

There'll Be A Touch Of Texas In His Walk—

There'll be a touch of Texas in his walk when Sgt. Al Schmid, the hero of Guadalcanal, gets back to Philadelphia.

The 22-year-old Marine, whose appearance in the Lone Star State put Texans to storming the war bond counters, expressed a desire for only one souvenir of his trip outside of the bond record set up. He'd sure like to have a pair of cowboy boots.

Frank Scofield, State War Bond Administrator, understood Schmid's hankering. Himself an old ranch hand, Scofield didn't wear any other kind of footwear for a quarter of a century of his life.

And so Texas' No. 1 Bond Man mentioned the hero's request to Charles Page, Austin architect, and the fighting leatherneck found himself corralled in a boot shop. His regulation shoes were unceremoniously jerked off and a pair of ornately decorated boots were on his feet before Schmid could say "Guadalcanal."

"Just wait till the gang in Philly sees 'em!" Schmid chuckled.

The "gang" he travels with now are invalid servicemen in the Navy hospital where Schmid is under treatment for the wounds he received in the bloody Battle of Tenaru River. He got permission from medical officers to make the trip to Texas, and the message he brought was this:

"Those boys over there, they can really fight. If they give out of ammunition, they'll throw rocks. If they give out of rocks, they'll use their bare hands. So you just keep on buying war bonds and pretty soon we'll have 'em under control."

"Gee, it was great to be in Texas and meet all the fine folks," Schmid went on. "It was wonderful of Mrs. Clara Driscoll to go to all the expense of sponsoring my trip down here to help out in the big bond drive."

Mrs. Driscoll is Texas Director of Women's activities in the War Bond campaign. She was hostess to the marine hero and his bride during his stay in Austin.

"She's a real hero, a great patriot," the sergeant said.

As he spoke, Texans were over-subscribing a $400,204,000 Second War Loan quota by upwards of $100,000,000. Scofield has predicted that not a county in Texas, in the final scoring, will be found short of its goal.

The young Marine and the red-headed War Bond Administrator struck up a warm-hearted partnership in Texas. Schmid, the boy who, blinded by shrapnel, kept on firing until he had accounted for 200 Japs—and the native Texan have in common a lot of steadfast purpose and a grand sense of humor.

Though he wears the Navy Cross and the Purple Heart on his blouse, Schmid is just a likeable, friendly kid with a great feeling for life. Around him, strangers instantly responded to his natural, lovable qualities and are soon calling him by his nickname—Smitty.

He hopes to regain his lost vision. Beyond a mention of that hope, he doesn't comment on the situation.

Schmid was placed aboard a destroyer and evacuated from the island after the Tenaru battle. As a matter of fact, he was more dead than alive when he was put on the destroyer, and he could dimly hear a voice saying, "No need to take this one below deck. He's dead."

Schmid couldn't see, he couldn't speak, he couldn't move anything but his right hand. But he got busy, wiggling that, and a surprised voice exclaimed, "Say! He's not dead—yet."

Scofield is serving as Collector of Internal Revenue for the First Texas District in addition to his work as war bond man. Indefatigable, he has traveled thousands of miles and has made thousands of speeches to interest more Texans more deeply in this home-front battle.

But Scofield somehow finds time to devote some attention to his native love for the country. He is a breeder of fine cattle, has been a judge at livestock exhibits throughout the nation and in some foreign countries and oversees the ranching activities on his country place near Austin.

With South Plains Men In The Service

The following poem has been composed by Mrs. J. E. White of Littlefield, and dedicated to her son, Pfc. Jesse Ray White, of the Infantry, who has been in service since December, and is stationed at Camp Howze, Gainesville, Texas:

MY SOLDIER BOY
With a lonely heart I'm thinking,
Of a cold winter day,
It was the eighth of December,
My son went away.

He answered the call of Uncle Sam
To be a soldier boy,
He is just a lad and
Is our pride and joy.

The day he left was cold and dreary,
Nothing seemed so sad
As when the bus carried him away,
Away from Mom and Dad.

Now spring is here and summer is nigh,
No music do we hear,
Just to fancy we hear his foot-steps,
It always brings a tear.

He told me not to worry,
That he had a job to do,
To help his pals and country
To lick a Jap or two.

Before he went away I had a wonderful dream
Of pastures green and valley long
Then came the blessed words
Of the Twenty-third Psalm.

It was for me it seemed to say,
Great comfort to me it brings,
To read it and pray
He will come back some day.

Wherever duty calls him he will gladly go,
'Cause I've fixed it up with Jesus
To guide him and shield him
If he should meet the foe.

"Dear Mr. and Mrs. Drake,

Farm Commando All-Crop Harvester School Announced By Jones Hardware For May 25

Jones Hardware, Allis Chalmers dealers, have announced a Farm Commando All-Crop Harvester school for Tuesday night, May 25, at 9 o'clock, at which all farmers of this area are invited, and more especially those farmers who are using Allis-Chalmers farm machinery.

The purpose of the school is to give users of the All-Crop Harvester instructions on the operation and maintenance of this farm machine. Inasmuch as farm machinery of all kinds is hard to obtain at the present time, and farmers necessarily need to know just how to keep their machinery in repair and ready to go, this school is being held to instruct users of the Allis-Chalmers Harvester on just how to keep it in good condition and ready for operation at all times.

The school will be held at Jones Hardware Company, now located in their new quarters, former Hall Motor Co. building.

"Random Harvest," Mighty Drama, To Be Shown At Palace Theatre This Coming Week End

"Random Harvest," James Hilton's best-selling novel, will be shown at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, and continuing through Tuesday. Ronald Coleman and Greer Garson, stars of this mighty drama, have difficult and exciting characterizations, playing virtually dual roles in a story which spans the years from 1918 to 1935. Coleman plays a war victim of amnesia as Smithy, who is restored to normal life by the love and devotion of Paula (Greer Garson). Their ideal love affair and marriage and the accident which restores Coleman's memory makes this the most absorbing screen play to be presented in Littlefield since "Lost Horizon."

Others in the cast of "Random Harvest" are Susan Peters, Philip Dorn, Edmund Gwenn, and Reginald Owen.

State-Wide AAA Meeting Called

Groundwork for next year's AAA farm program will be laid at College Station May 21-22 under the direction of Texas agricultural leaders, George Slaughter, chairman, state AAA committee, has announced. Representatives at the conference, which is being sponsored by the State AAA Committee, composed of 12 farmers representing the major types of agriculture throughout the state, will make suggestions as to how the farm program should be operated in Texas during 1944. Out-of-state agricultural leaders who will attend the two-day meeting and assist in formulating plans include C. D. Walker, Assistant Director, Southern Division, AAA, and J. B. Daniels, Chief, Program Development Section, AAA. Both are from Washington, D. C. A representative from the Program Operations Section, Jackson, Miss., also is expected to attend. Plans for drafting the 1944 program got underway in Texas three weeks ago when county AAA committeemen and administrative officers in a series of district meetings voiced their opinions and studied questions covering all phases of the new program. Using the 1943 AAA program as a guide, they were asked whether the standards now used in approving practices are satisfactory or whether they should be changed during 1944. The recommendations from these meetings will be the guide for drafting the 1944 program plans at the conference, Slaughter said.

Applications May Be Mailed For Canning Sugar

Owing to the various reports and the difficulty of keeping the records for sugar transactions correctly it has been decided by the Lamb County Rationing Board not to have various places in the county for issuing sugar for canning. Any application for canning sugar can be handled by mail, and all applicants have to do is to mail war ration books No. 1 together with a letter stating just how many quarts of fruit you have to put up at that time, same signed by you, then the board will act upon your application and if passed will mail you sugar coupons and return your war ration book to you. It is the intention of the board to issue only 10 pounds to each book at this time and if later more sugar is needed citizens may get same by following the same plan, and a total of 25 pounds can be issued against each book provided applicants can show the board it is absolutely necessary.

The government has asked that each board hold the sugar allotment to ten pounds per person if possible, and therefore, the public is urged to cooperate with the government, and not ask for more than each person actually needs.

TOWN AND FARM IN WARTIME

RATION REMINDER

Gasoline—"A" book coupons No. 5, good for four gallons each, expire May 21, outside the Eastern gasoline shortage area.

Sugar—Coupon No. 12 good for 5 lbs., must last through May 31. Coupons for sugar for home canning available at local ration boards on and after May 15.

Coffee—Stamp No. 23 (1 lb.) good through May 30.

Shoes—No. 17 stamp in War Ration Book One good for one pair through June 15.

Meats, etc.—Red Stamps E, F, G, H remain valid through May. Red Stamp J becomes valid May 23.

Processed Foods—Blue Stamps G, H, J remain valid through May.

WHAT IS "HOME-CANNED?"

Foods are "home-canned," says OPA, if—(1) they have been canned in a kitchen primarily used for the preparation of meals, or to demonstrate the preparation of meals; (2) they have been canned in a separate building or shed, which is a farm home has equipped for canning purposes, provided that the owner has first obtained permission from his local ration board to use such facilities.

FARM MEAT REGULATIONS

New meat-rationing regulations provide that a farmer and his family may consume meat raised on any farm he owns or operates, and may transfer meat from one of his farms to another to provide food for members of the household, without giving up ration points, even if the meat is not slaughtered on his farm. However, if the farm owner does not live on a farm, he must give up ration points for any meat he consumes elsewhere. Under the original regulations, a farmer who brought his own cattle to a custom slaughtering plant had to surrender red point stamps for the meat, while if he killed and dressed an animal himself the meat was "ration-free." A farm or ranch employer who feeds his employees in a bunkhouse or dining hall may now use meat and other rationed food raised on his farm on the same basis as if the employees were fed in the household.

SUGAR ALLOWED FOR CANNING

Sugar for home canning will be limited to one pound for each four quarts (or eight pounds) of the finished product and may be secured on written application to the housewife's local board. Each person is allowed not more than 25 pounds. Any family can apply for sugar to put up jams, jellies, and preserves at the rate of five pounds per person. Last year, sugar for preserves was limited to one pound per person.

OVERSEA PARCEL POST

Packages now may be mailed to a soldier overseas if a request is received from the soldier and the envelope bearing the APO cancellation mark is presented at the time of mailing. Formerly, the approval of the commanding officer was required. Current restrictions as to weight and size of packages remain in effect.

FARM MACHINERY RATIONING

At their discretion, state War Boards can now cancel county quotas on any or all types of farm machinery according to revised farm machinery rationing order issued by the War Food Administration. If a state board exercises this authority, farmers will be required to locate the machinery they want to buy before they are given a purchase certificate. Furthermore, county farm rationing committees may set the expiration date of purchase certificates any time between 10 and 60 days after issuance, or may cancel the certificate after the holder has had a reasonable time to buy the specified machinery.

MUST CARRY DRAFT CARDS

Selective Service registrants who were 18 years old on or before November 13, 1942, must have their local board classification cards (Selective Service Form No. 57), as well as their registration certificate (Form 2), in their possession after May 13. Men without both cards are liable to fine and imprisonment. Selective Service headquarters warned.

FREIGHT RATES REDUCED

More than $350,000,000 will be saved annually by a reduction in railroad rates that goes into effect May 15. In most cases the savings will be reflected automatically in reduced prices through the operation of existing maximum price regulations. Added to current actions to roll back the cost of living, these freight reductions will contribute substantially to the prevention of inflation.

TWINE AND ROPE FOR '43 HARVEST

Farmers can expect reasonable supplies of hayrope, binder twine, and other cordage for harvesting their 1943 crops. However, farmers are warned to buy only what they actually need and to conserve supplies now on hand. Many substitute materials are being used and supplies will require more careful handling than in the past.

GAS FOR FURLONGS

Members of the armed forces on leave or furlough for three days or more may get a special gasoline ration (up to five gallons) for personal errands when other means of transportation are not available. The ration is obtained by presenting pass, leave, or furlough papers to a rationing board.

HEARINGS ON GAS RATIONS

New rules permit local war price and rationing boards to conduct hearings to revoke gasoline rations if—(1) the motorist is charged with speeding (driving over 35 miles an hour); (2) the motorist is charged with abuse of his tires; (3) an applicant for a new gasoline ration is believed to have committed a previous violation; (4) a ration holder charged with a violation demands return of his book before a written notice of hearing can be sent him.

SAVE TYPEWRITER RIBBON SPOOLS

Saving typewriter ribbon spools will postpone the day when ribbons must be wound on wooden "carriers" says WPB. All materials for ribbon spools are scarce and substitutes for steel—such as paper—have not proved satisfactory. Typists are asked to turn in a used spool when buying a new typewriter ribbon.

WAR ALARM CLOCKS AT $1.65

The new war alarm clock will be sold for not more than $1.65 exclusive of tax. WPB is allocating materials for 1,700,000 of these clocks to ease a national shortage.

ACTION TAKEN TO HALT BUTTER SPOILAGE

Texas and Louisiana district OPA offices have been authorized to reduce the point values of some grades of country butter where slow movement during flush milk production seasons threatens waste or spoilage. Temporary ration point reductions may be authorized for farmers who produce 10 pounds of butter or less per week. The farmer must apply to his local board if he wishes to reduce point values. Retail stores must secure the same authorization.

Rewards For the "Grads"

Your success thus far causes us to feel that you will become even finer men and women. Having completed a great stride in your education in time of war, we feel that you will be stronger and more able to carry your share of the world's burdens.
