Carpenter Death Is Ruled 'Suicide By Asphyxiation'

The death of Guy Leslie Carpenter, 37, sometime early Monday morning was termed "suicide by asphyxiation" by Justice of the Peace G. S. Glenn Monday.

Carpenter's body was found about 7 a. m. Monday in his automobile, a late model Plymouth with a New Mexico license, which was parked on a farm road just south of the XIT Drive-In Theater. A rubber hose had been attached with a handkerchief to the muffler and the opposite end placed inside the right front ventilator window. A blanket was stuffed around the hose in the window to keep air inside the car from escaping.

Mrs. B. C. Roberts was first to notice the car, at 6 a. m., parked on the road near her home. About an hour later her husband and Bill Owens decided to investigate. When they reached the car the motor was still running and the inside of the car "boiling" with carbon monoxide, Robert said. Carpenter's body was inside.

Carpenter was pronounced dead upon the arrival of Sheriff Dick Dyer, Deputy Lester Hollabaugh and Judge G. S. Glenn.

Hollabaugh said he had checked the road Sunday night about 11 o'clock and the car wasn't there at that time. Officers found, among papers in the car pocket, a last will and testament and a paid receipt from an Amarillo doctor. In the car trunk were Carpenter's clothing and personal items. His address was listed on his driver's license as Roswell, N. M., although he spent a great amount of time in this area.

The will had been prepared and signed Saturday by James A. Gowdy, Littlefield attorney. Gowdy said Carpenter, a long-time acquaintance of his, had requested the will Friday and seemed in a hurry for it.

"We laughed and talked, though I told him we couldn't get to it before Saturday morning, and he seemed in a hurry, but was otherwise cheerful. He did tell me Friday that he thought he had tuberculosis," Gowdy said.

Carpenter was born Sept. 30, 1896, in Quanah. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Littlefield Drive Church of Christ with Ned Fairbairn officiating. Burial was in Littlefield Memorial Park under the direction of Hammond Funeral Home.

Carpenter's wife preceded him in death in 1934. Survivors include two sons, Smith Carpenter of Tyler and Clarence Carpenter of El Paso, formerly of Littlefield; one daughter, Mrs. G. D. Crawford of Littlefield, two grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. G. D. Kinard of Paris, Mrs. Joe Hooper of Dallas, and Mrs. H. H. Kerr of Tahoka; and one brother, Bill Carpenter of Wichita Falls.

Amherst Commission Offers Phone Company 20% Raise

The Amherst city commission met with representatives of General Telephone Company again Monday evening in an attempt to get the city rate fixing ordinance amended to give them a considerable increase in telephone rates. The commissioners advised them that they have no intention of granting any such raise as was requested by the company, but they indicated a willingness to grant some relief to the company which claims that it received only a 2.66 percent return last year on the "fair value" of its investment for Amherst.

To avoid a court fight the company offered to settle for about four-fifths of their original request, but the council did not take them up on it. They offered instead a 20 percent across the board increase, which would move business phones up to $6.00 for a private line, $4.80 for a two party line. It would increase residence phones to $3.60 for one party and $3.00 for two party service. Company officials stated they would submit the offer to their San Angelo office for consideration.

During the discussion they pointed out that the telephone company does not have to sue to get the rate increase it feels it should have. They say the company can simply start charging the new rates it has set up, and if anything is to be done about it, the city will have to initiate the court action.

Both sides, however, expressed a hope that an agreement can be worked out without resorting to court action. The last rate increase for Amherst telephone subscribers took place in 1950. Company officials claim it does not take into account any of the cost increases which have occurred since the Korean war began.

Shaws Return From Vacation In Florida

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Shaw returned to Littlefield late Friday from Jacksonville, Fla. Mrs. Shaw has been visiting several months with their daughter, Myrtle Marion Shaw, and Shaw drove down to return with his wife.

They report crops east of the Mississippi are extraordinarily good this year, the cotton, tobacco and corn all appear "bigger and better."

Shaw stated that he has been vacationing in Florida for the past ten years and this was the first time he ever saw one person catch even one fish... actually saw a man catch one small bass at Mandarin this time.

The Shaws particularly enjoyed a visit to Stephen Foster Memorial at White City, near Jacksonville. It is a replica of a large Southern mansion, with tall ceilings and huge rooms and dioramas eight to ten feet wide depicting eight of Mr. Foster's best loved songs.

Florida was the only state in the union which offered land for the memorial to be erected in 1950. The building is on both sides of the Swanee River (which actually does exist and flows through unbelievably beautiful countryside.)

They enjoyed the collection of old square pianos, most of them built of walnut and one in particular that was used to accompany Jenny Lind in 1850.

It is amazing, both Mr. and Mrs. Shaw felt, that Stephen Foster was able to capture the emotions of the Southern Negro so clearly without ever having been further south than Kentucky.

The dioramas were tuned to recordings of the songs and had to be played far enough away from each other so that the songs did not blur together. Moving figures portrayed "Old Dog Tray" when that song was played. When "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair" was played the figures moved the keys of a tiny piano, played a violin and patted their feet. In the diorama of "Swanee River", the river actually flowed through the picture portrayed.

The Memorial is located just off Highway No. 90 and the Shaws felt that anyone vacationing in Florida would find it worth their time to stop and see it.

Success Story

--- AND A GOOD TIP FOR YOU

WHEN it comes to sales, every car maker aspires to be up at the top of his price class.

Which is only natural. Popularity like that means success.

We know, because for years Buick has held such an envied position — the unquestioned sales leader in its class. And with good reasons in styling, room, power, value.

But today, folks like you have pushed Buick success even beyond such bounds.

Today, the top sales standings of a full generation have been changed. Today, latest sales figures for the first four months of 1954 reveal this phenomenal fact:

In total national volume, regardless of price class, Buick is outselling all cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

That's a tip too good to pass up.

That's the tip-off that Buick must have the hottest styling of the times and the sweetest performance of the year.

More important, that's the tip-off that Buick prices are well within the reach of more and more people — and that such prices buy a lot more automobile per dollar. So why not look into the tomorrow-styled Buick that puts you so far ahead today?

Come in, or phone us this week for a demonstration. Then you can judge for yourself that Buick really is the beautiful buy — by far.

Red Cross Disaster Plan Distributed This Week

The Red Cross Disaster Plan has been completed, according to Curtis Wilkinson, chairman of the Lamb county Disaster Committee, and is being distributed this week to all people who took the Disaster course and are being placed in local homes and businesses. Mrs. Lyle Brandon is Red Cross executive officer.

A twenty-page disaster guide for the local Red Cross chapter's action in case disaster strikes in this area. Mrs. Bonnie Hanson of Pleasant Valley is chairman of the Disaster committee. Headquarters in case of strikes will be the Red Cross office in Littlefield, phone 20. If the office is destroyed, alternate headquarters are the Community Center in the city park; the Littlefield high school building, 400; the American Legion, phone 642-J. Should the situation necessitate the setting up of headquarters nearer the vicinity of disaster, such headquarters at the school buildings near the area.

Plan says when disaster strikes the Disaster chairman, first aid chairman, communications chairman report to the disaster area to survey committee members report to the disaster area to a fast survey, reporting area points where immediate relief is needed, type of relief and estimate overall damage. Matthews is chairman of the committee on survey.

Persons entering the disaster area must have Red Cross emergency identification cards, arm and, or, windshield stickers. Welcome especially if they had First Aid training, or training with the armed forces committee members, the police, fire department, sheriff and American Legion group are to be ready for where needed. Equipment includes ambulances, graders, cranes, portable generators for lights, chains, bars, shovels, wire cutters and small trucks, heavy duty winches, cutting torch and pick-up.

V. C. Nowlin is chairman of the medical sub-committee. The lists committee members, names and office addresses. The plan for preparedness in the event disaster is based on the assumption that the local Red Cross would bear the major burden of relief during a period of 24 hours, and thereafter aid in relief and personnel would be available from sources outside Lamb county. The central medical office for direction of medical services will be set up in the Disaster headquarters which will be set at the court house. A shock center preferably two large rooms, be set up as near the hospital, to ease care in the hospital. In case of disaster all medical personnel will report immediately to the hospital where they are employed.

The Community Center on Rip Avenue in Littlefield has been designated as the primary building for mass shelter. E. C. Caldwell, chairman of the shelter committee.

Mr. R. A. Brotherton is chairman of the sub-committee on food. Mrs. Floyd Dyer is co-chairman. Foods purchase and supply will be under the direction of Mrs. Farmer. A mobile canteen will be assembled and supervised by Lee Haynes and E. J. Foust, assisted by the Boy Scouts. Emergency mass feeding will be supervised by Fly Thornton. Organizations to be asked to prepare to serve food include the Jaycees, the First Baptist W.M.U., the Methodist ladies, and the Methodist W.S.C.

Knowlton Ward, chairman, and Roy Knowlton, co-chairman, head the sub-committee on clothing. This committee will receive and distribute clothing as needed. The sub-committee on transportation and communication, headed by Loy Dalton, chairman, and Roy Dalton, co-chairman, is one of the three committees to be in the disaster area immediately. The plan lists methods of communication to be used in case normal means are blocked or knocked out at the time of the disaster, such as ham radio, public address system, two-way radio, and western union.

The registration and information committee will be under direction of Mrs. J. D. Dodgen, chairman. The sub-committee chairman on central purchase and supply is Albert Miller. Bob Armstrong is co-chairman. This committee will be working at headquarters seeing that the needs are met and will supply definite items such as food, medical supplies, paper plates and cups. The committee will be responsible for disbursement orders for supplies requested by the committees. Mrs. C. A. Joplin is chairman of the public information committee. Committee members will receive official information and channel it to the newspapers and radio stations.

Pool Team Wins In 7th

The Family Shoe Store base ball team defeated the Bula Independents Sunday afternoon 2 - 1 in a close 7 inning contest.

Bill Jones pitched 5 hit ball for the local Shoe Store boys, giving up only one run and that on an error. Bula scored their one run in the fourth inning when a man singled, stole second, was advanced to third on an outfield fly and came home when a low pitch got away from the catcher. The Littlefield boys didn't get a run until the last inning. Joe Garcia singled. Another hit advanced Garcia to third. Pitcher Bill Jones singled to bring him home and Frank Fry hit a hot liner to second that carried off the infielder's right leg as the second run came in.

Jones fanned the first Bula batter in the last half of the seventh. The next man up singled but a double play wiped out the threat and ended the game.

The Family Shoe Store team is still undefeated for this season in independent baseball games.

Grudge Match Features Funk Vs. Cummings

Dory Funk, once more the junior heavyweight wrestling champion of the Southwest States territory, collides with an old and respected rival, Bob Cummings, in the top section of a double main event scheduled for the Littlefield Sports Arena Saturday night.

Funk, proprietor of Flying Mare Ranch, Umbarger, and Cummings, formerly of Seaside, Ore., are right close neighbors. Cummings maintains residence at Hereford. But that doesn't mean they are friendly. They have developed a grudge that exists in and out of the sphere of action, and Saturday night's battle is due to be quite rough.

Both men feature varieties of toe and knee holds as their favorite methods of attack. Funk is famous for his spinning toe-hold, which actually involves the opponent's knee. Cummings uses a knee lock which exerts the same sort of pressure. Both are submission holds - and most opponents readily submit once either is aptly applied.

First part of the twin feature brings vicious Al Cortez of Los Angeles against Bill Brooks of El Paso. Cortez, a well-known figure on the West Coast because of his battles with Danny McShain, has added a new kind of fury to Southwest States wrestling. Brooks, of Italian descent, so far has been able to hold his own in this, the country's hottest junior heavyweight league.

Each match Saturday night goes for two best falls out of three, or one-hour time limit.

WOW Tops Lions In Extra Inning

The W. O. W. boys baseball team broke a tied score in the first of the sixth inning Tuesday night to beat the Lions 9 - 7 in a close game of a pitcher's duel.

Dwayne North of the W. O. W. locked horns with Gilbert Saeger, the Lutheran Minister's son in a real pitching contest the last four innings. North struck out 12 men in four innings and Saeger fanned 14 going the full 6 innings. Saeger gave up six hits to North's two and his team committed just a few less errors at field to give the W. O. W. the edge in the last inning.

Dee Pierce and Rex Foust led the winners with two hits each in three times at bat and Bobby Brown got two for three with the losers.

With the score tied coming into the last inning Greer walked for W. O. W., the next man fanned, Pierce singled, Kenny Pounds walked; then Greer and Pierce came home on errors, and Gary Byrne walked, but died on base as two more men struck out. North had little trouble retiring the Lions on three straight strike outs in the last half of the sixth to win the game. This win gave the W. O. W. a tie for third with the Jaycees with one win and one loss each. The V. F. W. and Smith-Badger teams are tied for first with two wins each.

Birthday Recipe to Keep Costs Down and Spirits Up

WHAT ABOUT THOSE BIRTHDAY celebrations? Does the budget groan every time one looms ahead? Big Sister turning sweet sixteen? Big Brother going off to college? Dad starting a new year? How about your own birthday? You deserve a party—even if you do have to bake your own cake.

BIRTHDAY CAKE

Ingredients: 2½ cups sifted flour, 2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups sugar, ¼ cup margarine, ½ teaspoon pure almond extract, ½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract, 3 eggs (unbeaten), 1 cup milk.

Method: Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Gradually blend sugar with softened margarine until fluffy. Mix in flavoring extracts. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add flour mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour. Beat batter ½ minute. Bake in 2 well-greased, lightly floured, round 9-inch layer cake pans for 30 minutes or until tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes in pans placed on racks. Turn out on wire racks to finish cooling. Put layers together and cover sides and top with Chocolate Opera Cream Frosting. Makes 16 servings.

OPERA CREAM FROSTING

Ingredients: ½ cup margarine at room temperature, 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 1 large egg, 1½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract, ½ teaspoon salt, 6 tablespoons milk, 4½ squares (4½ ounces) unsweetened chocolate (melted).

Method: Beat margarine and 1 cup sugar together until fluffy with rotary or electric beater. Add egg, vanilla, salt, milk and remaining cup sugar. Beat until blended. Place bowl in pan of ice water. Add melted chocolate and beat until stiff enough to spread (about 3 minutes), keeping bottom and sides of bowl scraped down for uniform mixing. Remove bowl from ice water. Spread frosting between two 9-inch layers, around sides and on top of cake. If desired, put 2 to 3 tablespoons frosting through a decorator's tube around the edge of the top layer. Write "Happy Birthday" in center of cake with a toothpick; retrace with white, uncooked frosting made with 1 tablespoon margarine and ¼ cup confectioners' sugar.

RICH, CREAMY chocolate frosting for a birthday cake.

A Duck Dinner for Two

A SMALL DUCK OR CHICK-EN is just right for Sunday dinner or a holiday celebration for two. You can enjoy half the duck when it's first roasted, then reheat the other half for the next day's main meal. Saves time in the kitchen, too. Or if you want to ask another couple to join you, the duck or chicken will be just right for four.

Stuff your bird with orange-flavored rice if you want something delectably different. This stuffing is quick to make because it calls for packaged pre-cooked rice. After the rice is brought to a boil, it is left standing off the heat for 10 minutes, then it is flaky and all ready to use in your bird.

For a really pretty company platter, surround your roast duck or chicken with parsley and preserved kumquats.

ROAST DUCK with Orange Rice Stuffing—a pretty platter.

ORANGE RICE STUFFING
Ingredients: 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 1 1/2 cups packaged pre-cooked rice, 1 cup water, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 1/4 cup orange juice, 1 cup diced celery, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning.
Method: Melt butter in saucepan over low heat. Add onion and cook until wilted but not brown; stir often. Add rice, water, orange rind and juice, celery, salt and sugar. Mix just until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing rice gently once or twice with a fork. Do not stir. Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes. Then add poultry seasoning and mix lightly with a fork. Put stuffing by spoonful into duck or chicken. Do not pack tightly. Roast at once according to preferred temperature. Makes 3 1/2 cups stuffing.

There is a legend of Spanish treasure; $6,000,000 in silver is supposed to be buried somewhere in the area. Another legend is that a band of outlaws who operated in the California gold rush buried their loot in the general vicinity.

Eastland County itself was the scene of a great oil rush which began at Ranger from 1917 to 1921 and the county still produces considerable petroleum, with a new pool being found every few months. The county long has ranked right up at the top in producing peanuts. Livestock, cotton and poultry are other sources of revenue and there are important industries of varied types.

Contest rules are simple: The name suggested must not be the name of either, or both, Ranger and Eastland or any coined word that is based on the names, or parts of the names, of the cities; The name must not be more closely associated with one town than with the other - (for example, this would rule out Old Rip, the Eastland Horned frog.)

The sender is invited to write a few words setting forth his reason for considering the suggestion appropriate. If the winning name is submitted by more than one person, the entry received first will be the winner. Only one entry from each person. The judges' decision is final. Deadline for entries is July 15. The contest is open to anyone anywhere except water district board members and their families or contest committee members and their families. Entries should be marked "Contest" and mailed to the Chamber of Commerce in either Ranger or Eastland, Texas.

Inheritance is the cause of about half the blindness in the United States say the Better Vision Institute.

bock for the past five years and had been a resident on the South Plains for much of his life.

Try Pancake Roll-ups For Day Before Payday

A FUP FLOP—Pancakes with tomato sauce and cheese.

THIN BUDGET? Fat servings of pancakes will help out! Of course these are special roll-up pancakes, with a savory filling and a topping of cheese.

It won't take you long to make these roll-ups, using a pancake mix for ease. As each pancake comes off the griddle, cover it with a slice of cheese and then spicy tomato sauce. Then roll up and bake for a good main dish.

If you like, you can make this pancake dish early in the day, refrigerate it, and then heat it in a moderate oven for fifteen minutes before serving. Or, if you prefer, the tomato sauce may be fixed ahead and then reheated while you are making the pancakes.

TOMATO-CHEESE ROLL-UPS

Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups chopped onion, 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 1 clove garlic (minced), 3/4 cup shortening, three 6-ounce cans tomato paste, 1/2 cup chopped mushrooms, 4 drops tabasco sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon oregano, 1/4 teaspoon cheese, Parmesan cheese.

Method: Cook onion, green pepper and garlic in shortening until lightly browned. Dilute tomato paste with 3/4 cup water. Put 3/4 cup tomato mixture aside. Add rest of the tomato mixture, 3/4 cup water and remaining ingredients to onion and green pepper in skillet. Simmer about 10 minutes. Keep warm while preparing pancakes. As pancakes are ready, immediately place a slice of cheese on each one. Allow the cheese to melt a few minutes on the hot pancake, then spoon hot tomato sauce over cheese; roll up. Place pancakes in a large baking dish. Top with the reserved 3/4 cup tomato sauce. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake in moderate (350F) oven 10 to 15 minutes; serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

DELUXE PANCAKES

Ingredients: 2 cups pancake ready-mix, 2 1/2 cups milk, 1 egg (beaten), 2 tablespoons shortening (melted).

Method: Add milk and egg to pancake mix all at once; stir lightly. Somewhat lumpy batter makes these pancakes light and fluffy. Stir in shortening. Pour 1/4 cup batter for each pancake onto hot lightly greased griddle. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once.

She accompanied Mrs. Phil Thompson and children.

Jan and Donna Hall of Pampa spent several days with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hall, sr.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Griffing visited their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray, and family in Enokhs Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Lyles and Charles Lyles and son of Plainview were guests in the Griffing home Sunday.

His parents Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Holt of Muleshoe accompanied them and a highlight of the trip was a visit to the senior Holt's birthplace, King's Mill in Arkansas, known now as Hardy.

They spent a few days at Lake Catherine, Ark., where swimming proved to be more popular than fishing.

Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Rankin of Washington, D. C. visited his brother, Rev. John Rankin, and family during the week end. He occupied the pulpit at the Sunday night service at the Baptist church.

The Baptist West Plains workers' conference will meet Friday at the Longview Church near Muleshoe.

don't DO that!

OVER EXPOSURE... Hot weather is no excuse for relaxing all the rules of correct dress for town. Borstop dresses are strictly for beach or evening wear.

The other night we were invited out for a canasta game in a spanking new house. We liked our hosts and the other guests. The game was fun and the dessert was delicious.

The house was breathlessly modern, with indirect lighting, a glass brick half-wall and sliding doors. Everything in it, from a huge playroom where the children watched 1-4 to the modern kitchen that was part of the family room, was perfectly appointed.

But somehow the evening didn't quite come off. It was as though the blood wood breakfast set and the wrought iron accessories had never met before. Even the flowers looked like strangers in the room.

On the way home we agreed that we'd scatter a few magazines, pull off a few rose petals, to loosen the place up. It was pretty all right, but it was a house instead of a home.

Remembering the easy warmth of that couple's earlier residence, where the older children grew up, we decided they had made a place in the new house for everything but memories. Apparently it had been swept clean of sentiment.

Back home, we glanced gratefully around our own worn living room: the faded green rug, the dull finish of old wood, brass andirons burnished by many fires. The loaded bookshelves, the easy sofas - everything was as friendly as an old shoe.

And as we turned off the lights to go to bed, we could have sworn the velvet chair winked at the marble-topped walnut chest. "We won't be moving out soon," it seemed to say. "They like us here. We belong."

Texans In Washington

by Teex Easley

Washington, June 24.—Legislation pending in Congress would just about sever federal ties with the last tribe of Indians in Texas, 450 Alabama-Coushattas who live deep in the piney woods of the eastern section of the state.

The bill, already passed by the Senate, would terminate federal supervision over 3,181 acres of timberland Uncle Sam bought in 1928 for reservation purposes. It would convey the land's title to the state of Texas, which would hold it in trust for the mixed tribe. The tract is in Polk County, about 17 miles east of Livingston, adjacent to the 1,100 acres which Texas bought in 1854 and 1855 and gave to the Alabama tribe. The Alabamas now account for about two-thirds of the total tribal population—the two tribes have intermarried over the years.

The principal sponsor of the legislation, Rep. John Dowdy of Athens, says it is intended to bring about a "sustained yield" cutting of timber on the 3,181 acres. "The Indians live in scattered houses in the woods on the thousand-acre tract the state of Texas gave them a century ago," commented Dowdy.

"They work cutting pulp wood and such jobs, but have been unable to develop the timber on the big government-owned tract because there were no Indian forest supervisory agents nearer than Oklahoma."

For years the Indians saw valuable timber left neglected federal area, then succeeding state and federal officials interested in utilizing it. Under proposed plan, the Texas Service would take over management of the cutting operation. In relinquishing title to the federal government also give up its present partial liability for the education Alabama-Coushatta Indian ren, this is an expense said to go as high as $18,000 year was $9,000 last year. At Dowdy's request the approved a provision to give the Alabama-Coushattas will be allowed to use schools and hospitals maintained by the federal government.

The "foot" as a unit of measurement started out as the length of a man's foot and the length varied at different times and places from 8 to 20 inches.

BIBLE SPEAKS
 Kenneth J. Foreman
 Reading: Hosea 11:1-4ab1

What God Wants
 for June 20, 1954

What does God want? It is the most important question any man can ask. There are religions everywhere in one word: Nothing. It is his serene way un-derstand we do. Christian-ity and the religion be-lieve in prophets. These were really the mind of those who came and Dr. Foreman says that matter every part of the Bible that God does care, he has something of us.

Hosea preached in the "religious" era. At least, what his fellow citizens thought. There were crowds with worshipers were treasures piled in cities and offerings. The burning animals could be seen rising in the air. Hosea knew very important city, espe-cially Jerusalem and Bethel, the "capitals" of the little kingdom of Judah and Israel. Contemporaries of Hosea wanted public games and ceremonies, at the temple, plenty of sacrifices. Hosea knew memorably simple words speaking for God, "I de-ceive." At this point our Eng-lish translation of the Hebrew Old Testament should never be for-gotten. It should never be for-gotten that the original Hebrew was written in English—our English ran into trouble. The word Hosea used at this time was "chased" (pronounced "chesseth") and it is hard to see how many dif-ferent words are used in our English to translate this one word. It is called "goodness" in Psalm 33:5. Hosea addressed "pity" as in Gen-esis 18:17; "pity" in Job 22:29; "loving kindness" in Psalm 103:4; Hosea 2:19. There are in the old King James More recent transla-tions used still other words. The Hebrew Bible has what we have here one of the words that is bigger than any word used to translate it. The translators of the Standard Version had for the most part the word "steadfast love" to ex-press the deep meaning of this

What God Wants Most
 He said his people, and he said what God wants most is this great thing which is more than mercy, more than anything that can best be described in the two words "steadfast love." Not sacrifice and offerings, as it used to be, not anything else we can think of. Just steadfast love. Hosea puts with this and be-longs something else: "the knowledge of God." This does not mean knowledge out of a book. The word for "knowledge" means simply information. A person could memorize the facts about a Presi-dent of the United States and still not know him. Knowledge is the sense of that word is something, it is to enter into the understanding of God to know him as it were. God wants of us to do as he did and does always, to show anything else, that our hearts show "steadfast love" and he will do it.

He will do it. There is a lot in America about "Back to Religion" or "Back to Church" but a good deal of this is from people who have a vague idea that if they were only full every Sunday they would reward our fine church attendance with crops and prosperity in Hosea would smile a sad smile at such an idea. It was exactly the kind of idea his wrong-headed people had. It was not that they did not want sacrifices but they were no substitute for God really desired most things with us. Church-going, church-burns of reform, church-burns of reform, more beautiful worship, more beautiful worship, more beautiful worship—none of this can be a substitute, or Amer-ican substitute, for steadfast love and knowledge of God. He will do it.

Fish Mold for Summer Buffet

THIS PRETTY creamy fish mold makes a fine contribution to a summer buffet when company's coming for lunch or supper.

What makes the mold so creamy? Cream cheese, for one thing. Mayonnaise for another. The condensed asparagus soup in the recipe calls for also helps. Only a small amount of cooking is necessary in the fish preparation, and that concerns the fish fillets. But there is a thrifty addition, and it is brief—just simmer for 10 minutes or until the fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

You can put other seafood on your buffet table, too. Shrimp, for example, with a Dill Sauce. You can make the sauce from homemade mayonnaise with a liberal addition of lemon juice, Bahama mustard, capers and minced dill. Our guests always talk about this combination!

Small sardines do well on the buffet. Leave them right in their cans—you can't improve the uniform and attractive way they are packed.

A big tossed green salad with dressing of Swiss cheese and ham is also a noteworthy addition. So is a bowl of tomato and cucumber slices dressed in French dressing. For your bread, serve a whole French loaf, if you can get it. Cut it in thick slices, spread the cuts with garlic-but-ter, wrap in foil and heat in the oven.

End with a beautiful dessert. Like a flat serving dish edged with rounds of oranges and pineapple, the center piled with strawberries. Sprinkle the orange and pineapple rounds with a dash of sugar mixed with a dash of mace and nutmeg. You can use sweetened whipped cream with this, if you like, but it's not necessary. But do accom-

CREAMY FISH MOLD
Ingredients: 1 package frozen fish fillets, 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin, 1 1/4 cups water, 1 can condensed asparagus soup, one 3-ounce package cream cheese, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 2 teaspoons prepared mustard, sliced olives, chichory or other salad greens.

Method: Let fish thaw on refrigerator shelf. Cut block of fish into 4 pieces and place in skillet with a small amount of water. Bring water to a boil. Cover pan. Reduce heat; simmer about 10 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Pour off water. Using two forks, flake fish. While fish is cooking, soften gelatin in 1/4 cup of the water. Combine soup and remaining 1 cup water and heat thoroughly. Add gelatin and cream cheese and beat until smooth. Let cool. Add lemon juice, onion, mayonnaise, mustard and fish fillets. Rinse a 1-quart mold with cold water. Pour in mixture and chill until firm. Turn out on platter. Garnish with sliced olives and chichory or other greens. Makes 8 servings.

We Say It's Salad

Small tender leaves of young spinach make a savory summer salad when they are mixed with crisp bits of crumbled bacon and French dressing. Try serving this salad with broiled fish fillets, mashed potatoes and buttered carrots.

Weekly Cotton Market Review

Cotton prices remained steady last week, according to the Department of Agriculture. Trading was moderately active. Reported sales increased in the ten markets. Inquiries from domestic and foreign sources continued fairly numerous. Trading in the cotton textile market was generally limited. There were a few sales of rather sizeable yardages of print cloth reported. Cotton cloth prices in May averaged about seven percent lower than in May 1953. The average mill margin in May was 18 percent narrower than a year earlier. Generally favorable weather conditions continued to prevail over most of the belt. Good stands were reported and chopping and cultivation were well under way in most areas.

Spot prices for Middling 15-16" cotton fluctuated within a narrow range in the ten spot markets during the week and on Thursday, June 24, averaged 34.24 cents per pound. A week earlier the average price was 34.35 cents and a year ago it was 33.22 cents. The minimum loan rate for Middling 15-16" cotton for the 1954-55 crop will be 32.30 cents based on the announcement by the Secretary of Agriculture on May 3, and the 1954-55 loan premiums and discounts released on May 28. Prices for futures contracts at New York declined slightly during the week. July contracts closed at 34.17 cents on June 19 and October contracts closed at 34.08 cents. Prices bid for loan equities declined. Equity prices for most White grades were quoted from $2.60 to $3.00 per bale, net to grower.

Reported sales in the ten markets totaled 55,800 bales compared with 47,100 bales a week earlier and 41,300 in the corresponding week a year ago. Inquiries from domestic mills continued fairly numerous for both old and new crop cotton. Mill buying of cotton for summer delivery increased in volume. Most shippers were reported to be offering less freely at the basis mills were willing to pay for cotton for fall and winter delivery. Inquiries from foreign sources continued rather numerous. Spinners in several countries purchased a moderate volume of cotton for nearby delivery. A limited volume of new-crop cotton was reported to have been sold for export. Shipper demand was confined largely to cotton in even-running lots needed to fill commitments. Demand for loan equities was reported to have decreased. CCC loan repayments reported in the week ended June 4 were 75,700 bales, bringing total repayments on 1953-loan cotton through that date to 1,400,500 bales. About 5,430,500 bales of 1953-crop cotton remained under loan as of June 4. On the same date loans were outstanding on 1,691,000 bales of Tuna Supreme is delicious served in tart shells, but if you are pressed for time, serve it over toast.

TUNA CHEESE SHORTCAKE

Ingredients: 1 cup biscuit mix, 1/2 cup grated cheddar cheese, 3/4 cup milk, one 7-ounce can solid-pack tuna, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon mace.

Method: With a fork, stir together biscuit mix and grated cheese; add milk. Mix well. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead gently four times. Roll or pat into 1/2-inch thickness; cut into four 3-inch rounds. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in very hot (475F) oven 12 to 15 minutes, or until lightly browned. Meanwhile drain oil from tuna; reserve oil and break tuna into large pieces with a fork. Over low heat melt butter or margarine and blend in tuna oil and flour; gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and smooth. Add tuna, salt and mace; heat to serving temperature. Serve tuna sauce over biscuits. Makes 4 servings. Double recipe if desired.

TUNA SUPREME

Ingredients: 3/4 cup ripe olives, one 5-ounce can shrimp, one 7-ounce can solid-pack tuna, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, dash tabasco sauce, 2 cups milk, salt and pepper, pastry shells.

Method: Cut olives from pits into large pieces. Rinse shrimp with cold water; drain and devein if desired. Drain oil from tuna. Melt butter; blend in flour, mustard, Worcestershire sauce and tabasco. Add milk all at one time and cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened and bubbly; add salt and pepper to taste. Add olives and shrimp. Drain tuna; break into large pieces with fork and add. Reheat, stirring carefully a few times so as not to break up tuna too much. Serve hot in pastry shells. Makes 4 servings. Double recipe if desired.

SUMMER SUPPER

If you serve hot baked beans with cold sliced ham for a summer supper, give the beans a festive topping of broiled tomato slices and onion and green pepper rings.

Recipe for Quick Cheese Sauce

For a quick cheese sauce to serve over cooked garden vegetables and crisp toast, heat a tall can of undiluted evaporated milk over hot water; add a half pound of grated cheddar cheese; stir often until melted and smooth.

No Rubber Stamps

We often get the impression from what we read that there is something immoral about a congress which fails to pass the president's "program" into law. We are reading an extra lot of that kind of criticism of Congress right now. The President himself is making less of a fuss about it than the columnists.

However, in 1950 it was the president who tried to pin the label "Do Nothing Congress" on the 80th Congress, because it refused to saddle the American people with more of the Fair Deal.

As a matter of fact the president's job is not supposed to be legislative at all. He is hired to administer the law. The Congress is hired to make the law. The judiciary is hired to interpret the law.

There is no reason why any Congress should pass a program of legislation simply because it is the president's program. I happen to approve of most of the proposals which President Eisenhower has made to Congress, but I want no rubber stamp Congress. Every law should be judged by our lawmakers strictly on its merits and demerits without regard to whether the president requested it or not.

Letters To The Editor

Editor of Newspaper
Littlefield, Texas.

Dear Sir:

The purpose of this letter is to solicit your help in saying to some of the citizens of Littlefield that I deeply appreciate the courtesies shown to five young airmen who narrowly escaped with their lives when the car in which they were riding was struck by another car and was thrown into a stream near your town recently. I am the Mother of one of those boys, Tommy Lewis, owner of the wrecked car.

These boys had been to Dallas to spend Mother's Day in their homes. They were returning to Kirtland Airforce Base at Albuquerque.

The boys have been loud in their praise of Littlefield and of the way in which citizens rallied to meet their needs. They told of now a woman who owned a restaurant gave them food and a bed and also bought bus tickets for some of the boys who did not have the money to get back to camp. Another one of your citizens bought shoes for some of the boys who lost their shoes when their car was plunged into a stream of water.

The officers of the law are reported to have been most kind to the boys. The telephone operators also came in for a generous share of praise.

I am sure that other mothers and friends of the boys share with me a heartfelt gratitude to Littlefield citizens for having been kind to our boys in their time of emergency and distress.

George Mahon Announces For Re-election To Congress

George Mahon has announced this week that he is a candidate for re-election to Congress. His application to have his name on the ticket in the July primary is on file with the County Democratic Chairman. He has no opponent, but, as in previous years, he is placing his announcement in the newspapers of the District in order to let the people know of his candidacy and as a means of requesting their vote and continued support.

"I want to announce for re-election, and at the same time thank the people for their generous support and good will through the years. I will be grateful for your support in the July primary," the Representative said. "I am always mindful of the fact that public office is a gift of the people and should never be taken for granted."

Mahon is one of the senior Members of Congress from the standpoint of years of service in Washington. His record in behalf of the people is well known to West Texans.

"In some undertakings," he said, "I have failed. Other efforts have been successful. I have tried

George Mahon

In big and little matters to do the best possible job in behalf of our Nation and the people of our District."

In his statement Mahon said, "If re-elected, and I use this means to solicit your continued favor, I shall go my whole limit to do a good job. I want to contribute everything within my power to the cause of decency and good government and to the cause of peace and security."

"I am not unaware of the fact that there are scores of important matters in which the people of our District are interested. It is the duty of a Member of Congress when questions arise to do what he can in the public interest. He cannot foresee what the future developments may be."

"Congress is now wrestling with such issues as the new farm program, an effective policy of water and soil conservation, methods of encouraging economic well being and prosperity, how far to go in military preparedness, how to keep out of another war, and numerous other vital matters."

"Thousands of people write me each year for personal services of one kind or another having to do with the Federal Government. I welcome a continuation of these requests. Most of them are not of a legislative nature, but they are important to the people, and it is my duty and pleasure to perform any service, however small, at any time for the people I have the honor to represent in Congress."

15-Year-Old Swimming Phenomenon Eyes 1956 U.S. Olympic Berth

RUSS NEWLAND
AP Newsfeatures

ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Brown Carol Tait, who at the age of 15 is undeniably a swimming phenom, has two great ambitions. One is to become a teacher in education. The other is to win the 1956 U. S. Olympic berth in the 100-yard freestyle.

CAROL TAIT

the pretty Menlo-Atherton sophomore splashed to win in the National Amateur championships early last year, she surprised a lot of spectators and a number of observers. Daytona Beach, Fla., hadn't seen anything like it in a long time.

Coach George Haines of Santa Clara Swim Club said she had been expecting to crack the national record since he took her in hand last year.

She is 5 feet 4 1/2 inches and 122, which is small compared with other champions of her age. She is a growing girl, however, when Olympic time rolls around she probably will have increased in weight.

Tait has an idol in Ann Cuneo, who held a flock of 100 titles. Her aim is to equal Cuneo's world record of 44 seconds in the 100-yard freestyle. At the moment she is only two seconds behind.

The Palo Alto girl is so confident in her ability to win that she has a habit of being snippy.

Her mother, who once was a swimmer, puts it this way: "Carol honestly believes she is beating any girls in her events. When she loses, she shrugs it off and says, 'no big deal' and goes on to win the next mile." I don't think it is the competition that is making her so confident.

the year around at nearby Santa Clara.

To the girls who think racing suits are not stylishly dashing, Carol has this to say:

"I don't mind racing suits. I'm swimming to win, not to look pretty."

CRIMINAL JOB

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—Applying for a policeman's job here amounts to an offense.

An economy-minded police department uses regular booking forms for applicants, since the facts required are pretty much the same as those needed for law violators.

In the space where it asks the nature of the violation is placed: "Police applicant."

Until the end of the 17th century poor people in England were buried without coffins, wrapped in cloth or even merely covered with hay and flowers.

Sport Shots...

Texas wound up its baseball season more prematurely than usual as the Longhorns took two drubblings from Oklahoma A and M in the NCAA playoffs but there still isn't a college baseball coach in the country who can touch the record of Bibb Augustus Falk.

The noted advocate of sarcastic repartee is well on the way to running up a record to equal or surpass his illustrious predecessor and teacher, Billy Disch.

In 12 years as coach of the Longhorns, the Bibber has won nine Southwest Conference championships and tied for two. He also has twice won the national collegiate championship and gone to the finals on another occasion. And in the years when he didn't go to the NCAA finals — two times Texas passed up even playing in the NCAA — the Longhorns lost to the team that eventually won the championship.

Of course it will be a long time before Falk can equal the record set by the famed Billy Disch, who won 21 championships out of 26, but the years will take care of that unless Bibb loses his touch, which doesn't appear likely.

He's a great teacher and loved by his players although he tells them all the time they couldn't play in the Epworth League on the basis of their ability. Just to show you how these boys actually treasure the sarcastic attributes from their coach, one of the teams got together one year and presented Bibb with a cigarette lighter on which was inscribed: "From the Goons and the Mullets." It was after Texas had gone to the finals of the 1953 NCAA.

Winning the conference championship in baseball is a tradition at Texas. There have been three coaches — Disch, Falk and Blair Cherry. Cherry handled the team two years while Falk was in the service and his record was almost perfect, too. He won one championship and tied for another.

Lamb County Leader

THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1954

That Brook had won the ball game, Falk growled: "Ain't you ever gonna learn to run the bases right; look how you cut this bag."

Then there was the time Tom Hamilton floated a 365-foot home run over the center field fence to win another important game.

"How you like that one?" Hamilton asked Falk. "Want you ever learn to pull the ball?" Falk snapped. "It's only 350 feet over the left field fence you know."

Disch always called Falk Augustus. He explained that Bibb sounded like a nickname and Uncle Billy never favored calling anyone by anything other than his real name.

Bibb isn't a nickname but Falk's real name, but it just didn't sound like it to Uncle Billy.

Make sure that your electric washing machine stands level on the floor. If it is not steady, its motor may easily become overheated.

Funny stories around the colorful Falk. There was the time Bob Brook hit a double to win an important game but in rounding first he went outside the bag instead of inside and his spikes cut the base. Paying no attention to the fact

REA Expects To Triple Its Power Load By 1975

COLLEGE STATION, June—24 Use of electric power on farms served by REA is expected to triple by 1975.

REA predicts consumption of its Texas customers to reach 3,987,000,000 kilowatt hours by that time, or three times the 1,026,800,000 kilowatt hours used in 1953.

These estimates are part of a survey conducted by REA to determine future needs regarding the interconnection of existing power sources, new generating facilities and the use of atomic energy for power production.

Consumption on REA-financed electric systems has doubled about every four years. In the future, greater usage by present consumers is expected to be the principle factor in increased demands.

Last year REA distributed 14 billion kilowatt hours to the nation's rural customers. The agency says this figure may hit 45 billion kilowatt hours within the next 21 years.

58 Percent of Wharton Co. Farmers Worth Over $5000

COLLEGE STATION — How economically sound is the average Texas farmer? What plans does he have for old age and how many have definite plans for retirement?

Answers to these and other questions were sought recently in Wharton county in a survey designed to check the economic security of the state's farmers. Wharton was selected because of its variety of physical, economic and social conditions and is described as a representative Texas county.

Principle crops grown are cotton, rice, grain sorghums, hay and alfalfa. Truck crops, livestock and poultry contribute substantially to farm income. Dairying is a growing enterprise.

The net worth of 257 farm operators interviewed ranged from "debts greater than assets" to well over $30,000. Fifty-six percent had a net worth of less than $10,000. And 42 percent fell in the less-than $5,000 class. Seventeen percent were worth less than $1,000 and, in this group, one in three indicated debts greater than assets.

The study, initiated by Texas A. and M. college cooperating with the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U.S. Department of Agriculture, is reported by William G. Atkins and Joe R. Motheral, assistant professor of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology and U.S.D.A. labor economist, respectively.

Education was directly associated with net worth, the survey revealed, as was race and nationality background.

Insurance is not widely used by Wharton county farmers as protection against death or disability. Nearly one-third of all farmers had little or no insurance. The majority of the larger policy holders were found in the 35 to 44 year old group. Those 55 and over carried the least insurance.

Relatively few farmers in Wharton county had even discussed economic security with their wives and other family members. Too, families in the weakest financial positions had given least consideration to their economic future. More than half said they had made no real progress toward saving for old age. Those having accumulated assets believed their farms would be their chief source of income in later years.

Only 12 percent had made positive plans for retirement, 10 percent had given retirement a little thought and the remaining 78 percent had given little or no thought to retirement. About three-fifths of all farmers indicated they did not plan to retire.

Only one operator in five had discussed with his children, even casually the possibility of their participating in some plan to provide for the parents in old age. One farmer in nine desired to live with his children upon retirement and three out of four wanted to stay on a farm.

A combination of financial interests in farm land, livestock or farm improvements, plus one or more types of nonfarm holdings, was the most common saving or investment. Sixty percent of the farmers checked reported this combination and the proportion increased with net worth.

More than half the farmers interviewed in Wharton county had some income in 1951 from non-farm sources. Off-the-farm work, oil and gas royalties or rentals and nonfarm investments were the prime sources of additional income.

Eighty-three percent of the operators expressed approval of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance. 10 percent disapproved the program and the rest took no position on the question.

Cash savings among regular hired workers were rare. Thirteen percent had no assets while the main type property owned by the others was an automobile or truck.

Forty-seven percent had a life or burial insurance policy, the survey indicated. Of the 10 percent attempting to save, most averaged no more than $5 or $10 a month.

This and other information on the survey is given in bulletin 774, The Farmer Looks at His Economic Security, which is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

PRO vs. DUFFER

Harry Obitz and his staff at Shawnee-on-Delaware Pa., go through their "Swing's the Thing" clinic every Sunday to show how simple it is to hit a golf ball.

by HARRY OBITZ

Pro at Shawnee Inn and Country Club, Shawnee-on-Delaware Pa.

AP Newsfeatures

The difference between the duffer and the pro golfer is rarely does the duffer learn to swing the club. This is strange because swinging is a very natural thing to do.

To create a swinging action only two things are necessary: first the club must be gripped gently enough to permit the force of the club swinging to cock the wrist at the end of the back swing. The next essential to swinging is to keep both ends of the club always traveling in the same direction.

An easy way to develop a feel of the club swinging is to never let the club-head pass the hands until after the ball has been contacted. The better players make themselves conscious of swinging the grip end of the club while the duffer is more interested in lifting the head of the club.

remains its limited size, while only the bone-house gets more crowded.

Legend has it that the ghosts of deceased villagers were howling at night in protest against the over crowding. The first decision of the officials was to start burying people in a vertical position, and in this way bury three people for the space of one. The diggers objected, however, and the bone-house idea was accepted instead.

A resident of the Halstadt cemetery must remain in his quarters for at least ten years. This is a standing rule that has never been broken. When space is required for a villager, seniority rights decide who shall be moved to the bone-house next.

Halstadt, of course, is not a place where one can grow rich by selling tombstones. Mourners inscribe a few words of sympathy on the skull when it is dug up to be replaced in the bone-house. Dates of birth and death are usually added, too. Many of the inscriptions are extremely poetic, and this is one of Halstadt's biggest tourist attractions.

If a deceased person has been a soldier, he warrants a military cross plus other markings. Colors

No Space Waste In Halstadt Cemetery

By Lisa Paulsen

Halstadt has one of the most unusual cemeteries in the world. This is the place where a man is never left to sleep peacefully in his grave. There are always too many applicants ready to take his place!

The village of Halstadt, because it is located in the mountains, suffers from a shortage of land. The people living here are much too practical to let good ground "go to waste" by constantly enlarging their local cemetery. The custom has been adopted of removing a man's bones from his grave after a certain period of time and storing them in a "bone-house". In this way the cemetery and designs of one sort and another — sometimes even a family coat-of-arms — appear on these skulls.

This rather unique custom has not yet converted any of the neighboring villages to adopt similar ways. Halstadt citizens, however, are certain that they lead the world in "intelligent burial procedure". They point out that thousands of acres of land each year are being converted to cemetery space. Such plots get larger but rarely smaller. Someday, these people point out, the world could be just one big graveyard without enough room for planting potatoes. Halstadters are certain, however, that people will see the light in time to avoid this catastrophe.

Boudreau Sees First Division for His Bouncing Baby Red Sox

BOB HOOBING
Newfeatures

The Boston Red Sox seem to swim or sink with the tides in the American League this year and the return of George Kell proves the Sox got off to a fast start, spending most of the season after glowing predictions for them. The reason for the bad break was a rash of injuries. Ted Williams broke a bone on the first day of training (March 1) and pitcher Mel Parnell, who pitched in the starting staff, broke a throwing arm April 24.

er Jackie Jensen and catcher Sammy White early but Boudreau expresses confidence in both.

"The mistakes these kids are making now are the ones they should have made last year when they went so good," Boudreau says. "Nevertheless, I'm going along with our youth movement and I know the fans will agree with me."

At first glance the Kell deal looked like a departure from Red Sox policy. It was the first sale of a star in Tom Yawkey's 22 years as club owner. ("We'd have been foolish not to make the deal, it was such a big offer," was General Manager Joe Cronin's comment. "There's the lameness in George's back, and with a long string of double-headers coming up due to rainouts it was the only thing to do with Goodman, Lepcio and Consolo a trouble."

Financially it made sense. Boston got $100,000 for an ailing .258 hitter salaried at between $35,000 and $40,000 a year. And picked up Hatton who receives about $12,000.

Was the Kell sale part of a

"Stop the Yankees" plot to feed players to the pennant-hopeful White Sox?

While New York Manager Casey Stengel was unhappy over the deal but the Boston management made it plain it was too interested in its own welfare to worry about intentionally helping anyone else.

Kell was the key man in a nine-player swap two years ago when Boston got George, Hoot Evers, Johnny Lipon and Dizzy Trout for Walt Dropo, Johnny Pesky, Roy Hatfield, Bill Wright and Don Lenhardt. It has been said Detroit wouldn't have parted with Kell if it hadn't been for that back trouble.

Now the Red Sox have Lenhardt back as a pinchhitter via Baltimore. Dropo is a Tiger regular, but Hatfield and Pesky see almost no action. The others aren't even in the league any more.

LONGPORT, N. J. (AP)—Municipal Judge Walter Wunsch not only requires traffic violators to pay a fine, but also makes them all down and look through a book of pictures showing highway accident victims and their smashed automobiles. "Take a good look—it might have been you," he warns the violators.

From Guilt To Glory

By TOMMY WILLIAMS, Minister

For they themselves show of us what man in we had unto ner of entering you, and how ye turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God; and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the wrath to come" (1 Thessalonians 1:9-10).

An analysis of this brief passage shows that it presents a complete summary of what the Christian religion embraces.

It shows, first, that there must be a conversion—a turning. "Ye turned to God from idols." Idols may not be images in metal or stone, but only what is in the heart. God calls upon men to turn from everything which separates man from God.

The Christian life is further described as a life of service. Christians have turned "to serve the living and true God." They recognize the need of beneficial activity and worship and strive to engage therein as servants of God.

Finally, the hope of the Christian is set forth. Christians wait for the return of Jesus which will be, for them the triumph for which they live. He will return, as he said, to "receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also" (John 14:3).

To turn to God, to serve him, and to wait for the reward—this is the fulness of Christianity.

Founder of Jot em Down Has Never Seen The Town

Jot Em Down, Tex. (AP)—This community's founder and leading citizen has never seen Jot Em Down and didn't name it.

He is Don C. McDonald, 84, a farmer-merchant who lost his sight before Jot Em Down straddled the road separating Hum and Delta Counties.

The community is made up of a store, gin, washateria, grocery and a few homes, all built on McDonald's land.

He was instrumental in getting two farm-to-market roads located through the heart of Jot Em Down and in bringing electric power to the community.

A grocery, washing work was done the store in 1938, said Jot Em Down for name. It was the name of a store in the Hum and Abney road program, and it caught the fancy of the people here.

"After a month," McDonald said, "I had couldn't have changed the name."

McDonald said he probably never would have named the store or the community.

"I never called it Jot Em Down until the farmers opposed the gin," he said. They called it the Jot Em Down Gin Area.

The Texas Highway Department made it official several years ago with signs on highways leading into the community.

McDonald owns and operates all the community's enterprises, except the gin.

He is a bachelor and lives in a room in the washateria on the Hum County side of Jot Em Down. "I eat in Delta County," he said. "Always called it home."

That's a short walk across the highway.

Don C. McDonald, 84-year-old farmer, has built his own community called Jot em Down on the Hum-Delta County line in Northeast Texas. Although he sent his childhood on the site, McDonald lost his sight before he directed construction of three homes, a gin, garage, store and washateria which makes up Jot em Down. (AP Photos)

McDonald, who lost his sight after an eye injury, plumbed his washateria without help. The maze of pipes and fittings is a monument to his patience and determination.

He has left the migration of folks to larger towns. Jot Em Down's population has declined from 25 persons four years ago to 12 residents now.

There's fewer people here now than there ever has been before," he said.

But the few inhabitants take pride in their community. They don't even mind when strangers laugh at its name.

After all, Jot Em Downers can laugh when they take a trip to Bug Tussle, not far away.

Dual Fans Will Send Gin Trash Back To The Land

COLLEGE STATION — Use of dual fans for continuous processing of cotton gin trash has been approved and is called the most practical method of handling the material per tested.

Given the go-ahead by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the two fan system enables growers to use small equipment which will allow farmers to collect and return gin trash to the soil for organic matter at very minimal cost.

Under current regulations, all wastes must be processed by one of the approved methods to kill pink bollworms and other insect life.

According to the U.S.D.A., the two fans must be operated in series, have at least six blades and turn at specified revolutions per minute.

Increased organic matter, water holding capacity and moisture penetration are benefits derived from spreading cotton burs on cropland.

The other processing methods are incineration, composting, fermentation, humification and hummer mulling. Roller mills run on a coal basis at some areas.

When you are handling a lot of trash, break it with shovels and sprinkle it with lemon juice.

Comfortable clothes make all the difference when there's work to be done. A case in point are these cotton herringbone twill pants and lightweight matching shirt. They will never shrink out of their easy, comfortable fit, even after countless washings because they are Sanitized. Reverse pleats on the trousers give extra wearing comfort.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Revenue agents, tipped a bootlegger was driving out of the hills with a big load, worked out an elaborate plan.

One agent, posted by the road, was to fire a shot into the air as the car went past him. This was a signal to another agent a quarter of a mile away to prepare to shoot the tires on his car if it wouldn't stop on a signal — and they were sure it wouldn't. Another quarter of a mile long were two more agents fast car ready to chase a hoped would be a cripple.

All four heard the car first shot was fired. The sound halted abruptly. Several minutes the three made their way to the station and found he had capture single-handed. Legger thought the shot blowout, stopped his car and climbed out to look.

July Dollar Day Postponed One Day Because of Holiday

Community Dollar Day will be observed by Littlefield merchants Tuesday, July 6, according to Albert Miller, chairman of the retail committee of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce.

Dollar Day, usually held on Monday, has been postponed one day because Monday is a recommended holiday, as set up by the Chamber of Commerce. Most Littlefield stores and businesses will be closed Monday for the Independence Day week end.

"Dollar Day specials will be offered by local merchants Tuesday instead of Monday this month," Miller said. The monthly Dollar Day on the first Monday of each month has been a practice of local firms for several years. Merchants originally anticipated meeting this month's Dollar Day to July 12, but announced this week that July 6 will be the official date.

Littlefield Jaycees will again place sacks over the parking meters for the convenience of area shoppers in town to take advantage of the special prices offered by local merchants on Dollar Day. Carpenter Death Is Ruled 'Suicide By Asphyxiation'

The death of Guy Leslie Carpenter, 57, sometime early Monday morning was termed "suicide by asphyxiation" by Justice of the Peace G. S. Glenn Monday.

Carpenter's body was found about 7 a. m. Monday in his automobile, a late model Plymouth with a New Mexico license, which was parked on a farm road just south of the XIT Drive-In Theater. A rubber hose had been attached with a handkerchief to the muffler and the opposite end placed inside the right front ventilator window. A blanket was stuffed around the hose in the window to keep air inside the car from escaping.

Mrs. B. C. Roberts was first to notice the car, at 6 a. m., parked on the road near her home. About an hour later her husband and Bill Owens decided to investigate. When they reached the car the motor was still running and the inside of the car "boiling" with carbon monoxide, Robert said. Carpenter's body was inside.

Carpenter was pronounced dead upon the arrival of Sheriff Dick Dyer, Deputy Lester Hollabaugh and Judge G. S. Glenn.

Hollabaugh said he had checked the road Sunday night about 11 o'clock and the car wasn't there at that time.

Officers found, among papers in the car pocket, a last will and testament and a paid receipt from an Amarillo doctor. In the car trunk were Carpenter's clothing and personal items. His address was listed on his driver's license as Roswell, N. M., although he spent a great amount of time in this area.

The will had been prepared and signed Saturday by James A. Gowdy, Littlefield attorney. Gowdy said Carpenter, a long-time acquaintance of his, had requested the will Friday and seemed in a hurry for it.

"We laughed and talked, though. I told him we couldn't get to it before Saturday morning, and he seemed in a hurry, but was otherwise cheerful. He did tell me Friday that he thought he had tuberculosis," Gowdy said.

Carpenter was born Sept. 30, 1896, in Quanah. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Littlefield Drive Church of Christ with Ned Fairbairn officiating. Burial was in Littlefield Memorial Park under the direction of Hammons Funeral Home.

Carpenter's wife preceded him in death in 1934. Survivors include two sons, Smith Carpenter of Tyler and Clarence Carpenter of El Paso, formerly of Littlefield; one daughter, Mrs. D. H. Crawford of Littlefield; two grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. G. D. Kinard of Paris, Mrs. Joe Hooper of Dallas, and Mrs. H. H. Kerr of Tahoka; and one brother, Bill Carpenter of Wichita Falls.

Amherst Commission Offers Phone Company 20% Raise

The Amherst city commission met with representatives of General Telephone Company again Monday evening in an attempt to get the city rate fixing ordinance amended to give them a considerable increase in telephone rates.

The commissioners advised them that they have no intention of granting any such raise as was requested by the company, but they indicated a willingness to grant some relief to the company which claims that it received only a 2.66 percent return last year on the "fair value" of its investment for Amherst.

To avoid a court fight the company offered to settle for about four-fifths of their original request, but the council did not take them up on it. They offered instead a 20 percent across the board increase, which would move business phones up to $6.00 for a private line, $4.80 for a two party line. It would increase residence phones to $3.60 for one party and $3.00 for two party service.

Company officials stated they were certain the company could not accept this, but said they would submit the offer to their San Angelo office for consideration.

During the discussion they pointed out that the telephone company does not have to sue to get the rate increase it feels it should have. They say the company can simply start charging the new rates it has set up, and if anything is to be done about it, the city will have to initiate the court action.

Both sides, however, expressed a hope that an agreement can be worked out without resorting to court action.

The last rate increase for Amherst telephone subscribers took place in 1950. Company officials claim it does not take into account any of the cost increases which have occurred since the Korean war began.

Auto Accident On 3rd, Lfd Drive

City Police investigated an accident at 9 a. m. Tuesday morning at the intersection of East Third Street and LFD Drive.

Vehicles involved in the accident were a pickup driven by Fred H. Taylor of Littlefield, 65, and an automobile driven by William Young, 26, of Dallas. Young was acting as chauffeur for Hugo Koppel of Dallas.

Damages to the car amounted to $125. The pickup wasn't damaged. Officers did not file charges.

Electric Appliance Dealers Vote Bonus To Little League

Littlefield's five Reddy Kilowatt appliance dealers voted unanimously Wednesday morning to give proceeds from a special promotion to the Junior League baseball program.

The decision was made at a breakfast given by the local officials of Southwestern Public Service.

Howard Horn, local manager, explained the new Public Service "Freezer Fair" promotion which is designed to push the sale of home freezers. He told the dealers his company will contribute two dollars to a special fund each time a home freezer is sold to one of their customers during the next two months.

The dealers were given a choice of dividing it among the firms or contributing it to a civic project. The group voted unanimously to give the funds to the Junior League.

Attending the breakfast held at Fishers' Restaurant were Nelson Naylor, Melvin Best, E. C. Rodgers, Nate Griffin, and Nig Whitson. Representing Public Service were Mrs. Clyda McReynolds of Clovis, Ernestine Gary, Marvin Standifer and Bud Laird, all of Plainview.

Amherst Getting New Water Well

Drilling was commenced Wednesday on a new well for the Amherst city water system. It became necessary when one of the two present wells started pumping sand into the mains.

The new well is being drilled on two lots purchased from Raymond Wright in the northwest corner of town.

It is expected to be completed within a few days and will be put into use immediately. It is believed that it will considerably improve the pressure on that side of town. The present wells are on the east side of the city.

Cost of drilling and equipping the well is expected to run in the vicinity of $6,000.

Shaws Return From Vacation In Florida

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Shaw returned to Littlefield late Friday from Jacksonville, Fla. Mrs. Shaw has been visiting several months with their daughter, Myrtle Marion Shaw, and Shaw drove down to return with his wife.

They report crops east of the Mississippi are extraordinarily good this year, the cotton, tobacco and corn all appear "bigger and better."

Shaw stated that he has been vacationing in Florida for the past ten years and this was the first time he ever saw one person catch even one fish... actually saw a man catch one small bass at Mandarin this time.

The Shaws particularly enjoyed a visit to Stephen Foster Memorial at White City, near Jacksonville. It is a replica of a large Southern mansion, with tall ceilings and huge rooms and dioramas eight to ten feet wide depicting eight of Mr. Foster's best loved songs.

Florida was the only state in the union which offered land for the memorial to be erected in 1960. The building is on both sides of the Swanee River (which actually does exist and flows through unbelievably beautiful countryside.)

They enjoyed the collection of old square pianos, most of them built of walnut and one in particular that was used to accompany Jenny Lind in 1850.

It is amazing, both Mr. and Mrs. Shaw felt, that Stephen Foster was able to capture the emotions of the Southern Negro so clearly without ever having been further south than Kentucky.

The dioramas were tuned to recordings of the songs and had to be placed far enough away from each other so that the songs did not blur together. Moving figures portrayed "Old Dog Tray" when that song was played. When "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair" was played the figures moved the keys of a tiny piano, played a violin and patted their feet. In the diorama of "Swanee River", the river actually flowed through the picture portrayed.

The Memorial is located just off Highway No. 90 and the Shaws felt that anyone vacationing in Florida would find it worth their time to stop and see it.

Success Story

---AND A GOOD TIP FOR YOU

WHEN it comes to sales, every car maker aspires to be up at the top of his price class.

Which is only natural. Popularity like that means success.

We know, because for years Buick has held such an envied position—the unquestioned sales leader in its class. And with good reasons in styling, room, power, value.

But today, folks like you have pushed Buick success even beyond such bounds.

Today, the top sales standings of a full generation have been changed. Today, latest sales figures for the first four months of 1954 reveal this phenomenal fact:

In total national volume, regardless of price class, Buick is outselling all cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

That's a tip too good to pass up.

That's the tip-off that Buick must have the hottest styling of the times and the sweetest performance of the year.

More important, that's the tip-off that Buick prices are well within the reach of more and more people—and that such prices buy a lot more automobile per dollar. So why not look into the tomorrow-styled Buick that puts you so far ahead today?

Come in, or phone us this week for a demonstration. Then you can judge for yourself that Buick really is the beautiful buy—by far.

Dagwood Strikes Out Eleven To Defeat Jaycees 21-7

Robert "Dagwood" Conley pitched the Smith-Badger boys baseball team to a 21-7 victory Monday night, striking out 11 of the 12 outs in his 4 innings of relief work on the mound.

97 cars bringing approximately 400 people came to see the battle for first place in the Littlefield Little League baseball.

"Dagwood" came in for left-handed Robert Moore in the last of the third to pitch four almost perfect innings. The little ace right-hander struck out the only three men who faced him in the third inning. He struck out two batters, though Larry Cox and Tommy Davis reached bases on errors and Max Ball walked in the fourth inning. The third out in this inning came by a force at home plate. It was the only put out that wasn't a "Dagwood" strike out victim.

In the fifth the modest little Negro struck out the first three up again. In the sixth he made another strike out, walked Don Whitson and Jerry Connell, who came home on errors, then fanned the next two pinch hitters for a total of 11 strike outs in just 4 innings of pitching.

Whitson and Connell scored the only runs on "Dagwood". In the last of the sixth fearless little Don stole third and the colored twin, Rudolph Smith, over-threw first base trying to catch Connell off base.

Jerry gave the crowd some thrills with his charming personality running the base paths. He was so thrilled with returning to first safely that he hugged the base throwing that million-dollar grin at the roaring crowd. The ball had rolled past the right fielder and the crowd screamed, "Run! Run!" repeatedly. Finally the base coach got the lad to run.

The crowd could tell that Jerry had a chance to reach home plate before the fielder could retrieve the ball. But Jerry was happy with another base and froze to the bag, not knowing where the ball was, nor seeming to care.

He just gladdened himself to second base, giving the maddened crowd his cute little grin. Then when it dawned upon the lad where the ball was rolling he streaked for home and had to dive for the plate. He made it safely with a "Whitey Lookman" slide.

The next two Jaycees pinch hitters went down victims of the "Dagwood" control as strikeouts. Robert Moore started the game on the mound for the Smith-Badger boys but couldn't find the plate. He walked six Jaycees, allowing three runs, before striking out the side in the first inning. In the second he walked only two, hitting another batter and giving up a two-base hit to Bill Mote, who got the only hit of the night for the Jaycees. Incidentally, Robert struck out two men in this inning before being relieved by "Dagwood".

16 of the 18 Jaycees' outs went the strike out route, and in the field they committed 16 errors, mostly over-throwing bases.

The Smith-Badger boys collected 17 hits for the night. Maurice Powell led the parade with five hits in five trips to the plate. Two of his hits turned into homers from the errors in outfield.

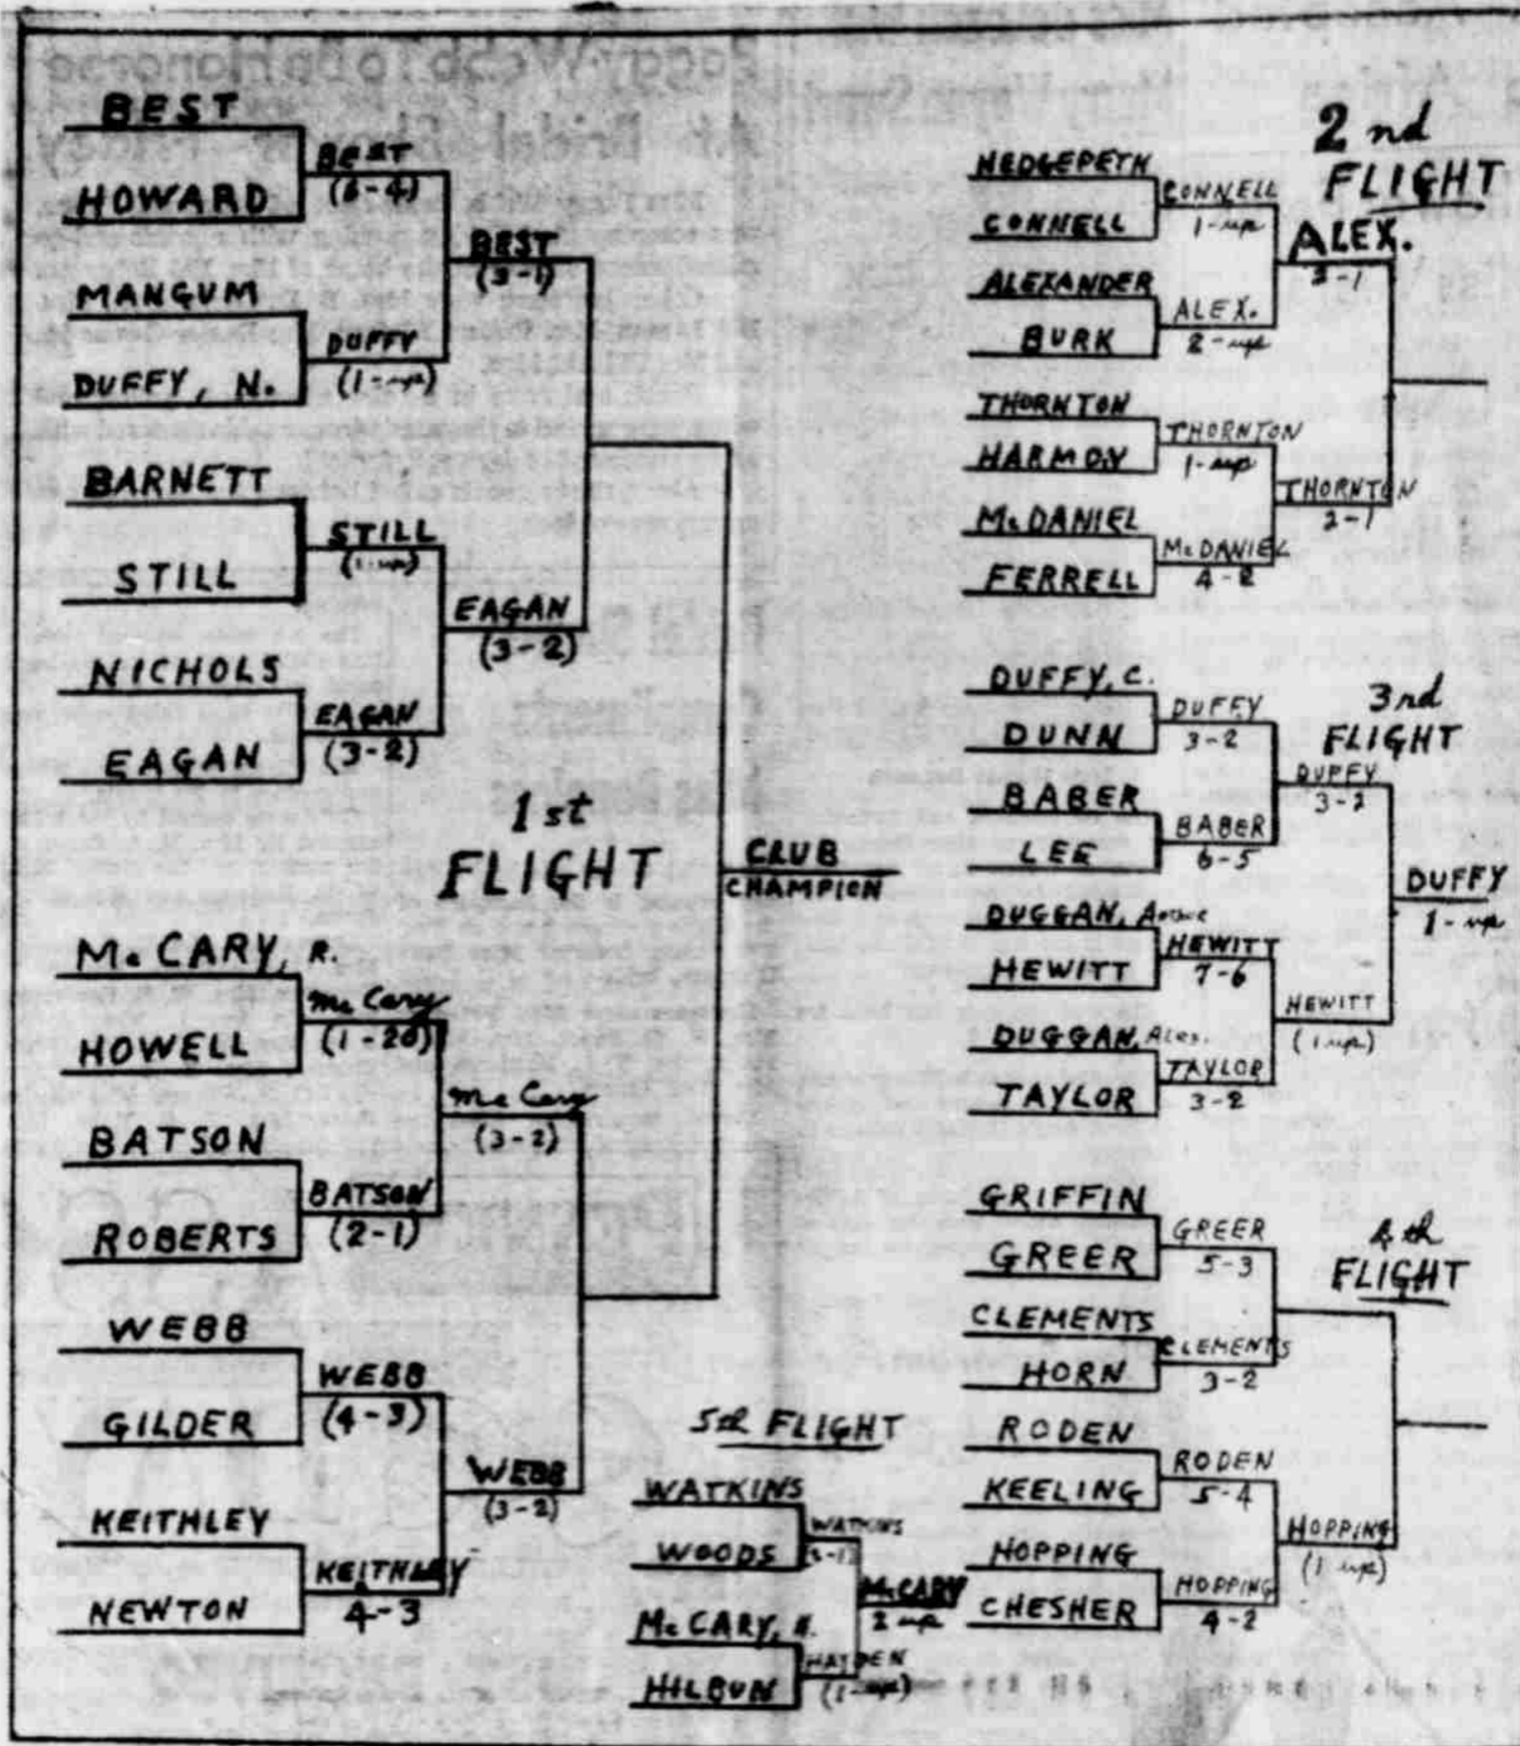

Tiny Johnny Schenck started on the mound for the Jaycees and showed his usual curves and control in the first inning. The long second frame caused by errors tied the little man. He pitched to ten men in the second and nine in the third.

strong looking 12 year old from Amherst who last week modestly admitted he could pitch a little. Coach Bill Fore called in a it was Durwood "Lefty" Mayberry, who proved to be one of the top pitchers of the league.

"Lefty" struck out 8 men in his only 3 hits and 2 walks as his teammates' errors let in 9 runs. Finding Mayberry to go along with Schenck promises Coach Fore a strong contender with his Jaycees, providing he can slow down the errors and get his lads to hit.

The film, recently released, was produced in England by J. Arthur Rank. Pearce said no charge will be made to see the film. Showing of the film is being sponsored by the Methodist church.
