PER, in response to the affectionate tones in a nurse's attempt to draw his attention, suddenly focuses his eyes in the direction of the voice. But he cannot see the nurse because he is blind. A second later, he flashed a broad smile. The small boy was left by someone Saturday night in the care of a resident at Amherst.

DESPITE the fact Skipper has cerebral palsy, according to diagnosis of his physician, he shifts position under his own power. In picture above, he pleases his nurses by drawing his hands together when told to "patty cake." Diagnosis also includes mental retardation but Skipper will move his hands in a slight patting movement when coaxed to do so.

Businessman, Family Die In Plane Crash

RETAIL COUNCIL Sunday Closing, Checks On Agenda

AIRPLANE HITS PEAK

The bodies of a Littlefield businessman and his family, killed when their rented light plane crashed into the dormant Mexican volcano Iztaccihuatl Sunday afternoon, were to be released today by Mexican authorities, "barring no complications," according to a relative here.

Charlie W. Harlow of 117 E. 17th said word the bodies had been released earlier was incorrect but he had been informed through the U. S. Embassy the release should come today.

John Charles Polone, about 39, owner-operator of Western Auto Store here more than four years, his wife, Wilma Jo, and children Soncia Jean, 16, and David 12, died on the slopes of the Mexican peak Sunday enroute home from the resort city of Acapulco.

Accompanying them was another plane reported to be carrying the John Howard Lloyd family of Big Spring. At noon Wednesday, Harlow, a brother of Mrs. Polone, said the Lloyd plane, missing since Sunday, had not been reported found.

Mrs. Polone's mother, Mrs. Mary M. Harlow, also is a Littlefield resident and lives at 117 E. 17th.

Harlow said the bodies, when released, will arrive by commercial plane at Midland and will be taken to River-Welch Funeral Home at Big Spring. He stated funeral services will be at Big Spring and burial at Poteau, Okla., "but I cannot yet name the day or time."

Polone had been living in Littlefield on weekdays and commuting to Big Spring each weekend where his wife and children resided. Mrs. Polone owned and operated a beauty shop at Big Spring but friends said Polone had been planning to move his family to Littlefield soon.

According to Salvation Army Capt. Harvey Harwell of Littlefield, who notified members of the family here when the tragedy occurred, "Polone, who was very devoted to his family, had been looking forward to this trip to Mexico. He also was very anxious to get his family moved to Littlefield from Big Spring before school started."

Regarding Polone, the Salvation Army captain told The Leader-News, "I don't know where the Salvation Army would have been without contributions he has made to our Christmas Cheer programs."

Harwell continued, "Every year he and I would take toys from the shelves of his store. He provided 75 per cent of the toys for our Christmas Cheer program. He served three years on our Salvation Army Advisory Board."

The bodies of the Polone family have remained in the small town of Chalco, about 30 miles southeast of Mexico City and about five miles from the base of Iztaccihuatl, the famous "Sleeping Woman" mountain of Mexican legend.

A meeting of prime importance to businessmen is scheduled Friday at 10 a.m. in the City Council Room.

Among subjects to be discussed and explained at a meeting of the Retail Council is the Sunday closing (or selling) law which went into effect this week.

Summarily, recent action by the Legislature amended Article 286a, doing away with the emergency clause which permitted buyers to sign an "emergency certificate" in order to be sold items restricted by the 1961 Sunday closing law.

The action does away with the emergency certificate and states stores must sell the restricted items either on Saturday or Sunday, but not on both days.

Included on the list of items are clothing, clothing accessories, wearing apparel, footwear, headwear; home, business, office or outdoor furniture; kitchenware, kitchen utensils, china, home appliances, stoves, refrigerators, air conditioners, electric fans, radios, television sets, washing machines, driers, cameras, hardware; tools, excluding non-power driven hand tools; also, jewelry, precious or semi-precious stones, silverware, watches, clocks, luggage, motor recordings; toys, excluding items customarily sold as novelties and souvenirs;

Also, mattresses, bed coverings, household linens, floor coverings, lamps, draperies, blinds, curtains, mirrors, lawn mowers or cloth piece goods.

According to Section 1 of the article, "Any person on both the two (2) consecutive days of Saturday and Sunday who sells or offers for sale or shall compel, force or oblige his employees to sell" any of the items shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. "Each separate sale shall constitute a separate offense."

Under Section 2, "Nothing herein shall apply to any sale or sales for charitable purposes or to items for funeral or burial purposes or to items

Hospital Election Trial Recessed

Trial contesting the May 27 Earth-Springle Hospital District election, which created the district, began Saturday at 9 a. m. with a lengthy parade of witnesses presented by the contestants and recessed about 10 p. m. to be resumed Sept. 7.

At 10 p. m., the contestants had not rested their case and contestants' witnesses had not been called to the stand.

The case, titled Robert Akin, et al, contestants, vs. O. J. Mangum, et al, contestants, seeks to void the election on grounds of "grave irregularities" in election procedure. Contestees deny any and all allegations.

Testimony Saturday primarily centered on the legality of County Clerk Charles Jones having served as election judge for absentee voters, the establishment of only one polling place, the name "Earth-Springle Hospital District" as having confused the voting area with Springlake-Earth School District and whether or not the right of persons more than 60 years of age to vote without registering is constitutional.

Judge Pat Boone Jr., presiding in 154th District Court, ruled the 60-year age voting right as constitutional.

Late Saturday, the contestants' attorney, W. Reed Quilliam of Lubbock, called for issuance of 15 additional subpoenas for witnesses, mostly from Pleasant Valley, only a few of whom could be located at that late hour.

Prior to the trial, a Second Amended Petition to Contest Election was filed Wednesday, Aug. 23, adding names to Exhibit "A" as follows:

1. Not registered to vote; Mrs. See TRIAL, Page 5

HOPE FOR IMPROVEMENT

Abandoned, Handicapped Boy Responds To Care

Everyone in "Skipper's" life knows he has every reason to be an unhappy, frustrated little boy.

Everyone, that is, except Skipper. Skipper smiles quickly and happily whenever he hears the voice of his doctor or a nurse saying, "Come on, Skipper -- laugh for us!"

The word "hears," is stressed because Skipper cannot see. His vision is impaired, seemingly to the point of blindness. And as he lies in his small bed in Medical Arts Hospital, if he becomes uncomfortable he squirms and scoots until he is satisfied with his position.

This brings pleased exclamations from his nurses, "Look! Look how he can change his position!"

But the exclamations mean nothing to Skipper, because he doesn't know he has cerebral palsy and is suffering from malnutrition and that this unexpected mobility is a source of gratification to those who hover over his tiny small body.

Neither is he aware of their pleasure and meaningful smiles when, in answer to the repeated cajoling of their compassionate voices saying, "play patty-cake for us, Skipper -- play patty cake for us," his two small hands finally come together in a slight patting motion -- because Skipper doesn't know he is mentally retarded.

And Skipper apparently doesn't mind being called "Skipper," because the people around him don't know his name. Skipper is a tiny boy, appearing to be between the ages of two and three, who was found abandoned in a car at Amherst Saturday night.

And all Skipper's physician can be certain about is that his diminutive patient is white and is a very sick little boy.

Leonard Tittle, minister of the Church of Christ at Amherst, said Skipper was found in the car of teenage Pam Holland by Pam and two friends, Dobrya and Ray Lynn Mills, after they and about 30 other teen-agers had attended a church ice cream supper.

Tittle was summoned and in turn notified Amherst police, the minister said, and the police brought Skipper to Medical Arts Hospital.

Skipper's physician said the care of the child perhaps became too much for the parents and they chose this way to see that he received help. "Caring for a child in this condition is very exacting and expensive," the physician said.

He also indicated that the boy's malnutrition did not necessarily mean neglect. He said malnutrition is a side effect that had to be fought in cases of cerebral palsy.

The physician, when questioned, remarked the child's blindness and physical condition could be contributing to the boy's apparent mental retardation, leaving hope of future improvement of mental ability.

In turn, illness and malnutrition may be playing a part in the blindness -- again hope. The physician said in Skipper's case there also is a possibility of congenital cataract, "which is operable."

Skipper has little use of his legs, which appear undeveloped, and he cannot sit or walk.

"But," the physician added, "he seems to be happy. He will smile and try to play and his skin looks healthy."

Although Skipper appears to be from two to three years old, the doctor said he could be older, explaining cerebral palsy can have this effect and make age difficult to determine.

At times, Skipper obviously tries to focus his eyes. He will frown and squint intensely and then when he opens his eyes for a moment they appear almost normal. At other times his eyes will roll, but can be brought to alertness by saying to him things like, "Look here, Skipper. Look at me Skipper."

As to the small boy's future, the physician said plans will have to be "worked out" for him. "He will be turned over to the State Welfare and the State has agencies which can take care of such cases. He will receive the care he needs."

When Skipper cries, it is lustily and with strength, as are the other varied sounds he may make. There is an air about Skipper which creates the hope he has what it takes to -- someday -- overcome his handicaps.

And although Skipper may have more than his share of handicaps, there is one ability with which he is blessed in abundance.

He can smile his way into your heart quick as the flash of a camera.

NEW OFFICERS NAMED

Gaiety Highlights Day For County Pioneers

A barbecue supper Tuesday evening culminated activities of the 18th annual Lamb County Pioneers reunion at the Community Center, with 357 registering for the event.

Many memories were exchanged by pioneers as they visited, shook hands, renewed acquaintance, met new acquaintances, and enjoyed the atmosphere of gaiety and laughter everywhere.

George White of the Yellow-house Ranch near Littlefield, donated a steer, which dressed out 700 pounds of meat, for the barbecue. Pioneers and others attending brought covered dishes to accompany the barbecue.

Registration began at 2 p.m.

preceding a program of musical entertainment.

This year's president, V. M. Peterman, presided over the meeting and Mrs. A. E. Brown, program chairman, introduced persons on the program.

County Judge O. J. Mangum offered invocation and Mayor J. E. Chisholm welcomed the pioneers and other guests.

Stringed background music was presented by Dr. Aaron Williams, Dr. D. J. Stafford, Herbert Funk and Herman Neuenschwander who later presented a number on the program.

Folk songs were presented by Miss Sharon Wilson of Sudan and vocal selections by Miss Glenda Parrot were accompanied by Miss Patsy Russel of Littlefield. The Hi Fives of Littlefield accompanied by Melinda Lasiter sang two selections. Making up the group are Peggy Dean, Cheryl Lasiter, Diane Kesey and Nancy Hall.

Karby Clayton of Earth sang a solo, accompanying herself at the piano.

Jan Sisson of Littlefield presented vocal numbers, accompanied by Nancy Hall at the piano.

A gospel quartet composed of John Clayton, Dewey Westmoreland, Curtis Strain and A. Z. Dunn were accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Parkman. A. Z. Dunn sang a novelty number on "The Dust Bowl Days."

MAN-TALK took place outside the entrance to the Community Center shortly before events began popping at the gathering of County pioneers here, when 357 persons registered among an overflow crowd which utilized every nook and cranny -- plus peep holes -- to watch program selections.

'I REMEMBER SO WELL' doubtless is part of the conversation between these two senior citizens caught by the camera as they chatted at the reception during the 18th Annual Pioneers Meeting Tuesday at Lamb County Community Center here.

Walter-Cook Vows Pledged

Patricia Dianne Cook and Anton (Tony) Follmann of Dallas were married Thursday night in St. Joseph's Catholic Parrish in Dallas with Mr. Robert Springer officiating the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie B. Cook of the Spade community, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Walter, 1317 Candlelight Road, Dallas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a cage gown of Venice lace over silk taffeta with single Venice lace flowers appliqued down the skirt front. The cage gown was fashioned with a rounded neckline edged in scallops and long fitted sleeves forming petal points. The cage of the gown released to form a chapel train and her finger tip veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis, and ivy.

Miss Billie Cook of Spade was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a formal length gown of mint green rayon and matching head piece of silk illusion atop a pill box hat. She carried a cascade bouquet of rose pink carnations and ivy.

Joe Walter of Garland was his brother's best man. Robert Brill of Dallas and Paul Calame of San Antonio were ushers. Miss Ann Woods of Dallas, cousin of the bride registered wedding guests. A reception at the Holiday Inn followed the ceremony, after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica. The couple will be at home in Dallas.

The skirt had a width of lace around the hemline, and the shoulder attached chapel train was outlined in lace. Her shoulder length veil of tulle was attached to a flower motif headpiece of satin and lace. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and carnations atop a white satin-covered Bible. The bride's attendants wore identical street-length dresses of mint green de-lustered satin, fashioned after the bride's with empire waistline with bow and long streamers and cap sleeves. They wore headpieces of matching circles with short circular veils and Dior bows, and carried nosegays.

Candlelighters were Miss Mary Lou Richey and Miss Joyce Kay Richey, sisters of the groom, of Cláude. They wore wrist corsages of white carnations.

Remember what was so great about the Westerns: you used to see as a kid? It was the action, wasn't it? Plenty of action. And entertainment you didn't need an analyst along to explain. You were given a Good Guy, a Bad Guy and a Pretty Girl. And action.

Well, we at Universal Studios miss that kind of Western, too. That's why we made "Rough Night In Jericho."

Fun, Fun!

By Amy Turner

FISHING IS FINE but I'll leave mountain-climbing to the goats...

Actually, I didn't do too much fishing this trip. It only took about two outings on the lake for me to discover that I was spending half my time untangling lines of our two youngest.

The rest of the time I spent yelling at The Publisher and The Son, both of whom seemed bent on running down every other boat on the lake.

Anyway, the fish just weren't biting like usual and I had four good books waiting on me at the cabin. I should have stayed there.

WE FOUND, beside a gurgling brook, a nice little path leading into the mountains.

We were told by a local store-keeper that, at the end of this path, the fishing was excellent. He also assured us that it was a lovely little walk, maybe a mile.

Never believe anything that mountain-people tell you. They have an odd sense of humor. So do fishermen.

With high spirits, gaily singing, we started one morning on this "lovely little walk", which happened to be straight up the side of a mountain.

After about two hours, we stopped singing and started gasping. As we stopped to rest, one fact suddenly hit me with something less than joy... we were ALONE.

Just at this point there was a scrambling noise and, out of the bushes, burst something which I at first took to be John The Baptist and later discovered was a hunter.

I have heard of people being "armed to the teeth" and now I have seen it -- guns, knives, bow and arrow.

The thought of our lone fishing knife did little for my sense of security.

To make matters worse, this walking arsenal told us that the fishing we were looking for was about five miles. I mean five miles MORE! Needless to say, we retreated.

UNFORTUNATELY, after we had walked DOWN the mountain about an hour and I had started to dream dreams of curling up in a nice, cozy bed with a good book, we met another party going UP the mountain.

The Publisher, a gabby sort, had to stop and chat and was assured that we were really almost to the place that we had been seeking.

Looking back, this is almost unbelievable, but we actually did start back UP that blasted mountain.

At some later time (I was only semi-conscious by then), we reached that wondrous fishing spot.

I dropped on the first available rock and only one thought could have jerked me away from revelling in the simple joy of not walking -- BEARS!

I thought again of that little fishing knife and started looking for the nearest tree. Not that I had really seen any bears but I believe in being prepared.

With a sinking feeling, I realized that, up there, the lowest branch on any tree was at least 10 feet off the ground. So, I did the next best thing. I started yelling and my yell was a simple one: "Let's go home!"

At long last, in late evening, we did, all the way BACK DOWN that mountain proudly bearing the catch that made the whole day's trip worthwhile -- two, monstrous, three-inch trout. (Well, maybe, they were a little bigger than that.)

I VOWED, then and there, never again to venture forth from the cabin and I didn't -- for one whole day.

Would you believe I went mountain-climbing again? Well, it was just a small mountain and more like a walk, which I really enjoyed.

Mrs. J. W. Johnson Jr. of Hart Camp joined me on the excursion as did her teenage daughter, Kay.

I suspect that Kay was somewhat less than enthusiastic about this whole walking bit because, on the way down, she led the way and a most unusual way it was.

Which didn't bother me at all. I came down in a flash... mostly on my backside, which I'll admit is not the recommended way of descending a mountain.

ALL-IN-ALL, I suppose it was a successful trip.

I did get my books read.

We had all the fish we wanted to eat. I assume The Son was determined to go swimming since he managed to fall in both the lake and the river.

The Older Daughter bought at least ten Monkee books and I don't mean the kind that are supposed to swing in trees.

On second thought, after looking at some of their pictures and listening to some of their records, I'll retract that last statement and leave you with this thought:

Aren't vacations fun?

BITS AND PIECES

How To Get Lost

A CERTAIN syndicated columnist writes about the stuff that comes in his mail. And that, dear great American public, is an absolute snap.

Like the notice which came recently from National Rifle Assn., saying the Association "this week searched frantically for an almost forgotten shooting trophy, the Palma Trophy,"

WELL, I could have told them where it was, but I didn't.

Anything that has been lost that long couldn't possibly be anywhere except one of two places -- it's somewhere on either my desk or Bill Turner's desk.

THEN THERE WAS a story from a gas association telling how food to feed the population explosion may someday be made from natural gas.

IT READS, "The natural gas that cooks your dinner on the kitchen range may some day find itself in the pot..."

Like one of my favorite uncles says, "I'm a gas and oil man -- gas in my tummy and oil in my hair."

BUT A RELEASE that came through early in June, from a book company, just plain made me mad. It tells about a new book, "Farewell to Texas: A Vanishing Wilderness."

NOW, I don't know this guy Douglas who, according to the release, weeps gallons of nostalgic word-tears over the vanishing wilds and wildernesses of Texas, but one thing sure -- he ain't never seen the sandhills!

PAUL HARVEY SAYS

Washington Hears

WE GET so soon old, so late schmarzdi! How long have you and I been nagging our congressman to stop using our tax dollars to subsidize sin?

Every state has reported unwed mothers making a business of bearing illegitimate babies. The more babies, the bigger the ADC payments.

In ten years this aid-to-dependent-children program has become the biggest part of our nation's total welfare handout. It increased from half-a-million families to more than a million families with nearly five million children!

AT LONG LAST, the House half of Congress has slashed this immoral subsidy which encourages illegitimacy.

I have never heard the Honorable Wilbur Mills raise his voice like this. Floor leader for the legislation which seeks to remove 400,000 children from welfare rolls by 1972, he spoke out with vehemence against, "unwed mothers making welfare a way of life."

PROponents of ADC always plead the case of the unfortunate children. Mills had that base covered. He said, "We're rough on Capitol Hill?"

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

Square Tomatoes

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnsongrass farm examines some new ideas in farming this week, more or less.

I was in town yesterday buying another nickel tractor bolt for a quarter and a friend handed me a copy of Time magazine and said "Here, there's an article in this about farming you might like to see."

I'm not sure. According to it, vast progress is being made in agriculture these days, and almost undreamed-of new ideas are being studied.

For example, plant scientists are trying to develop a square tomato. That's right. They want a tomato that grows square instead of round, because, for one thing, it would fit better in a sandwich.

This is what I'm talking about. Why put all the burden on the farmer? It seems to me it'd be a lot simpler to just make round bread and use the tomatoes we've already got.

It sure was lucky that table plates originally were designed round instead of square, or you know what kind of eggs scientists would be trying to get hens to lay.

For years agricultural experts have been telling me how to raise feed that's more palatable and nutritious for cows, whereas I'd like to see them working on cows that in this bill. We intend to be rough in this bill. But we are not inhuman."

So what the bill says is that states must start a massive work training program for these women, provide counselling on birth control methods and set up foster care programs and -- if they don't -- no more federal welfare aid!

And despite the present efforts of Johnson Administration leaders in the Senate to perpetuate ADC as is, I cannot believe that the United States Senate is so far removed from the grass roots that their effort will succeed.

INDEED, the Senate has had the courage to slash the White House request for foreign aid by almost a billion dollars. Surely those lawmakers will also reflect the displeasure of the American taxpayer with ADC as it is presently administered.

Why does it take so long for the "voice of the people" to be heard and heeded on Capitol Hill?

Unfortunately, the big city machines and these armies of welfare people sustain each other.

PRESENTLY, and with reapportionment this is increasingly true, the big cities have more political clout.

And when we get so fed up with parasites, foreign and domestic, that we threaten our spendthrift lawmakers with political extinction, then we are talking a language they understand.

can thrive on the grass and weeds I've already got. Nearly every idea I hear from the experts puts more work on me than my cows.

Another part of this Time article reported that "an hour of farm labor now produces more than six times as much as it did in 1920."

I don't know what farm they studied, but it wasn't this one.

However, I can see some advantages in these figures and hope they spread throughout the country, especially around here. If it took six hours in 1920 to produce what one hour produces now, a farmer working 12 hours then needs to work only 2 hours now to get in a full day. I'm in favor of that.

By the way, speaking of farming, I noticed that that well-known farmer, Chet Huntley, had to give up one of his farms because, he said, somebody was always opening the gates to his 300-acre spread and letting his 900 cows roam the countryside.

Nine hundred cows on 300 acres? That's not a ranch, that's a ghetto. Somebody opened the gates? Most likely they busted out. Those cows were just rioting, and I'm surprised he didn't have a deep-thoughted television analysis of the underlying causes.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

OHMALU HOOD

The Countrywoman

By LIBBY MUDGETT

SHE feels the first stiff breeze from fast traveling, nearby storm.

She wonders what all the clouds contain--refreshing, long awaited rain? Destructive, much dreaded hail? Blustering, damaging wind? Tornadoes?

And as the lightning flashes and the thunder rolls, she compares thunderstorms to the future; they contain some good, some bad, some promise, some threat, and are highly unpredictable.

SHE inspects the countryside during full moon and she perceives that even with cumbersome equipment and unsightly she seem beautiful in the moonlight.

She wishes that all ugliness everywhere could always so appear.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Ideals To Live By

BY BOB WEAR

IN MANY AREAS of the human experience, there is a discarding of some of the old and well-established standards and principles. In some instances, it seems that they are being rejected completely.

Some people are saying that there are no standards, and never were; that man is a law unto himself because there are no fixed standards. They say that everything is relative.

Of course, these people are mistaken. In a sense, they make their view of no standards their standard, and they put themselves in the position of creating what they are trying to destroy.

EVERYBODY lives by some set of standards, good or bad -- probably a mixture of the two.

The wise choose the good, well-established and time-proven ideals; the foolish choose the inferior, undesirable and inadequate standards.

Yes, even those who say they reject all principles are deceiving themselves, because all of us live by standards of some kind.

The value of high ideals is well established, and their importance to one's life has been proven again and again.

Tyron Edwards said, "We never reach our ideals, whether of mental or moral improvement, but the thought of them shows us our deficiencies, and spurs us on to higher and better things."

WE REALIZE that the word 'ideals' has different meanings, and that it may mean different things to different people.

Basically, ideals are "mental conceptions regarded as the standards of perfection." The words: standards, principles, aims and goals convey the general meaning of ideals as the word is used.

The ideals by which we live must be properly related to reality; they must be visionary. The truth is that just as ideals are real.

HERE IS ONE fault in our social code pertaining to ideals for living. It seems that there is a double standard.

We strongly recommend ideals to our young folk as being good to grow up by, but many people seem to doubt that high ideals are also good to live by. This is an unfortunate attitude, and is a great hindrance to all concerned.

There is a time in life when ideals are a source of inspiration and personal uplift. This is usually during one's youth; however, the spirit becomes permanent in some instances and this is as it should be.

It can be kept alive in one's life, and it can make the difference between a rich life and a life of spiritual poverty.

In this connection, Mr. Hedge makes pertinent statement, "What we need most is not so much to realize the ideal as to idealize the real."

ONCE THE SPIRIT that well-conceived ideals create in the life of the individual is lost, it is a great loss and may be never regained.

When we let sensible, properly-related ideals go, we have opened the way to cynicism, skepticism and many other undesirable elements of human thought and action.

IDEALS are beneficial for the whole of us to lead in the right direction and to enable us to rise to successively higher levels of living. They are good to grow up by, and they are just as good to live by.

PUBLIC NOTICE
Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
NUMBER THREE ON THE BALLOT

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 17 proposing amendment to Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, so as to authorize an increase in the total amount of bonds or obligations that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board to Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000); providing for the issuance of said bonds or obligations and the conditions relating thereto and the use of the Veterans' Land Fund; and providing for a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so that the same will hereafter read as follows:

"Section 49-b. By virtue of prior Amendments to this Constitution, there has been created a governmental agency of the State of Texas performing governmental duties which has been designated the Veterans' Land Board. Said Board shall continue to function for the purposes specified in all of the prior Constitutional Amendments except as modified herein. Said Board shall be composed of the Commissioner of the General Land Office and two (2) citizens of the State of Texas, one (1) of whom shall be well versed in veterans' affairs and one (1) of whom shall be well versed in finances. One (1) such citizen member shall, with the advice and consent of the Senate, be appointed biennially by the Governor to serve for a term of four (4) years; but the members serving on said Board on the date of adoption hereof shall complete the terms to which they were appointed. In the event of the resignation or death of any such citizen member, the Governor shall appoint a replacement to serve for the unexpired portion of the term to which the deceased or resigning member had been appointed. The compensation for said citizen members shall be as is now or may hereafter be fixed by the Legislature; and each shall make bond in such amount as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by the Legislature.

"The Commissioner of the General Land Office shall act as Chairman of said Board and shall be the administrator of the Veterans' Land Program under such terms and conditions as may hereafter be provided by law. In the absence or illness of said Commissioner, the Chief Clerk of the General Land Office shall be the Acting Chairman of said Board with the same duties and powers that said Commissioner would have if present.

"The Veterans' Land Board may provide for, issue and sell not to exceed Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund, Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) of which have heretofore been issued and sold. Such bonds or obligations shall be sold for not less than interest on the bonds heretofore and hereafter issued by said Board shall be paid out of the moneys of said Fund in conformance with the Constitutional provisions authorizing such bonds; but the moneys of said Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on such bonds, in purchase of lands as hereinafter provided, or the payment of expenses as herein provided may be invested in bonds or obligations of the United States until such funds are needed for such purposes.

"All moneys comprising a part of said Fund and not expended for the purposes herein provided shall be a part of said Fund until there are sufficient moneys therein to retire fully all of the bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board, at which time all such moneys remaining in said Fund, except such portion thereof as may be necessary to retire all such bonds which portion shall be set aside and retained in said Fund for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law. All moneys becoming a part of said Fund hereafter shall likewise be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

"When a Division of said Fund (each Division consisting of the moneys attributable to the bonds issued and sold pursuant to a single Constitutional authorization and the lands purchased therewith) contains sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division, the moneys thereof, except such portion as may be needed to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division which portion shall be set aside and remain a part of such Division for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, may be used for the purpose of paying the principal and the interest thereon, together with the expenses herein authorized, of any other bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board. Such use shall be a matter for the discretion and direction of said Board; but there may be no such use of any such moneys contrary to the rights of any holder of any of the bonds issued and sold by said Board or violative of any contract to which said Board is a party.

"The Veterans' Land Fund shall be used by said Board for the purpose of purchasing lands situated in the State of Texas owned by the United States or any governmental agency thereof, owned by the Texas Prison System or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas, or owned by any person, firm, or corporation. All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of said Fund. Such lands heretofore or hereafter purchased and comprising a part of said Fund are hereby declared to be held for a governmental purpose, although the individual purchasers thereof shall be subject to taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as are purchasers of lands dedicated to the Permanent Free Public School Fund.

stood as a part of or in conjunction with the sale of real property.

Violation of the penalty calls for the person to be fined not more than $100 on the first offense; but second conviction and all subsequent conviction can mean imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or a fine of not more than $500 or both.

Also of importance on the Retail Council's agenda is discussion and explanation of charges for handling checks. James Lee will speak concerning the new regulation whereby customers' drafts no longer will be acceptable to banks and the costs involved.

Other items, according to Jim Kelly, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, will concern Littlefield stores staying open certain nights, plus Christmas decorations and further modernization of store fronts.

City Resident, Granddaughter Evacuated From Alaska Flood

Mrs. Grady Simpson of Littlefield and her 14-year-old granddaughter, Ouida Paden of Fairbanks, Alaska, understand the discomforts, destruction and terrors of a flood to the fullest degree.

In fact, Ouida and her brother struggled through four-foot filthy waters to reach a neighbor's house during the recent devastating floods in Alaska which overflowed their Fairbanks home.

And this was after Ouida and her grandmother had stood helplessly watching the waters roll down on them and rise to engulf the home.

Ouida and Mrs. Simpson, who were evacuated Aug. 15 but did not reach Littlefield until last week, were in the home of Ouida's parents -- Mrs. Simpson's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Paden, whom Mrs. Simpson was visiting -- when the flood waters rushed down on Fairbanks Aug. 14. Ouida said her home is near the river.

The Padens and Ouida's brother were away from home, at work, Ouida said her mother telephoned them to get everything out of the basement, so she and her grandmother began the task of grabbing up the basements' contents and carrying them upstairs. A little later, the parents and brother came home and helped.

"We just put everything on the floor upstairs," Ouida said. "Then the flood waters filled the basement."

She continued, "We had cut off all electric power to avoid being electrocuted. It was quite cold, so my brother and I waded through four foot water to the house next door where they had a fireplace and warmth." She said the struggle through the water was "weird."

Meanwhile, boats began coming to the rescue of the stranded victims.

Her parents and grandmother were rescued about 5:30 a. m., "But my brother and I didn't get out until about 7:30 that morning," Ouida said. "By then, just about everyone was out of the neighborhood."

The evacuated family was taken to the airport, and Ouida said her parents decided to send her and Mrs. Simpson on by plane as they did not know how long it might be before they could return to their home.

And all the two were able to bring with them was "the clothing we were wearing," Ouida lamented.

She said she is wearing clothes borrowed from a cousin, Renate Ragsdale, who is visiting Mrs. Simpson here.

College Costs Major Factor for Residents

For residents of Lamb County, who are sending more their young men and young women to college these days, the cost of education is zooming, has become a major financial burden in many families.

In some cases, in fact, where there are two or more children send to college, it actually solves a bigger capital investment than was made for the family home.

The bill that local parents are shouldering this year, college tuition alone, will amount to approximately $1,000, it is estimated.

Statistics and figures on college enrollments and costs have been available as the result of surveys and studies made by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the Institute of Insurance and others.

Additionally, they show, the number of college students has been rising sharply, going from 35,000 to 6,400,000 in the last six years.

In Lamb County, the number of students has risen from approximately 750 in 1960 to an estimated total of 750 at the present time. For the ones who are going to college supported colleges, the average cost per year for tuition and other fees is a little more than $1,000 and, for those private institutions, an average of $2,100, according to permanent findings.

Thus, assuming that the 750 students are equally divided among the publicly and privately operated colleges, the total outlay for one year would be $1,162,000. This does not include other expenses -- for clothes, room and board, books, luggage, transportation and the like. Including all these expenses, it might cost a family up to $2,000 a year to keep a youngster at a private college and up to $1,000 in a public college, according to the Family Economics, an insurance publication, which means that the total investment for a family with two children at college for four years would range up to $38,000 if they chose private colleges and up to $21,600 at public colleges.

The number of Lamb County families whose incomes are sufficient to absorb this kind of economic shock is on the increase, the figures indicate.

Improved Wildcats Will Scrimmage Seminole Friday

Coach Raymond Birtchfield is looking for a marked improvement in his players' performance in the upcoming season against the Indians of Little Rock.

The team is slated to begin at 4:30 at the Wildcat Stadium.

The Indians had about all the business they wanted last Saturday when the Wildcats were held to a 7-7 tie at Little Rock. "We were real disappointed," Birtchfield said, "but we were not discouraged by the result."

Birtchfield is expected to be considerably stronger than last season when the Indians posted a 7-7 record. "I hope the Indians will have something on the Wildcat in the upcoming season," Birtchfield said.

Number one has a player 6'5" tall, 200 pounds. "We are looking for a player like that," Birtchfield said.

The Indians' offensive and defensive line is expected to be strong. "I hope the Indians will have something on the Wildcat in the upcoming season," Birtchfield said.
