WITH HONORARY DEGREE

Branham Honored at FFA Banquet

Branham, vocational agriculture and FFA chapter adviser, was awarded an honorary Farmer chapter degree during the program of the Littlefield FFA Parent-Son banquet Tuesday night in the school cafeteria.

Approximately 65 members and 150 guests attended the annual banquet with Phil Sullins serving as toastmaster. FFA members had charge of the entire program.

Haynes Melton and Kenny Carr each earned a pair of Foundation Awards. Melton took awards as Star Chapter Farmer and for livestock projects, while Carr was a winner as Star Greenhand and for dairy farming.

Other Foundation award winners were Jerry Lancaster for crops, Ronald Hill for farm electrification, Dwight Faver for mechanics, Rex Minyard for public speaking, Mack Steffey for soil and water management, and Velton Lynn, the Dekalb award for outstanding senior in all activities.

Faver and Minyard were also scholarship winners — Faver in the junior-senior division and Minyard as a sophomore. Richard Wright was the freshman winner. These are awarded to students with the highest grade average for all subjects.

Chapter President Jerry Lancaster also revealed that the club scrapbook had been dedicated to Mrs. F.J. Branham for her interest and aid in putting the book together.

Mark Harbin, vice president from Levelland, made a brief address as guest speaker. Minyard, who won second in the district public speaking contest, gave his talk on "The Future of Cotton."

Kenny Carr voiced the welcoming address, and his father — Donald Carr — gave the response. Others participating in the program were Dale Graves, Mack Steffey, Ralph Hobratchek, Ed Blessing, Dwight Faver, Haynes Melton, Dwight Starnes, Donald Birkelback, and Dwayne Houk.

Special entertainment was provided by a high school group composed of Bob Badger, Brenda Perkins, Fay Ivie, Patsy Russell and Junior Torres. Chick Brown also presented two selections on the clarinet.

A showdown of strength may be in the making for Saturday's Democratic party county convention between two forces who found a parting of the ways last Saturday in the Precinct 12 convention in Littlefield, and in lesser degree at several other precinct conventions over the county.

The Precinct 12 convention drew an attendance of more than 90 voters and saw Otto Jones, the precinct chairman, replaced as convention chairman by Charlie Duval, whose delegate committee picked a slate of delegates to next Saturday's convention.

In the pattern of party conventions, the vote between Duval and Jones was the prime test of control and the Duval forces won out, opening their way to the key business, selection of delegates to the county convention.

One clear rift appeared when Glenn Batson, county Democratic chairman and member of the State Democratic Executive Committee, was proposed as a substitute on the Duval slate after it was submitted.

Batson, a resident of Precinct 12, emphatically declined to take the place "under these circumstances" and his name was withdrawn. Batson was proposed when Gerald Sanders, who headed the resolutions committee, suggested that Jerome Kirby be substituted on the delegate slate for Mrs. Gerald Sanders.

Kirby declined but proposed Batson for the vacancy. Batson's statement closed this door and Kirby was included as a delegate choice.

The county Demo chairman also represents the Texas 30th Senatorial district on the state executive committee and is convention site chairman for the state group.

Stock Promoter Loses Appeal For New Trial

James Winston Sharp, 57, convicted here in February of illegal stock sales, lost an appeal for a new trial here Wednesday morning in 154th District Court when Judge Pat Boone Jr. affirmed the jury's verdict of a $3,000 fine and five years in prison.

Sharp was found guilty here Feb. 11 after a two-day court trial on charges that he offered for sale stock in a Texas corporation that had not been registered for sale of stock with the Securities Commission of Texas.

He was also not registered as a stock salesman with the Securities Commission, a commission agent testified in the trial. The charge grew out of an offer of $5,100 in stock in a company styled Central Equity Corp. to J. T. Brittain of Littlefield, one of several persons approached on a proposal to set up a "holding company" to finance nursing homes in West Texas.

The corporation had a stronger tie with the Lamb area, it was revealed in trial testimony. Donald Cox of Bula, a prominent young farmer, originally was made president of the corporation but withdrew after a week and worked with officers in a plan that led to Sharp's arrest.

Cancer Crusade Drive Conducted

The Lamb County Cancer Crusade march in Littlefield netted $883 Tuesday night, it was announced by David Stafford, chairman of the house-to-house drive.

The total was incomplete, Stafford added. The downtown business drive, headed by John Hutchins and C. L. Walker, has brought in $550 to date. A report was not available on the special gifts division.

CHARTER IS PRESENTED — Curtis Wilkinson, left, new president of the Littlefield Optimist Club, was presented with the club charter by District Gov. Guy D. Harrell of Odessa in a banquet here Tuesday night. Wilkinson was installed as president along with other new officers.

OPTIMISTS GET CHARTER Wilkinson Is New President

Curtis Wilkinson, Lamb County attorney, was installed as president of the Littlefield Optimist Club at a charter banquet Tuesday night attended by about 90 members, wives and guests.

Other officers of the club were also installed by Hal Glasgow, president of the Lubbock Downtown Optimist Club — sponsors of the new Littlefield club. All of the officers but Wilkinson, however, had already assumed their posts.

Wilkinson was selected by the board of directors to replace J.R. (Pete) Smith as charter president. Smith resigned recently to accept a post of the City Planning Commission.

Guy D. Harrell, Optimist governor of Zone C, District 38, came from Odessa to present the club's charter. The sponsoring Lubbock club presented a bell, gavel and club banner, while Ed McCanlies presented an American flag on behalf of the Woodmen of the World.

Elmo Jones, a club director, served as toastmaster and introduced special guests — including presidents of other civic clubs in Littlefield. Harrell made the principal address.

Mike Sanders, who recently won an oratorical contest for the Littlefield club, led the pledge of allegiance. Other officers of the new club are Werner Birkelback and Judd Walker, vice-presidents; Gerald Roberts, secretary-treasurer; and directors Skipper Smith, L.E. Sullins, Orville Bassett, and Elmo Jones.

Voters Eye 2nd Primary

Second party primary elections of minimum size — one race each — and possibly minimum interest are on schedule for both Democratic and Republican voters in Lamb county on June 6.

The Democrats will vote in a race for Texas congressman-at-large and the Republicans will vote on their U.S. Senate nominee in the short-ballot runoff elections.

But for these two state races, neither party would require the second primary voting, which will cost several hundred dollars for each party in Lamb county.

There are no runoff elections in Lamb county for county or district candidates in either party. The Democrats need a runoff vote to decide between Cong. Joe Pool, who is seeking re-election, and Robert Baker, Houston, a former state senator who ran second to Pool in a field of five in last Saturday's first primary voting.

Pool polled 642,912 votes and Baker got 313,204 in the Democratic first primary round, but Pool failed to get a majority of votes as required for election.

On the Republican ticket, George Bush led a field of four candidates with 62,401 votes with Jack Cox next in line with 45,146 votes in unofficial state tallies through Wednesday.

Many Texas counties will require runoff elections for local-level offices, county or district. An estimated 25 percent, however, will be voting on the one state race as is Lamb county.

The Democrats probably will man polling places in each of the 17 voting precincts in the county, Democratic Chairman Glenn Batson says. Republican Chairman W.H. Carter said the GOPs probably will consolidate several boxes as was done last Saturday.

Under Texas laws a candidate in party primaries must receive a majority of votes of his party to be declared its nominee. In general elections between parties, in November, where several parties often have slates of candidates, the candidate with the largest number of votes is the winner.

Soil Week Proclaimed

Soil Stewardship Week, May 3-10, has been proclaimed in Lamb County by the Conservation District board of supervisors to again remind county citizens of their responsibility "to God and to society to conserve and wisely use our natural resources."

W.E. Mitchell of Spade is chairman of the SCD board; Wiley Mudgett of Sudan is vice chairman, and Floyd Light of Elton is secretary. Thurlow Branscum is the other member, and one vacancy is to be filled on the board.

This year's Soil Stewardship theme, "To Each Among Us . . . A Share," underscores the necessity for man to look beyond today's horizons so he will be able — through judgment and wisdom — to adequately fulfill his role as a steward of the soil.

Some 2,940 Soil and Water Conservation Districts, through their state and national associations, are sponsoring the observance for the ninth consecutive year.

Articles submitted by local soil conservation specialists are included in today's edition of the Lamb County Leader ness of the two-party system to some voters was revealed in a number of comments we heard last week. Some were complaining because they couldn't cast a ballot in county officials — in fact, of course, that they did in the Republican primary.

the woman called the office was apparently upset about the whole thing. "I thought we had freedom of voting in this state," she explained, "yet I can't even vote for my friend's neighbor."

brief explanation of the workings of the two-party system didn't help a bit. "If it's the way it is, then we've got to get together and change it," she added.

City Firemen Get 6 Calls

Littlefield firemen were kept busy from Sunday through Tuesday, answering six alarms.

A farm house, owned by Roy Bussey of Littlefield was destroyed Monday morning but the farm family escaped injury. A small child started coughing from the smoke, waking up the man and his wife. The parents and three children escaped just in time, according to firemen.

The house was located about 1 1/2 miles north of town on the Springlake highway. The fire started about 2:30 a.m. Monday.

Group Observes Founders Day

The annual Founders Day Dinner honoring the founders of Delta Kappa Gamma was held Saturday evening at Crescent House Restaurant by the Epsilon Delta Chapter.

A tribute to the founders who met on May 11, 1929 in Waco was paid by Mrs. Lenton Smith, Mrs. B.T. Kiser, and Miss Anna Lee Neale. In the tribute, a white rose was placed in a vase in memory of each deceased founder and a red rose was placed in memory of the founders living.

Eleven women teachers met with Dr. Annie Webb Blanton on that founding day and formed a society envisioned by Dr. Blanton as a medium through which women leaders in education might gain recognition. The founders attending that day were: Mamie Sue Bastian, Ruby Cole, Mabel Grizzard, Anna Hiss, Ray King, Sue King, Dr. Helen Koch, Mrs. Cora Martin, Mrs. Lalla M. Odom, Ruby Terrill Lomax, Leila Lee Williams, and Dr. Blanton. Of these twelve, there are seven living and five deceased today.

Members from Muleshoe, Olton, Sudan, Amherst, and Littlefield attended the dinner. The decorations carried out the spring theme with flowers and multicolored net balls.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Marvin Tollett, president, presided at the business meeting. The chapter voted to send a Mother's Day tribute of flowers to Miss Eula Lee Carter of Ft. Worth, organizer of the chapter.

In closing, Mrs. Tollett and Mrs. Richard Brown installed the new officers for the next biennium. The new officers are: Mmes. John Campbell, Olton, president; E.W. Johnson, Muleshoe, 1st vice president; Lenton Smith, Littlefield, 2nd vice president; E.C. A watercolor, "Oregon Landscape", by Mrs. Gautier was a citation winner in the Ninth Annual Citation Exhibition of Texas Fine Arts Association, Region 20, and will be displayed in Austin at the Laguna Gloria Museum in June.

Mrs. Gautier says that her favorite medium is watercolor. This is apparent in the fresh, spontaneous quality of her work.

104 Years Total For 3 Teachers

Three Littlefield teachers are retiring this year from teaching. The school, the pupils, and the township bid them a fond farewell. They will be missed and they will miss their professions.

These ladies have a combined total of 104 teaching years in Texas and other states. Mrs. Mary Dodson has taught 40 years, Miss Anna Lee Neale 32 years and Mrs. Ruth Routt 32 years.

Mrs. Dodson began teaching at the age of 16 in a little one-room school in Roger Mills County, Okla. At the end of that year, she married and the couple went west to Clayton, N.M., to homestead. She taught there two years and after 9 years the Dodsons returned to Oklahoma where Mrs. Dodson resumed teaching.

Her first teaching in Texas was done at Hart Camp in 1942, later Mrs. Dodson taught 3 years in Spade Junior High. During this time, she and her husband bought a farm near Littlefield. She then resigned at Spade and took a teaching position in the 5th grade in the Littlefield schools in the spring of 1946. She has taught the past 18 years in the same grade.

Miss Anna Lee Neale is a native Texas, born in Dallas, but moved to Oklahoma at the age of 7. After her junior year in high school, Miss Neale taught one year in a rural school in Oklahoma.

After 10 years of teaching in Oklahoma, she moved back to Texas and started teaching in 1941. Miss Neale taught at Grassland, Spade, and Petersburg before coming to Littlefield 4 years ago.

Miss Neale is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and was selected to Kappa Delta Pi honorary educational fraternity and Phi Beta Sigma honorary senior educational fraternity. She is also a member of the Delta Kappa Gamma, a teacher's organization.

Mrs. Ruth Routt began teaching October 1, 1910, when she was 16 years of age. Two years later she was married and was a wife and mother only until 1942 when her youngest child started to school.

In 1936, the family moved to Erick, Okla., where her husband was on the hospital staff. While there, she started and completed her training as a nurse but was not happy doing this after the death of her husband and so she returned to teaching.

Due to failing health, Mrs. Routt moved to Farwell, Texas, September of 1943 as principal of the high school and history teacher. She stayed there one year then went to Artesia, N.M., to teach. Mrs. Routt retired from the teaching profession while in Artesia in June of 1955 but resumed her career in 1956 when she was asked to come to Littlefield. She is retiring again after 8 years in Littlefield schools.

Post Office Service Cuts Explained

Most Littlefield postal patrons will not be affected by the recently-announced adjustments in parcel post and post office window services, Postmaster T.A. Henson explained today.

In line with a national policy, the Littlefield post office will curtail delivery of some parcel post packages one day a week -- Thursday -- and will limit some post office service on Saturdays.

Large parcel post packages will not be delivered on Thursday in Littlefield, unless sent first class or unless of a perishable nature, under the new schedule. Smaller packages that can be carried by letter carriers will be handled as usual on Thursdays, Henson pointed out. Nationally, the post office department estimates that the new schedule will effect 6 to 8 percent of parcels on the day delivery is skipped.

The window service adjustment will be to have only one window open on Saturday instead of two. To handle business with the consolidated window, the Littlefield post office will not issue money orders on Saturday but will handle as usual the sale of stamps, letter registry, parcel post and COD services, Henson added.

Purpose of the schedule changes is to hold down post office expenses without limiting service any large amount, the postmaster said.

Most Lamb county post offices will not be effected by the window service change. If only one window has been regularly in service in a post office, its services will not be changed.

Peace Officer Convention Is Planned Here

Plans are being finalized for the spring convention of the Texas South Plains-Eastern New Mexico Peace Officers Assn., which will gather here for an all-day session next Wednesday.

Hosting the convention will be local peace officers and the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce. The program and noon luncheon will be held at Littlefield Sports Arena. Police Chief F.A. Fitzgerald is in charge of arrangements.

About 200 peace officers are expected to attend and hear guest speakers in both morning and afternoon sessions. Registration starts at 3 a.m.

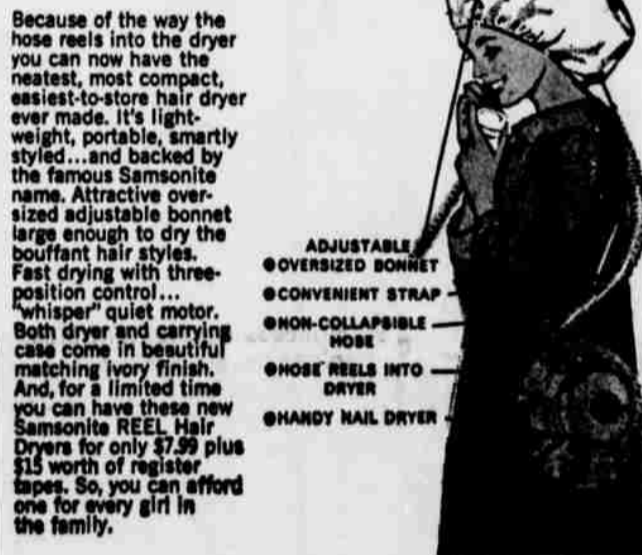

Dan Sanders, sheriff at Stanton, is president of the association. Membership extends as far north as Pampa and east to Albuquerque.

EVIDENCE OF WIND EROSION -- A soil scientist examines wind-sculptured pedestal which is all that remains of topsoil blown off by high winds. Almost one foot of soil has been removed here, and a thin layer of shifting sand covers area.

Water Chief Agent In Erosion Of Soil

Erosion, a geological term for the wearing away of natural contours of the land by wind, by water, by ice, or by waves along the shore.

Water is the chief agent, beginning with rain which gathers bits of soil -- carrying it into brooks and rivers, lowering the mountains and deepening the valleys. The Mississippi River each year carries 406 million tons of eroded material to the Gulf of Mexico.

Before the coming of the white man to America, nature prevented water erosion by clothing the surface of the land with grass and trees. Man can effect almost complete control of water erosion through proper vegetative measures.

As the population of the earth continues to increase, however, there is more and more need to conserve the fertile soil. Farmers have learned several ways in which water erosion may be decreased:

1. Keep land covered with grasses, legumes and crops.
2. Practice rotation, including use of soil-conserving crops.
3. Plant strip crops to reduce run-off and wind blowing.
4. Terrace land on slopes.
5. Construct grassed water ways or outlets.
6. Fill gullies and plant to soil-holding plants.
7. Plant farm woodlots and windbreaks.
8. Apply special practices where adopted -- such as contour furrowing or listing, rotation or deferred grazing, and pond construction.

Our nation's future depends on a sound land-use policy. Contact your local Soil Conservation District as to what you can do to prevent water erosion.

IRRIGATED PASTURE -- This field has been sprinkler irrigated and drilled to Indiangrass for livestock grazing. The photo was made several years ago on the W.N. Orr farm north of Spade. A SCS technician checks the height and maturity of the seed before cutting.

SCD Urges Soil Stewardship

Stop, look, think and then plan. This is the advice of the Lamb County Soil Conservation District Board which urges all citizens to be conservative-minded whether they farm or not.

At the present time, we are living in a "land of milk and honey," points out the SCD board, but unless we are good stewards of the soil this will not continue to be the rule.

Lamb farmers have been challenged this spring as high winds whipped across the land. What can be done to check the wind erosion?

One economical method is to plant grasses on the problem spots, such as turn rows. Also by shaping and vegetating gullies to make waterways for the natural water course of excess rainfall, and by planting grass on soil that is not suitable for cultivation.

Regardless of the soil, there is some type of grass that will grow on it. With irrigation, of course, a much wider choice of grasses is made possible. When grass is planted, there is no waste land, regardless of the size of the area.

Anyone who has a problem area and desires technical guidance or information on the best grass to use can contact the Soil Conservation Service office.

Wind Erosion Explained

Wind has been an active erosive agent since pre-historic times, and has become more active and destructive because of man's activity. In the early days our country was covered with fine native grasses.

These grasses provided an excellent protective cover for the soil and prevented the wind from making its initial type of movement. This initial type of soil movement is known as "Saltation".

The ability of the wind to transport soil is enormous, the wind blowing over the Mississippi river basin, for example, has been estimated to be one thousand times the transport capacity of the river itself. It is said, "that the Mississippi river carries the top soil of one black land farm to the ocean each day."

If we were to have two dust storms lasting 24 hours, each with an average wind velocity in the lowest mile of atmosphere to be 30 miles per hour, the carrying capacity of these two storms would be equivalent to about 853,700,000 tons of dust carried 1,440 miles.

Wind erosion starts with saltation which is caused by the direct pressure of the wind on the soil particles and their collision with other particles. These particles range in size from the thickness of writing paper (.004 inches) to five times thickness (.020 inches). These small grains of soil start all the trouble with erosion.

First they leap vertically into the air, sometimes as high as 12 inches, and they start spinning at 1,300 to 60,000 revolutions per minute. Then they are blown downward at a slight angle of 6 to 12 degrees from the horizon colliding with a bombarding action on other soil particles. This action is with great force so that finer particles are thrown into suspension and the coarser particles into surface creep. Stopping wind erosion of the saltation type is a solution to wind erosion itself.

Any level field without a covering of vegetative matter may blow if the soil is finely pulverized or tightly or smoothly crusted. The more sandy the soil the more likely it is to blow, and after it has started to blow it will normally grow worse unless control methods are used.

(Wind erosion is controlled by prevention. (An ounce of prevention is worth a ton of top soil) - Listing the soil at right angles to the prevailing winds is an effective temporary control, however the best wind erosion control is by keeping protective cover or crop residue on the land, such as strip cropping, mulch farming, and other well known conservation practices.

The fine soil particles lost by wind erosion are the best part of the soil. The high plains soils are noted for their high fertility, but this fertility is largely bound up in the upper humus-bearing zone. It has taken nature centuries to create this rich soil, to lose it during a storm or a series of storms is to lose immediately crop production the fruits of nature's efforts.

The wind has not necessarily increased its intensity, but due to the fact more land has been brought into cultivation and having no cover for protection, it has caused poorer soils and lower soil capabilities. The present price of land should justify keeping it covered and observing good conservation practices.

YOUTH HAVE BIG STAKE

Tomorrow's Stewardship

Tomorrow's Stewardship 2/30 Inside (Soil Edition)

In any area of living it is a bad situation if the older generation does not bequeath to its children something richer and something better. However, some things can be corrected in a very short time.

This is not so with soil and water. The mistakes and wrongs committed today will take hundreds of years to correct, and in others, restoration will never be possible.

The richness of America's soil and the plentitude of water will be reflected in the prosperity, the wealth, and the spirit of tomorrow's people far more than is generally believed. It has truly been said that "the soil is God's greatest material gift to mankind".

This generation's greatest material gifts to tomorrow's world will be a productive soil and adequate water resources. Stewardship demands that we prepare, conserve, replenish, and protect these resources. Urban and country youth should be conscious of the importance of soil and water in their everyday living, and in their future. Soil and water play a vital role in the physical, economic, social, and religious life of the individual, the community, the nation, and the world.

This fact needs to be stressed so that the importance of soil and water is integrated into every phase of education - school, church and youth organizations - both rural and urban. Conservation of our two most important natural resources stressed and taught to our people in our schools and vocational agriculture organizations such as Clubs.

Youth has a stake in the fort. The time and energy the young people spend in getting soil and water conservation programs into practice will be their best investment in the future.

New Bidrin Insecticide lies in wait inside cotton--knocks out thrips, fleahoppers, aphids, mites, lygus wherever they attack tender foliage

Bidrin has entered leaf tissue (picture right). Insect attacking from below where spray didn't reach--sucks up Bidrin with juices. This systemic action keeps protecting 7 to 14 days.

Magnified cross sections of cotton leaves (above) show how one application of new Bidrin keeps working 7 to 14 days, rain or shine.

BIDRIN is the new phosphate insecticide that kills cotton pests with both contact and systemic actions.

• It kills all major cotton insects on contact, at time of spraying—even weevils and worms.

• It enters and spreads through plant tissue, makes cotton deadly to thrips, aphids, fleahoppers, mites, lygus.

When insects attack, they die—even if they pierce bottom of leaves where spray doesn't reach. This is systemic action. It keeps working 7 to 14 days.

Proven by growers

New Bidrin's amazing two-way action paid off for thousands of cotton growers in '63. They grew more cotton. And, thanks to early insect control with Bidrin, a higher percent of their crop was early, high-quality, bottom cotton.

Weather resistant—economical
Soon after spraying, Bidrin enters your cotton plants. Once inside, rain can't wash it off. Sun can't break it down. Bidrin has practically eliminated weather as a cause for respraying.

Bidrin costs little compared to insecticides that can't begin to do the same kind of job. Bidrin's long-lasting effectiveness means fewer sprays. With Bidrin you avoid buying early insect control at seeding before you know whether or not insects will come. Bidrin gives you systemic control, yet it lets you wait and see. Result: maximum insect control at minimum cost.

Get Bidrin from your pesticide supplier. Many brands available.

Always read and follow label directions. For more information write: Shell Chemical Company, Agricultural Chemicals Division, Post Office Box 2099, Houston 1, Texas.

Maintain control with endrin-methyl parathion

During squaring and fruiting, stay ahead of insects with endrin-methyl parathion. It knocks out boll worms and weevils plus many other insects—quickly and surely. Gives you maximum length of control per spray, minimum number of sprays to do the job. Send for free, full-color booklet.

A wagon has a way with men. Always has. Always will. Especially when it's a Dodge Wagon. Case in point: that Polara shown above. As rugged and handsome a carryall as you've ever laid hands on. Inside—saddle-grained vinyl that resists cracking, scuffing, shrinking, stretching. Hand-fitted carpeting on the floor. A center armrest in front that snaps down solidly under your arm. And there's room. Big, open room you can cram to the roof. Seating for six or nine passengers. And underhood—a choice of engines ranging from a frisky Six to an optional, rip-roaring 425 cubic inch V8. It's a tough combination to beat. WE ALL HAVE A SHARE

Soil Stewardship Week

Never is there a moment in our lives when we are not sharing in some way in the benefits from our land and water resources.

Our nation, from its beginning, has drawn its strength from these gifts which God put at our disposal. Their bountiful supply has enabled our people to thrive. And there is no reason why this should not continue to be so.

God gave us authority over His gifts. We are His stewards. In the Divine plan, we have much to do with what happens to His gifts. We can destroy their usefulness, or we can bring about for ourselves manifold blessings from their use.

Tillers of the soil many years ago recognized the need for soil and water conservation on their land. They recognized also that some soil and water problems did not end at the fence line -- that they and their neighbors shared a problem. And so they worked together to find a solution. They were quick to realize the interdependence of adjoining tracts of land, responsibility for which is shared by all. As population increases and cities fan out into the country, we become less of individuals and more a part of a community. We build our community to provide opportunities to be shared by all. We recognize the interdependence between rural and urban and between farm and nonfarm, just as between one farm and another.

ago recognized the need for soil and water conservation on their land. They recognized also that some soil and water problems did not end at the fence line -- that they and their neighbors shared a problem. And so they worked together to find a solution. They were quick to realize the interdependence of adjoining tracts of land, responsibility for which is shared by all. As population increases and cities fan out into the country, we become less of individuals and more a part of a community. We build our community to provide opportunities to be shared by all. We recognize the interdependence between rural and urban and between farm and nonfarm, just as between one farm and another.

The adoption of soil and water conservation systems has become a community event -- the

To accept stewardship brings great fulfillment. It brings a sense of well being when our land and waters are protected and productive, and sharing the job brings the brotherhood of man closer to reality.

Despite their common interest and purpose the people in a community may see the land and streams with different eyes. The farmer looks to the land for his livelihood. Industry looks to the land for a factory site and for raw products to keep its machinery in motion. Those who live within the limits of the city look to the open land for relaxation and for a chance to commune with nature. The builder looks to the land for sites on which to develop new houses. The town fathers look to the land for a reservoir site which is so sorely needed to supply water for their rapidly growing city's needs.

We share our interests in the land, though our interests vary. Yet, in the nature of the land, God has provided for all these uses, but only under certain conditions. Each use can be fitted into an orderly pattern when planned ahead according to the capability of the land and the needs of the people. Man's land can serve more than one purpose. When we plan and carry out this multiple land-use plan, all share in the benefits and rewards of good stewardship. But to share in the rewards of us must share, also, the responsibility for the development of these God-given resources.

Soil Fertility Is Vital

During the past few years, the technology of farming has increased by vast proportions. We have made advances in machinery, fertilizers, plant varieties and hybrids, and irrigation systems. The question remains, however: Have all these advances brought about an increase in the per-acre yield of our crops they apparently should have?

There is something unique about the relationship of a plant to the soil in which it grows. This uniqueness is brought about through the inherent fertility on a soil.

As man first begins to cultivate soils of new areas, he quickly adapts crops which give the greatest economic returns. In this area, we have adopted cotton and grain sorghum as the No. 1 money makers. These two crops, along with others, have produced a system of clean tilled crops, which leave the soil open to the erosive forces of nature.

These erosive forces, in time, destroy the inherent fertility of a soil which makes it impossible to restore even by our modern techniques.

The erosive forces of wind and water are the ones we are most concerned with. The action of either can separate soil particles, thus causing fertility erosion.

These two forces coupled with the loss of soil material are producing more drastic effects on our soils inherent fertility than we realize. The action of blowing wind, falling raindrops, flowing water, and even puddled water serve to sift the finer and more fertile particles of the soil from the coarser less productive ones. This action is typical of a small shower. The raindrops hit the uncovered soil with such velocity that their energy, imparted to the soil, separates the particles.

Once the particles are separated from one another some of the smaller ones are carried downward into the soil and plug up its pores and holes. With the permeability thus reduced water begins to collect on the soil surface and move about down the slopes. The moving water picks up and holds the fertile clays and organic matter in suspension and allows the less productive sand and silt fall to the bottom.

When the rain ceases the water slowly soaks into the soil leaving its load of fine particles on the surface of the soil. These sifted fertile soil particles can now be picked up by wind and be blown away in a dust storm.

Although we have made many technological advances in modern agriculture, we have not yet produced a means by which we can replace these fertility bearing soil constituents we are allowing to merely be blown away.

Unless cropping systems and mechanical structures can be installed and maintained on the land, the continuance of clean tilled agriculture will show its effect on the soils of our area.

It is only through the maintenance of the inherent fertility of our soils that the improvements in farming techniques can be shown in increased per-acre crop yields.

Summer School Slated Here

An elementary summer school will be offered to students in grades 3-6 beginning June 8, according to Principal Beryl Harris.

The session will last 6 weeks with classes of reading and arithmetic from 8 a.m. to noon. Mrs. Addie Abernathy will teach the group.

Parents wishing to enroll their children in the session should contact Harris at Littlefield Elementary School as soon as possible, since plans are now being made. Enrollment fee is $30.

The idea of this summer session is not for promotion for those who have failed but to help students who are weak in these subjects.

Students in the surrounding areas are invited to enroll.

New Prometryne herbicide works wonders for Texas cotton

Prometryne® 80W brings a new dimension to cotton weed control in the South Plains. It offers a one-herbicide program that will take care of most weeds from planting to picking. Apply Prometryne preemergence or post-emergence or at layby, or at all three times if weed conditions so dictate.

Gets tough weeds...including carelessnessweed

Three years of research by State and Federal researchers in Texas proved the effectiveness of Prometryne in controlling most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in cotton. It does an outstanding job, for example, in handling carelessnessweed (pigweed).

Versatility of application

Prometryne is extremely versatile. You can use it as preemergence spray at planting. You can use it as a directed postemergence spray after both weeds and cotton are up. You can spray it at layby to control weeds through the rest of the season. Use it once, twice, three times...whatever weed conditions dictate.

How Prometryne works

Applied preemergence, Prometryne is carried into the soil by rainfall or overhead irrigation. It is absorbed by germinating weed roots and soon after weeds break ground, they die. No need to work Prometryne into soil. Applied after weeds are up, Prometryne kills by direct action on weed foliage and through roots.

Safe to use

Prometryne is safe to cotton when used according to label directions. It leaves no residues in cotton seed. It is safe to handle and non-irritating to humans and animals. A fall seeded crop should not be planted in the same year following the application of Prometryne 80W.

Available this spring

Since this is the introductory year for Prometryne, only limited quantities are available. Plan to make a preemergence application to at least a portion of your acreage at planting. Then follow through with postemergence and/or layby treatments if necessary. See what outstanding, economical weed control you can have.

To order Prometryne, or for more information, contact your supplier, or: Geigy Agricultural Chemicals, Division of Geigy Chemical Corporation, Saw Mill River Road, Ardsley, N.Y.

1st Mile Relay Team Aims for First Place In State

Littlefield's great mile relay team whipped the best teams in the area, along with the wind, to capture a trophy annual Red Raider Relays on Saturday.

The contest for the Wildcat trophy served as a warmup competition in the state meet at Austin Saturday.

Littlefield, region winner in AAA competition, won first in the Tech meet, Lubbock High, Dumas, and Fort Stockton finished behind the Yellowjackets.

The victory in the mile relay, plus a third-place by Grover Pigrum in the broad jump, gave Littlefield a tie with Monterey for fourth place in the class field of Class 4A and 3A schools.

The Wildcats' winning time -- 3:22.2 -- was the slowest in several weeks, but it was quite a feat in view of the strong wind and blowing dust which handicapped the runners. Coach Ernie Davis felt it was equivalent to about a 3:18 on a good day.

Coach Davis and his cindermen leave for Austin today. The foursome composed of seniors Grover Pigrum and Larry Wood, junior Ronald Sitton and sophomore Larry Schovajsa. Larry Coffman accompanies the team as an alternate.

Provided they have a clear day with no strong winds, Coach Davis and his team think they can bring their time down to about 3:17. Coach Davis trained his team to cut a little time off each week and, with the exception of two windy days, they have stayed with that schedule.

The team opened with a 3:33.7 clocking Feb. 29 at the Fort Stockton meet. They gradually reduced this to the state's best of 3:19.7 at the regional meet in Odessa April 25.

Fort Stockton's team was also clocked at 3:19.7 in the region run, and the Wildcats were placed second in the event. It marked the second week in a row that the LHS crew "tied" for first. Both the Wildcats and Dumas were timed in 3:21.5 at the district meet in Amarillo, but Dumas was placed first.

Saturday at Lubbock, the Wildcats beat both Fort Stockton and Dumas. Monterey of Lubbock placed fourth in the event after dropping a baton. Despite their consistent good times, the Wildcats claimed first place only three times in 10 meets. However, Coach Davis' strategy of bringing his team along with a better performance each outing could pay off at the state meet.

Except for the Levelland meet, when the Cats won first with a 3:34.0 time in a cold wind, and the Red Raider meet last Saturday, the LHS crew has cut down its time each week.

Best times for each member this year have been: Schovajsa 50.8 (off the blocks), Sitton 49.5, Wood 49.3, and Pigrum 48.5. This adds up to an even 3:19.0. Coffman's best from the blocks was 51.9.

By comparison, lap times for the foursome in the first meet of the year were: Schovajsa 53.4, Sitton 53.7, Wood 53.5, and Pigrum 53.1.

Pigrum will also be entered in the broad jump in the state meet. He was second in the regional meet and finished third in the strong field at Tech with a leap of 21-7 1/2.

Tech To Host Spring Meet

LUBBOCK--Texas Tech is host to the Southwest Conference spring meet this weekend.

Track and field finals Saturday afternoon conclude the activity. Earlier in the day will be the last business session of the faculty representatives and the tennis championship rounds. Golf will be finished by Friday night.

Saturday's schedule includes field event finals, 3 p.m.; track finals, 4 p.m. Admission will be $1 for adults, 50 cents for children.

Anton Colt Team Added

ANTON -- The Anton Lions Club announces the sponsorship of a Colt League this season in addition to the Pee Wee, Little League and Pony League teams.

Manager for the newly organized club will be Billy Ray Glasscock. Tentative plans call for a season composed of 10 games among teams from Sudan, Amherst, Anton and three Littlefield clubs.

All the games except two will be played on Tuesday and Friday nights. Three home games will be played at the local park.

The Colt League includes boys 15 and 16-years-old. Boys wishing to sign up should contact Glasscock as soon as possible.

ON TAG TEAM -- Chief Wahoo McDaniel teams with Luis Martinez for a tag team match with Tokyo Tom and Gorilla Marconi at Littlefield Sports Arena Saturday night. A special event pits six men and a bear in a "battle royal" with the winner taking $300. Chuck Carbo meets The Lawman in the other bout. Wrestling starts at 8:45 p.m.

County Red Nets $3,254 Cross Drive

A total of $3,254 has been raised in a campaign outside of Littlefield, directors of the Lamb County chapter of American Red Cross were told Friday.

Littlefield was not included in the fund-raising drive since the Red Cross is a member of the United Fund here.

Announcement of the drive total was revealed during a regular meeting of directors Friday afternoon with James P. Arnold of Sudan presiding. The campaign has not been concluded.

Four directors are making plans to attend the American Red Cross National Convention in New York May 17-20. They are Mrs. Ophelia Stone, Mrs. Gladys Joplin, Mrs. Blanche Dodgen and Mrs. Doris Frey. The chapter pays travel expenses for one delegate.

Attending Friday's meeting were Arnold, C. L. Walker, executive secretary; Mrs. Joplin, Mrs. Dodgen, Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Frey, Mrs. Lester La-Grange of Amherst, Howard Hall and Truett Sides of Olton, Mrs. R. A. Reed of Fieldton, and Mrs. Bonnie Haberer of Pleasant Valley.

Stone Age man fabricated sharp tools from flint and obsidian.

IRIS GALORE -- Mrs. Farris Billings stands among her lovely flowers on a pretty spring day. Mrs. Billings has been growing iris for four years but still considers herself an amateur. Two years ago she began hybridizing and now has seedlings 5 and 6 inches tall. In the background can be seen her hot house that she began in 1947.

PRETTY SIGHT ON XIT Iris Garden Hobby For Local Woman

If one drives down XIT Drive, he would certainly be tempted to stop at 1717 and admire the lovely scene of an iris garden. Mrs. Farris Billings receives the credit for adding this beauty to Littlefield.

She started her hobby of growing iris four years ago "to cover up a vacant lot filled with weeds". Now she has 600 varieties of the Tall Bearded specie.

Two years ago, Mrs. Billings started experimenting with hybridizing. (Hybridizing is the growing of a small seedling which one crosses with another to make new and different varieties.) She now has several crossed seedlings that are 5 and 6 inches tall in seed beds.

Mrs. Billings says that the iris is especially good for this part of the country as they will not freeze, take less water than any other plant, and hold up against the wind, sand, and sun. She recommends them for landscaping as they multiply quite rapidly.

Mrs. Billings is a two-year member of the American Iris Society and also belongs to 3 Iris Clubs. Through the latter, she corresponds with people from states all over the union. Some of the things exchanged between them are seeds, pictures, and ideas.

Mrs. Billings became interested in growing flowers in 1947 when she started a hot house. In her hot house, she now grows African violets, geraniums, and other various plants. Some still in the experimental stage are her orchids.

She spends approximately one hour a day working in her garden now that the flowers are in bloom. However, Mrs. Billings says, she spends more time than this as she "just likes to be out there" and she has many people who come by to "take a look".

The earth averages 100 lightning strokes each second.
