HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

Well, folks, it was a year ago yesterday morning that the present management of The Herald took over actual charge of the business and set about the task of publishing a daily newspaper for the people of Big Spring and territory.

We found ourselves confronted with many problems, most of them arising from the fact that, while we had been in the city less than a week, our predecessors in ownership of the paper had been here 23 years and, through that period of publishing The Herald, had become thoroughly conversant with every detail of community life.

It was our task to learn as much as possible about the community and its people in a brief period as we could; at first we had to work with the fact staring us in the face that many, many mistakes would be made because of lack of such knowledge.

You know there's nothing more nettling to a person who has lived in a place all his life than to see his name misspelled or his initials twisted in his local newspaper. And, if you want to see a person all up in the air and angry a half dozen ways at once just let some prominent local club woman see her name in wrong, or perhaps the name of some other woman of whom she is not particularly fond listed right next to hers. Such details as that made our path a little rocky at times. But it is much brighter now.

Well, you can imagine we sweated plenty down here in The Herald office for the first few months. We had a big bill to fill, taking the place of so efficient a staff.

The first year has been entirely worthwhile. A goodly sum has been spent to enlarge the facilities of the paper; the only full leased wire report of the Associated Press received by a paper between Abilene and El Paso was added two weeks after we bought the paper. The Associated Press feature service also was added. We have maintained a staff correspondent in the state capital, thus providing our readers much news in addition to the AP spot reports. Correspondents have been named in the communities of Howard and adjoining counties. Services of the paper have been extended the high school students for their weekly publication, as well as to the rural schools of the county.

Reporters capable of correctly writing news of the oil fields, local sporting events, society items, and the hundred and one other subjects that come daily over the desk of the editor have been maintained on the staff.

The people of Big Spring have been exceedingly kind to us. Oh, of course, some of them fumed considerably at first. But we point with justifiable pride to the fact that the actual daily circulation of the paper has increased approximately 25 per cent and that The Herald reaches more than 85 per cent of all the homes in Big Spring each day.

As in the past under both the former and the present management so in the future will The Herald strive always to help lead and never to be found following or refusing to aid in anything calculated to facilitate the prosperity and genuine welfare of the community.

The present owners of The Herald have quite an investment in the property and from a purely

Free Conference Measure Appropriates $550,000 For System

AUSTIN, March 18. (AP)—The penitentiary free conference report recommending passage of a bill appropriating $550,000 for rehabilitation of prison properties was adopted by the house today. The vote was 80 to 21.

The bill provided for improvement of the Huntsville plant by expenditure of $150,000 and gave the prison board wide latitude in the expenditure of the remainder of the appropriation. The board might, according to the bill, construct one, two or three farm units on either the Darrington, Imperial or Harlem farms.

The $150,000 for Huntsville and $300,000 for the farms was made a separate appropriation with an additional $100,000 for improvement of the Goree farm for women and the Wynne farm for tubercular patients. It was pointed out by members of the conference committee that the governor might veto the appropriation for the Goree and Wynne farms, but could not cut any of the items in the main appropriation without vetoing the bill.

Senator Tom Deberry of Bogata, chairman of the senate committee, in signing the bill, stated:

"We have gone too far in trying to meet the wishes of some one else. Our friends will make fun of us, and our enemies sneer at us. I am almost ashamed to sign such a measure." Deberry had adhered to a plan to proceed with the permanent location of the prison system on present owned lands by appropriating sufficient funds to construct a central industrial and farm unit and then lay it in the governor's lap and see if he has the guts to veto it."

The entire senate committee signed the bill, including Charles S. Gainer of Bryan, minority member. Only three of the house committee signed the bill, John Wallace of Teague and A. P. Johnson of Carriazo Springs refusing to support the proposed act.

Cash in Trousers Pocket Taken When Home Is Burglarized

The reign of house-breakers, which has existed here for more than a week, continued Monday night, when the home of E. B. Ribble, 106 West 17th street, was entered and a pair of trousers, containing $10 in cash, belonging to Clarence Fielder, who resides with the Ribble family, stolen.

Entrance was gained through a window near Mr. Fielder's bed.

BIG SPRING LIONS VISITORS AT LUNCHEON OF STANTON CLUB

Dr. W. R. White Is Heard At Rotary

Dr. W. R. White, mission secretary of the Texas Baptist convention, in an address before the Rotary club at its Tuesday luncheon, declared that there must always be constructive forces as opposed to destructive forces and that "you must have faith in community and in your fellow man in order to accomplish things."

"The man with energy and unselfishness is the constructive force; he has a buoyant, optimistic spirit in regard to the problems of his town. Constructive force must have constructive thinking," he added.

Rotarian guests were Ben Stamps of Sweetwater and Taylor Lord of Midland.

Other guests were Garland Woodward, Rev. S. B. Hughes, J. Carroll of Lubbock, T. T. McCasland of Abilene, Dr. W. R. White of Dallas, Miss Pauline Melton of Big Spring and C. Stockton of Fort Worth.

Garland Woodward delivered a brief address as did Rev. S. B. Hughes of the East Fourth street Baptist church, where Dr. White is holding a revival. Rev. Hughes invited all to attend the meeting.

Seventeen members of the Big Spring Lions club motored to Stanton Tuesday noon for a joint meeting with the club in that city and to repay a visit made by the Stanton body to Big Spring last Friday.

The joint meeting and program was held in the basement of Stanton's new First Methodist church where a sumptuous meal was served by women of the church. The menu consisted of chicken, dressing, creamed potatoes, tomatoes, salad, giblet gravy and pie.

Frank Boyle, president of the Lions club of this city, had charge of the program. Visitors made personal introductions and the Burke Brothers who were in Big Spring last week with H. T. Dinsmore of the System Board Review, rendered numerous musical numbers during the luncheon hour.

Those attending the meeting from Big Spring were: Dr. Chas. K. Bivings, W. B. Ballard, T. E. Johnson, E. E. Eldredge, Cecil Long, H. L. Bohannon, Frank Boyle, M. R. Showalter, C. A. Cowan, Stanley Norman, Zach Parsons, Cecil C. Collins, E. F. Duncan, C. C. Carter, W. T. Mann, Theron Hicks, and Pat Ray.

OIL OUTPUT IS UP FOR WEEK

TULSA, Okla., March 18. (AP)—Bringing to an abrupt halt a downward trend that brought a decrease of 146,800 barrels in the daily average estimated production of light and heavy crude during the weeks ending March 8 and 1, an increase of 46,000 barrels was registered during the week ending March 15, to bring the grand total for the country to 2,584,407 barrels.

This increase, as shown by the current report of the Oil and Gas Journal, was registered chiefly in the Oklahoma area where 47,700 barrels were added due to increase of 22,110 and 27,150 in the Oklahoma City and Seminole areas respectively. Small decreases were registered in other state fields.

Light oil production in the mid-continent area gained 59,591 barrels; heavy oil, less than 1,000. The West Texas area climbed 3,000 barrels. Gulf Coast and Southwest Texas heavy crude areas halted precipitous upward trends registered over the past six weeks to drop slightly below the mark for the preceding week.

Rocky Mountain area gained 4,000 barrels, and California lost 11,200 in light and 3,500 in heavy oil. Decreases in the Pacific Coast field group were general. The grand total production for the country for the week ending March 8 was 2,538,308. The light oil increase for the past week was 52,326.

Kansas production was 116,210, compared with 113,540 for the week ending March 8.

HUSTON'S ALLEGED DEPOSIT FOR BROKERS SOUGHT AS TESTIMONY

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—After a heated exchange with Chairman Huston of the republican national committee and a row among its members, the senate lobby committee today issued a subpoena to obtain from the New York brokerage firm of Blythe and Bonner records of a $36,100 deposit made last year by Huston.

Huston, former president of the Tennessee River Improvement Association, objected strenuously to the committee action and characterized it as unwarranted interference with his personal affairs. He also asserted his "character had been attacked."

The committee first proposed to obtain a receipt of all of Huston's accounts with the New York firm, but when Senator Robinson, republican of Indiana, protested and threatened to carry the fight to the senate, the subpoena was limited to the records of the $36,100 contribution from the Union Carbide Company.

The discussion raged in the committee room for several minutes and was one of the stormiest scenes that has taken place since the lobby committee started its sessions several months ago.

BOSTON, March 18. (AP)—Trading in wool remains very dull. A few transactions are reported in 56s, and 48, 50s, fleeces, that indicate prices of these grades are in buyers' favor. Offerings from South America are being made at slightly lower figures than were quoted on similar wools last week.

TICKET SALES COMPLETED FOR REFINERS' BANQUET

R. E. Thomason Outlines Platform, Will Speak Here

Although it has been known for months that Mayor R. E. Thomason of El Paso was a candidate for Congress from the Sixteenth district, it was not until Monday afternoon that the announcement became official in Big Spring when Mr. Thomason authorized The Herald to place his name before the voters.

While a visitor in Big Spring, Mr. Thomason announced he will return to this city within the next few days and will be prepared to go before the people and tell them of the questions now pending and forthcoming in Congress and how he stands on those problems. After renewing friendships in this city Monday, Mr. Thomason departed for San Angelo, the home of his only opponent to date, E. E. (Pat) Murphy.

Mr. Thomason is no stranger to citizens of Big Spring. He has talked here on numerous occasions before Chamber of Commerce meetings and at functions of other organizations. He had spent 49 of his 50 years in this world as a resident of Texas having been brought to this state shortly after his birth in Shelbyville, Tenn. For 29 years Mr. Thomason resided near Gainesville, Cooke county where his father was a country doctor, farmer and merchant.

The candidate for congress is a graduate of Southwestern University at Georgetown and from the law department of the University of Texas. After graduating from the University of Texas, Mr. Thomason was prosecuting attorney in Gainesville for four years and then became an active member of the El Paso bar, an organization with which he is still identified.

Mr. Thomason's public service started with four years in the state legislature as representative from El Paso county. He was speaker of the house from 1919-21. As a candidate for governor in the democratic primaries of 1920, Mr. Thomason

NEW LAW EFFECTIVE IN 90 DAYS

Become Common Carriers And Purchasers Of Crude

AUSTIN, March 18. (AP)—Governor Moody today filed without his signature the bill enlarging powers of the railroad commission in regulating pipe lines.

The bill, designating pipe line owners and operators as public utilities and making them common carriers and common purchasers, will not become effective until 90 days.

"The bill may not work any good, but I have not been shown where it will work a harm," the governor noted on it.

The governor said he was under the impression he had twenty days to consider the bill, but later found out he had to make disposition of it within ten days. This time limit would have expired tomorrow night.

"I cannot foretell the results of this bill," he said. "It was intended to prevent a monopoly and to improve present distressing conditions. Some independent operators have opposed it, but the overwhelming majority of oil men not connected with any major company are strong in their support of this measure. I feel that in a large measure monopolies and trusts are responsible for the loss of what is being produced from its oil resources. I am opposed to these tendencies."

The bill was advocated by members of the recently organized Texas Independent Petroleum Association.

Salvation Army Opens Campaign

Campaign headquarters for the Salvation Army financial drive to secure $3,500 on which to operate the ensuing 12 months have been moved from the ground floor of the Petroleum Building to room 106 in the Segal building, according to an announcement made Tuesday by R. L. Portwood, campaign manager sent here from the Dallas headquarters office.

Plans for the campaign will be discussed at a meeting of the executive board in the offices of Steve Ford in the Petroleum building Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Portwood reviewed the Salvation Army record made during the past three and one-half months during which time Captain and Mrs. Scott have carried on the work without a regular financial budget.

Items in the record that drew particular praise from Mr. Portwood included the following: 765 garments distributed; 91 pairs of shoes given needy; 31 families given medical attention; three aged people given transportation to relatives; 38 transients with families assisted; 147 local families given miscellaneous aid; 80 open air meetings held; 20 indoor meetings conducted; 12 young peoples' meetings held; 33 persons converted and five junior soldiers enlisted for the Salvation Army.

"This record will clearly reveal that the Salvation Army is playing a vital part in the charity work of Big Spring. Other organizations are also doing a wonderful work, but Salvation Army workers are particularly trained in how and where to find the most needy and how to make the available funds do a maximum amount of work. Captain Scott can justly feel proud of the record he has made while in Big Spring the past three and one-half months for the details of his report will compare favorably with those of cities many times larger than Big Spring," said Mr. Portwood.

ures the Lower South Plains can produce cotton at the small cost of ten cents per pound as compared with seventeen cents in some sections of this state, and an average of twenty-nine cents in other states," Wilson further states.

"There are several arguments that we can give offhand which we believe will warrant our increase of acreage. Our ground is not filled with stumps and rocks and can be plowed in a very short time with tractors and double-row plows. The level surface of our farms make plowing with tractors economical.

"Coupled with those facts we are not hindered by the necessity in some sections of chopping and our methods of harvesting cotton are by far cheaper than almost any of the cotton states."

Wilson noted as an example for this section to produce cotton the comparison with the manufacturing industries.

"We do not believe that a factory equipped to make tractors will endeavor to manufacture airplanes, neither should our farmers drop their surest means of support by decreasing their cotton production and divert their attention to other crops."

Longer Staple

In line with a program being sponsored by various leading farmers and gins in this section farmers will probably plant a longer staple cotton during the 1930 season as an answer to the low market price paid for this product now.

"We believe that by growing a better staple cotton for markets we can solve the present low price," Wilson states.

"Summing up these reasons for acreage instead of reduction we see that the Lower South Plains is a leading cotton producing section; it produces cotton cheaper; it is better adapted to raise this crop; it can easily increase its cotton acreage without decreasing acreage in feed for the reason that there is more raw land here and it is the home of farmers who know how to raise cotton better than they do any other crop."

Alleged Hi-Jacker, Found Dead, Lived In Howard County

SHREVEPORT, La., March 15 (AP)—Bruce Payne, 20, formerly of Abilene, Tex., but more recently of Monroe, La., whose body with a bullet hole in it was found in a picnic grove a few miles north of Shreveport last Sunday morning, will probably occupy a pauper's grave here, said representatives of the sheriff's department.

They reported that Albert Payne, father of the slain youth, who came here yesterday from Monroe to identify the body, declined to receive the body, saying he was unable to finance a funeral.

The elder Payne insisted there must have been some mistake about circumstances of Payne's death, it having been the belief expressed by the authorities that the youth was shot while attempting to hi-jack a "petting party," who, because of possible embarrassment, had failed to disclose their identity.

No word has come from young Payne's wife, reported to be at Abilene.

So far four men, Sheriff Hughes announced today, have identified Payne's body as that of a hi-jacker who held them up and robbed them in the grove in which Payne's corpse was found.

Bruce Payne, 20, found shot to death in a picnic ground near Shreveport, La., lived with his father A. S. Payne on a farm in eastern Howard county until the latter part of December, 1929, according to information obtained Tuesday from the Howard county sheriff's department.

Payne left Howard county in company with two men who were hunted as suspects in the Goldthwaite and Brownwood robberies last December.

SOUTH PLAINS WILL PLANT MORE COTTON

LAMESA, March 18.—Contrary to government warnings farmers on the lower South Plains will increase their cotton acreage this year, it was revealed in a survey of ten counties in this section.

"We see no inducement for reducing cotton acreage after looking over government figures that prove cotton can be grown in this section cheaper than any other part of the cotton producing world," Wm. A. Wilson, manager of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce said. "The counties included in our survey, which was made by the agricultural department of our chamber are Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Kent, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, and Andrews. Farmers and county agents all stated that they not only will plant the same acreage that they harvested last year but that they will break in new and heretofore uncultivated soil to be planted in cotton. They did not state that they would reduce their feed crops any."

Recent Meeting Of Young Folk Is Reviewed

The Christian Endeavor Convention of the Midland District which was held in Big Spring, appeared to be an outstanding success, and from all that can be learned thus far, it was a huge success. Beginning Saturday morning, the eighth day of the breezy month of March, the delegates of the District began to "blow in" as might truly be said of this wonderful section of West Texas. None other than the bright, beaming, and although slightly tinged with mud, or better say dust—faces, a spark of intelligence might be apprehended in the eyes of the delegates; that is—if one was a close observer. None of the local people could tell exactly why, but the visitors seemed to be in a rather cheerful mood. These wandering invaders of Big Spring were immediately taken into custody and given a hearty and soulful reception. Although several of the charging crusaders showed a slight touch of modesty and prudence, they were soon convinced that those petty fantasies would all be for naught.

Registration of the delegates then began. Around the approximate number of twenty-one delegates were made note of in the registration books. Through the careful and diligent efforts of the officers in charge, not a one of the visitors, unsung heroes or heroines was overlooked. Those who registered were: Midland, Texas, Mrs. Florence A. Richardson, Lesley Jane Cragin, Thelma Sanguley, Billie Kite Smith, Thomas D. Murphy, Jr., Forest, Texas—Helen Creath, Garden City, Texas—Katharine Neal, J. B. Ratliff Jr., H. B. Allen, Mrs. H. B. Allen, Mrs. Elvyn Currie, Edith Currie, Thalia Allen; Big Spring, Texas—J. H. Smith, Mildred Creath, Ruth Dodson, Georgia Owen, Walter Bell, Thelma Farris, and Mary Jean Dubberly.

During the two days, Saturday and Sunday, the program was executed with a tremendous success with the help of the older ladies and deacons of the church. The spiritual and devotional plans of the convention were fully considered and all of the delegates present must surely have been benefitted in many ways. The local district was reorganized and officers of this district were elected and installed (that is why the scribe of this little missile of words is attempting to describe the all important convention).

This is to me one of the most pleasant paragraphs that I have written yet. You ask me why? Because, says me, it deals with all good things to eat. Now the matter is as simple as can be. That is, it is simple until one gets too much, then it becomes a serious problem. To get to the point, we were all sumptuously stuffed, or to put it into a more polite form, gorged. The real meaning of all this palaverating is that several banquets and feasts were served, thus you may see the full cognizance of it all.

And then we come to the installation of President J. H. Smith. Following is his testimonial: "I don't know why you have wished the office of president upon me, but as long as you have I wish to thank you for the honor. I assure you that I will do all there is in my power to make the Midland District an outstanding field of evangelism. I think I speak the sentiments of the executive council when I say we are going to make this district lead the other councils in Christian Endeavor work. It has not been my pleasure to have had the experience some of you have had in working with the Christian Endeavor Unions, but with the advice of this splendid council. These, the selected group of advisers forming the executive council in this District. We have great possibilities in West Texas. This district has not been organized long but we are going to start a series of meetings at the different towns. Our first of this sort will convene at Midland some time next month.

"I will cooperate with the unions of this district in every possible way to stimulate interest of the Christian Endeavor.

"I wish to thank you again for the office you have elected me for, and I will try to make the best of the wonderful opportunities."—Very truly yours, J. H. Smith.

The local Christian Endeavor consists of the following members: Pauline Hart, Norah Pyl Marchbanks, Don Yarbrough, Georgia Owen, Miss Elizabeth Owen, Ben Allen Jr., Beatrice Hill, Miss Kitty Wingo, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Brooks, Ruth Dodson, Mary Jean Dubberly and Bernice Hanson.

Notice that several of the local members were elected to a district office of offices.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Politics is just one of many vigorous enthusiasms for William J. Granfield, who upset staid republican tradition in the district which includes ex-President Coolidge's home by winning election as a wet and democrat.

He is a keen follower of sport and an able lawyer, but his chief interest lies in his three children: Eleanor Jane, 8, William, Jr., 7, and John, 2, who lost their mother last August when Mrs. Granfield died. It is a common sight to see Granfield playing games with the youngsters in the parks about the city, or skating with them during the winter.

Baseball, football and other sports are bound to crop up in "Bill" Granfield's conversation. He watches a baseball game with the critical eye of an expert, for he was a star at Notre Dame before graduation in 1913 and he was up for a year with the Cincinnati "Reds" the ensuing year.

The "Reds" headlines in those days included Joe Tinker, Johnnie Kling and three-fingered Mordecai Brown.

As for football, Granfield has traveled far to see Notre Dame in action. Granfield knows basketball, too, as one who was cage luminary in his day.

Granfield took up law when he returned to his native Springfield and has handled noted cases in western Massachusetts with success.

Even with his legal work and his ventures into politics—as member of the city council and later, the state legislature, Granfield found time at first to play on local semi-pro baseball teams.

At 40 he retains the sturdy physique of the athlete, packing 178 pounds into his five feet, eight and a half inches.

Lynch Davidson May Enter Race
AUSTIN, March 18.—Possibility that former Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson of Houston may enter the governor's race as a candidate this year was seen by his friends here after he visited the capitol this week. He made no statement of possible plans in connection with the political race.

His comment on Gov. Moody's controversy with the legislature on prison relocation that Governor Moody had "more than met his expectations," was said to have been jocular but at the same time a hint of disagreement with the governor's ideas and policies. Mr. Davidson is on record as favoring prison relocation.

The former lieutenant governor served as state chairman of the "harmony democrats" organization two years ago which joined Governor Moody in seeking to hold dry democrats in the harness of party regularity.

Mr. Davidson recently made public a letter he had written to E. G. Senter, Dallas candidate for governor, saying that he did not consider "any candidate so far announced" as suitable material for election as governor.

TO ENTERTAIN WEDNESDAY
Mrs. C. S. Dilz and Mrs. J. O. Barker will be joint hostesses at the first of two luncheon-bridge events Wednesday at 1 o'clock in the Dilz home, 1909 Runnels street.

City; World and Publications, Georgia McMullan, Midland; Pasor Counselor, Rev. H. R. Allen, Garden City. These nominations were approved and adopted by Otto Nelson, vice president of the state Christian Endeavor, and Miss Hattie Mae Wood, chairman. It should also be added that Otto Nelson, presiding vice president of the state, and student of T. C. U., Ft. Worth attended this convention and added many helpful hints for the progress of the local district. His willful assistance was greatly appreciated.

The convention drew to a close Sunday evening, and each delegate returned to his haven of rest or turmoil with his mind satisfied that the convention had been a success; his stomach fully satisfied with the treatment it received in Big Spring. Thus came a happy conclusion.

BEN ALLEN, JR., Publicity Chairman.

PROMINENT BROWNWOOD WOMAN SAYS ORGATONE (ARGOTANE) HAS DONE HER UNTOLD GOOD

Mrs. A. D. Bruce, who resides at 2401 Austin Ave. is still another Brownwood woman of high standing whose deep sense of gratitude and desire to help others will not permit her to remain silent in regard to the benefits she has derived from the remarkable medicine, Orgatone (Argotane). In a recent interview with the Orgatone (Argotane) representative Mrs. Bruce said:

"About a year ago I was operated upon and ever since that time I have been in a general run-down condition. I was nervous and restless especially at night and could not rest at all well. I was tired and languid all the time; hadn't been able to get any results from other medicines and felt that I was bordering on more serious trouble.

"Of course, I didn't know just what I needed, but I had read so much about the splendid results others had gotten from Orgatone (Argotane) that I decided to give it a fair chance. I began to improve right from the start and the benefits I have derived from about three weeks use of it are most satisfactory. Orgatone (Argotane) has done me untold good. I am glad to recommend it to anyone in need of a medicine to give them new life and strength."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Big Spring at the Cunningham & Phillips Drug Store.—Adv.

ed that Martin county will accomplish much good from the work.

Miss Gertrude MacIntyre is expected to return this evening from San Antonio where she attended the performances of the Chicago Civic Grand Opera company and where she was the guest of friends.

Story Of Cynthia Ann Parker Will Be Told On Radio

A fact story, stranger than fiction, taken from the pages of early Texas history, when hostile Indian tribes made life a real problem for the settlers of the Lone Star State, is "The Rescue of Cynthia Ann," radio dramatization to be presented by the Conoco Adventurers over the N. B. C. network Thursday night, March 20, at 10 p. m. central standard time.

The play, a one-act drama from the pen of John William Rogers, brilliant Texas playwright, depicts with historical fidelity, one of the strangest stories in the saga of the West—the capture of little Cynthia Ann Parker, by Indians when she was a little girl of tender years, during a battle with Indians in which her parents were slain. Cynthia Ann was raised as an Indian girl, and eventually married a Chief, and bore him two sons. Long years after her capture she was "rescued" by a detachment of white soldiers, but the Indian teachings she had absorbed had made her forget every vestige of her early life, except two English words by which she was eventually identified as the little lost Parker child.

The radio drama pictures the dramatic scene when one of her relatives comes to the house where she had to be held captive by her white "rescuers," to keep her from escaping and rejoining the Indians and identifies her.

John William Rogers, the author, is a Dallas man who first achieved distinction as a playwright, when his "Judge Lynch" won the Belasco trophy the first year it was offered, in a national little theatre tournament in New York City. He had written about ten other plays, which, along with "The Rescue of Cynthia Ann," are published by Samuel French, of New York, and are frequently produced by amateur and little theatre groups through the country.

The Conoco Adventurers may be heard each Thursday night at 10 p. m. CST over the N. B. C. network, including: WIBC Chicago, WDAF Kansas City, WKY Oklahoma City, KPRC Houston, KRL Salt Lake, WREN, Lawrence, Kas.

WHO Des Moines, WFAA Dallas, WOAI San Antonio, WHAS Louisville, WLW Cincinnati, WMC Memphis, KVOO Tulsa, KTHS Hot Springs, and KOA Denver, WOW Omaha.

How They Grew Thin

You will be surprised, if you look around, at how many people have grown thin in late years. It is evident that some new method has come into very wide use. It has been found that a weak gland is a great cause of obesity. So modern physicians have been fighting that cause, without starvation diets.

This right method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. Now in almost every circle the delightful results are apparent. A book in each box of Marmola tells you how and why it acts. The formula is given. Go try this remarkable, this natural means. Ask your druggist today for a $1. box of Marmola. HOW'S your HEALTH

FOOD MAKES THE MAN

It is many a year since Captain Cook made his famous voyage and proved that by proper sanitation and the inclusion of lime juice in the diet of his crew, his sailors could be kept in good health and spared from the ravages of scurvy.

Since his time much has been learned about foods and their role in the begetting and maintaining of good health.

The vitamins that form so large a part in all matters that pertain to the actual space covering the body are the subject of study in this century and despite the vast amount of study that has already been spent on them still represent a realm of vast, unexplored territories.

Despite the fact, however, that there is so much more to be learned about foods and nutrition, there is evidence present that confirms the old conclusion that it is not clothes or food that makes the real man.

The ever-lasting science of nutrition serves to confirm the worth of what has been justly termed the "table of life."

Our researches lead to the one primary conclusion that good health and normal growth and development depend upon proper feeding.

Proper feeding, on the other hand, does not presume any fancy diet made up largely of manufactured substances with artificial colors but rather implies an old-fashioned diet in which the old-fashioned foodstuffs such as milk, eggs, fruits, green and other vegetables and meats are most prominent.

There is a distinct satisfaction in having the latest scientific confirmations of soundness of the advice offered by physicians for centuries past.

OUT OUR WAY

Hollywood Signs

HOLLYWOOD — The foremost candidate for the mythical title of Hollywood's "kid brother" is William Janney.

Young Janney, a naive and natural a lad as ever stepped under a mike, began as the younger brother of Mary Pickford in "Coquette."

He shared with the star the privilege of "making the first talking test ever made on the Pickford lot."

He has stepped nonchalantly from part to part, from the show of one "kid brother" to another until now he has attained the comfort of a real household-goddess.

After "Coquette" Janney entered upon a series of "brother roles" which seemed to place him definitely in the roster of runners-up, as kid brothers usually are in the estimation of their elders.

He was Barbara Stanwyck's in "Mexican Rose," and William Haines' in "The Girl Said No."

Monte Blue claimed him in "Those Who Dance," and in "Salute" he had the same relation to George O'Brien. These were all played in his first year on the screen.

His latest part, that of the younger madly in love with the carnival queen played by Miss Nolan, temporarily at least has lifted him out of his usual character.

Richard Barthelmess needs a kid brother for "Dawn Patrol," and it will probably be Janney.

AGE COMES ALONG!

Bill Janney is 22, and looks younger—a fact which seems to cause him no little concern.

"There's no one within miles of here. I'd advise you, though, to save your breath until the Big Shot and Ma Kane get here, as I've a hunch you'll have to use your lungs then some!"

THE BIG SHOT

by FRANK L. PACKARD

She could see a little more clearly now. They were standing close to the front porch, and now the door of the house was being opened.

"Who's there?" a man's voice demanded sharply from the dark interior.

"I guess you know, don't you?" Izzy Myers granted in reply.

"Oh—you, Izzy!" exclaimed the voice in a tone of relief. "Well, I had to be sure, you're early, ain't you?"

Izzy Myers laughed gratefully. "Well, we've brought you the first load," he said.

That gangster phrase—taken for a ride—that she had seen so often in newspapers—now, came home to Enid in all its stark, stark meaning.

It was like the last ride of the condemned—on the way to execution—and the horror of it had seized upon her.

There had been moments when she had so very nearly lost her self-control; moments when she had so very nearly broken down to bring shame upon Phil and her.

She knew no illusions. She knew there would be no mercy. She knew what gangland "justice" was. She knew that murder was the way these men earned their daily bread.

Her thoughts became chaotic. The Big Shot wasn't Roy. That would have been horrible now. Would Martha ever know? What would Martha do when she returned and found that there was no one there any more?

Then, suddenly, at the sound of Izzy Myers' voice almost in her ear, her mind snapped back to normal again.

"It'll amuse you any while you're waiting," he chuckled evilly, you can shout your heads off, but it won't otherwise do you any good.

Clyde Pioneer Candidate For Important Office

J. H. BURKETT

CLYDE, Texas. — J. H. Burkett, pioneer horticulturist and creator of the famous Burkett pear-shell peach, announced his candidacy today for Commissioner of Agriculture.

Burkett was connected with the state agricultural department for ten years, serving under Commissioners Fred W. Davis and Geo. E. Terrell, the incumbent, and for a quarter-century has borne the title of "Burbank of Texas." His farm in the outskirts of Clyde contains about 60,000 specimens of nursery stock in various stages of propagation and including pecans of many varieties, English walnuts which is Americanizing, and a group of coniferous plants— notably the pinon pine—which he is acclimating to semi-arid conditions.

He has been conducting experiments since 1887. The Burkett peach, now widely known from coast to coast, was not introduced commercially until a few years ago, after Burkett had thoroughly satisfied himself of its possibilities.

Not a "Call"—Wants Place.

"I do not feel that the people of Texas are due me anything, but I want the office because I feel I can render a service equal to the best," Burkett said in announcing his candidacy. "Having had ten years association with Commissioners Davis and Terrell, giving me an insight into the duties and responsibilities of the office, I think I would be equipped to direct its work from the start."

"High lights in Burkett's platform are:

- Levying of fees, or occupation taxes in proportion to capital invested or volume of business, to cover cost of inspections of nurseries, florists, oil and gas stations, fruits and vegetables, packages and containers;
- Placing an "adequate number" of licensed inspectors at strategic points in the state, covering designated districts regularly, placed under the direct supervision of the commissioner; of agriculture. Fees for inspection work go into the general fund of the state and be placed to the credit of the department;
- Placing responsibility of enforcement directly with inspectors rendering the service, together with the county attorney of the county where inspections are made;
- Encouraging "the more efficient development of the pecan industry" by giving aid to growers in securing the most promising varieties for the section, under consideration at the time;
- Seeking the perfecting of a marketing agency for pecans, based on uniform standards of grades and classes legally promulgated, such standards conforming to present commercial designations to the extent found practical.

"As commissioner, should I be ected," Burkett said, "I would use my influence among nurserymen, horticulturists, florists and all lovers of tree and plant life to endeavor to bring under domestication a large host of our native plants. Many of these are potentially valuable, both from the viewpoint of the landscape architect and the commercial planter, these including both coniferous and broadleaf evergreens, plants of all sizes, from two feet up to 100. Of the deciduous flora the range is equally great. Including our numerous wildflowers, perennials and shrubs, Texas has the greatest wealth of flora of any state in the Union. A vast number of these can be turned to economic use; in deed, many plants not now domesticated would, if properly developed, be more valuable than others now in commercial use.

At the present time, Mr. Thomason is serving his second term as mayor of El Paso having been reelected to that position without opposition. Mayor Thomason is a married man, has two children and is affiliated with numerous clubs and organizations in his home city.

Faramount in Mr. Thomason's campaign platform is service for his district. He also stands for a tariff on raw products of this district and restricted immigration and the Box-Johnson bill.

"I'll be back here shortly to give details of other planks in my platform, but to give the voters a brief insight as to how I stand on questions pertinent to this district, I wish to enumerate the following items:

- "Reorganization of Federal Bureau to connect jobless men with manless jobs.
- "Adequate and generous compensation.

Lamesa Chamber Holds Banquet

LAMESA, March 18.—Terminating a year of constructive work the local chamber of commerce was host to 300 guests during the annual banquet Monday night. A large part of gathering was Dawson county farmers.

Charles Hillman Brough, twice governor of Arkansas and a noted scholar, gave the principal address, with his subject "The glory of old South and her part in development of new." He pictured the old South of plantation days and her contributions to literature and statesmanship comparing it with progress in farming and industry of the present era. During his address he stated he believed next the president will be Joseph Taylor Robinson of Arkansas. After paying incumbent President Hoover a compliment on his "excellent business method of administration," visitors from Austin, Abilene, Big Spring, Lubbock, Midland, Brownfield, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Colorado and Slaton heard the war-time southern governor.

Music by Crescent Serranada high school orchestra, and Elton Bonnet Choral Club, seasoned excellent banquet prepared by home demonstration club women.

R. R. Townsend, former U. S. Senator from Arkansas during Brough's governorship, introduced the guest of honor, Toastmaster W. B. Collins closed the banquet program after introducing Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the Texas Technological College, Lubbock, who made a short address.

Copies of the annual report of achievements of local chamber were placed at each plate, along with samples of powdered milk which will be manufactured by a milk plant here.

Governor Brough left Tuesday morning for Lubbock where he will address Lions club. He was accompanied by Wm. A. Wilson, manager of Chamber of Commerce.

C. T. Watson, E. Reagan and Ray Wilcox represented Big Spring.

Stu Hawley Due Here Wednesday

Stu Hawley, who is on a transcontinental automobile tour demonstrating highway department efficiency as director of Texaco National Road Reports, is due to pass through Big Spring about 8 p. m. Wednesday, enroute eastward from El Paso; district officials of The Texaco Company announced Tuesday.

Mr. Hawley, it was pointed out, is on a business trip to show the ease with which a motorist may make a transcontinental or inter-sectional trip without material delay on account of road conditions.

The only stops being made are for the replenishment of fuel and lubricants and for making business contacts. Hawley is driving his own strictly stock model car. About every 300 miles relief drivers give him a two-hour rest. His time is being checked by the American Automobile Association.

No attempt is being made to establish a transcontinental speed record. On the contrary, the schedule is arranged in such a way that the speed laws of the various counties and states will be observed in every instance.

Why the young child lies on the floor and kicks his heels, among other things, will occupy the Chicago association for child study during a three day session devoted to emotional research.

Presbyterian Church Officers Have Carried On Work in Commendable Way

No institution can be efficiently carried on without someone whose duty it is to see that it is carried on properly. This brings in a discussion of the officers of the church.

In the Presbyterian church the ruling body is the elders and the deacons the old session minutes kept by the first pastor show that James T. Carley was appointed first ruling elder of the Presbyterian church of Big Spring, and that Capt. F. M. Ross was the first deacon. These two men served for a long while before others were selected, as the congregation was small. In 1896 the versatile Dr. S. A. King Jr. became an elder, and again in 1908 William Rowan Settles was elected to a similar position, then followed W. J. Miller in 1899, and George Sparenburg, and so read the session minutes to the present time with the present elders and deacons in power.

Of the present church officers, T. S. Currie, Edwin A. Kelley and J. O. Tamsitt deserve a full measure of credit for their service in this capacity, being ever faithful and loyal to the obligations of their office, and giving liberally of their time to it.

Of the earlier deacons Wm. H. Brennan, deserves special mention. Mr. Brennan was a farmer, merchant of the town and gave liberally of his time and substance.

Since the founding of this church here many men have served it as officers but W. R. Settles has the honor of having served it longer than any other person in Big Spring. As stated above he became an elder in September, 1898, and has served in that capacity since.

This little church in its three score and nine years has had many treasurers looking after its finances, all of them capable and efficient, giving a good measure of their time to its funds, paying its bills and looking after its property in general, but none of them have been more efficient in this capacity than the present treasurer, T. S. Currie. He is a man of sound financial judgment and wide experience in money matters. Mr. Currie is peculiarly fitted for this position and is ever vigilant over the church accounts, cautioning when the funds run low, and asking that propositions be thoughtfully considered and thoroughly weighed before steps are taken which necessitate the expenditure of money.

The clerks of the session must be especially mentioned in this review for their has been a tedious and important task, that of keeping a record of the proceedings of the church and its activities. The first clerk of the session in this church was the public spirited, energetic Dr. S. A. King Jr. He was ready and willing to take over any task for he served as elder, as clerk, as Sunday school superintendent, and often as a delegate to Presbytery. Following him, came George Sparenburg, C. C. Hinds and others on down to this time when we find Edwin A. Kelley serving in this capacity efficiently and well.

In the founding and carrying on of this church the officers are not the only people to whom credit is due in this labor, for there has been a goodly number of people who have served in various capacities giving their time, thought, energy, and money to the upbuilding and maintaining of the church and Sunday School. Women of the church have done their part, so has the choir and so has a number of other individuals.

Rev. J. A. Owen, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Albany, Texas, is a guest of his brother here, Rev. R. L. Owen, pastor of the local Presbyterian church and attended the formal opening of the church Sunday. Mrs. J. A. Owen and three children accompanied Reverend Owen.

HURT TO STAND

"Cardui Seemed to Build Me Up and I Was Rid of Pain," Says Virginia Lady.

Rossmore, Va.—"Some years ago, I was in a very run-down condition," writes Mrs. T. B. Akers, of 533 Nelson Street, S.E., this city. "I suffered a great deal with pains in my sides and back. Standing on my feet hurt me so much, that I would get very weak and nervous. I knew that if I didn't get something to help me, I would have to go to bed and stay there, which is hard to do for a woman who has small children. So I kept dragging about, until one day, when feeling unusually bad and discouraged, I happened to pick up a little book with a Cardui advertisement. I decided to try it.

"Cardui seemed to build me up at once, as I was able to do my work with ease, and was rid of the pain by the time I had taken six bottles. I have taken Cardui since then, whenever I felt that I needed a tonic, and it always helped me. I recommend it to my friends."

"Thousands of other women have written to tell how Cardui had helped them to health."

Cardui is a purely vegetable remedy and contains nothing harmful or injurious. It may be safely taken by a delicate young girl as well as by a feeble old lady.

2502 Physicians In State Hold Licenses To Prescribe Liquor

AUSTIN, March 18.—There are 2502 physicians in Texas holding state permits to prescribe liquor, according to the annual report of the comptroller's department on administration of the Dean law.

Under this, with each physician entitled to write 499 one-pint prescriptions per year, there can be legally dispensed 1,000,800 pints of medicinal whiskey in Texas each year.

There were 762 drug stores holding state permits for sale under prescription of liquor. There were 109 druggists entitled to purchase and use alcohol. Seventy-three firms held permits to purchase and use alcohol in manufacturing non-beverage articles, and 251 entitled to acquire it for scientific and laboratory purposes. Eighty-four hospitals held permits and 13 wholesalers. No distillery of manufacturer of liquor held a Texas permit.

Administration of the Dean law last year brought in $87,215 revenue to the state. The permits were issued at a charge of $5 each, and supplies furnished in connection with the red tape of the administration brought in $7,580 more.

Grover Dean and Miss Edna Cordell of Sweetwater were the Sunday guests of Mr. Dean's sister, Mrs. Effie McMahan.

Women Had Part In Church Work

The first organization of woman's work in the local Presbyterian church was called the Ladies' Aid society, which began its existence in the early days of the church and was nurtured and sustained by the tiny band of women who met weekly for a short program of prayer, song, and a chapter from the Bible. At first there were only two or three women within its circle, but from the diligent prayerful efforts of these women it began to grow and expand, taking on a wider program for itself.

Through all of these years it has endeavored to increase its service to the church and while its interest has been as broad as the needs and work of the church, yet from lack of funds its work has been handicapped and its scope of service limited.

Noble Work

Notwithstanding this limitation of funds the aid society fought the carpets for the first church, paid the pastor's water, light and telephone bills, kept up the benevolences of the church, giving systematically to all of the causes of the church program, packed and sent bags and boxes to the Presbyterian orphanages each year, sponsored different activities to raise money, visited the sick and the shut-ins, held prayer bands, observed the aid's birthday offering, studied home and foreign missions, observed the week of self-denial and prayer, and aided the pastor.

The first officers of this Ladies' Aid Society were Mrs. John Brynart, president; Mrs. J. E. Ewing, secretary and Mrs. Roxie Beasie Ross, treasurer. However, the second president of the organization was Mrs. L. S. McDowell. They were many other workers in the aid society as the years went by, among them being Mrs. H. W. Caylor, Mrs. Sue Reed, Mrs. William Brennan, Mrs. W. J. Miller, Mrs. J. W. Shive, Mrs. Frank Wynn, Mrs. L. W. Lane, Mrs. Charles K. Mullins, Mrs. J. I. McDowell and others. Then there was a still larger group of zealous women who joined later than those mentioned above, for example, Mrs. W. C. Barnett, Mrs. T. S. Currie, Mrs. J. O. Tamsitt, Mrs. L. M. Barrick, all of whom have been quite active and have filled various offices.

Takes New Name

About 15 years ago the Ladies' Aid society took a new name, the Woman's auxiliary, and now the program, as outlined in the adopted year book, embraces every cause of the church, paralleling the months in which these subjects are before the church by the order of the General Assembly.

During its existence as an aid society the woman's organization of the church sponsored commercial means of raising money for its financial program, but after it became the Woman's Auxiliary this means of financing undertakings was dropped by vote of the personnel of the organization, because it was not in keeping with the highest standards set forth by Mrs. W. C. Winstorborough, the woman who organized and perfected the organization of the Woman's auxiliary.

Working Circle

However, within the last year the leadership of Mrs. B. F. Willis and the supervision of the session there has arisen among the Presbyterian ladies an organization known

All Trailers Must Bear State License Plate

ARLENE, March 18.—Trailers are not to be operated without a license plate.

Lieutenant Martin Koonsman, in charge of highway patrolmen of the Abilene district, extending from Ranger to El Paso and from Haskell to Sutton counties inclusive, has instructed his men to "enforce the law" with reference to trailer registration.

There has been some misunderstanding regarding the matter of trailer license fees and the office of the county tax collector recently has been besieged by calls, both personal and by telephone, asking if trailers are exempt from registration. The impression got abroad early in February when the legislature passed a law which would exempt farm trailers from registration, Mr. Koonsman explained. But the bill later was declared unconstitutional, he pointed out last night.

Answering a recent inquiry of Earl Hughes, Taylor county tax collector, Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, said:

"At present, trailer registration should be made under the laws decried in senate bill No. 10, and house bill No. 6."

Excerpts from house bill No. 6 follow:

"Any person who operates a road tractor, motorcycle, trailer or semi-trailer, during the period from February 1 to December 31, inclusive, of any calendar year without having so displayed and attached a number plate, duly and lawfully assigned therefor, for the current year, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person convicted of a misdemeanor for a violation of this section shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $200.

"Trailer means every vehicle designed or used to carry its load wholly on its own structure and to be drawn by a motor vehicle."

"Semi-trailer means every vehicle of the trailer type so designed or used in conjunction with a motor vehicle that some part of its own weight and that of its load rests upon it or is carried by another vehicle."

"Public highways shall include any road, street, way or thoroughfare or bridge in this state, not privately owned or controlled, for the use of vehicles over which the state has legislative jurisdiction under its police power."

City Baseball League Parley On Docket Tonight

PLANS WILL BE TALKED

Three Definite Entries Enrolled In Program For Ball League

The first effort to organize a city baseball league in Big Spring will be made Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock when proponents and opponents of the plan assemble in The Daily Herald office to discuss the issues.

Backers of the proposition advise there will be no political issues discussed and consequently the ball bats, shin guards, breast protectors, spiked shoes, sliding pads and other protective appliances can be safely left behind the kitchen door.

If those attending the meeting decide to organize a city baseball league, the first move will be election of officers and adoption of an opening date. Next will be discussion of ways and means to condition the playing field on East Third street and appointment of a schedule committee. Naturally the schedule will be determined by the number of teams entering the loop and consequently tonight's meeting at 7:30 o'clock will be one of the most important held. It is essential that every organization interested in entering a nine be represented at tonight's meeting.

At least three organizations have definitely expressed intention of entering the league with a half dozen more individuals anxious to sponsor clubs in the loop. Cosden and Richardson referees will enter one team each, the shops and storemen recruits of the T & P will combine forces this year and enter one team. One or two business establishments in Big Spring marketing sporting goods have expressed an interest in sponsoring a team in the league and various individuals have manifested keen interest.

There is little left to do except organizing if the league is to be a success. Talk has been heard on every street corner when amateur players meet. The only course open now is for action.

TEXAS SKIPPERS START HARD TRAINING FOR OPENING GAME

(By The Associated Press)
The old yell "Grab It by the Handle" and "Kill the Umpire" now safely is past, first spring exhibition games having been played in the Texas League, managers have started hard drives to make the athletes reach playing form for the rapidly bearing commencement of the flag chase.

Holdouts have diminished to an almost negligible number, or have been cast into the outer regions of managerial thoughts. A few still continued to dicker, but with new blood seeking its place in the sun, many veterans decided they weren't so necessary as they had thought they were.

Waco is showing a few smiles with the news that Tony Piet will be there pronto from New Orleans where he has been training as a Cleveland. He is back for more seasoning. Molewirth, recruit, is adding more smiles because of his hot work in the shortfield. Tomorrow and Thursday the Cubs tangle with the Saint Paul, American Association, Saints, if the weather man permits.

The weather man was mentioned, for he has been distinctly unfriendly recently. Yesterday he ran the San Antonio Bears indoors, but they got a good workout anyway. George Buras, former New York Giant, is managing Santone and he has the old McGraw idea of making 'em work. Only four Bears were among the missing: Pete Lapan, venerable catcher; Roy Auer, pitcher; Monk Edwards, outfielder and Leon Donders, infielder. The bears will tackle Burns' former teammates Monday when the Giants take them on.

Father Casualty
Big Bill Kelly of Fort Worth probably is the outstanding casualty of the league so far. He suffered a broken little finger playing with a medicine ball in Mineral Wells last week, and according to a physician, he will be out of the game for a month or six weeks.

A young infielder named Lamar also suffered a broken finger at Catville and was sent to his home at Houston. He probably will be placed with some team of lower classification for further seasoning. Down at Orange, the Beaumont Exporters are up against some old fashioned hard work. They didn't show so well against the Kansas City Blues in an exhibition Sunday, and the hard work rule followed.

The Dallas team seems to have settled on a shortfield-second base combination of Windle and Swanson. At any rate Jake Atz is lining up the pair for fast work in the hopes of turning in a flock of double plays and cutting off runs this season. The team is in good shape, and will start a three game series Thursday with the Southern Methodist University Mustangs!

Spuds Mystery
The Wichita Falls Spudders under Carl Williams are doing things their own way, shy this year the genial spirit of Alvin Gardner, promoted to the league presidency on the death of Don Roberts. Yesterday the squad was divided into two teams, the Fitzgeralds and the DeFates, the result being that the Fitzgeralds celebrated Saint Patrick's Day with an 8 to 0 win.

REDS WILL BE STRONG

New Owner And New Boss Puts Life In Work Of Cincy

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
ORLANDO, Fla., March 18 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds this year have a new owner, a new manager, new spirit and some old familiar figures in new uniforms. They hope the combination will make the Redlegs more conspicuous in the National League pennant chase than has been the case since they last seriously threatened in 1920.

LELAND IS IMPROVED

Faster Start Helps Frog Flyer In New Campaign

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, March 18 (AP)—There was never much wrong with Cyrus Leland as a sprinter, except that he couldn't win with any degree of consistency. The Flying Frog apparently has corrected that phase of his technique largely because he has learned to start faster.

In showing his heels to Claude Bracey twice Saturday at Ft. Worth, the Texas Christian University speed merchant gave a marvelous exhibition of 'getting away from the mark'. Previously considered much slower than the Rice star on the getaway, he gained fully a yard start in the 100-yard dash and got an even break in the 220.

It was that perfect jump with the gun that enabled Leland to beat the tape a foot ahead of Bracey in the century, as the Owl flash came up strong in the last 50 yards, but the start had nothing to do with his victory in the full-length. He ran Bracey into the ground in the longer event, leaving no doubt of his superiority.

Leland's time of 9.5 seconds in the century tied the recognized world record for the distance, but was a tenth of a second slower than the recognized American mark of 9.5 set by Eddie Tolah, negro star, last summer. The fact that he was running against a fairly stiff wind and on a track made soggy by an overnight rain added lustre to Leland's performance.

His recent defeat by Jack Elder of Notre Dame at 60 yards on an indoor track at New York largely was responsible for Leland's improved form. Since returning from the east he has devoted most of his time to that feature of the game. He always had the speed once he got under way.

Bracey and Leland, two as earnest rivals as one will find in a day's drive, are due to renew their feud in the Texas relays March 28 at Austin. They also will meet in the Southern Methodist relays here March 29, in the Penn relays at Philadelphia, in the National Intercollegiate and Southwest Conference meet.

Wiggins Is Primo's Tenth Ring Victim

ST. Wiggins succumbing in the second round of a scheduled ten-round bout. Wiggins went through the ropes twice in the first minute of the second frame, the first time for the count of seven before willowing hands jammed him back onto the canvas and the second time prostrate outside the ring. More than 22,000 persons jammed the arena.

"Konjola Ended My Long Search For New Health"

Again Now And Different Medicine Wins When All Else Tried Meant Only Failure

MRS. MAUDE HOLLAND

Profit by the experiences of those who, to their everlasting joy, put their faith in Konjola, and were freed from the meries of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles, and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Take the case of Mrs. Maude E. Holland, 25th and Lamine street, Sedalia, Mo. Think of her joy when she said:

"Konjola ended my long search for new health, and I recommend Konjola with all my heart and soul. For twelve years I suffered principally from kidney trouble, and then my stomach and my nerves were affected. My nerves were jerky; I had terrible bilious attacks, my hands and feet were swollen, my back pained and spots appeared before my eyes. I sought in vain for relief, and the outlook was dark indeed.

"At last I decided to give Konjola a trial, and that was the wisest decision of my life, for Konjola, in just three weeks, rid me of every one of my ills. I am as a new person, full of new life and vitality. To me Konjola is simply wonderful."

Konjola is sold in Big Spring at Collins Bros. Drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—adv.

Thirteen Pastors Have Served With New Church Here

Since organizing 39 years ago the Presbyterian Church here has been pastored by 13 different men including the present Rev. R. L. Owen. At a time like this it is always fitting and proper to recall men like these with a word of commendation, yet how inadequate, how begrudging are words of ours in comparison with the work they did here, for the service they rendered is far above any poor tribute of mine.

Thirteen men have labored with the Presbyterians in Big Spring giving them their time and their talent, often working under many difficulties and great personal sacrifice, for their congregations have always been small and their salaries low. How many of us with a trained mind and a healthy body would be willing to work for a salary ranging from four hundred fifty to six hundred dollars a year and supporting a family on it. Yet that is exactly what some of these men did, the men who have made their contribution here and passed on.

Much credit is due these former churchmen both pastors and laymen who founded the church here, securing and sustaining it and holding it together through the pioneering season and those lean years when its ranks were thinned and impoverished by financial reverses from droughts.

Naming the pastors of the Big Spring Presbyterian Church in order:

Cracks In the Dome

By THE POLITICAL ANALYST
AUSTIN, March 15.—San Jacinto and Sam Houston historic persons and places of the Texas fight for independence, will be recorded on postage stamps of the nation, in 1936, commemorating the end of a century of American domination of Texas, if the federal government grants a request made by the Texas house and senate.

The government was asked to issue in 1936 a series of postage stamps each embodying a historic scene and pictures of leaders in the Texas conquest.

The one-cent stamp would contain pictures of Edward Buleson and Ben Milam; the two-cent stamp would depict the fall of the Alamo and pictures of Travis and Bowie; the three-cent stamp would contain the pictures of Stephen F. Austin and the flags of Texas and the United States; the five-cent stamp would show Goliad and pictures of James W. Fannin and William Ward. The 10-cent stamp would show the San Jacinto battle-field scene as depicted by McArdle; and would contain pictures of Sam Houston and Thomas J. Rusk, secretary of war.

The Texas legislature that voted to permit H. L. McKee to build a causeway from Port Arthur to the Louisiana coast, opening a new trade territory to Port Arthur and establishing a great recreation beach resort on islands to be thrown up in Sabine Lake, will be invited to Port Arthur next January to see actual results of the law, Mr. McKee announced here. Work on the project will start within the next few months, Mr. McKee said.

Texas university now is erecting its new chemistry building, largest structure on the campus.

A.&M. college will not be far behind, if the legislative appropriation bill fares well in its passage and on the executive desk.

The senate finance committee added $200,000 for a chemistry structure at College Station to the emergency educational bill, raising the total of this bill to approximately $1,908,000.

Summer schools this year and next on full scale will be provided in the bill.

It is offered though Gov. Moody had not submitted the subject of appropriations when it went before the senate on favorable finance report.
