Disease Claims Two More

Limited but deadly Lamb County outbreak of encephalitis claimed three deaths for three Tuesday night when F. E. ...

Saturday at Lubbock of the disease and C. L. Berry, 34, Springlake school junior high principal, died enroute to a Lubbock hospital Wednesday, Aug. 21.

The fatality rate for Lamb county is the highest reported on the South Plains this summer, and in county history, for the disease, commonly called "sleeping sickness."

Neighboring counties, notably Hale, have reported more cases -- almost 40 cases in Hale county -- but with a low percentage of deaths, Hale county has been declared an epidemic area.

highly the city's mosquito control program. We feel that the fullest precaution is being taken in this area," the mayor said.

The mayor reported a number of calls at city hall of persons concerned with horses in the city area, a concern that probably is unwarranted according to Dr. W. C. Nowlin, city health officer, and Dr. Charles Nace, Littlefield veterinarian.

"reservoir" for the disease as has been long suspected. Two types of the disease have been designated Eastern Equine and Western Equine in years past, an identification that may be far in error.

Services for Frances Contreras Duque were held Monday in Littlefield, and the McBride services will be Wednesday here.

Old Timers Hold 15th Reunion Here

The 15th annual Lamb County Pioneers' Reunion drew approximately 400 persons to the Littlefield Community Center yesterday afternoon where old timers heard a brief talk by Sen. H. J. "Doc" Blanchard, observed a memorial for deceased members, enjoyed a barbecue supper and recalled "the good old days."

The Pioneers Association also named new officers, elevating Alvin Webb of Littlefield to the president's job. Webb moved up from vice president to replace Weldon Findley. Luther L. Usleton of Amherst is the new vice president.

The pioneers reelected Mrs. Ray Blessing of Amherst as treasurer and Ray Smith of Spade as secretary. Two new directors -- Sport Byers of Springlake and I. B. Holt of Olton -- were named to the board.

Sen. Blanchard did some reminiscing with the old settlers about Lamb County, the senator having been reared in the Sudan community. He also made some comparisons of the past and present, pointing to the great accomplishments made during the pioneers' life times.

Blanchard was introduced by Judge E. A. Bills, while Findley presided over the afternoon's activities. Bonnie Haberer of Pleasant Valley was program chairman.

The program also included the award of prizes to some of the pioneers. Mr. and Mrs. Willis C. White of Springlake won the prize for having lived the longest continuous period in the county.

The Whites have lived at Springlake since 1908, both moving here from Kansas. They were married in 1911 and have 5 children. Mr. White is retired, and was postmaster at Springlake for 31 years. One daughter lives in the county -- Mrs. Dorothy Crawford of Amherst.

Blanchard, observed a memorial for deceased members, enjoyed a barbecue supper and recalled "the good old days."

HOWDY!

by Dick Reavis

How do you interpret this? On the far right this would outlaw Senator Barry Goldwater and on the far left it would rule out Nelson Rockefeller.

In the center, with Ike, would be a mystery man who cannot be known to the nation. Strangers hardly ever get elected President. And Ike apparently is not sure who his "President X" is today. But he says he will produce him; and he must be a man of some stature to be elected.

The General has touched off one of the greatest guessing games of the year. For the golden popularity of Eisenhower will carry a great weight in Republican decisions next year.

For months now the name of Richard Nixon has cropped up increasingly, although the former vice president has done about everything possible to take himself out of the Presidential contention.

He lost in California to a political hack, then told off the press -- and they dogged sure deserved it -- then he moved completely away from his home base, which is something an ambitious politician never does.

But while Richard Nixon may have discounted his political future, many people have not. And Ike Eisenhower may be one of them.

The General has publicly regretted that he did not make more of a fight for Nixon in 1960. This was a mutual fault -- Nixon chose to run on his own, and Eisenhower waited to be invited into the fray, which he was the last 10 days with visible results.

LOCAL MENTO ATTEND

Cotton Is Topic For Area Meeting

Chamber of Commerce officials, leading businessmen and farmers from the 23-county High Plains area will get together at 3 p.m. today at the South Johnson House in Lubbock to discuss mutual interests related to High Plains cotton.

The idea came from a series of farm dinner meetings sponsored by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce. Attendance was so good at a joint meeting in Littlefield of PCG officials and farmers and businessmen that the PCG decided to inaugurate the program.

QB Club Has First Meeting

About 75 adults turned out for a watermelon party as the Littlefield Quarterback Club held a kickoff meeting Monday night at Wildcat Stadium.

Weather

The 5-day forecast for the Lamb County area calls for temperatures to average 2 to 4 degrees above normal and little or no precipitation. Normal maximum about 93, normal minimum about 71.

HORSES UNFAIRLY BLAMED

'Horseteria' Trend Noted

An opinion to ease a wave of alarm over the presence of horses around Littlefield, as a possible source for encephalitis, was voiced Wednesday by Dr. W. C. Nowlin, city health officer.

sons concerned over horses in or near the city. "Indications are that the horse only suffers from the disease, as do human beings, but is not responsible for spreading its germ," Dr. Nowlin said.

Dr. Nowlin cited recent findings of encephalitis studies that the horse probably is a final victim of the "sleeping sickness" disease, not a "reservoir" for its germs, an opinion that equine doctors have argued for years.

There are several other suspects for "reservoirs" for encephalitis germs, a "reservoir" being an animal in which the germ count is high enough that the disease can be transmitted from it to some other animal, or human.

Rites Today For McBride

Funeral services for Floyd Erwin McBride, 52, will be conducted from the First Baptist Church at 3 p.m. today with the Rev. C. J. Coffman, pastor of Parkview Baptist, officiating. J. L. Bass of Farwell will assist.

Mayor Armistead this week also reported on a study made here two weeks ago by a State Health Department team, seeking larvae of the type of mosquito that transmits the "sleeping sickness" germ.

Rail Strike Would Limit Mail Service

Postmaster T. A. Henson announced Wednesday that planes, trucks and busses will be pressed into service to move air and first class mail to its destination and to move other classes of mail within a 150-mile radius of Littlefield in the event of a nationwide rail strike, that Wednesday still was a big question mark.

However, Henson noted that he had received instructions not to accept mailings other than first class, air mail and parcel post which are destined for points farther than the second postal zone, which is generally approximately 150 miles from Littlefield for the duration of the rail strike, if it occurs.

Monday Rites For Anton Girl

Rites for Francis Contreras Duque, 13, of Anton, were held in Littlefield Monday at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, at 11 a.m.

"We are prepared to handle any letters or parcels addressed to any point provided first class or air mail postage is paid on the items," Henson said.

She died Saturday in a Lubbock hospital, a victim of encephalitis. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Duque of Anton.

Francis was born Jan. 19, 1950, and had resided in Anton the past several years.

Immediate survivors include two brothers and two sisters. Burial was in the Anton cemetery. Hammons Funeral Home of Littlefield was in charge of arrangements.

Local Trio Attends Summer Assembly

"The Contemporary Christian's Mission" was the theme for Baptist Student Union Week at the Southern Baptist Summer Assembly in Glorieta, N.M., Aug. 21-28. Attending from Littlefield were Misses Patricia Locker and Joyce Thompson, sophomore students at Texas Technological College and Mrs. Ralph Nelson.

The trio went to Glorieta on Tuesday and spent Wednesday working in Templo Bautista, a Southern Baptist Mission near Espanola, N.M.

Returning to Glorieta in time for the beginning of the BSU session which began on Thursday evening, Mrs. Nelson served as sponsor for a group of students from Parkland Methodist Hospital, Dallas; Kilgore Junior College, Texas A and M and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, in addition to the two Texas Tech students. All stayed in Littlefield Lodge on the assembly grounds.

The group of students, excepting the two from Littlefield, were guests of Rev. Max Barnett, BSU Director of the student nurses in Dallas. Rev. Barnett, formerly of Littlefield, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne O. Barnett.

He served as a member of the faculty during the assembly, speaking to the Glorieta Staff one evening and teaching a Class of 17-year-old boys on Sunday morning. Almost 2,000 students were registered from some 40 states, including Alaska and Hawaii.

RECIPE OF WEEK

Brownies, Cake Are Favorites With Boys

Mrs. Claude Pope shares two of her favorite recipes with us this week. Her family especially likes sweets, and they don't last long around her house -- not with five growing boys and a husband to feed three times a day. The recipes are for Super Brownies and Buttermilk Pound Cake.

The Pope's moved here 12 years ago when her husband, Claude, went to work for Pan American Oil Co. They have been married almost 17 years. They were both from Sudan.

The Pope's sons have been well trained to help around the house and to also do outside jobs. They help their mother keep an immaculate house, and each one, including the baby of course, has his special chores. They do such things as clean the bathroom, vacuum, empty trash and wash and dry dishes. Michael is the cook and prepares breakfast many mornings.

They also have been helping their daddy in the circulation department of the Littlefield Press since they were big enough to help. Mr. Pope took over as circulation manager seven years ago. At that time he hired one boy to help him, but as years went on he kept adding to his staff as his boys got old enough to help. Now all but the baby help him get the papers ready to throw and then the Pope crew throws the papers early Thursday and Sunday mornings. When carrier boys were used, Michael was a carrier boy.

Another outside job for the boys includes mowing grass and working in yards. This summer Michael and Mitchell were looking forward to a free trip to Six Flags Over Texas sponsored by an insurance company. They wanted Chris to get to go with them, so Michael and Chris spent some time working in yards to buy Chris the insurance so he could go. The good part about it was, they made enough in one day for the insurance premium with some left for spending money.

Mrs. Pope spends much time at the baseball park in the summer. Her sons participate in all sports. Mr. Pope has been a manager of a baseball team for the past five years. He managed the Lions Little League team this summer. She said "our family practically lives at the ballpark in the summer."

Mrs. Pope doesn't have much spare time keeping her family "going", but she does enjoy playing bridge. The couple belong to two night bridge clubs and she belongs to a daytime club.

They are members of the Church of Christ. Sunday mornings are a little hectic at their house, but they do manage to get there as much as possible.

SECRETARY, LIBRARIAN, POSTMISTRESS

Mrs. Vernie Wright Here For Pioneers' Reunion

Mrs. Vernie V. Wright, long-time secretary for the Yellowhouse Land Co. and one-time assistant postmaster, was one of the many old timers who came "home" Tuesday for the 15th annual Pioneer's Reunion.

Mrs. Wright, who has lived in Dallas since November, 1944, will be 85 on Dec. 29, and she is still very active and retains a sharp memory. In Dallas she is in her Presbyterian church work, is a member of the Eastern Star, and of a fine arts club.

Although she is a little hazy on dates, Mrs. Wright has vivid memories of Littlefield when she first came here March 5, 1913.

"I thought I'd come to the end of the world. There wasn't much here but some board shacks and a hotel, and I was afraid the Indians were going to get me!"

Mrs. Wright had moved here from Armit, La., located near New Orleans. She had been going to New Orleans on frequent occasions to see stage shows and eat out at such fine restaurants as Del Monico's.

"The Littlefield Hotel had just been completed when I arrived, and they were not serving meals yet... it was quite a change in my way of life," Mrs. Wright exclaimed. But she added that after her first initial shock, she began to like the life: "It turned out to be a great experience and I really enjoyed it."

Mrs. Wright first came to Roswell, N.M., from Louisiana. It was there she signed up for the job as A. P. Duggan's secretary with Littlefield Properties, but Mr. Duggan told her to wait in Roswell until the hotel was finished in Littlefield.

When she got the word to proceed to Littlefield, Mrs. Wright took a train to Canyon, and it was there she saw her first sandstorm. "It literally scared me to death," recalls Mrs. Wright.

After the first experience of a duster, she was never scared again. "I never did like the sandstorms, but like everyone

LONGTIME YELLOWHOUSE SECRETARY--Mrs. Vernie V. Wright, who came here in 1913, was secretary to the Yellowhouse Land Co. for 20 years. She missed Littlefield's Golden Anniversary Celebration, but turned up for the Pioneer Reunion Tuesday. She was a house guest of Mrs. Gladys Joplin.

else I fell in love with the Plains country."

Mrs. Wright, the former Mrs. Vernie White, brought her small son, Maurice, to Littlefield with her. She had been a widow for a number of years before coming west. Maurice started in the first school organized in the town in 1913.

A teacher had been brought here early in 1913, with interested parents chipping in to pay for tutoring. Major Littlefield paid a major share of the teacher's expense, Mrs. Wright recalls. Then in the fall in 1913, a school was organized with J. P. Hatchett in charge.

Until the hotel started serving meals, Mrs. Wright ate at the B. J. Smith home where many of the freighters had their meals. Smith, Mrs. Wright recalls, had the only weather-boarded house in town. He later built a two-story hotel.

Mrs. Wright was a charter member of the Presbyterian Church here along with six other persons--her son, Maurice, Mr. and Mrs. Duggan and their daughter, and W. G. and J. T. Street.

She was also a charter member of the Aftermath Club, which later became the Women's Study Club, and of the Eastern Star chapter.

The Aftermath Club initiated the first library here, and for a time it was housed in Mrs. Wright's home. She had built a home on 7th St. after settling here.

After several years in Littlefield, she was married to T. P. Wright, who was well known all over the Plains as a water-well driller. They had one son, Tildon, who was reared here.

Maurice and Tildon both live in Dallas now. Maurice married the former Vivian Courtney of Littlefield, and he has now been employed with Dallas Power & Light for 36 years. Tildon, who won a state title in extemporaneous speech at LHS, later graduated from West Point.

Mrs. Wright served as assistant postmaster to C. J. Duggan during her first three years here, drawing $5 a month for the part-time job. Littlefield Properties later became the Yellowhouse Land Co., and Mrs. Wright went back to work for the company and stayed with them for 20 consecutive years.

The old Yellowhouse building hasn't changed a whole lot in the past 50 years, says Mrs. Wright.

Mrs. Wright also remembers some large shelves in the building which displayed samples of crops in the area. Grain and fruit were preserved in large jars to show what could be grown in the area.

This marked the first old settlers' reunion Mrs. Wright had attended in a number of years. She was unable to attend the Golden Anniversary Celebration held here this summer, so she enjoyed the reunion very much.

Fieldton Farmer 'Dives' For Honey

A passing motorist could have spotted a strange sight at the Ruben "Junior" Brock home in the Fieldton community Monday.

After all, it's not every day you see a man in West Texas walking around in a deep-sea diver's suit!

However, Brock wasn't looking for water . . . he had on the suit to protect him from bees. It all started when Brock discovered bees had built a large hive in the wall of a small grainery building on his farm. Brock couldn't find anyone to get the honey out of the wall, and he didn't want to "rob" the hive and face the buzzing bees. Gary Rodgers of Littlefield came to his rescue, offering him the use of his deep-sea diving suit to accomplish the job.

Rodgers had attended a diver's school and worked as a diver for a time in Corpus Christi. He had to give up the occupation due to a back injury, but he kept his equipment.

So Brock donned the 100-pound suit and "dived" into the hive for honey. He got about 5 or 6 gallons of honey from the hive in the wall, while the bees swarmed about his diving suit.

"The bees would cover my hands, and it felt almost like a vibrator being placed on my hand," Brock said. The suit kept him well protected, but it was "too heavy and too hot," according to Brock.

Brock said the honey was some of the "mildest tasting" he had ever eaten. He theorized the bees probably got their pollen from catclaws and cotton.

Brock also discovered another hive in his garage, and both of the hives were uninvited projects. He's not sure if he'll "dive" for more honey or not.

COACH TAKES A RIDE--Coach John Hall of Whitharral rides the blocking sled to take a close look at his gridders giving a push down-

NEW COACH AT WHITHARRAL

Panthers Shy On Depth, Hope To Have Strength

Looking over his grid prospects for the 1963 Whitharral Panther squad last week, new Coach John Hall had good reason to wonder about depth on his team--there were only 10 candidates on the field.

However, Hall expects the roster to grow this week and the former Pettit coach hopes to have 15 to 18 boys on hand when school starts. The Class B school has about 30 boys in school.

Despite the small numbers, the Panthers battled to a three-way tie in the district last season with New Deal and Amherst. The team also compiled a fine 8-1-1 record.

Hall can call on 12 lettermen from last year, including 7 who played regularly. The new coach is counting heavily on two all-district performers of last season--back Lynn Simmons and tackle C. E. Theford.

Simmons was the team's leading scorer from a halfback post, and he'll move to the fullback slot this year. He tallied 12 points last season. He's a fleet 180-pounder who can really carry the mail. Theford, a giant 260-pounder, is expected to anchor down one side of the line.

Other senior lettermen are Carrol Sexton, 145-pound end; Sammy Pair, 150-pound veteran quarterback; and Bobby Collins, 105-pound halfback.

Collins, a slippery runner, is expected to team with newcomer Vanderville Dawson, 160, to give the Panthers a pair of good halfbacks. Soph Johnny Tipton, 120, could claim one of the halfback posts, too.

Freshman prospects include Fred Sandefer, 115-pound end; David Usberry, 115-pound guard; Walter Caldwell, 125-pound end; and Jimmy Ramos, 125; and center Gjuardo Haro, 134.

Several of the gridders were on vacation or working last week, but Hall expects at least half of the schools 30 boys to be participating by the time classes start. Hall coached 8-man football at Pettit for two years, so he has a job in working out new plays and defensive patterns.

The 1963 schedule includes District 2-B games at home against New Deal and Anton, and contests at Amherst and Whiteface. Non-district games have an 8 p.m. starting time, while the kickoffs are a 7:30 for 2-B titles.

The Panther schedule: Sept. 6--Lorenzo; Sept. 13--At New Home; Sept. 20--At Bovina; Sept. 27--Meadow; Oct. 4--At Cooper; Oct. 11--Open; Oct. 18--At Lazbuddie; Oct. 25--New Deal; Nov. 1--Anton; Nov. 8--At Amherst; Nov. 15--At Whiteface.

In recent months, Eisenhower has spoken out bluntly on his concern for the United States. It is a concern shared by millions of his fellow Americans. He is not making idle talk about 1964 and the Kennedy group no doubt hear him loud and clear.

But how is it within his own party? The golden image of Eisenhower has been tarnished by the John Birch group, who blame the "government" with promoting Castro's rise in 1958 when his Communist connections were known.

They were known, and not just to Robert Welch, the John Birch oracle. Many newspapers warned of him. But he overthrew a wicked regime and this alone made him good copy in much of the press, and with most of the United States.

Castro, the Birchers say, was built in the United States, in the Eisenhower period.

It was like who moved troops into Little Rock, in an action paralleling that of Ole Miss, or Wednesday's march. He was, the General said in 1958, enforcing the law in Little Rock as he saw the law.

This is what Jack Kennedy was doing in Oxford, Mississippi, where General Walker led his immortal charge against the U.S. marshals, armed with rolls of toilet tissue. If Ike was wrong, then perhaps President Kennedy was wrong.

The fact is, of course, that the Eisenhower eight years saw some horrendous blunders committed, costly blunders, and a lot of inaction that was just as costly. It was a period of diplomatic.

But the General survived it with great popularity, as Jack Kennedy will his first term, to be a powerful contender for a second one.

Jack Kennedy probably can beat Barry Goldwater going away; he certainly can beat Nelson Rockefeller. George Romney, the Rambler-governor, may be Ike's dark horse, and he is yet to be really track-tested.

that history knows well. Ike may see Richard Nixon in this image. But is he does produce his ex-associate, and it will be an act of political legerdemain, one thing is sure. This time there will be no Great Debates.

SPEEDY'S SCOREBOOK

The Littlefield Wildcats will have their first action under game conditions Saturday night, traveling to Andrews to meet the Mustangs in a scrimmage session.

There are no kickoffs or punts in a scrimmage, and no score is kept, but the action gives coaches an opportunity to see how some of the players react against some real competition. It will be the only scrimmage session for the Cats before they open play here Sept. 6.

Coach John Howie was happy with the spirit and attitude of his gridders this week, and no serious injuries have hampered workouts as yet. The team lost several prospects during the week, however, and the ranks are thin in places.

Prior to the start of workouts, Howie was worried about the lack of experience at the end positions, but it turns out the squad appears fairly strong there. Now the big problem with interior linemen.

A couple of candidates didn't report for drills; several more checked in after a few workouts, and now Howie says the team is hurting for reserve strength at center, guards and "problems" in the backfield. However, the Wildcats think he will have some serve backs who could be the starting lineup on other team. The backfield have real good speed, too.

The starting offensive will probably have two in the backfield. All will probably be seniors, except one sophomore might be in the defensive line. A complete roster of players on the varsity level will be published Sunday.

A number of local boys have been doing some running summer to get in shape for college grid drills. These include: Ronnie McWilliams, a center at Texas Tech; Boots at West Texas State; Jerry Eastern New Mexico; Basden, Texas A&M; and Tony Estrada, DePaul Arlington State.

We probably missed names of a few who will be going for college football. McWilliams is listed as a guard in the 1963 Texas football brochure received in our office. He is a thumbnail sketch in the "RONNIE MCWILLIAMS--6-1, 21, Junior quarterback, school football, also lettered in basketball, baseball, track... coached by Raider, Don Williams, joring in accounting."

Only one other name listed among the Techies that being halfback Harold of Springlake. Here is the on him: "186, 5-11, 19, more with freshman in Springlake. Led freshman rushing (8.4 average), rushing (5 for 77 yards), off returns (3 for 73)...

back in high school made all regional football district basketball and track... football captain, standing senior boy, council member. Coach Jodie Mahar, major in education."

Speaking of Tech, after ing with Washington State 21 in Lubbock, the Raiders six consecutive Southwest conference football games, make the state playoffs. Raiders start with championship Texas.

All but two of Tech's football games will be played at night. The exceptions are Rice on Nov. 2 and State Nov. 9. Games under lights at Jones Stadium--Wilmington State, Sept. 21; A&M, Oct. 5; Texas Christian Oct. 12; and Baylor, Oct.

WATERMELON PARTY--Coach Ernie Davis samples a cantaloupe and Supt. Glenn Reeves goes after a slice of watermelon at the Quarterback Club's melon party Monday night at

United Fund Drive Slated

Dates for Littlefield's United Fund campaign were set as directors held a planning session Tuesday night in the City Hall council room.

Directors unanimously approved Campaign Chairman Chick Conway's suggested date of Nov. 4 as the general kickoff time. The advanced gifts division, under leadership of Houston Hoover, will start a week earlier on Oct. 28.

The drive is scheduled to close Nov. 15. Directors called for a budget and admissions report as soon as possible, and will meet again as soon as the committee submits a proposed budget.

Rip Elms is chairman of the budget and admissions group. He will probably call a meeting early in September and set a date for agency representatives to meet with the committee.

Directors also discussed ways to recognize outstanding workers in the United Fund

Few Arrests Shown Here

Activity on the local law enforcement front was relatively quiet this week.

The sheriff's office picked up one man on a warrant from the Hereford sheriff's office, and picked up two other men on overdue traffic citation charges.

City police had four arrests this week with charges being made for drunk in public, no valid driver's license, and traffic violations.

Mrs. Eugene Byran was a patient in Medical Arts Hospital the first of this week. For x-rays and observation.

Ag teacher J. F. Lands was in Dallas the 15th and 16th to attend a State Teachers Association held at the Adolphus Hotel.

Mrs. Hulón Clawson of Vista, Calif. has been here for two weeks visiting relatives and helping care for her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. D. Rowland, following surgery.

Lothario To Tackle Tom

"One of the best wrestling cards ever scheduled in this arena," is the way Promoter John Usery describes the matches coming up Saturday night at Littlefield Sports Arena.

The double main event matches Sputnik Monroe against Tokyo Tom. The opener has Dory Funk, Jr. taking on Treach Phillips.

Lothario will wear a leather Karate collar in the top main event against Tom. Lothario is permitted to wear the collar to protect himself against the Karate jabs of Tom. Karate is not legal in Texas wrestling, and a wrestler for using karate. This will be a three-fall, no time limit match.

Monroe meets Romero in a return match. Romero was disqualified here two weeks ago when he pitched Sputnik over the top rope in the third fall. This will also be a two-of-three falls match.

Funk and Phillips clash in a one-fall, 30-minute match. Lothario won the top main event last Saturday even though he was knocked out. Lothario and Monroe had won a fall and were battling for a fall when Tokyo Tom helped Monroe. He delivered a karate blow to Lothario's head, knocking him out, and the referee awarded the fall to Lothario.

Earl Dow Signs 'Jeep' Franchise

Southside Garage & 'Jeep' of Littlefield has been franchised by Kaiser Jeep Sales Corporation to handle the famed 'Jeep' family of vehicles and approved special equipment.

Signing of the franchise was announced this week by Earl L. Dow, owner of the new dealership, who said the firm will market the full line of 'Jeep' vehicles and equipment in this area. The dealership also will offer complete parts and service facilities for the famed "go-anywhere" vehicles.

The 'Jeep' line of vehicles is designed to serve a wide range of purposes from six-passenger family service to the roughest kind of off-the-road hauling with gross vehicle weights up to 8,600 pounds. Newest in the expanding line of 'Jeep' vehicles are the all-new Wagoneer Station Wagons and Gladiator Truck series.

Both models offer advanced styling, driver comfort and improved roadability while retaining traditional 'Jeep' ruggedness and versatility for on or off-the-road operations.

The four- and two-wheel drive Gladiator Trucks are available in two series, the J-200 with a 120-inch wheelbase and the J-300 with a 126-inch wheelbase. GVWs start at 4,000 pound and range upward to 8,600 pounds for vehicles with dual rear wheels and platform stake bodies. Pickup boxes of seven and eight-foot lengths are offered.

'Jeep' Wagoneer Station Wagons, which feature passenger car ride, comfort and convenience, are available in either four- or two-wheel drive and in two- or four-door models. They have six-passenger seating capacity plus large cargo areas on a wheelbase of 110 inches. Overall length is 183.6 inches. Gladiator Trucks and Wagoneer Station Wagons are powered by the Tornado-OHC engine, first American heavy-duty automotive engine with advanced overhead camshaft and spheroidal combustion chamber design features, which provide high efficiency performance and ease of service and maintenance.

The Tornado-OHC Engine produces 140 horsepower at 4,000 RPM and maximum torque of 210 foot pounds at a low 1,750 RPM, ideal for heavy-duty commercial vehicle service.

The new Wagoneer and Gladiator models offer two other firsts in the automotive industry, automatic transmission and front wheel suspension coupled with four-wheel drive. They are options in both lines although the front suspension is standard with the two-wheel drive station wagons.

A new silent transfer case is operated by shifting a single, two-position floor-mounted lever which permits the shift from two- or four-wheel drive to be made easily whether the vehicle is parked or in motion. Instrument panel lights indicate the position of the control lever.

A compass mounted on the center of the instrument panel is standard on the trucks and four-wheel drive station wagons. Alternator equipment with an all-transistorized voltage regulator is standard in all models.

Optional features include power steering, power brakes, rear powerlock differential, padded dash, safety belts and tinted windshield glass.

The new vehicles operate on regular fuel and a major chassis lubrication is required only at 30,000-mile intervals. Change of crankcase oil and oil filter is recommended at 6,000 mile intervals.
