Farm Labor Picture Good

A Texas Employment Commission office spokesman stated Tuesday that at the present time the farm labor shortage in Lamb County is not nearly as bad as many people had expected with the discontinuance of the bracero program.

There are shortages in certain areas of the labor program such as irrigators but in many instances farmers have withdrawn their applications for help and have been able to get enough local labor.

Reports from the Olton and Muleshoe area indicate that the cucumber harvest is being accomplished with local labor and in many cases the farmers in that area are well pleased with the results. Many farmers state that the local labor has worked more rapidly than the alien work force.

"We have contacted many of the TEC offices throughout the state and only in a few areas are the shortages critical, while in other places they have an overabundance of farm laborers and would be available for work here at the present time if needed," stated Billy L. Lynch, local T.E.C. manager.

The main drawback at the present time is the lack of a standby labor force. Formerly if a farmer in the area needed hands for a few days or weeks he was able to get them immediately right here but now in most instances it is a matter of days before farm laborers can be procured.

"The critical period will be this fall, if the farmers are able to bring in their cotton crop we feel that we will have most of our labor problems licked," said Lynch.

The one area this fall where there may be shortages will be cotton stemmers and some area farmers are already making arrangements with help to work during that period.

The labor situation has not been as bad in Texas this year as it has been in other states and the problem we do have here was mainly caused by the fact that nearly 100,000 Texas farm laborers have been recruited by other states. This recruiting started as far back as last January, mainly from California and Colorado.

AN AERIAL VIEW -- Members of the Board of City Development and the Chamber of Commerce who are busy preparing a brochure to attract businesses, tourists and shoppers to Littlefield decided aerial views should be included and the picture above is the result. Dave Kucifer after taking the picture while leaning out of a plane wasn't too sure he had been right in volunteering to take the aerial shots.

GETTING READY -- Members of Girl Scout Troop 203 spent a busy Sunday afternoon loading up with sleeping bags and other equipment for the week-long scouting trip to Ghost Canyon on the Pecos in New Mexico. Members of the troop include Janice Oldham, Carla Chambers, Debra Thornton, Kaleta Giles, Ginger Maurer, Nancy Hall, Kay Harp, Debbie Still and Jamie Hyatt.

Two Suspended Sentences In District Court Trials

Two criminal cases were tried before a jury while four others pleaded guilty to charges in the August session of the 154th Judicial District Court this week.

Sam Hearn was given a three year suspended sentence when the jury, after deliberating over two hours found him guilty of assault to murder without malice forethought in the September 6 shooting of Harde Steptoe following an argument.

In his testimony Hearn admitted firing the shot which struck Steptoe in the chest following an argument at the McCarty Cafe in the flats. Hearn testified that Steptoe was coming toward him with his hand in his pocket and that he fired the .22 pistol after twice telling Steptoe to stop.

The other case heard before a jury was Juan Esquibel charged with burglary of the Bobby Brock residence on August 7, 1964 at which time two guns, silverware, and cookware were taken from the Brock home. The jury deliberated only thirty minutes before bringing in a verdict of guilty and imposing a five year suspended sentence.

District Attorney Jack Young tried the two cases for the state and Willard Street was the defense attorney in both the cases tried before District Judge Pat Boone Jr.

Of the four persons pleading guilty to charges only J.D. Young received a prison sentence while two other received probation and the fourth a fine and three day jail sentence.

Young, already in prison on another conviction received five year sentences on each of two charges, one for theft and the other for passing a worthless check. The sentences are to run concurrently.

R.C. Rains pleaded guilty to

Accidents Cause Damage: Police Arrest 52 In July

Two accidents causing a total of $550 damage to the four cars involved occurred here during the last three days.

The first at 2:50 Monday afternoon was at the intersection of Highway 84 and Keeling Ave. when a car driven by Joseph Downs, Clovis hit the rear of a 1959 Chevrolet driven by Edna Peal, Amherst when she had stopped for traffic on the Highway. The collision caused $100 damage to the rear of the Peal vehicle and $200 to the front and grill of the 1962 Valiant driven by Downs.

The other accident, which happened Tuesday also occurred at Highway 84, this time at the intersection of the highway with Wicker Ave.

Virginia Martinez, Littlefield had just made a left turn onto the highway from Austin when a piece of panel fell on the gas pedal. In reaching down to pick it up she cut in front of the 1964 Dodge, driven by Bryant Armour also of Littlefield.

The left front fender of the Martinez car collided with the left side of the Armour vehicle causing $100 damage to it and $150 to her car.

A theft was also reported to the police as $60 in cash was taken from a cash drawer in the Salvation Army office.

Salvation Army Lt. Harvey Garwell reported the loss Monday morning and that the money could have been taken any time Sunday while the office was closed.

A total of 52 arrests were made by the Littlefield police department during July with 12 in public offense accounting for 20 of the citations.

Six persons were charged with drunk and disturbance while five were charged with violation of road and traffic laws.

Four were picked up on assault charges while three were charged with being drunk in car. Two were held for investigation and one each for vagrancy and theft under $50. Three minors were charged with consumption and two others booked for violation of the liquor law.

The police also issued 33 traffic violations during the month which brought the total to 376 since last October.

County To Receive Road Money

The Commissioners Court passed five orders at their last meeting of the month including one to accept $49,536.24 from the Board of County and District Road Indebtedness for the Lateral Road account of the County which represents the Lamb County surplus as of August 31, 1965.

Of the amount, $2,440 will be credited to the Lamb County sinking fund and the remaining $47,096.24 will be used for the construction of lateral roads within the county.

The Court approved the appointment of John D. Smith as Presiding Judge of voting precinct 12 effective immediately.

Order three was the opening of bids for a new 1965 Ford Galaxie to be purchased for use by the sheriff's department. The low bid of $1,656.85 was submitted by the Sudan Motor Co. of Sudan who was awarded the bid.

Other bids included $1,965.45 by the Mitchell Ford Co., Littlefield; a bid of $1,975 by the Jackson Ford Co., Earth and a bid of $2,028.64 by the Fisher Ford Center, Olton.

The next order passed was the approval of forms to be used in conjunction with delinquent taxes, and the final order passed was to publicize that bids will taken up to August 31 for the purchase of a new diesel powered motor grader to be bought and used in District 2.

Social Security Amendments Means Increased Benefits

No. 1 that the President has signed the 1965 Social Security Amendments, some people will want to take action right away in order to protect their new benefit rights. Most others will need to take no action at all. As legislation providing health insurance for the aged and making other far-reaching changes in the social security program became effective with the ceremony in Independence, Missouri last Friday, Robert M. Ball, Commissioner of Social Security, proposed some "Do's" and "Don'ts" for the many millions of persons who will be affected.

"First of all, let me say to the 20 million people now receiving social security benefits: you don't need to take any action at all in order to get the increased cash benefit payments the law provides. The amount of the increase for the months of January through August 1965 will be paid to you in a separate check that will reach you in the latter part of September. The first regular checks reflecting the 7 percent increase will be mailed early in October, covering the month of September."

Second: social security and railroad retirement beneficiaries now 65 or over will not need to take any action to secure their basic hospital protection under the new Health Insurance Program. All aged persons now on the rolls will receive in September or October a full information kit direct, by mail describing this protection, which becomes effective July 1, 1966. Before this effective date a Health Insurance Card certifying to their eligibility for the services will automatically be sent to beneficiaries 65 or over. Third: social security beneficiaries will not need to go to the social security office about the voluntary supplementary plan covering physicians fees and other benefits. At the time they get the basic information kit, they will receive an enrollment postcard giving them an opportunity to sign up for the added medical insurance program, which also becomes effective July 1, 1966.

Fourth, a special message to people 65 or over who have never worked under social security: although not qualified for cash social security benefits, these people may qualify for the basic hospital insurance protection under the new "medicare" program. Those receiving public assistance from the States may be signed up for the basic hospital insurance by their welfare agencies. Enrollments in the voluntary medical insurance plan can be accepted beginning September 1, 1965. Therefore, persons over 65 who have not worked under social security should wait at least until September 1 before visiting their social security office. Then they can sign up for the basic hospital insurance and, also, enroll in the medical insurance program if they wish that additional important protection.

Certain other groups affected by the law do need to take action. They need only inquire at their social security office, the Commissioner said. The major groups involved are:

Persons now 65 or over who are insured under social security but have never applied for benefits. Even though they may still be working full time, it would be desirable for these people to apply now to establish their benefit rights. This will qualify them for hospital insurance protection and will also make sure they get any cash benefits to which they may be entitled commencing in 1966 be-

July Water Usage Totals 70 Million

Littlefield residents used a total of 70,171,000 gallons of water during July, an average of 2,263,580 gallons per day. The highest one day total was Saturday, July 25 when 3,174,000 gallons were pumped. The only other day when the three million gallon mark was reached was on July 13 when the figure reached 3,006,000.

The lowest daily figure was on July 5 when only 1,359,000 gallons were pumped and over that weekend when the rain hit the area only slightly over four and a half million gallons were pumped in a three day period.

There were a total of 2,470 active water services during the month which averaged out 28,400 gallons per meter but a water department official stated the range was from 3,000 to 5,000 on meters up to a high of 80,000 gallons during the month.

"Our two oldest daughters, Laura, who plays in the Wildcat Band and Terry, who is in the Junior High School Band, have been away from school but the family has not been on a vacation this year," she added.

You Can Insure

Do you notice that a neighbor's children like to play with yours in their garage. If you are an elderly type, a cunning idea may occur to you. Why not take out an insurance policy on that garage? Wait for a fire, and then the proceeds? Which is, you could not collect on such a policy. For you are insuring an interest in the garage. In other words, you cannot insure on another person's property—or another person's interest—unless you do have an insurable interest. The law says you must have something at stake, something you are wanting that property to be preserved.

It wasn't always so. In the days of modern insurance, at a famous coffee house in London, one could take out life insurance on anyone else. Lives of great persons became speculative-for-all. An inside tip on a dignitary's failing health turned into easy money. Evil evils became apparent: a man to gambling, and the man to murder. Such insurance, Oliver Wendell Holmes, "is a wager that gives the insured an interest in having the life of an end." The law responded with the requirement of an insurable interest.

It constitutes an insurable interest. The usual test is financial—you would suffer financial loss if the insured property was destroyed or the insured life lost. If you had a mortgage on your neighbor's garage, you would have a necessary insurable interest in the garage. The destruction of the garage would destroy something of value to you.

Early, in life insurance, a man had an insurable interest in his wife because she owes him services. A wife has an insurable interest in her husband because he owes her services. When the financial interest is clear, a clear sentimental interest will sometimes satisfy the law. For instance, they usually take out an insurance policy that a man is to be married, takes the life of her fiancée. A man's relation," explained one naturally inclines her to the belief that his life may be prolonged."

Highway Department Film Features Tourist Industry

The Texas Highway Department has unveiled the first full-color 30-minute travel promotion film to be produced entirely by a state agency.

The film, entitled "Texas -- Land of Contrast," was shown to a select group of state officials, newsmen and others interested in tourist industry development. The showing was at a luncheon sponsored by the Austin Chamber of Commerce (at the Commodore Perry Hotel).

The showing was a preview of the film, which will be available for public screening about September 1. Among the guests at the chamber-sponsored luncheon were members of the Texas Highway Commission, Hal C. Woodward of Coleman, J.H. Kultgen of Waco, and Herbert C. Petry, Jr. of Carrizo Springs, chairman.

The Commissioners expressed enthusiasm for the film which is expected to stimulate recreational travel to Texas by residents of other states, Canada and Mexico. Speaking for the Commission, Chairman Petry said, "The Department has received many requests for such a film to erase the image of Texas as a vast, barren land. Vacation-seekers will be able to see for themselves the marvelous beauty of Texas scenic attractions, unmatched in their diversity by any other state."

"This is Texas as it really is -- the Fun-tier State -- offering recreational attractions to suit every taste...forests, mountains, plains, seashore, caverns, lakes and its many cultural attractions. Here they are pictured in a sparkling panorama of color."

Mr. Petry also voiced the opinion that the film will stimulate recreational travel by Texans within their own state.

"Unfortunately, many Texans have overlooked the Lone Star State as a vacation paradise," Petry said. "This film should inspire Texans to learn and see more of our own scenic, cultural and historical attractions."

The film will be made available on a loan basis to service clubs, chambers of commerce and organizations throughout the country. Special efforts will be made to get the travelogue shown on TV stations in Texas and other states.

Prints may be obtained by writing the Travel and Information Division, Texas Highway Department, P.O. Box 5064, Austin, Texas (78703).

The film includes such fascinating scenic attractions as Caddo Lake, the Big Thicket, Monahans State Park, the Rio Grande Valley, the Gulf of Mexico and the fabulous beauty of Big Ben National Park. Also depicted are such events as the San Antonio Fiesta and the Austin Aqua Festival.

The mere size of Texas complicated production of the film, according to Tom H. Taylor, director of the Travel and Information Division of the Texas Highway Department. His division was responsible for planning and production of the film.

"Texas is so large that to depict its many wondrous attractions in a single 30-minute film virtually was impossible," Taylor said. "We found a theme and treatment for the picture in its title, for Texas truly is a 'land of contrast'."

He continued: "We have attempted to show, alternately, some of the many diverse scenic and cultural attractions of the state. Here is the land of surprises, where there's always adventure further on, always excitement and the unexpected -- maybe just around the bend."

"We hope that this will be a pilot film for a series which will attract more and more visitors to Texas, and make Texas better known as a recreation center to its own residents."

The Texas Highway Department long has been instrumental in promotion of the State's tourist attraction program. The Travel and Information Division operates eight tourist information centers at the gateways of key highways entering the state, and in the rotunda of the Capitol in Austin.

Some 500 thousand visitors utilized services of the information centers last year, and the Highway Department answered more than 212 thousand mailed inquiries for travel information.

The hospitality centers provide visitors with current travel information, descriptive literature on points of interest, travel maps, and information on scenic and historical attractions, special events and state parks. The Highway Department distributed some three million pieces of travel literature last year, over half of which was produced by the Department and the remainder by chambers of commerce and other groups.

Besides members of the Highway Commission, also present at the luncheon were D.C. Greer, State Highway Engineer; J.C. Dingwall, Assistant State Highway Engineer, and Ed Wroe, president of the Austin Chamber of Commerce.

TEXAS AUTO INSURANCE IS STILL A NATIONAL BARGAIN

Even though the rates have been increased (effective) August 1, 1965), your Texas automobile insurance is still one of the best buys in the United States.

Texas ranks ...

- 1st in miles of highways
- 3rd in number of automobiles
- 5th in population
- 6th in number of licensed drivers

but only ...

36th in average cost of auto insurance

What's more, while the nation's highest rate is 101% higher than Texas', the nation's lowest is only 34% lower than Texas'.

Price increases of an kind are never popular; but your Independent Insurance Agents ask you to remember three things:

1. People and their driving performance actually set auto insurance rates. When there are more accidents, more people killed and injured, higher repair costs, and increased medical expenses, it is inevitable that rates must go up.

2. You still pay less for your protection than do most American drivers, and

Irrigation Water Management Determined By Moisture Capacity

Irrigation water management is the application of irrigation water to crops where the amount applied is determined by the moisture holding capacity of the soil and the need of the crop. The water is applied in controlled rates and in such a manner that the crops can use it efficiently, and without significant erosion and water.

In order to apply the water as specified above, an irrigator must have a delivery system to deliver the water efficiently to the areas to be watered and an application system to apply the water over the area in controlled rates. For row irrigation systems, this might require a pipeline delivery system and slopes in direction of irrigation not to exceed 0.8 foot per 100 feet and preferably less than 0.5 foot per 100 feet. Sprinkler systems must have lateral lengths, pipe diameter, and nozzle size correlated so the pressure loss from the first to last sprinkler does not exceed 20 percent of the average operating pressure.

In addition to having a good irrigation system, the irrigator must have the knowledge and capability to manage and use this system. This knowledge should include such things as: The consumptive use rates for crops grown. Cotton will use up to 0.25 inch per day during the later stages of its growth while grain sorghum will use 0.30 inch per day.

How to estimate the amount of water required for each irrigation. During preplant irrigation, the root zone should be completely filled with moisture and all subsequent irrigations are to replace moisture lost by evaporation or withdrawn by crops.

How to determine when irrigation water needs to be applied. Irrigating before the soil can hold a reasonable amount will result in inefficient application but waiting too long will result in crop damage due to wilting. Watering should not be started before 40 percent of the available moisture is gone and completed by the time 70 percent is gone.

How to compute the amount of water applied to an area. An irrigator must know the rate of application so by timing the sets, he can put on the needed predetermined amount. The dry soil zone must be replenished with water and the newly applied moisture must be heavy enough to meet the existing moisture zone. Applying water in frequent light applications results in higher percentage of evaporation losses while in the process of application and by surface evaporation. Also, more labor is involved resulting in greater operating cost. On the other hand, excessive applications result in waste of water by percolation, damage to crops, loss of soil nutrients, and added pumping costs.

How to evaluate the uniformity of water application: On furrow or row irrigation systems, an inadequate system and poor management will result in excessive application next to the ditch or pipe line and insufficient application at the lower end. Depth of application along the length of the run can be measured by soil probe tubes or soil augers. For properly designed sprinkler systems obtaining uniform application is not a problem because the sprinkler system will distribute the water uniformly except in cases where laterals go up steep slopes.

By American Podiatry Association

CAREERS IN PODIATRY

With about 8,000 podiatrists in the United States, the figure could double in the next decade and still leave the country short of enough professional foot specialists to treat the many foot problems Americans endure. Licensed in every state plus the District of Columbia, the modern podiatrist diagnoses and treats disorders of the human foot by medical, surgical and other appropriate means. This is a far cry from the "itinerant corn-cutters" of the 1840's who went about treating the feet of New England mill workers. Today's podiatrist obtains two years of pre-medical training at a university followed by four years of schooling in a college of podiatry. Some states also require one year of internship prior to granting a license to practice.

A recent survey revealed that some 25 percent of podiatry students already have a bachelors degree or four years of college training, while another 26 percent have completed three years or more of university work prior to entering podiatry college. The level and type of service provided by podiatrists have also expanded in recent years. In contrast with the early days of the profession, they now provide a wide range of diagnosis and therapy for their patients of all ages including X-ray, use of drugs, foot orthopedic work, brace-making and prosthesis and surgery.

Surveys in 1964 revealed that some 73 percent of the nation's foot doctors were engaged in some type of institutional service, including hospitals, nursing homes, and homes for the aged. Some podiatrists are employed on a full-time basis in Veteran's Administration facilities and as commissioned officers in the Armed Forces. Opportunities are varied and many for rewarding careers in podiatry.

Home First Aid Tips

Roughhousing in the back yard can bring accidents like scraped knees and elbows. For treatment, apply germ-fighting antiseptic powder immediately.

Most frequent kitchen accidents are burns and knife cuts. Try generally to cut in a direction away from you. And use oven mitts and rubber gloves for over-all hand protection.

The secret of preventing accidents at the workbench is keeping a neat one! Tools should be anchored, nails placed in containers. To treat the inevitable cuts and scrapes, sprinkle on B.F.I. first aid antiseptic powder.

To avoid cuts from broken glass in bathrooms, keep transferable liquids in marked plastic bottles—and away from children's prying fingers. Every medicine cabinet should have adhesives, B.F.I. antiseptic powder and sterile gauze as basic first aid necessities.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Early this fall more than 240,000 young Texans will be entering public schools for the first time.

Even though the opening of school is still some weeks away, parents are busy making preparations to insure that their child makes a smooth adjustment to his new environment.

The child's adjustment will be more rapid and satisfactory if he starts his school life in good sound health.

Have your family physician or local clinic give your child a complete physical examination including an eye check. His teeth should also be checked by the family dentist. If these examinations show there are ailments or defects that can and should be looked after, then follow the doctor's and dentist's advice and have them corrected, if possible, before you enroll him in school.

It's likely that your child has already been immunized against certain of the childhood diseases such as diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox. If not, have it done immediately either by your doctor or by the local health clinic. If all immunizations have been done previously, make sure your child gets the necessary booster dose.

Insist on your child's getting regular and sufficient hours of sleep to help him enjoy school. He needs ten to twelve hours of sleep in a quiet, darkened room with an opened window to build up his energy and offset his tiredness.

Proper nutrition is very important. When school starts, allow enough time for a wholesome breakfast. A good breakfast includes citrus fruit or juice, milk, whole grain cereal or bread, eggs or bacon or both.

Lunch and dinner should be a leisurely meal. The new adventure of school is a pretty fast pace, but mealtime offers an opportunity for the family to pause and relax together.

Also, nearly every school district in Texas requires proof-of-age for first year students in the form of a certificate of birth.

You may obtain a copy by sending a dollar and a half plus the name of the child, the date of birth, the place of birth, and both the father's and mother's names to the Records and Statistics Section, Texas State Department of Health, 410 East 5th St. Austin, Texas.

Fall Fabrics Have New Look

The new fall fabrics almost dare you to guess the fiber content without reading their labels, says Lynn Parks, Texas A&M University Extension consumer education specialist. Washables such as cotton, acrylics, nylons and silks are distinguished with coatings, bondings and new kinds of knitting processes to achieve a new look. Nylon is texturized to achieve the look, feel and bright colors of silk. Nylon bonded to nylon tricot produces effects which resemble silk prints. Nylon tricot is glamorized with Swiss dot flocking which adds "loft" and softens colors. Tricot with a satiny backing made from nylon has a look with a rich, opulent appearance. Jersey achieves a look with a blend of Acrylic fiber fabrics such as wools and worsteds. Plaid, herringbone, check patterns, and fibers have the construction of woolsens, are resistant, permanently pressed, are completely washable. A polymeric coating used on 100 percent cotton stimulate leather, in construction and leather made this fabric look enough to mislead a textile

Big Interest In Small Change

NEW YORK — Six coins in a die-cut card may not sound like anything to get excited about, but "wow, what a response" say the expressions of Rina Ben Sira (L) and Yael Arad of the Israel Government Coins and Medals Corporation, New York. The little package which caused all the excitement (pictured below) is the proof-like set of Israel's 1965 coinage which was offered for sale in North America this year for the first time. Preparations for the 1966 issue are already underway.

More than 25,000 letters and telegrams were received in the four-day period which preceded Israel's 1965 Independence Day, official release date for the proof-like sets. In addition, thousands of persons queued up at the two Israel banks in New York to make their purchase (limited to one per person) on Independence Day itself. So great was the response that thousands of mail orders had to be returned, and several hundred would-be purchasers were turned away when the supply was exhausted, even though strict limitations were put on sales-per-person.

The Israel Government Coins and Medals Corp., at 850 Third Avenue, NYC, is the official distributor of Israel's coinage and commemorative medals. Among the latter is a series, currently being issued, of nine coins medals devoted to historic cities in Israel, among them Ashkelon, Acre and Tiberias. Proceeds are earmarked for the landscaping, restoration, and preservation of historical sites in Israel.

cause of more liberal amendment test provisions - the amendments, any one that a person has after a date in a recomputation fits if it is advantageous individual; therefore no loss by filing for benefits as possible.

Persons 72 or older (getting benefits because of their husbands) who worked enough under social security to qualify under the various provisions of the Social Security Act should get in touch with nearest social security office right away, because the time they needed to work under social security has now been reduced, persons 72 or over will qualify for benefits of $35 a month with as little as three years of coverage under social security. Benefits may also be payable to the wife or widow of persons.

Widows age 60 or older at the time the law becomes effective. Beginning September 1, 1965, cash benefits start at age 62, but a reduced amount. Application for this purpose may be filed immediately.

Students 18 to 22 years of age whose social security benefits have been stopped, as well as others nearing age 18 who continue in school, may be paid back to January 1965 to those who already have been dropped from the rolls only upon application at a social security district office. Those nearing age 18 and continuing to stay in school or to school should also visit a social security district office in order to supply the information about their schooling which is necessary if benefits are to be paid after age 18.

A severely disabled worker may now collect disability insurance benefits if his condition has lasted or is expected to last for 12 full months - though he may recover. If now, he could not collect disability insurance benefits as his disability was expected to continue for a long and indefinite period of time, or else his death. The Social Security Administration plans to set its records and get into those who applied for but denied disability insurance benefits during the past year cause they were expected to recover. Others who think they may qualify under this change the law should ask about the benefits at the nearest social security office. There is a change in amount of work required under social security eligibility for disability insurance benefits.

"Other persons who wish to inquire about possible social security benefits," Commissioner said, "widows past 60 who have married, and women 62 or older who were divorced after 20 years of marriage."

"One other important provision of this new law," Commissioner Ball emphasized, "because of this new law, any hospital or medical expense you may now have. Now the health insurance provisions of the new law give any person whatsoever until July 1966".

HEALTH & SAFETY TIPS

Hypnosis is not a toy and unwise use may seriously affect an individual's physical and emotional health, says a pamphlet of the American Medical Association.

About one person in four can be deeply hypnotized in a relatively short period of time and most people can be hypnotized to some degree. No one is sure why some people can be hypnotized and others not.

Hypnosis can be easily taught in half an hour and can be self-taught from a book. No equipment is needed other than the voice of the hypnotist.

But hypnosis is dangerous in the hands of an amateur and should be used only by qualified professionals.

The most common medical use of hypnosis is as an anesthetic. Patients have been hypnotized for childbirth, for dental surgery, during the setting of a fracture and for other forms of surgery. It has also been used to ease anxiety and in the management of painful symptoms such as headache, obese patients have lost weight as a result of hypnotic suggestion and smokers have been able to cut down or quit entirely.

The American Medical Association has been on record for years as being unequivocally opposed to the use of hypnosis for entertainment purposes. Reports have been received of individuals suffering severe emotional disturbances as the aftermath of being hypnotized.

Enloe Receives Water Award

An official State Health Department citation for job proficiency has been awarded to Johnny Enloe, assistant water superintendent, Amherst water system. The citation reflects the high regard in which Enloe is held by state water officials.

Signed by the state commissioner of health and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, the certificate of competency is intended as visual evidence of skill in modern utility plant management and an understanding of the work's importance to community health.

SHORT COWBOY, HIGH HORSE — At Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, a point of tourist interest at Old Tascosa, 36 miles northwest of Amarillo, each youngster must learn to saddle his own horse.

Boys Ranch Features Old West And New

There's a touch of the Old West and a lot of the new for visitors to see up in the Panhandle country of Texas. The place to see it is at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch near Amarillo.

The ranch, the first of its kind in America, is open to visitors and there are park facilities at the entrance for those who wish to picnic.

Situated along the bank of the Canadian River, the Boys Ranch is about 36 miles northwest of Amarillo or U.S. 385 from Vega. It occupies the site of what was once Old Tascosa, Cowboy Capital of the Plains. Old Tascosa for a time was the center of the open range world, stamping ground for some of the West's most notorious bad men and focal point for cattle thieves and ranchers.

Located at an easy river crossing, the site started as a meeting place for Indians and Mexican traders who exchanged contraband goods, including women and children. The first permanent settlement was made by sheep herders in 1876, the same year Charles Goodnight and Thomas S. Bugbee brought the first cattle to the free grass empire.

Small ranchers and nesters followed and the boom was on.

Hundreds of miles from civilization, Old Tascosa lured the lawless and the law men. Names like Billy the Kid and Pat Garrett live in its history. Gun fights made a "Boot Hill" cemetery necessary. The heaviest toll in a single shoot-out occurred March 21, 1886, when three cowboys and a restaurant owner died in a five minute period. All went to Boot Hill.

The coming of barbed wire pinched off the cattle trails. Tascosa's life blood, and sealed the fate of the settlement. Today, only the town's stone court house and Boot Hill remain. Twenty-five years ago, the court house and 120 acres surrounding it were donated to a dream of a home in the country for boys who needed a helping hand.

The man who had that dream is Cal Farley, a champion athlete and successful businessman who founded the Boys Ranch with a handful of unfortunate kids. Since that time, boys from 4 to 17 from virtually every state in the Union have come to the ranch for help at the request of relatives, social workers, ministers and juvenile court judges, and Cal and Mrs. Farley have served as foster parents to more than 1500 youngsters who have become useful, productive citizens.

Financed by donations and operating on a nonsectarian basis, the ranch has thrived without fraternal, religious or governmental affiliations.

Today, Boys Ranch covers 1,400 acres, has 30 buildings, and boasts its own bank, post office and independent school district. Some 350 boys are living there in a normal, family atmosphere with staff "parents" who live right in the dormitories or "homes".

Old Tascosa had its day, but the atmosphere has changed. A different breed of cowboys is at home on the range there now, a frequently-used chapel stands

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

The Dallas District Office for Internal Revenue reports an unusual letter from the mountain of mail that came in on April 15. The envelope was marked "Opened and Censored by the Fort Worth Jail." The taxpayer said "I'm sorrier than you are that I won't be able to file my tax return on time this year, I'll file when I get out of jail." The good tax folks will probably accept your late filing as a reason for delay if you're already in jail. Otherwise, it will probably pay to keep on filing on time.

Infant Deaths Rise In State

Many people believe that infant deaths are a thing of the past in Texas. This is not so, according to records of the State Department of Health. In fact, they are rising in a number of areas of the state.

In a typical month last year, over 560 infant deaths were reported in Texas.

While infant mortality rates declined in the nation as a whole between 1950-1960, they rose in 7 of 10 of the nation's largest cities. Two of these major cities are in Texas. Rates also have risen recently in other Texas cities.

Mr. and Mrs. K.B. Hopper and Jerry Lynne, Sudan, J.W. Bailey and Ramona Nelast.

The Spade Lions Club and their families will have an ice cream supper Friday night in the school cafeteria, beginning at 8 p.m. All persons interested in joining the Lions are invited to attend and bring their families. All members of the Lions are requested to bring either a freezer of ice cream or a cake.

KILL ATHLETE'S FOOT GERM

One application of T-4-L stops itch and burning in MINUTES or your 48c back. In 3 to 5 days, infected skin sloughs off to expose more germs for the kill. Then watch HEALTHY skin appear! TODAY at Bittman's Pharmacy - Roden Drug

There are many causes for the rise in infant deaths, says Patsy Reynolds, Texas A & M University Extension specialist in family life education. "These causes boil down to a major factor which is lack of good prenatal care for the expectant mother."

This is especially true for the very young mother or the mother in moderate-to-low-income levels.

"We must teach all mothers --and especially the teenage girl--how necessary this care is to the health and even the very life of their babies," says Miss Reynolds. We can't afford this loss of valuable human life, she emphasized.

In spite of its name, Indiana originally had fewer Indians than most other states and has practically none today.
