New Army Commander Named

James McFarland, a 31-year-old corp sergeant - major in the Salvation Army will take over the command of the Littlefield division of the Army, according to a statement made by Brigadier Gordon Swyers, Texas commander. Brigadier Swyers spoke before a luncheon of the Army board of directors Monday and told the gathering that, contrary to some rumors that had been circulating in Littlefield, the Army has no plans whatsoever to close down the city branch.

The state leader praised Major Stevenson, the current Army leader here who came out of retirement to take over the city post. Swyers said that he had done a "magnificent job of helping the Littlefield post out of its financial woes."

McFarland will take over the city position May 18. He is currently living in McAllen and will bring his family to Littlefield with him.

Swyers and Major Stevenson also told the board members that they are considering a repair job on the Salvation Army building.

FIRST MISS LAMB COUNTY ENTRY—Kaye Bradley of Amherst signed up Tuesday for the Miss Lamb County contest and became the first entry. The beauty contest will be held as part of the Littlefield Buknic Days with the winner of the local pageant going to the Miss Texas contest in Beaumont.

Buknic Events Listed

Kaye Bradley, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Bradley of Amherst, became the first entry in the Miss Lamb County Beauty Pageant when she registered for the contest Tuesday.

The beauty contest will be held as a climax to Littlefield Buknic Days and is sponsored by the local Jayceeettes. The pageant will be held in the Littlefield High School auditorium Saturday, June 3.

Winner of the contest will receive a trip to the Miss Texas Contest to be held sometime in August in Beaumont. Miss Texas will then go to the Miss America Contest held in Atlantic, N. J. later in the year.

Miss Bradley, a five feet five inch brunette, is a high school senior and lists her measurements as 34 - 22 - 35. Her special talents are playing the piano and singing and her hobbies are horse back riding, reading and water sports.

She plans to attend West Texas State College after graduation from high school. She is sponsored in the contest by Maud's Dress Shop.

Any Lamb County single girl may enter the county contest. Girls interested can register at the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce office, Littlefield Press, or with John Banks, parent director, or Mrs. Elbert Dillon, Jaycee Ette president.

It was announced this week that the Amarillo Air Force Band will be here for a concert Thursday morning, June 1. Site of the concert will be in front of the courthouse.

Two events originally scheduled for Buknic Days have been cancelled. There will be no beard growing contest or old fiddlers get-together.

'Bad Law' C-C Head Denounces Tax Bill

In an interview with chamber manager Gene Garrison Wednesday morning, Garrison told a Littlefield Press reporter that the sales tax measure passed by the house last week was a bad bill. Garrison has just returned from Austin with city manager J. W. Harrison. Garrison went on to say that a broad based sales tax at one per cent on everything would have been much better than the selective sales tax which has passed the House.

He added that the Senate was stalemated by filibusters on the college problems and that it was anyone's guess when it would begin study and discussion of the House's sale tax proposal.

"The House's selective sales tax plan will certainly work a hardship on the merchant who must determine what is taxable as he checks out a customer," Garrison continued.

In other business while in Austin, Garrison and Harrison said that the Volunteer Fireman's pension bill is still hanging... one that a wait and see attitude will suffice as the bill could very easily go either way at this time.

They reported that Representative Jess Osborn had talked privately with the Governor and that the Governor indicated he would vote for a bill to eliminate licensing cotton trailers. The Governor explained that he had vetoed a similar bill because of the many amendments that had been added to it.

Garrison also reported that Senator Andy Rogers had introduced a bill to amend the Emergency Feed Grain Bill Monday morning. (Continued on Page Four)

Grain Indexes In Mail Friday

Index notices will be mailed to all county feed grain producers Friday from the Littlefield ASC office, according to L. D. Aten, county manager.

Aten said Wednesday that his office will begin taking applications from producers who decide to cooperate with the Emergency Feed Grain Bill Monday morning.

The deadline for filing the applications has been set for May 31.

If a landlord and tenant are involved in the program, both must sign the application, according to Aten.

Aten said that the bases that farmers received in the mail are interchangeable with corn and grain sorghum.

Something new has been added to the Emergency Feed Grain Bill concerning the layout acres.

These acres may be planted in a permanent type grass or legume, a temporary type grass or legume or in a small grain (wheat, rye, oats and barley). The grains may be planted in the fall of 1961 and can be harvested in 1962. In addition, they may be grazed in the fall of 1961.

These are the only grains that can be planted for harvest and marketed in 1962.

Spurring interest in the exhibit is a contest to guess the estimated value of the collection. The person who looks over the collection and makes the closest guess will win $20.

Included in the showing will be many types of old coins such as three-cent nickels and dimes, one-half pennies, some 1883 nickels which are the size of old five dollar gold-pieces and some pennies that are as large as today's 50-cent pieces.

Saddle blanket bills, ones that were in circulation some years ago, will also be shown along with proof sets of coins made by the Philadelphia mint. The proof sets are highly polished coins of the type currently in use.

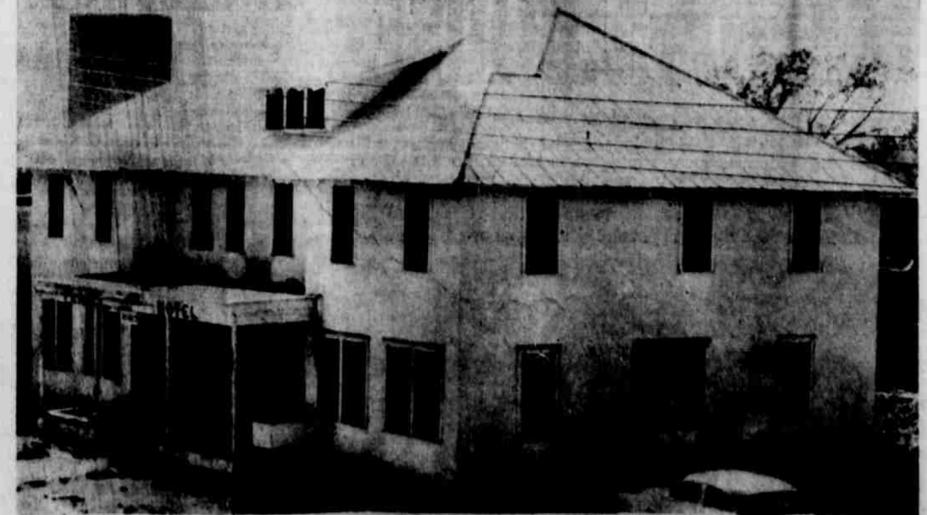

The show is in conjunction with National Coin week this week.

Historic Old Littlefield Landmark Gives Way To Progress

The majestic old pioneer lady is dying. Like so many others who came here to build the city into a farming and agriculture center, she is giving way to progress; she is stepping aside to let a newer, younger generation try its hand at furthering Littlefield's growth.

The pioneer lady is the Plains Hotel. She came to Littlefield when the city was a small hamlet serving mostly the Yellow House Land Company and its many businesses. The year was 1912, and she was quite a sight in the town, new and freshly painted, offering the latest in modern conveniences to travelers and city dwellers alike.

Over the years, she watched and helped the city develop. She witnessed the arrival of the railroad here in 1916. She numbered among her friends, Major George Littlefield, for whom the city is named, and George White, a prominent pioneer of the area, but she was also good friends with the cowpokes and office clerks and sales ladies who lived here. During the early days, she was the center of the social life in town. On warm summer evenings, ing business concerning the huge tracts of land that were for sale here.

AN HISTORIC LANDMARK—THE PLAINS HOTEL

She saw war too. During WWI the Home Guard used the street in front of the hotel as a parade ground and practice field, training to smash 'ole Kaiser Bill."

Down through the years, she knew many managers. The first people to run the hotel were the B. B. Moultons. They were followed by the J. C. Whickers, the J. S. Hilliards, the Wittingtons and the W. P. Parkers.

There were 21 rooms in the hotel, but perhaps the most famous (and the most desirable) was number six.

Legend said that number six was the marrying room. Any one who slept or lived in number six would soon meet "the one" and get married. And too many people attested to the validity of the legend for anyone to scoff at it.

When she was first built, a tall windmill in the rear of the hotel supplied water for the guests - but being the only water source downtown, it also furnished water for the entire downtown area.

More people came to town and the city grew. Hard topped roads replaced the dirt trails; brick buildings grew up where wooden structures had stood; automobiles chased the horse and carriage into the history book.

In 1937, the old lady retired from the hotel business and began a new trade - that of mercy. She became a hospital.

In May of that year, Drs. Payne and Shotwell set up offices in the old hotel and for more than two years used her as their hospital before moving into their present location (Medical-Arts Hospital.)

After that work, the lady, growing more and more "old-fashioned" continued caring for people becoming a home for elderly persons.

Now she is going. Beside her is going up a new store, and on her land will be a parking lot for the grandchildren of her first customers.

She is dying, but her memory will last so long as people remember the early days of Littlefield when the hotel was the best place in town for business or relaxation or just talk.

General Telephone Tells First Quarter Report

General Telephone and Electronics reported its first quarter net sales of $287,672,000, an upward trend from the corresponding quarter of 1960. Donald C. Egan, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, reported that the company's net sales for the first quarter of 1961 were $287,672,000, compared with $274,547,000 for the same quarter of 1960. Egan said that the increase was due to a number of factors, including a 10 percent increase in sales of long distance service, a 15 percent increase in sales of telephone service, and a 20 percent increase in sales of electronic equipment.

Power pointed out that the General Telephone and Electronics subsidiaries will invest approximately $269 million in new plant and equipment in 1961, and that "over the next seven or eight years," total new investments will amount to at least $2 billion. At the 1960 year-end, he added, total investment in telephone plant was more than $1,800,000,000 equal to $388 per telephone - "which provides some idea for the large amounts of capital required to provide telephone service."

Reviewing the General System's manufacturing operations, Power said that over the past ten years "these activities have grown and diversified to become one of the leading industrial groups in the world."

Pointing out that manufacturing operations ten years ago consisted of 300 employees and sales of about $8 million, the general Telephone and Electronics' Chairman said the group now has sales of about a billion dollars and about 50,000 employees.

Turning to space communications, he said that the General System believes a satellite system carrying telephone conversations, global television and data transmission is economically and technically feasible.

"A satellite system should be established as soon as possible because the world is growing so fast that the present day communications will be out-moded before we know it," Power commented.

Hills Philosopher City Problems Won't With New Department

done about it and if Lubbock and New York can't handle their problems, it seems natural, if unplanned by the founding fathers for them to turn to Washington.

But here's what I was thinking: these big cities shouldn't get their hopes up too high. I mean, after they get a Department of Urban Affairs set up and going strong, they shouldn't give a sigh of relief and figure they've got smooth sailing.

The Department of Agriculture has been working on its farmers' problems for years and so far we've managed to stay at least fifteen problems ahead. I don't know where we'd be without the Department of Agriculture, no doubt in much worse shape except for one or two periods in there, but as a man from a group with some experience with a special Department in Washington, I'd like to suggest to the big cities that the problems won't go away as soon as their Urban Department is created. It may be years before their Department can solve their problems. Say two million.

OVERHANGING BRANCHES
A Joyce Kilmer poem reads, "I think that I shall never see a poem lovely as a tree." However, to the property owner whose home stands beneath the outstretch of a neighbor's oak, a tree may present far from beautiful image. In a violent windstorm it may split apart with great damage to his home below. Or lightning may partially sever a limb, which could some day fall, injuring children playing under the tree. What recourse does a person have if the owner of the land upon which the tree stands refuses to trim off a protruding or dangerous limb, although requested to do so?

A landowner may, without liability, cut off at his boundary line the branches and limbs of trees growing on neighboring premises. Such overhanging branches are in effect a nuisance when the adjoining landowner may prevent by removing them. However, he is limited strictly to the removal of overhanging branches and if he cuts beyond the boundary line, he is committing a trespass upon his neighbor's property and may be liable for damages.

If you desire to cut off the overhanging branches of a neighbor's tree, you are not required to give notice unless you have in some way encouraged the continuance of the dangerous condition. What if neither party cuts off

The one-time unwanted step-child of the forest industry - sawdust - has now become a useful production in millions of American homes.

Sawdust at one time was considered commercially valuable only as a fuel to power sawmills. More often than not, surplus sawdust has presented a disposal problem. But slowly this leftover of lumbering has been finding its way, in various disguises, into our homes.

Did you know, for instance, that the briquette, used so extensively for fuel, is nothing more than compressed sawdust? Producing plants, public buildings and power plants are utilizing sawdust in combination with other wood wastes to provide heat. Sawdust alone, it has been found, also can be used to fuel special home saw-

Ever use plastic wood? Its chief ingredient is sawdust. Graded sawdust is used as fiber for building products. Combined with resin, it makes a subflooring for linoleum, house sheathing and as core stock for furniture doors. It is used as filler for saturating felt, asphalt shingles and the like, and as low-grade pulp for container liners.

Stuccos and plasters in composition form contain sawdust. Clay products, such as porous clay bricks and tile, are produced by combining with a dry, finely-sifted sawdust during the baking process. Sawdust is used in gypsum compositions and cast products, as a fertilizing agent and a substitute for sand in special cast-ones, in the making of concrete. Forest industry researchers and enterprising tree farmers expect to find many more new uses for sawdust in the years ahead.

Government reports show a sharp drop in private housing starts - that is, private homes on which construction has started. While part of this decrease no doubt is the result of the interruption of steel production, it is equally evident that tight money has played a vital role in holding down new construction.

Letters to this department make it evident that many persons are not quite sure what the term "tight money" means and, more important, how it got that way.

Tight money merely means that financial institutions are making less of their money available for mortgage loans. Without these mortgages, builders cannot proceed with construction at as fast a pace as they would like and they feel it necessary to meet the demand.

The reasons for tight money are so many, so varied and so complex that an entire book could be written about it - and many have. But to attempt a brief explanatory version, tight money in the mortgage field is caused when lending institutions make it more difficult to obtain mortgages by being more "choosy" and by charging higher interest rates. A prime factor in this situation is the fact that many persons are drawing their money out of banks to invest in commitments where they can obtain higher interest than the banks give them. The banks thus have less money available for mortgages.

Alcohol and Gasoline -- World's Deadliest Combination When Mixed

By David H. Penn, Editor

Alcohol and gasoline have been proven one of the deadliest combinations known to man and in a day out a large number of persons are killed.

One night this mixture was tried with the result that two innocent people were hospitalized and their auto demolished. The offender was only injured and kept a steady stream of jabbering about not caring whether he had injured anyone while his wounds were being treated.

After the serious accident he had forced several off the highway, hit one from the rear and swiped another.

This is not the first case we have had in Lamb County where the mixture has caused injuries, property damage and will probably not be stopped, but somehow it must be stopped.

The law in Texas is not strict enough to scare a drunk driver into staying off the roads. The maximum fine is $500 and the maximum sentence is two-years in jail.

The law also says that is the DWI driver involved in a fatal accident and is proven to be the cause of the accident, the charge can be "murder" the maximum sentence is a mere five years.

Most DWI drivers cannot be classed as "drunk" but the majority have been drinking in and are "feeling no pain." The law again says anyone who has had just one drink will be considered as DWI and subject to the fines.

Lamb County is "dry" by law so many people that we are therefore exempt from drunk driving. This is about the biggest mistake any law can make. The number of persons arrested by the City Police on various charges of drunk was well over 400 for 1960. The County Sheriff's office arrested 144 persons for drunkenness in one form or another, 55 of these were for DWI.

How long will it take the people to demand more strict punishment for persons who insist on driving a motor vehicle after drinking alcohol? How many people will have to be injured or killed because of the drunk driver before the laws become strong enough to force such a driver off the highways? How is a child to be told that his daddy has been killed by a drunk.

The drunk driver usually gets out the lightest in a traffic accident because his senses are relaxed and he is relaxed, but the driver and passengers of the other vehicle are usually not so relaxed and catch the full force of the crash.

Following the accident, the drunk is usually quite indignant about being considered "drunk". He tries in every way to put the blame on the other person, lets loose a string of words that would embarrass an old time sailor, and fights every attempt to obtain medical aid if he is injured.

It is a shame that the stock or pillory of early America has disappeared with the modern civilization. This might be a good way to bring public scorn upon drunks. Just imagine an offender being locked up on Phelps with his arms, legs and head extending through the wooden frame of the stock. Two or three days of this would certainly make the offender mindful of his deed.

Until everyone realizes that alcohol and gasoline do not mix we must endure such violations as the one that took place Sunday night. Just how long are you going to put up with the problem of the "drunk driver"?

How Far Can Federal Influence Be Carried?

A United Press International news release says the Secretary of Labor, Arthur Goldberg, was quoted as saying that he may boycott Washington Redskins (professional football team) next season unless the team hires some Negro players.

Goldberg, Interior Secretary Stewart Udall indicated that he might prevent the team from using the new district stadium, from the federal government, if the team did not add Negroes to its roster.

Goldberg felt that intergration in public schools and federally-controlled institutions is prohibited within the laws of the U.S. as defined by the Supreme Court.

Udall has, for several years, had intergration in sports and athletics.

In answer, we feel, to the strife over intergration of tax-finance institutions is simple: as long as the tax burden is shared by everyone in the U.S., regardless of race, creed or color, then the tax burden should be enjoyed by everyone.

Federal regulation of private enterprise is another matter.

Regulation in privately-owned business (such as Washington Redskins or the diner on the corner) is not a matter for discussion by the law makers. It is a question of economics and morals that must be handled by the owner of the business.

The government has no authority to tell private enterprise who it can hire or fire or who it can serve.

Such a policy, if allowed to stand, borders on dictatorship and it is a complete reversal of the basic idea of democracy that says this is a government of the people, by the people and for the people. In other words, what the people do, is regarded as their own lives and businesses, is not a matter for the federal government.

Again, we believe in the moral aspects of intergration, but we deplore the idea of the government forcing any rule or idea into private enterprise.

Should Goldberg and Udall carry through their vignette against the Washington Redskins, we feel that it may not be far off before they will demand that the Harlem Globetrotters hire white ball players or they will not allow the basketball clowns to fly on commercial airlines (aren't all airlines heavily subsidized?) or force the House of David athletes to do away with discrimination against hiring athletes who do not wear beards. It could contain more truth than poetry.

About Your Health

Texans are rightfully fearful of snakes, but the fact of the matter is more Texans have been dying over the years from the effects of insect bites than have died from snake bites.

During the five-year period from 1956 to 1960, snake bites claimed 13 Texas lives during the same period insects resulted in the deaths of 39 persons.

Last year, 1960, there were 18 total snake and insect-bite deaths in Texas, the largest number since 1944, when there were 23 such deaths.

An interesting coincidence can be found by examining rainfall averages for various years, and then relating them to the number of snake and insect bite deaths.

For instance, 1956 had no deaths from such bites - this was the peak year of the recent drought. The following year, there was a jump to nine insect-bite deaths and one snake-bite death.

Every Texan recalls the spring rains and floods that year. Rainfall has remained fairly average over the past four years providing an increase in undergrowth, shrubs and other insect and snake-harboring conditions. Early warm springs also add to the numbers of snakes and insects active in the summer and fall.

In a recent national study involving a five-year period, it was found bees, wasps, hornets and yellow jackets killed 86 persons, compared with 71 from snake bites and 39 from spiders.

Bees alone took 52 lives when victims were allergic to their poisons. Best defense against insect and snake bites is to be watchful. Tramping through woods with thick undergrowth can be asking for trouble.

Around the home, look carefully in tall bushes and vines before trimming to make sure there are no insect nests.

When exposed to snake-ridden areas, carry a snake-bite kit. If bitten, be still to keep circulation at a minimum rate while applying snake-bite procedures or waiting for help. The victim should seek medical aid from a physician as soon as possible.

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor,

It is a vile and disturbing thing that the American people must endure the extended propaganda festival of racial fear and hate that the monopolies of the press and the networks of the air are now perpetrating with slick embellishment of the slants of the Eichmann trial. The dictatorship of Hitler under whom Eichmann operated had to be crushed at a tremendous cost to humanity. The world would like to forget and live in righteousness and peace but another similar dictatorship has treasonably been nourished in gargantuan proportions and is now operating among us as a "live" and dangerous thing, headed by another dictator that is much more deserving to be called "history's worst mass murderer."

The programs under Hitler have evidently been grossly exaggerated and are being held before us for a purpose. The same element that cries so loudly and strangely silent and unconcerned over the far greater mass murders, tortures and enslavement in hells of labor camps of as many as seventy millions of Gentiles in countries corralled behind the iron curtain. In contrast, these same monopolies of publicity continually bombard us with the superiority of things Russian and the necessity for "summit" meetings. Khrushchev, the mass murderer of multi-millions of non-Jews, is cloaked with a reverence of respect and we are impressed with the necessity of bowing to and appeasing the monster who so boldly intrudes his fiendish guts into our country.

These very apparent incomprehensible differences in attitude make us wonder how close the controlling money-glutted leaders in the shadows are to the master conspiracy which engendered and financed the Bolshevik Revolution and whether or not they may have a like constitutional design on America. A thorough investigation should be made.

Let an aroused world proceed quickly to the greater and live threat, the bringing to justice of this other dictatorial monster and his ruthless regime that is enslaving and threatening the entire world. Before we can have peace they also must be wiped from the face of the earth. In the light of the publicity in connection with the Eichmann case, we can now plainly distinguish puppets of the propaganda monster that has America firmly in its mental vise and is crushing from it that which they smear and publicize as "controversial", the lifeblood of America and its will to fight communism.

Sincerely,
William V. Hoyt

Chickens Top Plentiful Foods List In May

Tender, young chickens - broiler-fryers - head the May list of plentiful foods, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Chicken has been abundant for many months, but the volume of broilers going to market in May is expected to be about 15 per cent more than year ago. So count on plenty at budget prices.

Other foods on the list of plentiful for this area in May are cabbage, potatoes, turkeys, canned freestone peaches, and milk and dairy products.

These foods will receive special emphasis in grocery store advertising and promotion, and by newspapers, radio and TV stations, during the month. That's because the supply of each exceeds normal trade needs, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates.

Texas consumers will find it to their advantage to serve these foods often. Records show that in-season and plentiful foods usually sell at lower prices. Selection for quality also is greater when supplies are large.

Cotton Seed Survey Is Underway in Lamb County By Extension Service

planter box survey, be one of the first of its kind in Lamb County this year. Surveys also will be conducted in four other counties which represent major cotton producing areas, officially announced. Surveys are being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and cotton producers. They are expected to be completed in May. Actual survey work will be completed by Texas Agricultural Extension Service personnel and local cotton ginners, with many other firms and agencies cooperating. Lamb County Agricultural Agent Bill Kimbrough will direct the survey here. Farmers in all Lamb County communities will be contacted in an effort to make the survey findings reflect an accurate cross-section of cotton planting. Kimbrough said the survey probably will start Monday or Tuesday. He expects a considerable amount of cotton to be planted in Lamb County this week if weather conditions are favorable.

About 20 ginners and Extension Service personnel will contact approximately 250 Lamb County farmers while producers are engaged in planting cotton. Survey workers will take a one-pound bag of cottonseed from each farmer's planter box and will fill out a short questionnaire after talking with the producer.

A germination and purity test will be performed on approximately 250 samples of cottonseed to be gathered during the survey, officials reported. Results of these tests, along with the questionnaire information, will be transferred to IBM cards and processed at the Data Processing Center at Texas A&M. "All this information will be kept strictly confidential and only the total county findings will be released later," said Bill Gunter, extension area agronomist, Lubbock. Gunter, who has been closely associated with the development of plans for the survey here, said the overall goal of the project is to aid farmers and the cotton industry. "Information obtained in the survey," he said, "will be used in an educational program to help further the cotton industry in Texas and to see that better quality planting seeds are in the hands of farmers." Information to be obtained from the survey, Gunter said, will include:

1. Percentages of cotton acreage planted to adapted and non-adapted varieties.
2. Percentages of the planting seed that are certified and non-certified.
3. If the seed are non-certified, the average number of generations the seed are from certified stocks.
4. The principal sources of certified and non-certified seed that to aid farmers and the cotton industry and non-certified seed and the acrea planted to seed from each source.
5. Percentages of certified and non-certified seed that were treated, along with the percentage of seed that are certified and non-certified.
6. The number of acres planted to seed of unknown germination, average germination of both certified and non-certified seed, and the average germination of seed from each principal source.
7. The percentage of seed which were delinted or processed in some other manner prior to planting.
8. The source of seed of the highest and lowest germination.
9. The high and low germinations of certified and non-certified seed that was chemically treated.

Meat Imports Drop In 1960

During 1960, U. S. livestock and meat imports were equal to 6.5 per cent of the total domestic production compared with 8.8 per cent for both 1958 and 1959, reports Lloyd Bergsma, extension livestock marketing specialist. Beef and veal imports declined 23 percent during 1960.

Imports of live animals during 1960 declined five per cent to a total of 664 thousand head. Due to lower cattle prices, the reduction in import value was considerably greater than the reduction in import numbers. The value of cattle imported during 1960 was 50 per cent below the peak year of 1958, says Bergsma.

The value of meat of the other livestock products imported during 1960 totaled $464 million, which was a decline of 16 per cent from the 1959 total. During 1960, however, meat and other livestock products accounted for 87 per cent of all livestock and livestock product imports.

Mexico, Canada, New Zealand and Australia were the major exporters of cattle and meat to the United States during the 1959-60 fiscal year. These four countries accounted for 62 per cent of the total cattle and meat imports.

For the six-month period ending December 31, 1960, the value of livestock and livestock products exported from the United States exceeded the value of imports of these products by two million dollars.

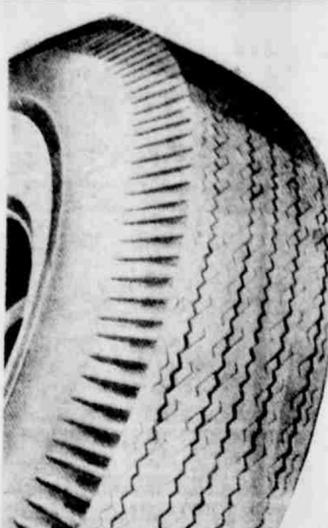

The Llanos Altos Association national workers conference Friday from the local Baptist Church.

One of Norway's best known tourist attractions is the Lom stave church at Gudbrandsdal. Built in the 13th century, its intricately carved timbers and interior fittings are a lasting tribute to the fantastic skills of ancient Norse craftsmen and of the durability of wood, for the church has withstood seven and a half centuries of harsh, northern winter.

Rev. Bill Hindman, Mrs. Doc Vann, Mrs. Jess Emmons, Mrs. Donald Caldwell, and Mrs. Arwin Turner were those attending.

Story Of Texas' Heroes Retold Dynamically In Wayne's 'The Alamo'

Three men dominated the historic defense of the Alamo in San Antonio, Texas, February 23, to March 6, 1836.

They were David Crockett, James Bowie, and William Barrett Travis. Not one was a professional soldier.

The battle they fought wrote a chapter of history which will never be forgotten. Now a magnificent motion picture, "The Alamo," has been brought to the screen by John Wayne and it, too is destined never to be forgotten. Great in scope, in philosophy, in drama and in pure entertainment, this $12,000,000 United Artists release opens Friday at the Palace Theatre, in Technicolor.

Each of the three leaders at the Alamo was an outstanding personality, virile, dynamic, inspired by a fierce hatred of tyranny and a belief in human freedom. All perished banded together in a fight against hopeless odds that their ideals might live.

One hundred twenty five years have rolled on in the march of time since the siege of the Alamo. John Wayne whose cherished dream it had been for 14 years, directed and produced this epic film with dedication to the heroes who fought there so valiantly.

The critical verdict has been unanimous. David Crockett as a played by John Wayne has the full stature of a hero, the full dimensions of a man, the full dynamism of a leader of men. The talk of an Academy Award for his outstanding performance, as well as for his direction of the film, already has begun to gather volume.

Equally astiduous was the choice of Richard Widmark as the dour-visaged knife-fighter Jim Bowie and of the British actor, Laurence Harvey to play the imperious Travis. Over the ashes of these heroes a dignified nation

Palmer McCown Wins Contest

ABILENE Palmer McCown, senior student from Littlefield, won first place and a $30 prize in the E. P. Mead Public Speaking Contest Monday at Hardin-Simmons University.

Linda Hair, HSU Sophomore from Hereford was runner-up, and received a $30 scholarship. Wayne Downhour, San Angelo Junior, was third and received a $20 award.

McCown spoke on "When Giant Meets Giant" or Freedom versus Communism. Miss Hair's subject was "You Can't Believe Everything You Hear," in which she pointed out that individual thought and judgment must be applied to statements which, although apparently true, reflect a single viewpoint. Downhour talked on the topic, "Can We Afford To Be Rich," pointing out that America's prosperity handicaps the nation in its dealings with poverty-stricken lands.

All three of the students are enrolled in a first-year speech course at HSU.

McCown is a ministerial student, majoring in Bible. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McCown, 922 W. 9th, Littlefield.

Miss Hair, daughter of W. R. Hair, 209 Star, Hereford, is maj with minor in speech.

Downhour, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Downhour, 257 Pecan, San Angelo, is majoring in history.

E. P. Mead of Amarillo is sponsor of the annual contest and posts the awards.

Local Scout Troop Will Take Part In Honor Court

Howard Schmidt, Council Chairman of the Advancement Committee, announces the annual Spring Eagle Scout Court of Honor to take place on Sunday, April 30, at the St. John's Methodist Church in Lubbock, Texas, beginning at 3 p.m. Troop 638, of Littlefield, Tom Hilbun, Scoutmaster, will handle the Color guard for this Ceremony.

The following young men will receive the coveted Eagle Award at this public Court of Honor: Darrell Maples of Troop 4, Lubbock, Texas; Bill Reker of Troop 4, Lubbock, Texas; Rutledge Reynolds of Troop 28, Lubbock, Texas; Jimmy Williams of Troop 31, Lubbock, Texas; Larry Ginsburg, of Troop 231, Lubbock, Texas; Kenny Douglass, of Troop 255, Plainview, Texas; Richard Max Rucker of Troop 257, Floydada, Texas; and Charles Overstreet of Troop 257, Floydada, Texas. Troop 735, of Lamesa, R. L. Price, Scoutmaster, will handle the ushers assignment for this Ceremony. D. A. Edwards of Crosbyton, will give the reading during the Ceremony, as applied to the young men, having attained the rank of Eagle Scout. The following member of the Council Advancement Committee will assist Schmidt, in the Court of Honor program: Dr. Robert Arnold; Carl Minor, plus others. According to the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, only some 2 per cent of the Scouts and Explorers attain the rank of Eagle. This helps to bear out the fact, that the Eagle Scout Rank is definitely a very coveted, and well deserved award, that comes to a young man for diligent, faithful and dedicated service to his Scouting program. The public is cordially invited to attend this Court of Honor.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. - House members astonished many observers by giving, for the first time in recent memory, a favorable vote to a general sales tax.

A 2 per cent retail sales tax by Rep. Charles N. Wilson of Trinity was approved 75 to 65, on second reading and 76 to 62 on final passage. It is now in the hands of the Senate.

Food, feed, farm machinery, seed, fertilizer, medicine and medical needs are exempt from the bill. Its tax yield is variously estimated at from $127,000,000 to $140,000,000 a year.

Before the bill was given preliminary passage, Wilson staved off efforts of sales tax opponents to put on amendments to make the bill also include a corporation income tax, graduated income tax and graduated oil revenue tax.

Governor Daniel announced his opposition to the Wilson bill before it came up on the House floor. After the House vote, the governor refused to say whether he would veto the measure if it should be finally passed by both Houses.

NEW TEACHER PAY APPROACH - A teacher pay raise plan designed to offer more incentive for heads of families and career teachers has been proposed by Rep. Jack Woods of Waco.

Woods' bill would provide a lower raise in the basic minimum than is recommended by the Texas State Teachers Association, but it would offer higher increments (increases for experience) than TSTA asks.

Woods' bill would provide an across-the-board raise of only $24 a year compared to TSTA's $80. But under the Woods bill, a teacher with 10 years' experience would make $4,950 a year compared to $4,534 under the TSTA schedule. Woods bill would also make special provision for teachers, either men or women, responsible for the support of a household.

UH BILL STIRS FUSS - A bill to make the University of Houston part of the state-supported college system easily won its first vote on the floor of the House.

But in the Senate determine opponents filibustered to prevent House vote was 41 - to 34 for the bill.

In the Senate, Sen. Wardlaw Lane of Center spearheaded the opposition with extended remarks. He protested the state could not take on another $10,000,000 a year for the University of Houston when the state treasury already had a deficit.

Lane was assisted by Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville who declared the state should improve the quality of existing state colleges before taking on a new one. To help fill up time, Hudson read recipes from a French cookbook.

BREWERY BILL VOTES - Senate finally passed a bill that would make it easier for the Carling Brewery to build a new $20,000,000 plant in Tarrant County.

Highly controversial, the bill has brought a pitched battle between "wet" and "dry" forces. All Tarrant County House members voted for the bill, but Fort Worth's senator, Doyle Willis, led the opposition.

Willis had little active help in the Senate, but after the bill was approved on second reading by voice vote, 14 of the 29 senators present asked to be recorded in the Senate Journal as voting "no." Final approval was by a slim 15 to 11 margin.

Bill would allow the brewery to continue to operate even if the area in which it is located should vote dry.

FREIGHT RATE BILL TUMBLES - In an about-face, the House turned down on third reading the freight rate bill it had approved on second reading.

Proposal would have allowed rates to go into effect without hearing and approval of the Railroad Commission.

It passed by a narrow margin on second reading, but was voted down 71 - to 65 on the vote for final passage. In general, railroads favored the bill, and truckers did not.

RACING MEASURE STILL BREATHING - Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry's last-ditch effort to get the horse racing issue before the people survived opponents' efforts to kill it.

Berry's proposal for a constitutional amendment to legalize horse-racing and parimutuel betting lost out earlier in the session. He is now trying for a referendum to let the people express their opinion racing at the next general election.

Rep. Bill Heatley of Paducah moved the proposal be sent back to committee where, it was assumed, it would die. Heatley's motion for interment lost, 68 - to 58.

SENATORS FLY LOAN BILL - Finding a generally acceptable plan for regulating small loan companies is proving fully as troublesome as many predicted.

Several senators were sharply critical of the House-passed loan regulation bill when it came up for hearing before the State Affairs Committee.

Proposed measure provides for interest rates ranging from nearly loans down to 11 per cent for loans of $3,000 or more. Banks, building and loan associations and credit unions would not be under the law.

Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville accused the Statewide Committee to Eliminate the Loan Shark Evil headed by Abner McCall, president of Baylor University, of having misled the public. Sen. Charles Herring of Austin predicted that legalizing 40 per cent interest would cause the people to "come down here and scalp us."

TWO CHANGES NIXED - Two proposed changes for the handling of criminal cases were voted down by the House.

One, sponsored by Reps. O. H. Schram of Taylor and James E. Barlow of San Antonio, would have allowed jurors in non-capital criminal cases to go home overnight. More people would be willing to serve on juries, said the authors, if they didn't have to be locked up during the trial. Opponents successfully argued that jurors turned loose overnight might be exposed to influences that would prejudice their decision.

Other proposal, also by Barlow, would allow defendants to by-pass indictment by pleading guilty. It would save offenders' having to sit in jail awaiting indictment when they're planning to plead guilty anyway, said Barlow. Opponents protested tinkering with "due process of law", said it might encourage guilty pleas by persons who have a good defense.

ING - A proposed constitutional amendment to provide for automatic congressional redistricting passed the House, 106 - to - 39. Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth is sponsor of the measure which would have to be approved by the people before becoming effective.

In this decade, it would not take effect until 1963. It, however, the legislature failed to reappoint congressional representation in the session that year, the job would be taken over by a redistricting board. Making up the board would be the governor, lieutenant governor, speaker of the House, attorney general and land commissioner.

A similar measure was passed in the 1950's for legislative redistricting.

OIL ALLOWABLE DWINDLES - Texas oil production for May will fall back to the all-time low of eight producing days.

Texas Railroad Commission fixed the production pattern which will cut back the daily allowable to 2,636,562 barrels. This is a drop of 23,794 barrels a day from April when nine producing days were ordered.

BLUE LAWS STUDIED - Revision of Texas' blue laws, on the books but ignored for nearly a century, is being studied by the House Committee on Municipal and Private Corporations.

Most cities make no effort to enforce the laws providing fines for both employees and owners of businesses staying open on Sunday. A bill before the committee would allow cities of 800,000 and over to set up their own Sunday business practices. Houston Mayor Louis Cutrer suggested it should be applied to all cities.

Most witnesses said they generally favored blue laws. Sunday business, they said, interfered with family and community life.

TAX HELD UNCONSTITUTIONAL - Texas' severance beneficiary tax on natural gas has apparently come to the end of the line.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said he felt further court appeals would be useless. A district court, court of civil appeals and the Texas Supreme Court have all held the tax to be an unconstitutional levy on interstate commerce.

STATE SUPPORT ASKED - Despite the state over University of Houston efforts, another school, San Angel Junior College is bidding for admission to the state-supported college system.

SAJC also would like to be raised from a junior to a four-year, senior college. Supporters say one is badly needed in the area.

SHORT SNORTS - A special committee of State Hospital Board officials reported to the Legislative Budget Board that 1,007 retarded children are awaiting admission to a state school.
