LITTLEFIELD, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1968

NUMBER 20

ARTER APPLICATION IN

Housing Plan Progresses

Trading of substandard in Littlefield took a long time to realization this step is in the form of application for incorporation of improved Homes, Inc. which was submitted to the Secretary of the office early in the month.

Improved Homes is a non-profit corporation made up of representatives from all levels of the community. The group has formed and will sponsor a housing rehabilitation program for the city. They have obtained the approval of the Federal Housing Administration.

Idea to start such a program was first conceived in the minds of various church members throughout the city, whose efforts eventually reached the planning stage.

Since the first full-scale meeting in June, a series of meetings representing all races and religious denominations have been held which have culminated in the articles of incorporation that were forwarded to Austin.

Temporary chairman of the organization committee which brought it to the incorporation stage is Mancil Hall with Pete Trevino serving as secretary. Officers signing the articles of incorporation, all of Littlefield, include Ben Crawford, 605 E. 9th St.; M. S. Hall, Box 271; T. A. Hillman, 430 XII Dr.; H. A. Mitchell, Box 271; Pete Trevino, Box 751; D. C. Stewart, 500 LFD Dr. and Clem Sorley, 221 E. 26th St.

Aim of the housing program is not for new construction, but is limited strictly to bringing substandard dwellings up to acceptable standards for the health and welfare of their occupants.

It further has no relationship to the recently announced city council plan for demolition of dilapidated houses, which pertains exclusively to houses beyond repair.

Briefly, this plan provides for a family of low income, who is now renting, to purchase a substandard house, have it remodeled, bringing it up to minimum standards and then have the entire costs financed through a low interest (3 percent) loan from FHA.

For those low income families now owning their homes, they can apply for the same low interest loan to rehabilitate their homes.

In either instance, the total cash investment by each family is limited to $4,000. See HOUSING Page 5

CHECK 'PLEASANT SURPRISE'

First Sales Tax Return In Revenue Estimate Revised Upward

The first check returned to Littlefield by the state on the one cent city sales tax program has arrived, and is a pleasant surprise, city manager Jim Shearer says.

The net amount of $16,899.35 was returned after standard deductions by the state from a gross collection of $18,106.08.

The collection was for the second yearly quarter of April, May and June, the first period in which the city participated in the tax program. Since the tax was not voted in until Dec. 27, 1967, the program did not go into effect until April 1, 1968.

The state charges two percent of the gross as a collection and administration fee and requires a 4.76 percent reserve to cover bad checks, collection mistakes, etc. The former is a set payment by the city, but the latter is returnable, at least in part, depending on the reliability of the payments submitted.

The two percent collection fee for this period amounted to $262.12 and the reserve held back amounted to $844.61.

The amount of the first check was a pleasant surprise for more reasons than one, not the least of which is because it was collected during what is considered one of the slowest quarters of the year for business.

"The first and fourth quarters are usually the heavy business periods, while the second and third are considered the slowest," Shearer stated.

In estimating the city budget for the coming year, a tentative revenue of $60,000 from the sales tax program was used as a basis for planning. This now appears to be over-conservative.

Four quarters equaling this one would result in a yearly revenue of $67,600, leaving $7,600 additional that could be channeled into other much-needed programs.

"However, the outlook could be even brighter than that," Shearer maintains, "since we have two quarters coming up that should see much heavier business activity before we round out a full year on the program."

"We were able to budget a minimum sum for the critical street repair and rehabilitation program, and you may be sure that this will take top priority in the use of any excess funds that become available," the city manager said.

ALMOST 100 PERSONS were on hand Monday to hear Dr. Jackson E. Simpson of the USDA Agricultural Research Service offer the USDA's help in a feasibility study for potato production, processing and marketing in this area. Goal of the project is the future establishment of a processing plant in or near Littlefield.

Pep Dinner Re-Scheduled

Date for the annual Pep Farm Dinner has been changed from Thursday night, Sept. 26, to Thursday night, Oct. 3, at 7:30.

The dinner, featuring that famous Pep sausage and trimmings, will be held at Parish Hall in Pep.

Littlefield merchants buy the tickets for themselves and a farmer. Tickets are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office in Littlefield. Kenneth Reast and Slick Chandler are ticket chairmen.

"This constitutes a very substantial revenue that has never been available to us before. It has enabled us to build a new sewage plant and sewage line extensions which was the basis for passage of the sales tax in the first place."

"The tax was passed for the purpose of retiring the bond issue that was necessary for construction of the new sewer system," Shearer continued.

"If we can channel some of this new money into the street program, it may save the necessity of another bond issue in the same way," he concluded.

Shearer indicated that the long delay in receiving the first returns was due to setting up the initial administrative procedures. Future returns should arrive with less delay and a check for the third quarter is expected sooner after its close on Sept. 30.

Aid Pledged By USDA In Potato Plant Study

Efforts to get an almost immediate start on a feasibility study for production, processing and marketing of potatoes in the Littlefield area are under way here.

A. U. S. Department of Agriculture representative told a crowd of almost 100 interested persons here Monday that the USDA will "help in every way possible" to conduct such a study.

Dr. Jackson E. Simpson, connected with the USDA's Agricultural Research Service, met with farmers and businessmen at the auditorium of the Lamb County Electric Co-Op (REA).

He explained that the USDA would need a written request before coming into the local project, and leaders of the program here said the request would be made this week.

Littlefield interests involved in the project planning have as their goal the establishment of a potato processing plant here, helping the farmer diversify through a stable market and boosting the community and area economy.

Simpson said "phase 1" of the USDA study would require at least three months once it is started.

It also would require two men working at least half-time, one from the USDA and one from local ag-ecc groups, he explained.

Phase 1 of the study will involve two approaches: 1. Development of specific market See POTATO Page 5

GUESS WHAT IT IS--Over 1,800 lbs. of additional Christmas street decorations, ordered earlier in the year as a special project of the Chamber of Commerce, arrived in Littlefield last week and went into place at the city pumping station where they will await the holiday season. J. P. Ray, supervisor of public utilities, removed one of the 15 foot elfis from the crate in the background to show it to three members of the Retail Council committee responsible for the Christmas decoration project. Left to right Christmas committee members Bill Mott they include committee members Bill Mott and Tony Duran and Armon Perrin, committee chairman. Sufficient equipment for its erection not being on hand, Ray prudently returned it to its crate and decided he would fight that battle when he comes to it.

Woman Recovering After Olton Shooting

OLTON--An Olton insurance adjuster shot his estranged wife then killed himself here Saturday.

Charles McClain, 43, put a single .38 caliber bullet in his wife's head and then turned the gun on himself, firing one into his own head.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Olton's Community Hospital at approximately 2:30 p.m. Saturday, a short time after the shooting took place.

His wife, Norma, 36, was first taken to the Olton hospital and later transferred to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, where she underwent surgery.

Olton Police Chief Henry Ogletree said McClain curbed his wife's car with his own car, got out of the car and shot his wife through the closed window of her auto.

He then shot himself in the head, the chief said.

The shooting occurred just west of the Olton Methodist Church on 3rd Street, near the center of this community of 2,000.

Word received from Olton police chief Ogletree indicated Mrs. McClain was off the critical list and recovering. She was listed in fair condition Wednesday at Methodist Hospital.

Ogletree noted the attending physician as saying the car window through which the shot was fired at Mrs. McClain, flattened the bullet sufficiently to reduce its penetrating power.

Thus it struck her head much as a blunt instrument would, breaking a hole in the skull but not penetrating deeply.

They appeared optimistic as to her complete recovery, Ogletree said.

Residents of the community said the couple was separated, but not divorced.

For several years the couple had operated a drive-in cafe in Olton.

More recently McClain had been occupied as an insurance adjuster in the Olton area, it was stated by acquaintances of the deceased.

Surviving McClain are a son, Charles A. McClain, 17; a daughter, Debbie McClain, 15; a brother, Earl McClain, all of Olton, and a sister, Mrs. Gene Cottrell of Gruver.

A complete obituary can be found on the inside.

How Come, Uncle???

"HEY, UNCLE SAM, how much does it cost to rear a kid? You allow us tax-paying parents only $600 a year to clothe, feed, house and train a youngster. In your Federal Job Corps you spent $7,000 a year! Now which is the correct figure? Either we're allowing you too much or you're not allowing us enough.

"You allow tax-paying parents $600 deductions for the care and feeding of each child. Yet, under the Cuban refugee program you assume minimum upkeep requires $1,200 a year--and if the Cuban boy or girl is attending school an extra $1,000 a year.

"How come you short change the home folks, Uncle? In the austere environs of a federal prison, you have discovered that it costs--to maintain one person, with no frills, no luxuries and no borrowing Dad's car--$2,300 per year. By what rule of thumb do you estimate that Mom and Dad can do it for one-fourth of that amount?

"Under Social Security, you pay $158 a month to maintain the elderly. What makes you think we can maintain our young'uns for $50 a month? And, Uncle, your Vista program (Volunteers in Service to America) spent $3.1 million last year to train only 202 trainees. That indicates that the cost of maintaining and training one youth for one year is more than $15,000. Then how come we taxpayers get an exemption of $600 to maintain and train one youth for a year?

"Or let's see how much you spent up-keeping one youngster in military uniform. Clothing upkeep, $4.20 a month. House, $55 a month. Food, $30.27 a month. That comes to $1,074.04 a year. How in the world do you expect parents to provide all these things plus clothes, recreation, books, medicine, for $600 a year? With your figures, Uncle, you admit it can't be done.

"Is it possible, Uncle Sam, that you expect us parents to manage more efficiently than you do? With all our expenses, we American individuals have more than enough in savings to offset our debts. You don't.

"Regardless of how we try to rationalize and explain you and excuse you, it is still a hurtful affront when you allow us working, dues-paying home folks only $600 a year to rear a legitimate child, while you, under ADC, will pay more than $800 a year to upkeep an illegitimate one."

New Punctuation?

BY LIBBY MUDGE IT

I HAVE A SPECIAL fondness for English teachers. Realizing that I have caused them much grief with my dangling participles, split infinitives, sentences beginning with prepositions, and just altogether lousy compositions, I am now going to attempt to make amends.

English teachers, I think you should be warned that the English language has a new punctuation mark. It's quite a happening to be teaching when a new punctuation mark is introduced because the last new one was in 1671. (In case you weren't around then, that's when the quotation marks were finally accepted as proper.)

THE NEW PUNCTUATION mark is called the "interrobang" and denotes disbelief and astonishment. It has a loop of the question mark with the straight line of the exclamation point running through it and just below it, a period. The result sort of resembles the Russian hammer and sickle dripping a drop of blood.

While it is true that a few stodgy old grammarians and lexicographers haven't yet fully approved, Remington Rand has already added the interrobang symbol to their new typewriters and they're a pretty staid old conservative company. In fact, I suspect that the whole thing was promoted by typewriter companies so everyone would have to buy a new one. When you try to combine with I with ,, you get a messy

ANYHOW, the interrobang is increasing in popularity because of its "ability to express the incredibility of modern life". Because of my great admiration of and liking for all of you English teachers, I have gone to a great deal of trouble to prepare statements that require this new punctuation mark, the interrobang. Please feel free to use them for examples.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Heroic Heritage

BY BOB WEAR

OUR HERITAGE, that to which we were born, is truly a heroic heritage. IT IS A VERY GREAT AND RARE BLESSING.

IT HAS BEEN made great in value by the contributions of valiant and brave people of all kinds and classes. Their lives and sacrificial service created it, preserved it and passed it on to us.

This heritage is not self-sustaining, because it has no life in itself. It is rather the fruit of the understanding, the insight and the devotion of wise, God-fearing men and women.

IT IS THE GREATEST OF human accomplishments. From the very beginning, many observers have been saying that it, as a way of national life, would not survive.

In spite of the skeptics and prophets of doom, it has survived. It has survived because there have always been, in each generation, enough people who cared.

THESE PEOPLE have worked, and given, and sacrificed to keep our heritage alive and strong. The actions necessary to its survival have been of the highest heroic quality.

Our heroic heritage, however, will never be safe; because there are so many who wish to destroy it. Then, there is a great company of unconcerned, careless and uninformed people. These may pose the greatest threat, a threat from the very people who are constantly being blessed by this heritage.

THERE ARE FAR TOO MANY persons who eagerly accept, and even demand all of the blessings and privileges of our heroic heritage, but will not accept any of the obligations which are its life-blood.

Theodore Parker, speaking of our heritage, said, "This is what I call the American idea, a government of the people, by the people, and for the people--a government of the principles of eternal justice, the unchanging law of God."

THE BEDROCK of our heritage is OUR RELIGIOUS FREEDOM. This is a great blessing to us, and accounts for much of our greatness as a nation. This, of course, is not freedom from religion. History proves that people serve God best when free to study the Bible for themselves, and free to act in harmony with its teachings.

Our freedom of speech and of the press are also important elements in our heritage. It is important that we use them wisely and guard them jealously.

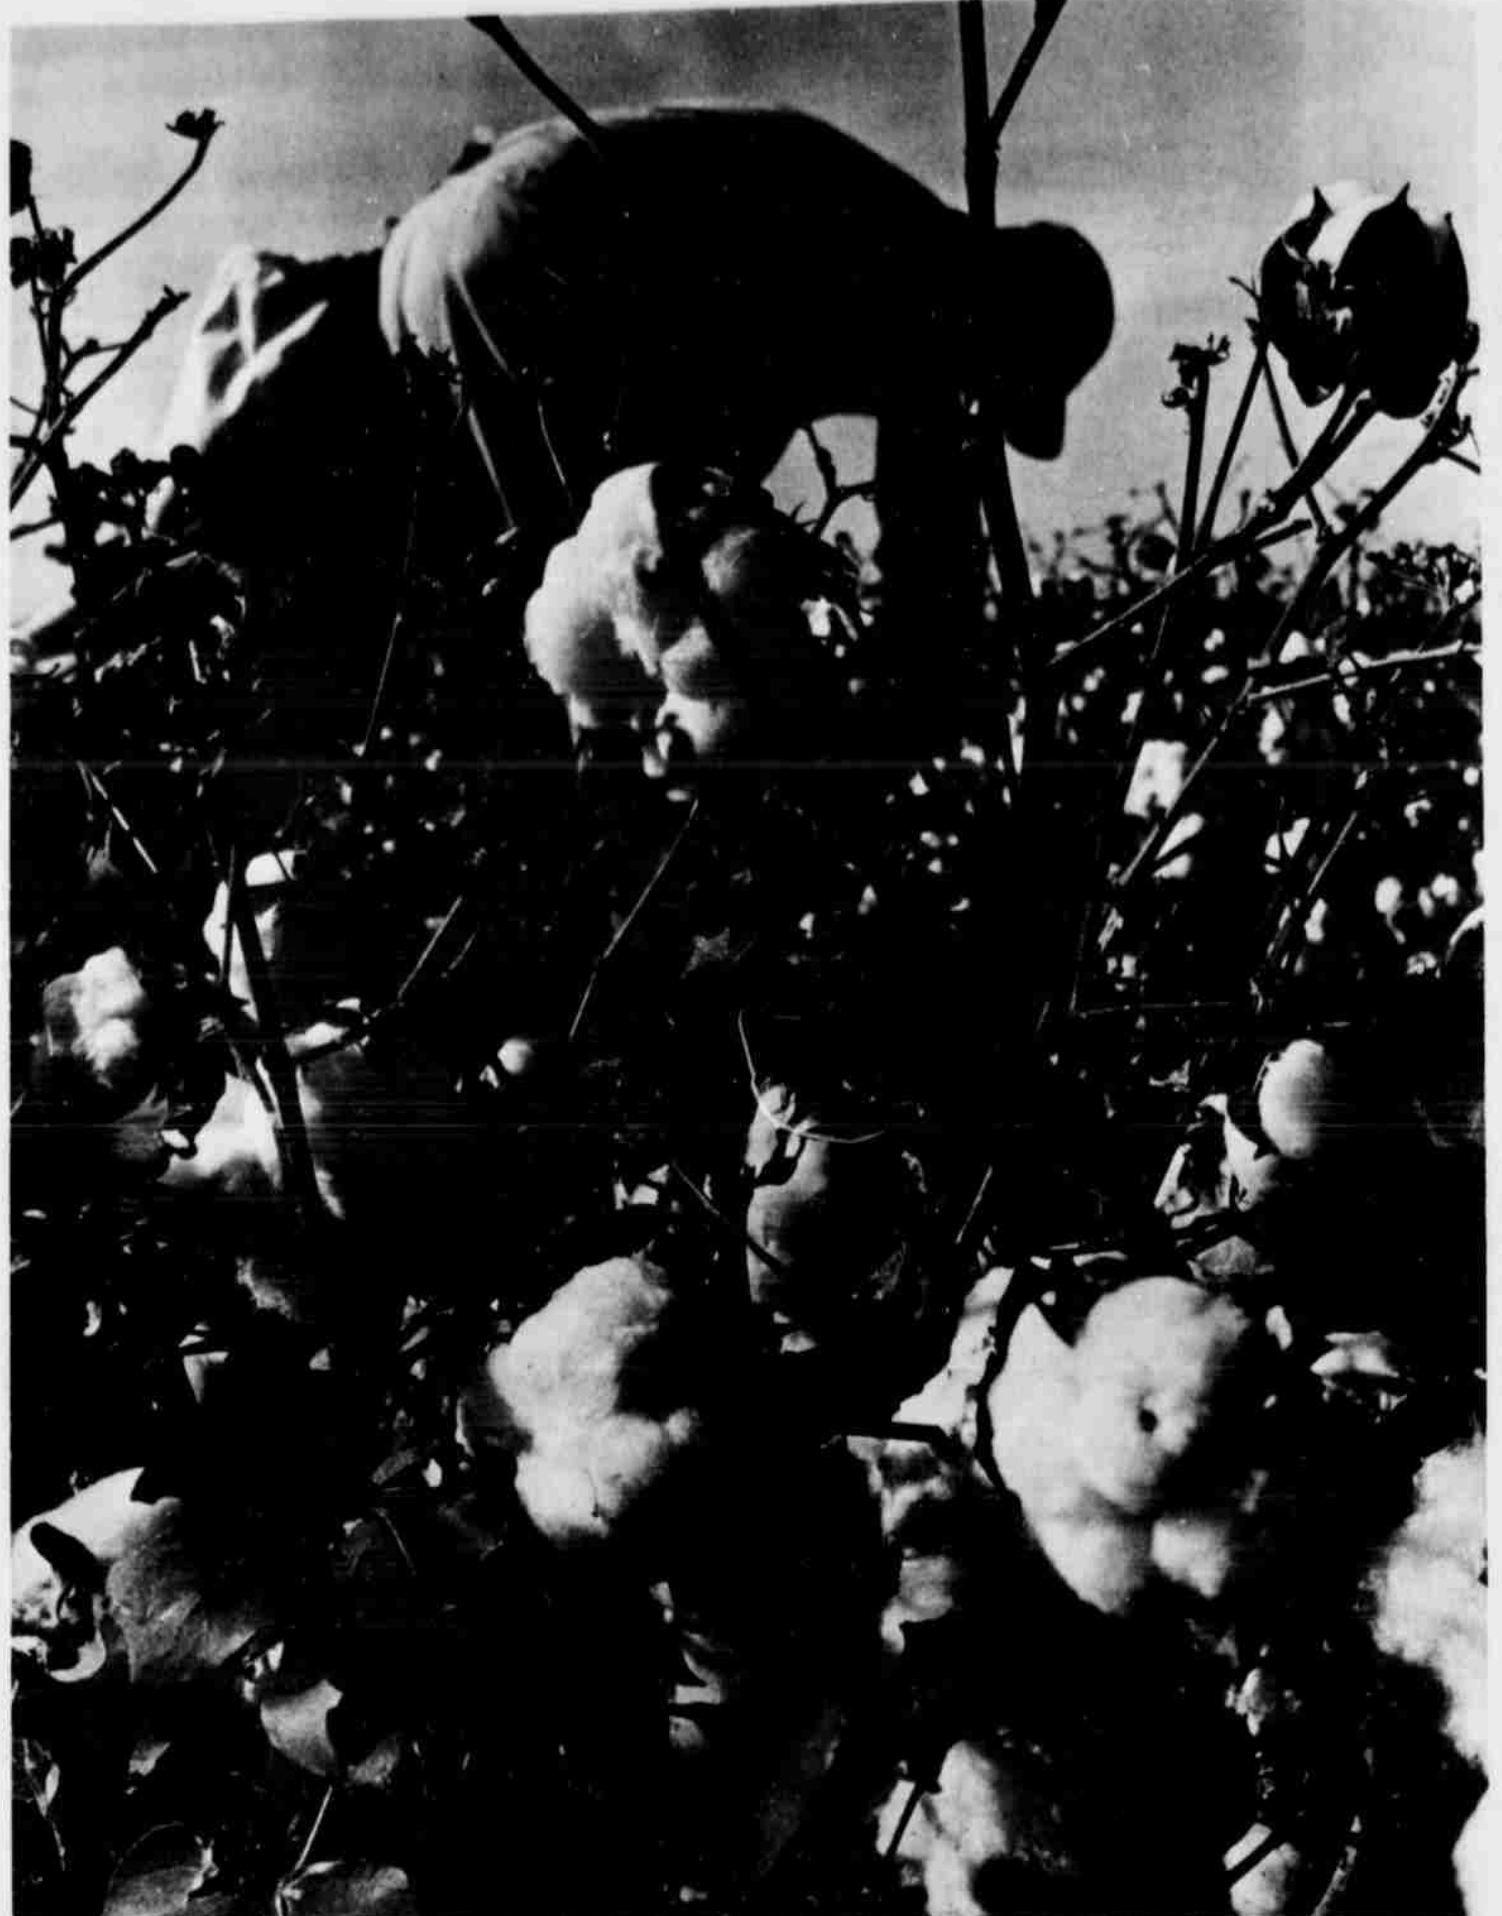

There are two other basic features of our heritage which help to make it, in every sense, a rich one. These are: our right to peaceful assembly and to petition our government for a redress of grievances.

THERE IS NO PROPER PLACE FOR RIOTS, demonstrations or civil disobedience. These are contrary to all constitutional intent and authority, and completely out of harmony with all Biblical teaching.

We are often told that most of us take our heritage for granted, and there are good reasons for this conclusion. It is quite difficult for us to fully appreciate it, because we are so completely accustomed to its blessings.

WE MUST GIVE FREQUENT AND CAREFUL consideration to the rights and privileges of our heroic heritage. It is even more important that we identify and accept the obligations which rightfully belong to these blessings. Jefferson said, "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

PRESERVING OUR HEROIC HERITAGE must be given a very high priority. If this isn't done, our heritage will be lost.

This Is Littlefield

The 1968 edition of Lamb County cotton harvest is underway, with the county's first bale being delivered Friday at Amherst.

Hand pulling of cotton is reserved almost exclusively for "first bales", but there are several more "first bales" now in the making over the county.

These are the first of an anticipated 122,000 bales expected to be harvested from the 120,000 acres in the county. Lamb had 10,000 more acres planted to cotton which did not survive weather conditions.

A community sitting on the edge of its seat in anticipation of a crop the likes of which it's not seen in several years.....This is Littlefield!

Dear Turnrow Tunkel:

O. C. MCBRIDE

DID YOU READ where a sociologist blames advertising for much of the unrest in America, by causing some people to be discontented with their lot?

He may be right. I know of one television commercial that is causing a lot of trouble--the one put out by an airline encouraging wives to go along with their husbands on business trips.

I UNDERSTAND that an electric saxophone is now on the market. It weighs 68 pounds. I'll bet that thing makes a lot of racket, but anyone big enough to play it probably won't get many complaints.

SOME POLITICAL experts are saying that the Democratic party can no longer count on the solid support of organized labor as in the past. How did they reach this conclusion?

They probably figure that after some of the recent wage settlements, many union members are going to be in such a high bracket they will start thinking like Republicans--worrying about taxes and Government spending.

I READ that a marriage counselor says many marriages suffer because of a lack of communication between the partners.

Maybe so. It might help if wives didn't always want to do their communicating while their husbands were trying to read the morning paper, or watch a favorite television show in the evening.

I UNDERSTAND that Larry O'Brien, vice-president Humphrey's campaign manager, has accepted a job with the Howard Hughes organization after the campaign, although he would be in line for a high government position if Humphrey won.

That's good thinking on Larry's part. There's a lot more future in working for an outfit that is solvent.

DID YOU KNOW that a British scientist has invented an anti-snoring device? When a person begins snoring, it delivers an electric shock.

That's not much improvement over my wife's system--an elbow to my ribs.

PAUL HARVEY

The Impossible Dream

YOUNG PEOPLE are trying to tell us something. Some, frustrated by our unwillingness to listen or our inability to comprehend what they are trying to say, deduce that there can be no communication between the generations.

Some react violently; some, more patiently.

When the World Council of Churches met in Uppsala, Sweden, a group of young Christians pleaded with their elders to break with the status quo and to help find nonviolent paths to social change.

ENLIGHTENED YOUNG, disillusioned by a generation of parents who too often talk one way and act another, demand re-examination of some of the tarnished old truths.

I am not sure how much of this new introspection is good; I am sure it is inevitable. More than ever, young people are rushing on ahead where their elders fear to tread.

GRANTED, some of the young rebels are sick. Some are the soft, pithy, tasteless fruit which fell from an overnourished family tree.

Others are responsible critics of contemporary mores and antiquated preconceptions. They include young Columbuses determined to explore the unexplored, young Wright brothers, young Tom Edisons, young Tom Paynes, young Ben Franklins, young men and women daring to dream the impossible dream, and young Fidel Castros, too.

SOME MAY RIP to shreds much of the good fabric of our social order in their anxiety to prove or disprove, each to his own satisfaction.

There is enough admitted hypocrisy, pomposity and imperfection among their parents to justify some of this unwillingness to along with things as they are.

Our performance has not always matched our nobler protestations; perhaps that won't, but let's give the responsible reaction a young a respectful audience.

A SCHOOL-AGER named Jerry Anderson, Huntington, Tenn., recently wrote:

"Ha, ha," they laughed, "he's at it again the silly fool!

Come see the show, come one and all. Watch the village idiot racing toward fall."

Out in the meadow the fool ran "round. Leaping and jumping and flapping his arms. Trying to gain speed so's to get off the ground.

"Please don't laugh," said a little girl. "He means no harm, he's trying to fly. He's insane!" came the haughty reply.

The villagers laughed 'til the sun was low. They were still laughing when sunset came. Tears filled their eyes, they'd been laughing so.

Then suddenly the laughter stopped. Men gaped, women fainted, the little girl was crying...

For out there over the meadow the fool was no longer running; He was flying!

Mountain Rail Tour Thrills Littlefield Women In Mexico

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story is a first hand account of a tour of Mexico, made by several Littlefield women—Ella Lindley, Mrs. Bessie Smith, Mrs. Aline Edwards, Mrs. Gladys Price, and the author, Mrs. W. D. T. Storey.

MRS. W. D. T. STOREY was the official escort of the 10-day tour from Lubbock to Topolobampo Bay, a thrilling railway tour through the Madre Mountains of Mexico.

The group went sight-seeing in Chihuahua City, in Los Mochis and Topolobampo Bay, made a cruise in Topolobampo Bay, and were accompanied by an escort and guides at all times. The guides were friendly and well informed in the history and culture of their respective areas and were courteous and helpful in every way.

The group visited The Ancient Chihuahua, where Spaniards built Roman aqueducts in 1774. We visited Mrs. Poncho Villa in her home and museum. She is 80 years old, still vibrant and joyful, and a most interesting and rather amusing person.

Her house, with high-ridged roof, was built in the style of the early Spaniards and Romans. She entered us in the best parlor, with the caw-footed chairs and mahogany tables shone with mirrors. Irons with their handles and tongs glistened from covering of asparagus tops. Oranges and Conch shells decorated the mantle piece; birds of various colored birds were suspended above it. Elegant coasters displayed the treasures of old silk, China and photographs.

The history students remember Poncho Villa as a bandit, she, his wife, considers a hero. She said Poncho had 13 wives but she was only one married to him. We saw the Chihuahua University and The Institute of Technology, The San Felipe Residential District, The Federal Palace and Hidalgo's Dungeon, Capt. Tol Building, The Sacred Heart of Jesus Church, State Penitentiary — still full of bullet holes, made by Poncho Villa and his men when they laid siege on the prison to free some of his soldiers during the revolution.

We saw the beautiful expensive Spanish Colonial Mansions, and the Shrine of the Patron Saint of Mexico, Lady of Guadalupe, the Chihuahua Cathedral.

We rode on the comfortable Chihuahua Al Pacifico for a thrilling 13 hour train trip to Los Mochis. The train (auto via is the correct name for this type of train we rode) was rather nice. We had reclining seats a snack bar and large windows which gave an excellent view of the beautiful scenery. We viewed the rugged Barranca del Cuera (Copper Canyon) an untouched canyon rivaling any scenic wonder in the world — so we were told. We went through 85 tunnels and over 23 bridges. This railway crosses through a distant region—here — to — fore unknown of a wild and awe inspiring beauty.

This quiet, far-away, lonely place still continues under the sway of mountain people.

In this by-place of nature, inside its sheltered bosom, there is loneliness and beauty. The sigh of the winds in the tall pine trees was plaintive and impressive.

Every foot of earth, every craig, every mountain peak and almost every flower that paraded along side of us gave our faint touches of color and beauty here and there.

The scenes melted out of the rocks into the mountains as we rode along. In many places we could see through the openings of the underbrush.

A deep stillness reigned throughout the area. Our route led through one of the loveliest sections of a very lonely country. Mountain ridges and deep hollows and uninhabited portions of a picturesque country met us at every turn — the brooks, streams, and water-falls.

Thus feeding our minds with many sweet thoughts and sugared suppositions — we journeyed along the sides of a range of hills — which looked out upon some of the prettiest scenes of the mighty madras.

The sun gradually wheeled its broad dish down into the West. The bosom of The Valleys lay motionless and glassy — and here and there dark shadows of the distant mountains extended out before us. A few white clouds floated in the sky, and a slanting ray lingered on the woody crests of the precipices that hung over some parts of the river.

I just thought if ever — one should wish for a retreat where they might steal from the world and its distractions and dream quietly away the remnant of a troubled life. I know of none more promising than these lonely valleys and mountains.

We arrived in Los Mochis about 9:30 p.m.

The next morning we toured the city, which has 60,000 inhabitants and is located on a lush coastal valley on the semi-tropical western slope of Mexico's fabled Sierra Madres.

The city is 12 miles inland from the sea waters of the Gulf of California. We rolled our eyes over the fat meadow lands of the rich fields of vegetables, cotton, wheat, rye and Indian corn and orchards loaded with ruddy fruit.

It was indeed one of those spacious valleys luxurious with fruits and vegetables.

Not far from this spot we rode on a bus to Topolobampo Bay, a beautiful harbor bay. It was a picturesque among the sprawling hills overlooking the bay. We boarded a pleasure boat for a sea cruise, then had dinner at the Yacht Hotel.

We returned home Thursday night, Sept. 12.

plans, and 2. A thorough study of this area's potato production and costs.

But Dr. Simpson warned the study should not be limited to potatoes alone.

"A processing plant such as you have in mind here might well be able to handle other commodities, too, and it would be important that you have its production going as much of the year as possible," he said.

Interest in the project apparently is high among businessmen of this area, with the crowd showing good representation from both segments.

Simpson said he was "well impressed" with the turnout, and also with the many improvements the city has made in recent years.

He said the USDA would help with the project "in an advisory capacity."

"We would furnish you with facts, but you would need to make your own decisions from these facts," he explained.

He said USDA feasibility studies are taken in steps, so that "if step one or two is not promising, you can alter your planning, or start in a new direction."

Simpson listed two alternatives in pursuing the project, one through contact of an established firm to set up a branch plant here, the other with the community establishing and operating the plant itself.

He said an area within a 50-mile radius would be a good basis for production, and that a possible marketing area would be a north-south rectangle from Kansas south and bounded by Albuquerque on the west and Dallas on the east.

Told that the Littlefield plan has in mind a plant which would process and package frozen potatoes, Simpson said the group also should look at "dehydration," or dried products.

He stressed the need for "getting all the facts" about potato production in this area.

"You first have to know about your product, its qualities, production and costs," he said. "And you have to know how and where you are going to sell it."

is a downpayment of only $200. All other costs are included in the loan which may run as long as 20-25 years where justified.

For a family to qualify as a low income unit, the total annual gross family income must not exceed a scheduled amount.

The schedule for maximum family gross income per year to qualify is as follows and is based on the number of persons in the family:

One in family, $2,900; two in family, $3,000; three in family, $3,800; four in family, $3,900; five in family, $4,500; six in family, $4,600 and 7 in family, $4,800.

Schedule of maximum gross monthly income based on the same principle is one, $242; two, $250; three, $317; four, $325; five, $375; six, $383 and seven, $400.

The monthly payments required to repay the principle, interest, insurance and taxes must not exceed 25 percent of the monthly income.

For instance, if the family income is $200 per month, the monthly payment cannot exceed $50.00 if the income is only $150 per month, the payments cannot exceed $37.50 per month but even on this basis a family could own a $5,500 home.

There is no minimum amount which must be borrowed; the lower the better as far as the plan is concerned. The only requirement here is that the house must be brought up to minimum standards which are generally:

Adequate sanitary facilities including inside toilets, hot and cold running water, and kitchen sink.

Not more than 1 1/2 persons per room.

Adequate ventilation and light. Full protection from rodents and vermin as well as weather elements.

Proper drainage of the yard to prevent flooding and standing water.

The remodeling may be done by home owner himself if he is qualified to do such work or he may subcontract any work he cannot do personally.

The loan can be limited to purchase of materials if that is all that is needed.

The corporation has been promised its initial capital from the Board of City Development, (BCD) a tax supported division of the city of Littlefield.

The BCD has an annual budget of $2,500 from the municipal government and has pledged its support for the program outlined in the charter of Improved Homes, Inc.

No real difficulty is foreseen in obtaining approval of the charter from the Secretary of State, according to Mr. Hall, and the final decision should be forthcoming in approximately three weeks, he stated.

"In the meantime, applications for these loans are being accepted at the Chamber of Commerce office in the City Hall and all interested persons are urged to apply," Hall emphasized. "Application is open to anyone on a totally nondiscriminatory basis, with the only requirements being those concerning family income outlined above," Hall concluded.

Will your water heater's next birthday be a happy one?

It's not uncommon for a water heater to reach the age of retirement on its 10th birthday. Some may just dribble water . . . others rupture with resulting damage and yet others fail to put out as much hot water as they did in their youthful years.

If your water heater is approaching its 10th birthday then it's time you talked to your Public Service manager about the value of a modern electric replacement.

And, incidentally, should an electric water heater ever need servicing, your Public Service manager will take care of it for you.

PAULA REDING, right international exchange student sponsored by the Whitharral Lions Club, presents the Whitharral club with a plaque made from a birch tree which was more than 100 years old and a flag from the Gnosja, Sweden Lions, Marion Polk, left, president of the Whitharral club accepts the token of friendship. The presentation was made at a special ladies' night meeting Thursday following Miss Reding's return from two months in Europe including six weeks with her host family in Sweden.

Whitharral Lions Hear Paula Reding

By NILAH RODGERS

WHITHARRAL -- Who could represent the Whitharral Lions Club in an international exchange program better than a former Lions Club queen?

That was the question Whitharral Lions asked themselves before voting to sponsor Paula Reding in a program which allowed her to spend six weeks with an "adopted" family in Scandinavia, in addition to touring nine foreign countries.

Lions members chose Paula because they not only felt she would leave a good image of our great country wherever she went, but because she understands Lionism, too.

In addition to representing the Whitharral Lions as queen at two district conventions, Paula's dad, Don Reding, has served in a number of offices since becoming a charter member of the Whitharral club.

The 150 Texas youths participating in the International Exchange Student Program with Sweden were encouraged to adapt themselves to the conditions and habits of their host family.

"I had the most trouble adjusting to the Swedish way of eating," Paula said, in explanation, she said that Scandinavians ate with their fork turned over backward (upside down), and held in the left hand. Food is then pushed onto the inverted fork with the knife in the right hand. "They never lay their knife down," Paula said.

Paula described Swedish food as "delicious," adding with a laugh, "I gained ten pounds. They seem to eat all the time." Breakfast in Sweden is at 9 a.m. At 11 they have coffee and cakes. "There are six different kinds of cake and cookies," Paula said, "With your coffee you eat one of each variety."

The main meal is at 2 p.m. "A real five course meal," Paula said. Then at 5 p.m. the coffee and different cakes are served again. Every evening at 9 they have smorgas -- open-faced sandwiches. "They never serve sandwiches with two slices of bread," Paula said, "but always open-faced." And the bread is delicious, like homemade. They buy bread, but it is made fresh twice daily and it was just like it had come from the oven."

Mr. and Mrs. Malmark of Gnosja, Sweden were Paula's host family. The family, town, and Lions Club there held several similar parties. The Malmark's family has three children and there are three children in the Reding family. Malmark's daughter is 20 years old, and so is Paula.

Gnosja, Sweden is a small community just about the size of Whitharral. Her Swedish family are self-employed, own small factory making ketchup and bag ties. Don Reding is a self-employed farmer.

The hosting Swedish Lions Club has 28 members, the same number of members Whitharral.

The Gnosja club doesn't meet during the summer, but a special meeting was called so Paula could meet Paula and she could meet the Swedish group. A grave plaque of friendship to the Whitharral club was presented to the Swedish club by Paula. They in turn presented her with a small Swedish tree and a plaque made from a birch tree which was more than 100 years old to be given to Whitharral club.

In making the presentation a special ladies' night meeting Thursday, Paula said the Swedish club said the Whitharral club would be displaying at the meeting.

Whitharral Lions will give Swedish token of friendship prominent place in their building.

Paula's adoptive family her to Norway and Denmark in her six weeks' stay with them.

In addition to these countries, Paula toured other foreign countries with a group of 150 students participating in the exchange program.

Lucern, Switzerland; Hamburg, Germany; Amsterdam, Holland; Brussels, Belgium; Paris, France; and London, England were toured by bus during the two weeks before returning to the U. S.

"It was an unforgettable experience," said Paula, "I enjoyed my stay in Sweden with my family more than anything I've done."

Six Area Home Games Slated Friday Night

Among the Littlefield area football teams in action tomorrow night, it's almost like a tournament....winners against winners and losers against losers.

Springlake-Earth meets Hale Center, both winners last week, clash as will be Whitehall-Wellman.

Losers meeting losers will be New Deal vs. Anton and Sudan vs. Amherst.

In the other games, Bula and Union clash, Olton meets Canyon and Littlefield hosts Estacado.

The game probably carrying the most area interest will be the big one at Amherst, where the Bulldogs host Sudan.

The Hornets are still trying to shake off the fumbling loss to the Roughnecks in their season opener. They lost possession of the ball five times on fumbles, of which at least two were in easy scoring distance and two others setting up Sundown scores.

Sophomore halfback Jerry Bellar had a fine night, even in defeat. He carried 12 times for 136 yards and scored all 14 points. The speedster also had a 71-yard TD nullified by a penalty.

Coach Jim Cain said after the game the Hornets were going to "do some work" on keeping hold of the ball before they met the Bulldogs.

The Wolverines of Springlake-Earth, who handed John Varnell a victory in his debut as a head coach, step up to AA competition when they travel to Hale Center.

The Owls were thumping Post 20-7 while S-E was taking measure of New Deal 26-20.

Another pair of winners clashing will be host Whitehall, 20-12 victor over Klondike last Friday, and Wellman, 26-10 topper of Cotton Center.

The Panthers found their winning way behind the generalship of sophomore quarterback Johnny Graham, who figured in on all three Bulldog touchdowns Friday.

Bula will try for an elusive victory at home, taking on Union, which lost by a scant 26-28 margin to Gail last week. The Bulldogs scored 16 points but allowed Southland 39 in the meantime.

Rodney Claunch scored one Bulldog touchdown and threw a pass to Ron Risinger for the other.

The other losing team get-together tomorrow will be host Anton with New Deal.

The Bulldogs were shut out by ever-tough Wilson in their season opener, 13-0, while New Deal's Lions were taking their 20-26 thumping from lake-Earth.

Olton will be fighting to reclaim the top position among Area AA teams or to Friday's opener, slipped to second by City, 15-7 winner over ole. All the Mustangs defeat Amrillo's Heights by a scant 54-41, using their reserve second half.

The mighty Mustangs doubtfully have any more position from Canyon than did Alamo. The Eagles 40-14 victims of Phillips their season opener.

That game will be played in Olton.

Area fans won't have difficulty finding a good game to watch.

Pollard Top Pick In Football Contest

Sudan evidently has all the football forecasting experts in this part of the country.

Not satisfied one resident won the grand prize last year, another has taken the lead in this year's Leader-News football contest by winning the initial week.

Lloyd Pollard missed but one game last Friday night, and emerged the sole entry with as few misses.

It was cross-town neighbor of Pollard's, Joe Bellar, who won the last year's grand prize of the contest, two free tickets to the Cotton Bowl.

For missing only one game, the Amherst-Bovina contest, Pollard wins the weekly first place cash prize of $7.50.

Three tied for second place, each missing two games. But after the tie-breaker scores were judged, Robert Rendon of 1114

West 1st in Littlefield placed second and Monte Huts on, 520 East Littlefield, won third place. Rendon gets $5.00, Mrs. Hutson $2.50.

A consistent entry by Post, Charles Dibway, missed only two games, was farthest away on tie-breaker scores.

Because of the Leader-News' error in listing St. Martin playing Boys Ranch, contestants were given correct score on the game even those who caught error, corrected it and missed their prediction.

Contest forms for the week are published in the edition of the County News. Forms must be in the Leader-News office later than 5 p.m. Friday or postmarked by Friday.

There's still plenty of time to enter this week, and win two free tickets to the Cotton Bowl!

Property Damages High In Collisions

This week in Littlefield started off doing a brisk business in serious automobile accidents, police reports indicate.

Late Sunday night police investigated a crash on Griffin Ave. in which Lonzo Moore, 19, of Littlefield sideswiped a parked car, seriously damaging both it and his own vehicle.

Police reports state that he was traveling east on Griffin when he veered across the street, striking the 1968 Pontiac in the right rear and side.

Moore's 1957 Chevrolet sedan received an estimated $200 damage and the Pontiac, owned by Robert Starling, sustained damage estimated by police at $300.

A more potentially dangerous accident occurred at S. Farwell Ave. and Marshall Howard Bldv. at 6:29 p.m. Monday.

A 1960 Chevrolet truck, driven by Jesse L. Ray, 61, of Liberty Hill, was in collision with a 1968 Dodge pickup driven by Idolecio G. Bengoa, 31, of Lubbock.

Reports indicate that both were traveling east on Highway 84 with Bengoa in the left lane and the truck in the right lane as they approached Farwell.

As the pickup was passing the truck, Ray attempted a left turn onto Farwell from the right lane. He struck the Bengoa vehicle on the right with his left side, inflicting damage estimated at $700.

Ray's truck received an estimated $200 damage.

There were no injuries in either crash.

SEASON OPENER

'Cats Host Matadors

Littlefield's Wildcats open their 1968 football campaign tomorrow night, stepping into District 3-AAA action against the Estacado Matadors of Lubbock.

Members of the newly-organized district, which inducted new members last spring from Colorado City and all 10 games played by teams this year are expected to be exciting contests.

The Wildcats, short on personnel but long on heart and hustle, are taking on a club that was respected by district coaches when they came into the conference, but have since become awed.

Most of the observers felt the Matadors would have a year of "so-so" ball until they became accustomed to varsity competition. Having started in 1966, the Matadors played two years of junior varsity schedules before coming into 3-AAA.

However, enrollment has increased in the school to such a point it could now qualify for AAAA status, but must stay in AAA two years. A school's classification is based on two years average daily attendance, during which time Estacado had first one, and then two classes.

es. It now has three full classes, all large.

All 23 members of the Wildcat varsity are fit and ready for the 7:30 p.m. kickoff with the exception of limping senior back Kenneth Twitty.

The flashy halfback received a deep bruise on his hip in a scrimmage against Canyon and is slated only for defensive duties in the season opener.

Quarterback Roy Burk has been nursing a deep bruise on a leg through most of the fall workouts, and only last week resumed running. He will not see action on defense, due to shortness of training.

Another senior starter who probably will be running short of breath is split end Steve Webb. He's missed considerable training time and is a couple of weeks away from being in good shape, according to head coach Raymond Birchfield.

The other starters probably will be T. J. Morgan at tailback, Vernell Kemp at fullback, Travis Danford at wingback, Ron Fudge at right tackle, Dennis Cawthon at right guard, Roy Bolton at center, Jerrell Haberer at left guard, Kim Klobner at left tackle and either David Perkins or Randy Walker at left end.

Littlefield observed its open date the first week, while Estacado was getting experience with a 14-0 victory over Brownfield.

The Matador offense failed to function as efficiently as observers had forecast, rushing for only 240 yards. Observers felt the speed, James Lester runs the 100-yard dash in 9.5, and size, the fullbacks weigh 184, 196 and 230, would do considerably better than it did.

But the Matador defensive unit made up for whatever the offense lacked...and then some. It held the Cub offense to a minus 1 yard rushing and 10 yards passing for the entire evening.

Estacado was not able to get its passing game going Friday, either. All six attempts failed.

The Matadors knocked at Brownfield's goal line five other times besides on the scoring plays. They lost the ball five times inside the Cut 20.

"I feel you will see Friday night one of the best football teams, if not the best team, in the district," coach Birchfield told the Quarterback Club Tuesday night.

"This is one of the strongest districts I've ever seen," he announced. "One or two mistakes can swing a game, Estacado, Colorado City, Dumas, and Sweetwater are teams that could take the district, and state, titles."

Birchfield said his Wildcats were far from defeated before they take the field. He said the 'Cats respect the Matadors, but know they can be beaten and expect to do everything they can to accomplish it.

BACK AND READY—Wildcat quarterback Roy Burk, left, and split end Steve Webb are back in the lineup, just in time for tomorrow's season opener against Estacado. Each has had physical problems which have limited workouts, stunting their training. Both senior starters are expected to go on offense only against the Matadors.

Quarterback Club Steps Up Program

Littlefield Quarterback Club members are concerned along with the coaching staff, and are taking on a club that was respected by district coaches when they came into the conference, but have since become awed.

Make Win from Mules

Littlefield Eighth Grade A took a 14-8 decision from here Tuesday night, ending the Eighth Grade's B season of 22-6.

McKinnon scored once on a 25-yard play, and J. E. Johnson over from the one on a back sneak. Leroy Danford accounted for the two points and sweep.

"A" club had to stop a minute drive by Muleshoe in its own territory. With seconds remaining, Jessie intercepted a Muleshoe on his own 10. From there, field ran out the clock and won its victory.

Hodge scored the "B" touchdown, on a two-point conversion.

Wildcat junior varsity season opener Saturday at Welland, 15-6. Playing with 15 members, Littlefield their hosts on repeated occasions.

Hemphill scored Littlefield's touchdown on a pass.

LITTLEFIELD SPORTS ARENA

LITTLEFIELD SPORTS ARENA

ping off the squad has been disenchantment with the sport, head coach Raymond Birchfield reported, when asked his opinion of the exodus.

Littlefield is already the smallest in enrollment among schools in District 3-AAA. There were 56 players to report the first day of fall drills, and the drop outs have been continuous since.

The club approved financing of having large photographs of each varsity player made, to be mounted on poster board with information about him. The displays will be placed in business windows over the town, demonstrating pride and support of the Wildcats.

A new approach in demonstrating Quarterback Club support in the team will be the "Booster of the Week" program.

Each week, club members will put their names in a hat, from which one will be drawn. The winner will stay with the team from the time it goes to the field house or enters the bus enroute to a game, until the game is over. This includes sitting on the bench during the contest and hearing the halftime talk.

Bob Bromlow was the first week's winner. He will be with the team against Estacado tomorrow night.

Details are being worked out to form a huge caravan of cars next Friday to go to the Levelland game. The details will be announced in the paper and over the radio station as soon as they are completed.

Club members are encouraged to attend as many afternoon workouts as possible, as well as all pep rallies and games, demonstrating by their presence their support of the team.

The club approved two expenditures during the business session.

Final payment of $518.21 for a whirlpool bath purchased last year will be made to the school, clearing all financial obligations the school has for athletic training equipment.

Wildcat ties, of maroon with white lettering, were purchased for each member of the team and the coaching staff. The ties will compliment the maroon blazers worn by athletes on road trips.

Morgan Has Nickname

A letter to the Leader-News sports department this week from a Wildcat football fan suggests we might have another "juice" footballer here.

States the writer: "Tomato Juice?"

"Southern Cal has its 'Orange Juice' in O. J. Simpson."

"Colorado State has its 'Lemon Juice' in L. J. Jackson."

"And Littlefield has 'Tomato Juice' in T. J. Morgan."

"Very interesting. . ."

So, be it, T. J. Morgan, shall the hostile Wildcat tailback, shall heretofore be known by the Leader-News as Tomato Juice.
