Business Buildings Destroyed in Early Morning Fire

THREE FIRMS SUSTAIN TOTAL LOSS AND ONE CONCERN PARTIAL LOSS; FIRE ORIGIN IS UNKNOWN

Buildings Owned by S. Replin; Families Occupying Apartments at Rear of Stores Forced to Flee Buildings, Several Only in Night Attire

One of the worst fires Littlefield has experienced in its history took place here Tuesday morning about 3 o'clock, when two frame buildings on North Phelps Avenue, just north of the Southern Auto Stores, and South Littlefield Furniture Company, owned by S. Replin, were completely destroyed by fire.

Valles Lose Everything
The north building was occupied by the Royal Cafe, of which Bill Valles is proprietor, and George's Shop.

Saves Equipment
George Mallouf, who operates the shoe shop, was also at the rear of their shoe repair business, and on being awakened were able to save their equipment, but lost considerable personal effects.

Walkers Barely Escape
The south building was occupied by Littlefield Auto Parts, of which Walker is manager, and the Produce, a Swift Produce store, managed by W. J. Boykin.

"If You Don't Send Paper, Going to Instruct T. Wade to Enter Suit" Says Clements

The many friends of Dr. C. C. Clements, former Littlefield Dentist, will be interested in learning that he is now at Bremond, Texas, practicing his profession. Although Dr. Clements has changed locations on a couple of occasions since leaving Littlefield, he has been a constant reader of the Lamb County Leader, and this newspaper is proud of the fact that invariably when its subscribers leave this section they also leave a renewal to the paper to be sent wherever they locate. This proves without a doubt its popularity as a news medium. Dr. Clements friends will no doubt get a "kick" out of the following postal received by the Leader from him this week, and which we are quoting below:

"Dear Morley—
If you don't send me the paper here I'm going to instruct T. Wade

RED CROSS ROLL TO BE LAUNCHED MONDAY, NOV. 15

Dr. Ira E. Woods, County Chairman Asks For The Cooperation Of All

As announced by Dr. Ira E. Woods, County Chairman, American Red Cross, plans are underway for the holding of the annual roll call beginning Monday, October 15.

Mrs. Katie Green, who is County Roll Call Chairman, has selected assistants in the county, who will act as Chairmen, and appoint a committee to work with them in their particular city or community.

Each year, according to Dr. Woods, the period between Armistice and Thanksgiving is set aside all over the United States, for Red Cross membership drive by the National headquarters.

Mrs. Green has appointed a local committee who will appoint their own workers.

The city will be divided into sections, and each group of workers given a territory in which to canvass.

"This roll call each year" said Dr. Woods, "is for the purpose of providing funds for the Red Cross to step into immediately disaster areas in order to relieve the situation without having to first appeal for funds. For instance, in the New London School tragedy—this was taken care of out of roll call funds without making any special appeal."

"As County Red Cross Chairman, and on behalf of the National Red Cross, we appreciate the cooperation received in the Missouri-Ohio flood campaign last year, in which around $1000 was raised, most of which came in voluntarily."

"In the roll call this year we are again asking the cooperation of all citizens of this county in making this drive an outstanding success."

In a letter to the business and professional men of Littlefield this week, Homer Hall, president of the Chamber of Commerce pointed out that every one should give some time to civic work, thereby taking a heavy burden off the shoulders of a few.

"If the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce is to be a help to the town," Mr. Hall stated, "(And if it isn't, there is no excuse for its continued existence) more of us fel-

UNEMPLOYMENT CENSUS TO BE HELD HERE

Rev. Willis J. Ray Appointed Chairman of Movement

Rev. Willis J. Ray, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was appointed last week as Chairman of the Unemployment Census that will be taken in Littlefield next week. Rev. Ray was named by Mayor Pat Boone.

The Unemployment Census is being conducted in every community of the United States in an attempt to determine the future policy of the Federal Government in planning relief work. Cards in Littlefield will be mailed out by Postmaster W. D. T. Storey and the results will be tabulated in his office.

"Although practically every able-bodied person is now employed in this section," stated Rev. Ray, "it can be considered as temporary employment only. After the cotton picking is over, there will be many who do not have gainful employment. I urge every person receiving these cards to fill them out at once and return them to the post office. All pastors of local churches are urged to remind their congregations Sunday of this meritorious work."

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO W. H. GARDNER MON.

Dies Suddenly On Phelps Avenue; Burial At Liberty Hill

The Littlefield citizenship were shocked and deeply grieved Monday at the passing of one of the City's most respected pioneers, W. H. "Pat" Gardner, aged 70, retired farmer who died suddenly about 11:55 a. m., as a result of a heart attack.

Mr. Gardner had apparently been in good health, and had made a trip to his farm, seven miles northeast of Littlefield Monday morning, and spent some time in the cotton patch with the pickers were at work. On returning to Littlefield he parked his car, went to the postoffice, and then down Phelps Avenue.

As Mr. Gardner was walking

The task of finding the unemployed and partially unemployed among one hundred and twenty six million people would be as difficult as finding a needle in the hay stack if it were not for the cooperation and the ready response of all concerned. Mayor Pat Boone and postmaster W. D. T. Storey are cooperating fully with the federal government and taking every precaution that not one single unemployed or partially unemployed will be overlooked during the census.

At the direction of the Congress, the President has approved a plan for the census which will cover a period of just five days, November 16th through the 20th. A census card will be placed in every mail box or delivered to every home or may be called for at the post office on Tuesday the 16th and must be back in the mail before Saturday midnight of the 20th.

In 1600 cities and towns the mayors have been asked to form citizens' committees to collaborate with the postmaster and give whatever assistance is necessary to assure a complete and accurate registration of the unemployed.

The President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, has stated in his message to every worker: "If you give me the facts, I shall try to use them for the benefit of all who need and want work and do not have it." The purpose of this census is to aid in the formulation of a program for re-employment, and unemployment relief for the people of the United States.

Who Should Register?

All persons who are totally unemployed, able to work, and want work. Included in this group are the following: (1) Persons who have worked for pay, who are able to work, and still want work. (2) Persons who formerly had their own business, farm, or professional practice, and no longer work at it, who are able to work and want work. (3) Persons now looking for their first jobs.

All persons who are partly employed, able to do more work, and want more work. Included in this group are the following: (1) Persons working part time at regular jobs. (2) Persons employed part

FIRST NATIONAL INSTAL EXPERT CHECKING PLAN

System Is Designated To Facilitate Handling Of Checks and Deposits

The First National Bank is installing a "Central Interior Proof System" designed to facilitate the handling of customers' checks and deposits, so as to save time in the paying and receiving lines.

W. D. Smiley, Banker of Amarillo, who has had considerable experience in the installation of such a system, assisted the local bank's staff Tuesday and Wednesday in the putting of the system into motion.

In an interview with Mr. Smiley Wednesday, he said that instead of waiting until the end of the day for the checks to clear through the bank, under the new system they are continually floating through to the various departments of the bank.

He said this system is being used by all the larger banks of the United States.

SUPPORT BIG BEN NATIONAL PARK PROJECT

Counties Are Urged To Send Road Delegation To Austin Nov. 15

Thirteen counties and towns located along the proposed Highway 51 urged themselves to support in any way possible the movement to create a National Park in the Big Bend Country of Texas. More than 100 delegates convened in Vega, November 3, for the monthly meeting of Highway 51 Association, voicing the opinion that the Big Bend National Park was a certainty and that Highway 51 from Boise City, Oklahoma, to Dryden, Texas, when completed would be the north-south road for the tourist traffic in the park.

Growing interest in Highway 51 was demonstrated when letters were presented by Glenn Burgess, President, from organizations representing cities as far north as Amidon, North Dakota, expressed a desire to join with the Texas Association in obtaining a paved Federal Highway from The Black Hills of South Dakota to the Big Bend Country of Texas.

STORES TURNIPS IN SAND IN CELLAR

"I would rather get turnips out of the cellar in cold weather than keep them banked in the garden," Mrs. C. G. Ivey told the Rocky Ford home demonstration club. Alternate layers of sand and turnips in boxes, covered with tow sacks is the way Mrs. Ivey has stored her turnips.

The tow sacks are kept moist by having the end of the sacks in a can of water. This prevents the turnips from drying out. Carrots and beets may be stored by the same method.

BOB CRIM REMODELS HIS COUNTRY HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Crim are having their country home remodeled and stuccoed. Walter Peachey of Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber company, Sudan, is doing the carpenter work and Joe Wells, contractor of Littlefield, is doing the stucco work.

The Crim home is south of Sudan in the Janes community.

Griffin-Chesher Report Farm Sales

Griffin-Chesher Land Company report the following sales:

W. E. Perry of Tahoka, Tex. purchased an improved farm of 320 acres 12 miles northeast of Littlefield, from Elwood Farms.

R. J. Moses of Oklahoma purchased an improved farm of 192 acres west of Littlefield from R. L. Hutchins.

H. C. Pumphrey purchased the residence on East 8th Street now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Elms.

Capt. Trummell of the local unit of the Salvation Army declares it has been reported to her that there have been a number going about Littlefield, dressed in garb similar to the Salvation Army, passing a tambourine, for the purpose of collecting, and in this way deceiving the public into contributing, with the idea that they are giving to the Army.

Capt. Trummell said she had reports that last week there were as many as six in one car and two in another automobile, who were collecting in this manner. On Thursday a party was also reported to be collecting in this way.

Capt. Trummell says that reports are to the effect that the costumes worn by these parties are so similar to the Salvation Army dress that the average person would not notice the difference.

The public are, therefore, warned against such parties, as reports would indicate the contributions are taken away from this section.

OUR BEST BET FOR GROWTH

Not many years ago a group of men organized to drive the Indians from this part of the country. Next came the XIT Ranch, the greatest ranch on record and managed by an organization that cooperated in successfully battling adverse weather, cattle thieves, and low prices of beef.

Years after the establishment of the first towns in the South Plains region, a new town had sprung up. It was named after one of the cattle barons of South Texas, a man who made part of his fortune from the wonderful grass lands of Lamb County, and who will always be remembered as one of the strongest influences behind that great civic undertaking, the University of Texas.

Major George W. Littlefield devoted much money and time to this worthy project realizing that the benefit to all of Texas would give him a neat return on his investment of time and money.

Littlefield has grown rapidly. Many fine citizens have shared in its prosperity. To become established themselves, many have had to devote so much time, money, and effort to their own problems that they lost the habit of thinking about and working on community problems. A small number of our citizens have had to meet these problems and have done the job well. Today, Littlefield is the retail trade center of a vast agricultural empire unexcelled in its productivity.

Littlefield has reached the size when its community problems can neither be shouldered nor solved by a half dozen men. Without coordinated effort and long range planning Littlefield will not be the city all of us want it to be. Right now only fifty individuals are carrying the financial load of the Chamber of Commerce. It should be spread out among 150. How many people out of the 4,000 citizens of Littlefield can be depended upon to take time out from their business to plan projects that will net them many times more than the financial loss resulting from their absence from their business?

It is a common saying that the man whose business will not permit him to devote any time to civic enterprises is not running his business but his business is running him instead!

We do not believe Littlefield will reach a static position very soon, but it will come to that point much sooner than any of us can predict, if we do not have more community thought instead of self-centered interest.

Just as the early pioneers had Indian, outlaw, and bad weather troubles, so does the Littlefield community have its problems. All of us want better roads, more self-supporting industries, Federal Buildings, a fine hotel, and a hundred other things we can think of, but we want to point out that these things do not come to the community that does not work for them.

Ten members of the Chamber of Commerce are now contacting non-members to get them to join with them. If the business men of Littlefield are of the caliber we believe them to be, before November has gone, we will have 150 active workers belonging to the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce.

IF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DOESN'T DO IT, WHO WILL?

INFORMATION ON SUBSIDY PAYMENTS ON 1937-38 COTTON RECEIPTS

In an interview with W. E. Bass, local cotton buyer, Monday, Mr. Bass said due to the fact that he had received so many inquiries for information on subsidy payments on cotton receipts, he wrote to Washington for more explicit information than he could interpret from the forms sent out by the Department of Agriculture. Under recent date Mr. Bass wrote:

"I would appreciate your giving me some information on the subsidy payments on 1937-38 cotton receipts. 'If the producer puts part of his cotton in the loan and sells a part on the open market, will he be eligible for the subsidy payment on his 65 percent base acreage that he sold on open market without redeeming the Government loan cotton?'" received the following from L. A. Reynolds, Senior Agricultural Economist, Southern Division, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington:

"Your letter of October 20 addressed to the Secretary of Agriculture, inquiring whether a producer may receive the cotton price adjustment payment with respect to cotton sold in the event he has other cotton under the loan and does not liquidate the loan and sell such cotton prior to July 1, 1938, has been referred to this office for attention. 'For your information we are enclosing a copy of Cotton Price Adjustment Payment Bulletin 100 which quotes the legislation providing for the payments and explains the principal features of the 1937 Cotton Price Adjustment Payment Plan. 'It is evident from the language used that the Congress intended that payments would be made on a producer's cotton which is sold. As specified, the amount of payment which a producer is entitled to receive depends upon the difference between the average price of 7-8 inch middling cotton on the ten designated spot cotton markets and twelve cents per pound on the day the producer sells his cotton. Until a sale is made, there exists no basis for determining the amount of the payment in accordance with the standard established by the Congress. It therefore follows that a producer placing cotton under loan with the Commodity Credit Corporation would not be entitled to receive the cotton price adjustment payment with respect to such cotton unless he first liquidated the loan, secured a return of his warehouse receipts and sold such cotton prior to July 1, 1938.

"Should a producer sell an amount of cotton equal to 65 percent of his 1937 base production and place other cotton under loan, he will be entitled to receive the payment with respect to the cotton sold but as to the cotton placed under the loan, there would be no point in liquidating the loan and selling this cotton unless it is subsequently determined that payments will be made on a larger percentage of the base production. 'Very truly yours, 'L. A. Reynolds."

SUDAN GINNER LOSES HAND IN SAW ACCIDENT

Ves Terry, owner of the Terry's Gin, Sudan, had the misfortune of getting his arm caught in the burr conveyor Tuesday night of last week at 1:30 o'clock. The saws cut his right hand off and slashed the arm so badly that it was necessary to amputate it just below the elbow.

It took the entire gin crew 35 minutes to get Mr. Terry loose from the saw. Although he was suffering from great pain the popular Sudan ginner instructed the men how to take the stand down; so he could get loose.

The gin had stopped for a few minutes to clean the green bolls out of the stands. He was cleaning the last one and had ordered the crew to roll the engine off center and prepare to start. Accumulated steam caused the saws to turn over several times and when they did Mr. Terry's hand was caught and his arm pulled into the saws.

He was taken to a Lubbock Sanitarium, where the arm was amputated.

"The Life of Emile Zola" To Be Shown At Palace Sunday

Half the town of Laguna Beach, California, turned out recently in various states of dishabille when a cannon was fired without warning on their beautiful beach.

The alarm was soon quited when it was discovered that a group of cameramen and players from Warner Bros. were merely making a scene for "The Life of Emile Zola," but the residents remained on the cliffs to watch throughout the day.

Goff Island, was transformed into a replica of Devil's Island for the occasion, with a small prison hut, surrounded by a sharpened spike stockade, and a dozen or more French colonial soldiers marching about the hut which contained Captain Dreyfus.

The story of Zola is closely interwoven with that of the notorious victim of army intrigue, and the role of Dreyfus, enacted by Joseph Schildkraut, is one of the most important in the production. Paul Muni, who is Zola in the picture, of course is the star.

On a neighboring rocky peak, adjoining the studio reproduction of the Island stockade, was built a lookout tower with the tricolor of France flying overhead and a one-pounder cannon mounted. It was a blast from this weapon that aroused Laguna, which is a lovely spot and the home of an artists' colony.

William Dieterle, guided the making of "The Life of Emile Zola," which comes to the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday.

lows need to join up, pay in money, and attend a few meetings when called upon.

Only fifty men are now supporting the organization according to Mr. Hall. These men have been very loyal. Just one member has dropped out which is a very good record for any public supported organization.

"If you don't think the Chamber of Commerce is a business as sound as any other establishment of Littlefield, then get into it so you can help make it that way. If you like the organization, you are blocking its work as long as you are not a part of it. Let's make the Chamber of Commerce something to be proud of or discontinue our support of it entirely," Mr. Hall concluded.

At present the Chamber of Commerce is able to pay salaries and a few current expenses, but more income is needed to take care of highway work, rural electrification projects and other vital projects that are rapidly taking shape and officials point out that little effective work can be done until operating funds have been obtained.

Two Business—

The fire is believed to have started in the front part of the Littlefield Auto Parts. Mr. and Mrs. Walker and two daughters were living in the rear of the building, and were awakened to find the front part of the building ablaze. They had difficulty in escaping, as Mr. Walker explained they had no rear entrance, and pushing through a side window, they landed into a small chicken pen constructed and used by the City Produce next door, and were obliged to force an entrance out of that before they were free from danger. The stock of automobile parts, partially covered by insurance, valued at around $5,000.00, as well as all their personal effects, were a complete loss. The family escaped in their night clothing, with the exception of Mr. Walker, who managed to pull on his trousers and shoes in the rush for safety.

In an interview Tuesday, Mr. Walker said that he had no definite plans, but that in all probability he would re-enter the automobile parts business as soon as he found a suitable location.

Boykins Lose All In Fire

Mr. and Mrs. Boykin and children, sleeping in the rear of the produce building, also had a narrow escape. Partly clothed they rushed from the building. In an interview Tuesday with a Leader representative, R. L. Boykin, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Boykin, said "everything was burned up except $1.50 that I owned and had in a dresser drawer. We turned on the light, but it only stayed on a minute or so, just long enough for me to see my clothes, and I got the money from the dresser and got out."

Save Adjoining Building

The Fire Department was called, and through their efforts the frame building to the north was saved, which houses the J. K.'s Cafe and the Jones & Tapp Cotton office.

Wilkins Asserts Lost Fliers Survive

BROOKLYN... Lost amid Arctic wastes since August 12, Sir Hubert Wilkins, explorer, is confident the six grounded Russian aviators still live, though probably stranded hundreds of miles from human habitation. Here Wilkins is shown beside U.S.S.R. plane in which he and party will wing northward in second rescue flight.

Carry No Insurance

In an interview with Joe Replin Tuesday, Mr. Replin stated that no insurance was carried on the buildings. He also said he did not know whether or not they would rebuild, as his father, S. Replin, owner of the buildings, and Mrs. Replin, were in Dallas on business, and had not yet learned of the loss.

In commenting on the fire Mr. Replin said "it was just thirteen years today since we bought that building—the thirteenth year I guess must be unlucky. It was in that building in 1924 that we started our first drygoods store in Littlefield."

north on Phelps Avenue, and in front of Clark & Haile Barber Shop, he stopped to talk with H. P. Ballard, who is employed there. Mr. Ballard passed a remark about the cool weather, saying he was going inside the shop, to which Mr. Gardner replied "it is not half as cold as it is going to get." Ballard went into the shop, and a minute or two later observed that Gardner had reached the north side of Graham's luncheon, and was sinking down underneath the police bell. This was a distance of less than 25 feet from where Ballard and he had talked. As Mr. Gardner was falling to the sidewalk, R. C. Evins, who was returning from the postoffice, and was in front of the barber shop, rushed to his assistance, and prevented him from sinking down. Mr. Ballard, in the meantime, had notified Star Haile, who rushed across the street and returned with Dr. Thos. B. Duke, who was unable to render Mr. Gardner any medical aid, as he already had passed away in the arms of Mr. Haile, Mr. Evins and O. B. Graham. J. D. Evins, who is associated with his brother, R. C. Evins in the operation of a tailor shop at the rear of Clark & Haile Barber Shop, notified Mrs. Gardner of the illness of her husband, following which Hammons ambulance was called.

The last words spoken by Mr. Gardner were those declaring that he anticipated much colder weather. Death took place within two or three minutes after he finished talking with Mr. Ballard.

Walter Henry Gardner, who was fondly called and better known as "Pat" to his large circle of friends, was born at Liberty Hill, Texas, February 18, 1867, where he was reared and lived practically all his life.

He married Miss Lula Burke in September, 1893, at Liberty Hill.

Thirteen years ago, he and Mrs. Gardner located on the South Plains. Previous to coming to Littlefield they lived at Walnut Springs about a year. On moving to this section they purchased a farm seven miles northeast of Littlefield, where they lived about a year, following which they moved to this city, building their home, which was afterwards sold to the Methodist Church, and is now the parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. Gardner erected a brick residence on L F D Drive about ten years ago, where they have continued to make their home.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge of long standing, and also of the Methodist Church for many years.

Surviving him are his widow, and a brother, Dave Gardner of Liberty Hill.

His remains left here early Tuesday morning, and were carried overland by Hammons Funeral Home to Abilene, where Charlie Hickman, Undertaker of Liberty Hill, took charge.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Liberty Hill Methodist church, and interment took place in that cemetery, where Mr. Gardner's parents are buried.

Accompanying Mrs. Gardner to Liberty Hill were: her sister, Mrs. T. W. Price, of Pampa; Commr. and Mrs. G. M. Vann of Spade, sister and brother-in-law of Mrs. Gardner; and her brother, Harry Burke of Hart Camp, and daughter Frances of Lubbock.

Other relatives who came to Littlefield on receiving the death message were: Mrs. Harry Burke and daughter, Jimmie, of Hart Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Parks and son, Jim Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vann, and Earl Burke all of Hart Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vann of Spade community, and Bud Vann of Lubbock.

Mr. Gardner is held in the highest esteem by the management and personnel of the Lamb County Leader, and in the passing of this citizen joins with those who mourn with Mrs. Gardner at his death. The deepest of sympathy is extended her in the loss of a devoted husband, who has been her companion down through many years.

It Looked Like This 19 Years Ago

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE . . . The first Armistice Day was greeted something like this. Today we face East and pause in homage to those whose names mark white crosses in Flanders Fields. 19 years ago these Doughboys were glad the War To End War was over. Today new war scares make millions wonder, "can all this happen again?"

MAHON MAKES STATEMENT BEFORE LEAVING TO ATTEND SPECIAL SESSION

Colorado, Nov. 8—Congressman George Mahon, prior to his departure for Washington to attend the special session which convenes Monday, November 15th, made the following statement concerning the prospects for farm legislation:

"I think it is impossible to predict just what kind of bill will be passed. In our District a strong preference for a compulsory control bill has been expressed by a great majority of the farmers with whom I have come in contact in farm meetings or otherwise. Most cotton producers favor adjusted payments equivalent to parity, 16 cents or above, on that portion of the crop produced for domestic consumption. They feel that a moderate reduction program is necessary but that adjustment payments will be required in order to get a price for cotton domestically consumed commensurate with the American standard of living. In view of the tremendous foreign production they realize that American cotton sold abroad will have to be sold in competition with the world and at a low price. In each County they favor allotments to each farm on a uniform basis of equality regardless of the length of time the farm has been in cultivation. They favor no discrimination against new farms in areas where a normal development of agricultural land is taking place. They favor a program which will place the emphasis on a normal size farm in each locality. They favor a farm policy which will encourage operation of farms by tenants or accoutant owners and which will discourage the displacement of tenants and large operations through hired labor methods.

"In the minds of the producers there is a wide variety of opinion as to what should be done. In Congress, which is made up of representatives from all sections of the nation, there will be even a greater diversity of opinion. However, I think it can be safely predicted that the new program will be an improvement over the old."

To Push Action On WPA Project For Tech Dormitories

President Bradford Knapp of Texas Technological College Lubbock, left for Washington Nov. 9 to make an earnest plea for action on a Works Progress administration loan and grant for $700,000 for two much needed student dormitories at the college. It is hoped that approval may be secured so that work can start on the two new buildings soon after the first of the year, making it possible for them to be ready for use by the opening of the fall semester in 1938.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. If kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fall to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be sagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eye—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.
Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Dr. Doan's Pills, Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your doctor!

Local Physician Answers Night As Well as Day Calls

Reports are believed to have been circulated to the effect that Dr. Thos. B. Duke does not answer night calls. This is incorrect, as the doctor has a personal interest in each and every one of his patients, and no matter what the hour, day or night, Dr. Duke gladly answers calls. Dr. Duke is known all over this section as more than a physician, as he is a friend and adviser to each and every patient he treats.

DR. W. A. SEYDLER APPOINTED CITY HEALTH OFFICER

At a called meeting of the Morton City Commission recently, Dr. W. A. Seydler was appointed as City Health Officer to succeed Dr. F. E. Rushing, who left Morton. Dr. Seydler is also County physician.

NOTICE

It has come to my attention that reports are being circulated to the effect that I am not accepting night calls. This is not true, as I am at your service every hour of the twenty-four.

I have always taken a personal interest in my patients and in the welfare of the sick, and regardless of the time of night, or the kind of weather, I am always at the command of those who need my services.

Dedication Service At Salvation Army Barracks Recently

The Salvation Army unfurled two beautiful new flags in a dedication service held Sunday Oct. 31. One the flag of the U. S.; the other the flag of the Salvation Army. The flags graced the first march of the Army in Littlefield Sunday night.

Some 60 years ago, Catherine Booth, the Army mother, designed and made the first Army flag. The field of red is a symbol of the blood of Jesus Christ, shed for our sins.

The yellow star is a symbol of the fire of the Holy Ghost, and the border of blue represents purity of soul.

When asked if it were necessary to have a flag, Mrs. Booth replied, "No, not necessary, but we are an army and we need a flag."

This banner now waves over 93 countries and colonies, and stands unfurled in halls where in 86 different languages, the Gospel of Jesus Christ is preached through the Salvation Army.

The U. S. flag was given by the American Legion. The poles on which they fly were given by Cicero-Smith Lbr. Co.

Just as we, as citizens of the U. S. pledge allegiance to the red, white and blue, Salvationists pay allegiance to their flag with the following pledge, "I Pledge Allegiance to the

about their tasks of tearing down and moving to the next town with hearts full to the breaking point—but they CARRIED ON, for Spede would have wished it so.

Today a fresh grave is in the Littlefield Cemetery. The body of a talented musician lies beneath cold clods of clay, covered with beautiful flowers from members of the Cast and the American Legion. Loving hands of fellow-workers bore the casket from the hearse to the grave, and with bowed heads, joined by others of the Cast, (minus their make-ups) cheeks stained with sincere tears, (not the kind shed on the stage)—a song sung by local people—scripture reading, well chosen words in which he used the beautiful poem "The Tramp Musician," and a prayer by Rev. Marvin B. Norwood, Pastor of the Methodist Church, Spede was laid to rest—given a Christian funeral in a civilized land by those who did not know him in life except for the members of his Troupe. Tonight, in Levelland, some 30 miles distant, the "Show goes on" but by a nobler Cast than ever before because they have known over roads good or bad—weather cold or hot—rain or shine—health fine or terrible—crowds slim or full—regardless of personal feelings of joy or sorrow—"THE SHOW MUST GO ON"—the public MUST be entertained. Could anyone in any business or profession have a nobler creed—"THE SHOW MUST GO ON?"

ONCE UPON A TIME their lived a small, unpretentious boy, in the town of Stamford, Texas. He was alert, active in everything, always playing pranks on somebody, full of wit and humor, putting on home talent plays, making people happy by his clean, wholesome fun. His one ambition was to "Preach" to the multitude thru his "shows" and to own the largest and best TENT SHOW in the State. Today, throughout Texas, Harley Sadler is the household word in every home. He has acquired that ambition. His home is now in Sweetwater, where his talented daughter, Gloria, is in school. During the summer months, Gloria takes her place on the Sadler stage, along with her mother and father. Mrs. Sadler, (Billie to her intimate friends) is ever with her husband in his work, assisting him with the business details, taking part on the stage, knows every female part backwards, and can substitute when necessary on the spur of the moment for any part in the cast—gracious, talented, attractive, sensible, a chic dresser, a help-mate for one so ambitious and talented as is her famous husband.

Harley's witticisms and wisecracks are the talk of the town. "Every household needs a husband," for instance, is good and sound advice to mean, unappreciative, and trifling wives. He has "preached" more good and wholesome "sermons" from his stage in his every-day-life plays than have been

Piano Player For Harley Sadler Is Found Dead In Bed

Franklin Raymond Spede, aged about 50, piano player for Harley Sadler Shows, passed away suddenly here Tuesday afternoon, November 2, as a result of heart trouble.

Spede, whose custom was to have a sleep every afternoon, was found dead in bed when one of the other employes of the Show went to awaken him about 6:30 in time for the performance.

Spede had been complaining of his heart bothering him.

Brief funeral services were conducted by Rev. Marvin Norwood, Pastor of the local Methodist church, at the grave in the Littlefield Cemetery Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, where burial, in charge of Hammons Funeral Home, took place. Deceased had been with Harley Sadler Shows about six months.

preached in many churches. He is unselfish and thoughtful to the nth degree—never known to say an unkind word about anyone under any circumstances—always willing to give a helping hand, figuratively and literally, financially supporting whatever cause is needed—always playing under auspices of civic organizations, usually The American Legion—and has possibly contributed more money to the various organizations throughout Texas than any one other individual or group. Harley Sadler literally lives by the side of the road, and is a FRIEND to man.

When a man takes innate pleasure in his work, whether it be day labor or creative business, there is only one answer and that is SUCCESS. Harley Sadler gets more real joy and "kick" out of his acting than any person I have ever known. There are times when members of his Cast get so convulsed at some of his impromptu witticisms that they have to turn their backs to the audience to try to hide their laughter. They never know what "fool stunt their Superior is going to pull." As a result, they are always on the alert for anything that may bob up unexpectedly. It is not always pleasant, the bed is not always full of roses for a Troupier, for there are many "thorns" strewn along the trail, but Harley Sadler is always equal to the emergency. Some years ago, in the midst of one of his shows, a message came that his father had passed on, but the show went on—it would have been the wish of the loving father that this was so. Again, in the same town, by coincident, Big Spring, Texas, another year, news came of Mrs. Sadler's father's passing—and, as usual the show went on though hearts of actors were full to the brim of sympathy for their lover fellow-troupier. Giving joy and happiness to those about him is one of Harley's greatest assets—never in a hurry—never excited—always calm and collected, and kind and efficient in his directions and business dealings.

about their life-work, rehearsing, practising their stunts, being kind to one another and to the public in general. They could not remain with Harley Sadler (and some of them have been with him for many years) if they were otherwise constituted.

The untimely passing of Spede, the talented piano player, brings to our memory that slogan: "It is better to pin a rose-bud upon the lapel of a man's coat so that he may enjoy its fragrance while he is living, rather than to place a wreath upon his casket after he is dead." So, I want to let Harley Sadler enjoy the "fragrance" of the "rose-bud" while he can yet enjoy it—the compliments of his public, expressed by the humble writer who is one of them—to wish him continued success in the great ambition of his life of making people laugh and be happier because he GOES ON WITH THE SHOW. More power and prosperity to you Harley—your PUBLIC is with you in all your endeavors—ON WITH THE SHOW!

She reminded him of their pact and declared that it helped to know he was back of her. After that they went on as before.

The other great difference in the relations of the four developed between Mont and Sunny. They were together almost constantly, it seemed. Mont was much engaged at the airport and Sunny was inevitably at hand in the bright car in which she made such a perfect picture.

Much as she tried, Natalie could not entirely conquer her jealousy of Sunny and tried to make amends for it by thoughtfulness and kindness toward the girl when they were together.

She was presently convinced by the things that Sunny dropped in her conversation and by Mont's attitude on occasion that there was an understanding between the flyer and his employer's daughter.

Not until then did Natalie determine finally that she must see less of Mont Wallace. Feeling about him as she did, it was exhausting to sit beside him knowing that barriers between them held them apart. To these there was now added the fact that Sunny Marion claimed him for her own in sly ways that could not be challenged.

It did not ease the torture of his presence to find that he still battled occasionally against her philosophy of love and that her defenses seemed always in some indefinable way to be weakened afterward.

She determined to avoid self-torture by seeing him less often and had managed without seeming to do so to evade his presence several times.

One afternoon, however, there came a challenge to her professional instincts that ran counter to this determination. Two fliers were reported missing somewhere in Lower California. They had been gone for twenty-four hours and it seemed

He stared at her for an instant and then he grabbed her by both arms.

"It's a bet, kid. Make it snappy. I'm ready whenever you are."

"Don't tell them out there, Jimmy and Sunny will put up a terrible holler. Just tell them you're going to take me for a little hop."

She seized the telephone again and ordered a great carton of food and a case of soft drinks. If she found the lost pilots, something to drink would probably be their greatest need, and the fountain liquids were handiest.

INSTALLMENT
Natalie has just arrived in Littlefield, Texas, after having broken the Eastern airplane record. She is mistaken by him for a reporter, writes the editor of Monty's arrival, in securing a trial job in exchange for the newspaper's photographs becomes attached to she discovers Monty's is not sincere, Natalie she loves him. She is her paper to report activities for publication. the newspaper's photographs Natalie's co-work-

He rubbed his palm across that white cheek. The noise of little echo from somewhere the balcony there was while Sunny slipped Monty's arms and Jimmy quickly to stand beside

"Cripees Nat," the photographer said in an awed voice, "that kid is wild. A few drinks and she's half nuts. We better get her out of here."

"Now, Jimmy," Natalie said slowly, "she was just hysterical . . . that's all. She sure came out of it when Monty hit her."

"Yes, and what a mistake that was. She'll never leave him alone now. He's given her the biggest thrill she's had since she was a little punk in rompers. She'll throw herself at his feet from now on."

"I'm afraid you're right Jimmy," Natalie laughed.

She tried to take Sunny's arm as she began to lead her back into the house but Sunny shook her off.

"You better keep away from her," Jimmy advised. "You only stir her up. Come on out here with me."

She turned back with him to the balcony and stood with him looking across the parapet. Her mind now was a tumult at thought of the tragedy so narrowly averted. The chasm was a great howl of darkness. It seemed impossible that death lay surely there only a hand's-breadth away from the security of the place where she stood.

That the bright-haired girl had been a witness of the sentimental passage between herself and Monty Wallace, there could be no doubt. It must have been this that had set her to the temporary madness of that climb to the parapet.

How much of that act had been true emotion and how much the prompting of her mind intoxication, Natalie could not say, but she knew there must be some instinct of desperation in what Sunny had come near doing. It was not likely, she finally decided that Sunny actually contemplated throwing herself from the balcony. More probably she intended merely to frighten the two.

She said as much to Jimmy. "The blonde is dizzy," he rasped out in his husky voice. "I suppose you were kissing that bird of prey. Or he was kissing you, which amounted to the same thing. She's nuts anyway and a little liquor makes her more so. She took one look and shrieked. Then she had to start her dive to cover up. Anything to get his mind off you, probably."

Natalie sighed. "It was a close thing. I'm scared yet."

"And no wonder. But the trouble is she'll throw her arms around his neck and make him talk up. If I know that wren, she's likely to put on her diving clothes now every time he takes a good look at you. Are you still knee-deep about that guy?"

"Well, not at least to the point of wanting to throw myself off anything higher than a chair."

"You wouldn't be. But I'm afraid you'll crack up some other way. Will you promise me something?"

"What, please, Jimmy?"

He took his eyes away from that chasm of death and darkness. With one hand he gripped her wrist until it hurt.

"Give me a chance if you crack up with him."

His gray eyes were searching her face. What she saw there surprised her.

"What — what do you mean, Jimmy?"

"Nothing, kid," he said quickly, "except that I'm on the spot too. I'd just about jump over there — sober — if I thought it would do you any good."

"Jimmy?" the girl cried.

"Now, Nat. Don't get excited. It isn't your fault. And I'm not drunk. It's really better with me when I am. I can laugh at myself easier then."

"Don't laugh, Jimmy," the girl cried. "It isn't any laughing business. Believe me, I know."

"I thought that was about it," the boy said softly. "Oh, well . . ."

"Jimmy?" the girl cried again.

"Don't say a word, Nat. Forget about it. But if you ever get to the point where you want to do any high jumping, promise me you'll come and — let me jump with you."

"That's a bet, Jimmy." The girl thrust out her other hand. "We'll do our high jumping together, when we do."

He caught her hand and held it closely for an instant and then they laughed together.

They went inside and found that Monty had calmed the beautiful

Sunny.

"I'm sorry," she told the other two. "Too much dizzy water, I guess. I'll be all right now." Her eyes went back to the flyer's face. "But, boy, what a wallop you carry in that good right hand. Aren't you ashamed of yourself — striking a helpless woman?"

Monty stammered apologies with a glance at Natalie.

"It was my fault," Natalie explained. "You were hysterical and they tell me that a good jolt will always help. I told him to do it."

"Thanks a lot. But I wish after this, Monty, you'd pull your punches."

They held a conference then on the trip home. Monty insisted that Natalie do the driving down the mountain road. But the girl declared she was still trembling too much to make it safe.

"We're all right here," she said. "If we take it easy, I'd rather you drove. You're used to that sort of thing."

Monty seemed entirely himself as he toiled the car carefully along the fearsome mountain road. And Natalie, taking her place beside him, found that, for the first time since their first evening together, his presence did not bring that helpless hurt that had come to be so constantly a part of her consciousness.

Her heart seemed to remember that Jimmy Hale was waiting to bind up its wound if the hurt proved too much to bear.

After that night, the foursomes were dropped as though by mutual consent. Natalie saw a great deal of Monty Wallace. Sunny made it a point to keep an eye on her as much out of instinctive liking for the girl reporter as because of her recurrent suspicions.

Jimmy went on as Natalie's guide and mentor with little to say about the secret he had divulged that night. Indeed, Natalie might have taken it as a bit of unsober pretense if it had not been for his remarks of the next morning.

"Sorry I got lit up last night, Nat," he told her. "I'd never have coughed what I did if I hadn't had a couple too many. It's all true but I didn't intend to have you know about it. You've probably got enough on your hands already."

Wildcats Trounce Olton in Game Here Fri

VICTORY GIVES LOCALS ANOTHER STEP UP LADDER

Game With Score 25-6 Is Marked With Errors and Fumbling

Littlefield Wildcats trounced Olton eleven 25-6 in a game marked with errors and fumbling, on the Seely Field Friday night. The Wildcats took another step up the ladder towards winning the District 5 class B championship for the 1937 season.

Olton got the ball from the Cats on downs in the first few minutes of play and drove down the field from their 4 yard line out of danger. Baize intercepted an Olton pass and ran 18 yards to make the first tally for the Wildcats. Graham kicked the extra point to make the score 7-0.

The Wildcats took to the air to put the ball on Olton's 38 yard line. On an attempt to pass the Wildcats were tackled for an 8 yard loss and lost the ball to Olton on downs. After failing to break down the Wildcats defense, Olton punted to Elms who returned the pigskin 12 yards. The Cats drove the ball down to Olton's 20 yard line and lost the ball. Olton again punted to Elms who returned the ball 14 yards to Olton's 34 yard line and on the next play Lee took the ball to the 18. Olton covered the ball after the Wildcats fumbled and Engles ran the ball 13 yards but here they were forced to punt. Elms returned the ball 41 yards but on the next play the Wildcats fumbled the ball and Olton covered it. At the end of the first half of the game the score was still 7-0.

In the beginning of the third period the Wildcats kicked to Olton who carried the ball down the field with more fight than they had ever put on before, but the Cats were able to stop the rush and Olton had to punt. The Wildcats fumbled the ball and an Olton gridster covered it within 3 yards of the goal. Taking the ball through the center, the Olton eleven went over for the first and only tally of the game. They failed to run the ball over for the extra point, leaving the score 7-6 in favor of the Wildcats.

The Cats then took to the air and carried the ball down to Olton's 17 yard line and on the next play Elms passed over the goal line to Baize for their second touchdown. Attempt to kick the extra point failed, making the score 13-6.
