Area Growers Oppose Cooley Bill

"Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. strongly opposes provisions of the new Cooley cotton proposal which call for direct payments to producers and 14 million acre minimum national allotment."

This was the substance of a telegram sent to Representatives and Senators in Washington by PCG. The wire pointed out to officials that a "two million acre cut in acreage together with recent price reductions and rising costs would be disastrous to growers." The new proposal was made in a bill introduced in the House of Representatives May 13 by Chairman Harold Cooley of the House Committee on Agriculture. Representative Cooley called his measure "A bill to extend for two years the provisions for cotton equalization payments and domestic acreage allotments with modifications . . ."

The same day that Cooley's bill was being dropped into the Washington hopper directors of Plains Cotton Growers were adopting a nine-point legislative policy almost at the opposite pole. Both Cooley and PCG agree that cotton should have a competitive price to both foreign and domestic mills. But here the agreement ends.

Cooley advocates in his bill that payments be made directly to producers. Point number one of the PCG policy states that the Plains producer organization will support a cotton program which "maintains the traditional concept of producer income protection through a non-recourse loan at or near the U.S. producer's income level of percent of parity." Also, point number three states that cotton should be made competitive in domestic and foreign markets through a trade-incentive payment "in the channels of trade to other than the producer."

The first "modification" as set forth in the Cooley proposal would reduce the national minimum acreage allotment from 16 to 14 million acres -- just over a 12 percent cut. Point number two of the PCG program states flatly that producers on the Plains support a program that "maintains the 16 million acre base national allotment." By the same token, PCG opposes any program which does not maintain the current allotment.

In addition to setting up the machinery for direct compensatory payments to producers the bill also states that " . . . if the Secretary is unable because of lack of funds or for other reasons to provide the levels of combined support authorized under this section for any crop of upland cotton, price support loans shall be made available for such crop at such level not more than 90 percent nor less than 65 percent of the parity price therefor." And in an explanatory news release from the House comes this statement: "Under the bill introduced today a farmer could have the choice of selling his cotton at the world market price and accepting the equalization payment or placing his cotton under loan at the current price support level."

According to Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, this is an obvious attempt to ally producer opposition to direct payments stemming from a fear of inadequate appropriations. Johnson said the legislative principles adopted by the PCG Board were guidelines under which this or any other cotton proposal will be considered. He continued that: "Unless and until further action is taken by the Board, we will be obliged to actively oppose any proposed legislation which violates any of the nine points set forth."

The Cooley proposal would authorize the Secretary to offer an additional support, up to 25 percent above the general price support, to small farmers and to larger farmers who agree to plant within their domestic allotments. In 1964, with a 16 million acre national allotment, a farmer's domestic allotment was considered 65 percent of his total, and additional support payments were limited to 15 percent above the general support. With a 14 million acre minimum, domestic allotments would likely figure between 70 and 75 percent of the total.

As is the case under the current program, all producers with 15 acres or less of cotton would be eligible for the additional support. However, the new bill calls for payments to be made to these small farmers

Soil Stewardship Week Observed

"Challenges of Growth" is the theme for Soil Stewardship Week being observed in Texas and throughout the Nation this week.

"The primary purpose of the Soil Stewardship Week," says Edward Mitchell, Chairman of the Lamb County Soil Conservation District "is to remind everyone -- urban and rural residents alike -- of his obligation unto God as a steward of the Soil."

"Everyone depends on the soil for most of his food and clothing, and much of the material used to build his home", Mitchell continued.

Mitchell explained that the local soil and water conservation districts sponsor the observance of Soil Stewardship Week in coordination with the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts. The Lamb County SCD has provided special booklets on soil stewardship to the ministers of the Districts.

The National Association has sponsored this observance since 1954. The idea was started 19 years ago when the publishers of Farm and Ranch Magazine inspired religious leaders in several southern states to set aside one Sunday each year to remind their congregations of their responsibility as stewards of the soil. The observance was later expanded to one week each year.

"Booklets and other materials for use by clergymen of all faiths during the week's observance are provided by the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts. In plans for the observance and in developing the material, the Association has the help of the National Lutheran Council; the National Catholic Rural Life Conference; the Southern Baptist Convention; and the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.", Mitchell said.

Go Ahead... Go Cadillac!

Before you buy any car at any price, consider a Cadillac first of all. New or previously owned, a Cadillac is the one way to be sure your investment will buy the most and last the longest.

Whatever you have budgeted for your next car, your Cadillac dealer has a Cadillac to fit your plans. Naturally, if your choice were unrestricted, you would prefer a new 1965 Cadillac like the Sedan de Ville in front. Next best would be a late-model, previously-owned Cadillac such as the black 1963 Sedan de Ville, above. A well-maintained, one-owner used Cadillac is actually the only real rival of a new Cadillac. Because of the popularity of the 1965 model, your authorized dealer is the one logical place to go for the best selection of fine used Cadillacs.
