

AMHERST BOY AT THE INAUGURATION:

The 'Hippies' Caught His Eye

GARY BRADLEY

sophomore at Texas Tech, has "always been interested in politics, and an active Nixon supporter."

But he was quick to admit he might change his political affiliations if the Democrats get in next time, just to have the chance to go back to Washington.

Bradley described the inaugural balls as "tremendous." There were two balls in the Hilton and President Nixon attended both.

BRADLEY FLEW to Washington with Martin Bishop, president of the Young Republicans on the Tech campus. Bradley and Bishop escorted two girls from Waco to the Young Americans Gala, the All-American Gala and the inaugural ball.

Spiro Agnew was guest of honor at the All-American Gala and the Amherst youth met

New York Mayor Lindsey, and got his autograph at one of the events.

Senator John Tower, Congressman Jim Collins, and Senator Strom Thurmond were other politicians Bradley met at receptions.

Many celebrities entertained at the inaugural activities. Well-known personalities at the All-American Gala included emcee Ed McMann, Roger Williams, Dinah Shore, Hugh O'Brian, Jan Pierce, Buddy Ebsen, James Brown, James Drury of the "Virginian," the Lionel Hampton Orchestra and NBC's orchestra.

Saturday evening Bradley's delegation attended the celebration hosted by Tricia Nixon, Randy Agnew and Judy and David Eisenhower.

Due to the cold, wet weather, Bradley watched the inauguration on television. "I saw more than those who attended the inauguration in person," he said.

"IT'S A GOOD thing it rained every day," Bradley said. "There were 7,000 to 10,000 hippies there to demonstrate and riot. The rain and miserable weather helped keep them from carrying out all their plans."

Bradley said he was amazed at how highly organized the inauguration was. See INAUGURATION Page 4

Feed Diversion Sign-Up Opens

About 250 Lamb County farmers out of 2,300 have signed up in the feed, grain and wheat programs. Monday, Feb. 3, was the first day farmers could declare their intentions, and the final day for signing is March 21.

In the 1969 ASCS program, farmers can divert up to 50 per cent of their feed, grain and wheat allotment and draw price support payments for the percentage of acreage not planted.

According to Lamar Aten ASCS office manager, about 85 per cent of Lamb County farmers are expected to divert part of their feed allotment.

"Fewer farmers will participate in the feed diversion as it goes along," Aten said. "The participation goes down as the number of feeding operations increase."

Aten said this is the first year there has been a noticeable change since the program started. According to Aten, grain prices were 10 cents per hundred weight higher north of the sandhills where there are more cattle, especially in Castro and Parmer Counties.

Aten attributed the slow sign-up to the fact that no advance payments are being made at the time the farmers come in. When the ASCS office gets the word to start writing checks, he said, the first ones signing up will be paid first.

"We need to be averaging 250 farmers per day to get all the farmers signed up before the deadline," Aten said. "If they all wait until the last day, we can't get them processed in time," he said.

Aten said the ginner is still guessing about the numbers of acres that will be planted in cotton this year.

There is no diversion on the cotton program this year. The farmers can plant from 65 per cent to 100 per cent of their cotton allotment and still draw the same amount of money, however.

If the farmer chooses to plant below 65 per cent of his allotment he will be paid for the acreage he plants. Aten said Lamb County farmers probably will plant 90 to 95 per cent of their full allotment. That five to 10 undetermined percentages can shake the figures up, he added.

In the past, farmers have always planted all the cotton they are authorized to plant when there is an allotment, Aten said.

Lamb County has 187,431 acres which can be planted in cotton. Two factors which may determine how many acres are planted in cotton are lack of water and the early frost in the northern part of the county. Farmers affected by these situations may decide to try soybeans or castor beans, according to the ASCS manager.

When total payments are made this fall, the Lamb County ASCS office will have paid $14,300,000 to the farmers for the 1969 program.

Death At Steering Wheel Sends Car Into Residence

William Dudley Jones, 58, died on arrival at the Central Arts Hospital early Monday morning following an apparent heart attack causing him to lose control of the car while driving.

The car crashed into the John Bryant house on the corner of 800 E. 6th and Duggan Ave.

Jones' car was traveling north on Duggan Ave. at approximately 8:30 a.m. at the time the heart attack occurred, according to Lyndol Kinser, investigating officer.

A Littlefield doctor said apparently Jones was dead before the car crashed into the house.

Murt Day owns the house and estimated damages of $1,500 to repair the frame home.

Mrs. Bryant was sitting at the dining table inches from where the car came to a stop. The car tore a hole in the See WRECK Page 4

County Roads To Get Coating

A contract for seal coat work on 530 miles of highways in the Lubbock District has been awarded by the Texas Highway Commission.

Lamb County work will include U. S. 385, from 9 miles south of Springlake to Loop 430 in Littlefield, a total of 12.3 miles; and U. S. 385, from Loop 430 in Littlefield to Hockley County line, a total of 6.8 miles.

Panhandle Pavers, Inc., and High Plains Pavers, Inc., of Lubbock were awarded the contract with a low bid of $1,729,643.10.

J. W. King of Lubbock is the Highway Department engineer in charge of the project which will take an estimated 90 working days.

50-Year Water Plan

A Great Big 'IF' Hangs Overhead

Reservoir At Bull Lake

The water line at Bull Lake west of Littlefield on the Bula Highway may be almost to the shoulder of the road if—and it's a mighty big IF—the recently unveiled Texas water plan comes to pass.

If the ambitious plan to import water from the Mississippi River below New Orleans becomes a reality, and if the people over at Anton build their big water recreation area and if the Yellow House Canyon on the west side of Lubbock is filled, one day Littlefield could be in the center of a vast water-sports area in reality.

This plan is a long-range one and would meet Texas water needs for over 50 years.

About 13 million acre-feet of water would be imported from the Mississippi River.

A canal of about 250 miles would cross Louisiana. A canal of some 400 miles would carry water from East Texas to the Panhandle-Plains.

Another 420-mile canal would convey water along the Gulf Coast to South Texas.

Branch canals would take water to the Abilene-Snyder area, on to El Paso and New Mexico supplying 1.5 million acre feet yearly.

More than 65 new reservoirs are proposed to store 52 million acre-feet of the water.

This is where Bull Lake and the Littlefield area come into the picture. The largest of the reservoirs would be at Bull Lake since this is one of the deepest, natural storage areas located in the center of the water-deficient locale.

The total estimated cost, at today's prices, is roughly $10 billion.

Texas would have to put up about $3 billion of this over a 50-year period. This staggering amount is more than the total yearly cost of state government now. And as usual, Uncle Sam will be asked to fork over a sizable amount of the cost.

If the plan is junked, more than $10 million goes down with it. Director Howard Boswell, of the Texas Water Development Board, and Boswell's associates have spent an estimated $10 million since August, 1964, on the proposal.

THE FARMER'S WIFE

Greased Palms?

By LIBBY MUGGETT

I HATE TO KEEP writing about the Great School Consolidation Mess of Texas.

I had really planned to tell Nixon how to go about getting his Volunteer Army started today.

But there's something about this whole school question that smells to the skies and it keeps nagging at me.

IT'S THIS: Where's the Big Money coming from that started the whole thing rolling in the first place?

Aw, c'mon! You didn't really think all those people's hearts were bleeding about our undereducated rural children, did you?

Or that any truly intelligent person thought that a quality education depended upon the quantity of pupils enrolled in one school?

Or that the only way to really learn is to have all sorts of new gadgets, computers, audio-visual instruction and such like?

Or that the unwieldy schoolopolises the Governor's Committee recommends are truly more efficient or cheaper?

OUR PRESENT Guv'nor and Lieut-guv'nor are making noises right now like as if such a bill resembling the present recommendations appears on their desks, they'll veto it.

Well, maybe they will and maybe they won't. But even if they do, Big Money never gives up and the whole smelly thing will come back again, never you doubt it.

I'VE POURED over the Committee's Report for hours trying to figure out who all would benefit from its adoption into law. Not that all beneficiaries are guilty, but somewhere among them is the group with, uh, bad breath.

The first most obvious, probably too obvious to be guilty, group to gain much is the schoolteachers, and of course the teacher's unions have made no bones about how very, very much they are for the whole thing.

However, I don't like to think they're the instigators, even though their unions now are very powerful and far from broke. I'm more inclined to think, though, they're just being used. Mainly because they're going to sooner or later get all of the advantages outlined in the report anyway and also because I still have more faith in schoolteachers than that.

SO NOW we come to big industry and manufacturing. With more than a thousand school districts eliminated and consolidated into countywide districts, you can see how many more buildings would be needed.

Man alive! Think how rich you'd get if you were in anyway connected with building schools.

Or selling the materials for such. Or manufacturing same. Or even just shipping the stuff.

AND OF COURSE, there's always the manufacturers of all those bright, shiny, new teaching aids the report keeps yapping about.

The closed circuit televisions. The electronic equipment. The vocational training tools.

BESIDES the manufacturers, there's the sellers. And the installers. And the operators.

Oh, the list is endless! Almost as endless as the list of possible bribes.

Out here in this rural area, with my rural education and my rural income and paying my rural taxes, I'll never know for sure, but I'll always wonder:

Who greased whom's palm?

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Sad Short-Cuts

By BOB WEAR

MUCH OF THE dissipation of human energy, the waste of precious time and general loss are caused by the foolish practice of turning from well-established ways to the enticing, but sad short-cuts.

In some things, there may be workable short-cuts; however, it is the height of folly to assume that there are short-cuts to all destinations and accomplishments.

LIVING AS WE DO, in an age of speed, many of the aspects of our society have become complex. It seems that nobody wants to be left out of the swift-moving current of present-day living.

Generally, we seem to be easy victims of the mania for speed.

THE TREND toward the speeding up of human affairs is a reality, but we must never permit it to prevail when it means a distinct loss to us. There are instances when it is not even sensible.

We must remember that some things cannot be accelerated, and efforts to do so, whatever the method, often detract and are sometimes disastrous. The excessive desire for speed, and the accompanying impatience have given impetus to the search for short-cuts.

LOOKING FOR SHORT-CUTS has become one of our more serious problems. Some of our greatest losses are caused by the false assumption that there are short-cuts to all destinations and attainments.

Many of the more important things cannot be speeded up by short-cuts, or in any other manner. Our foolish efforts to do so only produce frustrations and failures. Surely we are able to see that there are no satisfactory short-cuts to the more worthwhile human accomplishments.

THERE ARE NO short-cuts to character development; personality improvement; business and professional success, satisfactory human associations; self-esteem; happy marriages; or successful family life.

It has been said that most short-cuts are blind alleys, and from many there is no satisfactory retreat.

THE LONG, and seemingly slow way is the only way to the desired accomplishments in many areas of the life experience.

We must be patient, and we must continue diligently in the tried and true way in order to move toward worthwhile goals.

"Let us not grow weary in well-doing, for in due season we shall reap, if we do not become discouraged."

"There is no great achievement that is not the result of patient working and waiting."—J. G. Holland.

THERE ARE RIGHT TIMES for many of the experiences which are important to us, and any kind of acceleration will only spoil the experience.

There are certain biological, physiological and psychological facts of human development and behavior which make some short-cuts unusually dangerous, and others impossible.

THE INCREASING PRACTICE of taking these sad short-cuts is leading to greater numbers of misused and miserable lives.

Many of the proposed short-cuts are nothing but brazen departures from time-tested principles and ideals.

MANY SHORT-CUTS weaken both the individual and the society of which he is a member. They cause loss of time, energy, strength and ability, because they don't work.

In fact, they actually hinder our advancement.

THE SAD SHORT-CUTS which are being made so attractive by sophistry, and other devious and deceiving ways always lead to disappointment and despair.

Boypower '76

BOY SCOUT WEEK in 1969 will be observed Feb. 7 to 13. It will mark the 59th Anniversary in America of this fine organization.

In commemorating Boy Scout Week, it is well to recall a few facts about scouting. For example, 328 members of the 90th Congress of the United States were either Scouts or Scout leaders; 29 state governors have had Scouting experience and 36 of the 47 living astronauts were Scouts.

Perhaps if Scouting had reached more boys and influenced them more deeply in the last half century, great segments of our youth would not be in turmoil today, even though more than four million boys are in the Scouting program.

TO STIMULATE interest in the Scouting movement, the Boy Scouts of America has launched an eight-year, long-range plan called "Boypower '76". The aim of the plan is to broaden the membership base of the Boy Scouts by making known through community leaders, the youth of the nation and local organizations the availability of the Scout program to all who can accept its commitment of service to God, country and other people.

The Boy Scouts of America is a lot more than just a worthy endeavor among many other worthy endeavors.

This fine organization is a fountainhead of character and good citizenship and should be so saluted on every appropriate occasion—including Boy Scout Week—by the press of the nation.

Hot Line

ONE NUMBER to telephone for all emergencies!

Threatened by fire or burglars or stricken with a heart attack, there is no time to let your fingers do the walking in the phone book.

Wouldn't it be wonderful at such a time to be able to grab any telephone and dial "911" for immediate assistance?

YOU CAN IF you live in Haleyville, Ala., Huntington, Ind., Clanton, Ala., Kodiak, Alaska, or New York City. Those towns and cities have adopted the "911". Your city will if you insist.

Rep. J. Edward Roush of Indiana heard testimony that the St. Louis telephone directory lists 161 different numbers for various emergencies. The District of Columbia has 45 emergency numbers. Los Angeles county has 50.

CONGRESSMAN ROUSH concluded that much of our national fire and theft loss might be traceable to the cumbersome complexity of reporting an emergency. A minute's delay might be enough for the fire or the fugitive to get away.

Further, with our increasingly mobile population—families moving from city to city—there is an ever greater need for a single, nationwide emergency telephone number.

Other nations are ahead of us in providing such a service. Fire losses in Britain are less, per capita, than in the United States. Perhaps because you can dial number 999 from anywhere in Britain for immediate fire, police or ambulance service.

WEST GERMANY, Denmark and Belgium have three-digit emergency numbers.

Lauds Police

I wish to express my thanks appreciation to the Littlefield Police their dependability and extra they put out for us.

Several times late at night work they stop to see if there is with something, or with someone. Also they have called for me to help some stranded motorist times.

Several times there on 9th some businessmen have goofed at the door open. The police always the owner, then wait there someone comes to close up. I am the goofers. They didn't chew me.

Thanks to our Force. Bob P. S. Besides, if it wasn't for the might go to work at 60 M.P.H.

... Inauguration

Continued from Page 1 demonstrators were. When he got home he was very surprised to learn how well the demonstrations and riots were played down in the newspapers and how little of their activities were televised.

"There were three blocks of chartered buses just for the demonstrators," he said. Bradley said the hippies were mostly university students, but ranged in ages from 13 to middle age.

Thousands of police were there to hold off the hippies during the parade and inauguration, he said.

"Everywhere I looked there were white helmets," Bradley said. There were an estimated 5,000 police in Washington during the inaugural weekend.

THE DEMONSTRATORS set up tents near Resurrection City.

"They even had their own entertainment," Bradley said. "The movie and television stars who performed for them were every bit as famous as those singing and playing for the inaugural festivities."

Bradley said he

"chit-chatted" with several of the hippies. He said they were highly organized.

"They knew exactly who was supposed to be on what block at any given time.

"I felt pretty safe," he said, "since I was with two Marines."

Bradley said the demonstrators never stopped moving except to re-group. He said this constant moving was the reason they were so hard to arrest. They were hard to identify in a mob, he said.

"The strange thing about the arrests," Bradley said, "was the fact that most of the arrests made were for walking against a red light."

ON THE DAY of the parade Bradley saw the demonstrators break windows out three stories up, tear down movie marquees, and paralyze traffic for hours.

"The police had to play rough," Bradley said. "They had to put forth a greater effort. I can say one thing about police and demonstrators: the police are justifiably provoked."

Students Take Tests For Sweater Awards

This week was busy for some students in L.H.S. They took the annual sweater award tests in the auditorium. These tests are given to students who have maintained an overall 3.2 average and a 3.2 in the subject in which he takes the test. These are given in all solid subjects—three levels of English, trigonometry, Algebra II, geometry, chemistry, biology, government, American history, world history, Spanish, and Latin. Sweaters are given to one outstanding boy and one girl in each subject.

Each sweater is maroon with white boundary around a maroon "L" on which the subject for which it is awarded is designated in white letters. The sweater award program began in 1959-60, when the school board began presenting sweaters to outstanding students in an effort to encourage a better attitude toward education.

Peruvian Student Visits School

By JUANITA SAMANIEGO from Peru, was our visitor last Tuesday. She was the cause of all the bustle and excitement at LHS.

Miclovía Vincés, a 22-year-old college student

MICLOVIA VINCÉS and Juanita Samaniego talk with each other about life in Trujillo, Peru. Miclovía is now visiting the United States on a school vacation.

She cannot speak English, only Spanish.

Miclovía is only about 5'1", but the splendor of her personality makes up for her height. She has brown hair and brown eyes. Miclovía is the kind of person who can take everyone into her heart. She can talk fluently with any person whom she has never seen before.

Miclovía lives in Trujillo, Peru, a city about the size of Los Angeles.

She is attending the University in Peru and is studying to be a Home Economics teacher. At present she is on her school vacation, our vacations start in May, while Peruvians begin their v a c a t i o n s i n January. Miclovía will be in Texas for two months.

She and fourteen other students came to visit the United States and Miclovía is staying with the Alvin Rays of Sudan. She has already visited the Sudan and Muleshoe schools. She was planning to visit Texas Tech next. She will go back to Peru in April and will begin her classes May 1.

On her way back, she and the other students will stop at Mexico for a few days.

Miclovía found quite a few things different from the things in her country.

For instance, she said that the foods and meals are different in that they are not as complete as they are in Peru.

We can live on a hamburger and Coke while she must have a full meal with plenty of nutrients.

One thing which she found most disturbing was that all of the women work or have some kind of job. In Peru, it is not permitted for women to work.

They are to stay at home and tend to their family. Another difference is that one can attend a college without having to pay anything. Colleges are government paid.

Miclovía enjoys going to movies, listening to records, and playing volleyball.

She has three sisters and one brother. Their ages range from 20 to 6.

Her father is the head customs official at Trujillo.

Students taking the American history test were Tonya Bingham, Betty Boone, Gary Britt, Geoffreen Grizzle, Nancy Henson, Jean Keeling, Mark Jordan, Jane Nowlin, Steve Owens, Shannon Palmer, Juanita Samaniego and Elaine Tiller.

Tests were given to Kay Armistead, Lynn Barton, Becky Broaddus, Sandra Carter, Kelly Fain, Margaret Fain, Marsha French, Rhonda Gilley, Rachel Harlan, Charlotte Hinds, Ann Hopper, Wayland Hutto, Kathy McBride, Kathy McBride, Robert Rodriguez, Juanita Samaniego, Patricia Sanders and Vicki Wimberley.

Latin tests were given to Cathy Barton, Gary Britt, Sally Davidson, Terry Hobbs, Candice Porcher, Kenneth Richardson, and Rosendo Soria.

AND the BEAT GOES ON ***

By DANNY GOWEN

Last weekend I read a very interesting article in the Jan. 24 edition of "Life" magazine about the problem of feeding the starving people of the world in the years to come.

I was astonished to find that out of the 60 million people who died on this planet last year, at least two thirds of those deaths were attributed to hunger. Of course all of us fat people here in the United States really can't comprehend the idea of people starving to death.

Last year out of the approximately 118 million people who were born on this planet, most of them are from countries where there is a serious shortage of food. And this problem is growing worse every day as an expected population of six billion people will inhabit the earth by the end of this century.

This staggering figure is about twice as much as the population is now.

But don't worry, because even now scientists are working on the problem, seeking new sources of food and water.

It's kind of ridiculous for people of Littlefield to think of over population when our town seems to get smaller and the streets get bigger every day.

But still it is one of those problems we must face in the future and believe me when I say that there is a lot of future in the halls of Littlefield High School.

QUESTION: What action do you think should be taken with draft card burners if any?

Bufus Lee (JR)—"They should be fined or jailed and sent to the front lines in Viet Nam."

Danny Short (JR)—"I think draft card burners should be punished. They don't mind being in the U. S., but when it comes to defending that freedom, they leave it to someone else. As far as punishment is concerned they should be sent anyway."

Bill Elliot (JR)—"They should be punished in some way because if they are old enough to have a card they should respect it. They should want to serve their country."

Kenneth Ray (Soph)—"I think all draft card burners should be sentenced to a longer and harder time in the service than the ones who don't try to avoid the service. Maybe this would teach them respect for their nation."

Edwin Culp (Soph)—"I say the government is going to put them in anyway, so why burn their draft card. They know whose got one. The draft card burners might have a good idea, but it won't do them good."

Steve Maner (Soph)—"I think draft card burners should be taken to jail and sentenced a term equal to the time required to serve in the armed forces. If people don't think enough of their country to want to or help fight for it, we don't need them."

Rodney Phillips (JR)—"I think they should be punished because no one man builds a democracy himself. It is every man's duty to help build and support this country in any way possible. If he should fail to fulfill this responsibility he has no right to live in this country."

Bruce Timian (SR)—"To me, the people that burn their draft cards are the same as traitors to their country. I believe they should be punished."

Valentines

St. Valentine's Day will bring an added attraction to LHS as the Student Council will set up its Valentine booth.

Three kinds of Valentines will be available to any love-smitten student.

Both serious and humorous cards may be purchased Feb. 13 and 14, and singing Valentines may be ordered for delivery on the 14th.

Funds earned for this activity will help to finance the Athletic Banquet this spring.

Mt. Vesuvius, southeast of Naples (3,858 feet). Only active volcano on mainland of Europe. Latest eruption in 1944.

The girls of LHS as well as the boys have been working hard on sports activities. The girls have been working toward the development of a championship volleyball team, which they hope to receive.

The A string players are: Evah Tucker, Voliena Francis, Junnie Gray, LaTonya Dangerfield, Doris Ashley, Lanet Gilley, and Merri Francis.

The B team is: Elaine Graves, Sandra Carter, Vicki Cook, Kathy Bryson, Maria Soria, Mary Tucker, Dusty Angel, Laqua Graham, Jean Keeling, Mary Wilson, and Belinda Moreno.

The girls' first game will be played with Hereford tomorrow in the LHS gym beginning with the freshman team at 6:30 with high school A and teams following.

Mrs. Toulman, the volleyball coach thinks they will have a good chance having a winning season if they get together and work as a unit.

There will be a charge of cents for the volleyball game. This money will go for a worthwhile cause, as it will be used for purchasing girls' uniforms.

With the help and support of everyone, these girls seek to play their best come out on top.

Drivers Ed. Classes In Final Stages

Recently the driver education class, taught here at high school by Mrs. Toulman was completed.

Sound Of Music Fills Cafeteria

Music and merriment filled the LHS cafeteria last Thursday night when the Dirty Dozen entertained for the Chamber of Commerce banquet.

The Dirty Dozen, a folk group consisting of members of the A Cappella choir, often performs at public functions upon request.

Everyone agreed that the Dirty Dozen gave a marvelous performance.

Although the group is named the Dirty Dozen there are 13 members including: Betty Boone, Judy Diersing, Sam Fain, Carla Grimes, Geoffreen Grizzle, Danny Gowen, Waylon Hutto, Wally Sanders, Jackie Sims, Peggy Richey, Terry Walker, and Randy Walker.

The Dirty Dozen also performed at the junior high auditorium the same day. The Dirty Dozen, although it is called a folk group, sings some pop songs too with the help of the excellent accompaniment of Wally Sander's guitar.

Students finished the course and took their test Jan. 22. There were 35 students in the class, all of whom received their restricted licenses.

The students will use their restricted licenses until they pass the driving portion the summer and become sixteen. The students will begin driving in about two weeks when the car they are to drive, which is being provided by Mitchell-Ford, arrives. The students must complete six hours of observation and six hours of driving for a total of twelve hours of driving time.

The class met in the study hall each morning at 7:30 and each afternoon at 4:15 from Dec. 2 to Jan. 21. The class periods ranged from 45 minutes to two hours in length.

The class also saw three films obtained from the Lubbock Citizens Traffic Commission. The films shown were "Death on the Highway," "Signal 30", and "The Last Prom."

Once there was a man named Robert Pock. He owned a company called Pock Industries, Inc. One day his workers struck and picketed for better pay. This was the first case of Pock pickets.

Last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday the all-region band students went to Lubbock for SEVERAL hours of practice. They practiced from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Thursday night. The next day, Friday, they were fortunate enough to miss school. They practiced five hours and then listened to the Tech band for another hour. Saturday, they practiced all morning. That afternoon the students went to see "Westside Story" and then returned to Estacado for the concert.

Everyone said that it was well worth the effort as the audience could easily detect.

One lightning bug to the other: "Give me a push. I think my battery's dead!"

This Saturday, L.J.H.'s Honor Choir members will go to Lubbock. They will practice all day giving the concert at 7:30 p.m. at Coronado High School. The group has been working on the music for about three weeks.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Tonight is the night of the freshmen girls' volleyball game. They will play Brownfield in the high school gym. The first game will start at 6:00. Everyone is invited, so come and back our girls' athletic program!

Linda Hill—"Why does tradition state that cowboys are supposed to die with their boots on?"

Teresa Humphreys—"So they won't stub their toes when they kick the bucket."

Last Monday night our junior high basketball teams traveled to Dimmitt for a tough game. The eighth graders lost after quite a battle and the freshmen did, also. But just wait until tonight!

Tonight they will go to Abernathy to "fight it out". Show your spirit and let's back the Wildkittens to victory!

BEAT ABERNATHY!!!

You think you've got troubles! I bet I'm the only one in town with a sarcastic parakeet. Yesterday I went to his cage and asked, "Can you talk? Can you talk?" He looked back at me with a sneer and replied, "Yes, I can talk. Can you fly?"

County Commissioners OK Grader Purchase

By JOELLA LOVVORN
News Editor, Leader-News

Thirteen items were on the agenda for discussion Friday in Lamb County Commissioners Court.

First matter of business was the purchase of two motor graders for Precinct Four. As the precinct had advertised that bids would be opened in Friday's session, only one bid was submitted. West Texas Equipment Company of Lubbock made a bid of $34,200, total cost, with optional equipment accepted. Immediate delivery is to be made.

Second item on the agenda was approval of a request from Bill Stone, president of Lamb County Sheriff's Posse. Stone had asked the commissioners to allow land at the fairground to be used for a rodeo and playday arena. The commissioners okayed use of land between county showbarns and a little league baseball field. This area now weeded over, also would be the site of concession stands and restrooms to be used in connection with the arena.

Commissioners voted to accept the resignation of Assistant County Agent Sam Kuykendall, who has accepted the position of County Agricultural Agent at Menard, as of Feb. 1.

Bobby Brunson of Crane was hired as new Assistant County Agricultural Agent to replace Kuykendall.

A resolution, giving an extension of a variation for air pollution control at SWPS Plant X was approved.

Commissioners authorized County Judge G. T. Sides to write a letter to District Engineer for the Highway Department, O. L. Crain of Lubbock, to place a warning sign near Plant X, notifying motorists that visibility is sometimes impaired with steam.

Petitions were presented to the Commissioners from interested Lamb County citizens requesting that the season for hunting quail remain in the hands of Lamb County Commissioners Court and that certified copies of that resolution be sent to State Representative Bill Clayton and State Senator Jack Hightower.

Another petition from interested citizens in Precinct Four requested that a county dirt road, approximately three-quarters of a mile long, be discontinued. In accordance with Texas law, a notice must be posted and after 20 days a hearing will be held by the Commissioners Court. After the hearing, if the Commissioners see fit, authorization will be given to close the road.

Commissioners accepted the resignation of Mrs. E. B. Hutchinson of Sudan, from the Lamb County Library Board.

Jack Peel, commissioner of Precinct Three, made a motion that the Commissioners be allowed to purchase a used 1967 Ford pickup. A 1959 Chevrolet pickup, owned by the precinct, will be traded in, with a difference of $1,250 to be paid.

Three bids were considered for sale of a county Chevrolet.

Railroad Taxes Total $17,181 Paid To County

Current annual taxes paid to the various government agencies by Texas railroads in Lamb County totaled $17,181, according to the Texas Railroad Association.

That amount was the county's share of the more than $10,000,000 the railroads paid in Texas on their own right of way and other property.

The biggest railroad contribution was the school systems throughout the state. Large sums were also distributed to city, village and county governments and for road and bridge funds.

In addition, of course, was the large total in taxes the railroads' 30,840 Texas employees contributed on their own property. The vast majority of rail workers, many of whom live in Lamb County, own their own homes.

which had been wrecked, and a Studebaker pickup. The vehicles will be used for salvage and high bid was $147.50.

Commissioners rescinded an order of the original minutes on setting wages of county employes, regarding the amount to be paid each month to maintainer operators and foremen.

A notice was composed for publication in all Lamb County newspapers later this month.

Quoting the notice, it states:

Art. 784 of the Penal Code of Texas provides that "Whoever shall willfully obstruct or injure or cause to be obstructed or injured in any manner whatsoever any public road or highway or any street or alley in any town, or city, or any public bridge or causeway, within this state, shall be fined not exceeding TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS."

Turning of tractors, and equipment within the of way in such manner cause injury to the back of the barrow ditch or shoulder as well as the proportion of a road is a violation of this law.

WILLFUL VIOLATION WILL BE PROSECUTED TO THE FULL EXTENT OF THE LAW.
