School Board Votes To Buy New Chassis For Buses: Plan Homemaking Course In Called Meeting Monday

The rural school children of Littlefield Independent School District, will not ride to school starting next fall, in brand new buses, but ten of the 15-unit bus fleet, presently in use, will be completely revamped, including new chassis, at a cost of $1,575 per unit, and all will get needed repairs, and refinishing, so that they will be and appear, almost as good as new.

The board also expects to spend $4,000 for maintenance, operation, exclusive of gas and oil.

That was one of several major decisions made at a called meeting of the school board last Monday night.

In a survey of the bus situation, it was brought out that the present fleet is five years old, but that the bus bodies are in fair to good condition.

The meeting also decided to send two members to Austin along with possibly the superintendent and board secretary, in the interest of and for a study of the pending legislative action on teacher salary adjustment, or increase, to the end that the full board membership may be better informed.

Plans for summer project work in homemaking was also discussed. Projected is a six weeks course which will include: Interior decorating, child care and training, clothing construction, meal planning, consumer buying and family entertainment.

Other phases of the course may include: Preparation for summer camp, training for newly elected FFA officers, and training for leadership.

It was brought out at the meeting that more than half of the girls in schools presently enrolled in homemaking courses, are recognized as interested in the summer project outlined above.

Forty-five of the 83 enrollees are listed as interested in both this course and the summer camp.

In 1953 the school expects to have 145 girls enrolled in homemaking, including twenty or more eighth grade students, who will probably be enrolled next year.

THE OIL DERRICK OR THE OILY NEWS

By C. J. DUGGAN

Congratulations to our City Dads, the Honorable Mayor, Art Chesher, and distinguished Commissioners, E. C. Hewitt and Lon Campbell, for passing unanimously the Ordinance that gave Littlefield the chance to get a deep test oil well drilled within the city limits. They will always be remembered as the most progressive Commission the city of Littlefield has ever had. Again, I say CONGRATULATIONS!

LESSORS' HONOR ROLL

Number One place goes to Thomas A. and Nettie B. Hibun for having their lease prepared first of all in Littlefield. They know their stuff, eh?

Number Two place goes to the one and only W. J. (Alias Bill) Chesher and wife June, who brought his deeds in and said "Go ahead and prepare our leases, and don't put that non-development clause in it. You can drill a well in the front yard or in the back yard, or I will move the (?) house if necessary. Anybody knows, who knows Bill and June, know that what "shack" they live in is not so sneezed at. And he also had lease prepared for Billy June to sign, who is educating herself in that little old S. M. U. at Dallas. Let's off to the Cheshers for progress!

THE JONES AND SMITHS ARE ALWAYS TO BE COUNTED UPON FOR PROGRESS

Number Three place goes to James B. and Lila A. Jones (Better known as "Buddy") who had their lease prepared. "Buddy" is the efficient secretary of City Attorney Duggan, and she has done a lot of hard work getting up the Ordinance and escrow agreement and other legal tangles ironed out, etc.

Number Four place goes to Charles B. Smith, Jr., and Jessie B. who were really the first to execute their lease after it was prepared.

There are many others who have volunteered to come in and execute leases and our office will be on the honor roll NEXT WEEK!

The Genial Rev. Henry Haupt, pastor of First Presbyterian church, sent me word Saturday, by my nephew, Arthur P. Duggan, Jr., that if I did not attend his church Sunday, he would not let me have the lease on the church lot. I really would have attended his church had my nephew gone along with me, but the Rev. Haupt does not know that I am not a Presbyterian. That said Arthur's father is the one member of the Duggan clan that strayed away from the Methodist fold when he married, nor does he know that I organized the First Methodist church in Littlefield many moons ago. How be it, I attend all churches and enjoy them. I attended the Baptist revival this week, and it was not because I was trying to win them over to get a lease. Rev. Haupt, I will gladly attend your church some Sunday and here is a suggested topic for discussion: "God can and will redeem a man whether he is on top of an oil derrick, or in the bottom of the slush pit."

That reminds me of something I heard at a Methodist convention in Savannah, Georgia, some months ago: "A Methodist will pick a man up out of the mud, the Baptist will wash him clean, the Presbyterians will put the starch in him, and the Episcopalians will iron him out stiff." Hats off to all churches, and may all of them profit by bringing in an oil well here. We agree not to drill on their church property if they do not want us to, eh? Which church will be the first to sign up?

Unfortunately, a local editor got "Drilling Blocks" and "Acres" all mixed up and so published that we wanted to lease 700 drilling blocks before we would drill. This was copied by a Lubbock paper, and I had a long distance call from Harry Hoare, oil editor of the Amarillo News, who inquired: "What on earth are you going to do down there, drill the whole county?" When I told him that it was just an error of printers ink, he said he thought so, as 700 drilling blocks, consisting of 20 acres each, would be 14,000 acres, and he was afraid that we were going to lease and drill all the way to Amarillo city limits. Anyway, the news got around that it was drilling blocks instead of acres, so we are answering a lot of questions and coming in for a lot of jibes. And then to cap the climax, the Amarillo News came out Sunday with a nice write-up, but with two errors, the major one being that leases acquired some two years ago had been cancelled, which is not true. Editors, please help us keep the records straight.

Cooperation has been the watchword this week, for everybody who has done anything at all about our well-drilling, has gone over back-

Local Coach's Name Sake on Tech Lineup for Game Friday Night

Littlefield football fans may be a little surprised to see the name of Jay Fikes in the lineup for Texas Tech's intra-squad game here Friday night.

This Fikes is not Littlefield's popular coach, but instead a transfer end from Kilgore Junior College. Tech's Fikes made all-district playing for G. B. Morris, former Tech assistant, at Highland Park of Dallas in 1951. He's majoring in animal husbandry at Tech.

Fikes will play for Don Gray's Reds Friday night.

Littlefield will be represented just the same, however, by Arlen Wesley, a tackle for the Whites.

Farm Bureau To Meet April 9

The Lamb County Farm Bureau board of directors met in the office Thursday, March 12 at 7:30 p. m. A. F. Shelby, president, presided.

They decided to send telegrams to several Texas representatives and senators concerning, Bill No. 388, the bill designed to take one cent from the tractor gas refund and give it to the schools. They read a telegram from Jesse Osburn which said "Working for Defeat House Bill No. 388."

They adjourned to meet again April 9 at 8 o'clock. wards helping us get organized. The telephone company assigned us a number even before the Ordinance was signed, in order to get it in the paper in time, in case it was passed. Hamp McCary and office staff are doing everything possible to help get the leases executed. Insurance Winston went out of his way to get a large calendar for our office so we could find the dates easily for leases to be dated, etc. Several business men have come in and taken our circulars to place in their show windows. There are just too many to mention — those public spirited citizens who have helped us materially or by an encouraging word.

When Mr. John W. Murchison, the operator who is to drill this well, was here meeting before the City Commission, someone asked him if he would hold out and not start the well before 120 days after date of Ordinance, etc., and he replied, that "if everything was ready now, I have a free rig in Yoakum county that I could get moved over here within 24 hours to start the well." Let's get the leases in fast and get the well started sooner than expected. How about it, good citizens of Littlefield?

What drilling block will be the first to get a drilling block club organized? I am wondering if it will be No. 32. Residents of that block had a meeting this week. Our phone number is 1095. Call to get your block number.

tries at the show but one of the four, Diane Davis of Rocky Ford won the grand champion ribbon for the best steer shown at the show — a white faced Hereford steer. She bested even her own brother, who exhibited last year's champion, but who had to be satisfied with fourth place this year.

He stated that approximately one-third of the necessary acres had already been signed up, in the first week since the ordinance was passed.

He also added that many of the larger property owners are coming in and voluntarily signing leases, and that the campaign was gaining and would continue to gain impetus, as word of the trend became general knowledge.

Fifteen thousand dollars in cash bond was deposited by Mr. Murchison in a local bank, to guarantee fulfillment of ordinance provisions, last week, said Mr. Duggan.

It was also stated at the headquarters that a large number of volunteers had proffered both help and services in signing up the required acreage, to the end that the test for oil in underground Littlefield can and will get underway with the least possible delay.

All-Star Circus Sponsored By Legion To Be Shown Here March 19 And 20

The local unit of the American Legion is sponsoring the All-Star Circus, which will be staged Thursday and Friday next, March 19 and 20, in the high school gymnasium. The shows will be held at 8 p. m. each night, and a special matinee for the kiddies at 4 p. m. Friday.

The circus will feature clowns, animals, acrobats, trapeze artists, etc., and promises to be an excellent show.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the American Legion, from the local drug stores, or at the door the night of the show.

Usually a show of this kind does not play in a city of this size, but they had some open nights before starting in Lubbock, and so Littlefield will have the benefit of an excellent show.

Local Baptists Take Part in Zone Training Union Meet

Several members of the local First Baptist church attending the East Zone Training Union meeting held at the First Baptist church, Amherst, Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m.

The theme of the program was on "Visitation" — to show how training union can train members to become visiting and soul-winning Baptists.

Mrs. Lenton Smith gave a demonstration on how to enlist Elementary Children for Adult Union. J. D. Jordan gave a talk on "How adults can be trained to visit."

Rev. Bruce Giles, pastor of the First Baptist church at Earth brought the message.

New Ruling Prevents Releasing Of Senior High School Honor Roll

A new ruling on the senior high school honor roll, and final examinations for students at the end of the present semester was outlined by Principal Ralph Schilling the past week as follows:

Names of students making the six week's honor roll will not be released, due to the fact that the Joe C. Hutchinson Honor Society is based on semester average grades.

If a student has an "A" average for the semester and has not been absent more than five times, regardless of whether the absences are excused or unexcused, he will be exempt from the final examination in that particular subject, he said. He also added that if a student has a "B" average for the semester and has not been absent more than three times, he will also be exempt from taking final examinations. This does not mean that a student will be exempt from taking six weeks tests, Mr. Schilling said.

On percentage of attendance, Mr. Schilling made the following statement: "The amount we receive from the state, and the number of class-room teachers that are made available to our school system is based directly on average attendance and not the number of students enrolled. For example if we had 100 per cent attendance we would receive everything we are entitled to, but last month we only had an average attendance of 98.2 per cent, which would give only 98.2 per cent of what we are entitled to."

Springlake Schools Observe Texas Education Week in Various Ways

"Texas Under Six Flags," a dramatic presentation of historical facts, was given at Springlake school Tuesday evening in observance of Texas Education Week. The program was given in the school's gymnasium.

Immediately following the program, the elementary and high school divisions held open house. Refreshments were served in the lunch room.

Texas as the home of numerous tribes of Indians, existences under European settlers, Spanish, French and Mexican rule, and the reign of the colonists from the United States, led by Stephen F. Austin, were scenes presented by pupils of the first five grades.

Effects of culture, folk songs, dances and customs of the various forces were portrayed.

Directing the program for the first four grades was Gommery Allen, music teacher. Frank Mills, Jr., fifth grade teacher, directed his group in presenting the Alamo scene with Texas under Mexican rule.

Narrators were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hamilton of the high school and elementary faculties, respectively.

Also, in observance of the Education Week activities, various civic clubs of Earth were invited as guests of the school at lunch each day last week.

'A-BOMB' MANHATTEN IN 'INVASION U. S. A.'

The most ingenious use of special effects photography since Victor "Samson" Mature brought down the Temple at the Phillistines, highlights Columbia Pictures' "Invasion" U. S. A., the year's shock drama starring Gerald Mohr, Peggie Castle and Dan O'Herlihy at the Palace Theatre. Highlights of the picture, story of an atomic attack on the United States, include the disintegration of midtown Manhattan and the toppling of Radio City.

The electrifying effect was achieved by a combination of skillfully designed miniatures, special process photography and the use of hitherto unused film of atomic explosions released especially for "Invasion U. S. A." through the cooperation of the Atomic Energy Commission and the Department of Defense.

Mrs. J. C. Chaney returned home Saturday, following a two weeks trip. Her daughter, Mrs. Brode Puckett of Wichita Falls met her mother in Lubbock and took her home with her, and also accompanied her on a visit to Goree, Haskell, Munday and Crosbyton to see relatives.

Fred Ziessel, who has been operating service stations at Clovis, for some time, and has been gone from Littlefield since 1947, returned recently, and will make his home here.

50th Birthday of First Farm Demonstration

More than 1,000 persons from Washington, D. C. and a third of the states visited the Walter Porter farm near Terrell on February 26. They heard speakers tell how the first farm demonstration and other related activities later merged into the Agricultural Extension Service (county agent system) and became a part of the Land-Grant Colleges of the nation.

This first demonstration, established on February 26, 1903, started a new teaching method — learning to do by doing. Walter C. Porter was the first demonstrator and Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, representing the USDA, the supervisor. This method of teaching later led also to the three-way cooperative arrangement which makes the Extension Service unique among educational agencies. The counties, states and federal governments share the appropriations for the work but with supervision and personnel training a responsibility of the state organization. State headquarters for each of the state organizations is located at the state Land-Grant Colleges.

Highlight of the day's program was the dedication of a historical marker on the farm, carrying on the bronze tablet atop a base of Texas granite this inscription: "Here the first Farm Demonstration was established jointly by Seaman A. Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Porter, the people of Terrell, February 26, 1903. This demonstration of scientific agriculture on the land was the beginning of the agricultural extension service now known around the world." And this quotation from Dr. Knapp, "What a man hears he may doubt. What he sees he may possibly doubt. What he does himself he cannot doubt."

Tidelands Boom

Senator Douglas of Illinois characterizes the controversy over state or federal ownership of the tidelands as "the biggest issue in terms of money that the Congress of the United States has ever faced."

This bold estimate, made before the Volunteers for Political Action, a group which supported Governor Stevenson in the presidential election, represents a switch from the standard operating procedure during the campaign. Then the policy of opponents of state tidelands ownership was to minimize the value of the offshore lands. With the evident purpose of trying to convince Texans and the residents of other coastal states that the tidelands were not worth fighting for, these forces asserted and reasserted that if there was any oil there, it wasn't much.

Now that this same group is engaged in a bitter effort to prevent return of the submerged lands to the states that have always owned them, the value of the property has undergone a sudden and drastic appreciation. The Illinois senator, by some process of appraisal known only to himself, now says the oil underlying the tidelands is worth $40 billion to $250 billion.

Personally, we think the tidelands are valuable. But we believe their value or lack of value should have no bearing upon Congress' consideration of the question of returning the area to its rightful owners. In our unalterable opinion, Texas owns the area to 10 1/2 miles off its shore and its ownership should be recognized as a matter of principle even if there is nothing there but salt water and sand.

We are a little startled, however, at how a worthless piece of submerged real estate can become a treasure trove of almost incalculable worth in the short space of four months.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Health Talks

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

Anyone who has come to grips with disease or an accident, especially if it involves an operation or lasts a long time, is familiar with the accompanying financial problems. Nursing the patient in the home, when possible, helps reduce medical costs, but with home nursing other problems arise, such as the possibility of overworking the homemaker (who usually must do the nursing) and the need to learn how to follow the doctor's orders, carry out simple treatments, and report on the patient's condition.

The home nurse can often help the doctor in the diagnosis and treatment by developing her sense of observation. Signposts that all is not well with the patient are called "symptoms" and are of two kinds: subjective (known only to the patient) or objective (known to the observer as well). Examples of subjective symptoms are pain, feeling sick at the stomach (nausea), or feeling bad in general (malaise). Objective symptoms include such things as bleeding, skin rashes, swelling, and fever. A mother learns to recognize the location of pain by her child's behavior even when he is too young to tell where it is.

The patient's temperature, pulse, and respiration are a quick and accurate way of telling what the patient's condition is like. Although feeling the forehead may help decide whether the patient is feverish, the most accurate way is to use a clinical thermometer, the appearance of which is known to most people. Its bulb contains mercury, a heat-sensitive substance which rises through a hollow tube in the stem to indicate the body's heat. The stem is marked off in degrees and fifths of degrees, and this side of the stem is shaped so that the numbers are magnified and can be easily read in a good light.

The temperature can be taken by mouth, by rectum, or at some other part of the body not reached by air, like the armpit. First, the mercury must be shaken into the bulb to 95 degrees or below by grasping the other end of the thermometer firmly between the thumb and first two fingers and shaking it with a loose wrist movement as if shaking water from the hand. Care should be taken not to strike the tube against furniture or other objects.

If the temperature is to be taken by mouth, the patient should not have drunk anything hot or cold for a few minutes beforehand. While he is sitting or lying down, the thermometer is placed in his mouth, well under the tongue and a little to one side. He is told to keep his lips shut and not to bite down. In three minutes the tube is removed, wiped toward the bulb end with absorbent cotton or a disposable tissue to make reading easier, and held in a good light. The stem can be rolled slightly from side to side if the mercury can't be seen at first. The normal temperature is usually considered to be about 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit by mouth.

The rectal temperature, which is the most reliable, is about one degree higher than the one for the mouth, and the temperature taken at the armpit may be about one degree lower than by mouth. The thermometer should be left in place about three minutes for mouth or rectal readings and ten minutes under the arm.

The patient's pulse can be counted while the thermometer is still in place. The patient's arm and hand are placed in a relaxed position, thumb up. The nurse places her forefinger (or several fingers) on the thumb side of the patient's wrist between the tendons, cord-like structures which can be felt through the skin, and the wristbone and locates the beating of the artery, the blood vessel. The pulse beat should be counted for a minute using a watch with a second hand. Besides the rate should be noted whether the pulse is regular or skips a beat, slows down, or becomes faster; whether it feels full and bounding or small and weak; and whether the artery feels hard or soft to the touch.

The rate of breathing should be counted without the patient's knowledge because it is more easily in-

RULES DIFFER IN DIVIDING SEPARATE, COMMUNITY ESTATES

The death of an intestate person (one who has made no will) may give rise to many problems regarding distribution of his separate estate. Last week we investigated the manner of dividing the community estate upon the death of a husband or wife. Now we shall see that, where separate property is involved, a completely different set of rules applies in determining heirship and apportioning the estate among the rightful claimants.

As a basis for our search of the law, it may be well to recall that the separate estate of a husband or wife includes property owned by either before marriage, and that which is acquired after marriage by gift or inheritance. Any other property acquired after marriage is presumed by law to be community property until the contrary is clearly proved.

Now let us get on with the problem. Here is a general idea as to how your separate property will be divided if you do not make a will with contrary provisions prior to your death.

If your husband or wife, survives and if, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of previously deceased children, the children and their descendants immediately obtain a full (fee) title in two-thirds of the real estate involved. The surviving spouse receives a life interest in the remaining one-third of the real property, which passes on to the children and their descendants upon the death of the spouse.

The rule for distributing personal property — cash, stocks, bonds, furniture, or any other items not constituting real estate — is different. Here the surviving spouse gets full ownership of one-third, and the children and their descendants inherit the balance.

Now, suppose your husband or wife survives, but there are no surviving children or their descendants. In this case the surviving spouse inherits all of the personal property involved.

With regard to real estate, the survivor obtains full title to one-half, and the other half is divided between your mother and father, if both survive you. If only one of them survives, he or she receives only half of this portion, and the other half (or one-fourth of the entire real estate) will be divided among your brothers and sisters (and their descendants) who survive. If there are no surviving brothers and sisters and their descendants, then the one surviving parent inherits the full one-half.

Where no parent survives, but there are brothers and sisters and descendants, the full one-half is divided among these survivors.

And, if there are no parents or brothers and sisters (and their descendants) surviving, then the surviving husband or wife inherits all of the real estate.

Lamb County Farmers Being Encouraged To Plant More Sorghums And Less Cotton

1953 SUPPORT PRICE ON GRAIN IS $2.38 CWT.

Acres Goal This Year Ten Million Acres

The 1953 support price for grain sorghums grading No. 2 or better stored on the farm in Lamb County is $2.38 per cwt. according to Charley Hill, PMA secretary of Amherst.

Farmers are being encouraged to plant more grain sorghums and less cotton for 1953. Announcement of price support rates at this time and well ahead of the planting season conforms to the "forward pricing" provision of the Agricultural Act of 1949. Farmers are thus given encouragement for full production of this important feed grain. The 1953 acreage goal for grain sorghums sets 10 million acres as the desired acreage for the nation. If achieved, this would be the second largest acreage of sorghum grains ever harvested.

With the market price hovering close to the loan rate (90% of parity), farmers have redeemed few of the loans (less than 3% of them). But at this date last year, they had taken advantage of a favorable price situation (several cents above the loan rate) and redeemed nearly half of their loans, according to Charley Hill, secretary of the P. M. A. office.

As of this date 30,261 bales totaling $3,928,040.88 have been placed in loan from cotton raised in Lamb County for the 1952 crop year.

PRICE SUPPORT LEVELS SET FOR UPLAND COTTON

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced February 26, 1953 that the minimum level of price support for 1953 crop upland cotton, basis middling 7-8 inch, will be 30.80 cents per pound, gross weight. This is 90 per cent of the current parity price of 34.22 cents per pound. In the event that 90 per cent of the parity on August 1, 1953, (the beginning of the 1953 marketing year) is higher than the level announced on February 26, the levels of price support will be increased accordingly. Secretary of Agriculture Benson has requested voluntary reduction of 18 per cent of 1953 cotton acreage. The above reduction would produce a crop of 12 to 12.5 million bales. Mr. Benson states this would probably reduce our 1953 production

"REMARKS BY THE COUNTY AGENT"

By DAVID C. EATON

The date for the Second Annual Lamb County Farmer-Businessmen Forum has been set for April 15, 1953. A joint committee meeting of the Lamb County Farm Bureau and the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce set the date and selected the topics for the panel discussions.

The farmers in the Olton community are trying a new crop on a large scale this year. They are in the process of planting 1,000 to 1,200 acres of Irish potatoes this week.

Most of the acreage is being planted on an agreement with the farmers and Jack Renfro of Hereford. Jack is furnishing the seed and fertilizer and the farmer furnishes the land, water, and labor for planting and digging the potatoes. Jack gets two-fifths of the production and the farmer gets three-fifths of the production, and each party pays their part of the processing.

It takes 12 to 13 sacks of potatoes and 400 to 500 pounds of 10-20-0 or 16-20-0 fertilizer per acre. So the cost to plant an acre of potatoes is about a $100.00. The average yields for the county over the past few years has been 200 sacks per acre.

Now is a good time to control household insects before they start reproducing and multiplying in the spring.

We suggest spraying thoroughly twice a year to control household insects such as ants, cockroaches, bedbugs, clothes moths and carpet beetles.

A spray containing 2 per cent chlordane is effective in controlling cockroaches and ants. For clothes moths, carpet beetles and bedbugs use a 5 per cent DDT spray. Apply these sprays around baseboards, any cracks and crevices where the insects might hide, and all areas where the insects are found.

A good job of cleaning and application of insecticides now before the household insects become active, will reduce the danger of a large build-up of these pests during the warmer seasons of the year.

Right now most fruit trees catch the eye with their full branches of colorful blossoms. These showy fruit blossoms, attract insects and bring them out of hibernation. Along with the beneficial insects, harmful ones are attracted to blossoms.

It won't be many days before the first spray to control the plum curculio should be applied. Despite its name, this is the insect that causes wormy peaches. The time to apply the first spray for control of the plum curculio is when about 75 per cent of the petals have fallen from the blossom. Four pounds of 40 per cent wettable toxaphene to 100 gallons of water will do a good job in controlling the curculio.

If brown rot was a problem in your orchard last year, you should add 6 pounds of wettable sulphur to the curculio spray. The sulphur will also help to control blossom blight.

A new bulletin on growing grain sorghums issued by the Extension Service tells of the new varieties in grain sorghums that have resulted from work of plant breeders. These are suitable for harvest with combines and for a wider range of moisture and

SIDELIGHTS FROM WASHINGTON

Someone has said that there are no experts on Soviet Russia—only men in varying states of ignorance. Nevertheless, millions of people in the free world are speculating upon what may happen now that dictator Joseph Stalin is dead, and his successor has been appointed. Undoubtedly, the world situation will be more explosive and dangerous for a time.

Stalin's pattern of action had become somewhat predictable. With Stalin in the saddle there seemed to be no way to break the stalemate between the free world and the communist world, but many of our leaders had come to believe that Stalin would not in his old age risk a big war with the United States which might destroy him and everything he had built up. The new dictator, Malenkov is practically unknown to the Western World. No one can foresee what may happen inside Russia during the next few months. Perhaps it is fair to say that there are elements of grave danger and elements of new hope for peace in the new situation.

In the House Committee on Appropriations we are in the third week of hearings on the defense budget. Thousands of pages of non-secret parts of the hearings are being printed and will later be released to the public. Even though the hearings are closed, there is widespread interest in developments.

If we cannot cut the defense budget and if we do not materially reduce Government spending otherwise, our chances for tax relief will be diminished. It is too early to predict what may happen, and I make no prediction. However, I do feel that the people of the country have a basis for the hope that economies will be effected, spending reduced, and the way cleared for some future tax relief. Of course, much will depend upon the world situation.

Cattlemen often hear stories of infectious diseases such as brucellosis and mastitis being cured or prevented by the feeding of trace minerals.

There is no basis in fact for these statements. Some controlled experiments conducted by the University of Wisconsin proving that feeding trace minerals had no effect in preventing curing, or even shortening the course of brucellosis. The experiments further showed that animals need for trace minerals were supplied by their normal feed.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station also has been unable to show need for feeding additional trace minerals. The only mineral deficiency affecting animals in Texas is that of phosphorous.

STORY OF STALIN (1)

people who knew the boy Vladimir Djugashvili all town in southern Russia expected him to become a priest. No one, however, dreamed that he would become Joseph Stalin, ruler of 180,000,000 in a vast, vast Russia.

He grew up in poverty in the town of Gori, province of Tiflis, where he was born Dec. 18, 1878. His father was a cobbler, and he learned his trade from his father. Everyone around him called him "Soso," a name which he worked hard and long to earn. Consumed with a desire to understand everything, he read omnivorously and was always a rebel. His mother said later, "I had to punish him."

In a few years in school, he entered at the age of 10, his father apprenticed him to a cobbler. But his mother dreamed for him. She wanted him to be a priest. She arranged for the apprentice arrangement. "Soso" was enrolled in a seminary. He would, she thought, become a Russian priest — a great honor for the son of a serf. "Soso" was a natural rebel. He joined the revolutionary movement at the age of 17. He was secretly leader of a circle at the school. He exposed him and he was expelled from the seminary. The czarist regime of the time had no haven for an unknown radicalism. Secret police began trailing him.

Towards his mother still with annoyance at him for being expelled from the seminary, he was sent to the Kremenchuk, "but if he had not been turned away and been forced to leave he might by now be a priest."

SECRETARY BENSON URGES COTTON FARMERS TO AVOID OVER-PRODUCTION IN 1953

Reminding cotton farmers that too big a crop this year would result in production and marketing controls for 1954, as well as a depressing effect on prices, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson issued a statement regarding the cotton situation.

"The good cotton crops of the past two years have supplied the needs for domestic consumption and exports," said the Secretary. "And they have also rebuilt reserve supplies. Export demand has also been falling off from the levels of recent years. It will therefore not be necessary, or desirable, for farmers to produce as big a crop this year. A production of 12 to 12.5 million bales now appears to be desirable in 1953."

"Plantings, reduced nationally by about 18 per cent from 1952 would, with average yields, produce a crop of 12 to 12.5 million bales. Based on present estimates farmers should, on the average plant less than five acres this year for each six planted last year, if they are to avoid a proclamation of marketing quotas for the 1954 crop, under the provisions of the controlling legislation. Good land use on some individual farms may require even greater reductions than the average. Supplies above the 'quota' level would of course have an adverse effect on prices."

"Total disappearance of cotton during the 1953-1954 marketing season, both domestic and export, may be 13 to 13.5 million bales," the Secretary explained. "A carry-over of about 4.1 million bales on August 1, 1953, is now indicated. With the suggested rate of disappearance, a 1953 crop of 13 million bales (which is the amount of the goal previously announced) would bring the supply situation dangerously close to the quota level provided the controlling legislation."

On the other hand, a 12 to 12.5 million bale crop in 1953 would reduce the prospective carry-over on August 1, 1954, and would still provide adequate working stocks — even if the 1953-1954 disappearance should approach the 13.5 million bale level. With this reduced prospective carry-over, the continued unrestricted production of cotton, free of marketing controls for another year would be virtually assured. Cotton farmers would have voluntarily adjusted supplies to market needs.

The interest of cotton farmers—individually and collectively—call for sensible adjustments in 1953 plantings. Too much cotton would simply pile up stocks which would not be needed, even for carry-over reserve, and would depress the market.

"The acreage of cotton planted in a state or county in 1953 will not affect the size of a state or county acreage allotment in 1954 if the provisions of law remain as provided in present legislation," said Secretary Benson. "Also since the vast majority of individual farm allotments, under present provisions of law, are controlled by the cropland on the farm and a uniform county percentage factor, the 1953 farm cotton acreage will not affect the 1954 farm allotment on most farms."

The industry-wide cotton conference which met February 12, recommended that the Department call attention of farmers to the need for a downward adjustment in 1953 production in order to keep supplies in line with probable needs.

"I am in complete accord with that recommendation," the secretary concluded, "and am calling on farm organizations and the cotton industry to join with the Department in getting these facts to all cotton farmers immediately. In an effort to stimulate cotton exports, a committee was appointed last Friday to make a thorough study of the foreign cotton situation. This was in line with another recommendation which the cotton group made last Thursday. The committee began work immediately on specific recommendations for an export program.

"We will work aggressively to increase cotton exports this season, and if farmers voluntarily adjust 1953 production, controls can be avoided in 1954."

Secretary Benson reaffirmed his determination to make the present price support and acreage and production stabilization program of the South fully effective. He commended the industry on the fact that the program has in recent years been largely self-supporting. The Department of Agriculture stands ready always to work closely with the cotton industry in the development and carrying out of effective programs of maximum benefit to farmers of the South and other cotton producing areas.

Littlefield Has Chance To Get Deep Test Oil Well Drilled Within City Limits

On March 11, 1953, at 10:30 o'clock a. m., (hereafter to be known as a memorable day for progress in Littlefield) the City Commission, composed of the Honorable Art C. Chesher, Mayor, Les C. Hewitt and Lon Campbell, Commissioners, at a special called session of the Commission, passed unanimously an Ordinance which opens the way for drilling a deep test oil well inside the Littlefield City limits.

What the Ordinance Is ---

The Ordinance is a long instrument dealing with technical phrases which the average laymen may not understand, but it is based on Ordinances of other oil towns throughout the United States, and has special provisions for our local needs. Briefly, to you, Mr. Property Owner, it means that the City Commission of Littlefield has control of all drilling in the City limits, receiving a fee of $500.00 for each permit to drill, with an additional 2 cents per barrel tax on all oil produced herein. With 109 drilling blocks, of about 20 acres each, it means, when all blocks are drilled, that the City will receive $54,500.00 cash alone, plus the extra tax on oil, which could amount to several thousand dollars annual income to the City. Protective measures are provided in the Ordinance against fire hazards, and drilling restrictions are included to protect you and your property.

Your Option As Property Owner ---

You have three choices of handling your property — 1. You do not have to lease at all, but if you do not, you will receive nothing until after the well is completely paid for out of oil produced. 2. You may pay your prorata share of drilling and production expenses, putting up your prorata share of the bond required by operators, and then you may draw your 8/8th interest: Or 3. You may lease to responsible operator and sit back and get your 1/8th interest, and possibly more, without cost to you, and at the same time show your co-operation with those who are willing to spend their money to develop the area.

Responsible Oil Operator Is Ready to Drill Test Well ---

John W. Murchison, responsible oil operator, is putting $15,000.00 cash in the First National Bank of Littlefield, along with escrow agreement that leases will be attached to, and agrees to drill to 7700 feet, if oil or gas in paying quantities is not found at lesser depth, and to start operations within 120 days from date of escrow agreement, when at least 700 acres of leases are acquired in City limits. If he does not perform as agreed, the $15,000.00 will be forfeited to the City. We will prepare the leases and take your acknowledgments at our expense and pay for supplemental abstracts and perfect titles if necessary.

CAUTION---

John W. Murchison is able and willing to start drilling as soon as necessary leases have been signed and delivered in escrow to the bank. Lease to him through C. J. Duggan, his representative. If you lease to a speculator who has no interest in your property except to make all out of it he can, you are handicapping yourself, for if you do not lease to one who is ready to drill now, and let him get controlling interest in your drilling block, you will not get the block drilled as quickly as otherwise it would be drilled, as operator holding greater interest in each block has priority for drilling permit in that block.

Enthusiastic Community Interest Already in Evidence ---

Mr. Hamp McCary has offered the use of his splendid offices to us for getting leases, without charge to us, and the following real estate men and citizens of Littlefield are offering their services in helping round up the leases in addition to Hamp, are Rhenard McCary, Charlie Clark, Van Clark, Arthur Jones, Bill Kelly, Roy and S. M. McCary, Ernest Gaston, R. W. Wood, and others whom we have not contacted. These men, in the oil venicular, will be known as lease hounds.

The following local attorneys have already given their time in getting legal details ironed out with Ordinance and escrow agreement: Arthur P. Duggan, Jr., T. Wade Potter, Willard G. (Bill) Street, Jr., Pat Boone, Jr., (we are sure others will when needed) and to cooperate and work together getting abstracts examined and titles perfected when the time comes for that work.

Organize Drilling Block Clubs ---

Let's all work together, and now. Phone our office, 1095, 30, or come in person to find what drilling block you are in, and begin to organize drilling block clubs at once, so you can get all property owners, your neighbors, to lease 100% to the man who is ready to drill the first well. If you are unable to come to the office, so advise, and lease hounds will come to your house with the lease for you to execute.

What You Will Get Out of It ---

In lieu of paying cash for your leases, we are giving you back a 1/16th over-ride royalty or minerals in addition to your regular 1/8th, in case you own all minerals, and this may be worth many times the amount of the small cash payment anyone could pay for the lease. It can be sold now or when activities begin or after well is brought in, or you may retain it along with the 1/8th and receive that much more mineral payments when well is producing in your block.

Be a Booster for Oil Development In Littlefield ---

Who will be the first to sign up a lease? Do not wait for your neighbor to sign, but bring him along with you and all sign together. We have only a short time to get the required lease acreage, according to the escrow agreement. Bring your property legal description to the office and the lease will be prepared for execution in a few minutes.

Let's all boost for oil development for Littlefield. C. J. Duggan or Hamp McCary will be in the office at all times — Regular business hours, noon hour or at night, with secretaries to take care of you when you come in. Call C. J. Duggan, 1095 or Hamp McCary, 30, for any information pertaining to the proposition, or for your drilling block number. Address: Hamp McCary & Son Real Estate, 334 Phelps Avenue, Littlefield.

Littlefield Area Has Always Been Potential Oil Field

BY C. J. DUGGAN

Probably no one in the world who had rather see the townsite of Littlefield and this area, than I do, because of the money it would mean to me, because it does not take what it would mean to the citizenship of this corner of Littlefield and people.

Instance of my late brother Arthur P. Duggan, who came to Littlefield, arriving in 1912, spending the night sleeping on the ground at the southeast corner of the original Townsite, and from the present, I have lived in Littlefield. I was the first class postmaster of a post office, and superintendent of the Union Sunday school. I had the pleasure of being the first Methodist pastor as well as assisting other pastors. I pioneered along with other splendid people who were the first citizenship, but I am not the first born son in the original cemetery. I was to be laid by his side in the cemetery called to the great beyond may not be many years.

It has been my fate to live out of Littlefield at times, I never ceased loving it, I have always expected to see the time comes for me. Throughout the years, I have seen the oil in this area with my heart and mind, and I have another opportunity to get a deep test oil well right in our city limits.

Back in 1912, Major George W. Littlefield, owner of the famous Yellow House Ranch, out of which Littlefield is carved, was farsighted and had a well drilled for oil at what was then the South Camp of the ranch, but he was not deep-sighted enough, and contracted to a depth of only 2000 feet, thinking surely it could be no deeper than that. One of the drillers told me years later that they poured several barrels of oil in the hole, trying to get the Major to let them drill deeper, but he would not yield.

In 1938, I came to Littlefield to assemble two drilling blocks for my late brother, R. F. Duggan, who was an oil operator. One well was drilled south of town in Hockley county and the other was drilled west of town in Bailey county, both wells being bottomed with oceans of salt water. Then I assembled a drilling block just north of Littlefield, not having any idea whom I could get to drill it, but along came my old oil friend, John W. Murchison, of east Texas oil field days, and drilled a well to the depth of 5500 feet on the Albert Neuschwander farm, only to find no oil in paying quantities. The president of the company was unfortunately killed in an airplane wreck the very week the well was completed, to contract depth, and everything had to stop because of some legal questions. No one individual was greater disappointed or lost more money in that venture than I did, for so sure was I that oil would be found, that I put almost every available thing I had into the block.

On the 17th Miss Morse will instruct Brownie Leaders, and on the 19th she will meet with Girl Scout leaders in Olton.

Miss Morse is a graduate of Western Reserve University and has attended Girl Scout training courses in Foxlease, England.

Those who attend the meetings of the 17th and 19th are asked to bring sack lunches.

February, a year ago, I was in Dallas and called to make a friendly visit to my old oil friend, P. N. Wiggins, Jr., asking him what was going on in this area as I had some calls to lease some of my tracts around here, and to my great surprise, he told me of the then recent leasing spree that had taken place here, stating that after certain parties came in and paid such fabulous prices for town lots, that his companies simply withdrew as they could not compete in such tactics. He then told me that if I would come out here on my own and see if I could get the City Commission to pass an ordinance restricting drilling to one well to 20 acres in the city limits, he would take it up with his companies again to see if they were interested. I came here and got a faint hope that the ordinance would be passed under certain conditions, if and when someone was ready to operate. I reported to Wiggins and he was unable at that time to get his companies hot on the deal, but did not report to me until the following May. I then went to San

Homemaking II Style Show And Box Supper Is Outstanding Event

The Homemaking II style show and box supper was a huge success. Forty-eight dollars taken in from the boxes will be used to send four girls to the state meeting.

Donna Kay Alderson modeled a blue and white checked dress with puffed sleeves, round yoke and a full gathered skirt made by Madeline Ryals.

Paula Whitfield modeled a printed pinafore with scalloped neckline and large ruffles made by Judy Williams.

Jo Lynn Anderson and Melba Harper made the lovely blue pique dresses with pink organdy undershirts and pink trim on the collars worn by Donna Kay Alderson and Beverly Jones.

Curtis Blair does not go in strong for style shows and so far as he is concerned this will be his last one. He bore up bravely for a few minutes and was enjoying the microphone when he suddenly spied his "Mama" across the footlights and was immediately through with the whole thing. Being just a "One Woman Man" he wasn't the least bit interested in his Aunt Nellie who made his pretty little shirt and "breeches," and when she led him farther away from his Mom his little heart just "busted".

A dressy little lassie was Betty Tucker wearing a pinafore dress featuring full gathered skirt and a lace trim, made by her sister Marilyn.

Vicky Jones looked very much like spring in her yellow sun dress. The cape was lined with white eyelet which was also repeated in the tulip pockets and was made by Margaret Bridges.

Eva Mae Landis modeled a chartruese cotton broadcloth, featuring Peter Pan collar, full sleeves and tucks in the bodice made by her sister Jenline.

Another little lad with blue pants and a white shirt was James Melton. The shirt could also serve as a jacket and could be worn outside the pants. This little suit was made by Louise Oakley.

Mary Griego modeled a very pretty yellow pique dress with set in ruffles and a large sash made by Gloria Griego.

Beverly Jones modeled a dress from the new twistalene material, featuring a self ruffle around the scalloped neckline. The ruffled pockets added interest to the lovely little dress made by Arleta Black.

Another popular lad was Jerry Stephens modeling red denim pants and shirt of white broadcloth. A very nice looking combination made by Bobbye Newel.

Rita Pritchard added charm to her brown eyes with a little dress of brown and tan with tucks at the front and a back and a brown apron made by Johnnie Spears.

Connie Couch modeled a tangerine cotton dress collarless and with one tuck in the skirt made by Willa Couch.

In identical dresses were Jo Ellen Roe and Karen Lyda. Their dresses featured Peter Pan collars, short puffed sleeves and circular skirts. They were made by Sandra Broome and Billie Lyda.

The Youth's Center opened Friday night and in spite of the fact that they had no announcements, a very nice crowd attended and enjoyed themselves immensely.

This is a thing that will grow and is sponsored by the 1950 Study club with the other clubs helping on the expenses. They have some very interesting plans for the future.

Please remember to tell your friends and that you are very welcome at the Legion Hut each Friday night.

Mrs. Lynn Anderson Hostess to Garden Club Thursday

The Garden club met in the home of Mrs. Lynn Anderson Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Jack Grace opened the meeting with a brief business session. Mrs. Roy Carden made a report on work done in the park recently.

Mrs. Curtis Jones read two poems.

Mrs. H. M. Christian explained rebuilding your lawn with care.

Mrs. Roy Carden gave a talk on, "Did You Know That Ants Have Cows,"

Mrs. W. M. Alexander led in a parliamentary drill.

Refreshments of sandwiches, ice box dessert and coffee were served to fourteen members and three guests. Mesdames Paul Tullis, Jay Fowler and Louis Parchman.

The next meeting will be on March 26 in the home of Mrs. Clarence Mathews.

and Mrs. Lee and their five children have been my neighbors for the last five years and I have had better ones, although those years we have visited at home at all because we have been away from home. It has been very comforting to know that they would come for the day or night. 4041 number I keep along with the department, the ambulance law. Surely one of the four take care of me. The family moved to Anton from Laredo, Texas. Dr. Lee was a nurse in the medical corps in World War II and spent three years overseas. I feel that we are fortunate in having a doctor of experience in our town. The writer observed Dr. Lee as he worked with a bossy but very, very sick little girl. He let the father place the stethoscope around on the child's lungs while he listened, then he allowed the father to hear what was going on and described the effects of the medicine that he would like to give and asked the parent's opinion rather than gruffly giving orders. In fact he gave them credit for having good sense which many doctors do not, and the medicine was really magic. I think the time has come when doctors must realize that it is both our body and our money and we do have something to say about what is done. Their children are well raised. These five certainly never give anybody trouble. They look after their school work, the house and yard and leave Dr. and Mrs. Lee free to go about their practice.

A Sad Mistake

Well, the man of the year has been elected in one of the hottest campaigns I have seen in this little town in years. I know of ten who voted and just to be sure that we have not underestimated the turnout we'll just say at least a ROUND DOZEN cast their ballots. And I'll have to admit publicly, as much as I hate too, that it looks like we chose the wrong man!

Now E. R. Williams has taken for granted that he won't have to work ANY MORE and now just sit in his nice office with his feet on the desk! He is getting as bad about that as George Goen! Just playing big boy! What did he think he was to get? Say, a white linen suit and yacht to match and all that? That would have been fine . . . any man on the Plains NEEDS a yacht but we did not promise him one!

He is the one who made the promises! The only plank in his platform was that he would take care of the widows and children . . . especially the WIDOWS! And is he doing that? There must be at least thirty widows in this town and being slightly disgruntled about my reward after writing up his platform I thought the least we widows might expect would be a Cadillac in our garages and there is nothing in mine yet but this old 1948 Dodge! That's the first thing I do when I wake up every morning . . . rush out to see if I have my Cadillac! And I have personally checked the other widows' garages and not a one do I see! We poor widows are getting our eyes opened to the fact that Cadillac's do not come that way!

It's a shame . . . the let down really hurts! I think we should have elected Hank Mathews . . . at least he works and KEEPS HIS PROMISES! And we know that although Harlan Black HAS been a fine man, he'll never be the same again after spending two weeks in that "GRASS SKIRT" country. Bess Atkinson

What Were Your Ambitions . . . ?

Everybody has had some ambition to do things, that although they failed they are finer folks for thinking along those lines. . . at least "they hitch their wagon to a star". I think those below are very worthy and interesting. If younger people will begin to think and work a little harder it is possible they will reach their goal, because just wishing doesn't do it.

I always wanted to be a great singer because I realize how much good they do in the world and how much pleasure they bring to others. Mrs. Ashley Cox

I wanted to be a nurse and after having so much sickness in my own family I realize more than ever what I had missed in being able to do good. So now I raise flowers for those who are ill and that gives me an opportunity to help by cheering the sick and I enjoy it. Mrs. Jack Grace

When I was a child my ambition was to be a pianist. I did not have the opportunity to study music but still would enjoy it. I like to study and hope that I never let my mind stagnate. Mrs. Emmitt Kerr

Music in any form was my ambition in life. I have studied and enjoyed music and hope for great things in that line for my daughter. Mrs. Preston Lyda

I always wanted to be a nurse and I still would like to be. I see so many ways that they are able to bring comfort and happiness and sick people are so grateful for the things you do to relieve them. Mrs. Howard Denson

I want to be a beauty operator. I enjoy that work and I believe that nothing makes a woman happier than to look her best. Mrs. Carl Poole

I want to be a house wife and mother. When I was younger very few things were open to women and I am sure there were other things that I would have enjoyed too, but we just did not have the opportunity that young people have today. I wish the young folks would give this more thought before it is too late for them. Mrs. Grover Reed

I was very ambitious to be a nurse. Their work must make them very happy because they do so much to relieve pain and to cheer sick folks. Mrs. D. A. Poole

I want to be a beauty operator. I know that I would like the work. I used to cut hair a great deal and I always enjoyed doing the job right. Mrs. A. L. Reed

I have had two ambitions in my life. The first was to be a great singer . . . to be able to go before large audiences and sing without being afraid. I still enjoy singing but have never overcome stage fright. I know a great many of the world's best singers are hindered by being afraid. You must be able to relax to sing your best. I have spent a great deal of time in the study of voice and nothing makes me happier. I would also like to be a psychiatrist. (Continued on Back Page)

OLTON NEWS

BAND WINS HONORS

In competition with 12 other bands of its class, the Olton High school band took two first division ratings, both in concert and sight reading, Saturday, March 7 at Tulsa.

Not only did the band win first division in concert, but also took second place when the 12 bands were ranked.

In a contest, all bands are ranked from first to fifth division according to their accomplishments. Any member of bands may be ranked in the same division. However, only one band gets first place and so forth.

Three first division ratings in one contest gives a band the sweepstakes award.

Had the Olton band marched, it could have competed with Irian and Tahoka for this award. Irian won the sweepstakes award.

Some of the other bands participating in the contest, other than Olton, were Irian, Tahoka, Springlake, Sudan, Memphis, Lefors, Farwell, Stratford, Lockney and Kress.

Several individual honors were won by Olton band members. Jimmy Priest on the trombone and Kay Granbery on the French horn won two first places. Second place awards were won by Jimmy Stone, Linda Franks, Donice Silcott, Kay Sherman, Wylene Freeman and the brass quartet made up of Jimmy Priest, Ronald White, Guy Granbery and Jackie Powell.

TO GO TO STATE MEET

Miss Gayle Silcott of Olton was named to a state office in the Texas Future Homemakers Association.

She was chosen at a meeting of FHA chapter of Area 1, which is made up of more than 100 chapters across the Panhandle.

Another Olton girl, Miss Norma Smith, was named area treasurer at the Lubbock meeting. She is president of the Olton chapter.

Miss Silcott presided over a session at the Saturday meeting. The Olton group was accompanied to Lubbock by Mrs. Hubert Waldrop, homemaking teacher, and Mrs. C. S. Silcott.

Mrs. Waldrop said about 2,100 future homemakers attended the meeting. Mrs. Waldrop said she and Miss Silcott will go to San Antonio in April for the state FHA meet.

Well, I'll just list mine, as I promised the others I would. I have always been "just busting at the seams with ambition," but just missed the boat entirely. They come in this order, a musician, a doctor, a nurse, the superintendent of an orphan's home and a welfare worker. Three things caused me to fail. I did not have the money, the physical stamina nor the grey matter to do any of them.

Littlefield Area—

Antonio to solicit my old oil-buddy, John W. Murchison, to come and drill a test well. He told me to wait two weeks until he could make some inquiries among the companies who held leases in the area. Two weeks later, I was told that there was a bare possibility of getting it done, and I came here in July, spending some $1,500 getting information and preparing proper map of the townsite. The ordinance was never passed and interest was lost for the time being, then last week, Murchison called me in my Alabama home and told me to come back to see what could be done about the ordinance. I had taken to him an ordinance that had been prepared here by the City Attorney, Arthur P. Duggan, Jr., and others, along with my own ideas, and this was turned over to certain major companies whose attorneys passed upon it with some minor changes or suggestions.

Tuesday morning of last week, I arrived in Littlefield with this ordinance and submitted it to the City Commission for consideration. Mr. Murchison came before the Commission at one meeting to explain his proposition and tell of the merits to the town of the ordinance, stating that the major companies who own leases in the area, will not drill a well until such an ordinance is passed.

Just what will such an ordinance mean to Littlefield, is in the minds of all owners of city property. Besides protecting the interest of the owners, providing for fire protection and proper operations in the townsite, it will mean in money alone, some $54,500 in cash to the city, for there are 109 drilling blocks outlined and a fee of $500 for each well permit is to be had. Aside from this, there will be a 2 cents per barrel tax to the city on all oil produced within the city limits, which will mean a great deal over the years. The oil companies operating will bear the brunt of taxes, and all of this will pay for out of court house and schools. The population should greatly increase for there will be many men employed in the development process, who will become permanent citizens to look after the oil interest of the owners and induce industries to come to our town.

Furthermore, we propose to let the property owners retain 1-16th over-ride in addition to their regular 1-8th, (in case they own all minerals under their lots) and this alone will be worth a great deal more than a small lease payment would amount to, either to keep, or to sell at proper time when development is progressing.

The citizenship of Littlefield as a whole, went oil development here. I have been offered the use, gratis, of offices, by several parties, and the real estate agents of the town have agreed to in acquiring leases without commissions. There are many instances of cooperation on all by many various interests.

So, citizens of Littlefield, your one chance to get a deep oil well in your town limited with it producing, there will be development in the area. The major companies have willing to drill for oil in this area until such an ordinance is passed. We have already cash escrow agreement with in bank until we acquire sufficient number of lots to justify the proper test. What do you to do? We are ready for Will Littlefield continue to progress, or will it stop and opportunity pass at this time?
