Olton Chief Fired As Controversy Continues

Comments To Press Get Blame

OLTON — Comments to the press by Police Chief Vernie Head came into the line of fire early this week as Head was fired by the Olton City Council in the dispute which followed the filing of a $100,000 suit against the city and Mayor D. Y. Ray.

Head told reporters he was fired because of comments he made to the press in regard to the arrest of Lupe Martinez, who filed the suit.

Mayor Ray declined to comment on the arrest, or on Head's statements.

He said the decision to fire Head was made at a meeting of the council Monday afternoon.

Head told newsmen Tuesday he was not invited to the council meeting, but that a member of the council called him after the meeting, was over and told him of the decision.

The police chief said his dismissal resulted from stories in which he declared he had tried to talk Mayor Ray out of arresting Martinez at his home Wednesday, May 20.

Martinez seeks $100,000 in his suit against the city and Mayor Ray, alleging the mayor "without legal authority" entered his home and placed him under arrest.

The suit claims Martinez was held illegally from 9:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. on the day of the arrest.

At a secret council meeting last Thursday night, Mayor Ray was reported to have asked the council to dismiss Head on the grounds he was "not doing his duty." The council declined to dismiss Head at that time.

The mayor and police chief reportedly went to the Martinez home and argued over whether the Latin American should be arrested.

Head claimed the mayor asked him to make the arrest without a warrant. Head said he refused. Mayor Ray, after declining comment on Head's statement, said that all members of the council were present Monday afternoon and that the vote to dismiss the police chief was unanimous.

He added that he did not call the council meeting at which the decision was made.

Head told newsmen he had no regrets for making his statements and that he did not ask for a hearing before the council after hearing of his dismissal.

He said he wanted to "put the record straight" that he didn't have "anything to do with arresting that man."

Memorial Day Holiday Set 49-Star Flags To Honor War Dead

The 49-star flag will be used for the first time in Littlefield Saturday when this community along with the rest of the nation honors its war dead on Memorial Day.

Miniature 49-star flags will be placed on graves of 112 veterans in cemeteries here by members of John Henry Chapman Post 4854, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

No Memorial Day service is planned this year by the VFW, but the post will take part in beautifying the cemeteries for the observance.

Flags throughout town will be flown at half mast Saturday, paying homage to men who gave their lives to the cause of freedom.

"Buddy Poppies" were sold here all day Tuesday by members of the VFW Auxiliary. The poppies are made by disabled and needy veterans for the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization.

Most local merchants and many offices will take a holiday Saturday.

The day is on the Chamber of Commerce's calendar of holidays and the C-C office itself will be closed.

The Lamb County courthouse will close up shop except for law enforcement offices.

Highway patrolmen will be on special alert for expected heavy traffic in the area.

City employees, except for police, also will be off for the holiday.

Both the Security State Bank and First National Bank will be closed for the day.

The post office and other federal offices will take the day off and there will be no home delivery of mail that day.

84 Hearings Set June 11

Hearings on petitions for three U. S. Highway 84 bond elections have been set for June 11 at 10 a. m. by the Lamb County Commissioners' Court.

The action was taken at a special meeting Monday after the council reviewed petitions calling for separate elections by road districts.

Approval of the elections by voters would provide a total of $350,000 for the county's share of right-of-way costs in a project to widen U. S. 84 across the entire county.

By districts, the petitions call for a $239,000 bond vote in 1-A, the Littlefield district; $39,500 in 3, Amherst; and $71,500 in 4, Sudan.

Hearings on the petitions will be held at the courthouse. If the elections are ordered, they probably will come about 30 days after the hearing, according to County Judge Pat Boone Jr.

Two-thirds majority will be required in each district for the proposals to pass.

The petitions were presented last Friday, signed by a total of more than 250 persons. Fifty signatures were required in each road district.

The $71,500 figure in the Sudan road district may be lowered at the hearing as a result of word received last week from O. L. Crain, State Highway Department district engineer at Lubbock.

One Man Hurt In 3-Car Mishap Near Anton

One man was hurt Sunday in a three-car collision at the intersection of U. S. Highway 84 and Farm Road 597 near Anton — a spot that is gaining reputation for highway mishaps.

Ell McCalloch, 49-year-old Anton Negro, who was a passenger in one of the cars, was hospitalized at Medical Arts Hospital here with head injuries. He was dismissed Tuesday.

The accident occurred at the same spot where four persons were injured and two persons killed in a mishap and a wreck earlier this year.

Investigating officers said cars driven by George R. Harris of Littlefield and Ida Mae Taylor of Anton collided at the intersection. The Taylor car bounced off and crashed into the third car, driven by Everette M. Butler of Anton. The injured man was a passenger in the Taylor car.

Officers said Harris was driving southeast on U. S. 84 and the Taylor woman was going west on FM 597 when their autos collided. Butler was stopped for a stop sign on FM 597.

Officers Nab Escaped Con

An escaped Negro inmate of the Ellis County Prison Farm at Waxahachie who said he ran away because the "food was no good" was nabbed here Monday by county officers.

The man, James W. Mason, 22, was stopped by Officers Elson McNeese and Bill Ford and Liquor Board Agent Lloyd Dunlap on a routine check about 1:30 p. m. Monday.

Later checking their records, officers found Mason was wanted at Waxahachie after running away from the prison farm while serving a sentence for car theft.

The officers spotted Mason in a pickup truck which they had seen parked Saturday night at the L. H. (Peg) LaDuke farm when they arrested LaDuke on a liquor law violation charge.

When they stopped Mason Monday, they found he had no driver's license. Checking further, officers learned Mason was an escaped convict. The pickup he was driving had been stolen at Waxahachie they said.

Ellis County officers arrived here Tuesday to transfer the escapee to the prison farm.

As A Girl She Danced For Hawaii's Last King

By CLAUDE BURGETT
HONOLULU (AP) — Last March 12 when Congress voted statehood to Hawaii and this city exploded in celebration, the noise of whistles and horns stirred little enthusiasm in the aging breast of Kīmi Kapaehaione Kamehameha Kūniū.

WINDOW ON HISTORY: Mrs. Jennie Wilson, widow of a former Honolulu mayor, remembers when Hawaii was a monarchy.

The Hawaiian name means "The ageless political observer" and it belongs to a 87-year-old woman most people call Aunt Jennie Wilson.

She is one of the few links left with the Hawaiian monarchy which once ruled the islands. At 16, she became the favorite hula dancer of King Kamehameha, the last Hawaiian king before the islands were annexed by the United States. He was her first hula teacher.

What does she think of the transition to statehood?

"I remember the day the Hawaiian flag came down," she says by way of an answer. "It was 1899. My mother and I were sitting on the veranda of our home. No yelling or anything."

"Annexation didn't change Hawaii much. Just more houses, more taxes, more crowded."

"I never thought I would live to see the day the monarchy would be overthrown," she chuckled.

"I never thought we would get statehood. No, never."

"I once knew every person on this island. Now I look and can't find them. This is not Hawaii anymore, only the name. It is America."

"The spirit of Hawaii has changed. Poor old Waikiki. Sometimes I go down to the beaches in front of the new stores and just look. When I was a little girl there were no houses at all. Once a month King Kalakaua called the people for a hula (a community fishing party). Plenty of fish at Waikiki then. The king asked each family, 'How many children?' Give them so many fish."

Does she wish it could still be that way?

"No can help. So why kick. I'm not kicking. I'm just telling about it."

Aunt Jennie is the widow of Honolulu's most beloved mayor, John Henry Wilson. She still holds the respect of Hawaii, especially its politicians. The Hawaiian Legislature has named her the islands' honorary first lady.

Jennie danced the hula before the crown heads of Europe in 1894. Her hair was so long and black that Empress Augusta Cecilia of Germany thought it was a wig. She pulled it to be certain, Aunt Jennie says.

A critic of the present-day hula she invented the ti leaf hula skirt, made by tying long leaves together at their base to form a skirt.

Her dancing became even more popular after she married John H. Wilson. When he needed votes, Aunt Jennie went to political rallies and danced.

She still retains the contagious smile that has rubbed off on the hearts of everyone who knows her.

After seeing her native Hawaii as a monarchy, a republic, a territory, and now the 50th state, does Aunt Jennie have any advice for young Hawaiians?

She raised her wrinkled hands in graceful benediction:

"It will be all right."

If you can manage to get some fresh baby beets, be sure to use their young and tender tops. Cook them just as you would spinach.

Peeling Potatoes Is Becoming Lost Art In American Kitchens

By EARLE L. JESTER

BOISE (AP) — More and more of Idaho's potatoes are going to market in brightly colored packages and cans instead of the brown burlap bags in which they won their first fame.

The change is having far-reaching effects on the consumer and the producer.

For the housewife, it means the elimination of much of the preparation in serving, for example, an inviting dish of mashed potatoes.

But more important, for the producer, it means a stabilized market for the product that has had a history of economic ups and downs since the russet potato brought Idaho its fame as a tuber-producing state.

One of the leaders in the potato marketing change has been J.R. Simplot of Boise. He has been a potato producer since 1923.

Then it was a matter of planting the potatoes in the spring, keeping them cultivated and watered during the summer, harvesting them in the fall — and praying for a good price.

In 1940 Simplot built a processing plant in Caldwell for the production of dehydrated onions. Within a year he had begun processing potatoes, too. Now he operates plants in Caldwell, Burley and Heyburn.

Others have entered the field and plants are producing frozen or dehydrated potato products in Idaho Falls, Burley, Shelley, Blackfoot and at Ontario, in Oregon just across the border from Idaho.

"The whole program is aimed at stabilizing the potato business," Simplot says. "Now we go into the farming area ahead of the planting season and make firm contracts with the growers. The farmer knows before he plants his crop that he will be able to sell it." One of the advantages of the processed potato is the reduction in weight. Freight charges always have been a major problem for Idaho producers because of long shipping distances.

One hundred pounds of fresh potatoes are reduced to just 30 pounds of frozen french fries, Simplot says, and the reduction is six to one.

Department of Agriculture statisticians recognized processing as a factor in disposing of Idaho's potatoes for the first time in 1946. The percentage of the total crop processed has increased steadily since then. The Department of Agriculture estimates that 26 per cent of the 1955 crop, 29 per cent of the 1956 crop and 33 per cent of the 1957 crop was processed.

"I think in time," Simplot says, "that as much as 60 per cent of all the potatoes grown in the United States each year will be processed."

Types of potato products turned out continue to increase. The potato chip, of course, was one of the first. Among the first offered in frozen form were the french fries and hash browns. Simplot says a prepared quick-frozen mashed potato in baked form now is ready. The mashed potato is put in a baked made of potato flour, sprinkled with cheese or parsley or other dressing and frozen. The housewife simply takes it from the package, browns it in the oven and it's ready to serve.

"You can't tell it from the fresh product," Simplot says. Idaho and Maine are the leaders in the processing industry, just as they lead in production of fresh potatoes.

SAFE DRIVING TIP

A motorist should never be distracted while driving. Children in the front seat can prove extremely bothersome to the driver, and safety seats are recommended for youngsters to make sure they do not interfere with the driver's concentration. Common sense dictates that young children should not be allowed freedom of movement in the front seat while the car is in motion, points out the Chicago Motor Club. At no time should a child be permitted within easy reach of the car's driving mechanisms.

Ware-Keeling Taps Earth, 12-5, In Lid Lifter

Defending Champion Ware Keeling spotted Earth three runs in the top half of the first inning, then reared from behind to take a 12-5 victory in the PONY League opener at PONY park Monday night.

Dagwood Conley and Tony Estrada combined to hold the Earth batters in check while the Ware-Keeling hitters pounded out eight hits and used 10 walks to forge ahead.

In the first inning Earth's Clayton, Dent, and Jones reached base on errors and worked around to score before Conley could retire the side.

Ware-Keeling retaliated to score single runs in the bottom of the first and second innings.

Trailing 3-2 in the fourth, the defending champions led the game with a six-run surge. Earth's starter Bill Latham yielded free passes to Larry Hutson, Willie Conley, and Shelley Duval. Wayne Collins, Dagwood Conley, and Tony Estrada blasted singles and Don Stevenson followed with a double to chase Latham from the hill and account for the six Ware-Keeling runs.

Duval and Simmons crossed the plate in the bottom of the fifth to stretch the lead to 10-3.

Both teams had two runs in the sixth inning; Earth's coming off Estrada, who relieved Conley. Earth 3 0 0 0 0 2 0 5 4 3

Stansell, VFW Use Big Second To Rout Richey

VFW, led on the mound by the shut-out pitching of Lyndell Stansell and aided by a big seven-run inning crushed Richey and Son, in a minor league contest at the Little League park Monday night.

In all VFW gained nine hits off three different Richey pitchers to gain its second victory of the season and to take a hold on first place in the minor league standings.

In the bottom of the first inning Edward Moore singled, stole second, third, and went home to score the first run of the game.

Seven different men scored for VFW to make it the biggest inning of the game. VFW batted ten men and scored seven runs on seven hits. The attack was led by Moore, who triples, Stansell, Dwight Favors, and Charles Sanders, who doubled. Mike Pope, Bobby Ward, and Travis Danford singled and scored.

The onslaught chased Richey's starting pitcher, Mackie Hodge, from the hill and brought on the second pitcher, Lee Carter.

In the third inning Richey moved a man around to third base but the VFW infield tightened and the side was retired without a runner crossing the plate.

The Veterans scored a run in both the third and fourth inning.

Lion's pitcher Junior Gonzales struck out three Butaners to retire the side in the fifth.

In the top of the sixth Hutson singled and stole second. Cox doubled to score Hutson then moved to third, and scored on a single by Richards.

We have watched Plainview's Jimmy Dean climb the ladder of success in the entertainment world with a lot of pride. Although he's Plainview's and many times he has done some things on the show that have appeared pretty silly... he's still from West Texas and we claim him.

He hasn't been skimping with his national TV time in telling about Plainview and this part of Texas. That's good Chamber of Commerce. We know that he has taken his amazing climb to TV fame with a lot of humility. When he visited in Plainview last year and visited the High School, tears came to his eyes as he was given a standing ovation by Plainview High Students.

We love all kinds of music (some say Jimmy's isn't real music) and it is interesting to see how those Yankees come out to Jimmy's show each day and how they really go for Jimmy's songs and his way of presenting them... of course Jimmy's director has styled his program up to where he can hardly be called one of the leading hillbillies.

I gave old Pat Downs a buzz the other day to see if he had any records by Littlefield's Wayne Jennings and he still hadn't received them. He did say he had a lot of calls for Wayne's record... so maybe we can watch Wayne gain national fame... here's hoping.

"And... You probably would not worry about what people think of you if you could know how seldom they do," from Over the Coffee Cups by Berle in Denver City Press.

Two Littlefield men were talking over coffee about their wives the other morning. One said, "I beat my wife up every morning, so you can see who is boss at my house"... then with a lengthy pause he continued: "Yes, I beat my wife up every morning and I have the coffee ready for her when she gets up."

They reported hail stones as large as tennis balls north of Midland Monday night. We've heard of a lot of hen egg size hail stones... and tennis balls are a lot bigger... must have been bad! Any kind of hail, large or small is nerve wracking, whether it does much damage or not. Five minutes of hail can destroy a lot of crop investment... destroy a lot of work and sweat... a lot of faith. You've heard it said over and over, farming is nothing but gambling... yet we know that years of skill and day by day faith are the important factors in staying in the farming business... and farming on an irrigated farm in West Texas is BIG BUSINESS!

The wheels are turning on Lamb County's four-lane highway. The appraiser has finished his job and the county judge and commissioners have kept pace with the needed developments. Also to be commended are the fellows who got out and got the 250 names signed to the petitions for vote. The plan of procedure is pretty well set up and only the decision of the voters in the three road districts will reveal the answer. We sincerely hope that our voters will see fit to approve this much needed four-lane highway.

You haven't really lived... or possibly lived so daringly, as when you're elected to umpire for the Little League. Bill Street and I tried a couple of games as special umpires representing the Lions Club Tuesday night. Bill and I learned a lot about Little League rules in a hurry. We enjoyed it... hope the Little Leaguers did. The sponsors of the Little League and all other summer organized baseball are certainly to be commended on the fine work they are doing with our boys. It takes a lot of their time... it takes money... yet I feel that it will pay big dividends in the game of life for every boy that has participated in this wonderful program.

Looking through the advertisements in today's Leader we note that The Littlefield Tire Service has on some recap tire specials, plenty of good grocery buys from your local supermarkets, Penney's End-of-month event, Staggs Camera sale, A & B's contemporary albums... and a lot of more good buys... seeing is believing!

Jaycees Score First Win, 9-7, From Rotarians

The Jaycees scored five runs in the bottom of the third inning, then held on to stop a Rotarian rally in order to down Rotary, 9-7, and gain their first victory in Little League play Monday night.

The game was called after the top of the fourth inning in order to meet a 9:30 curfew set by the Little League rules.

The Jaycees used seven straight walks by the Rotary staff and an infield error to gain their runs.

After Rotary had moved ahead 1-0 in the top of the first inning, the Jaycees bounced back to capitalize on four walks by Rotary starter Bob Ross and a double by catcher Jimmy Langford to take a 3-1 lead.

Each team scored one run in the second inning.

In the top of the third the Rotarians drove five men across the plate on four walks, an error and a single by catcher Floyd Salines.

This set the stage for the Jaycees to come from behind to win. Ross walked seven batters, five of which crossed the plate.

Jim Palmer, in relief of Jaycee's starter Gary Smith, walked two batters in the top of the fourth, but neither runner scored.

Latin Receives 5-Year Sentence In Forgery Case

A Littlefield Latin American was sentenced to five years in prison Monday after pleading guilty in 154th District Court to a charge of forgery.

The man, Chico Mendez, pleaded guilty to forging a check to Cashway Food at Olton in December, 1956. Mendez had been in jail here, Levelland, Muleshoe and Morton the past 13 months.

He already had received two-year sentences in Bailey and Cochran counties. The sentences are concurrent with the five-year sentence assessed here.

School Out, But Not For Members Of Littlefield's Study Committee

School is out for some 2,000 children in the Littlefield school district, but for school board members, administrators and 40 adults, work is just getting under way.

These 40 adults will hold the third general meeting of the Littlefield system's school study committee tonight at 7:30 at the school library.

They're just getting started on a project to determine school needs here, from both the immediate and long-range viewpoints.

They've divided themselves into four sub-committees—on curriculum, personnel, facilities and finance. Committee chairman are Howard Horne, curriculum; Macky Greer, personnel; Bill Carter, facilities and Jack Walker, finance.

The four chairmen form a steering committee along with Dr. Morris Wallace of Texas Tech, consultant to the total committee.

The general committee is following a "study guide" presented at its last meeting, a several meetings of the various sub-committees have been conducted since the last general meeting last month.

The total committee has concentrated on the curriculum phase of the study so far, with work on other phases to come after the committee has been briefed on the school's present program.

Here are the committee assignments:

CURRICULUM—Mrs. Rhea Bradley, Ernest Connell, Howard Horne, Roy Allen Hutson, Mrs. Jerry Lumsden, Ray McKinney, Mrs. J. L. Murdock, F. L. Newton, Mrs. William Orr, Mrs. Bruce Porcher, Mrs. Wiley Roberts, Mrs. Hollis Smith, Mrs. J. M. Farmer, Mrs. David Vaughn, Mrs. Ray Hulse and Mrs. Sam Williams.

PERSONNEL—Royce Goynes, Herb Helbig, Mrs. Paul Jones, Mrs. R. M. Richey, E. L. Schovajsa, Mrs. Waymon Messer, Mrs. V. L. Stokes, Amos Ward and Macky Greer.

FACILITIES—Harold Clements, Elmo Jones, James Pirkey, Bob Roden, Bill Carter, Mrs. J. R. Coen and Byron Douglass.

FINANCE—J. D. Smith, Don Bell, Paul Hyatt, Rev. Wendell Tolle, Calvin Price, W. D. Hall, Herman Neuschwander and O. L. (Jack) Walker.

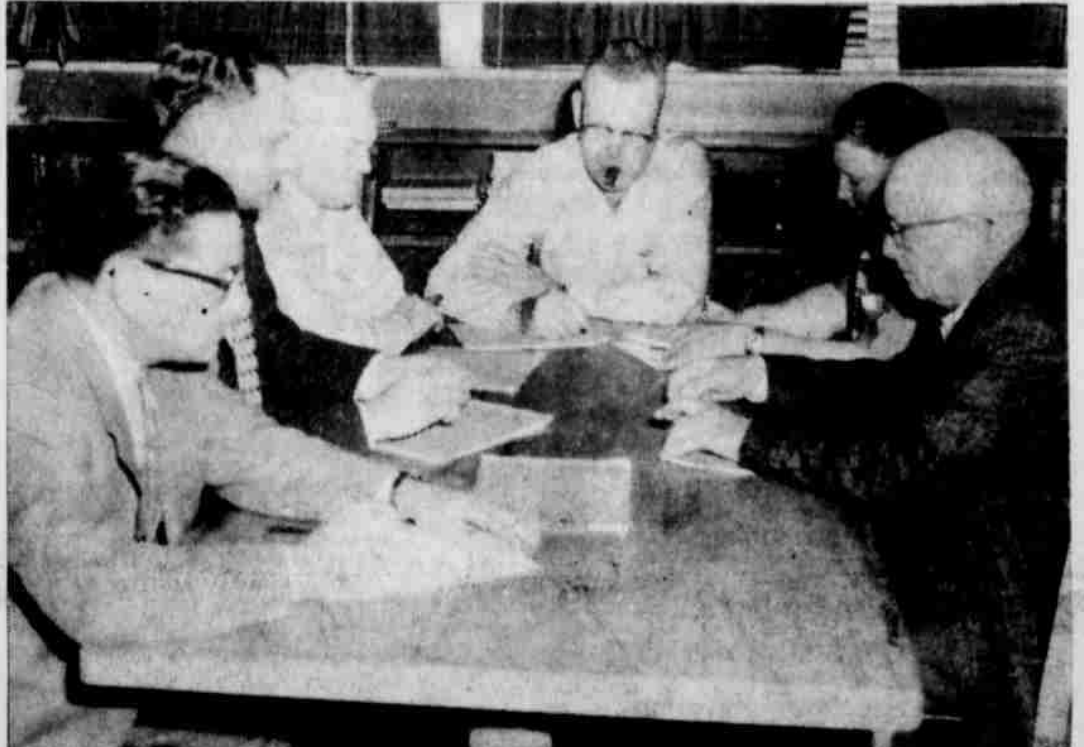

LARGEST COMMITTEE among those studying school needs is one for curriculum.

THIS COMMITTEE IS studying personnel needs of the school.

BILL CARTER, center, heads committee studying facilities.

FINANCE COMMITTEE will look into schools' money needs.

Hogan After Another Chapter In His Great Story Of Sport

BOLD V. RATLIFF golfer after that grand slam of 1953—the Masters, National Open and the British Open. He couldn't put and he didn't have it in the clutch as he tried desperately to return to the top and do what no other man ever had accomplished—win the National Open five times.

But the crown didn't worry about his inability to win. He was the big attraction on a golf course no matter who was leading.

At the Colonial National invitation in Fort Worth Hogan was responsible for a new attendance record although he never got into the lead until the final day, then only sharing it.

In the playoff, in which he beat Fred Hawkins for the championship, the largest crowd ever to see one of the post-tournament affairs turned out. The kids stormed him for autographs. One youngster said, "Let me shake hands' with you, Mr. Hogan." Ben complied with a grin.

It was the Hogan of old who stormed over that last 18 holes for a 1-under-par 69 in conditions more conducive to 79's. He said afterward he had licked the putting problem himself—he had just thrown aside all the suggestions he had been listening to, worked out the stance and stroke he thought would give him the putting touch once more. It had.

Now Hogan looks toward realization of his largest ambition: win the National Open a fifth time and become the greatest name in that golfing extravaganza.

That he is working harder than ever before is indicated in the fact that he has entered more tournaments than any year since 1953. Ben says you have to play tournament golf if you're going to win tournaments.

The main reason the American public was captivated by Hogan and has stayed that way is that he represents the finest in fighting spirit.

While he has been the greatest golfer of all time he always had a sympathetic eye from the gallery. He was little and skinny and never looked strong enough to be out there battling the giants. Then came his terrible accident in 1949—when his life was at first despaired of, then his ability to ever play golf again doubted. But he showed the people a fellow could do just about anything he wanted to do if he wanted to badly enough. He not only returned to golf but won the National Open three more times.

Hogan will live in sports as the man who could conquer anything.

Wheat Tested At Halfway Fully Headed

HALFWAY — Most of the 26 varieties of wheat being tested at the High Plains Research Foundation are fully headed. Some of the later maturing varieties are just beginning to head out. Farmers interested in comparing the wheat varieties are invited to visit the experimental farm at Halfway, Dr. T. C. Longnecker, director, said this week.

Eleven of the varieties are experimental. The fifteen released varieties are Early Blackhall, Wichita, Triumph, New Triumph, Crockett, Ponca, Comanche, Wheatheart Triumph and Kharkof. Douglas Owen, Assistant Agronomist, stated.

In the barley research program, eleven varieties are being tested. They are Kearney, Dicktoo, Pueblo, Harbine, Wintex, Rogers, Cordova, Missouri Early Beardless and Kenbar. Two varieties are experimental.

The fertilizer experiments on wheat are definitely showing response to nitrogen.

The wheat and barley tests are being conducted in cooperation with the Texas A & M Extension Division. Seed was furnished by the Bushland U. S. D. A. Station.

Farm Truck Owners Told To Check On Possible Vehicle Law Violations

Director D. T. Harkrider of the Texas Highway Department Motor Vehicle Division this week urged owners of pickup trucks or other vehicles, registered under special "farm truck" licensing privileges to check closely against possible violation of provisions of the Texas Motor Vehicle Law.

Harkrider said an investigation was planned on widespread abuse of a lower license rate provision for farm trucks. Under the law, bona fide farmers may register their trucks and other farm vehicles at a 50 per cent fee reduction provided that such vehicles be used primarily in connection with farming pursuits and only essential family transportation. Persons registering vehicles as farm trucks must sign an affidavit attesting to qualifications under the law.

Harkrider said the most widespread infringement has been by persons residing in rural areas who use farm trucks for transportation to non-farm employment.

"Although a large number of people are unaware of it, the use of trucks bearing special Texas 'farm truck' plates for transportation to another job are as much in violation of the law as those using such trucks for commercial hauling," Harkrider said.

He added, however, that his department is "not anxious to prosecute innocent offenders who may have wrongly informed as to restrictions accompanying the special farm plate," and said such persons can exchange their farm license plates for regular truck plates at County Tax Collectors' offices by paying the difference in registration cost, provided they do so immediately." Harkrider said the Motor Vehicle Division will intensify investigation of violators "in two or three weeks".

Violation of the law is a misdemeanor offense, bearing a fine of from $25 to $200 upon conviction.

Harkrider said registration of vehicles as "farm trucks" had increased steadily since the legislature in 1957 set out definition of permissive use of such vehicles.

Misinterpretation of that definition, he said, has been the cause for widespread violation. Harkrider said re-orders for farm truck plates from tax collectors this year indicate a vast increase in such registrations for 1959. He urged that persons "who know themselves to be violators of the law immediately take steps to right a wrong to the vast majority of bona fide farmers who appropriately benefit from this law."

Memorial Day

In the National Cemetery at Arlington, Va., the official inscription on the tomb of the unknown soldier reads: "Here lies in honored glory, an American soldier, known but to God."

As Memorial Day services are held there this year, America pays tribute to the dead of all wars. It is a specific, reverent reminder on the part of our government of the close relationship of one and all of us to God.

We are also reminded by the Religion In American Life movement that our relationship to God is acknowledged by our National Motto, "In God We Trust." Memorial Day is an occasion for all of us to renew our dedication to Him as Americans.

How Memorial Day Began

While the South was fighting to free itself from the Union, its women were planting the beginnings of one of the most reverent national holidays of the U.S. — Memorial Day.

The nation was still torn by the Civil War when Southern women began to honor the dead from both sides of the Mason-Dixon line by scattering flowers on their graves.

According to research experts, the women of Columbus, Miss., decorated the graves of Union and Confederate soldiers in 1863. Two years later, Mrs. Sue Landon Vaughn, a descendant of John Adams, second president of the U.S., led some women in strewing flowers at a military cemetery in Vicksburg, Miss.

As the custom spread, General John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, was persuaded to set a uniform date on which to honor the Union dead. In 1868, Logan issued a general order to all Grand Army posts, setting aside May 30th "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country."

The first celebrations in the North exalted the Union armies for their victory over the South. But the theme of victor and vanquished gradually disappeared.

As the U.S. passed through the Spanish-American War, the World Wars and the Korean War, Memorial Day became a tribute to the nation and to all those who have died for it.

Fact And Opinion

Throughout the free world there has been almost unanimous praise for the character of John Foster Dulles, on the part of those who opposed his policies no less than those who supported them. The Reporter presents a typical opposition appreciation: "We have too much respect for Mr. Dulles to take back any of the criticism we leveled at him during his tenure of office. In fact, we never liked him. But there are so few men in our day and country with the capacity to follow a sustained train of thought, to be themselves to the farthest reaches of loneliness and of risk. Mr. Dulles has proved to be one of the very, very few. When we learned of his resignation, we knew that our lives had become the poorer."

According to Dr. Edward L. Bortz, a former president of The American Medical Association, a do-it-yourself health program is the greatest insurance policy for a longer, healthier life. The major scourges of the aging, he says, are largely the result of faulty diet, flabby bodies from poor hygiene, excessive fatigue, and aimless living.

In the last few months all manner of organizations have been urging that businessmen take an active interest in politics, on behalf of the candidates, parties, and programs they believe in. This has been given the blessing of the top political strategists. Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee observes: "I say, with the strongest possible conviction, that businessmen belong in politics." Chairman Thurston B. Morton of the Republican National Committee sees the matter the same way: "Men and women of the business community should, not only in their own self-interest, but in the interest of their country, participate more fully in party organization work at all levels."

HOW BOUT THAT

Another Service Of Littlefield's Chamber of Commerce — 1959

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — There's a "get on with it" mood among House members during this special session. House was the target of some criticisms after the regular session for having made almost no progress in money-raising. This session the House began processing money bills at a fast clip. Initial action indicated there was less opposition in the House to Gov. Price Daniel's tax program than during the regular session. Many in the lower house seemed to be in a mood to get as much as possible over to the Senate and "let them worry with it a while." Then, if the finance problem still isn't solved at the end of this session, they hope people won't be saying that the House "sat on its hands again."

GOVERNMENT PERMANENT PROGRAM

To cover new money needs for the next two years, the governor is pushing a separate tax program, a "package bill" known as H. B. 7. It would raise an estimated $161,000,000 in two years. Affected by the bill would be (1) natural gas, with a reduction from 7 to 5 per cent in production tax and addition of 5 per cent "severance beneficiary" tax, (2) interstate corporations, with a new and complex taxation formula, (3) utility companies, with an increase in the gross receipts tax, (4) cigarettes, one cent per package more, (5) other tobacco products, except snuff, to be added to sales tax fold, (6) liquor, increase from $1.408 (correct) to $2.50 a gallon sales tax, (7) automobiles, with sales tax increase from 1.1 to 1.5 per cent. Rep. George Hinson of Mineola is sponsoring the bill. In the past weeks the governor has been making a vigorous round of conferences and talks, rounding up support for his program. He launched it before the Legislature with a speech pouring fire and brimstone on the heads of lobbyists. He accused the "third house" of causing expensive delays. OTHER TAX BILLS — As in the regular session, there is no lack of ideas for raising money. Besides the governor's bill, these have been proposed: (1) One per cent tax on all manufactured goods, by Rep. Jerry Sadler of Perella. To bring in an estimated $300,000,000 annually. Businesses grossing less than $25,000

"COOKING ELECTRICALLY IS SO EASY, IT ENABLES ME TO PREPARE WHOLE-SOME MEALS AND STILL HAVE LEISURE TIME FOR MYSELF AND MY FAMILY!"

says MRS. ROBERT L. CARR, OF LUBBOCK, TEXAS

Mrs. Carr has found that there is guaranteed delight in electric cooking and you will, too, when you get your new electric range. Mrs. Carr particularly likes her double oven arrangement about which she says, "I have cooked electrically for several years, but I enjoy most the double oven in my electric range — it's a double convenience in the kitchen."

annually would be exempt. (2) 1.5 per cent general sales tax, by Rep. Frates S. Seelingson of San Antonio. Food, feed and fertilizer would be exempt. (3) One per cent tax on retail sales, one per cent on personal income and three per cent on corporate income, by Rep. Louis Anderson of Midland. (4) Five per cent tax on corporation net profits, by Rep. Dean Johnson of Houston. (5) Five per cent tax on trading stamps, by Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs. (6) Graduated oil tax, by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston. RE - RUN ON APPROPRIATIONS — Re-approving the appropriation bills passed during the regular session was no great stumbling block for either House or Senate. As before, both houses passed bills calling for 1960-61 spending totaling about $2,400,000,000. House bill would require some $333,000,000 from the general revenue fund; the Senate bill, about $20,000,000 less. Only change on either side was a House amendment to cut off aid to dependent children payments for illegitimate children after the first one in a family. By having more children, said Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock, unwed mothers get more money from the state. House members agreed the payments encouraged illegitimacy. Hard part on getting an appropriation bill will be settling the House and Senate differences in conference committee. No conference group was appointed in the regular session. Some predicted there would be no effort to come to final agreement on spending this session until ways to pay for it had been agreed upon. TOO MUCH OIL — Texas oil allowable for June will be 282,738 barrels a day less than for May. Texas Railroad Commission set the statewide flow at 2,904,414 barrels a day on a 10-day producing pattern. It is the lowest allowable since last July. Both independent producers and major buyers asked the Commission for a sharp cut. They said there is a surplus of petroleum and the threat of a glut on the market. GONE WITH THE WIND — If you inherited some of grand-father's Confederate bonds, Texas Supreme Court has held that the state cannot pay them off. Holders of some state Civil War bonds issued in 1862 received legislative permission to sue the state for $46,000 payment on the bonds. Lower courts held the state was not liable because of a general statute of limitations against debts that old. Supreme Court upheld that ruling.

VASE CHOICE

Choose vases of three types so that you may have suitable ones for all types of flowers. Tall vases with wide tops should be used for roses, delphiniums and other such flowers; low spreading vases for pansies and nasturtiums and larger ones with wide top and broad base for peonies, gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Sandhills Philosopher

He's Neglecting His Farm To Talk About Children

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses children's television programs this week. He probably should stick to farming. Dear editor: According to an article I read in a newspaper last night which I brought home from town earlier in the day because it was wrapped around a pair of shoes I'd had half-soled, the national P.T.A. is up in arms over the type of television programs the children of this country are watching. "It's high time we stopped talking about the 13-year-old mentality of the average American," a leader complained, saying television is making a mistake in assuming its programs have to be planned on that level. She added that the way to improve the programs is to have parents select their kids' shows. Make em stop looking at the bad ones. Now I'm no expert on television programs, but it's not clear to me how a parent is going to decide a program is all right until it's too late. I mean, unless you know in advance a program is bad for children, then half way through the thing, right when the bullets are flying, is no time to shut it off. Maybe some parents can walk into a room in the middle of a blood-thirsty T. V. show watched spell-bound by a bunch of kids and shut it off and get by with it, but I don't know very many. Understand, I don't have the answer. It's true most television programs I've watched are about as interesting as watching the clothes swirl around behind the glass door in an automatic washing machine, but I may have tuned in at the wrong time. When a neighbor's T. V. can't sit glued to it all night, I believe it's television business. I have the P. T. A. after me. On the whole, through out that children's over television, instead of way around. Some programs may be bad but so are some grown-ups. Yours Sincerely, J. A.

Eight Texans On 200-Man Police Force That Patrols U. S. Capitol

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, May 21 (AP) — The 200-man police force which patrols the Capitol and adjacent office buildings contains eight Texans.

The Capitol cops, not connected with the Washington Metropolitan police force, seldom have occasion to handle crime. The men pack pistols and are ready for trouble but their job largely is one of directing tourists.

Chet Coutant, originally from New York but now a legal resident of Corsicana, holds down the front desk information desk in the House wing of the Capitol.

"We're asked every question imaginable," he commented. "Mostly we want to know where they can find the President's office. After telling them the President seldom comes up to the Capitol, we mention that they can take guided tours of the buildings."

At present one of the most common questions is why the big east front of the Capitol has been torn down.

"It's been in the newspapers all over the country that the front is being extended," he added, "but for some reason an awful lot of people never heard of it."

Many foreigners ask how laws are made, he said, and the English are fond of comparing their parliament to Congress. Most all tourists like to mention their home state, and Texans seem to take extra pride in it, he added.

Coutant is married to the former Jean Delahey, who was born and reared in Corsicana and has just returned from a visit there to undergo an operation. They have a son, Paul Edward, 5.

Jim Wheeler of Glenwood, near Gilmer, is another Texan holding down a spot in the Capitol where tourists continually cluster.

He has worked the Senate side for years, and now is stationed outside the Senate disbursement office, near the old Supreme Court Chamber. He has a son named Lyndon, after — who else? — Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.).

Stationed outside the House Sergeant-at-Arms office, the "bank" for all House members and employees, is John Keese of Sonora. On the force since 1942, he is nearing retirement.

Oldest of all the Texans is Arch S. (Buck) Rodgers, 76, a native of Wood County. He could retire but doesn't want to.

Buck gained some fame a few years ago when a group of Puerto Ricans fired shots in the House Chamber and wounded some congressmen. As the Puerto Ricans fled Rodgers pursued and caught two of them.

Newest among the Texans on the force is Jack Elliott of Galveston, 21. He also attends George Washington University. He helps patrol automobile traffic in front of the Capitol, and does what he can to placate unhappy tourists unable to find parking places.

A prime requirement for a Capitol hill cop is to know how to deal with families or friends of congressmen who may expect special treatment.

About half the force is composed of young men studying law, medicine and other professions. At least two are studying for the ministry at Episcopal Seminary in nearby Alexandria, Va.

Juan Ramirez of Tioga is studying at Georgetown University. Other Texans on the force are Clark Eubank Finks, Dallas, and Jimmy Gage, Denton.

Robert Strickland, Coy Grant, Wade Strother, S. J. Clevenger Jr., Hayes Denney, V. D. Hodges, Buddy Miller, Raymond Clevenger and fourteen children.

Automobile Accident Rules Should Be Memorized

Vacation time is near. Soon millions of people will be driving about the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

1. Stop! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.
2. Render Aid. If anyone is injured: (1) Render First Aid. (2) Stop bleeding. (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both. (4) DO NOT move an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injury.
3. Protect the Scene from Further Damage. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers, unless they are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his headlight beams on the wrecked vehicles.
4. Call an Officer. Policemen, Highway Patrolmen, Sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claim for damages.
5. Gather Information... Write it Down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess be specific. Measure skid marks. Step off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses. You are required by law to exhibit your driver's license to the other driver — and he must do the same.
6. Be Careful What You Say. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later that the other driver was equally at fault, or more so. Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others, or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.
7. See Your Doctor if there is the slightest chance you may be injured. Serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.
8. Consult Your Lawyer Immediately. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better he can advise you and protest your rights. He can obtain statements from the witnesses while their memories are fresh, and do many other things to insure that the true facts are preserved. Get your lawyer's advice before giving any interviews or statements to investigators or adjusters for the other side.
9. Inform Your Insurance Company Promptly. Failure to do so may void your policy.
10. Report the Accident to the Department of Public Safety. This is required by law if there is any injury, death, or total damages exceed $25.00.

An official accident report form may be procured from the Police, Sheriff's Dept., Highway Patrol, or State Dept. of Public Safety.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

About Your Health

Falling is one of the commonest but most unnecessary hazards faced by older persons according to the Texas State Department of Health.

Hundreds of thousands of old people are injured every year from falls, and more people die after 65 from falls and their complications than from auto accident injuries.

One of the major factors in falls is that as persons age their balance-recovery machinery fails. If a person starts to "teeter," certain muscles in his body instantly go into action to keep him on his feet. But in the older years, these muscles get lazy and don't function as rapidly.

Some of the most common causes of falls and their preventions are:

Stairways. When an older person goes up or down stairs, he should not take one step with each foot, but should put both feet on a step before proceeding to the next one.

Insufficient light. Older persons don't see as well as they once did. Stairways especially should be lighted. A night light in the bathroom is recommended. In addition, a person should keep a flashlight by his bed to use if he gets up in the night.

Bedrooms. The most dangerous room in the house is not the kitchen, but the bedroom. This is where where most elderly persons fall, often because they get up too quickly and become dizzy. When a person gets up, he should sit on the edge of the bed for a few minutes.

employment, operation, adjustment and maintenance of the Nike-Ajax fire control system and associated equipment.

The 20-year-old soldier entered High School and attended university of Texas.

Taking a step backwards. If a person feels uncertain about his footing, he should never step backwards unless he can see where he is going.

Not lifting feet high enough. As a person ages, his muscles and ligaments are less lively and he doesn't lift his feet as high, with the result that he trips over all sorts of things — rug corners, toys, thresholds and doormats. Other dangers are bathrooms and climbing on chairs.

Bellamy Ends 52-Week Course On Missiles

received basic training Carson, Colo.

The Coal Story Today

By JULES LOH AP Newsfeatures
 In the year 1808 a man named George Shoemaker of Pottsville, Pa., hauled nine wagonloads of coal to Philadelphia.
 He sold two loads. The other seven he had to give away.
 In the next century and a half the pendulum of coal prosperity made its arc, and in this generation began its downward swing.
 And the problem of George Shoemaker 150 years ago is today the basic problem underlying the prolonged and bitter dispute in Eastern Kentucky.

Shrinking Demand, Turmoil And Strikes

Demand Shrinking
 There simply is a shrinking demand for coal.
 Ten years ago truck mine operators in Eastern Kentucky got 4.50 per ton for their coal. The United Mine Workers contract called for a daily wage of $15.60 for the men who mined it.
 Today the average price per ton is $3.50, and the UMW contract asks a daily wage of $24.25.
 Refusal of mine operators to sign the contract has led to bloodshed, death, thousands of dollars property damage, and scores of the type that don't heal readily - the type inflicted when brother turns against brother, father against son.
Has Many Uses
 Many feel the short life of coal's prosperity is the fault of the industry itself - through failure to exploit the market to its fullest.
 George Shoemaker of Pottsville had only one selling point: This black stuff burns; it will heat a house.
 Modern technology found that coal and its derivatives could be used to make everything from baking powder to phonograph records; from aspirin to cyanide; from perfume to laughing gas; from linoleum to nylon hose; moth balls to DDT.
"Still Money in Coal"
 "There is still money to be made in coal," said F. F. Schulte, for whom coal has provided a livelihood for 58 of his 70 years. Schulte ran a way from his home in Calumet, Mich., when he was 12, and followed the bituminous seams from Iowa to Whitesburg, Ky., where he is now retired.
 There are few jobs Schulte has not done in the coal mines.
 "A good coal miner is worth his hire," Schulte said.
 "That's why neither side is completely right or completely wrong in this strike."
Speaks from Experience
 "I have seen good mines ruined because the operator did not invest enough of the profits in it," he said. "I know, because I have operated a truck mine."
 "The price of coal is not as good as it used to be, sure. But it is still high enough for a man to make a god profit and a pay good wages - if he operates his mine right."

Expense Breakdown

Out of each ton, the operator's chief expenses, other than labor, are the average of 60 cents he pays the trucker to haul the coal to the loading ramp, and the 40 cents he pays the UMW toward its welfare fund - this instead of providing hospitalization and retirement benefits of his own.
 Naturally there are other costs to operating a mine.
 Most of the operators lease their mines, so there is a 25 cent royalty on each ton for the owner; and there are tool depreciation expenses, explosives, timber and other costs.
 Schulte's point is there should be enough for a higher wage than

He can't take everything out and put nothing back.

"A miner making $10 a day for loading about 10 ton (coal people never say tons) is not going to take the time to clean the coal properly."
 "He shoots it with too much powder and gets too much ash, and the operator gets a low price for the coal."
 A moderate sized truck mine will produce about 100 tons per day.
 The approximately $10 a day now being paid.
 "Probably the union's demand is too steep," he said.
 "John L. Lewis has done a lot for the coal miner. It was terrible here before John came. But it could be that he's asking too much."
 The solution to the two-month old crisis is obscure. If no solution is found, however, the result is obvious.
 Because in Eastern Kentucky there are only two basic sources of income:
 Coal - and government relief checks.

LIPSTIC LOGIC
 By LOUISE C. AL...
 Almost every house is spring-cleaning. The housewife's way of undermeath, the need is - to dig out, throw away, get spruce up.
 Women's manners, too, are spring-cleaning. Lots of things centering around the housewife's undermeath, the need is - to dig out, throw away, get spruce up.
 Because in Eastern Kentucky there are only two basic sources of income:
 Coal - and government relief checks.

For Free Or Hire, Taxi Driver Is Johnny On Spot

AMICABLE AMIGO: Lucky Lucero of Taos, N. M., is a taxi driver. His service includes more than what the usual cab driver offers. And if you're short of cash, chances are you can ride free.
 TAOS, N. M. (AP) - For 50 cents a mile, Lucky Lucero will pick up your mail, drop off your laundry, do your grocery shopping, or drive you to a movie. If business is slow, he may stay with you to see the picture.
 And if you're low on cash, chances are you can get the same services for free. On slow days, Lucero might stop and say to someone walking: "Hop in, today - all rides on the house."
 To Taos residents and others who vacation here, Lucero is that taxi driver who has the face of a Mexican bandit and the heart of a parish priest.
 "You meet all kinds of people in this business," he says. Some of them:
 The man who "pulled a gun on me and ordered me to drive to an isolated spot. He held the gun at the back of my head all the way. When we got there he jumped out and told me to wait. Then he spent the next hour running around in the dark shooting rabbits."
 Then there was the perpetual free-loader who, wobbling from too many drinks, plopped into the back seat of the taxi and demanded to be taken home. Lucero jumped into the front seat, raced the motor for a couple minutes, turned off the key and let the passenger out.
 "That's the last time I'll ride with you," the drunk said indignantly. "You drive too damn fast."

In Panhandle, growers planting in early March started early in scattered acreage. The increase from last year is additional acreage. Fields generally in good condition and even in the Great

FAMILY LIVING COSTS

A recent report of the USDA on living expenditures of farm-operator families shows that in Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas the average farm family pays more for food than any other single item for family living. The farm family today spends about the same proportion of its family living dollar on food as does the nonfarm family.

Out of every dollar spent for family living, 28 cents go for food; 21.2 cents for housing (including shelter, furnishings, equipment and household operation); 13.3 cents for clothing; and 13 cents for transportation.

Out of every dollar spent for family living, the lesser items are medical care, 7.6 cents; personal care, 2.6 cents; tobacco and alcoholic beverages, 1.9 cents; recreation, 3.6 cents; reading and education, 1.3 cents; personal insurance, 2.8 cents; gifts and contributions, 4.0 cents; and other goods and services, 2.1 cents.

In Washington

With CLINTON DAVIDSON
ARSENAL OF PEACE

Top government farm officials from five Free World nations met recently in Washington for two days, then left with no more than a brief note in the press that they had been here.

Those who know what was discussed think that what began here could very well be a great bearing on the future peace of the world than anything to be accomplished at the Summit Conference in Geneva.

A start was made toward use of the tremendous Free World reserve of food to counter Russian propaganda among the uncommitted nations of the world. The countries participating in the meeting were the U.S., France, Canada, Australia and Argentina.

The conference was the first step in the "food for peace" proposal advanced early this year by President Eisenhower in a special message to Congress. Officials described it as "largely exploratory."

Bread on the Waters
Agreement was reached, tentatively, on a program for sharing the surpluses of wheat held by the five nations with the more than half a billion people in the world who go to bed hungry every night.

The five agricultural ministers took home, for approval of their governments, proposal that could make available almost immediately some two billion bushels of wheat for distribution to nations in short supply of food.

It was agreed to encourage underdeveloped nations to set up their own national food reserves, using wheat received from the five exporting nations.

Following the example already set by the U. S., the four other countries will consider making wheat available anywhere in the Free World in exchange for the currency of the receiving nation.

Two Purposes
The food surplus producing nations have two primary objectives in undertaking a food for peace program. They want to combat communism in the nations where hunger makes it easy for the Reds to spread their propaganda.

Too, they want to turn food surpluses from a financial burden into an asset for peace, and as the preliminary to long-time customers for our farms and factories.

Four of the five nations represented at the meeting have the ability to greatly expand their food production. France is the exception. Although wheat currently is the greatest surplus, many other foods also are available.

The eventual goal of the food for peace program is to keep farmers in the Free World fully and profitably employed while, at the same time, making food available to peoples of the underdeveloped nations under long-term agreements.

The reasoning is that communism cannot flourish in nations that are well fed and clothed. This is a long-range goal whose success or failure could mean the difference between war and peace without fear of hunger.
