

EARLY ADJOURNMENT MAY KILL FD'S PROGRAM

Navajos On Warpath Against Reduction Of Grazing Stock; Talk Of Govt. Rebellion

FARMINGTON, N. M., July 24 (AP)—War drums thumped through Navajo Indian councils today as turquois- and blanket-bedecked Navajo leaders threatened rebellion against the "white man's government" and thundered dire warnings against proposed reduction of their grazing stock.

Cooler heads among tribal chiefs urged caution, condemning white men for stirring up factional political disputes among the 50,000 Navajos.

But largely disregarding these warnings, an insurgent council of some 400 Navajos today drafted resolutions demanding the ouster of U. S. Indian Commissioner John Collier and endorsement of the anti-Collier fight led by Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico.

Chief Dodge, rich old war chief thundered against the senate bill to define and extend boundary lines of Indian grazing lands. Dehno Claw Chischillige, influential tribal leader, pleaded for delay of the proposed Indian service roundup of reservation horses and the sale of excess and cull animals.

Delay Action On State Aid For Schools

Lack Of Quorum Defeats Effort To Reduce Per Capita

AUSTIN, July 24 (AP)—An effort to reduce the unprecedented high state per capita school aid appropriation failed at least temporarily today when attendance at a called meeting of the board of education fell one short of a quorum.

James G. Strong of Carthage the member necessary to make quorum, arrived shortly before midnight but asked that the session be postponed until tomorrow.

The meeting was called by three members who think the $22 allotment for the next school year is too high. That for the present year was $19.

Present were Ben F. Tinsinger of Dallas, former president of the board, R. S. Bowers of Caldwell, Tom Garrard of Lubbock, Dr. J. C. Blair of Kenedy and Irvin McCreary of Temple. Six members constitute a quorum.

Tinsinger said he still was confident the $22 would be trimmed to $20.50 or $21.

In addition to Strong, absentee were Ghent Sandford of Austin, board president who led the fight for the $22 figure, John Laird of Lufkin and D. F. Youngblood of San Antonio.

Reviewing The BIG SPRING WEEK

by Joe Pickle

The school situation attained the state of a dilemma during the week. Just as it appeared that a sizeable increase in revenue was in sight from the pegging of a $22 per capita scholastic apportionment, the automatic tax board steps in and cuts the school rate to seven cents, enough to yield an amount capable of paying a $20 per capita apportionment. If the board's action holds, and it probably will, it means $6,000 less state revenue for Big Spring schools.

It will not be $6,000 less than last year, but that much under what had been anticipated for this season. Actually there will be a slight increase in funds, but the school board had been looking to additional support from the state to relieve the local financial pressure. Now these rigid economies promised three weeks ago may be reaffirmed in a more definite form within the week, and poor teachers cannot hope for much salary relief.

"Boney" Harding predicts the weather from his "charts." W. P. Edwards from signs, Judge H. R. Debenport by his physical feelings, and others in sundry ways, but H. H. Hannah, Postal Telegraph, has as good or better record as any by predicting from the sound of noise coming from generators in his office. Last week he predicted the thunderstorms a day ahead of time when the skies were clear and the sun beating toward record temperatures.

As time nears for a decision on the location of the West Texas eleemosynary institutions, towns making strong bids for the hospital are exuding confidence with their fingers crossed. At least three, according to common talk, are conceded to be seriously considered. They are Big Spring, Colorado and Sweetwater. Sweetwater has the advantage on a state low water rate, Colorado a better location and good water situation, and Big

GETS MONEY FOR TEXAS

Following a conference with James Roosevelt, Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), left, said President Roosevelt had approved a $5,000,000 relief grant to complete the Marshall Ford dam on the Colorado river near Austin, Texas. Representative Johnson headed a delegation of Texans meeting with the president's son.

Mattern Ship Is Christened

Texas Flier Needs Only Govt. OK For His Polar Flight

AUSTIN, July 24 (AP)—Gov. James V. Allred smashed a bottle of Buchanan lake water on a sleek airplane today and the ship, christened "The Texan," needed only approval of the department of commerce before Jimmy Mattern, noted Texas aviator, attempts to pilot it non-stop from California to Russia.

Backers of the projected flight over the top of the world and Gov. Allred hoped that Senator Morris Sheppard would prevail upon department officials to grant a permit.

Otherwise the ship, a stock American model equipped with the newest of navigation and safety equipment was ready for the take-off, planned about Aug. 1 from San Diego.

With a cruising speed of 200 miles an hour, Mattern hoped to negotiate the 6,400 miles in 40 hours, refueling while in flight over Fairbanks, Alaska.

H. S. Jones of Fort Worth will be navigator on the proposed trip which for 1,000 miles in the Arctic regions will follow a course at variance to that chosen by Russians who recently made the hop via the "North Pole route."

Mattern chose Reg Robbins and Nick Greener, Texas endurance fliers, for the refueling task which will be done from a tri-motored plane.

"The Texan" will be taken to Houston, San Angelo and Fort Worth tomorrow and Mattern planned to spend the night in the latter city.

4 Scottsboro Boys Finally Win Freedom

Either Death Or Long Imprisonment For Five Others

DECATUR, Ala., July 24 (AP)—Swift court action in the Scottsboro mass rape case freed four negroes and left five others under sentences ranging from 20 years imprisonment to death today.

Prosecutors agreed to dismissal of charges against two who were "juveniles," one who was ill, and one who was "practically blind" when possums dragged nine negroes from a freight train at Paint Rock, Ala., March 25, 1931.

The charges were assault in a gondola car upon two white women mill workers, Ruby Bates and Victoria Price.

Of the five other negroes, four were under sentence for rape after a series of retrials and one, Ozie Powell, for assault with intent to murder in slaying a deputy sheriff with a knife Jan. 22, 1936.

Twice returned to Alabama by the United States supreme court, the case left the prisoners in this status today.

Clarence Norris, convicted for the third time, death.

Andy Wright, convicted second time, 99 years.

Haywood Patterson, convicted fourth time, 75 years.

Charlie Weems, convicted second time, 75 years.

Ozie Powell, convicted once of rape, who pleaded guilty to assault with intent to murder, 20 years. The original accusation against him was dropped.

Freed after 6 1/2 years of jail life and court appearances were the following:

Olen Montgomery, once convicted and sentenced to death.

Willie Roberson, once convicted and sentenced to death.

Eugene Williams, once convicted and sentenced to death.

Roy Wright, whose first trial ended in a jury disagreement.

Bumper Feed, Cotton Crops In Prospect

Outlook Brightened By Showers During The Past Week

THREAT OF INSECT DAMAGE LESSENER

Cotton In Healthy Condition, Grains Also Are Thriving

With a record of 80,000 bushel wheat crop harvested and marketed, Howard county farmers are looking toward other bumper crops in cotton and feed.

Showers Help
Spotted showers which visited almost every spot in the county at one time or another during the past week greatly enhanced crop prospects in some areas. A large number of farmers received enough moisture for cotton to make without more rains.

Abatement of the insect threat to the county's cotton crop during the week came at a time when the cash crop had begun to fruit intensively. From every section of the county came word that the plants were putting on boils at a rapid clip.

Although there have been times in the county when there was more cotton in the fields, there was never a time, according to a majority of farmers, when prospect for a bumper crop were so good, because this year the crop has sturdy stalks and is still fruiting and barring mishaps, will produce a bumper yield.

Fine Quality Maize
Early maize is already made in most fields. Showers of late week caught sucker heads just as they needed moisture to head, and reports Saturday were that the suckers were putting on bloom. The main heads are said to be full and of fine quality. This feed may make a good price since maize has moved recently here for around $20 a ton.

Another thriving crop has been sudan grass. In fields where cattle have not been grazed, profits harvests have been reported. The cut fields are already two and

Mrs. Robinson Urged To Run

Nomination Of Bailey Is Threatening Rift In Arkansas Ranks

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 24 (AP)—A democratic party dispute in Arkansas over selection of a nominee to succeed the late senate majority leader Joseph T. Robinson today brought the name of his widow to the forefront as a possible independent candidate.

Sources close to Mrs. Robinson said she had received many telegrams urging her to run against Governor Carl E. Bailey, nominated by the democratic state committee yesterday to enter the special election which he will call, probably for Sept. 14.

Committee action in making the nomination itself, instead of calling a party primary, threatened a rift in the party.

The Arkansas Democrat reported Mrs. Robinson was giving "serious consideration" to the request that she oppose the governor. Seeing only intimate friends at her home here, Mrs. Robinson declined comment. She was an active campaigner at the side of her husband during 40 years of married life.

Several others, the newspaper said, are considering making the race against the governor. Albert Waller, Lonoke attorney, and Congressman John L. McClellan of Malvern were mentioned in the connection.

INJURED IN WRECK

ATLANTA, July 24 (AP)—Collision of two freight trains at a switch here today had injured two men, one badly, and damaged 13 freight cars.

Both men were negroes, riding on an oil car. They were in the Texas and Pacific hospital at Marshall, Texas, tonight, where the condition of Walter Thompson, 50, of New Orleans, was reported critical from a fractured skull. I. B. Edwards, 25, of Mineral Wells, Texas, was slightly hurt.

HUNTS FOR RIVER 'MONSTER'

Charles S. Brown, deep sea diver, armed himself with an eight-foot harpoon and set out from Newport, Ark., to conquer White River's "monster." Shown inspecting his diving equipment, Brown said he expected to find an "overgrown catfish."

Strike Threatens To Cause Food Shortage

Store Supplies Low As Deliveries In Buffalo Stop

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 24 (AP)—Two thousand striking meat packers and wholesale grocery truck drivers reached a 24-hour truce with their employers tonight after a four-day strike but the agreement provided no alleviation of a food shortage caused by a tieup of delivery trucks.

The Rev. Dr. John P. Boland, chairman of the state labor board, said the employers agreed not to move meats, butter, eggs and staple groceries for 24 hours, an union leaders promised abandonment of picketing and other steps taken to prevent food deliveries.

Both groups consented to meet tomorrow with Dr. Boland and mediation assistants to discuss closed shop clauses in proposed contracts.

Dr. Boland, Buffalo priest who started settling labor disputes as a hobby, returned to his home here and drew the contenders into a quick conciliation conference as a special mediator after wholesalers appealed to Governor Lehman to intervene.

Shelves Bare
The priest, who recently gave up most of his parish duties to become chairman of the newly created state labor board, also obtained an agreement from union leaders that they would not call further strikes to tighten the food blockade.

Grocers reported shelves almost bare of many staple groceries, including eggs, butter and meats. They have received no supplies the last four days from 44 wholesale grocery houses closed by the walkout of 1,000 truck drivers.

55,050 LAMBS GO IN A MASS SALE

SAN ANGELO, July 24 (AP)—In the greatest mass sale of range feeder lambs made in Texas in the last decade, West Texas producers today disposed of 55,050 feeder lambs to northern accounts. In doing so they established an eight-cent price for such stock. Elrod and Weatherly of San Angelo handled the transaction. Twenty-nine ranches supplied the animals said.

Palbearers were Earl Phillips, Milton Broughton, Dalton Mitchell, Rube Martin, Jim and Madison Smith.

BABIES VICTIM
GALVESTON, July 24 (AP)—Arnold Newman, 5, of Alvin, died tonight at a local hospital as a result of hydrophobia he contracted three weeks ago when bitten on the head by a dog in Alvin.

Opposition In Store For Any Big Measures

President Has Several Bills On Which He Wants Action

DISCUSSES SITUATION WITH NEW LEADER

Wage-Hour, Govt. Reorganization; Housing Topics Preferred

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—A rush for adjournment seemed today to threaten the five point program that President Roosevelt has laid out for this session of congress.

Confers With Barkley
Senator Barkley of Kentucky, freshly crowned with the laurels of democratic leadership, traveled down the Potomac with President Roosevelt to figure out with him what might be salvaged from the presidential program.

Representative Woodrum of Virginia, frequently spoken of as a man who talks for the administration in the house, said that any effort to jam through a heavy program now would meet wide opposition; that if a broad group of measures were insisted upon "congress will still be here when the frost is on the pumpkin."

The president has listed as "desirable" for this session bills to fix minimum wages and maximum hours, to reorganize government departments, to provide low cost housing, to plug tax loopholes, and to set up a new farm plan.

Senator Barkley has said that wage and hour legislation would pass the senate by late Tuesday. The house labor committee is still trying to put such a measure into shape for action on that side of the capital.

Death Victim

Service Held Here Saturday For R. G. Cook Of Moore Community

R. G. Cook, 76, father of R. L. Cook and Mrs. Amabel Lovelace, and for more than a score of years a farmer in the Moore community was laid to rest in the New Mount Olive cemetery here Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Cook, who had been in ill health, died Friday at 2:30 p. m. in Fort Sumner, N. M., where he went 18 months ago seeking to regain his health. The body was overland here for services and interment.

Last rites were held in the Eberly chapel with Rev. E. E. Mason, pastor of the West Side Baptist church, and Rev. W. C. Williamson, Stanton pastor, in charge.

Born in Louisiana on December 28, 1861, Mr. Cook early affiliated himself with the Baptist church, becoming a member in 1885 and remaining active in its affairs until falling health curbed his activity. He moved to Howard county before the war and for 21 years farmed in the Moore community.

Surviving him are his widow Mrs. Ozena Cook; seven sons, E. C. Cook, M. H. Cook, Leonard Cook, Ira Cook of Fort Sumner, N. M., Russell Cook of Ventura, Cal., H. L. Cook of Booneville, Mo., and R. L. Cook of Big Spring; one daughter, Mrs. Amabel Lovelace, and one sister, Mrs. Frances Johnston of Clyde. He also leaves several grandchildren, nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. at the Eberly chapel here today. Burial was in the West Side Baptist cemetery.

GROUP FROM HERE AT GEER FUNERAL

Headed by Carl Blomshield, district manager for Texas Electric Service, a large group of employees of the company here went to Sweetwater Saturday afternoon for last rites for Lon Geer, company district manager in that city.

Jack Hodges was in charge of four boy scouts who represented local troops at the Geer funeral. Geer had served as treasurer of the Buffalo Trail council and was credited with having, almost single handed, preserved the council organization during financial stress in depression years. Geer held the Silver Beaver award of the council, highest honor it can pay any one affiliated with the organization.

Elliott Opening Third Drug Store, At Crawford Hotel

New Unit Will Operate On A 24-Hour Basis

Souvenirs To Be Given During Formal Opening Monday

The business story of 1937 is one of expansion. J. D. Elliott, owner and operator of a Big Spring drug enterprise, writes his chapter of the story with the opening, Monday, of a third store.

Elliott's Crawford Drug store makes its formal bow to the public tomorrow. There will be souvenirs for all callers from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.—cigars for men, fountain drinks for women, and ice cream for all children who are accompanied by their parents.

Opening of the new store, at the corner of Crawford and Scurry streets, marks another forward step of a local concern which is unique in that it features the neighborhood "small" store, with service and convenience to patrons stressed.

Start In 1934
Elliott, a young man as store proprietors go, launched into business on his own here February 1, 1934. That was when he bought a store in the Ritz theatre building and opened Elliott's Ritz Drugs. In December of the same year, he opened a similar establishment at the Lyric theatre.

In planning an expansion of his business, he selected the Crawford hotel location as a choice site for drug service; and with the opening of that unit, announces that it will follow a policy new to Big Spring—24-hour drug store service. The Crawford establishment will never close, and will provide delivery at all hours.

The new location, just as do the Ritz and Lyric stores, will have a full line of drug supplies and sundries. Fountain service will be a specialty, and Elliott promises that all drug store needs, excepting the filling of prescriptions, will be filled.

All-Night Service
"We hope to continue, and expand, with this new store, our policy of prompt and courteous service," Elliott said. There will be plenty of parking space at the

INTERIOR OF ONE OF THREE ELLIOTT STORES

Here's a photographer's view of one of the three Elliott Drug stores. This is the Ritz unit, first to be operated by Mr. and

Mrs. J. D. Elliott. Newest member of the "family" is the Elliott store at the Crawford hotel, which will be opened formally Monday. The new store will feature 24-hour service.

Crawford as at the other units curb service will be as efficient as we can make it; we hope to supply a real demand in Big Spring by maintaining an all-night store. "As many of our patrons know we are glad to make free delivery on any purchase. We stand behind the slogan that 'no item is too small to deliver.'"

Elliott invites the public to call at the new store during the souvenir hours Monday.

C. C. Elliott, brother of J. D. will be manager of the Crawford unit, while the latter, continuing as manager of the Ritz store, will spend time at both places. Rudolph Davis is in charge at the Lyric stand.

Wife a Partner
These three have the co-operation of another, Mrs. J. D. Elliott. Since inauguration of the firm, she has been a working partner with WICHITA FALLS, July 24 (AP)—John T. Wood of Dallas, re-elected president of the Texas Rural Letter Carriers association, brought down the gavel of adjournment Saturday afternoon to conclude a three-day convention which brought approximately 1,000 delegates here.

Election of 12 delegates to the national convention at New Orleans was the final business. Earlier in the day Karl Crowley, solicitor general of the post office department, had given vent to a vigorous expression of praise for Roosevelt administration policies. J. Ed Cooper, superintendent of rural mails of Washington, D. C., made a brief farewell address.

As the carriers began leaving the city, the cry "on to Fort Worth" was taken up. Fort Worth Friday was chosen as the 1938 convention city.

Key City In Rebel Hands

Town Near Madrid Is Taken After Day-Long Attack

MADRID, July 24 (AP)—Spanish insurgents entered the important town of Brunete, 15 miles west of Madrid, after a day-long attack, the government announced late today.

Ever since the insurgent troops of Generalissimo Francisco Franco launched their violent counter-attack last week, battling to regain territory taken in a government drive westward from besieged Madrid, the shell-battered town of Brunete had been their primary objective.

The fighting today, government sources said, was the most severe in the bitterly-contested sector. Government troops were subjected to intensive shelling and machine gunning before insurgent infantry engaged them at close quarters. Government reports said the insurgents reached the outskirts of Brunete shortly after noon but were hurled back to their original positions west of the town. The insurgents relentlessly attacked again and, official reports tonight said, entered the town.

The government said many Moors were in the insurgent ranks. Heavy fighting was still going on tonight in Brunete, government advisers said, as the insurgents strove to drive the defenders completely out of the town. Casualties were high.

Brunete is the pivotal town in this campaign, 15 miles west of Madrid. If the insurgents can dislodge General Jose Miaja's strong force there they may defeat the government's attempt to lift the siege of Madrid.

A successful government advance from Brunete would aim at Navalcarnero, the insurgents' supply and communication base for the siege.

$25 FROM BENEFIT

Members of the women's home demonstration club of Garner (Knott) realized approximately $25 from a cake walk and quilt raffle Friday evening in the Garner school.

Cecil Long, Big Spring, was awarded the quilt, produced by the club. Madison Smith was in charge of recreation.

City-Wide Revival Will Open Monday

REV. B. B. CRIMM

A city-wide revival, in which all local churches affiliated with the Big Spring Ministers' association, will begin here Monday evening, with Evangelist B. B. Crimm (pictured above), widely known in that field of religious endeavor, doing the preaching.

Rev. Crimm will arrive here Monday. First service of the meeting, scheduled to continue for a month, will be held at the First Methodist church, pending erection of a large tent and erection of seats. Beginning Tuesday evening, all services will be held in the tent, to be erected on the corner west of the new postoffice building. The choir platform will have a seating capacity of 250 people.

The music and young people's services for the revival will be under direction of H. M. Powell, who has been associated with Rev. Crimm in evangelistic work for the past 10 years. The pianist will be Jewel Spencer, an Oklahoma Indian.

Services will be held each evening at 8 o'clock. Cooperating churches will unite in the Sunday meetings. Full support of the entire citizenship of Big Spring is sought by local pastors and other church leaders assisting in directing the meeting. Singers are asked to lend their talents in the massed choir during the revival.

FORT WORTH, July 24 (AP)—San Antonio evened the series and climbed back up into a tie for fourth place with Fort Worth by beating the Cats, 6 to 5, here tonight. By following short hits with long blows, the Padres took a five run lead in the first three periods. Fort Worth tied the score in the third. The Missions pushed over the winning run in the sixth.

China Trouble Flares Anew

Troops Not Leaving Area Rapidly Enough To Suit Japan

PEIPING, July 24 (AP)—Japanese army leaders tonight declared the North China situation, which for two weeks has kept China and Japan on the verge of war, again had become ominous because Chinese troops were not leaving this area rapidly enough.

They charged that units the Chinese had undertaken to withdraw actually were digging in for resistance. Peaceful settlement of the crisis, which yesterday appeared in process of being carried out, had struck a dangerous snag.

Japanese troops began searching passengers on trains of the Peiping-Hankow railway, on which normal service had just been restored after two weeks. As a result service again was suspended.

General Hsiung Ping, vice-chief of the Chinese general staff, came here by airplane from Nanking on orders from Generalissimo-Premier Chiang Kai-Shek.

It was with General Sung that the Japanese military command Monday made an agreement to end the two-weeks crisis around Peiping, and the first point was withdrawal of the 37th division of General Sung's command, which had been fighting the Japanese intermittently since July 7.

Japanese headquarters at Tientsin charged that troops of the Central Chinese government were pouring into Southern Hopeh province, which Japan declares is a violation of a 1935 North China agreement.

Japs Will Essay Nonstop Flight To N.Y. From Tokyo

TOKYO, July 24 (AP)—Japan's most ambitious aerial attempt, a nonstop flight from Tokyo to New York in an all Japanese designed and built "wonder plane" is expected to be launched in the near future.

The plane, just completed at the Aeronautics Institute of Imperial University, is declared to be capable of traveling 10,000 or more miles without refueling.

(Current distance record for airplanes is held by three Russian aviators who flew 6,262 miles from Moscow to Southern California. The distance from Tokyo to New York by northern latitudes is approximately 7,000 miles.)

Eager to surpass the Russian record, the Institute has fabricated a plane with a wing-span of 28 metres, an over-all length of 14.4 metres and equipped with a 600 horsepower engine. It contains 14 tanks in the wings for gasoline, claimed to be sufficient fuel for 80 to 90 hours of flying.

STRIKE IS CALLED AGAINST SHIPPER

GALVESTON, July 24 (AP)—A strike of licensed deck and engine room officers on all vessels at the Weinberger Banana company was called today, according to Captain L. Forrest, representative of the "Jesters," mates and pilots of New Orleans. The firm operates banana boats between New Orleans-Galveston and Latin America. Captain Forrest, here on business today, said he had been notified by telegraph that the company had transferred two vessels, the Cayo Mambi and Canabova, to a foreign flag and reduced wages. This, he maintained, was a direct violation of a contract extension until Sept. 30, 1937, which fixed officers' wages on all vessels owned, operated or chartered by the firm. He also said that, on his return to New Orleans Monday, he would take immediate legal action against the company.

The Weinberger Banana company ships make irregular calls at Galveston, New Orleans being the firm's principal port of operations.

Sparrows Arouse Firemen SALT LAKE, Utah (AP)—A school of sparrows fled from a flaming neon sign over a drug store, chirping and clattering past a fire alarm box which they couldn't operate. Their home was ablaze. While they couldn't turn in the alarm, their twittering brought out the fire department.

Dig Trench Silos Now Agent Tells Howard Farmers

In the first of a series of letters to farmers interested in trench silos, County Agent O. P. Griffin Saturday suggested that "it would be a good plan to dig your trench now except smoothing the sides."

This, he said, would require only a small amount of work when the feed is harvested.

Griffin warned against the common mistake of making the trench too large. A trench six feet wide at the top, four feet wide at the bottom and five feet deep will be plenty large for six workstock and 10 head of cattle, he said. The length of the trench is to be determined by the amount of feed to store. However, if more than 100 feet is needed, it is usually best to use two trenches.

Dirt taken from the trench, continued the agent, should be placed one-half on each side of the trench. A board can then be used to fill the trench above the ground level. It may be kept in mind that in feeding in silage, half a foot of silage is taken off the end each day. In other words, a 90-foot trench will be needed for 180 feeding days, Griffin explained.

The agent urged all farmers in the county interested in enrolling as cooperators in the trench silo campaign contact him in order to receive letters and other information on the program.

COLEMAN COUNTY RANCHMAN DEAD

COLEMAN, July 24 (AP)—The W. Dunman, a rancher in Coleman county 58 years, will be buried here Sunday.

Mr. Dunman, one of West Texas' best known ranchmen, died unexpectedly early today at Baylor hospital in Dallas. He was 62 years old.

Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the First Presbyterian church here. The rites will be held by the Rev. O. L. Savage and the Rev. Robert F. Jones.

Mr. Dunman entered the Dallas hospital Thursday for treatment of a throat ailment.

Thoroughbred horses which were winners at leading racetracks gained prominence for Mr. Dunman, and his ranch holdings were extensive.

MAN FOUND DEAD

SAN ANTONIO, July 24 (AP)—H. Newlee, about 55, language teacher in the Kingsville senior high school for the past 10 years, was found dead in his room here late this afternoon. His death was believed to have been from natural causes.

N. M. Harrel, president of the Kingsville school board, when notified of his death, said Newlee had no relatives that they might live in San Antonio, but no Newlee could be located here.

SUPT. WOODS WILL BE HERE SATURDAY

The district courtroom will be the place for speaking engagement of State Supt. L. A. Woods, previously announced for Saturday.

Miss Sue B. Mann, Alpine, deputy superintendent, announced that she would be here for the meet.

Woods will discuss such problems as high school tuition, rural aid, teachers salaries, and transportation aid. School officials and trustees are being urged to attend as well as other interested school patrons.

SUSPECTS NABBED

SHREVEPORT, La., July 24 (AP) Police today reported the arrest of two men who Police Sgt. W. W. Mabry said are wanted at Duncan, Okla., for theft of an auto in which they were riding when picked up on suspicion here this morning.

The prisoners gave their names as Walter Cahoun, 19, of Wichita Falls, Texas, and Boyd McLemore, 24, of Addington, Okla. The local police said they were advised by Duncan authorities that the suspects were wanted there.

The car belonged to J. R. Bewick of Duncan, Okla., police here said. Federal authorities are investigating the prisoners, according to Sergeant Mabry.

COLD BATHS HELP

DALLAS, July 24 (AP)—Seventy years of cold baths, morning and night, make Mrs. Mary L. Squires feel like 20 at 91, she said here today.

Mrs. Squires, who is grandmother to 11, was with her daughter Grace on a 5,000-mile automobile trip in an eight-year-old car with 75,000 miles on the speedometer.

From Boston to Austin, Texas, in a week is the goal. "Here she will visit her son, Glenn S. Squires."

New Rank in Argentine Army

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—By decree of the chief executive, the Argentine army will have a new rank, that of quartermaster general. This new post will be filled by an officer with the rank of general.

BRIDGE PURCHASE

LAREDO, July 24 (AP)—J. K. Beretta, president of the Laredo Bridge company, said today the Mexican government had purchased the part of the international bridge over the Rio Grande between Laredo and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, which was on Mexican territory.

He said the deal, involving an unannounced cash consideration, became effective immediately. Beretta, a banker, is from San Antonio.

Luis Hurtado, Mexican government representative, said the southern half of the bridge would be operated by F. P. Estrada, under auspices of the Mexican government.

CLUB ENCAMPMENT DATES TO BE RESET

First encampment for Howard county women's home demonstration clubs, originally scheduled for July 27-28, has been postponed pending a meeting of the county council here Saturday.

The encampment, due to have been held at Christoval, was called off because of the infantile paralysis scare in the San Angelo area.

Opposition

of methods used in dodging taxes goes ahead next week. Some members already have suggested that the worst spots shown by the investigation might be patched up at this session and the others left for action next year when a general tax revision will be necessary.

Quite a few, among them Speaker Bankhead, have said they were anxious for passage of new farm legislation at this session. Yet, the opposition of senate farm leaders, coupled with the desire of many in the house for a slow-paced study of the measure before committee does not seem to augur precipitate action.

Committee Speeds Work On New Court Measure

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—The senate judiciary committee, forgoing its customary weekend holiday, worked on a six-point program today to speed up the action of lower federal courts.

Committee members said they would burnish off the rough corners of their legislation Monday, and hand it to the senate late next week as a substitute for the president's original court bill.

Their tentative draft did not even refer to the supreme court. In the house, some administration supporters revived proposals for limiting the supreme court's power to declare federal laws unconstitutional.

Asserting that 80 per cent of his colleagues favored his plan, Representative Dies (D-Tex.) suggested a constitutional amendment authorizing congress to reinstate by a two-thirds vote any act invalidated by the court.

A similar proposal was advanced by Representative Beiter (D-N.Y.), with the further stipulation that congress might not override the court's decision until after one election has intervened.

In drafting their substitute court bill members of the senate judiciary committee stuck close to their verbal agreement with administration chiefs.

American Federation of Labor affiliates—and C. I. O. union butchers at three meat packing plants—Both groups demand preferential union shop contracts, called "un-American" and unconstitutional by the employers.

At Other Plants Elsewhere on the labor front: At Cincinnati, unionists, in a complaint against a coal company charged strip tease acts were used to lure miners from union gatherings. The company denied the accusation.

After four men were hauled from their trucks and beaten in struggles with strikers, non-striking truck drivers of the Shipley-Wills-Jones Milk company, Philadelphia, used their wives as guards. The women followed trucks in family cars to call aid in the event of disorder.

A five-week-old C. I. O. sit-down strike at Robeson Rochester corporation, Rochester, N. Y., was settled with an agreement providing for a national labor relations board election to determine a collective bargaining agent for the 200 employees.

Crops

Three feet high on the second crop. Grain sorghums are up to good stands and more may be planted soon if a rain comes within the next week or ten days. Corn usually first to suffer from drought, has passed the crisis for the most part with good yields on the stalk.

Price Worry County Agent O. P. Griffin said Saturday that the second generation of cotton flea hoppers, holding back early fruiting, had failed to materialize except in rare, scattered areas. The brown or yellow bear caterpillar scare has subsided and the grasshopper menace seems to be under control.

However, cotton producers had something else to worry about in the face of steady price declines on the market during the week. Cotton lost approximately $4 for the week. Saturday's loss of $1 a bale followed on the heels of a $1.50 decline Friday. Prospects of a tremendous crop were largely responsible.

SUIT FOR $2,100,000

HOUSTON, July 24 (AP)—A suit against the Yount-Lee Oil company for $2,100,000 and interest was filed in district court here today by H. B. Cauty of Dallas.

The plaintiff said in his petition he entered an agreement in September, 1935, with M. F. Yount, then president of the Yount-Lee company, to find a purchaser for the company.

He said he and associates interested in the Standard Oil company of Indiana in purchasing the Yount-Lee company for $42,000,000 through a subsidiary company, the Stanolind Oil & Gas company.

He asks the money as commission on the sale. The petition lists Wright Morrow as president and John W. Martin as secretary of the Yount-Lee company.

Week

Spring the ideal location. But other contenders feel they are not out of the running. The San Angelo paper Saturday quoted a board of control member as saying no town had been eliminated. And so the speculation goes on.

All along board of control members have pointed a finger to the Big Spring water supply, wanting assurance it would be ample. First the city voted to offer water at production cost, then located a supplementary supply, and last week got expert opinion that the city is in no danger of water shortage and is likely to have enough for a town several times this size. It occurs to us, however, that the question of shortage is not entirely pertinent. So long as Big Spring remains a growing city, a water supply will be had, regardless of where the city goes to get it. The city must have a supply and addition of enough for the hospital would not make a partical of difference.

There may be larger families in the county, but they have escaped our attention if any outnumber the Roldan tribe. Last week the 19th child born to Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Roldan was ushered into the world here. Thirteen of the 19 children born to the couple are living.

Looks like the old settlers pulled a "fasty" on us. After letting the regular date for the annual reunion slip by without any arrangements, leaders in the organization which has had control for the past three years, announced that the meeting would be held this Friday. The residence requirement was pegged at 30 years, a thing which must have chafed the leaders in the original old settlers group. They have stuck up for a flat 25 years residence in the county.

Rotary Clay Firm Started

Machinery Being Installed For New Concern In County

Operations will be started this week on the county's second rotary clay manufacturing project. It was announced by Merle Black, secretary-treasurer and general manager of the new concern.

Machinery, including a hammer mill and motive power, was being installed Saturday following the stripping of a pit on an 80-acre tract 14 miles west of here. Black said that the machinery would care for 50 tons a day, or about one car load of the white, colloidal clay.

The material will be hauled to Morita for loading on the T. & P. Top of the pit was stripped during the week with heavy tractor and fresno, and it was estimated that the deposit has 10,000 tons in sight.

Ray Smith, trucking contractor operating out of Big Spring, is president of the organization and the new project. J. L. Johnson, Forsan, owner of an oil well pool and supply company and official in the Rock Fleece Co., of El Paso, is vice president. Application has been made for a charter with incorporation pegged at $2,000.

The Jones Clay company has been operating out of a pit eight miles west of here for more than 18 months, marketing against a steady demand for the rotary clay produced in this area.

Location of the new pit is an 80-acre tract out of the northeast corner of section 12-35-1s, T&P. It is on the P. L. Anderson land. Black is in charge.

'HOPPERDOZER' IS EFFECTIVE IN WAR AGAINST INSECTS

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. July 24 (AP)—A home-made contraption that cost $10—the inventors called it a "hopperdozer"—harvested a bushel of grasshoppers an hour and was credited today with saving a soybean field at Shirley, near here.

At the rate of 200,000 "hoppers" per bushel, the machine disposed of more than a million of the insects in a five hour experiment by Avery Adams and Harry Morgan, farmers.

The machine is a 12 feet wide "cat her" with a tank containing poison. It was attached to the front of a truck which drove through the field, disturbing the grasshoppers and causing them to strike the backstop and fall into the poison.

Somehow similar machines have been used elsewhere in Central Illinois to fight the grasshopper invasion where other methods were ineffective.

MORE DIVORCES DUE IN ENGLAND AS LAWS ARE LIBERALIZED

LONDON, July 24 (AP)—Liberalization of England's divorce laws made it probable today that more divorce court judges will be needed to handle the impending flood of cases.

Regarded by the British press as the biggest change in England's social laws in many years, the new divorce measure led high court lawyers to estimate they would have 50 per cent more work to do when the law becomes operative January 1.

The new law, enacted by the house of commons Friday, will establish desertion without cause for three or more years, incurable insanity for five years, and cruelty as new grounds for divorce. Hitherto, the only ground for divorce in English law was adultery.

Lawyers said they believed most of the 22,000 applicants for legal separations on grounds of cruelty and desertion last year will be eligible now for divorce.

Kesting Dominates Northwest Net Field

MINNEAPOLIS, July 24 (AP)—Elizabeth Kesting of St. Paul continued her domination of the women's field in the northwest by mastering Natalie Waldner to win the fifth northwest lawn tennis championship for the fifth straight year at Deephaven today. The scores were 6-2, 6-0.

Guy Corson, Minneapolis, made it an all Big Ten final in the men's singles by sweeping to a five set victory over Norman McDonald of Minneapolis, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

Corson meets Russell Ball of El Paso, Tex., Northwestern net captain, Monday afternoon. Ball entered the final round of the mixed doubles event with Miss Kesting by winning from Natalie Waldner and Gale Burton, Minneapolis, 6-2, 6-4.

CAR THEFT CHARGES

Charges of car theft were lodged against Ames W. Durrell Saturday following his arrest in Midland Friday night.

He was charged in connection with the disappearance of a new Ford pickup here Friday evening. It subsequently was found damaged near Midland.

Deputy Sheriff Bob Wolf returned the suspect here Saturday. J. W. Smith, wanted in Little Rock, Ark., on a charge of impersonating a federal officer, was being held Saturday in the county jail pending arrival of federal authorities from Dallas.

Bonds of $500 each were set in separate cases against E. H. Lawson and M. E. Owens, charged with driving while intoxicated. Owens posted the figure.

COTTON GOES LOWER

NEW ORLEANS, July 24 (AP)—Bearish influences hammered cotton down almost $1 a bale today and brought the total loss for the week to over $4 a bale.

Favorable crop prospects and perfect weather together with a private Washington message saying President Roosevelt had been informed of the possibility of 8 cent cotton should present prospects of a 14,500,000 bale crop to be realized this year and duplicated in 1938 were given as the reasons for the decline.

All positions traded to new lows for the season.

Mrs. C. H. Simmons, Arlington, is visiting here with her sister, Mrs. Tom Slaughter.

Officers Hunt For Stolen Automobile

LONGVIEW, July 24 (AP)—Gregg county officers were on the lookout tonight for a stolen car believed carrying two negroes who opened fire with a rifle on Constable C. D. Johnson of Grand Salina this afternoon.

Johnson told sheriff's officers he sighted the car speeding near Grand Salina and pursued it. When his automobile approached, he said one of the negroes leveled a rifle across a window and poured a volley at him. One bullet hit a tire and the officer abandoned the chase.

The negroes were reported seen on a road north of here tonight. Officers said the negroes were armed heavily.

FIRST FLIGHT IS A LITTLE EXPENSIVE

CLEVELAND, July 24 (AP)—Army flyers surveyed two wrecked planes today and wondered what to do with Julius Balmut, 16, who police said was responsible for the $10,000 to $15,000 damage.

Balmut was in the county jail. The youth wrecked the planes, police said, when he attempted to "borrow" one of them and take off for Washington to tell Secretary of War Woodring of "an airplane wing which can be expanded or contracted for different conditions of flying." Balmut said he had invented such a wing.

Three army planes from Dayton's Wright Field were at the Cleveland airport last night. The youth got into one.

"I can't understand what happened," Balmut said. "The plane wouldn't go straight. I crashed into the other plane."

"I never had tried to fly before but I've been up in a plane for forty minutes and I've read and studied a lot. I was sure I could fly it to Washington and land it there."

The damaged biplanes cost about $34,000 each.

Miss Anne Martin, county superintendent, reminded school patrons once more Saturday that they have only one week in which to effect transfers on student from one school district to another within the county.

By closing time Saturday only 70 patrons had filed for transfers on 114 children. Miss Martin was anticipating a much larger number.

Aug. 1 is the deadline for making transfers.

THE SPORTS PARADE

By HANK HART

Chick Greer made a great stop of Horace Wallin's ground ball in the ninth frame of the Cossden-Ameriga game Friday at Lubbock. In fact it was better than Red is usually able to make. That put out, a blazing ground ball that hopped crazily before reaching the ex-COC enrollee, snuffed out a very important Cossden rally that may have put a different ending to the story that ended 6 and 3 in the wrong way. Carmon Brandon who had two hits in four trips off Pitcher Carl Weaver, was off deck and Jack Doran, also a two-for-four hitter, was in the hole. Stacey was on third and Morgan on second.

The first ball Weaver threw in to Wallin was a nifty low curve that Horace usually murders but the big first sacker elected to let it go.

The first three double plays, executed in the game came unassisted with Jake Morgan and Horace Wallin pulling two of them. Chuckins doubled a runner by dragging in a blistering line drive off the bat of Tonkey Marsh in a great stab, bringing a roar from the crowd, while Jake came up with a shoestring catch and beat Blair, who was off second, back to the keystone sack.

Mrs. Gordon Phillips, who coped her semi-final match over Mrs. Dean, Lubbock, in the Saturday rounds of the Lubbock women's invitational golf tournament and slipped into the final round against Miss Elinor Jones in a match that will be played today won amid a lot of trouble. She wasn't feeling so good but her form of the last three days has signified her return as a first ranking golfer. She'll have Hubby Gordon on the sidelines to coach her.

Local Sandbelt golfers should defeat the Midland crew without too much trouble today despite the fact that the enemy will be primed and will have the advantage of playing over their own course. Eddie Morgan is going to help a lot and Obie Bristow phoned in from El Paso Saturday afternoon, that he would be on hand. Doug Jones' record-breaking 66 at the Muni should prime him for anything that might happen.

Cleaning the cuff. Announcing the baseball games at Lubbock Friday over KFYO was none other than Cowboy Kyle, who used to play a good game of football with Arkansas. Jack Doran, who is working in Midland but who is playing ball for the Cossden Oilers formerly played with Texas A&M. Tommy Hutto's sudden illness nullified his chances of playing in the tournament and dampened the hopes of Manager Pepper Martin. Jimmy Lawrence, great T. C. U. fullback of two years ago, was benched by the East Texas local.

THE UNITED STATES DEFEATED BY AUSTIN

F. PARKER

By SCOTTY RESTON WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 24 (AP)—The United States and Great Britain, playing spotty and sometimes hilarious tennis, split the first two singles matches of the Davis Cup challenge round today.

Sleek, dark-complexioned Henry Wilfred (Bunny) Austin, main hope of the defending British, soundly whipped Frankie Parker, 21-year-old youngster from Milwaukee, 6-3, 6-2, 7-5, in the opening match; but Don Budge the "Red Terror" from Oakland, Calif., tied up the series by subduing young Charles Edgar Hare after a weird first set, 15-13, 6-1, 6-2.

This even division, confidently predicted in advance by the experts, left the rivals exactly where they started and America's campaign to regain the cup for the first time since France lifted it at Germantown, Pa., in 1927, no farther advanced than before. American supporters, however, are counting definitely on picking up the two points still needed in the doubles on Monday and in the final two singles matches Tuesday when today's pairings will be reversed.

The Milwaukee youngster, named as a replacement for Bryan B (Bitty) Grant of Atlanta, never had a chance against the machine-like Austin, whose tennis reputation has been built mainly on his remarkable exploits in Davis Cup competition.

Hare Stubborn All the excitement of the first day's play was furnished by Hare, a big, handsome southpaw. Given not a chance against the brilliant Budge, the young Briton had the gallery sitting in wide-eyed amazement as he carried the fight to the red-headed Californian from the outset and yielded finally through sheer exhaustion rather than to the American's superior play.

Out of the first day's play emerged the conviction of some experts that this challenge round can't be conceded to the United States unless Budge plays better tennis on Tuesday against Austin than he did in the first set against Hare.

TURNER TAMES PITTSBURGH, 9-0

BOSTON, July 24 (AP)—The Boston Bees blasted their way to a 9 to 0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates today behind the five-hit pitching of Jim Turner. It was the fifth consecutive win for the home club.

The Bees sewed up the game in the third inning when they tallied four runs.

Gilbert English collected three of the 12 hits of the trio of Pirate hitters to divide hitting honors for the afternoon with Tony Cuccinello who had a home run and a single.

The Buc victory followed four consecutive wins over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Accompanying the local team today will be none other than Ed Morgan, an Odessa man in 1936 won the Big Spring country club invitational by beating Doug Jones in the finals. Eddie will play in the No. 2 position with his brother Frank in No. 4.

Doug Jones, ranking star of the Big Springers, will be at his old place and will team with Shirlee Robbins while others who will take part in the matches are Joe Black, Lee Hubby, Lib Coffee and Obie Bristow.

The captain of the team, Dave Watts, will be out of town and will take his place. The big ex-coach has been in El Paso but will arrive in Midland this morning.

The entire team participated in practice rounds Saturday to ready themselves for the Sunday matches together. Colorado and Stanton on the Stanton course, in a batt. for the cellar.

CONTINUES AS TOP ARTIST

That magnificent body you're looking at, which required three columns of this sport page to show, belongs to Victor Weber. He will use it against Salt Watkins in the featured spot on next week's wrestling card. Weber scored over Shiek Mar-Aliiah last week to take the role as local king-pin.

UNBEATEN WRESTLERS GRAPPLE TUESDAY

Locals Out To Clinch SB Honors

Our own little civil war will take place with future top billing as the objective of both men when they meet here and end it all by commanding hand last week by thrashing Shiek Mar-Aliiah and Tex Watkins, a rebel of the first water, harken to the call of the referee and stroll that 'last mile' down the ringside and through the ropes of the Big Spring Athletic club on Tuesday next.

Contempt for a sailor has grown in the hearts of at least three opponents the far has met on the home grounds and Master Victor, a docile young man from the land of the Swastikas, hasn't come this far without learning something of the ability and the temperance of this man of many guises.

Never Beaten In three years running the Gerger had never suffered a lick here and if the seaman wants to get rough and end it all by beating Weber clear through until the referee has to dig up the ring to find him he is going to have to do better than anybody ever did before.

Plenty of good men have tried it and the big shot from 16th has always held his own. Of course they may not have been as rowdy as is the sailor but that can't be blamed on Vic. He's followed orders and taken on the men the promoter has offered until now he has whipped them all but Watkins and Buck Lipscomb. The latter managed to take a powder suddenly on the scene. Whether he maintained a gnawing fear of the two men isn't known but at any rate wasted little time in scrambling.

III-Tempered Text barbers ill feeling toward Weber but then Vic doesn't stand known to adore anyone except the featured character in his own little diary.

Thus it has finally come to pass that the management has a main event that stands out over the other two bouts.

That pair of attractions, incidentally, isn't so bad what with Jack Terry and Mar-Aliiah in the semi-final and Rex O'Sullivan and Jack Gorman to begin the entertainment.

The opener goes on at 8.30 p. m.

PHILLIES ARE WINNERS, 13-11

PHILADELPHIA, July 24 (AP)—A five-run rally in the seventh, on five hits, a walk and an error, put Philadelphia ahead and carried the Wilson team to a 13 to 11 victory over Cincinnati today. The Phils used five pitchers and the Reds three.

Morrie Aronovich led the 16-hit attack off the trio of Cincinnati twirlers, getting four hits in as many trips to the plate while Billy Riggs paced the Cincinnati assault with four hits in five attempts.

Chuck Klein and Alex Kampouris belted out home runs while Hafey, Riggs, Atwood, Whitney and Camilli had doubles in the 31 hits in six and a third innings, received credit for the loss.

ROWE THROUGH, WILL GO HOME

DETROIT, July 24 (AP)—Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe submitted an application for voluntary retirement tonight to Walter O. Briggs, president of the Detroit Tigers.

Club officials said Briggs accepted the application, and that approval of American League President William Harridge and Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis would complete the severance between Rowe and the Tigers for the remainder of the 1937 season.

The schoolboy, nursing a sore arm, will go to his home in El Dorado, Ark., Monday.

Hancock $50 Fine Is Upheld By Walt Morris

KILGORE, Texas, July 24 (AP)—President J. Walter Morris of the East Texas Baseball league, said today directors of the circuit had upheld his fine and suspension of Sam Hancock, Henderson outfielder.

Hancock was fined $50 and suspended 90 days for hitting Umpire Zibbie Howell recently at a game in Henderson. The Henderson club protested and appealed to the directors.

Morris said league attendance was better than last year and club reports indicated the loop's best season.

Unknowns Lead With Sarazen

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—George Smith, one of Chicago's professionals, made it a three-way tie with Gene Sarazen of Brookfield, Conn., and Harry Adams of Nashville, Tenn., at 144 strokes today in Chicago's 10,000 open golf tournament by shooting his second 72.

Adams, who had a 74 on the number one course of the Medinah country club premises yesterday, tied the 144 club today by adding a brilliant 37-70 over the number three layout. Sarazen added a 35-37-72 on number one south course along with a score matching Sarazen's on the same course to make the situation in the tussle for the $3,000 top money more complicated.

Harry Cooper, of Chicago, the pre-tournament favorite, drifted in with a 37-37-74 on number one and with his 38-35-73, was tied with Greenwood and Penna at 147. Rydercupper Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., and Archie Hambrick, Jr., of Decatur, Ill., joined the 148 group, the former with the third 70 and the third sub-par round of the tournament. Picard toured the number one course 36 34, to match the best rounds of Adams and Mehlhorn. Hambrieldid 36-39-73 on the same course to add to his 73.

National Open Champion Ralph Guldahl got going on the back nine of the number three plant to close in on the pace-makers with a 39-32-71. One over par, and a tie at 147 with Greenwood, Cooper and Penna, The Big Texan was off to an indifferent start yesterday with 37-39-76.

Smith Second Tied for second were Horter Smith and Jim Foula, members of the Chicago professional brigade at 145, one stroke off the leaders' pace. Smith who shot the number three course yesterday in 73, came back for a 36-36-72 on number one. Foula, who also turned out a 73 on three, backed it up with a 37-35-72.

Hoosier Trails Another pro, Bud Williamson, of Fort Wayne, Ind., staged a brilliant comeback on the last nine holes of number three to move in behind Smith and Foula, with 14 strokes. The Hoosier, who shot number one in 36-37-73 yesterday, started out with a 40 today and his chances of sticking close appeared blasted. However, he turned on pressure to work out a 33, two under par, coming home.

WINS OVER MRS. CLIFF DEAN, 2 UP

LUBBOCK, July 24 (AP)—Mrs. Rhea Vernon of Abilene threw a bad scare into the favorite from Albuquerque this morning, but sold young Miss Elinor Jones, champion of New Mexico women golfers, laid down four perfect holes for a birdie and victory at the 19th hole in the semi-final round of the Lubbock country club's women's invitational golf tournament.

Miss Jones meets Mrs. Alice Phillips of Big Spring in the 36-hole championship match Sunday. Mrs. Phillips removed the home favorite and co-metist with a two up victory over Mrs. Cliff Dean this morning.

The home stretch comeback staged by Mrs. Vernon, who was three down to Miss Jones' azzling 7 at the turn, was a tournament feature. Sinking long putts and almost equalling Elinor's fine drives, Mrs. Vernon came back to win three holes and square the match on the 13th. She lost the lead on the 15th, but won the next two holes to go up. Needing a half for a win on the 18th she overshot her approach and failed to get back on the green with the next. Miss Jones, playing very slowly, won with a 5.

The Jones drive on the extra hole went 230 yards. She was near the green with her second, chipped on for a short putt to win.

Mrs. Dean, favored slightly to defeat Mrs. Phillips, could not match the Big Spring star's long drives. They had good medals on the first nine, a 39 and a 40, Mrs. Phillips routing the turn one up. Phillips Behin.

The match was squared on the 10th, and Mrs. Dean took a lead on the 12th, lost it on the 15th. They halved the 16th and Mrs. Phillips won the last two.

In the championship flight consolation, Mrs. J. H. Stiles of Lubbock won from Mrs. Elizabeth Pummill of San Angelo and will play Mrs. Glen Smith of Lubbock, who defeated Mrs. Obie Bristow of Big Spring, one up, 19 holes. It was Mrs. Smith's second straight extra hole victory.

Mrs. W. F. Helwig of Lubbock won the first flight title by defeating Mrs. M. M. Brown of Lubbock, one up, in the 18-hole final this morning. Second flight honors went to Mrs. Bob Crawford of Lubbock, who won from Mrs. T. E. Patterson of Lubbock, one up. Mrs. Fenner Tubbs of Lubbock won first flight consolation by default over Mrs. A. Swartz of Big Spring.

COSDEN ELIMINATED BY TAHOKA IN LUBBOCK TOURNAMENT

C. MORGAN ON HILL AS OILERS FAIL

LUBBOCK, Texas, July 24 (AP).—First major upset of the seventh annual Avalanche Journal baseball tournament saw a favored but sadly weakened Cosden Oiler team from Big Spring eliminated by a plugging underdog, Frank Larkin's Tahoka club. The score was 7 to 6 as the slugger from Lynn county clapped the offerings of Chuck Morgan, Cosden pitcher, for thirteen hits.

Nobody, even from Tahoka, expected Larkin's gang to triumph but after the Cosdens had taken a three-run lead in the first three innings, the Tahokans started swinging. They scored once in the fourth, again in the fifth, and went on a spree in the sixth with five consecutive hits, including a pair of doubles, to score four times. A third two-bagger, after two were out, brought in the fourth run.

Score Three
A double by Pete Edwards and a single by Thomas, scoring Edwards, proved the margin of victory. Big Spring came back, after four scoreless innings, to tally three times in the eighth. A double by Manager Pepper Martin started the rally. He advanced on Chuck Morgan's single, and both scored on Jake Morgan's triple to right. Pat Stacey's double to center scored Jake Morgan after Jack Doran had retired. The next two men were out.

Pitcher Morgan had a chance to win his own game in the ninth when Skeet West led off with a single and got around to third while two outs were made, but he grounded weakly to Pitcher Pete Edwards, the third chucker for Tahoka, to end the game.

In Sunday's "crossball" tournament game, the Lubbock Hubbers meet the fearsome Amerada Oilers of Hobbs, N. M. Each team has won two tournament games and neither has been defeated. Tahoka and Brownfield play in the second game, one of which will leave the tournament. Finals are scheduled for Tuesday.

CHICAGO CUBS REPULSE GIANTS AGAIN IN FIRST PLACE BID

LINUS FREY HITS HOMER IN 10-5 WIN

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs whipped the Giants 10 to 5 in the second game of their crucial series today and stretched their National league lead to three full games.

A five-run spurge in the fifth and a three-run rally in the seventh, during which Linus Frey, replacing Stan Hack at third base, hit his first homer of the year, put the game on ice for the Cubs. They scored two unneeded runs in the ninth to wind it up.

The Giants only scoring came in the sixth when Roy Parmelee, starting pitcher, walked three men in a row, after which another walk and three hits gave the New Yorkers their five runs.

A crowd of 18,001 turned out for the game.

Texas Nag 2nd To Flying Scot

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—Pompoon, second to War Admiral in both the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, was just another racehorse to 20,000 sweltering spectators at Arlington Park today.

Flying Scot, carrying the silk of John Hay Whitney of New York, was Pompoon's complex master in the ninth running of the $30,000 added Arlington classic. The heavily played 6 to 5 favorite, finished fifth in the small but brilliant field of seven.

The chestnut son of the Porters' Caladonia, leading almost from start to finish of the mile and a quarter journey, defeated Esquivias, entry of the Tahoma Farm, owned by Emerson F. Woodway of Houston, Tex., by half a length with third home going to Main Street Star, which carried the hopes of Richard and Patrick Nash of Chicago.

The race had a gross value of $34,900 with $27,375 going to Owners' Whitney.

The public overtook the Whitney favor in the betting, with Flying Scot going to the post at 7 to 1. He paid $17.20 to win, $5.20 to place, and $3.40 to show.

Delior finished fourth, Gerald sixth and Sunset Trail trailing in last place.

Texas Adds 30 New Oil Pools In Half Year

West Industry In State Has Daily Yield Of $1,500,000

FORT WORTH, July 24 (UP)—Discovery of 30 new oil pools in Texas during the first six months of 1937 again has set landowners dreaming of the day that "black gold" may gush from beneath their farms.

A United Press survey revealed the magnitude of the chief industry of Texas, which has a daily income of approximately $1,500,000 despite rigid proration enforced by the Texas railroad commission. The giant East Texas field, for instance, is allowed to produce each day only 3.2 per cent of its estimated hourly potential.

Since Jan. 1, thirty new pools have been tapped to make the total number of known oil reservoirs 825. Of the 254 counties in the state, 141 now have producing oil wells and drilling operations are under way in 80 others.

Activity has increased in the once-rich Central West Texas area where millions were made during and after the World war. Iron Mountain Oil company has a new shallow producer in Jones county north of Abilene, that will produce a maximum of 5,000 to 50,000 barrels daily when completed.

Drought Area Now Rich
The Joe Robinson No. 1 Well in Fisher county, north of Sweetwater, came in with an estimated production of 5,000 barrels daily to skyrocket the price of leases in an area that one year ago was burdened with problems of low farm prices and drought. Further west, development of the Permian basin along the Texas-New Mexico line is causing a boom that would be a credit to the old days of uncontrolled production and $3.50 a barrel oil.

Odessa, hub of the new West Texas development, has doubled its population. Abandoned street cars, bought in Fort Worth, are being used for homes in Odessa.

Other new developments in 1937 have brought boom to Jefferson and Mount Pleasant in East Texas and interest is high over a new producer in Guadalupe county south of Austin. Important new discoveries have been made in Southwest Texas.

Texas now produces approximately 1,400,000 barrels of crude daily. The amount is projected among wells and fields by the three-member state railroad commission, whose duties as a conservation body have greatly overshadowed its original purpose to deal with railroads.

Texas has an estimated 70,000 wells now producing, of which approximately one-third are flowing. The other two-thirds produce through pumping. If no new wells are brought in in Texas, production

UTILITIES SCORE BEST GAINS, CLOSE AT HIGH LEVELS

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP)—Utilities ran away with today's brief stock market session, coming to life in large volume for gains of fractions to a point or more.

Fifteen minutes before the close power and light company issues were all over the ticker tape and the majority finished at the best levels of the session.

Chrysler hit a comparatively fast upward pace at the start following the better than expected earnings statement, together with a more generous dividend than had been looked for. The issue ended up 7-7/8 points at 115 3-8, a new high on the move.

Spurring the utility section brokers said, were revived hopes of an early adjournment of congress and lessening of fears further regulatory laws would be demanded for these corporations.

The turnover was the best for any Saturday since May 1 transfer totaling 505,790 shares. A week ago the aggregate was 248,340. The Associated Press average of 80 stocks advanced .6 of a point to 70.1.

estimate that some of the wells could continue flowing for 41 years.

Known reserves of oil in Texas are 7,000,000,000 barrels, E. O. Thompson, member of the Texas railroad commission, asserts, and 1,000,000,000 barrels more are estimated to be hidden in structure not fully defined by drilling.

Comparison, Thompson pointed out, that the total known reserves in the United States are only 13,000,000,000 barrels—and the total crude oil production in the world since 1857 is 29,142,509,964 barrels of which Texas has produced about one-sixth.

Thompson has declared that recovery of oil in some fields has been as high as 97 per cent—contrast to previous methods which often resulted in recoveries of from 15 to 25 per cent.

COTTON

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP)—Cotton lost $1.50 per bale early today to carry the market to the lowest levels since June, 1936, as large crop views spread, but partial recoveries followed.

December which had eased to 10.95, came back to the early high of 11.14, and closed at 11.13 with final prices 5 to 18 points net lower.

The market opened 10 to 20 points lower in response to weakness at Liverpool. Foreign markets gave a more bearish interpretation than had New York yesterday to views attributed to the president that 8-cent cotton was likely if next year's crop was as large as the present indication for a crop this year of 14 1-2 million bales. Foreign selling was quite heavy and liquidation became general on the decline that carried several positions below the 11-cent level and to net losses of 27 to 33 points.

NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, July 24 (AP)—Following an early period of weakness which carried prices off over 21.50 a bale here today cotton encountered realizing and covering by satisfied shorts and last prices were steady, 23 to 28 points above the lows but 13 to 16 points below the previous close.

The sharp early sag carried the two nearest positions below the 11-cent line for the first time this season. October trading at 10.95 and December at 10.92, or 302 to 307 points, approximately $15 a bale below the season's high established in the latter part of March.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—Late selling of September and December wheat dropped prices of these contracts 1 1/2 to 1 7/8 cents a bushel today while grain delivered this month scored a slight advance.

The two-way market in wheat reflecting short covering in July and quiet but persistent selling of the deferred contracts, was paralleled in corn trade. July corn, on which delivery must be made next week, fluctuated rapidly at times over a 1 1/2 cent range.

Wheat closed 1-4 higher to 1 7/8 lower compared with yesterday's finish. July 120 5-8, Sept. 1 1-8 1-2 to 5-8, Dec. 1 20 5-8 3-4; corn was 1-4 up to 2 7-8 down. # Diversified Farm Output Emphasized

New Uses For Crops Also Cited At Chemurgic Council Meet

PARIS, July 24 (AP)—Mr. Carl B. Fritsche of Dearborn, Mich., director of the National Farm Chemurgic Council, told a regional meeting of farmers and business men here today American farm living standards could improve with crop diversification and discovery of new uses for products.

In Texas, Dr. Fritsche emphasized, the problem was finding new uses for cotton, especially because of increases in foreign cotton production. He said other nations, formerly undeveloped in cotton growing, now produce competition for the southern farmer which cannot be met without the aid of science and industry. As examples Dr. Fritsche named Brazil and Ethiopia.

Texas needs a chemurgic council to guard against an inevitable shrinkage of cotton, and prepare for a time when income from the oil industry subsides, Dr. Fritsche said. He predicted within 20 years the south will have a hundred new print mills using southern pine for pulpwood.

Plans for a statewide meeting in some Texas city this fall to organize an association were announced. The meeting here unanimously endorsed the chemurgic council's purpose.

Hubert Harrison, vice president and general manager of the East Texas chamber of commerce, traced the previous development in industry of soybeans, tomatoes, cotton seed and hulls.

Others on the program were Victor Schoffelmeyer, agricultural editor of the Dallas News; Pat Mayse, publisher of the Paris News; and J. A. McGill, president of the Paris and Lamar county chamber of commerce, who presided.

MEXICO CITY, July 24 (AP)—Expropriation of the "El Potate" hacienda, where several peasants were killed recently, widened the breach today between exponents of Mexico's land distribution program and the landed interests.

Cardenas Gives Peasants Arms To Defend Program

President Lazaro Cardenas ordered the war department to arm organized peasants so they might defend themselves against what he called "reactionaries" trying to block his program.

Governor Luis Rodriguez of the state of Guanajuato, formerly President Cardenas' private secretary, issued the decree expropriating the hacienda.

The president asserted that in some instances peasants had not obtained lands to which they were entitled because of per "persecution and assassination at the hands of marauders."

The war department immediately ordered enlistment in the army reserves of semi-military farmers' organizations.

For several years the Mexican government has been working on an Agrarian program designed to break up huge estates and divide the land among small farmers. This program has precipitated frequent conflicts.

The preface is addressed "To the British Ladies," and reads in part: "The amazing increase of dissipation of almost every kind, at present seems to fascinate our minds, and occasion an almost total neglect of those refinements necessary to the real happiness of human beings; the heart enlarging and improving Sciences, at this time give way to a more trifling round of fashionable amusements." The printing is in old English and many expressions seem odd to modern readers. Other contributors are Edmund Nottelme, Dr. Mrs. M. P. Thurman, Miss Marjorie Hull, Mrs. Eddy, George Gentry, Miss Dorothy Burnett, B. L. Gentry, J. & W. Fisher. (Continued on Page 6)

READING AND WRITING By John Selby

PRIMITIVE INTELLIGENCE AND ENVIRONMENT, by S. D. Porteus, D. Sc. (Macmillan: $3). The anthropologists and psychologists of the world, together with several other groups such as the nazis, have long been engaged on a problem almost as fascinating as the hoary one about the relative arrival times of the hen and the egg. This anthropological problem is an important one; rather there are two. Are certain races innately less able or are circumstances and environment responsible for differing cultural levels? And if environment has much to do with it, are the backward races ineffective because they live in the worst environments, or are they in those environments because they are backward?

S. D. Porteus is anxious to help with these problems. He is director of the psychological clinic of the University of Hawaii, and originator of the Porteus tests, which may or may not be the last word in methods of determining the relative intelligence of chosen groups of people. He has studied the Australian natives, and the bushmen of the Kalahari desert in South Africa and by means of observation and tests has managed to compare them (and other tribes) to his own partial satisfaction.

But he has not solved his problem, nor is he apparently much farther along the road toward a solution. The central Australians are, he finds, four points below the Amoskas, who are Africans. But unfortunately, the environmental conditions are not identical, nor are other circumstances (such as the danger from invading whites) the same at all. But the African Bushmen are to all intents vastly inferior to the Australians, and to all other African tribes. The Australians are superior in planning ability, the lowly African Bushman superior in imaginative skill, and in mastery and use of environment the two nations are, according to Dr. Porteus, on a par.

Although the problem remains unsolved (unless Dr. Porteus' forthcoming volume in continuation of his study solves it) a great amount of interesting travel material is mentioned in passing.

Picturization Of Kipling's Famed Tale Of The Sea Headlines Program At Ritz

Spencer Tracy, Freddie Bartholomew Head Cast Of 'Captains Courageous'

One of the great sea stories of modern literature, Rudyard Kipling's thrilling saga of the Gloucester fishermen, comes to the Ritz screen today and Monday with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's picturization of "Captains Courageous," with Freddie Bartholomew, Spencer Tracy, Lionel Barrymore and Melvyn Douglas in the leading roles.

For the first time in his screen career Freddie Bartholomew plays a wholly American boy, a wide departure from any previous role. As Harvey Cheyne he is the pampered son of a millionaire who has never known the meaning of work and worthwhile effort. Bound for Europe on a super-liner he falls overboard off the Newfoundland banks and is picked up by a fishing dory manned by Spencer Tracy, the latter playing the part of Manuel, a Portuguese fisherman. This role, the most colorful that Tracy has yet had, rivals even that of the priest in "San Francisco."

The boy is taken to the fishing schooner "We're Here," captained by Lionel Barrymore as Capt. Disko. His tale of being a millionaire's son is attributed to the shock of having fallen overboard. He is put to work and gradually his regeneration begins. The hardy, honest Gloucester fishermen make a man of him.

Mickey Rooney, teamed with Freddie Bartholomew in "The Devil is a Sissy," again appears with him in "Captains Courageous" as Dan the captain's son. The large supporting cast playing the schooner's crew includes Charley Grapewin, Jack Larue, John Carradine, Walter Kingsford, Donald Briggs and numerous others.

In order to obtain authentic shots of the Newfoundland fishing fleet in action an M-G-M camera crew left for Gloucester last fall, purchased the two-masted, 110-foot schooner "We're Here," sailed her to Newfoundland, thence to Nova Scotia, then down the New England coast, over to the Cuba Keys, through the Canal and up the Pacific to Los Angeles harbor. Location scenes were also made off Monterey, Eureka and the Oregon coast. Before the picture was completed the "We're Here" had sailed more than 8,000 miles.

To insure authenticity of all backgrounds, characterizations and costumes, James B. Connelly, noted English writer of Gloucester and New England stories, was signed as technical expert and assistant to John Lee Mahlin, who prepared the script.

THEY'RE MEN OF THE SEA

Freddie Bartholomew and Spencer Tracy are both men of the sea—although Freddie is a little young for such classification—in "Captains Courageous," booked at the Ritz today and Monday. The story, hailed as one of Hollywood's best for the current season, is an adaptation of Kipling's immortal story. Lionel Barrymore is a third featured player.

Baxter, March In Melodrama Of War Days

Appear At Queen Today And Monday In 'The Road To Glory'

Warner Baxter, the able veteran player who is doing double duty on local screens this weekend, shares stellar honors with two other men—Fredric March and Lionel Barrymore—in the production playing at the Queen today and tomorrow. The story is "The Road To Glory," a dramatic romance with a war background.

June Lang, a newcomer, is the one featured feminine player, appearing as a war nurse who is loved by both Baxter, hard-bitten commander of the front line, and March, his aide. The film not only develops a poignant romantic story from this triangle situation, but also goes into a father-and-son situation.

Lionel Barrymore is the aged father of Baxter who, despite his age, works into his son's company and is discovered by the commander. The younger man finally learns of the old patriot's presence, is forced, because of regulations, to order the latter's retirement from the front.

How the old man meets his order and changes it to suit his will brings the photoplay to a stirring climax and aids in straightening out the romantic complications. Miss Lang is loved deeply by Baxter, who finds the girl his only solace from the rigors of war. March falls in love with the girl, unaware that Baxter, his close friend, cares for the girl. This situation is solved in a series of swift-moving developments as the company advances to the front with the commander's old father in the ranks.

"The Road To Glory" deals melodramatically with heroism, and the emotional conflicts of war and love.

Memorial Program For Gershwin To Be Offered By KBST Today; Works Of Noted Composer Will Be Heard

KBST will pay tribute to the memory of the late George Gershwin, noted American composer, in a 30-minute memorial program scheduled from 12 noon to 12:30 today. The program will be made up of selections from the pen of this famed writer of modern music.

In the passing of Gershwin, America lost one of the few composers who have captured the spirit of the American scene and mood in music as modern as the times. But many of his distinctive contributions are preserved for the audience of KBST in the NBC Theatricals program, interpreted by some of the most popular artists of the day.

Gershwin will long be remembered for what was considered his most ambitious work, the opera "Porgy and Bess," based on the dramatized novel of Dubose Heyward. Described as something "between grand opera and musical comedy," it made a sensation at its world premiere in Boston in September, 1935.

Listeners to station KBST can still enjoy some of the plaintive negro music of "Porgy and Bess" sung in sympathetic and appealing style by the Master Singers, a well known modern choir. Their repertoire of music from this famous production includes "I Got Plenty of Nuthin'" "It Ain't Necessarily So" and "Summertime."

The noted composer is represented in programs of other Theatricals artists, George Hall and his orchestra play the modern Gershwin rhythms, "King of Swing," "Lady Be Good," "Fascinating Rhythm," "They Can't Take That Away From Me" and "Let's Call the Whole Thing Off." Harry Reser and his orchestra play the unforgettable "I Got Rhythm"; the Melodians sing "Bidin' My Time," and other Gershwin tunes are contributed by the Harmonizers and Rhythm Makers.

The evening quarter-hour of Associated Press news, offered over KBST through facilities of The Herald, is now scheduled each evening, with the exception of Saturday, from 6:15 to 6:30. Saturday evening's newscast remains at 7:30 as in the past. Daytime newscasts remain at 10:15 a. m. and 2:15 p. m. The morning news report Monday, however, is being shifted to 10:45 to make way for special programs. That time is in effect for only the one day.

A temporary change has been made in the Sunday evening broadcast schedule. The Eventide Harmonizers are now on the air at 5 o'clock instead of 6:30 as in the past, and the program featuring Ernest Bethel now is offered at 7:45.

The local station will offer, in the near future, recordings made at the scene of the Hindenburg disaster at Lakehurst, N. J. A unique "scoop" was obtained by engineers for station WLS, Chicago, who were at the naval station in Lakehurst with equipment when the giant dirigible crashed. All the horror of the tragedy was caught in the sound version of the catastrophe.

SAYS BAILEY WILL HAVE OPPOSITION IN ARKANSAS RACE

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—Marshall Purvis, Hot Springs, Ark. attorney, predicted here today Gov. Carl E. Bailey of Arkansas would be opposed by "one of several congressmen" for the U. S. senate seat of the late Joseph T. Robinson.

Purvis, who said he managed the Hattie Caraway senatorial campaign of 1932 and was a leader of the state's Huey Long faction, commented on the Arkansas democratic committee's selection of Bailey as party nominee in a special September election:

"Bailey will be opposed by one of several democratic congressmen who are considering running. The candidate will run as an independent democrat and will have the support of our faction and others opposed to the Robinson-Bailey setup. Bailey will never get to Washington."

The WLS men later sold the recordings to the National Broadcasting company for a general air release. The same transcription will be aired by KBST.

Robert Jones, who has been appearing in a solo program each Thursday at 4:15, has returned to California.

Modern Day Love Story On Lyric Screen

Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy Starred In 'To Mary—With Love'

The trials—and eventual triumphs—of young married couples whose experiences occurred during the hectic post-war days are the later dark depression era are depicted in emotional fashion in the film "To Mary—With Love," which returns to Big Spring for a showing at the Lyric Sunday and Monday.

Myrna Loy and Warner Baxter play the principal roles, with June Lang, the close friend of both who witnesses, with boundless sympathy, the despair and happiness of the two. The picture was adapted from the Richard Stoddard story of the same name, one of the most popular writings ever to appear in the Saturday Evening Post. Claire Trevor and Jean Dixon are in supporting roles.

Baxter and Miss Loy are first seen as happy newlyweds, Hunted as the lover of Miss Loy who returns to the role of friend. The honeymoon is hardly over before the gay husband is involved with another woman. That crisis straightened out, he becomes—this is during the boom days—obsessed with making a fortune, neglecting his wife in the process. She dislikes the social life they have taken up, but gallantly stays with her husband. Then they lose their baby, and another emotional crisis threatens to throw the marriage of the rocks. The marital ties reach a near-breaking point with the stock market crash, which leaves Baxter penniless. He loses his morale, goes on the skids, but his wife, courage strengthened by her ever-faithful Hunter, stays by his side.

How the couple finally discover the greatness and depth of their love, and how they arrive at a new and finer understanding is told in a fine climax that concludes a deftly told story.

Film Due At Ritz Points Warning To Reckless Driving

Anyone addicted to fast driving or inclined to be reckless behind the wheel of an automobile will do well to ponder the information in the research results obtained by producers of the movie, "The Devil is Driving," which will be a featured presentation at the Ritz theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

Richard Dix and Joan Perry are the featured roles.

Figures gathered from the National Safety Council show, that in nine years from 1928 to 1936, inclusive, 297,230 persons were killed by automobiles in the United States.

The total number of automobile deaths for 1936 alone for this country was in excess of 37,000, the approximate figure of all Americans killed in the World war.

"Figures like these," say the film producers, "should drive home the importance of careful driving."

This importance is stressed in a dramatic fashion in the forthcoming film, which tells the story of a lawyer who becomes district attorney, wages a relentless warfare against reckless driving.

In connection with the safety education feature of the film, the city of Big Spring, through its law enforcing agencies, is co-operating with the Ritz management in publicizing the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Jennings and sons, Jimmie Ralph and Jackie Earl, of Clovis, N. M., arrived Saturday night for a weekend visit with Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Ralph. The boys will remain here for some two weeks.

ADDITIONAL PRODUCTION INDICATED IN TXL AREA

Showings Encountered in Two Offsets To Discovery Well East Of Here

Additional production in the area of the TXL discovery well between the East Howard and Chalk pools was indicated by showing of two offsets this week.

Eastland Oil Co. No. 1 Snyder northwest diagonal offset, 330 feet out of the southwest corner of section 27-30-1s, T&P, shot Friday with 450 quarts and flowed 40 barrels in an hour and eight minutes. It is bottomed at 2,960 feet and appears about on a par with the discovery well which rated 216 barrels a day. The Eastland test's lime formation was somewhat harder than in the TXL well.

Moore Bros. No. 2 TXL, south offset 960 feet from the north end of section 33-30-1s, T&P, encountered the first pay stratum from 2,700 to 2,850 feet and filled 300 feet in oil. Its showing was considered better than the No. 1 TXL. Iron Mountain No. 1 Clover, northwest diagonal offset, 330 feet out of the southeast corner of section 28-30-1s, T&P, drilled ahead to 2,600 feet.

Test To Be Shot

The Moore Bros. No. 1 J. B. Harding, offset test, 2,310 feet from the north end of section 19-33-1s, T&P, which failed to respond to a 1,500-gallon acid treatment a week ago, will be shot this week in an effort to increase the 2.86 barrels an hour production.

To the west, Moore Bros. No. 1 Mabel Quinn, section 23-24-1s, T&P, drilled to 2,770 feet in anhydrite. On the south, the Moore Bros. No. 1 L. B. Cagle, section 31-33-1s, T&P, was at 2,625 feet in anhydrite and salt.

Four miles east of Big Spring, the Westbrook and Graham No. 1 Great West, section 48-32-1n, T&P, drilled ahead to 2,427 feet in anhydrite, carrying a hole of water, pending running of the seven-inch casing.

Operators Hoped to Run a Test on the Otis Chalk No. 1, east extension to the Chalk pool, this week. Saturday the six-inch string was being pulled, and the eight and 10 were to follow. The test has been bridged at 2,623 feet to prevent flowing during operations. Bottomed at 2,981 feet in brown lime, the test began flowing again when an attempt was made to cut tools loose with acid. Otis Chalk said he would treat the hole with acid since the brown lime from 2,840-2,981 responded to the chemical.

On the western edge of Glasscock county production, the Moore Bros. No. 4 McDowell, section 21-34-2s, T&P, failed to make a well at 3,470 feet in lime. Plans were at plug it back to 2,200 feet and test a new pay producing a light green oil, estimated at about nine or ten barrels. Operators may acidize in an attempt to increase the rate. The oil is unlike any in the area.

John I. Moore No. 1 McDowell section 30-33-2s, T&P, drilled to 1,505 in anhydrite. It is a location east of the No. 4 McDowell.

Moore Bros. No. 1 F. A. King section 43-35-1s, T&P, wildcat in the extreme northwest corner of Glasscock county, drilled ahead to 3,100 feet in anhydrite. Contract depth is 3,650 feet.

Completion

Superior Oil and Gas No. 26-R Roberts, section 137-2s, W&NW Howard county, was completed for a potential of 366 barrels at 1,293 feet in sand. It topped pay at 1,282 feet.

Continental No. 37-S Settles, section 159-29, W&NW, swedged 5 1/2-inch casing at 1,314 feet in sand as the company moved in for four new tests. They were: Exxon 4-A, 1,340 feet from the north and 1,115 feet from the west lines of section 7-32-2s, T&P; Glasscock county moving in rotary; Settles S-1B, 2,200 feet from the north and 44 feet from the east lines of section 160-29, W&NW; Glasscock county digging pits; Overton No. 10, 99 feet from the south and 2,310 feet

Fourth Pool Is Opened In Gaines Co.

Continental Is Successful With Jones Well In Northwestern Area

SAN ANGELO, July 24—Swabbing of six barrels of net oil hourly by Continental Oil Co.'s No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones in northwestern Gaines county from a total depth of 4,939 feet, after treating the Permian lime with 1,000 gallons acid, opened Gaines county's fourth pool this week and marked Continental's second wildcat success in the county within a month. Tapping was drawn Friday for deepening.

Late in June Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth publisher, and Continental drilled in No. 1 A. L. Wasson as the third pool opener in Gaines, nine miles east and three miles north of Continental No. 1 Jones. The well was completed at 4,950 feet, 1,410 feet below sea level, for a natural flow of 332.6 barrels of 34.5 gravity oil in 2 1/2 hours. By coincidence No. 1 Jones developed production at the same depth at which No. 1 Wasson was completed, although only 1,309 feet below sea level compared to Wasson's datum of minus 1,410.

At Top of Pay

No. 1 Jones drilled soft formations from 4,895 to 4,902 and from 4,906-50 feet, and was believed to be only in the top of the pay. It is 1,980 feet from the north, 660 feet from the east line of section 22-A7-pal, four miles east of the New Mexico boundary, 14 miles northeast of the Hobbs field in Lea County, New Mexico, and 2 1/2 miles southwest of the Bennett pool in southeastern Yoakum county.

Other developments this week included completion of Texas-Pacific No. 2 Bennett, as the largest initially of three producers in the Bennett pool in Yoakum, and of York & Harper and Sloan & Zook No. 1 Bagley, one mile east extension to the south end of the Foster pool in Ector county.

A northwestern Andrews county wildcat and a northeastern Yoakum county wildcat were abandoned after encountering water and water also was struck by a central western Yoakum wildcat and by one in southeastern Bailey

SEVEN wildcats in as many counties were included in 58 locations staked in 13 counties. Flowed 645 Barrels

Texas-Pacific No. 2 L. P. Bennett, third producer in the Bennett pool in Yoakum county, flowed 645 barrels of oil through 1-inch tubing in 24 hours, bottomed at 5,271 feet. Pay topped at 5,100 feet was shot, then treated with 8,000 gallons of acid. The well is 440 feet out of the northwest corner of section 678-D-John H. Gibson and extends production about a quarter mile west and slightly north.

Magnolia No. 1 Taylor in northeastern Yoakum, in the northeast corner of section 201-D-John H. Gibson, struck sulphur water at 4,235 feet that increased to a hole at 5,292, where abandonment was ordered. Bahan, Rhodes and Fitzpatrick No. 1 L. B. Shook estate, six miles west of Plains, in the northeast quarter of section 620, struck two-thirds of a barrel of salt water at 5,380 feet. It was unable to make progress from 5,385 owing to caving hole and was to run Aquagel to seal the walls.

In southwestern Yoakum, Bohgo & Bond No. 1 J. L. West, in the southwest quarter of section 606, had drilled to 4,708 in anhydrite and lime. Moore Bros. were rigging up for No. 1 Cleveland, 4 1/2 miles north of northeast corner of section 706. The Texas Co. No. 1 Walker, in the southeast corner of section 794, was fishing for drill pipe at 4,638 feet in lime. Top of the solid lime by samples was 4,480 feet, 824 feet below sea level Denver Producers & Refiners No. 1 J. A. Whittenberg, in the north west corner of section 831, had reached 3,852 in anhydrite, redrock and gypsum.

In Cochran County

Hyde, Wiggins and Lawson No. 1 Dean in southern Cochran county in tract 26, league 92, Lipscomb county school land, topped the brown lime at 4,200 feet, 470 feet below sea level, and drilled ahead to 4,240 in lime and anhydrite. Stanold No. 1 Slaughter, south western Hoekley wildcat, in the southwest quarter of section 76 block 37, Zavala county school land, was scheduled to run 7-inch casing at 4,770 feet in lime and standardize. Top of the lime was reported 4,150 feet, 500 feet below sea level, reportedly slightly higher than in The Texas Co. and other wells. No. 1 Slaughter, Hoekley discovery well 2 1/2 miles to the northwest. R. F. Duggan and others No. 1 Yellow House, in league 11, league 718, Capitol Syndicate lands, prepared to deepen with cable tools from 4,100 feet, where 7-inch pipe was cemented. Illinois and Marcano No. 1 Yellow House, southeastern Barber county wildcat, in the northeast corner of labor 4, league 700, Capitol Syndicate lands, struck sulphur water at 4,497 feet and shut down for orders at 4,525 in lime.

RE-ICING VOLUME GREATER THIS YEAR

Increase in number of freight cars leaving cantaloupe from California and Arizona to various parts of the United States, stopping here for re-icing was shown in a report given by Ben Cole, manager of Southern Ice company, Saturday. In comparison to last year, Cole said, there was a sharp gain in the number of cars handled. Up to this time last year only 3,166 cars had been re-iced here, and figures showed that there had been a total of 4,139 up to Friday night.

Oil Rises In Loving Test

Shooting Scheduled; Another Test In That Area Abandoned

SAN ANGELO, July 24—Filling 500 feet with oil the first hour, Toy A, Westbrook No. 1 Kyle this week indicated production in northwestern Loving county a quarter mile north and east of Michigan Gas & Oil Co.'s (Mason) No. 2 Kyle, the discovery. Pay was topped at 3,953 feet, the top of the sand, and drilling stopped at 3,999 feet, and was scheduled this week. The test is 900 feet from the north and east lines of section 29-35-1-T&P.

Finley & Cherry No. 1 W. F. Johnson, 1 1/2 miles west of Delaware production in the Kyle pool, was abandoned at 3,963 feet after swabbing only five barrels of oil with 10 to 12 barrels of water daily. Located in the southeast quarter of section 24-45-1-T&P, it is the second failure in the area. Stanold earlier having plugged a south offset to the discovery. Continental staked a location for No. 1 Bell, a Loving county wildcat, 2,290 feet from the north and west lines of section 20-54-2-T&P.

Acidizing Unsuccessful

Empire No. 1 J. D. Biles in west of the discovery well, and geologists Jones & Stasney of Albany have taken a large block northwest of Anson on which a deep test is planned.

Operators cemented seven-inch casing on the Humble No. 4 DeLa force deep Ordovician wildcat in eastern Shackelford county, after reaching a depth of 4,350 feet. The Ellenberger is expected at about 4,450 feet.

northwestern Andrews county, in the southwest corner of section 12 A-3-P-1, was abandoned at 4,672 feet, where it acidized unsuccessfully after plugging back from 5,010 feet. Amerada No. 1 Littman farther northwest in Andrews, in the northwest corner of section 6 A-29-P-1, tested no oil between 4,370 and 4,400 feet and drilled ahead below 4,439 in hard gray lime. It swabbed a small amount of oil after acidizing at 4,359 feet. The test is only one mile east of Brower & Reynolds No. 1 Parcel, a small discovery well in eastern Lea county, New Mexico.

York & Harper and Sloan & Zook No. 1 Bagley, one mile east of the south end of the Foster pool in Ector county, flowed 534 barrels of oil in 24 hours by heads through casing for completion at 4,317 feet after being shot. It is in the southwest corner of section 17-42-2s T&P.

Oil Spray

Shasta No. 1 D. Scharbauer, northeast outpost to the Goldsmith field in Ector and in the southwest quarter of section 13-A-P-1 developed an oil spray and six million cubic feet of gas daily in drilling to 4,197 feet. The operator planned to pack off the gas or run a liner, then acidize.

CCC Program In Big Bend Park Is Nearing Completion

AUSTIN, July 24 (AP)—Representatives of the National Park service here said the CCC program in the proposed Big Bend national park is nearing completion after an expenditure of $323,680.

The area is to become part of proposed 788,000-acre national park when additional lands are acquired and deeded by the state.

Hills district in western Crav county was credited with topping the Simpson, middle Ordovician at 5,906 feet, 3,260 feet below sea level and five feet higher than in Gulf No. 4 Waddell, one location to the north, the Basin's first major Ordovician producer outside the Big Lake field in Reagan county. Seven-inch casing was run at 5,740 feet. No. 5 Waddell is 1,136 feet from the south and east line of section 4-13-27-pal.

American Liberty No. 5 Tubb, in the northeast quarter of section 19-32-2-pal, moved Tubb deep Permian production one location south swabbing 24 barrels of oil in 2 1/2 hours at a plugged back depth of 4,318 feet after acidizing pay.

the federal government. An appropriation made by the last legislature to purchase additional acreage was vetoed by Gov. James V. Allred on the ground the state could not afford the expenditure at this time. Civic organizations are endeavoring to provide funds by $1 subscriptions from the citizenship.

The principal activity of the CCC has been directed to making the mountain wilderness accessible to pleasure-seekers. More than $216,000 was used in the construction of 15 miles of roads, five miles of trails, and for bridges and guard rails. The trails include one to the south rim of the Chisos mountains, from where there is to be had the most spectacular view in the park—almost straight down 2,000 feet to the Rio Grande and across mountain ranges into Mexico.

Gas Economy Of Ford V-8 Truck Exceeds All Expectations In Test

It's one thing to claim gasoline economy — but it's something else to PROVE such a claim under actual road conditions and with regular drivers. The remarkable gasoline economy of Ford V-8 Trucks and Commercial Cars was proved conclusively in the economy test which we conducted July 23rd. The thirty-seven V-8s used in this contest were all owned by business men here. Some of these units were three years old.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, DRIVERS PROVED THE REMARKABLE MILEAGE OF FORD V-8 TRUCKS AND COMMERCIAL CARS IN TESTS AVERAGING 15.6 MILES PER GALLON FOR TRUCKS AND 24 MILES PER GALLON FOR COMMERCIAL CARS.

READ THESE RESULTS — YOU WILL REALIZE AS NEVER BEFORE THE FUEL ECONOMY OF FORD V-8 TRUCKS AND COMMERCIAL CARS

Division A (Truck 85 h. p.)		Commercial Car Award
Truck Award	Miles per Gal	Division B (85 h. p.)	Miles per Gal

(2) Bud Holland 157" Dump Truck (1937) 17.6 Miles Per Gallon	20.8	(2) F. P. Woodson, Pickup (1937)	27.8
		DIVISION C (60 H. P.)
		(1) Carl Strom, Pickup (1937)	35.6
		(2) Darby's Bakery, Panel (1937)	20.8

HOW THE TEST WAS CONDUCTED

Every driver was required to disconnect his fuel tank. A test can was mounted on the unit and connected with the carburetor so that an exact measured quantity of gas was used by each contestant. The actual distance traveled by each unit from starting point to stopping point was measured by disinterested judges and this distance computed into miles per gallon.

FORD ECONOMY ONLY BEGINS WITH MILES PER GALLON

Many drivers think of economy chiefly in terms of gasoline mileage. But Ford economy only begins at that point, for in all ways the Ford V-8 is economical to own—economical in first cost; economical in oil consumption; economical in tire wear; economical in repairs and replacements. We believe that this is why we are selling more and more Ford V-8 units to those who have a haulage problem requiring one unit or a whole fleet.

NOT ENOUGH CHORUS SINGING

One of the Austin correspondents for a string of Texas newspapers reports that when Governor Allred told news-men several days ago that he would like to hear from the people regarding his attitude on the ad valorem tax rate for school purposes, he was trying to get a message to the taxpayers.

He hoped, the correspondent believes, that the taxpayers—or some of them—would respond and tell him if his disinclination to keep taxes up met their approval.

The governor got answers, not directly, but from people who believe the schools are not getting enough money and that the tax rate should not be reduced.

Those who perhaps held the opposite view made no response, or if they did respond it was in such small numbers as to make no noise.

Which would indicate that the people of Texas are content with their tax load and do not want it reduced. But everybody knows that is not the fact. One can hear on every turn, in almost every conversation, complaints that tax bills are far too high and that "something ought to be done about it." The reason the governor got no more response is that the taxpayers are not generally organized and the believers in large school appropriations, despite the scarcity of money with which to pay taxes, despite the volume of unemployment which prevents earnings to meet tax bills, are organized and make their voice heard.

This is not to quarrel with the school group, or any other similarly banded interest which works conscientiously in behalf of its own affairs. Give such organizations credit for energy and enterprise. Give them credit for going farther than a mere conversation complaint. We are not concerned here with the school tax specifically. There are arguments for increased school appropriations, and those who have advanced such arguments believe wholeheartedly in their stand.

But the response to Governor Allred's statement is indicative of the general attitude of the public toward governmental matters.

The real taxpayers do too much solo work and not enough chorus singing. Special interests cry out when they are threatened and some private individuals make a faint noise at times, but results favorable to the taxpayer will never be achieved until enough of all interests, private as well as corporate, get together and make themselves really audible.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—For four cents in New York one may get on a boat and ride for an hour, a week, or a month. I suppose one could stay aboard forever—or until the boat was docked for repairs. These are the ferries on the Hudson which relay motorists to and from the Jersey shore. Pedestrians only may come in for these uninterrupted rides, however. With each crossing the huge saucer-like ferries are emptied of vehicles. Foot passengers have the run of the crafts, which means the smoking aisles, or the vast upstairs, where the view is good and the cooling breezes whip in with refreshing zest.

Many people here in the cool of the evening like to get on these boats—any of them, and park themselves on the upper decks, foot on rails, and be wafted back and forth across the river, taking the air and enjoying the changing color of the skyline. New York, viewed from afar, is prettiest at this time. The vague blues of the sky, generally in the Maxfield Parrish manner, envelop the city like soft velvet curtains, and the pinpoint of light in various hues wink from ten thousand windows.

Brooklyn Bridge is also a favorite spot for this vista, and the city as glimpsed from those dark, glooming arches has inspired at least one famous canvas.

A couple of summers ago an attempt was made to serve beer and ale on the boats, but it never came about. In the mornings, however, one may have coffee and doughnuts, which are served on the upper deck, an opportunity of which many commuters avail themselves. The coffee is almost always bad, but the service is pleasant and the pastry is good. Coffee costs a dime, although second helpings come without charge. The pastry is also 10 cents, but there are no re-fills.

As it requires about 15 minutes for each crossing, this gives the office workers hurrying to their chores just time for a bite of breakfast. The other morning two stenographers from somewhere in New Jersey were making their daily pilgrimage to the city, and one of them remarked: "I live for this moment, Dora. I like to see people hurrying—and don't they have wonderful coffee!"

Dora said she liked the coffee too but was no longer thrilled by the ferry ride and the hurrying throngs, because she had spent 15 years making the same jaunt twice daily, Sundays excepted. Blaise.

As if he already hasn't enough to do, what with pursuing his studies in the occult, directing his orchestra, pioneering in Japanese music, and writing, Vincent Lopez is going to give a series of lectures at Columbia University next fall.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

WASHINGTON

Debate on the supreme court offered a grand opportunity for young fellows in Congress to display their leadership. Senator Minton of Indiana, of the class of 1934, glories in the debate. He displayed keen ability at that most difficult feat, the give and take on the floor. It is no kindergarten trick to stand on the floor and deliver a speech. Minton could do it, although seasoned by but two years in the senate. At times he did it almost too well and flavored his debate with an occasional sub-catcher jibe. Senator Schwelblich of Washington occupied a quiet sector during the initial stages of debate but got in on some of the deckling. He had received his filibuster training earlier. It was he who organized the "Young Turks" who broke Huey Long's filibuster.

Guffey Besieged

Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania, while no youngster in age or politics, is another of the class of 1934 who, like Minton and Schwelblich, donned his armor to war for the court bill. Guffey waxed scholarly and cited cases and precedents although few before and few after suspected him of such deep research into the doings of the court in 150 years past. But Guffey recognized his limitations in the give and take of debate and preface his speech with a warning that he would allow no interruptions while he read his prepared piece. He didn't. But Wheeler of Montana and his cohorts were laying for him when he finished and soon had the Pennsylvania on the ropes. Ultimately he sat down in the face of a barrage of questions, declining to answer them.

Senator Burke of Nebraska, also of the class of 1934, was the principal "youngster" trying out his mettle on the side of the opposition, ranking almost with the senior Howard of Montana, and Wheeler of Montana, in the volume of his attack. But Burke is a kindly soul, and parties where he might thrust.

Maverick Warning

The shining light among the fighting youngsters in the house is that voluble Texan, Maury Maverick. He grabbed the ball early in the game by tearing off a copy of the court bill as it came from the White House, signing his own name to it and flinging it into the hopper. Since then he has written and spoken for the bill and organized a following. He persistently denounces any assertion that the people are against the measure. Members of congress who oppose the bill, he says, must come back. Incidentally that is a risky young man takes in "getting his neck out" on a legislative such as the court bill. History records that a number of youngsters who went in over their heads for the League of Nations subsequently lost their pants.

A NARROW ESCAPE

A faint call from the inside of the shack sent Marion running back. As soon as she stepped in the door and found Ted's dark eyes fixed on her, she knew she had really won the battle.

For the first time, his eyes gazed at her with a seeing look, and his pupils dilated with surprise. "Who—what—where am I?" Ted tried to raise his head, but his strength failed him, and he sank back exhausted by even that small effort.

Marion crossed quietly to his cot and put a cool hand on his head. He still had fever, but she no longer encountered the hot, dry skin she had learned to expect through the past weeks.

"You mustn't try to talk yet," she warned him. "You've been very sick, but you are going to be all right now."

For some time he pondered this his eyes fixed on her face.

"Where's Kay?" he said finally. Marion shook her head. "I don't know. I can't tell you anything. Please don't use your strength by asking questions. There is no one here but me."

"How—how long?" His lips began to droop. Instead of answering, Marion lightly held her hand over his eyes, and in a few minutes his regular breathing proclaimed him asleep again.

Stepping to the outer door, Marion drew it to, leaving it slightly ajar and sagging on its hinges as she had first found it. Although she had been forced to break her promise to her father when she had taken in this young man, she had scrupulously kept her word in every other regard. Anyone coming unexpectedly on the shack would have unhesitatingly pronounced it deserted.

She moved quietly around the two rooms into which the cabin was divided, putting them in order while she waited for the water to boil on the single oil burner which was her only source of heat.

She had taken a chance on building a fire in the stove at night, but with the first coming of dawn she had put it out, so that no telltale smoke should betray their presence.

Humming a little tune in her head, she stepped out of the shack and stepped on the rough planks that boarded the windows on the outside.

If she could only take them off and let the sun stream in, instead of creeping through the cracks, it would be so much more cheerful. She started toward the door, with a sudden decision to obey her impulse. After all, it was ridiculous to stay cooped up this way! If any searching party had been out for this wounded puncher, it had evidently passed by this hidden spot long ago.

As she reached the inner door that led to a tiny vestibule, she suddenly stood rooted to the spot. Her hand clutched the door frame and her breath came fast. She listened with desperate intensity for a repetition of the sound she thought she had heard. A second later, she heard with unmistakable distinctness a shout in the distance, and an answering call somewhat nearer.

"Push the inner door shut again, Marion, darted to the oil stove and turned it out, then ran down by Ted's cot, her eyes fixed on him, watching for any sign that his sleep had been disturbed. With a gasp she saw, she waited, while the voices drew nearer, her mind torn by indecision.

Should she make her presence known? If Ted had been still in danger, she would have felt that she must get what help she could to save him. But now that she was sure he was on the road to recovery, her first duty was to her father.

If the dread suspicion she harbored to his activities was true, it would mean certain imprisonment and possible death for him, if he were taken. To find her there would inevitably put any searchers on his track, and they would wait to take him when he came back.

She put one hand on Ted's forehead and felt his pulse with the other. There was no doubt but that his fever was down and his pulse much stronger.

A sudden shout outside made Marion start violently. She saw Ted's eyes open as a man's voice exclaimed, "Look at this clearing will you? How'd we miss it before?"

Ending swiftly over, Ted, Marion whispered with compelling intensity, "Don't make a sound! It is the one thing I ask, in exchange for saving your life!"

Ted feebly pressed her hand in acquiescence, and together they waited in breathless silence, his tuning to the oncoming footsteps crashing through the brush. "Say, that's old Ten Strike's hangout! Didn't you ever run across it?" A second voice answered the first. "His shant, there's been deserted a dozen years or more. Ever since the old boy kicked out."

"He'd better have a look at it," the first voice boomed. "Gwynn might . . ."

Marion felt the hand in hers jerk spasmodically. "Aw, what's the use?" the other voice broke in, impatiently. "We're just wasting valuable time. If that guy had been able to get as far as this after bumping Scrap Johnson off, he couldn't have made a real get-away. And believe me, he wouldn't have lost an time doing it! Besides, that shanty looks just the way it did the last time I saw it, a couple of years ago."

After you finish looking over deserted real estate perhaps you'll catch up and help me track down the murderer."

Marion bit her lips and involuntarily gripped Ted's hand, as she studied his bewildered expression, then she turned her eyes fearfully toward the door.

A heavy tread tramped up the two steps, and the outside door was shoved open. Holding her breath, Marion braced herself for the next moment, when the intruder would step across the space that divided the two doors, and push open the inner one.

She could feel him peering in the small darkened space, and near him stamp an experimental foot on the rotted flooring. Then, to her immense relief, he sprang back and shouted to his companion:

"Hi! Wait a sec! I'm coming!"

Marion could scarcely believe that she was hearing his retreating footsteps. For a full second longer, the dead tension held her. The sight of Ted's white face and closed eyelids, as she slumped back to the pillow, galvanized her to action, and she reached for some cold water to revive him.

Marion Believes In Ted. The distant footsteps, crashing through the brush, had completely died away, when Ted finally opened his eyes again, to find Marion gazing at him with solemn intensity.

"Is your name Gaynor?" she asked.

Ted nodded. "Yes, it is. But I'm as much in the dark about this murder talk as you are. You believe that, don't you?" His eyes closed again with exhaustion.

"Yes, I do believe it," Marion answered, with conviction. "I can tell by looking at you that you are no murderer. And from what you said when you were delirious, I gathered that you'd been shot before you had a chance to aim, and your shot had gone wild."

"That's just the way it was," Ted nodded. "I don't remember anything after that. I can't separate delirium from reality. I could have sworn that I saw Josh Haulings bending over me plain nighmare. But where any murderer comes in—? He suddenly raised himself on his elbow and demanded, "Why didn't you let me find out what in hell they meant by this talk of murder?"

Marion gently pushed him back. "Hush! You mustn't get excited! Whatever they meant, you're better off tight where you are, until you're stronger."

"But you?" Ted fixed his eyes on her. "Why are you here, in hiding?"

Marion hesitated a moment, and a slow color came into her cheeks. "That's a long story," she said finally. "I'll tell it to you later. I have to stay here without anyone knowing my whereabouts, until my father comes back. She paused a moment, then added, "Not even the man I'm engaged to knows where I am."

For a long moment the two gazed at each other, then Ted weakly closed his eyes.

"I don't make head or tail of it," he murmured, in a weak voice. "but I know you're square. And I know I owe my life to you. So anything you say goes!"

For a moment, he sank back in a half stupor, then suddenly sat up violently, and exclaimed, "But look here! I've got to go! My mother and sister are waiting! And Kay—? He fell back on the pillow in a dead faint before Marion could catch hold of him. (Copyright, 1937, Marie de Nerveud)

CARNEGIE BOOK IS REVIEWED FOR CLUB

Dale Carnegie's book "How To Make Friends" was reviewed by Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor of the First Methodist church, before the American Business Club Friday noon.

Rev. Bickley stressed the importance of Carnegie's suggestions that individuals show interest in other people, always smile, remember names of people, and talk in terms of others' interest.

Two new members were introduced: Ward R. Hill and Lonnie Coker. Mr. Clinkaer was a visitor. The district convention was announced for September 17-18 in Enid, Okla.

Old News Clippings in Hills PORTERSVILLE, Calif. (UP)- Besides gold in "them thar hills" there are also newspaper clippings. Some picked up in the Kern hills dated back to April 15, 1877. They had to do with Lee's surrender. How the clippings, supposed to be from the New York Herald, found their way west is still a mystery.

AT THE CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

Room 1, Settles Hotel
"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, July 25.

The Golden Text is: "The truth of the Lord endureth for ever; Praise ye the Lord" (Psalms 117:2). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God" (Revelation 19:1).

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The suppositional warfare between truth and error is only the mental conflict between the evidence of the spiritual senses and the testimony of the material senses, and this warfare between the Spirit and flesh will settle all questions through faith in and the understanding of divine Love" (page 288).

PETROLEUM DAILY WILL BE PUBLISHED

DALLAS, July 24 (AP)—Tom E. Foster, publisher of daily newspapers at Kilgore and Jefferson, Texas, announced here today that the Petroleum Daily, a newspaper to serve the gas and oil industry of the nation, would begin publication here the first week in August.

Foster is president of the publishing firm. Other officers, he said, include Allen V. Peden of Houston, secretary, who also will be editor, and North Bigbee of Dallas, who will be assistant editor and chief of the Dallas bureau.

The daily, Foster said, will be published each morning except Sunday. It will be tabloid size, on book paper.

Peden said "the daily will completely abstain from engaging in politics of any kind, or from entering into any controversies within the industry, either sectional or as between groups. It will, however, actively support or oppose issues and measures on which the industry is itself united."

Kansas employment has increased 8.6 per cent and pay rolls 13.2 per cent since January.

Banking News

—tells a story of strength and growth in public service.

In our previous advertisement we pointed out that 63,000,000 depositors have entrusted some 45 billion dollars in their banks. The latest official nationwide figures show how the banks are employing these deposits through sound conservative loans and investments:—

Bank loans on farm lands and city real estate, nine billion dollars; loans to individuals and business concerns, twelve billion dollars; investments in direct Federal government loans, eleven billion dollars; in obligations of various government recovery corporations, one billion dollars; investments in state and municipal bonds, over three billion dollars; in American corporate securities, six billion dollars.

This bank feels that American banking as a whole is fully measuring up to its duties in the public services it is rendering.
