

Santa Claus will be on hand in stores and along Phelps Avenue, both Friday and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., seeking out boys and girls to give them free candy and to learn what they want for Christmas. Santa urges parents to bring their children to downtown Littlefield where Christmas items and bargains galore will be in dazzling array.

Christmas music will fill the air during the gala festival, with colorful decorations and lights adding sparkle to the seasonal gaiety. Christmas lights are scheduled to be turned on tonight preceding the festival. Plans for "Christmas in Littlefield" call for downtown window decorating by various civic and church groups, with the project sponsored by Littlefield Ministerial Alliance. Also tentatively planned are Christmas caroling and a Christmas skit later in the holidays.

Groups which to date have signed up to decorate a window are First Methodist Church, Assembly of God Church, Parkview Baptist Church, Salvation Army and "We The Women" of the Chamber.

Jim Kelly, executive vice-president of Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, said he had been told plans are being made to light the courthouse and shrubbery around it.

During the Stock-In Festival Friday and Saturday, Littlefield merchants are prepared to play host to the entire area in launching the Christmas season.

Merchants who are participating in the festival are A&B Office Supply, Anthony's, Bill's Boot Shop, Bill Smith Electric, Brittan Pharmacy, Connell's Office Supplies, Cox Furniture and Appliance, Crescent House Restaurant, Field's Cleaners and Men's Store, Hill Rogers Furniture & Appliance, John Nail Studio, Littlefield Variety, McAnally Jewelry Co., Moss Shoes, Nelson's Hardware, Norma's, Onstead Furniture, Palace Theater, Penney's, Perry's, Pratt Jewelry & Gifts, E. C. Rodgers Furniture, Roden Rexall Drug, Sears, Sprouse-Reitz Variety, Amos Ward's, Ware's Dept. Store, Western Auto and Wright Prescription Drug.

FREE MONEY

LAMB COUNTY LEADER

LITTLEFIELD, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1967 NUMBER 29

Santa Claus Sends Request For Letters

olly Old Saint Nick contacted The Leader-News this week and he is eager to receive letters from the youngsters in the Littlefield area so he will know what they want for Christmas. He sends a hearty "Ho, Ho, Ho!" to all boys and girls and he hopes they will write him soon so he can make up a list of toys, goodies and other presents to bring in his tinkling sleigh on Christmas Eve. Santa says all his reindeer, including the Red-nosed Rudolph, are "prancing at the bit" with excitement now that Christmas is so close at hand.

Also -- and here is wonderful news for everyone -- Santa will be in Littlefield Friday and Saturday, looking for youngsters to give them free candy and hear their Christmas desires! Santa says he invites all youngsters to be in downtown Littlefield during the Annual Stock-In Festival Friday and Saturday, so they can talk to as many children as possible! Also, boys and girls might get the chance to SHOW Santa what they want -- right inside the store!

So -- youngsters should sharpen up their pencils and start writing Santa at the "North Pole."

And -- get ready to visit with him this weekend right here in Littlefield!

CONTEST'S FINAL WEEK

Sudan Men Battle For Cotton Bowl Tickets

Don Bellar hasn't got his two tickets to the New Year's Day Cotton Bowl football game in his pocket yet. And he possibly won't.

Through the Sudan specialist picking winners in the weekly Leader-News football contest, Bellar placed third in the overall standings in the fourth week, he must wait off a late rally by another contender of the same community, Don Pollard.

In a week of upsets and hard-fought games, Pollard emerged as the place winner of last week's contest, with three misses. Bellar missed six, but goes into the final week with a two-point lead for the tickets over Pollard.

Three tied for second place with four misses, James Walker of Littlefield, who won three of the first four weeks top money has since found correct picks to come by, emerged with second place money because of the breaker scores.

Doris Robison, another Littlefield resident, took third place weekly money from Ray C. Ivey of Amherst with her tie breaker score predictions.

This was Pollard's thirteenth to win money in the contest. He placed third in the fifth and seventh week entries.

Pollard has trailed Bellar all season by as many as five points, and as few as two. In the standings last week he appeared off the running when he trailed by five points. But Bellar's hard luck week of six misses gave Pollard new life.

Bellar now has 142 correct guesses for the season, Pollard 140.

Don Hevern stands in third place with 137. Other close contenders are Johnnie Blair and Charles Didway, 136; Walker, Paul Yarbrough and A. A. Smith, 135; H. A. Mitchell, 133; Lee Roy Nuttall, 132; and Floyce Pierce and Jerry Williams, 130.

Contest forms published in last Sunday's County Wide News are for the 12th and final week. Deadline for the final entries is 5 p.m. Friday. Weekly and season winners will be announced in Thursday's edition of the Lamb County Leader.

THANKSGIVING SEASON, today and yesterday, remains much the same regardless of jet propulsion or moon trips. This cover on a November, 1967, American Farming Magazine displayed by Wayne Swart of Sudan carries the same turkey and boy-with-axe which photographers strive to get today. The magazine, found among items belonging to the late Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Swart who lived south of Littlefield and were Wayne Swart's grandparents, emits a cheery "Happy Thanksgiving" note as warm today as it was 44 years ago.

Child Dies In Accident

A two-year-old Littlefield child died here Saturday afternoon after being struck by an automobile.

Missy Michele Conwright, daughter of Mrs. Mary D. Conwright of 106 Texas Ave., was pronounced dead on arrival at Littlefield Hospital.

According to Littlefield police, a car driven by George Ernie Jr., of Littlefield, struck the child after she darted from behind an object into the street.

Officers said it was definitely an accident and that the driver was not driving fast. He was reaching children on the other side of the street when the child darted in front of the car.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon in Irving Street Baptist Church with W. A. Terry, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Littlefield cemetery, directed by McCarty Funeral Home.

Surviving are her mother; two brothers, Cedric Conwright and Kenneth Conwright; four sisters, Rhonda Conwright, Louise Conwright, Gwendolyn Conwright and Sherri Conwright; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Conwright.

USDA Issues Lamb County Cotton Data

Lamb County's 1968 cotton allotment will be 187,315 acres, according to information received Wednesday by Lamar Aiken, local USDA office.

The 1968 average yield per acre is 536 pounds, based on yield averages for the county in 1964, '65 and '66, as compared to the 1967 figure of 570 pounds per acre, yield average for the county in 1963, '64 and '65. Cotton yield base is down 6 per cent to individual farms and total payments for individual farms will be down 11.7 per cent due to the drop in yield average and program changes.

The above figures refer to cotton participants only, 1967-68.

For maximum participants, with 35 per cent cotton and 50 per cent feed grain, as compared to 1967 with grain 20 per cent and cotton 35 per cent, payments will be up about 4 per cent, Aiken said.

He said the skip row change is effective only for cotton in 1968. Feed grain and peanuts remain the same as 1967.

About Face About Time

Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake asked Governor John Connally in a letter this week to include a Bill to exempt Texas from Daylight-Saving Time in the upcoming special session of the legislature.

Clayton stated that the people of Texas, having tried D.S.T. for one year, disapprove of the advanced time.

A Belton poll shows a general disapproval all across the State and several polls taken in this Area indicate a great majority of the people here do not like Daylight-Saving Time.

Representative Clayton stated that after a fair trial of D.S.T. and after having an expression from the people in the District by polls and by personal contact that he would support any action to exempt Texas from the Time Change.

H. D. Agent Offers Hints For Freezing Cream Pies

by Lady Clare Phillips
Co. H. D. Agent

There's quite a trick to making a good cream pie that can be frozen and stored successfully. It takes a special recipe and special handling.

And that's what research home economists at Texas Technological College in Lubbock, in cooperation with food and nutrition and specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, have come up with -- a special way to make cream pies, so that the filling doesn't separate, or get grainy, lumpy, or spongy, and the crust remains flaky.

Cornstarch, researchers find, is the most acceptable starch to use in the filling of a cream pie that's going into the freezer. And, you get best results if you freeze pie filling and shell separately, then combine the two when ready for use -- or use the frozen filling in a freshly baked crust.

Bake the shell on the outside of the pan, then remove, wrap and freeze. The filling may be frozen on the inside of the same size pan, then remove and wrap.

Raw egg whites may be frozen separately and used in a meringue later, or freshly beaten whites can be baked in the frozen cream pie. Here's the recipe for that special --

CREAM PIE FOR FREEZING
2 cups milk
2/3 cup sugar
3 Tbsp. cornstarch
1/4 tsp. salt
2 egg yolks, beaten
2 Tbsp. butter or margarine
2/3 tsp. gelatin
1 tsp. vanilla
Heat milk to scalding (185F.). Add the sugar, starch and salt, which have been combined, and continue heating rapidly until boiling.

Stir about 1/2 cup of the hot mixture into the egg; pour back into the saucepan and cook an additional 5 minutes.

Stir in the gelatin which has been hydrated in 1 tablespoon of the milk (cold). Add the butter or margarine and vanilla.

Pour into 7-inch pie pan, freeze, remove from pan, wrap in moisture resistant paper and store in freezer.

This basic recipe can be used to make several other kinds of pie.

For banana cream pie, arrange 2 sliced ripe bananas over frozen filling and sprinkle with 1 Tbsp. confectioner's sugar. Cover with meringue and bake.

Strawberry or peach cream pie: Arrange 1-1/2 cups sliced peaches or strawberries over frozen filling, sprinkle with 3 tablespoons confectioner's sugar. Cover with meringue and bake.

"Coconut cream pie" Sprinkle 1-1/2 cups shredded coconut over frozen filling, cover with meringue and bake.

Let's Get One Thing STRAIGHT!
No Matter What You Say Or How You Say It--
The ONLY Issue In A Local Option Election Is ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

Let us remind ourselves that vile as the bootlegger is, he is not more vile than the liquor store operator who, under license, sells the same alcohol. It is not the bootlegger who kills on the highway, who destroys the home, who makes an alcoholic, but the stuff he sells -- alcohol. And alcohol, whether it is bought in the alley or the store, is a killer. Keep that in mind, and our thinking will be a lot less muddy.

THIS ISSUE IS CLEARLY DRAWN BETWEEN THE CHRISTIAN GROUPS WHICH ARE OUT FOR A CLEAN, FREE STATE WHERE MEN, WOMEN AND YOUTH WILL NOT HAVE TO BEAR THE TERRIBLE WEIGHT OF FAILURE AND MISERY WHICH THE ALCOHOL TRAFFIC ENTAILS... AND THE ALCOHOL INDUSTRY, FIGHTING FOR ONLY ONE THING: PROFITS!

The phrase "LEGAL CONTROL" is misleading. "Control" regulates conditions of sale, and nothing else. It does not control drunkenness. It does not control bootlegging, and it does not control disastrous consequences of over indulgence. When we grant a person license for any other activity under the sun, we insist upon his being responsible, but when we license liquor sales, we throw caution to the winds, sow the seeds of bitter tragedy, and contribute to the degradation and death of millions of unfortunate people -- Alcohol is uncontrollable as quick-silver and as deadly.

AMY'S ADLIBS

Later, Lord

By Amy Turner

I SAID my prayer last night, all right, but I guess, to be honest, it wasn't really any great shakes as prayers go.

OF COURSE, with Thanksgiving drawing to a close, another season opens.

TODAY IS a busy day, like Thanksgivings in most homes, I guess.

RIGHT NOW, though, I think I'll just put my feet up and lean back and rest for a while.

HOMALU HOOD

SATURDAY, when we finally wrapped up the Sunday paper, I went home completely bushed -- just one big walking "Ache."

USE THERAPY, I told myself. Think about a snow-covered mountain retreat, a warm fireplace --

AFTER THE TEA, I headed for the bedstead and crawled in. Our little Dog Doc jumped in beside me, and since it wasn't really bedtime and, besides, his presence was a comfort, he was allowed to stay.

THINK ABOUT a boat, rising and falling in gently moving water --

MEANWHILE, Doc -- who can go to sleep on a nickel and give back a dime's change -- had drifted into slumber which was not exactly enhanced by my tossing and turning.

THINK ABOUT a Christmas tree, all lighted up, with snow outside --

And when it became clear that he was not seeking publicity for himself, that he has accumulated a lifetime reputation for responsibility, integrity and respectability, I was convinced his gesture was genuine, not "phony heroics," and I agreed to relay his argument to you.

And scientist X, quite frankly, does not expect that his offer will be accepted. Such a project would require the concurrence of too many persons in authority, many of whom are subject to the will of the electorate and its diverse religious persuasions.

HOWEVER Americans reject the notion of a "suicide mission," we do accept volunteers for such missions every day. Militarily, we do it officially. Medically, we do it unofficially.

ONE THING MORE: Every explorer accepts calculated risk. Every spaceman, especially, recognizes that his odds for survival are less than for most of us.

It is possible, if not provable, that such a manned moon mission as scientist X proposes would save lives. Certainly it would save much time and money, eliminating the necessity for a multiplicity of less sophisticated robot landings.

But he believes that he might have long enough to open the doors to such consideration.

A Thankful Grassie

BY LIBBY MUDGETT

"BEST FRIEND Grassie Roots, for Thanksgiving this year I think that we should make a list of unusual things to be thankful for."

grateful that there are still a lot of 'squares' left in the world who believe in trying to keep the ten commandments"

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Thankfulness

BY BOB WEARS

IF WE COULD just say, "Be thankful!" and then all of us be thankful, life would be better for everybody.

BLESSINGS. To the extent we do so about blessings, to that extent we forfeit the real joy and satisfaction which properly should attend our blessings.

FROM THE AVAILABLE EVIDENCE, we are soon convinced that God is, and that He is a benevolent and merciful God.

WE ARE THANKFUL for the right to hold title to property, for the guarantee that we shall be secure in our person, property and our personal effects; for the right to trial by jury, a jury of our peers, and for the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

With this, we understand that life with its opportunities for personal growth and development, and for useful living is a delightful reality, and we are thankful to Him who made it so.

WE ARE THANKFUL for the privilege to vote, to express our preferences, and to assist in the selection of the persons who administer the affairs of our government.

Even in these troubled times, there is much for which to be thankful, and thankfulness should be prominent in our feelings and actions.

WE ARE THANKFUL for the Bible, for the God it reveals, for the Savior it presents, and for the hope that it offers for the present and the future.

IT SEEMS RATHER EASY for us to overlook or take for granted the many blessings we receive.

THE LIST of blessings is almost endless. There are no words to adequately express the importance of thankfulness.

It is a fact, though, that our degree of effectiveness in living is closely related to the degree of thankfulness with which we live.

Sales Tax

downtown upkeep of about $100,000 a year and cemetery care about $6,000 yearly. Proceeds also would help the city to continue improvements and modernization. Several speakers pointed out that the city must do if they are to survive the population explosion to metropolitan status.

MAYOR CHISHOLM told The Leader-News late Tuesday that the sales tax he approved Oct. 27, merchants do not begin collection from them until April 1.

He said the reason for setting the election Dec. 27 is because the present Monday night election they preferred to vote on the bond issue and the tax at the same election. He has discovered that although a sales tax election cannot be set less than 30 days from the date of call, a bond election cannot be more than 30 days from the call. Therefore, the election has to be set exactly 30 days from the date of call," he explained.

SO, as explained Monday night, a stipulation placed on the grants reserved for Littlefield for the sewage project by the City must accept the plans by Dec. 21 and by that date have all plans drawn up and ready for bids.

Mayor Chisholm said if an election had been set, City Engineer Jim Shearer and City Engineer Bill McMorries would be in Austin and Fort Worth by deadline time and ask for an extension. He said he "felt" such an extension would be granted if a definite forthcoming election had been scheduled.

Earlier, the City Council indicated it favored setting the election some time in January for the Christmas and New Year seasons.

DISCERNING Littlefield's "operating need" for a new plant, Mayor Chisholm told the Monday night crowd that the present system "already is loaded 200 per cent." The system was built in 1927 and improved in the 1940's, he continued, to accommodate 3,800 people.

Both the mayor and City Engineer Bill McMorries explained under present laws, when a city fails to comply with sewer requirement standards it can be heavily fined -- to the extent of forcing action.

Under the 1962 Water Pollution Control Act which set out requirements for sewage and water control, as explained by City Engineer McMorries, "any person who knowingly violates any of these regulations shall be fined not less than $100 nor more than $1,000," and each day such violation is continued, such fine shall be imposed.

In other words, the City could be fined $100 to $1,000 each day if it refuses or fails to provide facilities complying with the requirements of the 1962 Act.

IN TURN, the federal government will participate 30 per cent of the cost "for those things forced upon us," McMorries said.

As for use of the one per cent sales tax to finance this and other needed improvements, many persons at the meeting said they had decided it is the best way.

City Councilman Alec Williams of Muleshoe, who spoke during the meeting, said the tax is the fairest method of providing improved facilities. (Muleshoe has set an election Dec. 16.) In this way, he said, everyone who benefits from a city's improvements shares in the cost.

Williams said although persons may reside outside the city limits of a town, whenever they are in the town they rightfully expect "to be protected by adequate police forces and equipment, they want to drive down paved streets, they want decent park facilities, they want a good selection of merchandise for their purchasing needs, and so on."

He stated 75 per cent of his own business comes from farmers, and that when Muleshoe began considering the tax, "I really investigated it thoroughly." He said, he contacted many farmers and "almost to a man they said they had no objection to a small one per cent sales tax if the city would improve its facilities."

MAYOR CHISHOLM pointed out that the city's fire trucks answer calls "anywhere, any time" and that each call costs about $175. The county pays $50 on each call which leaves the city with the expense cost of $100. Last year we answered 19 calls outside the city limits. A highly conservative estimate for that one item would be a year's cost at $1,900."

THE INCOME provided by a one per cent sales tax, the mayor said, is roughly estimated for Littlefield at "between $60,000 and $70,000 a year, although there is no way at this time of obtaining a definite estimate." Of this, about $41,000 a year would be applied toward bond indebtedness and the remainder would maintain and improve facilities for all persons using them.

When asked of the effect on lower income groups, Muleshoe's Alec Williams, who conducted a question and answer period, said a sales tax would affect them less than any other group as the tax does not apply to food, drugs, doctor bills and "most things for which they spend their income."

A city sales tax applies to exactly those items which are subject to a state tax, he explained.

WHEN ASKED if a sales tax would hurt business, Williams cited the experience of Oklahoma City and its six satellite cities. (Oklahoma has sustained such a tax for several years.)

He said Oklahoma City and five of her satellites adopted the sales tax. The sixth satellite did not, thinking that by not having the tax, business would stream its way.

However, revenue from the tax enabled Oklahoma City and the other five cities to improve their facilities far beyond that of the sixth city and therefore attract more persons to live and trade in the other cities. "Within a year, the sixth city was crying for another election,"

When asked how soon another election could be called should the tax be defeated here, Mayor Chisholm told the crowd, "Not for two years."

Should the bond election fail, another election for that issue could be called immediately.

In less than a generation, the American farmer has created a greater agricultural abundance than his predecessors through all the generations of our history achieved, official point out.

One farmer today feeds almost four times as many people as a farmer a quarter of a century ago.

The average consumer enjoys a more abundant supply of food than people have ever known - and he pays a lesser share of his income for it than ever before, officials note.

One of the most vital contributions to the achievement of American agriculture has been understanding and cooperation between farm and city - inter-dependency that has reported every development.

This new Cutlass S has a way of making things look younger. Even driveways. That's because of all the young ideas we built into it. A bigger 350-cubic-inch V-8, for instance. And you can order a whole carfull of young-it-up accessories like bucket seats, stick-shift or stereo. But if you think Cutlass S is young all over, don't forget that it is Olds all over, too. County Agent's Corner

BY BUDDY LOGSDON

PRODUCERS in Lamb County should be wary of a new wheat variety, Red River 68, which has filtered its way into the High Plains of Texas, reports Buddy C. Logsdon, county agricultural agent.

Red River 68 is a dwarf spring-type wheat which probably will not survive the winter here, says Logsdon. Drought, heat and disease also will keep this type of wheat from performing well if spring planted, he adds.

INDIAN VISITORS

India is considering doing away with entry permits required of foreigners planning to visit Darjeeling, the hill station just south of Sikkim. A tourism official said the permit system was "rather irksome."

Furthermore, says Logsdon, the Crop Quality Council headquartered at Minneapolis, Minnesota, which evaluates spring wheats has reported that Red River 68 is not acceptable in milling and baking quality.

The Council stated that 15 industry, state and federal laboratories had evaluated samples of the new wheat furnished through the cooperation of World

Seeds, Inc. Economically important deficiencies in milling, processing and blending characteristics were uncovered in these tests.

Thus the Council believes that commercial bakeries will seek alternate sources of wheat supplies, points out Logsdon.

Winter wheat varieties with excellent baking qualities and yield potentials are available to producers in this county, says the agent. He does not recommend the use of Red River 68 as well as any other new varieties that are not adapted or have not been adequately tested in this area of the state.

THE SEASON when prussic acid poisoning becomes a hazard to livestock is here, at least in many parts of Texas reports County Agent Buddy Logsdon.

The danger of livestock losses is greatest in the counties where frosts have occurred during the past several days. Prussic acid poisoning occurs when certain plants are grazed immediately after they have been damaged by frost, explains the county agent.

Sorghum species, including

Johnsongrass, sudangrass, and the grain sorghums, can become the source of poisoning. Cattle are the most susceptible although other domestic animals can be affected.

The poisoning is rapid acting and signs of illness may start within a few minutes after the animal has eaten the plant. Death may occur within 15 minutes or an animal may live for several hours.

The most common symptoms of poisoning are salivation, labored breathing and bloat. Affected animals should be removed from the pasture or field and treated immediately by a veterinarian if possible.

Sorghum species, warns Logsdon should not be grazed after frost until they have dried out and have been tested for the presence of the acid.

WHETHER THE MACHINE is a two-horse lawnmower or a 20-foot combine, a good job of preparing it for winter storage will pay off in longer service and lower repair bills.

Parking the machine in a building is only a small part of good winter storage. You need to make sure it will not rust or deteriorate while it is idle, says County Agent Buddy C. Logsdon.

No matter what kind of machine you store, Logsdon says there are three things you need to do to get it ready for storage. Clean it. Lubricate it. And eliminate any stress on parts.

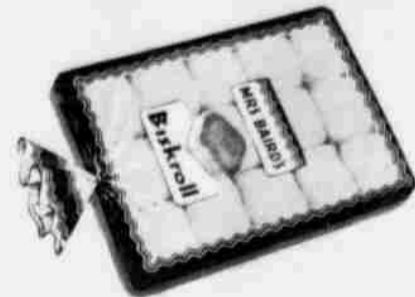

The cleaning job, removing trash, lint dirt and dried grease, can be done by washing the machine with kerosene or steam. After cleaning, the machine should be lubricated and run for a few minutes to distribute the lubrication. Chains and adjustment bolts should be coated with a rust preventive oil.

The county agent suggests these steps for preparing a motor for winter storage. Clean the air cleaner and fill the oil cup to the proper level with new oil. Change the oil and filter; then idle the engine for a few minutes. Drain the engine block and radiator or add permanent anti-freeze to protect them. If the motor is drained, the radiator cap and drain plugs should be left open to let moisture from the machine with a "Don't use--cooling system drained."

chambers with oil. Clean and replace the plugs. Seal the exhaust, air cleaner intake and crankcase breather to prevent the entrance of moisture, dust or other foreign matter. If the motor has a clutch, depress the pedal and fasten it to keep the clutch plate from sticking to the flywheel. Store the battery in a cool, dry place, where it will not freeze. Take the weight off tires and release the tension on belts.

LITTLEFIELD HIGH SCHOOL, LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS

Hero Always On Hand

How many times have you needed a ladder or some door opened or something like that? Chances are that everyone has needed the services of Mr. A. L. Massey at one time or another. Many times we take him for granted, but without him LHS would be in sad shape. Our Mr. Massey has been working for the Littlefield Public Schools for twenty years as of this month.

Mr. Massey first worked in primary where he was custodian, bus driver, and general all around man for four years. After working in elementary for a year, Mr. Massey moved to high school where he has been ever since.

At home he enjoys working in his wood shop. Fishing is his favorite sport and he loves to get away for awhile when he has the chance. He also enjoys football games and is one of the Wildcats' biggest fans.

As for his family, Mr. Massey is the proud father of four girls. They are all grown and married now and are scattered from California to Littlefield. One of his notable statements is, "I think I've held up pretty good for the father of four women."

There is no way that our gratitude can be expressed for the work he does for us. The only thing to say is thank you Mr. Massey for just being here when we need you.

MR. A. L. MASSEY -- One of the unsung heroes of LHS is our own Mr. Massey. Mr. Massey has been working for the Littlefield Public Schools for twenty years, fifteen of which were in high school. Mr. Massey does countless jobs around our school and without him Littlefield High School would perish.

Behind The Line

By KENNETH HORN

The Chiefs of San Angelo Lake View won over a determined Wildcat team last Friday night by the final score of 33-26.

The game was an offensive battle as Littlefield had a total of 443 yards in comparison to 429 yards for the Chiefs.

The Wildcat's first touchdown came when halfback Mike Grissom caught a pass from Roy Burk which then developed into an 80 yard scamper.

Littlefield's next TD came with a spectacular 98 yard sprint by sophomore halfback Travis Danford.

The third tally came in another pass play when Burk passed to end Kevin Hutson. Hutson powered out 48 yards to change the scoreboard.

The final Wildcat score came when quarterback Roy Burk powered over from a few inches out.

This was the last game for the '68' Wildcat football team so they compiled a 3-7-0 record with a 2-5-0 to give them the number five position in the 3-AAA standings.

The basketball team will need your support in their games just as the football team did. The Littlefield Wildcats will be representing you in their first game Tuesday night with Muleshoe.

Choristers Try For Spots On All-Region

Saturday, November 18, fourteen choristers tried out for All-Region Choir. They were: Don Burk, Peggy Dean, Georgianne DeBusk, Ruth Graham, Darla Howard, Diane Kesey, Judy Diersing, Dianne Perkins, Jackie Sims, Pam Ward, Peggy Richey, Darlene Walker, Terry Walker and Jimmy Williams.

In second soprano Diane Kesey placed number two and Darla Howard placed number eight. Don Burk placed third in first baritone, and Jimmy Williams placed fifth in second baritone. In second alto Dianne Perkins placed number five and Jackie Sims placed number twelve.

Diane Kesey and Don Burk will try out for All-State choir on January 6, 1968, in Canyon. Jimmy Williams and Dianne Perkins are alternates in case of illness.

The All-Region choir concert will take place in Lubbock at Coronado High School January 9, 1968. Everyone is urged to attend. The Littlefield Capella Choir will sing.

Leaves Vanish In Biology Projects

"Let's see, is this pinnately or palmately compound?"

If this sounds familiar, then you must be a member of Mrs. Charlene Reast's biology class. Friday, November 17, was the big day for leaf collections.

A roomful of books filled with leaves of all sizes, shapes and varieties, ranging from weeds, flowers, and grass to shrubs, trees, and vines, was the result of a lot of hard work by a lot of students.

Mrs. Reast graded the collections on creative design, correct naming of the leaves and arrangement, common names, and the number of leaves.

Speaking for all of the leaf-hunters, David Sevier, a second period biology student, commented that the collections represented many long hours of hard work.

Mrs. Reast stated that she thought these collections showed much imagination and creative ability. Some of the covers consisted of arrangements of leaves on the front, a felt-covered notebook with paper leaves attractively displayed, and one collection had a poem placed between leaves for the design.

If you do not have to rake leaves this fall, it is understandable. Some students had approximately 36 leaves while one girl had 185 in her project.

From The Council

Principal of Littlefield High School, Mr. Beryl Harris says, "I want to express my appreciation and gratitude to this year's Student Council for their fine job of leadership and conscientious attempts to improve our school. I encourage the student body to offer suggestions and above all to back your elected representatives to the Student Council."

At the Student Council meeting last week, members discussed an exchange assembly between Littlefield High and Levelland High. If this program is cleared with the principals of both schools, talent will be taken from the student body to put on this assembly and not just from the council alone.

Plans for the State Convention in San Antonio in April were also deliberated at the meeting. It was decided that four delegates, consisting of two girls and two boys, would be the representatives of LHS. On the last day of the convention, April 6, a large assembly will be held at the HemisFair where Governor John B. Connally will be guest speaker. A wonderful experience is in store for the Student Council delegates who are able to attend this convention.

Observation Of Thanksgiving As Old As Worshipping Spirit

As the nights grow longer and the days shorter in autumn, we look forward to Thanksgiving with its promise of peace and plenty.

Few Christian nations have a yearly festival, such as the American Thanksgiving. The observation of a Thanksgiving day is probably as old as the worshipping spirit is. The origin could be the time at which men began to understand their dependence on a Higher Power or the later Hebrew Feast of Tabernacles. The first New England day of Thanksgiving for the harvest was in the autumn of 1621 under the orders of Governor Bradford of the Plymouth colony. The colonists went into the forests and shot turkeys to be taken to the settlement for the dinner. A number of Indians heard of the celebration and entered the settlement carrying several deer. The Indians and colonists feasted together. Twenty three years later the Governor of the Dutch colony of New York issued a Thanksgiving proclamation.

Several other times in America's history, the President has made a Thanksgiving proclamation. During the American Revolution and after the War of 1812, a proclamation of this kind was issued. George Washington made a national call for a day of Thanksgiving for the adoption of the Constitution of 1789.

Our present Thanksgiving Day dates from 1863. Mrs. Sarah J. Hale is given credit for the celebration. As editor of the LADIES' MAGAZINE in Boston, she urged the observance of a uniform day throughout the country to express thanks for the blessings of the year in 1827. Letters were written to governors to instill her idea along with her countless editorials.

Mrs. Hale wrote President Abraham Lincoln urging the adoption of this plan. On October 3, 1863, he issued the first national Thanksgiving Proclamation with the date set for the last Thursday in November. Religious services were held and the churches were sometimes decorated with symbols of a bountiful harvest.

In many Eastern cities, children dressed in their elders' clothes, wore masks, and marched in the streets blowing tin horns. Some children asked for fruit or vegetables to help them celebrate the day.

While the first national celebration was held in 1863, the DAUGHTER OF THE SKY is a sympathetic biography by an Air Force captain, Paul L. Briand, Jr., who attempts to explain the mysterious disappearance and death of America's most famous woman flyer, Amelia Earhart.

THE LAND AND PEOPLE OF MEXICO by Elsa Larralde is an account of the ancient tribes and present people, the renaissance of art, and also an outlook on the national problems.

SECRET SERVICE CHIEF by U. E. Baughman with Leonard Wallace Robinson, is a thrilling personal narrative by the recently retired Chief of the Secret Service who spent many years watching over Presidents and their families in a round-the-clock job which also involved him with con men, forgers, swindlers, and big-time counterfeiters.

These books are neatly bound in plastic covers for their protection and many are available for your reading enjoyment.

While the first national celebration was held in 1863, the first international celebration was held in Washington D.C. The celebration was planned by the Rev. Dr. William L. G. Sel, rector of the St. Peter's Catholic Church of Washington. Dr. Russell planned a American celebration to be attended by representatives of the Latin-American countries in the national capitol. President William Howard Taft and members of his cabinet attended the services with a number of representatives of Latin-American republics. A Pan American celebration continued from year to year.

The practice of setting a day of Thanksgiving originates in New England, though Governor Bradford claimed the celebration as special days of Thanksgiving such as the defeat of the Spanish Armada have been kept in England. For more than 200 years England had a national Thanksgiving day out of gratitude for the failure of a plot to blow the King and House of Lords November 5, 1605.

In 1941, the United States Congress passed a joint resolution, changing the Thanksgiving Day date to the last Thursday in November. All states still celebrate the day on the last Thursday in November, though.

Meet The Spirit Builders Of Littlefield

Meet the six bundles of enthusiasm who keep spirit up around high school, our varsity cheerleaders. They are Marbara Jones, senior; Kathy Hill, senior, who are co-head cheerleaders; Janie McBride, senior; Carla Chambers, junior; Vicki McKinnon, junior; and Diane Maner, sophomore.

Every week these girls spend long, hard hours to show the Fighting Wildcats that they are behind them 100%. Signs are painted to hang up in the halls and gym, letters of encouragement are written to the boys of the football team, and every Thursday night, the gym is decorated, streamers tied to the cars of the boys, and locker boosters are taped on their lockers. These boosters are in the shapes of footballs, jerseys, or various other shapes and have the boy's name, his number, and whether he is a senior, junior or sophomore.

Marbara Jones, a 5'2" senior, spends most of her spare time sewing. Her green eyes sparkle at the mention of fried chicken. Orange, her favorite color, goes well with her long brown hair.

Marbara plays French horn in the Wildcat band and has received many honors. She has been a member of All-Region Band for three years, received the Outstanding Bandmen Award her freshman year, and was Outstanding First Year Band Member her sophomore year.

As a sophomore, she was elected class favorite. Each year in high school, Marbara has been elected secretary of her class and was a candidate for All-Wildcat Girl her junior year.

This is Marbara's second year as a varsity cheerleader. She served as a junior varsity cheerleader as a sophomore and junior high cheerleader three years.

She is a Distributive Education student and is employed at Findley's Jewelry. This is Marbara's second year; last year she was vice-president of D.E.C.A. and is reporter this year.

One of the biggest highlights of Marbara's senior year came last Friday night at the Littlefield-Levelland homecoming football game when she was crowned homecoming queen. She was elected by popular vote of the high school students.

A 5'5" blonde-haired, blue-eyed senior, Janie McBride lists her favorites as blue and fried chicken. She can usually be found sewing and reading in her spare time.

As a sophomore, Janie was a member of the Court of Honor and All-Wildcat Girl candidate. She has received a sweater award three years, as a freshman, sophomore, and junior. This year she is a member of the National Honor Society.

Serving on the Student Council two years, she was junior representative and is the secretary this year. Although this is her first year as a varsity cheerleader, she was a junior high cheerleader as a freshman.

Janie plays the flute in the band and has been a member of All-Region Band for three years. Band members selected her as their favorite this year and she became Band Sweetheart.

The third senior cheerleader is 5'7" blonde-haired Kathy Hill. Most of all she likes to sleep in her spare time, but she also likes to sing. Shrimp is her favorite food, and orchid is the color her green eyes favor.

Kathy serves on the Student Council this year as cheerleader representative. She was councilman-at-large her junior year and sophomore representative.

Kathy played in the band five years and is in the A Capella Choir and sings with the Madrigals. She was in the junior play, "Brigadoon", FFA Plow-girl her junior year. She is a member of the National Honor Society.

Kathy has been a varsity cheerleader two years, junior varsity for one year, and junior high, three years.

As a second year varsity cheerleader, Carla Chambers shows a true spirit when she says she "loves football and all that goes with it." This 5'9" blonde-haired junior is active in band, Girl Scouts, and, of course, cheerleading. As a sophomore, she was a candidate for Basketball Queen and sophomore class favorite.

Blue is the color that catches her blue eyes first. Most of her time is spent painting signs, writing letters, making locker boosters, and studying shorthand until all hours of the night. If she has any spare time left, she can usually be found riding around and listening to Johnny Rivers and the Righteous Brothers.

Five-foot five-inch junior, Vicki McKinnon, enjoys making her own clothes and being with friends. She loves waterskiing and "just having fun." Avocado green appeals to her, and broiled steak and baked potatoes are her favorite foods. This is Vicki's first year as a varsity cheerleader.

Her hair is brown and matches her brown eyes well. Vicki plays an alto clarinet and this is her third year in band. She sings in the A Capella Choir. Last year she participated in the musical "Brigadoon" and sings with the Madrigals this year.

The usual tension and pressure was felt as six weeks test near a close. The effort and strain was evident, but now there is another six weeks to rest and exercise the brain before the tests roll around again.

Test Schedule Beneficial

For the first time in Littlefield High School's history, six weeks test have been put on a schedule.

This is for the benefit and well-being of the students, not to mention their nerves too. It also keeps the majority of students from having two or three more tests the same day. Under the old system, it was not unusual for students to have as many as three or four tests occurring on the same day.

The four day test schedule is as follows: English, the first day of testing; social studies, second day; science, third; and mathematics the fourth and last.

The usual tension and pressure was felt as six weeks test near a close. The effort and strain was evident, but now there is another six weeks to rest and exercise the brain before the tests roll around again.

HERE THEY ARE! You have seen these six bundles of energy perform weekly on the football field in the cold weather or a beautiful autumn night. They have generated spirit at pep rallies, and kept the enthusiasm going, even when our Fighting Wildcats were losing. November 17 was the last football game and pep rally for our senior girls. Standing left to right are: Vicki McKinnon, junior; Carla Chambers, junior; elevated with spirit is Marbara Jones, senior; next to her is Janie McBride, senior; and Diane Maner, sophomore. In a split formation is Kathy Hill, senior.

Carol Wilbanks Helps Organize Principal's Office

Carol Wilbanks, temporary secretary in the high school principal's office, can be recognized by her blonde hair and brown eyes.

Carol came to work in the office during the absence of Edna Mae Mangum, the regular secretary.

During her high school years, Carol was very active in various organizations. She was varsity cheerleader, football queen, on the student council for three years, and in the band for four years. All of these years were spent in Littlefield.

She attended Texas Tech for one and a half years and Texas Christian University for one and a half years, majoring in business education at both. She was very active in Tri Delta at both of these colleges.

Mrs. Wilbanks' husband is now stationed at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma.

She stated that her favorite food is Mexican food and favorite color blue. To help her time pass by she enjoys bridge, making things and any sports.

ORGANIZATION IS THE key word for the high school principal's office. To help keep things organized is Carol Wilbanks. Wilbanks is working in the office during the absence of Edna Mae Mangum. She helps Mr. Harris, high school principal, keep the office in working order.

DEAR EDITOR

Let's Face It

County Wide News
Citizens of Littlefield
Citizens For Legal Control of Liquor to Whom It May Concern

Dear citizens:
In regard to the "Littlefield Here Are The Facts", ad in Sunday's paper, adultery is and will be committed in Littlefield, legal or illegal. If we ignore it, it still will not go away.

Should we say the seventh commandment is a failure?
Should we issue a license, and make it legal and "All-American"?
Of course we will have to charge a tax, so the city can reap the benefit.

Yes we might even advertise on television, the "A Cute little Bear" sing, about a big moon, "or something."
Ridiculous! Of course. But think of the money used. It is exactly the same as that used in the before mentioned.

We have tolerance for the views of those who favor the proposition, but for the life of me cannot "understand" how they can be the views of intelligent, Christian citizens.
"Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God." (Corinthians 10: 31)

When you vote, will it be to the glory of God? Think earnestly!
Yes "Let's Face It" This is 1967.

'Another Voice'

Dear Editor:
Here another voice to be heard.
I do not live in the City of Littlefield, but have lived in Lamb County 35 years.

I am a mother and grandmother with two teenagers still at home.

Although we don't have the right to vote, I can't set back and say nothing and see more and more of our youth killed and crippled on our streets and highways.
It's time the people are waking up.

Bringing liquor to Littlefield is not going to build the town, any more than sweeping Main Street and putting up a lot of big fancy toad stools.

There is more to keeping house than white washing the fence.

Yes it will build up the trade for the hospitals and funeral homes. Break more homes, and leave more orphans.

Think it over.
Be sure and print my name.

Mrs. W. L. Swart

GOING FOR REGION CROWN

Hornets Beat Crosbyton; Meet Clarendon Friday

Sudan's young and eager Hornets are still rebuilding . . . this week in the Region One championship game.

The Hornets, who weren't supposed to wind up any higher in District 3-A than a possible second place, soundly thrashed the best District 4-A had to offer Saturday night on Lubbock's Lowery Field.

Sudan dumped the older and larger Chieftans of Crosbyton 18-0.

The Hornets clash with the Clarendon Broncos Friday night at 7:30 in West Texas State University's beautiful Buffalo Bowl, to decide who advances into the state quarterfinal playoffs.

Clarendon slipped past Gruber last weekend 14-5 at Borger in that bi-district championship.

Sudan will be the home team for the Region tilt, and the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, host of the game, has asked Hornets fans to enter the bowl at the south gate. They will sit in the west stands.

Only half of Sudan's Sensational Sophomore backfield combination will be ready for the game. Fullback Larry Hanna, who racked up 100 points in the regular 10-game season, was injured in the first quarter against Crosbyton.

Hanna, who had gained nine yards in four attempts, had the ligaments of his left knee injured when tackled hard by two Chief defenders. Head Coach Jim Cain terms the injury as "Not real serious, but the swelling must be down before he can play."

Freshman David Weaver, 160-pounder, replaced Hanna at his post Saturday and is expected to start Friday. Billy Gore, another sophomore, is pressing him for the post, however.

Coach Cain said everybody else was healthy, over their soreness from Saturday's battle, and workouts have been real spirited. "The boys are real humble about the win and working very hard in preparation for the Clarendon game," he said.

In comparing the Broncos with Crosbyton, Cain said they had a larger line, but the backs were smaller. However, the 9-2 win-loss club has faster backs than did the Chiefs, he emphasized. Sudan is also 9-2 for the season.

Jerry Bellar, the other half of the Sudan Sensational Sophomore combo, was kept busy against the Chiefs Saturday. Though he didn't score a touchdown, he was called upon 22 times to carry the ball and gained 56 yards, and he caught three passes for an additional 47 yards, giving him 103 net yards total offense for the evening.

Besides that, he kicked all three extra points, and punted four times, two of which in the second quarter carried 58 and 55 yards. And he handled the kicking off chores in between times . . . besides playing defense, of course.

Hornet senior quarterback Ronnie Hill was the big gun in the second half.

At the start of the third quarter

Springlake-Earth Sweeps Floydada

Springlake-Earth basketball teams made a clean sweep over Floydada Monday night in the S-E gymnasium, as the Wolverine A and B teams made their season debut.

The Wolverinettes won their fourth consecutive victory by a comfortable 66-44 margin.

With a week's workouts in preparation following football season, the Wolverinettes put down the Class AA Whirlwinds 56-41. Randy Washington canned 17 points to lead the locals, followed by Tim Mathews with 14 and Perry Don O'Hair, 13. Gregory Britt had 14 for Floydada.

The Wolverine B team took a narrow 42-40 victory.

Defending state champion Springlake-Earth Wolverinettes were led in scoring by Marsha Dawson and Vicky Gregory, who had 25 points each. Floydada's Marilyn Harris scored 23 for the visitors.

ter he had a minus one yard rushing, which included a 15-yard loss. But he gained 37 in the third period and 45 in the fourth for 81 yards and scored two touchdowns.

Hill passed for the first Hornet score in the second quarter to Steve Martin on a play that covered 12 yards. The play capped a drive that had started on the Hornet 41 yard line.

After Bellar kicked the extra point, the first half ended Sudan 7, Crosbyton 0.

Crosbyton took the third quarter kickoff, but was forced to punt when they stalled on Sudan's 48. From their own 15, the Hornets marched steadily until Hill slanted off right tackle the remaining yard, going over standing up to score.

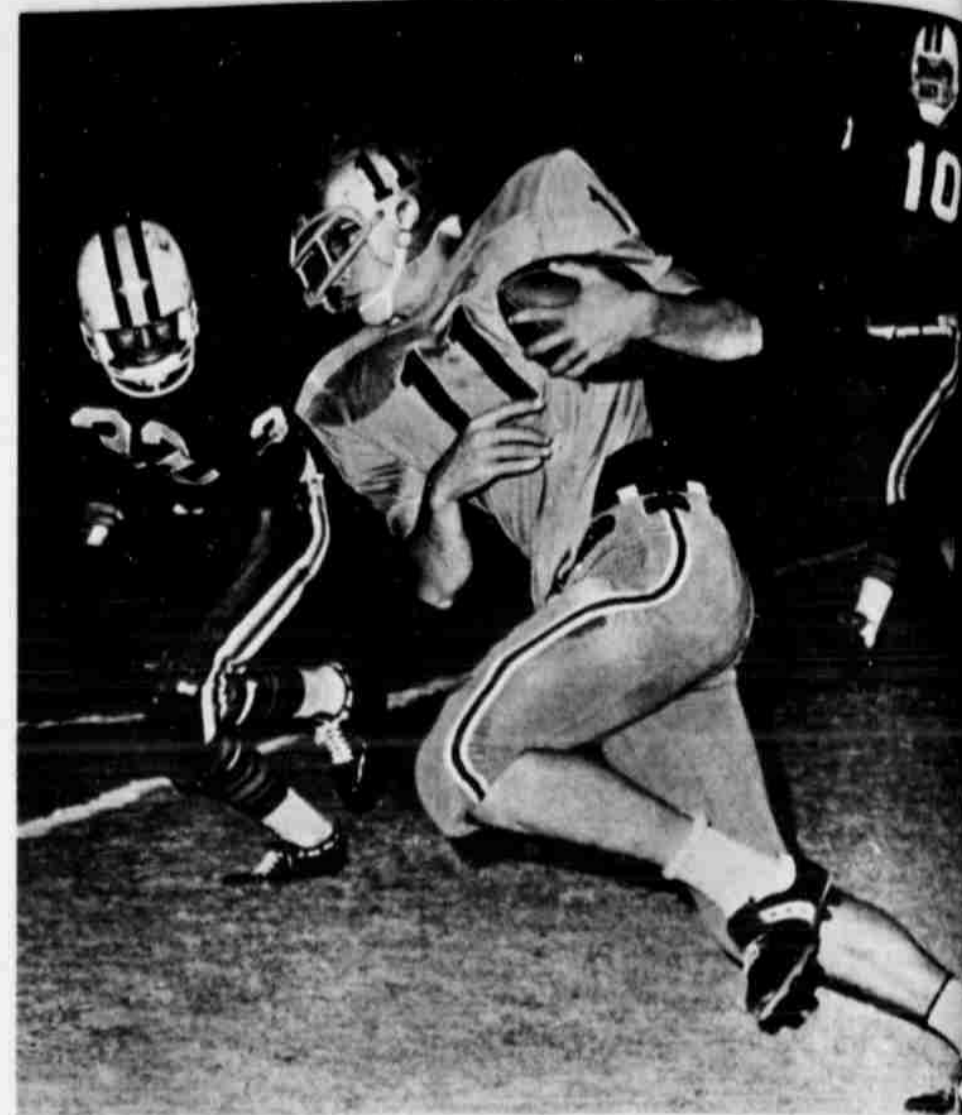

A penalty early in the fourth period stalled an apparent Hornet touchdown. Bellar took a pass from Hill to the Chiefs' nine yard line, but a 15-yarder put the Hornets all the way back to the Crosbyton 41.

Hill was trapped on an 11-yard play and Bellar punted from his 48 short and out of bounds on the Crosbyton 35.

The Chiefs lived up to their reputation on this drive and marched strongly to the goal line, scoring from the two. The drive was the only Crosbyton penetration inside Sudan's 20 yard line all evening.

An attempted pitchout for the extra points was stopped short by a yard, and Sudan held a 14-6 lead with 5:49 remaining in the contest.

After Bellar returned the following kickoff from the three to

FIRST TOUCHDOWN Sudan scored Saturday night against Crosbyton in the bi-district clash at Lubbock was made by Steve Martin. The 152-pound junior took a pass from quarterback Ronnie Hill on the five and dashed into the end zone, the play covering 12 yards. Only 46 remained on the scoreboard clock for the half. The Hornets won the game 18-0, and Clarendon in the Regional playoffs Friday in Canyon.

his own 25, the Hornets marched to Crosbyton's 11 yard line in 11 plays. And then Hill rolled out and scored from there to give the Hornets breathing room, after the club had eaten up 4:29 minutes of time.

Crosbyton, on fourth down from the Chief 33, attempted to keep in the game but a tackle by Robin Davis six yards behind the line of scrimmage killed that last Crosby County club's chance. Hill killed the remaining time on a single play.

The Hornets outgained Crosbyton rushing three of the four quarters. They led 40-29 yards after the first period, fell behind 16-52 in the second, surged ahead 72-46 in the third and 65-55 in the fourth.

In totals, that gave the Hornets 193 net yards rushing to Crosbyton's 182.

But the passing game made the difference in the statistics, and the game's outcome, Sudan, a team that usually settles for four or five pass attempts in a contest, put the ball in the air 16 times and completed six for 89 yards. That gave the Hornets 89 additional yards offense, which totals 282.

Hill's pass blockers gave him enough time to read the program on almost every throwing attempt.

Crosbyton completed three of 11 pass attempts. But they were all short, with a pair going three yards each and the other two yards.

Two big defensive plays by the Hornets had the Sudan stands buzzing with enthusiasm.

The first was in the second quarter when Hornet tackle, 230-pound Van Seymore blocked a pass into the air on the Crosbyton 42 and Billy Gore snatched it for an interception. The play ended a Chief drive just before the half ended.

Two plays before the fourth quarter was begun, Monte erts put such a tackle on runner that the ball loose and Bellar pounced on the Crosbyton 33.

Koontz Breaks Record, Leads ACC In Scoring

Quarterback David Fuller and wingback Riley Dunn were the names most prominent in the Abilene Christian College statistics for 1967.

Fuller, the Fort Worth Castleberry senior, set three season records and one single-game standard for the Wildcats. His season records included attempts (159), completions (73) and yards gained passing (1,003). He set a single-game total offense mark with 281 yards against Eastern New Mexico.

Fuller also emerged as the total offense leader with 1,142 yards. Kenneth Smith led all rushers with 339 yards.

Dunn, the Coleman senior playing football for the first time as a collegian, caught 27 passes for the third highest reception total in ACC history. Robert McLeod holds the record of 32 set in 1960 while Von Morgan had 28 in 1953. Dunn gained 418 yards on his catches and three went for touchdowns.

Fred Koontz, frosh place kicker from Littlefield, set another individual record with a 44-yard field goal against Howard Payne. Koontz led the Cats in scoring with 27 points, coming on 12 extra points and five field goals. Johnny Hughes led the punters with a 40.6 average.

V. T. Smith set the pace in both kickoff returns (21.3 average) and punt returns (12.7). And he rushed for 53 yards and caught 15 passes for 236 yards. Bill Lockett snared 23.

As a team the Wildcats allowed a record 29 pass interceptions and gained only 809 yards rushing, their lowest totals since 1949.

Though they had only one day's workouts, the boys, led by big Mike Peel, defeated Lazbuddie 54-41. Peel put 14 points through the hoops to top scoring by the Bulldogs.

The Longhorns never headed Amherst, as the Lamb County team led 10-7, 31-19, and 41-31 at the end of each official rest stop.

Coach of the Littlefield High School football team, Raymond Birchfield, was speaker of the evening. He gave Biblical and historical significance of Thanksgiving and then stressed importance of "Thanksgiving." JULIE ANDREWS

'The Sound of Music' Begins Continuous Run

Rodgers and Hammerstein's "The Sound of Music," a Robert Wise production, is the film version of one of the most beloved stage musicals of the last decade. A tuneful, heart-warming story, it is based on the true story of the Trapp family singers, one of the world's best known concert groups who escaped the Nazi terror for refuge in the United States. "The Sound of Music," which opens continuous performances at popular prices on Thanksgiving Day at the Palace Theatre in Littlefield, received five Academy Awards including best picture and best direction. It is a 20th Century-Fox release. In its roadshow engagements it has proved to be the most popular film of all time. This is Wise's first film since another musical, "West Side Story," which received these same two Oscars. Since then, Wise has produced and directed "The Sand Pebbles" now on roadshow release.

Julie Andrews, Broadway's original "My Fair Lady," plays the role of Maria, the tomboyish postulant in an Austrian abbey who becomes a governess in the home of a widowed naval captain with seven children, and brings a new love of life into the home.

Christopher Plummer, the distinguished Broadway and London actor, plays Captain Von Trapp and Eleanor Parker portrays the lovely baroness Elsa who wants to marry him.

Richard Haydn plays Max, the family friend whose skill as an impresario leads the family into the world of music. The beloved Broadway and television actress Peggy Wood makes one of her infrequent film appearances as the Mother Abbess.

In bringing "The Sound of Music" to the screen, Wise reunited with three of the top talents of "West Side Story," associate producer Saul Chaplin, screenwriter Ernest Lehman and art director Boris Leven.

On stage, "The Sound of Music" captivated audiences around the world with its warm, romantic story and its lulling score. In bringing it to the screen, Wise enhanced these qualities with sweep and scope and DeLuxe Color, to provide a new and exciting musical treat—and then took his cast and crew to Salzburg, Austria, to film his story against the authentic backgrounds of the world-famed "City of Music."

"Salzburg," Wise pointed out, "is more than just the city where the story took place. It is an atmosphere, and this is what we wanted to capture on film in order to make audiences feel the aura that surrounded the people with whom we are involved."

Local Safety Councils Urged

Two statewide safety organizations have joined forces in support of a unified traffic safety program designed to cut the Texas traffic accident rate.

Texas Safety Assn. and Texans for Traffic Safety are supporting a comprehensive action program, calling for the establishment of more than 150 local safety councils in counties where active citizen's traffic safety organizations are not now in operation.

In addition to encouraging the formation of local safety councils, the two statewide safety groups will provide public information programs for use by the councils.

Local groups and individuals interested in establishing safety councils in their areas may obtain information from the Texas Safety Assn., 830 Littlefield Building, Austin, Texas 78701.

Texas Safety Assn., a 29-year-old statewide, non-profit organization whose safety activities encompass all fields of accident prevention, will operate Texans for Traffic Safety, and traffic safety programs initiated by the latter group will be continued by the Association. It is anticipated that members of the Board of Directors of Texans for Traffic Safety will be invited to serve on the TSA Board.

Department Investigates Accidents

Texas Highway Patrol investigated five accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of October, according to Sgt. Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of the area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed, two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $4,450. Rural accident summary for this county during the first 10 months of 1967 shows a total of 82 accidents resulting in five persons killed, 31 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $85,860.

The sergeant points out that winter is here. "Your vehicle needs winterizing. Get the jump on bad weather by having your vehicle safety inspected by an authorized garage to help secur safe mechanical performance in the months ahead. Then check to see that anti-freeze has been installed in your radiator; also, snow tires or tire chains and ice scrapers are handy, for "Today's inspection is tomorrow's protection." The Sergeant suggested ways to "winterize your driving" during icy and slippery conditions.

- (1) Slow down and leave more space between cars.
- (2) Keep windows clear--turn on lights to help others.
- (3) Drive extra slow on turns, intersections, and crest of hills.
- (4) When braking, pump to avoid locking wheels in skid.

Thanksgiving Holds 'Enterprise' Lesson

(Editor's Note: According to the following release from the Press Assn., Inc., official celebration of Thanksgiving traces its original roots to a lesson--learned the hard way--concerning the value of free enterprise.)

It was 347 years ago this month that the Pilgrims arrived at Cape Cod after two months on the stormy Atlantic in the small and heavily-loaded Mayflower.

Under terms ordained by their creditors, they were obliged to undertake a communal form of organization, and to establish a joint stock. Various troubles and unforeseen expenses, including a false start and abandonment of the Speedwell when the pilot, unwisely, had substantially increased their borrowings for the speculators who financed the colonizing.

The Pilgrims were heavily in debt. After exploring the Cape for a suitable site, but before landing the 41 adult male passengers signed the famous "Mayflower Compact," providing for the enactment of laws, and promising "due Submission and Obedience." They landed at Plymouth on Dec. 21, 1620.

During the remainder of that winter and the next, the Pilgrims followed the terms imposed by their creditors, with everything owned in common and put into a "common store." By the end of the winter of 1621-22, more than half of the colony had died of starvation and illness accentuated by mal-nutrition.

Then, in the words of Governor Bradford, "... that they still thus not languish in misery," it was decided that "each should set corn every man for his own particular." Every family was assigned a parcel of land, to till and to be sown.

"This," the Governor wrote, "... made all hands very industrious, so as much more corn was planted than otherwise would have been."

From the bumper harvest the Pilgrims arranged a bountiful Thanksgiving, and gave thanks not only for their material blessings, but also for the system which produced it, and gave them dignity and well-being.

Each of the separate colonies later adopted the New England custom, and the first President, George Washington, at the request of both Houses of Congress, issued the first national Thanksgiving Proclamation on Oct. 3, 1789.

LET IT BE REMEMBERED on Thanksgiving Day this year, and in every other year of Our Lord, that the custom began because a system was changed--from collectivism to private enterprise. And let us rejoice and give thanks that our nation learned the early merits of a system which "made all hands very industrious."

Lamb County Shows High Mishap Rate

According to the latest Government statistics, life in Lamb County appears to be more hazardous, from the standpoint of safety, than in many places throughout the United States. For the average local resident, the chances of becoming involved in an accident, fatal or otherwise, is somewhat greater than for those in other areas.

The problem of accidents and their prevention is receiving special attention just now because this is National Safety Month.

Just how the local accident record compares with the records in other communities revealed in the current report which is based upon data prepared by the U. S. Public Health Service for its annual compilation of vital statistics.

The survey shows that there were 16 fatal accidents in Lamb County residents during the year ending January 1, 1967, and that motor vehicles were responsible for 6 of them.

Figures take into account types of accidents affecting local people, wherever they have occurred, but they do not include non-residents involved in local accidents.

In terms of population, local accident toll was at rate of 68 fatalities per 100,000 people.

It was higher than in the United States as a whole, where average rate was 55 per 100,000.

It was also above the South Central States rate of per 100,000.

The enormity of the problem is to be seen in the fact that some 112,000 persons lost their lives in the past year in accidents.

And, points out the National Safety Council, that is only part of the story. An additional million, it estimates, suffer injuries at home, on the job and elsewhere that incapacitated them for a day or more.

Thus, for every accident that resulted in a fatality, there were nearly 100 others that called for medical attention and restricted activity.

The council places the cost of accidents, including lost wages, at $20 billion a year. Lamb County's share of the cost, applying locally the average amount per accident, comes to about $2,856,000.

ALBERT J. BARKER, Aviation Structural Mechanic Second Class Albert J. Barker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olive M. Barker of Route 1, Amherst, participated in the recovery of the Apollo 4 unmanned spacecraft as a member of Helicopter Anti-submarine Squadron Eight aboard the primary recovery ship USS Bennington. The Bennington, an anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier, waited on station northeast of Midway Island in the Pacific as the Apollo made its flight. Launched by the Saturn V booster rocket, the spacecraft circled the earth twice at an altitude of about 100 miles. As it plunged back to earth and passed the 400,000 foot mark, the Apollo reached speeds up to 24,000 miles an hour.

The flight, designed to evaluate the Saturn V launch vehicle and test the Apollo's heat shield, subjected the shield to temperatures of 6,000 degrees as the craft re-entered the earth's atmosphere.

DUMP PILE 'TREASURES'

Cast-Off Bottles Prized Collector's Items

By NILAH RODGERS

WHITHARRAL-- Would you believe that Mrs. Don Avery spends her spare time snooping around dump grounds and prowling around old abandoned shacks and deserted buildings? She has joined a host of diggers and prowlers who exhume old glass from ruins and dumps. Her "bottle collecting" overflowed the bookshelves in the family den and has become so vast that the enclosed garage behind the Avery home, seven miles south of Littlefield, on the Littlefield-Levelland Highway 385 could rightfully be called "Ye Olde Bottle Shoppe."

The collection includes many antiques and highly collectibles including old brown bleach jugs, snuff bottles, milk bottles, liquor bottles and every size and shape of embossed blue Milk of Magnesia bottles.

MANY of the bottles she has in her collection still contain the original ingredients. One bottle labeled "Gombault's Caustic Balm" gives directions for both veterinary use and human use.

There is a bottle of black silk stove polish that originally sold for 15 cents. "Baby Elixir," "McKesson's Baby Compound (marked 19c)" and "Sloan's Liniment -- the reliable old-time preparation for home use" are among a collection of embossed medicine bottles.

Food bottles, bluing bottles, stopper top bleach bottles and stretch over top nipple baby bottles are included in some 2,500 bottles in the collection.

MRS. AVERY lists glass most often sought for by collectors. This includes glass made between 1865 and 1890 which is diligently sought for its purpling potential.

"The dingier the glass, the rougher the surface, the more bubbles and imperfections, the more a collector clutches a piece," she said.

Manganese used to decolorize glass in the earlier days causes glass to turn purple after exposure to sunlight. Defects which resulted from early methods is the reason for bottle collecting today. Old telephone insulators, whiskey and beverage bottles, drug and prescription bottles, nursing and milk bottles and food preserving containers fall in this category, according to Mrs. Avery.

AFTER the end of the use of manganese, a decolorizer called selenium was used between 1910 and 1930. This glass turns an amber color when exposed to sun. It is a collector's and decorator's delight.

Mrs. Avery said the crude imperfections and blemishes and types of roughness identify antique glass. Mold marks and bubbles or "tears" are desirable.

Many collectors have racks to protect their bottles from breakage and expose the glass likely to purple for the pleasure of watching the coloring process.

Mrs. Avery became interested in bottle collecting last Easter on a trip to Dallas. Since then she has joined the "Shunpikers" (those who shun the turnpikes and take to the country roads and old highways looking for two pump gas stations and general stores). Antique glass shopping adds a great deal of pleasure to a trip she said.

COLLECTING glass isn't a stay-at-home hobby. Every abandoned dwelling or hunter's shack is a potential haven of left-behind glass.

Mrs. Avery says anything not in production any more or anything that can't be bought across the counter is good in a collection. Many of these bottles aren't valuable but are very collectable.

THE BOTTLE SHOP -- Mrs. Don Avery has so many bottles in her collection that she has a special display room in an old converted garage behind her home seven miles south of Littlefield. Some of her family laughs at her about her cases of old bottles estimated at 2,500, but she finds it an inexpensive way of getting into antiques and likes the history behind the hobby. Here she holds a glass rolling pen.

She considers bottle collecting an inexpensive hobby as far as antiques go. "And it gives you a good cross-section of history," she added.

THE THREE Avery children, Donna, Bobby and Jimmy, are also avid bottle collectors. "The only trouble with this," Mrs. Avery laughed, "they want to keep the bottles they find for themselves."

"My brother and uncle laugh at me about my bottles," she said. "Recently my uncle was discussing my hobby with my mother. 'I can't imagine anyone buying an old empty bottle,' he said. 'And Lois Ann has laughed.

Journey To The Past

BY EVALYN PARROTT SCOTT

W. V. (Ves) and Gladys Boyles Terry have had one unusual experience in common, both having been employed by public officials who later were elected to high government positions.

At the time Ves quit oil field work he was employed by Bob Kerr, who became Governor of Oklahoma and also served as a U. S. Congressman.

Before her marriage to Ves in 1925, Gladys was secretary to Congressman Jed Johnson and assisted him during his campaign for the office. After he went to Washington as Congressman she remained in Andadarko and was first assistant to the County Treasurer.

The Terrys also had the interest of the community development of Sudan at heart and both have been active in civic and cultural developments in the town. Ves participated in many improvement movements besides operating a gin, farming and ranching interests. (Incidentally, his plant ginned his own cotton, so he had no one to argue with, except the hired help, if it wasn't done to suit him.)

In his ranching business near Clovis, Perry Barnes, an early day ranchman of Lamb County, was his partner. Later Ves moved his cattle to a ranch near Post. His cattle brand in New Mexico was the Spur; but, after moving to Post and discovering a Spur brand was already registered there, he had to change his cattle "Coat of Armor" to the FOUR T's, meaning the four Terry's. This brand was quite appropriate as the two Terry sons, Bill and Bob, loved to stay at the ranch and especially enjoyed chow time at the chuck wagon, naturally, being growing boys.

Besides these activities, Terry, for a number of years had a Tenn. Walking Horse farm, called the Billy-Bob Farm, south of Sudan. This was an attraction to local residents who visited the farm to watch these horses being trained. Some of the horses won honors from Coast to Coast. A number of the honors were captured when the Terry brothers, Bill and Bob, showed the horses.

One of the most famous of the horses was Red Allen who took top honors at the Los Angeles National Horse Show when Dixie Weaver, an imported trainer from Tullahoma, Tennessee was handling the horses. Red Allen won five firsts out of seven entries in the show.

As concerning the Terry's ginning business, Ves and father, W. W. Terry bought a gin in Sudan in 1925 from John Dean and Henry Whitesides. Besides operating this gin, the Terrys proceeded to build another gin in 1929 at Amherst. In 1931 they also built one at Fieldton. The Terrys built the first gin at Cotton Center.

At the time of the death of W. W. Terry, Ves sold the Fieldton plant to Stagner of Amherst; and one half interest in the Amherst gin to Don Boyles. This gin later burned. Meanwhile Ves kept the Sudan gin going a number of years until selling to Tom Wright and Mike George of McAllen, Texas. This gin is now being operated by Drew Watkins and son, Doyle Watkins.

As concerning his oil field career, when asked if he was ever a derrick man, he answered, "Just name it, I've been it," but he worked up to the position of tool pusher for Kerr when he had three strings of Rotary tools and two strings of cable tools under him. Today they have a tool pusher on each rig. He worked in several oil fields including Walters, Fieldton, Cement, Tonkawa. It was at Tonkawa a tornado blew the derrick down that Ves was working on, and it took 2 and 1/2 hours to disentangle the wooden derrick from him. He received a small cut on the forehead that required only three stitches to sew it up. Most of his oil field work was done during the summer season, following ginning, when he and Gladys would go back to Oklahoma where he would work until ginning began that fall.

Ves was born at Powell, Texas, six miles east of Corsicana, and is the son of the late W. W. and Sally Wilson Terry. His father was born in Macon County, Alabama and was the son of native Alabamians, William Columbus Terry and Ora Elizabeth Terry.

Ves's grandfather, William Columbus, served in the Confederate army in Waddells Artillery. Following the war he moved with his family to Bazette, Navarro County, Texas. His maternal grandfather W. D. J. Wilson, who came from Tennessee, also served in the Confederate army.

Ves has a complete record of both his maternal and paternal lines back to the immigrant fathers who came to America including the "Brothers Three" Thomas, Robert, and Richard Terry who came aboard the ship, James, in 1635 to Plymouth, Mass.

Gladys' paternal grandparents were Jim Williams Boyles of Lancaster County, Texas, and Mollie Isadora Milburn Boyles also of Lancaster County at Dallas. The Milburns were originally of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. David Milburn, the founding father of Gladys' line in Texas served as corporal in the 1st Regt., Texas Partisans, under Captain J. L. Smith. This Regiment subsequently became Company I, 30th Regt., Texas Cavalry. The wife of David Milburn, Confederate Veteran, was Elisa Huffaker, who married in Illinois in 1850. She was born in 1834 in Chicago.

EARLY DAYS IN SUDAN
Sitting in the comfortable home of the Terry's it was hard for this writer to visualize their first home in Sudan. In their present home oil paintings, family heirlooms of Dresden china, silver and antiques blend in with mementos Mrs. Terry brought back from her trip abroad.

However, it probably was not hard for Ves and Gladys to remember their first home here because of the sharp contrast of the Terry home of today. Their first home after their arrival following a short honeymoon in Old Mexico following their wedding, Aug. 9 at the Travis Park Methodist Church in San Antonio, was a one room apartment.

During the fall and winter of 1925 they ate, cooked and slept in this one room rented from the J. O. Barnetts. The next year the Barnetts let them have the unfinished bathroom to use as their kitchen.

States Ves, "Gladys cooked on a three burner cook stove and we used orange crates for kitchen cabinets." They lived in several apartments before renting a house by the year from the late John Blanchard. Upon arriving on the Plains Gladys was much impressed with the Windmills, having never seen one before; and Ves had to explain to her they weren't oil wells, having seen plenty of those in Oklahoma. She had little idea of the function of the windmills as one of the most basic needs of the Pioneers of the South Plains, the water here being under the ground instead of flowing rivers and creeks as it was back home in Oklahoma.

Also she was surprised that there were only three bathrooms with fixtures in dwellings in Sudan at the time of her arrival, thus she became acquainted for the first time with the little out-houses; which probably left a vivid impression having been Since retiring he is thinking of pursuing the family history further, taking them back to the lineage and history in the mother countries.

Ves Terry was married to Gladys Boyles, daughter of Charles Hardin Boyles, and wife, Martha Katherine Clark Boyles. Her grandfather, David Milburn, also served in the Confederate Army.

Charles Hardin Boyles was born Aug. 12, 1881 at Weatherford, Texas. Martha Katherine Clark Boyles was born Aug. 20, 1886 in Mills County at Itasca. As to early Boyles family those of the south settled in the James City area of the Virginia Colony by 1623, used to the more modern and indoor type bathroom back home. Speaking of bathrooms in local homes in 1925, others had bathrooms but had never gotten around to having them plumbed and the fixtures installed.

During her years in school Gladys began her career as a "doer", a trait she is still known for. In school she was a member of the campfire girls, the Glee Club, did Quartet Work, and was active in all phases of the Home Economics Department.

After graduating from high school Gladys attended Oklahoma College for Women, and later attended a business college; and for one year taught typing and shorthand in the college.

She has a life membership in the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers Association; a life membership in the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church; a life membership of the Caprock District of Texas Federation of Women's clubs; is a member of the Eastern Star, the 1935 Study Club, and teaches a Sunday school class as well as serving as a member of a number of commissions of the First Methodist Church of which she and Ves are both active members.

Ves, also received good training in his school years for the many civic works in which he has participated. He moved to Andadarko, Oklahoma with his parents while at an early age, graduated from high school there and entered Oklahoma University majoring in Geology. While at OU he lettered in basketball and track. He still retains his interest in sports and is a member of the Sudan Booster Club.

He is one of the last active charter members of the Sudan Rotary Club and has served as president of the organization; member of the school board; has been active in scout work and scout drives; is a past president of the local Chamber of Commerce.

At the times he was raising and showing Tennessee-Walkers, both he and Gladys were honorary members of the El Paso Riding and Driving Club.

The Terry's have two sons, William Charles (Bill) born Jan. 6, 1930 in a Lubbock hospital. Bill married Billie Drew Reeves of Tishomingo, Okla., May 16, 1953 and has two daughters, Duann Terry, age 10, and Allison Terry, age 8. Bill is now a doctor of Veterinarian Medicine in Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Bob Terry, born July 31, 1931, married Bettie Dillon of Roswell, N. M. They have children, Sally Terry, age 5 years and Scott, age 6 years. Bob is at "Investors Diversified Service" in Lubbock, Texas.

Both the Terry boys attended the New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, Bill graduated two years then was a student at Oklahoma State University in Stillwater, where he received his degree.

Bob was a student at the Military Institute for five years; both boys received their commission in the army at Lt. later being promoted captains at the end of their tenures.

Doll-Making Hobby Results In 'Personalized Giving'

By NILAH RODGERS

WHITHARRAL—Lucky are those on Mrs. Vick (Neil) Matthews' Christmas list, because chances are their gift from her will be a doll dressed in bright, but old-fashioned clothing, that can be described as a "labor of love."

Mrs. Matthews' doll-making grew out of another hobby of hers—collecting bottles. While visiting with a sister-in-law in Muleshoe one day she saw her first doll made from a bottle. She took the pattern home and has since made approximately 40 dolls.

ALMOST any bottle can fill her needs for the body for her creations. She uses glass bottles that have been filled with cooking oil, or plastic bottles that have contained soap or other household ingredients. She stuffs a toe of an old stocking for the doll's head and pulls the cotton anklet over the bottle and fastens and ties it at the base of the bottle.

To this frame she then sews on a face. A piece of wire is bent to form the bust and arms. Hands are made of felt. Then comes the fun of dressing her creation.

A full yard of 40 inch material is used to make the old-fashioned dress and matching bonnet. Most of the dolls wear a frilly little lace-edged organdy apron.

The final touch is a tiny bouquet of flowers in the little pink hands. Or for variety she uses knitting needles and balls of yarn, or a miniature mop made of a few strands of yarn attached to a wooden dowel for a mop.

OF ALL THE DOLLS she has made and dressed, she has given more than half of them to friends or grandchildren. Last year she gave one to the senior class at Whitharral and it sold for $8.

When the Whitharral Fire Dept. had a box supper recently she was unable to attend but she sent a doll to be auctioned off. The final bid added $14 to the firemen's fund. Now she is busy making more dolls she will donate to the Home Demonstration bazaar the Whitharral club will have in the Lions Club building Nov. 30. "It's just a hobby," Mrs. Matthews says, "just something to pass the time."

SHE MAKES A DOLL in one afternoon "at odd times." Two or three dresses can be cut out at the same time. Several friends have seen the dolls and asked her to make them one to give to someone special on their Christmas list.

These can be custom gifts. The bottles can be filled to make them heavy for door props. Most of the dolls are used for bed pillows in little girl's rooms. Dolls made from empty plastic bleach jugs can be used for hair curlers or pajama bags.

Mrs. Matthews has made many stuffed toys for her grandchildren and friends. Before she started making the bottle dolls she made monkeys from old gray work socks. Later she made 15 or 20 pixie dolls.

MAKING PIES and giving them to friends is just another way Mrs. Matthews "gives herself away," as many friends and neighbors can testify, and brings cheer and good will.

MALE vs. FEMALE There are about 95 male chickens born to every 100 female ones.

DOLLS, DOLLS—Mrs. Vick Matthews Whitharral sits in the midst of a family of dolls she has created from various empty bottles, old cotton stockings and scraps of fabric. She has made more than 40 and given half of them away. She now is busy with her Christmas gift list and making dolls to be contributed to the Whitharral Home Demonstration bazaar to be held Nov. 30 in the Lions Club building.
