

City Prepares For Stock--in' Festival

The Christmas shopping season, somewhat behind schedule, gets its big push-off Friday and Saturday in Littlefield with the sixth annual "Christmas Stock-in' Festival."

The two-day sales event regularly has moved the Christmas shopping season into top gear. All over Littlefield stores are readying merchandise and schedules for the traditional after-Thanksgiving gift program.

A late Thanksgiving season has resulted in the later-than-usual Stock-in' Festival.

However, it will have all the completeness of past years, promised Jim Joyner, chairman of the Littlefield retail council. "We have a need to do this bigger and better than before, because the time is shorter and our trade area requires the fullest merchandising effort."

A number of business places will be open later schedules both Friday and Saturday.

Stores will shine out with their usual day-after-Thanksgiving look, a tie-in with downtown street Christmas decorations as the Christmas season--recovering by last weekend's tragedy--moves into opening.

Decorations are already up along Peeps Ave., and the Christmas lights will be turned on Friday as the kickoff for the Stock-in'

Festival days gets underway.

A special Stock-in' Festival dollar day will follow Monday, and Sunday's County Wide News will carry special dollar day bargains for the Yule season. A family night and the appearance of Santa Claus is upcoming during the "festival days."

The Stock-in' Festival period will offer Christmas shoppers of Lamb County and the surrounding area a fine array of gift items, with special prices on many items, with special prices on many items which are now included on customers' priority gift lists.

A second annual downtown "Christmas Window Decorating Program" is being sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance. These windows are to be unveiled Friday, Dec. 6 at 7 p.m. Carol singing will precede the event at 6:30 p.m., according to chairman Rev. Jack Ellzey.

The LHS senior choral group will lead the downtown crowd in singing carols, with the site tentatively set in front of the Palace Theatre.

Ellzey announced that 19 entries have been received in the window decorating project. Purpose of the program is to beautify empty store windows downtown. Last year some 18 different civic groups, churches, schools and other organizations participated and prizes were given.

The tumult and the shouting dies--

It showed in Washington in 1961 when, at a Presidential luncheon for ranking Texas publishers, the publisher of the Dallas Morning News unleashed a bitter diatribe at President Kennedy. The country was expecting a man on horseback, railed News Publisher Ted Dealey, and it appeared more "that you are riding Caroline's tricycle."

The President was able to care for himself in this situation, but part of an able defense by C. C. Woodson, head of seven Texas newspapers, is worth recalling.

"Ted, you are leading the worst Fascist movement on the Southwest, and you do not realize that no one is with you," Woodson told his Texas colleague in blunt terms. The exchange would be well worth forgetting except as background for the blackest day in Texas history since Mexican troops stormed over the walls of the Alamo.

Fascist is a strong word for Texas, where a man always has been worth his face value until he proved differently. But the long-respected Dallas News, a fine work of journalism, has increasingly taken on an editorial attitude hard to follow. It had turned from sharp criticism of the administration to rabid condemnation, often aside personal attack on individuals in the government.

This is not new in U.S. history and is not, in itself, to be condemned. Unquestionably, however, Dealey's News has prepared the fertile ground which nurtured the Dallas extreme rightists against whom Jack Kennedy was warned and who Mayor Earl Cabell decried too late.

The Kennedy administration was not above criticism; no administration is. But the United States is above violence against its legally installed officials. The danger that Dallas exhibited was that of extremist politics, where passions displace the ways of law. Lesser nations

Amherst Takes Honors At District FFA Event

Amherst stole the show at the annual Littlefield District FFA Banquet Tuesday night as Kathy Davis was crowned as district sweetheart, and Neal Duffy, Amherst banker, was awarded an honorary chapter farmer degree.

These two events and the presentation of leadership awards won a contest at Muleshoe last week highlighted the banquet before approximately 275 Future Farmers and guests in the Littlefield school cafeteria and auditorium.

Kathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Davis, RFD Littlefield, was selected from 14 lovely chapter candidates to represent the district in the area sweetheart contest at Lubbock next month. Linda Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Jennings of Whiteface, was runner-up.

An 18-year-old senior at Amherst High School, Kathy is a vivacious blonde. Carol Nickelson, host chapter candidate and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Nickelson, was second runner-up in the beauty contest.

Royce Bodiford, a former state FFA president and presently farm reporter for Amarillo's KGNC-TV, was master of ceremonies for the queen show. Diane Curry, present Area FFA sweetheart from Sudan, also participated.

District FFA officers, headed by Jimmy Atkinson of Farwell, conferred the honorary chapter farmer degree on Duffy. He was cited for active interest in farming activities in Lamb County since he moved here in 1925, and for his personal and financial support of FFA projects over the years.

Duffy received a certificate of honorary membership and an engraved plaque. The Littlefield district stretches to Friona, Muleshoe, Whiteface, Springlake and Spade.

Walker Nichols, Agricultural representative for Pioneer Natural Gas from Amarillo, presented leadership banners to the chapters. The company provides the award banners each year.

Friona received three first-place banners while Littlefield, Whiteface and Muleshoe each took one. Littlefield had three

OLTON MAN CHARGED Grand Jury Indicts 16

Sixteen indictments were returned by a Lamb County Grand Jury Tuesday, with one assault with intent to murder charge heading the list.

The grand jury, with E. J. Wicker as foreman, no billed a shooting incident which occurred near Littlefield in October, also no billed one theft case.

Frank Daugherty, Olton farmer, was indicted on the assault with intent to murder charge. He made a new bond of $3,000 Wednesday after originally being released under a $5,000 bond.

Daugherty was charged in connection with the shooting of a crop duster plane near his farm in August. Harold Harbour, pilot of the plane, filed the complaint after his plane was hit by gun fire.

Harbour was spraying a field of cucumbers which adjoined Daugherty's land.

No charges were filed in the shooting incident near here in October which resulted in the injury of one youth. The grand jury investigated the case and returned a no bill.

In that incident, five young people were in a car on the Buford Fowler farm east of Littlefield when the shooting occurred. J. L. Richards, a watchman on the farm, had been employed to guard gasoline tanks after several thefts.

He reportedly fired a shot which wounded Edman Merrifield, grazing his head. The youths all denied they were attempting to steal gasoline.

Others indicted: Curtis E. Collier, theft; Rodney Ellis Watkins, burglary; Cloyse Leon McCaleb and James Winston Sharp, illegal stock sales; C. J. Hutson, DWI, second offense; Michael R. Mathis, worthless check; Billy Ray Morgan, burglary; David Ramos, Robert Hernandez, Joe Barrentes and Raymond Barrentes, burglary; Refugio Reyes, fraudulent removal of mortgaged property; Raymond Delgado, car theft and habitual criminal; Robert Soliz, armed robbery; Calvin W. Reeves Saw JFK Thursday

Glenn Reeves, Littlefield school superintendent, was among the people who welcomed the late President John F. Kennedy to San Antonio last Thursday, the day before the President's death.

Reeves was in San Antonio attending a PTA conference. He watched the Presidential motorcade through the Alamo city from the fire escape of a building along the route.

"At that time I felt very proud that our President could drive through the streets in the same way that any citizen could," Reeves said this week.

The San Antonio appearance was less than 24 hours before the President's assassination.

AFTER PRESIDENT'S DEATH

County Resumes Activities

Littlefield and Lamb County residents, shocked like the rest of the nation and world by the tragic slaying of the President, started looking ahead again Tuesday and resuming regular daily activities.

From the time President Kennedy was assassinated Friday afternoon until he was buried Monday afternoon, business and social activities here and elsewhere probably slowed more than any time in recent history.

The streets of Littlefield were practically deserted Monday morning when most businesses were closed until at least 1 p.m. Many stayed home and viewed television scenes of the final tribute to John F. Kennedy.

Littlefield and county schools were closed Monday to allow students to mourn the passing of their President. A special memorial service was conducted at Littlefield High School before classes resumed Tuesday morning.

Supt. Glenn Reeves made introductory remarks, and Rev. Jack Ellzey and Rev. Robert Longshore participated in the program. The LHS A Capella Choir had a part in the service, also.

Business activities here, slowed by the unbelievable events of the past few days, started picking up again Tuesday. Merchants began preparing for the 6th annual Stock-in' Festival which traditionally signals the beginning of the Christmas season.

Cotton trailers were much in evidence on the roads and highways Monday afternoon and Tuesday as the machine harvest of the 1963 cotton crop finally begin to pick up steam.

Several pastors remarked that the Union Service Sunday night, sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance, was the largest ever held. How much the President's death affected attendance could not be measured.

Several churches left their doors open Friday and Monday. Several pastors reported larger church attendance Sunday, but several indicted little difference in the size of their congregations.

Most pastors had special comments or special prayers in the Sunday morning worship services. One pastor remarked that people seemed more attentive, "as though they desired to get something more meaningful than usual from the service."

Sacred Heart Catholic Church here held requiem mass Saturday at 8 a.m. A sermon was voiced in a mass Monday at 8 p.m. Lamb Countians and all Americans were returning to the necessary, normal patterns of life. A great American had died, but the Presidency cannot perish... the American way of life marches on.

TURKEY TIME IS HERE--It's Thanksgiving and the traditional turkey dinner with all the trimmings will grace many tables in Lamb County and across the nation. Fran Gray, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Gray of Spade, looks over some white turkeys at the Robert Ramage farm. It doesn't bother Fran that the turkeys may have to give up their lives for the festive occasion.

PARTS CHRISTMAS CHEER--Mrs. Rhea Kelley, superintendent of the children's department of the First Methodist Church, presented Lt. Robert Gilliam with his first baskets for the "Christmas Cheer" program this week. Children of the church brought canned goods for the project. The army kicks off its Cheer program Friday.

Christmas Cheer' Program To Start

The Salvation Army will kick off its traditional "Christmas Cheer" program Friday morning when the familiar kettle is placed in front of the National Bank.

Lt. Robert Gilliam will head the local Christmas Cheer program with the Salvation Army as a "clearing house" in cooperation with county and welfare offices, the Red Cross chapter, and other organizations.

In the Salvation Army branch, the single agency handling the overall program, there will be less chance for duplication of effort this year.

The Army will prepare food for needy families during Christmas, and clubs and churches are invited to submit lists of need families.

Lt. Gilliam announced that the "Carroll", "Toys for Tots", and "Doll Derby" drives will be carried on in conjunction with the program. Boys will aid in the "Toys for Tots" project, going from door to door to pick up used toys which can be easily mended. New toys, of course, are acceptable. Adult participation in the toy project is urged, Lt. Gilliam announced. School students at Sudan, Spade and Olton have announced they will participate in the "Can Carnival."

In this project, each student will bring a canned good to school. They will be gathered and turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution in the Christmas baskets.

Lt. Gilliam received the first such donation this week from the youth department of the First Methodist Church. More than two big baskets of canned goods were donated by children of the church.

The "doll derby" is a program to pick up used dolls and have ladies around town dress them up in new clothes. These dolls will be distributed to girls in needy families, too.

Arthritis and rheumatic disease afflict 11 million in the U.S. alone. For more information, phone the local chapter of the March of Dimes, Mrs. J. S. Abernathy, Chapter Chairman, Lamb County Chapter, in Littlefield.

Olton Men Seek Hike In Acreage

Olton's Chamber of Commerce and Agricultural Manager, Melvin McReynolds, was among a group of 18 area men who conferred with officials of Great Western Sugar Beet Co. in Denver, Colo., Monday concerning a hike on sugar beet acreage next year.

The group represented the High Plains Sugar Beet Growers Assn., a 5-county organization which includes growers in Olton, Plainview, Floydada, Tulia and Idalou.

"Our purpose," said McReynolds, "was to try to promote an increase in sugar beet acreage for next year."

Beet farmers and officials in this 5-county area were confident that the 1964 acreage will be substantially expanded by Great Western. However, Great Western President Frank Kemp was non-committal at the conference pending further checks into the matter.

Area officials were hopeful the Denver conference will result in some guidance and assistance in an upcoming agricultural hearing in Washington, D.C., 10.

With the harvest of a successful crop on 1,000 acres in an area around Plainview, interest in sugar beets as a standard crop for the region has mounted.

A meeting of the Olton Sugar Beet Growers Assn. has been called for Monday by Dub Hall and McReynolds. The meeting, open to any interested parties, will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Olton community room of the PCA building.

McReynolds will give a report on the Denver conference, while Hall and other growers will report on their tonnage and sugar content for beets raised around Olton. A field representative of Great Western Sugar Beet Co. is also scheduled to be present.

BY HOLLY SUGAR CORP. PRESIDENT

Lamb Seen As Sugar Beet Territory

The forecast for as much as 1 million acres of sugar beets in West Texas--including Lamb County--and New Mexico, and additional sugar refineries in this area to process those beets was made last week in Hereford.

Making the prediction was Dennis O'Rourke, president of Holly Sugar Corp., who was in Hereford for a board meeting.

"With the potential for growing sugar beets here, I can see no reason why more and more acreage can't be devoted to the crop in this immediate area, and along with increased acreage will come additional plants," he stated.

The Holly official predicted that Lamb, Hale and Bailey will be sugar beet territories. The four counties included in the original beet allotment are Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmer counties in Texas, and Curry County in New Mexico.

The plant in Hereford, O'Rourke said, "is definitely a pilot plant, a place where we can prove how well we can operate that monstrous machinery which we are installing out there."

O'Rourke pointed to the growth of the sugar refinery area in northern Colorado where more than half a million acres of sugar beets are providing raw material for nine sugar refineries in that area.

The president of Holly said the company was still aiming for opening the Hereford plant in 1964 in time to handle the beet crop from our four-county area next autumn.

He said the first year's allotment probably will total in the low 20,000 area, but will be stepped up to 40,000 acres within the next two or three seasons. He said he foresees processing sugar beets here from as far away as Pecos once the plant has reached its potential.

"The situation is a natural for expansion in this area," explained O'Rourke. "The government is eager to expand its domestic sugar production, what with Castro and trouble in other areas."

"For this reason, I see a great expansion of the sugar industry in America. Since this area is ideal for products of the sugar beet, then it follows that this area will get much of the sugar allotment--more as time goes on."

O'Rourke claimed the industry's outlook was never better, and he pointed to the side products from the sugar beet industry as another reason for the expanded growth.

"Here in West Texas produce many cattle and feedlots are springing over the Plains. The sugar industry fits right into the existing program; the pulp and beet molasses are liked by cattle. This means that the beets themselves are in sugar right here where are grown, but side products be produced which boost livestock industry."

Earth Farmer Invents, Produces Lake Pump

A widely-known South Plains pioneer farmer and his son have perfected a revolutionary new lake pump which water conservationists of the area proclaim as "a great step toward further preservation of our underground water supply."

Gus Parish, who moved to Earth, Texas, in 1923, is the inventor of the KMP Lake Pump which he and his son Doug are now manufacturing in a plant located on the Parish farm, one mile south of Earth.

The pump eliminates time-consuming priming and will not clog under normal lake conditions. It was designed to allow farmers to quickly and economically pump water from the thousands of lakes which form throughout the South Plains each year.

The elder Parish, one of the first to use a turbine type irrigation well back in 1935, is a veteran leader in water conservation of this area, having served on many committees and boards, including the High Plains Water Conservation District.

The KMP saves money and time, Parish points out, "because it eliminates priming of the supply pipe that goes into the lake water."

All previous lake pumps required priming, or filling of the length of pipe which sucks water from the lake to the pump. The KMP pump has placed the pump and impellers on the bottom of the pipe which goes into the lake, eliminating the costly priming process.

Another big advantage to the KMP Lake Pump is that it will pump in water 18 inches to 15 feet without losing prime. If the pump sucks air along with water, it continues to pump as much water as is available, without losing action.

The cost of pumping lake water has been lowered to new records in tests made with the KMP Lake Pump during the past three years.

Parish explained that lake water is "by far better for crops than underground water because it's warmer and it contains many more nutrients accumulated as the water runs into the lake."

"You can see the difference in a cotton crop irrigated with lake water," he said.

And with the abundance of lake and tail water in this Plains area Parish's development of KMP Lake Pump has been encouraged by farmers and water conservationists alike.

The original KMP Pump was first constructed more than three years ago, Parish said, "but we wanted to test it as much as possible to be sure there were no problems with it."

The pumps have been used extensively in hundreds of different situations and under all kinds of conditions. Improvements were made throughout testing.

While clogging and priming have been virtually eliminated from the lake pumping operation by the KMP Lake Pump, there is an automatic shutoff valve that turns off the pump and motor should a severe stoppage occur, or should the water in the lake be exhausted.

The pump alone is currently selling at about $650.00, Parish said. It can be bought complete with trailer and a motor for a total cost of about $1600.00 at the plant.

Doug Parish, manager of the KMP plant, said current production has reached five complete pumping units per week. Orders are increasing daily, he said, as information about the pump circulates.

The KMP Pump unit mounted on a trailer is easy to move to the proper location. The pump is quickly backed into the water and connected to the delivery pipe which distributes the water.

With a small engine running about 1200 R. P. M., the KMP Lake Pump will deliver about 1200 gallons per minute. Easy-to-change impellers and varying motor speeds make the pumping range 600 to 1900 G. P. M.

Sufficient constant water pressure is maintained for operating sprinklers, Parish added.

The KMP Lake Pump is made only in the 8 inch size presently, but plans are on the drawing board for a smaller 4 inch KMP which may be available by next season, the elder Parish said.

NEW LAKE PUMP --- Gus Parish (center) is shown here in a recent demonstration of the KMP Lake Pump which he invented and now manufactures. The revolutionary pump has eliminated costly priming and prevents clogging under normal lake conditions. The KMP plant, located one mile south of Earth on the Parish farm, is presently turning out five pumping units per week.

Lots of cars are in LeSabre's price class, but that's where the resemblance ends. s scene. Before the

however, we'd like to pass article about the value of
in the schools.
thoughts come from Dr.
H. Williams, director of
for the University In-lastic League. Here, in
is what he has to say:
There is no greater opportunity offered by the public curriculum for improving physical, mental and social discipline than is in the game of football.
In this time of world tension, it is necessary to develop citizens who have the ability to discipline
themselves, to think in times of emergency and to learn the art of developing and maintaining a strong and healthy character.
If we are not careful, we will produce a "pot plant" generation which will not be able to stand the stress and strain of modern day society.
The school and the community are rendering a worthwhile service by providing a physical, educational, competitive
school football program.
Unfortunately, some parents
are doing the school community a favor in allowing their sons to participate.
The parent or boy who has such an attitude is completely missing the point. Just the reverse is true. The parents should be thankful there is still a program in school requiring rigid discipline to achieve success.
Can you find a program
better organized, supervised and trained personnel
in football?
There is a growing "protection" on the part of some parents relative to participation in football. This is usually true in the case of members who want to protect their children—many times
when they are over 21 years old. This attitude encourages a boy to participate in football because it is too rough or because he may get injured.
Usually, there may be an occasional injury to a boy engaged in a contact sport; but the question is, "What is the average boy doing when he is not engaged in some worthwhile, supervised activity?"
Paradoxically, in some cases the same parents who will dismiss a boy for football
because it is "too dangerous"
by him an automobile or a hot rod" and think nothing of it.

From the viewpoint of the boy's scholastic achievements and his safety, statistics prove conclusively that the most dangerous thing
the parent can do is give him uninhibited freedom with an automobile.
"It is a strange set of values
on which some parents operate
as regards allowing their sons to participate in football. Some of the parents abhor the idea of perspiration, physical exertion and bodily contact. This once again is typical of the softness
which is permeating society.
"With air conditioning, cars and the other luxuries, there is a greater challenge on the part of the parents and school personnel to see that young people participate in vigorous, competitive athletic activities.
"The coach and the school
have great responsibility to parents who permit their boys to participate in interschool football. The coach and the school should always keep in mind that the parents are entrusting to the coach the most precious possession they have.
"It is imperative that the coach take every precaution to insure the health and welfare of each individual participant. . . .
There is an equal responsibility on the part of the school, the coaches and the parents to see that every effort is made to provide each player the proper educational background in which to develop those specific citizenship traits which can come out of football.
"These should be less 'protectiveness' on the part of parents and more encouragement by parents of boys to participate in vigorous activities. The parents should stress to the boy that it is a privilege for him to participate and represent the local high school team.
"The coach and the school
should do everything possible to insure that what they do is for the welfare of the individual boy
and not for the glory of the coach
or the school."

Tech Cagers Play Nov. 30
Texas Tech opens its 1963-64
basketball season against University of New Mexico in the Lubbock Coliseum on the Texas Tech campus at 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 30.
Because the college will be dismissed for the Thanksgiving holidays there should be plenty of room for the general public.

Amherst Seeks Region Title Thursday

The cinderella Amherst Bulldogs, who went without a victory for five consecutive games
then bounced back to win the bi-district championship, travel to Lubbock Thursday night
in quest of the regional Class
B football crown.

Final Grid Winners Are Announced

Final football contest winners of the season are Randy Hutson
of 520 E. 11th, James F. Collins, and Gary Pirkey, Star Rt. 1.
The contest was judged on the basis of 15 games instead of 25, since the assassination of the President caused cancellation of 10 college games listed on the page.

All three of the prize winners missed six games out of the 15 which were judged. Hutson claimed first prize of $7.50
by guessing a total of 35 points
on the tie-breaker Littlefield-Phillips game.
Collins was runnerup with the $5 prize by guessing 28 points,
and Pirkey got the $2.50 award with a guess of 27 points. Eight entrants missed on eight of the 15 games.
One entrant forgot to sign his name or address and missed out on the first prize. His contest sheet had only five incorrect predictions, but there was no
name on the entry.
This was the final week for the football contest page to run.
It was published 12 consecutive weeks under the sponsorship of the Littlefield Press and local merchants.

Bula Lands 4 On Team Four Bula griders have been named to the District 2-Bightman all-district team as selected by coaches.
Gene Avtry, end, was the lone Bula player named on the first offensive eleven. Picked on the first defensive unit were guard Mike Risinger, linebacker Roger Jones, and safety Curtis Archer.
Honorable mention went to Gerald Reid, Bula center, and to Risinger as a defensive end.
Three-Way also placed four players on the all-district team—three on offense and one on defense. District champ Nazareth had two on the offensive unit.

The playoff game is scheduled at Lowrey Field in Lubbock and kickoff time is 7:30 p.m.
The two teams met early in the season, with Amherst scoring an upset 13-6 victory in the non-conference battle. Ben Keiton ran an intercepted pass 60 yards, and Gary Pigg scored and kicked two extra points in that victory.
Coach Bert Grimes feels the Mustangs of Wilson will show much improvement over that early game, but his Bulldogs have added some polish, too.
Grimes announced his probable starting lineup will be about the same for the important regional clash. This would find Stanley Simmons (162) and Quinton Pierce (155) at ends, Terry
Hughes (190) and Chris Eady

(162) at tackles, Bob Cowen (135)
and Ben Keiton (143) at guards, Jay Elms (137) at center, Ronnie Smith (130) at quarterback, Gary Pigg (165) and Leon Hardwick (149) at halfbacks, and Guy
Hufstetter (150) at fullback.
The close 15-14 decision over Vega last week was a fine team effort. On the offensive side, Ronnie Smith guided the team
well from his man-under position, while Hufstetter and Hardwick tallied touchdowns and Pigg kicked the all-important extra point.
The Bulldog line also turned in a great performance against the heavier Vega Longhorns.

The Bulldogs rose up to stop the Longhorns' try for two points
following their second touchdown, allowing Pigg to provide the margin with his conversion
kick.
The Bulldogs had ended regular season play with 3-0-1
won-lost-tied mark in District 2-B. They had a 5-3-2 mark on the season.
The Wilson team romped to a 66-26 victory over Dell City in their bi-district encounter last week. Fleet-footed Sammy Crowson was the big gun for the Mustangs, scoring 32 points on four touchdowns and four 2-point conversions.

A large number of Amherst fans are expected to follow their team to Lubbock for the playoff contest. The bi-district title was Amherst's first since 1941.
They wound up in a three-way tie
for the district crown last year,
with this was their first outright
title in 22 years.
The Amherst season record:
Meadow (13-0), Wilson (13-6),
Sudan (0-24), Bovina (0-26),
Lazouddie (12-12), Springlake
(0-36), Anton (12-12), Whiteface
(21-12), Witharral (41-12),
New Deal (45-7), Vega (15-14).

the Littlefield Wildcats closed out their 1963 football campaign on a happy note last Friday at Phillips, scoring a surprising 35-12 triumph over the Blackhawks.
The team beefed up its season
statistics with the performance and wound up outscoring their opponents in 10 games although finishing with a 4-6 record.
Quarterback Larry Wood added another 153 yards passing to run his season total to 655 yards via the airways. With an additional 178 yards rushing, this gave Wood the total offense leadership for the team at 844
yards.
Fleet halfback Grover Pigrum wound up as the top ground gainer with 538 yards, and he was also the leading scorer, top pass receiver and leading kickoff return man. Junior Hodge was runnerup in rushing, pass receiving, and scoring, and led the punt return department.
Dickie Montgomery was named "player of the week" in the final game. The Coaches and press selected the outstanding player each week. Montgomery was named for his outstanding performance as a defensive end against Phillips.

Basketball Drills Start

Basketball took over the spotlight on the Littlefield High School sports scene this week
as new cage menior Bob Martin greeted 22 prospects Tuesday.
The first game, originally scheduled Saturday night at Muleshoe, has been postponed
due to the Mules' extended football season. The game may be rescheduled next week, or it could be moved to later in the season.
The next action on the schedule is the Plainview Tournament Dec. 5-7, but Coach Martin may get another match before then.
Martin inherits five lettermen from last year's squad, with a lack of height as the first noticeable disadvantage. Returning lettermen include Lamar
Pollard (6-2), Larry Wood (6-2),
Paul Roberts (6-0), Junior
Hodge (5-6) and Grover Pigrum
(5-9).
Ronald Sitton (5-10) and Larry Coffman (5-10) also played some

Charged in Liquor Law Counts

Sudan men were charged with liquor law violations in court Monday.

James Hooper was being held on $1,000 bond, and James Moss released on $1,000 bond in each case.

Many deputies also reported arrest of two men this week on charges of disturbance. A juvenile was placed on probation by Judge J. B. Smith in a theft case.

City police recorded three city accidents in a busy Saturday.

One mishap at 4:40 p.m. Saturday resulted in about $1,250 damage to the G&C Auto Supply building. A car driven by Charlie J. Harris of Littlefield jumped the curb and hit the building. Three windows were broken and the front of the store damaged.

The police report indicated the driver of the vehicle was preparing to back away from the curb, but accidentally put the car in a forward gear. Cars driven by Jimmy F. Holmes of Littlefield and L. J. Adams of Lovington, N.M., were involved in a minor collision on US-84 near Westside Ave. about 10:20 p.m.

Gladys B. McCord of Earth and Randy Humphreys of Sudan were drivers of cars which collided at the intersection of highways 84 and 385 about 1:30 p.m. Damage was minor.

That feller on Phelps Avenue says when any issue becomes a political football, there are bound to be lots of fumbles.

Littlefield will be losing one of its leading citizens when Chamber Manager Gene Garrison leaves for a similar post in Edinburg next month.

Ray Keeling, C of C treasurer, appeared before the council Thursday night to voice a special invitation for the group to attend an appreciation dinner for Garrison Tuesday night. Keeling probably expressed the opinion of many chamber members when he said, "We're losing a 15% percent citizen of our community."

Volunteer workers in the United Fund drive banded together for a renewed effort here this week. A number of people had not been contacted, so UF leaders reassigned many of the cards.

Contributions have been good, for the most part, but too many people still overlook the fact that their gift is for seven worthwhile agencies--not ONE. The ideal of the United Fund is great. We hope it is not endangered by citizens failing to support the cause and reach the budget.

It's so much better for all concerned to have one drive in place of seven. The volunteer workers--who would be about the same each time--are saved their time and talent, and the businessman or citizen can make one donation instead of seven, or talking with seven representatives.

If you have not been contacted as yet, greet the volunteer worker with courtesy. If nothing else, he's doing a thankless job for you. It's a community effort. Let's all give our fair share!

Best wishes of the county go with Amherst tonight in its quest for a regional football crown. The Bulldogs tackle the Wilson Mustangs at Lowrey Field in Lubbock.

Littlefield missed the game by a flip of the coin. Wilson chose Lubbock for a neutral site, and Amherst picked Littlefield, but Wilson officials won the toss.

School and chamber officials made a bid for the game. They had been successful last week in landing the Nazareth-Weilman playoff game here.

New Officers Elected For Medical Group

The Four county Medical Society met Tuesday at the Levelland Country Club for a dinner meeting and election of officers.

New officers elected assume their positions immediately. They are president, Dr. Ray Santos of Muleshoe; vice-president, Dr. Herbert Hinckley of Littlefield; secretary and treasurer, Dr. Paul Russell of Levelland.

Outgoing officers are: Dr. Ralph Maurer, president; Dr. Paul Russell, vice president; Dr. Herbert Hinckley, secretary and treasurer.

The society meets the fourth Tuesday of each month. There will be no meeting in December.

Castor Beans On Diverted Acres Upped

Lamb County farmers can plant a larger amount of their diverted feed grain acres in castor beans in 1964, up to 50 percent of their acres, Cong. George Mahon said in Washington this week.

Thirty percent planting of the acres was allowed this year, without penalty.

Lamb farmers were far below this percentage in 1963, but were above recent years after Anton elevator set up a marketing arrangement with the Baker Castor Oil Company, the nation's largest castor bean processor.

Several plantings were made in the Anton, Fieldton and Spade areas and have produced well. Castor beans are a crop of some proportions in Hale County. Baker has bought the crop for years through Plainview facilities.

Technical Advice Needed On Conservation Practices

Now is the time to start planning farm practices to be installed between now and spring, says Edward Mitchell, chairman of the Lamb County Soil Conservation District.

Mitchell advises farmers to get some idea of the topography of the area on which the work is to be done. The best method is to have some minor engineering work done to be sure the practice will work as planned, or will be the best way to lay out the final installation.

This holds true for planning new pipelines, diversion, terraces, land leveling and waterways. This can be done by the farmer who has a farm level, by a contractor, or by the personnel of the Soil Conservation Service.

Any of these practices which are not designed and constructed in the proper manner can be a hazard instead of a help. A waterway which is not properly built may silt in or overflow, and the same is true for diversions.

Terraces which do not have the proper height and width will top out and break, causing all the water to be channeled to one spot in the field. If they are spaced too far apart, land may get some erosion damage in between.

Conservation practices not properly designed and constructed do not stop erosion, Mitchell points out, but merely slows it down.

He urges farmers to contact some qualified person for technical advice and information in planning and laying out any conservation practice.

KNOW WHAT THIS IS?--B. T. Kisner, Lamb County Soil Conservationist, holds a prickly fruit which came from a Jimson weed. The poisonous weed is native to East Texas but some are found in this area, especially in flower beds. The Jimson is a tall coarse perennial with rank-smelling foliage and large white trumpet-shaped flowers succeeded by prickly fruits.

FOOD COSTS RISE RELATIVELY LOW

Food costs in the U.S. have risen less since 1947-48 than most other consumer items in the cost-of-living index. The increase in food costs to 1962 was 62 percent. For rent, it was 45 percent and for medical care, 67 percent. ---FARMER-STOCKMAN.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to Editor Dear Sir: There is a lot being said about medical care for the older citizens in the last few years. Also how unfair it would be on the younger taxpayers to have to pay for it. So I would like to submit my plan. When a taxpayer reaches the age of 62 and has no children in the public schools, his school taxes will be collected by the tax collector and be turned over to the state to form a revolving fund. It could be formed into a cheap insurance and, regardless of what ailment the older citizen had, he would receive full coverage. This would let the senior citizens pay for their ills, and the younger citizens could pay for their children's education. Each group could take care of their own. Anyone who thinks this is a fair deal and is 62 or over, please write to me. R. A. Reed Box 25 Fieldton

This Week at the Supermarket News on Foods

Biggest produce news this week is in citrus fruits, reports Texas A&M University consumer marketing specialists. Tangelos and tangerines have made their appearance in local markets, and quality of all citrus appears to be excellent. However, supplies are shorter than last year, so prices reflect this smaller supply.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, extension consumer marketing specialist, also suggests cranberries for holiday menus. Apples, grapes, bananas and pears are other good fruit choices, she adds.

The production of edible tree nuts is expected to break records this season, with the pecan crop likely to be the largest ever recorded, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Nut prices should be relatively low in comparison with past seasons, and homemakers may want to freeze some for later use, Mrs. Clyatt reminds.

Couple Given Housewarming

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Nicholas, Sr. were honored with a housewarming Saturday night at their new home 3 miles north of Littlefield on the Springlake highway. They moved into their home two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas have been residents of the Hart Camp Community for over 30 years. A community gift of an electric blanket and various linens were given, as well as individual gifts.

Refreshments of coffee, cakes and cookies were served to approximately 45 guests who attended.
