Hobgood No. 1 Drilling Ahead

Humble Oil and Refining Company No. 1 Hobgood, Central North Hockley County prospector, six miles west of Anton, and 660 feet from south and west lines of labor 10, league 693, State Capital Lands, had no signs of production in a drill test at 8,399-8,428 feet. The test was open 90 minutes. Recovery was 45 feet of drilling mud with a trace of oil and 100 feet of salt water with a sulphur odor. Salt content of the water was 24,000 parts per million. Now Making Hole The venture is now making hole below 8,554 feet in unidentified dolomite and cert. It was originally started to go to 11,000 feet to try to find and test the Ellenburger. This exploration had some shows of possible production in the Clear Fork section of the lower Permian.

Littlefield Business Undergoes Mild Increase After Rains Stop

By Bert Steele A survey this week of Littlefield retail stores revealed that business here is undergoing a mild increase in volume. Merchants said the increase is probably a combined result of the recent rains and the threat of war. Retail managers generally agreed most of the present increases in sales of articles which were scarce during the last war were caused by customers who did not wish to be "caught wanting" in the event of shortages caused by the war.

All dry goods stores which handle sheets and pillow slips reported a rush for these items several weeks ago. Most of the stores were completely emptied of the stock of sheets. Customers have not bought articles they did not need, however, and evidence of outright hoarding dependent on farming operations represented a large percentage of the buying public this week. The rain which have continued since a month ago and ended the threat of an area-wide drought were named as one of the major causes of the business increase. Farmers, reluctant to spend while they still faced a possible crop failure, saw means of affording more items when the rains came and boosted chances for good crops. Payne Hathcock of Dallas, district superintendent of 20 individually-owned Ben Franklin stores over the area, said his company was expecting a "long seige" to result from the Korean war. The company has done no speculative buying, however, he added.

Hathcock joined local merchants in saying that prices have been advanced by wholesalers on almost all cotton goods. So far there have been no increases on items already on the shelves of local stores. Wolfe Shaw of Wolfe's said there will be no shortages "if people will feel that no enemy can defeat us. But we can defeat ourselves." He said business was lower this year than it was for the same period last year because the rains came late. Although prices (Continued on Back Page)

Pastor Schulte broke the ground with the words: "Whereas by the grace of God, we are permitted today to begin the erection of a Church building at this place, with this spade, I now break the ground in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost," in order that this building which shall be constructed here may serve as a place where our God will record His name, where His Honor shall dwell, and where He shall come unto His children and bless them. Members of the building committee assisted in the ceremony by each one taking turns at the shovel with the words, "I break this ground in the name of the Father,

Paving Ordinance Passed Work Already Started

After a scheduled public hearing on the paving issue Monday morning, the City commission passed an ordinance closing the hearing and levying assessments for the paving of 12 1/2 blocks of 5th and 16th streets. Work on the paving has already begun, City Secretary W. G. Street said. Weather Decides Date The date of the first freeze will determine whether the work will be terminated this fall or whether it will be suspended until spring. September 15 was named by Street as the approximate date after which weather would not permit further progress until spring. A contract "For Additional Street Improvements" was made with L. A. Purcell of Lubbock. Equalization Board Named J. C. Hibun, H. W. McCary, Leonard Irving and L. B. Stone were appointed to serve on the Tax Equalization board. It had not yet been learned whether or not all of these men would be willing to serve on the board. The commission also passed an ordinance prohibiting the piling of sand and gravel on paved streets. Downtown streets paved with concrete were exceptions since sand and gravel piles could do them no harm.

Vale Contreras, 18, and his 18-year-old wife, Margaret Contreras, both of Austin, died after their 1937 Ford was struck by another car driven by Ramon Rodriguez of Anton. Driving Orcutt's Car Rodriguez, who suffered cuts and bruises over the face and body and other possible injuries, reported that he was driving a car owned by Pete Orcutt of Anton, and that he was on his way from Anton to a farm to see his wife when the accident occurred. Three Injured Also injured in the wreck were Cecilio Fabian, 17, his wife, Alice, 17, Gregorio Fabian, 13, brother of Cecilio, all from Austin and all in the car driven by Contreras. Rodriguez was the only occupant of the other automobile. Rodriguez said his car struck the Contreras automobile when it attempted to cross the highway from a side road. Injured in Hospital Here The injured persons were taken to Littlefield hospital in a Hammons Funeral home ambulance and remained there under observation Wednesday. Although a detailed report of their condition was not available, pending further observation, three of the victims—the two Fabian brothers and Rodriguez—were not believed to be seriously injured. Bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Contreras were taken to Hammons Funeral home. Funeral arrangements were pending word from relatives in Austin. The Contreras and the Fabians were employed in the Hale Center area as cotton choppers. The Hammons ambulance made two trips to the scene of the accident, bringing the four injured persons to the hospital first and returning for the dead.

More Than Memories

The pair of 13-year-olds, Flavius Adkins and Fred Francey of Joplin, Missouri, who rode horseback all the way from their native city to Littlefield, will probably have more in ten years than pleasant memories of their trip.

Most of the real Americans who settled West Texas 50 or 100 years ago did just about the same thing those two boys did. Some of them came in wagons, some of them even walked. But all of them had time on their trip to see the grass growing and observe the color of the land. They saw how big the land was and how close it was to being made their part of that land. They and their hard work drew them together and made them real.

the importance of building homes and communities on the plains.

Children are they would never have been able to express exactly the feeling they had for their land any more than the two modern pioneers.

But both the old and new pioneers showed not a small amount of courage and dogged determination when they began the trip to it.

These innate qualities, coupled with the experience a rugged life brings, provide the stuff that makes a country great.

The FBI Director Says---

More and more children are being led toward crime as parents throw away responsibility. Selfishness is often the keynote of the day and materialism the inspiration for living. God, in many instances, is not accepted in the home, and concepts of morality have been relegated to the junk heap.

Can a nation exist void of all religious thought and action? Can we have material peace without morality? Can we build homes without God, or have worthy parents who do not know and practice His teachings?

The key to these problems—in life itself—is God. He is man's first need—his final goal.

Our nation is sadly in need of a rebirth of the simple life—a return to the days when God was a part of each household, when families arose in the morning with a prayer on their lips, and waited the day by gathering to praise themselves in His care.

If there is hope for the future of America—if there is to be peace and happiness in our homes—then we as a nation must return to God and to the practice of daily family prayer.

Our generation, it seems, has allowed old-fashioned religious practices to slip into oblivion. As a result, family life has weakened. The nation has suffered and many of its children have become like the man whose house is built upon the sand: it is an insecure ground for moral decay and crime.

My hope for the future of this nation is predicated upon the faith in God which is nurtured in the family. No outside influence of a constructive nature can overcome the lack of a guiding light in the home and the spark of this light must be the knowledge of God; the fuel must be the strength of prayer.

The greatest thing we, as individuals, can do for ourselves and for our country, will be to keep our families together in peace and happiness. There is no better way of doing our part for some life in America than by establishing the daily practice of family prayer in our homes, because families that pray together, stay together.

J. Edgar Hoover.

Two Clouds

Lamb County citizens crept from beneath dripping eaves and cast suspicious eyes toward heaven when this week began.

Two clouds rumbled on opposite horizons. One, filled with surprise rains, seemed on its way out.

Farmers glanced into fields still soggy from three weeks of unseasonable rains, poked inquisitive fingers into the soil, looked once more at the sky and uttered a hopeful "Maybe."

Assistant County Agent James G. Simmons at Amherst wiped perspiration from his face while repeating an air-cooling system in his home, took time out to say the damage done by hail and a little too much water ran a close second to the benefits the rain brought to thirsty soil.

Sunday afternoon farmers oiled up their tractors and by mid-Monday many of them on the higher and drier farms were turning moist soil over healthy weeds in the cotton patch. The sun shone over most of the county until late Monday afternoon when a large thunderhead loomed over the southern horizon.

Meanwhile, merchants and businessmen in Littlefield dry-washed their hands over a mild general increase in business—the first since drought began to threaten the area several months ago.

BULL LAKE PHILOSOPHER ISN'T CREATING SCARCITIES BY BUYING UP PILLOW SLIPS OR PLOW POINTS

Editor's note: The Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bull Lake this week comes out against boarding, in his own peculiar way.

Dear editor:

I went into town Saturday to catch up on the news, there's two kinds, the kind you read in the papers and the kind you hear on the streets and while we got the clearest thing there is to freedom of the press in this country there ain't no newspaper that can hold a light to street news, mainly on account of editors like to live the same as other people, and while I was in town I picked up some good stories about all this scare buying.

One woman I understand bought 25 sheets at one time, which is 25 more than I've ever had and frequently is 25 more. Another woman bought 75 shirts for her husband, says he didn't have a one to his name, guess he was wearing a pull-over sweater in mid-summer. Coffee and sugar also has been pretty hard to along with trees and pillow slips, although personally I can't imagine a war so awful its prospect would drive me to boardin pillow slips.

In fact, I wish to say that I personally am holdin the line for President Truman and ain't bought a single item I don't need. In fact, I'm even ahead of the President and there's lots of things I need I ain't buyin. If I do any plowin after the crops are in this fall I'll need some more plow points and several other items, but you ain't gonna catch me endangerin the war effort and bringin on scarcities, and I'll make the sacrifice and do without them parts before I'll stampede this country into rationin. I'll put my country ahead of plowin any day.

When the president says hold the line, I'll hold it, even if I have the line, I'll hold it, even if I have to sit in the shade to do it. Ain't nothin half-way about me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

4-H Club Takes Lead In Rural Recreation Plans

The importance of providing recreation for the leisure hours farm folks have these days has become one of the major concerns of thousands of 4-H club leaders and members. During the past three years, a plan has been worked out whereby adults and youth interested in directing recreational activities in their clubs and communities can take a special set up for this purpose.

This training and club participation has been brought about through the National 4-H Recreation and Rural Arts program now in full swing in Texas. Sponsor of the program, U. S. Rubber Company, is providing about $29,000 for leader training clinics, club and individual awards.

Last year more than 10,500 young people and 6,400 adults attended these clinics. They receive instruction in group singing, dancing, dancing games, sports, dramatics, handicrafts and many other activities.

While they are having fun, the 4-Hers are also working hard to make a good showing for themselves and their club. To encourage these endeavors, U. S. Rubber presents merit certificates to clubs and members; $25 cash awards to counties; and Chicago 4-H Club Congress trips to eight national champions.

The 1949 State honors went to Patsie Elizabeth Scales, of Brownfield. Cash awards were won by 23 counties. The money is used for recreational equipment. Recognition cards were given to 1545 members.

At present the program is being conducted in 47 states under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service.

A $4,200,000 expansion program is now in progress on the campus of Texas Technological College at Lubbock.

Veterans who already have changed general fields of GI study and wish to change again, should apply at their V-A regional office. If it is determined that the new course is in a different general field, they will be required to undergo advisement and guidance.

Purpose of advisement and guidance is to enable V-A to decide whether a veteran has need for the course and aptitude necessary to complete his educational or job objectives.

If V-A does not come to a decision whether to approve or disapprove within 45 days after the veteran's application, the new course automatically is approved. The veteran, however, must have appeared at the appointed time for advisement and guidance, and he must have cooperated in receiving this service.

Veterans who have not yet trained under the GI Bill, and plan to start this fall, should apply at the nearest VA office for an original Certificate of Eligibility. VA offices in West Texas are located at Amarillo, Childress, Lubbock, Abilene, Big Spring, San Angelo, Odessa, and El Paso. The name of the school and course must be included in the application, and the application, together with a photostatic copy of discharge papers, should be sent to the nearest VA regional office.

Sisson emphasized that after veterans receive the Certificate of Eligibility, they should keep it until they actually enroll in school.

Restrictions on avocational and recreational GI Bill training, modified slightly by the new Public Law 610, apply to all veteran-trainees.

A veteran must submit complete justification that training will contribute to bona fide use in his present or contemplated business or occupation if he wants to take any of the following courses: Dancing, photography, glider, bartending, personality development, entertainment, music, public speaking and courses in sports and athletics.

Exempted are applied music, physical education or public speaking courses offered by colleges for credit as an integral part of a course leading to an educational objective.

If a veteran desires a course not on the list, but which V-A finds is frequently taken for avocational or recreational purposes, he may take one or two steps: (1) submit complete justification, or (2) submit an affidavit, supported by corroborating affidavits from two competent disinterested persons, stating that the training will be useful to him in connection with earning a living.

V-A offered veterans one final reminder to be considered in planning GI Bill training. July 25, 1951, is the cut-off for starting GI Bill courses for all veterans discharged before July 25, 1947. Those few who were discharged after July 25, 1947, have four years from their discharge date in which to begin.

V-A added that liberal change-of-course procedure authorized by Public Law 610 will not apply after the deadline for starting.

Farmers Must File Applications Within 12 Days

Farmers have only 12 more days to file their applications for free government classing and market news services Lell O. Buchanan said today.

Mr. Buchanan is in charge of the Lubbock cotton classing office, U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

August 15 Deadline

August 15 is the deadline for filing applications for these services due all farmers who belong to organized cotton improvement groups.

Large Amount Classed

Last year, 98.6 per cent of the cotton ginnings in this area were classed by the Lubbock cotton of-rice. This cotton was classed for farmers without cost under the Smith-Doxey Act, Mr. Buchanan reported.

Applications should be mailed to your local County Agent, David Eaton at Amherst, or to M. Buchanan, 1701 Avenue H, Lubbock, Texas.

VOLUNTEERS FOR ENLISTMENT IN U. S. AIR FORCE

Joe A. Peel, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Peel, route 2, Littlefield, has volunteered for enlistment in the U. S. Air Force, according to T/Sgt. Gerald F. Cutshall, in charge of the local recruiting station.

Joe is well known here in Littlefield, having played on the Wild Cat football squads in 1947 and 1948. He graduated from Littlefield High in 1948.

He is very interested in taking up a technical course and playing football on some Air Force base.

Sgt. Cutshall says he has an excellent chance to get what he wants by enlisting now before the technical schools are filled up.

Joe left for Amarillo Monday, from there he will be sent to Lackland Air Force base, San Antonio, where he will be for about four days and then he will be flown by plane to the reactivated Sheppard Air Force base, Wichita Falls, Texas, where some of the new airmen will be given their basic training.

New Degree To Be Awarded This Fall At University

A boost to rapid southwestern industrialization is expected from a new graduate degree the University of Texas will offer this fall.

The new degree, Master of Science in Industrial Engineering, will be the first ever offered in the South. Only five U. S. schools—all in long-industrialized northern sections—now give it.

"The Southwest's tremendous industrial expansion in both cities and small towns means many engineers are needed for administrative positions requiring knowledge of plant operation, supervision, and planning as well as technical learning," Engineering Dean W. R. Woolrich said.

The new program will combine engineering courses having industrial engineering application with business studies.

FOREWARNED

A Short Story
By REYNOLD HILL WILKINSON

KARL WOODFORDS always believed that sometime he would ask Penelope Wareham to marry him. There was a vast difference in their social standings. Penelope was the daughter of the town's richest manufacturer. She had lived a life as much apart from Karl as night is different from day.

Even so, Karl felt that Penelope's feeling toward him was more than friendly. In their early teens, before Penelope's father had sent her abroad, they had attended the same country school, were, in fact, members of the same class. Then and again Karl had carried home her books. In those days he was more confident. He found it easy to look gravely into her wide brown eyes and boast of what he was going to do in the future, of how he was going to make a lot of money. Penelope would regard his proposal seriously.

Then came the crash, the slump, the depression. Karl's business fell off to a point where his income was reduced to half. It was only by strict economy and self-denial that he was able to keep struggling along.

Penelope came home from Europe to find her father's great factories idle, his finances in a deplorable state. He had lost heavily in the market. For a time, at least, there would be no more trips to Europe, or new cars, or fine clothes.

Penelope accepted the situation philosophically. She discovered there was a good deal of fun in just being a citizen of Ellsboro.

Each, unaware of the other, Wareham's state of affairs, however only known to his plans regarding Penelope. The tragedy was more poignant because he was now able to see more of her, after work in the Wareham home and was much in Penelope's company.

A year later business conditions had not improved. And for Karl the future seemed even more bleak. He wanted Penelope more than ever and the fact that he still was reluctant to speak his heart, made him miserable.

These were the circumstances when one evening Karl swung in at the Wareham gate and started up the winding walk to the front door. Half-way to the screened-in veranda he heard voices, and because his own name was mentioned, he paused.

Penelope was there and she was talking about him. "It's so queer," she was saying. "I've always had a feeling that Karl loved me, wanted to tell me so—ever since we were kids together—yet he never seemed to have the courage. And I've so wished he would. Every time I've come home, I expected it. And now—" she paused. "And now things are so—I feel that he needs me, and I want to help him. It— it must be he doesn't love me after all. I—I guess I'll go away and money and one day return to Ellsboro and—but that was as far as he ever got. It hadn't seemed right, under the circumstances, to tell Penelope that he was coming back to Ellsboro to claim her for his bride. She probably would have laughed at him.

Later on, when they graduated from the high school, Penelope left for Europe, to study there, and Karl Once he attended a party at the Wareham home and managed, after a fashion, to persuade Penelope to walk with him in the moonlight on the green front lawn.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

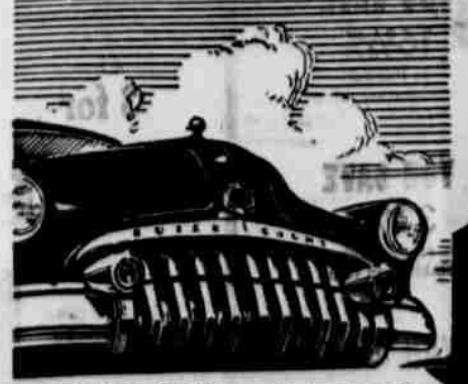

Even Wiser than He Seems

PLAINLY, here travels a man wise in the ways of fine motorcars.

You know that, by the four Ventiports and the rich sweep of chrome which mark his car as a ROADMASTER.

You know it, should you trail him on the highway, by the smooth lift of the big Fireball power plant at his toe's command, by the obvious levelness of the ride he enjoys, the swift ease with which Dynaflo Drive solves his traffic problems.

What is not so plain from what you see is that here also is a man very wise in what today's dollar should buy!

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT— This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

For this man has all that a fine-car owner can ask for—brilliant performance, a ride without equal for gentle softness, finger-easy handling, abundant room all around him, styling that is easily the most distinguished on the highway.

Yet he paid considerably less than comparable merit costs elsewhere.

He found fewer extra charges in his delivered price, with such things as Dynaflo Drive, foam rubber cushions, windshield washers, electric clock, even non-glare rear-view mirror included in the price.

If you know fine cars, it won't take fifteen minutes behind a ROADMASTER wheel to see that here is one of the finest.

If you have inquired about prices, a single glance at the delivered figures establishes this as the big buy of the field.

Why not make both checks—especially since your Buick dealer will be glad to arrange a trial run in a ROADMASTER any time you care to call on him?

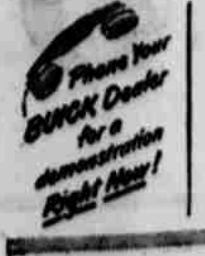

Only BUICK has Dynaflo Drive and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) * NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights * WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back * TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius * EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles * SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube * WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on Super and Special models.

Near Home

 The other cloud, halfway across the world, probably carried more destruction than all the rainclouds that ever hovered over Littlefield.
 The Korean war sent a trickle of men to the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting station here to interview Recruiter T/Sgt. Gerald F. Cutshall.
 Older men, particularly veterans of the last war, checked on their status, considered the advisability of re-enlisting before the cloud breaks.
 Merchants in Littlefield noticed a spurt in sales of household appliances and tires.
 The feeling of most Lamb County citizens was reflected by one farmer at Earth, who said he would rather see the rain come back than to see the other cloud burst.

Near Home intended to tell this week's story of Littlefield, but a dearth of time has made it impossible. Next week there will be another story. There always is.

The Texas Tech Red Raiders will meet five Southwest conference opponents, five Border conference foes and the University of Tulsa in their 1950 gridiron schedule.

Services Are Held

 and the body of the car and submerged in water in the ditch, according to the Associated Press.
 Jordan grew up in Lamb county, living in the Fieldton community until he enlisted in the Army in 1945. After serving in Germany and being discharged in December, 1946, he and other members of the family moved to Littlefield.
Working at Pecos
 Friends of the family said he was working in the Pecos area as an oil field worker. He had visited in Littlefield a week ago. The body was brought here early Wednesday and taken to Hammon Funeral home.
 Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Jordan; three brothers, Calvin E., Finis and Francis M., and one sister, Jane, all of Littlefield.

Business

 on cotton items were advancing, he said none of the retail stores had advanced the cost of goods already on the shelves.
 D. A. Dale of Perry Bros. reported a slight increase in some articles—particularly those made of rubber. He said he believed shortages would never occur if the customer did not become excited and buy unwisely. Customers in his store have bought only necessary items so far, he said.

Household Appliance Increase
 Norris Onstead of Onstead Furniture reported that surplus buying up north and in heavily-populated areas has been "so heavy it has caused some shortages down here." Prices on household appliances have advanced from five to fifteen per cent in some cases. These increases are being met by the retail dealers, Onstead said. He added that he believed people will bring rationing and price controls on themselves "if they buy unnecessary items."

Cal Harvey Appliance company reported a "slight spurt" in sales of all household appliances. The increase is definitely attributable to the war scare, Robert Bridges said.

Jack Farr of Farr Jewelry said there has been no noticeable increase in sales of jewelry so far. However, he added, there may be an increase later. A large number of couples marry during war years and wet years, he declared. "Of course, marrying is something that goes on always," he added philosophically.

With the exception of normal increases caused by July clearance sales, Dan Berg of Replin Dry Goods reported sales are about the same as last year. He said any shortages which occur will probably be caused by extensive government buying for war purposes and by unwise public buying.

Glad Rains Came
 Very little increase in business was reported by White Auto Store since the recent rains. Clarence Lewis declared the increase would probably not be noticed until later when plowing and other operations are further underway. No hoarding and very little "scarce-buying" have been noticed, Lewis said. Several customers are making sure they are equipped with all necessary items, but have not yet bought unnecessary articles.

 All merchants and business men contacted reported they were glad the rains finally came, and that they hoped farming operations could continue thereby making Lamb county more prosperous this year and in years to come.

Emmanuel Lutheran Mens Club Meets Friday At Church

Last Friday night, July 28th, the Men's club of Emanuel Lutheran church met in the basement of the church where final plans were considered and decided upon to renovate the basement of the church.

Assisting the Men's club in this face-lifting program which includes ceiling, paint job, enclosed stairway, cabinets, etc., is the Ladies Aid and the Waltham League of Emanuel Lutheran. The total result is expected to make the meeting place of congregation and societies much more pleasant.

GUESTS WEDNESDAY

Johnny, and Cardine, all of Lubbock, and Pastor Pabor's mother. Pastor Pabor replaced the Rev. Karl Keller as pastor of Redeemer Lutheran church of Lubbock.

Lums Chapeel H. D.

The Lum's Chapel Home Demonstration club met on Thursday, July 27, in the home of Mrs. Doss Hayne Manor.

Mrs. Charles Landers, president, presided over the regular business meeting. Plans were made to attend the Bruncheon club in Lubbock on August 4th.

Anton Downs Cal Harvey Monday 5-4 To Take Lead In Softball Loop

After running even in the first four innings, Anton fell two runs behind in the fifth, but pulled ahead in the sixth and seventh to down Cal Harvey 5-4 in the second game Monday night at the Fair grounds softball diamond.

The win secured for Anton the lead in the City Softball League. They had been third-place last week when second-place Maytag dug out two runs to Anton's one.

Before Wednesday night the league standing was as follows:

Brown Miller Spills Paymaster 9-5 Monday

Brown Miller jumped ahead of Oil Mill Paymaster by four runs in the first inning and managed to stay ahead and win 9-5 in the first game Monday night on the Fair Ground softball diamond.

Brown Miller scored the four runs that clinched the game for them in the sixth inning. Paymaster scored once in the third, once in the sixth and three times in the seventh and final inning.

Kick In Boys, It's Your Fun

No admission is charged for the Softball games played almost nightly at the Fair Grounds diamond. But the games do cost somebody money.

A plan was adopted at the beginning of the season for financing the games by taking a free-will offering from fans during the games.

League officials report that contributions taken in this manner, although gratefully received, have not been sufficient lately to pay for lights, balls and umpires.

Kick in, ladies and gentlemen. It's your game and your fun.

Vows Exchanged By Jonisue Hudson And Mervin Douglas Cearley Friday

Miss Jonisue Hudson, daughter of Rev. Hugh Daylock, in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hudson, pastor of the Methodist church, Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, became the bride of Mervyn Douglas Cearley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cearley, in a double altar banked with double ring ceremony beamed with white daisies and greenery, with white fan trellises forming the background.

Mrs. Pete Parish sang "Always," "Because," and "Sweet Sue, Just You." Mrs. Parish was accompanied by Miss Glenna Belle Roberts. Miss Roberts played the traditional wedding marches, and "Violets," the bride's club song, as the vows were repeated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white embroidered organza, over white bridal satin, with a Peter Pan collar and cap sleeves. Tiny satin buttons lined the neck of the fitted bodice. The shoulder length veil fell from a dutch bonnet headpiece of starbed venise-type lace, studded with seed pearls. She carried a matching fan centered with "Flower of Love."

Attending the bride were her sister, Mrs. Jean Howard of Abilene and Miss Jeri Pat Hudson, who wore identical dresses of orchid eyelid embroidered organza, worn over violet and lilac taffeta. They wore dutch bonnets and motifs of matching taffeta and carried white net fans outlined with Esther Reed Daisies and stephanotis.

Serving as the bridegroom's best man was his father. Ushers were L. J. Welch, J. A. Littleton, Jr., and Howard.

Reception in Home
The couple was honored with a reception at the home of the bride's parents immediately after the ceremony. Those assisting in receiving were parents of bride and bridegroom, attendants, Misses Alice Hix of Abilene and Pat Edwards of Fort Worth, former roommates of the bride, and Gay Reeves of Wellington. Mrs. J. A. Littleton, Jr., presided at the bride's book. Others in the house party were Mesdames J. D. Chester and Harmon Jenkins of Lubbock, Mrs. Edwin O'Hair of Earth, and Miss Martha Graves of Lubbock.

The bride's table was centered with a tiered wedding cake embossed with daisies and topped with a double wedding bell of flowers.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a suit of gold shantung, with accessories of natural linen.

The bride is a Spring graduate of Texas Tech, where she was president of Las Vivarachas social club. She has been elected to teach in Lovington, N. M. schools. The bridegroom was graduated from Springlake High school and served 2 and one-half years in the Navy, and is now engaged in farming in Lovington, where the couple will be at home after the wedding trip.

Out of town guests were from Lubbock, Lovington and Abilene.

Walther Leaguers Hold Club Meets At Doss Manor Home

Skating and swimming provided most of the entertainment for the South Plains Walther Leaguers, gathered at Plainview this past Sunday afternoon and evening, July 3. This every fifth Sunday in a month affair provides the Lutheran youth of the South Plains with an opportunity to become better acquainted and also to discuss matters of interest to the Leaguers of the entire area. The evening was devoted to eating and a short meeting which was relieved with a little community singing.

Mrs. Rayburn Hahn of Wilson made a few remarks about the Walther League athletic tournament which is scheduled for Wilson on September 1th. Pastor H. A. Heckmann of Littlefield spoke a few words in the interest of the Walther League slated to begin next Monday, August 7th.

Leaguers from Spartenberg, Lamesa, Wilson, Lubbock, Plainview, and Littlefield enjoyed the day's program. Littlefield was well represented. The next fifth Sunday gathering for the Leaguers was set for Lubbock, October 29.
