No Immediate Improvement Seen For Tire Situation

With the shortage of tires likely to remain unchanged in the near future Ted Phillips, manager of Phillips Tire company at 211 East Third, is urging all car owners to keep their tires in extra-good condition and to keep a careful check on the condition of their rubber. He states that his company is now making a specialty of keeping tires in top condition and that drivers will find the Phillips Tire company the place to stop for efficient and dependable service.

For persons with tire certificates the company offers a complete line of a first-rate nationally recognized tire and also has tractor tires for farmers desiring such. The tires on sale at the company offices are the best available during war-time shortages.

For persons who wish recapping or vulcanizing Phillips offers loan-tires to be used until work is completed on the owner's tires.

A good supply of all size tires, wheels and rims, and tractor tires are on hand and it is urged that persons wishing tires would get them now while the supply is plentiful and while quotas are sufficient to fill the demands.

Phillips however, is more interested in seeing that car owners keep their present tires in the best of condition and urges all to have their tires checked and balanced regularly. He states the need for checking for breaks and cuts and this service also should be applied regularly.

The company manager cited the fact that thousands of tires are being wasted daily because of neglected bruises and cuts in tires which, if properly taken care of immediately, would easily save the tire for many more miles and for a recap job later on.

Phillips added that misaligned and unbalanced wheels waste more rubber than any other single factor. Seventy-five per cent of the cars and trucks rolling today are wasting rubber in some degree due to misalignment and unbalance. "Any recap that goes out of a shop on an unbalanced wheel has only half a chance for proper mileage," he added.

Plus this super-service system of keeping Big Spring car drivers informed on the condition of their tires, and on the needs for them, the company also offers a complete line of first-rate accessories that will benefit all who choose to trade at the shop, Phillips added.

Typewriters Are Now Available, Says Thomas

The Thomas Typewriter Exchange at 107 Main street, owned and operated by Eugene Thomas, is prepared to give the typewriter owners of Big Spring the service they desire.

The Exchange was organized in 1934 and has been offering the people of Big Spring the best typewriter repair service it is possible to offer. The management stated that due to labor shortages in the past months their service has not been as prompt as they wished that it could have been, but the situation has been met now, and quicker service can now be promised.

All types of office supplies can be obtained at the Typewriter Exchange and in addition they are the dealers for Royal typewriters, R. C. Allen and Victor adding machines and Speedprint Corporation duplicators.

Thomas said Saturday that now that several critical items have been removed from the "frozen" list, including typewriters, there will be a limited number available for the Big Spring area.

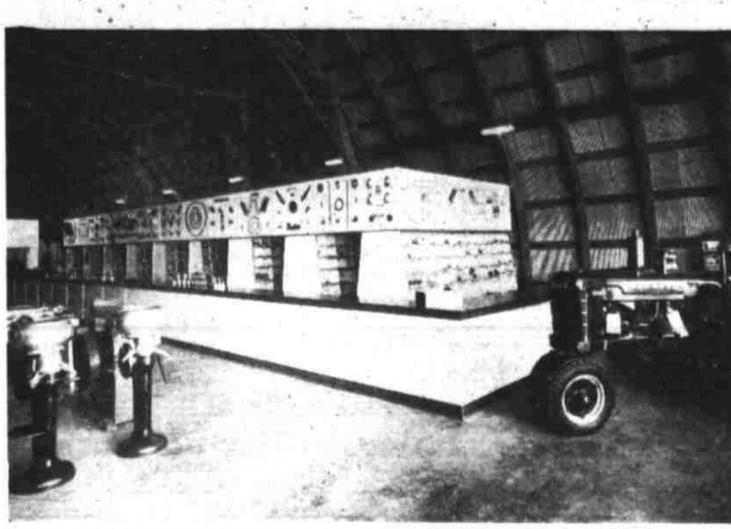

These machines must be applied for and have government approval before they can be sold.

Texas Students Return To Class

AUSTIN, Nov. 6 (AP) — University of Texas students who have demonstrated since last Wednesday against discharge of Dr. Rainey returned to classes today under protest.

Their plea for reinstatement of Dr. Rainey was joined last night by Dr. Edmund Heinson, pastor of University Methodist church, who in a statewide radio broadcast urged parents, students and others to petition Governor Coke R. Stevenson to reinstate Dr. Rainey.

The governor had under consideration the resignations of regents John H. Bickett Jr. of Dallas, H. H. Weinert of Seguin, and Dan J. Harrison of Houston, given last week after the board discharged Dr. Rainey, climaxing a long-standing row over division of authority between the administrative officer and the board.

The executive council of the ex-students association has called for the resignation of all members of the board of regents involved in the controversy with Dr. Rainey.

“This is what I used to dream about in the jungle, God, if I could only see for just five seconds.

“That girl there—is she laughing... or crying? I had a girl—once. Sure I wrote her when this happened to me. I told her I was tired of her. What else could I say?

“Listen to that newsboy... ‘GERMANY FINISHED!’ I’d give anything to see those headlines. What else does it say? Anything about the Pacific? I hope you guys realize there’s still the Pacific.

“Yeah. I was there, all right. If you could have seen what I saw, you wouldn’t need to read any War Bond ads. Kids you grew up with, with their faces smashed to bits. Nothing left of your best friend but his helmet landing in your lap. Made me kind of mad, I guess. They say I was still fighting when I couldn’t see any more.

“Yeah, it’s bad enough. But it makes it worse when you hear someone saying the war’s practically over. Acting as if it’s time to ease up on War Bonds and all. Then you wonder what you did it for. It’s not over yet. Those Japs can do a lot of damage. I ought to know.

“Do me a favor, will you, Mac? Keep on buying War Bonds for my buddies out there. And put a little extra in for my sake, will you?”

Sandies Play Plainview In Top Battle Of Area

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff
The first district champion in Texas school football is due to be crowned this week. There also are highly important battles in at least three other areas.

Tech, has only to tie or win from North Dallas Friday night to become the champion of the Dallas district. The undefeated, untied and unscored on Bisons should turn this trick with a minimum of trouble.

There's a major battle on the schedule in the Panhandle Saturday when Amarillo's Golden Sandies and Plainview decide first place. Each is undefeated in conference play but Amarillo is a prohibitive favorite.

Brownwood and Breckenridge, tied for the lead in District 9, will scrap it out Saturday, with Breckenridge an overwhelming favorite.

Longview and Tyler clash Friday in District 11 and the winner will be tied with Marshall for the lead, provided Marshall beats Texarkana, which is considered a foregone conclusion since Texarkana hasn't won a game all season and has scored only six points while Marshall is among the state's top dozen teams.

There are 49 conference games on the week's schedule as all districts except No. 4, where Austin (El Paso) is the unbeaten leader, see title play.

The undefeated, untied list in the state rests at eight, Sweetwater having been removed last week by Abilene 32-20. Of the remaining outfits with unscuffed records, Kerrville appears in for the toughest week-end in trying to keep its high position. The Antlers play Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio. This game also will cut the district leaders down to one team—Austin—should Kerrville lose. Austin and Kerrville are both among the undefeated and untied. Others are North Side (Fort Worth), Paschal (Fort Worth), Sunset, Waco, Tyler and Goose Creek.

Tyler may also find the going a shade rough with the Longview Lobos, although the Lions will be favored to come through. Waco meets a dangerous Bryan outfit and North Side plays an Amon Carter-Riverside team able to hold strong Paschal to a two-point victory.

The individual scoring race found only one point separating the two state leaders today, Perry Samuels, the Thomas Jefferson speedster, got a touchdown against Austin to run his total to 103 points. H. J. Shands, Lufkin halfback, made two touchdowns against Huntsville to bring his total to 102.

Schlunkman, hailed by many as the best back in Texas, lived up to pre-game publicity by scoring all of Tech's points, gaining 88 yards running with the ball, and turning in a grand defensive job.

Texas showed a startling reversal in form by smashing the Mustangs. Despite injuries and naval trainee losses, the Longhorns toyed with their opponents. Bobby Layne, the boy wonder of Texas U., was injured but despite that turned in one touchdown, passed for another, and set up a third with his passes and runs. He also kicked two extra points.

TCU also was slightly under par, riddled by naval transfers and losses to scholastic ineptitude, but used everyone, including the student manager, to score three times in the second period. Coach Dutch Meyer took only 22 players to Savannah, and the student manager came in handy.

Excellent performances were also turned in by Byron Lisenbee of Beaumont, Tex., winner of the wild Brahma bull riding contest, and Gene Rambo of Shandon, Calif., winner of the saddle bronc riding event, in the evening performance.

Saturday night Toots Mansfield of Big Spring, Tex., champion calf roping for four of the past five years, won the event in the fast time of 19 seconds.

Hendlin Invites Post Personnel To Fence
First Lieut. Hale H. Hendlin, member of the U. S. Olympic fencing team in 1928, today invited military personnel at AAFBS to use his masks and foils and learn the art of fencing.

Lieut. Hendlin, officers' physical training director, is former national Hammond fells champion and winner of the Clemson gold trophy while at the University of North Carolina. He has several sets of fencing equipment hanging in his office.

He is anxious to train and work out with fencers. The fells have protective tips and there is no danger of injury, he pointed out. Gloves on the hands afford added protection, he said.

One of the most effective ways to spend 15 restful minutes is to fold an oblong piece of gauze to fit over the eyes, dampen it with ice cold water or with eye lotion, place over eyes and lie down with feet propped higher than your head.

Four Ex-Governors To Vote Demo Ticket
DALLAS, Nov. 6 (AP)—Four former Texas governors are going to vote the straight democratic ticket, State Democratic Chairman Harry L. Seay said last night.

He said he sent telegrams to six, and had received replies from James V. Allred, Ross S. Sterling, Pat M. Neff and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson. He said Dan Moody and W. P. Hobby had not yet replied.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Grant Pollock of Clinton, Ill., offers a prospectus of an ambitious post-war winter sports program which embraces ski running, toboggan and bobsled racing and snow polo.

—which he describes as a game played on bobsleds going down a race at full speed. . . . Obviously Mr. Pollock has only the foggiest idea of modern bobsled racing and his program, as outlined, would leave few survivors. But in it he has one idea worth following up.

That is that snow sports, just becoming popular when the war came along, offer a big field in which employment can be created for returning soldiers. . . . A lot of those boys will need healthful outdoor work—the United States Golf association has recognized that in its plan to employ wounded veterans on golf courses.

Monday matinee—When Chattanooga Joe Engel broached the subject of moving his Southern association franchise to Miami to the league directors, he waited until they were together then entered the room lugging a large potted palm and a bag of oranges. . . . Lieut. (jg) Al Vanderbilt, who left his racing for the Navy, has been assigned to Hollywood as advisor on a picture about P-T boats. . . . Alfredo Do Oro, 82-year-old Cuban billiard whiz, has been hospitalized with serious injury as result of being hit by a car. . . . Curt McCamy of West Fargo, N. D., one of last season's high-scoring prep basketballers, has just received a naval academy appointment. He'll stay at the U. of Minnesota, however, until time to enter the academy and likely will do some damage to Big Ten court rivals.

Dead Cows Are Salvation For Frontline Action

By HAL BOYLE
WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN GERMANY, Oct. 28 (Delayed) (AP) Frontline flashes:

Two dead cows helped Pvt. George Harner of Pennsylvania knock out several enemy pillboxes.

Harner's company was in a defensive position 150 yards from a series of concrete and steel pillboxes. He and a comrade were sent one dark night to check whether the Germans had withdrawn from these strongpoints.

"To reach the pillboxes we had to cross open terrain and the only means of cover were two dead cows," said Harner. "They were really fragrant—but they were something to hide behind at least."

The two soldiers crept from one cow to the other until they were within 25 yards of one pillbox and heard low voices speaking in German. They knew the enemy was still there.

Harner and his pal worked their way slowly back from cow to cow until they reached their own lines again. There they directed mortar and artillery fire on the German replacements.

"I don't know whether I will ever be able to smell anything again," said Harner. "But I guess it was worth it, those Jerries didn't get any sleep that night."

Troops of one battleline unit in Holland found a new use for portions of concentrated K rations they couldn't consume. They fed them to a pet white goat, their company mascot.

The idea had only one drawback. The goat refused to eat one type of biscuits and one brand of cigarettes which also were highly unpopular with the troops.

After the war major leagues looking for top hurlers profitably might investigate Pvt. Tony D. Augustine, Mansfield, Ohio. He fired five shots with his carbine recently at a stray hen. He had five misses. Augustine picked up a rock, wound up and knocked off the hen with his first throw.

Now rocks have become part of his basic load of ammunition.

Levin Added To Post Physical Ed Staff
Cpl. Ed Levin, sensational California gymast and the fastest rope climber in the nation in 1942, is the newest addition to the Physical Training staff at the Big Spring Bomber School.

A native of Los Angeles and a former student at the University of Southern California, Cpl. Levin was assigned here from a Training Group in Coleman, Tex. Two years ago he won the national rope-climbing title by scrambling up a 25 foot rope in 5.2 seconds.

Besides being California State A.A.U. champion on the horizontal bar, he holds numerous records on the flying rings, being expert at such maneuvers as swings, kips, cut-offs and fly-aways. Last year he trained with a circus.

To prevent waste in glass jars of shortening, set the jar when nearly empty in a warm place or in a pan of hot water and let the rest of the fat melt. It can then be poured into a shallow container.

DOBBS COMPLETES 6
COLORADO SPRINGS, Nov. 6 (AP)—Glenn Dobbs, star halfback of the Second Airforce team, completed six of 11 passes against the Amarillo Army Airfield Sunday to bring his season total to 51 completions in 86 attempts.

Political Pot Percolating, Awaits Blowoff Of Lid In Tuesday Election

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff
Texas today was a gently ticking political time - bomb set to go off tomorrow.

Pre-election campaigning virtually is over, and Texans today are taking stock of what they've seen and heard.

Tomorrow an explosion of votes, freely predicted by politicians as probably the greatest total in Texas history, will reveal their decision. Polls will open at 7 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Major remaining speech will be Sen. Lee O'Daniel (D-Tex.) for the Texas regulars in Dallas tonight.

Bombardiers Prep Tonight At Post

The Bombardiers of AAFBS, preparing for a rough basketball schedule against the top service teams in the Southwest, take on the Air Crew Trainees of Section K in a practice game at the post gymnasium at 7:30 p. m. tonight.

Capt. Floyd B. Burdette, playing coach of the Bombardiers, today announced the addition to his squad of First Lieut. John Woffington, former star at the University of Idaho and later at San Jose State College in California. Lieut. Woffington, a forward, was drafted from the Group 11 Officers.

Besides Lieut. Woffington, tomorrow's lineup will include S/Sgt. Dixon Kirk at the other forward, PFC Rex Alexander, center; S/Sgt. Mel Vice and Sgt. Flinn Dunham, guards. Capt. Burdette probably will see action in the second half.

The Air Crew Trainees have a tall squad of former scholastic stars to pit against the Bombardiers. The team includes Pvt. Joe Ciplec and Pvt. Jim McDowell, former Pittsburgh schoolboy stars; Pvt. Ted Loeffler, rangy center from Beaver Falls, Pa.; Pvt. Spence Brunson, ex-guard at Clemson College in South Carolina; Pvt. Art Buell of Derry, Pa.; Pvt. John Cartier of Ludington, Mich., and Pvt. Bernie Delaney from Cathedral High School in Springfield, Ill.

Gonzalez New Governor Of Mexican Tamauilipas
CUIDAD VICTORIA, Mex., Nov. 6 (AP)—Pedro Gonzalez, youthful Nuevo Laredo attorney, is the new governor of Tamauilipas.

Gonzalez was elected yesterday for a six-year term. He succeeds Magdalena Aguilar. Gonzalez was the only candidate in the race. Five others withdrew before the election.

night. It will be the last of 25 appearances he and his Hill-Billy band had scheduled in Texas.

State Democratic Chairman Harry L. Seay expressed the hope that Roosevelt democrats will not heckle the senator in Dallas.

A quarter of a million more Texans are qualified to vote this year than in 1940, the last presidential election year. The state comptroller's official estimate is 1,567,143, based on paid poll taxes plus eligible voters exempt from poll taxes.

The unofficial vote tabulation for 1940 was 1,259,878. Roosevelt received 905,156, Wendell Willkie 211,707. The official vote was Roosevelt 840,151, Willkie 199,152, but the vote of 33 counties is missing from the official tabulation.

The ballots this year will be as large as newspaper pages. They will carry elector slates of democrats, republicans, Texas regulars, prohibition, socialist and America First parties.

Democrats, republicans, regulars and the prohibition party list full slates; socialist and America First columns lead off with a partial list. Texas has 23 electors.

Republicans will have 10 candidates for state offices. They are offering no opponent for J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of Agriculture, the democratic nominee who has announced he is supporting the regulars.

The republicans have certified congressional candidates in 12 of the state's 21 districts. In the fifth district, Charles D. Turner of Dallas, running as a republican against democratic nominee Hutton W. Summers, is being termed a Jeffersonian democrat.

Almost forgotten in the hottest campaign since 1928, when Herbert Hoover defeated Al Smith to carry Texas into the republican fold for the first time in history, are two amendments to the state constitution.

One would provide municipal pension systems, the second would alter the method of handling county fiscal matters.

WE, THE PEOPLE

The War Today

by Dewitt Mackenzie
Associated Press War Analyst

The Red army's furious assault on the Hungarian capital of Budapest represents the crisis in one of the war's major operations. The city's inevitable fall will speed Hitler's end.

The vastly important communications and industrial center, which straddles the broad Danube like a colossus, is the guardian of the Danubian basin route into southeast Germany via Austria. Its capture will at once open the gate for advance up the valley and provide the Soviet forces with a magnificent base for operations against the reich itself.

But Budapest to my mind means far more than that. It's only about 100 miles, as the airplane flies, from the Austrian border and 140 from Vienna itself—and many Austrians are only waiting for a chance to rise and throw off the Nazi yoke.

Thus it strikes me as quite possible that the arrival of the Red army at the Austrian frontier might precipitate a revolt against Hitler within that enslaved country. Once a rebellion started in Austria there would be no telling how far it might speed through unhappy Germany itself.

The impending loss of Hungary will deprive Hitler of a satellite which, next to Italy, is the most important European ally he has had for it has been the key to his control of the Balkans. But while this will represent a great military victory for the United Nations, it undoubtedly will be a mixed blessing since it will

Hollywood—Goulding Easiest To Interview

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Edmund Goulding is the easiest personality in Hollywood to interview. He insists on doing all the "work" himself, with the aid of a secretary who takes down verbatim what Goulding says about Goulding, Goulding's life and Goulding's work as a director.

This intimate report, dictated in the third person and with an understandable kindness toward its subject, is then typed quickly and handed to the dumfounded reporter as he leaves—if he has not left already. It is a fascinating procedure, and (assuming that Goulding preserves carbon copies) he must have accumulated quite a dossier on himself through the years since he first thus overwhelmed this nonplussed pilgrim from the hinterlands.

But Goulding himself is more fun than his interviews, especially Goulding at work. He works hard and seriously for his reported $150,000 per picture, is affable and courteous to all and kind to actors, and he gives a daily performance that should be preserved on celluloid. He is frequently the best and certainly the funniest actor on his sets.

He rehearses his players until every detail, shading, and slight gesture he desires from them is thoroughly conveyed. It is in these rehearsals that Goulding the Actor shines, for it is then that he plays all the parts.

For a dramatic scene in which Eleanor Parker's Mildred confesses to Paul Henreid's Philip that she is having a baby Goulding had rehearsed them about an hour before he stepped in. First Goulding was Mildred to Paul's Philip—then Philip to Eleanor's Mildred, with gestures.

"Eleanor, your hand on his knee, lightly . . . so . . . Paul, you are extremely conscious of her hand, we get that from your eyes, so . . . Your dialogue . . . I, 2, 3, 4, A, B, C, D and so on, so on, then turn slowly, so . . ."

Another scene had Philip proposing to Sally Athelny (Janis Page) after which Sally, tearful with joy, greets her father (sedate Edmund Gwenn). Goulding, essaying Janis's role—his three or four times her size—dabbed at his eyes with a tea towel and then kissed Gwenn resoundingly on the neck.

But Goulding is waggish—and ingenious—even when he's only directing. One day he was having trouble coaxing a "vulgar, unbecoming laugh" from Miss Parker. After many attempts, the director went over to chat with his script girl, then with Henreid, over whose shoulder the camera was shooting Eleanor.

"We, the people . . ." Thus begins the preamble to the constitution of the United States of America; a paragraph, which in itself, has grown to be quite as vital as the constitution, in application, profundity and vision.

"We, the people x x x do ordain and establish . . ." Aye, the power is the people's. The power of ordination is virtually the power of creation, of maintenance, of development. It is the power to choose what we shall do and whom we shall have to do it.

There is no mightier force, exclusive of the Divine hand, than "we, the people." They and they alone control the human destiny of our land; not parties, not factions, not individuals but the people.

Tuesday it is the solemn, yea the sacred obligation of the people to speak through the instrument of the ballot box. Individuals may have dire feelings concerning the result, but the most important thing of all is that "we, the people," shall speak. So long as the people preserve and exercise that cherished right, so long will we have a virile nation making its way—sometimes steadily, sometimes stumbling—toward justice, and truth, and right for all.

saddle them with another bad political problem. There are a great many Hungarian Nazis. Thus, just as the Allies will have the great educational task of eradicating Nazism from Germany and fascism from Italy, so will they have to eliminate the Hitlerian creed from Hungary.

Ernie Pyle: Correspondent Describes Action That Broke The Nazi Army In West

By ERNIE PYLE
ON THE WESTERN FRONT.
August 1944—I know that all of us correspondents have tried time and again to describe to you what this weird hedgerow fighting in northwestern France has been like.

But I'm going to go over it once more, for we've been in it two months and some of us feel that this is the two months that broke the German Army in the west.

This type of fighting is always in small groups, so let's take as an example one company of men. Let's say they are working forward on both sides of a country lane, and this company is responsible for clearing the two fields on either side of the road as it advances.

That means you have only about one platoon to a field. And with the company's understrength from casualties, you might have no more than 25 or 30 men in a field.

Over here the fields are usually not more than 50 yards across and a couple of hundred yards long. They may have grain in them, or apple trees, but mostly they are just pastures of green grass, full of beautiful cows.

The fields are surrounded on all sides by immense hedgerows which consist of an ancient earthen bank, waist high, all matted with roots, and out of which grow weeds, bushes and trees up to 20 feet high.

The Germans have used these barriers well. They put snipers in the trees. They dig deep trenches behind the hedgerows and cover them with timber, so that it is almost impossible for artillery to get at them.

Sometimes they will prop up machine guns with strings attached, so they can fire over the hedge without getting out of their holes. They even cut out a section of the hedgerow and hide a big gun or a tank in it, covering it with brush.

Also they tunnel under the hedgerows from the back and make the opening on the forward side just large enough to stick a machine gun through.

But mostly the hedgerow pattern is this: a heavy machine gun hidden at each end of the field and infantrymen hidden all along the hedgerow with rifles and machine pistols.

Now it's up to us to dig them out of there. It's a slow and cautious business, and there is nothing very dashing about it. Our men don't go across the open fields in dramatic charges such as you see in the movies. They did at first, but they learned better.

They go in tiny groups, a squad or less, moving yards apart and sticking close to the hedgerows on either end of the field. They creep a few yards, squat, wait, then creep again.

If you could be right up there between the Germans and the Americans you wouldn't see very many men at any one time—just a few here and there, always trying to keep hidden. But you would hear an awful lot of noise.

Our men were taught in training not to fire until they saw something to fire at. But that hasn't worked in this country, because you see so little. So the alternative is to keep shooting constantly at the hedgerows. That pins the Germans in their holes while we sneak up on them.

The attacking squads sneak up the sides of the hedgerows while the rest of the platoon stays back in their own hedgerow and keep the forward hedge saturated with bullets. They shoot rifle grenades too, and a mortar squad a little farther back keeps lobbing mortar shells over onto the Germans.

The little advance groups get up to the far ends of the hedgerows at the corners of the field. They first try to knock out the machine guns at each corner. They do this with hand grenades, rifle grenades and machine guns.

Usually, when the pressure gets on, the German defenders of the

No Speedometer On This

More small tales from a big state:

Robert L. Miller says every time he sends applications for gas and tires to the OPA they are invariably returned with a request for the mileage reading on his speedometer.

"Can't those fellows ever learn," he asked, "that a 1926 Ford never had a speedometer?"

Carl Wilson, Pampa druggist, isn't going to let politics interfere with his business.

He wears a campaign button, but it isn't a Dewey button, and it isn't a Roosevelt button.

His button carries a picture of William McKinley, the 24th president of the United States.

Technical Sergeant Lamar Pate of Nacogdoches wrote home to his folks that "we were only fooling, but the results were worth it."

His platoon captured a 40 mm. German machine gun. No enemy was in sight, so they began experimenting with the gun to see how it worked.

They turned it on a foxhole, pulled the trigger—and out jumped two Germans waving handkerchiefs.

A tiny tot in Amarillo studied long and hard to learn about Columbus so he could answer expected questions on Columbus Day.

He was disappointed when the teacher didn't ask him to recite, and rather than waste his knowledge he later told his grandmother all about the famous explorer.

"He thought he was going to find a shorter route to India," he said. "But he didn't. He found us. But he wasn't the man to sail around the world."

"Then who was?" "Oh, some guy named Mulligan."

Speaking of children, they are not a legal nuisance. Judge Tom Nach of Dallas said so, and a jury backed him up this week.

A landlord brought suit to eject a family, charging the tenant's young son was a nuisance.

"All children are nuisances at certain times," admitted the judge. "You were and I was and most adults are nuisances. But in this case (ejection) legal nuisance would have to be something like howling dogs or dangerous side-walks."

The jury ruled against the landlord, and so did the judge.

PUENTE, Calif., Nov. 6 (AP)—Uncle Sam's army doesn't overlook a thing. It even has a replacement center here for Jungle Jeeps (army mules).

Capt. William J. Farrell, commanding this animal depot, says before being shipped overseas as replacements their care includes: fattening, vaccine shots for tetanus, glanders, sleeping sickness and anthrax; dental treatment, special shoes when needed and manicuring.

Washington—MacArthur Invasion Has Coincidences

By HERMAN ALLEN
(Substituting for Jack Stinnett, who is ill)
WASHINGTON — No big military operation is complete without a crop of reminiscences and a few coincidences. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's landing on Leyte is no exception.

It was on Leyte that MacArthur carried out his first assignment as an officer, just 41 years ago—in November, 1903.

Frankly, I can't claim credit for digging this story up myself, but I found it on you. It was George Conroy of the Washington Post who got an interview with Maj. Gen. Charles Douglas Herron, retired, who was MacArthur's roommate for six weeks out there on Leyte and served with him several more times as the years rolled on.

MacArthur's assignment in 1903 was a rather strange one. Six months before, the Army had sent a shipload of soldiers, officers and a few officers' families, with an assortment of lumber and nails, to a point a few miles south of Tacloban, the capital of Leyte. They were told "here is your station. If you want to get out of tents, start building . . ."

The officers simply appropriated land and started building. MacArthur's job, when he got there was to "survey the area and prepare a map of a proposed military reservation." Actually, the reservation was practically built. What the Army, tongue in cheek, wanted was a map showing what land had been taken over so that the owners could be paid for it.

MacArthur, at that time a second lieutenant of engineers, prepared a beautiful map, presumably the Filipinos were paid off, and MacArthur sailed away on the next steamer.

The young lieutenant left quite an impression on Leyte. For one thing, he was the only spanking-new West Pointer there, quite a contrast to the Spanish-American war and Philippine insurrection veterans stationed there with the 18th infantry garrison. He had a challenging example to live up to, too—that set by his father, Arthur MacArthur, former commanding general in the Philippines.

Picnics were always a favorite diversion, and Lt. MacArthur spent his time in extensive exploration of the island by foot, on horseback and by buggy. Probably he little suspected that the knowledge of Leyte terrain he acquired then would stand him so well 41 years later.

MacArthur was a bit too dog-

Russians Say GOP Has 'Fake Plot'

MOSCOW, Nov. 6 (AP)—The Soviet government newspaper, Izvestia, in an article headlined "The Election of Roosevelt is Guaranteed," said yesterday there were rumors that republican interests might stage a last-minute "fake plot" against Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's life and charge it was instigated by American communists.

The unsigned two-column survey of the American election asserted such a rumor was circulating among foreign correspondents in Moscow. It declared that "republican bosses x x x understand failure is imminent" and said that "under these circumstances there is no wonder x x x the republicans in despair might resort to a big adventure" in the hope of winning votes by "scaring people with the communist danger."

Gov. Dewey, reached in Albany, had no comment. President Roosevelt was in seclusion in Hyde Park.

"One should not forget that history includes a number of such insolent, crude provocations, beginning with a faked document ascribed to communists, which appeared on the eve of parliamentary elections in some countries, up to the burning of the reichstag in Germany," Izvestia said.

According to rumors, Izvestia said, "the fake 'plot' against Dewey is being prepared by the republican party with the responsibility for the plot fixed on American communists."

Train Overtakes Near Edinburg On Valley Run

McALLEN, Nov. 6 (AP)—Sid Hardin, attorney for the Union bus lines at Edinburg, told the McAllen Monitor that a bus had been sent from Edinburg to bring to town passengers of a Southern Pacific passenger train reported overturned 30 miles north of Edinburg at 7:30 a. m. today.

Local officials of the Southern Pacific said they had no reports yet whether there were any injuries. The train was bound from Houston to the lower Rio Grande valley.

White Collapses On Golf Course, Dies

SHERMAN, Nov. 6 (AP)—Robert C. (Bob) White, 62, of Bonham, died at a local hospital yesterday after he had collapsed on the Woodlawn golf club course.

White was the defending champion in the North Texas senior golf association annual tournament. He collapsed on the greens after making his third shot. Funeral services were to be held at Bonham tomorrow. The tournament was postponed until next year.

Verona, New Jersey, Man Is Now "Weeper"

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP) — Rudolph J. Wickel of Verona, N. J., today was ruefully aware of the finality of the "finders-keepers" adage which prevented him from collecting $1,000 unaccounted for during a Holyoke, Mass., buried treasure hunt.

Wickel was sent to Holyoke early yesterday by the "Truth or Consequences" radio program with directions for finding 1,000 silver dollars buried there in a vacant lot by Ralph Edwards, program director.

But 1,000 radio listeners, some with diving rods, one with a bulldozer, were there ahead of him. Joseph E. Roy, 23, of Holyoke, an honorably discharged war veteran, and his brother-in-law, 14-year-old Henry Martelle, found the money.

Buried treasure belongs to the finder. But Wickel, says NBC studios, will get a "consolation prize."

Roosevelt May Visit Paris In Near Future

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP) — The possibility that President Roosevelt may visit Paris was raised today as the result of an invitation extended by the French provisional government.

The invitation was made in a letter to Secretary of State Hull from Henri Hoppenot, French minister and delegate to this country.

The letter stated that the French would be "particularly happy" if Hull could accompany the chief executive to their capital.

There has been speculation on an impending meeting of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin, and the president might include a Paris visit on a trip to such a conference. Unsettled conditions in France, however, could prevent such a visit.

WE'RE S-T-R-E-T-C-H-I-N-G THE TELEPHONE SYSTEM

but still folks must wait to get service

The telephone system here is crowded. It is being stretched to its limit to serve as many people as possible. But the waiting lists for service go right on growing.

The big factories that manufacture telephones, wires, cables, and switchboards still are working at capacity on communications equipment and electrical weapons for the army and navy. They cannot help us stretch the system further.

So we are making the most of what we have. Until the reserve behind the many allied invasions is ample for any conceivable demand upon it, we must repair and re-use every scrap of equipment that can do a wartime job.

Telephone users are helping, too. Voluntarily, they are eliminating unnecessary calls, being brief on calls that must be made. Many share party lines with others. Where that is practical, it makes one pair of wires serve two to four families.

We're trying to serve everyone we possibly can. When a present user discontinues service, we see to it that so far as the location and type of equipment permit, the facilities he gives up are assigned at once to whoever has been waiting longest. But despite all we can do, we are sorry to say that many folks may have to wait a long time.

Sooner or later, restored civilian production will bring us all we need to furnish the services you want. We look forward to tackling then the big job of catching up. But until then we can do no more than stretch the telephone system as far as it will go.
