COCHRAN COUNTY TO GET NEW OIL TEST

NEW PROMOTERS ARE CONFIDENT OF PRODUCTION

Littlefield Men Backing Project; Derrick Is Being Erected

Development of their drilling block located between Bledsoe and Lehman in Cochran county, will be started immediately by the West Texas Development Co. of Littlefield.

Work is underway this week in the erection of a combination rotary and standard derrick at a location three or four miles northwest of other tests made in Cochran county several years ago. One of the old tests had a good showing of oil, and the new developers feel confident of obtaining production. Two competent geologists have reported favorable on the area.

It is understood that the new development will be a 5,000 foot test, and that it will be drilled 2500 feet with rotary tools, and then standardized. This plan is considered most satisfactory on wildcat wells by members of the oil fraternity.

The project of the West Texas Development Co. will be the first test in Cochran county in several years, and the progress and results will be watched with close interest. There is extensive leasing in Cochran county.

MORE FEED TO BE MADE HERE THAN EXPECTED

Many Farmers Are Planting Wheat, Oats, and Other Grains

A much better feed and grain crop than was in prospect a few weeks ago, is assured for Lamb county, partially as a result of the recent rains, according to J. C. Hilburn, president of the First National Bank.

Mr. Hilburn said that contrary to expectations there will be plenty of grain made, and a good crop of feed in general.

He also said that the feed situation will be much improved by reason of the fact that virtually all farmers are planting wheat, oats, and other grains.

If you have ever been to Hollywood and seen one of the gala Premieres and theater openings the movie stars hold, you know what a grand event it is. But if you have never attended one of these great Hollywood openings, you have at least read about them and heard them over the Radio, the theater all decked out in gay colors, banners and bright lights, giant spot lights and flood lights, movie stars arriving in limousines and their newest and finest clothes and saying a few words over the "mike", and great crowds jamming the streets to catch a glimpse of their favorite movie star, and inside the theater the movie stars appear on the stage, make a speech, crack a joke, sing a song,

BOY SCOUTS TO MAKE CANVASS FOR USED CLOTHING FOR NEEDY

Dr. Ira E. Woods, County Red Cross Chairman, has announced that a drive for used clothing will take place in Littlefield by the Boy Scouts under the direction of W. T. Hanes, Eugene Lattimer and Earl Hobbs.

Boy Scouts will canvass every house within the city limits Monday afternoon, which will be followed up by a truck about an hour later for the purpose of picking up used clothing of any kind, which might be used by the needy.

Dr. Woods urges that all housewives take a little time to look over their clothes closets in search of some clothing that might be worn or made over into suitable garments for the needy. He states that there are twenty five or thirty families badly in need of clothing, one half of whom will not be able to send their children to school when that institution opens if they are not supplied with clothing to wear. Dr. Woods, more especially urges the necessity of clothing that school children can wear, or which might be made over into suitable garments for such children.

In an interview with the Leader, Dr. Woods said: "The National Headquarters will not be able to furnish us with any new materials until December, if at all, I doubt if we will get any new materials this winter. The Federal Government has to make an appropriation before we get any supplies, and they do not meet until December. Until then, at any rate, and possibly all through the winter, we will have to depend on used clothing to take care of the needy. We want to urge

LITTLEFIELD SCHOOLS TO OPEN MONDAY NEXT

Littlefield Schools will open Monday morning at 9 o'clock for the fall term.

The first faculty meeting according to Supt. Sanders will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. The Superintendent requests all teachers to be present at this meeting, when very important announcements will be made regarding the arrangements for the school year, and the faculty will be organized and assignments made for the coming year.

MANY SEEKING FARMS TO RENT

Many inquires are now being made for farms that are available for rent, according to J. W. Keithley, Littlefield real estate agent. Mr. Keithley said that some of those who are inquiring are already residents of this section, others are coming from various parts of the state.

COMMISSIONER FOR LAMB CO. APPOINTED

J. C. Whicker Appointed By Judge James C. Wilson

Mr. J. C. Whicker of Littlefield has been appointed Conciliation Commissioner for Lamb County by Judge James C. Wilson, according to an announcement by R. J. Murray, Supervising Conciliation Commissioner of the Northern District.

Under the terms of a recent amendment to the National Bankruptcy Act, Federal Judges are required to appoint a Conciliation Commissioner in each agricultural county and at any time within five years after the amendment takes effect, a petition may be filed by any farmer before the Federal County Conciliation Commissioner, stating that the farmer is insolvent or unable to meet his debts as they mature and that it is desirable to effect a composition or extension of time to pay his debts. The County Conciliation Commissioner then attempts to work out a settlement which will be satisfactory to a majority of the farmers' creditors, both in number and amount. If a Commissioner secures their approval the Court may then make the settlement binding on unsecured minority creditors, even though they disapprove the basis of settlement.

The final step which the debtor may take as a last resort after all other efforts have failed is to file a petition in Bankruptcy under the

ADDITIONAL LAND IS PURCHASED BY CRYSTAL ICE CO.

Plant Would Serve Towns In Littlefield Territory

Littlefield, in all probability, will boast an ice manufacturing plant in the near future.

The Crystal Ice Company, who have been operating a wholesale and retail ice business in this city for the past year and a half, have purchased an additional 50 feet adjoining their present property on the west, and plan the erection of a building in which to install a twenty-five ton ice manufacturing plant.

The additional land acquired gives the company 100 feet on East Sixth Street by 160 feet on South Twitchell Avenue.

The building, which will be of solid brick construction, when completed, will be 56 feet by 70 feet.

The wholesale dock will be located on East Sixth Street, and the retail station on South Twitchell, with a cold storage plant in connection.

In an interview with W. P. Faulkner, of Lubbock, Manager of this district for the Crystal Ice Company, he stated the project would represent a total investment of between forty-two and forty-seven thousand dollars; that it would be an exact duplicate of the Lubbock plant; that the Artic Pownall Freezing system would be installed, which is specially designed for the hard water in this territory; and that the machinery would be furnished by York Ice Machine Corporation of York, Pa.

Mr. Faulkner stated that the company hoped to receive the Permit within thirty days, at which time construction will begin. It is estimated that it will take about five months to complete the plant and install the machinery and equipment ready for business, and that the company plan to have it operating in time for next season.

Lynn Dobbs, who has been associated with the company since its establishment in Littlefield, will be Superintendent of the plant.

In commenting on the future of this district, Mr. Faulkner said: "Our business during the 1934 season was double that of 1933. It is growing so fast in this section that we need this plant to take care of our customers. We see a great future for this territory, and feel the

We Do Our Part

OIL DEVELOPMENT

It is not our purpose to suggest or predict that some day there will be oil derricks poking out of the ground in every direction in Lamb County. But there are many persons who do not hesitate in saying that some day oil production will be found in this county. They also say that the oil development in Lamb County will come at a time of more favorable economic conditions throughout the country, and when the time arrives that the oil companies feel the need of increased production to meet demands.

But, at any rate, oil or no oil in Lamb county, the people of this county are immensely interested in what is going on in the way leasing and oil production in this part of Texas; they feel, perhaps, that they are walking over possible oil producing land; in other words, liquid dollars are beneath their feet, probably 3000, 4000, or 5000 feet away down in the innards of the earth.

Much interest was taken in an article, written by J. Sam Lewis, staff writer for the Avalanche-Journal, which appeared in last Sunday's issue of that newspaper.

"The trend of the field," says the article by Mr. Lewis, seems to be from Andrews county slightly northwest through the central part of Gaines county, into Yoakum county and then to Cochran, veering northward and touching the corner of Bailey county as it swings into Roosevelt county, New Mexico."

The swing into Roosevelt county might be a bright and shining star leading Portales on to immense development, but it could be an overcast sky for Lamb county. But, on the other hand, oil has been found in thousands upon thousands of places and this county could very easily be numbered in that great total.

The closest oil activity, in so far as Lamb county is concerned, is in Cochran county. A test is to be made between Bledsoe and Lehman, and there is extensive leasing in progress.

Lamb county will watch with interest the efforts to obtain oil production in Cochran county. What helps Cochran county also will be of interest to Lamb county in a commercial and economic way.

RAT WEARS COLLAR

MINERAL WELLS, Texas, Sept. 5 (UP) — A rat caught in a steel trap here had the hollow bone of a round steak around its neck. Presumably the animal had stuck its head through the bone in its younger days, and unable to extract its head, had been forced to wear the unwanted "collar."

EIGHT YEARS AGO IN LITTLEFIELD

(Excerpts from Lamb Co. Leader)

Little Ben Lyman, Jr., was honored Thursday afternoon, August 30, with a fourth birthday party.

After several games played on the lawn, refreshments of ice cream, cake and lemonade were served.

Those present during the evening were: Thelma and Blanche Crockett, Monte Louise and Linnie Thornton, Thelma Beane, Wilda Courtney, Blanche Wales, Mary Helen Harris, Frances Barton, Dorothy Dalton, Sarah Nell Keck, Joe Bailey Ellis, Melvin Lee Thornton, Billie Paul Maddy, Pat Boone, Jr., Sam McCaskill, Bobby Barnes, Volly Dalton, Curtis Anderson, J. W. Chisholm, Jr., Billy Turner, and Ben Lyman, Jr.

Jack Henry, experienced tailor, has accepted a position with the Homer Snowden tailor and cleaning shop.

J. A. Davenport and family, are moving to Littlefield this week from Lamesa. Mr. Davenport will follow the automobile repair business. He was formerly with the Reynolds Motor Company at Lamesa.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Wade Potter, accompanied by the former's father, B. B. Potter, returned Monday from a visit to Nashville, Tenn., and other points east.

Mrs. Laura Touchon and son left Sunday for their home at Prescott, Ariz., to prepare to move to their new home five miles northwest of Littlefield.

W. D. T. Storey of Buffalo, Okla., former Superintendent of Littlefield public schools, is moving back here and will make his home on his farm located 2 1-2 miles west of Littlefield.

Dr. Woods Outlines Need of Pre-School Eye Examination

If your child is bored with school, and seems backward, it may not be his liver according to Dr. Ira E. Woods, local optometrist, but more likely his eyes. Youth is no assurance of keen eyesight. Surveys conducted by the Better Vision Institute indicate that five out of ten children listed as backward students are handicapped by eye defects.

While the sense of smell is the most important to most animals, the eye is the organ of knowledge to man, who receives from 80 to 85 per cent of his information through this source says Dr. Woods.

"The safest course to follow, if a child is to have an even chance with his fellows, is to have his eyes examined before the school term begins. He may be normal in every respect, yet a searching examination may reveal eye defects serious enough to retard him in his studies. If he holds his book close to the eyes, or tilts his head to read; if he is bothered with headaches, and seems nervous, these are signs of defects in the eye which should be immediately remedied. Neglect to do so," says Dr. Woods, "may leave the child open to accusations of laziness or plain stupidity, and give him a mental twist that may trail him throughout his career."

Druggist Erecting Building at Morton

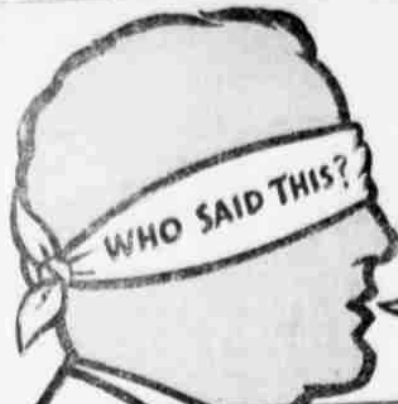

Charles L. Taylor, druggist of Morton, has started the erection of a new building on the north side, opposite the northeast corner of the courthouse square. The building will be 26 X 60 feet, and is to be fitted up as a drug store with offices and consulting rooms.

Mr. Taylor has a complete drug store equipment at Southland, which it is his plan to move to Morton.

Bilious Attacks

For bilious attacks due to constipation, thousands of men and women take Theodor's Black-Draught because it is purely vegetable and brings prompt, refreshing relief. "I have used Black-Draught," writes Mr. T. L. Austin, of McAdenville, N. C. "There is a package of it on my mantel now. I take it for biliousness. If I did not take it, the dullness and headache would put me out of business. It is the quickest medicine to relieve me that I know."

EVERYBODY TALKS ABOUT THE WEATHER BUT NOBODY DOES ANYTHING ABOUT IT!

PHILLIPS DOES!

We scientifically match PHILLIPS 66 to your weather... and that is why neither heat wave nor sub-zero cold can rob your motor of peak performance.

When a blistering heat wave makes front page news... your motor doesn't mind the weather, if the tank is filled with Phillips 66... the greater gasoline.

During a month officially recorded by the U. S. Weather Bureau as the "hottest in seventy years," hundreds of thousands of drivers discovered the benefits of CONTROLLED VOLATILITY.

They marveled that their engines did not overheat or knock, that speed and power were undiminished. They will be just as pleasantly surprised this winter, when their motors start with split-second speed on mornings away below zero.

Phillips was FIRST to break the vicious connection between bad weather and bad engine-performance. With our pioneer process of CONTROLLED VOLATILITY, the weather may change but motor efficiency does not... because Phillips 66 Gasoline is changed in advance, "custom tailored" or pre-adjusted at the refinery to make engines do their best regardless of climate.

One trial tankful, at any Orange and Black 66 Shield, will quickly give you facts about extra anti-knock and miles, added power and speed... without extra cost... Yes, you will actually feel the difference in your engine!

IS SPEED EVERYTHING?

It does mean a lot to people who suddenly realize that a friend or loved one is dead. The speed with which events have occurred is uppermost in their minds.

It's times like that which call for the kind of assistance to which we owe our reputation as funeral directors. Our experience and modern methods enable us to give you the kind of service that you wish.

REPORT MADE CATTLE BUYING IN LAMB COUNTY

Government To Buy 9,171 Head; 1214 Contracts Signed

In a report to members of the Littlefield Agriculture association, County Agent D. A. Adam reported that the government had received a total of 1214 contracts to buy 9,171 head of cattle in this county.

Up until the meeting recently 30 contracts had been worked and the government had actually bought 1270 head of cattle, Mr. Adam said. Approximately two-fifths of the cattle so far were condemned.

The government men inspecting the cattle are now working only three days each week in this county due to the stock yards being flooded.

Mr. Adams announced that the corn-hog contracts had been mailed and Lamb County farmers would likely get their checks in about three weeks.

Mr. Adams also announced that the farmers of this county were to receive approximately $800,000 more this year in the cotton, corn-hog, cattle and wheat reduction programs.

County H. D. Council Meets at Amherst

County Home-Demonstration Council met in the Extension Service office at Amherst, Tuesday afternoon, August 28, with 8 clubs represented by 25 council members and visitors. It was decided to postpone the County Fair until a later date awaiting the development of fall gardens. The County tour was set for Wednesday September 5.

"I saw the most beautiful collection of bed spreads that I have ever seen," stated Mrs. Carl Lambert in her report to Council of her trip to Short Course at College Station. "These bed spreads were tufted. One very pretty one was an all over design of small squares with a dot in the center of each square. The background in this spread was a soft, light green and was tufted in a little darker green. Another pretty one was made of three shades of tan and brown," said Mrs. Lambert.

"While at Short Course I learned how to make a new cheese press of small pieces of lumber and I am going to make myself one," said Mrs. Viola Honea. "I also learned how to cut the curl with a wire."

"In preparing for your achievement programs be sure to appoint an invitation committee to see that invitations are sent or carried to non-club members and to see that some of these people have a way to get to the program. It is also necessary to have a refreshment committee for if the hostess sees that her guests have an opportunity to see the demonstration and to hear about it, she has no time to see that they register in the guest book or are served," reports Miss Faye Pepper.

"If you want your club members to pep up and be interested in the meetings, have them looking forward to a few good games and fun at the end of each club meeting," says Mrs. Paul Radd.

"The vesper services held on the lawn of Dr. Walton each evening at six o'clock were both interesting and inspiring. Ministers from all over the state were there and a different one spoke each evening. "If you have some roses growing that you are not very fond of, bud a good rose into this old bush and when the new bud comes out it will be all buds of the old stock," Mrs. R. A. Reed told us.

Devil's Sinkhole Located on Ranch Near Kerrville

KERRVILLE, Texas, Sept. 5 (UP).—Dr. Frank E. Nicholson, explorer of Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, has announced that the Devil's Sinkhole, 65 miles of here, is larger than the famous New Mexico cave.

Dr. Nicholson recently visited the Clarence Whitworth ranch, site of the sinkhole, and conducted a series of explorations.

He found that the cave's mouth is about 90 feet in diameter and looks down upon a 600 foot "mountain peak" which rises within 271 feet of the surface of the ground. The subterranean mountain is a half mile in circumference at the base.

Dr. Nicholson explored several miles of passages with striking and colorful formations and saw many other corridors leading away for unknown distances.

The cave is one of the country's greatest natural wonders, Dr. Nicholson said.

JANET GAYNOR HAS LEADING ROLE IN "CHANGE OF HEART", COMING HERE FOR SATURDAY MIDNIGHT, SUNDAY MATINEE

Janet Gaynor thinks that playing the role of a very young and very idealistic maiden in about 20 pictures is enough.

So—she's going to grow up! In her new Fox Film offering, "Change of Heart," which will be shown at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight and Sunday matinee, the screen's foremost romantic actress is surprising millions of admirers with a characterization radically different from anything she has ever before attempted.

The new vehicle which, incidentally marks the first professional reunion of Miss Gaynor and Charles Farrell in a year and a half, presents the petite star as a college graduate who goes forth from the halls of learning to face a depression-torn world. With calm philosophy and a microscopic hankroll she sets bravely about the task of making good in the hostile atmosphere of a big city, where she finds her university degree "with highest honors" of little use.

This role, calling as it does for a maturity and womanliness heretofore foreign to her portrayals, is acclaimed by film fans. James Dunn and Ginger Rogers have the principal supporting roles in the picture, with Beryl Mercer, Gustav Von Seyffertitz, Irene Franklin and other favorites in important parts. John Blystone directed the picture, taken from Kathleen Norris' novel, "Manhattan Love Song."

Fifty-Four Million Expended for Relief

From report of the Texas Relief Commission just furnished the Legislature it appears that 241 Counties in the State have been placed in the emergency area where federal officials recognize the situation as being acute. This report also shows the expenditures of the huge sum of $54,612,622, from all sources, for relief in Texas, for the period from September 1, 1933, to August 31, 1934, and estimates that $44,390,000, in relief funds will be necessary to care for the distressed in our State until May 1st. of next year.

On the drought situation the same reports shows that surveys in 100 Counties reveal 50,000 farm families hauling water for domestic purposes, six corporate municipalities with exhausted local water supplies, and 20 more with less than a thirty day supply on hand.

The foregoing brief statements will convey the gigantic proportions relief work has grown to, and also give some idea of the problems ahead of us caused by the prolonged drought.

The Legislature realizes the responsibility it has in determining what are the needs of our citizens, what amount of money will be necessary to care for the distressed, and how this money can be made available in the most economical and practicable way. Certainly there is a limit beyond which we cannot go in the expenditure of State Funds for relief without overwhelming the tax payers of the State.

Another important matter shown by the relief commission report is the per cent of administrative expense in each county.

This cost runs from 9 to 83 per cent with an average of all the counties of 18 percent. In the counties of the 120th Legislative District the administrative cost ranges from 19 to 42 per cent.

Firemen Hand Allstars Another Defeat Wednesday

Wednesday nights soft ball card presented the strong firemen team pitted with the Allstars. The contest was played with a sand storm raging and caused an otherwise good game to result in a hit and run affair. The Firemen held up their end of things a bit more capably than their opposition, which hoisted the firemen up a notch intensifying league leadership.

Things rocked along on an even basis for an inning or two when miscues bobbed up quite numerous and the results favoring the firemen. Dobbins started for the Allstars while Otis Scott performed for the fire boys. There is very little to be said other than the weather man had charge of affairs and the winners proved to be better sand eaters than the losers. The seven innings were played in a very listless manner and no one can be blamed for their behavior on the field.

My Trip Through Mexico

BY MISS FERN HOOVER

I had some ideas about Mexico before I left—but one cannot visit the interior to truly know Mexico.

I was in Mexico twelve days and saw every moment. The Mexican people are extremely courteous, and indeed very happy. I expected some trouble, but myself understood not a word of Spanish, but found it quite amusing conversing with the people of Mexico (Of course the English speaking guides for many tourists and many English speaking people in Mexico.)

From Torreón, a beautiful industrial city, 521 miles from Mexico City one still living pretty much as our ancestors did, grinding corn on the three legged "molinos", weaving "sarapes" and still plowing with the wooden oxen. One sees great quantities of "maguey", the Mexican drink which "pulque", the Mexican drink made. Along side this ancient civilization, a modern Mexico is growing.

They do not know Mexico City down there. They simply "Mexico".

It is something like 7440 feet above sea with a wonderful climate from 40 degrees F to 71 degrees F, the year round. The population of Mexico is over 1,000,000.

One of the "puertos", or market places of the Indians (direct descendants of the Aztec, Maya, Toltec and other who ruled Mexico before the Spanish conquest) bring their handiwork from the neighboring states and sell it on the streets.

On the drive to the magnificent de la Reforma and through Chapultepec Park was beautiful Chapultepec Castle (The White Palace of Mexico) where Maximilian and Carlota-Queen of Mexico lived. Where President Senor Rodriguez was the most beautiful spot and one can spend many hours wandering about the Castle and the Don Quixote Fountain with the story of Don Quixote.

and Sancho Panza is told in more than four hundred tile, is more than worth one's time. Mentioning tile reminds me of Sanborns "The Beautiful House of Tiles" built over 300 years ago, and is now one of the outstanding buildings in Mexico.

I saw the Cathedral, the largest and most imposing of all the thousands of fine religious edifices in Mexico and is the seat of the highest dignities of the Roman Holy Catholic Church in the Republic. The largest bell weighs 7,000 pounds and dates from 1791. The Cathedral was constructed in 1525 and being demolished was again erected in 1575 with the interior being Doric in character and distinct traces of Gothic. The building is 387 feet from north to south and 177 feet from east to west, height of the Nave 179 feet.

Next was the National Palace and which building occupies the entire east side of the Plaza de la Constitución and houses the Presidential, Treasury and other government offices, and the National Museum which forms part of the National Palace. One could spend not days, but months here studying the interesting collection of Aztec idols, sculptures and relics that have been gathered from parts of the Republic and belonging to many civilizations that have existed on the Republic continent. Some of the outstanding pieces are: The Aztec Calendar Stone, Sacrificial Stone, Huitzilopochtli (God of War) and many others.

Just across the Plaza is the National Pawn Shop which has tons of ancient and modern forfeits from illustrious but decadent palaces. Other interests are the National Library with 200,000 volumes from suppressed monasteries and convents; National Picture Gallery containing the San Carlos collection; National School of Medicine; National Theatre, representing a cost of over 20,000,000 pesos or $10,000,000.

Probably the most famous church in the Republic is Basilica of Guadalupe which carries a beautiful legend and which church was erected in accordance with the Virgin's bidding, and which itself a full of pictures depicting the appearance of the Virgin and is also interesting in architectural point of view.

Other buildings of interest visited were: The Military College or "West Point of Mexico"—Penitentiary or Federal Prison of Mexico which also are worthy of praise.

One of the most interesting trips—one long to be remembered, was the trip to the Pyramids. I climbed to the top of the Pyramid of the Sun, 60 meters (215 feet) high and tried to visualize what took place thousands of years ago here at the sight of the ancient Pyramids. To the left of the Pyramid of the Sun is the Pyramid of the Moon and to the right the Temple of Quetzalcoatl, sort of amphitheatre with grotesque carvings of mythological animals chiefly derived from the serpent species.

On returning to Mexico from the Pyramids I stopped at the Acolman, an ancient monastery begun in 1539 and built like a fortress, which building has been taken over by the Republic and is again being restored after some damage by the revolution.

On Sunday I drove out to Xochimilco or The Floating Gardens, which is like no other place in Mexico. (for information this word is pronounced "So-chee-MEE-el-co") It is a group of small islands, surrounded by tall, graceful popular trees. These islands once were rafts covered with earth upon which the Indians grow vegetables and flowers. Through the years the rafts became rooted to the bottom of the lake and now one glides through them on a boat propelled by a small boy with musicians filling the air with typical Mexican music. On Sunday, more than any other day in the week, the "Venice of Mexico" is that is what the Xochimilco is called, is crowded with boys and girls, the singing, dancing and dining. The beautiful flowers are plentiful and one may purchase arms full for a very small sum in American money.

The Mexicans go in for sports the same as other races and have excellent skill—while there I saw several interesting games of Fronton. This is usually played by four players. It is claimed to have originated in the Basque Mountains of Spain and requires intelligence, strength and agility to play the game. Then at 12 o'clock Sunday, the New York American played the Mexican Boys a game of Mexican Foot ball, which is most interesting and in contrast to the American football, which is not so rough but yet skillful. In this game no player may use his hands, but only his head, shoulders and feet to batle the ball. Yes, the New York Americans won 2 to 0. Both teams had played in Rome, Italy, and were considered the very best in this art or sport. Then to a bull fight where the Matadors killed two bulls each. The grace and skill of the fighters were beautiful to watch. The mammoth bullring "El Torero" is the largest in the world and will seat over 25,000. Of course a bull fight to us, seems one sided, as the bull has no say in the matter.

As I am no epicure, my experience with the cabrets and night clubs and bars was very little. However, to make my trip complete I visited "El Foreign Club", Mexico's foremost palace of jovial night life, where thousands of guests forget cares in surrounding luxurious comfort, dining, dancing, gambling and being entertained in the ball-room. From overhead 6000 un- even lights cast rainbow color effects automatically synchronized to the music played in the orchestra pit in the ballroom. The casino, Ball-room, Cabret, Spanish Patien with its outstanding painting, Out-door Sports, swimming, tennis, canoeing etc., costing 2 million pesos surpass the casinos of Deaville, Monte Carlo, Agua Caliente. The building structure must be seen to ever realize how beautiful and modernistic in design it is built.

I left Mexico with a desire fulfilled and a realization that there were many beautiful cities and sights yet to be seen. No words could possible exaggerate the pleasure of a visit to Mexico. It never disappoints you.

Oh! I almost forgot, yes, there are plenty of burros in Mexico.

R. A. Stuart Explains National Housing Act at Meeting

A meeting was held here in the ballroom of the Hilton Hotel Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at which R. A. Stuart, Director of the West Texas District of the Federal Housing Administration, explained the National Housing Act in detail.

The Federal Housing Administration is doing everything possible to inform people how they can obtain money for housing improvements in sums of $100 to $2,000, and repay the amount borrowed in from one to three years.

In a letter from A. B. Davis, Secretary, Manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Davis said: "Owners of residences, office buildings, warehouses and farm buildings are all eligible for this cheap money if they have an adequate, regular income and a good credit record in their community—therefore, everyone is interested in this plan.

"However, bankers, material men, contractors and so forth are particularly interested because this plan, if properly promoted will start money circulating in the community for the purchase of material and the development of labor. Therefore, all of these people could help promote the plan.

'WHOM THE GODS DESTROY' TO BE SHOWN AT PALACE SUNDAY NIGHT, MONDAY PRACTICE GAME SEPTEMBER 14

Dealing with the dramatic question of how much a man should justly sacrifice for humanity, "Whom the Gods Destroy," featuring Walter Connolly, Doris Kenyon and Robert Young, will be shown at the Palace Theatre Sunday night and Monday. In these days of human sacrifice this picture offers a psychological question that is of paramount interest.

Beginning with a thrilling shipwreck in which a man disguises himself as a woman to save himself for the sake of his family, it rises to dramatic heights that will move the most blasé audience. Besides Connolly, Doris Kenyon and Young, the cast includes Hobart Bosworth, Gilbert Mulhall, Mary Car, Rollo Lloyd, Geneva Mitchell and Scotty Beckett. The director is Walter Lang.

PEACHES MEASURING NINE INCHES IN CONFERENCE GROWN BY W. P. COX ON HIS FARM ON OKLAHOMA AVENUE

W. P. Cox, farmer of Oklahoma Avenue brought to the Leader office Friday last several large peaches of extra fine quality, measuring nine inches in circumference. They were not only a good size, but were extra juicy, and as fine peaches as grow in any part of the country.

These peaches, Mr. Cox said, were off trees planted in 1926. He has eleven trees planted at that time, and several younger trees. He stated that he has a fine crop of peaches this year, and that this is the first year he has had any peaches to speak of, as the frost up until this year killed the blooms.

Mr. Cox said that his trees this year were so heavily laden with the fruit that he had to pull a lot of the small peaches off, to allow the others to grow.

It is his opinion that if this section had been favored with plenty of moisture this year that owing to the past mild winter that there would have been an immense crop of fruit on the South Plains.

Mr. Cox also has a good crop of apricots, grapes and cherries.

OILERS SPRING SURPRISE ON ALLSTARS; WIN BY SCORE 10-5

In one of the biggest upsets of the week the youthful Oilers put on a scoring rally to upset the Allstars in their match game last Thursday night.

With over-cast skies and evidence of rain threatening to halt the game between the Allstars and the Oilers, the game was played in defiance of the weatherman without any interruptions.

Hostilities opened with the Allstars showing their superior qualities and counting enough runs to sense another victory. But ere long the Oilers changed when the Hawthorne bats opened up to cross the platter three times in the 3rd frame and to take away their third win for the second half of play by recording 5 more runs in the 4th stanza before things quieted down.

Jim Davenport, and his men failed to play up to their usual standard. With Thomas Lowe, star leftfielder and two or three new faces replacing other regulars who have left for the time at least weakened the defensive for the Stars. The Oilers however, have played their last to contests with replacements to bolster their cause. Baize ace Oilers chunker is credited with the win.

Firemen Trim Lutherans To Tune of 6-1

Last Friday night the fire-distinguishers put the Lutherans one step lower in the percentage column by handing them a 6 to 1 defeat.

The second inning was the big stanza for the fireboys when four men crossed the scoring line and put them out in front with a liberal lead and more than enough to give assurance of the ultimate outcome. The Oilers played well at all stages of the game showing marked improvement over previous performances. The lone tally made by the Lutherans came in the last round, on two put outs and a base single by Jimmie Timian. The game was played under heavy skies and threatening rain.

Sunnydale Win Handily Over Alstars; 16-2

The skirmish between the Allstars and the Hanks and Pepper team from west of the City resulted in a one sided affair before it was over with the Sunnydale Peppers registering sixth win to go into a tie with the businessmen for second place.

Jimmie Davenport and Co., had their unfortunate situation to undertake them at critical stages of the contest that not only disrupted their fighting spirits but slowed up and weakened their defensive plays.

For the first three innings both clubs played on even terms and put up an interesting game but there after the tide turned in favor of the Hanks entry. Seven times they let it be known in runs made in the 4th, three more in the 5th and the final rally rang up four to round out their total of 16 tallies. Cape pitched steady for the winners allowing very few raps for the six inning he worked. Davenport was in the box for the losers.

Lutherans Swamp Oilers in Their Second Win; 25-5

The cellar holders for the second half put on full steam at the expense of the uncertain Oilers who have shown both good and bad in their efforts to vie for honors in the local soft-ball loop. Last Monday night they did not have "IT" and as a consequence the Lutherans made merry their foot work on the paths when base-hits galore resounded to all corners of the ball orchard.

Bombarding pitcher Baize for 8 runs in the first inning and laying down a barrage of base-hits in the 4th that resembled a merry-go-round, and netted a grand total of 15 runs for the inning. The game was uninteresting except for the winners and it added to their spirits with new hopes of other victories.

LOCAL FOOTBALL SQUAD WORKING OUT AT BALL PARK EVERY DAY

Accompanied by Coach L. T. Barksdale, the following boys, who are members of the High School Football squad, returned to Littlefield Tuesday of this week from Palo Duro Park, where they have been training for several days. E. M. McKnight, E. McKnight, Leo Duffey, W. Duffey, Kendrick, Hall, Rowe, Bostick, eRid, G. Lakey, S. Lakey, Gibson, Beavers, R. Smith, Dorman, Teeters, Boyken, James, Madden, Oates, Coefield, Walker, Pierce, Kasseroler, Halliburton, New and Carter.

They will work out every afternoon this week at the ball park at three o'clock.

At the camp they mixed hiking, swimming and baseball with their regular work in foot-ball, and are getting in shape fast for their first game of the season, which will be played in Littlefield September 21.

On Friday, September 14, two teams from the local squad will have a good hot practice game, and the public is invited to see it free of charge.

The boys remember the drubbing handed them by Levelland last season, after they had been out of school for a month. They are not out with blood in their eyes this time, working hard, and anxiously waiting for November 9 to roll around, at which time they will again meet them and on the local gridiron, and even though Levelland does outweigh the locals several pounds per man, they expect to give them a day's work November 9.

LEGION ADMINISTERS DEFEAT TO SCHOOL FACULTY; SCORE 9-5

Last Tuesday afternoon the school faculty and the American Legion clubs locked horns in a nifty contest the latter coming out on top after six close innings were reeled off; both teams alternating at times to take the lead over each other.

In the opening round with the coin giving the Educators their choice, and taking the field, Fly Thornton lead off with a hit to left. Art Mueller drove one to left for a home run, scoring Thornton ahead of him. The next three men were retired in order. Not to be out done the Faculty, with Bill Pass as leadoff man drew a base on balls. Curtis Heard politely lifted one over Thornton in left field for a four base hit. Travis Jones kept up the good work by sending a single to left. Barksdale flied out as did Lay-field. Keithley came through with a safety to score Jones, went to second on the play home; took third on a pass ball and scored on an infield error. Etter retired the side by hoisting out to Woods.

One more run was made by the Legion in the 3rd, three in the 4th to forge ahead with the Faculty getting one in the 6th. In the 7th the Legion tallied thrice on Thornton's base on balls, Muellers second circuit smash, Hulse doubled and Woods hit safe to score Hulse.

The game was filled with spectacular fielding plays by both teams and warmly contested throughout. Potter for the Legion and Cotton Egan for the Faculty apposed each other on the mound.

PLAYERS OF MORE THAN 400 INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE SCHOOLS ARE IN TRAINING

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 5. (UP) — Texas high school gridiron players of more than 400 interscholastic league schools already are in training for their annual attempt at the state championship.

Roy Henderson, league athletic director, today predicted an increase over the 400 entrants last year. With September 15 as the deadline, 366 have already registered in class A. B. and C.

Coaches at most schools in the state have conditioned their prospects in outdoor camps, starting with exercise and ending their sessions with fundamental drills.

While it is a trifle early to make predictions on the 1934 season, Henry Frnka, coach of the champion Greenville high lions, said at Texas Tech coaching school in Lubbock recently that prospect at his school were "pretty fair".

a big man, big in body and soul. He had not uttered a word. Both Lomax and Haddon objected.
"Shift around—you're a shinning mark!" they exclaimed in unison.
Richard laughed dryly. "There's a saying that Death loves a shinning mark. Rod, I believe we shake hands first."
"I'm damned if I do!" Rod said, shaking with passion. "I'll fight. Time up, major!"
As he spoke there was a crackling of twigs behind them and a shout, a hoarse vociferous shout.
"Hi, there! Hold on you—you young ass! What're you doin here?" Mr. Gordon came up, breathless, hatless.
He plunged into the middle of the group, snatched his son by the nape
of the neck, like a puppy, and fairly shook him.
"Lomax, Haddon, Richard—what the devil d'you-all mean by this?"
Roddy blazed at white heat, wrenching himself away from him. "I'm here to avenge my sister's honor," he shouted. "If you've forgotten it, I haven't, I'm a Gordon still!"
"Gordon fiddlesticks!" his father shook with a passion as great as his.
"It's a damned pity you didn't think of being a Gordon before, you young scoundrel! D'you happen to know that that man's money kept you out of jail?"
He gasped. For a moment he was dumb. Then he rallied, his young face set hard and tight again.
"Did my sister go to this man for money—to save me from jail?"
"Yes, confound you, she did—that's it, that's the whole of it. It's your fault every bit of it. It's Roddy recoiled. For an instant the world turned black; then a blaze of fury burnt his shame up.
He went up to Richard and shook his pistol in his face.
"I know why she married you now, damn you, I'll kill you for it!"
he shouted, "you damn coward!"
Richard folded his arms. "Go ahead
Rod," he said bitterly. "I deserve it—but I've a word to say. Mr. Gordon, Major Lomax, Haddon, all of you, I didn't know until tonight of the scandal that has been launched against the loveliest girl in the world, I deserve to be killed for exposing her to it. I stand here tonight to expiate it in my blood. Nancy Virginia is my wife, gentlemen, and I love her. I have always loved her, and I am glad—I say this facing death here, as you know, I'm glad and proud that she bears my name.
Mr. Gordon caught at his son again. "You hear him? He speaks like a man. He loves your sister. He's married her. Confound you, you donkeys, you, you're making a public scandal. Lomax, help me take this boy home! Richard go in the house!" he shouted. "what d'you mean by standing up there for this lumb to shoot at? You're a brave man. I take off my hat to your courage, sir, but I—I've had all I can bear! Rod Gordon he's married your sister!"
"Has he?" Roddy breathed heavily, his face rigid. "I want to see the license. I want to see the certificate of this secret marriage. I want to know if he's made a dupe of my sister!"
Richard met his look squarely. His own face was hard now. "You can see them all. We were married in church. But we'd better settle our differences now. Do your duty, gentlemen. I accepted his challenge and I'm ready."
"This can't go on!" Haddon gasped coming forward. "I want to say—" Richard drew back his head. "All right Gordon, another time! Give us the signal, gentlemen."
Lomax caught hold of Roddy's father and held him by main force. Mr.
Gordon was struggling violently.
"Damn you, Lomax, unhand me—Roddy, you young devil, you—"
"Give the signal, Haddon," said the major sharply. "I can't hold this old octopus forever!"
Roddy sprang to his position, his weapon gleaming in the moonlight.
Richard faced him. Haddon, shaken and gray, began to count.
"One, two three—"
Suddenly a white clad figure sprang out of the shadow of the shrubbery. Like a flash it leaped between the duelist Nancy covered Richard with her own body.
"Stop!" she cried, panting, "you'll have to shoot me first, Rod!"
Roddy recoiled, his mouth fell open, his eyes fixed themselves on her—in credulous, startled, maddened with surprise. There was a terrible moment of silence.
"God you love him!" he gasped.
His father, broken loose from Lomax now, had him by the arm, he wrenched the pistol from the boy's relaxed fingers. Roddy sagged over against him, while Nancy still faced him, her face as white as a star and her beautiful hair tumbling about her shoulders.

Roddy was dumb.
Mr. Gordon dragged him along.
"Come!" he said huskily, and then:
"you young fool, you, she loves him—
you've made trouble enough, let 'em alone!" he whispered.
Roddy was still speechless. He yielded to the older man's force; he let himself be dragged away. Lomax and Haddon following them—as dumb as he was. They walked slowly. Twice Roddy stumbled. His ears were singing, but he heard his father's voice, after a moment.
"You young donkey, you!" and then it broke and grew husky, something melted in him. He looked at the boy's dejected face.
"I'm proud of you."
Roddy was silent, his head sagged with his shoulders, his face burned.
He knew now the price his sister had paid to keep him out of jail, and the iron entered into his soul. He had come, at last, to the beginning of repentance.
The father and son went slowly, and the other two, Lomax and Haddon melted quietly away toward the river meadow.
Richard stood still, rooted to the spot, his face as white as his shirt, his eyes were on Nancy, and her's were fixed on the distance where her father and her brother had gone. Suddenly it came to her that they had gone home and left her. Left her alone with the man she had married.
She drew a quick breath, a wave of crimson rose slowly, it rose all over her quivering young body and rushed up to her white face. Her eyes sank and her hands shrank together.
She was alone—left behind—and he was silent. But she had heard what he said to her father and to the others. He had said he loved her, that he was proud that she bore his name!
The silence grew and grew. It seemed to her that it was killing her. She heard the drip of moisture from the quivering boughs of the trees; the faint fragrance of opening buds came to her, it was almost more than she could bear.
Then Richard's voice, broken and changed.
"Nancy, you didn't mean that? You did it to save Roddy from murder, you—"
She was dumb, but she made a faint wavering gesture of denial.
"Nancy, I beg your pardon—I didn't know the things that were said—it's all my fault. It was up to me to protect you, I—"
he stopped and then, hoarsely: "God knows I wish you did mean it—I love you with all my soul!"

She lifted her head at that, and the moonlight found her face; slowly, almost reluctantly, she raised her eyes to his.
He caught his breath. A great light broke.
"Nancy! You don't mean that you
—"
his voice failed, it died in his throat. He caught her hands with a force that almost hurt them. Even his lips were white.
"Nancy Virginia—" he drew her toward him, looking into her face, the power in his eyes holding hers—
"shall I take you home—to to them?"
he asked, and his deep voice broke on the word, "or—?"
She could not take her eyes from his. She no longer tried. Her face quivered and softened into a happy smile.
"Richard," she answered softly.
"I—I've come to you!"

"A Woman's Work is Never Done . . ."

This was true in most every case when mother was a girl . . .
true in lots of instances now!

Remember how mother used to get up by lamp-light . . . start a fire in the hot, wood or coal stove . . . take an hour to prepare breakfast . . . sweep the house with an old fashioned broom . . .
return to a hot kitchen to spend hours over the noon-day meal
. . . after lunch do a bit of washing bent over a tub and with an old-fashioned rub board? Remember?

And then her day's work wasn't half done. It went on like that until long after dark.

But—thanks to electricity—all of this drudgery has been eliminated. There's an electric servant for every household work and within the reach of every family . . . even those with the most modern income.

We would be pleased to explain to you how you can own these necessities. They aren't expensive. To install every possible electrical appliance in your home is really a measure of economy!

VOTE TO INSTALL COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

Floyd Hemphill Is Elected High School Principal; Many Changes in Faculty

At a meeting of the School Faculty of the Littlefield Independent School District, Sept. 3, it was voted to install a commercial department in the high school. Miss Lucille Parks was elected to teach typing and shorthand together with some other work. The typing course will be a double period course and there will be a charge of twenty-five cents per month per pupil to take care of maintenance of the typing machines. This course will be restricted to Juniors and seniors in the high school. The courses will both carry some expense to the individual since the state does not furnish text for them.

At the same meeting Floyd Hemphill was elected to take the place of F. O. Bolea, resigned, as principal of the high school for the coming year. Mr. Hemphill has been in the system for several years and is well known among the students and patrons.

Miss Naomi Robbette was elected to teach in the high school and care for the work formerly taught by Mr. Bolea and thus allow Mr. Hemphill to continue in his special line of work for which he is especially trained. Miss Robbette is a B. A. degree graduate of N. Y. S. T. C. with a Math major and a history minor which qualify her to teach the subjects assigned in a very capable manner.

Fred Bryant, Miss Lorene Prestidge and Mrs. Elizabeth Yates Morris were elected to teach in the Grammar Schools. These people are all capable and experienced. Miss Prestidge has a B. S. degree from N. Y. S. T. C. and Mrs. Morris has an M. A. Degree from Texas University.

Miss Edna Selman of Glendale, Montana, a B. S. degree graduate of the University of Montana has been elected to take the place of Carrie Lee Collins, resigned as Home Economics instructor.

Mrs. B. L. Cogdill has been elected as kindergarten teacher on a tuition basis. Mrs. Cogdill will have her room in the Grammar School building. Folks with five and six year old children who wish them to be in school will get in touch with Mrs. Cogdill. There will probably not be room in the grammar school to take care of children under age.

Miss Mary Alice Walden was elected to teach expression in the schools this year. Miss Nance has married and will not be here during the winter. The studio for expression will be in the High School building.

time is ripe to install a plant here. Our payroll at Lubbock is approximately $8600 a year. A number would be employed in Littlefield the year round. In the construction of the building we would use local help as much as possible.

This company has been supplying ice this season to Amherst, Sudan, Mulshoe, Morton, Bula, Pop, Enochs, Goodland, Circle Back, Anton, (Feltton, Spade, Hart Camp, Earth, and other communities.

recently adopted Frazier-Lemke amendment. Under the provisions of this amendment, the debtor may be allowed to retain possession of his farm for a period of either five or six years. During this period he may make certain payments under a six year purchase plan, including the payment of taxes and one per cent interest on the principal each year in addition to certain payments on the principal of the debt. This plan is followed provided the secured creditors give their consent. If they do not accept the plan, the farmer may retain possession by paying into the Court a fixed annual rental. At the end of this five or six year period or before the debtor may repurchase the farm by paying a price set up on it by three appraisers appointed by the Federal Court.

Murray, who is Chairman of the Texas Farm Debts Conciliation Committee, strongly recommends that every effort be made by distressed farmers to secure a voluntary adjustment of their debts through the Farm Debts Adjustment Committees already appointed in each county, or with the aid of the County Conciliation Commissioner before resorting to bankruptcy proceedings under the Frazier-Lemke amendment. This amendment requires farming under the jurisdiction of the Court, and gives the farmer no assurance that he will be able to borrow the money at the end of the six-year period to pay the appraised price of the farm.

Hats Off To Virginia Walker!

Hats off to Virginia Walker!

Some girls go to a summer camp, and all they bring home is sunburn.

But that's not the way Virginia Walker does things.

She brought home two prizes: One for impersonating Mae West; the other, a loving cup for superior horsemanship.

We have seen Virginia ride and we can therefore understand the loving cup for superior horsemanship.

But the prize for impersonating Mae West — well, Virginia isn't built up that way.

However, at any rate, etc., Virginia Virginia got away with it.

This said camp is Camp Carriza, located in the Sacramento mountains in New Mexico, and the said Virginia Walker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Walker.

CITY SEEKS RIGHT-OF-WAY FOR PIPE LINE

Owners of Property ars Asked to Make Commission Proposition

The City Commission has written owners of property through which the city desires to obtain a right-of-way for a pipe line in connection with the expansion of the water works system.

Extension of the waterworks was authorized by the taxpayers of Littlefield when they voted a bond issue recently. The extension of the waterworks will be carried out under a Federal plan of financing.

W. G. Street, city secretary, announced Wednesday night that as soon as agreements had been made for the proposed right-of-way with the property owners that the engineer would start working up plans on the improvements to the present water system.

It is the plan of the City Commission to sink one well approximately a mile north of the present plant. However, it is likely that several tests wells will be sunk before the desired location is found.

Woman's Study Club Meet at City Hall

Members of the Woman's Study Club met in the Library of the City Hall Wednesday afternoon for their first meeting of this season.

Mrs. L. C. Hewitt had charge of the program, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Gardner, Mrs. T. Wade Potter and Mrs. J. H. Barnett, the course of study being on "The Indian before History."

LOCAL BOOSTER GROUP RESUMES WEEKLY SESSIONS

Home Demonstration Agent Makes Report On Year's Work

A gratifying report made by Miss Bernice Westbrook, Lamb county demonstration agent, on the year's work and present efforts of the county organization was the feature of the program at the meeting of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce Tuesday noon, Sept. 4. At this meeting Vice President J. S. Hilliard, made definite announcement that the weekly meetings of the Chamber of Commerce would be resumed, beginning with that meeting, instead of the monthly sessions which have been held throughout the summer.

Superintendent, A. B. Sanders, was called upon for information concerning the opening of the local schools and responded with news concerning the bright outlook for the coming school year. Mr. Sanders further pointed out many of the recent important additions to the school in the way of new equipment and especially the addition of a commercial department.

Following these reports the members rendered and discussed projects being worked out through the County and neighboring counties. Particular attention was given to the road work to the north and west of Littlefield. Another road item mentioned and approved as a vital project was the Hard-surfaced stretch just falling into construction leading from Plainview toward East line of Lamb county.

Throughout the meeting much evidence prevailed favoring the efforts of the local commerce organization, and the members indicate a keen interest in their work for the community.

WORLD'S MOST ACCOMPLISHED LIARS—

We understand that Walter T. LeMond, well known wholesale oil agent hereabouts, is a candidate for president of the Grand and Exalted order of the World's Most Accomplished Liars.

The fact of the matter is that, although we have had considerable to do with this Liars' club, we didn't know that Walter was a member. But, of course, anything can happen in such an organization.

And, moreover, we do not know Walter's qualifications for membership, or the presidency of the organization.

It might be that a better president could not be found anywhere, at any time. The only way that the matter can be settled is for Walter to strut his stuff.

Come on Walter! We're waiting to hear from you!

MY! MY! MY! WASN'T THAT A SWELL WEST TEXAS RAIN WE HAD SUNDAY NIGHT!

HOW MANY WIVES IN LITTLEFIELD SUNDAY NIGHT ASKED THEIR HUSBANDS IF THEY HAD PUT ALL THE WINDOWS DOWN BEFORE THE FAMILY LEFT HOME?

My wife asked me that question. A man can just look at a sandstorm and speculate and gesticulate as to how long the sand will blow, or how much sand was moved over into the next county. BUT A WOMAN! SHE JUST GROANS AND THINKS ABOUT HOW DEEP THE SAND WILL BE IN EVERY ROOM IN THE HOUSE.

YES, THANK YOU! THE BULL PUP IS DOING AS WELL AS CAN BE EXPECTED—

Last week we told you about the new bull pups hereabouts and who owned them; also we announced that there would be a go between Bill Pass' dog and the editor's new and proud possession.

Customers, we are sorry. The editor's dog put one of his toes in the paper cutter down at the shop and had to go into retirement for reconditioning.

But the pups are very young and Bill and the editor still have young ideas, so it's an even bet that the pups'll scrap.

MY! MY! MY! THERE'LL BE A HOT TIME IN THE OLD TOWN..

FOLKS, WE'RE DOWNHEARTED—

We didn't get a single comment, one way or the other about our idea to have a Municipal Auditorium built in Littlefield.

We got the Rev. Joe F. Grizzle off to one side and cornered him up on the idea. And even then he didn't have much to say.

BUT EVEN IF WE ARE DOWNHEARTED, WE ARE NOT DISCOURAGED.

We know of several Municipal Auditoriums that are being operated successfully. And we are going to send out some letters and get a whole

HERE'S ANOTHER CANDIDATE FOR THE GRAND AND EXALTED ORDER OF THE WORLD'S MOST ACCOMPLISHED LIARS—

We have great pleasure in nominating W. E. Jeffries for membership in the GRAND AND EXALTED ORDER OF THE WORLD'S MOST ACCOMPLISHED LIARS.

Here's Mr. Jeffries' contribution: A man fainted in Littlefield a few days ago. A friend dashed a bucket of water into the man's face, but that did not revive him.

Another friend came along, and he remembered that their friend who had fainted had been a resident of West Texas for many, many years.

The last mentioned friend of the friend who had fainted grasped a handful of sand and threw it in his face. The man who had fainted came to and immediately recovered.

MY! MY! MY! WHAT A RAIN

R. H. Moses says that Bob Beck out at Beck's Gin said, concerning the recent downpour of rain in that locality, that it rained so hard, so long, and so deep, that the gin was filled with water and that water flowed out of the smoke stack.

STOP THE PRESS!

County Attorney Herbert C. Martin is an applicant for membership in the GRAND AND EXALTED ORDER OF THE WORLD'S MOST ACCOMPLISHED LIARS. We have heard his story, and we nominate Herbert for membership; in fact, after hearing his story, we are almost convinced that we should organize a MARTIN FOR PRESIDENT CLUB, in connection with the perfecting of the GRAND AND EXALTED ORDER OF THE WORLD'S MOST ACCOMPLISHED LIARS.

WATCH FOR HERBERT'S STORY IN NEXT WEEK'S ISSUE OF LAMB COUNTY'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER.

CHILD'S TOE INJURED

The little two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McCormick of Anton, who were all visiting Mr. McCormick's mother here, Tuesday had the misfortune to run a heavy splinter under one of her toe nails. It was necessary for Dr. T. B. Duke to whom they took the child for treatment, to split the nail in order to remove the splinter.

HEAVIEST RAIN IN YEARS FALLS IN BECK'S GIN SECTION LATE THURSDAY

One of the heaviest rains which has taken place in the Beck's Gin section took place last Thursday afternoon.

The rainfall was estimated at from six to eight inches. Two cows and cat owned by L. A. Ladd were killed by lightning. The lakes in that section were filled, and water flowed into some of the houses.

Two automobiles which became stalled in one of the lakes, remained there for several days on account of the high water. The cars are owned by D. H. Clements and W. E. Byrd.

Mr. and Mrs. Clements and their child were in the car when it stalled. E. B. Luce of Amherst, assisted Mr. Clements in taking his wife and child to safety.

Two sons of Mr. Byrd were in the Byrd car when it stalled.

Heavy rains fell over a large part of Lamb County, the rainfall at Sudan and Amherst measuring about two inches.

College Section Briefs

Essie Lou Malone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Malone, who has been ill, is recovering rapidly, and will re-enter High School.

Mrs. G. P. Malone has returned to Littlefield after spending two weeks in the home of Mr. Malon's mother, Mrs. M. A. Malone, of Rule, Texas. She went to Rule on account of the illness of Mrs. Malone.
