HOURS, WAGES ARE DISCUSSED AT PLAINVIEW

Regional Officers Of Government Work Head Confab

All supervisors of WPA projects in Hale and Lamb counties attended a meeting in Plainview Wednesday afternoon, the purpose of which was to instruct those in charge of these projects the rules and regulations of the setup under the new year's WPA program, including hours and wages for the workers and matters relating to the office routine, filling out reports and various blanks, etc.

Government officials present were: J. O. Jones, director of district 17; W. E. Burk, director of planning; J. H. Burk, supervisor of finance and statistics; H. B. Jordan, Senior Examiner of division of operations; Ralph Brandenberg, Chief Section of Employment; L. A. Rodenhiser, safety inspector of district 17; R. L. Those attending from Littlefield were: Miss Lula Hubbard, sewing-room supervisor; Carl Hudgins, supervisor sanitation project; Mark Herring, superintendent, Oklahoma Ave. road project; Travis Jones, supervisor, WPA road projects; and John Harvey, timekeeper.

Smart Street Frock

Pattern 8769: You who must be cautious in choosing your frocks for fear of accentuating the wrong places, gather closely and give this model careful appraisal. Now then, wouldn't your friends be apt to compliment that new diet (which you aren't keeping) when you step forth more slender, smarter looking, all because of this clever frock, with sizes ranging from 36 to 48. The caplet sleeves are sure to get your vote; they're good style and very comfortable. The cool looking vestee is simple and the softly rolling revers lend graceful refinement to the waist front. The unusually nice hang of the skirt is an important feature of this frock. It demands and gets action from the box pleats in the panels.

They have chosen a spot on the Lampasas river where fishing, swimming, and boating will be fine. Another feature of camp is always the singing at night, when all the dignity necessary to a "candidate for degree in August" is forgotten.

As a crowning touch "Shug," favorite of the college cooks, is going along and he will out do himself catering to the group.

Before breaking camp Sunday evening they will have a vesper service led by Dean E. G. Townsend.

Her Smile, Bowling Should Win Title

CLEVELAND—The only woman member of Uncle Sam's Olympic bowling team is Mrs. Grace Hatch (above). She has a man-sized record in Eastern states.

As An Infant, Softball Has Amazing Record

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first of a series of features giving you the low down on the state and national softball organization.)

A famous sports commentator and authority recently had this to say about softball:

"This game of softball . . . even in its swaddling clothes, has a much greater future than baseball did in its infancy 60 years ago."

Last year softball attracted approximately 6,000,000 fans, according to Menke, sports statistics authority, as compared to 50,000,000 who turned out to see baseball games. There were 61,758 softball teams as compared to about half that many baseball clubs.

Average 55,000 Daily
In comparison to the World Series last year, the National Amateur softball association "World Series" at Chicago last September was played before an average of 55,000 spectators per day during the three day tournament.

So if softball is in its infancy, what will it be in its adolescence?

Rapidly softball is emerging from its cradle and taking its place as the leading pastime for men, women, and children. Interest throughout the United States within the last three years has been amazing and it has sports writers, authorities, and officials gasping.

New Rules Aid Game
New rules put into effect by the National Softball association, the governing body of the new fad, likely will increase the keen interest in the game for the new rules have speeded up play and given the game more thrilling aspect.

From time to time American baseball officials have had to alter the weight, etc., of baseballs to pep up the game when the fans were staying away from the parks. In a similar way, softball received an antedote last year that enlivened the spectators interest and seemingly has solved the softball problem.

Strike Outs Diminish
Until recently, 15 to 18 strike-outs a game were not unusual. But the fans craved excitement, and the pitchers box was set back from 38 feet 8 1/2 inches to 40 feet, giving the batters another split second to look the pitch over. The windmill and double windup has been banned, and the 60 foot bases have become standardized.

Another advantage added to the game gave the base runner a break. Now, base runners are being permitted to steal and to score on a balk or illegal pitch. Under the old rules a man on third was not allowed to score on a balk.

DISTRICT SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT SLATED HERE

STATE MOGULS SET DATE IN AUGUST

Leader Writer Is Deputy District Commissioner; To Erect Stands

Littlefield was named recently as host city for the first annual district softball tournament, sponsored by the National and State Amateur softball association, which is to be conducted here during the middle of August.

This city received the district tournament in the place of Lubbock, which is without adequate lighting and seating facilities. Collier Parris, sports editor of the Avalanche-Journal, was named as tournament director; however, Parris appointed Bob Cannon, Leader sports writer, as Deputy District Softball Commissioner to have charge of the tournament here.

Sixteen Counties in Area
The district tournament will bring representatives from sixteen counties including Bailey, Hale, Floyd, Crosby, Dickens, King, Stonewall, Kent, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yaakum, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, and Lamb.

All monies received over expenses are to be used for civic needs. The winners of the local tournament will be sent to the State softball tournament at Fort Worth, September 3, 4, and 5. Expenses will be furnished the winning team by the host city.

City softball officials have appointed E. C. Cundiff, Bill Pass, Pud Hanks and E. O. McIver as managers and directors of the tournament. Two Littlefield teams, independent clubs to be known as the City All-Stars and the Firemen have been entered in the local tournament. The two teams to be selected by the managerial staff, are, in name, members of the National Softball Association.

Entries Available Here
Teams from other sections of the county, and adjoining counties are eligible to enter, providing they join the National Softball Association. An entry fee of $1.50 is charged teams belonging to an organized league. Independent clubs are charged $5.00. Information can be secured for affiliation with the State Softball Association by writing Bob Cannon, Lamb County Leader, or Collier Parris, Avalanche Journal at Lubbock.

W. J. Aldridge, president of the city league, announced yesterday that plans for improvement of the playing field and the construction of bleachers would start as soon as possible.

Talk of an admission charge during the usual scheduled night games, is being discussed by league officials.

City League Leaders Having Hardships

(Around These Parts)

SOFTBALL SITUATION IN A NUT SHELL

(By Bob Cannon)

Everyone concerned is beaming with pride that Littlefield was named as the district site for the State Softball tournament, but none of us are getting overheated about it. Some are taking it for granted that this city was handed the site without asking. Ixnay.

Tournament sites are not handed out like relief checks, especially, big tournaments. By hook and slide methods, through the Leader's help, this city, secured the district headquarters from under Lubbock's very nose, and if you'll perk up on your history, such things don't happen often.

Several weeks ago the state softball commissioner, Harold B. White of Wichita Falls, designated by the National Amateur Softball association to promote Softball in Texas, contracted Collier Parris, Lubbock Avalanche-Journal sports editor, to hold the tournament in Lubbock. Parris, seeing a chance to advertise Lubbock and bring a large out of town crowd into that city, accepted without question.

But pressing and conflicting situations in Lubbock put Parris in a jam. He has a baseball tournament coming up in the next few weeks. It takes lots of work to put on a softball tournament, and even more in seeing that a baseball meet progresses systematically; and besides Mr. Parris and the Mrs. are planning a big vacation in August.

Knowing Collier intimately and understanding what the Lubbock situation was, this department, with the ardent support of a few leading citizens and the league officials, stepped in and relieved Lubbock of the softball tournament, thanks to Mr. Parris who supported the Littlefield cause from teeth to toe nail.

Contacting the state officials was the hardest job. Mr. White, an emphatic gentleman who is putting the tournament over in extraordinary and business-like manner, wasn't so sure of Littlefield until this city was recommended by Parris.

So, fellow citizens, since Littlefield was named the site it is time for all good Littlefield men to come to the aid of the tournament cause. We need bleachers to seat larger crowds; an improved field; and your co-operation to make this one of the biggest events in Littlefield history.

You may be interested in knowing that Littlefield, thus far, is the smallest city to be selected as a district tournament site. That, alone, is something to be right proud of. Other cities who will act as district hosts include Amarillo, Big Spring, El Paso, Fort Worth, Breckenridge, Quanah, Wichita Falls, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Longview, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Corpus Christi, Harlingen, Larado, Del Rio, Waco, Temple, Austin and McKinney.

Some of the local customers are moaning and groaning about the $100 or maybe more guarantee connected with the tournament. Even though a dollar is a dollar in any man's pocketbook, the guarantee of sending the winning team shouldn't seem so bad when a Littlefield team shouldn't have any trouble winning their own tournament. Besides $100 worth of advertising and publicity isn't doing the city any harm.

Then some of the supporters of the city softball league are turning thumbs down on helping finance the tournament. They give all kinds of reasons. But that is neither here nor there, the idea is to make the tournament pay for itself at the gate. It'll take a little backing to get started, but this department would bet that the league makes money out of the project, if it is handled right.

Gaut Hambricht, the one handed, lean-spindely-legged south paw hurler that Herschel Tapley acquired from Odessa after that club failed to get into the Permian Basin league, is giving the Lamb County fans plenty of sidewalk conversation.

When genial Gaut comes out from the dugout (which he has to crawl out of to keep from getting knots on his head) and ambles out to the mound, not even St. Peter would dare offer him a prayer. But once he gets to instructing the infielders where to play, winds up in the most ungodliest shapes, and lets go that ball, not even the 20 inch telescope at Mount Wilson's observatory could see that pill coming across the plate. Poor Bennett, he must have iron knuckles to withstand such a bombardment.

At one time Gaut wore bright orange socks when he played with Roby down below the Cap rock. He pitched fair ball in those days, but most managers were not so sure that Gaut's hurling was what caused the batters to duck and then swing. They claimed that Gaut's socks were so loud they blinded the batter's eyes.

Either the guy's uncanny or a miracle. In three performances on the Amherst mound, seemingly, he has had the opposition backing away from the mound before he completes his gosh-awful wind-up.

A total of 91 batters have faced Hambricht. Forty-seven of 'em have gone down swinging. The other 44 are wondering now how they met the ball.

But that's not all. He has a 3-4 run per game average. And to top all of that off, his batting average, even though it would sound fishy to any normal man, is something for him to write home and tell the girl friend about. In 13 times at bat, Hambricht has nine hits for a .691 average . . . Yes, and a homer besides.

CCC TO PLAY GAS HOUSE TEN TONIGHT

Littlefield P&E Is Next Foe Of Watson's Producers

The cellar dispute should come to an end tonight when the CCC's challenge the West Texas Gas for the bottom rung.

If the CCC team and the Gassers open up with another volley of base hits as they have been doing in their last few appearances, the customers should witness more than just an ordinary ball game.

Friday night, the big attraction of the week-end is slated. The Little-

The Littlefield poultrymen are at the top with the Grocers, and a win tonight would put them one full game in the lead. A loss to the Watson club would put Pud Hanks aggregation in a rut.

Monday night, slated against the giant killing CCC boys, the Renfro club will try to keep a firm hold on first. A Littlefield P&E win tomorrow night would just make things more interesting. The Tuesday attraction gives the CCC boys another stand against Pop Watson.

Reds Leave Welch Park Sunday To Play Lubbock

GAUT WHIFFS 'EM, AMHERST WINS 'EM

Hambricht's Hurling Sets Big Spring Club Down 9-1, 3-2

AMHERST—The Reds popped Big Spring's Cosden Oilers a pair of lousy blows Sunday when Hambricht was right in the first game, limiting the Oilers four well scattered hits, to win his third consecutive verdict, 9 to 1.

In a five inning duel in the aftermath that finally went six innings, Bennett's single broke up the ball game when he scored all the way from first on an overthrow at third.

Ho Hum! Hambricht Whiffs 'Em
Hambricht boosted his three game strike out total to 47 whiffs, an average of approximately 16 per game. At no time did he feel the rasps of Big Spring basehits whistling over his head. He pitched and they swung until the ninth when "Pepper" Martin (Oiler left fielder, rifled one of Gaut's curves out of the park. Other than that, Hambricht mastered the Oiler behemoths.

Dewey Walker, celebrated his return to the Amherst fold Sunday with Class AA performance. He hit the third pitched ball over the left field wall in the first frame to benefit in the first hat passing. In the third he patted a single into right that started a four run rally; in the fifth, he opened another rally with a double off the right field boards; and then he aided in another rally in the seventh with a single. Dewey cracked a single in the sixth inning second game.

Bennett Parks One
The Amherst backstop, Bennett furnished the big explosion of the day when he cleaned the bags with a homer in the third to start the Big Spring rout. Preacher Dickson got three hits for the Reds, also.

The big crowd of the year filled the grand stand, helping the management's expense account somewhat.

Hubbers Not So Hot, B Amherst May Have Busy Day

AMHERST, July 16.—The Amherst Reds will play their second of town game this season when they pay a visit to meet the Chap Chapin's in the latter's pasture park.

It will be the only game the Amherst Reds will play out of their own premises this year.

Seeking his fourth straight victory and his second verdict over the Hubbers this year, Gaut Hambricht, lanky one-handed curve ball artist will take the mound for the Lamb county nine against Manager Chapin's all-Star Hubbers, who haven't shined any too well this season at the bat, on the mound, or afield. Before signing with the Amherst club, Hambricht pitched the Hobbs Oilers to a 22 to 9 victory over the Lubbock team, but Sunday, Gaut will have to do more bearing down than he did while the Oilers were running wild.

To their credit also the Reds hold a one sided win over the Hubbers. They clubbed Tracy Watson et al for a neat 8 to 2 win the first couple of weeks of the season.

The Reds sensational hitting during the last half dozen games has made their record impressive. In the last ten starts they have lost one game.

force foreclosure on the small ranchers of the Kanab desert country so that he can seize their range lands. He is opposed by Ed Spurlock, president of the Cattleman's Bank, and by San Juan Delevan, prominent rancher who has been crippled by a fall from his horse. Johnny Clehove and his partner, Tex Whipple and his partner, Johnny Clehove, are cowpunchers employed by San Juan Delevan to fight the rustlers and protect his interests.

A week after they had gone on their quest Tex Whipple and Johnny Clehove rode slowly up out of the gulf of the Kanab Desert, to where the San Juan Plateau loomed dim and purple in the violet dusk. They were gaunt, hollow-eyed and weary. Their faces; their clothes; their horses were gray with dust and the grime of the desert. Their eyes were bloodshot; their lips cracked and raw from the bite of alkali dust. In front of them, slow and ponderous, moved the cattle they had regained from the rustlers. It had been a terrific task to nurse exhausted and faltering brutes across the torrid wastes but the job was nearly done now and the cattle were traveling faster, having smelled water in the troughs on the slope above.

Arriving at the corrals Tex and Johnny turned their charges over to Pink Crosby and Pod Fortune, all that remained of the Box D punchers, then unsaddled their horses, turned them into the pasture and walked with stiff, awkward strides up to the ranchhouse.

San Juan Delevan and his daughter Ronny were on the veranda.

"We brought yore cows back, San Juan," said Tex wearily. "Had to bump off two o' yore former punchers to get 'em. But they're all here, every dang haid."

"Good boys," rumbled San Juan. "By God, it's a relief to find men yuh can trust. Ronny, yuh go help Chang rustle grub for Tex an' the kid. Set it on this table. Tex, yuh an' Johnny go wash up an' then while yuh eat yuh can give me the story."

A good wash and plentiful food made new men out of Tex and Johnny. Johnny ate until he nearly fell out of the chair until even Ronny was moved to remark about it.

"Goodness Tex, don't you ever feed this child of yours? It seems impossible to fill him up."

"Miss Ronny," drawled Tex, "I'll apologize for him. Ordinarily I'd be plumb ashamed of him but I gotta admit he dang near earned the right to eat his fool head off this trip."

Johnny was quite shameless and unabashed. He yawned and grinned and rolled a smoke.

"Ain't often I get service like this. Gotta make the most of it, y'betcha. An' yuh know yuh'd feel offended if I didn't eat yore cookin'," he ended, addressing these words to Ronny. "I could do with that kind of cookin' the rest of my life, I'll tell a man."

"Haw! Haw!" rumbled San Juan as Ronny blushed and fled. "Kinda sudden that kind, eh Tex?"

"He's purty ganged fresh if yuh ask me," chuckled Tex. "If'n he don't mind his manners I'll work him over with a quirt."

"Huh," snorted Johnny. "Jest try it, yuh frazzled out ole tie string. Now to show yuh I'm a gentleman I'm goin' in an' help Chang wash the dishes."

"Heh—heh," sniffed Tex scornfully. "Gettin' mighty considerate of that Chink seems to me. Wonder if yuh think yuh're foolin' anybody. I hope the little lady smacks yore face with a dish rag."

When Johnny had gone the levity slipped immediately from Tex's face. He turned to San Juan.

"Sorry the kid an' me had to salivate those gents with the cattle."

"I'm not," bit out San Juan savagely. "Shore they had it comin' the damned double-crossin' coyotes. Things trailed out jest as I figgered they would at the Springs. They wa'n't no marks of any stampede was there?"

"None whatever," answered Tex. "The sign showed they jest cut out that bunch an' headed 'em northwest."

"I knew it. Ever since I got hurt I been figgerin' Wade an' his crowd was crooked, Pink Crosby an' Pod Fortune are good boys but the rest was workin' with Wade. Yuh know Tex, I'll tell yuh somethin' about how I got hurt. I was drivin' a thousand haid of prime stuff to the railroad at Sawtelle. We had the herd bedded down at Skelton Springs. The night was quiet, no wind or nothin'. I was sound asleep when the break came. Fust thing I knew they was a lot of bel edin' an' shoutin' an' when I got outa my tarp I saw the cattle was on the run. I chucked a hull on a bronc an' forked him an' lit out to try an' turn 'em so they'd take to millin'. It was dark as the ace of spades an' everybody was ridin' hell-catoot. They was men ridin' on both sides of me.

"All of a sudden on plain level ground my hoss turned a somersault. O'course I hit hard an' my light went out. When I came to it was jest breakin' day. My back was hurtin' like hell an' I seemed dead from the waist down. My bronc was lyin' jest as he fell, with a broken neck. They was a canteen tied to the saddle an' as I was dryer'n hell I drug myself over to him to get a drink. While I was restin' I got to figgerin' it was kinda funny that hoss should have fallen thataway on level ground. I looked him over an' jest above the fetlock of the near front laig I found where he'd been burned with a rope."

"Hell!" burst out Tex. "Yuh don't mean to tell me one of them dang snakes roped yore hoss an' throwed him apurpose?"

"Tex, that's jest exactly what happened."

"Then the whole thing was a set-up—stampede an' all."

"I figger it was. An' they run off with eight hundred haid of my stock. I couldn't do nothin'. I was a danged sick man. Wonder yet why I didn't die. Loosin' them cattle jest about broke me. I got a mortgage I was gonna clear up with the sale of that herd. An' it's taken the last of my ready cash to bring in that last herd what I bought over on the Simin's Gulch range across the desert. I shore am travelin' on the ragged aldge right now. An' I don't know how the hell I'm gonna take up that mortgage. I can't stall off Ed Starbuck much longer, an' still keep my self-respect. Ed was over to see me the other day yuh know, that was him yuh rode in

Two Lamb County Boys Place First In Boxing Contest

(Special to Leader)

OLTON, July 11.—The district amateur athletic boxing tournament netted a couple of titles for local boys when John Miller and Norman Shaw took first places in their weight divisions in Lubbock last week.

The district meet, sponsored by the Business Men's Club of Lubbock, was held Friday night, July 3, at the fair grounds. The winner of each division gets a free trip to the Centennial at Dallas where the state meet will be held August 17 to 22 in the Cotton Bowl in the Centennial grounds.

Norman Shaw was entered in the flyweight division. His opponent got as far as the ringside but refused to fight. This gave Norman the championship without a struggle.

John Miller entered the lightweight division. He fought Edwin Koonce of Lorenzo. John won by a technical knockout in the second round with only three minutes fighting.

Other winners of this district were Babe Ritchie of Lubbock, heavyweight; Chester Mitchell of Lockney, lightweight; Billy Mathews of Lubbock, middleweight; Pete Jones of Crosbyton, welterweight.

Roy Thurston who is the Lamb County director of the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation is in charge of the boxers. He will also represent the T. A. A. F. in all other forms of athletics and dramatics in this county.

Dewey Walker, formerly of Amherst, took over the management of the Farmers Cooperative Gin July 1st, succeeding Jack Smiley, who will confine his efforts to the operation of his farm four miles east of town.

Previous to coming to Littlefield Mr. Walker was employed with the Farmers Gin at Amherst for five years.

Mr. Walker also takes an active interest in baseball, and is a member of the Amherst team.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker have moved to Littlefield and are living on East Seventh Street.

The Broomcorn Outlook

Due to last year's greatly increased acreage of broomcorn and a large production of inferior brush which brought unsatisfactory prices, the 1936 broomcorn acreage has been drastically reduced. Further reductions, too, are inevitable because of serious drought conditions now prevailing in almost all areas where broomcorn is commercially grown.

This, together with the greatly reduced acreage now planted warrants much anxiety in trade channels as to the prospective yield being sufficient to supply consumer demands for the year normally estimated around 50,000 tons.

Reports from South Texas indicate extremely hot, dry weather and that late planted broomcorn is almost a total loss. Crops which were planted in March and April were harvested but the yield is the smallest in several years. Reliable estimates give the entire production of the Rio Grande Valley as 30 to 40 carloads compared with 231 carloads last year. Bee County districts will produce around 60 cars as against last year's shipment of 194 carloads.

In practically all out-lying or so called wild-cat sections, little if any broomcorn was planted this year. In the Littlefield district, comprising Lamb and four adjoining counties, the reduction in broomcorn acreage has been drastic in favor of cotton. Preliminary estimates indicate around 5,000 acres compared with last year's all time high of around 25,000 acres. In all Texas broomcorn producing territory, reductions of more than 75 per cent are indicated. South Texas broomcorn already is on the market and corn from the Beeville and Devine districts are expected by July 15th.

Trade opinion credits the Lindsay, Oklahoma district with an acreage reduction of 25 to 30 per cent under that of last year. Because, however, of scant sub-soil moisture and deficient rainfall, combined with extremely dry, hot weather during the past two weeks, the general prediction now is a reduction of 50 per cent.

The early Lindsay broomcorn, at this writing, is reported in a critical condition due to dry hot weather. Late broomcorn, which is small to knee high would, however, be greatly benefited by rains and cooler temperatures. Harvesting now is under way only on early corn recently blown down. Barring further deterioration, harvesting will be well under way in about two weeks. Much of the Lindsay crop, however, is late. Normally the Lindsay district ships several hundred carloads of broomcorn.

In the Illinois district, the low prices paid last year for a high percentage of weather damaged corn, discouraged any increased acreage this year. This, together with hot dry weather has tended further to reduce the prospective yield of this large broom-corn district. During the past four weeks, only 10 to 30 hundredths of an inch of moisture was recorded and, at this writing, early crops are deteriorating rapidly. The bulk of the Illinois crop, however, is late and would respond quickly to moisture and cool weather.

Colorado and New Mexico crops are still in the making. An increased acreage for Colorado has been predicted but dry weather has greatly curtailed these prospects. The planting season now is generally considered over for those northern sections. In New Mexico, about a normal acreage is forecast by the trade. Crops are said to be in fair condition but are needing rain. New Mexico normally ships about 5,000 tons of broomcorn. Shipments from Colorado last year were but a fraction of its normal output of several thousand tons.

Based on the present crop outlook for broomcorn, the trade generally are predicting much higher average prices for the 1936 crop than was paid in 1935. The extremely dry weather and reductions in yields forecast already are having a bullish effect on present small supplies. Some Wichita dealers report a price advance of $10.00 per ton on storage stocks while others are waiting on crop developments with price readjustments pending. In all, a decided price strength is indicated in this year's low prospective tonnage outlook with $200.00 corn freely predicted unless present drought conditions are immediately dispelled by abundant moisture in most all producing sections.

Missionary Baptist Begin Open Air Revival Meeting

A Down Town Open Air Revival was begun Tuesday night by the Littlefield Missionary Baptist Church, on the vacant lots just south of Key's Furniture on Phelps Avenue.

The new membership was chartered from among the many worshippers who have been attending the services conducted by Evangelist Jno. R. Denning in the Ritz Theatre for several months, where has been built up one of the largest congregations in the city. Concerning the newly formed Church and its present revival, Evangelist Denning said:

"The chartering of this local Church is the result of the conviction by a number of Baptists in all directions within a radius of fifteen miles of Littlefield, of a long-felt need for an old-fashioned, old-time Missionary Baptist Church, which would constantly and consistently proclaim the one Gospel that 'Christ died for our sins'; of the need that 'all men everywhere should repent,' and that there awaits to all such, salvation full and free, which is 'by grace, through faith'; that such a Church must, of necessity, be unhampered by modern day ramifications and organization methods which, to a large extent, make it compulsory for local Churches to follow the dictates of Denominational leaders, and has left but little opportunity indeed for the administration of the Holy Spirit in the affairs of the local Church.

"This new body has no fight or quarrel with any other Church or individual, but rather covets the friendship and prayers of every Christian and Minister of the Gospel, but we do have a fight against sin, and will wage it wherever we find it, even though it be in 'high places.'"

"One of the first actions of this new Church was that each and every month there would be an offering to Missions; that it would be sent direct, and that a receipt be obtained from the missionaries themselves for every penny contributed, without even the postage expense deducted. We intend to be missionary in deed and in fact, and not in name only. And the first offering goes forward this coming week.

"The increasing interest in such a work over an ever expanding area causes us to believe that by the time we shall endeavor to erect our building in October, we shall have one of the most active and fruitful memberships of any Church in Lamb County, if not the largest.

"For our Down Town Open Air Revival, we are equipped with good lights, good comfortable seats, and shall preach every night, except Mondays, until the frost drives us indoors. When this pastor is away, other preachers, known as soul-winners throughout the State and Nation, will come to Littlefield from time to time to carry on this work of the Lord. All people and all Churches are invited to participate in this soul-winning campaign."

LITTLEFIELD'S FINANCIAL CONDITION IMPROVES

REFUND BONDS BRING REDUCED INTEREST RATES

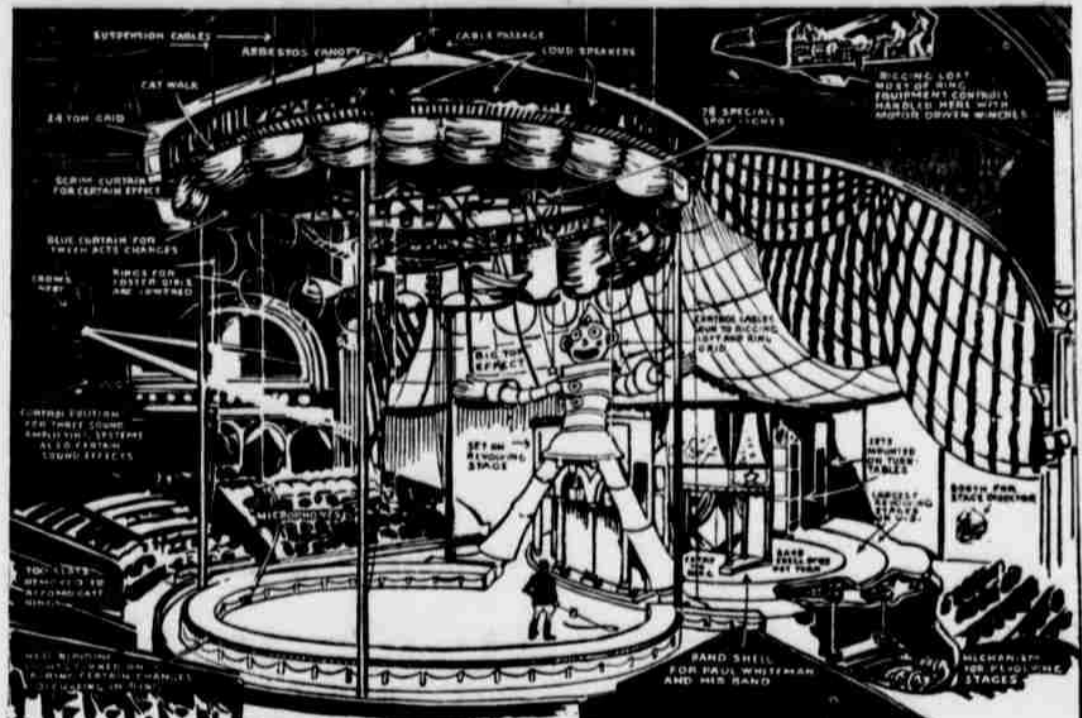

Court Matter Of Technical Nature In Refunding Procedure

In the year 1924, the City of Littlefield, then a small town on the plains, consisting of only a very few residences and two or three business buildings, took on a sudden growth, and in a very few months was developing into a little city. In 1925 the population had more than doubled several times. For the comfort and convenience of the people and in order to insure more sanitary conditions it became necessary that the city build a water works system and on a petition presented by the citizens a bond election was called and bonds were voted and sold and the proceeds used in the construction of the water works system. In a short time the city had grown to such an extent that it became necessary, again for the convenience and comfort of the people and for sanitary purposes, to construct a sewer system in the city, and again the people petitioned the city authorities to hold an election for the purpose of voting sewer bonds, which were used to build the present sewer system. Each of these projects was absolutely necessary. The mayor and commissioners of the city mobilized all the resources of the city to build these projects and the construction of these projects than any other city. The people voted the bonds and spoke in almost unanimous approval for the issuance of the bonds and construction of the water and sewer. The city authorities complied with the mandate of the people through their votes. These projects were for the comfort and convenience of the people living in the city. The city limits of the city were extended out of the city limits to come to Littlefield for the purpose of the projects and the projects were completed by the people within the city. The city went on to become necessary to make further public improvements in order to keep abreast of the times and to insure the proper comfort and convenience of the people and the convenience of the visitors.

When the first of these public projects was started the city had just been organized and incorporated and therefore had no money in the city treasury. The voting of bonds was absolutely the only way in which these projects could be constructed. Up until the coming of the depression six years ago the city of Littlefield was at all times in such financial condition that it met promptly all debts and obligations of every nature, but when the depression hit us, as in the case with all cities and counties over the entire country, taxes were not paid in full and because thereof the city got behind with some of its obligations. The city of Littlefield could have filed tax suits, but throughout the depression the city authorities refrained from taking this harsh measure against the taxpayers, knowing that the only reason the taxes were not paid was because of the depression and hard times. The city of Littlefield has not filed a tax suit since the depression started. Those in charge of the city affairs have felt that it would be unjust to a people already heavily burdened. Furthermore, the city authorities felt that the people were honest and when they could they would pay their taxes. The result is that we find the tax rolls show considerable taxes are delinquent, which, if paid, would more than pay all current debts of the city and bring all interest and sinking funds up to date. That is the situation.

City Reduces Property Valuation
Some time ago, also, the city authorities saw fit to reduce property valuation for taxable purposes, and in accordance with that policy the valuations on property in the city limits have been considerably reduced, first, because the tax payers deserve a reduction in values during the hard times, and second, because the property values had actually decreased in the city, and it would not be right to keep the values up under the existing conditions. The city bonds that have been issued to construct the public works

What Makes the Wheels of Jumbo Go 'Round

Artist's Conception of the Innards of Billy Rose's Spectacle

Billy Rose's circus-musical comedy-drama-revue-extravaganza "Jumbo" will be seen to even greater advantage during its stay at the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial than during its season-long run at the New York Hippodrome. True, nearly a quarter of a million dollars was expended making the famous Manhattan playhouse habitable for the elephantine spectacle.

But the "little of cow town way out west" has gone the big town on the Hudson one better. At Fort Worth a complete circus amphitheatre has been constructed, the first to be devoted exclusively to a circus in over seventy years. Designed and supervised by Albert Johnson it represents an investment of $300,000.00, over a third of which is allotted to electrical equipment and another $100,000.00 to paraphernalia.

projects aforesaid have been purchased and repurchased by investment concerns and by individuals over the United States. Some of these bonds got into the hands of certain investors in Wichita, Kansas, who, because the city was a little delinquent and also because property values had been slashed by the mayor and commissioners for taxing purposes, brought a suit in Federal Court against the city for the purpose of trying to force the mayor and commissioners to raise property values in the city for tax purposes. The city authorities refused to comply with the demand to raise taxes. That was the prime purpose of the suit in question. Also the bond holders attempted to force the city authorities to file tax suits, but in keeping with its policy to refrain from suing for taxes the mayor and commissioners again refused to comply with such demand.

Bond Interest Reduced
However, a short time ago the mayor and commissioners of the city contacted the bond holders who had brought the suit and worked out a settlement with them which will save the city considerably over one hundred thousand dollars over a period of years. These bonds as originally voted all bear six per cent interest. According to the settlement agreement that has been entered into the interest rate has been reduced from 6 percent to 4 percent and 4 1/2 percent. This settlement will be concluded by the issuance of refunding bonds to take the place of the old bonds, after certain reductions are made and the rate of interest lowered. A contract of settlement has actually been entered into and signed.

Suit Only Technical Procedure
Now, further with reference to this suit against the city. As stated above, these city bonds are owned by persons all over the country, the names of some of whom are not known to the city authorities at this time, and are unknown to the other bond holders. Those who hold the first issues of bonds claim that their bonds are secured by the first lien. Some of those who hold later issues are of the opposite opinion, and probably content that all the bonds are on par. In order to determine who all own the city bonds and who priority on lien, if any one, it has become necessary to continue the suit on the docket until the next term of Federal Court, and a friendly agreement was made between the city and the bond holders who sued to continue the suit on the docket for the purpose of bringing in all parties who own these bonds in order to determine priorities, and also that the bonds may be validated by the court in order that a new refunding saving issue may be approved by the proper authorities of the State and substituted for the old bonds.

That is the reason the suit is still on the docket. Some have probably noticed a recent publication in one of the local papers relative to this suit. This is a citation by publication for the purpose of bringing into the court all holders of these bonds in order to determine the questions above set out, and in order that the court may approve the settlement agreement.

As the matter now stands, the suit in effect does not in any manner affect the City of Littlefield, except that by means of the suit staying on the docket till next term of the court the court can then approve the settlement agreement. The suit as it now stands is in effect a suit between the bond holders themselves and the controversy between them is as to who comes first and who has the first and prior lien or whether or not all are on par.

So far as the city is concerned, the matters are settled by the refunding agreement above referred to. The city has been saved over a hundred thousand dollars as above indicated; the amount of the debts and interest rates have been slashed, and the city will not raise property values and will not bring any tax suits during hard times.

Citizens Asked For Improvements
The city of Littlefield was organized and incorporated as such 12 years ago. The construction of the public projects above mentioned has been spread out over most of the 12 year period. The city has had various mayors and various commissioners during that 12 years, all of whom have participated in some way and to some extent in carrying out the will and mandates of the people to construct these public projects. The city authorities, the mayors and commissioners, are not responsible for any of the projects mentioned. In each case the people of the city petitioned for an election and voted for the construction of the project, and it became mandatory on the part of the authorities to carry out the will expressed at the polls and build the various projects authorized by vote of the people. The various mayors, present and past, and the various commissioners, present and past, should not be criticised, and cannot be justly criticised, for any of the things mentioned. The present mayor and commissioners and all mayors and commissioners in the past should be highly commended for the manner in which they have economically handled city affairs and at the same time kept abreast of the progress of our times and the growth of the population of the city and surrounding territory.

During the past few years most all of the cities of this State as well as many of the counties have entered into refunding agreements with bond and warrant holders whereby the debts have been extended as in the case of Littlefield, and we might mention also that Lamb County recently issued refunding warrants to take up and extend all of the debts of the county, which had become considerably great.

As the situation now stands the City of Littlefield is in good shape financially, in as good shape as any town in West Texas and in better shape than many of them. This publication is made for the purpose of clearing up the situation in the minds of some of our people who have seen the recent publication with reference to said suit and because the people are entitled to all the facts. There is no danger in the city being thrown into the hands of a receiver nor in taxes being raised nor tax suits being filed under present conditions.

Sense And Nonsense From The CCC Camp

Once again the spirits of Company 3802 are high. We have just learned that Lt. Burt is coming back to this company, for how long we don't know as yet, but we certainly hope it is for some time.

Lt. Bankert, Ex-Company Commander, paid us a visit the third and fourth of this month. We are all glad to see him looking so well. Evidently they fix them up right down at Ft. Sam Houston. Lt. Bankert is now in civilian life and has employment near San Antonio, Good Luck, Lt.

Captain Spurlock has been advanced from Sub District Commander to District Adjutant. Captain Roper took his place as Sub District Commander but only for a day. Captain Adair from the Amarillo Camp is now Sub District Commander and Captain Roper has been transferred somewhere in the north. Congratulations, Welcome, Goodbye, and Welcome, if you get what I mean.

Talk about eating off the mantle! The members of this company have been taken back to their childhood days for the past two or three meals, not, however, for the same reason. In an effort to beautify the mess hall the kitchen force painted the tables and seats the other night with a quick drying enamel. It may be so, but we are wondering just when the enamel is going to start the quick drying process.

Inter-barrick softball is at fever heat with Barrick 3 in the lead. So far, all of the Barricks have played at least two games and all of them have won at least one of the games they have played. There is always an exception of course, the exception this time is the overhead team with an average of two games played and two games lost. We may not be able to win any games, but we at least furnish more entertainment to the spectators. Who ever heard of typists, clerks, cooks, pearl divers, and grease rats making good ball players anyway.

FORT WORTH PREPARING TO ENTERTAIN LARGEST CROWD IN HISTORY OF CITY AT OPENING OF FRONTIER CENTENNIAL

(Special to Leader)
Fort Worth, July 14.—Preparations for the entertainment of the largest crowd in the history of the city at the opening of the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial, Saturday, July 18, are now being made. The various shows as well as all structures have already been completed.

The galax of song, dancing and novelty stars, showgirls and musicians assembled in Fort Worth for final rehearsals on the four major shows of the Frontier Centennial made the town look like Forty-Second and Broadway this week.

Paul Whiteman and his orchestra arrived Friday to enter the final week of rehearsals with the 250-member cast of the Casa Manana Revue. Joe Venuti and his orchestra will play for ballroom dancing in the same vast cafe-theater.

The Casa Manana Revue, spangled with such names as Everett Marshall, baritone star of Ziegfeld's follies, Sally Rand of the fans and bubbles, Ann Pennington of the "Follies," the Lime Trio of "Life Begins At 8:40," Walter Dare Wahl of vaudeville and the "Follies" and young Gareth Jopelin of the movies, will last for a little over an hour.

Between shows in the cafe-theater, the 130-foot revolving stage floating on water, will be moved forward to a level with the terrace so that the guests may dance.

Reservations already were pouring in this week for tables in the fabulous cafe-theater for the opening night. Dramatic critics from every newspaper and theatrical journal in New York will be here to witness the unparalleled venture in entertainment.

Honky-Tonk Revue
The Casa Manana Revue will be one of four major shows at the Frontier Centennial. Surprise treat of the four, it appeared this week, may be the Honky-Tonk Revue whipped together quietly and without much hullabaloo for the Pioneer Palace.

Tom Patricola, dancing star of George White's "Scandals," was engaged this week for one of the Honky-Tonk principals. A hefty, chest-heaving blond named Lulu Bates will sing such ballad gems as "I Fell In Love With a Handlebar Mustache" and "The Lady Known as Lulu." Both have punchy dance hall lyrics knocked out by Billy Rose.

The Honky-Tonk Revue will be presented with old-fashioned dance hall line of 16 girls on a stage in the wall above the 40-foot bar. Mirror above the bar will move back to reveal the stage.

Actually the minor show of the Frontier Centennial . . . and one you get free with meals and drink in the Pioneer Palace . . . the Honky Tonk Revue shows promise of a great punch in rehearsals.

Many Other Attractions
Other major shows are Billy Rose's "Jumbo," moved down from the New York Hippodrome and installed in a breath-taking new version of an old-fashioned indoor circus building, and "The Last Frontier," a wild-riding cowboy, Indian, cavalry and square dance spectacle. Capt. Irving O'Hay, New Mexico soldier of fortune dubbed the "Connoisseur of Wars" by Irvin S. Cobb, will be announcer for the old-West melee. Picturesque figure who has rushed to every war in the world since the Cuban insurrection, he was broken in as an after-dinner speaker by the late Will Rogers, has had contact with the show business off and on for 25 years.

In addition to these major attractions, such smaller shows as Sally Rand's Nude Ranch, Beauty and the Beast, and regular midway attractions fill the grounds.

West Texas exhibits and a room containing the ranch and old West collection of Will Rogers have been installed in the old-fashioned railroad station. Other mementoes of the Southwest, including rooms set with the furnishings of the early pioneer, are arranged in buildings on Sunset Trail, the pioneer village street.

Colorful characters will enliven the section of a frontier town with the luscious goings-on of an outpost village. On the little street called Sunset Trail, Broadway and the Old West will join hands for four months of fun.

Let Me Finish My Job!

With the equipment and funds which have been available to me since I became commissioner of Precinct No. 3, I have achieved all that has been possible under the circumstances in the way of road work and other projects.

Since I became commissioner I have devoted a part of my time to arranging for precinct funds.

With financing matters achieved, I have purchased new machinery, have worked most of the roads in the precinct, and now desire to go ahead with other matters in behalf of our section of the country.

I am respectfully asking you to vote the Democratic way . . . as second term for a man who has served his precinct to the maximum consistent with machinery and funds available.

THANK YOU,

8th Army Corps Weather Station

Local Bank Cashier Arises At 7 A. M. Each Morning To Send Weather Report By Short Wave Radio To Army Station

J. C. Elms, cashier at the First National bank here, arises at 7 o'clock each morning during the week to send the weather report of this section of the state to the Eighth Corps Aera Army General Headquarters at San Antonio. In Elms' home, he operates, under government supervision, a short wave radio station W5ERU and a telegraph unit. Three years ago the United States Army organized throughout the nation and outlying possessions a short wave radio system, comprised mostly of amateur operators with government license, in the areas of the various Army corps. Elms' message is scheduled by army officials to be sent to them in code at 7 a. m.

Operators Receive No Pay
Handled by the Army Meteorological office, the Fort Sam Houston station is a busy place each morning at 6 a. m. except Sunday, as weather reports pour in by radio, telegraph, and teletype. Most of the messages are received from the amateur short wave operators who send in the report without pay or charge.

This unique system was organized by the chief signal officer of the army to associate the Signal Corps and the civilian radio transmitting operators for these purposes:

"To provide additional channels of radio communication throughout the nation that may, in time of emergency, be used to augment and replace land lines, both telephone and telegraph, that might be seriously damaged or destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, ice, riot, or insurrection.

Assists Red Cross
"To place at the disposal of military commanders of all components of the army and representatives of the Red Cross such amateur radio channels of communication that may be developed.

"To provide civilian amateur radio operators with the knowledge of army methods in radio procedure and the methods of using radio as a means of signal communication 'in the field,' and to secure their aid in experimental aids and tests, and to render such encouragement and assistance as may be desirable, and establish and perpetuate the amateur."

All amateur radio stations are under the direct supervision of the Federal Bureau of Communication and each have the same frequency.

Elms has been a member of the army amateur short wave operators for sometime. Before coming to Littlefield, he operated a station in Oklahoma. The Eighth Corps aera includes Oklahoma within its short wave territory.

Army Gives Free Instruction
Army instruction is given short wave operators through correspondence and at Signal Corp Reserve Officers Training Schools and corps situated in the larger cities and towns. The operators are taught courses in meteorology, receiving, transmitting, and radio technician-ship.

When the army first sought assistance from the amateur radio operators, only a few stations were available. At the present, every town or city of any size in every section of the nation has an army affiliated short wave station.

"Only Four Perfect Men In Texas" Says Gov. Allred

Sherman, July 14—(Special)—Four "perfect men" and one "mere human being" are competing for the governorship of Texas, Governor James V. Allred told a North Texas crowd here July 6.

"So far as I can find out, there are only four perfect men in Texas," Allred grinned, "and unfortunately for me they are all running for governor."

"Personally, I can't claim to be perfect," I didn't claim that I haven't made mistakes. "I'm only a mere human being."

"No doubt there are many trifling matters about which my opponents can criticize me. But any mistakes I may have made don't qualify these gentlemen for the governorship."

In bringing to Sherman his campaign for election for a second term, Governor Allred came to the county where his great grandfather settled in 1837. In his speech here he deplored "the campaign of misinformation, ridicule and personal abuse" that is being waged against him.

"Just to illustrate how utterly silly, trivial and unfair they have been, the Governor continued, 'I refer you to the record on ribbon cutting and bridge opening.'"

"My opponents have denounced me all over the state as a ribbon cutter and bridge opener. As a matter of fact, I have been to one ribbon cutting and one bridge opening. That's all." I submit to the public that men who will indulge in such tactics thereby demonstrate their own unfitness for the Governor's office."

"Vice President Garner went to a ribbon cutting and bridge opening at Laredo last week. He has been to one. I have been to one. I am wondering whether my opponents will jump on to him and denounce him as a ribbon cutter and bridge opener!"

"Forty years ago Governor Hogg said that the people were interested in issues, not men; in principles, not personalities. I am asking the people of Texas to permit me to carry on the program already begun, basing my claim for the second term upon my record. Let the record speak, and I am sure the people will render a righteous verdict."

ANOTHER CANDIDATE, ???

Yes, another candidate. Not a candidate selected by popular vote of the people on a specific date to some public office at a lucrative salary, but a candidate self elected in the ginning business (having bought an interest in the gin plant with Mrs. Hardberger) seeking to be your public servant, and asking a reasonable share of your support and consideration.

I have only lived in Littlefield since last October, having been employed by Mrs. Hardberger a part of the past ginning season, and have not had the pleasure or the opportunity of getting acquainted with very many people, and as the time necessary for putting the plant in the proper condition to give you the service you have a right to expect, I will not be permitted to visit you at your farm or home to form your acquaintance and solicit your business. Therefore, I am taking this method and opportunity to introduce myself to you, and to give you a brief sketch of my past life and experience.

I was reared on the farm and in the ginning business, as my parents were living on the farm and engaged in the ginning business at the time of my birth; therefore I had the opportunity at a very early age to become acquainted with the farmer's problems and to study the ginning business. I began the actual work at a gin when a very small boy, when we carried the cotton in a basket and placed it on the gin, the lint was blown into a large room and then gathered up and placed in the press by hand and tramped in the press by foot using a mule or horse for power to press the bale. I have devoted practically my entire time in the gin business up to the present time when we have all the modern machinery and equipment in the ginning business; therefore I feel justified with a lifetime experience in making the statement that I believe I am as familiar with the farmer's problems, and as capable of giving you as good service as most any one anywhere, in the gin business.

Before coming to the plains in 1929, I owned and operated some of the best plants anywhere; consisting of one five stand plant housed in iron clad building, steam powered and square bale, and one five stand plant in brick and steel building, fireproof, electric powered, both round and square bale, also in connection a very nice feed, coal and fertilizer business, doing business with as many people as any man in the country. I was in the gin business for myself twenty odd years, coming to the plains in '29 at the beginning of the depression, having sold my business. Since that time I have been engaged in building, repairing and operating plants for others. I have served the public all of my life, and I get the greatest pleasure out of life of being of service to others. I want to be of service to you; I want to meet you and become better acquainted with you, and you with me. I want you to visit me at the plant when convenient (as I am and will be very busy getting the plant in proper condition) and see and let me show you what we are doing. We are working the plant over thoroughly, putting in quite a lot of new equipment, and thoroughly reworking the balance. In fact, making a first class gin plant of it, with this thought constantly before me, that if anyone is entitled to all that is in a bale of cotton it is the man that produces it, THE FARMER, and if we cannot give you the service, the courteous treatment, the square deal you can get elsewhere, we should not and will not expect your business. But we want you to give us a trial, to give us an opportunity to demonstrate our ability to please you. We want you to feel and know when you leave your home coming to our gin with a bale of cotton that you are going to get all there is in it in the way of ginning, and we feel confident that you will go away with the same feeling, that you got a SQUARE DEAL.

As the old, old saying is, "I want to live by the side of the road and be a friend to man." This being true with me, I want to serve you; I want to help and assist you in any way I can, and I want to thank you personally in advance for your every consideration of us, and to assure you of our every effort to please you. Our MOTTO SHALL BE, "OUR AIM IS TO SATISFY."

Yours For Service

Interstate Motor Traffic

Problems arising out of commerce between the states keep bobbing up in the most unexpected places and ways. The Constitution of the United States, and the Federal Government built upon it, had their origin in disputes between states over the control of commerce on the Potomac and Delaware Rivers. The newest phase of the problem involves the right of commercial automobiles from one state to use the highways of another state without contributing toward their maintenance. That has long been a sore point in several states whose highways lead across them to major markets in other states.

Now some of the western states have taken the bull by the horns and set up systems of controlling the entry of commercial vehicles from outside, by establishing what they call "ports of entry" on every interstate highway. Kansas has 65 of these ports of entry, with 176 state employees operating them. Every commercial car with a "foreign" license must stop on reaching a port of entry and get a clearance before it can proceed to use the highways of Kansas. The vehicle itself is inspected, its operator is required to show that he has liability insurance for the protection of Kansans who might be injured in their cars or their persons while he is operating his truck inside the state, and he must also pay a tax toward the maintenance of Kansas thoroughfares.

New Mexico, Nebraska and Oklahoma are experimenting with the Kansas idea in various degrees. Maine and Utah have incorporated the plan in their motor vehicle regulatory systems, and bills to set up such a system have been introduced into the legislatures of six other states.

There is apparent merit on the face of it, in requiring outsiders to pay for the commercial use of state-owned highways. But the plan seems to border closely on the verge of Federal functions under the interstate commerce powers of Congress, especially as there are few, if any, important highways for which the Federal Government has not contributed a large part of the cost.

Death On The Highways

Thus far this year the nation-wide campaign for highway safety seems to be having some effect in reducing the number of fatal automobile accidents. We still have a long way to go before the menace to life, both to motorists and to pedestrians, is removed. But the figures for the first six months of 1936 show a considerable falling off from those of the corresponding period last year.

To be sure, the holiday vacation season is only just beginning. Nobody can predict what toll of lives will be taken during the Summer. There are more cars on the road than ever before, and they are driving at higher speeds. But on the other hand, most of the cars now in use are under better control than the two or three million antiquated rattle-traps with defective brakes that have at last been deposited in the junk yards and replaced by new cars with a much higher factor of safety.

It is not the cars themselves, that are to blame for most traffic accidents. It is always the driver. In state after state more careful systems of examining drivers for competence are being adopted. No state as yet has gone as far as they go in England in the matter of revoking or suspending driving licenses of reckless drivers, and nowhere are our main motor highways adequately policed. Progress is being made, however, and the drive for highway safety is becoming both more concentrated and more widespread.

METHODIST CHURCH
John Witt Hendrix, Pastor

It is due that we should thank many who contributed in different ways to our Revival services; to the paper for liberal space, to the general public for their kindly and serviceable attitude. It came about that the revival did a lot of the things such services should do. We also give sincere thanks to God.

With greatly renewed energy we approach the continued services of the church.

Church school at 9:45 a. m. Public worship both morning—11 o'clock, and evening—8:30 o'clock. The young people will meet at 7:40 p. m. Intermediate the same hour. The subject of the morning service will be, "In The Red Spiritually." The subject of the evening service—open air, will be, "Dabblin' In your Business." At each of these services the choir will make its offering of select music.

We earnestly solicit your co-operation.

—no worse." "Lucky ye ar're to be alive. Delevan—I've had news for ye. The bank's been r-r-robbed. Starbuck, Stinson and Bur-r-ney are dead poor-r deevils."

"What?" exploded Delevan. "The bank robbed—Starbuck daid—an' the rest? I—hell—when did it happen, Mc?"

"Thursday afternoon. The dom thives got clear away. The sheriff has come and gone wi' out doing a thing. 'Tis a wor-r-thless mon he is. An e-ex-aminer is on hand and declares the bank insolvent. 'Tis r-rumor has it that that scheming, gr-rasping Silas Spelle is taking over all the bank's paper and mortgages."

Delevan laughed harshly, hopelessly. "That means I'm finished. Spelle will foreclose on me the first damn thing he does. He's been wantin' my range for a long time. Tex, I reckon yore job won't last long now."

Tex was thoughtful for a moment. "How much is that mortgage worth?" "Ten thousand dollars. O'course I could cover it if I wanted to sell off all my stock. But without stock, what good would the range do me?"

"That's right," nodded Tex. "San Juan, would you consider goin' in pardners?" "Who with?" "Me—me an' the kid."

Tex—I'd jump at the chance. It'd be the best thing whatever happened o me. Bein' tied to this damn chair the way I am I cain't get around an' take care of my spread like I should. With yuh an' the kid in with me we could make things hum but, wait a minute. We're fergettin' Spelle an' that damn mortgage."

"Not a leetle bit, we ain't," snapped Tex. "I been lookin' for a chance like this. Johnny's old enough now to start settlin' down an' gettin' his spurs hooked into somethin' permanent. I got a pretty stake saved up fer the kid an' I know where I can get more. Together it'll be plenty to squelch Mister Silas Spelle. An' we'll make the kid foreman, San Juan. He needs some responsibility now, somethin' to make him gorget his kid stuff an' turn man. Yuh got a sweet range here—the kind I been lookin' for fer a long ime. Is it a go?"

*Tex—it shore is. Yore talk puts some strength in this damned worthless ole carcass of mine Shake!"

Daylight the following morning found Tex far out on the Kanab Desert, pounding along at a steady lopp. He had three horses and was changing from one to the other every two hours. In this way he did not have to halt to rest them. All through the scorching day he rode steadily. At evening he halted for half an hour at a brackish, green scummed water-hole. While the horses were drinking and resting Tex wolfed down a couple of powdery sandwiches, took a long drink at his canteen, rolled a smoke, then resumed his steady ride.

The pale moon rose, arched and descended. The black heart of the dawn took form, hovered—lightened—and was gone. The sun came up. And with it's raising Tex rode up to the shipping town of Sawtelle. It was rails end of a spur the S. W. & P. had thrown up along the western edge of the Kanab Desert to tap the cattle ranges of the district and a few mining operations subject to sporadic outbursts of activity.

Tex went direct to the railroad station. He was greeted at the ticket window by a yawning, heavy-eyed agent. "When's the next train out?" demanded Tex. "Nine fifteen. Ticket? Where to?" "Sevier."

The agent selected a strip of paste board, pounded dates on it and slipped it through the wicket. "Twelve dollars and forty-two cents." Tex folded up the ticket and stowed it away and tossed a golden double eagle on the counter. "Keep the change a minute," he adjured. "Can I send some telegrams from here?" "Sure. Here's the pad. Write e'm out."

Boy Scout News From Troup No. 25

By David Storey, Reporter

When we peached our meeting place last Wednesday night, we found Bill Street and some candy waiting for us. We waited outside until some of the latest boys were coming in.

After most of the boys came, we went down to the basement where we hold our meetings. While we stood around and ate candy, the boys who didn't receive Tenderfoot Badges and Registration Cards last week, were presented with them. After talking a while Bill did a match trick, which sent us down the belt line.

When we had had a little fun, Bill gave us a military workout; he taught us how to come to attention, to stand at ease, and to do the right and left dress. While we stood at attention, Douglas Hollis led us in the Scout Oath, and Almore Jones the Pledge of Allegiance to our Flag. After having the workout, Joe Nichols passed the Tenderfoot Test.

As soon as we decided Joe was a Tenderfoot, we decided to name our patrols. We named them, The Cat and The Eagle, the patrol leaders are, J. R. Farrel The Cat, and Almore Jones The Eagle.

When we stopped discussing patrols, we started discussing a hike, this hike is to be at Jake Hoppings place, near Fieldton.

At last we could find nothing to talk about, so we went outside, played a game of Steal the Bacon, and called it a night.

The boys present at this meeting were, Jack Singer (Assistant Scoutmaster) Douglas Hollis (Reporter) J. R. Farrel (Patrol Leader), Almore Jones (Patrol Leader), J. T. Aven (Treasurer), E. B. Farrel, James Lakey, Earnest Holburg, Joe Nichols, M. C. Street, and Aaron Blackwell (who has been visiting in Okla.) There was one visitor, Alvin Roles.

If you want to join, or visit our troop you are welcome. We hold our meetings at the Presbyterian Church each Wednesday night at 8:30.

Littlefield

we all want security

People want to feel safe, safe from poverty, disease, accident, the unknown. They are born with this desire for SECURITY.

Whether he is selling insurance, homes, cars, cough medicine, brake-service or overshoes, a man can sell more of it if he strikes the emotional chord of security in his advertising.

The security-urge is one of the few fundamental life-urges that make people do, act and buy when logic and argument would fail.

Whatever you are selling, there is one powerful, irresistible appeal that will make your ads do a better selling job... a basic "urge" that can be expressed perfectly by illustrations from the Meyer Both Newspaper Advertising Service to which we hold the exclusive Littlefield franchise. Let us help you with this business-building service free of charge. It will lower your selling costs.
