Shot Down In Raid On House In Hot Springs, Where Guns And Ammunition Found; Wife Arrested, Tells
Of Meeting Outlaw Here After Ft. Worth Break

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 16 (AP)—Police raiders in a fusillade of shots here last night killed a man described as Alfred (Sonny) Lamb, 26, Texas fugitive accused of two slayings and four robberies.

A woman who at first gave her name as Florine Reynolds and later admitted she was Mrs. Lorene Lamb, was arrested after Lamb was slain. A man booked as Carl Harrison, 24, was taken into custody at Benton a few hours before the raid here.

Asst. Supt. Robert LaFollette of the state police headed the raiding party which surrounded a house a short distance from the Hot Springs business district where Lamb and the woman registered about a week ago as "Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds."

LaFollette said that as the officers crept toward the building Lamb made a move for a gun. The officers opened fire, killing the Texan instantly. The woman escaped the gunfire.

The officers found nine rifles and shotguns, a pistol and a sack filled with ammunition in Lamb's room.

Escaped Ft. Worth Jail

LaFollette said Lamb was wanted at Huntsville, Tex., on a charge of murder and robbery and had escaped jail at Fort Worth, Texas, where he was held on a charge of robbery with firearms. The state police official said a department of justice bulletin warned officers to "shoot to kill" if they had trouble arresting the fugitive.

LaFollette said Harrison was arrested because he had been seen in company with Lamb at Hot Springs. No charge was filed against the Benton man.

Wife Tells Of Meeting
Lamb In Big Spring

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 16 (AP)—A woman taken into custody here last night when a raiding party of state, county and city officers shot to death Alfred Lamb, 26, escaped Texas convict, admitted today she had been married to Lamb since August of last year.

State Ranger William Armstrong said the woman, an attractive young brunette, told him her name was Lorene Lamb and that she had married the man at Walters, Okla., Aug. 22, 1936.

Armstrong said she told him her maiden name was Lorene Feaster and that her home was in San Angelo, Tex. She said her mother now lives at Colorado, Tex.

She denied the state ranger said, any knowledge of his criminal career other than that she knew he "was wanted for murder."

Armstrong said she told him she had never asked Lamb any questions about his past and that she didn't know anything about nine guns and a pistol recovered at the scene of the shooting, except that Lamb was carrying them "in case something happened."

She told Armstrong, he said, that she and Lamb had been in Hot Springs for the past two months but had lived at the scene of last night's raid only about a week. He said she told him she met Lamb last June at Big Spring, Tex., after he escaped from the Tarrant county jail.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES TO MEET TONIGHT

Faced with the necessity of action on the selection of a high school athletic director and many other urgent school problems, the Big Spring independent school district board of trustees will convene in an important session at 7:30 this evening.

Whether there would be a definite selection for athletic director remained conjectural. Proximity of the opening of the football season is creating pressure for an early choice.

The board also will talk the matter of repairs to the east wing of the high school building, of pegging teachers salaries, of delinquent tax collections.

Three Measures Sought—
Congress Pushes For Adjournment

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Administration leaders, reluctant to junking wage-hour legislation until next year, buckled down today to jam three key measures through congress before adjournment.

They conceded they could not pry loose the controversial labor standards bill from the house rules committee and that even if they could, members were in no mood to remain for a long floor fight.

This decision left these measures on the program, which probably can be completed Saturday night or early next week.

A bill to end tax loopholes, against which little opposition has been recorded. It is an outgrowth of the inquiry into tax dodging recommended by President Roosevelt. The house agreed to debate it today, and the senate will take it up Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—The senate judiciary committee approved today the supreme court nomination of Senator Black (D-Ala.) by a vote of 13 to 4, the overwhelming democratic majority of the committee agreed to report the liberal Alabama's nomination favorably and at once.

Democratic leaders planned to call the nomination up in the senate tomorrow for confirmation. Republicans already, however, had served notice they would urge its reconsideration for hearings, foreboding, at least, a bitter debate over the appointment.

The committee turned down requests for general hearings on the nomination, and refused also to delay action long enough to permit Black to appear and be questioned on his views about judicial review.

Clyde Roberts, 25, and Rowe Creager, 22, both of Graham, Tex., drowned in a lake near Wichita Falls when their motorboat capsized. Mrs. Howard C. TWO DIE IN CORPUS CHRISTI SHOOTING

CORPUS CHRISTI, Aug. 16 (AP)—Marion Lemeul Dickey, 43, half owner of the Cozy Inn, and Ivan Yarbrough, 27, were killed early this morning in a mysterious shooting affray which happened back of the inn.

Dickey was shot to death when he left his trailer car after a man had awakened him and said the inn was being robbed. Yarbrough's body, a bullet wound through the chest, was found approximately 100 feet away an hour later.

Coroner Jack Sutherland ordered an autopsy to determine whether the bullets in the two men's bodies had been fired by their own guns or by another. Dickey was lying face down, his gun under him, and Yarbrough also was lying face down, his gun still in his hand.

SUIT IS FILED FOR CUSTODY OF CHILD

Custody of a 4-year-old boy was asked by Mabel Menking and husband, Glen Menking, Monday in a suit filed in 70th district court against C. R. Thompson, former husband of Mrs. Menking.

The plaintiff charged that the defendant was given temporary custody of the child following their divorce in May, 1935, in keeping with an agreement, but that he had refused to let her see or gain custody of the child in recent months.

COTTON RESEARCH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—The house agriculture committee recommended today a senate-approved bill authorizing establishment of a research laboratory in the south to develop new industrial uses for cotton.

The measure, sponsored by Senator Hille (D-Miss.), would authorize an appropriation of $250,000 a year.

Mattern Heads
Search For Russians

Success Would Mean
Payment In Full For His Own Rescue

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—The Soviet embassy announced today that the government radio station at Irkutsk, Siberia, had picked up signals "of a weak and irregularly working transmitter" believed to be the emergency radio set of Sigismund Levaneffsky, missing Soviet flier.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 16 (AP)—Jimmy Mattern, noted American aviator prepared to take off today in his speedy, twin-motored monoplane to search the Arctic wastes for six missing Russian fliers.

Mattern arrived only last night after a record-breaking non-stop flight from Oakland, Calif., to join in the search for Sigismund Levaneffsky, soviet ace pilot, and his five companions.

The American flier said he would traverse the 148th meridian in quest of a clue to the fate of the Russians who disappeared Friday on a 4,000-mile flight from Moscow to Fairbanks.

Mattern, who completed the hazardous 2,600-mile flight from Oakland in 13 hours and 35 minutes, conferred at once with Joe Crosson, Alaska's famed mercy flier, and representatives of the Russian government.

A successful search by Mattern would mean payment in full of a debt incurred by him in 1933 when Levaneffsky and a co-pilot rescued the American when he was forced down in Siberia and crashed, fracturing an ankle.

The first day's flight will take him over the ice floes of the Arctic where the four-motored Russian plane may have been forced down. He said he would return to Fairbanks tonight without attempting to land en route, and if the first survey is in vain will be ready to continue his search as long as hope remains.

"Hank" Jones, Mattern's mechanic, will accompany him in his rescue mission. Clear weather was reported over most of the route the mercy plane will fly today.

Meanwhile, attempts will be made to coordinate the aerial search over the polar cap by establishing contact with Russian rescue planes flying from Moscow.

Crosson, who has directed the search for the last three days, said today that if the Russian plane landed in Alaska a systematic search should find it.

"A rescue in the Arctic regions would be much more difficult," he said. Somewhere between here and the North Pole, 1,400 miles away, Pilot Sigismund Levaneffsky, one of the soviet's ace airmen, and five companions disappeared Friday on a 4,000-mile flight to Fairbanks from Moscow.

Indicted In
2 MurdersWoman Has Been Questioned In Other
Mysterious Deaths

CINCINNATI, Aug. 16 (AP)—After receiving evidence in what Prosecutor Dudley Miller Outcall termed "the biggest mass murder in this country," the Hamilton county grand jury today indicted Mrs. Anna Hahn, 31-year-old mother, on two charges of murder.

The jurors charged her with the "malicious and premeditated" slaying of George Gieselman, 67, who died suddenly July 6, and Jacob Wagner, 78, a teamster, who died June 3.

The two indictments were reported to Judge Charles S. Bell within 15 minutes after the jury was called to consider the case. "A rescue in the Arctic regions would be much more difficult," he said. Somewhere between here and the North Pole, 1,400 miles away, Pilot Sigismund Levaneffsky, one of the soviet's ace airmen, and five companions disappeared Friday on a 4,000-mile flight to Fairbanks from Moscow.

Only four witnesses testified. Acting Detective Chief Patrick Hayes, Lieut. George Schatle, chief of the police homicide squad, Detective Walter Hart and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Frank M. Gussweiler presented briefly evidence uncovered in the far-reaching inquiry.

Schatle said Mrs. Hahn had been linked "either directly or indirectly" with fatalities which date from the death in 1933 of Ernest Kohler, elderly teamster, to George Obendorfer, moderately wealthy cobbler, who died August 1 in a Colorado Springs hospital. Kohler had been uncovered evidence which indicated "she bought enough poison to kill half the town."

At noon Monday, with only a few hours left in which to make renditions to the city tax office, 289 persons had rendered property since one week ago in an effort to qualify themselves for voting in the $50,000 municipal bond issue August 26 for a hospital site purchase.

H. W. Whitney, city tax assessor, said that no renditions could be accepted after 5 p. m. since the board of equalization goes into conference this evening. No person who has not rendered property for taxation to the city this year will be qualified to cast a vote in this or any other municipal bond issue during the year.

Fifteen absentee votes have been cast in the election.

Crew Here Aug. 24
Back from Austin where he participated in a conference with members of the board of control, their engineers and specialists, and two other architects for the $317,000 West Texas hospital to be located here, W. T. Strange, Jr., today said that "this first building program is a mere bagatelle compared with the eventual size of the institution."

He said that the technical crew of the board of control would be here August 24 to inspect the site and stake out locations for the buildings.

Eight Buildings
Initial construction will consist of eight buildings, said Strange. Two of them, the hospital and a psychopathic ward, will be arranged for additions while the others will be complete units within themselves.

Buildings will be of the Georgian colonial type with red and light brick, stone trim and tile pitch roofs. "The buildings will be unusually beautiful and imposing," said Strange, "as well as thoroughly constructed and fireproof throughout."

—And Eight More
The original project calls for construction on a quadrangle with room for eight additional buildings on the plot. Technicians are also planning on providing for some other score buildings flanking the quadrangle for the complete hospital layout.

"I was repeatedly impressed by the board of control's plans for the eventual magnitude of the project," declared Strange. "They made it plain that one reason for making a large grant of land was because of the ultimate size of the institution."

Preliminary plans for the hospital are already in progress, he disclosed. Mercury readings at the Big Spring airport got no higher than 85 Sunday afternoon, and during the early hours of Monday morning the mercury dropped as low as 72. Noon reading today was 86 degrees, some lower than at the same time last week.

LEGION CONVENTION
NOT CANCELLED

TRINITY, Aug. 16 (AP)—Drury Phillips, state commander of the American Legion, emphasized today that the state convention definitely is not off.

Commenting on a story carried by a news agency (not the Associated Press) that officials called the legion convention off on the advice of state health officers because of possible danger of infantile paralysis, Phillips said today:

"The only convention cancelled was that of the Sons of the Legion, scheduled to have been held at San Angelo in conjunction with the legion convention."

"We made the decision on the advice of state health officials, who feared the gathering of a large group of boys from all sections of state might possibly promote the spread of infantile paralysis."

Many Texans slept comfortably Sunday night for the first time in weeks as scattered showers and a cool south wind brought at least a temporary respite from extreme heat.

At Dallas, Dr. Jos. L. Cline of the United States weather bureau was not optimistic despite his prediction of scattered showers for East Texas and local showers in North and West Texas. A hot spot in the Dakotas, he said, is expected to radiate to Texas. Just how hot it will become depends on how much the sun will be hidden by clouds.

FAVOR YEAR'S POSTPONEMENT OF FARM TENANCY PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—The house appropriations committee recommended today that the start of the administration's farm tenancy program be postponed a year.

The agriculture department's request for $30,000,000 to inaugurate the program, authorized earlier in the session, was not written into the third deficiency appropriation bill reported today.

Advanced as one of the major pieces of farm legislation of the second Roosevelt term, the tenancy act authorized $10,000,000 this year for liberal loans to worthy tenants for purchase of farms and $10,000,000 for retirement of submarginal lands.

The committee, in a report accompanying the bill, said: "On the basis of the evidence presented and a consideration of the entire problem involved in farm tenancy, there is no emergency presented for the inclusion of the item at this time."

It also said plans of the agriculture department for administration of the program had not "matured."

"For these and budgetary reasons," it added, "the committee feels that further consideration of the matter be postponed until the regular bill of the next session by which time a clearer approach to the administration of the act can be worked out by the department."

At hearings on the measure, Milo Perkins, assistant resettlement administrator, told the house appropriations committee that if the funds were provided most of the money would be used where the tenancy rate was the highest.

The Texas loan allotment would be $225,000. Mississippi would come second with $243,173, and Georgia third with $257,546.

Machinery Set

Awaiting Orders
From President

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Government machinery is ready to make loans to farmers on cotton, corn, wheat or any other crop, agriculture department officials said today, as soon as President Roosevelt or Secretary Wallace says "go ahead."

They said experience gained in three seasons of cotton loans and two of corn loans would speed action whenever terms and conditions are met.

At the same time they warned winter wheat growers to keep in mind the crop control program which was the other end of the bargain between Mr. Roosevelt and farm state senators.

The Agriculture Adjustment Administration said not more than 80 per cent of the "base acreage" should be planted for harvest in 1938. The advice was given now, officials said, because winter wheat will be in the ground before congress can enact farm legislation.

Pledge For Legislation
The president agreed at a conference with southern senators to make cotton loans, but enacted a promise that general farm legislation would be the first order of business when congress convenes again.

The senate promptly passed a resolution binding itself to this program. Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the house agriculture committee predicted the house would approve it by Tuesday or Wednesday.

Agriculture department officials said they expected the loans to be ordered formally soon after the house acts.

Farm bloc senators said the program would be aimed at assuring farmers 12 cents a pound for their cotton.

Senators who talked with the president said loan programs also would be worked out for corn, hogs, wheat, and the other major commodities if prices drop as has the cotton market.

Others To Be Evacuated; Fierce Battle
Still Is Raging

SHANGHAI, Aug. 16 (AP)—American women and children passed safely through shellfire today and began an officially ordered exodus from stricken Shanghai.

The first of the hundreds who must leave this city of war within the next few days were sped through the heart of Chinese-Japanese air, land and sea battle along the Whangpoo river — on their way to safety abroad.

Battle In 4th Day
Shell fragments tore the decks and roofs of the tender which carried 200 Americans—many of them refugees—to the homebound liner President Taft, waiting off the Whangpoo mouth.

Shanghai was surrounded by the 15-mile front of the Chinese-Japanese war, which raged through its fourth day here, and United States authorities ordered all their women and children out.

Three hundred fifty more are to leave tomorrow for Manila on the Dollar liner President McKinley. A like number will go Wednesday on the President Jefferson.

The big liner President Hoover, bringing United States marine reinforcements from Manila, can carry about 1,000 American refugees from Shanghai about the end of the week. The Red Cross at Manila is preparing for their reception.

The fiercest land fighting of the battle for Shanghai roared tonight along the whole front around Shanghai and north of the Yangtze river. Starshells from both Chinese and Japanese lines kept the sky almost continuously alight.

No Agreement
Foreign consuls say hope fades for preventing a repetition of Saturday's international area Chinese bombings, which killed and wounded thousands. The Japanese agreed to refrain from flying over foreign areas south of Soochow creek but the Chinese refused to promise this unless the Japanese "cease to use the international settlement as a military base."

As a massed fleet of 43 Chinese warplanes brought the conflict to the heart of Shanghai again this morning, Americans began packing for flight and concentrating at designated safety points. Officials then decided the evacuation was imperative.

One hundred additional United States marines and sailors were landed from the flagship Augusta to augment the 1,050 marines already patrolling Shanghai's international settlement and to cover the evacuation.

Destroyers To Steer
Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander in chief of the United States Asiatic fleet, ordered two American destroyers to steam at Shanghai.

Damage Suit Result
Of Fatal Crash

Damages totaling more than $25,000 were asked by George C. Bentley and others in a suit filed in 70th district court Monday against George R. Bentley of Ward county.

The suit was an outgrowth of a car crash one mile west of Compton on Aug. 30, 1936 in which the wife of George C. Bentley sustained fatal injuries.

According to the petition, the crash occurred when the George R. Bentley machine turned over the road, colliding with the other Bentley machine.

For the loss of his wife and other injuries, George C. Bentley asked damages of $25,000. His parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Springline, also of Oufuskee, Okla., asked $2,500 for suffering and pain caused by the death of their daughter.

The principals in the suit are no relation.

THE SPORTS PARADE

BY HANK HART

You can look for Ben Denier's Anderson Devils to go a long way in the district softball tournament at Sweetwater this week. The Devils have mopped up on all the outside opposition they have encountered this season and the three additions from the Cosden Oilers are sure to help.

Stacey, Townsend and Morgan, borrowed from the Oilers, can all hit and are known as "clutch" players. They open against the Gulf Oilers of Sweetwater, one of the more powerful teams in the meeting.

Gulf won the right to meet the Devils by defeating the Sunbeam aggregation, Sweetwater, in the final elimination game Friday night in Sweetwater. Mainstays of the Oilers team are Sheridan, centerfielder, Adsher, second base, and Whit, left fielder, Kyle, third baseman and Potter, pitcher.

L. D. Cunningham, who is going to play with Daniel, took part in several games with the Standard Oilers when that team won the Colorado city title. The flashy pitcher was going to play with the Mitchell county team in the district meet until he found out that Ben had entered a team. He led the Standard outfit to a one sided victory over the YMBA team Friday to qualify it for the Sweetwater tourney.

Additional news from Sweetwater tells us that Laurence Priddy, who succeeded Ed Hennig as coach of the Mustangs, will open practice today for a big season that is little more than a month away. Priddy will be assisted by Adrian Clark and C. L. Harless.

Local golfers, those 21 years of age and under, may find this interesting. The Light, one of San Antonio's leading newspapers, is sponsoring a tournament over the Breckenridge Park course which will decide the Texas junior golf champion. The 1937 meeting, which begins August 30 and continues for four days, is the eleventh annual affair conducted by the south Texas paper. Entries close at noon Saturday, August 28. Prizes will be given in all flights, including consolation, and to the winner of the long driving contest. If interested, write the Light's sports editor.

Cleaning the cuff: The Imperial Valley softball team, which hit this circuit in their nationwide tour last year, are back in Texas. They're on their way toward the National meeting to be held in Chicago next month and will play in Wichita Falls this week. Pepper Martin intends to accompany the Devils to the Sweetwater tournament to watch his son, Little Pep, perform at short stop for the locals. Congrats to Wallace Fugler and his wife. The Coahomans have just become the parents of an eight pound boy born in local hospital Saturday. Wallace was plenty excited but he managed to play baseball Sunday and came up with a base hit. Cedric Harrison, Sr., Seymour, won the annual West Texas Press association golf meet at Sweetwater last week. J. T. Hammett, Pioneer, capped the Brady invitational golf tourney, beating Ira Mayhew, Brady, in the final round, 6 and 4. Hammett won over Joe Dick Slaughter in the semifinals.

Stacey To Play With Devils

Pat Stacey, outfielder, will join Ben Denier's forces when the Anderson Devils take the field in their first game of the district softball tournament Tuesday night at 8:45 p. m. in Sweetwater.

The ex-Cosden outfielder joins two mates who will be eligible for the district meeting.

Oilers who formerly played with the Oilers but who are now wearing Devil uniforms are Fred Townsend and Jake Morgan, infielders.

Daniel will use Morgan at shortstop and Townsend at third base, switching Alton Bostick to first base, he indicated Monday morning.

Two pitchers will make the trip. Bobby Savage, regular twirler, is slated to start while L. D. Cunningham will go along in case Savage falters.

Cities were incorporated in Spain, France and England in the 11th and 12th centuries.

SELECTION OF HIGH SCHOOL MEETOR IS UP TO BOARD

To Consider Applicants Tonight

Brandon, Murphy And Coleman Have Applied

One of three candidates is virtually certain of selection as high school athletic director when the school board meets tonight to consider the applications of Carmen Brandon, Pat Murphy and Tonto Coleman, who succeeded George Brown.

Other candidates are being considered but the aforementioned trio are the most prominently mentioned in local sporting circles.

The meeting, twice delayed, will be held in the high school building at 7:30 p. m. with all members, including President J. B. Collins, expected to be in attendance.

Brandon, who worked out with the boys in spring training, has been assistant under Brown one year. He assumed that position following his graduation from Rice Institute, Houston.

Both Murphy and Coleman are well known in West Texas. Murphy, former head mentor at Austin high school, El Paso, is now assistant coach under Dewey Mayhew at Abilene. Coleman has been chief aide to Harry Taylor, San Angelo, for the past four years.

The annual football training sessions is expected to begin within two weeks after the selection of the director.

Ringers To Be Under Scrutiny Of Assoc.
SAHATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 16 (AP)—Ringers, so-called "last vice of the American turf," came under the scrutiny of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners today.

Edwin J. Brown of Seattle, Wash., association president, in an address prepared for the opening session of the organization's three-day summer meeting, urged adoption of a rule requiring owners to present the registration papers of all their horses to the racing secretary at each meeting.

"In this way," Brown said, "we racing commissioners can successfully cope with the practice of running horses under names other than their own, the last vice of the American turf."

Brown pointed to the four-year-old association's war on the doping of horses and declared that the use of narcotics to stimulate the runners had been "practically eliminated."

Five Champs Expected To Repeat

Amarillo May Have Hard Time In Own District

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Aug. 16 (AP)—Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown of monarchy—or football—and the Texas interscholastic league's gridiron legions march to the wars next month with that fact uppermost in mind, all aimed at knocking the high and mighty Amarillo Sandstorm from a pedestal occupied for three years.

Close critics say the opportunity is good and that if Amarillo comes back for another title—even a district crown—it will be a major upset of the 19-year history of the league.

Coaches and sport writers predict only five of the 1937 district champions will repeat and that few of these are anywhere near certain, but they do pick Corpus Christi either to advance to the finals or to fall before a team with strength to compare with the best in league annals.

Coach Rocky Rundell of Robstown, a district opponent of Corpus Christi, is quoted as saying he will have his best team in Robstown history but that he does not think the cotton pickers can beat Corpus.

Lynch Festsalistic
Howard Lynch bewails the fact that 17 of his 23 lettermen at Amarillo depart and says Pampa will be strong and Berger good in the District One race. J. F. Hilliard, who coached Kerrville to the finals last season and goes to Plainview this year, says Amarillo has a good chance to repeat as district champion with its fine system.

Coach Rocky Rundell of Robstown, a district opponent of Corpus Christi, is quoted as saying he will have his best team in Robstown history but that he does not think the cotton pickers can beat Corpus.

Kerrville, Hilliard says, lost practically all regulars and its reserve strength is low. Added to its worries is the recent ruling of ineligibility in the case of Slick McCaleb, star back, on the same limit.

El Paso High in District Four, with a veteran team returning; McKinney in District Six, with 11 lettermen, a 212-pound line and 172-pound backfield; Longview in District Nine; Lufkin in District Ten, with practically the same team as last season, and Corpus Christi in District Fifteen are the champions selected to repeat.

Longview Favorite
The District Nine race looks like a free-for-all. Opposing coaches pick Longview but Coach P. E. Shottwell of that town says the title rests between Tyler and Glade-water.

W. C. Weir, coach at Schreiner Institute and who was at Vernon last year, picks Vernon, Olney and Wichita Falls to battle it out for the District Two crown with Wichita carrying an edge in reserve strength.

Cosby Harry Taylor of San Angelo gives Breckenridge the nod in the Oil Belt, adding that Abilene and San Angelo will have strong teams.

Denison and Sherman loom most powerful in District Five but Gainesville will be quite tough, according to Logan Stollenwerk, Denison mentor.

Paschal is favored in the Fort Worth district with nine lettermen and the biggest and most experienced squad in the sector.

Woodrow Wilson, with its best prospects in several years, is picked to dethrone North Dallas in the Dallas district.

Waco is the talk of District Eleven. The Bengals are rated as the strongest team in all Texas at the finish last year, will return heavy and experienced.

Regulars Returning
Thomas Jefferson is getting top rating in the San Antonio district, practically all 1937 regulars returning, and John Reagan is accorded the same honor in the Houston district. Reagan has a veteran team.

Port Arthur has seven lettermen, only one of whom is eligible under a ruling made by the district committee that eligibility at Port Arthur, a 12-grade school, must begin in the eighth instead of ninth grade as heretofore. Port Arthur has announced it will continue as in the past. Beaumont has an experienced team for the District Fourteen race.

Bobby Cannon, Edinburg coach, picks Harlingen to take the title in District Sixteen pointing to a strong line and two star backs in Brady and Driscoll, but adding that all teams will be stronger than last season.

Publinksters To Work
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16 (AP)—The country's leading public linkers golfers were well back on the way to a work-a-day existence today with the national trophy resting with a personable Los Angeles fireman, Bruce McCormick.

In an exciting finish to a championship flight dominated by California golfers, curly haired McCormick defeated his neighbor and bosom golfing pal, Don Erickson of Alhambra, one up on the 36th hole Saturday.

Paul Waser found St. Louis pitching easy meat and the Pirates picked up a twin win, 8-4 and 4-0, to make it three straight over the Cards. The Brooklyn and the Boston Bees battled through two acts of a comedy of errors, and split.

COACHES IN DREAM GAME

DUTCH MEYER MATTY BELL

That's the question Southwestern football fans are asking concerning these two famous head grid coaches, Meyer of Texas Christian University and Bell of Southern Methodist, who last year gained distinction as the only men in history to pilot a group of college all-stars to a football victory over a recognized professional team. Directing a band of stellar stars, all seniors of the previous season's college campaign, they defeated the mighty professional Chicago Bears, 7 to 6, in the South's first dream game. Because of their outstanding success in 1936, the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition athletic committee unanimously elected Meyer and Bell to coach a similar group of college all-stars this year and accepted a challenge by George Halas, president-coach of the Chicago Bears, for a return meeting with Meyer and Bell. All indications are that this year's all-star team, headed by Stinging Sammy Baugh, will be even greater than the 1936 eleven. Can they upset the powerful Bears again? Bell and Meyer are hopeful. The answer will be given the night of September 6 in the big Cotton Bowl at the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition, where a near capacity crowd is expected to see the greatest assembly of gridiron talent in action that has ever been brought together in the South.

Athletics Pull Prize Upset Of Season

Yanks Maintain 10 Game Lead, Tigers Are Defeated

By SID FEDER Associated Press Sports Writer

Did you ever see a worm turning?

They're doing it all over the place these days. Washington's walloping Senators are breezing along on an eight game winning streak. Pittsburgh's pathetic Pirates are plodding back toward third place in the National League. And Cincinnati's collapsible Reds have just made the high-and-mighty Chicago Cubs holler "uncle."

But for the championship of the society of turning worms, and for the classic job of upsetting the applecart since Mrs. O'Leary's cow made things red hot at Chicago, we give you Connie Mack's collegiate collection of Athletics.

They're either a very brave band of youngsters, or they're being fooled every one—including themselves—for a long time. Every other outfit in the league falls apart at mere mention of the Yankees and their big war clubs, and suffers from a combination of D.T.'s and paralysis of the winning column at the first sign of their approach.

But Connie Mack's crew, staggering along in the league cellar, looking every one—including themselves—for a long time. Every other outfit in the league falls apart at mere mention of the Yankees and their big war clubs, and suffers from a combination of D.T.'s and paralysis of the winning column at the first sign of their approach.

Young Edgar Smith, who had been trying all season for his first straight victory, completed the sweep of the series with a seven-out game lead in the pennant race that hasn't been duplicated since May, 1934. Not since then, when the Cleveland Indians accomplished it, has any club swept a three game series from the Yanks. Sunday's game ended 5-4.

The breaks made it easy for the A's yesterday. Joe DiMaggio committed two errors that set up three runs for the Quaker City combination. But despite the breaks, and disregarding the possibility that the current Yankee slump is a let-down from the team's recent tough series, the A's go down in the books as the greatest little surprise of the season.

Detroit Loses
Despite the victory, however, the Yankees maintained their top-of-the-league lead in the pennant race, since the second-place Detroit Tigers kicked away a six-run lead, and lost, 9-7, to the Browns.

Over in the National League, meantime, the jinx-loaded Chicago Cubs were walloped thoroughly and all over the lot by the Reds and lost a double-header, 13-6 and 9-4.

As a result, their league lead was cut to four games—shortest in two weeks—as the second-place Giants turned back a late rally by the Phillies to register a 5-3 decision for their third straight win.

Washington belted the Red Sox twice, 9-3 and 5-2, to climb into fifth place and drop the Bostonians to fourth. The White Sox advanced to third and shoved the Indians down to sixth by trouncing Cleveland, 5 to 4 and 3-2, in a bargain bill.

Paul Waser found St. Louis pitching easy meat and the Pirates picked up a twin win, 8-4 and 4-0, to make it three straight over the Cards. The Brooklyn and the Boston Bees battled through two acts of a comedy of errors, and split.

Coahoma Wins Over Eagles

Maxie Beard On Hill Tames Ackerly With 4 Hitters

COAHOMA, Aug. 16 — While Maxie Beard was pitching four hit ball and striking out 12 men, Wallace Fugler's Coahoma Bulldogs routed Dee Froman from the mound in the third with a three run outburst and went on to defeat the Ackerly Eagles, 4-1, here Sunday afternoon.

Beard contributed to the attack off Froman and his successor, Tip Hatcher, by getting singles in the third and in the eighth.

E. Rose singled to begin the third inning and was moved to second when Beard came through with a one base blow. Aubrey Harlow followed with a line drive that got through the Ackerly right fielder for four bases.

The invaders managed to count their only run in the sixth on a stolen base and an overthrow.

Beard initiated the eighth with a base hit and was moved all the way around to third base on Fugler's single. Riggs batted him across the plate.

The Bulldogs collected eight hits off the two Ackerly twirlers. The two teams will meet in Ackerly next Sunday.

Burlesque Without The Strip Tease; Ain't The Art It Use T'er Be

By CHARLES NORMAN
AP Feature Service Writer

NEW YORK—The dying dirge of burlesque sounds these days and nights in an unfamiliar honky-tonk atmosphere.

The girls are there, the comedians are there, and the barker still chants his ingratiating spiel before and after the show, even as of old; but movies, the night clubs and the edict of the city fathers against the strip-tease have taken their toll. Burlesque ain't what it used to be. It may never be again.

Valiant was the word for the Minsky brothers and Allen Gilbert, of Broadway and Forty-second street, respectively, when they reopened after a two-month forced shut-down, but to the reaction of burlesque habitués to their shows was: "What is it?" It wasn't burlesque, it wasn't vaudeville, it wasn't a revue. All, however, agreed whatever it was, it was terrible.

Its Identity Lost

Burlesque was a formula: a song, a gag, a girl who undressed rhythmically—known as strip-tease. Without the strip-tease, burlesque, a step-child of Theatricals, anyway, albeit a lusty one, lost its identity completely. No amount of dancing and singing talent, no amount of gags, could give back to the devoted followers of the art of Gypsy Rose Lee and other stars in the burlesque galaxy what the law had taken away.

The Minsky brothers tried a colored revue; their Oriental theater is closed now until September, after playing for a week to an almost empty house.

Asked how burlesque followers reacted to the new entertainment, if it can be called that, Morton Minsky said, somewhat ruefully.

"It's like going into a restaurant famous for a specialty, asking for it, and being told it's no longer on the bill of fare."

Greens In First Row

Mr. Gilbert, the irrepressible impresario of the Forty-second street Apollo, whose beautiful girls in the heyday of burlesque were the envy of other producers, tried to recapture the departed glories, but detached observers are agreed the effort is a flop.

Mr. Gilbert is featuring Miss Ann Corio and a large cast, but only toward the end of the show is there an attempt at the "real thing." How feeble it is may be gauged by old-time followers of burlesque. Miss Corio, beautiful and sprightly, sits in a sylvan scene, and removes her dress, but holds it close to her. An imperceptible groan goes up from the front row.

What September will bring, along with the American Legion convention, to one can predict; but for the time being, all are agreed, burlesque is dead.

BALD ENTERTAINMENT

Ann Corio, a featured player of the new burlesque, teases the customers in baldhead row, though the law won't permit her to do an old-fashioned strip-tease act.

BURLESQUE LEFT-OVERS

Smoking-car stories still hold a place on the burlesque stage but the drastic clean-up has taken much of the raw edge off the gags.

HONOR GIRL WEDS

TECUMSEH, Okla., Aug. 16 (AP)—A career as a homemaker with her 21-year-old husband began today for a 17-year-old honor girl of the state training school for girls.

The brown-eyed bride (Evelyn Steel), married yesterday to a store clerk (Hercie Cook) listed as assets only a few wedding gifts and a skillful skillet hand.

The couple's romance, interrupted two years ago when the girl was committed to the school, was rekindled at the "date night" Mrs. Creighton Burnham, superintendent, instituted recently to give the girls social poise.

NEGRO IS HELD IN SLAYING OF TEXAS PRISON GUARD

HOUSTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Shep Harris, 66-year-old negro, was in jail here today charged with murder in the slaying of Sid J. Wheeler, 47, Darrington state prison farm guard, whose bullet-riddled body had been found on a roadside yesterday at dawn.

Sheriff Norfleet Hill said the negro had confessed, blaming his action on an argument over driving a truck to Houston in which Wheeler was riding. The sheriff said Harris told him Wheeler had engaged him to drive him to Houston near Arcola after the guard's automobile had been damaged in an accident.

Hill said the negro confessed he knocked Wheeler down twice, grabbed the guard's gun and then "shot him three or four times."

Officers found a lumber receipt near the dead man's body which they traced to Harris.

Funeral services for Wheeler will be conducted tomorrow afternoon. He was survived by his widow, a daughter, three sisters and a brother.

Vocational Funds At New High

Training Allotment
This Year Double
Former Sums

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—The task of training the farmer mechanic and housewife to do a better job has received a $21,629,000 boost from congress.

Appropriation of this sum for vocational education has more than doubled previous federal allotments. In each of the last three years the appropriation has been about $10,000,000.

All the money will be expended by the states, the federal government merely making allotments on a population basis.

Of the total, $7,146,000 appropriated under the continuing Smith-Hughes act of 1917 must be matched dollar-for-dollar by the states. The remainder, appropriated under the George-Dee act of 1936 requires the states to put up 50 cents for each federal dollar.

The enrollment in vocational classes in 1936 was 1,381,701, an increase of 134,178 over 1935.

Some of the uses which the states make of additional federal funds are:

New programs in backward communities, vocational education in the distributive occupations, special classes for untrained, unemployed youth, apprentice training and retraining for unemployed whose special skills have suffered from long disuse.

MAN SHOT AFTER A QUARREL WITH HIS STEP-DAUGHTER

WHARTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—A quarrel between a 17-year-old girl and her stepfather over her visit to town in the family automobile today had led to the death by gunshot of the stepfather, Jack Watkins, 40, an oil well driller.

The girl, Mozelle McDaniel, was quoted by Deputy Sheriff Carl Siebrecht as saying her stepfather came to Wharton to return her home, and told her he would punish her.

The officer said members of the family informed him Watkins had told the girl to return home early and that he went to get her when she failed to return.

After the girl and Watkins returned home, Siebrecht said, she obtained a .22 rifle. Sixteen shots were fired, 11 of which struck Watkins. He died en route to a hospital. The girl was held here, but no charge had been filed.

The shooting occurred at the Watkins home about five miles from here.

SIMPLIFIED RETURN FOR TAXPAYERS NEXT YEAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Treasury officials already are arranging to shorten the long lines of income taxpayers who customarily throng the collection offices on March 15.

They will issue a new and simplified income tax return, to distribute it on January 2, and appeal to taxpayers to avoid the mid-March scramble.

Authorities said today the forms will be designed primarily to make the task of paying taxes easier for the "little fellow" but that returns for upper-bracket individuals and corporations also may be revised and clarified.

Ever-Normal Cash Box

The business advisory council of the department of commerce incubated the other day what appears to be a swell idea. Stealing a leaf from Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, the council proposed an "ever-normal" cash box. In prosperous years the country would pile up in the treasury anywhere from a half a billion dollars, to be used in public works and other made-work to relieve distress in time of depression.

There are difficulties and objections in the way, to be sure. In the first place the government isn't able to pile up cash surpluses in prosperous years; somebody always wants to lower taxes and confine revenue to actual needs. In the second place, a huge cash reserve would be to congress and politicians in general what a red flag is to a bull. The free-spending boys would die of apoplexy or something if they couldn't get their hands on that cash; it would be a constant source of logrolling, medicine-making and backscratching—too great a temptation for your average congressman or bureaucrat to bear.

Furthermore, it would be impossible to pile up much of a cash reserve for the simple reason that even in most prosperous times there are anywhere from three to five million people out of work.

But the suggestion shows that some of our best minds are at work on the problem of ever-normal employment, and it may be in time they will be able to reach a partial solution.

Meanwhile, there is more need in this country for more people who think and act for themselves than for people who look to the government to do it for them.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Much of the New York that O. Henry knew has passed under the wheels of the wrecking crew, yet the town still continues to be a grab-bag of tag lines and incredible ironies. The theatrical boarding house, the brownstone fronts, the carriages and the gas lights—these are in limbo with the cigar store Indian and the bicycle for two. Yet O. Henry would crack his heels over the inexplicable situations and the picturesque characters which are walking the street, waiting for some author to toss them into print.

Take Pat O'Malley, for instance, and the contest she arranged for the American Airlines and the Butterick Pattern people... Pat is a girl and one of the best publicists in town... She handles the publicity for the American Airlines, and the idea was a nation-wide contest to discover the best dressed woman in America who made her own clothes.

So they held the contest, and it was a great success, and they found just the girl they were after... But even an O. Henry, with the license of fiction, would have had a hard time thinking up a better tag-line... The girl who won the American Airlines contest—was a hostess on a rival airline.

If you think this is an isolated case, consider the hatcheck girl in Maillard's restaurant on Madison avenue... She is a registered surgeon... Hal the doorman under those bright Fifth avenue awnings are grand dukes and barons... A "poor" bootblack near the Battery died recently and left an estate of half a million dollars... A panhandler brought into night court by an unsympathetic cop turned out to be a holder of vast real estate properties in New Jersey... So it goes and such is the pattern of this glad, sad, bad island, where everyone, for awhile, is nice to everybody else, because, before you know it, the guy next to you might turn out to be your long lost grandmother.

You think that is stretching it? Mark Warnow, the musical director, walked into a shooting gallery on 6th avenue the other day and got a quarter in change with his initials which he had scratched there 20 years ago... One of the best fiction writers in America summoned a cab—and the driver turned out to be his first cousin, who he hadn't seen since he was a kid... A reigning opera star sauntered into a late hour spaghetti joint, and the waiter was discovered to be his half-brother... They hadn't met since they were in short pants playing in the cobbled courts of Naples.

These incidents are no different from the thousands and one odd matters of chance that turn up every day. It's just one of the infinitesimal things that help make New York what it is.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

By Walter Lippmann

ON GOING ABOARD
Saying goodbye to friends on leaving for a few weeks in Europe, I have been asked, as a matter of course, where I was going and what I hoped to find out. I knew, of course, where I was going, but what I hoped to find out it was not so easy to say. Once upon a time I should have said that I was going abroad to talk to public officials and journalists and supposedly well informed citizens and old friends in order to get a better sense of "the situation." But I am afraid I have not the same confidence I once had in my capacity, or in that of most other men, to learn much that can be depended upon in a few weeks of travel and interviews about the situation in Europe as a whole or inside any one of the great powers.

Perhaps I have reacted over-violently to the returning tourists who have fixed ideas about the French situation from studying the faces of the shopkeepers in the rue de la Paix, about the Spanish situation from lunching with an exiled grandee on the Riviera, about Russia from a week in Moscow with, as the college catalogue used to say, no knowledge of Russian required. I am afraid I not only distrust but become unduly annoyed at the tourists who come back saying that Ruritania is thoroughly happy and Patagonia is about to go on the rocks.

Any country is a very big place and it contains a great many people, and while I once heard Count Keyserling, who wrote "The Travel Diary of a Philosopher," say that he needed only twenty-four hours in any civilization to perceive its ethos, the Count not only was but knew that he was a most exceptional man. For my own part, when I am tempted by the Keyserling theory of foreign travel, I remember the delightful week I spent at the end of August, 1914, in a country house in Surrey playing tennis with three brothers who had recently been graduated from Oxford, and the long discussion we had about how each of us could improve his backhand, and how within eight months my tennis partners were dead and had been buried in France.

So I have learned better than to go abroad for a few weeks and begin cabling back in hot haste the impressions which I have formed after reading a foreign newspaper at breakfast and after having lunch with an undersecretary. I have learned even to hold my peace about the awe-inspiring moments when I have sat in the presence of the very mighty, even in regard to those interviews where they have forced me to do most of the talking, as once long ago when I found myself trying to explain the Electoral College in response to what seemed to me an inexplicable thirst for knowledge on the part of the Prince of Wales, and then again when I discussed on the symbolism of Al Smith's brown derby to the very much puzzled doctor of Italy.

So I have learned to leave the reporting of the foreign situation to the seasoned correspondents who have lived long enough in one place to take prime ministers in their stride, and to have seen the faces of the people on the street not only on pleasant summer days but in the cold of winter.

Yet there is something to be said for these casual visits to foreign lands. Thus I feel sure that when I am asked, and I am some where off the Banks of Newfoundland, I shall not feel that the fate of constitutional government in the Western Hemisphere depends on whether Senator Copeland or Judge Mahoney has the honor of being defeated by Mayor La Guardia. It is just conceivable that I shall not arrange to have the full texts of all their speeches sent to me each day by radio. That I think is one of the great virtues of going abroad. For while I strongly believe that the world would be a saner place to live in if every one did his job within walking distance of the village pump, and almost never, unless he was really Joan of Arc, felt the call to direct the destinies of mankind—still, too prolonged a pre-occupation with the problems of the village pump makes a man begin to think that every argument is the prelude to Armageddon.

Then, there is a lot to be said for going abroad, because when one is there he can do nothing about anything abroad or at home. That is a wonderful remedy for the human ego, and there is nothing so good for the human soul as the discovery that there are ancient and flourishing civilized societies which have somehow managed to exist for many centuries and are still in being though they have had no help from the traveler in solving their problems. For if this discovery is fully effective, the traveler may even return to his own country aware that it would continue to exist even if he just did not happen to exist.

But, of course, one thing the traveler must be prepared to do when he is abroad. Even though he knows he will not be grasping the situation and all the sub-situations, he will have to explain the situation in America to his friends in Europe. They will suppose that at least he knows all about that, and there is no good telling them that the editor of "The Baltimore Sun" and the editor of "The Raleigh News and Observer" take different views of the American situation, or that there is a wide discrepancy among the observers tions of General Johnson and Heywood Brown, Arthur Kitch and Westbrook Pegler, Dorothy Thompson and Mark Sullivan, David Lawrence and Eleanor Roosevelt and those others among us who have the weight of the world upon our shoulders.

Yet by the time I have been decently silent and without opinions for four or five days on the ship, if this bad habit of mine can be given up that long, I shall have forgotten all the differences of view among the people at home and there will have crystallized in my mind a description of the American Situation that will seem to me most illuminating when I expound it to foreigners. They will ask me whether the C.I.O. is the vanguard of the social revolution and whether the President is conspiring to be a dictator. And then I shall have to explain to them that we are a vigilant democracy, and that having read about Europe, we have been taking no chances even if that has meant calling chickenpox the smallpox and measles leprosy.

Sights and Sounds

HOLLYWOOD — Frank Lloyd's production of "Wells Fargo" covers a lot of American history, from 1844 to 1870, and incidentally traces the story of transcontinental communication and transportation. So it was interesting, with Joel McCrea, playing a pony express rider, to have Frank Lloyd's daughter Alma visit her father on the set, wearing an orchid that had left Honolulu the day before...

The lady in crinolines to whom McCrea makes love in this picture is Mrs. McCrea or Frances Dee... It is their first film together since "The Silver Cord," in which they met and fell in love... And now all they have to do to make their love scenes convincing is to act the way they always do...

There used to be a hesitancy in casting husband and wife as romancers in the same picture, but now the casters grant that audiences have grown up enough to admit marriage might be romantic. At least Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone are together in enough pictures... and maybe Dick Powell and Joan Blondell, who used to romance on the screen before they were married, will again be considered the type for each other...

Stanton Schools To Open September 6
STANTON, Aug. 16—Stanton city schools will open Sept. 6, Supt. W. C. Glazener has announced, for the 1937-38 term. Projects for the new term are now under contemplation. Repair and alteration of the grammar school building is planned as one feature of the year's program. The work will be financed by proceeds from the delinquent tax drive sponsored by the school board. More than $2000 has been collected already from the drive. Miss Birdie Cleo Crabtree of Roby, graduate of McMurry college at Abilene, has been elected to teach English in the upper grades. She takes the place of Miss Lila Fas Everett who resigned to attend C.I.A. this winter. Miss Crabtree has a double recommendation as a musician, playing both the piano and the accordion. One vacancy remains to be filled in the teaching staff.

MERGER BANNED
BALTIMORE, Aug. 16 (AP)—Chief Judge Samuel K. Dennis today forbade a merger of the Allegheny and Chesapeake corporations, key holding companies of the vast Van Sweringen railway system. He said the merger would be unfair to the holders of Class A preferred stock of the Allegheny corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Parchman of Dallas arrived today to be guests this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam L. Baker. Mrs. Parchman is a sister of Mrs. Baker.

FLAME TRAIL

By Marie De Nervaud

Chapter 46 IN HIDING

Kay cautiously raised her head and looked out the window of the cabin she had fixed up for Ted's mother and sister in those days that now seemed to be ages ago.

For two days she had been there in hiding, and the confinement was beginning to wear on her. In the sunset light she looked longingly down toward the corral. To think of having been home two whole days, without seeing Flicker!

It hadn't been as easy as it sounded to keep her promise to Ted, but she managed it. First of all, she had changed trains, and waited at a station where no one would know her, for the afternoon train, that would land her at Red River late at night.

Slipping off the end car without being seen, she had gone by a circuitous route to Old Man Jennings' livery stable. Rousing him, she had taken him into her confidence to the extent of telling him no one must know she was back and swearing him to secrecy. Old Man Jennings never talked anyway, if he could help it, and Kay knew she could trust him to keep quiet about her return.

She had taken one of his horses and ridden out to the ranch, arriving in the dead of night. She had given her rented mount a sharp cut of her quirt that sent him rushing on his way back. It would never do to have the outfit find a strange horse in the corral, if she was to keep her presence at the Lazy Nine a secret!

Awakening Seth
First she had gone to her cabin and found her flashlight. Then she had tiptoed into the bunkhouse, and singled out Seth's bunk. Creeping over to it, she had gently laid her hand over his mouth and flashed her light in her forehead's eyes.

Smothering his startled oath as he blinked at her, Kay had put her finger to her lips, and then beckoned him outside. With astonished but muted mumbblings and grumblings Seth had drawn on his boots and followed her.

"What the hell—" he had growled, pacing beside her to a safe distance. "When—"

"Seth! Seth! Kay had whispered. "I don't want anyone but you to know I'm here."

Interrupted only by picturesque oaths of varying degree of blasphemy, Kay had poured out her story. "I don't know just what Ted means to do," she had ended, "but I think it's up to me to carry out my promise."

After a few minutes of careful deliberation, Seth had agreed with her.

On planning ways and means of doing this, it had finally been decided that no one would ever dream of looking for her in the deserted cabin. It wouldn't be safe to stay in her own, but in the other cabin they felt sure she could hide indefinitely.

Kay had agreed to have Shorty let in on the secret, so that he and Seth could take turns smuggling food down to her, and it would be less conspicuous than if one always disappeared.

Kay gave a great sigh and leaned her forehead against the glass. Then she ducked suddenly, as a figure topped the rise leading from the bunkhouse and strode down in her direction. A few minutes later there was a tap at the door, and Shorty demanded to be admitted.

"Shorty!" Kay hurriedly let him in. "Wasn't it risky to come so soon?"

"Most of the outfit's off fire fighting," Shorty answered. "They sent a truck way up from Branchtown, so the boys piled in and went along."

"Shouldn't they have stayed here? If it did spread this way..."

"Not a chance," Shorty reassured her. "It's a good 50 or 60 miles from here. And the boys kind of liked the notion of getting a bit of fire fighting money."

"Of course they did," Kay agreed contritely. "When I can't pay them anything, it is only fair they should get it."

"Cut it out," Shorty broke in gruffly. "I didn't mean that. Here's your supper. Eat it, and I'll spill all the news."

Hastings' Predicament
"What news?" Kay demanded. "Has Josh Hastings been around?"

Shorty nodded. "Say, you've got that bird so worried, he don't know whether he's comin' or goin'!" he chuckled. "He's about crazy. I had a long talk with him today, and between what I know and what he told me, I dooped out the whole business. Only I sure earned me a good big crown in Heaven for keeping from giving him a sock in the jaw!"

"Well, go on, Shorty," Kay urged impatiently. "What did you dope out?"

"First place, he'd written you Aunt Kate you'd gone on a visit to some friend over in Idaho, and might not be back for several weeks. So now he can't let you've disappeared, and he's like a loosed rattler in August. Ready to strike at anything, but not seein' where to strike."

"Has he any suspicion that I'm here?"

"Not now. We pulled his leg good and plenty! Pears he's so fed up with your Aunt Kate naggin' him, that he's cleared out to join Zeke Farley and his posse. When anyone mentions Ted Gaylor, he's fit to be tied!"

ADD—MONDAY STORY
"They're still searching the mountains for Ted, are they?" Kay asked.

"Yeah. But that guy's pulled as complete a disappearance as the dodo bird."

Kay breathed a sigh of relief, and a faint color came into her face as she changed the subject.

"I suppose you won't be getting any more of those tamarack logs in right now with the boys off fire fighting," she observed. "How did this thing start anyway?"

"Search me! It looked like a lightning strike, it started so far off from anywhere. It must have burned a good 24 hours before it was discovered. Only trouble with that theory is that there haven't been any thunder storms lately—at least, that's what the weather bureau says."

Sea Flight Completed

German Plane Charts Future Commercial Atlantic Route

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., Aug. 16 (AP)—A German seaplane which flew from Europe on the southern route alighted here today as a huge American flying boat was about to take off on its first survey flight over the same air lanes in the international race to establish scheduled trans-Atlantic flying.

First to greet Capt. Joachim Blankenburg of the German Norddeutsche was Capt. Harold E. Gray of the Pan-American Clipper III which was warming up for a flight to Bermuda, Azores, Lisbon and Southampton.

Capt. Blankenburg's Norddeutsche settled on Manhasset bay at 5:37 a. m. (central standard time) after a 150-mile-an-hour flight from the Azores 2,392 miles away, where his 19-ton seaplane with four Diesel 600-horsepower motors were catapulted from the steamship Schwabenland. He said he flew much of the way at 20 feet above the water to avoid headwinds.

The seaplane also brought in his co-pilot, Count Siegfried Schack, Radio Operator Wilhelm Kueppers and Mechanic Otto Gruschwitz.

Mrs. Lynn Hatcher and daughters, Betty and Peggy, returned to their home in Monahan today after a several days' stay here in the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Laron Lloyd. Mrs. Hatcher is a sister of Mrs. Lloyd.

MILLINERY WORKERS GO ON STRIKE

DALLAS, Aug. 16 (AP)—A strike by members of Local Union No. 57 of the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers here opened peaceably today.

Max Zaritsky, president of the union, said the members were striking because the employers failed to meet Saturday with Dr. Edwin F. Elliott, regional director of the national labor relations board.

How many of the 600 or 700 members of the union went to work could not be ascertained. Most of the pickets concentrated at the Goldstein Hat Manufacturing company where approximately 100 persons had been employed.

A. L. Inge, member of the union who was supervising picketing, said three persons went into the plant to work. J. L. Welch, inspector of the police, said he did not count the workers, but estimated from 20 to 30 went to work.

Mrs. Frances Pearson and Mrs. W. M. Dehlinger spent Sunday in Monahan as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allen.

British authorities announced 2,000 British women and children would be taken from Shanghai on the liners Rajputana tomorrow and Empress of Asia Thursday. Other nations moved similarly to save their countrypeople.

While Chinese and Japanese continued the fighting, Shanghai's foreign communities—including some 4,000 Americans and 8,000 British—remained in peril of repetitions of Saturday's tragic bombings. hour of previous days.

At Corsicana, the temperature Sunday failed to hit 100 after reaching that point on 22 successive days. Local showers helped. At Abilene the maximum was 99, the first day in 21 when the mercury failed to go to 100 or more. A cool breeze swept the area Sunday night.

The maximum at Paris Sunday was 98, the first time the temperature has failed to soar to 100 or better in 16 days. Austin had a 1.25 inch rain, the first since July 11. There was a sharp drop in temperature.

Cooler weather was in prospect for the South Plains, Lubbock reported. Cooler nights with brisk winds are bringing at least a hint of autumn to that area.

Attack CaseAllred Calls For Information On Tar-And-Feather Affair

AUSTIN, Aug. 16 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred offered a reward of $500 today for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person implicated in the tarring and feathering of Herbert Harris, socialist organizer, in Dallas last week.

The governor acted soon after returning from a vacation trip to Mexico City and in response to a request by the American Civil Liberties Union. In his absence, Acting Governor Walter P. Woodall had instituted an investigation by the state department of public safety.

Governor Allred termed the tarring and feathering "a shameful thing" which would not be tolerated in Texas.

"We are not going to allow fogging or tarring business in Texas again," he asserted. "There was too much in Dallas county in Ku Klux days."

"We do not want violence from any source. If local authorities can't stop violence, then we will for them."

The governor said Texas rangers still were on duty at Fort Worth where they were assigned several weeks ago in connection with a strike at a plant of the Lone Star Gas company.

Mildred Creath has returned home after a week's visit in Waco and Brady.

Jesse Thornton of the Texas Electric Service company returned from Mexico City, D. F., Sunday evening, after spending his vacation there.

New CityAdvance On Northern
Point After Fierce
Battle

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Border, Aug. 16 (AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco's troops pushed into the northern manufacturing city of Reims today in a terrific battle with retreating government troops, said insurgent advisers received here.

Franco's men, heading for the northern port of Santander, were said to have fought their way into Reims only after fierce house-to-house battling in the suburbs.

As to the government soldiers retired from the city they pumped heavy machine gun and rifle fire into the advancing insurgents, an account from insurgent sources in Reims, just across the border, declared.

Franco's airplanes made a wide swing over government lines from Castro-Urdiales, on the coast east of Santander, to the Burgos-Santander highway, which runs south from Santander.

They dropped great quantities of bombs. In their "victorious advance" toward Reims, the insurgents reported capture of an "entire battalion" and said five other government battalions fled.

Some 40 miles north-northwest lies Santander, the government's last great stronghold on the north coast toward which Franco's men are headed.

Franco's soldiers occupied dozens of small villages along the road from Aguilar De Campo as they pushed northward to the heights close to Reims. They said more than 1,000 prisoners were taken.

Although the government admitted the loss of several villages close to Reims, it said there was trouble within Franco's own ranks at Aguilar De Campo. A government outpost reported hearing heavy firing and the explosion of hand grenades in the insurgent lines.

Was Given 25-Year
Term In Court Here

Alfred "Sonny" Lamb, killed by officers' bullets Sunday night in Hot Springs, Ark., was assessed a prison term here.

He and his father, R. L. Lamb, were given 25-year sentences on guilty pleas in the 70th district court in January. They admitted the robbery of a liquor store at Coahoma. A third man, Lloyd, held in connection with the affair, has not yet come to trial.

Officers had maintained a watch for him here following his escape from the Tarrant county jail. He was twice turned over to state prison authorities here by the sheriff's department. The last time he was being held by deputies at "I'm going to escape from this some of these days."

At the time of his death he was wanted in Richmond, Texas, for questioning in connection with the killing of Bob Rutledge, gambling hall operator, June 3, 1937. Lamb was under sentences totaling around 165 years from Howard, King, Wilbarger, Stephens and Ector counties for robbery by assault, robbery with firearms, assault to murder, burglary and felony theft. Houston wanted him in connection with planting a gun at a prison farm in an attempted escape.
