

Stockin' Festival Begins Friday

The Christmas shopping season gets its big kickoff this Friday and Saturday when Littlefield merchants present their eighth annual Stockin' Festival.

The two-day sales event regularly has moved the Christmas shopping season into top gear. All over Littlefield, stores are readying merchandise for this traditional after-Thanksgiving Christmas program.

Stores will break out with their usual day-after-Thanksgiving look, a tie-in with the brand new Christmas street lighting which was turned on for the first time last evening. Santa Claus will also make his first appearance of the year Friday and Saturday at his temporary 'Santa Quarters' in front of the First National Bank building, in the 300 block of Phelps Ave. Santa will have lots of free candy for the youngsters both Friday and Saturday.

The Stockin' Festival carnival now in full swing on the Security State Bank parking lot on XII will continue through Sunday with discount tickets for the rides being available at all participating retail merchant stores.

Sponsored by more than 40 Littlefield business houses, the Festival is co-ordinated by the Retail Council of the Chamber of Commerce. The Stockin' Festival will offer Christmas shoppers of Lamb County and surrounding communities a fine array of gift items, with special prices on many items that are now included on the shoppers' priority gift list for relatives and friends.

Merchants participating in the Stockin' Festival Friday and Saturday include: Fields Mens Store, Anthony's, Pratt's Jewelry, Norma's, Bennett Firestone, A&B Office Supply, Penney's, Mode-O-Day, Perry Bros., Jones Jewelry, Ben Franklin, Wright Drug, Ware's, Western Auto, Amos Ward's, Onsteads Furniture, Cox Furniture, McAnally Jewelry, Sears, Brittain's Pharmacy, West Drug, Hayden Shoes.

The Early Bird Stockin' Festival is the opening event of a many phased schedule of Christmas activities.

The second annual downtown 'Christmas Window Decorating Program' is being sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance and these windows will be unveiled Friday, December 3, at 7 p.m.

Chairman Jack Ellzey announced that 16 entries have been received in the window decorating project. Purpose of the program is to decorate windows, mainly in empty stores downtown. Among those participating this year are church groups, civic clubs, schools and other organizations. The judging will be on December 7 with prizes being awarded to the best decorated windows.

Final Football Contest Won By Yarbrough

Paul Yarbrough, P.O. Box 142 could not let his son Mark be the only football contest winner in the family as Paul won the final week of the contest as he only missed four games of the 20 which included three ties.

Mark had previously tied for the first place prize in last week's contest with John Clayton III, who won second place this week as he missed on five games.

Kent Phillips, Route One, Amherst was the third place winner as he beat out eight other contestants who also missed on six games. Phillips missed the tie breaker by only four points as he had the Wildcats winning by a 13-7 score. Arthur Duggan was the closest to the winner as he picked the Cats by a 14-13 count.

Harry Pollard, Glen Cunningham and Ed McCannies also missed six and had the Wildcats to win while the other four contestants with six misses picked the Cubs to down Littlefield.

Nandy Walker came close to winning as he missed seven games and was the only contestant to correctly pick the exact score of the tie breaker as he had the Wildcats on top by 17-7.

In addition to the Levelland-Sweetwater; Kansas City - Boston and Houston - Florida States four games gave the entrants the most trouble. Harvard's win over Yale, the Colorado victory over the Air Force and the Howard Payne win over McMurray were the college games misses while the New York Jets downing Houston was the pro game that many missed.

Due to a delay in the confirmation of tickets, the announcing of the winner of the Sun Bowl tickets in the drawing will be delayed until the first week of December.

Two Accidents At Detour Signs

Two accidents, both involving cars and highway signs posted on U.S. Highway 84 occurred over the weekend with the accidents causing more than $1,100 damage to the cars involved.

The first accident was at 7:17 Saturday evening when a vehicle driven by Daniel Boggett, Levelland, hit a detour sign posted on Highway 84 near the cemetery. The 1955 Chevrolet slid through the sign, hit an embankment and came to rest in the ditch. Approximately $150 damage was done to the car and $45 to the sign.

The other accident was at 2:30 a.m. Sunday morning when a 1964 Cadillac driven by Ernest Danlap, Lubbock, hit the barricade posted on Highway 84 at the east end of the city. The vehicle turned over after striking the barricade and going into a ditch along the road. Approximately $1,000 damage was sustained by the vehicle and $25 to the sign.

The accidents brought the total up to 144 for the year within the city limits of Littlefield, causing damages estimated at $34,950. Of the accidents, 45 per cent have happened between 4 p.m. and midnight with 42 of the accidents being at intersections where there are stop signs.

Council Retains Kirby For Trial

The Littlefield City Council held a special meeting Tuesday night and voted to retain Jerome Kirby as attorney for the three police officers in a civil suit set for District Court December 1.

The suit brought by former Littlefield police officer Joe Condren on behalf of his son Tommy, charges Police Chief Flager Fitzgerald, Assistant Chief James Cox and police sergeant Jerry Collins with conspiracy in the arrest of the Condren boy July 3, 1965.

In his suit Condren is asking up to $77,500 in damages with $2,500 being for humiliation, pain and suffering caused by the arrest and up to $75,000 in punitive damages.

Mayor J.E. Chisholm stated that the council had voted to retain Kirby for the one case and he had not been appointed city attorney.

At the present time the case is set for trial without jury in the 154th Judicial Court.

Connally Endorses Overseas Appeal

Gov. John Connally of Texas has warmly endorsed the Thanksgiving season appeals being made by America's great religious faiths for support of their overseas programs.

These current appeals are the Protestant 'Share Our Substance' appeal, the Catholic 'Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection' and the 'United Jewish Appeal.'

In an official statement to Church World Service and Catholic Relief Services, the overseas relief agencies of Protestant and Catholic faiths, and to the United Jewish Appeal, made public simultaneously in New York, Governor Connally said:

'Each year during the Thanksgiving season, special emphasis is given to the sharing of our American abundance with needy persons overseas through the world-wide programs of our three great religious faiths.'

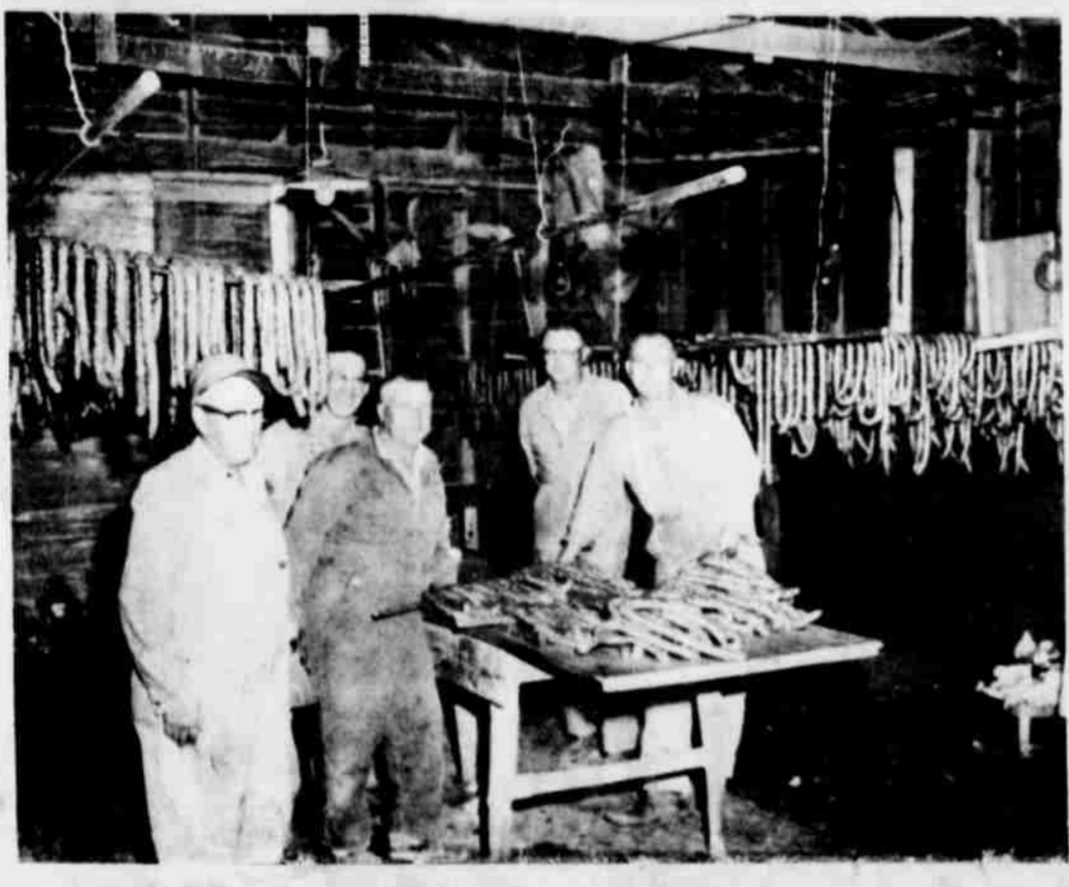

'I therefore ask the people of Texas to observe Thanksgiving Day as a time for prayer and thanksgiving for the blessings God has bestowed upon our State and Nation.'

Somehow in our community there lurk several individuals who have failed to grow up, even though they have reached the age where they can operate an automobile, and at least attend high school. For all we know they may even be adults.

We are referring to the individuals, who over the weekend, threw beer bottles through the windows of the school's station wagon which was parked in the driveway of Coach John Howle's home.

What prompted this action can only be guessed, why it was done can only be chalked up to the total disregard some people have for the property of others.

We wonder what the persons involved hoped to prove by causing damage to property that did not belong to them. As we have said before we like to win, in football, in life, and in just about everything, but just because we lose a few battles we do not go throwing bottles through windows, ours or anyone else's. All things considered we think our team had a good year, and besides there were 11 players on the field each game, and they do not like to lose any more than those sitting in the stands. We hope there will be no re-occurrence of this type and hope the school officials will realize this type of action does not reflect the attitude of the entire community.

PEP SAUSAGE FOR THANKSGIVING -- It has been a busy week for the people of Pep as they prepare for the 20th annual famous Pep sausage and Thanksgiving dinner to be held today. Pictured above are (L-R) A.J. Sokora, Clarence Albus, W.A. Rohm-feld, Doc Yungman and Walter Gerik. They were among the more than 40 persons who spent the last two days preparing more than 2,200 pounds of sausage for the dinner to be held today from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 5 to 8 p.m. Other activities scheduled include a cotton auction and a dance following the dinner.

Lamb County Teachers Attend Annual Dinner

Approximately 250 members of the Lamb County Texas State Teachers Association attended the annual Thanksgiving dinner Monday night in the junior high cafeteria. Guest speaker was State Senator Andy Rogers of Childress.

Introduced by Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake, Senator Rogers spoke on 'Challenges of the Future'. He discussed education excellence for the changing times in Texas, particularly in higher education; the problems inherent in redistricting of the Congressional Districts, pointing out the concentration of the population in one area, with 85% of the population of Texas being in 15 counties, Senator Rogers also discussed the needs in water conservation practices -- development of above-the-ground reservoirs, complete neutralization of underground water and prevention of waste.

Bob Allford of Olton, Lamb County TSTA president, was in charge of the short business meeting.

Entertainment was furnished by Dwayne Hood, choir director at Littlefield High School, who sang several popular songs, accompanied by Miss Ann Farmer.

The tables were decorated in the Thanksgiving motif. The menu consisted of turkey and dressing with the trimmings.

The meeting is one of three held by the teachers during the school year. The next meeting will be in February at Olton.

District Engineer's Office Studies By-Pass Safety

A meeting, by a delegation from Littlefield, Bula, Pep and the immediate area west of Littlefield, with District Engineer O.L. Crane, Monday, resulted in the promise to continue studying the existing traffic problems on the recently opened Marshall Howard Blvd, by-pass.

Crane, who is in charge of a 17 county district of State roads, said the department is vitally interested in the problems that exist on the new roadway, but said his department could not do anything until engineering studies had been made, and in the event of a grade separation, (overpass) money had been appropriated by the Highway Commission.

The delegation which met with the district engineer included representatives from the City of Littlefield, the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, and two residents of each of the communities which had expressed a concern over the hazardous conditions that exist at the intersection of Highway 84 and State Highway 54, were told the department always has problems when a new road is opened, and a complete study must be made before any action can be taken.

Crane told the group, 'Our engineers have been studying the conditions on the new road way and all we can suggest, until studies are complete, is a more rigid policing of the highway, we can only put up warning lights while an area is under construction, due to a ruling by the state legislature which requires a complete study to be made before lights are installed.'

'The fact a grade separation was not installed originally is purely a matter of dollars and cents. One will be installed when the money is available, which, if this follows the normal pattern, will be in from two to six years,' Crane said. 'As to the installation of flashing lights at the intersection these are fine, providing they are not abused, or disregarded, our safety engineers have found that you can have too many signs, and rather than being a deterrent to accidents, they can actually be a contributing factor, due to complete disregard and breakdown for respect for the drivers.' As an example Crane cited the situation at Slaton, where several people lost their lives before a grade separation was started. 'At Slaton,' he said, 'we feel we had too many signs, there were seven or eight signs which told of the dangerous intersection and construction area, but even with these people still lost their lives.' 'There is no one answer.'

In reply to a question concerning his support of an overpass at the intersection, Crane said he could not recommend any type of grade separation at this time because there are other areas in the district which have a more critical need, and have the potential of being even more dangerous than the area which was under discussion. He did say, however, it would be a good idea for the group to make their views known to the Commission, as Slaton did, and if the Commission decided to grant funds unencumbered to build a grade separation his department would be delighted to get started on the construction.

In connection with the appeal to the Commission, Crane said the traffic count at the intersection did not justify any overpass, but the nature of the traffic using the roads might, and any presentation should be made on the nature of the type of traffic. The group went to Crane to discuss the possibility of an overpass and were told it was the next thing in line for the by-pass, but just when it would be constructed was not known.

Crane told the group his office would continue its studies, and would do everything they could to help improve the safety conditions in the area, but again stressed the limitations of funds as the prime reason for there being no overpass at the intersection at this present time.

A meeting to further discuss the existing conditions will be called in the near future, by the city and the Chamber of Commerce, at which time a decision will be made as to the course of action that will be taken. This will also give the highway department engineers time to develop their studies, and possibly come up with some recommendations for improving the safety measures right now.

Pat McMahan Shares Recipe For Leftover Turkey

The next couple of days homemakers will be wondering they will use the leftover turkey from the Thanksgiving. We are happy to bring Mrs. Paul J. McMahan's favorite recipe for this Turkey or Chicken Sopa Mexican dish. It really is delicious and we are anxious to try it.

Pat McMahan and her three children live in the Terrace Division at 1300 14th Street. They have been in Littlefield about two years. She is really a busy housewife. She has been a member of the Be-Little TOPS for a year, and recently became a mother of Don, 6, and Doug, 4. Her husband, Doug, is a graduate and real estate agent. She is becoming a cub about cooking (likes to enjoy recipes) and sewing. She also likes to bowl and is informally employed at R & W. She is refinishing and has completed several pieces including an upright piano. The entire family enjoys being together. They like to camp out. Her children are Doug, 8, and Steve, 2. Pat McMahan is a member of the Methodist Church. The recipe follows:

PREPARES FAVORITE DISH -- A good recipe to have during this holiday season is one which provides a tasty way to serve left over turkey or chicken. Pat McMahan, 1300 West 14th Street, suggests you try her recipe for Turkey or Chicken Sopa, which is a Mexican dish. Pat is the wife of Paul McMahan, an employee of R & W Supply, and mother of two sons and a daughter. We are happy to share this recipe with our readers.

Ingredients of group 1 and cheese. Repeat, using cheese last. Bake at 325 degrees for 40 minutes.

Pat also suggests the following recipe for a low calorie holiday tea:

FESTIVE HOLIDAY TEA

4 teaspoons tea
4 cups water
1/2 teaspoon artificial sweetener
8 whole cloves
4 sticks cinnamon
4 lemon slices

Steep tea and sweeten. Place two cloves in each lemon slice. Pour hot tea in cups and place lemon slices and cinnamon in each cup. Serves 4. (Less than 5 calories per cup)

TURKEY OR CHICKEN SOPA
Boil a whole turkey or chicken. Remove the meat from the bones. Boil the turkey or chicken stock or chicken bouillon. Chop the green onions. Chop the fine onion, clove garlic, optional onion, cayenne powder, and pepper to taste. Add these ingredients together and let stand overnight or several hours to ripen.

Home Ceremony Unites Nelda Bowen, Billy Smith

Nelda Willis Bowen and Billy Smith exchanged wedding vows Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Nelda's mother, Mrs. Guy Bowen, 106 East 23rd Street. Rev. John W. G. Hill, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, officiated.

The bride wore a bronze chrysanthemum and candelabra formation background for the ceremony.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Enloe Smith, 15th Street.

The bride wore a toast three-knit suit with brown accessories and carried a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums.

The wedding 'March' and music was played on the reception immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Ross Bryant of Olton and Mrs. Grover Dennis of Albuquerque, N.M., sisters of the bride, served the wedding cake and punch from a table laid with an off-white cutwork linen cloth with crystal and silver appointments.

For the wedding trip to Arkansas the bride wore her wedding ensemble and the corsage taken from the bouquet.

The couple is at home at 807 West 9th Street. Mrs. Smith is employed at First National Bank. Her husband is a farmer.

Miss Francis Crump Is Honored With Shower

The Fellowship Hall of the Spade Methodist Church was the setting for a bridal shower Thursday afternoon honoring Miss Francis Crump, bride-elect of Donald Gene Plumlee.

Guests were registered in the bride's book by Mrs. D.H. Allen.

The serving table carried out the honoree's chosen colors of pink and white. Laid with a white linen cutwork cloth, the large pink and white centerpiece featured a bride and groom on a pedestal, a pink parasol with pink velvet streamers, and flowers intermingled with pink rosebuds. Pink candles in silver candle holders flanked the arrangement.

Mrs. Richard Ramage and Mrs. Bobby Nelson served the pink punch, white cake squares topped with pink wedding bells, nuts and mints from crystal and silver appointments.

The honoree was assisted in opening her gifts by her mother, Mrs. Olan Crump, Littlefield. Out of town guests included Miss Crump's grandmother, Mrs. J.B. Latimer, Plainview; aunts, Mrs. Forrest Latimer, Olton; and Mrs. Royce Latimer, Lockney; Mrs. F.W. Bearden, Springlake and Plumlee's sister, Mrs. Charles Bassett, Plainview. Other relatives were Mrs. Terry Bugher, Plainview and E.D. Criswell, Anton.

Hostesses were Mmes. Earlie Hall, Jack Nix, Norman Frey, Ralph Matthews, John Forbes, Robert Ramage, P.C. Caldwell, Carey Chamberlain, C.C. Byars, Joe Bailey, O.D. Brown, W.J. Loman, James Duke and J.K. Nelson, all of Spade, and Mmes. Bobby Nelson, Ina Mae McQuarters, T.S. Tyler, E.C. Hardman and D.H. Allen.

The hostess gift was a set of stainless steel cookware.

Sorority Hosts Roundup Supper

The Zeta Delta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha of Sudan met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fisher Thursday night. A roundup supper consisting of chuck wagon stew, hot bread, cherry cobbler, ice tea and coffee was served.

The house was gaily decorated to create a western atmosphere. Members and their husbands as guests, were dressed in western attire. For entertainment, table games such as bridge and Tripoli were played.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Alford Carlock, Donna Testerman, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Van Nest, Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeLoach, Amherst, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson of Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fisher, the hosts.

Zeta Delta meets every first and third Thursday evening of the month. The first meeting is devoted to business matters, and the second meeting is a social with their husbands as guests.

The Zeta Delta group has an annual fund raising project and contributes both time and money for local philanthropic purposes.

Former Residents To Mark 50th Anniversary

Former Littlefield residents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Will, Hamilton, will observe their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, Nov. 28 with a reception from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Hamilton Youth Center.

Hosts will be their daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Zybura of Plainview and Mr. and Mrs. Claud Elliott of Lubbock; and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Will, Lubbock.

A brief service for the couple will be conducted during the morning worship service in St. John's Lutheran Church.

The former Miss Selma Lueck and Mr. Will were married November 25, 1915, in New Salem Lutheran Church, Rosebud area. They moved to Littlefield in 1923 and farmed until 1941, before moving to Hamilton where they farmed and ranched until retiring in December, 1964.

Grandchildren will assist in the hospitalities. The table will be covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of gold mums and gold candles.

Area relatives include Mrs. Will's brother, Adolph Lueck of Amherst, her uncle, Fred Lueck, Littlefield, Mr. Will's sister-in-law, Mrs. Ellen Will and nieces, Mrs. Charles Carpenter, Amherst; and Mrs. John Vrubel, Littlefield.

God offers to every mind its choice between truth and repose. Take which you please--you can never have both.

Medicare Information Kits Mailed To All Over 65

Working round the clock since September 1, Social Security headquarters in Baltimore has completed the mailing of Medicare information kits to all of the 15 1/2 million persons 65 and over on the social security and railroad retirement benefit rolls. "By now, all elderly social security or railroad retirement beneficiaries in the Lubbock area should have received their kits and the enclosed application for the supplementary medical insurance part of Medicare," John G. Hutton, Social Security District Manager, stated.

"A limited number of other older persons - those not on the social security or railroad retirement benefit rolls, have already been in touch with the Social Security District Office in Lubbock," Hutton reported. But many others still need to take action to protect their Medicare rights.

Eight out of ten aged persons will be reached through the mass mailing, he noted. About one-third of those who will not be reached this way are receiving old-age assistance payments and will hear directly from their local welfare agencies. Another third are still working full time and will need to file social security applications. The other third of persons, about one million, will have to get in touch with their local social security district office. "The enrollment period closes March 31, 1966, for those who will be 65 or over before the end of the year," Hutton pointed out. This deadline is very important, he stressed. Everyone who is 65 or will be by January 1, 1966, must return the medical insurance enrollment card by March 31, 1966, whether received in the mail or picked up at a social security district office, if he wants full protection when the program goes into effect July 1, 1966.

The Lubbock social security district office is remaining open each Thursday evening from 4:45 to 8:45 p.m. for the convenience of those who cannot come during regular office hours. Many of those up in years, he noted, may not be able to get out of the house by themselves. Relatives and friends may be able to accompany them in the evening. The Lubbock District Office is located at 3428 Avenue H, in the Family Park Shopping Center. The phone number is Porter 5 8541, Ext. 384.

Medicare Students Need For Traits

Does your son want to study medicine? Or your daughter? For the aspiring student, a medical career offers many opportunities--private practice, research, teaching, administration, occupational health, school or college health, public health, foreign service, or the armed forces. Each opportunity requires different talents and abilities. Four personal traits, however, are musts, no matter what specialty a medical student chooses, says a new leaflet of the American Medical Association.

1. Intellectual curiosity. A medical student must expect to be a lifelong student. Modern research and the rapid advances of modern medicine continually challenge a physician's intellectual curiosity. As human horizons stretch into space, medical knowledge must expand accordingly.

2. Concern for people. Concern for people is the dynamic of medicine. A student must possess a compassion for people that includes understanding of human needs and fears.

3. Good health. A medical career, as well as the preparation for it, makes strenuous demands upon a physical and emotional stresses of long working hours and mental pressures. The profession requires good health.

4. Tenacity. A medical student must be prepared to devote ten years or more, with minimal income, to formal education. Only a conscientious, tenacious student can meet these educational demands with high scholastic achievement. Medical school is the first of many challenges in the medical profession. "Physician" is more than a title that one automatically receives after four years of study and training. The title is earned--by meeting the medical challenges in a community, by serving individual patients, and by discharging obligations to the profession.

Two organizations can give you additional information about preparation for the challenges of the medical career:

The American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 60610.

The Association of American Medical Colleges, 2530 Ridge Ave., Evanston, Ill.

The first steam-powered water pump designed to fight fires operated in England in 1829. Its debut was met with laughter from onlookers who called it the "steam squirt." Sparks from the smoke stacks of these early horse-drawn fire engines were a fire hazard themselves.

and possibly cause a headache. Don't take larger amounts of painkillers than your doctor orders, and don't take them over a longer period than he advises. A headache can be an important symptom. It might be triggered by life-threatening diseases in about one percent of its victims. Nine out of ten are the common variety which pass after a day or less.

Whenever you have a headache, don't make its treatment a do-it-yourself project. If your headache persists or recurs frequently, you will want to consult with your doctor.

Old King Cold is a tough character, says a pamphlet of the American Medical Association.

So far, medical science has not been able to break through his guard. Gradually, however, more and more is being learned about colds and their causes even though up to now colds can't be prevented or cured. All that can be hoped for is to treat the symptoms of the cold to make one feel better until it goes away, and to be as careful as possible not to spread your infection to others.

A number of viruses produce the symptoms that most of us call a cold, possibly as many as a hundred. The true cold is an infection with one or more viruses. Bacteria are believed to be purely secondary infectors.

What to do for a cold? Medical science can't help much. No special treatment, so far available, is effective against the cold virus. Any treatment is directed toward relief of the discomfort of runny nose, watering eyes, sore throat, slight fever and the other symptoms of the cold.

DIAMOND FOUND IN ARKANSAS RESEMBLES EISENHOWER!

A 3.11 CARAT ROUGH DIAMOND, THAT RESEMBLES THE PROFILE OF FORMER PRESIDENT EISENHOWER, WAS FOUND IN ARKANSAS IN 1957 BY MRS. RUTH MACRAE OF DALLAS.

EXISTENCE OF THIS ODD DIAMOND WAS UNCOVERED BY THE LIBBY'S FOODS PEOPLE WHILE MAKING UP A $30,000 SACKFUL OF DIAMONDS FOR THEIR SWEEPSTAKES PRIZE THIS FALL.

IT IS ONE OF THE ONLY DIAMONDS IN THE WORLD WORTH MORE IN ITS ROUGH STATE THAN CUT AND POLISHED.

High Plains Cotton Allotment Set At 2 Million In 1966

Figures released from the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office at College Station this week show the total 23-county High Plains base cotton allotment for 1966 to be 2,122,770 acres.

This year's allotment for the 23 counties covered by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. was slightly higher, at 2,135,624. Total acreage for Texas had been announced earlier at 6,835,432, almost the same as the 6,835,945 for 1966.

The slight 12,854 acre cut in the Plains allotment--just over one-half of one percent--was the result of a different acreage-reserve formula used in dividing the state allotment among counties. In past years, the State ASCS Committee has held 10 percent of the state's total allotment, then reapportioned those allotments to counties which had planted all of their acreage the previous year. Consequently, the High Plains was allocated a part of this 10 percent.

This year, the state committee simply divided the entire state allotment among counties on the basis of cotton history. However, the small reduction will have very little effect when spread to individual farms.

A much greater toll of bales from 1966 production will be taken by the new cotton program. In 1966 producers will be required to reduce plantings by at least 12.5 percent to participate in the government program, and are offered a strong incentive to reduce up to 35 percent.

Observers are estimating that this program may take as much as 25 percent of cotton acreage out of production with a resultant drop in bale numbers of about 20 percent.

The new farm bill provides for the sale and lease of allotments between farmers, and some are in hopes that acreage will be bought or leased from South and East Texas for movement to the Plains to help offset lost production. But such transfers cannot be made until after the marketing quota referendum is held on November 23, and none will be permitted between January 1 and June 1 of the next year.

This leaves only from November 23 until January 1, a little over five weeks, for leases or sales of allotments to be transacted. Both sellers and buyers of acreage will be traveling an uncharted path, and most feel it will be difficult to complete arrangements for the transfer of many acres during that short period.

Venezuela is the world's leading oil exporter and third largest producer, ranking behind the United States and the Soviet Union.

Paul Harvey Asks "Can The World Be Ruled By Laws?"

Government by law is still on trial. Our own Constitutional Republic appears inadequate to cope with pyramiding transgressions.

Its critics say, "The more laws, the more lawlessness." But the alternatives -- anarchy or dictatorship -- are too horrendous to contemplate. So we continue to perpetuate and seek to reinforce our admittedly imperfect system. Can the world be ruled by law?

Men of conscience, sick of the indefensible waste of war, are constantly seeking some better way. Presently, world war is being prevented only by a balance of power. Because the initiation of a military war would be a suicidal act, the great powers are at a stand-off.

Meanwhile, brush-fire wars are a continuing menace. Always there is the danger that these could merge into a major conflagration. Even as small wars, they drain blood and resources from us all. This month the cream of the world's legal profession met in Washington, D.C., to discuss the practicability of a world ruled by law.

Our Supreme Court Justice, Earl Warren, welcomed the 3,000 justices and lawyers from 110 nations with these words: "We must have a world ruled by law if mankind is to survive."

Justice Warren believes the centuries-long dream can become a reality in our generation, "because nuclear weapons will force us to find a substitute for war."

He says if we are now smart enough to harness atoms surely we are smart enough to harness our own emotions.

Australia's Sir Percy Spender, President of the present 'World Court,' said it will not happen in our generation. He says less than half the world's nations have agreed to submit their disputes to the present international court, and many of these insist on so many qualifications that the 'World Court' is largely impotent.

The Chief Justice of Japan 'hit the nail' with his head. He said the problem is that 'we do not observe the laws we already have.'

He says, 'even national laws are disregarded or violated. The decisive point is that laws must be observed.'

Most students of Scripture would agree. The rules, written on a rock by the Hand of Divinity and delivered to Moses at the top of Mount Sinai are adequate to rule the world... if obeyed.

More laws -- even with more enforcement and more punishment -- have failed to order our society.

Still, the lamb can lie down with the lion only if the lamb is on the inside.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Headache may well be humanity's number one malady.

It masquerades under many names - sick headache, coffee headache, hunger headache, allergy headache, fever headache and Sunday headache -- to name a few.

But what really happens when your head hurts? A common misconception is that the brain hurts when you have a headache. But the brain itself--while marvelously sensitive in some ways -- is an unfeeling mass of gray tissue. You can probe, cut, burn or smash this tissue without its hurting.

Other structures of the head, however, are extremely sensitive to pain, including the scalp, blood vessels and some of the brain coverings.

Some of the processes causing headache include: swelling of arteries within the head; a pulling, inflammation or irritation of the head's pain-sensitive structures; prolonged contraction of neck muscles, a pain spreading from another source such as an inflamed eye; or an emotional disorder.

Headaches can be important since they may be the warning sign of a serious condition, which possibly could be controlled if detected early. They can indicate glaucoma, fever, high blood pressure, anemia, central nervous system injury or infection, epilepsy and tumors of the brain and head.

They can also warn of intoxication by such poisons as carbon monoxide gas. Or, a headache can indicate sensitivity to certain solvents, the elements in some liquors, to antihistamines or to noise.

Excessive use of sedatives, even those used for treatment of headache, can be dangerous

LET US GIVE THANKS THIS Thanksgiving Day

How much we have to be thankful for!
 We are privileged to live in a great and prosperous country, as free men, with dignity and right of self-government.

Our tables are laden with the bounty of this land and our children know no want.
 We worship as we choose, without fear, with pride in our beliefs.

For these and other blessings, we thank Thee now, O Lord!

Thanksgiving Luncheon Held By Golden Agers

Annual Thanksgiving luncheon was held for the Golden Agers at the Am- Legion Building. The group was decorated with flowers. Rev. R.H. Miller gave the invocation, and dressing with all the trimmings were served at the meal. A report was given on the sick of the group to be sent. Golden Agers will hold their annual Christmas party on December 9 at 2:30 p.m. at the American Legion. An exchange of gifts was part of the program. Those who were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, state president, presided during the convention and gave the keynote address at the first general meeting on the convention theme, "We the PTA Participate in the Community Story".

Attending from Olton were Mrs. Elmer McGill, local PTA president; Mrs. Ed Thompson; and Mr. and Mrs. Carl McClure. Mr. McClure is principal of Olton Junior High. The group returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Thomas are parents of a son, Terry Lynn, who was born Thursday, Nov. 14 at the Plainview Hospital. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Thomas. Mrs. Annie Campbell, mother of Mrs. Pat Franklin is ill in the Olton hospital.

Wicker Enters Graduate School

James J. Wicker, son of Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Wicker, has entered the graduate school of Abilene Christian University as a candidate for the degree of Sacred Knowledge.

Standard academic procedure requires the name of the degree to be related from the Latin, Theologiae Baccalarius (S.T.B.) or the Bachelor of Sacred Knowledge.

S.T.B. candidates will be required to take 90 semesters, the equivalent of years of study above the bachelor's degree. The curriculum will concentrate on four areas: the Bible, church history, doctrinal areas and practical theology.

Wicker, a 1961 graduate of Abilene High School, received his B.A. degree in Bible from ACC in August of 1965.

Soil Texture Important In Water Utilization West Texas

Soil texture has much to do with cotton's utilization of irrigation and rain water, recent studies in Texas show.

Dr. C.J. Gerard and L.N. Namken, associate soil physicist and soil scientist, respectively, at the Lower Rio Grande Valley Research and Extension Center near Weslaco, have conducted experiments which show that water management requirements of cotton depend on soil texture and related rooting characteristics of the plants.

Gerard said that on medium-textured soils, cotton develops an extensive root system able to extract water to depths of 4 to 5 feet. Moisture depletion patterns on fine-textured soils indicate that soil moisture extraction is largely restricted to the soil's upper 2 feet.

Summer rainfall, he said, often supplies enough water to produce 80 to 90 percent of cotton yield potential on medium-textured soils. On the other hand, rainfall provides water for only about 50 percent of yield potential on fine-textured soils. Gerard and Namken are mem-

Photographs depicting Texas and Southwest ranch life for the past 50 years will be on view at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview until Dec. 12.

This collection of photographs is the work of Frank Reeves, longtime livestock editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and were originated as an exhibition by the Amon Carter Museum of Western Art in Fort Worth.

Sponsored by the American Heritage Program at Wayland, the display will be in Van Howeling Memorial Library on campus.

Often called the 'dean of livestock reporters,' Reeves began taking his photographs in 1912 to accompany his reporting. They still dot the walls of hotels, restaurants, offices and homes throughout the Southwest.

The Reeves exhibition is classified in three parts: ranch life at work, ranch life at play (rodeos) and personalities. Among the personalities are included former Vice-President John Nance Garner, the late J. Frank Dobie and Mrs. Dobie, and Abb Blocker, the trail driver who designed the XIT brand by scraping his boot in the sand.

Reeves turned to photography after being thwarted in his desire of becoming a lawyer. He picked up extra money while attending Grayson College in Whitewright by working for a studio photographer on Saturdays.

The 1884 Kentucky-born Texan began his popular 'Chuck Wagon' column for the Star-Telegram in 1930, giving news about the livestock industry and the people who make it work.

He still writes the column and takes countless pictures to accompany his stories, while producing a unique pictorial record of the Southwest during the past four decades.

Many of the photographs on display are of rodeos and cattle during roundups. These are the finest and most candid shots of the cattle industry ever produced and have earned Reeves the respect of all who have met him in his work.

Churches Stress Appeal For World's Hungry

The week beginning Sunday, November 21 will mark the 12th annual SOS (Share Our Substance) Appeal of Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations in the U.S. for funds to carry on their joint overseas programs of food distribution to the needy in 42 countries.

The appeal to relieve world hunger will be made in hundreds of churches throughout America at both special and regularly scheduled services, and in some instances, at community observances, with a total of $1,257,542 the goal.

In the food distribution programs the denominations carry on jointly through Church World Service program of the National Council of Churches, millions of pounds of foodstuffs alleviate critical needs caused by both natural and man-made disasters, such as famines, floods, political upheavals and war.

Of ever-increasing importance is use of food in food-work projects, with the building of roads, schools and other community developments affording refugees and the disadvantaged in many lands a chance to work and earn food for themselves and their families.

Since Church World Service was founded in 1944, distributed overseas a total of three and a quarter million pounds of government surplus food, plus 150 million pounds of other food and help materials through CROP (Christianity Overseas Program). High protein food supplements CROP help victims of malnutrition throughout the world.

Church World Service closely with the Division of World Service of the council of Churches, based in Geneva, Switzerland.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

A lot of taxpayers don't like to keep records. They are willing to take the standard deduction and pay more tax to get out of the record keeping chore. You can cost yourself a lot more by failing to keep a record of your deductible contributions, taxes, medical and miscellaneous expenses. A careful record of deductible items is a pretty good idea, even if you don't itemize your deductions every year. Good records help you manage your personal affairs better.

NOW! '66 CAPRICE BY CHEVROLE

'66 Caprice Custom Coupe—with formal roof line that comes on no other car
A whole new series of elegant Chevrolets with a whole new choice of features even some of the most expensive makes don't offer

Specially instrumented console, with the rich look of walnut and a carpeted storage locker, is available for the Custom Coupe

Strato-bucket seats, featuring tapered backrests and thick contoured padding, come with console shown at left

Strato-back front seat, available in Custom Coupe and Sedan, has bucket-like contours and center armrest that folds up for third person

Tilt-telescopic steering wheel moves out almost three inches, adjusts to angles, can be added to any model

Vinyl roof cover is available. Outside rearview mirror is one of many safety assists standard on all '66 Chevrolets
All told there are 200 ways you can pile luxury upon luxury in the '66 Caprice. And that includes creature comforts like FM stereo and front-seat headrests.
But the beauty of it is that a Caprice, before you add the first extra, is luxurious above and beyond any other Chevrolet you've ever seen—and many a more expensive make, too.
There are four '66 Caprices: Two Custom Wagons, and a Custom Coupe and Sedan with deeply quilted upholstery and the look of walnut in their Body by Fisher interior. So if you're ready to move up, your timing couldn't have been better. Because your Chevrolet dealer is now ready to move you up about as far as you could want to go.

Chamber To Sponsor Development Tour

SO or more West Texas ranchers, and business men will visit South Texas, the Gulf Coast, and Lower Rio Valley area February 1-5 as the West Texas Chamber of Commerce holds a special agricultural development tour to those areas.

The tour is being set up to show both the industrial and agricultural picture from Houston to the Valley, with special emphasis on ranching operations on the Rio Grande and the Armstrong Ranch between Kingsville and Brownsville.

(Bill) Lance of Perry, chairman of the WTCC Agriculture Committee, officially announced the tour, Dennis Brownfield banker, is chairman of the subcommittee making tour arrangements and plans.

The tour will be by rail, with the Ft. Worth Railway making arrangements for the West Texas tour. Lance said, Pullmans originate at Amarillo, Lubbock and Fort Worth.

Some of the highlights of the tour will be a visit to the Houston industrial complex along the Houston and shipping facilities where West Texas-grown agricultural products are exported - cotton, grain sorghum, wheat, and other crops.

The West Texas group will visit the new livestock facilities at the Houston Fat Stock Show, near the famous Astro-Turf. They will visit agricultural operations at the Department of Corrections at Sugarland and will learn the techniques being used there on the prison farms.

Tentative plans call for a visit to the famous King Ranch to observe ranch management techniques, plus a visit to the nearby Armstrong Ranch to observe a sale of Santa Gertrudis cattle -- the first time any of the Armstrong stock will have been offered to the public.

The touring group will then move into the Lower Rio Grande Valley to see vegetable production, cotton, grain sorghum, and other crops adaptable to West Texas. Arrangements in this area are being handled by the Lower Rio Grande Valley Chamber of Commerce and the Brownsville Chamber.

Lance said, "I hope this tour will outdo any we have ever had in attendance." Previous tours have attracted up to 200 men.

Lance said, "This tour should be a natural for West Texas and others in this end of the state who have not really had a chance to observe farming and ranching operations in South Texas and the Valley. We have made several tours out of state. Now we want to take a look at the picture right here in Texas. We hope you will join us on this tour, regardless of the type of operation you have, the business you are in, or whether you live in West Texas or elsewhere."

Inquiries concerning the tour may be directed to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 1561, Abilene, Texas, 79604. Other information on tour costs and plans will be announced in the near future.

Specialist Gives Planting Suggestions For Trees And Shrubs

December, January, and February is the ideal time for planting bare root trees and shrubs. As you fill the hole, work the soil in around the roots so that there are no air pockets. After hole is 2/3 full, fill with water and allow it to drain away. Then fill the hole with the enriched soil until level with surrounding soil. Using additional soil, build a berm or dam around the outer edge of the hole to aid in watering the first season. This should be removed or spread out after the plant is well established.

Dig the tree pit large enough to receive the roots without bending or breaking; do not cut the roots to fit the hole. Separate the good top soil from the poorer subsoil as the hole is dug. Unless the top soil is extremely poor, it can be mixed with peat moss or well rotted compost and used as backfill. Use two parts of soil to one part of peat moss in preparing the backfill.

It is desirable, he says, to prune back the top growth to compensate for the roots lost in digging and transplanting. Do this by removing about 1/2 of each branch, making the cut to an outside bud. It may be necessary to thin out some of the lateral branches to develop good scaffold branches. By no means should all lower limbs be removed reducing the main stem to a whip. If a high limbed tree is desired, low limbs can be removed later after the plant is well established. Do not remove more than two lower limbs per year.

Place a mound of the enriched top soil in the bottom of the hole to support the roots of the plant so that when placed in the hole the plant will be at

Plane Auction To Be Held

Going-going-gone Wednesday, December 1 promptly at 10 a.m. The chant of the auctioneer will be heard from the main hanger of Rhodes Flying Service in Shallowater, when the airport, 110 acre irrigated farm, airplanes, trucks, and miscellaneous equipment will be auctioned off to the highest bidder.

Handling the auction that is attracting wide attention is G.C. Walters, Jr. and Associates, auctioneers, appraisers, and liquidators of Dallas.

Lunch for the auction will be served by the 1966 Senior Class at Shallowater High School.

Doing the actual work as auctioneer will be Col. George Collins, of Atlanta, Georgia, who works for the Walters firm, and also is associated with a livestock commission firm in Georgia. He is recognized as a dean of auctioneers in the United States, and started chanting at nineteen years of age selling mules in Memphis, Tennessee, mule sale capital of the world.

G.C. Walters, Jr. and Associates sold the Blackstone Hotel in Ft. Worth and the old property of Scott and White Hospital in Temple before moving into new facilities. The auction is open to the public, and everyone is invited to attend.

Australia and New Zealand first were joined by submarine telegraph cable in 1876.

Questions & Answers
 Q -- My company wants to transfer me to another town. As a sweetener, they paid the expenses for me and my wife to take a look at the new location. When I got paid for these traveling expenses, I noticed that Social Security and income tax had been taken out. Why was that? I thought these expenses were not taxed.
 A -- The cost of this preliminary trip paid by your employer is properly includable as wages on your Form W-2. The trip expense you describe does not come within the category of expenses that qualify for either a tax deduction or tax exclusion. If you do transfer, however, the cost of transporting you, your immediate family and your household goods to the new location, and the cost of meals and lodging while you are traveling to the new location may be deductible moving expenses. If you are entitled to deduct the moving expenses, you should do so, whether or not you itemize your other deductions. Use Form 3903 to report the expenses and related allowances or reimbursements and attach it to your income tax return.

Q -- When do I have to pay the next installment on my maid's Social Security?
 A -- The due date is November 1. Anyone who has paid a household employee a total of $50 or more during July, August, and September must file Form 942 and pay Social Security taxes.

Q -- If I make a political campaign contribution will it be deductible?
 A -- No, the law does not allow deductions for this purpose.

Q -- Is it true that starting in January there will be income tax withholding on tips?
 A -- Yes, the new Security law provides that starting January 1, Social Security and income taxes will be held from tips. Persons who receive tip income of $20 or more per month are required to report what they receive to their employer, who will adjust tax withheld on paychecks. Forms and instructions for reporting tip income will be available later this year.

Q -- What's the story on company pensions? I just retired last month and receive $125 a month from my company in addition to Social Security. Is this taxable?
 A -- Social Security, of course, is not taxable. If your company pension, if any, contributes to the cost of the pension then it will be partially taxable. Wayland Sets Science Fair Date

Scientifically minded young people in area elementary and secondary schools should begin work on entries for the 1966 High Plains Science Fair, March 18-19, at Wayland Baptist College.

Highlight of this annual event will be the Saturday Awards Luncheon, March 19. Following the luncheon, Fair exhibits in the Home Life Building are to open for public viewing.

New projects are encouraged this year for all divisions, biology, mathematics and physical science, according to Prof. Dorothy McCoy of Wayland, who is Science Fair Director. Last year's project may be entered if further research has been done on it and improvements have been made, she continues.

More information outlining rules, schedule of events and entrance requirements are being sent to schools at a later date.

An additional requirement for entering a project this year is the inclusion of a one-page abstract on the exhibit. This paper should briefly explain how the exhibit was organized, where materials were obtained, and tell sources or references used in learning about the subject of the project.

Prizes will be awarded winners in the mathematics test division for junior and senior high school students. Applicants for this test are required to present a mathematics exhibit in the form of either a poster or a three-dimensional exhibit on a horizontal base. The latter is preferred. An abstract must also be written about this project.

Why more motorists switch to the Tiger when it gets cold.

Many cars that ran just fine all summer get into trouble when ear-muff time rolls around—stalling at stoplights and coughing and chugging halfway into town.

That's when a lot of people switch to the Tiger. Winter-formula Enco Extra gasoline is blended to match the weather conditions in your area—including a special additive to help guard against icing. Result: easier starting, faster warm-up and a lot less worry about stalling.

You'll like the way new Enco Extra behaves on the open road, too. It's the High-energy gasoline with the: (1) cleaning power; (2) firing power; (3) octane power to help preserve the performance of new cars and restore lost power and mileage to many older cars.

Switch to the Tiger and get that nice warm feeling. Happy Motoring!

Cover Crop Planted Now Can Prevent Wind Erosion

Now is the time to prepare the land for the windy season next spring, says Paul Larson, local Soil Conservation technician.

Each year many acres of valuable cropland are damaged due to heavy wind erosion. A good cover crop planted now in those skip rows of diverted acres will keep it from blowing next spring. Some good cover crops to plant are rye, oats, barley, wheat, vetch and Austrian winter peas. Any of them will do the job and you make the choice.

A growing crop on the land is a valuable conservation measure. It will first of all help to control soil blowing. Blowing dust makes our homes unpleasant places to live in. And much of this can be overcome if we will cover the land. The blowing dust removes from the soil valuable clay particles which is the key to the fertility of the land to hold and store water for crop production and the ability of the soil to form stable clods that will resist wind erosion.

Keeping a cover on the land will help to get more water in the soil during periods of rainfall. This stored moisture may be used the following season. The cover crop also provides residue which helps to maintain soil in good physical condition for valuable crop production.

There are some objections to planting a crop just for cover. It is an expense from which there is usually no direct cash return to the farmer. It also uses valuable moisture that could be used for cash crop production. The first objection is true if the best results are to be obtained from cover crops.

However some grazing of livestock and harvesting of small grain does no harm to the practice. The second objection is not as serious as it may appear. If tillage is necessary to control wind erosion then the top 8 to 10 inches of the soil are lost anyway. If rainfall does occur runoff on the bare land is much greater. It is possible that the cover crop may increase the water intake to more than provide for its own growth.

To overcome some of the problem with loss of moisture to cover crops one may use sweeps and under cut it just as the plant starts to boot.

The moisture consumption of the plant up to this stage is small but makes a very sharp increase after it goes into the booting stage.

Cover crops can be successfully used to stabilize crop production if used with skill. A cyclone seeder is available for seeding cover crops from the Lamb County Soil Conservation District in Littlefield.

Fertilizer Dealer Short Course Planned For Area

Basic information on management skills in operating a business in today's market, and on personnel utilization, recruitment and administration will be presented in a Fertilizer Management and Technology short course scheduled in November and December.

Soil-Pesticide relationships and New Products and Processes in Fertilizer Manufacturing will also be discussed. County Agent Bill Kimbrough invites Fertilizer Dealers, Agency Personnel, and County Personnel and County Program Building Committee members and seed dealers and gin managers to make plans to attend by registering through his office.

Sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, this series of meetings is to include presentations by outstanding authorities in both the Fertilizer Industry and Education.

Meeting places and dates are as follows: Hereford on Monday, November 29 and December 6, Bull Barn, East Highway 60; Plainview on Tuesday, November 30, Chamber of Commerce and on Tuesday, December 7, Alcove Restaurant; Lubbock on Wednesday, December 1 and December 8, Vann's 4004 Avenue A; Lamesa on Thursday, December 2 and Thursday, December 9, Forrest Park Community Center.

Each County Agent in the Area has registration blanks and suggests you attend the meeting nearest your place of business. A charge of $5.00 will be made for registration. This fee includes dinner the last meeting night.

Cotton Harvest Estimate Set At 2,218,000 Bales

The November 1 estimate of High Plains cotton production for the 1965 crop-year jumped to 2,218,000 bales, up from 2,141,000 estimated the first of October.

The estimate covers the 23 member-counties of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and is jointly compiled by PCG and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange each month beginning with the first of September.

The indicated total production rise is attributed to excellent weather conditions for maturing the crop during the past month.

These guesses in past years have proven accurate to within a few percentage points. If the current prognostication is correct it will mean the third largest crop on record for the area, less than 5.4 percent below the top crop in 1961 of 2,344,803 bales. Second highest production for the area was in 1962, when 2,328,293 bales were harvested from the 23 counties.

Quality of the 55,000 bales classed through October 29 this year is reflected in the first 1965 cotton quality report from Plains Cotton Growers. Each year the producer organization publishes every two weeks a complete analysis of the High Plains crop as it is harvested.

The first report this year shows an increase over the first period last year in cotton staple length from 30.9 thirty-seconds of an inch to 31.4 thirty-seconds. However, this is probably not an indication of the staple picture for the entire season.

More open-boll, longer stapled cotton was planted on the Plains this year. The first picking of this type cotton is usually done either by hand or with spindle-type pickers before shorter stormproof cottons are ready for stripping. Therefore it is likely that the early-season average may have been unduly weighted by bales of longer stapled cotton.

Even so, there is still reason to hope that the season's staple average will be up to some extent over last year's 30.1 thirty-seconds of an inch. In addition to the open-boll cotton referred to, another 200,000 bales or more of varieties which normally measure one inch or more is yet to be harvested.

Micronaire on the first bales harvested averaged 4.1, not greatly different from the first average last year of 4.2. Micronaire on the crop in 1964 held up through the season exceptionally well, and good cotton maturing weather for the past month would indicate another good year for micronaire in 1965.

The importance of micronaire will become increasingly evident this year with the inclusion of micronaire premiums and discounts in the government schedule of loan values for cotton. Previously this factor had been used by the trade, but not by the loan schedule, in determining cotton value.

The most disappointing quality factor so far this year has been 'pressley' or fiber strength. This average came to only 78,600 pounds per square inch on the first 55,000 bales. Average on the first quality report in 1964 was 80,100 pounds.

Assets of the nation's credit unions rose from $8.1 billion in 1963 to $9.3 billion last year. Savings of members went up from $7.2 billion to $8.2 billion.

The wearing of crude types of gloves has been traced to the days of cave dwellers. Relics have been found sewn with leather thongs.

Terraces Needed To Hold Spring Water

Rainfall records for the past 75 years show most of the Lamb County Soil Conservation District receives an average of 18 inches or less per year. As a farmer, what are you doing to hold the rainfall you receive? Much of the rain falls hard and suddenly, especially in the Spring. Unless some provisions are made to hold this water on the land, most of it will run off. This causes erosion of rich topsoil and loss of soil moisture.

Paralled terraces are the answer to this problem. Point rows are eliminated, erosion is halted, and moisture is saved. The uniform distribution of water will lessen the chance of costly failure. Spacing the terraces to fit four-row or six-row equipment means less farming expense and a more efficient operation.

Paralled terraces are valuable on any cropland that is as dryland or where sprinkler irrigation is used.

Many paralled terraces can be constructed from the lower side. This helps to decrease the slope of the field and eliminates the channel in front of the terrace. This allows the water to spread over a larger area and gives better moisture distribution. High and low places between terraces are cut or filled to keep terraces paralled.

Cost-share assistance is available through the Great Plains Conservation Program and the ACP. Cost-share assistance through the GPCP is generally 70 percent of the actual cost and ACP is generally 50% of the actual cost.

Paralled terraces have eliminated most of the objections farmers formerly had against terracing. The benefits of eliminating point rows, controlling erosion, conserving moisture, and permitting a cheaper more efficient operation cannot be overlooked.

Take advantage of this opportunity by going by your Littlefield Soil Conservation Service Office. We are interested in your problems and will be happy to help you.

Delectable Dishes From Spain

The art of Spanish cookery is surprisingly simple. Contrary to popular notion, the food is never spicy-hot. Basically, everything from crackling succulent roasts to silky smooth sauces and crisp, flavorful salads are prepared with the fragrant, golden Spanish olive oil which is one of the country's proudest products.

The Spanish cuisine is full of unique cooking tricks that are worth knowing about. Parsley is used by the fistful in nearly all stews and salads; oranges turn up in meat, chicken, fish sauces and salad dressings. Tomatoes used sparingly are more for rich color than flavor.

A new recipe booklet, "38 Delectable Dishes From Spain" is being offered to the enterprising homemaker who would like her family to start eating with a Spanish accent. Clear and uncomplicated directions for hors d'oeuvres, soups, seafood, meat and poultry, eggs, vegetables and salad dishes are included. Luscious Paella (rice) recipes and interesting sauces will intrigue the cook with culinary ingenuity.

The booklet was prepared by Betty Watson, noted authority on Spanish cooking and author of "The Art of Spanish Cooking," for the Spanish Olive Oil Institute. For your copy, send 25 cents in coin to cover cost of mailing and handling to Olive Oil, Dept. NM, P. O. Box 420, Syosset, Long Island.

Bible Reading Program Begins

More than 20 million persons all over the world will participate this year in the Worldwide Bible Reading Program of the American Bible Society, according to the Rev. Brian Engel, of St. Martin Lutheran Church.

In extending an invitation to all residents of Littlefield to participate, the Rev. Engelsaid today that a number of individuals of Littlefield area are expected to join in the observance.

The worldwide Bible Reading program, now in its 22nd year, is observed annually between Thanksgiving and Christmas as a spiritual bond to unite the peoples of the world. This period is also known as advent for Christians all over the world. The theme for 1965 is "Faith for a New Age."

Each day, all persons participating read exactly the same verse from the Bible, Rev. Engel explained. Selections are printed in advance on book-marks and distributed, without charge to churches, hotels, libraries, stores, banks and to people who request them.

This year, the first selection will be Psalm 1, to be read on Thanksgiving, November 25, and the last selection, to be read on Christmas, will be Luke 2:1-20. Different selections are listed for each day of the program.

The program originated in 1943 from a request by a lonely Marine stationed in the South Pacific. He wrote his parents asking them to join him in reading identical verses selected from the Bible on a daily basis. Thus together they would be able to maintain a true spiritual bond although thousands of miles apart. His mother recognizing the tremendous spiritual hunger which must be experienced by many other servicemen throughout the world, called the Society of Faith to share the idea. Thus Worldwide Bible Reading was born. The Society's officers enlisted the active cooperation of churches across the country to bring this idea to the families in their congregations. In time, shared Bible reading between home and foxhole grew to worldwide proportions, and in the years following, people in other countries have joined in this Bible reading program between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

A booklet containing the Christmas Story may be obtained without charge from the American Bible Society, 450 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10022.

Thanksgiving Banquet Held At Spade

Spade Pack 674 met Monday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Gray with nearly 100% participation. Chris Wallace led the Pledge of Allegiance followed by the scouts singing "The Star Spangled Banner".

Randal Gray gave the blessing for the Thanksgiving banquet which was served. Several skits were presented by the scouts.

Mrs. Gray, den mother, led the boys down the achievement trail--the 12 achievements required to obtain a wolf badge. The fathers were then given feasts to perform and were awarded honorary wolf badges.

The favors made by the boys for Thanksgiving gifts to the teachers were shown by Mrs. Gray, as were the den doodles. Receiving awards were Darrell and DeWayne Blevins and Ricky Harrell, bobcat pins; Randal Gray and Jimmy McCurry, bear badges; Chris Wallace, a silver arrowpoint under Bear; Darrell Blevins, denner stripe; and Scott Ball, assistant denner stripe, Randal Gray, Gaylon Reed, Darrell Blevins and Ricky Harrell received recruiter badges for recruiting new scouts. The closing was the singing of "America" by the cub scouts. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. James Ball and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wallace and family, Mrs. Carl Reed and family, Mr.

and Mrs. Ralph Mathews, Marvin, Mr. and Mrs. McCurry and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Harrell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Gray.

Orchids For Your Christmas Table

Christmas season is fast approaching and with it the problem of getting presents for those who seem to have everything.

And lovely gift suggestions are available. A centerpiece of Cattleya orchids is a regal purple dinner, a regal purple spray of blooms is a perfect gift for your guests. If you're the party-consider purchasing orchids to add a unique touch to your occasion. They bring a note of color and elegance to your holiday table. The snowy white, set with fine china, stemware and spot-ter will have a focal interest—and conversation is an arresting display of orchids are simple to use your imagination. Set three drips taper candles in a bed of Cattleya orchids and greens and you have a beautiful display. Or large brandy snifter and some dainty china or figurines in it; then they arrange several orchids and on the rim of the glass. Orchids give your table an exotic air. They're durable and will last through the entire holiday season if stored at night in a cool place, but not the refrigerator. And, contrary to popular notion, Cattleya orchids are reasonable in price and readily available from local florists the year round.

Seed Saved May Mean Money Lost

Farmer who save and their own or their neighbor's seed -- a predominant factor on the High Plains -- will lose lint production over $30 per acre at 27 cents per pound.

is the conclusion drawn by L. Ray, Assistant Agent at the South Plains Tech and Extension Center following comparative yield of "farmer-saved" seed and a line from the seed producer. Ten lines of a popular variety saved by farmers planting in Crosby County yielded 505 pounds lint production per acre, compared with 475 pounds per acre yielded by the same variety coming from the seed producer. The 30 pound difference, at 27 cents per pound, amounts to a dollar-loss per acre. "And since seed lines were planted and under identical conditions the inevitable conclusion is the seed themselves were responsible for the variance in," Ray said.

The production of quality seed requires a great deal of technology, skill and attention to detail," Ray continued, and added that: "Most farmers, even if they have the know-how and managerial ability, are not equipped to properly handle and process seed and cannot give the attention needed for a good job."

1963 a "planter-box" survey was conducted in Crosby County by Plains Cotton Growers, with the cooperation of the SPREC, Texas Planting Association and others, and an farmer-saved seed lines among over 80 samples of variety taken from growers during time. All of the 80 lines were of seed saved by farmer from his own or a neighbor's crop, as were 97 percent of all samples taken in the survey. When planted in yield in 1963 these eighty samples produced yields varying as much as 300 pounds lint per acre and in view of the wide differences, the five high and five low yielding lines saved for further testing in 1964. The 621 pound production from the seed producer line was 87 pounds above the average of the five "high" lines and 44 pounds better than the average.

Ray pointed out that: "Even the high average for farmer-saved seed, at 27 cents per pound, a farmer is losing $23.00 per acre, and that figure applies to the High Plains as a whole. It reveals a staggering income loss to the area." Yield from farmer-saved seed, he believes, is because of the difficulty in maintaining a pure variety under ordinary field conditions. He bases his belief on the fact that most seed breeders agree it is more difficult to maintain a cotton variety than it is to develop that variety initially. To avoid such losses and achieve a maximum lint and dollar production per acre, Ray suggests farmers follow three simple rules: Select a good, high-yielding variety that will produce a quality fiber; Like sound seed with good germination, avoiding seed

Community Thanksgiving Service Held Sunday At First Baptist Church

OLTON -- The sixth annual Community Thanksgiving Service was held at First Baptist Church Sunday night. The host pastor was the Rev. John E. Lewis. Organ prelude was played by Harold Dean Carson, 'Doxology' was sung by the choir and congregation. The Rev. John E. Lewis gave the invocation. Hymns sung under the leadership of Bob Allford were 'We Gather Together', 'Come, Ye Thankful People Come' and 'Thanksgiving Hymn.'

The Rev. William Cottrell, pastor of First Cumberland Presbyterian Church, gave the Thanksgiving sermon. Following the sermon the group sang 'America the Beautiful'. The Rev. Gerald Davis gave the benediction and the choir sang the choral benediction. Postlude was played by Mrs. Bob Allford and Harold Dean Carson. Participating churches were First Presbyterian, First Methodist, Nazarene, Assembly of God, First Baptist and Trinity Baptist Mission.

Veterans Will Benefit By New Public Law

Peacetime veterans have a definite advantage under the Federal Housing Administration Mortgage Insurance for veterans provided by the new Public Law 89-117, but war veterans will benefit more under the GI Loan Guaranty Program, the Veterans Administration said. Jack Coker, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco, said war veterans who still have entitlement for a GI loan are not required to make a down payment. They pay an interest rate of only 5 1/4 percent with no mortgage insurance premium. They pay no prepayment fee and the VA encourages extensions and or reamortization when needed to help a veteran keep his home.

non-veteran under the FHA program, Coker said. World War II veterans with maximum eligibility will have until July 25, 1967, to take advantage of the GI Loan Guaranty Program. The nearest VA office will be glad to figure out any veterans remaining eligible by use of the established formula, the VA manager pointed out. The formula adds ten years to the date of the veteran's discharge from active wartime service and then adds one additional year for each three months of service to reach a date that becomes the terminating deadline to entitlement. Korean Conflict veterans with maximum entitlement will have until January 31, 1975, to take advantage of a VA GI loan. War veterans who have not used their GI entitlement but who have already passed their eligibility deadline will find the FHA mortgage insurance plan to their advantage, Coker said.

Under the FHA play down payments are required on a graduated scale running from none for a loan of up to $15,000 of appraised value to 10 percent of the next $5,000 and 15 percent of the next $10,000. The interest rate, like the GI loan, is only 5 1/4 percent but an additional one-half percent mortgage insurance premium is required.

Juneau, Alaska's, February, 1965, snowfall was 86.3 inches, the heaviest for a single month since the start of Weather Bureau records at Juneau Municipal Airport in 1943. Normal figure for the month is 46.2 inches.

However, the peacetime veteran, who is not eligible for the provisions of the GI Loan Guaranty Program, will find he has a definite advantage over the

"Texas" To Production Of Open Pioneer Season

'TEXAS', a new production by the noted playwright, Paul Green, will open in the Pioneer Amphitheater in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park during its second season, 1966. Echoing sounds and blazing lights will roll through the Canyon again - this time highlighting the story of the hardy cattlemen and settlers who found ways to carve homes in the Plains.

in 1959, is still playing to great audiences. His latest production is the Cross and the Sword which had its premier last summer to celebrate the 400th anniversary of St. Augustine, Florida.

Paul Green is the author of several very famous historical plays presented with light and song and sound and dance in spectacular outdoor theatres throughout the country. He has been successful in transforming history back into life in the site where it took place, using all the resources of the modern theatre to bring this about.

Mr. Green has done more to develop the great outdoor dramas than any other one person. He is a master of the fusion of drama with all the other arts which makes the history come alive so vividly. The Lost Colony, the first that he wrote, has been running in Roanoke North Carolina, for 24 years. His Common Glory has played in Williamsburg, Virginia, for 18 years. And the Stephan Foster Story which opened in Bardstown Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Offield of Plainview were guests over the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joy Hoover.

Attending the Texas Social Welfare Convention in Houston the first part of last week were Mrs. Norman Frey, county welfare director; Mrs. Roy Wade, executive secretary of Red Cross; Carey Chamberlain, assistant to Mrs. Frey, and Lt. Howell of the Salvation Army. They returned Thursday.

The second season of the Pioneer Amphitheatre will open on the first of July, 1966 with the Founders' Festival which has been planned since the first announcements of the program. This week will be primarily for those who have supported the theatre and will be a gala time. All seats will be reserved and memberships will be included in the admission price. There will be special celebrations each of the six days. The regular season will open on Thursday the seventh of July, and run through Labor Day. The people of the Panhandle of Texas have been working on the development of the theatre and the presentation of Paul Green's production about Texas ever since the summer of 1960. It is with great pride that they announce that the season of 1966 will bring this about.

Mrs. F. Timmons will supervise, assisted by Mrs. J.E.

Wade and Mrs. R.J. Clevenger. Any child, adult, or school employee that tests positive will have a follow-up with a chest X-ray when the mobile unit is brought to Levelland.

Local Resident Mauled By Lion

Gene Cotton, Route 1, Littlefield, was admitted to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock late Saturday for observation after being mauled by a lion at Rimrock City, near Lubbock. Cotton suffered numerous bites and scratches about the back, arm and leg.

Treated and released for scratches on arm and ear was John William Moore, III, of Lubbock.

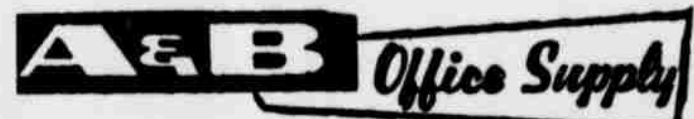

Both 21 year old men are employed at Rimrock City. They told police they were trying to feed the caged lion when it became enraged and mauled them. Hospital attendants said Cotton's injuries were not serious.

Cotton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cotton, who farm near Spade.

Unique School For Blind

In a secluded spot just off the shores of Lake Springfield is a unique school which accepts as students only those children who are rejected by every other school. All of its pupils are blind, and all have an additional handicap.

The Hope School for Blind Multiple-Handicapped Children is proving to the world that there are no "impossible" or "hopeless" cases of blind children who also suffer from some such additional handicap as mental retardation, speech or hearing difficulty, emotional disturbance or brain damage.

The school was founded in 1957 by Dr. Charles E. Jordan, a Springfield dentist, and his wife, Mary, after they had spent eight heart-breaking years trying to find care for their own blind-retarded daughter, Judy, now 17 years old.

By reason of residence, Judy was not eligible for some institutions for the retarded which accepted blind children. The Jordans found no public or private institutions for the blind available to Judy. The only recourse was a mental institution.

There are currently 20,000 children in schools for the blind in the United States. There are an estimated additional 15,000 blind children like Judy, most of them confined to their homes or in custodial institutions. Many are in mental institutions with sighted children and adults.

The Jordans solved their problem by founding The Hope School in a small frame residence and admitting several other blind-retarded children as companions for Judy. Last October, The Hope School moved into spacious new quarters at Lake Springfield—two sprawling one-story buildings encompassing 17,000 square feet and accommodating 28 children. Eventually, the school hopes to reach a capacity of 125 children.

The private, non-profit residential school has pupils ranging in age from four to 18 years and from seven states—Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Louisiana, Michigan, Nevada and Missouri. All were rejected by other schools. Most of the present pupils began life as premature infants. In addition to their educational and emotional problems, some are epileptics, some have orthopedic problems, and at least one is deaf.

Are they "hopeless"? No.

says Maurice Tretakoff, director of the school and a specialist in the training and education of blind-retarded children.

"None of these children will ever be able to lead normal lives," he explains, "but some can be returned to live at home and some will be able to advance to a school for normal blind children. Even the most severe cases can make some progress and achieve some independence."

Because they feel cut off from the world, the children have emotionally shut out the outside, Tretakoff says. "We try to stabilize the new pupil so he will accept his new environment. We establish rapport. Sometimes holding him on your lap and singing to him does it."

When contact with the child has been established, training can begin, Tretakoff continues. The program emphasizes individual attention, and is designed to enable the child to care for himself, associate with others and participate in family living.

"The children are fondled, cared for and trained by house mothers and teachers who have patience, understanding and determination," Tretakoff says. "But most of all, they have tremendous stores of love to share."

Attend Short Course

W.F. Williamson, City Water Superintendent here, and Orin Hackler, attended the West Texas Regional Short Course for Water and Sewage Works Operations held last week in Lubbock.

The conference, conducted at the Lubbock Water Department Municipal Drive, was divided into basic and advanced sections. This is the seventeenth annual school held in Lubbock, which covers numerous topics connected with water and sewage operation.

Both men attended various schools for the purpose of keeping abreast with new methods and ideas, as well as to brush up on old ones, to better serve the residents of Olton.

Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Holley are parents of a baby daughter, born Nov. 7 at Seminole. She weighed six pounds and eight ounces, and was named Dana Kay. The Holley's have three other children, Suzanne, 10; Daryl, 7; and Doug, 6. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Miller of Olton and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holley of Lubbock.

Great-grandfather is D.V. Randall of Perryton. The W.D. Holleys are former residents of Olton.

Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Eby visited with Mrs. Charlie Jones at the High Plains Hospital in Hale Center, Sunday. Mr. Jones is reported to be improving. It is thought that he may be able to return home in a few more days.

Attending the sub-district meeting at First Methodist Church in Oklahoma Lane Sunday afternoon were Willie Gene Green, sponsor, five members of M.Y.F., Cherie Thompson, Janice Hardaway, Jan Amerson, Lynda Collins, Danny Amerson and one guest, Billy Roy Smith.

Former Resident Appointed To Pediatrics Board

Melvin L. Thornton, M.D., 351 E. Hillebrand, San Antonio, Texas, has been appointed to the Committee on Accident Prevention of the American Academy of Pediatrics, according to E.H. Christopher, M.D., executive director.

Dr. Thornton is the son of Mr. H.C. Thornton and brother of L.L. (Fly) Thornton of Littlefield.

The Committee carries out educational programs designed to reduce and prevent accidents among children.

The Academy, with more than 9,100 members in the U.S., Canada, and Latin America, is the professional association of physicians certified in the care of infants, children, and adolescents.

HD Council Events Planned

A committee meeting of the Lamb County Home Demonstration Council was held Wednesday, Nov. 17 in the County Court Room.

Plans were made for the council Christmas party December 8 at 2 p.m. in the Reddy Room. Each club in the county will present a part of the program in the form of games, skits, etc. Gifts will be exchanged. All home demonstration club members in the county are invited to attend.

The annual Friendship Day was set for January 3 at 10:30 a.m. It will be in the Lamb County Community Center. A special guest, Bill Renfro of Lubbock, regional director of the Heart Association, will present a program on heart disease at 1:30 p.m. The public will be invited to this program.

Carlsbad To Hold Pecan Festival

Carlsbad, N.M., which long has reigned as queen to Carlsbad Caverns National Park, will play queen to the king of nuts—the pecan when the city holds its first Pecan Festival Thanksgiving weekend.

The Pecan Festival will be the city's fifth major celebration of the year. The Cavern City Ski Cats, famous for their fabulous summer water ski shows, will be presenting their first winter water ski show at Carlsbad Municipal Beach.

The high noon free water ski show Nov. 27 will provide entertainment during a barbeque to be held along the shores of beach lake within the Carlsbad city limits.

Events and activities to snare the imagination and interest of young and old will be staged in fast succession Nov. 26-27. The city will crown a Pecan Festival Queen and the 'Biggest Nut.'

...confused enough? Okay, again. Start with Caldwell. Don't bother to look of Caldwell there. Burleson County, Burleson town, is in Johnson County; and Johnson City--you've heard of this place--is miles away in Blanco County.

Or take Houston. Houston is in Harris County, but Houston County is three counties north, and the city of Crockett is its county seat. Crockett County is in far west Texas.

Look up Dimmitt County on the map. It's in south Texas. But the town of Dimmitt (with an extra 't') is in Castro County in the Panhandle. Yes, Castroville is back down in south Texas, in Medina County. Medina is in the next county north, Bandera.

If you still aren't dizzy, check Smithville--in Bastrop County. Smith County is in east Texas and includes the City of Tyler. Tyler County is further south, and it includes the town of Woodville. Wood County is further north, in east Texas next to Smith County.

There are others, but by now you should have got the idea. You can find them all on the Official State Highway Map. And at the same time you may want to start planning your next vacation or week-end outing in beautiful Texas--America's Fun-Tier.

Catholic Life Reports Growth

Policyholder members of the Catholic Life Insurance Union can be justly proud of the consistent growth of their organization according to Claude J. Marty, Grand Secretary of the Union. Total assets now stand at the all time high of $8,227,178.78 and are consistently increasing.

Reorganization of branches is increasing at a steady rate and as of this date there are 30 local branches operating under constitutions and by-laws tailored to meet the requirements of the locality, thereby allowing sufficient flexibility to carry out the Spiritual, Fraternal, Benevolent, and social benefits for the members.

Sales have increased consistently in 1965 and the membership drive which became operative in October will contribute to reaching the goal of 5 million for 1965 in sales. Approximately $5,000 will be contributed to the various Dioceses of Texas toward the education of seminarians for the holy priesthood as well as financial assistance toward Civic, Religious, the Catholic State League of Texas and other worthy organizations.

Changes in the Union's constitution and by-laws now make it possible to insure members up to age 70 and also insure the non-Catholic member of a Catholic marriage. This change has come about by the realization that the Catholic wives and children of a non-Catholic father were being denied protection in the Union.

Purchase of a new home-office building is now in process and the sale of the 511 North Main Avenue, San Antonio building has been completed.

The cooperation of the Officers and directors under the leadership of President Edward M. Dausin has been most progressive, constructive, and motivating, thereby making the Catholic Life Insurance Union the outstanding Catholic Insurance group in Texas, dedicated to serving the insurance needs of Catholic families at the lowest possible cost to the policyholder.

Agribusiness--Greatest Employer

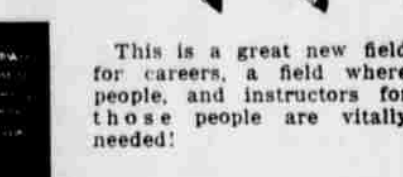

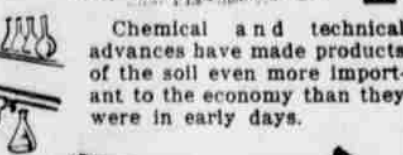

Although efficiency has reduced the manpower needs of agriculture to less than 10 per cent of the U.S. population.

Today Agribusiness -- production, conversion, and distribution of these products -- employs a whopping ONE THIRD of the nation's population; to make it by far the greatest employer of the work force.

Chemical and technical advances have made products of the soil even more important to the economy than they were in early days.

This is a great new field for careers, a field where people, and instructors for those people are vitally needed!

Pointing out the importance of Agribusiness in today's scene is but one of the functions of the National Farm-City Committee, which is sponsoring Farm-City Week, November 19-November 25, this year. Farm-City Week, like the committee which sponsors it, is aimed at bringing about better understanding between the rural and urban segments of society and thus building a better land for all.

Trees And Shrubs Can Be Grown On A Trellis

...something different in your grounds landscaping? Or large shrub trained on a trellis or wall is the answer, says Janne, Extension horticulturist at Texas University.

...enced gardeners may years developing a large tree or shrub, but the are worth the effort, time. Fruit trees are fully adapted for use as plants and many of the ornamental plants with colorful fruit like the pyracantha are also effective, he adds.

...training is started when the plant is very young, preferably a 1-year old whip or at a 3-year old budded or fruitstock. Start it by the trunk and large side branches, advises Janne.

...ally the whip is pruned within a foot or two ground by heading back main stem. Allow only side shoots to develop and direction to the desired effect. The ...Man Sam Sez every year the good tax folks get a lot of letters asking to come in for an audit. It scares the very brittle of most taxpayers to get these letters. It's pay to get scared. The Internal Revenue Service is reasonable. Get a letter calling you in for an audit, clamorously gather your records and settle your affairs with the tax man calmly, businesslike man-selected lateral shoots are tied to the trellis or post as they grow and the side shoots developing from them are pinched out except those wanted for additional arms in the framework or for fruiting spurs.

In most cases, espaliers are trained to grow so all branches will form a vertical plane. The plant may be trained to a single shoot, or to two shoots lying in opposite directions, usually horizontal, and is known as a cordon. The cordon, explains Janne, is usually trained along a horizontal wire or low wooden fence. Other methods include the fan-shaped and gridiron espaliers and both are suitable for growing along the wall, the horticulturist says.

The espaliered plant requires less room than a free standing plant and is an effective way to screen or protect a wall from the full heat of the sun. The plant can be fastened to a masonry wall but it is better to use a wood trellis to hold the plant 4 to 6 inches from the wall for air circulation and less heat damage to the plant. East and north exposures are best, says Janne.

To be effective, a uniform balance of growth must be maintained over the entire plant. This requires constant observation and careful pruning, says Janne. Root pruning, he adds, may be necessary if the plant is growing in unusually fertile soil and controlling the growth of side shoots becomes difficult. And don't let the cloth or plastic strips used for tying the branches in the desired positions become too tight. Cut and retie, says Janne, as the plant grows.

Altar Society Of St. Philip's Parish Holds Regular Meeting

The Altar Society of St. Philip's Parish held their regular meeting Wednesday night, Nov. 17 in the parish hall, with twenty-five members attending. The president, Mrs. Billy Gerik, opened the meeting, and dedicated it to the Poor Souls, Mrs. John Shannon led the opening prayer.

Discussions included the November old clothing drive, and preparations for the Thanksgiving Festival here today.

The society agreed to have a Christmas party and exchange secret prayer pal gifts at the December meeting. Mrs. Fred Albus, and Mrs. Charles Burt will furnish the refreshments for the party.

The president announced that a new electric mixer had been purchased for the kitchen in the parish hall, and the miscellaneous committee would serve the coffee, milk, and doughnuts after the eight o'clock mass Sunday, Dec. 19. The members presented a spiritual bouquet to Rev. Fr. Stanley who has been a patient in the Medical Arts Hospital.

For entertainment, Mrs. J. W. Walker read the story, 'Pollyanna'.

The closing prayer was led by Mrs. Clarence Albus, after which refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Clarence Albus and Mrs. Evelyn Albus.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burt accompanied by Joe Eppes of Missouri spent Tuesday of last week at Portales, N.M., visiting with the Maynard Miller family.

Attending the funeral services of Mr. Balemon in Seymour last Wednesday morning were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burns and Chester Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Albus, and Gloria, Grata, Kenneth and Sydney, were dinner guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fidelie Fetsch and boys, Levelland.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Demel and family visited recently with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lupton and children, Nazareth.

Miss Louise Albus, Amarillo, spent last weekend in the home of her mother, Mrs. Clara Albus.

Dinner guests Sunday of the Richard Homer family were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Heinerich and children, Slaton.

Attending the sausage dinner, sponsored by the members of St. Mary's Catholic Church at Umharger, last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gerik, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greener, and Mr. and Mrs. James Glumpler.

Mr. and Mrs. O.R. Watkins and son, Tommy of Levelland spent last Sunday afternoon in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.H. Diersing and other relatives.

Guests for dinner last Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burt and family were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Burt.

Parents Influence Money Attitude Of Children

Your attitude toward money is likely to influence the attitude which your small children will acquire, reminds Mrs. Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Boys and girls learn attitudes concerning making and receiving money and its use from their parents. Values and goals of the parents, in all probability, are the ones the children acquire, the specialist says.

"Young people must have experience to develop a philosophy and pattern of spending. They must have money for necessities as well as for extras. Children grow in ability to manage money by making choices in the way it is used, but this cannot be learned in one easy lesson," Mrs. Myers emphasizes.

If your child has an allowance or has a job that pays some money, he will have the opportunity to learn.

Lubbock, Mr. Joe Eppes of Missouri and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Herik and family.

The high school boys and girls basketball teams won both games from Spade there last Tuesday night. The boys won by a 72-64 count with William Sokora making 27 points for the team, Brenda Homer scored 29 points with the girls taking a 58-46 win.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Albus Jr. and Mrs. Victoria Albus all from Littlefield visited relatives here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Goulbert Demel and family spent last Sunday in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hughes and family of Seminole.

Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Dueterhaus have a new grandson born Wednesday Nov. 17 to their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown of Rhineland.

Accidents On Decrease On Texas Highways

A steady increase in the building of new highways -- highways with built-in safety features -- is saving lives and cutting down traffic accidents in Texas.

In the first three-quarters of 1965, traffic accidents and fatalities on primary highways in Texas showed a marked decrease.

The Texas Highway Department credits the decrease to safer, multi-lane divided highways, with a minimum of grade crossings and employing controlled access.

A third-quarter report by the Texas Department of Public Safety showed 94 fewer deaths on U. S. - and State-numbered and interstate highways as of October 1 than in the same period in 1964. Fifty-seven fewer accidents were recorded.

This is an especially dramatic decrease considering that primary highways in use increased by more than 400 miles and that they carried an increasingly heavier burden of total traffic.

The Highway Department disclosed that as of October 1, 27,324 miles of State- and U.S.-numbered highways and 1,438 miles of interstate highways were in use in Texas.

This compared to 1,268 miles of Interstate and 27,071 miles of State and U.S. highways under rubber during the same period in 1964.

In the same vein, in 1964 the Highway Department recorded 4.3 billion vehicle miles driven on completed interstate highways and 20 billion vehicle miles driven on all other completed Federal primary routes.

A sizable increase is forecast for 1965. For Interstate highways, the estimate is 5.7 billion vehicle miles and for other Federal aid primary routes, 21.4 billion vehicle miles.

Logically, the number of accidents and deaths should have increased in proportion to the increase in highway miles and driver miles.

This has not been the case, however. Experience has confirmed, and the DPS report reflected, that multi-lane divided highways, because of their built-in safety design, are 2-1/2 to three times safer than other types of highways.

Although traffic deaths on Interstate highway increased slightly from 82 to 86 in the first nine months of 1965, accidents decreased from 69 to 66, the DPS report showed.

More dramatically, for U.S.- and State-numbered highways, accidents dropped from 620 to 566 and deaths from 842 to 744. The Highway Department attributes a significant part of this improved record to the fact that more motorists are traveling over the newer, safer multi-lane facilities.

The report found a sizable increase in both deaths and accidents in cities and a slight decrease in towns with populations less than 2,500.

City accidents went from 649 in 1964 to 680 in 1965. Traffic deaths in cities climbed from 722 in 1964 to 764 in 1965.

In areas with populations less than 2,500, accidents fell from 104 in 1964 to 99 in 1965. Deaths went from 128 to 117.

Although accidents on Farm to Market roads dropped from 163 to 152, fatalities increased from 193 to 199. The Department added 778 miles to the Texas highway Farm to Market system in the 12 months preceding October 1, from 34,667 to 35,445 miles. On county roads accidents decreased from 110 to 97 and fatalities from 127 to 111.

In total accidents and deaths on all types of Texas highways, the DPS report found an overall decrease.

A total of 1,715 accidents were recorded in the first nine months of 1964, compared to 1,660 this year. During the same periods there were 2,094 fatalities in 1964, compared to 2,021 in 1965. The ratio of traffic deaths dropped from 5.1 in 1964 to 4.7 per 100 million vehicle miles traveled in 1965.

Nice for Friday lunch, flaked cooked fish added to a well-seasoned cheddar cheese sauce and served over toast. A sprinkling of minced parsley or paprika just before serving will make the dish look extra attractive.

Employment Is Scarce For School "Drop-Outs"

The youth who drops out of school to enter a work force from which unskilled jobs are rapidly disappearing will often find himself unemployed, since unemployment rates for under-educated workers runs almost three times as high as for high school graduates, according to Billy L. Lynch, manager of the Texas Employment Commission's Littlefield office.

"This often leads to remedial education and training at a high cost to both the trainee through time lost in low-paying jobs or during periods of unemployment and to the nation, which must provide special training opportunities duplicating regular educational opportunities that were usually available to the trainee in his youth," Lynch explained.

The TEC official emphasized that keeping youth in school is the least costly and most effective means of insuring that the educational and skill levels of an area's work force will be adequate to provide the manpower needed by modern industry.

Remedial education and re-training of adults is expensive since it requires an allowance to sustain the family through the training period. This is especially true in training those lacking basic educational skills, since longer training periods are required.

"It has been found in training courses conducted under the Manpower Development and Training Act that many school drop-outs are not literate enough to read ordinary notices and instructions given them at work, nor to read the section of a newspaper Lynch revealed. Basic computational skills have also often been found to be mediocre or non-existent. Valuable training time is required to bring these elementary skills to a functional level before actual skill training begins.

The Commission is cooperating with local educational business leaders in placing this in need of part-time to remain in school in order to be provided by local employers who can provide opportunities for them. Contact TEC at 385-5107.

PAINTS SPANISH MISSIONS -- Mrs. E.A. Mercer was busy working on the oil painting of a Spanish mission during the regular meeting of the Littlefield Art Club Monday, when the photographer took her picture. The club meets the second and fourth Monday of each month in the Reddy Room. Members work in oils, water colors or do sketching. Mrs. Mercer is currently the vice president of the club.

Santa Fe Starts Gift Certificates

A travel gift certificate has just been introduced by Santa Fe Railway, and is available through all Santa Fe ticket offices. Under the plan certificates may be purchased to include rail transportation, plus meals and a cash gift, if desired. Recipients of gift certificates may redeem them at any Santa Fe ticket office for the tickets and other features specified by the donor. Ross E. Chappell, general passenger traffic manager for Santa Fe, said the plan was devised after several customers had requested some arrangement enabling them to easily give a vacation trip to friends or relatives at Christmas, for anniversaries, birthdays and similar occasions.

Sandhill Cranes Set At 100,000

The 1965 sandhill crane season counted an estimated 100,000 cranes milling about grain fields and prairie lakes between Littlefield and Muleshoe. The Parks and Wildlife Department reported another 51,000 cranes resting daily on shallow lakes west of Lubbock and that 6,000 established roosting headquarters seven miles west of Big Spring. Biologists report the number of hunters increasing each year as word of the sandhill's food and game qualities relayed. Pass shooting around prairie lake roosting areas and decoy hunting in grain fields are proven methods for bagging the crafty crane.

Barnes Selected As West Texan Of The Month

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce Tuesday announced the selection of Ben Barnes, 27-year-old Speaker of the House of Representatives in the Texas Legislature, as its first West Texan of the Month.

The Board of Directors of the West Texas Chamber voted in October to select, beginning in November, a West Texan of the Month as a means of paying tribute to those men and women in West Texas who have given unselfishly of their time, energy, and talent to West Texas, to their state, and to their nation. Beeman Fisher of Fort Worth, president of the WTCC and also president of Texas Electric Service Company, announced Barnes' selection simultaneously with the publication of the November issue of WEST TEXAS TODAY, monthly magazine of the West Texas Chamber. Fisher said, 'Ben Barnes was a natural as the first West Texan of the Month. He is a remarkable young man -- a hardworking legislator who has exhibited his fairness and his consideration for the viewpoint of others.'

Coast Guard Academy Seeks Cadets

The United States Coast Guard Academy, the only U.S. military academy which appoints its cadets solely on the basis of competitive examination, is seeking applicants for the class convening July 12, 1966. Deadline for the applications is December 4, 1965.

Joint Meeting Held By Clubs

ANTON -- The Senior Home Demonstration Club was host to the Junior Club in a joint meeting held Wednesday in the Legion Hall.

A film on 'Herbs and Spices' was shown to the clubs. After a short business meeting the clubs discussed the County Council Christmas party to be held December 10 in the Legion Hall. The Junior Club will do the decorating and the Senior Club will furnish the refreshments.

Members of the Junior Club attending were Mmes. Care Whitley, Randall Craig, Thurman Davis, Bell Molder, Ray Peacock, Foy Mills and Tommy Cundiff. Members of the Senior Club were Mmes. T.J. May, W.G. McGrew, Paul Tibbets, Hobe Parker and Miss Francis Collins.

Spiced tea and cookies were served by Miss Collins.

Texas Automobile Thefts Down; Cost Still Exceeds $8 Million

Automobile thefts nationally were up four per cent while Texas car thefts dropped 2.3 per cent during the first six months of this year, executive committee members of the National Automobile Theft Bureau were told.

C.C. Benson, manager of NATB's Texas Division, stated at the annual meeting in Dallas that such a reduction is encouraging but that the 1965 statewide economic loss from car theft will still be a staggering $8.5 million.

Mr. Benson pointed out that for the twelve months ending with August, stolen car recoveries were down three per cent. "This is indicative," he said, "of the continued increase in activity of professional, commercial thieves."

Organized rings have moved many stolen cars into other states for sale while a substantial number have been transported to Mexico. Mr. Benson noted that professional car thieves have continued to use stolen or counterfeit titles, or titles and serial plates from wrecked cars in their efforts to dispose of stolen autos.

Other facts in the total Texas auto theft picture reported in the NATB statistical survey are that:

...Chevrolets continue to be the most popular target of car thieves and half of those remaining unrecovered are of that make. Fords make up 17 per cent of cars unrecovered during the year.

...Car thieves are concentrating on late model, high performance vehicles. Approximately 54 per cent of unrecovered cars are of the last three model years as compared with 42 per cent last year.

...A proportionately higher number of thefts are being committed by young men who want parts to build hot-rods. All-out "lock-up" campaigns, such as those conducted in Houston and are also making contributions toward the economic drain of car thefts, he said.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Theft: A Tax Deduction

During divorce proceedings, a court awarded part of the family's money to the wife. Her husband, outraged, reacted very much like the proverbial pugilist who cries: "I wuz robbed!"

In that spirit, he solemnly claimed a deduction for "theft" on his next income tax return. But the government took a dim view of his claim. And, after a court hearing, the judge ruled this was not exactly the kind of theft that the tax law had in mind.

Generally speaking, you do have a right to deduct for loss-by-theft of your personal property, above a $100 minimum. Unless you are covered by insurance, you may subtract the amount of the loss from your gross income.

But the government will insist on a reasonable showing that you really did suffer a theft. Mere unexplained disappearance is not enough.

In one case, a man's wallet vanished from his pocket at some unknown point during a walk downtown and a ride in an elevator. The court found "only the suspicion of a theft"—not enough to justify a tax deduction.

In another case, a valuable bird dog, released for exercise, simply disappeared. The court, observing that the dog might as probably be lost as stolen, denied tax relief to the owner.

On the other hand, you do not need overwhelming, ironclad proof to establish a claim. The circumstances of your loss may be convincing enough, even though no thief is ever caught.

For example: A traveler was advised, at an airport stopover, that it was safe to leave his camera in the plane. But upon his return he found the camera gone. Theft was held sufficiently likely, in these circumstances, to support his claim for a tax deduction.

A woman kept a diamond pin in a locked drawer, but with the key accessible to her maid. When she returned home after a few days' absence, the pin was missing. So were some clothes, so were some linens, and so was the maid. Held: good enough evidence of theft.
