

This Is Your Minister's Wife . . .

MRS. TOMMY WILLIAMS

"Still water runs deep," they say . . . and underneath the surface runs a wealth of strength.

Mrs. Tommy Williams, wife of the Ninth Street Church of Christ, is said to be always busy doing things for others. "The most unselfish person I've ever known." She is an excellent homemaker and her industry and interest extends beyond her own family into the home of others around her.

Although kept close to home caring for a two year old son, besides two other sons, she visits among the congregation with her husband and is always on hand to assist in bereavement or illness. She takes no credit for her efforts merely says, "I just want the work to be done."

A quiet, soft-spoken woman, Mrs. Williams gives loving attention to family life, cooking and sewing, gardening and canning for her own family's use and sharing this with others. Gardening, she considers, is really one of her hobbies and when the family lived at Abilene, she had a large garden and did a lot of canning. The love of green, growing things is strong and with each Spring comes the desire to dig and plant something in the earth, whether or not time permits. She told of wanting to "get outside and do something" on busy days and that she satisfied her urge with shooting basketball goals with her ten year old son Joseph. Joseph told his brother Tommy, "She's pretty good!" Mrs. Williams was an enthusiastic basketball player in school days and still enjoys a game of baseball with her sons.

The Williams home is always open to young people of their church, or older visitors, and they plan entertainment in their home for the young people who "never feel they have to rush" before going. This was true, too, when Rev. Williams was pastor of the Hickory Street Church of Christ in Abilene. They are always available when a chaperone is needed for picnic or parties and make opportunities to train the young people in church activities, by taking them along on evangelistic meetings.

The girls of their congregation feel particularly close to Mrs. Williams, she is "always ready to listen to their troubles," and "they know it won't go any further."

Although she does not mention any artistic ability, she is a dependable source of ideas for decorations for showers and other parties, can design and make a cover for a bride's book or whatever is needed.

Mrs. Williams, the former Lucy Smith, lived most of her life at Abilene, attending public schools here and the Academy at Abilene Christian College. It was there she met her husband. After their marriage, they lived two years at Mexia, going from there to San Angelo, where they lived two and a half years. Following these two pastorates, they returned to Abilene, where Rev. Williams was pastor of the Hickory Street Church of Christ for five years.

much opportunity you find to help people in this kind of work." The family moved to Littlefield in August, 1953 and are at home at 623 East Ninth Street where they "have wonderful neighbors." Both Mrs. Williams and her husband are members of Parent-Teachers Association and attend as regularly as possible. They work closely with their children's teachers and assist at home when needed. Tommy, now six feet tall and larger than his father, will be fourteen years old in April and is in the eighth grade. His mother finds it hard to cook enough for him, saying he eats nine biscuits for breakfast and feels cheated if there is not that many for him. Joseph, age ten, is in the fourth grade this year. He spends a great part of his summer hours in his "tree-house" and is interested in athletics. Their baby, Allen, is the pet of the family. Working side by side with her husband when needed, or staying quietly in the background at other times, Mrs. Williams typifies the wife described in Proverbs 31

Patsy Lively FHA Visits Girlstown

National Foundation Outlines Plan For Mass Polio Vaccination Program

On invitation of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, official representatives of the American Academy of Pediatrics, the Association of State and Territorial Health Officers, the American Public Health Association and the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare met in New York on Jan. 10. The purpose of this meeting was to consider nationwide administrative policies relative to the distribution and administration of the supply of poliomyelitis vaccine being purchased by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for possible rapid application in the prevention of poliomyelitis in the spring of 1955.

The deliberations of this group were predicated on the assumption that the evaluation of the 1954 poliomyelitis vaccine field trial now being conducted by Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., at the University of Michigan would justify the licensure of this product by the National Institutes of Health, U. S. Public Health Service. Dr. Francis' report is expected to be issued about April 1, 1955.

The consensus of the meeting was that if and when licensed by the National Institutes of Health, the vaccine will be supplied by the National Foundation to state health officers in amounts sufficient to provide for the vaccination of children who participated in the vaccine field trial in 217 field trial areas in the United States in 1954, but who did not receive vaccine at that time and all children enrolled in the first and second primary grades of all public, private and parochial schools in the continental United States, Alaska and Hawaii in the spring term of 1955. The plan of administration of the vaccine in any state or territory will be the administrative responsibility of the respective state or territorial health officer and will be worked out by him in cooperation with the state or territorial medical society and state or territorial education officials.

The 1955 vaccine program has been initiated by the National Foundation for the purpose of making possible early and widespread application of a newly established preventive measure against paralytic poliomyelitis; after completion of this program, the National Foundation will not participate in the production, distribution or administration of poliomyelitis vaccine.

The children in the first and second grade of primary schools were selected for the program because of high incidence of paralytic poliomyelitis in this group and their accessibility as organized units within the schools, keeping in mind the limitations on the amount of vaccine to be available for this program.

It is expected that additional vaccine, equivalent or greater in amount than that contracted for by the National Foundation, will be obtainable through usual commercial channels for the use of private physicians for their patients.

Vaccine for use in 1955 will be administered on the same dosage schedule as was followed in the 1954 field trial, namely 1 cc of vaccine in each of the three doses given intramuscularly, the second inoculation one week after the first and the third inoculation four weeks after the second.

Administrative procedures for the giving of the vaccine will be as simple as possible and will not require extensive record-keeping. Except in those states which wish and are in a position to conduct follow-up studies, no extensive nationwide evaluation such as was done in the 1954 field trial is contemplated.

New Life in Christ
Lesson for March 6, 1953

THE human race is a strange mixture of friendship and quarrels. People can't get along without one another, or with one another without people. People flock together in all sorts of clubs and organizations and yet many of these gatherings of people are spent their time fighting some other group, or even fighting a myth. The trouble is that most people who are fighting men are neither deep nor strong enough to stand the strains. Dr. Foreman life places on them. Business partnerships break up at the least of failure, political combinations are as fragile as air, and international alliances most people have now forgotten that ten years ago Russia was evaded one of our best friends and Germany our worst enemy.

The True Center
There is one fellowship, and just one, which is world-wide, which has cemented persons and peoples of the most diverse kinds, which has endured past the dying of an innumerable other bonds and unions. This closest of all the bonds known on earth is the fellowship of Christian love. If some romantic person rises to ask if the bond of love between man and his wife is not the strongest tie between human beings, it must be pointed out that the records of the divorce courts show that the marriage bond is much less likely to break down where husband and wife are both practicing Christians. — that is to say, it is Christian fellowship that keeps marriage from breaking down. Now what makes the fellowship of true Christian love so strong? It isn't that Christians are so much more lovable than other persons. The secret is not in the Christians, it is in Christ. Why do true things gather so closely together around a magnet? Take the magnet away and they scatter easily. Take Christ out of the church and it soon falls apart in indifference and even bitterness. "We love, because it first loved us," is the secret of true Christian fellowship.

Breaking Barriers
We have many barriers to our own life which divide us into groups, misunderstandings and often unkindness. There are unmovable and immovable barriers, and there are movable barriers. Jew and Gentile, slave and free, rich and poor, these are unmovable barriers. They were low class distinctions, they were low class castes. The most astonishing thing about the Christian church in its fresh early years, — astounding even to history — was that these barriers were broken down. Jew and Gentile, slave and free, rich and poor, they were all one in Christ. Christ who had died for all, Master and slave met as brothers when they became Christians. The sharpest human divisions faded in the light of the cross. So it is today. People who live in segregated churches, whether the segregation-line is economic or Christian fellowship, that cross these human lines by the divine force of Christian love.

Questions for Church Members
The final test of a church, whether it is a true church, — whether a particular congregation has a right to call itself a part of Christ's true church, — the final test is that of fellowship. It would be a good idea for church members to give themselves a stiff examination on this line. Do the members of this church treat one another in a more brotherly way than outsiders do? Are social, racial, economic class-lines drawn between this and other churches, even inside the church itself, or is this one place where all meet on one common ground? Do the members share with one another, and if so, what do they share? Is there for example a sharing in prayer? If one member has had a high experience, do others hear about it? If one needs the other's prayers, is he free to say so, and why? Would a stranger to this church get the impression that this is a group gathered for convenience only, or a genuine fellowship of love?

Dryland Farmers Find 'Little' Wells Are Better Than No Wells At All

They're getting irrigation wells where no irrigation wells have ever been before, and although some of them don't pump much more water than a windmill, they are putting enough water in the rows to grow the cotton, and the farmers are proud of them.

It's something new in the dryland part of Lamb county, and the farmers with the tiny little wells are learning a lot about short cuts and costs.

Estimates as to the number of the little two and a half and three inch wells vary, but most observers say there are about 100 marginal wells in the dry part of the county.

A full pipe on most of the wells means anywhere from 40 to 60 gallons per minute compared to 1500 gallons per minute from an average 10 inch well in the irrigated sections.

But a little water running long enough gets the ground just as wet as a big well running fewer hours, and the moisture in the rows is what counts at harvest time.

A typical example of the new small well plan can be found southwest of Littlefield on the Glenn Young farm and that of his neighbor, Don Brewster.

Dale Ward is farming the Young place, where four wells have been put into operation recently. Ward is planning to irrigate 120 acres this spring with four wells ranging from 2 1/2 to 3 inches, and pumping from 40 to 60 gallons of water per minute.

Investment Pays Off
Last year only one well was in operation by Ward. He irrigated 30 acres, and planted 130 acres of dryland in cotton also. At a cost of $23 per acre for fuel for the butane engine on the irrigation well, Ward harvested 28 bales off the 30 irrigated acres.

But on the 130 acres of dryland a total of only eight bales was harvested.

Ward figures the $690 it cost him to irrigate last year paid off in the $4200 worth of cotton he harvested from the land.

County Agent David Eaton reports that the dryland belt is particularly fertile or "hot" land, but must have moisture to produce crops. "This was proven true at least in Ward's case."

The pumps are set on from 105 to 115 feet. On the Ward place three are on electricity and one three-inch well is on butane gas. Three of the wells were put in in October, 1954 and one in October of the previous year.

Brewster is using open ditch irrigation, while Ward uses aluminum pipe. He waters two rows at a time, running the water from one of the wells for a distance of nearly half a mile at its farthest point.

ALUMINUM TUBING is used on the Ward place to carry the water as much as four-tenths of a mile from the wells to the rows. Two outlets are used, flowing onto burlap sacking. (Staff Photo)

Two wells are situated so that as the distance from the well to the far row decreases on one well he can remove the pipe a joint at a time and attach to the other well and thus cover one side of the acreage with the two wells and one set of pipe.

Using the aluminum tubing, Ward is able to irrigate 480 yard rows two at a time in six hours of flow, ranging to eight hours at the ends farthest from the wells.

Three horsepower electric motors are used on three of the wells and a small gas irrigation engine on the other one.

Ward feels that the small wells, while fairly expensive to put in and operate, nevertheless are a worthwhile investment, particularly on a farm where it hasn't rained since 1949.

Costa Rica started coffee production in the 1820's and coffee still is the country's chief export.

Fieldton FB Will Hear Yarbrough On Water Talk

Jack Yarbrough, Lamb County Farm Bureau, will be one of the guest speakers at a meeting in the Fieldton school, February 24 at 7:30 p.m. Yarbrough will explain the water bill now before the Texas House, and how it will affect the farmers in this area.

Jack Wattenbarger, Service Agent for the Lamb County Farm Bureau will also speak at this meeting, explaining to all new members the services offered by the Farm Bureau.

All farmers and their families are invited to attend this meeting.

Canada has brought reindeer herders from Lapland to teach nomadic Eskimos how to take care of their deer.

A truly old-fashioned man is one who kids his wife by saying if she lost the can-opener, she couldn't keep house.

What he would have us think is either that she's lazy, a poor cook, or throwing his money away. What he actually does is express a viewpoint that's a throw-back to days when opening cans was the shortest route to preparing meals.

Then, the ordinary cooking routine was for the little woman to go out and chase down a chicken, wring its neck, scald it (and her hands), pick it, dress it and cook. To get vegetables, she donned gloves and sunbonnet and went to the garden to gather beans, pick tomatoes, and dig potato hills. Bread, a necessity, had to be home baked. So did pies and cakes.

In those days, table economy came out of Mama's back instead of Papa's billfold. Naturally, it cost a little more to buy things in cans.

Not so any more. The woman who's trying to get around her spouse in the kitchen buys individual chicken pies, frozen and ready to pop into the stove. Ice cream, pies and vegetables are bought the same way. Homemade cakes and ready-to-brown rolls come from bake shops.

If the man of the house would like to go back to the good old days, he might give up his electric razor, a car with automatic gear shift, and his television set. Airplanes, central heat, and golf-mobility, could go back to the inventors. He could, in short, have a heck of a good time roughing it, too.

So let him kid the little woman about her can-opening technique. She can laugh and laugh—because nowadays that's really work!

AD BUSINESS

Who live in areas where agricultural income is almost our entire income are vitally interested in the price stabilization efforts of our government. Those efforts are so important to us that it behooves us to do everything we can to make them workable.

The principal logical argument for a guaranteed price on cotton is that it is almost impossible for a million or so cotton farmers to get together and plan their individual business so that they will not raise more than our economy will buy at a profitable price. Since we are unable to do it for ourselves, it makes some sense for the government to do this planning for us and allocate the needed acreage among the producers. But we should not expect it to be done in a manner which will make us all happy, even most of us happy. That is simply one of the disadvantages of the plan, which we should accept willingly, if we want to take the advantages which derive from it.
In return for submitting to this limitation on production, we get something which very few producers who do their own planning get that is a guaranteed market at a guaranteed price for all we produce on our allotted acreage. If the government estimators guess right on what the economy will absorb at that price, then the government loses—not us.
If they guess too low and demand forces price
above parity, we win—not the government.
It's an awfully good deal—so good that we ought not to risk losing it by abusing it.
The logic of our argument is destroyed
if we try to throw out the production limiting plan and want to take the guaranteed market for all we can produce. The other 85% of the American people—our customers—eventually knock out our good deal if we do not show more willingness to carry our end of the bargain. Our end is that we will not produce more than the economy
freely absorbs at parity price.

Every year we get our allotment figures and we vote on whether to accept them both or reject them.
We always vote overwhelmingly to accept them but then immediately after having accepted a bargain, we start crying about what we did not get and use all the political tricks we can muster to keep from living up to our obligations under that bargain.
That's hardly fair to our customers. Being paid to customers sometimes pays off at the moment, but in the long run it's bad business.

Cotton Allotments
The Agriculture Committee in the House
of Representatives has reported a bill to help
alleviate the cotton acreage allotment situation. It provides for a 3 percent increase in cotton allotments to be used in each State,
first to assist the smaller farmers by bringing them up to 5 acres, and then in hardship
cases where the allotments were reduced by
more than 40 per cent of the 1954 acreage.
This will mean, if passed in its present form,
an additional 228,000 acres in Texas. The Senate Committee should act soon on several bills having a similar purpose, including our
own bill on this subject.

HABEAS CORPUS

Produce the body!
That in effect is what a writ of "habeas corpus" demands of a sheriff or jailor. That is: Bring the prisoner to court on a valid charge or turn him loose.

Habeas corpus has long been a standby of the "who-done-it" writer; but it has been a staple for us and our liberties for a much longer time.

Old times, the king or tyrant could jail
on a whim, with no chances of a day in court. No one dared to question him.

In 1215 the English barons had taken all power could stand from King John. They demanded his written guarantee of their rights
—the Magna Charta. Among their rights, they wanted the right to a day in court.

The English Petition of Rights asked for habeas corpus in 1628. It said, "no man should be put in jail or held without cause shown to which he may answer according to law."

The Habeas Corpus Act became law 51
years later.

Our national Constitution says that "the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of re-

Texas Viewpoint

In Washington

By PRICE DANIEL
U. S. Senator

During the past week the Texas State Society had one of the outstanding social events of the year, an old-fashioned chili supper. Held at the National Press Club, it was well attended by most of the Texans in Washington.

The Mexican dishes were furnished by Fred Catterall of Austin. As you can imagine, Mexican food is one of the favorites of Texans here, and there are not many places where it is prepared to the style and taste of

Texas State Society

The Texas State Society has 902 members.
Anyone who has been a resident of Texas but who now works or resides in Washington is eligible for membership. It is the largest State society in Washington and the only one in which President and Mrs. Eisenhower have membership and have actually attended.

Robert B. Anderson

Each week this column will refer to one of the many outstanding Texans serving in Washington. This week we compliment the job being done by Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert B. Anderson of Vernon.

Bob Anderson was appointed in 1953 as Secretary of the Navy. In that position and in his present assignment he has made a great impression upon Washington officialdom, especially upon the President himself. President Eisenhower rates Anderson as one of the top men in his administration. We have heard the President say that Anderson has the ability to serve well in any office in the land, including that of the Presidency itself.
On the Democratic side, we have heard Speaker Sam Rayburn pay similar tribute to Anderson. Do not be surprised if the name of Bob Anderson should become prominent in speculation about a successor to President Eisenhower.

Wool Growers Meet

R. W. Hodge of Del Rio, President of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, and former State Senator Penrose Metcalfe
of San Angelo, attended two meetings here
this past week in behalf of wool growers.

Joining other representatives of wool growers from other States, at one meeting
they urged that the Defense Department use the present wool stockpile for manufacture of uniforms and blankets. At the other they appeared at a Department of Agriculture hearing on an assignment of wool incentive payments.

Cotton Allotments

The Agriculture Committee in the House
of Representatives has reported a bill to help
alleviate the cotton acreage allotment situation. It provides for a 3 percent increase in
cotton allotments to be used in each State,
first to assist the smaller farmers by bringing them up to 5 acres, and then in hardship
cases where the allotments were reduced by
more than 40 per cent of the 1954 acreage.
This will mean, if passed in its present form,
an additional 228,000 acres in Texas. The Senate Committee should act soon on several
bills having a similar purpose, including our
own bill on this subject.

The Fight Against Communists

Ridding the country of Communists, fellow travelers and other subversives who would destroy our system of government is a problem which has occupied the time of many people in Washington.

In Congress last year, we co-authored a bill which for the first time outlawed the Communist Party. This year we introduced a resolution which made sure that the investigations of Communism and subversion would continue with vigor and diligence, including full disclosure of all facts about the Commu-

bellion or invasion the public safety may require it."

Let's see how habeas corpus works.
Suppose a policeman arrests you and puts you in jail. You have the right to be brought to court for a hearing. In court the judge should tell you of the charges against you and your rights to counsel and a fair trial.

But what if you don't get a hearing—in a reasonable time? Then somebody is unlawfully taking away your freedom. Consequently, your lawyer may go into court and get a writ of habeas corpus on your behalf.

The writ commands your jailor to "produce the body." Your jailor must show that he holds you lawfully or turn you loose. In court, the judge looks into the charges against you. He may hear witnesses. If he cannot find that you are held lawfully, he will order you turned loose. If he finds cause, you then can ask for reasonable bail.

It was real fine of the Santa Fe to let all those chillun march through their train last week, because with the way things are going now, some of them saw their first train close up and might never get such an opportunity again.

People have cars which they share with the finance companies, and there just isn't as much train riding done as once was. A Santa Fe official told us that he didn't believe the days of the train were dying out, because he felt the highways would soon be so crowded and broken down that people would turn again to trains for travel.

That is a debatable thought, but in a way
we hope he is right. There is probably no more exciting moment in life than to be young and standing on a depot platform as ist dentist, Peress, who was promoted and honorably discharged by the Army. This passed the Senate by a vote of 84 to 0.

This year, too, we were assigned to the Internal Security Committee, which has the job of investigating the subversive influences in our country. The final paragraph of this week's column is being written in the Internal Security Committee room where we are hearing evidence on the case of the confessed Communist, Havey M. Matusow, who, after testifying against other Communists, has now said he was lying in his testimony. It happens that this man testified twice in Texas—
once in El Paso, in a case against a Communist union leader, and once in Austin, during an investigation of unions by the Texas Industrial Commission. We fully intend to find out who is responsible for his change in testimony and his attempt now to embarrass those who have been fighting Communism in this country. More about this later.

would hate to think that future generations

To be destined to only a life of crowded highway of enchantment, and too many of us are disenchanted already.

You probably know some of them, for there are many in the world. They are the unnoti-

the unloved and the unlovely.

Their lives are spent on the fringe of where everything is going on. They almost are a do not project their personalities enough to draw attention to themselves. There is a

It's highway robbery!

For sheer fun out on the road,
Chevrolet's stealing the thunder
from the high-priced cars!

Up to this year, maybe there were reasons for wanting one of the higher priced cars. If you demanded something extra in driving fun . . . something really special in the way a car handled and felt and responded to your wishes . . . you simply had to pay a premium to get it.

Not any more! The Motoramic
Chevrolet for 1955 has changed all that. In fact, it's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars on their own home-grounds—out on the highway.

Talk about excitement! You have 162 high-compression horsepower under the hood with the new "Turbo-Fire V8" (180 h.p.

is optional at extra cost in all V8 models if you want it.) Or you can take your pick of two new "Blue-Flame" 6's—the hottest, highest powered sixes in the low-price field! Any one of these three engines brings you all the good things that come from Chevrolet's long leadership in valve-in-head design.

As for drives, just name it,
Chevrolet offers new Overdrive, Super-Smooth Powerglide (extra-cost options), or a new and finer Synchro-Mesh transmission.

You're headed for fun in the Motoramic Chevrolet! You're headed for a ride such as you'd expect only in highest priced cars.
You're headed for "heads up"
stopping, too, and easier steering.
All this, with Chevrolet's traditional economy. Come in and put this "show car" on the road!

Texans In Washington

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The President's 10-year, 101-billion dollar highway program may run into some roadblocks set up by Texans on the House Public Works Committee.

It isn't that they don't want better roads.

There are three Texans on the committee, which handles road authorization measures. Two are Democrats, Reps. Gentry of Tyler and Wright of Weatherford. The other is Dallas' Republican Congressman Alger. Incidentally, this is the first time Texas has had three men on the committee since it was organized; it had none on the group last year.

The Texan's opposition came in comment on a broad outline of the program given by the administration before detailed recommendation was sent to congress.

President Eisenhower called first for a 25-billion-dollar federal allocation to states for interstate superhighways. The states would put up two billion for this work.

In addition, he proposed a big increase in the regular federal-state highway program. Over 10 years at current rates, the federal government would put up 10 billion while the states were spending 37 billion.

Exact details are lacking but under the President's new proposal this regular program would be boosted until, on all road programs, the federal government puts up 31 billions and the states 70 billions over the 10 years.

Uncle Sam would raise his 25 billion for interstate highways this way: 20 billion by 3 per cent 30-bonds; five billion through highway fees. These proposals are expected to generate much of the controversy.

The roads program draws critical comment from Gentry in a speech he has prepared for delivery on the House floor.

"The situation today is just as urgent," he says, "in fact it is more urgent, than it was during the 1952 campaign and at the time the President delivered his ringing denunciation of deficit financing and unwieldy public debt in his first State of the Union message."

Criticizing the proposal of financing the program through issuance of bonds maturing in 30 years, Gentry added:

"If this great sum of money is to be expended, it is difficult to understand why there should be still another governmental agency organized to do it except possibly to try to escape the rather obvious charge that the national debt is being raised 25 billion dollars at one fell swoop."

"This plan is something of a financial 'gimmick' but it is unmistakable that it still would raise the national debt 25 billion dollars."

After saying adoption of such a financing method would "open the flood gates of pressure" for other programs, Gentry declared Congress "should seriously question this proposal."

Wright, in an interview on the subject, said that on the basis of information now available to him he opposes the plan. He said taxpayers yet unborn would still be paying for roads after some of the highways had become obsolete.

"The only way you could justify public works such as this by 50-year bonds is on the assumption that there is going to be inflation," he said. "I don't think we can assume that, and I am sure the government doesn't want inflation."

He said he had rather continue a federal aid highway construction program on the basis that has been in effect for decades, with Congress appropriating money annually for the work to be done that following fiscal year.

Alger took a similar view. He called the 25 million-plus-interest figure "staggering, and added:

"We must have more and better roads, but I think we ought to get them on a pay-as-you-go basis. I am against developing them by running the national debt up still higher."

THE McMURRY COLLEGE CHANTERS, under the direction of Dr. Richard C. Von Ende, will sing for a concert at First Methodist Church in Littlefield on the evening of March 3. The Chanters are making a tour of West Texas and New Mexico.

TEXAS TO DAY

A northern sets phones ringing in Weather Bureaus throughout Texas.

The public wants to know about the weather, and it knows just where to call.

And whether the wash gets hung out or the fence painted may depend on the answers from forecasters.

The Bureau is called on to answer scores of questions. Some queries have nothing to do with the weather.

"All in all, the public is a pretty nice boss," says M. C. Harrison, meteorologist-in-charge at Dallas. "They let us know when a forecast doesn't pan out. They are also just as ready to give us a word of praise."

Harrison, a veteran of 30 years with the U. S. weather-tracking agency, says, "We are here to serve the public, making available weather records, the current weather and the probable future weather."

A change in the weather sets off an avalanche of calls, he says. The most frequently asked questions are the temperature, how much if any rain has fallen and what tomorrow's outlook is.

Often, however, people ask forecasters to advise whether they should hang out the wash, start a car trip, take off on an airplane flight, pour concrete, start painting the fence or roofing the house.

"If it's related to the weather, we do the best we can to give them advice," Harrison says.

But frequently, people call the Weather Bureau with questions about astronomy, geology or simply the time of day.

"If their questions are not related to weather, we try to refer them to the proper source," Harrison says.

"Of course, we go ahead and give them the time of day. But we tell them we don't make a practice of it."

Harrison says people seem all ways to be wanting a change.

"When it's raining hard, people want to know when it will stop. When it has been dry for some time, they call up wanting to know when it will rain."

The Dallas Bureau has three telephones. When a big weather change comes, they all start ringing incessantly. The Bureau has two men on duty during the day, one at night.

Occasionally, during observation periods, the staff just has to let the phone ring or tell the caller he will have to wait several minutes.

Harrison says to be a weatherman you must have a sense of humor and never forget you're serving the public.

A man called a West Texas bureau recently and asked to know the temperature of freezing. The forecaster replied "32 degrees." The man then said he had a bet on and "what's half of freezing?" That one couldn't be answered.

Harrison says the other day a woman called in asking the maximum and minimum temperatures.

for Dallas the preceding day.

He replied, 58 and 22."

Then she asked, "Thank you, sir, but which is which?"

Funeral Of Sam Schuessler Held in Austin

Mrs. and Mrs. W. A. Petree and son, Gene, returned from Austin last Sunday after attending the funeral of Petree's brother-in-law, Sam Schuessler, formerly of the Watson community.

En route home they visited Bro. Oscar Walters, of Abilene, who makes his home with a daughter, Mrs. Rossy Moore. Both have many friends in Littlefield. He suffered a stroke in August, 1951 and has been bedfast since and unable to speak. His condition remains about the same as of late.

Mrs. Moore will be remembered as having owned a drug store at Amherst for some time.

Lubbock Host Lions District Convention To Be Apr. 24

General committees for an "Out-of-this-World" District 27-1 Lion Convention, on a "pay as you go" basis, were announced Sunday by C. M. Lane, club president, as the climax of a special district cabinet meeting held at the Amarillo YMCA building. Lubbock was announced as the 1955 convention site, with sessions scheduled Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, April 24, 25 and 26.

Wayne Henly, former deputy district governor and past president of the Lubbock Lions Club, was named general chairman of the convention executive committee. Appointed to serve with him were the presidents of the three host clubs: Richard G. Richards, Lubbock Lions Club; James O. Teague, South Plains Lions Club and Edward E. Frost, Hub Lions Club.

Other convention committee chairmen appointed were: Bill Larner, Lubbock Lions Club, finance committee; Hurley Carpenter, Lubbock Lions Club, transportation committee; Syd Moore, Hub Lions Club, decorations committee; Leon Harris, Lubbock Lions Club, publicity committee; and Joe Moore, South Plains

Lions Club, reception committee.

The Caprock Hotel will be convention headquarters. Business sessions will be held there, and in the new building of the First Methodist Church.

Competitions for prizes based on early registration and 100 per cent club membership registration, was also authorized. Already, ten clubs throughout the district have voted to register 100 per cent of their membership.

The "pay as you go" plan is a major departure from the "fraternity bank" pattern of previous district Lions conventions. Registration fees will be $1.50 for Lions and $1.00 for the ladies. This will give admittance to all convention business sessions, Separate Hospitality for the numerous breakfasts, luncheons, women's contest, and other special events may be purchased as desired.

The children of another home played marbles, checkers and hopscotch in much the same form as the games used by modern children.

No gasoline—no, not a single one—has higher octane than

New 1955 GULF NO-NOX

This lamp is burning the "DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END" of gasoline which GULF refines out

This lamp is burning NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX, the clean-burning super-fuel and because it burns clean... New No-Nox gives you even more power-with-protection

But octane alone is not enough. Only a gasoline that burns clean can make its full octane power really work for you mile after mile. That's why new Gulf NO-NOX is super-refined to burn clean and make this power last thousands of miles longer!

This lamp test above shows what a difference Gulf super-refining makes. Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline, at the refinery, to bring you new Gulf NO-NOX. Just see how clean new NO-NOX burns.

Fill up with new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX and feel the difference:

- More complete engine protection than with so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines.
- Extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most.
- Stall-proof smoothness... instant starts... fast, fuel-saving warm-up.
- No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's high-compression engines.

GULF'S PLEDGE to the motoring public

- We at Gulf make this promise to America's motorists. We will not permit a single competitor—no, not a single one—to offer a gasoline superior to our own superb No-Nox.
- It is our sincere belief that No-Nox is the finest gasoline on the market today, and no matter what others do or say we will keep it the finest—in power, in performance, in engine protection.
- This is not a boast, not a claim. It is a pledge to you, the motoring public—a pledge backed by the resources—and the integrity—of the Gulf Oil Corporation.

4-H In Review

By Austin (Bob) Haney

Asst. Lamb County Agent

Due to some question on eligibility for the Pleasant Valley community Livestock Show, we hope to answer some of these questions in this column.

This year the Pleasant Valley show is open to Lamb County 4-H and FFA members, Muleshoe School District 4-H and FFA members and Pleasant Valley residents.

The show will be held on Oscar Allison's farm, 10 miles east of Muleshoe on the East-Muleshoe highway, on Saturday, Feb. 26, 1955. Entries will be made on the morning of the show at Allison's farm, between 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. and will be graded and ready for show by 10:05 a.m.

The number of entries for each individual is unlimited, but each animal will be shown individually.

Entries will be judged by breed only, and not by weight or age. Entries or divisions of the show is as follows: milk fed steers, commercial steers, fat barrows, and breeding stock (male or female) of all breeds in dairy animals, beef animals, and swine. Animals placed will be 1st, 2nd and 3rd by breeds with no and 2nd place animals of each breed eligible for competition for Grand and Reserve Champion of the Show.

There will also be 4-H and FFA judging teams, competition in milk fed calves, commercial calves, fat barrows, and breeding classes in dairy animals, beef animals and swine. These teams will judge from 10 a.m. to 12 noon on the morning of the show. Ribbons will be given to the three high scoring teams with special recognition given to high scoring individual.

If all exhibitors could have animals at the designated show place by 8 a.m. or as soon after as possible, it would help the show officials in planning the space.

ATTEND SCHOOL MEETING: Among those attending the meeting in Lamesa Thursday night of West Texas School Administrators were: Troy Moss, Carl Koeling and Earl Rogers of the Littlefield school board, and Ralph Schilling, school superintendent.

A NEVER FAILING LIGHT

"There, dear, is the text the Pastor used this morning, Psalm 119, verse 105. 'Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path!'"

How much the feet of modern men need such a lamp for guidance, some light on the path of life to enable us to be sure of the way we ought to go! For there is so much darkness, confusion and uncertainty. But for those who live with this Bible, there comes light and direction. And for those who are regularly in church on Sunday the light of the Gospel shines, showing the way and dispelling the darkness.

In drilling, the fertilizer is placed to one side and slightly deeper than the seed. The wide range of fertilizer application rate of approximately 75 to 1000 lbs. per acre makes it suitable for lime spreading. The flexible, non-jamming spiral, fertilizer agitator is easily removed for cleaning.

Words Of Life

By Tommy Williams, Minister

More than once in Jerusalem the apostles were cast into prison for preaching the word of the Lord. One time however, an angel of the Lord came and opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said, Stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life" (Acts 5:19-20).

The words of the Lord are the words of life, Jesus said, "The words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life" (John 6:63).

His are the words of life because they quicken (make alive) those dead in sin and give them life in Jesus. "The word hath quickened me" (Psalms 119:50). "You hath he quickened who were dead in trespasses and sins" (Ephesians 2:1).

His words are the words of life because they give the principles and rules which govern true life in a man, but by every that proceedeth out of the mouth of God" (Matthew 12:12).

His are the words of life because they promise to save us from death and life in the grave. "He that believeth in me, though he were never seen, yet who ever believeth in me shall never die" (John 11:25-26).

His words shall be a standard of judgment (John 12:48). We are to live by the words because we are judged by it. No man has any right to condemn another man unless he can prove that he is right by any other word than the word of the Lord in the scriptures to do the will of the Father who sent him.
