Don't tell anyone, but

We have decided to take our work and go to the Lamb County court house. It is the coldest place that we have ever been in outside of a mausoleum. We suggested to the workers that they take their pallet up there and sleep.

Merchants in Littlefield enjoyed a big Dollar Day. One merchant complained that his ad in our paper was what made him have to do all of that hard work. Maybe the boss got a little of what the clerks get a lot of. Reckon??

We aren't going anywhere this week. Decided that we would eliminate one car from the highway.

Lipstick Logic

Some folks are healthy, others enjoy poor health. Symptoms and diseases come and go, but one condition - once you're a victim of it - remains chronic. That's the urge to repeat the bright sayings of your own children.

Now as long as the offspring are young and too helpless to defend themselves, this isn't pernicious. Even then, however, it's best to avoid repeating Johnny's impertinent retort to Papa or the Minister in Johnny's presence. His understanding of what makes up humor is sketchy at the age of four, and so from then on he may go around being impertinent to all comers, hoping to score another hit.

But as Johnny grows older, he is embarrassed by these accounts of his early sayings. As he becomes a man, he wonders why children are taught to use their tongue at all until they have sense enough to know what they're saying.

Maybe the only time this sport is harmless is when a group of old friends - all parents of grownup children - get together for an occasional night of recollecting. There are best when the children are far away, or certainly out of earshot.

We had such a session the other night, and it was as much fun as looking at high school snapshots, or reading old love letters. There was the story of the eldest daughter, now the mother of three, who used to say, when a toy was repaired, "Now he's him!" Of the young doctor, for whom people were neither slender nor slim—they were "slin". The irregular path was a "pair", and so on.

Each parent enjoyed a half hour of "remembering when." The second generation, now happily scattered, was none the worse for it, and a good time was had by all.

Because it is built in a semi-circular bend of the Mississippi River, New Orleans is known as the Crescent City.

Not all crows are black; some have brightly-colored feathers.

Mothers helping with the serving were Mrs. Verdell Mayhough, Mrs. Willie Williams, Mrs. R. L. Rice, and Mrs. Harper.

West Texas School Study Council To Begin In September

A West Texas School Study Council to turn opinions about educational needs into facts will begin in September with headquarters at Texas Tech.

The Council will gather facts on region-wide problems and work with individual schools and school systems on localized problems at their request. It will serve as an information center on such projects and on school research in general.

It also will give administrators, school board members and patrons opportunities to meet together and discuss common problems.

Sixteen West Texas school boards have indicated willingness to underwrite the Council, according to Dr. Morris Wallace, Tech education department head. Each participating school system will name one representative to the Council board of directors which will elect four members to an executive committee.

Subject to Tech Board of Directors approval, the institution will name a fifth member to the executive committee and will provide an executive secretary. The secretary will be a faculty member designated one-fourth time to Council duties.

The Council is expected to have access to services of Tech consultants in education, agriculture, engineering, government, sociology, economics, and other fields.

Wallace reported Friday that private foundations have expressed an interest in supporting specific projects of the Council. The organization is established.

Don't tell anyone, but

We have decided to take our ways and miss a couple of good sun-burns. Sleep is the nicest vacation we can think of. People just don't enjoy their homes enough these days.

Where can you flip a switch and catch more fish at a local grocery store than you'd catch in any lake or stream, and besides, all that the chics-sales isn't a half mile up a hill, and if you want to see the moon you can go out on the porch; you don't have to peek at it through the crack in the ceiling.

Last year we went over to Lubbock to the July Clearance sales, not that we had any money, but it is a real good way to see everybody.

We came home hot, tired, and didn't see many people that we knew. We found that right here in Littlefield there were more bargains than we had money to buy and we saw a lot more people that we knew for after all it had been over 15 years since we lived in Lubbock.

Lipstick Logic

Some folks are healthy, others enjoy poor health. Symptoms and diseases come and go, but one condition - once you're a victim of it - remains chronic. That's the urge to repeat the bright sayings of your own children.

Now as long as the offspring are young and too helpless to defend themselves, this isn't pernicious. Even then, however, it's best to avoid repeating Johnny's impertinent retort to Papa or the Minister in Johnny's presence. His understanding of what makes up humor is sketchy at the age of four, and so from then on he may go around being impertinent to all comers, hoping to score another hit.

But as Johnny grows older, he is embarrassed by these accounts of his early sayings. As he becomes a man, he wonders why children are taught to use their tongue at all until they have sense enough to know what they're saying.

Maybe the only time this sport is harmless is when a group of old friends - all parents of grownup children - get together for an occasional binge of recollecting. There are best when the children are far away, or certainly out of earshot.

We had such a session the other night, and it was as much fun as looking at high school snapshots, or reading old love letters. There was the story of the eldest daughter, now the mother of three, who used to say, when a toy was repaired, "Now he's him!" Of the young doctor, for whom people were neither slender nor slim—they were "slin". The irregular path was a "pair", and so on.

Each parent enjoyed a half hour of "remembering when." The second generation, now happily scattered, was none the worse for it, and a good time was had by all.

Because it is built in a semi-circular bend of the Mississippi River, New Orleans is known as the Crescent City.

Not all crows are black; some have brightly-colored feathers.

Farquhar Wins Golf Tourney With Ten Stroke Lead

Jim Morgan Is Second; Best Is Ill, Withdraws

Shooting identical rounds of two under-par 70 in the 36-hole finals. John Farquhar of Amarillo, won the Littlefield Country Club Invitational Golf Tournament with a 72-hole total of 277, 10 strokes ahead of the nearest challenger. Jim Morgan of Lovington, N.M. who went in Sunday finals trailing by six strokes, fired a 71 in the morning round to drop seven off the pace, giving Farquhar an almost insurmountable lead for the final 18.

Morgan, a contractor, toured the nine-hole layout twice in the afternoon for a 73, giving him 287 for the four-day event, three strokes ahead of third place, for which three were tied.

D. L. Craig of Lubbock, Miles Childers of Amarillo and Dr. Jack Still of Littlefield dead-locked for third with 300 each. John Ethridge, of Dimmitt placed fourth with 302 total.

Melvin Best, the defending champion, who had a 146 after their first two rounds, and John Markham of Lubbock, who totaled 147, withdrew Sunday because of illness.

Farquhar, who took medalist honors with a 68, almost had the top trophy wrapped up with a six under 66 Saturday. While the Texas Tech golfer's putter was red hot Saturday, he couldn't gain control of it Sunday. Missing short putts, he recorded only six birdies, compared to six on the front nine alone Saturday.

Charles Seed of Hereford, who plans to enroll at Tech this fall, improved his game considerably to win the president's flight with a 304 total. After rounds of 81 and 76 Friday and Saturday, he posted a 73 in the morning to move one stroke off David Keithley's 229 lead. Keithley, of Littlefield, soared to an 81 in the afternoon while Seed recorded a 74 to take honors.

Lubbock's Leroy Breslers fired rounds of 81-74-76-77 to tie Wade Eller of Lubbock with 308. Eller had rounds of 81-76-73-74. In a sudden-death playoff for second, Breslers paled the 19th while Eller missed a nine-foot putt for a bogey five on the 340-yard hole.

Doc Blanchard, Lubbock attorney, shot two-over-par golf in defeating Lubbock's Butch Mitchell 1 up, for the first flight honors. Mitchell missed a chance to even the match on 18 when his tee shot soared out of bounds behind the green. Both Lubbockites bogeyed the par 3 188-yard hole.

Blanchard was only one over in downing J. D. Hines of Lubbock, 1 up on 19 in the semi-Ronnie Craig, Lubbock, 1 up.

Boyd Roberts of Littlefield won the second flight with a 1 up on 20 triumph over Alexander Duggan of Littlefield. The third flight championship went to J. S. Brown of Littlefield with a 2 up victory over Alton Wallace of Petersburg.

W. T. Leon of Petersburg captured the fourth flight by defeating J. R. Chamberlin of Littlefield, 4-2.

Ethridge, Dimmitt High basketball coach, had one of the two hottest nine-hole rounds of the tournament when he came in on the final nine with a four-under-par regulation 32. He ran up four birdies and five pars. Farquhar used six birdies, a double bogey and two pars for a 32 Saturday.

'Spirit of St. Louis' Hailed By Critics; Film Wonderful Entertainment For All

Opinions to the contrary notwithstanding, Charles A. Lindbergh did not announce his name at the history-making moment of his arrival at Le Bourget Airfield, Paris.

Nor did he request a cigarette or a glass of milk or say, "Is this Paris?" Although these and various other "first words" have been attributed to the flyer, following his non-stop solo flight across the Atlantic on May 20-21, 1927, none of them are correct.

In transferring his heroic feat to the CinemaScope screen at Warner Bros., director Billy Wilder has successfully avoided getting into the "first-word" controversy.

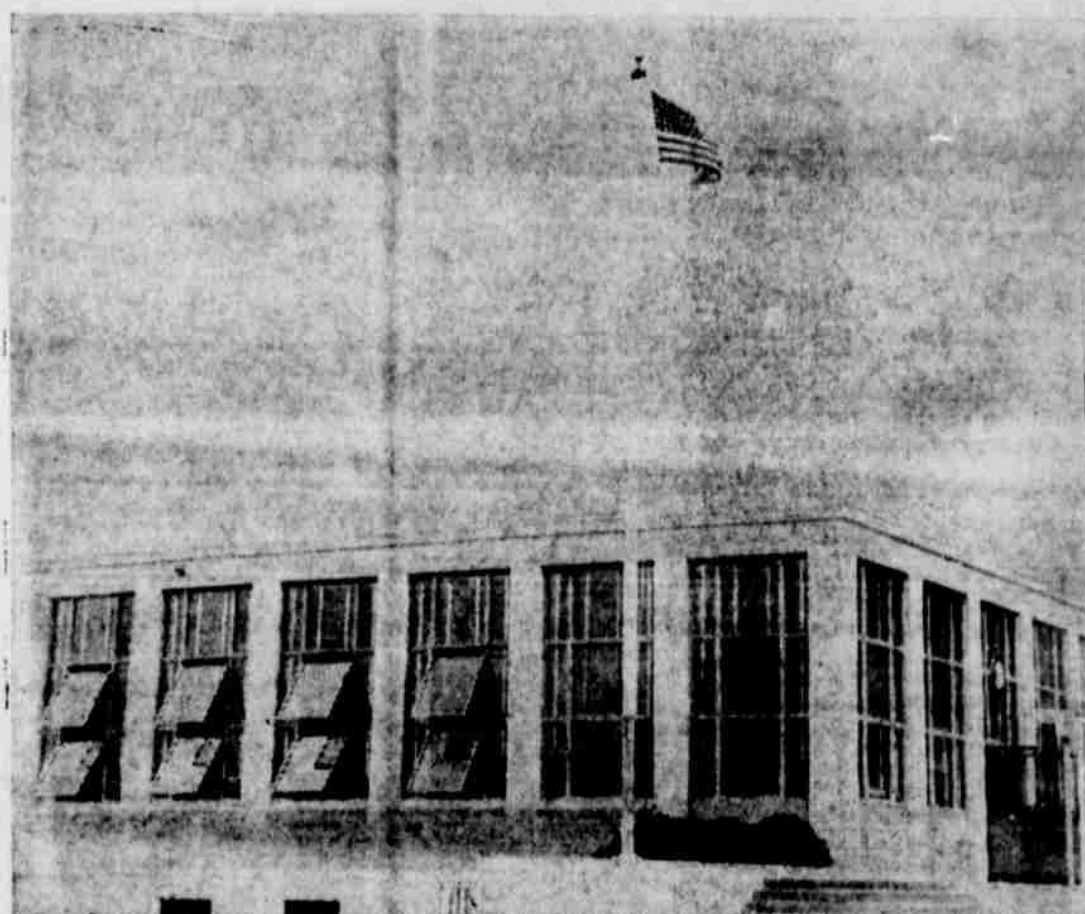

"We were going to ask General Lindbergh to give us a line for James Stewart as Lindbergh that would possibly be more dramatic than 'Are there any mechanics here?' Wilder said. "But on second thought, we realized that a great many people who recall the Lindbergh flight have their own idea of what he said or might have said at that historic moment—so we left it out."

The film, based on Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis," premieres July 4 at the Palace Theatre. It is a Leland Hayward-Billy Wilder production for Warner Bros.

Onion Market Stays Up As Area Harvest Begins

Success Of Crop Depends Entirely On Market Price

Since the success or failure of onion crops depends on market at the time of the harvest, area farmers are busy investing their onions.

Several factors are contributing to improved prospects for High Plains onion crop. The main one is that the North Texas crop has been washed out by heavy rains, and that there is no competition from that way to try about.

Another new biggest threat in the sunny Colorado Valley usually begin their harvest around July 15 and it will be a relief to Plains growers to market their onions as speedily as possible to get under the Colorado frost which will peel back the crop.

Anton Starts Harvest

The harvest began last week at Anton, onion farmers who are busy investing their onions and marketing them. This is the first year that onions have been grown on any scale around Anton.

Johnnie Gallini and Leon and Langford started their onion harvest this week and if nothing happens to their onion crop and market keeps steady for the next few days, they'll be in the black.

Gallini and Langford have 120 acres of onions, and the present market price is $3.75 per sack and they expect the yield to be between 300 and 400 sacks per acre.

A group of Farwell onion growers are crossing their fingers and praying for a good harvest. They have 85-acre onion crop and they stand a chance to net more than $1000 per acre.

T. and Euvon Ford, brothers, farm east of Farwell and T's sons, Doyle and Burl are farmers who are in the onion growing business and so far, everything looks rosy.

The Fords plan to start harvest about Friday. The prospect of good prices when harvest gets going has prompted high offers from onion speculators. Last week they turned down $750 per acre for their onions, and that was field price, although he would have had to water them one more time.

"We figure at that price we could have made $675 per acre," Ford said. "But we believe we'll hold on and see how much we can get out of them ourselves. This onion business is just like the oil business."

So far things have gone smoothly for the Fords. They got their sets out and up to good stands, and planting depths appear to have been accurately calculated for maximum development. The yield is expected to be around 800 sacks per acre and $3000.

Sprayer and Mower are Busy Co-operation is Asked in Fly and Mosquito Control

City employees are continuing spray routes in Littlefield. During the day the sprayers spray for flies while the mosquito spraying goes on at night. The town will be sprayed every ten days according to Joel Thomson, city secretary. Mosquito spraying must be done on a still night, so it is not always possible to spray on the exact night. The entire town was sprayed Friday night.

The mower is mowing vacant lots and the graders are grading dirt streets and alleys to keep the weeds down.

All residents are asked to cooperate with the city officials in this effort.

Townspeople along with residents of nearby farms are asked to spray any ponds, pools, barrels or any other containers that may hold stagnant water where mosquitoes can breed.

There is one type mosquito that breeds on weeds, so it is important to take in an effort, to avoid diseases such as encephalitis, polio fever and other diseases carried by flies and mosquitoes, Thompson said.

Committee Is Established For State Education Study

A new state education study committee should help put the planning of public school expansion on a business-like basis, State Sen. Preston Smith declared at Texas Tech.

In an address to a Tech workshop on school administration, Smith said the 21-member committee, established by the 55th Legislature, will make a comprehensive study of public school needs related to curriculum, teacher supply, classroom facilities, and financing.

Results of the "grass roots" study, which will involve the citizenship of every county, will be reported to the 56th Legislature for possible action, Smith explained. He called the study one of the significant developments in Texas education since the Gilmer-Aikin reorganization program.

Smith cited the educational study committee as an example of what should be done to satisfy two of government's most pressing problems: the development of measurements of public service

Tech Band Clinic Closes Friday

Fourteen local band students completed the annual band clinic held at Texas Tech in Lubbock Friday night. The final concert presented Friday evening brought the three weeks course to an end.

Hockley County To Have Junior College Election

A junior college bond and tax election has been called for July 15 in Hockley County.

College directors Friday night ordered the election after petitions bearing a total of 342 signatures were presented. The Levelland petitions were circulated by the City Council of Women's clubs, headed by Mrs. Dale Campbell.

The election calls for issuance of $900,000 in bonds to be paid off over a 20-year period, plus taxes sufficient to retire this indebtedness (19 cents at present county tax rate and valuation). It also calls for a 25 cent maintenance tax, making a total of 44 cents per one hundred dollars valuation, as recommended in the Colvert Junior College survey.

Directors selected polling places and named election judges at the meeting, at which they also interviewed representatives of four architectural firms seeking the job of designing the college and supervising its construction.

Voting precincts were designated as the boundaries of the nine independent school districts within the county, and residents in each precinct will vote at the high school building in that district, except for the Levelland school district and residents of the portion of Whiteface School District in Hockley. Whiteface and Levelland district residents will vote at the junior high school building in Levelland.

Election judges for each community were listed as: Pettit, J. T. Newton, Mrs. D. L. Price, Mrs. R. L. Hill; Pep, Mrs. Sylversing, Mrs. Eddie Schlottman, A. G. Jungman; Anton, Craig Darden, Mrs. M. H. Mayes, Mrs. Al Herrin; Ropesville, O. V. Fuller, Charles W. Shannon, and Mrs. Ivey Grant; Snyder, Roy E. Bacus, S. W. Oliver and Floyd Brown; Whitnarral, Roscoe Brown, Weldon Newsom, R. L. Heard, Jr.; Sundown, Bob Alexander, J. C. James, R. E. James; Levelland, Earl Garrison, Mrs. C. C. Woodson and Mrs. M. G. Wyatt.

A special canvassing board, including Mrs. James Lattimore, Claud Tipton and Mrs. Robert Kauffman, was also designated.

Architect Interviewed

Board members, holding forth until about midnight, discussed building methods, materials and costs with the architects they interviewed.

The architectural firms represented at the meeting, include: I. H. William Linsteadter of Houston, Herbert Brasher and Associates of Lubbock, Fred Buford and Associates of Fort Worth and Haynes and Kirby of Lubbock.

New Insect Repellent

The Department of Agriculture recently announced what they claim to be the best insect repellent ever developed. The repellent will soon be available to help ward off mosquitos, chiggers, ticks, fleas and biting flies.

The Department describes the insect repellent as an organic chemical, called diethyl toluamide. They say it provides long-lasting protection, is a pleasant lotion and can be applied to the skin or to clothing. One application will last several hours and resists rubbing and wearing.

Not only will those who like to fish, hunt, to go on picnics and enjoy such outings be glad to hear about this new lotion, but everyone who enjoys the outdoors will be delighted. Those who like to sit on porches or terraces in the late afternoons and evenings will be able to do so by using this new preparation.

There are several widely-used preparations on the market today which help to make outdoor living more pleasant. However, if the new preparation is all that is being claimed for it, it cannot come on the market too soon to suit most of us.

Obscenity Decision

The Supreme Court has ruled that obscenity is not protected by constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech and the press. In three decisions, the court upheld the constitutionality of Federal law barring sending obscene material through the mail, upheld a California law making it a crime to write, advertise or distribute indecent literature, and upheld a New York law allowing a court to bar distribution of obscene printed matter.

The Majority opinion stated: "All ideas having even the slightest redeeming social importance—unorthodox ideas, controversial ideas, and even ideas hateful to the prevailing climate of opinion—have the full protection of the guarantees . . . but implicit in the history of the First Amendment is the rejection of obscenity as utterly without social importance."

However, the court was careful to make it clear that "sex and obscenity are not synonymous." Material dealing with sex becomes obscene, the court said, when it tends to incite lustful thoughts.

Dissenting Justices protested that the opinion "drastically curtails" freedom of speech and the press by allowing government to step in and "punish mere speech or publication that the judge or jury thinks has an undesirable impact on thoughts but that is not shown to be a part of unlawful action."

Accepting as a standard that which offends the common conscience of the community would not be acceptable, claimed one Justice, if religion, economics, politics or philosophy were involved.

Post Office Dept. Appropriations

The House of Representatives approved an extra $133,000,000 for the Post Office Department for the 1957-58 fiscal year. This amount, $16,000,000 less than requested by Postmaster General Summerfield is the same amount recommended by the House Appropriations Committee (Washington, June 19, 1957). The bill now goes to the Senate.

The House Appropriations Committee suggested that the Post Office Department consider various economy steps. It suggested cutting Saturday deliveries in urban and business areas where five-day work weeks are generally accepted. The committee also recommended elimination of money order sales; urged that second-class publications and third-class bulk mailings be zoned; and proposed that star route service be curtailed.

Summerfield has declined comment on any service cut-back possibilities until his supplemental appropriation bill is passed. Some high postal officials, however, assured committee members that the Department could get along with the $133,000,000 and would not have to curtail services as a result of not getting the other $16,000,000.

SPARKS FOR MINDS

ALMOST five centuries ago, Gutenberg's invention of movable type started a revolution. It has been going on ever since.

For five times five centuries—and cons before—a few men were the privileged rulers—by accident of birth or of circumstance. The people were subjects, supporting those thus kept in authority.

However, movable type, by saving the cost of printing, began the process of making knowledge more widely available. People's understanding then grew. Sparks of hope were kindled in the minds of men. When it became apparent to entrenched authority that remaining wide dissemination of information and ideas might in time destroy their securities, censorship was exercised.

In a search for greater freedom, men of many races and creeds crossed the ocean to establish homes on this continent. They and their children founded here a nation dedicated to a new principle: government by the people, and for the people. And knowing that liberty could be overthrown only by subduing freedom of speech and the press, they provided further that this basic freedom should never be abridged.

That system of government created an opportunity for all men to advance, limited only by their efforts. In but a few generations it won for this people a higher standard of living and of human welfare than had ever before been dreamed possible.

America's freedom of the press has proved to the world that the patriotic instinct of an informed plain people can be relied on to govern wisely and well.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Te. — State highway patrolmen are on the lookout for careless drivers.

Ten Texans are scheduled to die on the highways during the holidays, according to Homer Garrison, Jr., Department of Public Safety Director. Twelve died on July 4 last year.

DPS fatality predictions usually are frighteningly accurate. However, state law enforcement officers are doing their best to cut the traffic toll and thereby prove themselves wrong in their estimates.

Gov. Price Daniel has made a personal appeal to Texans to join together to "curb the senseless slaughter on our streets and highways."

Colonel Garrison reports 120 extra units will be added to the patrol for the holiday "Operation Deathwatch." Their job will be to spot the speeders, drunks or reckless drivers and take them off the roads before accidents occur.

Texas Safety Association has joined in the push for better citizenship on the highways. TSA says last year's traffic accidents in Texas cost $275,000,000 took 2,611 lives and injured another 125,000 persons.

"GRAND JURY DIGS IN—Travis County grand jury touched off a rash of speculation by issuing summonses to a new group of witnesses.

What they found out about the affairs of the bankrupt ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas and former Ins. Comm. Chmn. J. Byron Saunders will not be known until later in the summer when the jury reports.

Colorful ex-Ranger Manuel T. (Lone Wolf) Ganzauilas was the headliner witness. Ganzauilas once was vice president of a Ben Jack Cage enterprise, making purse-size alarms for women to summon help. He said he had nothing to do with ICT, also managed by Cage.

Others called to testify were Mrs. Swaidner of Dallas, longtime secretary to Saunders; Paul B. Kelly of Austin, personal friend of Saunders; and Dick Maillard, Tyler CPA who was asked to bring Saunders' financial records.

CAGE PROMISES TO RETURN — Meanwhile, Ben Jack Cage, kingpin of the controversy, announced from Brazil that he'll come back to Texas "in about a month" and straighten everything out.

Cage, former manager of ICT, is under indictment in Dallas for embezzlement of the firm's funds. Governor Daniel had tried to get Cage forcibly returned to Texas for trial, but found the U. S. has no extradition treaty with Brazil.

Cage terms the Texas talk "hysteria," blames his successors at ICT for the company's collapse. But, he said, he plans to set up a corporation under which 75 per cent of his earnings for the rest of his life will go to repay ICT shareholders.

"NEW LOOK" LAUNCHED — Texas' long-heralded "clean slate" Insurance Commission is finally a reality.

The "New Look" was officially launched with the appointment of Assistant State Auditor William A. Harrison as Commissioner of Insurance. Under the reorganization law passed by the last legislature, the commissioner is to be a $20,000-a-year executive who will run the department.

Although it will be one of the highest-paid posts in state government, Harrison is serving without pay. Through oversight the legislature neglected to make the commissioner's salary effective until Sept. 1.

Harrison who was named "temporarily" until September, is reportedly serving "on faith" that the Legislature will make some adjustment when it next meets.

TEACHER MONEY ASSURED — Teachers, who've had state officials scraping and scrambling for months, are now apparently assured of receiving their $399 a year raise beginning next fall. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled that $4,000,000 can be made available for this purpose on Aug. 22. A bill authorizing transfer of this amount from the permanent school endowment fund becomes effective 90 days after adjournment, said Wilson.

Earlier, doubts had been raised whether wording of the bill would permit the transfer before the end of this fiscal year, Aug. 31.

FIRST WITH THE WORST — Cost of Texas' severe weather damage in 1957 will probably top $100,000,000 says William L. McGill. Official total is already more than $91,000,000.

McGill, director of Texas Civil Defense and Disaster Relief Headquarters, said this year has brought the "most far-reaching and widespread destruction the state has ever known."

Texas always has had the "dubious distinction" of leading the nation in catastrophes he said, recalling the Galveston flood, New London school explosion, and the Texas City disaster.

But 1957, he recounted, brought, in just four months, 120 tornadoes that hit the ground; major floods in 13 river basins; and, for good measure, the worst blizzard in history in the Panhandle.

As McGill spoke at a statewide Civil Defense Advisory Council conference in Austin, hurricane warnings were posted on the Gulf Coast. "That," said McGill, "is all we need."

HIGHWAY PLANS EXPLAINED — State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer in trying to soothe riled East Texans who learned that a proposed new interstate highway would bypass them.

Plans show that "Interstate 2," designed to extend from Shreveport, La., to El Paso, would miss both Wood and Upshur counties.

Greer promised that present U. S. Highway 80, which runs through those areas, will be improved to a 4-lane artery. It will serve the purpose of the area better than the controlled-access interstate road which does not permit easy cross-traffic, said Greer.

SHORT SNORTS — State Supreme Court paid tribute to its "walking dictionary," Legal Secretary Francis J. Renz, who retired after 38 years service with the high court. . . Maria Ruth Alejandro of San Antonio and Glenn Lightfoot of Gholson were certified by the governor's office as Texas' nominees for the Young American Medal for bravery. Both are credited with heroic rescue at the risk of their own lives. . . No point in trying to avoid being fingerprinted. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has ruled officers may use "reasonable neces-

Sandhills Philosopher Alarmed Over Ike's Stand Of States Own Relief Load

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm seems a little worried this week, but we guess he'll get over it.

Dear editor: I don't mind admitting I'm pretty worried this morning.

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night — I was so upset what I read I don't even remember now where I found the paper — President Eisenhower made a speech before a meeting of all 48 State Governors the other day and urged that the Federal government cut out some of its work and turn it over to the states.

For example, he said, disaster relief ought to be paid by the states instead of Washington.

New I believe in state's rights all right, and I go further, I believe also in county (parish) rights, precinct rights, community rights, and farm rights, and on this farm I believe in husband's rights, but Ike's proposal has sure thrown a bombshell in my thinking.

Not only that, but some state relief would then come up with the proposal that if Washington going to turn disaster aid back to the states, why couldn't it be foreign aid back to the foreign countries, and anybody who knows anything at all about the world today knows it would lapse next Tuesday if Washington shut off all foreign aid.

I tell you, we're treading dangerous ground when we're talking about everybody relying on his own resources. I intend to buy a whole bunch of posters and write the entire United States Congress about this, just as soon as my next check from Washington gets here.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

News In The World Of Religion

By W. W. Reid

In a statement presented to both the Senate and the House foreign relations committees, on behalf of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions and the National Council of Churches of Christ, Dr. Alford Carleton, ABCFM executive vice-president said in part: "On the basis of Christian concern, we hold that the United States should continue to develop, improve and expand programs of technical assistance, economic aid, and international trade, such as will make for stability, justice, freedom and peace for the peoples of the underdeveloped areas of the world and for all nations including our own. Mutual aid in such a world as ours means that we must also be interested in the defense and general welfare of other peoples as well as ourselves, for we are now, whether we like it or not, inextricably bound in the bundle of life in an interdependent world. In such a world we cannot buy friends nor loyalties. Nor can we ultimately hope to survive apart from friends and other peoples with common loyalties. And the only way we can win such friendship and common loyalty is to have a genuine interest in others for their own sake, as well as for ours. . . . With our Constitution empowering our nation to act through mutual aid and our times demanding that we act, we must do all within our nation's ability and the absorptive capacity of the underdeveloped areas of the world to advance the levels of life through economic development and technical assistance."

The summer assembly grounds of the Methodist Church at Lake Junaluska, North Carolina, will be the scene on July 30 and 31 of a nine-state celebration of the 250th anniversary of the birth of the Rev. Charles Wesley, greatest of British hymn-writers, and, with his brother, John, co-founder of the Methodist Church. Charles was the author of some 6,500 hymns which have been credited with spreading the Methodist movement more enthusiastically than did the preaching of his older brother. Many of his hymns are still used, and it is doubtful if there is any Protestant hymnal now printed without several of his better-known hymns. They include such universal favorites as: "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," "Christ, the Lord, is Risen Today," "O for a Thousand Tongues to Sing," "A Charge to Keep I Have," "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling." At the observance at Lake Junaluska (followed by similar observances across the country), Dr. Earl E. Harper, of the School of Fine Arts, University of Iowa, will be in charge of music; and there will be addresses by the Rev. Deane Edwards, president of the Hymn Society of America, and the Rev. Dr. Philip S. Watters, former president.

FIND YOURSELF THROUGH FAITH IN GOD

IT'S FOR YOU

This call is for you - it's from God.
 He has been ringing your number continuously since your birth. He wants you to hear Him say, "Fear not, for you are mine;
 I have called you by name."
 Where and how can you know Him?
 Everything that life brings is His gift:
 hope, fear, love, anxiety, even death comes from His hand. He wants you to know that all these things are given to complete your life.
 He will only to give true life and give it abundantly. Go to Church and hear His message of care for your life so that you may believe that He is good.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
 THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

Is something wrong with your life—an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure.
 Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God.
Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

Wheat Harvest In Full Swing, Yield Is High

The wheat harvest is on. The first load of wheat was brought into the Ben F. Smith Grain Co. Saturday from Queen Redinger's farm southwest of Giltner.

The wheat was cut and transported to the elevator by O. J. Lee, who operated a custom combining and trucking service.

Louie Mack Hardy, who operated the grain company, said the wheat showed about 15 per cent moisture content and was about 60 pounds to the bushel.

It was excellent quality wheat according to elevator employees. No estimate has been set on the yield at the Redinger farm but weather damage is about eight bushels per acre.

Tulla Begin Harvest

Tulla's first load of 1957 wheat was marketed by Brasher at Harman and Toles Grain Co., last Wednesday. The load tested 63 pounds of Early Wichita variety; the yield was 54 bushels to the acre. Brasher had 56 acres in an irrigated plot ten miles southeast of Tulla.

The plot was only one half mile from where other wheat suffered a 60 per cent loss from hail less than a week before harvest began. Brasher is putting his wheat in the government loan.

Happy Get First Load

D. L. Allison of Happy delivered the first load of wheat in that Swisher County community to Harman-Toles elevator in Happy the following afternoon. The load tested 59 pounds per bushel with 12 per cent moisture content.

The wheat was the Concho variety and was grown on the Allison farm two miles north of Happy. The yield was better than 40 bushels per acre with 100 acres in the field.

Swisher Yield Is Higher Than Expected

Wheat harvest in underway in Swisher County with high yields being reported in many instances. Some irrigated wheat is yielding from 45 to 55 bushels to the acre. A half inch rain which fell last Sunday morning delayed the harvest of wheat for a day or so.

Heavy hail was reported last Saturday night in the Lockney area. Also heavy winds and rain were reported near Finney, north of Plainview. Several isolated twisters were reported but none touched the ground.

Crosby County reports about five percent of its wheat harvested with irrigated wheat yielding up to 30 bushels per acre.

Tulla elevators were paying $1.85 a bushel last Tuesday. However, most of the wheat is going in the government loan which would net about $1.87 a bushel at the present time.

Swisher farmers reported that their wheat in most instances is yielding more than they had expected.

Although weather conditions the past week have been favorable for the growth of cotton, a large portion of the acreage has been replanted due to poor stands.

Where earlier stands were secured, growth, prior to the past week, has been slow due to low temperatures and frequent rains. While light insect infestations have developed in occasional fields of the early planted cotton, most of the plantings have suffered little damage.

Aphids were reported in light infestations on cotton in a number of the earlier plantings in Bailey and Yoakum Counties. Such infestations were generally found throughout fields.

Trips occurred in light infestations in some fields in most communities. Hard rains have tended to help trips in check, but these insects may appear in larger numbers during clear weather. Cotton should be checked frequently so that timely control of damaging infestations may be effective, according to the Extension Service.

Eastern New Mexico Begin Harvest Monday

The wheat harvest in the Clovis area started Monday according to the latest Farm Labor Bulletin released by the New Mexico State Employment Service in Albuquerque.

The report from the Clovis office added that no additional moisture had fallen since the previous report and that warmer weather resulted in ideal growing conditions.

"Row-crop planting is about completed for this season," the report added, "and irrigating, cultivating and general farm work are the main activities, with the local labor supply adequate."

The Portales office reported the same weather conditions as Clovis, adding that their current activities are cotton chopping.

vegetable hoeing, affixing, row-crop planting to setting. They also need adequate local labor.

The state report as noted that moisture in the eastern border counties in the northern third are the best they have several years.

"The central and parts of the state are and moisture is needed however," the report
