librarian; Mrs. E.B. Hutchinson; Mrs. C.O. Stone, board president; O.J. Mangum, county judge; Mrs. Bonnie Haberer; Mrs. Allen White and Mrs. A.B. Brown.

WORK IS KEY

Library Keeps Growing

Jack Hicks took over as Librarian of Lamb County Library in 1966. She had a lot of work to do to get the library running smoothly. Now, after a year of hard work, her dreams are about to be realized.

The growth of the Lamb County Library wasn't just to one person's credit. Much help came from the community. The library is now housed in the basement of the new Lamb County Courthouse and the Women's Club.

Changes have been made in the past two years. The library is now housed in the basement of the new Lamb County Courthouse and the Women's Club.

Mrs. Stone, president of the board and longtime friend of the library, says that it has been a project of just about every service club in Littlefield since it started 50 years ago.

"There has been some decided improvements in the past years," she said. And the cataloging system is by far the biggest step in improving the library for its users, she added.

Apparently, the Lamb County Library does have a lot of users, because in 1966 there were 22,729 books loaned to readers in Littlefield and the county.

Lions Will Roar In Town Saturday

Over 450 Are Expected For District Meeting

That roar Littlefield people will hear Saturday won't be the wind or airplanes, but will really be from Lions--District 2T-2 Lions, that is.

And roar they will when more than 450 of them gather for the District 2T-2 Mid-Winter Convention and Golden Anniversary Celebration Saturday at Littlefield High School.

Activities of the conference will begin at 3 p.m. and will close at 6:30 p.m.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., a Golden Anniversary Banquet, commemorating the 50th year of Lionism, will be held in the high school cafeteria.

Club presidents, secretaries, public relations chairmen and membership chairmen, as well as other Lions and their wives, from some 56 clubs in the district will attend.

Theo (Pete) Cheaney of Lubbock, district governor, will preside over the session, which will be attended by Sharell and Shirley Harris of Lubbock, a twin package of beauty in the form of the district and state Lions Queens.

For the Lions' ladies, a style show will be staged by Wares and Norma's during convention hours.

The convention session will include a welcome address by Mayor J.E. Chisholm and main items of business will be a summary of first six months of the district by Cheaney.

There also will be reports and discussions on membership, club extensions, peace essay contest, international relations, Care Friendship project, public relations, Youth Exchange Program, district convention, international politics, membership and activities, and Crippled Children's Camp.

Master of ceremonies for the conference will be Dr. Albert Perkins of Littlefield.

Chic Conway, also of the host club, will serve as master of ceremonies for the Golden Anniversary banquet.

Special entertainment for the banquet will be by Bernie Howell of Lubbock, and the Tri-O-Lins. Kip Cushman, local Lions Club president, said this is the second time in four years that Littlefield has hosted a district Lions convention.

"Littlefield has the distinction of being the smallest town in the district to host such a meeting," he said.

Overall chairman of the convention is Don Avery.

Community 4-H To Be Organized

A meeting to organize a Community 4-H Club in Littlefield will be held at 7 p.m., Tuesday, in the Lamb County REA building, according to Buddy Logsdon, county agent.

Logsdon said requests have been made for a community type organization, with the 4-H Clubs operating jointly and outside the school system.

"We think we can have a better organization in the form of a community club," he said. Littlefield and Amherst are the only towns or communities in Lamb County to have 4-H Clubs within the schools. Community 4-H Clubs in the county are at Olton, Pleasant Valley, Spade, Sudan and Earth-Springlake.

School Election Slated April 1

An election to fill the expiring terms of Jack Barton and Pat Downs was called by the Littlefield District School Board at its regular meeting Tuesday night. Date for the election was set for April 1.

Voting will be conducted at the junior high school library, with absentee balloting in the school tax office.

Tentatively named as election judge was Mrs. Otha Smith, and Mrs. Bill Jeffries and Mrs. Harold Clements as clerks.

In other business the board approved the hiring of Mrs. Marjorie Laster to replace Mrs. Anita Longshore as a sixth grade teacher. Mrs. Laster will come here from Corpus Christi.

The board also heard a review read by school superintendent Paul Manning from the various school principals on the teaching performance of personnel new to the system.

In other business the board renewed contracts of Manning, Paul L. Jones, administrative assistant; and Sid Hopping, financial secretary.

The board also okayed an airplane trip for the Wildcat basketball team to San Angelo Tuesday for the Lake View game on condition of approval of the player's parents.

They're Elated

After the school board met Tuesday night it was decided that the band and choir be given permission to attend the Buchaneer Festival in Corpus Christi, April 28-29.

Of course the members of each organization were elated to learn of the board's decision. Tentative plans are underway by Prof Hayes and Dwayne Hood, band and choir directors, for the buses, lodging, etc., that the trip will need.

In an interview with each director it was revealed that these organizations would not make the trip unless they made sweepstakes in their regional Universal Interscholastic League contests. This is a decision of the directors and members not of the school board.

Prof Hayes stated that there would be approximately 110 band members making the trip. Money would be mostly given by the individual members. However, other projects would be undertaken to raise any additional money needed. The Band Boosters will also be giving support to the trip.

Approximately 50 A Capella choir members would be making the trip. About 20 to 25 of these members are also in the band. Each student will furnish his own money for the trip, choir director Hood commented. There would be no money raising projects used by the choir to make money for the trip.

The band already has a division I rating in marching and they only need a division I rating in concert and sight reading to attend the festival.

LION SALUTE

To salute the Littlefield Lions Club for their work in hosting the District 2T-2 Lions Mid-Winter Convention, and to commemorate the Golden Anniversary of Lionism, the Lamb County Leader and Littlefield merchants have observed the occasion through a special Lions Club section in this issue.

The section is especially for the Littlefield Lions and those visiting here for the convention, and it is a means of showing this city's appreciation of the work done by the Lions.

Maybe our '67 Pontiac

Our engineers have become used to seeing their ideas show up on other cars. Two years late. And apparently so have a lot of car buyers. Because 1967 Pontiacs are selling faster than 1966 Pontiacs. And '66 was a record year.

When you think about it, why should you wait around for innovations like our disappearing windshield wipers? Or for imaginative options like our exclusive hood-mounted tach? Especially when you consider that our engineers wouldn't turn a Pontiac loose with anything less than a standard 400 cubic inch V-8. Or a Tempest with anything less than our revolutionary Overhead Cam Six. (Not to mention all those new safety features like GM's energy absorbing steering column and a dual master cylinder brake system with warning lamp.)

In short, our engineers seem to have done it again. They may even start asking for royalties on the copies.

Library Additions

New books arrived --- Jan. 9, 1967

"Madame Sarah" by Cornelia Otis Skinner. A magnificent biography of Sarah Bernhardt, the tempestuous French woman many consider to be the greatest actress who ever lived.

"Burn Then, Little Lamp" by Margaret Banister, author of "Tears are for the Living." This new novel will delight those many readers who want a story of believable people with strengths and foibles who are not so far removed from our daily lives as to seem of another clay.

"A Certain Island" by Robert Murphy, author of "The Pond" and "The Golden Eagle." This is the story of a sixteen-year old boy who finds his way to the beginning of manhood during a great and memorable adventure in the world of nature.

"The 9th Directive" by Adam Hall, a new Quiller spy novel. "The 9th Directive" is the brilliant success to Adam Hall's book, "The Quiller Memorandum, which was published in 1965 and soon won international acclaim and won the Mystery Writer's award for the best book of the year.

"Kinds of Love, Kinds of Death" by Tucker Coe. This is about what a man does with himself when he's betrayed those most important to him, when he has been found out, when he has been turned out of the one job he really knows how to do. Mitchell Tobin has closed himself tight into silence and impassivity, showing no feelings, allowing himself to hope for nothing. The story of the untimely alliance between "respectable" mobster and the dishonored ex-cop makes for gripping reading.

"Wherever She Goes" by Richard Scowcroft is a serious novel, but a funny one, an unsparingly honest and sometimes bitingly satirical novel -- but in the end a wildly affirmative one. Mr. Scowcroft is the author of three highly praised novels, "Children of the Covenant," "First Family" and "View of the Bay."

OWNER'S REPORT

1968 Or 1972?

By Bill Turner

WHETHER YOU'RE friend or foe of the Kennedy's, you have to admit they're a real, substantial power in American politics. They are, or have been, the target of every comedian around, possibly because they seem to lend themselves easily to comedy. One of the latest tricks is a record called "Wild Thing," which pokes fun at Robert Kennedy. It's good for a laugh. So is the following piece, which is traveling across many an editor's desk these days:

"THE QUESTION to be decided," announced Ted, rapping his water glass with a spoon for attention, "is whether brother should go in 1968, or wait until 1972. Suppose we start with you, Ethel."

"Personally," Ethel stated promptly, "I don't see how he can wait until 1972."

"One vote for 1968. Now, what about you, Pat?" Ted asked.

"I vote," laughed Pat, "for both 1968 and 1972."

"Tally two votes for 1968," quoth Ted. "And what do you think, Jacqueline?"

"As I understand it," murmured Jacqueline, "1968 is the first possibility, and I certainly think Robert should proceed at the first opportunity."

"Unanimous, so far," observed Ted. "Three votes for 1968. Mother?"

"I am sure," mother replied, "that John would have planned for 1968, and that is reason enough. I, too, recommend 1968."

"UNCLE ROBERT," shouted John-John, bursting into the room, "is it true that J. Edgar Hoover bugs you?"

"Who told you to ask me that?" barked Uncle Robert. "Get out of here before I Hoffa you."

John-John exited, scampering to avoid a vigorous touch-tackle.

"Father?" asked Ted, when quiet was restored.

Joe nodded vigorously.

"You think 1968, rather than waiting until 1972, then?"

Again nodding, even more vigorous than before.

"Sargent can't be here," announced Ted. "He's off buying tuxedos for the graduating class of his Head Start boys. But he asked me to report his vote in favor of 1968, and the Eunice feels the same way. So, that leaves only Jean to be heard from, Jean?"

"Well," Jean reflected, "I certainly don't look at this from the top as most of you do, but I won't vote against 1968, since every body else thinks that's the time."

"Very well," announced Ted. "It seems to be the consensus that 1968 is the year. Robert, what do you say?"

Robert rose slowly.

"Ethel has been pressing me to go in 1968," said Robert. "I wanted the family to be unanimous. Go, I will. I will get a haircut in 1968."

JUST BECAUSE IT'S TAX TIME. YOU DON'T HAVE TO LOSE YOUR HEAD!

AMY'S ADLIBS

Before And After

By Amy Turner

WE ARE, at last, in the final stages of our move from Olton to Littlefield. It's not that we're slow. These things just take awhile.

Then there's always the inevitable question of "how in the world did I ever accumulate all this stuff?"

Unfortunately, I'm a saver. The Publisher claims he is not but I might mention that I removed three boxes of newspapers, some as much as 10 years old, from his closet. All were carefully packed to move since there are "important" things.

I am a saver of unimportant things—empty boxes, locks of the children's hair, Bible school masterpieces, old report cards, all sorts of bows and ribbons, pictures, letters, and you name it.

ONE OF THE biggest problems I seem to have in packing is getting bogged down reading and going through all this stuff. Actually, it's great fun but it does slow things down a bit.

One of the best items I came across this week was a box of old letters written by The Publisher to me during our courtin' days.

How he would love to get his hands on those letters! But I plan on keeping them as insurance since I have found one simple sentence is a sure fire way to win any argument at our house. All I have to do is say casually: "I have some old letters and I believe I'll just get them out and read a few aloud."

Works every time.

ONE THAT I particularly enjoy was written just prior to the big wedding day. At this time, The Publisher was flapping around at a naval air base, courtesy of Uncle Sam, and I was busy scrubbing and polishing up our home-to-be.

I mentioned this in a letter and he promptly responded in glowing terms about how he could hardly wait to help me scrub that kitchen floor. Yes, he really said it, I have the proof in his own handwriting.

To my knowledge, he has yet to scrub a kitchen floor. Ship decks, maybe, but kitchen floors, never!

I'm still waiting.

ALL OF THESE letters were beautifully written, however, pages and pages of flowing prose, full of grandly phrased sweetness and light.

Of course, when he so chooses, The Publisher is quite good with the written word but I can't help notice how time changes things. Now, when he goes on a business trip, I am lucky to get an office memo which usually reads something like this:

To: wife.
From: husband.
Subject: Is raining. Am busy. No news.
Regards, B.T.

Of course, lovingly printed at the bottom, I find:

PLEASE RETAIN THE PINK COPY FOR YOUR FILES. RETURN THE BLUE COPY, CARBON INTACT.

Another example of progress, I suppose, but come to think of it:

This kitchen floor DOES need scrubbing.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Whining Can Whip Us

By BOB WEAR

It is not so much what happens that brings defeat or victory in life; it is how we react to what happens or is happening. The way we react to the experiences and happenings of the day determine, in large measure, the image that others have of us and also our own self-image. This is especially true in relationship to our losses, failures, difficulties and hardships.

There is a difference in the way different people react to the same general experiences, and this makes some of these people effective and some ineffective. It is important for all of us to realize that this phase of human behavior can be controlled, to a great extent, by us. We can be patient and philosophical or we can whine and complain about our adverse experiences.

It seems that those who are always whining and talking defeat and spreading gloom are unaware that they are only making bad matters worse. In fact, an otherwise good situation can be destroyed by whining. Let us beware, whining can easily become part of our behavior pattern. Although we may justify it to ourselves, we can never make it appealing to others.

People who are inclined to whine often-times exaggerate and intensify undesirable experiences and situations. This is their way of trying to build up a stronger case for themselves. Many people are doing their duty, but, in their unhappiness, they whine about what they do, not knowing that the potential good in their actions is more or less nullified. Inspiration gives this instruction: "Do all things without murmuring (without complaining or whining)."

Whining has nothing to commend it, and everything to condemn it.

The Upper Room

"A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none." (Luke 13:6)

One winter day I trudged through the woods in central Florida. I was tired and thirsty. Then, suddenly, like a desert oasis, a citrus tree loaded with oranges appeared in a small clearing. It was not a grove. It was simply one tree standing alone.

The fruit, however, was a disappointment. Every orange I cut was pithy, tasteless, and without juice. That tree had not been cared for. No one had pruned its branches. Fertilizers had not been added to the soil. All alone, the tree had done what it could, but that was not enough.

So it is with life. Without God's guidance, without such spiritual helps as prayer, Bible reading, and church attendance, our lives cannot bear the kind of fruit God created us to produce.

Our hearts must be pruned of sin, nurtured in God's love, and trained in doing His will. Otherwise, we may appear beautiful on the outside but within be like the citrus tree—producing fruit that is tasteless and unhelpful to our fellowman.

YOU BET YOUR LIFE

"Fill it up!"

"Fill it up!"

"Fill it up!"

A Sneak Peak At 1987

By PAUL HARVEY

Americans, you stand on the threshold of the most exciting era in the history of the world!

Twenty years ago this month I addressed a convention of bakers in Chicago on the subject of "Twenty Years From Today." Since coming events do cast shadows, most of those predictions did come true.

The text of that 20-year-old speech was able to anticipate "orbital space flights," "distant listening devices," "color TV," "instant cooking, electronically," "highway travel without stoplights," "garage doors with electronic ears," "spare parts for human bodies."

So, based on today's research, you and I can now take a sneak peek at what life will be like in 1967.

It took man 6,000 years to learn to move faster than 35 miles an hour. In one lifetime, he has learned to move 17,000 mph.

Discoveries beget discoveries. Before long our supply of "new ideas" will double every two years.

So today, through the eyes of these visionary men, let us look ahead to 1987 and look around and see what we shall see.

Hardly any American will ever use cash or anything in 1987. Money will be transferred from your bank account to theirs -- by computers.

Much of your clothing will be made of paper, disposable.

Your automobile will be "disposable." It will skim over land, water -- any terrain -- but mechanically so simple and with so few moving parts that it will be more economical to throw it away than to repair it -- in 1987.

Subway travel will consist of a capsule full of people shushing through a tube buried in the ground -- on a cushion of air. You'll get to the airport in a minute, be able to commute from Boston to New York . . . if you want to.

By 1987 the congested megalopolis will have begun to disintegrate. Americans will redistribute themselves. The southwestern United States, their water problems solved by desalination, will boom.

Skin divers will be fitted with artificial gills permitting breathing like fish.

And with a teensy radio receiver in the ear -- to receive voice commands from headquarters -- a hunter will bug -- his bird dog.

In 1987 -- milady, to color her hair -- any color -- will simply swallow a pill.

Some will color their teeth to match their fingernails.

No baldness remedy yet.

But hairpieces for men will be so commonplace nobody will care. And cosmetics for men will include hair tinting, eyebrow and eyelash grooming, rouge and lipstick.

You may, if your choice, have Christmas dinner on your outdoor patio . . . protected by curtains of heated air.

Snow falling on your heated driveway will melt instantly.

Computers, home size, will be used for homework and for planning budgets, planning menus, figuring income tax, making family policy decisions.

Quick-frozen, precooked meals, opened and exposed to the air, will chemically reheat themselves.

Or . . . the housewife, in her computerized kitchen, will have only to select the menu. And press corresponding buttons. The computer thus programmed will move the food selected from storage to the stove to the table, all automatically.

The walls of the modern home of 1987 will have walls which are as movable as furniture is now . . . accommodating redecorating. And doubtless husbands will usually end up putting that wall back where it was in the first place.

THROUGH THE YEARS

(Taken from the files of the Lamb County Leader, Thursday, January 10, 1952)

25 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of the Lamb County Leader, Thursday, January 8, 1942)

The Annual Littlefield Golden Gloves Tournament is to be held January 22-23 in the County school gymnasium. This tournament is sponsored by the Littlefield Downtown Quarter Club, and is promoted by Abe Murphy, Athletic Coach of the local high school.

E.C. Cundiff, Secretary of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce reported for the year 1941 a total of 43.28 inches, which is the moisture than can be found in any known record of this city for any one year.

The South Plains has been experiencing some winter the past week, Saturday night, between 8 and 9 o'clock the temperature began rolling, and by 6 o'clock Sunday morning the new low for this season was recorded at 6 degrees above zero.

DEAR EDITOR

Dear Bill:

I can't resist noting that Ernie Pyle fame is so fleeting you have forgotten what he fell. He did not fall on Saipan, but Ie Shima, a small island off the coast of Okinawa about a year after the Saipan operation, on his first visit with the U.S. Marines.

Congratulations on your vastly improved make up and general interest coverage.

Name Withheld By Request

Dear Sir:

The News-Leader can take deserving credit for helping make this past Christmas a happier one for 165,000 unfortunate people in Texas.

Christmas 1966 was a record year for Salvation Army's annual Christmas Campaign. We distributed 120,000 toys, 12 pairs of new shoes, thousands of Christmas dinners, and Sunshine Bags to the shut-prisoners, and the aged.

In one form or another, the $375,000 spent by the Salvation Army's annual Christmas campaign in 554 cities and towns came from the generosity of many Texans. Without the help of newspapers like the News-Leader the success of the Christmas Campaign would have been considerably reduced.

By joining in the spirit of giving, by the need for public participation, and by giving attention to all who assisted, the News-Leader made a real contribution to a better Christmas for the deserving underprivileged.

For the Salvation Army and all of its workers I extend a sincere "Thank You."

Action Increases In Capitol

By Larry Fuhrmann

Our State Capitol Correspondent

The whirlwind of action in the Capitol city has taken a change--it's shifted 10 blocks to the south of the University of Texas campus to the Capitol, where legislators have been converging for the session beginning January 10th. The Capitol halls, long silent, are filled with "welcome back" greetings and anticipation of the action to take place in legislative chambers soon.

Meanwhile, campus activities at the University of Texas have disappeared as the Academic Center becomes the focal point for many of the semester ends this week.

Two big issues in the session may be liquor and horse betting. The 1965 legislature struck the horse race betting proposal in a subcommittee and killed in committee a liquor bill.

Liquor-by-the-drink has gained some support and pari-mutuel betting on horses has lost some. Indications show Representative Clayton is predicting that both issues will be squelched again this year.

Senator-elect Red Berry of San Antonio claims that pari-mutuel betting on horse races would solve the state's tax problems, which are really on the increase this time.

A plan for a city sales tax, submitted to Governor Connally by the Texas Municipal League, would allow a local option-one-cent tax for city use. "I'm sympathetic to their needs," Connally has said to mayors regarding the plight of the cities, "but I'm hesitant to endorse the city sales tax before I see how we're going to solve the taxing problems at the state level."

Some mention has been made of increasing the sales tax one-cent anyway, and Connally feels a four-cent tax total would be putting the legislature in a precarious position.

Polls of legislators indicate that the city sales tax plan is not receiving much hope. Mayors believe that it would bring in about $70 million annually for the cities, about 10 per cent of their overall budgets.

The state Republican Executive Committee will be meeting in Austin Jan. 13-14 with primary purposes of adopting a budget for 1967 and discussion of opportunities for 1968 campaigns, says Peter O'Donnell, Jr., chairman.

Texas Senator Ralph Yarborough has been named recipient of an award for "public service for his authorship of Title VI of the Higher Education Act of 1965 and strong support of the program for use of new educational audio-visual equipment, tape recorders and science teaching aids." The presentation was made by the National Audio-Visual Association at its conference in Dallas last week.

Contact lenses may be fitted only under the direct supervision of a licensed physician or licensed optometrist. Attorney General Waggoner Carr has ruled. An ophthalmic dispenser may not lawfully fit the lenses, although he can lawfully manufacture them according to specifications prescribed.

Mrs. Perry R. Bass of Fort Worth, chairman of the Mansion Subcommittee of the Texas Fine Arts Commission, announces the beginning of a state-wide fund-raising campaign to raise funds to convert the grounds of the Governor's Mansion into a garden.

The beautification and conservation program was prepared under Mrs. Connally's supervision and has been approved by the Fine Arts Commission.

The plans include a formal rose garden with colonial arbors, a gazebo, pools and fountains framed and surfaced with brick patios and retaining walls. The plans will be in keeping with the ante-bellum style of the official residence that has been the home of Texas' governor since 1856.

The last legislature gave the responsibility for the supervision of the governor's mansion to the Fine Arts Commission. The commission has asked the State Board of Control and the State Building Commission to proceed with details so that the bidding of the project can begin within 90 days.

Contributions to the Texas Fine Arts Commission--Mansion Landscape Fund can be mailed to Mrs. John Connally, The Governor's Mansion, 1010 Colorado, Austin.

Nilah Rodgers Winner In Non-Fiction Contest

WHITHARRAL -- Nilah Rodgers of Whitharral is first place winner of the South Plains Writers' Association non-fiction contest according to Mrs. Louise Boggess, contest judge. It is an idea article about the exodus movement of Christians from rural areas to the metropolitan cities, "Promises to Keep." Mrs. Boggess said it is outstanding in organization, research and good techniques and has excellent selling possibilities. Mrs. Rodgers also won first in the competition last year.

Gene Simon of Levelland placed second with a how-to-do-it article on "Backyard Hybridizing," reflecting her own favorite hobby of hybridizing irises. In placing Mrs. Simon's article, Mrs. Boggess said the piece caught the mood of confidence splendidly, used the right viewpoint with no wasted words, and was a good article for a home service magazine.

Honorable mentions went to Helen Dyer and Ruby Osborn, both Lubbock residents. Mrs. Dyer's article, "Lights of Concern," is about the Texas Tech students who have "adopted" families in urban renewal Negro housing project in east Lubbock.

Mrs. Osborn's entry is a personality sketch "Come Into Our Heritage" concerning how her father held in sacred trust the privilege of American citizenship. A record number of fifteen articles were entered in this non-fiction competition.

Mrs. Boggess also judged the fiction contest earlier. A former Texan, Mrs. Boggess studied writing under Foster Harris and the late Walter Campbell at the University of Oklahoma. She is now a teacher of creative writing at San Mateo College, San Mateo, Calif. She authored two books on writing and has had numerous articles and stories published in various magazines.

WARD'S

OVER PAST TWO YEARS

SCS District Shows Big Gains

By TEX ROGERS

Since the beginning of time, if the land over produced anything, it was by and large due to the toil and ingenuity of man himself. Of course, the soil was there, but it almost was completely useless without being worked and cared for by someone bent on growing something.

Today, with the world growing smaller and smaller, the soil that is used for producing food and fiber for this country and many other nations is becoming more precious, and proper care of it is definitely a key to survival. That is why groups such as the Lamb County Soil Conservation District are formed.

The Lamb County Soil Conservation District, working in cooperation with and receiving assistance from the Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, was founded in 1946, and its work has steadily progressed so that it is one of the outstanding districts in Texas.

Its progress over the past three years may be gauged by comparing the district's 1966 annual report released recently with its latest program and plan of work which was published in 1964.

Heading the district which contains for 654,080 acres of land in Lamb County is a five-member board of supervisors with M. P. Brigrance of Olton as chairman.

W. E. Mitchell of Spade is vice-chairman and Herbert Dolle of Littlefield is secretary. Other members include W. L. Barton of Earth and Marvin Bowling of Sudan.

Assisting the district in work plans and conservation practices is Joe Eblevins, work unit conservationist, and his staff of assistants.

The 1966 district report, covering activities from Sept. 1, 1965 to Aug. 31, 1966, indicates that Lamb County is in the move in the gigantic task of conserving land and water in this part of the country where the economy depends entirely on those very resources.

A more vivid picture of the district's progress can be found by comparing the 1966 report with the plan of work set up by the district supervisors in 1964. The results are outstanding.

In 1966 the district gained 54 new cooperators, bringing 14,448 more acres into the program. It also worked some 114 basic conservation plans on 25,330 acres, and revised 102 plans on 22,710 acres.

As of Aug. 1, 1966, there were 1,561 cooperators in the district, covering 514,440 acres.

Basic plans at that time were 1,086 on 251,355 acres. In 1964, there were only 903 basic conservation plans on 210,219 acres.

It should be pointed out, however, that in 1964 there were 10 more district cooperators, 1,571, than in 1966, and some 63,452 more acres.

Elevins, the SCS work unit conservationist, explained that the decline on individual cooperators is due to an increased number of farms being combined in recent years. Decline in number of acres in the district program can be contributed to urban development and highway construction, he said.

Putting as many acres of farm and pasture land as possible into good conservation practices as possible is the primary goal of the district supervisors, and 1966 was one of the district's most successful years in accomplishing that objective.

During 1966 some 47,531 feet of diversions were placed on the land, bringing the total to 516,000. In 1964 there were only some 454,712 land feet of diversions.

Contour farming practices climbed to 100,000 acres, compared to 85,000 acres two years ago, and conservation cropping systems moved from 200,788 acres in 1964 to 390,000 acres in 1966.

Improvements were made in irrigation practices, with concentration on saving of the vital underground water supply.

Thus, by 1966 irrigation water management was practiced on 60,000 acres, compared to 48,000 acres in 1964, and irrigation pipeline laid in 1966 amounted to 200,847 feet. Total feet of pipeline in the district now is 4,235,000 considerably more than the 3,777,315 feet in 1964.

Also, gains were made in practices which preserve and hold the water and topsoil on the land, through stubble mulching and management of crop residue.

Crop residue use, which reduces wind erosion damage up to 90 per cent, climbed from 180,470 acres two years ago to 190,000 acres, while the practice of stubble mulching went from 1,600 acres to 15,000 acres.

Of the many advances made by the district over the past two years, the increasing practice of parallel terracing is by far the biggest in the district.

"Parallel terracing is our biggest advancement since 1964," said Pat Rice, work unit assistant.

He pointed out that in two years 222,865 feet of parallel terraces were put on the land, and 144,565 feet of that were in 1966.

PARALLEL TERRACES such as these were the biggest advancement made the past two years by the Lamb County Soil Conservation District. During 1966, 144,565 feet of parallel terraces were constructed in the district.

DURING 1965

Lamb County Ranked 3rd In Farm Income, Sales

Lamb County ranked third in Texas for gross farm income and agriculture sales during 1965, according to a report from the authoritative Standard Rate and Date Service of Dallas.

In that period Lamb County's farm sales total was $47,796,504 and income was $55,339,000.

First in Texas in sales was Hale County with a $61,815,031, followed by Lubbock County with $56,140,383. After Lamb County came Farmer, $38,482,906; Castro, $37,014,825; Deaf Smith, $36,802,280; and Floyd, $32,607,808.

However, in total farm income, Lubbock County was No. 1 across the state with $81,478,000, followed by Hale County in second place with $67,200,000, then Lamb County.

During 1965, Texas' agricultural income was $2,762,808,000, which was exceeded only by two states—California and Iowa.

The total New England states produced $919,680,000 in agricultural products in 1965, which was $57 million less than that produced in the Panhandle.

In the Middle Atlantic states, only New York exceeded West Texas in agricultural production, and of the West North Central states, the Panhandle counties exceeded North Dakota and South Dakota.

In the South Atlantic area, Delaware, Maryland, South Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia all produced less than the Panhandle.

The gross farm income of 43 counties in Texas was as follows:

Farmers Income Tax Filing Date Jan. 16

Farmers who earned at least two-thirds of their 1966 gross income from farming should file their declaration of estimated Federal income tax for 1966 on or before Monday, Jan. 16, 1967. Form 1040ES should be used for this purpose.

However, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue in northern Texas, said that farmers need not file an estimate if they file their 1966 Federal income tax return, Form 1040, and pay in full any tax due by Feb. 15, 1967.

"Farmer's Tax Guide," Publication No. 225, which furnishes information on this subject, may be obtained by dropping a post card to your District Director, Internal Revenue Service, 1600 Patterson Street, Dallas, Texas 75201 or from your county farm agent.

Fishermen who expect to receive at least two-thirds of their gross income from fishing may file declarations of estimated tax, or Form 1040 in lieu of declarations of estimated tax, on the same dates prescribed for farmers.

COTTON TALKS

From Plains Cotton Growers Inc.

The process of organizing a Cotton Board and Board of Trustees under the Cotton Research and Promotion Act voted in by producers last month has begun.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and other cotton producer organizations recently received "invitations" to apply for certification for eligibility to nominate members of the Cotton Board and participate in the election of Trustees.

The Cotton Board will administer the research and promotion program to be carried out under the Act for upland cotton. The Act authorizes uniform collection of a dollar a bale on all production to finance the program. Spending of this money will be in the hands of a cotton producer Board of Trustees.

The Secretary of Agriculture is empowered by the law to appoint the Cotton Board from nominees submitted by approved cotton producer organizations in the various states.

Organizations who wish to be approved have been given a January 20 deadline for submitting applications, and a caucus of approved organizations is expected to be called within 30 days from that time to select Board members.

The Board initially will have 20 members. Each of the major cotton producing states will have one member, plus an additional member for each million bales production or major fraction thereof, figured on a five year moving average.

Texas, which averaged just under 4.5 million bales for the crop years 1960 through 1965, will have four members on the Board, Mississippi and California will have two members each.

Arkansas, Alabama, Arizona, Tennessee, Georgia, Louisiana, South Carolina, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma and New Mexico will each have one member on the Board, and all other states together will have one.

States other than those listed include Florida, Illinois, Kentucky, Nevada and Virginia. All together they produce less than 50,000 bales per year.

Texas producer organizations, of which there are expected to be about nine in addition to Plains Cotton Growers, will nominate eight people as Board members and another eight as alternates. The Secretary will select four from each group.

In the event all approved organizations in any state do not agree on the same nominees each organization can submit its own slate. Or, if only one organization is in dissent, it can nominate members and alternates on its own and the remaining organizations can join in submitting joint nominees.

The Cotton Board is the group charged in the law with selecting the cotton handler or handlers who will be responsible for the dollar a bale collections. And following organization of the Board and the election of a chairman from among its members, this is expected to be one of the Board's first actions.

Also among the early duties of the Board will be the setting of refund procedures for those producers who do not wish to contribute to the program.

The Board of Trustees will be made up of cotton producers elected by the same cotton producer organizations approved to nominate members of the Cotton Board. The formula for determining the number of Trustees and how many will be from each state and area has not yet been devised, but the law specifies that representation must be in proportion to financial contributions to the program, adjusted for refunds after the first year.

This Board of Trustees will operate similar to the current Trustees of Cotton Producers Institute, and, once organized, will replace that group. It is with these Trustees that the Cotton Board will contract for carrying out the research and promotion projects designed to expand cotton's markets.

It is hoped that Trustees can be elected and organized sometime in March of this year in order to assure continuity of the research and promotion programs now going on under the Cotton Producers Institute.

According to John D. Smith, Littlefield, President of Plains Cotton Growers, the dollar a bale collections on 1967 production should yield between 11 and 12 million dollars.

"And this amount of money going into production and utilization research and into promotion programs to build markets for our crop is the brightest spot seen on cotton's horizon in many years," Smith said.

WT Vegetable Growers To Meet In Hereford

Anyone interested in vegetable production is urged to attend the fifth annual West Texas Vegetable Growers Conference Tuesday, Jan. 17 at the Bull Barn in Hereford.

County Agent Buddy Logsdon said the session is open to the public. The theme of this year's session will be "Cultural and Pathological Problems of Vegetable Production."

Six speakers will be featured on the program which will start at 9 a.m., and continue to about 4 p.m., the county agent said.

Logsdon said that among the speakers would be Thomas Longbrake, Extension vegetable specialist serving the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Longbrake will present two talks during the meeting.

In the morning session he will speak on "Cultural Practices in Vegetable Production" and in the afternoon he will discuss

"Weed Control Practices in Vegetables"

Four other Texas A&M University researchers and Extension workers will be featured speakers at the meeting. They will discuss problems and control of diseases, insects and nematodes and the place of vegetables in the High Plains economy.

A report on vegetable research at Texas Tech will also be presented during the vegetable conference.

Texas Cotton Down In 1966

The Texas Crop and Reporting Service said production of sorghum, peanuts, barley, rye, Irish potatoes and peas above a year ago but production of cotton, wheat, rice, oats, hay, sweet potatoes, beets and pecans was below a year ago.

Sorghum grain production was up by 6 percent, peanuts up by 47 percent, the largest output ever in the state. Cotton production, down 32 percent; however acre yields were 35 percent above the 1959-64 average.

Potential Shortage Seen In Fertilizer

Increased wheat and feed grain acreages indicate a potential shortage of fertilizer in the spring of 1967, notes C.D. Welch, Extension soil chemist at Texas A&M University.

Such a situation could develop as national corn acreage is expected to be up 20 per cent, and 45 per cent of the total fertilizer used in the United States goes to this crop, Welch says.

The lack of transportation and distribution facilities to deliver the needed fertilizer could make it difficult for farmers to obtain fertilizer at the time needed for planting. This could mean inadequate fertilization and less than potential production, Welch points out.

Application of fertilizer in the late fall or early winter will enable the individual farmer to avoid the difficulty of obtaining fertilizer for 1967. Phosphorus, potassium, and nitrogen should be applied in the late fall or early winter if these conditions are met:

1. Soil temperature below 55 degrees F.
  2. Have soils high in clay.
  3. Put fertilizer in the soil.
- The major concern over fall fertilization involved potential nitrogen losses. Should the nitrogen remain in the ammonium form during the winter period, the chances of loss are at a minimum.

Farm Income Up From January To October, '66

Texas farmers and ranchers received $2,128 million during the January-October 1966 period from the sale of all crops, livestock and livestock products.

The Texas Crop and Livestock receipts were up 15 per cent from the same period a year ago and that the total for the 1966 period included cash receipts of $1,152 million from livestock and livestock products and $975 million from the sales of crops.

Nitrification of ammonium is low under 55 degrees F., therefore, farmers should consider fall or winter fertilization. In many instances where fertilizer has been early, a small amount of nitrogen and phosphorus applied with or near the seed at planting, will give good results and maintain the advantages of fertilization at or near planting, Welch explains.

Sign-Up For '67 Crop Programs Starts Feb. 6

Farmers wishing to participate in the 1967 feed grain, wheat and upland cotton programs may do so during a four-week sign-up period at the Lamb County ASCS office from Feb. 6 through March 3.

L. D. Aten, ASCS office manager, said farmers again may ask for advance on earnings and receive half of the payment on diverted acres shortly after sign-up.

Sign-up for the Cropland Adjustment Program, underway since Dec. 1, will also end on March 3.

It is expected that most Lamb County farmers will decide to lay out 35 per cent of their cotton allotment. Last year almost 100 per cent of the county's farmers chose this plan.

FROST FIGHT--If your refrigerator seems to be frosting up excessively, here are a couple of things you might check to improve the situation. First, carefully examine the rubber seal around the door. If the rubber has dried or lost its resilience, it could be causing an air leak in the door. It should be replaced. Second, try checking the temperature control. If it is too low, it could be causing the freezing unit to over-ice. A third thing to watch is leaving foods uncovered. The moisture in the food just adds to the frosting problem.

Jury Commission Selected In Heavy Commissioners Session

Three jury commissioners were appointed and terms of county court were set to head the list of items Monday in a busy session of commissioners court.

Named to the jury commission were Paul Carmickle of Littlefield, Doyle Watkins of Sudan and T.H. Lewis of Earth. Those men Tuesday selected the jury panels for each term of county court.

County court this year, as in the past, is divided into quarterly terms.

In other business a hearing was set by County Judge O.J. Mangum for the next regular commissioners session to receive bids on the county depository.

County officials submitted budgets for each of their departments for the year and they were approved. Budget requests were for salaries and extra in some cases.

Some $13,200 was requested for the county clerk's office while the sheriff's office asked for $33,630 to cover salaries.

The county tax collector-assessor requested $10,000 plus 25 cents per set of licenses sold at each substation in the county, and $1.50 per hour and 10 cents per mile for assistance in assessing.

A request for a new typewriter and $2,400 in salaries was requested by the district clerk.

The commissioners also set the salaries of all county officials. They are: county judge, $6,300 plus $300 for juvenile court; sheriff, $6,150; tax assessor - collector, $6,000; county attorney, $5,850; treasurer, $5,280; district clerk, $5,280; commissioners, $4,699.92.

Cats Drop Cage Tilt To Snyder

A sharp-shooting, hustling Snyder Tiger quintet ran past the Littlefield Wildcats Tuesday in Snyder to deal the 'Cats their third District 3-AAA loss in as many starts, 80-48.

Hitting an amazing 60 percent of their field goal attempts, Snyder jumped to a quick 22-10 lead in the opening canto, and from then on all the Littlefield cagers could do was hope for the better.

Friday, the Wildcats will host the Lamesa Tornados with the B team tilt starting at 6:15 p.m. The Tornados had a 19-game winning streak snapped Tuesday by the Levelland Lobos. Snyder continued its deadly shooting through the second period, and led 43-23 at halftime. Despite the lopsided score, it was a case of the Wildcats not getting the ball enough to stage any kind of scoring threat.

Also, the 'Cats had foul problems, with three players forced out with five minutes left in the contest.

Snyder also won the B team game, 66-42.

Amherst Wins District Game

Amherst opened district play Tuesday night with a 60-55 victory over Cotton Center. Amherst was led by Royce McAdams with 17 points and Donald Barrett pitched in 17 for Cotton Center.

4 Traffic Accidents Cause Heavy Damage

Four traffic accidents from Sunday through Tuesday this week that caused considerable damage to some vehicles resulted in only one injury.

Taken to Littlefield Hospital Tuesday by Hammons Funeral Home ambulance following a two-car smashup at U.S. 84 and FM 54 at about 2:39 p.m. was Ronald D. Stewart, 30, of Lubbock.

Stewart was driving a 1965 Chevrolet south on U.S. 84 when a 1967 Chrysler, driven by John Ross, 68, of Rogers, N.M., pulled onto the highway from FM 54, police reports said.

Ross, who was going west on FM 54, stopped at a stop sign before pulling onto the highway, police said. Damage to the Chevrolet was $650, while the Ross auto received $600 damage.

Extensive damage to two autos resulted in a collision about 4:44 p.m., Sunday, at U.S. 84 and FM 54.

Police reported that a 1961 Pontiac, driven by Joe Frank Den, 16, of Lubbock, collided with a 1966 Ford Mustang, driven by Sharon Collins, 23, of Littlefield.

The Pontiac was going north on U.S. 84, and the Collins vehicle was travelling west on FM 54. The Ford stopped at a stop sign, and then pulled onto the highway in front of the Pontiac and was hit in the right back fender, police reported.

Damage to both autos was estimated at $1,100.

Slight damage was done to a sports car driven by Maudine Hunt Hall, 42, of Littlefield about 4:12 p.m., Monday on West 6th St., when a 1964 Ford, driven by Adolph G. Jungman, 77, of Pep backed into it, police reported.

In another accident Tuesday, about 8:30 a.m. at FM 54 and Delano Ave., a 1962 Pontiac driven by Ellen S. Keener, 50, of Anton was hit from behind at a stop sign by a 1965 Oldsmobile driven by Nina N. Tolbert, 35, of Littlefield, police said.

LIONS Code of Ethics

TO SHOW my faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation for quality of service.

TO SEEK success and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my own self-respect lost because of unfair advantage taken or because of questionable acts on my part.

TO REMEMBER that in building up my business it is not necessary to tear down another's, to be loyal to my clients or customers and true to myself.

WHENEVER a doubt arises as to the right or ethics of my position or action towards my fellow man, to resolve such doubt against myself.

TO HOLD friendship as an end and not a means. To hold that true friendship exists not on account of the service performed by one to another, but that true friendship demands nothing but accepts service in the spirit in which it is given.

ALWAYS bear in mind my obligations as a citizen to my nation, my state and my community, and to give them my unswerving loyalty in word, act and deed. To give them freely of my time, labor, and means.

TO AID my fellow men by giving my sympathy to those in distress, my aid to the weak, and my substance to the needy.

TO BE CAREFUL with my criticism and liberal with my praise: to build up and not destroy.

Lions International OBJECTS

TO CREATE and foster a spirit of "generous consideration" among the peoples of the world through a study of the problems of international relationships.

TO PROMOTE the theory and practice of the principles of good government and good citizenship.

TO TAKE an active interest in the civic, social, and moral welfare of the community.

TO UNITE the members in the bonds of friendship, good fellowship, and mutual understanding.

TO PROVIDE a forum for the full and free discussion of all matters of public interest, partisan politics and sectarian religion alone excepted.

TO ENCOURAGE efficiency and promote high ethical standards in business and professions, provided that no club shall hold out as one of its objects financial benefits to its members.

Lions Offer Chance To Be Of Service

Lions International is not an organization of men or members. As its official name implies, it is an International Association of Lions Clubs. In the words of its Constitution, "The membership of this Association shall consist of Lions Clubs, duly organized and chartered."

The Littlefield Lions Club, on the other hand, is an organization of members. It was formed when a group of civic-minded men in this community got together and applied to Lions International for a Lions Club charter. Those Charter Members were the organizers and founders of the club. Today, they are part of the largest service club organization in the world because those men laid the groundwork and other good citizens joined their fellowship to make it strong and useful in our community.

The organization of a Lions Club is not merely a social or fraternal gesture; it is a pledge that the men who organize it are willing and anxious to do something for the community and its people. By the same token, membership in a Lions Club is not merely a gesture of fellowship; it is a pledge that the member will devote his time, effort and resources to the club's program of community and humanitarian service. The influence and standing of a Lions Club is in direct ratio to its service program and the standing of every Lion member in his community is in direct ratio to the job his club is doing.

This imposes an obligation upon every member of the club to do his part in making the club strong, active and useful. A man who is proud of his club and his Lions membership shows it in many ways.

He attends meetings regularly, because this is the true test of interest in his club and his fellow members.

He accepts committee and job assignments willingly, and volunteers frequently for extra duty. He takes part in club discussions and contributes ideas for the betterment of his community.

He participates in the social affairs which his club sponsors, cementing the friendships which Lionism offers.

He makes every effort to join his club delegations at district, state and international conventions, because knowledge or Lionism above the club level broadens his enthusiasm and his own usefulness to the world in which he lives.

Finally, a good Lion displays his pride of membership by wearing his emblem proudly and displaying evidence of his Lions affiliation at his place of business.

A man gets something out of Lionism only in proportion to what he puts into it. He needs only invest a little time and effort in his Lions Club to get rewarding dividends in new friendships, new status and importance as a good citizen of his community, a new and heart-warming sense of usefulness because he is doing something for others.

The Littlefield Lions Club is a medium through which all of these things are available to men of good will.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Is Full, Varied

Every man, no matter how modest, likes to receive some recognition when he does an especially good job. Lions International believes in rewarding its members who are outstanding in their service to their club or the Association, and offers a number of fine awards which any Lion can earn.

First of these is the Attendance Award, given to every member who maintains perfect attendance at club meetings for one year. Starting with any meeting, if the member does not miss a meeting during the following twelve month period, or makes up his absences, he will receive a handsome lapel button.

If a member maintains perfect attendance for five years, he receives a perfect attendance tab which can be attached to his regular Lions Lapel pin. Similar tabs are awarded for 10 years and five-year multiples thereafter. Many members of Lions International have perfect attendance records of 25 years or better.

Lions International also rewards its members for continuous membership. The Old Monarch Chevron goes to members who have been continuous members for 10 years. If he was a Charter Member of the club and continues as an active member for 10 years, he receives a Charter Monarch Chevron. Both awards consist of a bar and a miniature scroll which can be attached to the lapel emblem. For each additional five year period of membership a half bar is added, and for each additional 10 year period a whole bar is added to the original chevron.

Probably the most coveted awards of Lionism are the Key Awards, given to members who help to build their clubs and the Association by bringing in new members. The first of these handsome awards is the Membership Key, awarded to a Lion who sponsors two new members.

He does not have to sponsor these two new members at one time; whenever the record shows that he has brought in two new members, the Key is awarded. The membership keys advance in importance and value; the Advancement Key is for six new members, the Master Key for twelve, the Senior Master Key for 25, and so on up to the beautiful diamond-studded International Key which is awarded to a Lion who has introduced 200 new members to Lionism.

Key Members are honored by Lions International. At the annual International Conventions, special functions are held for which only Key Members are eligible. Every member should be familiar with the Key program. The rules under which the Keys are awarded are contained in the Club President's manual and can be obtained from the Secretary.

All of these awards to individual Lions are made by Lions International upon application of the Club Secretary on forms supplied by International Headquarters. If one feels that he is entitled to any award and has not received it, he should check with the Secretary.

All of these awards to individual Lions are made by Lions

The test of a good Lion is in the regularity of his attendance at Club meetings, the maintenance of his membership and his Lions pride as shown by his interest in bringing friends and associates into his club. The awards given by Lions International are designed to honor such outstanding Lions.

Lions Can Say "Thanks" In Hundreds Of Ways

Some may be old enough to remember the nursery rhyme which went: "Hearts like doors, will open with ease, To very, very little keys; And don't forget that two of these, Are 'I thank you' and 'If you please!'"

The Lions Club that says "Thank You" heartily and often will be repaid many times over for the effort. Doors otherwise closed to the work and services of Lionism will open with ease.

Say "Thank You" to your members. Recognize the men in your club, and the leaders, who have made some outstanding contribution to the club's work. Do it with a kind word at a meeting, or make some permanent expression of the club's gratitude. The Lions International Club Supply catalog is full of certificates, plaques and tokens that can be obtained at reasonable cost and will be treasured by the recipient.

Say "Thank You" to your program entertainers and speakers. Lions International has a low-priced certificate of appreciation to be handed to your speaker. Some Clubs give their speakers a year's subscription to THE LION magazine, thus saying "thanks" and spreading the gospel of Lionism at the same time.

Say "Thank You" to your city officials and workers when they do something extra for your club.

Say "Thank You" to the membership and officers of other community organizations that pitch in to make your Lions project a success. Don't be bashful, even, about saying "thanks" to Rotary and Kiwanis on occasion. We are all pulling on the same rope.

Say "Thank You" to the ladies. Somebody has said that if it weren't for wives who let their husbands go to meetings, there would be no Lions International. The ladies do help, in hundreds of ways. Say "Thank You" to them with an occasional Ladies Night at which they are the guests of honor. No club business; just good food and entertainment.

By all means, say "Thank You" to the public. If your club has a successful fund-raising project, take an ad in the local paper to say "Thank You." Don't just forget about it until next time; pave the way for future successes with a little gratitude.

Speaking about appreciation and thoughtfulness, say a kind word at every occasion. Did you ever send a birthday card or a get-well note to a fellow Lion? Did you ever walk up to Lion Joe at a meeting and shake his hand for a job well done? Did you ever thank your program chairman for a good program, or your club president for a good meeting? Did you ever write to an International Officer or the Editor of THE LIONS, saying a kind word?

"Thank You" is a little key that opens many doors.

Lions Club Magazine Now Printed In 12 Languages

Some time ago the Beatles, a singing group from England, crashed onto the world scene. Their appeal, or lack of it, was universal. Nobody had to translate them into other languages; their singing, or whatever it was, communicated with a certain group of people in many lands regardless of the language spoken by their listeners.

Unfortunately an organization like Lions International cannot depend upon rhythm, beat and showmanship for its communications with people on the six continents. THE LION Magazine, which is the voice and show window of our Association, must speak to many people in many tongues. It must build a bridge of unity and understanding among Lions throughout the world. That is why THE LION is now published in twelve language editions, and why these language editions will grow in number as Lionism expands into new areas of the globe.

The Spanish edition, established in 1944, was the first issue to be printed in a language other than English. In 1956 a German edition was published, and soon after came editions in Swedish, French, Flemish-French, Finnish, Italian, Japanese, Farsi and Portuguese. With the recent approval of the Board of Directors to publish a Dutch edition, Lions International now has 11 language magazines, and THE LION in English makes an even dozen. Of these only the English and Spanish are published in the United States; the others are edited and printed in their respective countries. Only one magazine, The Reader's Digest, is published in more languages than THE LION.

While language editions will be added as they fulfill a purpose—to inform, unite and build Lionism around the world, no attempt will be made to emulate the wheat farmer whose harvest produced 1,000 baskets of wheat. He was n't satisfied, so he ordered smaller baskets. A week later the farmer smiled happily as he surveyed his inflated harvest. He now had 2,000 baskets of wheat.

With this in mind, the Board of Directors issued a directive governing the publication of language editions. One major requirement is that an area must now have at least 5,000 active Lions before it can qualify for a separate language edition. The directive also specifies the official material to appear in every edition; the President's article, For Your Information, worldwide Lions activities and official notices designated by the Editor-in-Chief.

Otherwise the language editions can contain any material which, in the judgment of their editors, interests the Lions of that area and contributes to the advancement, prestige and service of Lionism.

Crippled Children's Camp Project Of Texas Lions Clubs

The many projects of the local Lions clubs and the district involve the welfare of youngsters in the community and district. Among the many projects used to promote the welfare of these youngsters is the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children.

More than 8,000 handicapped youngsters have received a brightened outlook since the children's camp opened in 1953.

The camp is located at Kerrville in Central Texas. This camp is free to crippled, blind, deaf or mute children from the ages of seven through sixteen.

There are seventeen permanent buildings on the 504 acres making up the camp. More than $600,000 has been invested in this endeavor. It is maintained through subscription by various Texas Lions Clubs. Projects are underway almost any time of year to raise funds to underwrite the cost of the camp.

At the camp, these youngsters who have been denied a normal childhood through no fault of their own learn to shed their shield of shyness imposed by their handicaps.

Through mutual association with other handicapped children and skillful counseling, these youngsters have found the freedom to grow, mentally and spiritually, into useful citizens of tomorrow.

The camp has a ratio of one counselor for each two children. These counselors sleep in the bunkhouses with the children and are available for all their needs. Over 700 campers are there each summer. Many of the counselors are handicapped themselves and are particularly able to offer help and encouragement to the children.

The camp is governed by the Texas Lions League and its board of directors chosen from Lions in each of the Texas Districts.

Official Lion Emblem Is Worn By Men In 130 Countries

In 1919, when consideration was being given to the adoption of an official emblem for the International Association of Lions Clubs, two groups brought pressure to bear. One group wanted the simple letter "L" in color on a gold background; the other wanted Rosa Bonheur's famous painting of a Lion's head as the official insignia.

The final design was a compromise; the letter "L" between two lions' profiles, with the words "Lions International." It was approved by the International Board and became the official emblem on December 31, 1921.

Today that emblem is the most widely-worn symbol of service in the world. It appears on the lapels of more than 760,000 men in over 130 countries; men who have banded together into more than 19,000 clubs for the purpose of rendering unselfish service to those in need. Thousands of homeless, suffering, underprivileged and handicapped people are grateful for the light of hope this Lion's emblem has brought into their lives.

Who wears the Lions emblem? Men of many nationalities, many races and creeds, many political and religious beliefs . . . for the emblem is a bridge of understanding and cooperation between men of good will on all continents. Men like the President of the United States, the King of Sweden, the Shah of Iran, the President of the Philippines and many others who are high in the council of government around the world. Men like the Mayor of your city, the head of your school board, your councilmen . . . influential leaders in the life of their town.

Lions take pride in wearing their emblem and in being a member of Lions International. They are part of a human chain of service extending around the globe, ignoring boundaries, borders and national traits. They can help their fellow man no matter where he is located; they can fill a human need wherever it exists, because they are members of the largest association of service-minded men on the face of the earth.

There is great meaning behind the emblem they wear on their lapel, display on their automobile or show in their place of business. It means that they are an honored member of a world fellowship which has joined its hands and hearts in the service of humanity. They are putting something into life, rather than only taking something out of it.

Lions International Parent Of Clubs

Every Lions Club owes its parentage to Lions International. Without it, there would be no Lions Clubs in any community. Its name, protected by the constitution and the public laws, distinguishes it from any other organization. The insignia or emblem of Lionism belongs exclusively to us. In countries on every continent of the world it is an established, respected symbol of service.

The Lions Club receives much of its strength and ability to function from Lions International. If the club stood alone, without affiliation, its influence and resources would be limited. The organization, inspiration, direction and "know how" that comes from Lions International is a highly-valued asset.

Through his membership in Lions International, instead of having twenty or thirty friends in one club, he has hundreds of thousands of friends around the world to whom the Lions emblem and a hearty handclasp are all the introduction he needs.

Dean Of Tech School

Richard B. Amandes, dean of the School of Law at Texas Tech will address the Littlefield Lions Club at their noon meeting Jan. 18 at the Community Center.

Amandes assumed his duties at Texas Tech on July 1, 1966 following two years as associate dean to Robert W. Harrison Professor of Law at the University of California, Hastings College of Law.

He received his A.B. at the University of California in 1950, and his LL. B. in 1953. In 1956, he received his LL.M. at New York University School of Law.

Amandes began private practice in 1954 in San Francisco, and was an instructor in law at the University of Washington from 1955-56. He also has been associated with New York University, Southern Methodist and University of Wyoming.

Amandes' professional affiliations include membership in The Order of the Coif, the Edward S. Thurston Honor Society, Phi Alpha Delta, Lambda Alpha Epsilon, American Bar Association, and bar association of California, Washington and Lubbock County.

He was born in Berkeley, Calif., March 29, 1927. He and Mrs. Amandes have two children.
