Lamb County ranked tenth in the nation and third in Texas in the number of bales of 1960 cotton ginned, according to a report just released from the U. S. Department of Commerce.

The report is based on the ginning through January 15, 1961 and is for running bales. Linters were not included.

Last year, Lamb County ranked twelfth in the nation and fifth in Texas. The 1959 cotton crop was about 1200 bales more than in 1960 but two counties in Texas that reported larger yields in 1959 fell behind Lamb County in 1960.

The two counties which led which reported 200,422 bales in 1959 fell to 161,947 in 1960 and Hookley with 178,379 in 1959 to 163,307 in 1960.

The two counties which led Texas are Hale and Lubbock, Lubbock was again the leading cotton producing county with 241,250 bales in 1960 as compared with 210,570 in 1959. Hale reported 187,505 bales this year as compared to 179,614.

Texas led the nation in the total number of bales ginned with 4,279,741. The national total of 1960 cotton is 14,066,222 bales. California was second with 1,927,715 bales and Mississippi was third with 1,510,432 bales.

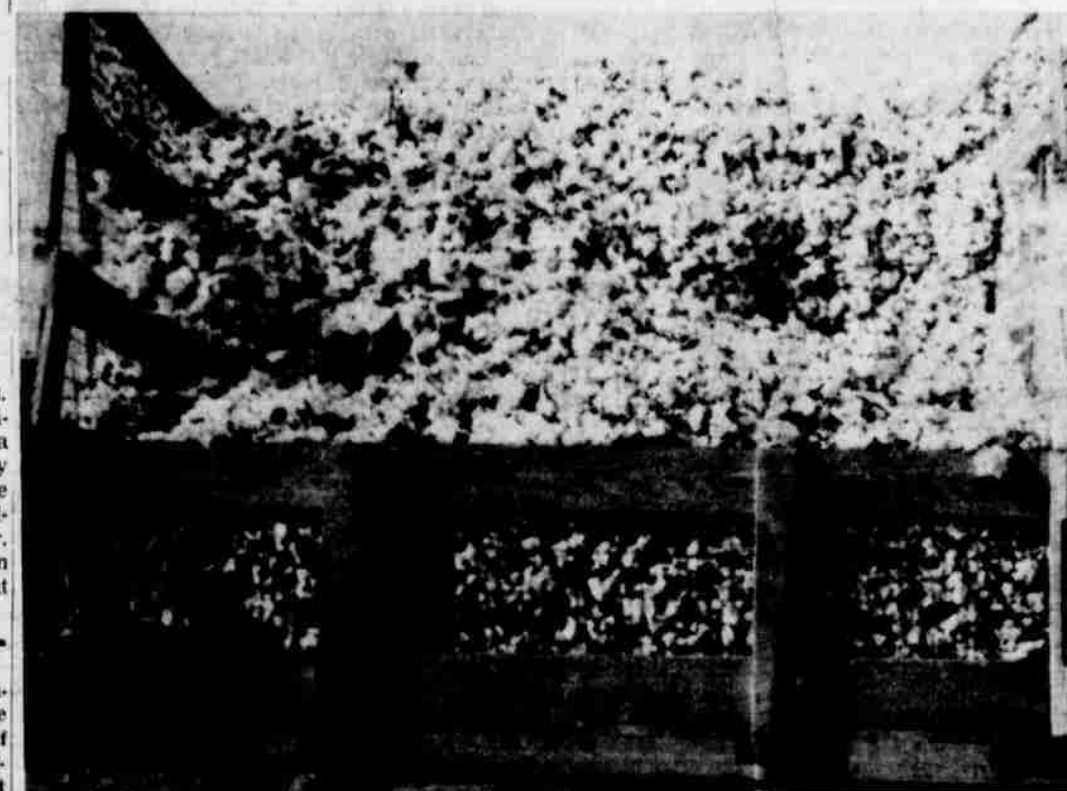

Seven states showed gains in production while the remainder showed a decrease. The states showing gains were Alabama, Arizona, Florida, Illinois, Louisiana, Nevada and Oklahoma. Texas had a decrease of 107,000 bales from 1959.

Lamb, Hale and Lubbock Counties raised a total of 601,912 bales which was more than was raised in any of these 12 states reporting. Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana, Missouri, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

23 Cars Leave Track

Train Derails Sunday

Twenty three cars of a 97-car freight derailed early Sunday morning three miles west of Littlefield. Cause of the pile-up was a broken axle.

The wreck occurred at 6:55 a. m., stopping all rail service from Lubbock to Clovis for about 12 hours. Work crews arrived here early Sunday morning and began clearing the wreckage so the trucks could be replaced.

The wreck damaged 550 feet of track. The wrecked cars included 13 cars loaded with potash, five empty gondolas, two tank cars loaded with fuel oil and a gondola with fertilizer.

J. L. Reed, conductor of the train, said he was in the caboose of the freight when the air brakes set, "not real hard but you could tell something was wrong because it was stopping so fast."

"I couldn't tell we had derailed," he added, "it was too dark but I knew something was out of the ordinary."

The derailment occurred near the rear of the train, leaving only 12 cars in front of the caboose and 62 cars behind the engine.

Damage was set in the thousands of dollars by railroad authorities.

A similar wreck occurred at Abernathy a short time before the Littlefield wreck. In that accident there were 14 cars derailed.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

Pirates at sea! Passengers and crew held prisoner! These are phrases from "Ancient Tales of the Sea." Yet they were front page news last week, as a Portuguese rebel chief seized a luxury liner and sailed at least a few of the seven seas before he was forced to put into port for food and supplies.

Piracy, which goes back many centuries in history and literature, is usually carried on for plunder. Such names as the Vikings and the Barbary pirates stand out. The ordinary pirate who signed on a buccaneering vessel for the booty he might share. He was both sea robber and murderer.

By comparison, this 20th century episode sounds like the make-believe of a musical comedy called, let us say, "The Santa Maria". The huge ship with the melodic name cost many millions. The crew, not a handful of men but 380 strong, and the passengers, an imposing 607, vanished with the ship into vast waters while all modern devices for tracing ships at sea were put to use to find the stolen vessel.

These are "stupendous" facts that smack of Hollywood and put traditional pirating to shame. The hero - villain, Henrique Galvao, has a name so romantic sounding as to fade out those of real pirates — "Long Ben" Avery, Bartholomew Roberts, Edward Teach. Yet there was hardly any murder, and no booty claimed. This modern Captain Kidd held over a thousand human beings captive for 12 harrowing days.

Since we were not there to experience the uncertainty and fear, and from this safe distance, it seems a perfect plot for the television screen or movie lot. We may well expect a sudden switch in 1961 from Westerns to "Tales of the Sea."

The nighthawk is not a hawk but a member of the bird family called Goatsuckers, none of which sucks goats.

Tax Cut Recommended

President Kennedy has been handed recommendations for combating the current economic recession including one that is a welcome addition to the usual prescription of more federal spending.

That is the proposal that if by March or April the recession does not show signs of righting itself by late summer, federal income tax rates be reduced by three or four percentage points.

Fortunately, most experts believe that there will be a pickup in economic activity in the second half of the year and few anticipate that the current "rolling readjustment," which is by no means a severe recession, will get much worse before then.

Of all the task force's recommendations, we like the tax cut proposal best. It might be a salutary thing in more ways than one the study group has in mind, which is that it would enable people to spend more money and thus stimulate business and industry.

If the American people were to get used, after all these years of extremely high taxes, to having a little more of their own money to spend they would be heard from if anybody tried to raise federal income taxes back to present levels.

The ideal thing is for the government to reduce taxes and at the same time reduce expenses.

A tax cut might even not cost the government any revenue. Remember how personal and corporate taxes were reduced when Andrew W. Mellon was secretary of the Treasury in the 1920's, and business got better and revenue increased so that the government was able to reduce its debt substantially over a period of several years.

Yes, a tax cut would be splendid if it didn't result in increasing the national debt, which is about the most inflationary thing that can happen and something every person in authority claims he is against except under most disastrous conditions.

So cut taxes and cut expenditures, which means less can be spent on foreign aid, social welfare, etc., and effect all economies possible in the operation of the government.

Foreign aid in particular should be reduced drastically. It hasn't helped other countries as much as we hoped and it has hurt us. It is primarily responsible for the flight of gold.

But, the task force recommended an increase in foreign aid, a big program of federal aid to education, more urban renewal, federal aid to areas of chronic unemployment, and so on.

How to reconcile big new or expanded spending programs with a balanced budget and the highly desirable tax cut is the question.

Debate Safe — For Now

Simple majority cloture rule.

That hardy perennial, the effort to destroy the Senate privilege of unlimited debate, has been battled down again, but by a margin entirely too close for comfort. The Senate voted 50 to 46 to postpone consideration of a resolution which would have permitted a majority of 51 senators to end unlimited debate.

Senate Rule 22, then, goes unchanged for the present. And while the issue will be brought up again later in the session, liberal senators concede there is no further chance for action to change the rules this year or next.

This is an issue which has been obscured by a smoke screen of sloppy or slanted reporting. One reads the phrases "Southern filibuster," "civil rights filibuster" and "the filibuster, the principal weapon with which Southern conservatives fight civil rights legislation," so often that he is likely to get a most distorted view of the issue.

The fact is, of course, that unlimited debate was a Senate privilege for the first 125 years of this republic and the founding fathers intended that it should be. It was only in 1917 that the first cloture (ending of debate) rule was passed, in response to President Wilson's demand and his denunciation of "a little group of willful men" who talked the administration's armed neutrality bill to death.

Well, who was right in that instance -- Wilson, who apparently was intent upon leading the nation into World War I, or the senators who were trying to put on the brakes?

There have been hundreds of cases of protracted debate in the Senate, of which a large number can qualify as "filibusters." Only a small minority of them have been over the question of civil rights, although several of the more recent ones have been.

Since the adoption of Rule 22 in 1917, there have been 22 cloture votes -- 22 attempts to end debate. Only eight of them were connected with civil rights legislation. One of the longest debates on record came in 1953 when the subject was the tidelands bill; another recent filibuster was the 1947 attempt to delay a vote on overriding President Truman's veto of the Taft-Hartley bill.

What the Senate hotheads who get so excited over civil rights filibusters seem to forget is that unlimited debate protects every minority, racial, religious, political or economic. The rule that affords one group of states a safeguard today can protect an entirely different minority of states on some other issue tomorrow.

It will be a sad day for the United States if the time comes when the 49 per cent is subjected to the blind tyranny of the 51 per cent.

FIRST THERE WAS ONE. THEN TWENTY-THREE — That's what happened Sunday west of Littlefield when a broken axle caused twenty-three cars to derail. The wreckage had been cleared away by late Wednesday afternoon.

PENN POINT
BY D. H. P.

I might just as well start this column off by apologizing to the Lamb County Farm Bureau, Sunday I stated that Frank Lehman is the president of the organization which isn't right. The current president is Herman Neuen schwander. Lehman was the first president of the Farm Bureau in 1946-47. Pete Peterman has been president in 1958-59, but I failed to mention this fact. You just can't always believe what you hear or read.

The problem of highway safety is growing every day. Lamb County already has four traffic deaths for 1961. In a recent survey taken on by the Texas Safety Association, drivers exempted themselves from the likelihood of an accident for these four reasons: (1) They always look out for pedestrians, (2) They drive fast only on straight highways when the weather is clear and dry, (3) Their car is in good mechanical condition, and (4) They are experienced drivers.

Now from the statistical records we find (1) One-third of the pedestrians killed (over a given year) were jaywalkers, they got out from behind parked cars; (2) 7 per cent of the vehicles involved in accidents were traveling straight ahead, and four out of five accidents occurred in clear weather and on dry roads; (3) Studies support the fact that most accidents involve cars with no apparent defects and (4) The drivers with less than one year's experience constitute seven per cent of all motorists, yet were in only three per cent of all fatal accidents recorded.

"Good driving calls for more than good sense — it calls for good attitude."

Did you know that the average man in his lifetime spends 20 years working, another twenty years sleeping, 10 years playing, five years shaving and dressing, five years eating and three years just waiting. In a lifetime he spends 8,700 hours telephoning, the equivalent of one full year. Just wonder how much time the average woman spends in a lifetime on the telephone and dressing.

With the death of Dr. Thomas

Farm Facts

While millions of people in other parts of the world are barely subsisting, the average person in the United States has more and better food than ever before. Even with money in their pockets, Russians have to queue up in long lines to buy food. Contrast this with a supermarket in the United States.

In his lifetime, the average U. S. consumer will eat the equivalent of 33 hogs, 10 lambs, 8 steers and 4 veal calves.

An hour's pay in the United States in 1958 would buy almost three pounds of butter — three times as much as it would buy in 1929.

The amazing efficiency on American farms, and in the marketing, processing, and distribution of their products, is responsible for the abundance, variety, and high quality of foods we enjoy.

Senator George D. Aiken of

The average consumer will eat the equivalent of 33 hogs, 10 lambs, 8 steers and 4 veal calves during his meat-eating days.

Verment reminds us that American agriculture is the greatest stabilizing influence of the world's economy. Take away our assurance of plenty of food, he notes, and "international chaos would result."

A. Dooley, a symbol has gone — a symbol of sublime confidence that in the end the brotherhood of man will triumph over the four-and-twenty jarring ideologies which plague our world today. And, more than any man during this short 34 years among us, he worked toward that goal, helping the sick and promoting friendship and good will among the peoples of the world.

In May, 1954, as medical officer aboard the U. S. S. Montague, he took over the tremendous task of supervising the evacuation of refugees from North Vietnam to the non-Communist South Vietnam following the French Indo-Chinese war.

But he encountered such incredible suffering and want that he was later to write in his book, "Deliver Us From Evil": "I had to provide shelter and food, sanitation and some human solace to a flood of humanity, undernourished, exhausted, bewildered and pitifully frightened. My primary task was medical... the shifting camp population, normally (was) between 10,000 and 15,000 persons. The experience was to determine the course of his life. He returned to Southeast Asia as a civilian after his discharge from the Navy and, at the request of the Laos government, set up a small hospital five miles from the border of Communist China. His 1961 Legislative Program for Better Schools — Raise minimum salary to $4,000 — provide incentive increments.

Later Dr. Dooley turned his hospital over to the Laos government and returned to the United States to found Medico (Medical International Co-operation Organization) with Dr. Peter D. Cornanduras. This organization has financed the establishment of 17 projects in a dozen Southeast Asian countries, a large part of the money coming from Dr. Dooley's books and lectures. This is the type of foreign aid which does the greatest good and none of it comes from the United States Treasury.

The courage of this man was as great as his charity. The last years of his life were wracked by painful cancer, yet he carried on to the end. His life was short but his deeds were great.

SWEETPOTATO VIRUS

Internal cork is a virus and is probably the most common of all sweetpotato diseases. Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, says the best way to control cork is to obtain seed from producers with virus-free stock. Also, diseased potatoes should never be used for slip production, says Smith.

About Your Health

Texas deaths during 1960 showed the most substantial increase in 25 years according to provisional estimates compiled by the State Health Department's Records and Statistics Section. Deaths for 1960 were seven per cent above the 1959 figures with comparative death rates of 821.2 per 100,000 population for 1960; 800 of the total 79,000 deaths in Texas during 1960.

In second place on the 1960 statistical sheets, was malignant neoplasms (cancer) which claimed over 11,000 Texas lives.

On the credit side was the noticeable drop in the motor vehicle accident death rate from 35.9 per 100,000 in 1959 to 24.5 per 100,000 in 1960.

Local school districts bear the full cost of constructing and financing classrooms and other physical facilities.

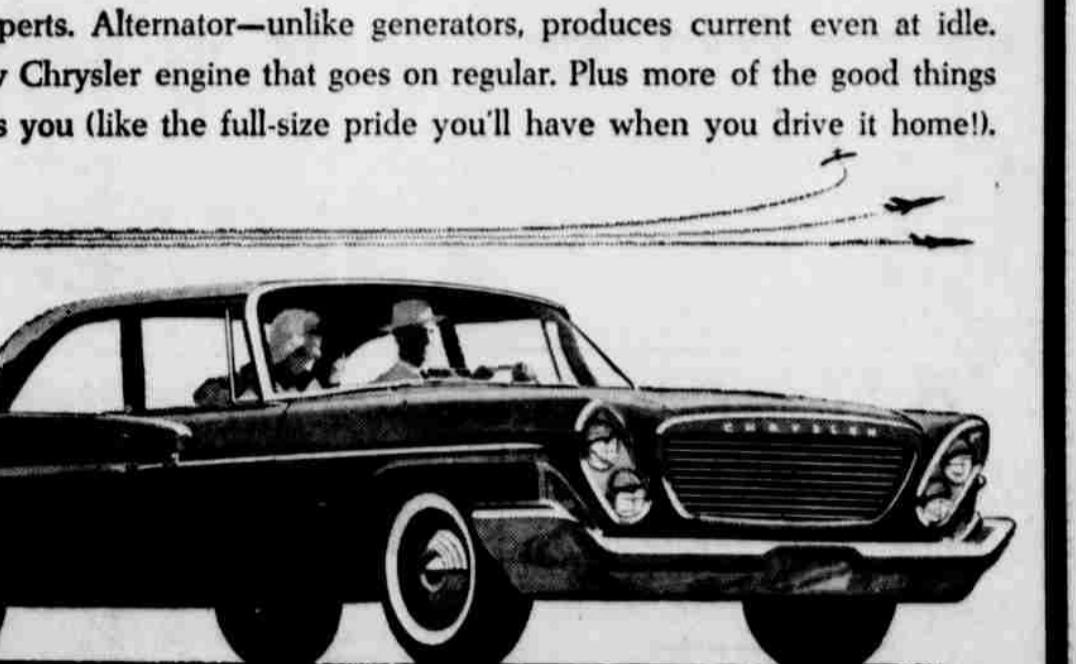

If you'd bake with pride...

Isn't it satisfying to serve your family the kind of food they really enjoy... good, old-fashioned food like golden-rich cornbread made with GLADIOLA Corn Meal... corn meal milled from ripe kernels of the world's finest harvest, with all the natural flavor oils left in, to make your cornbread the most richly-flavorful you ever baked.

BRIDGE TO GOD'S WORLD

The bridge, what a miracle! Tons of steel hanging in air . . . spanning miles of water . . . supporting an unending line of cars like so many ants.

And what a boon to man! The bridge saves untold hours and opens up new vistas of life.

The bridge of prayer, what a miracle! Spanning Heaven and Earth . . . carrying the needs and hopes of believing hearts. What a boon to man! The bridge of prayer opens up new paths of creative living and vistas into the realm of Heaven.

In Church you can discover prayer—the bridge which leads to God's world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

High among the special pleasures of Cadillac ownership is the car's remarkable handling ease. It seems almost to drive itself. In parking, traffic, or on the open road, a Cadillac maneuvers with scarcely more than your thoughts to prompt it. And contributing to this relaxing feeling of effortless driving is the superb silence of the Cadillac engine . . . the virtual absence of travel noise . . . and those deep and buoyant Cadillac seats. Farm Land Costs Soar While Incomes Decline

During the ten years since 1950, the average price of agricultural land has increased 67 per cent in the United States and 71 per cent in Texas.

Total agricultural net income of the nation's farm operators during the same period, however, has shown a decline of 18 per cent.

A. B. Wooten, associate professor, Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology, says the persistence of these opposing trends has created a most unfavorable relationship between net farm income and market values of farm land.

In spite of the dim farm income picture for agricultural land in Texas, the upward pressure on land prices will continue in 1961, Wooten believes. This pressure will not be so great as in previous years, however, and it will

4-H Roundup Slated At A&M During June

The annual Texas 4-H Club Roundup will be held at Texas A&M College on June 6 and 7.

The big day will be the 7th when hundreds of young Texans will vie for honors in the 25 judging and demonstration contests.

The two high ranking teams or individuals from each Extension District are eligible to participate in the statewide contests scheduled for Roundup. The district winners will be selected in district elimination contests held prior to the state meeting.

The boys and girls who attend Roundup will be accompanied by either their county extension agent or agents or by adult leaders.

Many of the state winning teams and individuals later in the year will represent their state in national contests and will, therefore, have an opportunity to add 4-H experiences.

Program details are not yet available but will be announced well in advance of the June meeting, according to Extension Service officials.

ary consideration and the price paid is justified on some other basis.

In areas where the above factors exist, the price of agricultural land can be expected to continue to increase in 1961. In the more agricultural areas of Texas, the low rate of return on farm land is beginning to pinch, consequently land prices should be down slightly.

Due to the low rate of return on current market values, farm mortgages and contracts, particularly when they represent a high percentage of the purchase price, are likely to be more difficult to pay off in the decade ahead than in the decade just past, Wooten concludes.

Forage Sorghum Acreage Nears 2 Million Mark

The forage sorghums, though not as economically important as the grain sorghums, are a major source of roughage for Texas livestock and dairy producers.

Sorghum forage is produced in all farming areas of the state and in recent years, the total acreage has been slightly below 2 million.

The annual production is near 2 million tons.

The forage sorghums produce roughage of excellent quality which may be stored as silage, bundles, hay or pellets. Cattle, sheep and horses make good use of these roughages when fed in combination with other feeds to produce meat, milk, wool and energy. Low-cost rations which produce high gains in the feedlot and utilizing sorghum forage have been developed.

Another and perhaps the most important use of forage sorghum

Sandhills Philosopher

American, Russian Farm Differences Are Explained

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discussed Russian farming this week, which takes the spotlight off his brand of farming.

Dear editor:

I have been reading some newspaper articles lately about the Russian agricultural situation, and I have discovered what the big difference is between a Russian farmer and an American farmer.

To give you a little background on the matter, although I suppose you read the newspapers the same as I do, Mr. Khrushchev has been pretty hot under the collar lately because Russian farmers haven't been producing enough. Why in one area, despite the streamlined, advanced supervision by a bunch of experts telling the farmers how to plant, when the total production was added up at the end of the harvest season, it was found the area hadn't produced enough to feed itself, not to mention shipping anything off to Mr. Khrushchev in Moscow.

This came as a big blow to Mr. Khrushchev because he had been reading production reports from this area showing everything was booming and a bumper crop was being made.

is to provide a reserve supply of feed for winter maintenance and during droughts. When production is above average, the excess may be stored for later use.

In order that farmers and stockmen might have more information on these important roughage producers, J. R. Quinby and P. T. Marion, superintendents of Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations at Chillicothe and Spur, respectively, have authored, B-965, "Production and Feeding of Forage Sorghum in Texas."

The well-known research workers have prepared a publication which should be of interest to all stockmen who have experienced difficulties in producing enough roughage for their needs. Major divisions of the publication include forage sorghum culture, harvesting and storing, diseases and insects, varieties and hybrids, and feeding forage sorghum.

Copies of the publication are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Please order by number and title.

Now right here is where the American farmer differs from the Russian farmer.

An American farmer, you ask him, just in a casual conversation, how much he made per acre on a given crop, and he'll stretch it a little. It doesn't make any difference what section of the country he's in, if you ask him how much corn for example he made, if he's a corn grower, it comes out a little better than it was. Or his apples turned out a little better, or his wheat, or his cotton, or his rice, or his calf crop, or his lay ers, etc.

But this is only when he's talking off the record, for neighborhood consumption. Now when it comes to telling the government, he gets out his pencil and figures it down to the actual bone, with his sales slips in front of him, because exaggeration wouldn't lead anywhere except to extra income taxes.

Now the Russian farmer, he's just the opposite. Let a neighbor ask him how much corn he made, and he'll say, "Comrade, I ain't doing no good at all, my crop is lousy," but let the government ask him, and he's liable to stretch the figures upward, because he knows from experience in Russia it's the people's job to keep the government happy, not the other way around.

Russia is pretty good when it comes to shooting off satellites and spreading propaganda, but when it comes to farming, so far she seems to fall short. You can not propagandize a crop, it's got to be plowed, I know, I've tried both methods.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Area 4-H Club Members Show Stock At Houston

Five members of the Littlefield 4-H Club will have livestock on exhibition in the Junior Division of the 1961 Houston Fat Stock Show, February 22 through March 5.

Mike McGaugh, Judy and Tom Tapley, will exhibit four Hereford steers and James Hill and Aaron Robertson, members of the Littlefield 4-H Club will exhibit four fat lambs.

Even if there should be a small change in consumer incomes, it will not affect the domestic market for farm products to any great extent.

If the recent economic declines are long-run and become more severe than is now expected, they could have a depressing effect on the domestic market for agricultural products, but this is not likely in 1961.

McHaney also says that the volume of agricultural exports during the present fiscal year, July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961 will likely equal or exceed the record high established last year. Progress continues to be made in lowering trade barriers against farm products imported from the United States, and government programs continue to play a major role in the agricultural economy of the U. S.

Overall prices received by farmers in the U. S. and Texas in 1961 probably will not change from those received in 1960, but prices received for individual commodities will change. The extent of these changes will depend on economic factors affecting such commodities.

Through the years, farm and ranch debts in the U. S. and Texas have continued to increase, but this debt is only about 13 per cent of the value of farm assets. Equities of farmers and other owners of farm assets are high in relation to farm debts, and this is favorable, the specialist continues.

The main problem confronting agriculture in Texas and the U. S. is that production is overexpanded in terms of available markets at prices that are satisfactory to many farmers and ranchers. Unless more effective programs are developed, farmers will continue to be confronted with a price-squeeze through the next several years, McHaney concludes.

Since 1952, school enrollment has increased annually at the rate of about 80,000 students and will continue at this rate for the next six years.

of Commerce is which does those of the Lit-gress Club, the most folks think

Lets not kid ourselves thinking that a city grows just because men are in business or work in a city, pay taxes and build buildings; or have a large number of farmers producing abundant crops in the area. Cities grow because men work together on a well developed plan and program. In Littlefield some firms and individuals are working under the name of "Chamber of Commerce." It could be called the "Booster Club" or "The Progress Club," the name is immaterial. The organization only gives an opportunity for concerted and cooperative action. These participating firms and individuals believe in Littlefield's future. They are putting money and effort into a program of development that will build a happier and more prosperous city. The accrued benefits are beneficial to everyone who lives in the Littlefield area. When this group helps the farm community, that builds business. When this group fights for good agricultural and business legislation, that improves our business climate. When this group builds good will in our trade territory, that is good business. When this group works for a community improvement to provide excellent facilities for every type function from wedding receptions to conventions, that makes for a happier community and brings business. When advertising programs are promoted, that builds business and offers outstanding purchases to our customers. When you see a Chamber of Commerce membership on display in a business or office, it does not mean the possessor is a "big shot" or the member of a "Clique." It does mean that the party has made some investment in the future of Littlefield. Better still, it means that he is interested in you, his neighbors and your neighbors and friends to have a better place in which to live and make a living. When you read or hear that a man is serving on a committee or project for the Chamber you that he is giving man hours of work and planning without pay. He is serving because he believes in the future. He wants a better life for your family not join forces with those already at work. Lets work together for a better and happier life for everyone who lives here. Lets not kid ourselves, progress and growth doesn't just happen; it is planned and worked on by the conscientious citizenry. Based on January 1 conditions, the Crop Reporting Board forecasts the winter vegetable crop, for fresh market, will be 4 per cent less than last winter, but 6 per cent above average.

Cotton Center Rocks Spade

Ronald Bourland poured in 25 points Friday night as he led Cotton Center to a 48-25 victory over Spade in a District 5B basketball game. Cotton Center led all the way in taking its fourth conference victory against three losses. Doyle McFerrin helped the attack with 14 points. Cotton Center also won the girls game to remain unbeaten in conference play, 77-46. Theda Prather led the balanced attack with 28 points, while Judith White had 20 points and Jodie Barrett, 10. Ada Anderson led the Spade girls with 40 of her teams' 46 points in a remarkable one-man-a performance. All revenue at the local level is derived from an ad valorem tax on real and personal property.

Local Happenings This Week In 1928

(Editor's Note: In cleaning out an old storage place in the rear of our office, we came across the bound copies of the Lamb County Leader for 1928. Each week we will go through a copy of this file and reprint some of the interesting items. The dates for these papers correspond to our publishing dates for this year.)
From the February 9, 1928 edition of the Lamb County Leader:

The Seale - Whippet Motor Company opened for business this week. Mid Seale is the proprietor.

J. I. Wingfield, watchmaker and jeweler, advertised a bargain in spectacles priced from 75 cents to $5.00.

Another notice in the issue was "Now is the time to buy - we have on the market eighty thousand acres consisting of 100 per cent farm tracts - Yellow House Land Company."

That week at the Palace Theatre you could have seen Berry and Hutton in "Fireman Save My Child," and Tom Tyler in "Lightning Lariats."

A note of interest was the fact that "E. A. Bills and Ellis Foust attended business in the county seat, Tuesday."

Jess Mitchell was editor and publisher of the Leader and subscription rates were $1.50 a year.

Ridings Services Held Tuesday In Whitharral

Funeral services for Dillard Ridings, 66, who died Sunday at the West Texas Hospital, Lubbock were held Tuesday at the Whitharral Baptist Church.

Rev. Buford Patton, minister of the Nazarene Church, Lubbock, assisted by Rev. Elmer Ward, pastor of the local First Methodist Church, officiated.

Born at Hollis, Okla., Ridings had resided in the Whitharral community since 1936, living at present home since 1939.

Interment followed at the Littlefield Cemetery with Geo. C. Price Funeral Home, Levelland, in charge.

Pull bearers were Rafe Rodgers, Don Reding, Alvin Doshier, Glenn Hughes, Robert Strickland and Clifford Buckner.

Survivors are his wife, two sons, R. D. of Texaco, N. M.; and Jackie of Glasgow, Mont.; three brothers, Lewis (Red), Whitharral; H. P. (Pete) Hollis, Okla., and Howard of Pampa, six grandchildren.

Kirsten Flaegstad, star of Wagnerian operas, lives in Oslo, Norway. She was also former head of Norwegian state opera.

or 75 cents for six months.

J. T. Bellomy has the honor of starting the "more beautiful home" campaign in Littlefield this year, having made a trip to Plain view the first of the week to bring back a load of trees and shrubbery which will be planted about his residence.

That was an election year and under the Political Announcements were the following: For Tax Assessor - Roy L. Gattis; for Commissioner of Precinct Four - Ellis J. Foust; for county Attorney T. Wade Potter; for county and District Clerk - A. H. McGavock; for County Treasurer - M. M. (Jimmie) Brittain; For County Commissioner Precinct Three - C. E. Strawn; for Sheriff and Tax Collector J. L. (Len) Irvin; for Public Weigher Precinct Four A. L. Porter; and for County Judge, Simon D. Hay.

City Marshal Fred Hoover picked up 25 men for "shooting craps and playing cards."

Recent showers in the Littlefield territory while not sufficient to be of any material aid in softening the ground for winter plowing yet they have been of great value in refreshing the growing wheat of this section.
