Lamb County To Be Represented At Democratic Convention

Lamb county will be officially represented in the 1952 Democratic National Convention, which opens in Chicago next Monday morning, in the personage of County Judge Otha Dent, who was named as an alternate delegate at the state convention a few weeks ago—the first time that a local man has been so honored and designated.

The fact that the judge is not an official delegate, and may not even have the opportunity of casting a vote one single time, unless it is on a minor issue, or the unforeseen absence through sickness or other reason or cause, of the delegate whom he alternates for, does not detract from the prestige, nor the enjoyment which he will receive, by attending the biggest pow-wow, which Democrats stage once in each four years. Of course, if the rival delegation is seated—Dent can go sight-seeing.

No Love Fest This is not going to be any love-fest, nor pipe of peace smoking convention. Of that you may be sure, and no Texas Democrat planning to attend, or watching the proceedings from a distance, even thinks in that direction with the realization that two Texas delegations will vie for seats; Fair Employment Practices issue; the Tidelands dispute; Corruption in party and government; Communistic infiltration; Farm supports and parity; and those just a few of scores of controversial platform matters—added to the confusion and uncertainty of choosing a candidate from a field, certain to include half a dozen names, and possibly doubling the number—can not spell anything but trouble, controversy, and plenty of it.

But nevertheless, the platform will be written, delegates will be seated, and the convention will hear an acceptance speech from the successful candidate for both President and Vice President, who have been named standard bearers, probably after the delegates have "unanimously endorsed" both nominations.

Will Travel On Special Train Judge Dent will ride the special train to Chicago, with a howling mob of Democrats—and whether he's got just a lower, or a state-room de luxe on that train, he isn't going to get any sleep.

Also he'll undoubtedly be assigned to a nice hotel room, within 10 miles of Convention Hall, but that doesn't mean getting any sleep either. Delegates and alternates just don't believe in sleep at National conventions—especially for the other fellow. And up until this year, delegates and alternates could make a bit of whoopee if they wished, and no one back home would ever be the wiser—but this year it's different—the eagle eye of TV is strictly (Continued on Page 4)

Future Farmers Of Texas

The future of Texas Agriculture is in good hands. Fifty years ago, a prospective young farmer either followed in the footsteps of his father on the "home place" or he hired out on a farm to learn his trade. His schooling probably was extremely basic and he had practically no formal training in agricultural methods.

But the picture has changed. And a nation-wide organization, the Future Farmers of America, is partially responsible.

The rising generation of young farmers has a background of more farming "know-how" than ever before and through the experience gained in such an energetic group as Future Farmers, he reaps the benefits of the "know-why" of soil practices.

The worth of any program can be partially determined by its record of growth. In the case of FFA, this record is excellent. Starting out with a few isolated youth groups interested in agriculture in the middle 1920's, the program has consolidated and spread over the entire United States and into the territories. In Texas alone, the 34th state to join, there are more than 35,000 young people engaged in this program to prepare themselves for a productive life in agriculture. Texas membership in Future Farmer chapters accounts for about one-tenth of all the other states combined. Investments of Texas youths in chapter work total more than 13 million dollars. They have over $3 million invested in beef cattle and over $4 million in swine and dairy cows. FFA members are handling poultry projects valued at approximately $700,000 and turkey projects at more than $200,000. They are caring for sheep and goats valued at more than $500,000.

Last year, young Texas farmers planted 14,000 acres of corn and 25,000 acres of cotton. Other projects included raising horses, rabbits, wheat, oats, forage, fruit, potatoes, melons, vegetables and peanuts. Their largest crop was 48,000 acres in forage and their biggest money maker was the fruit crop which was valued at nearly $2 million.

This record appears to be clear-cut evidence of outstanding work that can be accomplished through youth training programs. And what is more important, it is devoted to training in Texas' largest industry—agriculture.

Health Talks

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Teeth are bones. Decayed or abscessed teeth can have as dramatic and unhealthy effects upon the body as decayed or abscessed bones.

When the first diseased tooth was "hooked up" with the first leg twinge or remote control ache of the body, the worlds of dental and medical science hopefully looked to the teeth for the answer to many of the body's ills. But science was disappointed. The teeth can certainly be a focus of infection, but the haphazard pulling of teeth and replacing them with falsies is no more the answer to all health problems than is sulfur and molasses.

Through the years, however, the teeth are lost. Just as surely but not as regularly as the baby teeth are shed, so the permanent teeth are left behind as milestones upon the way. With permanent teeth however, there are no fairies who come in the night and leave a dime under the pillow as they tote off the shedded tooth.

In fact, as permanent teeth are lost there is little compassion or sympathy from fairies or fellow-man for the gaps in the mouth. Various forms of bridges have been devised to fill those gaps until the point of the wide open spaces is reached, when the teeth must be replaced as a whole unit.

One of life's lowest moments is the day the last tooth has been pulled. For the ensuing three weeks (or some similar period) there are no teeth in the mouth as the gums are permitted to harden and are prepared for the dentures. After a few days of no teeth, most people feel willing to take on anything in order to broaden the daily menu. But after a few minutes of false teeth, most people feel they would rather live on cottage cheese, soup and mush the rest of their lives than undergo the drastic change of marbles in the mouth.

It's not that the false teeth look bad. Certainly as far as looks is concerned, appearances today are often enhanced when false teeth take the place of crooked, improperly aligned permanent teeth. The artistry of making false teeth has greatly improved.

False teeth are fitted not only to the movement of the jaws and the contour of the gums, but also to the coloring, size and form of the regular teeth. People with square faces usually have square teeth; those with round faces have round teeth; and those with triangular faces have triangular teeth. So actually, you could go to a dentist toothless and he'd probably come awfully close to duplicating the form of your regular teeth.

Coloring the teeth is one of the most drastic changes in false teeth in the past generation. Everyone recalls the dead white appearance of small pearly teeth of Grandpa's days; color and size were a dead-giveaway that those weren't the choppers that had been grinding up Grandpa's food all his life.

Today color and size are carefully blended into a life-like reproduction of what your teeth were like when you had them.

Size, color and shape of your real teeth can be duplicated exactly. But the fit cannot. It doesn't make the teeth stay in place any better to be told that the upper denture is held in place by atmospheric pressure and the lower denture by adaptability.

The only thing that will make false teeth feel like they have any business in the mouth at all is time. Time and patience, time and practice finally endow the wearer with the swing of things denturally.

The wearing of false teeth with poise and comfort is one of those new tricks an old dog can be taught.

How's Business? GREAT— with prices like ours

THIS is—to coin a phrase—a "shopper's market."
Folks are taking a keen look at what they get for what they pay—and they're taking a double look at price tags.
That's the kind of market where Buick really shines.
Do you know why?
Buick prices are down within easy reach of the folks who buy what's known as "the low-priced three."
Fact is—a big chunk of Buick sales comes from the folks who trade in one of this low-priced trio.
For very few extra dollars, they're getting a lot more automobile.
They're getting more power—and the thrill that goes with it.

They're getting "big-car" comfort. They're getting a ride that cost a million dollars and more to develop.
They like the room, the fabrics, the extra appointments they find in the smart-stepping beauty pictured here. And they like Dynaflo Drive.*
They like the way it handles. They like the way it's engineered. They like the belt they get out of touching off the power of its Fireball 8 Engine—and they like the miles they get from a gallon of fuel.
So Buick sales are booming. Not just the SPECIAL—but also the SUPER and ROADMASTER. Folks find that each one is the buy in its field.
When we tell you that business is great, we can back up that statement with figures. More people are buying Buicks than any other car at their price of above.

Why don't you come in and see for yourself what's behind this popularity?
If you can afford a new car, you can be the proud owner of a Buick.
Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Plenty Of Water Is Needed By Cotton In Fruiting Period

Plenty of water to cotton during the fruiting period is the solution to a good cotton crop, Bob Thurmond, irrigation specialist at Texas A&M Experiment Station in Lub- bock is advocating.

Cotton plants make a heavy de- mand for water when they begin to fruit and if nature does not an- swer the need adequately, then moisture should be added by irri- gation, he stated.

Thurmond pointed out that no rigid schedule could be set up which would apply to all farmers on the South Plains because of the variations in rainfall and planting schedules. However, he proposed a method by which farmers may de- termine whether the thirsty plants are being satisfied near the time they should begin to fruit.

Suggesting that the farmer should constantly examine the soil for moisture content, Thurmond proposed this method of testing: the farmer may bore a small hole in the ground with a soil auger and remove some of the soil be- neath the surface. If the soil read- ily rolls into a ball when pressed into the palm, it has sufficient moisture content, he stated. How- ever, if it is crumbly, irrigation is needed.

When the farmer does irrigate, soil should be wet down to cal- liche—usually three to four feet— if possible, according to Thurmond. Light, frequent applications of ir- rigation which do not penetrate the soil will tend to make a shallow- rooted plant and one which will not be drought resistant, simply because there isn't enough moisture stored to do the cotton any good, Thurmond warned.

Connie Hopping Is Fourth Entry In "Miss Lubbock" Beauty Contest

Miss Connie Hopping, daughter of Mrs. Jim McGuire of Littlefield is the fourth entry in the "Miss Lubbock" contest, which will be held this month.

Year before last, she was named No. 1 Texas Tech beauty. The next year she attended the University of Texas, and returned to Tech this spring.

She has appeared in the 1952 Variety Show as the attractive blonde girl friend of the entering freshmen. Much comment has been made that Connie resembles two movie actresses, both Judy Holliday, famous for "Born Yesterday," and Marilyn Monroe, the popular new actress.

She is a graduate of Littlefield High school. She is a senior student at Texas Tech, and is majoring in home economics.

Jockey Sensation Of '48 Can't Get A Winner Now

AP Newsfeatures

STANTON, Del.—A has-been at the age of 20?

That seems to be Clarence Picou. Four years ago, the kid from Beaumont, Texas, was riding sensation of the horse-racing tracks. He rode 230 winners worth $545,730 in purses and was second only to veteran Johnny Longden for most firsts.

Picou hit his peak at Bowie's fall meeting, riding trippies three straight days and four winners on another eight-race program—all in one week. Before that he had been leading rider at Narragansett, Suffolk and Lincoln in New England.

In 1949, Sonny Whitney bought his contract for $40,000. Picou's future gleamed. But evidently he was only a shooting star.

He rarely got to the winner's circle after that. Up until the middle of June this year at Delaware Park he didn't get home first once although riding eight or 10 times a week. Naturally his mounts aren't the best because of his prolonged slump.

"I know myself that I'm a better rider than I was in 1948 when I rode a couple of winners almost everyday," he says. "I've learned a lot in the last three years. The only trouble is I don't have the chance to show it."

He intends to keep trying although "I get very discouraged at times. I know it's strictly a matter of breaks in this game. I got the breaks when I was an apprentice and I think I'll get them again someday."

PEDESTRIAN PLAN APPROVED

DENVER (P)—Four of five citizens favor the new "walk-in-any-direction" traffic lights, a newspaper survey shows.

Under the system pedestrians can walk in any direction after motorists have had a turn at each cross street. The plan is confined to downtown Denver.

Sixty-nine per cent of visitors from other parts of the state who were polled also favored the innovation.

Band Practice To Begin In August At Springlake

Gomerray Allen of Anton has been elected band director at Springlake school for the ensuing year, and plans to move to Springlake in the very near future.

Allen has served as band director in the Anton public schools for the past three years. He received his training in Oklahoma City University, Northwestern State in Oklahoma and Texas Tech, Lubbock.

Regular band practice is to begin in the Springlake schools during the month of August.

DRUG ORDINANCE NEEDED

SINGAPORE (P)—Penicillin and other antibiotic drugs are being offered for sale openly by grocers and street vendors in Malaya, the Malayan Pharmaceutical Journal discloses.

Calling for an ordinance to control sale of therapeutic substances and antibiotic drugs, the official organ of the Malayan Pharmaceutical Association says there are loopholes for unscrupulous manufacturers to supply non-sterile ligatures and outdated and ineffective drugs.

High School Band To Begin Rehearsals; Beginners Band To Organize In August

Littlefield High school band practice will begin the first week in August, in preparation of the opening of school, and the football season, Don Hayes, high school band director announced Wednesday.

Mr. Hayes also stated that a beginner's group of band students will be organized during the first week in August, and that all children interested in taking band in school this year, are urged to register during this time, and begin practice.

SON BORN

A son was born Wednesday at the Littlefield Hospital here to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Littleton, Jr. of Earth. The infant weighed at birth 6 lbs., 8 ozs. and has been named James Lin. Mrs. Littleton and son are doing nicely.

Lamb County —

on the job, and if you wish to kiss the charming delegate from Indiana, or get just a little fresh with the good looking gal who pins a rose or a button on you—well don't.

Judge, Carry Your Lunch
Also carry a lunch with you. If the session of the convention happens to be a bit long or overtime, sandwiches become as scarce as hen's teeth are said to be, and you'll have to pay at least a dollar for a two-bit burger, if you get one at all. These convention concessionaires have to live—and how.

One thing, convention hall, even though located out on the South Side, directly opposite the Stockyards, and in close proximity to little Cicero, former stumping ground for the now deceased Al Capone—doesn't seat as many as did the old Convention Hall, but the delegates seats have some upholstery, and most appreciated treat of treats—its air-conditioned. That's a dream of long ago, by this writer, who while attending other National conventions, never expected it would or could materialize.

Difficulties Galore
Despite the fact that the air-conditioning is there and functioning—don't worry. Things will be plenty hot.

You alternates, will sit behind the delegates on the main floor, but there'll be so many banners in between you and the Podium, that you'll know more about what's going on if you take a portable radio with you.

And after the convention is over, at night, or in the wee hours of the morning—be sure you have a taxi driver bought off—or prepare to hoof it "home," if you forgot your sleeping bag.

And who are you going to nominate—the delegates, not the alternates. Well, you don't know, and we don't know, and even Harry Truman doesn't know, because Harry is a delegate to the convention, and may be seen and certainly heard, but Harry isn't going to hand pick the 1952 candidate, as he did in 1948—and the last few weeks of Washington, D.C., history of the things he wasn't able to get and do—from both House and Senate, prove it. So being as how, the "Voice" isn't going to be so loud this year, we thought we might tell you something of how things look from here, five days before the convention starts.

Possible Nominees
Keefauver, of Tennessee, candidate has 252 pledged votes. Russell of Georgia, candidate has 117 pledged votes. Harriman, of New York, candidate, has 102 pledged votes. Stevenson of Illinois, candidate, has 54 pledged votes. Other pledged votes total 216.

And that doesn't take into account such other active candidates as Kerr of Oklahoma, Barkley of Kentucky, McMahon of Connecticut, Williams of Michigan, Devers of Massachusetts, and Rayburn of Texas. Possibly, probably, there will be others. And 616 votes are required for nomination, and with 417 of them uncommitted—well you can see, Judge, what you delegates and alternates are in for.

On the good side, the National Committee is in session in Chicago this week, along with Platformers, Programers, and Resolutors, and they'll get some of the preliminaries out of the way before next week—unless you delegates decide to follow the example of the Republicans, and do some arguing—which has been quite hinted at.

You won't have Herbert Hoover to make "the" convention speech, but don't worry, you're going to hear his name mentioned, as you are going to hear it mentioned in connection with such things as 10-cent cotton and depression days.

Don voyage, Judge, have a good convention and have a good time; well be waiting for you to get back home—but from where we sit, it looks like a long, long week ahead—and you'll be gladder to get home, than we will to have you. As the Rajah said to his 17th wife—RELAX.

Eleven Vacancies—

cial are exerting every effort toward filling these existing vacancies to the end that a complete teaching staff will be on hand for the opening of school, but Supt. Hutchinson did not seem over-optimistic at the prospect for full realization of the goal, as the demand for qualified teachers, both in fact and under the law, comes dangerously close to exceeding the supply of teachers not already under contract with other schools.

The list of teachers now under contract in all classifications and who are expected to report at the opening of school this fall submitted by Supt. Hutchinson, include the following names:

Mrs. Addie L. Abernathy, Mrs. S. E. Ayres, Mrs. Lucille Betts, Mrs. L. H. Bridges, Mrs. William Brune, Mrs. Flora Burks, Mrs. Howard Burks, Mrs. Alma Faye Carter, Mrs. Bonnie B. Crosby;

Mrs. Mary Davis, Mrs. C. D. Dodson, Mrs. A. Y. Doherty, Mrs. John Driskell, Mrs. Thelma Duval, Mrs. Doris F. Eaton, J. S. Fikes, Mrs. Patsy Fikes, Mrs. Olene Gibson, Miss Gaynelle Gilmore;

Sam Pat Goodwin, Miss Iris Hamm, Mrs. Loda V. Hardin, Don Hayes, Charles Hester, Mrs. Martha Hester, James L. Hine, Miss Joyce Holden, Mrs. Gladys Housk, Mrs. Ruby Hulse, Donald Hunt;

Mrs. Macie Hunt, Mrs. Mary Hutchinson, Mrs. Pearl Hutchinson, Robert I. Irby, Mrs. Paul I. Jones, Miss Frances Kelsay, D. C. Lindley, Forrest Martin, Mrs. L. L. Massengill, Mrs. Thelma Mills;

Mrs. Sybil Morehead, Gene McCantles, Mrs. Annie Pearl McClain, Mrs. Laverne McCown, Claude C. McDouglas, Mrs. Eloise McDougal, Mrs. W. D. Nichols, Mrs. Florence Porter, Miss Twyle Pritchard, Mrs. John Richey, Mrs. Mary Ruff, Mrs. Grace Smith;

Dalton Teague, Mrs. Georgia Faye Thompson, Miss Betty Torrence, Mrs. Mary Jo Vaughn, Clarence Williams, Mrs. Doris E. Williams, Mrs. Cornelia Williamson, W. W. Hall, Mrs. T. J. Jones, Miss Elizabeth Pace, Mrs. May Blackwell, Mrs. Helen Teague, William Brune, Paul I. Jones.

Colored school is entitled to eight faculty members under the law, and lists five under contract, with three vacancies existing. Those under contract are: Zona Mae Hunnicutt, Ernice A. Petty, Maurice Powell, Naretta Powell, and Willie Underwood.

The board approved the hiring of Alvin Webb, local auditor to audit the lunch room and high school general funds.

Supt. Hutchinson announced the approval by the board, as a student center, for a limited number of practice teachers from Texas Tech.

All three cars were damaged, Jean Pate said, in reporting the accident to the press. No one was injured.

A third traffic accident occurring Saturday morning, shortly after the above mentioned accident, and investigated by Highway Patrolman Jean Pate, was the minor crash involving a car driven by Mrs. Vida Huggins Nelson of Lubbock, who ran into a bar ditch, hitting a fence, when she was rescuing her baby, who was trying to crawl over the front seat of the car. No one was injured, and damage to the car resulted in the amount of about $40.

Mr. Clayton expressed surprise and satisfaction at receiving this honor. Mr. Clayton states that he is pleased to be on this board which is founded in the public interest to render service to the sick and afflicted and the community is to be congratulated in having the Foundation located in the midst of Lamb county.

Pledges For —

sary. T. G. Hinds, Lincoln-Mercury dealer in Littlefield has offered the Red Cross use of vehicles for transporting donors to the unit who are without means of getting there.

A film, "There is No Substitute," has been shown at a number of civic club meetings over the county this past week. At each showing of the film additional pledge cards are being handed out.

Will Two —

will work to his disadvantage. And of course there are others, whose names may or may not be presented as compromise candidates.

No. First Ballot Winner
One thing stands out as almost a certainty—there will be no first ballot winner in next week's Democratic convention, as there was at Chicago last week, naming both the Presidential and Vice Presidential nominee. There are too many aspiring Democrats for both places on the ticket, to make such a thing possible—and the prospects today, are that it will take more than one, possible many ballots, before any candidate is given the convention nod.

It would be unprecedented for two sons of any one state to receive the high nomination from both parties, but precedents already have been shattered in the Republican convention, which nominated Dwight Eisenhower, a native-born Texan, and while there is no assurance that there will be, but also, certainly no assurance that there won't be more precedent shattering in Chicago next week, and that a second Texan, may not emerge from next week's Chicago convention—as the Democratic standard-bearer (or vice presidential nominee) in this year of 1952.

Rayburn May Be Nominated
And there are considerations, aside from, and in addition to those mentioned above, which might potentially give Rayburn the Democratic nomination. For the first time a Republican, Herbert Hoover, carried the state of Texas, in 1928, against Al Smith, receiving a national majority in that election of more than 6,000,000 votes. This year, and since Eisenhower's nomination, Texas Republicans are joyfully predicting that their party, with a Texas-born candidate, will repeat their 1928 success, with some big Texas newspapers including the powerful Dallas Morning News backing up their claims. Certainly the Republicans went all out to placate Texas Republicans, and thereby make a substantial bid for this state's electoral votes.

Some of them are so sure that Eisenhower will carry the state that they are using his nomination as a vehicle to carry them into election to both houses of Congress in this year's election.

Ben Guill, of Pampa, who served a few months as a Republican member of Congress, has already announced that he will be a candidate in the November election for the place now held by Walter Rogers, and this week came at least one announcement by a Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate. These will undoubtedly be other Republicans to announce in other Congressional districts. And those things are important, at a time when the people of Texas are trying to read and interpret the 1952 political barometer.

Two Democratic delegations of delegates will go to the Chicago convention. The Loyalist group is favoring Rayburn. The Shivers headed group is generally conceded for Russell.

If you want to know which way the wind is blowing in Chicago next week, keep your eye on the Texas delegations, and which group is seated—it will be a definite straw in the wind, an indication of things to come, just as the matter of seating the Republican Texas delegation in Chicago last week was important, and decisive in giving the Republican nomination to Eisenhower—of stopping the political ambitions of Robert A. Taft.

JUDGE JOE S. MOSS

The Law Can Be In Simple Language

Any document signed by a Lamb county citizen may someday have to be interpreted by the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo. In over 41 years the court has existed, it has decided over six thousand civil cases. It is to the interest of the people of Lamb county that qualified men of the people sit on that high court. Judge Joe S. Moss of Garza county believes that legal papers and proceedings should be in the language of the people, rather than in legal fine print. Judge Moss will help simplify and speed up the machinery of the law. Ask the people who know him. Vote for Moss, A Civil Judge for a Civil Court.

Area Receives Nearly Two Inches Moisture

The Littlefield area, has received a total of exactly 1.80 inches of moisture in the first 16 days of July, is the word from the official moisture measurer of the area, Vic Bullman, at the Cotton Mill. The total for the year now totals, 7.32, still approximately half of what had been received up to the same date last year.

Reports from other sections of the county, not official, indicate, slightly more moisture in some sections, less in others—and that more would be welcomed by practically all sections of the county.

Most recent rains include 1.05 Monday and Tuesday of last week, and .75 inches, in two showers Friday and Sunday.

Some hail has been reported in the county, both in the section north of Amherst at the county line, and south of Sudan, the past week. Up to 1250 acres of cotton was reported damaged, some almost a total loss.

Generally, despite the overall moisture deficiency, crop conditions are reported to be excellent.

And crop conditions conform to the oft-expressed opinions of old-timers, veteran cotton farmers on the Plains. "It's the timeliness of the rains, and not necessarily the total amount of moisture received, that makes the difference between bumper and mediocre crops." The rains have been timely this year, if not especially abundant.

Waterproof Canals Save Money In West

AP Newsfeatures

LOW COST canal linings in Federal Reclamation projects have saved more than five million dollars in water in the west. So the Bureau of Reclamation has published a booklet on "Canal Linings and Methods." It is available from the Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C., for 25 cents. It says water lost on 46 federal projects would have irrigated an additional million acres of land.

Drilling Of Seismograph Holes Too Close To Water Wells To Be Regulated By Law

Prospects are good for a solution to one of the irrigation farmer's most pressing problems—that of seismograph holes being drilled too close to irrigation and domestic water wells.

This word comes from Tom McFarland, president and manager of Hi-Plains Underground Water Conservation District.

McFarland recently received the assurance of Ernest O. Thompson, commissioner of the Texas Railroad Commission, that the matter may soon be regulated by law.

Thompson wrote: "A statute is being proposed regulating the drilling of seismograph holes, and we shall include in it the question of making them not too close to irrigation or domestic water wells."

Improperly placed seismograph holes frequently cause serious interference with pumping of irrigation and domestic wells.

"This question gives us a lot of trouble, and we felt that if the people knew some steps were being taken it would ease their minds to a great extent," McFarland said in making the announcement.

Olton Child Stricken With Polio Thursday

Little Glenda Edwards, 7 years old, was stricken with polio late last week and became Olton's first polio victim of the year.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Edwards.

The little girl became ill last Thursday night and complained of a headache. By early Friday morning her temperature had risen to the critical point.

She was taken to Plainview where her illness was tentatively diagnosed as polio at the Plainview hospital. The child was brought to Olton Memorial Hospital for further observation.

Although more tests are to be run, the attending physician said he is satisfied that the illness is polio. However, he described the child's condition as good.

The period from July 20-26 has been designated as National Farm Safety Week. Every rural family should, during the week, check or recheck the entire farm for accident hazards and remove all those found.

NATIONAL PASTIME SAVED: MEN SIGH WITH RELIEF!

By SYD KRONISH

AP Newsfeatures Sports Writer

NEW YORK—It's a darn good thing, fellas, that women have been ruled out of organized baseball. Just think of the radical changes that might have occurred to disrupt our national pastime.

With a few distaffers on each club, the uniforms would be a crazy quilt. Imagine any two women agreeing to wear the same clothing! And using the same gloves!

Hats would be changed with each switch in costume and nobody would be able to tell the players—even with a score card.

And when a manager asked one of his female performers why she didn't slide into second on the last play of the inning, she might retort with: "What, and ruin my new slacks?"

An influx of women might have necessitated a complete alteration of baseball diction or perhaps a cleansing of dugout verbiage. Some of the players wouldn't know how to speak!

Such revered terms as "pinch hit," "intentional pass" and the "squeeze play" would receive double interpretations.

Just think, men, if women were permitted in baseball the days of the "stage door Johnnie" might return.

But what of the calibre of play on the field? Supposing a team had a female shortstop-second base combination. Would this duo be so engrossed in conversation that they might not notice a ball hit past them for a hit? Perish the thought.

However, I'm very glad that women have been barred from baseball.

Not that I wouldn't have liked to have seen some pretty faces on the field instead of the homely mugs now playing. Yogi Berra, with or without mask, is bad enough.

But I certainly wouldn't want to look at a gorgeous blonde whose legs would be covered by baggy trousers and heavy sweat socks, or a pretty brunette chewing tobacco, or a petite redhead carrying three or four heavy bats on her shoulder while some husky young men watched innocently.

On the other hand, attendance might suffer. If a woman came out of the dugout waving a menacing bat it might remind some men in the stands of their wives. Said stands might be emptied in 10 seconds flat.

Baseball games are consuming more time every year. But with gals on the teams, the games would take twice as long. There might have to be a pause between innings for application of new lipstick and makeup plus a hair-combing session and time out to see if stocking seams were straight.

Why it might even lead to a cosmetic concession at all ball parks. I can just hear the hawkers yelling: "Get your peanuts, popcorn, hot dogs, hair pins, nylons, powder puffs and girdles!"

A woman judge, yes. A woman cabinet member or even a woman President, yes. But a woman baseball player definitely NO!

New Towns Rise Where David Slew Goliath

ALLEN—The gradual re-creation of the Holy Land is now in progress. The historic Valley of Josiah, where Joshua fought the battle 3,500 years ago and some 500 years later—David slew the giant Goliath—has been re-created.

ment by a peace treaty—separates the two territories.

Firing in occasional skirmishes, usually caused by marauders, smugglers, or infiltrators, make the frontier audible. But that's no more than a very weak echo of the din of war heard four years ago when the Arab-Jewish fighting was at its heights.

Road construction was already begun during the Arab-Jewish fighting. And no less than 40 new agricultural settlements and transitional camp villages have now been established there.

The population of the "Corridor" is at present about 10,000, almost all of them recent Jewish immigrants from Southern Arabia, North Africa, Iran and the Balkan countries. Only very few of them were ever before what they have now become: road builders, forest workers, farmers or artisans. On the whole, they make a success of their new professions, helped by the

BUILDING housing beneath the mountains of Judea

American United Jewish Appeal get for settlement and irrigation and all the technical assistance; by the Jewish National Fund "Keren Kayemeth" which gives the land and plants the forests; and finally by the state which in addition to road building organizes various services.

Four years ago—most of the "Corridor" was rocky, barren and utterly desolate. It may take another generation or two till all this has changed. But even now what has already been initiated in the old Judean landscape shows what this part of the Holy Land will one day be: a blossoming countryside with fields and farms.

Nocham is one of the 14 transitional camp villages where a belt of white houses for the newcomers already surrounds the primitive canvas or corrugated iron dwellings for the latercomers. Nearby, history looks down from the hill topped by the village of Zoar where Samson was born. And the future looms from another spot where a huge cement factory is being erected.

OPS To Release 2,150 Employees By September 1

The Office of Price Stabilization announced Friday that 6,150 of the 12,000 employees of the agency must be released by September 1 because of a cut by Congress in stabilization operating funds. How sharp a reduction in the force of the Lubbock district office would be ordered and to what extent its operations would be curtailed was not known at this time, according to H. R. Gholson, district director. The Lubbock district administers the program in a 69-county West Texas area. Director Ellis Arnall of OPS said about 700 employees must be released in the national office and about 5,450 in the field. The national office staff now has 2,500 employees with about 9,500 in the field.

To help effect the scaling down of employment, thirteen regional offices which are situated in the same cities with district offices will be combined, reducing the total number of 103 field offices in the nation to 90. This reorganization will include the combining of the Dallas regional and Dallas district offices, according to information from the Washington office Friday. The Lubbock district is a part of the Dallas region.

Reduction of employment in the national office will be effected through combining of divisions. Dismissals of employees will be made after 30-day notices which officials of OPS must issue by August 1. The releases will be handled under Civil Service procedure. The OPS cutback results from a Congressional appropriation of $60 million for the operation of the entire Economic Stabilization Agency, of which OPS is a part, over a ten-month extension to April 30, 1953. ESA had requested $93 million. OPS expects to have $37 million as compared with $62 million requested.

The chicken and turkey flocks, if they are to be profitable in the summer time, must be provided with plenty of good, cool, fresh drinking water. The water must be placed where the birds can reach it easily for they don't like to move about in the hot anymore than people do.

Rain Delays Installation Of Pipe At Olton

Heavy rain which fell Monday night of last week at Olton delayed installation of the 9,500 feet of transite pipe by the city water department. Gibbs McAfee, city water superintendent, said the ditch prepared for the pipe was filled with water during the rain. City officials had hoped to hook the new well to the main by Friday. However, it now probably will be some time this week before water from the new city well reaches the consumers. Installation of the pipe was well under way when the rain came.

OIL SITE MARKED

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A plaque commemorating the discovery of oil in the rich Signal Hill district was unveiled recently by members of Petroleum Production Pioneers, Inc. The group, men with more than 30 years service in the oil industry, have started a campaign to mark locations of important petroleum discoveries in this state. The first well on Signal Hill began flowing in 1921 and since then the district has become one of the richest oil communities in the world, members said.

The rain somewhat lessened the acute need for water, however. The pipe being installed is made from asbestos and cement. Mrs. Vaneta Stovall, city secretary, said that of the car loads of pipe received here, only one was broken.
