HEART ATTACK FATAL TO M. E. BOLTON MONDAY

Last Rites Held Wednesday Afternoon With Burial Here

Maston E. Bolton, aged about 58, of six miles southwest of Littlefield, passed away suddenly as a result of a heart attack Monday morning, about 10:30 o'clock. Mr. Bolton was in the yard of a neighbor, Mr. Shugart about a mile from his home, to whom he was talking, when Mr. Shugart turned to say something to Mr. Bolton, and discovered he was sitting on the ground, and when he got to him, Mr. Bolton had passed away. Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist Church, Littlefield, at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Rev. L. L. Trost, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Levelland, officiating, assisted by Rev. Willis

More than 1000 Littlefield fans are expected to follow the Littlefield Wildcats to Slaton Friday night, October 8, when the 'Cats will meet a determined group of Tigers on the Slaton field.

The Littlefield team will not only be fighting for this year's honors, but against several years of keen rivalry between the two teams and against a team seeking to avenge the small margin defeat they suffered in championship playoff last year at the hands of the Littlefield boys. A special Santa Fe train is expected to carry 500 fans, leaving here at 6 p. m.

Teams About Equally Matched

According to available dope the teams are rather equally matched with a possible exception that the Wildcats may be slightly heavier in the line against a heavier Slaton backfield. Both teams have played Tahoka at Tahoka and earned victories of about equal margins. Slaton has the advantage of more lettermen than Littlefield and possibly a stronger reserve line up.

When the whole situation is totaled, it appears the game will be a toss-up going the way of the breaks.

This contest is considered one of Littlefield's hardest this season, and its outcome is likely to be a definite index to her chances at another district championship this year.

H. C. Pumphrey, local Santa Fe Agent, announced Tuesday that a special train had been scheduled for Friday night, October 8, to make the run to Slaton to carry the football boys, Pep squad, and football fans—to the game between Littlefield Wildcats and the Slaton Tigers.

Demonstrator

Mrs. Gladys Kimbrough, Food Preservation Specialist, will give a demonstration on canning, and the utilization of canned goods, at the Ritz Theatre Thursday, Oct. 14.

Assisting Mr. Pumphrey in the arrangements for this train was I. M. Robinson, Travelling Passenger Agent.

The train, which will be equipped with from six to ten cars, will leave Littlefield at 6 o'clock Friday evening, arriving at Slaton 7:15 o'clock. Immediately after the game the train will make the return trip, arriving here at about 11:30.

The charge for the return ticket is 80 cents.

Mr. Pumphrey began Tuesday afternoon selling tickets, and stated he believed the special train would carry around 500 to the game. It is estimated that at least 300 students will attend.

The Pep Squad is making arrangements to have a concession on the train, and sell sandwiches, cold cold drinks, peanuts, candies, etc. A Slaton delegation will meet the train and convey the visitors in cars to the ball park.

Arrangements for the train were made on the request of a delegation from Littlefield Schools, which attended the Santa Fe depot in a body, urging the special train.

As this is a night game, and one of the most important games of the season, let's all ride the Wildcat Special to Slaton and boost for Littlefield to win the game.

RETURN WITH PROOF OF A GOOD TIME AND PLENTY OF NICE FISH

Again two of Littlefield's most outstanding fishermen returned with the proof of a good time and plenty of fish.

C. C. Tremain and A. G. Hemphill, after being gone a week, returned to Littlefield Sunday, and report a good catch of fish during their favorite sport at Brownsville. They were also accompanied by Mrs. Tremain and Mrs. Hemphill, but these ladies leave all the glory to their esteemed husbands. Believe it or not—this time Mr. Tremain brought to the Leader office for inspection a large Red fish pounds. He reported that he and Mr. Hemphill caught 57 fish while gone, the largest number of which were speckled trout and Red fish.

FINAL INSTALMENT

SYNOPSIS: A card game is in session in Elmer Henderson's penthouse atop a New York skyscraper. The players are: Henderson, Police Inspector, Flaherty, Martin Frazier, Archie Doane, Max Michaelis, and his friend Williams, a stock-broker.

They are waiting for Stephen Fitzgerald. When he fails to appear, a telephone call brings the information that he is out with a girl. Fitzgerald and Henderson are both romantically interested in Lydia Lane, the famous actress, but Archie Doane reveals that she is engaged to marry him.

Doane leaves the party early when Fitzgerald fails to appear. A short time later he telephones Inspector Flaherty with the frantic news that he has found Fitzgerald and Miss Lane dead in Lydia Lane's penthouse apartment.

When Flaherty and the medical examiner reach the apartment, they find that Miss Lane is still alive. She is rushed to a hospital where blood transfusions and care promise to restore her.

All circumstantial evidence points to Archie Doane as the murderer, especially when the murder gun is found carefully planted in the chimney clean-out in the basement.

Miss Lane's French maid, Adele Marceau, has been overheard threatening to shoot Fitzgerald if he did not stop annoying her. The janitor reports that Mademoiselle Marceau works in a night club on her day off and that she had talked to him in the basement on the night of the murder.

Medical examination reveals that Lydia Lane had been given a hypodermic injection of a hypnotic drug before being shot, and that Fitzgerald's body also shows the mark of a hypodermic needle on his leg.

"Still, that was only a possibility. Unless I could connect Henderson with sufficient knowledge of drugs to warrant the assumption that he had administered something to Miss Lane which had caused unconsciousness, and something to Fitz, after the shooting, to keep the semblance of life in him for hours, with a bullet through his heart, I had nothing tangible to go on.

"After I left you gentlemen and had got Archie bedded down for the night I called up a private detective agency and had them station four men to watch this building and Henderson. I hoped that his suspicions would not be aroused before we were ready to act, and I did not want to plant a suspicion of him in your mind, Dan, until I had more information. That would have possibly been doing him a tremendous injustice, but I felt responsible if he should attempt flight.

"Then I telephoned to my friend Joe Everett, the lawyer in Pasadena of whom you heard me speak to Henderson last night, and I asked him to get a full report by wire at the earliest possible moment.

"Then I called two eminent medical men out of their comfortable beds, greatly to their disgust. One of them assured me that I was correct in my recollection of the efficacy of adrenalin in a case of gunshot wound in the heart; a strong hypodermic injection of it had been known to keep a man alive five hours. The other eminent medic told me that any one of several drugs, including hyoscin, could be administered hypodermically or by the mouth to produce a state bordering on hypnotism, in which the patient would be to all intents and purposes unconscious, but would suffer no permanent harm and have no recollection afterwards of what had occurred.

"I formed no conclusion then as to how or when a drug had been administered to Miss Lane, as we did not know then about the pin which, as she supposed, had punctured her leg. And it was only guess work that Fritz had been given a hypodermic of adrenalin.

"Adele Marceau's story about the pin, the medical examiner's report of finding the mark of the needle in Fitz's leg, the telephone company's report of no calls from that phone until Archie called you, Dan, all tended to confirm my suspicions. Then came this telegram from Joe Everett. I won't bother to read it all—it's unnecessary now—but he reports, in brief, that Elmer Henderson formerly practiced medicine there, specializing in diseases of women and particularly in the use of the so-called 'twilight sleep' in childbirth. He was convicted of criminal malpractice, served a year in prison, and his license to practice was revoked. Then he turned to electrical invention and produced a new method of recording sound on films.

"I knew, even before we heard Miss Lane's story in the hospital just now, that Henderson was the murderer. I felt that I had enough evidence on which to convict him. I am neither a policeman or a prosecutor, but there was no way to extricate my client, Archie Doane, from the suspicion, if not the direct accusation of murder, unless I could prove that some one else did this crime.

"I had hoped to confront Henderson here with the evidence I had accumulated and to see him arrested and punished for his deed, but he had forestalled us. He was keen enough to note the presence of my private detectives, too, and to guess what they meant. So he chose the gambler's way out. He had lost, and he paid.

"Am I right, Henderson?" The man across the table was sagging in his chair, his head drooping, as Michaelis finished. He roused himself and turned his face toward the lawyer. "Absolutely right in every detail," he said, in a voice which had lost its resonance and tone.

"May I ask one question, then?" Henderson nodded assent.

"Mere curiosity, but did you lure Fitz to Miss Lane's by the same device that later called Doane there?"

Again the nod of assent.

"You placed a pin in her dress in the taxi, to account to her for the prick of the hypodermic needle? You knew she would be unconscious within a few minutes after you had left her at her rooms? You returned to your own rooms and called Fitzgerald to her apartment with her filmed voice, over your own telephone? You then hurried back to Miss Lane's apartment, met Fitzgerald there, perhaps pretended that you, too, had received the same summons? And you shot him while he was about to call for medical help for the unconscious girl? And then you shot Miss Lane through the arm, to give color to the theory of an attempted double murder? Then you threw the gun down the chimney?"

The sagging head nodded again. "You planned it from the beginning, to lure Archie Doane to the apartment and let him be discovered there, with no other explanation of the crime than that he had done it. You wanted Lydia Lane yourself, and you thought to get your two rivals out of the way by having one executed for the murder of the other. You made sure that he had reached his rooms by ringing up and asking for a fictitious person."

The drooping figure across the table raised his head again.

"And a keener mind than mine frustrated a perfect crime," said Elmer Henderson, as his chin dropped on his chest and his body seemed to relax and slip downward.

"Say the omniscient mind of God, rather," said Max Michaelis, as the others eased the lifeless body to the floor just as the ambulance surgeon's ring sounded at the doorway. "But for the evidence of the snow—the evidence supplied from above which proved that Archie Doane could not have done it.

A perfect crime. Not a detail overlooked—except the snow.

"I was brought up, gentlemen, to believe in a just and avenging Deity. The events we have just witnessed confirm my belief that the hand of God does sometimes intervene to save the innocent and punish the guilty."

"The end of a game little crook," said Dan Flaherty, not without an inflection of pity in his voice, as the ambulance surgeon rose from his examination of what had been Elmer Henderson, and shook his head.

"If he had not suggested the chimney, we might never have looked there," said Martin Frazier.

"That would have made no difference to his plans," said Max Michaelis.

"Sooner or later the weapon would have been found. Meantime Archie would have been under suspicion, and the finding of the gun would have sent him to the chair—except for the snow."

He glanced at the two documents they had witnessed.

"Brief but complete," he said, as he passed one of them to Inspector

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

V-8s WIN FIRST FOUR PLACES IN GREAT ARGENTINIAN ROAD RACE

Mich., Oct. 4—Ford V-8s won the first four places in the Argentine Grand Automobile Race, the Ford Motor Company announced today, defeating 64 other cars in the strenuous 4279-mile race which is South American premier motoring event.

Lo Valvo, 30-year-old grain farmer, received an ovation from the crowd at the finish line in La Plata when he sped across in first place in his 1937 Ford V-8. Three other Ford V-8s flashed over the line in second, third and fourth place before a car of another make won the hard-fought contest.

Calvo averaged 53.130 miles per hour over mountains and plains, sand and mud, in covering the 4279 miles in 80 minutes and 21 seconds. His performance won him $6,000 offered by the Argentine Automobile Club and $3,000 offered by dealers.

Of the ten prizes for the time between control points in the race, a Ford V-8 carried away first honors for the entire race. Ricardo Risso clicked off 666 miles at an average of 72 1-2 miles an hour from the start of the race in Buenos Aires through Pergamino, San Nicolas, and Cordoba to the control point at Santa Fe. Numerous crowds watched various parts of the race, and newspaper accounts of it were followed eagerly by race enthusiasts in Argentina, Chile and Uruguay.

The Garbarino was the second winner, Eduardo Pedrazzini, dealer in San Nicolas, was third and Hector Suppici Sedes, of Cordoba, was fourth.

Feature of this year's race was the contestants, including the winner, drove closed to confess?" asked the inspector, as he turned toward the telephone to summon the medical examiner.

"I didn't until he held us at the door. I suspected then that he was administering poison to himself; I was sure of it when he mentioned the men I had posted around the building. It was the way a gambler like Henderson would take—the easiest way when the game was up."

4-H Clug Girls Profits From Garden

A profit of $102 was made by Jewell Gibson, garden cooperator for the Littlefield senior 4-H club this summer. In addition to the 100 feet of row space for each member of the family to be planted in vegetables other than green leafy or yellow ones, as a club goal, Jewell planted more and also vegetables other than the club work called for. Jewell with the help of her mother grew and sold in her community vegetables to bring in the large profit. Jewell canned vegetables for the family use for the winter as well.

Fill in Low Places in Yard

After the rains Miss Mavis Terrill has been filling in the low places in her yard. Miss Terrill has found that if this is done as it is needed the yard is in better condition at the end of the year. This is needed especially in yards where grass has not been set out the last year. Miss Terrill is the yard demonstrator for the Blue Bonnet Home Demonstration club.

Gives Shrubs to Club Women

Mrs. J. M. Whitfield, yard demonstrator of the Amherst Home Demonstration club, has rooted a large number of small coral berry shrubs by covering the lower branches with a little dirt. As soon as the branches were well rooted, the small plants were lifted in cool damp weather and given to some of the club members. Winter jasmine may be propagated the same way.

Protect Roses From Wind

A windbreak is necessary for growing roses successfully in Lamb county, Mrs. C. A. Thomas, Yard demonstrator for the Westbrook Home Demonstration club has discovered this year. As the rose garden is on the west side of the house it has been badly whipped by the winds. To overcome this Mrs. Thomas plans to set out tall shrubs such as privet or vitex to break the sweep of the wind. These shrubs grow rapidly and will make an attractive background for the roses as well as a windbreak.

Cans 225 Pounds Vegetables

Ina Merle Burton has canned 225 pounds of vegetables from her garden by herself for the winter use for her family. Ina Merle planned when she planted her garden to have enough vegetables other than leafy, green or yellow ones to serve each member of her family one-half cup serving of them each day. Most of the vegetables have been served fresh but she will store beets, turnips and onions for winter use. Ina Merle is the garden demonstrator for Spring Lake 4-H club.

Methodist School Officers Installed

Officers and teachers for the Methodist Church School for the year 1937-38 were installed by the pastor, Rev. Marvin B. Norwood last Sunday morning.

Superintendent Floyd Hemphill presented the group of workers to the congregation and they were addressed by the pastor, who preached on "The Price of Leadership." It was pointed out that the aim of the Church School was to lead each member to a knowledge of God's will and to a definite acceptance of Jesus Christ as personal Savior and Lord; to develop Christian character; and to train for joyous and effective service to the World. All workers made the following covenant:

Worker's Covenant

"I hereby pledge myself, God being my helper, to do all within my power to make real the avowed aim and purpose of my Church School.

I will try to live at all times so that in my public ministrations and in my private life I shall be able to manifest Jesus to the world. I will seek to lead those in my care to a definite acceptance of Jesus Christ as personal Savior and Lord; I will seek to aid in the development of Christian character that may be expressed in joyous and effective service, according to the Aim of my Church school.

"In helping in the realization of this purpose, I pledge myself to a diligent study of God's word and the program of my Church, so that I might intelligently and effectively discharge the responsibilities for which I have been chosen; to a faithful attendance upon the workers' meetings and the services of my church, and in all other ways possible for me, enter fully and wholeheartedly into the activities of my Church School."

LUTHERAN CHURCH

Emanuel Lutheran Congregation will hold its annual Mission-festival Sunday. The Rev. J. Birnbaum, of Vernon, Texas, who is the visitor of the Panhandle circuit of the Lutheran church, will deliver both addresses. The afternoon service will begin at 2:30 o'clock and will be held in the English language. Sunday School begins at 10 a. m. German services at 10:50 a. m. This is a day of inspiration and information on the chief work of the church to save souls, also called mission work. Several selections will be rendered by the choir. Many visitors are expected from neighboring Lutheran congregations. We also extend an invitation to our friends in town here to attend.

The young people of the congregation met last Wednesday for a social evening. The games were enjoyed by all present. The radio report of the executive committee of the zone was considered and a resolution passed to support a broadcast over Lubbock. Mr. Ed Zybura and Mr. Will Lorenz were appointed ushers for the coming month. A Halloween party is being planned for the meeting this month.

Monday night at 8 o'clock the whole congregation is requested to assemble at the church for a meeting with the visitor, the Rev. Birnbaum. This included also the young people and the ladies. Kindly be there at the time set. This meeting is important. The visitor will inspect the school on Monday morning.

Rev. Walter J. Luecke, Pastor.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:45. The theme for Sunday morning is "The Christian in God's Keeping." You place your broken health and the ill health of your loved ones in the hands of the best physician; you deposit your money in the hands of a sound and safe bank; where have you placed your soul which lives on for eternity? You are invited to study this timely subject with us next Sunday. Mr. Lon Smith is the faithful superintendent of the school.

The pastor will preach at both services Sunday the Lord willing. The morning sermon will be "Christ's Challenge to Sacrifice." The evening message will be, "The Lord Reigneth." Come and worship with us and we will do these us and we will do these good.

The B. T. U. has been announced to meet at 6:45 next Sunday. Please keep in mind this change of meeting and be on time. Mrs. Earl Hobbs is working faithfully to build the Baptist Training Union. Every member of our church needs to be in training. Too many professed Christians are doing too little for the Saviour who did His best for them.

We wonder how the nominal Christian is going to feel when death marshals him into the presence of God with few if any good works to his credit, no fruit because of no labor, no stars in his crown, no rewards because he failed to serve. We are sure he will then come to his right mind and cry out, "My God, My God, why did I fail thee?"

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING AT SUDAN

The Monthly Sunday School Conference will meet at Sudan, Sunday at 2:30 in the first meeting of the new associational year. The song service will be led by W. E. Heathman, devotional by Rev. E. H. Dickerson the new pastor at Sudan and the principal message will be by the new S. S. President, Rev. C. T. Jordan of Earth. It is hoped that every department in our Sunday School will be represented. Departmental conferences will be held for the benefit of the workers.

WILDCATS DEFEAT COWHANDS 57-0 IN FIRST HOME GAME OF SEASON

In their first home game for this season the Littlefield Wildcats claimed an overwhelming victory of 57 to 0 over the Lubbock Cowhands at Seely field last Friday night.

Coach Bill Sanders' boys played a fast but inconsistent game both in the air and on running plays. It was against a hard hitting crew of Cowhands that the Wildcats fought every minute for their win.

Although the score was indicative of weakness on the part of the Cowhands, it was not so in the game. More than once were the Littlefield boys stunned by the effective blocking and tackling of the Lubbock boys. On several occasions it appeared the tables would turn in favor of Lubbock only the determination and steady work of the Wildcats were responsible for their success; at no time did their opponents seem to lose their fight.

During the first quarter the Littlefield team earned fourteen points with line plunges and wide end runs. A forward pass earned 6 points and an extra point at the close of the 2nd period.

The second and 3rd periods netted 13 points with forward and 6 points when L. Burter intercepted a pass and ran to score. At the close of the period the local boys broke on three plays through the passes again paid 12 points locals in the closing period.

PHONE 72 — — — LITTLEFIELD

IS OUTSTANDING POET, CHICKEN RANCH OPERATOR, AS WELL AS EFFICIENT OFFICE ASSISTANT

Marvin Miller, besides being a poet of outstanding talent and a chicken ranch operator, is also a very efficient office assistant, at least this is claimed by C. J. Duggan, with whom Mr. Miller is employed in the Sadler building, where Mr. Duggan has established an office in connection with his oil and real estate business.

Mr. Miller was formerly of Abilene and arrived in Littlefield last week. He is a very interesting and unusual person.

In the summer of 1934 Mr. Miller was a victim of an automobile accident, and had his back bone fractured in two different places. He was placed in a plaster of paris cast, where he remained for 130 days. While in the cast Mr. Miller studied versification manuals and wrote poetry. His friends autographed the cast, which when cut away from him had 500 names written on it.

Doctors gave him up as a hopeless cripple, but by exercising a strict health program Miller has brought himself back to health. He said he had to learn to walk again after his accident, and that as soon as he could he went on long walks, also riding a bicycle. Another form of exercising he uses is running. At first he ran two blocks, and each time he would increase it, until now he does two miles each day. He also uses other forms of exercising his limbs.

He never uses a bed, but sleeps on a pallet on the floor, with no mattress, so as to keep his back straight.

He states he is nearly as well as ever, except that he has a small knot on his back, but hopes by exercising to get rid of it shortly.

Leading journals and newspapers of the United States have re-ognized his poetry and published it. A poem, "Mmle," written by Miller, appears in the September issue of Holland's magazine.

The first prize won by Miller was third place on the poem "Zuni's Secrets," in poetry contest sponsored by Texas high school press association at Belton in December, 1933. In April, 1935, he was awarded first in the Southwest Inter-Collegiate poetry meet sponsored by Trinity University Criercrafters, on the poem, "Alienage." In May, 1935, he won fourth place in National Scholastic contest on a group of poems. In May, 1936, he was awarded second place in the National Scholastic contest on a group of 12 poems, the prize money being $40.

In April, 1936, he won first place at the Texas high school poetry meet at Belton, and was awarded the John P. Sjolander cup.

Mr. Miller's poems have been read over KRBC, WFAA, WBAP, KFJZ, KTAT, and he has also won several newspaper contests. He was awarded a scholarship to the University of Colorado on some poems entered, and also won a scholarship to Hardin-Simmons University in 1936.

During the three years he has been writing poetry he has received splendid money compensation for his work.

A book of selected verses written by Miller, called "Bone Dust" is being published by a New York concern, and will be off the press soon.

Mr. Miller is the originator of "Milk Bucket Metronome," and in an interview with him Monday, he gave the following interpretation of his activities along this line:

"Every poet must inject a sense of rhythm in his poetry. To do this I go to the cow pen, milk bucket in hand, and seat myself by the cow. As I milk, the splashes of milk on the sides of the bucket interpret themselves to me as long and short (or heavy and light) beats. Say, for instance, that the milk from one teat strikes the side of the pail; that gives off a high-pitched 'ping.' On the other hand, the other stream of milk, hitting the bottom of the pail where there is a little milk, will give off a less musical ring. This last I call the heavy or long beat. By using a little variety in the jerking of the teats, I can create all kinds of rhythms . . . from iambic-pentameter to trochaic-trimeter.

"Little does the ruminating quadruped of the bovine species realize the important part she is playing in helping me write!

"After the milk is strained, I usually go to my desk and typewriter and hit off the poem-thought, I had in mind when I went to milk.

"This method is called the 'Milk Bucket Metronome.' A feature story, playing up this was sent out over the United States on the Associated Press wire last month."

One of Mr. Miller's latest poems is, "While I Stuff My Pipe," which reads as follows:

"While I Stuff My Pipe"
A feller can't fit th' feel o' th' earth
Till he pushes a plow-point into th' sod,
He can never know his own land's worth
Till his horny hands hold a crumbled clod.

My heart is bound to this barren soil,
An' I know a kinship with th' dust,
I'm a man among men who toil,
I love my fields as a farmer must.

But my team is ribby an' th' cattle lank;
Buzzards circle in a brassy sky,
Th' hot winds lick th' muddy tank
In a week or less it'll go bonc-dry.

It's a pipe-dream, maybe—we'll call it that,
But somehow, brother, I see th' day
When th' cattle that tote my brand

are fat,
An' my barns are crammed with grain an' hay.

Day in, day out (O' darn th' gnats!)
I'll knuckle th' sweat from a dirty brow,
I have a wife an' seven brats.

Take up th' slack, mules—go deep, plow!

Miss Bertha Laird of Clovis, Mrs. Cooper, sister of Mrs. Malone of Morton, and Mrs. Olan Cooper also of Morton, were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Malone the past week end.

Rides and attractions of the midway did almost as much as they did on children's day, Wednesday.
Several of the livestock exhibitors began loading out late in the afternoon. Most of them went to their homes, although several had planned to go to Abilene.
During the closing day a number of sales of high grade animals were made by exhibitors. There was a popular demand for the prize winning stock.
Machinery row was well patronized by farmers. Dealers said they had secured the best prospect list in the history of the show. More farmers visited the booths more were interested in buying and an unprecedented number of tentative sales were recorded.
The Boy Scout exhibit was a center of popularity for the event. Its attractive exhibits were commented on by visitors.
"The Bombing of Shanghai," a fireworks number given early in the week, was repeated by request. Coming at 11 o'clock it gave a brilliant finale to the evening's entertainment.
The horse races were among the most popular attractions of the week. Likewise, the vaudeville numbers as free attractions, came in for a big share of applause.

Ordinance No. 71

AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE, SUPERVISE, CONTROL AND LICENSE PERSONS, FIRMS AND CORPORATIONS ENGAGED IN THE BUSINESS OF SALE, BARTER AND EXCHANGE OF MOTOR VEHICLES WITHIN THE CORPORATE LIMITS OF THE CITY OF LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS; MAKING IT UNLAWFUL TO ENGAGE IN SUCH BUSINESS WITHOUT LICENSE; MAKING PROVISION FOR THE ISSUANCE OF LICENSE; AND FIXING A PENALTY FOR VIOLATION HEREOF.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS:

Sec. 1. That from and after date of publication hereof it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to engage primarily or incidentally in the sale, barter or exchange of motor vehicles within the corporate limits of the City of Littlefield, Texas, without first obtaining a license from the City Secretary of the City of Littlefield, Texas, authorizing such person, firm or corporation to engage in such business.

Sec. 2. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to engage primarily or incidentally in the business of sale, barter or exchange of motor vehicles within the corporate limits of the City of Littlefield, shall, before engaging in such business secure a license from the City Secretary of said city authorizing such person, firm or corporation to engage in such business. That the City Secretary shall, upon application of any person, firm or corporation for a license to engage in such business, and upon payment by the applicant of the license fee hereinafter provided and upon observance and compliance of this Ordinance by the applicant, issue to any such applicant, person, firm or corporation, a license authorizing such applicant to engage in the business of sale, barter or exchange of motor vehicles within the corporate limits of the City of Littlefield, Texas.

Sec. 3. For the purpose of regulating, supervising, controlling and licensing all persons, firms and corporations engaged in the business of sale, barter or exchange of motor vehicles within the corporate limits of the City of Littlefield, Texas, any such person, firm or corporation, desiring to engage in such business primarily or incidentally, shall pay in advance to the City Secretary of said city, an annual license fee in the amount of $2.50, which sum of money shall be used by the City of Littlefield, Texas, for the enforcement of this Ordinance and for the enforcement of all provisions of the law regulating the sale, theft or exchange of motor vehicles and for no other purpose.

Sec. 4. Upon application of any person, firm or corporation for a license herein provided and before the issuance thereof, the City Secretary shall require such applicant to post with him a cash bond in the amount of $500.00, which bond shall insure to the benefit of any person, firm or corporation that may thereafter suffer any loss or damage by reason of the acquisition by such person, firm or corporation by purchase, barter or exchange of any stolen motor vehicle, or of any mortgaged motor vehicle which might have been represented by any such licensee as being free and clear of mortgage, debt or incumbrance. Any such person, firm or corporation suffering any loss or damage by reason of the purchase or acquisition of any such stolen or mortgaged motor vehicle from such licensee shall have recourse as against such cash bond provided for herein for the payment of any loss or damage suffered by reason of any purchase or acquisition otherwise of a stolen or mortgaged vehicle to the extent of the bond herein provided. Provided further that if any recovery is had as against such licensee of any damages suffered as aforesaid, and such fund is exhausted or depleted, or any part or portion thereof is paid out by the City Secretary under an order or judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction authorizing and ordering the payment thereof, then in either of such events the licensee shall be required to immediately replace said fund and bond to the end that there shall be at all times the sum of $500.00 in the hands of the City Secretary of the City of Littlefield, Texas, for such licensee, subject to the payment of any loss or damage claims against such licensee as herein provided. In the event any licensee shall fail or refuse to replace said cash bond after written demand therefor by the City Secretary, the license theretofore issued authorizing such licensee to engage in such business shall thereupon immediately become revoked and cancelled without any further action being brought to revoke or cancel the same.

Sec. 5. If any person, firm or corporation that may hereafter be granted a license hereunder should fail for any reason whatsoever to carry on and continuously remain bona fide engaged in the business of sale, barter or exchange of motor vehicles for a period of at least one year from and after date of issuance of the license herein provided, such cessation or discontinuance of such business on the part of the licensee shall cause to be forfeited to the City of Littlefield, Texas, said cash bond in the amount of $500.00, or any part or portion thereof remaining on hand in the office of the City Secretary, which such fund or any balance thereof shall be used exclusively by the City of Littlefield, Texas, for the express purpose of paying off any established claim for loss or damage as provided in Section 4 hereof; and in the event no such claim or claims are made on said fund and if any balance thereof remains in the hands of the City Secretary of said City for a period of one year after the date of cessation or discontinuance of such business by the licensee, then any such fund or portion remaining on deposit with the City Secretary shall revert to and become the property of and be used by the City of Littlefield, Texas, in enforcing the provisions of this Ordinance and for the enforcement of all provisions of the law regulating the sale, theft or exchange of motor vehicles within the corporate limits of the City of Littlefield, Texas.

Sec. 6. Any person, firm or corporation that may hereafter engage in the business of sale, barter or exchange of motor vehicles within the corporate limits of the City of Littlefield, Texas, shall furnish and file with the City Secretary of said city a certified copy of any and all transfers issued such person, firm or corporation on any used or second-hand motor vehicles acquired outside the corporate limits of the City of Littlefield, Texas, and offered for sale, barter or exchange by such person, firm or corporation within the corporate limits of the City of Littlefield, Texas; which certified copies of such transfers shall be obtained by such person, firm or corporation from the tax collector of the county originally issuing such transfers, and the City Secretary shall be required to collect a fee of $2.00 for the filing of such certified copies.

Sec. 7. Any person, firm or corporation violating any section or provision hereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined not less than $1.00 nor more than $100.00 for each and every offense, and each and every day that this Ordinance is violated shall constitute a separate offense.

Sec. 8. In case any section, subdivision, paragraph, or sentence of this Ordinance is declared unconstitutional the validity of the remainder of this Ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

Sec. 9. The fact that the City of Littlefield, Texas, does not now have an Ordinance governing the regulation, supervision, control and licensing of persons, firms and corporations engaged in the business of sale, barter and exchange of motor vehicles creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the rule providing for an ordinance to be read on three separate readings be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended, and that this Ordinance shall have effect and be in force from and after passage and publication thereof and it is so enacted.

Passed and approved by unanimous vote of the City Commission of the City of Littlefield, Texas, in meeting duly assembled on this the 4th day of October, A. D. 1937, and the City Secretary is hereby ordered to have the same published as required by law.

DEVELOPMENT OF WEST TEXAS

The west Texas Chamber of Commerce Natural Resources Exhibit closed its second year with the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial and Fiesta Sunday, September 26. It is estimated that practically the entire attendance of the 1937 fiesta passed through the building. While attendance figures for 1937 are not yet available, it is estimated that with the 700,000 who saw it last year the total number seeing it during the two years will run well above the million and a quarter mark.

The exhibit has been unique in that, by picture, panel, cutout and statistical chart it covered the resource values and progress of an area twice as large as the New England States and permitted visitors to visualize the resources and development of the nation's richest and fastest growing empire. A valuable adjunct to the array of facts and figures was the West Texas Relief Map, which permitted interested visitors to check the facts against a gigantic picture of the area. Almost as valuable to the visitor was the West Texas Motion Picture Theater with its 40 town films verifying in motion the progress and development of West Texas.

Interest in the exhibit was heightened this year by the addition of six collections of relics from West Texas state schools, depicting the development of West Texas over a half a century. The exhibit was unique in that it was the only exhibit in all of the Centennial celebrations that portrayed the resources and development of the West Texas territory.

That the exhibit has far exceeded the expectations of the organization and participating towns during the two year period is evidenced by the number of inquiries received by it and the towns throughout the area. These inquiries come from throughout the nation.

One of the most concrete examples of the value of the exhibit comes from William A. Wilson, manager of the Olney Chamber of Commerce. He states that D. J. P. N. Gaymons, now living 21 miles northwest of Olney on a 2000 acres ranch, was on a world tour, came to New York on July 22, 1936 where he heard of the Centennial and came to see Texas. Here he met his wife, Miss Elizabeth Helen Cross of Greenville and on their honeymoon visited the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Exhibit in Fort Worth where they saw the Olney colored moving pictures. He went there, purchased the ranch and began improvements far in excess of $30,000 cash. Prior to this time, Mr. Gaymons had been a stock farmer in South Africa, near the Northern Transvaal for 14 years and before this had resided in Holland.

Future plans for the exhibit will be discussed at an early meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce executive board, at which time a full report of its operation will be given them. It is assured, however, that the exhibit will be held intact and factual matter on it brought up to date each year and the entire showing kept interesting for exhibit purposes.

Casing to Be Set At 2100 Feet at George Etz Test

It is reported that a 14 inch casing will be set at 2100 feet at the George Etz well in Southern Bailey county, about 12 miles north of Morton.

This is said to be the largest bore ever put down in this section of the state. From this start, should the promoters so elect, they can, by graduated reductions, descend to a depth of 7,000 feet. Evidently, a deep test is to be attempted unless production should develop at the usual depth of other wells in this section of country.

There is a well founded belief, it is said, among geologists and oil men that an oil pool probably lies below the sulphur bed underlying this plateau. Probably this test will show

To keep your engine running smoothly, the oil you use must really do a job! Must cling to metal like the paper on the wall. Must supply a friction-fighting film that is tougher than tough.

That's where Phillips 66 Motor Oil comes in. It has high-degree oiliness. Its heat-resistant film does not thin out or squeeze out. It stays put in the bearings and on all moving surfaces. Stands up amazingly. Lasts longer. Holds your oil level high. All because it is specially refined from a costlier 100% paraffin base crude.

Next time, drain and refill with Phillips 66 Motor Oil. It's concentrated... This year's big value in car lubrication. Look for the Orange and Black 66 Shield.

A. C. Tremain Coaxes Rattler Into Tool Box

Fish stories are numerous—but snake stories—well, they only drift in once in a while.

A. C. Tremain, Tuesday afternoon, when coming back from delivering a tractor in the vicinity of Bull Lake, came across three Rattle snakes in the middle of the road. He killed two that were about three feet long, and a third one—which was four feet in length and had nine rattlers—he caught in his tool box, bringing it in confinement to Littlefield.

Mr. Tremain drove by the Leader office, and after inviting members of the newspaper staff to listen in at the rattling—unraveled the story of how he persuaded the snake into the tool box.

Mr. Tremain stated he was going to ship the reptile to the City Park, Toledo, Ohio, from which he expects to receive proper remuneration for his trouble.

New Cotton—

"The objective of the modifications," the corporation announced, "is to afford uniform protection to all producers throughout the belt and to enable them to market their cotton in an orderly manner."

Congressman George Mahon, who with Representative Marvin Jones Amarillo, led the campaign for a system of loans on cotton classified below the standards set out in the federal loan program, said Monday from Colorado he thought the move would be a "great break" for West Texas.

Both Mahon and Jones had recommended to the Commodity Credit Corporation and to the Department of Agriculture that loans be made on cotton of lower grades and shorter staple than those re-program. It is predicted that ninety percent of cotton on the South Plains picked before the first killing frost will go through the government loans for low grade cotton.

Urge Progress—

on south side roads. I don't see why we cannot get hold of that money and use it for grading and otherwise improving the road across the sandhills. If we can work it anyway to get that $35,000 to use on this road, and get it graded and drained, that would be the proper thing. If that cannot be done, let us get a bond issue to build 51 from County line to County line. We have been fooling with this for 3 years and haven't got anywhere yet. If we can get this road built and hard surfaced across Lamb County, the State will take it over and maintain it. When the time comes they will take over the bonds and pay them."

County Judge L. R. Crockett

then took the floor and spoke on the organization of the County Planning Board, that it was the object of the County Commission to work in harmony with the Chamber of Commerce in any project that was for the benefit of Lamb county.

Judge Crockett reported on a previous trip to Austin with Judge Allison of Levelland in the interest of building No. 51, following which he stated the $35,000 had been set aside to improve the road from the Hockley county line to Littlefield.

Judge Crockett said that when at Austin in September that Highway Commissioner Hinds told him to tell Garrett to set up a N. R. W. R. project across the sandhills. This Judge Crockett did, and reports that Mr. Garrett stated he would set the project up, and present it to WPA and that it should be approved in the near future from Herrings Gin north to Spring Lake.

Judge Crockett added that Commissioners Vann and Bryant had already agreed from now on to transfer all their men to the highway department when needed in order to build Highway No. 51, stating that this would relieve the Commission of sponsoring the projects and carrying them on with their precinct funds, and give them more money to build roads in their precincts. He said that the road project from Littlefield to the Hockley County line would not start until after Jan. 1, but work on the section from Herrings Gin to Spring Lake is expected to begin this fall.

He also mentioned the project now under construction from Spring Lake to Castro County line, stating that this will complete the road to a point to where the State Highway Department will take it over and maintain it.

He predicted that Highway No. 51 would be built within one year to where the State Highway Department would take it over and maintain it.

Plans are underway to print a rural directory after January under the direction of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, according to Secretary-Manager Burgess, Supt. of Schools, F. O. Boles reported on the Wildcat vs. football game at Slaton last night, stating a special train carry the squad and fans.

Mr. Burgess thanked the Association, those in charge of exhibits and farmers and others cooperated to make the affair successful.

He also announced a Christmas Jubilee for about Dec. 11, at time there would be a parade, school band would furnish music and Santa Claus would be present to visit the stores.

A meeting of the Highway Association at Brownfield was announced for Thursday at 11 a. m. when representatives from the Grande up to Dalhart would present.

It was suggested at the meeting that everything possible be done to secure a cotton classer who can be stationed at the local com-
