Littlefield's Christmas Street Decoration Lights Will Be Ready To Gleam a Welcome Friday for Old Santa in Person

Santa Claus is due in Littlefield Friday, Dec. 1, to meet and greet the youngsters of this area and to hear their lists of things they would like for him to bring them Christmas morning. Special arrangements for the jolly old saint to visit Littlefield were made by Manager Bob Crowell of the Chamber of Commerce, who has been in touch with the friend of all boys and girls through the North Pole radio station. Old Santa asked Mr. Crowell to have all the boys and girls get their Christmas lists ready for his visit here. He suggested they visit the Littlefield stores with their parents to see the fine assortment of Christmas merchandise here to help them form their ideas on what they would like best for gifts. The Littlefield merchants this year have an exceptionally complete stock of Christmas things that will bring pleasure to any youngster—and adults as well. Work of decorating the streets was to begin this weekend in order that all be in readiness for a real Christmas atmosphere here at the time of Santa's visit.

Americans Should Be More Thankful For America, Thanksgiving Day Speaker Says

The well-attended united service at the First Baptist Church was sponsored by all the churches affiliated with the Littlefield ministerial association. Mr. Peterson praised the part taken by the church in American life and said every American should be thankful for America much to add to our comfort and enjoyment of life. "But above all, we should thank God for the Church. It is the bulwark of America and the hope of the world. The Church is the key to happiness and the gateway to eternal life. "Thank God for Church" "Thank God for the Church and the freedom of faith that has made America great." In his prayer immediately before the introduction of the speaker the Rev. Carl Schulte asked divine guidance for the nation's leaders in these trying days in order that America might remain the land of the free and the refuge of the persecuted and oppressed. The call to worship was read by the Rev. T. N. Minix, president of the Ministerial association, after a musical prelude by Mrs. Ed Packwood. Connell Taylor led those attending the service in the singing of hymns. Aid The Boy Scouts

The warden of the Texas state prison at Huntsville once made a highly significant remark. He told a reporter that of all the men who had been committed to that penal institution for various infractions of the law, not a single one ever had in his boyhood been a Boy Scout.

The great Texas penitentiary houses men from almost every walk of life. There are men there with far higher than the average intelligence, except for some peculiar quirk that led them afloat the law.

There are learned men—doctors, lawyers, engineers—behind the barred doors; there are men of excellent families, with every cultural and social advantage.

But not one of them ever was a Boy Scout. Think of what that simple statement means. Think of what a tribute that is to the Scout organization and the men connected with it. What other organization in the world can say none who ever was a member is behind prison bars? That simple statement probably is the greatest testimonial ever uttered for the Boy Scouts of America.

The people of Littlefield and this district should keep it well in front of their minds next week when the Boy Scouts in this area start their annual financial campaign.

No one will be asked for much. The Scout leaders would far rather that a great number give a little than a few give a lot.

How much better it is to help support the Scouting program than to help support the inmates in our penal institutions!

Show which way you would rather have your money go when the Scout campaigners approach you next week.

Combining Old And New

Many of us have come to think of the Christmas Seal as the first harbinger of Christmas.

When these Seals arrive in our mail around Thanksgiving time, we realize that "Christmas is coming," that once more we shall relive all the beautiful traditions that make this the best time of year.

There is always a moment of pleasant anticipation before we open our envelope and unfold the sheets of Seals. This year's Seal, we know, will be different from last year's. There will be a new design—a new color combination—to give our holiday packages and letters a "new look."

There is always something new about the Seal. But there is also something old about it. And we are glad there is, for it is the old which has established the Seal as a cherished tradition.

Every year the Christmas Seal proudly displays the red Double-Barred Cross, emblem of the worldwide crusade against tuberculosis. This cross is the clue to another thing about the Seal which does not change.

For 43 years the Seal has made possible the far-flung fight against tuberculosis waged by the 3,000 voluntary associations affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association. For 41 years Christmas Seals have been sold in our own State to support the sound, constructive projects of the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county associations to eradicate this communicable disease which stands first among diseases as the cause of death among young adults from 15 to 35 years of age.

The Seal appears in a new dress each year, but its spirit is always the same—it is the spirit of crusaders against a deadly foe, a spirit which is symbolized by the Double-Barred Cross.

We join the ranks of those crusaders when we are generous in our use of Christmas Seals.

Who's Surprised

U. S. Senators Estes Kefauver, Alex Wiley and Charlie Tobin spent a day in Las Vegas, Nev., recently, in their capacities as members of the Senate Crime Investigating committee.

In one short day, these gentlemen discovered that legal gambling in Nevada is quite as nefarious a pastime as it is under illegal status; that numerous thugs, gangsters and plain punks are among the owners and operators of Las Vegas gambling joints; and that those same gangsters, thugs and punks have, from time to time, exerted political influence in Nevada.

Senator Kefauver, Wiley and Tobin admitted being "surprised," as well as "outraged," over their findings, but why they were surprised is more than surprising in itself—it is amazing.

Who did they expect to find running Las Vegas gambling joints, a collection of fine, upstanding citizens? And if so, what have these gentlemen been doing all their lives, reading Grimm's Fairy Tales? —(Reprinted from the Lubbock Avalanche).

Insect Damage to 1950 Cotton Crop In Texas Amounts to About $107,035,000

BRYAN, Texas, Nov. 24. (Special) — Insect damage to the 1950 cotton crop in Texas amounted to approximately $107,035,000, destroying 11 per cent of the total harvest, according to an unofficial preliminary estimate compiled by the National Cotton Council, George G. Chance, chairman of the Texas unit of the Council, said here today.

"Insects kept approximately 456,000 bales of cotton and an estimated 187,000 tons of cottonseed off the market this year. Based on average prices, this lint would have brought Texas farmers some $91,119,000 and the seed would have meant an additional profit of $15,916,000," the Council spokesman said.

"Throughout the Cotton Belt," Mr. Chance said, "an estimated 16.5 per cent of the crop, valued at approximately $598,565,000 was destroyed. In dollars and cents, losses in 1950 were second highest on record, exceeded only by 1949 when damage amounted to more than $617 million."

Chairman Chance announced that the National Cotton Council will hold the fourth annual Cotton Insect Control Conference in Memphis, December 7-8, to discuss insect damage in Texas and other Cotton Belt states. This conference at the Hotel Peabody will bring together state and federal entomologists, representatives of the insecticide industry, agricultural education workers, and cotton industry leaders to plan an integrated program of cotton insect control for 1951.

'Fires of Freedom' To Burn Brightly All Over the State

"Fires of Freedom" will burn brightly in more than 600 Texas communities on the night of Thursday, December 7, as the climax of the one-day series of programs of "Operation Democracy," the campaign sponsored by the state's 777 American Legion posts to keep the fires of freedom burning forever in the hearts and minds of Texans.

In Austin at 7 p. m., Governor Allan Shivers will light the first fire that will be the signal for the simultaneous state-wide ceremonies. Bill Elkins of Kilbuck, state Legion Commander, has announced. The Austin "Fire of Freedom" will be set off on the Capitol grounds.

"Casting a glow over much of the Texas sky, the simultaneous burning of 600 lights of liberty across the state will shine as a beacon of America's hope to penetrate the darkness behind the iron curtain," the Commander said in his announcement.

Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd, originator of the successful Legion-sponsored "Democracy Beats Communism Day" last year, predicted that three million Texans will join with The American Legion in this phase of "Operation Democracy," a four-fold program emphasizing Democracy's strength through religion, education, civic duty and citizenship.

On the night of December 6, the program will be launched by thousands of church-goers as Texas pastors, priests and rabbis share the conviction that faith in God and faith in Democracy are irrevocably linked if fires of freedom are to be rekindled throughout the world.

Breakfasts sponsored by local American Legion posts begin the "Operation Democracy" timetable on December 7. They will be followed by a meeting of the women of each community to discuss "Democracy's Concern;" "Operation Heritage" for student participation; a noon luncheon of business men to honor local, county and state officials; and a public meeting on education.

Then at 7 o'clock the "Fires of Freedom" will be ignited across the length and breadth of the state to blaze their way into the consciousness of the people the importance of actively participating in government affairs. Speakers to be selected in each community will touch off the fires.

Mr. Shepperd, state chairman of the Legion's Americanism Committee, previously had announced that Governor Allan Shivers will make a state-wide radio address on December 7.

Clock the City's Pride
 Ortiz Martinez's greatest pride lies in the big French clock that stares from the facade of the palacio municipal. Grasping the big brass key to the clock tower, the aging policeman leads you over rooftops and up worn stairs to exhibit the workings of the Paris-made timepiece. Sr. Ortiz Martinez doesn't know how old the clock is. But its heavy, cast-iron pendulum keeps swinging, a tacit reminder that time is running out for Guerrero.

The people of Guerrero will be moved to a new townsite "somewhere around Mier," Sr. Ortiz Martinez explains.

But there are many things you can't move—like the cobbled streets, the ancient church with its three mellow bells, and the old stone bridge where the "piperos" fill their carts with supplies of household water from the Rio Salado.

And there is the school house, where the steel-and-concrete skeleton of a half-finished addition pokes dead fingers into the sky.

Crash Victim Gets Plane Trip Home

Mrs. James H. Barker, 29, of Madera, Calif., critically injured in an automobile wreck near Plainview Nov. 11 that killed her mother and two of her children, was flown home Wednesday in an ambulance airplane—made possible through a contribution of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post at Lubbock.

Returning with her was her husband, a former Lubbock resident, and their only surviving child, Johnny, five, who was only slightly injured. Barker was in California when the wreck occurred.

The plane left Lubbock about 8 a. m., after coming there from Plainview. The VFW post's contribution of $267 covered the cost.

Mrs. Barker was reported resting well late Tuesday by attendants at West Texas hospital. She received internal and head injuries. She is an expectant mother. Johnny was released from the hospital several days ago and his condition is reported to be good.

The accident occurred as the group was returning from a trip to Illinois. They planned to visit Barker's parents who still live in Lubbock. The Barker car reportedly swerved into a truck and then was hit by a car. Killed were her mother, Mrs. L. J. Boulware, her son, Ronnie, seven, and daughter, Cindy Sue, 14 months.

Barker was a guard on the championship 1929 Lubbock High School Westerner football team. He is now a contractor in Madera.

cona, Texas, Monday last.

Mrs. Dunlap left here Tuesday morning to attend last rites, which were held Tuesday afternoon.

She was joined at Lubbock by her brother, J. B. Hanks, and sister, Mrs. Kitty Hanks, who accompanied her to the funeral services.

Mrs. Dunlap returned to Littlefield Wednesday.

INFORMATION FOR VETERANS

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—Next time I visit my nephew in a VA hospital I would like to give him several hospital canteen coupon books. Where can I get them?

A—The coupon books, in denominations of $1.00, may be purchased directly at the hospital canteen. Patients use the coupons, in lieu of money, in making canteen purchases.

Q—My husband, a World War I veteran, passed away in August, leaving me a $600 commercial life insurance policy which I received in a lump sum. I have no other source of income. May I also obtain death pension payments from VA?

A—Yes, but not this calendar year. Pensions may not be paid if your annual income exceeds $1,000, if you have no children. Your $600 is considered as income from August through December, and therefore is proportionately greater than $1,000 a year.

Q—As an ex-WAC, am I entitled to VA hospital care for the delivery of a child?

A—Generally, no. The only condition under which you could be hospitalized by VA for the birth of a child would be if some danger were involved due to a service-connected disability.

Levelland Advances To Regional Finals Beating Spur 45 To 21

The Levelland Lobos took the first step toward retaining the Class A state football championship for this district when they smothered the District 3-A titleholders, Spur, at Lubbock Thursday night.

Presenting a deadly second half offensive and a stone-wall defense, the Lobos advanced to the Region I finals in the state playoffs by a score of 45 to 21.

Should Levelland continue its victory march the state championship won by Littlefield in 1949 would remain in District 4-A.

Fumbles Hurt Spur

Spur fumbles in the sub-freezing weather gave the Lobos two touchdowns in the first six minutes of play, but the Bulldogs, using a tremendous pass attack by Charles Grimland fought back to hold a 14-13 halftime lead.

However, it was a different Levelland team which took the field at the opening of the final half. The Lobo line, headed by big Langford Sneed, allowed the Bulldogs to gain only 17 yards in the final half, while throwing them for 63 yards in losses. Statistics for the entire game gave the Spur eleven minus eight yards for the night on rushing.

Grimland, the only offensive threat of the night for the Bulldogs, took a thorough going over from the hard-charging Lobo forward wall. Time after time he was thrown for tremendous losses by Sneed and company. Center Charles Byrd and Tackle Beryl Durham of the Spur team were injured in the contest and were removed to the hospital.

Reid Leads Lobos

Levelland Quarterback Zack Reid played magnificent ball in leading the Lobos to victory. He scored four touchdowns himself on peelfoots over guard and on quarterback-sneaks, and tossed a driving pass to end Gene Billingsley for another counter. His passing was accurate, and his strategy in calling plays kept the Bulldog line confused.

RENARD'S ADVENTURE

BY FAITH HELEN FAUST

Renard was coming home from his hunting. He had not found anything.

Renard was a fox. He had had a hard winter. There was not very much to eat.

He was just about to go into the woods, where his den was when he smelled meat. Renard ran to the place where the meat was. Renard jumped on the meat and ate it up. As he was thinking that it was a good meal and started to go, he found himself in a small cage.

Renard growled and bit at the wire. That didn't do any good. Renard tried to dig out, but he found only more steel wire.

After a time Renard curled up with his tail across his feet.

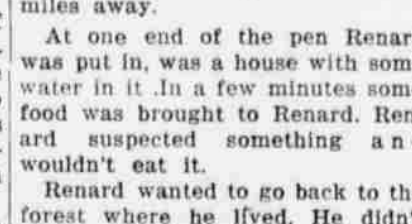

The next day, a man came and carried the cage away on a sled. Renard growled and bit at the man. The man just backed away and said something very loudly. But no amount of biting could keep the man from taking him to the zoo in the city one hundred miles away.

At one end of the pen Renard was put in, was a house with some water in it. In a few minutes some food was brought to Renard. Renard suspected something and wouldn't eat it.

Renard wanted to go back to the forest where he lived. He didn't like the cage or the people, but the food was good. He couldn't get away from the man.

Then like a flash an idea came to him. The next day when the man came to feed him, Renard bit him and dashed out the door. Once outside Renard ran and ran. He ran down one street and up another. Big things came roaring at him and men yelled at him. Somehow Renard got out of the city. He at once started across the snow toward home. His instinct told him which way to go to get to his home, the forest. One hundred miles is a long way for a fox to go, but Renard did it in one day. Part of the way men and dogs chased him, but the rest of the way he was alone. Renard traveled all night, stopping only for some water and to kill a chicken to eat. It tasted better than anything had tasted for a long time. Finally Renard reached home. The hunting was not so good, but there were no cages or men and children to poke sticks at him. After looking around to make sure everything was all right Renard went happily to his den in the forest.

McMurry College Draws Curtain On Grid Year

ABILENE — McMurry College's Indians have concluded their 1950 football campaign with a win-lose record of 4-5 compiled against the toughest opposition the school has faced.

Two of the victories were over champions of other conferences—Midwestern University, co-titlist of the Gulf Coast Conference and Mississippi Southern, champion of the Gulf States Conference. Three of the losses were to champions—Tulsa University of the Missouri Valley, West Texas State of the Border, and Abilene Christian of the Texas. The other two defeats were to Texas A & I at this writing still in the running for a first place tie in the Texas Conference, and Howard Payne.

In only five pre-war years was a McMurry eleven able to exceed the record of the 1950 eleven, coached by Wilford Moore.

Alongside Austin College, Southwestern University became a Texas Conference victim of the Indians 39 to 6 in the finale here Friday night.

Little All America Brad Rowland of Hamlin passed the 1,000 yard rushing mark for the third successive year, but the game's hero was Floyd Sampson of Anson, who took over when Rowland pulled a rib cartilage early in the second half.

Sampson powered his way for two touchdowns and played great defensive ball, intercepting two passes. Quarterback Doyle Dean of Hamlin sneaked over for the first rally after end Paul Schuelke of Lockhart and tackle Bernard Weems of Rotan had smeared a Pirate carrier for a safety. Dean hit end Dick Jackson for a 17-yard scoring pass, and tackle Alton Patterson of Ballinger made all the conversions.

E. T. Torn Resigns As CROP Director

TAYLOR, Texas. (Special) — Elmore R. Torn of Taylor has resigned as state director of the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) in Texas. It was announced by Daniel Russell of College Station, chairman of the Texas CROP Committee.

Torn has accepted a position with the Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation in Houston.

Russell commended Torn's work as outstanding and similar recognition was received from the national office of CROP.

At the same time it was announced that J. A. Dennis of Austin, assistant director, had been named acting state CROP director and will direct the overseas relief commodity collection campaign now in progress.

During World War II Torn was first an assistant regional director of civilian defense and also served three years overseas in the Army.

Torn, who had served as state chairman of C. A. R. E. before taking the state directorship of C. R. O. P., said he would continue to give of his personal time in behalf of voluntary overseas relief.

CROP is a church sponsored national program which collects farm commodities in bulk for distribution overseas to the needy under the supervision of the parent agencies.

The parent agencies of CROP are Catholic Rural Life; Church World Service; and Lutheran World Relief.

Shepperd to Head State Heart Fund

HOUSTON. (Special) — John Ben Shepperd, Secretary of State, has accepted the Chairmanship of the 1951 Heart Fund in Texas, it was announced today by Dr. George W. Parson, President of the Texas Heart Association.

Making the announcement at a meeting of the Executive Committee and Board of Directors of the Association in Houston today, Dr. Parson said, "Diseases of the heart and blood vessels are the leading cause of death and disability in this country. The 1951 Heart Fund campaign will be conducted next February to raise the necessary funds to support the greatest effort ever made in medical history to find the answers to unsolved problems of heart disease."

Mr. Shepperd, a past national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said, "I accept the Chairmanship because of my deep concern over the fact that heart disease robs us prematurely of too many of our most able and irreplaceable leaders in industry, government, science and other vital fields of endeavor."

Governor Allan Shivers will again serve as Honorary State Chairman of the 1951 Heart Fund. Bruce Barton is National Campaign Chairman.

St. Martin Changes Time Of Service Sunday Morning

This Sunday, St. Martin will have services at an early hour, the Rev. C. Schulte, pastor, announced.

The sister congregation of the parish would observe Mission Rally Sunday and therefore it is necessary for them to have services at the usual time, to enable the speaker to arrive from Wilson, Pastor Schulte explained.

St. Martin will begin its services this Sunday only at 9:15 a. m. and Sunday school will begin at 10:00 a. m. It is hoped that this information will get to all who are concerned.

The Rev. L. Huebner, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church at Wilson will be the speaker both for the forenoon and afternoon services. Offerings will go toward the Benevolence Program of the American Lutheran Church.

'Womanless Wedding' To Be Presented November 30 at Sudan High School

That sentimental old tear-jerker, "Wedding Bells Are Breaking Up That Old Gang of Mine," is announced as the song selected for rendition by the "Andrew Sisters Quartet" during the "Womanless Wedding" at Sudan High school Thursday, November 30.
The last time they appeared on the local silver screen, the Andrews sisters were a trio; but then "bigger and better" is the keynote of this funfest, even to amplifying trios into quartets.
The winsome members of this entourage will include Sib Stone, Don Williams, Noel Lumpkin and C. H. Kemp, Jr., in private life the musical director of the First Baptist church, will follow up with a touching solo, "Because."
Bill Nix will supply piano music for the wedding.

All cost members are asked to attend a rehearsal at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday night, November 28, at the high school. This will not be a dress rehearsal however; the dizzy—ub, the dazzling splendor of their feminine raiment will be kept undercover until the night of the "womanless wedding" performance, a production of the 1935 Study club.

Flower girls who will precede the bride and groom down the aisle are said to include such appealing "maidens" as Gilbert Masten, Kenneth Wiseman, Adrian Martin, Arnold Reed and Chester Harvey.
Bridesmaids will be represented by the following quintet: Harold Close, Doyle Watkins, Paul Chisholm, Davy Berneathy, Aubrey Earl Fife.

An almost legendary figure of the old Southwest passed from the scene with the death in Clayton, N. M., of Col. Jack Potter, native-born Texas trail driver and nephew of the secretary of the navy of the Republic of Texas.

Colonel Parker was a former president of the Old Trail Drivers of the Southwest and was the author of many articles dealing with the history of this section. He had watched the changing scene from the time as a young man he had gone from Texas to the Clayton area in New Mexico to engage in the cattle business.

Born December 11, 1864, at Prairie Lea, Tex., he was one of 15 children of Rev. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson Potter. Reverend Potter was a pioneer Methodist circuit rider in West Texas and the Panhandle.

Colonel Potter was manager of the New England Cattle Company in 1888. It was while he was serving in that capacity on the company lands carved from the L. B. Maxwell estate near Fort Sumner that he experienced the great blizzard of Oct. 31, 1889.

He had driven 1,800 steers to near Clayton en route to the Denver Railway route when the blizzard struck. The cattle broke for their home range 300 miles to the south. Colonel Potter recalled he found some of them during the roundup the next year.

Among the historical reports written by Colonel Potter was a famed tale of "The Ghost Steer of the Pecos" and firsthand reports of the famed Chisholm Trail.

Colonel Potter served one term as state representative in New Mexico from Harding and Union counties.

In 1888 he took part in shipping the first load of cattle—20,000 head—over the Colorado J Southern Railroad (now the Fort Worth & Denver).

Colonel Potter took his family to Union County in 1895 and established the famous Escondido Ranch in the northeast corner of New Mexico, near Kenton, Okla.

Colonel Potter and his wife celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on Nov. 11, 1944. Mrs. Potter died in 1948.

In addition to his many magazine and newspaper articles, Colonel Potter published two books, "The Lead Steer and Trail Drivers of the Old West."

Colonel Potter was to have been in charge of the erection next month of a pioneer marker in Boot Hill Cemetery at Fort Sumner.

Commission Organized to Solve Traffic Problems

Littlefield Is Represented At Lubbock Meeting

Citizens of Lubbock will have a definite part in solving traffic problems of their city when the Citizens' Traffic Commission begins its functions.

The Commission is expected to slash accidents and traffic problems to a minimum.

Initial steps to organize the Commission were taken last week when approximately 250 Lubbock and South Plains residents met with high-ranking officials of the Dallas Traffic Safety Commission.

The next important step in forming the Commission in Lubbock will be a meeting of a nominating committee headed by J. R. N. Jones, Vice President of Texas Technological College, to propose an executive committee for the Commission. The executive board, probably five in number, will head the Lubbock Commission and appoint the membership of about 75 citizens. Composing it will be representatives from numerous organizations—civic clubs, school and parent teachers organizations, patriotic orders, labor unions, women's clubs, the city and county governments, and numerous others.

In addition, several hundred Lubbock citizens will be drafted into service on numerous occasions to study specific traffic problems and to make appropriate recommendations for their solution.

The leaders of the Dallas Commission, a similar organization to the one Lubbock will have, expressed high hopes for the success of the Lubbock Citizens Traffic Commission, and commented on the unusual enthusiasm demonstrated by the participating citizens.

Indications that other South Plains towns are also interested in forming similar traffic safety organizations was made apparent

Gerald Zyburas Is Happy Again After Return of Bicycle

Gerald Zyburas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Zyburas of West 6th St., is happy again. His bicycle, which was stolen from the school yard Thursday, November 16, has been found and returned to him by the sheriff's department.

According to his mother, who is a checker at Furr's Food, Sheriff Hopping came to the Zyburas home and advised the family that the boy's bicycle had been found in an out building of the old Cundiff Dairy property. It is understood that no one is living on this property, and that the thief or thieves had put it there for safe keeping.

The owner of this property is said to have the bicycle.

er that his comrades might safely withdraw.

A check at both the division and regiment headquarters by David Rasco, Amarillo Globe-News correspondent at the North Korean front, failed to give any later news.

"Our records show he was reported missing near a little town called Sonan-ri on the Nakdong river," a sergeant at regimental headquarters said.

"Randolph had been back with us only a few weeks when he was taken. He had been wounded before in another hot action . . . he was a good leader of men."

"I'm not saying this . . . just because he's missing . . . I'm not passing around any flowers," the sergeant declared. "But Randolph was a good man and he's missed around here."

The army citation read: "Sgt. Raymond R. Randolph . . . is awarded the Silver Star . . . for gallantry in action near Mong-san, Korea on 4 Sept. He was in charge of the lead vehicle of a motorized patrol when it was ambushed and pinned down by strong enemy forces."

"With complete disregard for his own safety he so occupied the enemy with effective fire that the remainder of the patrol was able to extricate itself from its untenable position. When last seen Sergeant Randolph was still in an exposed position, drawing on himself the full fury of the enemy's fire in order that his comrades might safely withdraw. His gallant action reflects the greatest service on himself and the United States Infantry."

ately will go to Austin for the inauguration if a minimum of 14 or 16 members commit themselves to make the trip.

"Eleven members already have signified their intention of going if the posse turns out, and I'm confident there will be at least four or five others who will go. In that case, the trip to Austin will be assured," Mr. Campbell said.

All wishing to go to Austin and take part in the inaugural ceremonies were urged to communicate with Mr. Campbell immediately.

Those who thus far have signified their willingness to go to the inauguration, in addition to the posse president, are Dutch Higgins, Walter Martin and Cecil and Wayne Martin, Bill Taylor, Shorty Pope, Sid Hopping, Buck Ross, Billy Ross and Bob Nichols.

Tells of Battle

"On Sept. 2, Company C, 65th Engineers, in support of the 27th Infantry, was making its way toward Haman, Korea, with elements of the regiment.

"About 15 miles west of Masan a road block was encountered along with heavy concentrated fire from small arms, machine-guns and mortar. On the hills overlooking the road ahead the enemy was present in great numbers.

"The infantrymen immediately engaged the enemy along the road and in the hills. Further movement by vehicles being impossible. The engineers were forced to advance on foot. Through the hot, dry dust, they marched seven miles, carrying small arms, machine-guns, bazookas and ammunition.

"Finding Company L of the 27th Infantry engaged in a heated battle, Company C, 65th Engineers went into action led by Capt. Anthony Pecoraro.

"Although this was their baptism of fire, they advanced up a hill on which the enemy was well entrenched in superior numbers. Each man disregarding his own safety, the company pushed ahead under continuous fire and succeeded in taking the hill. The next day the process was repeated and the men took a second hill from the Reds under a heavy rain of bullets and mortar fire, and against severe opposition from an outnumbering force.

Two Hills Taken

"Both of these hills were taken from the enemy with a marching fire, a hazardous and unusual practice. In this, the troops advanced, standing erect and firing mostly from the hip, rather than crawling or running from cover to cover.

"During the march, the men had discarded everything unnecessary for the action, and now, although wet and shivered, had to withstand against severe banzal attacks on these hills for two cold, rainy nights. Early on the morning of the third day, Sept. 4, the North Koreans pushed their most severe banzal attack in one final effort to regain the ground lost to the combat engineers from the 65th. This desperate attack lasted four hours and brought Company casualties for the three days. One man left his position in the face of these suicidal Red attacks.

"Although Pecoraro had recently been placed in command of this company, he did an excellent job of directing the fire men and their complete morale was largely due to his leadership and the inspiration he has given the men."

Cpl. Smith's parents saw him last Tuesday stating he was fine and still in Korea.

Cpl. Smith attended Okmulgee School and Springfield School.
