

Man Freed On Variance Of Jail Records

Pedro Pantoja got himself sprung from the county jail Wednesday, because release records were confusing, and nobody seemed to know for sure how much time he had served.

This was the contention of Pedro's attorney, Leonard Howell of Midland; and state's attorney Guilford Jones concurred when he told the court "the records are such that I can't arrive at anything definite, and cannot in all good conscience ask that this man be held."

Judge Charlie Sullivan immediately granted Pedro his freedom under a habeas corpus application.

Sheriff Jess Slaughter, who was on the stand twice during a four-hour hearing, insisted that Pantoja served "15 or 17 days." Pedro himself had told Slaughter that, he said.

The sheriff's arrest docket showed varying dates, among them January 30, "1954" — an obvious error; January 30, 1955, and January 8, 1955. And County Auditor Les Porter testified when he checked the docket, his report showed a release date of January 25, 1955.

Deputy Sheriff M. L. Cox testified that changes had been made in the docket, including one on Monday, when Pantoja was picked up; and some yesterday, after the habeas hearing started.

It was back on December 23 when Pedro entered a guilty plea to a charge of aggravated assault and drew a $100 fine plus costs ($23.85). He had no money, and went to jail on that day.

Then, about January 8, evidence showed, he was turned out. Slaughter said it was because he had sick folks in Lubbock, and that Pete Zuniga, who has a criminal record himself, came to the jail and was ready to stand good for the prisoner.

But Pedro told the court yesterday that Zuniga told him that he was being released for good, and all he had to do was get out of town. He got. Pedro had worked briefly here as a tavern man for Zuniga.

Then, under date of January 11, Pedro's daughter, Mary Pantoja of San Antonio, sent Sheriff Slaughter two money orders for the $123.85. He cashed these, and testified he put the money in his office safe in a special envelope to identify the case. The sheriff said he knew Pantoja had some money coming, because of time served, and that he tried to find him to make an adjustment. He was holding the

Shivers Okays State Higher Education Study

AUSTIN (AP)—A 15-member commission to make a full study of higher education problems in Texas has been authorized.

Gov. Allan Shivers yesterday signed into law a bill by Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr., Paris, establishing the commission. Its job will be to take a long look at such questions as overlapping or duplicating work of state colleges and to make recommendations to the next Legislature.

The bill was among 34 signed by the governor but he mopped up work left on his desk by the 54th Legislature.

Another major measure signed into law was a labor-control bill by Sen. George Parkhouse, Dallas. It would forbid payment of unemployment benefits to workers at a subsidiary plant idled by a strike at the parent plant.

Shivers also signed the resolution submitting to a vote of the people a constitutional amendment to increase by 100 million dollars the bonds available for the veterans land program.

The legislative action in such cases does not require the governor's signature, but when the governor signs it usually signifies his approval. Constitutional amendments are submitted to a vote only after approval by two-thirds of all members of the Legislature.

New Batchelor Appeal Made

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A new appeal was sent to the secretary of defense yesterday by the attorney for Cpl. Claude Batchelor, under 20-year court martial sentence for collaborating with the Chinese Reds while a prisoner of war.

Attorney Joel Westbrook asked immediate release for the Kermit, Tex., soldier in a telegram to Secretary of Defense Wilson. Westbrook based his appeal on a recent statement he said Wilson made to the effect that three POWs who decided to return this month would not be court-martialed.

Poage Introduces Cotton Acreage Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Poage (D-Tex.) introduced a bill yesterday aimed at taking away some of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee's power to distribute cotton acreage allotments.

The measure reduces the amount of the total acreage allotment under ASC jurisdiction from 10 percent to 2 1/3 percent.

Ike Laughs Off 2nd Term, Heads For New Hampshire

RUTLAND, Vt. (AP)—President Eisenhower travels into New Hampshire today after laughing off a jovial plea—with a serious undertone—that he seek a second term. It was in New Hampshire's 1952 presidential primary that he got an early boost toward the White House.

Eisenhower, on a tour of northern New England, arranged to fly to Concord, N.H., this afternoon for an address from the steps of the State Capitol.

He arrived in Rutland from Washington yesterday. At the fairgrounds he told a crowd estimated by police at 25,000 that America always will extend "the olive branch" of peace "to all who will take it in honesty and integrity." But he stressed that the United States also intends to remain strong.

The plea that the President seek a second term was voiced by Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) who in introducing Eisenhower referred to him as "a part-time farmer." The allusion

Passage Of Ike's Reserve Bill Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Brooks (D-La.) predicted today a revised version of President Eisenhower's stalemated military reserve program will pass the House next week "with no trouble."

But Rep. Powell (D-N.Y.) declared the new measure is "worse than before" and faces another strong fight over racial segregation issues.

A House Armed Services subcommittee, headed by Brooks, yesterday voted 11-1 to approve a new compromise bill. It is designed to break an impasse created a month ago by Powell's amendment to bar assignment of reservists to segregated National Guard units.

In an effort to avoid this issue, the new measure avoid all mention of the National Guard, although Guard spokesmen objected that they need the additional manpower.

It also contains softer language in authorizing the Pentagon to establish a new six-months' training program for teen-agers volunteering for the reserves.

The evident purpose is to avoid the parliamentary tangle which House leaders say permitted opponents virtually to kill the bill before by supporting Powell's anti-segregation amendment. This alienated Southerners needed to pass the measure.

In other respects the compromise measure parallels the shelved bill, which Eisenhower has called "vital" to national security. The measure goes to the full Armed Services Committee Tuesday for expected approval and quick routing to the House.

Powell said he already has prepared an anti-segregation amendment which he declared can be offered to the bill as now written. He said his bill is based upon the expectation the Senate may put back features to which he objects, regardless of the final form of the House bill.

Brooks said in a separate interview he did not see how opponents of the training program could oppose the new measure because "it is protected against any thought of extending" it into any form of universal military training.

The measure provides that youths under 18 1/2 years can volunteer for reserve service under such regulations as prescribed by the secretary of defense. Testimony showed these regulations would include a requirement to accept six months' training.

In return, the volunteer who keeps up reserve training would be free of all military obligations after serving eight years. The President could extend this program to a maximum of 250,000 men a year.

Under the original bill, the youth had to volunteer directly for the training program. Opponents said this would be the "back door" to U.M.T.

The compromise measure also contains these other provisions:

1. The reserve obligation for other servicemen would be lowered from eight to six years. The maximum for active duty and training reserve service would be five years, with the other year in the standby or inactive reserve.
2. Reservists would be obliged to maintain training requirements—48 annual drills and 17 days' summer camp, or the equivalent—or face recall to 45 days' active duty. Those who complete active service prior to July 27, 1953, would be exempt.
3. The Pentagon would be authorized to increase the active reserve more than four times, to 2,900,000 men, by 1960. The President could recall up to one million active reservists to duty, without consulting Congress, in a presidentially declared emergency.

UF Starts Budget Hearings Tonight

Welfare and youth development agencies will go before a United Fund budget committee this evening, to present fiscal requests for the 1955-56 operational year.

The budget hearings are scheduled at the Chamber of Commerce offices, beginning at 7:30, and sessions are to be held both tonight and Friday night.

From the agency requests, the UF group will arrive at an overall quota to be sought in the United Fund's annual campaign in October. Dan Krause is chairman of the budget committee.

Land Buyer Finds He Owns A Street

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Brigham Krause bought a piece of property at a tax delinquency sale. Now he finds he owns a street.

Yesterday he asked the Salt Lake County Commission what he should do with it. The commission didn't know. The problem was turned over to the county attorney's office. They don't know how the street got sold either.

Jap Postmen Told To Halt Radio Listening

'Amendment' Move Made By Cap Maker

WASHINGTON (AP)—A wealthy cap maker doing business with the government refused today to let Senate investigators see his records lest they find evidence that "might tend to incriminate me."

This refusal under the Fifth Amendment by Sol Schlesinger of Freeport, N. Y., drew threats of a contempt of Congress citation and a demand that the government promptly cancel his outstanding contract and bar him from holding any future ones.

Schlesinger swore he "absolutely" has made "no payoff" to any government official to get contracts.

He denied vigorously that he had paid $100,000 to an Army colonel and two civilian aides in connection with a 1950 contract to produce a half-million service caps.

Schlesinger gave his testimony at a revival of the Senate investigations subcommittee's public search for evidence of possible graft in the awarding of big contracts for uniform caps and other items for the armed forces.

Called to the witness stand, the haiding, spectacled witness refused to hand over his company's books and records and income tax reports covering all years from and including 1951.

Schlesinger, proprietor of the Ideal Uniform Cap Co., is a business rival of the forgetful cap maker, Harry Lev. Schlesinger was called as the leadoff witness at the reopened hearings.

Lev, head of the Mid City Uniform Cap Co. of Chicago, has sworn he can't remember how he disposed of any of $213,924 cash which passed through his hands in 1952 and 1953. He insisted that "not a broken cent" of it was used to bribe government employees as alleged by another rival, Leon M. Levy, head of the Bonita Originals, Inc., garment factory of New York.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), the subcommittee chairman, has said the investigation has shown a nest of small grafters profiting improperly on government contracts for armed services uniform caps.

McClellan said he has received no further report from Lev, who promised on June 11 to submit an accounting telling how he disposed of the nearly $214,000.

Schlesinger's name bobbed up repeatedly in the prior hearings, but no one ever accused him of any wrongdoing.

Kerr Shooting Suspect Found

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Alfred Real, 24, charged with the shotgun wounding of his wealthy rancher father, was arrested last night on an Odessa street.

Real had been sought since Sunday night after his father, Elmer Real, was wounded in the arm, shoulder, neck and face by a blast of buckshot from a .12-gauge shotgun.

The elder Real remained in critical condition in a Kerrville hospital.

Mrs. Real told officers that the younger man—clad only in pajamas—fled in a pickup truck after the shotgun blast tore through a bedroom window and struck the elder Real as he lay in bed.

Kerrville County Sheriff Oliver Moore and Texas Ranger L. A. Purvis planned to come here by plane today to take Alfred Real back to Kerrville.

SMOLDERING RUINS SCENE OF DEATH BY FIRE
Fire Capt. A. D. Meador douses last flames in Frierson bedroom

Big Spring Man Dies As Blast, Fire Destroy Gas-Filled Home

Robert Davy Frierson, 65, died this morning as a gas explosion and fire wrecked his home at 608 E. 17th St.

The blast, followed immediately by the fire which engulfed the house, occurred at 8:35 a.m. Mr. Frierson was alone.

The victim was carried out of the burning home by Fire Capt. A. D. Meador and Fireman Howard Dodd. Capt. Meador said they found his body on the floor against the kitchen door which was closed but not locked. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Malone & Hogan Hospital.

The fire was extinguished before it consumed the house, but the structure was ruined by the explosion which ripped walls and roof loose from the framework. Interior of the house and most of the roof were burned.

Justice of the Peace Walter Grice said he will enter a verdict of accidental death due to burning.

He and Fire Chief H. V. Crocker said the house apparently had filled with gas from an open jet which was found in the living room. The explosion probably occurred as the leaking gas ignited a water heater or range pilot light, they said.

Crocker removed a piece of water hose from the gas outlet. A caged parakeet was found on the floor of a garage at the side of the lot.

Missing Judge Rewards Upped

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Rewards reached $118,500 today but authorities apparently were no nearer a solution of the Chillingworth mystery than they were when the prominent circuit judge and his wife disappeared nine days ago.

Authorities still lean on the theory that the couple may have been kidnaped. They base this opinion on the finding of two partly used rolls of adhesive tape and believe it may have been used to bind and gag Judge C. E. Chillingworth, 58, and his wife Marjorie, 57.

Medics Urge Continuance Of Inoculations

WASHINGTON (AP)—A panel of medical experts voted 8-3 today to continue the present program of inoculating youngsters with the Salk polio vaccine.

The vote was taken at a meeting of the medical men before a House Commerce subcommittee.

In addition to those present and voting, there was a letter from Dr. William McB. Hammon of the University of Pittsburgh, who was not present, favoring a halt to the program. Counting it, the vote was 8-4.

Four of the 14 panel members did not vote on the controversial question which was raised by Dr. Sabin, of the Children's Hospital Research Foundation, Cincinnati, who said the present vaccine is potentially too dangerous for use.

Sabin drew support only from Dr. John F. Enders of the Children's Hospital, Boston.

Among those voting to keep the program going was Dr. James A. Shannon, associate director of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., and Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., of the school of the public health of the University of Michigan, one of the leading forces in getting the Salk vaccine program under way.

Dr. Jones E. Salk, developer of the vaccine, elected not to vote. He said he regarded himself as an investigator and did not wish to get involved in the vote which was asked by Rep. Wolverton (R-N.J.).

Dr. Sabin expressed the view yesterday that inoculations should be suspended and vaccine manufacture halted until a "less virulent" strain of polio virus was substituted for that now used.

At that time, Dr. Thomas M. Rivers of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, New York, said "it would be tragic if we stopped now."

Dr. Salk expressed no opinion at the hearing but later told newsmen he saw no reason for halting the present program. However, he said his vaccine might eventually be developed along the lines Dr. Sabin suggested.

There appeared to be no dispute among the experts that Dr. Salk's vaccine was effective.

Dr. Sabin, a long-time critic of the Salk vaccine, is a researcher at the Children's Hospital Research Foundation, Cincinnati. He has been working toward a vaccine using a live virus, rather than the killed-virus type perfected by Dr. Salk.

In addition to recommending a halt in manufacture, he said "it would be better" if inoculations were postponed "until this fall, when it does not have the potential danger it does now." Polio is more prevalent in the summer.

Dr. John F. Enders of Children's Hospital, Boston, agreed, saying, "It seems to me the part of wisdom to wait a little while."

That approach was disputed by Dr. Rivers, of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, New York City, and Dr. Joseph E. Smadel, of the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center.

Dr. Rivers said "the vaccine has never had the testing this one had last summer" in the mass inoculation given selected schoolchildren.

Dr. Smadel said no one could predict when ironical improvements could be put into effect with "new difficulties" arising each time. It was better, he contended, to use what was available and not wait "indefinitely."

Dr. Sabin said it was necessary to eliminate the "Mahoney strain" of polio virus from production of the Salk vaccine, and substitute for it a "less dangerous" strain.

FEW CHANGES

Tax Renditions Study Finished

Despite a dispute over the valuation of some rural property, the County Commissioners Court Wednesday completed its initial study of 1955 tax renditions with only a few minor changes.

Commissioner G. E. Gilliam suggested that valuations of farm and ranch property be changed to include some value for houses and similar improvements, but the other two members of the court pressed — Arthur Stallings and Ralph Proctor — said they were opposed to such a move.

Gilliam charged that rural valuations were not being kept on an equal basis with urban properties because farms and ranches were rendered at $3 to $5 an acre without regard to improvements. In Big Spring, Coahoma or other towns in the county, he said, any improvement, including additions to homes, is added to the property valuation.

Stallings stated that farmers render their tractors and other equipment for taxation, but declared that "there isn't one in 50" automobiles listed for taxes by city dwellers. Gilliam claimed that a tractor and equipment constituted a "part of the inventory" of farmers, who he said are "businessmen, just like the merchant down here."

Stallings said he "will fight" the addition of improvement valuations to the farmer's tax bill. Both he and Proctor claimed that a house in the county would not bring on the market what a similar structure in the city would sell for.

Commissioner Earl Hall was not present for the discussion.

Approximately 75 small adjustments were made in the property renditions as submitted to the court by Viola Robinson, county tax assessor-collector. Property owners will be notified of the changes and they, and others, may appear before the court for discussion of any tax problem. The commissioners are serving as the tax equalization board.

Mrs. Robinson said completion of the equalization process and the setting of a tax rate will enable her office to start computing 1955 taxes.

Although no estimate has been made except on oil and utility valuations, she thought the 1955 tax roll will show a considerable increase. Pritchard & Abbott, the county's valuation engineers, have estimated that oil and utility values will increase by about $4,800,000 over 1954. This would push total of the county's valuations to near $43,000,000 without any increase in other properties.

However, Mrs. Robinson said she thinks other values also will show substantial gains. To be added to the roll, she pointed out, is the value of all construction completed during 1954.

Galveston Income Tax Case Expected To Go To Jury

AUSTIN (AP)—A federal district court jury was expected today to study evidence in the trial of former Galveston Police Chief Fred Ford on an income tax cheating charge.

Examination of witnesses in Ford's second trial on an indictment charging he evaded about $8,000 in income tax payments was completed yesterday and final arguments were heard today.

Ford's alleged income tax evasions were for 1945, 1946 and 1947. He was convicted once before, but the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals reversed the decision.

One of the final witnesses was Major George Roy Clough of Galveston, who testified that Ford had a "bad" reputation during the time he was police head of the island resort city.

A former Galveston fire and police commissioner, O. E. Casey, testified he had known Ford since 1929, and the ex-chief had a "good" reputation.

Clough was offered as a government witness. He was on the stand for 15 minutes, and mixed with defense attorney Douglas McGregor in one heated exchange.

McGregor said he expected to show "this man (Clough) ran for mayor of Galveston on a platform of opposing the prosecution." Clough snapped back: "I am the mayor of Galveston now, and I'll be glad to answer any of these questions."

Clough was a radio technician for the Galveston Police Department when Casey was commissioner and Ford was police chief. Clough said he had resigned from the job. Casey said he was fired.

A woman who said she ran a house of prostitution while Ford was police chief testified earlier in the trial that she had sent "protection" money to the chief.

O. L. Combs, Galveston County jailer and a former patrolman under Ford's administration, testified yesterday he had never transferred "protection" money to Ford.

Ranches are coming back fast in the Iatan area, according to Tom Ellett, who ranches a few miles north of there. They have had seven or eight inches of rain in recent weeks, and tobas grass has greened up considerably. Ellett said he had been in that country almost all his life, and the tobas is all that saves ranchers during the dry years.

Richard Tomas of Martin County is planning to irrigate about 40 acres of guar this year. Heretofore the county has had several dry-land plantings, but no one has tried guar on an irrigated farm.

Farmers around Courtney have received very little rain this year, and most of their dryland fields are still unplanted. Richard Rawls, who farms the L. E. Turner farm a mile south of Courtney, says they have had several showers, which didn't help much except to make the land blow.

They also had a damaging hail in this area and much of the older cotton was set back a few weeks. He had one field which was not replanted after the hail, but now he says they should have replanted. The cotton is still not much over ankle high, but is beginning to bloom. Rawls says hail does more injury than most farmers believe when it beats off a few top leaves, and should be replanted if the season is not too late.

Troy Pierce of Tarzan is on the way to another big cotton crop. He is putting on squares and has already been hoed and cultivated. He lost some young cotton farther south on another farm, and also was caught by a hail on his dryland fields.

Pierce believes in heavy irrigation and lots of fertilizer. He put on 225 pounds of 13-39-0 to the acre, and plans to supply another 150 pounds about the middle of July.

He says fertilizer should be applied in proportion to the amount of water a farmer has.

"If you put on too much and then don't have enough water for the field, the crop will burn," he said. "But where water is plentiful, I believe these soils will use as much as 500 pounds to the acre."

The state ASC committee has been accused of using undue influence in getting high cotton allotments for WCST Texas. This accusation comes from Joe Hart, executive director of the Old Cotton Belt Association, who recently testified before a House agriculture committee in Washington. He said this favoritism began shortly after the majority of the five committeemen were appointed from West Texas, and they had given the High Plains and Rio Grande Valley more cotton acreage than the areas deserved.

A check in Martin County revealed that the allotment is 45 per cent, as compared to around 42 for Howard County. The difference was caused by the large amount of irrigated cotton in Martin County which brought up the base cotton acreage during 1952-53-54, at a time when cotton production in Howard County was at an all-time low.

Perhaps the finest field of blue panic grass in country is the one on the C. H. Hyden farm north-west of Gay Hill school. The grass is irrigated, but has had so much rain this spring and summer that very little extra water was needed. It is already waist high and headed out.

At one time there was good money in raising blue panic seed for sale, back when it sold for a dollar a pound. The market is not so good right now, but the grass can't be beat for grazing. A field such as Hyden's should easily carry a cow to the acre for nine months a year. In Dawson County blue panic survived and made growth during some of the years which were even too dry for Russian thistles.

Real estate taxes on farm and ranch land in Texas have been rising steadily for the last eight years, says L. P. Gabbard of Texas A&M College. While this increase was taking place, he points out, farm prices were slumping. The tax burden for rural property owners has increased 57 per cent since 1951, though there is wide variation in different parts of the state.

We contacted the Howard County tax assessor's office to find out the rural tax picture here. Land valuations are still about the same as they were in 1947. Taxes have risen somewhat, though, going from 77 cents per $100 valuation in 1947 to 98 cents in 1954. This was caused, says the tax assessor, by bond issues for the new court house and jail, for enlarging the junior college, and in getting the right-of-way for the widening of U. S. Highway 80. Also some communities have created bond issues of their own for school and road work.

Much of the land in the county is still assessed at an acre valuation of $3.00 to $5.00, though a few landowners have rendered their land for as much as $10.00 an acre.

Italy's President Seeks New Leader

MARIO SCELBA Replacement sought

ROME (AP)—President Giovanni Gronchi began his search today for a premier to replace Mario Scelba, Italy's fourth government chief in the last two years.

The gungacious little anti-Communist quit yesterday after 15 months in office, a victim of revolt within his own Christian Democrat party. Following parliamentary custom, the President asked Scelba and his Cabinet to stay on until a successor is found.

Gronchi scheduled a series of conferences on the crisis with leading political figures, starting with ex-President Enrico de Nicola.

Next to be received was Giuseppe Pella, leader of the rebellious right wing of the Christian Democrats and one of the chief architects of Scelba's downfall.

The next Premier almost certainly will come from the Christian Democrats—the largest single faction in the Chamber of Deputies—despite the differences between right and left wings and the personal feuds that have strained party unity.

He could be any one of several leading political figures. Pella, ex-Premier Amintore Fanfani and Budget Minister Ezio Vanoni were most frequently mentioned.

Whoever he is, Gronchi will have an important voice in choosing him. Under the Italian constitution, the President has little real power except in times of crisis.

Rain Spatters Eastern States

Rain fell over most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation and cool Canadian air lowered temperatures over the central part by an average of 6 degrees today.

A band of thunderstorms during the night extended from northern Texas northeastward into the Ohio Valley, and more widely scattered showers fell over the Southeast. Showers were reported over New England earlier in the night but skies were clearing in that area.

Normally, Eskimos don't bother much with nightshirts. Fur is the fashion. But the cloth garments are needed when they go to hospital, a missionary explained on a trip here recently from Canada.

Girls Give In On Race Issue

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—A short-lived and somewhat confusing feud between Boys' State and Girls' State ended yesterday when the girls agreed to allow seven Negro boys to bring Negro dates to tomorrow night's joint inaugural ball.

Earle R. Poorbaugh, Boys' State director, said the plan would be "satisfactory" with the boys, who had voted unanimously to boycott the affair if their Negro delegates were not allowed to dance.

Dr. Jonas E. Salk believes the safest way is to use killed virus that cannot cause polio, but can produce antibodies against it.

NEW YORK (AP)—An issue in the latest Salk vaccine discussion seems to be a scientific one on how to make the best polio vaccine.

Dr. Albert Sabin, of Cincinnati, favors using live-virus vaccine and is testing his vaccine on a small number of humans. He uses strains of live virus which cannot cause paralytic polio. He believes the live viruses will produce antibodies against polio lasting far longer than the protection conferred by a killed-virus vaccine, and perhaps for a lifetime.

Sabin expresses concern over use of the "Mahoney" strain of virus in the Salk vaccine.

To explain, there are three types or "families" of virus which cause human paralytic polio. There are many members in each family. Mahoney is one member of Type I family.

Sabin calls Mahoney the "most virulent" of Type I viruses and seems to imply worry whether it can be safely killed. He prefers—and uses—a nonvirulent Type I virus in his vaccine.

Salk expresses confidence that, when properly made, his vaccine containing Mahoney virus is safe. The Public Health Service endorses the safety of Salk vaccine—even using Mahoney strain—with the safety requirements asked of manufacturers.

Salk and others agree that a different Type I virus is ultimately desirable, and Salk says there are some candidates now for this job. It must be a Type I virus which can take the chemical-killing treatment and still produce sufficient antibodies. Meanwhile, he says there is no danger from Mahoney strain in the vaccine when it is properly made.

Mental Patient To Stand Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Lucille Miller, of Bethel, Vt., has been released from a mental hospital here to stand trial on an indictment charging that she attempted to influence young men against the draft.

Her release yesterday from St. Elizabeth's Hospital followed a court order handed down by a federal judge in Vermont Monday.

Mrs. Miller was seized May 23 after U.S. marshals used tear gas to get her from her Vermont home. Her husband Manuel had stood off the marshals for 12 hours with a rifle in an effort to prevent her commitment to the hospital.

Omen Of Turtle Pays Off With Fish

ODAWARA, Japan (AP)—The omen of the turtle paid off yesterday. A giant, 170-pound turtle waddled out of the sea at Odawara.

Rejoicing fishermen fed him sake (rice wine) and pointed him back to sea. Then they recorded a near-record catch of sardines and mackerel.

Turtles are traditional signs of good luck to Japanese fishermen.

How To Make Best Vaccine Latest Issue

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—An issue in the latest Salk vaccine discussion seems to be a scientific one on how to make the best polio vaccine.

Dr. Jonas E. Salk believes the safest way is to use killed virus that cannot cause polio, but can produce antibodies against it.

Dr. Albert Sabin, of Cincinnati, favors using live-virus vaccine and is testing his vaccine on a small number of humans. He uses strains of live virus which cannot cause paralytic polio. He believes the live viruses will produce antibodies against polio lasting far longer than the protection conferred by a killed-virus vaccine, and perhaps for a lifetime.

Sabin expresses concern over use of the "Mahoney" strain of virus in the Salk vaccine.

To explain, there are three types or "families" of virus which cause human paralytic polio. There are many members in each family. Mahoney is one member of Type I family.

Sabin calls Mahoney the "most virulent" of Type I viruses and seems to imply worry whether it can be safely killed. He prefers—and uses—a nonvirulent Type I virus in his vaccine.

'Name's The Same' Pleasantly Diverting TV Quiz Panel Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Television may have too many panel quiz shows, but some of them can be pleasantly diverting. ABC-TV's Name's The Same comes under that heading.

The gimmick is very simple. Each guest has the same name as some famous person, event or object. It's up to the panel to discover, by asking guests questions that can be answered yes or no, what the famous name is. Viewers are in on the secret from the start. The name is flashed on the screen where they can see but the panelists can't.

The questioning can take some humorous turns. On this week's show, for example, one of the guests was Mrs. Willie Mays, of Rison, Ark. The panelists quickly developed that her name was that of someone in sports, a baseball player in the National League, and a member of the New York Giants team. After guesses ranging all the way to Sal Maglie, they struck out and never came up with the name of Giant star Willie Mays.

They also muffed completely on Miss June Bride, of Beacon, N.Y., possibly because at 15 she's too young to be a June bride.

But they quickly discovered that the name of a 9-year-old boy from Flushing, N.Y., was Julius La Rosa, same as that of the young singer bounced from Arthur Godfrey's TV-radio show.

Singer La Rosa came out to greet his namesake but the younger Julius appeared unimpressed by the whole affair and seemed anxious to get the heck out of there.

Francis Raffetto of the Dallas News, stressed the newspapers' responsibility in covering integration news.

"The papers can either perform a fine service or, if we are not careful, they can instigate a lot of tragedy," he said. "School reporters will have to be very, very careful in how they report desegregation stories."

Providence emphasized the necessity of accurate, meticulous reporting of all news regarding desegregation, and Ralph O'Leary, Houston Post city editor, called for full coverage of all aspects of the story.

Red Newsmen In Fatal Error

BERLIN (AP)—Four employees of Communist East Germany's leading newspaper were reported behind bars today for printing an "error" which completely reversed the party line on peace.

Their newspaper, the party organ Neues Deutschland, yesterday printed this statement: "From day to day, in all lands of the earth, the number of persons who have signed the Vienna (Communist) appeal for preparation of an atomic war is growing."

What had actually been meant, the paper explained today, was "prevention" of an atomic war, not "preparation."

Reporters Warned On Race Stories

AUSTIN (AP)—Newspapers must be fair and accurate in their handling of stories on school desegregation, a reporters' round table here has been warned.

The conference is sponsored by the University of Texas and the Texas Daily Newspaper Assn.

Harry Provence, editor of the Waco News-Tribune and Times-Herald, urged reporters to assemble all information available on Negro schools and their enrollment in preparation for the integration of white and Negro schools.

Providence suggested talking with Negro citizen group leaders and Negro teachers to learn their thinking on problems involved in ending school segregation.

Francis Raffetto of the Dallas News, stressed the newspapers' responsibility in covering integration news.

"The papers can either perform a fine service or, if we are not careful, they can instigate a lot of tragedy," he said. "School reporters will have to be very, very careful in how they report desegregation stories."

Taylor's Arrival Signals Shakeup In Top Command

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army ordered ceremonial troops out today to welcome Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, whose arrival in Washington is to be Army chief of staff signals a shakeup in its top civilian-military command.

Taylor's arrival to take over the job held by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway follows closely the resignation of Robert T. Stevens as secretary of the Army.

Ridgway, approaching retirement age, was not chosen by President Eisenhower for a second two-year term as commander of the Army. The general's views about the need for a continuing big Army conflicted with those of Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense Wilson.

The President and defense chief decided to continue reduction in Army manpower. Ridgway made speeches insisting that the advent of atomic age weapons required more, not fewer, soldiers.

The White House and Defense Department quickly picked a successor to Stevens yesterday, notifying Wilber M. Brucker of his nomination almost within minutes of the arrival of a formal resignation from Stevens. Brucker has been general counsel of the Defense Department.

Rumors of Stevens' resignation had persisted for more than a year, ever since he fell into the prolonged and often sharp wrangle with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) over the latter's charges that Communists were being "coddled" in the Army.

Pauline and Juanita Hamlin of 1208 Pennsylvania have just returned from a 10-day vacation in Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver, Colorado.

He Quits A Winner

Redmond O'Hanlon, New York City policeman, and his wife, Marguerite, mother of their five children, have good reason, above, to be jubilant. O'Hanlon holds a cashier's check for $15,000 in a television studio in New York after winning that amount on his knowledge of Shakespeare on a TV quiz show. He had the dilemma of attempting another question on Shakespeare to double the amount. He elected instead to take the money, explaining a "father's conservatism" won out over a scholar's egotism.

THE SPRINGBOARD

News From Webb Air Force Base
By BILL SEILER

TRAINING PROGRAM STARTS

Training in earnest got started today for the 117 Air Force ROTC cadets assembled at Webb from eight major colleges and universities in six different states. Attendance at the month-long summer encampment is a requisite for their AF reserve commission. Monday, their first day of "duty," was taken up with welcoming talks by Col. C. M. Young, Wing commander, and Lt. Col. Gerard Rooney, camp commandant, along with briefings on regulations and customs of the service, and an orientation by the Wing chaplain.

Tuesday and Wednesday were filled with the taking of physical examinations, with most of them being examined for flying fitness. Those qualified for flying training and applying for active duty will probably be called up in from six weeks to three months.

Today and Friday will include a tour of the base for the visiting cadets, with stops at all of the key points and duty sections. Briefings on the operational setup of each section visited are part of the tour. Tomorrow will also include orientation flights in the T28 trainer for many of the cadets. They will all receive T28 rides while they are here, as well as two 30-minute hops in the T33 jet trainer.

On Saturday afternoon the cadets are invited to be the guest of Lee Hanson at his ranch for a regular western barbecue. Too, the Big Spring Country Club has offered them the free use of the golf links on weekdays while they are here.

LT. GEN. MYERS TO VISIT

Webb will be one of the Air Training Command bases visited by Lt. Gen. Charles T. Myers, ATC commander, on a tour of installations holding AFROTC summer encampments. He is scheduled to arrive here on June 29, according to a wire message received earlier this week.

SCHEDULE CHANGED

The Office of Information Services has announced that its weekly musical program, "The All-Air Force Show," will be heard at a new time starting Saturday. New airing time is 5:30 over KTXC.

"The Webb Record Review," heard Saturdays at 6:30 over KBBT, will remain on schedule indefinitely. Both programs are produced and announced by S. Sgt. Tom Money.

Webb's television production, "Silver Wings," will continue to be seen at 10:30 every other Tuesday evening over KMID-TV. To start your calendar for this series, the next telecast will be Tuesday, June 28.

POST OFFICE TO MOVE

Webb's Post Office, located in a barracks across from the swimming pool, will soon move into new quarters in the building next to the Base Exchange on Warehouse Road, stated S. Sgt. William C. Summers, chief clerk of the section.

The new Post Office has been completely remodeled, and will be almost twice as large as the old one. Date for the move has not yet been announced, but is expected to be early in July.

DANCE TOMORROW NIGHT

The NCO Club at Webb is presenting the dance music of Bobby Burns and his orchestra, along with vocalists Phil and Francine Washburn, for the entertainment of members and their guests tomorrow night from 9 'til 1.

This orchestra has played at Webb several times in the past and has been warmly received. The versatile group switches at ease

Two-Thirds Of U. S. Has Health Insurance

Deep South Still Rumbles Over Ruling

By The Associated Press

Maryland state teachers colleges have bowed to racial integration but utterances from the Deep South continued the theme of a fight to the finish over the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling on the touchy question.

And a leader in the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People called for complete school integration "by not later than . . . September 1956."

The Maryland State Board of Education and the Board of Trustees of the teachers colleges met at Baltimore yesterday and unanimously adopted a resolution declaring that racial segregation in the five teachers "is hereby abolished." Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., superintendent of Maryland schools proposed the resolution.

Officials at the meeting also called on the 23 Maryland counties to comply with the Supreme Court ruling before further court action forces them to it.

The resolution was Maryland's first statewide banishment of the color bar in schools. Colleges affected are former white schools at Frostburg, Salisbury and Towson, and Negro schools at Bowie and Baltimore.

At a three-state rally of members of white Citizens Councils last night at Selma, Ala., the U.S. Supreme Court justices who handed down the school segregation ruling were called "fawning politicians" and a Mississippi circuit judge recommended their impeachment.

Former Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia said the nine justices "are not fit to empty the waste baskets" of past Supreme Court justices who upheld segregation.

The call for their impeachment came from Circuit Judge Tom Brady, of Brookhaven, Miss., who urged a crowd of about 5,000 attending the rally to "promise and vow" to preserve segregation in Southern schools.

"Anything and everything is expendable in this fight," Judge Brady declared, "as long as it is legal and moral we will do it."

The rally in the municipal baseball park was punctuated by rebel Talmadge compared the Supreme Court ruling with the edicts of European dictators. He said

"Anybody and everything is expendable in this fight." Judge Brady declared, "as long as it is legal and moral we will do it."

"Anybody and everything is expendable in this fight." Judge Brady declared, "as long as it is legal and moral we will do it."

The rally in the municipal baseball park was punctuated by rebel Talmadge compared the Supreme Court ruling with the edicts of European dictators. He said those who support the anti-segregation decision "are assisting in the destruction of constitutional government in this country."

The high court's decision is in direct conflict with the 9th and 10th amendments to the U.S. Constitution which provide that individual citizens and states have a right to manage their own private affairs, Talmadge said.

To get around the Supreme Court ruling, he offered these suggestions to white Southerners:

1. The possibility of abolishing the public school system as the voters of Georgia have given that Legislature the right to do.
2. The cutting off of public funds for any schools where white and Negro pupils attend.
3. "The united opposition of all the voters" against anyone "who sells the South down the river."
4. A social boycott of "the scoundrels and carpetbaggers of the modern era" who fail or refuse to join the fight to preserve segregation.

At Atlantic City, N.J., Thurgood Marshall, special counsel for the NAACP, said that group would insist on desegregation "by not later than the school term beginning September 1956." Marshall spoke to the NAACP annual convention.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upset or day to day stress and strain. And folk who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation . . . without reason.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—leading to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable . . . with restless, sleepless nights . . . don't wait . . . try Doan's Pills . . . get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 50 years. Get Doan's Pills today!

Rayburn Hopeful On Gas Bill Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) intimated today he expects legislation to free natural gas producers from federal regulation to be enacted this year with backing from President Eisenhower.

"I think," Rayburn told newsmen, "that it will take the endorsement and power of the administration to get the bill passed. And, of course, that means the President of the United States."

Refloating Efforts Begin After Ship Runs Aground

BOSTON (AP)—Efforts to refloat the partly submerged excursion vessel Pilgrim Belle began today less than 24 hours after her skipper purposely ran her aground because a submerged rock had torn a hole in her underside.

The skipper's action was credited with saving the 272 passengers and two-score crewmen from any danger.

All passengers—most of them teen-agers—and the crewmen were taken off the leaking and listing vessel within minutes after Capt. James Goodwin waded her onto the mud off Spectacle Island in Boston's inner harbor.

The vessel was on its regular daily run from Boston to Nantasket Beach yesterday when she struck what the Wilson Line, its owners, said was a rock.

Walter Lippmann

The Necessity Is For Continuing A Stalemate

Before the parleys in San Francisco began, the frame within which the four Foreign Ministers are now working had become visible. For one thing they are no longer the Big Four: there are now eight powers who will take part as principals in at least some of the coming talks.

of the principal powers to show that none is now ready for, that none now really expects or desires, to strike the bargain which would make for settlement. This was made indisputably clear on the Western side during Dr. Adenauer's visit.

Within recent weeks it has become clear, I think, that all these principal powers are in basic agreement on three general propositions. The first is that war, which now means thermonuclear war, is impossible, and that there is no alternative, if not to peace as the President has said, then at least to the avoidance of war.

And yet, all the powers are already engaged in negotiations. About what? About, one may say, the little issues which exasperate people and provoke hatred without in fact having anything decisive to do with the big issues.

There is, I submit, no doubt that the underlying cause of all the recent diplomatic activity is that the competition in armaments has come to a stalemate. War, and the threat of war, cannot under the existing conditions be used as an instrument of national policy.

Under the present conditions the fact that the principal powers cannot fight means also that they feel no compulsion to make big concessions in order to settle the big issues. What they want to talk about, what they are impelled by their interests and by their public opinion to talk about, are not settlement of the big issues but ways of making it more certain that this stalemate, this cease fire before hostilities, this pre-war armistice, will endure.

Business Mirror

Sights Raised On Business Boom

NEW YORK (AP) — Once more the sights are being raised on the business boom. This time business is feeding on its own growing confidence.

even more optimistic than the government departments. It sees the speedup in construction assuring that current good times will last well into 1956.

Consumers led the way with purchases that more than made up for the drop in government spending for defense. Now industrial leaders are aiming higher than a few months back and their spending for new plants and modernized equipment is pushing general prosperity to new peaks.

Some solid backing for the optimism comes from current industrial reports. Steel masters this week are turning out the greatest tonnage of any week in history. Blast furnaces making pig iron also report a record—the steel-making ingredient poured from the furnaces in May at a record total of 8,804,935 net tons.

General Motors, for example, has just announced a new 500 million dollar expansion program for more floor space, new machines tools and presses.

How long can it last? Some caution against overconfidence. One, Henry H. Heilmann, executive vice president of the National Assn. of Credit Men, warns: "One mistake that could set us back for quite some time would be to assume that business can continue without pause at its present high speed. Or that the stock market can go in only one direction — up. Or that debt is limitless."

Spending on new commercial buildings will be up 30 per cent on industrial plants up 8 per cent and on private utilities up 4 per cent. The U. S. Chamber of Commerce is

Pageantry To Open Big Dawson Rodeo

LAMESA—Amid an air of pageantry, the annual Dawson County Rodeo will swing into a three-day schedule at 8 p.m. today under the lights.

Dallas to North Second, thence to Dallas, around the square and out Houston to the rodeo grounds. Heading the colorful procession will be the Lamesa National Guard unit color guard, followed by the Webb AFB band from Big Spring, and the Farm Bureau Queen contest entry float. All contestants, visiting posse, and pleasure riders will complete the parade.

On tap at the show grounds will be a menu of bronc riding, calf roping, bareback bronc riding, cowgirls, sponsor events, kids' hat race, double mugging, wild steer riding, and a wild mare race, seasoned with trick roping clown and specialty acts. Gop Mayor, Petrolis, is the producer.

From 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. the visiting posse members, expected to number 500 or more, were to be feted at Lobo Park with a barbecue. The Round Up Club, headed by J. T. White, was to serve, and the barbecue was to be prepared by a group working with Marvin E. Herman.

Condemnation Appraisals Made

Special commissioners were making appraisals this morning in two condemnation suits filed in the acquisition of U. S. 80 Freeway rights east of Big Spring.

A channel easement is being sought from W. W. and D. D. Crawford, and access rights are being condemned in connection with land owned by H. E. Heaton.

Making the appraisals were M. L. Patterson, E. P. Driver and George O'Brien. They were accompanied by County Commissioners Earl Hull and G. E. Gilliam. The county has secured practically all right-of-way for the freeway and bids for road construction may be asked at the July meeting of the State Highway Commission. The county has assured the highway department that the last few road rights will be secured as quickly as possible.

Local Man Rates As Top Underwriter

A local representative of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, Roy Black, has won sales honors with his company as "top underwriter of the month" for the entire West Texas agency for Equitable.

Man arrested with beer load charged. LAMESA — Arcadio Yasaya was on his way to Levelland early today when he and his cargo of 20 cases of beer were halted.

Officers took him into tow and filed charges of illegally transporting intoxicating beverages through a dry territory.

Assault charges due for city prisoner. A man is being held by police today on charges of aggravated assault. It is expected that he will be transferred to the county jail this afternoon and charges made in County Court.

The man was arrested Wednesday at 5 p.m. His arrest is connected with an assault on a Webb AFB airman, dating back several months.

McLaughlin Venture Shows As Probable Discovery Near Roscoe

C. T. McLaughlin No. 1 Ater indicated Thursday as a discovery well near Roscoe in Nolan, and a Cambrian sand wildcat was struck 2 1/2 miles southwest of the Nolan community in Nolan County.

In Dawson County Seaboard No. 1 Reed, after unsuccessful tests in the upper Spraberry, continued drilling toward the reef. A Jameson-West Strawn venture in Sterling County, Sunray No. 1 Nora Gee, treated with 20,000 gallons and was preparing to test. A Glaucock County Spraberry prospect, Humble No. 1-J TXL, also underwent fracture treatment preparatory to testing.

F. Kirk Johnson No. 1 R. M. Thompson Jr. has been announced as a wildcat test 660 from the south and west lines of 29-A, AG-8-WT in Schleicher County. It will go to 4,000 feet to test the Pennsylvania 10 miles southeast of Eldorado.

In Lynn County, Ardmore No. 1 Edwards spudded to 307 feet and set the 13 1/2-inch string at that depth.

Dawson. Cities Service No. 1 Rendon, wildcat five miles southwest of Welch, is drilling at 1,290 feet in redbeds. Drillite is 1,980 from north and east lines, 72-M-EL&RR survey.

Shell Oil Company No. 1 Clay is at 4,548 feet in dolomite. This wildcat location is 12 miles southwest of Lamesa. Drillite is C NW labor 4, league 267, Moore County School Land.

Seaboard No. 1 Reed took a drill-stem test of the upper Spraberry at perforations between 6,880-6,960 feet. Tool was open two hours and recovered 95 feet of mud with no shows of oil. Operator is now drilling at 7,125 feet in lime and shale and is going on to the reef. This wildcat is four miles north of Ackerly. Drillite is 2,174 from south and 467 from west lines, 35-34-T&P survey.

Glasscock. Humble Oil No. 1-J TXL, 17 miles southwest of Garden City, fractured perforations between 7,599-7,658 feet with 21,000 gallons of oil. Operator is now swabbing to recover load and test. Drillite is 990 from north and west lines, 23-36-4s, T&P survey.

Howard. Fleming and Fleming and Kimbrell No. 7-H Denman is the new IATA-East Howard field location, eight miles southeast of Coahoma. Drilling is scheduled for 3,200 feet. Drillite is 330 from north and west lines, 10-30-1s, T&P survey.

Mitchell. Ski-Hi Oil Company No. 1-B R. S. Brennan is a Westbrook field location about six miles north of Westbrook. Drilling will go to 3,300 feet. Drillite is 330 from south and west lines, 28-1 T&P survey.

Nolan. Sun No. 1 Booth is drilling between 6,041 and 6,050 feet in Pennsylvanian lime.

Johnson No. 1 Harbeck is drilling at 5,700 feet in shale.

A. W. and Blair Cherry No. 1 Bishop is at 5,500 feet in lime and shale.

British-American No. 1 Feldman is drilling in lime and chert at 5,757 feet.

Butcher Cattle Prices Are Down

Butcher cattle were cheaper at the Big Spring Livestock Auction Company's sale Wednesday, when an estimated 550 cattle and 50 hogs were paraded before the buyers.

Bulls brought up to 13.00, fat cows up to 12.00, canners and culters from 7.50 to 8.50, fat butcher yearlings from 17.50 to 21.00 and stocker steer calves from 17.00 to 20.00.

Heifer calves went from 13.50 to 15.00, cows beside calves from 90.00 to 130.00 and hogs up to 20.50.

Turncoats Face Arrest By Army

HONOLULU (AP) — The Star-Bulletin has quoted an Army source as saying three former American soldiers the Reds say will soon leave China are to be taken into custody.

They have been given dishonorable discharges, but an Army source here said the Army still has jurisdiction over them.

Air Force Jet Falls Near New Braunfels

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex. (AP) — An Air Force jet plane crashed today near the Spring Branch Community.

Deputy Sheriff Milton Doerr said wreckage was found one half mile east of Spring Branch. No further details were available.

TB Consultant Due At VA Hospital

Dr. John S. Chapman, assistant dean of the Southwestern Medical School, will visit the local Veterans Administration Hospital next Monday.

Dr. Chapman will be here in his capacity of area consultant on tuberculosis.

Set For Scout Camp

Boys from three troops, all of them represented in previous sessions, will go to the Boy Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains next week. There will be about 10 boys from troops No. 15, No. 19 and No. 3. Troop No. 12 of Sterling City will send about 11 boys under leadership of L. C. McDaniel.

Morrow is a wildcat location 2 1/2 miles southwest of Nolan, and scheduled for 6,700 feet to test the Cambrian sand. Drillite is 1,980 from south and 330 from west lines, 28-4-H&TC survey.

Fletcher Oil and Gas No. 1 Inkman is drilling in shale at 4,000 feet.

General Crude Oil No. 1 Alderman is preparing to test perforations between 8,490-8,530 feet with 3,000 gallons of acid.

C. K. Norsworthy No. 1 L. S. Howard is preparing to test an open hole section. The project has total depth of 6,888 feet in the Pennsylvanian formation and the 5 1/2 inch casing goes to 6,650 feet.

C. T. McLaughlin No. 1 Ater indicated discovery with a flow of 25 barrels of oil in 14 hours through a 14-64th inch choke. The flow followed after operator treated perforations between 6,741-6,761 feet with 5,000 gallons of acid. This project is near Roscoe.

French Legate Calls For United Germany

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay today called for a unified Germany but declared the West must reject Soviet efforts to turn it into a neutral buffer.

"German unity must be established with equal security for all," he told the U. N.'s 10th anniversary session as it went into its fourth day.

"We must rule out the misconception of a neutral Germany which might some day become an over-armed Germany, and also rule out the senselessness of a neutral Germany, for a great people cannot indefinitely be subjected to trusteeship.

"We must, in my opinion, give a free Germany the choice of being associated to a system of security, including reciprocal limitation and control of armaments."

Pinay called the German problem one of the main problems that divide the East and West.

He made no specific mention of yesterday's speech by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, but in effect his remarks on Germany answered at least one of Molotov's points.

He also made it clear that the German question would offer a major challenge to the Big Four summit meeting in Geneva next month.

Pinay dealt with the disarmament problem briefly, expressing a cautious optimism that some progress was being made.

Western diplomats said privately that Molotov may have dealt an unintentional blow to his own peace offensive by raising anew all the major cold war issues.

Some small countries were plainly disappointed, but one Western diplomat expressed the belief that the U. N.'s anniversary meeting needed something like Molotov's speech yesterday to jolt it back to reality.

As the session opened its fourth day, there still was little public comment on the Soviet foreign minister's speech and his challenge to the West to make the next move in reducing world tensions.

A later speaker, Nationalist China's Foreign Minister George Yeh, was almost certain to blast Molotov's demands that Red China be seated in the U. N. and that Formosa be handed over to the Peiping regime.

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak said of Molotov's speech: "The entire tone was conciliatory and the speech is certainly worthy of the West's attention."

Others said privately, however, they felt Molotov would have been much more effective if he had stuck to his peace bid and omitted any reference to controversial issues. They also felt he made a mistake in blaming the West for the cold war.

Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines said Molotov's speech was "the same old broken record." He said he thought Molotov had violated the rules of the anniversary session by raising controversial questions and criticizing other nations.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said: "I will save my reactions to Mr. Molotov's speech for my own talk on Friday."

Mrs. Thornton Dies Wednesday

Mrs. Lera Thornton, mother of Jess Thornton and widow of former police chief J. T. Thornton died in a hospital here Wednesday afternoon.

She had been in ill health for approximately nine months.

Services were to be held at 4 p.m. Thursday at the Assembly of God Church with the Rev. Calvin O. Wiley, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. E. F. Wray, Sweetwater. Mrs. Thornton had been a member of the Assembly of God Church since 1917. The remains will be taken in a Nalley coach to Walnut Springs for graveside rites beside the grave of her husband at 4 p.m. Friday.

Mrs. Thornton was born Feb. 2, 1886 in Freestone County. She and Mr. Thornton came here in 1923 and he served successively as a member of the police department, its chief, and later as constable. Mr. Thornton died Dec. 25, 1952 of heart attack.

Surviving Mrs. Thornton are one son, Jess T. Thornton Big Spring, one daughter, Mrs. H. B. Mounce Sweetwater; a brother, D. L. Martin, Dallas, and a half brother, Larkin Raik, Waco; one sister, Mrs. Cullison Ritter, Fairfield; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Texas Skies Mostly Clear

Texas skies were mostly clear early Thursday but new thunderheads, such as have plastered the state for week, built up as the day grew older.

Temperatures were again at summertime levels, rising from 75 at midnight to 85 at Dalhart.

A severe thunderstorm that built up over the South Plains late Wednesday night, dumped 1.30 inches of rain on Plainview within 20 minutes and moved east and south. A tornado funnel was sighted near Levelland, but there was no report it reached the ground.

Light hail was reported at Plainview. The heavy rains and strong winds did no reported damage, but kept residents jittery most of the night.

Earlier, afternoon rains struck at Cotulla in South Texas and at Mesquite, just east of Dallas. Lightning and light hail which accompanied a thunderstorm that raked northern Houston did slight damage. Galesville received a 2-inch rain, Lubbock had 25, Fort Worth 12, Presidio .02, and Dallas a trace.

While the thunderstorms blustered and threatened with no great damage accompanying rains helped out. Som of the state's depleted reservoirs were looking better, subsoil moisture was building up in some areas, stock tanks were brimming in many sections, and crops looked better than in years.

Even at Lamesa, where water restrictions were imposed Wednesday, crops were looking good, despite lack of good rains for more than a month. City officials believed a new well to be tied into the Lamesa mains later this month would alleviate the water shortage.

Wednesday's maximum temperatures ranged from 101 at Presidio to 87 at Alpine in the Davis Mountains and at Galveston off the Gulf Coast.

Mrs. Phillips' Mother Succumbs

Mrs. B. F. Godwin, mother of Mrs. Hart Phillips, died at her home at 3000 Lake Rd., San Angelo, early Thursday morning.

Mrs. Godwin had been ill for about six months, and critically ill for several weeks.

Services were to be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Trinity Methodist Church at San Angelo. The remains will be at the Johnson Funeral home.

Surviving Mrs. Godwin are her husband, B. F. Godwin; two daughters, Mrs. Phillips, Big Spring, and Mrs. Willard Renfro, Ballinger; three sons, Louis Godwin, Odessa, R. H. Godwin, Edith, and John Paul Godwin, McCombs.

JOINT DECLARATION

Nehru, Bulganin Issue Demand For Surrender Of Formosa

MOSCOW (AP) — The Premiers of Russia and India came out jointly today for the surrender of Formosa to the Chinese Reds.

They also urged a U. N. seat for Communist China and a ban on atomic weapons.

The declaration was signed last night by India's Prime Minister Nehru and Soviet Premier Bulganin and published this morning at the end of Nehru's 17-day visit to the Soviet Union.

The statement contained little that the two men or their governments had not said before. But it was the first time they had said it together.

Nehru and Bulganin called also for a simultaneous and substantial reduction of conventional armaments with "effective international control." They cited the recent Soviet disarmament proposals as a "substantial contribution to peace."

The document was published less than three hours before Nehru boarded a plane for Warsaw to spend three days before pushing on to Belgrade, Vienna, Rome and London.

The crowds which lined the streets this morning to see Nehru off numbered far less than the estimated million which turned out for his arrival.

Nehru was accompanied to the airport by Bulganin, Soviet Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev, Deputy Premier Georgi Malenkov, Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov and other Soviet leaders.

Bidding the Indian leader farewell, Bulganin hailed the joint document as "a solid basis for further development between our two countries and as an example to the rest of the world of peaceful coexistence."

In addition to championing Red China's cause and echoing Russia's disarmament ideas, the declaration:

1. Reaffirmed the "five principles of international coexistence which Nehru drew up with Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai at their conference last year and which Yugoslav President Tito later espoused.

2. Urged full implementation of the Indochina armistice provisions calling for elections to unify North and South Viet Nam in July 1956.

3. Called for admission to the U. N. of "all states which are qualified for membership in terms of the charter."

4. Acclaimed the results of the Asian-African conference at Bandung, Indonesia, last April.

5. Welcomed the advent of Austrian independence.

6. Noted "signs of improvement in the general international situation" and "lessening of tension in the Far East" but warned that the causes of friction still remained in the Far East. Red China's failure to get Formosa and a U. N. seat were the only causes cited.

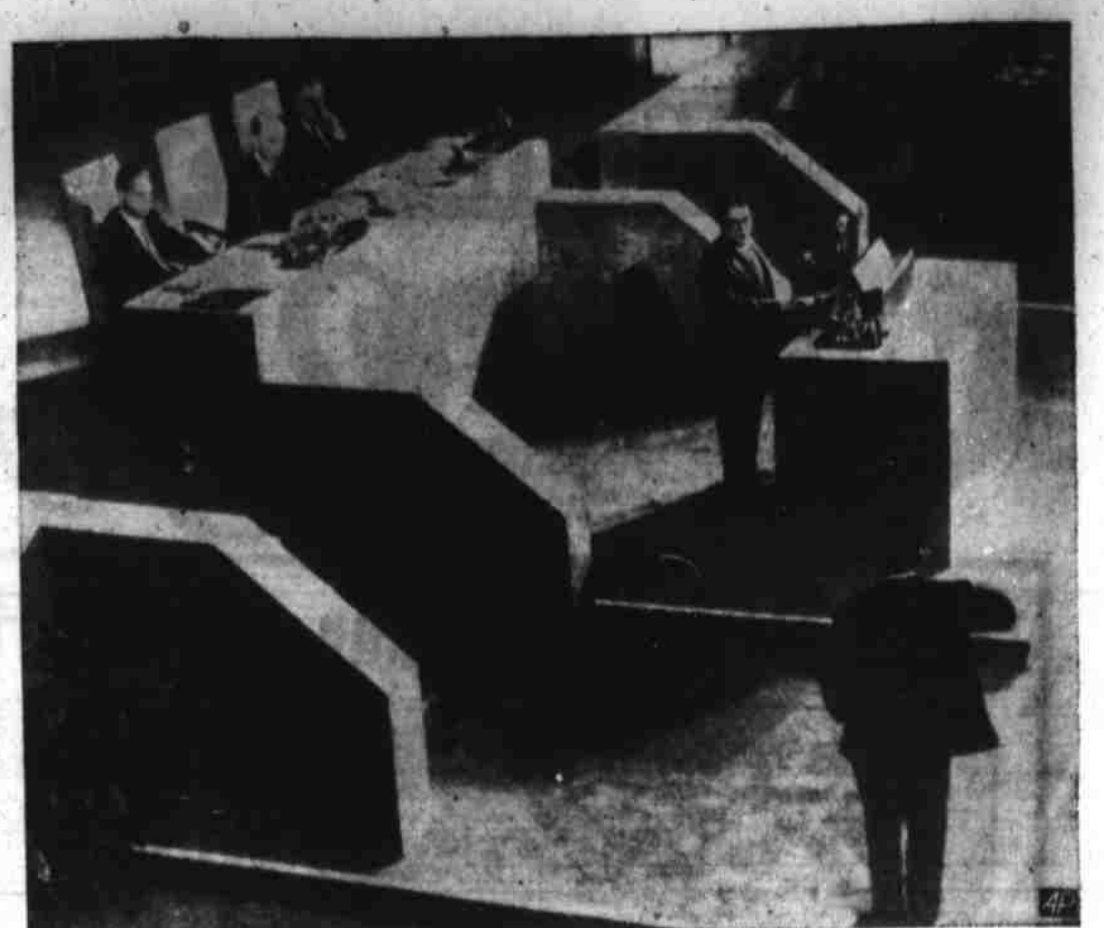

7. Agreed to promote and strengthen economic, cultural and scientific relations between India and Russia.

8. Hailed improvement of relations between Russia and Yugoslavia.

(In Washington, the State Department said it would have no immediate comment.)

Regarding China, the two Prime Ministers said it was their "earnest hope . . . that it will be possible by peaceful means to satisfy the legitimate rights of the Chinese People's Republic in regard to Taiwan (Formosa)."

They said that "continued refusal" to admit Peiping to the U. N. "lies at the root of many troubles in the Far East and elsewhere." Nehru and Bulganin said they "consider it essential that the Chinese People's Republic be given its rightful place in the United Nations, whose role and authority would thereby be enhanced."

Nehru and Bulganin said they "consider it essential that the Chinese People's Republic be given its rightful place in the United Nations, whose role and authority would thereby be enhanced."

The call for U. N. admission of all qualified applicants named no countries specifically.

In referring to the Indochina armistice, the declaration pointed out that Russia had been a co-chairman of the Geneva conference and India was chairman of the armistice supervisory commissions for Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

It said implementation of the armistice agreements "has on the whole so far been satisfactory" but "the progress . . . is now in some danger of being obstructed by new and unexpected developments."

Presumably this referred to recent reports from Saigon that the South Viet-Nam government might oppose the holding of the July 1956 elections.

The two Premiers said no international question is "more pressing or fraught with graver consequences to the issue of war and peace than that of disarmament."

"The tendency to build up arms and armaments, conventional as well as atomic, has increased the danger of a world war and has had the effect of diverting national resources from their legitimate purposes, namely, the uplift of peoples. In the opinion of the Prime Ministers, nothing should be allowed to stand in the way of the imposition of a complete ban on the production, experimentation and use of nuclear and thermonuclear weapons of war."

Nehru and Bulganin said they were convinced that mutual confidence among nations

Beauty Is Important

Lisa Montell, featured in Warner Bros. "Escape to Burma," came to Hollywood from Peru through a television film. She talks to your Hollywood Beauty Columnist, Lydia Lane, about skin care.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Solved Skin Problem, It Helped Her Beauty

By LYDIA LANE

Lisa Montell came to Hollywood via Peru, although she was born in Poland and educated right here in the United States. Her father was sent to South America on a business trip and the family went along. Lisa joined a small theatrical group in Lima and was spotted by a Hollywood director who was making a picture there with a jungle background. Lisa was tested and won the starring role in the film called "Cocabala."

The film was sold to television and it was through this medium that she attracted the attention of Hollywood. I visited her at Warner Bros. when she was making "Escape to Burma" with Barbara Stanwyck. "I can't believe I'm really in Hollywood," Lisa said. "I'd dreamed of it many times but I hardly thought it would happen to me. You see, up to the age of thirteen or fourteen I was the ugliest child you ever saw. I was fat, wore braces on my teeth and spoke English with a heavy accent. This made me miserable. I used to pray every night that I would be pretty."

"Then suddenly the braces came off, I lost weight and was so thrilled with the change that I decided to go a step farther. I became a blonde. That was a big mistake and one I soon corrected. I just wasn't the type and I think it's wrong to change your basic type.

"There is a certain point of individuality in everyone that should be developed and that should be every woman's goal, but also her limit.

"There's no kidding yourself," she continued. "The better you look, the easier it is for you to get what you want."

Lisa commented on the way Hollywood make-up men accentuate naturalness.

"Even though they use a lot of make-up, it doesn't look that way. Speaking of using a lot of make-up, when I first started working in pictures I had quite a bit of trouble with my skin.

"I discovered the trouble stemmed from the way I was taking off my make-up, or rather, NOT taking it off. I didn't realize how easy it is to leave cleansing cream stuck in your pores to get mixed up with stale make-up. My doctor pointed this out and suggested that I scrub my face once a day with a medicated soap.

"This, I discovered, is a common skin problem but many girls do not recognize the reason. As soon as I began this thorough cleansing routine, my skin no longer gave me any trouble."

Nothing Stops Fun For Indoor Sports

By ANNE LEFEVER

Wheel chairs, canes, hearing aids and even aches and pains are of little importance when the Indoor Sports Club meets for a regular session or for one of their picnics, barbecues, luncheons, banquets or any other kind of gathering that promises to be fun.

This club, boasting that it is the oldest Indoor Sports Club in Texas, was organized in September of 1946, under the leadership of the B&PW Club of Big Spring. Out of this B&PW group has developed the Good Sports. These members arrange transportation, refreshments, programs and serve in any way they are needed by the Indoor Sports.

A person physically handicapped in any way, through blindness, deafness, by amputation or by crippling disease, for example, is eligible to join this group and will be made most welcome. The purpose of the club is not only to entertain the members, but to help with legislation concerning their welfare.

Now, the center of interest is the attempt to get legislation passed which will increase exemptions in income taxes for the physically handicapped. It is also hoped that they will be able to obtain the same transportation privileges that are given to the blind.

Smart Sunners Learn To Toast--Not Broil

By VIVIAN BROWN

The said that "the burnt child craves the flame" and we don't seem to learn as we grow older.

A girl can bask in the sunshine until her skin shrivels, suffer the usual misery from overindulgence as well as remorse from her own stupidity and make all the proper avowals that it will never happen again. But it frequently does.

The trouble is, we don't always learn from experience. We are likely to challenge our luck again and again and again with our habit of taking things in stride.

It is easy to get a painless tan or avoid it altogether if your preference is to maintain a lily-white complexion. Protective skin creams help in either case.

Suntan creams are no longer messy and inconvenient to use. They may be applied easily without staining clothes and leave no unpleasant odor on the picnic lunch. One new vanishing foam for sun and sand is completely invisible on the skin, leaving a moisture of film to avoid dry skin. It is applied easily from an aerosol container.

Youngsters also must be taught to use sun protection on the skin, wear sunglasses and protect the head from the sun's hot rays. A game of application of a sun cream will make it easier to remember. Daughter might spray it on mother, rubbing it on the hard-to-reach areas — back, neck and backs of legs. Then mother should apply it to the youngster.

Impress on a youngster that a little sunbathing goes a long way. After a few days of sunbathing, more time may be spent in its warm glow, however. The trick is to get the skin warmed up to it.

A good rule of thumb is that 5 or 10 minutes exposure in the beginning will be sufficient. After a few days more time might be added. Pretty soon with the aid of suntan cream, goggles, headgear and perhaps an outdoor umbrella one may acquire a lovely tan, spending a day outdoors playing hide and seek with the sun.

Fair types will need to be wary of the sun even after a slight tan has been acquired to avoid blistering and skin peeling. But a smothered tan may be acquired and maintained if common sense is used.

Home Plate Marriage Precedes Ball Game

Tonight's baseball game between Big Spring and Midland at Steer Park, final of the series and the Cosden Cops' current home stand, will be preceded by an 8 o'clock wedding at home plate.

Huck Doe, star catcher of the home club, will be wedded to Miss Emma Stephens of Garden City. Officiating will be Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Big Spring.

Doe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doe of Big Spring. Emma is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stephens of Garden City.

Mike Rainey will serve as best man while Mrs. Mike Rainey will be the matron of honor.

Local fans and friends of the couple will shower the newlyweds with gifts. Those who wish can bring presents to the field. Doe said he would play in the game, even though Manager Pepper Martin has offered him the night off. An immediate honeymoon is not in prospect, since Huck will continue his baseball career.

Perhaps the biggest crowd of the Cops' home club will be on hand, at least the largest since opening night, when the turnout amounted to 1,200.

Artie DiCesare, who has eight wins to his credit, is poised to go to the mound for Big Spring as the Cops seek a series sweep over the Midland Indians.

Midland could counter with either George Escobar, a standout rookie who joined the Warriors recently from Corpus Christi, or the crafty Romarico Soto, always tough for Big Spring to beat. Soto has an 8-5 won-lost record. Escobar has lost only once, and holds three wins for the visitors.

Midland is still crippled. Two hard-hitting regulars, Billy Capps and Al Jiminez, are out of action due to injuries.

Dallas Eagles Pad Advantage

Of course, the Dallas Eagles won't let up and would be highly insulted if it was even suggested, but they're going to ruin the Texas League race if they keep on winning so much.

As of Thursday they're seven games in front of the field with no indication of the margin being cut. In fact, it may get worse.

The Eagles whipped Shreveport 5-1 Wednesday night for their sixth victory in the last seven games and second-place San Antonio lost again, falling out of the runner-up spot in favor of Fort Worth Cats.

Top users of the long ball to bulldoze the opposition, the Eagles won the game on a grand-slam home run by first baseman Bill White. Hugh Blanton, Shreveport pitcher, walked four batters in the second inning, and with one run already forced in, White slugged the ball over the center field fence to bring in four more.

Dallas was winning its 11th home game in the last 12. The Eagles got only five hits but the home run is worth a lot of 1-base knocks.

Green Assumes Presidency

CARLSBAD (N.M.)—W. J. Green who will become president of the Longhorn League July 1, Green, who lives in San Antonio, has 30 years experience in baseball.

He was elected to head the league yesterday and will succeed Peck Cunningham of Midland, who resigned because of press of private business.

The league was found to be in poor financial condition with only $150 in the bank and a $1,000 payroll coming up.

Steve Lanning, Artesia president, said some of the clubs might not be turning in their proper remittances to the league. He urged a close check on the league "can continue the season."

Frick Will Meet Owners In Texas

DALLAS (N.M.)—Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball, will meet with Texas League club owners July 21 at Beaumont, league president Dick Butler said today.

Frick will be in Beaumont for the Old-Times Game that precedes the annual Texas League All-Star Game.

He has nothing in particular to discuss with the club owners but will merely exchange views on baseball in general. Frick is interested in the reasons for a decline in baseball attendance.

The Texas League will hold its official meeting July 22 at 10 a.m. when the question of the Beaumont franchise is up for discussion.

While Beaumont is due to finish the current season there are strong indications that the franchise will be transferred next year. Amarillo, Corpus Christi and Austin are being talked as possible sites for 1956.

The All-Star game will be the night of July 22.

KOSSE GETS FIFTH WIN

Billings' Circuit Smash Sinks Tribe

The Big Spring Cosden Cops felt like flexing their muscles and showing defiance to all hostile parties in the Longhorn League after cleaning up on Midland for the second straight time here Wednesday night, 9-7.

It took a heap o' doing but the Bobbies rallied for five runs in a thrill-packed eighth inning, then had to go all out to stay the Indian power in the top half of the ninth.

Frank Billings, the hottest hitting article in the Longhorn League the past two weeks, treated the circuit's leading pitcher, Bob Swanson, with utter contempt.

The mercury-heeled leftfielder for the Cops blasted out a three-run home run in the eighth that tied the anchor-of defeat to Swanson's neck.

The four-master, his third of the season, was Frank's fourth hit of the contest. He doubled in the first and came up with singles in the third and seventh rounds.

In addition, he drove in a total of five runs, stole two bases and made an electrifying catch of Newton Blanchard's fly ball in the eighth.

Chief benefactor of the Cops' stellar play was Kosse Hill, who hurled fine ball before he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Kosse was around long enough to get credit for his fifth win of the campaign.

Mike Rainey look over for Kosse in the ninth but found he hadn't warmed up enough. He issued two bases on balls and gave up a run-producing hit before Aga Baca could be summoned.

Baca put out the fire with neatness and dispatch, facing only three batters.

Swanson came to town looking for his 11th victory but instead had to accept his third defeat.

Big Spring played catchup until the eighth, mainly because of solo home runs by Glen Burns and Glen Seibe. Burns got his four-base ply in the fifth while Seibe unloaded in the seventh.

Jim Zapp, first up for Big Spring in the eighth, skied to center but Huck Doe walked and Floyd Martin hit a scorching double down the third base line.

Tom Costello then was walked intentionally in order that Swanson could get to Hill but, instead, Manager Pepper Martin of Big Spring sent in Jim Barr as a pinch-hitter. Barr was hit by a pitched ball to force in a run and tie the score at 5-5.

Nick Cappelli rolled out to the infield but Floyd Martin raced home with the go-ahead run on the play. Billings then came through with his mighty blast, a drive that cleared the right field wall with yards to spare.

GLEANINGS — Luis Caballero got a big hand from the crowd when he leaped high to snag Ray Speer's line drive in the webbing of his glove in the second inning. Seibe paced the Midland attack with two singles and a home run in five trips. Billings managed his first hit on a perfectly-timed hit-and-run play. Nick Cappelli started for second. Eny Wilcox went over to cover and Billings hit through his position for two bases and the Cops' first run. Swanson committed two wild pitches to enable Billings to score from second in the third. The home run was worth about $53 to Billings. He spent a long time collecting the money shoved through the screen at him.

Robbins Ousted In NCAA Play

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (N.M.)—A new champion was assured as the National Collegiate golf tournament moved into the second and third rounds today.

Defending titlist Hillman Robbins of Memphis State went 20 holes before he was eliminated yesterday, along with medalist Johnny Pott of Louisiana State, in a first round notable for upsets.

Chuck Briggs of Seattle University, a 19-year-old sophomore from Denver, ousted Robbins 1-up on the 20th hole in a match interrupted for two hours by a rain-storm.

Pott was eliminated, 2-up, by Bobby Goetz, Oklahoma A&M sophomore, from Arlington, Tex.

Underdogs won three matches yesterday.

John Gerring, Wake Forest, eliminated Louisiana State's Cecil Cannon, last year's runner-up, 4 and 3; Melvin Deitch, North Carolina, defeated Floyd Addington of Southern Methodist, former National junior champ who qualified with a six-under-par 135, 1-up; and Jack Parnell, Oklahoma A&M, ousted John Marschall, Iowa sophomore whose 66 led the first 15-hole qualifying round Monday, also 1-up.

Artesia NuMexers Lead In Circuit

The Artesia NuMexers held on to its slim one-game edge in the Longhorn League Thursday, losing one contender for the top spot but still feeling San Angelo's hot breath.

The two leading teams start a pre-game series Thursday night which might decide the issue on the Colts' home field.

Midland, which also was trailing only a game going into Wednesday night's play, dropped its contest with last-place Big Spring 9-7.

Betting Handle At Track Up 33.4 Per Cent Over '54

RUIDOSO, N. M., (SC) — Approximately 8,000 paid customers wagered $242,555 at Ruidoso Downs Saturday and Sunday.

The $112,967 mutual handle for Saturday, was a 44.1 per cent increase over last year's Saturday, same date.

Sunday's total wagering was $130,288, is a 22.3 per cent increase over same day last year. To date, the overall increase in attendance and wagering is 33.4 per cent.

The old saying, "the proof of the pudding, etc.," holds true at this mountain race course. The confidence in the management and track operations at Ruidoso Downs.

Warm weather in other parts of the Southwest is also a contributing factor for inducing people to spend the weekend in the cool pine country. The weather for racing here has been perfect the last two weeks. The day time temperature is around 78 degrees and the low about 45 degrees.

One of the highlights of Sunday's tenth race for thoroughbreds was the international flavor. Of the eight horses entered, four were imported from foreign countries — The Cosham Kid hailed from Ireland, Ballybunnion from England, Valor 2nd from France, and Hermana Moreno, a filly from Mexico. The winner of the race was Ballybunnion, the English invader owned by Archie Rooks of Phoenix, Ariz. He was the longest-price winning horse of the day, paying $25.90, $8.30, and $5.30.

Racing resumes Saturday, June 25 at Ruidoso Downs. First post time is 1:30 p.m.

It's The Slack Season

Plainview's hopes to take the West Texas-New Mexico League lead away from Pampa have been set back, at least temporarily, with the help of last-place El Paso.

Plainview's Ponies, trailing by three percentage points going into Wednesday night's play, thought they could make it up against the cellar-dwelling border city team. But El Paso exploded with 12 runs off five Pony hurlers to edge Plainview 12-11.

The Ponies had the range, too, battering four El Paso hurlers.

Pampa, against fourth-place Abilene took the first game of a doubleheader 10-1. The Blue Sox bounced back in the nightcap to take the game which would have given the Oilers a little breathing space in the standings 13-10.

In other games, Albuquerque beat Clovis 11-7 and Lubbock won an 8-3 contest from Amarillo.

Roberts Rides Out Tempest To Win Tenth

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Robin Roberts may be the only pitcher in baseball who figures to be around for the second inning after getting clobbered for three home runs and blowing a 3-0 lead in the first.

That's Robin's way. He gets hit the hardest, yet wins the most.

Even so, the ace of the Philadelphia Phils' staff must give Manager Mayo Smith fits.

Last night at St. Louis, he trailed 4-3 after the Cards whacked him for three homers, two in succession, in the first frame. Yet he stayed around and wound up with his 13th complete game and 10th victory of the season, 9-8.

That put the Phils back in fifth place, a percentage point ahead of Cincinnati in the National League. The Redlegs lost 4-3 to the New York Giants, who ended a six-game losing streak. First-place Brooklyn edged Chicago 3-2, leaving the Cubs just half a game ahead of the third-place Milwaukee Braves, who whipped Pittsburgh 6-0.

In the American, the New York Yankees held their two-game lead by beating Kansas City 6-1. Runner-up Chicago trimmed Washington 3-0 and third-place Cleveland rapped Baltimore 5-0. Fast-climbing Boston defeated Detroit 12-7, leaving the Red Sox just a game short of the fourth-place Tigers.

Roberts, leading off with a double for the Phils, got a three-run rally going in the seventh that decided the game. The Phils had 14 hits—three by Roberts—off six St. Louis pitchers.

The Cards got 10 from Robin, including another homer—second of the night for Stan Musial, who also tripled.

The Dodgers won behind Ed Roebuck's relief work after scoring an unearned run in the eighth on an error by Hal Jeffcoat, who lost in relief.

Home runs by Hank Thompson and Bobby Hofman broke a 2-2 tie for the Giants in the ninth as Sal Maglie beat Gerry Staley for his eighth straight victory.

Warren Spahn kept the Braves rolling, blanking the Bucs on six hits—while contributing a one-on homer. Batterymate Del Crandall also homered off loser Max Surkont, who left in the seventh.

The White Sox breezed behind Dick Donovan's four-hitter. Walt Dropp knocked in two of the Sox runs. Loser Dean Stone and Bob Ramos stopped Nellie Fox's hitting streak at 17 games.

Early Wynn won his ninth while handing Baltimore its sixth shut-out in the last nine games. Cleveland had 15 hits, four by Al Smith.

Detroit rookie Frank Lary, was rocked by the first of Ted Williams' three doubles and Norb Zauch's three-run homer and left the game as the Red Sox went on to score six runs in the first inning. Winner Tom Brewer and Leo Kiely gave 15 hits, but eased in as Boston made it 13 out of 15.

Bobo Olson Is KO'ed In Third By Moore

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Archie Moore's explosive punches have accomplished what all his oratory could not—earned him a shot at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight crown.

The 38-year-old light heavyweight champion did it with three punches. The right, right and left to the jaw demolished middleweight king Bobo Olson in 1:19 of the third round at the steaming Polo Grounds last night and set aging Archie on the path to a September heavyweight title scrap.

"I guess that's it, the end of my long campaign," he said. "They can't duck me now. Marciano is a great fighter. But any man I can hit, I can lick—and there's not a man I can't hit. That goes for Marciano, I think I can beat him and knock him out."

There's still a little dickered to do but promoter Jim Norris left no doubt as to what's coming next.

"It's got to be those two," said the president of the International Boxing Club. "It will draw three-quarters of a million dollars. I'll sit down and talk to Al Weill (Marciano's manager) and Charley Johnston (Moore's manager) in the next few days."

Marciano, who watched the fight on television at his Brockton, Mass., home, said, "There's no question that arrangements will be made for me to defend my crown against Moore in September."

While Moore was looking ahead to the "climax fight of my career," crestfallen Bobo, beaten for the first time in over three years, moved back into his own division.

He didn't even wait long enough to talk to newsmen but rushed from the ballpark to Idlewild Field for a plane to San Francisco.

The first real hard blow of the fight started the blown-up middleweight king on the way out. It was a jarring right to the jaw. Another swift right thudded against Bobo's jaw and then a left hook dropped the jiggling Hawaiian on his back.

He turned sideways and tried desperately to get to his feet. But his brain was numbed and his legs wouldn't respond as Referee Ruby Goldstein tolled the full count.

Nothing much had happened in the first two rounds except that Olson, heaviest of his career at 170½ pounds, backed and sidestepped away instead of piling on the pressure as he normally does. Archie went after him, but he didn't catch solidly until the fatal third.

It appeared an easy win for the 175-pound Moore, but he said, "No, it wasn't. It was experience that did it. I trapped him. It was the fault of my 20 years of experience."

Olson had his 21-win streak snapped but he had about $74,745 from the $206,784 gross gate and $100,000 radio-television fee to console him. The crowd was announced as 27,425.

Archie, the 135 favorite, received about $81,540, the biggest purse of his 19-year-old career.

Rosters Are Drawn For 4 Teen-Age Baseball Teams

Rosters for the junior age group of the Teen-Age Baseball Association have been drawn.

The circuit will be made up of teams backed by the Big Spring Herald, the T&P employees, the Optimist Club and the Knights of Pythias.

Present plans call for the league to begin play sometime next week, although the field is incomplete.

Work was proceeding on the lighting system today. The Lacey Electric Company is doing the work for cost.

A new drive will be made for funds to complete the park.

OPTIMIST CLUB DEVILS—Rudolph Denton, Preston Daniels, J. E. Davis, Charles Summersall, Holston Banks, Don Masters, James Knight, Gerald Brooks, A. C. Rawlins, Ken Cobb, Wesley Rawls, Taylor Lewis.

The report was that Bill Rigney, a Giant infielder for eight years and manager of the Minneapolis club—a Giant farm—would move into Durocher's post at the Polo Grounds.

Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, is supposed to be in Minneapolis for tonight's exhibition game.

Umpires To Doff Traditional Coats

DALLAS (AP)—A tradition dies in the Texas League this week. By Saturday all umpires will be dressed in shirts and slacks and the blue suit, trade mark of arbiters in the 60-year-old professional baseball circuit, will be discarded.

It's a minor point to be sure, but as far as can be determined it will be the first time for umpires to work in this league without the traditional blue coat.

Matter of comfort, said League President Dick Butler. He can see no reason why an umpire should wear a serge coat and sweat gallons down there behind the plate beneath the inflated breast protector that makes him look like the Hunchback of Notre Dame.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Stubby Greer, Roswell's Longhorn League operator, is about ready to throw in the towel.

Fact is, he almost checked it to the league at Wednesday's meeting at Carlsbad.

It's possible a wealthy party in Roswell will buy him out and continue the race.

The Rockets haven't drawn well all season and when his team went into its present slump, critics popped up all over town, like bullfrogs after a rainstorm.

If the major leagues are really interested in saving the bush leagues—and their attitude toward them would influence one to believe otherwise—it may come to the point where they have to subsidize them.

Right now, there's not a minor league in the country in really good financial condition and that includes every circuit from the Pacific Coast League to the Class D Sooner State loop.

This article concerns the real bush leagues, however, those Class B or lower, where it's a fight every year to stay in business.

This might be one solution for the small circuits: Why can't each of the big league teams sponsor a circuit with a set figure of, say, $50,000?

That's a powerful lot of money, you say? I agree, but not nearly what the teams spend in scouting fees and for bonuses. I'm told that the major league teams coughed up a total of $500,000 on bonus players with a three-months period. How many of those boys do you think will ever pan out? The odds are against a very big percentage.

The big league team sponsoring a bush circuit could, under my plan, get the pick of the talent in that circuit. And, even if no more than one or two of the players eventually made the majors, their investment would more than pay off.

The bonus plan certainly isn't solving baseball's problems and, in more than one instance, has ruined a young ball player.

Just think, too, what a $50,000 subsidy would do for the Longhorn League treasury, where it is a tight squeeze every month to pay the umpires' salaries and meet the expenses of the president's office.

Robert Vrujek, the former San Angelo hurler, is now with Phoenix of the Arizona-Mexican League. Latest records showed him with a 4-2 won-lost record.

Potato, Pascual, the one-time Big Springer, is regarded as the ace of the mound staff for the Yucatan club of the Glass AA Mexican League.

He had won five decisions, compared with three losses, when the last averages were released.

Big Spring's best bet for the Longhorn League All-Star game appear to be Artie DiCesare, bell-wether of the mound staff all year, and Frank Billings, the left fielder.

Huck Doe would have rated top consideration had he not been injured much of the time. He may make it yet, though.

Ben Quintana, who tolled for Odessa in the Longhorn League at one time, is getting a trial with Vicksburg in the Class C Cotton States League.

And Pat Lorenzo, who covered the outfield (but not like a blanket) for Big Spring at one time, has been added to the Lubbock (WT-NM League) roster.

Lorenzo will hit comfortably over .300 almost anywhere he plays but the management usually has to place two gazelles in the outfield with him.

Marcus Job, the Big Spring Cops' new player, hasn't always been a pitcher. He started out as a catcher and outfielder in high school at Uncasville, Conn. He also ran the mile and .880 on the track team there.

James Scott Signs Vickers Contract

CANYON (AP)—James Scott, West Texas State basketball star, has accepted an offer to play with the Vickers Petroleum Co. team at Wichita, Kans. Vickers is a new member of the National Amateur Basketball League.

The Oilers maintained their half-game hold on first place in Texas Little League standings by defeating the Reed Oil Company Tigers, 7-4, here Wednesday night.

Al Valdez hurled a four-hitter for the Oilers while his mates combed the offerings of Juan Ramirez and Fred Gilliland for nine safeties, including triples by Stanley Harris and Nelson and doubles by Dee Scaggs, Johnny Jarden and Earl Harper.

Clarence Hartfield clubbed a two-baser for the losers.

In the other contest, the Legion stayed close to the top by shading the Locals, 10-5. The Legionnaires scored in every inning.

Aubrey McIntire drove in three runs for the Locals.

For the Legion, James Suggs pitched five-hit ball and was backed by good batting support on the part of Willie Mendoza, Tony Dutchover and Manny Pineda.

Sleeping Sickness Victim

Little Debbie Ann Hadfield, who will be three years old in August, lies in a coma at her home in suburban Park Ridge, near Chicago.

The youngster was stricken with sleeping sickness (encephalitis) last Nov. 13. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hadfield, who have kept a constant vigil at the child's bedside, have asked to have their own prayers for her recovery augmented by the prayers of others.

Strict Guard Set Up For Big 4 Leaders

By LYNN HEINZERLING
GENEVA, (U-A) — A celebrity-loving Swiss who succeeds in getting a long look at one of the Big Four leaders here next month will become a celebrity himself.

President Eisenhower, Premier Nikhail A. Bulganin, Prime Minister Eden and Premier Edgar Faure are going to get security rarely accorded any visiting dignitary in Switzerland.

Swiss police have never forgotten that someone threw a tomato at the late Eva Peron, the Argentine President's wife, when she toured Switzerland in 1947. It missed her but hit Swiss Foreign Minister Max Petitpierre, seated beside her in an automobile.

Four companies of Swiss troops will help police guard the hotels and villas where the delegates will live. They will patrol every foot of road along which the Big Four ride and guard their airplanes at Geneva Airport on a 24-hour schedule. Detectives from all other Swiss cantons will augment Geneva police.

In their calculations, Swiss security officials went into the recent political history of the United States, the Soviet Union, France and Britain.

They studied the police reports of the shooting in the U.S. House of Representatives last year. They looked into the earlier attack on President Truman's residence, Blair House.

Because of French difficulties in Morocco, police have been told to keep out a close watch for Moroccan extremists in the protection of Faure. Avid anti-Communists will be watched in Bulganin's interest.

Eden will live in the Villa Reposeur on the edge of Geneva, where he stayed during the Asian conference last year.

Bulganin is expected to stay at the villa occupied by the permanent Russian delegation in Geneva. The rest of the Russians will live in the Hotel Metropole.

Faure is expected to live in a villa, still not chosen. As far as is known, President Eisenhower will stay at the Rhone Hotel overlooking the Rhone River. Secretary of State Dulles lived there during last year's conference. Hotels used by delegates and delegation heads will be inspected by Swiss detectives every morning. All hotel employees will be investigated. Swiss detectives will be on duty at the hotels 24 hours a day to assist the security forces of the delegation.

The conference likely will be held in the council chamber of the United Nations Building, the old League headquarters used last year for the conference on Korea and Indochina.

Eisenhower, Eden, Faure and Bulganin will be greeted at the airport by Swiss President Petitpierre, Geneva officials and a guard of honor. They will then disappear, as far as the public is concerned, into the maze of security.

Cullen O. Powell Dies in Mitchell
COLORADO CITY — Cullen O. Powell, 60-year-old farmer, died suddenly of a heart attack at his home in the Buford Community near Colorado City, Wednesday afternoon at 1:30. He had been working with his tractor Wednesday morning.

Mr. Powell was born May 1, 1895 in Taylor County and had lived in Mitchell County for 51 years. He was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Buford Baptist Church. He married Ruth Lindsey in Colorado City in 1922.

All A Mistake, Cops Admit; So Yanks Continue Tour

ROME (AP)—Four New Yorkers plan to continue their tour of Europe after being held seven hours by Rome police yesterday in connection with a record New York bank robbery. All a mistake, the cops said later.

Only one of the four, husky 28-year-old Joseph Michael Vitacco, of Brooklyn, was questioned about the holdup—of the Chase Manhattan Bank branch at Woodside, Queens, last April 6. The $305,243 in cash taken is a record for a U.S. bank holdup.

Vitacco said the police also ransacked their hotel room but found nothing suspicious. Otherwise, the Americans said, they played pinocle in the police station and "even bought the cops lunch."

The other three men gave their names as Peter J. Riordan, New York City; John Timothy O'Connell, Flushing, and Daniel William MacGuire, New York City.

They were picked up after a nationwide alert issued at the request of Interpol, international crime detection agency. The alert called only for police to watch for them and a Montreal girl, Janette Forest, 27, and made no mention of any charges.

Riordan said Miss Forest had traveled with them only as far as Nice, sharing expenses.

After publication of the Interpol alert, Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas P. Cullen of Queens said in New York that some of the men had been under investigation but "we have come to the conclusion that they are practically cleared."

He said the New York authorities had not asked for them to be watched.

Peron Pushes Dual Campaign Against His Political Enemies

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Backed by new pledges of military and political support, President Juan Peron pushed a dual campaign today against those who tried to overthrow him in last week's bloody revolt and persons spreading rumors of upsets still to come.

To counter one persistent rumor that Army Minister Franklin Lucero had supplanted Peron as Argentina's strong man, a government spokesman predicted last night that the President soon would end Lucero's special postrevolt powers as temporary chieftain of all armed services.

Gen. Lucero himself in a broadcast last night saluted Peron as "the President of the nation and commander in chief of all the armed forces." The general called on the troops to "obey loyally and permanently the mandate of the sovereign people."

Statements pledging loyalty to Peron were issued yesterday by the six-million-member General Labor Confederation (CGT), the President's chief political bulwark, and by both the men's and women's Peronista parties.

The roundup of rumor mongers followed repeated statements by Lucero that numerous false reports were circulating and should be ignored.

Federal police announced 14 persons were arrested for spreading untruths in Buenos Aires province, which surrounds the capital city but does not include it.

The progovernment newspaper La Epoca reported at least six arrests in the capital.

The Supreme War Council, meanwhile, continued daily sessions in judgment of those arrested for complicity in the revolt. It announced that "numerous" Marines, conscripts, noncommissioned officers and officers who had been performing their duties at the Navy Ministry when the fighting broke out had been freed yesterday. The ministry was the headquarters for the revolutionists, who mainly were navy personnel.

There was no announcement so far of how many persons had been found guilty of participating in the plot or what punishments had been allotted.

Police yesterday arrested four U.S. correspondents who were taking pictures of a church burned after last week's revolt. They were released after two hours. The Americans were Life magazine photographer Hank Walker and Time magazine reporter Phillip Payne, both of Washington, D.C.; Jeff Sabin, TV photographer of NBC, New York; and NBC's Buenos Aires correspondent Bob Lindley.

Walker said they were treated courteously and served coffee but that the police seized two rolls of film from him and one roll from Sabin.

Releases from the presidential press secretariat reported the President carrying on his duties normally.

Members Make AAA Their 'Way Of Life'

By LADYCE LAMBERT
 "It's not a club exactly, it's more a way of life."
 This is the way Al Stevenson described the AAA—the Alcoholics Anonymous Association. Stevenson started the AAA in Big Spring over ten years ago, and since that time over 2,000 persons have come in contact with the recovery program offered by the AAA here.
 Stevenson called it a way of life more than a club because the AAA has no rules, regulations, fees or dues. The group as such serves only as a social contact with the world, he said, and the recovery depends mostly on the person himself.
 The local group of Alcoholics Anonymous is presently composed of some 80 individuals, but it is difficult to pin-point the number exactly, Stevenson said, because no records of any kind are kept. Each member takes it upon himself to recruit members into the association.

 "It's like learning to walk again, mentally" Stevenson said in describing the 12-point program administered to patients. After becoming completely sober through the "winger" process, the rest of the "cure" is largely up to the individual.
 The recovery program will help only those who realize they are alcoholics and want to be helped. Through their association with AAA members who have successfully completed the program, the self-confidence of the alcoholic is built up and he recognizes the fact that it is possible to quit drinking.
 It is the policy of Alcoholics Anonymous members to pledge to themselves not to drink for a 24-hour period only. The live only for today and forget that there was ever a yesterday or that there will be a tomorrow. They have found that this is many times more effective than promising to quit for a longer period of time.

 Stevenson pointed out that there is a definite difference between an alcoholic and a "drunk." He said the person who can quit drinking by thinking out the problem rationally is not an alcoholic. An alcoholic hasn't the mental capacity to quit without help, Stevenson said, and that help is offered through the AAA.
 Medical care does no more than restore the body physically, he said, and it will not provide a cure for the desire to have "just one more drink."
 In summing it up, Stevenson emphasized that true alcoholism is a medical problem and not a social problem. He said that it was a universal disease and should be treated as such. The AAA is in business mainly, he said, for the purpose of helping men help themselves and to help them recover their self-respect.

Clerk Pleads For Return Of Daughter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A department store sales clerk who fled Europe in 1948 pleaded ardently by mail today with Czechoslovakia's foreign minister for a permit to let his motherless little daughter join him in the United States.
 Philipp Heller, 39, of Sacramento, came to San Francisco in hope of winning diplomatic backing from United Nations bigwigs to fulfill his great wish.
 He found people sympathetic, but "awfully busy" with U.N. conferences and festivities.
 He didn't see the Czech foreign minister, Vaclav David.
 But his letter tells the pathetic story in capsule form:
 "Excellency—
 "The United Nations is commemorating a great occasion—the 10th anniversary of the charter signing of the United Nations.
 "My daughter is also 10 years old. But her mother, my first wife, died at Prague and my child was put in an orphanage. Now I am married to an American woman. After so many years I want my child with me and don't want her to grow up as an orphan.
 "Aren't you of the opinion that it would be in the spirit of today's United Nations celebration if your government would grant my daughter, Vera Anita Heller, an exit permit, so that she could live with her father?"

French Troops, Strikers Clash

SAINT NAZAIRE, France (AP)—Republican security troops and strikers clashed today at France's largest shipyard. Fifteen soldiers and 20 strikers were injured.
 First reports indicated the skirmish occurred in the area of the Penhoet shipyards, builders of the luxury liner Normandy which burned during the war at a New York dockside.
 Strikers were reported to have overturned wagons to barricade streets. The security troops, sent here late yesterday after violent demonstrations by the workers, moved in to clear away the barricades and were resisted by the strikers.
 The helmeted troops of the Compagnie Republicaine de Securite (CRS)—a unit used for heavy riot duty—used tear gas to quell the demonstrators.
 The shipyard workers have been striking one day a week for the last three months in demand for the same wage scale as applied in the Paris area. Minimum wages for most trades in France are higher in Paris because of higher cost of living.
 Yesterday all metal workers in the Saint Nazaire area—about 10,000 men—joined in the strike. A ceremony in the Penhoet yards for the launching of the 37,500-ton tanker Esso-France was canceled. The official party was shunted over to the resort city of La Baule. The big tanker was launched unceremoniously.

A Real Cowgirl

Yvonne Grant, 18, Bamaganie, Australia, hurdles a fence bareback while riding a cow around her parents' farm. She is known locally as a real cow girl. Yvonne is the only professional wogan rabbit trapper in Victoria Province, a crack rifle shot, poultry farmer, sheep breeder, cat lover, dog lover, and keeper of pet foxes—apart from being a steeplechaser on cowback.

Rape-Murder Trial Reversed

AUSTIN (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals today reversed and remanded for new trial the conviction of Jimmy N. Shaver, sentenced to die in the San Antonio rape-murder of three-year-old Chere Jo Horton.
 The court ruled Shaver did not have a fair trial because a juror had a fixed opinion before the trial and because a picture of the child's semi-nude body was introduced into the trial.
 In a written opinion by Judge Ernest Belcher, the court said the trial court erred in overruling Shaver's motion for a new trial on the two complaints.
 The married Lackland Air Force Base serviceman was tried in McCulloch County on a charge of venue from Bexar County.
 The offense occurred last July 4 after Chere Jo disappeared from a tavern visited by her parents. Her body was found in the brush near a gravel pit and Shaver's car nearby with the child's undergarments hanging on the door.
 Shaver pled insanity.

Resolution Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gen. Carlos P. Romulo proposed to the United Nations today that it adopt the "San Francisco Declaration" rededicating member governments to peace, justice and freedom for all mankind.

Tanker Firm Signs Pact

NEW YORK (AP)—The last big tanker company involved in a strike of CIO National Maritime Union members signed a new contract today.
 The Texas Co. was the last of 14 major firms to reach agreement with the NMU. A union spokesman said its action would "for all practical purposes" end the week-old tanker tieup on the East and Gulf coasts.
 The union spokesman said there remain only about 15 vessels, all operated by "one-ship" companies, not covered by a contract.
 These vessels all were at sea when the strike began, the spokesman said, and their owners probably didn't think it necessary to sign new contracts until their vessels return to port.
 The union is proceeding on the assumption that these firms will sign shortly, it was added.
 Three other maritime unions also reached accord with all big tanker operators in other contract disputes except in the case of Sinclair Oil.

Howard Youths Enlist In Navy

Four Howard County youths were among the last six boys who enlisted in the Navy, according to Chief LaFon, local recruiter.
 The boys were David Rudd Wise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wise, Forsan; Charles Darrell Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Brown, Big Spring; Thurber George Tinkham, son of Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Tinkham, Big Spring; and Eugene Yates, son of Mrs. Thelma Tucker, Big Spring.
 The other two, from Andrews County, where Robert Walton, Florey, and Denton Brunken, Andrews.
 All six will remain together while in boot training. Chief LaFon said that seven more men were enlisting on June 30 for the South Plains Company and will train together as a part of the unit. Anyone interested in this company should contact Chief LaFon before June 24.

these mistakes?
 A. A mirage can be produced when a layer of hot air exists above the surface of the ground or sea, with less warm air above the hot layer.
 Under such conditions, the hot air bends rays of light, and the image of an object may be carried upward and then downward. This makes it possible, sometimes, to see objects which are past the horizon, but these objects are upside down. The objects seem much closer than they really are.
 An ocean vessel which seems to be up in the air actually exists, but it is on the water surface, with the right side up.
 A mirage can be photographed. This indicates that it shows real objects, but the objects sometimes differ from what they seem to be. Tomorrow: Siphons.
Army To Begin Mass Movement
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army plans to start July 2 the transatlantic movement of some 35,000 soldiers and about 10,000 of their wives and children—with half heading for Germany and the other half for Kansas.
 Involved is the rotation to Ft. Riley, Kan., of the 1st Division and its simultaneous replacement in Germany by the 10th Division, now at Ft. Riley.
 The Army said yesterday the operation—described as the biggest peacetime movement of its kind—would take weeks.

... Cooks English Cut of Ribs

Stipp Specialty Is Tart Barbecued Ribs

The cook has to have a good butcher to cut the kind of ribs Mrs. H. C. Stipp uses when she cooks her specialty for outdoor eating. Mrs. Stipp has the butcher prepare an English cut of ribs which is to have more meat cut from the chuck on the ribs. This makes a delicious piece of meat as that around the bone is more flavorful and the consumer has a good amount to eat. Most ribs are stripped of the juicy meat when prepared for sale through the markets.

In order to insure the meat of tenderness and to expedite cooking, Mrs. Stipp frequently processes it for 20 minutes at 10 pounds of pressure in her cooker. When she has tenderized the meat she uses the broth either to thin her barbecue sauce or reserves it to make gravy or soup. She says nothing is wasted at the Stipp house.

When the outdoor meal is prepared, the special sauce that is sopped on the meat while it is cooking is made from:

- 1 cup catsup
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1/2 cup water or broth if a strong vinegar is used
- 1/2 cup brown or white sugar
- 1/2 cup of prepared mustard
- 1/2 pound butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
- Dash of Tabasco.

As the man of the house is on a low sodium diet, many different flavors of vinegar are used to pep up the sauces and dressings. A French dressing that the Stipp uses on tossed salads is made with:

- 1/2 cup salad oil
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika

This can be varied by using garlic or wine vinegar.

Another good dish to serve with barbecue along with garlic bread is green beans, the long, whole kind, that have been marinated overnight in a dressing made of:

- 1 cup wine vinegar
- 1 cup salad oil
- Seasoned salt
- 1/2 cup or less, according to taste of sugar

The beans should be put in a glass dish or jar and the dressing poured over them. Another good

Pound Cake Variety

Pound cake from the bakery tastes extra good this way: cut the cake into strips about half an inch thick. Spread one wide and two narrow sides with soft butter and honey, then roll in coconut. Place on a cookie sheet and toast in a moderately hot oven until golden brown. Serve at once.

Try 'Chocolate Zoo'

Your small fry will love a "chocolate zoo." Make it by dipping animal crackers in two squares of unsweetened chocolate (two ounces) melted with a half teaspoon of shortening. Dry the chocolate-dipped animals on a wire rack.

Want A New Way To Serve Grapefruit?

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
There's nothing like travel to spur a cook's imagination. We were sure we had read or thought of everything that can be done with a grapefruit until we made our first visit to Florida. Eating our way from East to West coast, Palm Beach to Tampa, we were struck by a new-to-us appetizer served at a quaint little inn on Lake Wales.

Grapefruit halves were broiled with spice and sweetening and centered with nut-brown chicken livers and tiny bouquets of parsley and pimiento. The unexpected combination of flavors was intriguing. And of course it gave us ideas. Here they are, along with our version of the inspiration. Try these grapefruit appetizers, for a pleasant start, when you are having a "ladies' lunch."

To prepare the grapefruit for all these appetizers, cut fruit in half. Remove any seeds with small sharp knife; do not cut out center. Cut around each section, loosening fruit from dividing membranes. For easy eating, do not cut through membranes at outer edge of fruit. In heating the grapefruit, do not preheat the broiler unless manufacturer's directions for your range call for preheating.

BRILED GRAPEFRUIT WITH CHICKEN LIVERS
Ingredients:
Three grapefruit (cut in half with sections loosened from dividing membranes), 6 tablespoons honey, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 6 fresh or thawed frozen chicken livers, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, parsley sprigs, pimiento strips.

Method:
Spread 1 tablespoon honey and sprinkle 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon over each grapefruit half. Place chicken livers on aluminum foil; dot livers with butter. Place on broiler rack so top of grapefruit halves are 3 to 4 inches below high heat. Broil 5 minutes or until grapefruit is heated through and tinged with brown; watch closely and adjust rack or heat if necessary. Turn liver and leave in broiler longer than grapefruit if necessary to cook through. To serve, place one liver in center of each grapefruit half; garnish liver with parsley and pimiento. Serve at once as a first course. Makes 6 servings.

BRILED GRAPEFRUIT WITH SAUSAGE
Ingredients:
Three grapefruit (cut in half with sections loosened from dividing membranes), 6 tablespoons dark brown sugar, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 pound brown-and-serve sausage links.

Method:
Sprinkle 1 tablespoon brown sugar and 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg over each grapefruit half. Place on broiler rack so top of grapefruit halves are 3 to 4 inches below high heat. Broil 5 minutes or until grapefruit is heated through and tinged with brown; watch closely and adjust rack or heat if necessary. While grapefruit is broiling, cut each sausage link in half crosswise and then in half lengthwise. Place 6 slices of sausage spoke fashion on each grapefruit half. Broil 5 minutes longer or until sausage is browned; watch carefully. Serve at once as a first course. Makes 6 servings.

BRILED GRAPEFRUIT WITH SHRIMP
Ingredients:
Three grapefruit (cut in half with sections loosened from dividing membranes), 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons honey, 1-3 cup tomato catchup, 1/4 teaspoon bottled horseradish, 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco sauce, 1 1/2 teaspoons lime juice, 1/2 pound medium-size shrimp (cooked and shelled and deveined).

Method:
Cream the 2 tablespoons butter and honey. Spread over grapefruit halves. Place on broiler rack so top of grapefruit halves are 3 to 4 inches below high heat. Broil 5 minutes or until grapefruit is heated through and tinged with brown; watch closely and adjust rack or heat if necessary. Meanwhile stir catchup, horseradish, Tabasco and lime juice together. Top each hot grapefruit half with 3 or 4 shrimp and spoon catchup mixture over shrimp. Return to broiler for five minutes or until shrimp is heated; watch carefully. Serve at once as a first course. Makes 6 servings.

Another highlight of our Florida eating tour was some afternoon refreshment we were served when we stopped to visit during a journey up the Indian River. Tall glasses of ice-cold, fresh and hand-reamed grapefruit juice were accompanied by fresh wedges of pound cake with a fluffy texture and a golden-brown crust. A fine go-together to remember for warm-weather porch parties.

At a buffet lunch near Windermere we had an utterly delectable menu that other hostesses might like to emulate. Crisply browned chicken, brushed with a mixture of honey and soy sauce, was served on a huge platter. On another platter were avocados, cut into thirds and heaped with shrimp and fresh strips of hearts of palm. (You might have to do without the hearts of palm unless you can get them canned.) A choice of dressings—French or Russian—accompanied the avocado salad. Hot biscuits—small and rich—made luscious eating with both the chicken and the salad. For dessert, luscious ripe red strawberries were arranged on individual plates around a mound of powdered sugar. And to top it all off came tiny brown sugar tarts and coffee! If you want to treat your family and friends to something scrumptious, do try this menu.

Martin Children Go To Kerrville Camp

FORSAN — Sandra Sue Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Martin, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Bass and son, Rodger, to the Texas Lions Camp south of Kerrville Sunday. Sandra Sue and Rodger will attend a two-weeks program of the camp for crippled children, ages 7-18. The camp is under the auspices of the Big Spring Lions Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phillely and Jenny were in Sweetwater Saturday.

Now on vacation in South Texas and Dublin are Mr. and Mrs. Jewell White.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hines, Mrs. O. W. Scudday, Ginny, Berny and Connie Scudday of Rankin were in Cuidad Acuna, Mexico, recently to see the Patricia McCormick bullfight.

Mrs. W. B. Dunn and Wilma have returned home after a two weeks visit with her parents in San Angelo.

Big Spring Hospital has dismissed Mrs. L. T. Shoultz.

Mrs. Bill White and Mike of Monument, N. M., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Willis. Mr. Willis is a patient in a Big Spring hospital.

Woman Held On Kidnap Charge In Child Custody Case

CINCINNATI — A Cincinnati woman, Mrs. Cordie Creain, 65, was held today as a fugitive from a Denton, Tex., kidnaping charge. She is accused of kidnaping Charlotte Rae Hall, 6, whose divorced parents are battling for her custody.

The contesting parties are the father, Elbert Hall, believed to be from Indiana and his new wife; and the child's mother, Mrs. Anna Sturdevant, 23, and stepfather, Oscar Sturdevant, of Roanoke, Tex. They came to Cincinnati Monday night in search of the child.

Mrs. Creain said she reared Mrs. Sturdevant from infancy. "I took and raised her," she said. "Several weeks ago she asked me to come to Texas to get Charlotte. I had friends drive me to Texas and brought the child back."

Mrs. Creain signed extradition papers and said she was willing to go back to Texas to settle the matter.

Sauce With Gelatin

When you prepare a gelatin dessert that calls for egg whites, use the yolks in a soft custard sauce. Serve the sauce with the gelatin dessert or with a fresh fruit compote.

For Quick Lunches

Heat slices of ham and place on toast. Top with canned whole cranberry sauce and serve as mixed green salad.

Barbecued 'Burgers, Salad Add Zest To Summer Meals

"Summertime — when the living is easy."

This is the theme song in your kitchen when Barbecued Hamburgers top the menu fare. A delectable blend of ground beef and spices, this new twist in hamburger cookery takes on added taste-appeal when spiced with a tangy sauce.

As a colorful accompaniment, try Chef Salad for a refreshing approach to mealtime enjoyment. Crisp green lettuce and garden-fresh vegetables taste even better when accented by the rich flavor of corn chips.

CHEF SALAD (4-6 servings)
Hot Dressing
2 tbsps. bacon drippings
2 tbsps. vinegar (white)
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. paprika
1/2 tsp. pepper (black)

SALAD
1/2 cup celery (chopped)
1 medium head lettuce (cut into chunks about 1 1/2 inches)
2 medium tomatoes (cut into large pieces)
1 large white onion (diced)
1/2 medium cucumber
1/2 medium green pepper (chopped)
1 cup corn chips
1 tsp. olive oil

Directions:
Heat bacon drippings. When hot, add vinegar and seasonings. Pour this over the salad ingredients while hot. Heat 1 tsp. olive oil in frying pan. Add corn chips to hot oil and stir until thoroughly heated. Mix with the above salad ingredients and serve in a salad bowl. Garnish with lettuce and parsley.

BARBECUED HAMBURGERS (Serves 6)
1 pound ground beef
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. black pepper
1/2 cup finely-crushed corn chips (measured after crushing)
1/2 cup tomato juice
2 tbsps. cooking oil

SAUCE
4 tbsps. brown sugar
4 tbsps. vinegar
2 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1/2 cup catsup

Directions:
Mix together beef, salt, pepper, corn chips and tomato juice. Form into 6 flat patties and fry in cooking oil in a skillet until brown on both sides. Make a sauce of remaining ingredients and pour over the patties. Simmer for 10 minutes.

Red Pepper Spices

The red pepper (or capsicum) family of spices supplies us with four important members of the spice shelf: paprika, the mild, heat-free garnish; chili powder, usually a blend of chili pepper, oregano and cumin; red pepper, the crushed or ground product of a sharply pungent strain of capsicum; and cayenne, a blend of several small types of capsicums, making up the hottest of all spices.

Try A Spicy Pomander

Choose a small orange with thin skin and poke whole cloves into it (use a darning needle or meat skewer to start the holes). Cover the entire orange, placing the cloves very close together. In a few days the orange will dry out, shrinking until no part of the skin shows. The cloves will prevent decay and the pomander will give off its spicy orange scent year after year.

Vary Mashed Potatoes

Pile mashed potato into a shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with bits of bacon. Broil until potato is heated through and bacon bits are browned.

GM Undertakes Expansion Program

DETROIT (AP)—Harlow H. Curtice announced today General Motors Corp. is undertaking a new expansion program calling for capital expenditures of a half-billion dollars.

The GM president said the program "is a measure of our faith in our country" and will enable the company "to make its full contribution to a strong and expanding national economy."

SALES OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT

Retailers Use Advertising To Knock 'Summer Slump'

NEW YORK — More than 80 per cent of retailers surveyed in 41 representative markets throughout the country are anticipating sales volume increases this summer averaging from 5 per cent to 10 per cent, above the same period last summer. Fifteen per cent expect to meet last year's figures.

Over 90 per cent of the merchandising executives queried reported plans to increase or maintain their summer advertising budgets this summer. Twenty-seven of the 60 executives surveyed said they would increase their budgets an average of 10 per cent, with some planning increases as high as 50 per cent and 100 per cent over last year's advertising expenditures for the months of June, July and August.

Daily newspapers were the unanimous first choice of each store as the major medium for their promotional dollars with 34 stores investing over 90 cents of their advertising dollar in local newspapers to get the business this summer.

This forecast of summer retail business is reflected through a survey just completed by the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, through member newspapers, sampling representative thinking of merchandising and advertising executives from various types and sizes of stores in key areas around the country.

The survey followed the recent launching of the third nationwide campaign by the Bureau, and its more than 1,000 member newspapers, to end "summer slump" thinking. Philip Talbot, president of the National Retail Dry Goods Association and senior vice president, Woodward & Lothrop, Washington, D. C., in a statement strongly in support of the campaign, said, "We retailers have every opportunity to make this the biggest summer in retailing history. The experience of scores of merchants last year in exploding the myth of an inevitable summer slump has pointed the way."

Direct quotes from retailing executives indicate the reasons behind the majority's anticipation of "the best summer in retailing history. A Midwest variety store manager said, "There are better industrial payrolls and the public is confident of full employment, ready to spend money for values." An Eastern ladies ready-to-wear general manager states, "General business conditions are more favorable and individual incomes are higher."

Many retailers are basing their high hopes for summer profits on normal growth within their own cities and better plans made in advance of the summer selling season. An electrical appliance dealer in the far West looks for bigger summer volume "... because of consistent advertising and better trained sales personnel." An

Eastern department store sales promotion manager says, "We expect a good summer, following the trend that has been gradually improving since January."

Typical of many statements is that of a Midwest department store president. "We're looking forward to an increase this summer due to improvement of competitive situations and internal merchandising supported by good payrolls and public optimism."

Drama School Vet Recalls 'Old Days'

LONDON (AP) — "Really, darling," said a slinky young woman in skin-tight slacks. "I always say that to appreciate Shakespeare truly, you must read him with your shoes off."

"How perfectly divine," said another slinky young woman in skin-tight slacks. "Of course one must."

Sir Kenneth Barnes, the 77-year-old principal of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts peered over his glasses at the two lithe figures twinkling down the corridor of what he calls the world's greatest theatrical school.

"Ah," he said with a nostalgic sigh, "when I came here 46 years ago, young ladies talked just like that. They didn't wear slacks, but they said the most outrageous things."

After all these years and all those actresses and actors Sir Kenneth is finally giving up. He's going to retire in August, to be succeeded by California-born John Farnald, 40.

He leaves a long and impressive list of former students, which includes Vivien Leigh, Charles Laughton, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Kay Hammond, Dorothy Tutin, Robert Morley and Sir John Gielgud.

The profession is already overcrowded. London alone has over 1,000 actors and actresses out of work. Yet, year after year, hundreds of recruits come to RADA wanting to act.

"It's always been that way," said Sir Kenneth, a large, lumbering, kindly man. "I'm sure the profession was overcrowded 3,000 years ago and 3,000 years from now it will be overcrowded."

Asked why so many young people want to act, he thought for a moment.

"I always ask them that same question," he replied, touching a large leather-bound book, "and I keep their answers in here."

The most common reason: "I acted when I was in school. People told me I had talent." His finger ran down the list.

"Another common one — frustrated mothers. Mother wanted to be an actress, but she got married instead. So—she wants to see her daughter become the actress she wanted to be."

He stopped at one name.

"Now this young woman—she said she wanted to become an actress because her boy friend had left her. It gave her such a shock she couldn't bear to carry on through life as herself. She had to be someone else."

RADA was founded by famed actor-manager Sir Herbert Tree in 1904. Its success was not instantaneous.

"I've got one of your young men in my company," a theatrical manager once told Tree.

"You're lucky," said Tree. "I've got two of them in mine."

Sir Kenneth joined RADA in 1909. He had two ambitions:

To get a royal charter and to have acting accepted as a fine art.

The charter has been granted and Sir Kenneth feels the second wish also has been fulfilled.

After 46 years, Sir Kenneth is convinced no nation has a monopoly on acting.

Americans, despite their accents, make good actors.

"When Americans come to us as students," he said, "we ask them if they want British or American accent. Nearly all of them reply—'Give me a British accent.'"

He said some Americans, however, insist that their accents remain unchanged.

"In those cases," he added, "unless their accents are strictly 'naa, naa, naa,' right through their noses, we let them be."

Sir Kenneth touched his nose.

"An American once said that an untruth never passed the lips of George Washington. That's probably perfectly true, for George Washington probably said everything he had to say right through his nose."

He held up his hand.

"I hope I'm not offending anyone. I like Americans. About 20 a year come to us. But some of them do blast through their proboscises."

Asked what advice he has for young people who want to act, he replied:

"Discover sincerely if they have any talent for it. If they haven't, then forget the stage. If they have talent, then by all means pursue the urge."

He made it plain he was speaking as a teacher.

"You see," he said, "I've never been an actor."

Pork Chops Rivaling Steak As Most Costly Meat Cuts

Steak has a rival for the title of most costly meat to rise.

"King of the high-priced meats." As housewives have found out, pork chops have steadily closed a gap of from 25 to 30 cents between their price and that of steak in the last three months. Presently, pork chops will cost about the same as an expensive piece of steak.

On-foot prices here jumped to $19.50 a hundred last week as compared with the previous prices which have hovered around $17.00 and $17.75 a hundred during March, April, May and the first part of June.

Grocers say that other cuts of beef are your best buy, economically. Prices on these cuts have remained about the same for a year or more.

McCarthy Resolution On Big 4 Voted Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today unanimously expressed "complete confidence" that President Eisenhower will express the views of the American people and negotiate successfully at the coming Big Four meeting.

In a report to the Senate, the committee urged it to reject a resolution by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) aimed at forcing the Big Four to discuss the question of Soviet satellites.
