat waxing and dyeing process for each color in the design.

When dyeing, begin with light colors and progress to darker ones so that each new dye will take over the previous one.

A good sequence would be to go from the primary colors -- red, yellow, and blue -- to secondary colors -- orange, green, and violet.

In this manner, you can get as many as eight colors including white in just three dye baths. Blue dyed over yellow will produce green, and blue over red will produce violet. Red over yellow makes orange, and the combination of all three primary colors gives brown.

Areas covered with wax throughout all of the dyeing process will remain white.

To add depth to your design and get more of a "cracked" effect, roll fabric and gently twist after wax has set. This will cause the wax to and let in small amounts for a marbled look.

When your batik is complete you can attach it to a dowel for a wall hanging or back it with crinoline and
