WATERED ACRES GOOD, BUT

Dryland Cotton Needs Rain--Now!

July's continued hot, dry days are carrying a good thing too far for Lamb area cotton farmers who are experiencing more concern daily for the 1964 crop, particularly in dryland areas.

The cotton picture, generally, probably is as good as for the same period last year when the crop was late and growers were sweating out a late frost, that fortunately did come late.

In some areas of the county, largely in the north section and around Spade and Fieldton, the 1964 crop is looking good and growing strong, probably better than a year ago.

But in the dryland area, generally south of the Santa Fe line through the county, the 40,000 to 45,000 acres in dryland cotton are suffering from lack of moisture.

A big rain, right now, is much needed. If it does not come by early August the situation will be critical, cotton observers say. With a good rain the production could not meet last year's good dryland crop, they say.

Farmers have a partial out in the new cotton law and have until August 15 to decide whether they want to take it. The weather probably will make this decision for them. It is whether to cut acreage back to 67 percent of allotment and boost the price for cotton they do produce.

At this point, cotton around Olton, Springlake, up from Sudan, around Fieldton and Spade is probably ahead in prospects from this time last year, cotton people say. Earth, which experienced some washouts and late replanting, is a little late but with good prospects.

The line divides pretty well between irrigated and dryland, a reversal of last year. Irrigated cotton has a bright outlook for 1964, where last year it ran late and required a late frost for maturity.

Dryland farmers, who had a booming 1963, are on the edge of trouble at this moment for the upcoming crop. "A good 3-inch rain would make a world of difference," one agricultural man explained.

Lamb county produced 172,000 bales of 1963 cotton, by latest counts, off some $55,000 bales from the year before, but this was chargeable in large extent to a drop in acres.

This year the acres are up—to around 198,000 it appears now—and tentative estimates are for probably 170,000 bales. "You can vary this up or down, depending on the weather the next few weeks," the explanation goes.

The "out" that farmers have

36 Called for County Court Jury Session

A 36-member jury panel has been called for a term of county court next week by County Judge J. B. Davis.

Three civil cases are on the docket that will open on Monday, July 27. Some jury criminal cases may also be scheduled, the judge said.

The three civil suits are Christine Sims versus W. P. Holland, Jr., auto accident damages; Elvin Berry vs. A. J. Gliven, damages; Granville Pellham vs. S. H. Chaney, damages.

The jury call list includes: Royce Bearden, Olton; O. B. Whitford, Earth; Willis Hedges, Amherst; Wilton Bodkin, Olton; C. O. Bibby, Olton; Arnold B. Carter, Amherst; Leo Ross Bryant, Olton; Ernest Baker, Springlake.

Radney Nichols, Sudan; H. B. Carson, Jr., Olton; John Bridges, Hart; Calton E. Moore, Sudan; Carroll Cox, Olton; K. B. Parish, Springlake; Kenneth Noles, Amherst; Mrs. R. R. Daniel, Olton; Dennis Barnett, Olton; Troy Gilliland, Amherst.

is that they can cut back their cotton acres to the domestic allotment plan, that is to 67 percent of their farm's effective allotment.

The farmer who is within his domestic allotment will be eligible for a price support loan based on 30 cents a pound, middle 1-inch at average location, plus 3.5 cents a pound times the normal yield times the planted acreage not in excess of the domestic allotment.

This bonus, which is still new enough that many producers do not understand its operation, will help some. Farmers have

Lutherans Dedicate 100 Year Old Bell

Littlefield residents may have heard a sound Sunday, not heard in Littlefield for many years, that of the tolling of a church bell.

Emmanuel Lutheran Church recently completed the installation of a bell which is over 100 years old, and dedication services were held Sunday afternoon.

Vacancy pastor, Rev. Harold Kaestner, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church in Lubbock, held the services.

If the bell could tell a story of its history, it would have many interesting things to relate: of its being made in Switzerland in the year 1847 especially for a Lutheran church, of its serving St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Serbin, Tex. for many years, until that church was torn down and the bell was then moved to Greens Creek.

Herman Lorenz, father of Ernest Lorenz of Anton, moved the bell from Serbin to Greens Creek, near Giddings, in a wagon. It called people to worship there for about 48 years.

The bell then found its way to Littlefield last fall when Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hobratsch and their sons, V. J. and Clarence Hobratsch, moved it from Greens Creek. Mr. Hobratsch's brother-in-law, Johnny Wolf, was visiting here and seemed to think it was unusual that Emmanuel Lutheran did not have a church bell. He told the Hobratschs about the bell. Later, Mr. Hobratsch bought the bell and brought it to Littlefield.

The 500 pound bell was installed this month beneath the steeple of Emmanuel Lutheran, where it will probably remain for many years, and continuing calling people to worship. It will be rung at the beginning of each service and three times during the Lords Prayer.

During the vacancy of a pastor, services are being held at 3:30 p.m. each Sunday. After the vacancy is filled, the time will be changed to 10:30 a.m.

Wicker on Board at ACC

ABILENE, TEXAS—E. J. Wicker of Littlefield has been named to the National Development Council of Abilene Christian College.

Appointed to the council by the college's Board of Trustees, Wicker will serve on the South Plains Region committee of the council. He is also a member of the Board of Trustees of Abilene Christian College.

The National Development Council will guide ACC's Design for Development program, a multi-million dollar expansion in academic, endowment and physical fields. Wicker is an ex-student of the college, and his oldest son, Thomas J., is a senior student now.

1st Year Pupils Need Polio Shot

First grade students in the Littlefield schools will have an additional immunization requirement—against polio—as a registration requirement for the fall term, explains Paul I. Jones, primary school principal.

Previously, immunizations for diphtheria and smallpox have been required. The new requirement is for at least the first polio shot, with a record from a doctor.

First-year students can register now for school, if they have not already done so, or can register at a regular session for this on August 20, Jones says. Parents are asked to bring students birth certificates and health records for registration.

Scout Patrol High in Competition at Jamboree

6-member Scout patrol Littlefield Wednesday had their way up to the 12-finals in Campcraft competition at the national Scout jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa. do this, the patrol had passed through sectional area competition among seven thousand patrols at the jamboree up to the field of 12.

Competition is in a bow saw, wood chopping, relay firing and a tent peg relay. Teamwork form the key to competition.

Littlefield patrol has David Bawcom as leader, with members Mike Oliver, Mackum, Mike Lumsden, John Hill, and Joe Hillman.

Littlefield patrol originally was selected to represent the 60th district of the South Plains council. It took the name "No Name Patrol."

Each section of some 40 patrols picked 12 patrols to compete in area contests, through the "No Name Patrol"

Highway Patrol investigated 14 rural traffic accidents in Lamb County during the month of June, according to Sergeant Lawson, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for two deaths, two injuries, and an estimated property damage of $20,000.

The rural traffic accident tally in Lamb County for the six months of 1964 shows a total of 62 crashes resulting in six persons killed, 21 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $59,875.00.

As of July 3, there had been a total of 1,060 fatal crashes in Texas taking the lives of 1,288 persons," the Sergeant stated. "This is 174 more traffic deaths for the same period of 1963. Traffic deaths continue at the same rate, 1964 will become the most deadly year in Texas history for traffic fatalities, not exceeding the 1963 all time record of 2,729 deaths but going toward the 3,000 fatality mark.

Check Shows 12 Added to C-C
A check Tuesday morning showed that twelve members had been added to the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce during the current membership campaign.

Committee chairman, Char Duval, expressed his pleasure at the way the drive had been handled, and commended the committee for the work that had been done. The current drive is scheduled to last until July 29, when final report is to be made. Duval said that even though the campaign is to end the 29th, the quest for new members will be continued until all prospects have been contacted. The goal is for 40 new members in 1964.

Those adding their names to the membership rolls since the drive got underway last week are: J. B. Davis, Douglas Engineering, Manor Flying Service, M. Smith, Buster's Grocery, Ann's Friendly Food, Edwin Hall, Jack Wattenbarger, McCall's Jewelry, Hutchins Building Supply, Littlefield Beauty Salon, and Hazel's Beauty Shop.

moved to the field of 12. Wednesday's competition was to determine the national winners in order. David Bawcom called home Tuesday to report progress to that time to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D.W. Bawcom.

Three major contests are being held at the jamboree of 52,000 Scouts from over the world. These are in Campcraft, personal fitness and pioneering.

The patrol is being coached in competitive skills by Tom Hillman, Littlefield Scoutmaster who is leader for Troop 60 from the George White district.

Canadian Scouts who are neighboring with the South Plains group have been coaching the Littlefield patrol in wood chopping, a big help to the plains competitors.

The competition was a high point of the 10-day encampment at historic Valley Forge. On last Saturday, American Heritage day, Hillman received a 13-starred flag for his troop which raised the flag in a colorful 7 a.m. ceremony.

During the day Scouts from Littlefield and the South Plains hiked the trails of Valley Forge and heard much about the winter that George Washington spent there in 1777-78. A meeting of more than 2,000 jamboree leaders was sponsored by 16 service clubs near Valley Forge and was attended by Tom Hillman and his assistant Scoutmasters for Troop 60, Lewis Owens of Levelland and Owen Jones, Muleshoe.

The Heritage Day program was a highlight of the jamboree and laid particular stress on responsible patriotism in keeping with the 1964 program theme of the Boy Scouts of America, "Strengthen America's Heritage."

Alcoholics Anonymous members from a wide area will hold a round robin meeting in Littlefield Sunday, and you're invited. One purpose of these get-togethers is to acquaint the public more widely with AA and its work.

For somewhere out in the public there are people who need AA, as its present members once needed AA very much.

Behind the dedicated efforts of Alcoholics Anonymous is a human story that has been told well on a national scale several times. There are greater human stories in local organizations—there are more than 8,700 of them—but most of them will not or need not be known. Much of the effectiveness of AA is in maintaining the identities of its members at a sensitive and crucial time.

It is important, however, that the public generally understand AA, to facilitate its work and to extend its helping hand even further to people in need through alcoholism.

Alcoholics Anonymous began when two persons first shared the experience of fight against alcoholism, drew strength and hope from each other—and then went out to help yet another alcoholic who still suffered.

This was in 1935. A New York broker who once had been pronounced a hopeless alcoholic had willed his way to recovery, and for six months had not touched a drop of liquor.

Alcoholics Anonymous began when two persons first shared the experience of fight against alcoholism, drew strength and hope from each other—and then went out to help yet another alcoholic who still suffered.

This was in 1935. A New York broker who once had been pronounced a hopeless alcoholic had willed his way to recovery, and for six months had not touched a drop of liquor.

Then, when in Akron, Ohio, on an important business deal that had gone bad, he found himself desperately craving a drink, alone and depressed.

From his recovery period, however, he had learned one thing: alcoholism is not often beaten alone, or with lecturing or crusading. He had tried for months without success to lecture his drinking friends off the bottle.

What an alcoholic needs, the broker decided, was another alcoholic who understood, in a way that others could not, the problems of alcoholism. He got on the telephone and started searching desperately. This led to a meeting with the late Dr. Bob S., a physician who had virtually destroyed his practice and reputation because of alcohol.

With this help the broker, Bill W., passed the crisis. The AA system evolved, the simple fact that an alcoholic who could not stay sober alone can do so when he draws help from another alcoholic and gives help in turn.

It is not as simple as it sounds. Human drama surrounds the recovery of each victim of alcoholism, which is an illness, an almost incurable illness. It goes beyond the power of drugs, of most professional skill. To cure alcoholism, a vital of the spirit of a cured alcoholic must be transfused to the sick man. The serum for alcoholism is the human spirit.

Time and time again the treatment falters and must be begun again. Often it fails entirely, because it fights a vicious disease. A testimony to its success are the 8,700 working AA clubs in 82 countries and their hundreds of thousands of members who give of themselves unselfishly to bring another back to health. Then they remain together to work in a common cause that the uninitiated cannot really understand; and they grow in spirit.

They also remain anonymous. You see members referred to in print as Bill W. or John N., not by their full names. It also serves their purpose to speak out publicly frequently, for this is the most effective way that persons who need AA can be reached. The continuing purpose of AA, the source of its strength, is the need and desire to share their recovery.

Self righteousness is carefully avoided in AA. Nothing is mandatory, and the recovery program is simply a suggested one. This volunteer system has worked wonders. There are yet millions of alcoholics in the United States today, in places low and high. These are the goals of AA . . . where there is help when it is wanted.

RECREATION SWEETENS OUTLOOK:

Running Water Project Advances

A Plainview meeting Wednesday moved the Running Water draw project another peg ahead by staking out what six counties that lie along the draw may expect from utilization of water that periodically flows down the long drainage valley in volume from a slow stream to a roaring torrent.

County Judge J. B. Davis and Paul Larsen, Lamb county Soil Conservation Service and Olton Chamber of Commerce representatives attended the Plainview meeting.

It was one of a series of gatherings that have advanced the Running Water project from an idea to a point where serious engineering studies are in prospect.

A primary purpose was to discuss multi-purpose possibilities for 10 to 12 dams that will be built along the draw, to impound runoff from its watershed and, at the same time, limit flooding and washing.

Running Water draw is a giant sloping gully that roams through Hale, Swisher, Lamb, Castro and Parmer counties in Texas and back up into Curry county in New Mexico.

several years back, damages up to $1-million were estimated to Plainview from one rampage of the draw.

Lamb county is the least touched by the gully. It slices across the northeast corner of the county above Olton and one of the 10 to 12 lakes planned for the draw is mapped for a few miles above Olton in Lamb county.

Lamb county commissioners agreed a year ago that the draw was important enough to justify their participation in planning costs, with the other counties concerned.

Records of the draw's wreckage support a good cost-benefit ratio for federal participation in construction of the large retention dams along it. The SCS has taken the lead in promoting the project.

However, the multi-purpose use of the dams—for recreation or, even possibly, irrigation—would provide a stronger base for financing. The project could be largely underwritten by the federal government under Public Law 566, legislation dealing with upper watershed protection and flood prevention.

Sandra Wheeler Weds Don Bishop

AMHERST -- The First Methodist Church of Amherst was the setting Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. for the marriage of Sandra Harmon Wheeler, Amherst, to Donald Allen Bishop, of Ponca City, Okla.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.S. Harmon, Amherst. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bishop, Ponca City.

Performing the double ring ceremony at an altar banked with white gladioli was the Rev. Everett McGregor. Tall white tapers were at either side of the altar cross. Mrs. Leslie McBride of Cuero played traditional wedding music at the organ.

The bride was attired in a street length gown of old rose lace. Its long tapered sleeves were ornamental with tiny self-covered buttons. At the Peter Pan collar, the bride wore an heirloom gold brooch which belonged to her maternal grandmother. Her paternal grandmother's alecon lace handkerchief provided another antique touch. The bride's headdress was a pillbox hat of matching rose lace. Her bouquet combined white carnations with trailing stephanotis and white satin streamers.

Attending her as matron of honor was the bride's cousin, Mrs. Gareth B. Muchmore of Ponca City. Mrs. Muchmore's gown was pearl blue voile, accented by white silk organza collar and cuffs, and a pearl blue Dior bow headdress. She carried a nosegay fashioned in miniature of the bridal bouquet.

Jerome Simpson of Edmond, Okla. served as best man. Ushering guests to their pews were Joe Meryl Harmon and W.T. Weaver, Jr., Amherst, cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Harmon, mother of the bride, chose a bone silk dress for her daughter's wedding. It was styled with a bow at the throat and elbow length sleeves. Her matching accessories were offset by a rose hat and a rose corsage.

The bridegroom's mother had selected pink linen for the ceremony. She wore harmonizing accessories and a white corsage.

A reception for the bridal party was held in the church fellowship hall immediately following the ceremony. Arrangements were in the hands of Misses. George Harmon, Sam Harmon, Vernon Stagner and Jack Durham, aunts of the bride. Mrs. Harvey Patterson presided at the guest book when Mrs. Charles Hinds served punch and Mrs. Alvin Messamore sliced the cake.

The bouquets of the bride and the matron of honor were used with a triple branched candleabra as a table centerpiece. The cloth was blue taffeta covered with white lace.

When Mr. and Mrs. Bishop left for a wedding trip to Salt Lake City, San Francisco and other Pacific coast points of interest, the bride was wearing an aqua cotton dress with pleated skirt and embroidered bodice. Her accessories were bone and she wore the corsage from her bouquet.

After August 1, they will be at home at 2209 Mary Street in Ponca City. The bridegroom is in the Western Auto business there. He is also a member of the board of directors of the Ponca Playhouse. He graduated from Oklahoma State University in Stillwater.

Mrs. Bishop graduated from Amherst High School and attended Texas Tech College at Lubbock.

Out of town guests for their wedding included the bridegroom's parents, his brothers, Loyd and Glen A., Mr. and Mrs. Gareth B. Muchmore, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shames, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Heck and Mrs. J.V. Withey, all of Ponca City; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Davis of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie McBride of Cuero; Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Simpson of Edmond, Okla. and Mr. and Mrs. Van Oxford of Frederick, Okla.

Interesting seasoning: one good cook likes to sprinkle a pinch of powdered tarragon and cinnamon over eggs that are to be shirred; then she adds some heavy cream.

Mrs. Chisholm Shares Salad and Bread Recipes

Supplying recipes for the readers this week is Mrs. Hubert Chisholm of 1011 College Avenue. She shares her new recipe for "Apricot Nut Bread" and one for "Over-night Salad".

Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm moved here six years ago from Sudan and are natives of this area. Minyon is a beauty operator at Lavetta's Beauty Shop and has been one for seven years. She attended Jessie Lee's Hairdressers Institute in Lubbock. Chisholm is self-employed as a truck driver.

The Chisholms have three children, Mrs. Albert Lynch, Terri, and Dean, all of Lubbock; and four grandchildren, Randy, Pam, Denise, and Alan.

Minyon's favorite pastime is cooking and trying out new and different recipes. She says that the "Over-night Salad" is perfect when preparing ahead of time for Sunday dinner or a holiday meal since it must be refrigerated over-night.

Another hobby is, of course, trying out new hair styles and studying new trends. She also enjoys sewing and canning fruits and vegetables. When she has time, she likes to work in her yard. She spends much of her free time on the road to Lubbock to visit her children and grandchildren.

MR. AND MRS. FRED SEVIER

Long-time Residents Celebrate Anniversary

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Sevier will honor them in an open house July 26 to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. The affair will be held at their home at 812 N. from 2 p.m. until 6 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Sevier were married in the first church parsonage in Milford, in Ellis County, on July 26, 1914 with the Rev. H. C. Bass officiating. They moved to Lamb County in 1926 and to Littlefield in 1934. Sevier worked for an oil mill until 1945, then worked for the City until his retirement three years ago.

Seminary Student In D.C. Rights Vigil

A Littlefield seminary student, Emilio E. "Speedy" Abeyta, recently took part in a civil rights demonstration in Washington, D.C., manned by theological students from over 100 seminaries in the United States.

Abeyta was in Washington for seven days in the demonstration that he termed "the gentlest civil rights demonstration in the country."

The group, termed Theological Students for Civil Rights, maintained a vigil outside the Lincoln Memorial.

Purpose of the vigil, Abeyta emphasized, was "to convince the public that civil rights is primarily a religious and moral issue."

For 24 hours a day, seven days in the week, three theological students, men and women, stood across from the Lincoln Memorial "in prayer and silent meditation as a witness to our common effort to secure justice and equal rights for all our citizens . . ."

The vigil members represented Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths, the Littlefield seminary student said.

The long vigil started back in April and continued until Congress passed civil rights legislation. The group met varied reaction from passerbys at the Memorial, Abeyta said. Many ignored them, others pointedly looked the other way when passing the three demonstrators on vigil duty. One woman shouted "Communists" at them and a number shouted obscenities. A counter demonstration was mounted for a time nearby by members of the American Nazi party, Abeyta added.

But most people received them in a friendly manner and with firm expressions of support, the Littlefield man said. President Johnson commended the vigil effort in a letter.

Emilio E. Abeyta, 23, attended Littlefield high school and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Abeyta.

In 1956, as a high school sophomore, he transferred to Santa Fe, N.M., to a preparatory seminary for his studies for the Catholic priesthood. He is enrolled in the Pontifical College Josephinum in Worthington, Ohio, where he will return in the fall after a summer vacation with his parents.

NEW FAMILY FROM PLAINVIEW — Mr. and Mrs. Arlois Holtman and sons, Vaughn 7, and Herschel 17, moved to Littlefield from Plainview June 1. They are originally from Wellington. They presently reside at 613 E. 14th but a new home is under construction at 1300 W. 14th in Cannon Terrace into which they will move around the middle of September.

Arlois Holtman Are Newcomers

Featured newcomers this week are the Arlois Holtmans who moved to Littlefield June 1 from Plainview.

Arlois, his wife, and their sons, Herschel and Vaughn, presently reside at 613 E. 14th, but plan to "go west" about the middle of September when they will move into their new home, now under construction at 1300 W. 14th in the Cannon Terrace addition.

Holtman is the new manager of the Coca Cola plant here and has been with the company since the first of May although he has been in the soft drink business for 14 years.

Before living in Plainview just short of a year the Holtmans came from Wellington and their native area.

Arlois and the boys especially enjoy fishing and quail hunting but Mrs. Holtman declines an offer to go along. She enjoys being a homemaker, doing things for her family and keeping herd on her active sons.

When living in Wellington, Holtman was a member of the Masonic Lodge of which he was a Past Master and was also a Past Patron of the Wellington Order of Eastern Star.

The family belongs to the First Baptist Church in Wellington but plan to attend the First Baptist here and move their membership.

Vaughn, which is pronounced "energetic", loves fishing and learning to swim. He shares a birthday with his mother, 28 and is very excited to be 7.

Herschel, 17, will be a student at LHS this fall and to attend business college in the future. His favorite subjects are D.E. and history. His favorite sport is football. Right now he's an extreme happy because last week he came the proud owner of a 1963 Pontiac LeMans convertible.

The family says that they are proud to be a part of Littlefield; everyone is warmly welcome to this new family and prove once again the friendliness that is Littlefield.

cognized three years back by the Soil Conservation district along the draw joined together an application for assistance. No one district had enough damage to support feasibility, but together they made a case.

The application as filed framed takes in portions of six counties. In February 1962 a preliminary survey of the water shed was completed with a cost-to-benefits ratio report that was favorable.

It indicated that for every dollar spent on the project $1.50 would be returned in 50 years in flood control or accessory benefits. A strong case can be made with extensive multi-purpose uses.

The basic proposal is to flood control to halt damage in both rural and urban areas. In this case, the investigators felt that damage was about per cent each way, an ideal proportion by federal criteria.

Tentative plans are for the structures in New Mexico, in Farmer County, two in Castro, one in Lamb County and three in Hale County. It will about a $2 1/2 million project. Actual sites have not been seen.

The entire plan calls for 12 to twelve structures having maximum capacity each of 50 acre feet of water for flood control. (Example, a lake average mile in size with average depth of 8 ft.) These lakes would water during rains and it would be slowly drained down the within 20 to 30 days. Each structure would also have a sediment pool which would contain 200 acre feet of water full. These pools would be permanent and are expected to collect the sediment for fifty more years. These permanent pools would be excellent recreation lakes for fishing and limited water skiing.

For instance, a city might have large permanent lake for water or recreation. Such a purpose structure would have been enlarged at local expense as the easements would have to be obtained by the local government. However, Farmers Home Administration now has expanded loans available for purchase, structure enlargement, and development of shore facilities to include pool improvements, roads, etc. In most cases some percent of enlargement would also be borne by the Federal Government.

If the project is approved, a federal government through the Soil Conservation Service would bear the entire cost of construction. The local people's government will let contract provide easements or purchase land, and maintain structure after they are fully completed.

The dams would be about 40 feet in height and the lowest would stretch for about 4,000 feet. A technicality limits watershed to no more than 250,000 acres so this necessitated forming two watersheds, an upper and a lower.

The upper takes in Castro county and Farmer county. The lower—Castro, Lamb, Swiss and Hale counties.

Lions Emphasize Safe Biking

As part of a safe bicycling program being emphasized this week, the Littlefield Lions club urges all persons to learn and practice the "bicyclists code" for safe riding.

In Littlefield, where the sizeable bicycling population includes both adults and youngsters, the rules have a special interest to all, a club announcement emphasizes.

Rules are listed as follows:

1. I pledge to observe the rules of safe riding whenever my bicycle is in operation.
2. I pledge to ride my bicycle in an expert manner for my own safety and pleasure.
3. I pledge to keep my bicycle in good operating and mechanical condition.
4. I pledge to encourage my fellow-riders to follow all the rules of safe bicycling for our mutual welfare.

Safety experts agree that the human factor is all important and that most bicycle accidents are caused by the violation of some simple traffic rule or failure to keep the bike in good operating condition.

Actually, the rules of bicycling go back a long way. Once a primary mode of traffic, the bicycle is almost as popular today as it was almost before the advent of the automobile. A big difference is that auto traffic requires added rules and adherence to them.

The first bicycle was invented in about 1790, and was called the "walk-along". The walk-along was pushed along by the rider's feet like a kiddie car. Later a steering bar was connected to the front wheel and then called "hobbyhorses", "dandy horses", and "swift-walkers". Later, a French locksmith invented a bicycle with pedals attached to the front wheel. This early forerunner of today's modern bike was patented the "boneshaker" in 1866.

The bicycle was in great use in the United States from 1889 until 1900. In 1889 the air-filled rubber bicycle tire was introduced, and there were 312 bicycle factories in the country which made more than 1,000,000 bicycles a year. Today, more than 24,000,000 people in the United States own bicycles. One factory in Little Rock, Ark., can turn out as many as 3,000 bicycles a day.

TOBACCO PLANT? In West Texas?? Yes, it really is a full grown tobacco plant in full bloom grown by Boyd Rea at 612 Elwood Blvd. in Anton. And we think cotton grows tall. But then, tobacco most likely doesn't grow that tall in the Carolinas either, it's just that good West Texas soil. —Anton Four County News Photo

Chief Urges Bicycling Safety

A request for parents to instruct their young bicycle riders to learn and use 12 rules for safe bicycling is issued by Police Chief F. A. Fitzgerald this week.

Fitzgerald lists the following safe bicycling rules:

1. Observe all traffic regulations—red and green lights, one-way streets, stop signs.
2. Keep to the right and ride in a straight line. Always ride in single file.
3. Have white light on front and danger signal on rear for night riding.
4. Have satisfactory signaling device to warn of approach—bell or horn.
5. Give pedestrians the right of way. Avoid sidewalks—otherwise use extra care.
6. Look out for cars pulling out into traffic. Keep sharp lookout for sudden opening of auto doors.
7. Never hitch on other vehicles, "stunt" or race in traffic.

8. Never carry other riders—carry no packages that obstruct vision or prevent proper control of cycle.

9. Be sure your brakes are operating efficiently and keep your bicycle in perfect running condition.

10. Slow down at all street intersections and look to right and left before crossing.

11. Always use proper hand signals for turning and stopping.

12. Don't weave in or out of traffic or swerve from side to side.
