NEW HOSPITAL BUILDING WILL BE ERECTED HERE

ABOUT $100,000 TO BE SPENT IN NEW STRUCTURE

To House Payne-Shotwell Hospital & Clinic When Completed

As announced by Drs. C. E. Payne and I. T. Shotwell, Jr., plans are completed and work is expected to get underway next week in the construction of a new building to house the Payne-Shotwell hospital and clinic.

To Cost $100,000
The contract for the erection of the new structure, which will represent an investment of about $100,000, has been awarded to W. G. McMillan of Lubbock, who will let the various sub-contracts to local concerns as far as possible, and use 90 per cent local labor.

Location 5th St. and LFD Drive
The location for the new hospital will be LFD drive and East Fifth street, with the property extending from the Cooper apartments southwest to the Methodist church.

W. L. Bradshaw of Lubbock was the architect, who prepared the plans of the building, which will be of light brick exterior; of modernistic design and treatment, and of concrete and steel construction, making it absolutely fireproof.

To Be 2 Story
The structure will be two story 50 feet wide by 135 feet long, and when completed will afford a total floor space of 27,000 feet.

The building will be completely air-conditioned, with special arrangements whereby the air will be zoned, so that the atmosphere from rooms occupied by patients with contagious diseases will not be recirculated through the building.

To Contain 100 Rooms
The building will be semi-V shaped, with wings extending south towards the Methodist church, and east along Fifth street with ambulance entrance from the latter street. It will contain approximately 100 rooms, with about 50 patient rooms, which will be decorated in pastel shades, and equipped with furniture to match.

All patient rooms will have clothes closets and connecting baths and be equipped with door wide enough to roll a bed through.

Dr. M. G. Wood, dentist, who has occupied a suite of offices in the Payne-Shotwell hospital clinic since the opening of the institution, will continue to maintain his office in the new building.

Doctors to Have 3 Room Suites
Doctors Payne, Shotwell and Wood will each have a private office, and two treatment rooms.

Also included on ground floor, will be a lobby, reception room, business office, history and record room, room for physio therapy, room for taking X-ray pictures, and room for X-ray treatment, operating room, delivery room, sterilizing room, scrub room, superintendent of nurses' room, nurses' work room, doctors' lounge, emergency room, laboratory, kitchen and diningroom. The Siren Sound of "Oil"

Farmers of the Plains, are traveling in the paths of a most strenuous temptation these days. Oil dealers and doodlebuggers, have filled their purses with lease money and their hearts with high hopes.

Many land owners are prone to surrender themselves to the hope for oil fortunes, and neglect their crops and other regular tasks.

If ever there was a time when farmers of the Plains needed to apply themselves to the complicated problems attending their agricultural and economic welfare; that time is upon us right now.

We believe that President Roosevelt's agricultural relief was a timely and imperative measure. Only a fool would look forward to an indefinite distribution of government funds for the non-planting of crops.

We too—hope that our community may be blessed by the wealth contingent upon oil discoveries. But we are not going to neglect or give up, our jobs and normal ambitions because we have listened to the siren who sounds the call of oil.

Chemurgy Gaining Ground

With two well attended meetings in 30 days East Texas is making rapid headway in farm chemurgic thinking. That region possesses an abundance of adaptable raw materials of the farm, forest and mines, as well as cheap fuel and water.

gic planning to balance its agriculture with logical industries. While the subject and purpose of Farm Chemurgy are still Greek to most Texans, the Beaumont and Gladewater conferences opened the eyes of several hundred leaders to the possibility of a new approach to the farm problem.

It is not to be inferred that Farm Chemurgy is a cure-all for the ills of agriculture. Its function at best is to supplement the farmer's income from his existing outlets with new outlets to factories.

The East Texas Chamber of Commerce and enterprising leaders in Gladewater and Beaumont were quick to realize their natural advantages not only of raw materials in the form of cellulose and lignin, starch, vegetable oils and protein, but the further advantage of cheap and abundant fuel in the form of natural gas and petroleum.

It will be well for other regions of Texas to take stock of their resources. As these fit the pattern of paper mills, plastics, solvents, rapid drying oils, they should benefit.

SYNOPSIS

When the wealthy foster parents Marjorie Wetherill both die she writes a letter telling that she has been adopted by her own parents. Her own parents couldn't support both of them and she had to save her sister's money to save her sister's life. She found her real name is Dorothy Gay. Alone in the world, but with a fortune of her own, she is looking up her own family whom she has never seen. A neighbor, Evan Hower, tries to get her out of it and tells her to marry him. She promises to think it over at the time is more concerned finding her family.

She looked up at him quietly, and a cold little wistful smile came into her eyes. "I'm sorry to seem so—uncertain and so unappreciative—of your help. But I just can't seem to get it tonight." "You are a wise young man and he thought he couldn't get any further tonight." "I studied her for a moment and then his lips set in a firm line of determination. "Very well," he said quite cheerfully. "I am just your friend for now, but a very special friend, you know. One whom you can call upon anything. Will you feel that?" "Yes," she said. "Thank you! Good night!" and she put out her hand and gave him a brief imperious clasp. Marjorie found she was too excited to sleep when she laid her head on her pillow. But strangely enough it was not on the eager unsteady, she got out and went slowly up the two wooden steps to the door that sadly needed paint. There was no bell so she knocked timidly, and then again louder as she heard no sound of life within. She was just about to turn away, almost hoping they were gone, and she would have no clue to search further, when she heard hurried steps on a bare floor, and the door was opened sharply, almost impatiently. Then she found herself face to face with a replica of herself!

"Does Mrs. George Gay live here?" "She said the words because she had prepared them on her lips to say, but she was so startled at the apparition of herself in the flesh standing before her that she did not realize she had asked the question. She just stood there and stared and stared at this other girl who was so like and yet so unlike herself.

The other girl had the same cloud of golden hair, only it was flying in every direction, not smoothly waved in the way it ought to be; the same brown eyes, only they were full of bitterness, and trouble, and a kind of fright in the depths of them; the same delicate lips, only they were set in hard lines as if the grim realities of life had been too close to her.

"Well," she said with a final little shiver, opening the door a trifle wider, "I suppose you must be my twin sister! Will you come in?" Her voice was most ungracious, but she stood aside in the tiny hall to let the other girl pass in.

"Oh! Are you—? That is— I didn't know—" said Marjorie in dered why you came after all these years when you haven't paid the slightest attention to us. You with your grand home and your aristocratic parents, and your fine education! What could you possibly want with us? But I see it now. They have died and left you penniless. I suppose, after all their grand pretensions, and you have come back on us to live. Well, we'll take you in of course. Mother wouldn't have it otherwise, but I'll say it's something like the end of a perfect day to have you turn up just now.

"Oh, I'm sorry," said Marjorie distressed at once. "I ought to have telephoned to see if it was convenient, but I was so eager to find you. And you don't at all realize anything about it. I've not come home to be a burden on you. I thought maybe I could spend Christmas with you. I know how you must feel. You are moving, and frightfully busy, but you'll let me help, won't you?"

"Moving!" sneered her sister. "Yes, we'd be moving right away today if we had any place to move to! And any money to move with! And anything to move! Christmas! I didn't know there was such a thing any more!" And suddenly she dropped down in a vacant chair, jerking her hands out from the ragged pockets of her old coat, put them up to her face and burst into tears, sobbing with the force of the sobs. Yet it was all done very quietly as if there was some reason why she must not make a noise.

Marjorie went close and put her arms about her, her face down against the other's wet cheek. "Oh, my dear!" she said brokenly. "My dear!" And then her own tears were falling, and she held the weeping girl close. "But you are cold! So cold you are trembling!

Can't we go into another room where it is warm and let me tell you how you have misunderstood me? Come!"

Then the girl lifted her face and spoke fiercely again.

"Come?" she said. "Where shall we come? Don't you know there hasn't been a teaspoonful of coal in this house for two days, and that we've burned up all the chairs that aren't sold to try and keep from freezing—except this one that has to be sold to get some medicine for mother? Don't you know father hasn't had any work for nine months, and mother is sick upstairs in bed with all the blankets we own piled around her and a hot-water bag at her feet? She's getting pneumonia, I'm afraid, and I had to lose my job to stay home and take care of her. Don't you know that dad is sick himself, but he had to go out and beg the landlord to let us stay a few days more till mother is better—? And I guess Ted has lost his newspaper route, and I've had to take the children to the neighborhood nursery, to keep them warm and fed. If you stay here with us you'll have to pawn that fur coat to get enough to eat!"

Suddenly the sister's head went down again and more silent sobs shook her. It was terrible to look upon. Marjorie felt it was the most awful sight she had ever seen.

Suddenly she stood back and unbuttoned her coat, slid out of it and wrapped it warmly around her sister.

"There! There! You precious sister!" she said softly, laying her lips on the other girl's.

But her sister struggled up fiercely, her pride blazing in her eyes, her arms flinging off the coat. "No!" she said, "no I won't wear your coat even for a minute."

But Marjorie caught it together about her again and held it there. "Look here!" she said with authority. "Stop acting this way! I'm your sister and I've come to help you! You can't fling me off this way! And we haven't time to fight! We've got to get busy. What's the first thing to do? Make a fire? Where can I find a man to send for coal?"

"You can't," said her sister sullenly, "they won't trust us till the bill is paid, and we've nothing to pay it with." Her eyes were smoldering like slow fires, and her face was filled with shame as she confessed this, but Marjorie's eyes lit with joy.

"Oh, but I have!" she cried eagerly, and put her hand into her purse, pulling out a nice fat roll of bills and slipping them into her sister's hand.

"There," she said, "go quick and pay the bill and get the coal!"

The other girl looked down at her hand, saw the large denomination of the bills she was holding, and looked up in wonder. Then her face changed and an alert look came, pride stole slowly up, and the faint color that had come into her cheeks faded, leaving her ghastly white again.

"We couldn't take it!" she said fiercely. "We couldn't ever pay it back. There is no use!" and she held it out to Marjorie.

"Nonsense!" said Marjorie. "You are my family, aren't you? It's my mother who is cold, isn't it?"

"After all these years? You staying away and never sending us any word? No! You're adopted and belong to that other woman, and it's her money, not yours. We can't take it!"

"Look here!" said Marjorie her own eyes flashing now till they resembled here sister's even more strongly than at first. "I didn't ask to be adopted, did I? I didn't have any choice in the matter, did I? I was adopted before I knew what was going on, and I didn't know anything about you. You have no right to blame me that way!"

Then suddenly the other girl jumped up and flung Marjorie's coat back at her.

"All right!" she said. "Put on your own coat. Maybe it's all true. I don't know. I've hated you and the Wetherill's so long that I don't know whether I can ever get over it or not, but I've got to try and save my mother's life if it is with that other woman's money!"

She awoke in the morning with a definite purpose in her heart to get the matter over with at once. She would start right away and do anything else could possibly help her. If any more people came and tried to turn her from her purpose she would become bewildered again.

She called up the station and cancelled her reservations on a train that left the city a little after six o'clock. She took her check book and a few dollars, carefully stowed away, she had been taught to do when traveling. She left no address with anyone. She did not want anyone to find her after her to try and hinder her in whatever she should do.

So at last she was on her way, quite worn out with the turn of her decision and her preparations.

confusion. Then she turned suddenly to the taxi and nodded brightly.

"It's all right," she said. "They still live here!"

"But they probably won't for long," added the other girl grimly.

"Oh, are you going to move? Then I'm glad I came before you did, for I might have had trouble finding you."

"Yes," said the other girl unsmiling, "you probably would." Then she motioned toward a single wooden chair in the middle of the room. "Won't you sit down? We still have one chair left, though I believe Ted is going to take it to the pawnshop this afternoon. There isn't any heat here. Will you take it?" There was something contemptuous in the tone of this hostile sister. Marjorie gave her a quick troubled glance.

"Are you really my sister?" "I suppose I must be," said the other girl listlessly as if it didn't matter in the least, "there's your picture up there on the mantel. Maybe you'll recognize that. If you had waited till afternoon that would probably have been gone too."

"You know, I didn't even know I had a sister until day before yesterday!"

The other looked at her with hard unbelieving eyes. "That's odd, isn't it? How did that come about?"

"No one told me," she answered sadly.

"Oh, yes? Then how did you find out?" "I found a letter—from Mother—that is from my adopted mother after she died. She left a letter to tell me about my people."

"You mean Mr. and Mrs. Wetherill are both dead?" The tone was incredulous.

"Yes, I am alone in the world now, except for you—my own family."

The other girl's face grew hard and bitter now.

"Oh!" she said shortly. "I won't

The Leader was published last Thursday morning, and by 1 o'clock the same day, a local person read the article in the paper and immediately notified Mr. Hobbs that he knew where his typewriter was.

No Soil, but Presto! Cucumbers!

"Everyone could have a garden in his bathtub," says Miss Teddy Price of Abernathy, amateur biologist at Texas State College for Women, as she points proudly to her prize specimens in a "Water Culture" experiment. This cucumber and tomato vine are two of a whole greenhouse full of plants and vegetables which have been cultivated without soil, in clean sand and a chemical solution. With the aid of Miss Willie T. Hize, head of the biology department, Teddy prepared a culture solution containing potassium, calcium, magnesium, nitrogen, sulphur, iron, borax, copper and zinc, a line-up which seems a far cry from plain dirt. Plants can be grown in water tanks, but the sand gives support, and solution is applied to it at regular intervals. Water culture is now used in a small way commercially.

LITTLEFIELD HATCHERY

HERE IN BUSINESS 12 YEARS

ACTIVITIES IN SPOTLIGHT SCHOOLS FOR NEXT FEW WEEKS

second year, the county championship, the local girls have only two defeats behind them this year, so they have a very good chance to win the district. The girls have been winners of all the tournaments entered in this section, and after practice games, and splendid training by Coach Lillian Baker, they go to Ropesville with the determination of placing first in the district. The school will place participants in three events in the speech tournament to be held at Tahoka Friday and Saturday. The one act play to be presented by Littlefield is "Pearls." The characters for this play are Melvin Thornton, Reba Carroll Neely, Happy Dow and Byron Lindley, Pat Boone and Marguerite Brannen will represent the school in extemporaneous speaking. The school will also enter the typing tournament, but no team has been chosen. Miss Mary Perkins will accompany the group to Tahoka. The girls' volleyball team will enter the tourney at Whitarral March 4. Morgan Layfield, coach, stated, "We have the best chances in volleyball this year because we have all of last year's team with the exception of one player." They won in a game with Whitarral Tuesday night.

About 35 boys have started practicing in track, Coach Bill Sanders reported. They are all in good shape, and most of them are veterans from last year's track teams. Maxie McKnight, Rip Elms, Ed Anderson and Dewey Connell will be heard about again, after the football and basketball seasons. Then the Band Clinic - "The greatest thing that has happened to Littlefield schools in years," Supt. F. A. Hemphill declared. With reservations made for more than 400 students from surrounding towns, March 3 will be red letter day at the local high school. D. C. Wiley, instructor of Texas Tech band, will lead members at the clinic in an effort to improve high school band music.

Tennis is attracting boys and girls, and several good teams are practicing for the county meet. Principal Hobbs stated that a greater per cent of the school students attended the special showing of "Huckleberry Finn," at the Palace theatre Tuesday morning, than ever before. Approximately 1,000 students attended from the three schools, in the afternoon, students were brought in busses to see the picture from Fieldon, Hart Camp, Bula, Whitarral and Spade.

Miss Sue Brannen will take debate teams to Levelland Saturday to enter a tournament. The Littlefield teams and their sponsor attended the debate institute at Austin recently, and with four hundred Texas high school boy and girl debaters, gathered for the event at the University of Texas to hear big time speakers argue the retail tax question and to match their own verbal broadsides. And - Last but by no means least - are the projects of the vocational agriculture boys. Three boys, Luther Cunningham, Wesley Pigg and F. H. Glasener, have registered sows and litters that are worthwhile and interesting projects. W. H. Frasier, instructor, reported that he would take contestants to the Texas Tech judging contest in Lubbock Saturday and teams will enter in the following contests: cotton classing, dairy products, meat ton classing, dairy products, meat identification, and dairy cattle judging. Approximately 700 boys from the South Plains schools will enter.

McCORMICK BROS. TO HAVE OPENING OF NEW STORE NEXT SATURDAY

McCormick Bros. announce that they have completed stocking and equipping their large new downtown store and will hold their opening Saturday. As previously announced in the Leader, the new cut rate auto parts store is located in the new Replin building on Phelps avenue, next door to the Littlefield Furniture company. The new store will carry a very complete line of automobile parts and accessories. McCormick Bros. have built up a very large following in Littlefield and trade territory in the more than 10 years that they have been in business. Last year their big drive-in station and store on highway 7 was enlarged and a modern lubritorium was added to the other service facilities. The retail store on Phelps avenue will be operated in addition to the old established business on the highway.

ONE VARIETY OF COTTON SEED TO BE DISCUSSED AT FARMERS MEET MARCH 1

The discussion of one variety of cotton seed for this section will be the feature of a meeting of farmers to be held at the local high school next Wednesday night, March 1. This meeting is sponsored by the Lamb County Farmers Cooperative association, a new organization formed, when a group of farmers purchased the Hardberger-Cassel farm. All farmers are urged to be present at this meeting, whether you are a member of the association or not, it was reported Wednesday.

The organization of the Lamb County Farmers Cooperative association was completed last week, and the charter has been returned from Austin. About 140 farmers with 11,000 acres of cotton in the county have been subscribed to the organization. Officers elected recently were R. L. Campbell, president, J. F. Albus, vice-president; W. W. Boren, secretary; and Roy Byers, Albert Neuenachwander, Oren Kirk, and P. P. Isaac were elected other members of the board of directors.

WORK ON LEVELLAND REFINERY TO GET UNDERWAY IN NEAR FUTURE

Actual construction on the refinery in Levelland will start within the very near future, according to reports this week. Several men who will be employed in the installation of the equipment have moved to that city, and will soon start assembling the machinery. Officials of the Motor Fuels Corporation in Fort Worth, last week-end completed contracts, and the erection of the refinery at Levelland will cost approximately $185,000. A pipe line is to be constructed to the refinery by the Plains Pipe Line corporation to serve the Hockley and Cochran county wells and any others that might be opened in this sector. The refinery will have a capacity of 3,000 barrels daily.

Telephone No. 27 for office supplies, office forms.

The site for the refinery, which consists of 20 acres of land about a mile and one half west of town on the north side of the Santa Fe railway was purchased in December. Encouraged by the location of the Motor Fuels corporation refinery, the Plains pipeline and the certainty of the Hockley-Cochran oil fields, Levelland seems destined to pass through a period of the greatest building activity in its history. J. P. Shofner, proprietor of the Modern Food store and also of the M. & M. Implement company, is reported having plans drawn for a large business structure to be east of the Phillips Service station. W. B. Blankenship, owner of the Wallace Theatres, made application last week for a permit for the construction of another large structure there that will involve an expenditure of approximately $12,000, it was reported.

Levelland Pioneer Passes Away After Six Months' Illness

Funeral services were held in Levelland Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Joe Hollan, 61, aunt of Mrs. Edna Murray, who has been in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Edmonds several months. Interment was in the Levelland cemetery. A heart attack was fatal to Mrs. Hollan Friday morning, after an illness since August. She is survived by her husband, one daughter and three sons.

LITTLEFIELD HATCHERY

"RIGHT HERE IN BUSINESS 12 YEARS"

CITY OF ACTIVITIES IN SPOTLIGHT LOCAL SCHOOLS FOR NEXT FEW WEEKS

Second year, the county championship, the local girls have only two defeats behind them this year, so they have a very good chance to win the district. The girls have been winners of all the tournaments entered in this section, and after practice games, and splendid training by Coach Lillian Baker, they go to Ropesville with the determination of placing first in the district. The school will place participants in three events in the speech tournament to be held at Tahoka Friday and Saturday. The one act play to be presented by Littlefield is "Pearls." The characters for this play are Melvin Thornton, Reba Carroll Neely, Happy Dow and Byron Lindley. Pat Boone and Marguerite Brannen will represent the school in extemporaneous speaking. The school will also enter the typing tournament, but no team has been chosen. Miss Mary Perkins will accompany the group to Tahoka. The girls volleyball team will enter the tourney at Whitharral March 4. Morgan Layfield, coach, stated, "We have the best chances in volleyball this year because we have all of last year's team with the exception of one player." They won in a game with Whitharral Tuesday night. About 35 boys have started practicing in track, Coach Bill Sanders reported. They are all in good shape, and most of them are veterans from last year's track teams. Maxie McKnight, Rip Elms, Ed Anderson and Dewey Connell will be heard about again, after the football and basketball seasons. Then the Band Clinic — "The greatest thing that has happened to Littlefield schools in years," Supt. F. A. Hemphill declared. With reservations made for more than 400 students from surrounding towns, March 3 will be red letter day at the local high school. D. C. Wiley, instructor of Texas Tech band, will lead members at the clinic in an effort to improve high school band music. Tennis is attracting boys and girls, and several good teams are practicing for the county meet. Principal Hobbs stated that a greater per cent of the school students attended the special showing of "Huckleberry Finn," at the Palace theatre Tuesday morning, than ever before. Approximately 1,000 students attended from the three schools. In the afternoon, students were brought in busses to see the picture from Fieldton, Hart Camp, Bula, Whitharral and Spade. Miss Sue Braanen will take debate teams to Levelland Saturday to enter a tournament. The Littlefield teams and their sponsor attended the debate institute at Austin recently, and with four hundred Texas high school boys and girl debaters, gathered for the event at the University of Texas to hear big time speakers argue the retail tax question and to match their own verbal broadsides. And — Last but by no means least — are the projects of the vocational agriculture boys. Three boys, Luther Cunningham, Wesley Piggs and F. H. Glazener, have registered sows and litters that are worthwhile and interesting projects. W. H. Frazier, instructor, reported that he would take contestants to the Texas Tech judging contest in Lubbock Saturday and teams will enter in the following contests: cotton classing, dairy products, meat identification, and dairy cattle judging. Approximately 700 boys from the South Plains schools will enter.

STOP! YOU'RE DRIVING ME CRAZY

I LOVE TO SEE THE CHILDREN HAVE A GOOD TIME

Which KIND OF MOTHER ARE YOU

Do you "fly all to pieces" when the children are noisy, or when the vegetables burn, or when the jelly won't "jell"? Some mothers are just naturally cranky. Some mothers are cross and impatient because they are nervous.

If you are a natural crank, DR. MILES NERVINE won't do much for you. If you are irritable because your nerves are overtaxed, DR. MILES NERVINE will do a lot for you. Do you suffer from Sleeplessness, Restlessness, Nervous Irritability, Nervous Headache, or Nervous Indigestion? Do you worry over trifles, start at sudden noises? Overtaxed nerves will cause all these troubles, and DR. MILES NERVINE will help you to relax those overtaxed nerves.

Why don't you give it a trial on our guarantee of satisfaction or your money back? Your druggist can tell you about DR. MILES NERVINE. He has been selling it ever since he started clerking in a drug store. Dr. Miles NERVINE comes in two forms—Liquid and Effervescent Tablets.

Encouraged by the location of the Motor Fuels corporation refinery, the Plains pipeline and the certainty of the Hockley-Cochran oil fields, Levelland seems destined to pass through a period of the greatest building activity in its history. W. B. Blankenship, owner of the Wallace Theatre, made application last week for a permit for the construction of another large structure there that will involve an expenditure of approximately $12,000, it was reported.

WORK ON LEVELLAND REFINERY TO GET UNDERWAY IN NEAR FUTURE

Actual construction on the refinery in Levelland will start within the very near future, according to reports this week. Several men who will be employed in the installation of the equipment have moved to that city, and will soon start assembling the machinery. Officials of the Motor Fuels Corporation in Fort Worth, last week-end completed contracts, and the erection of the refinery at Levelland will cost approximately $185,000. A pipe line is to be constructed to the refinery by the Plains Pipe Line corporation to serve the Hockley and Cochran county polls and any others that might be opened in this sector. The refinery will have a capacity of 3,000 barrels daily. The site for the refinery, which consists of 20 acres of land about a mile and one half west of town on the north side of the Santa Fe railway was purchased in December. Encouraged by the location of the Motor Fuels corporation refinery, the Plains pipeline and the certainty of the Hockley-Cochran oil fields, Levelland seems destined to pass through a period of the greatest building activity in its history. ### Affidavits Must Be Signed by Workers Under WPA and NYA

San Antonio, Feb. 20.—Affidavits of citizenship must be executed by all persons receiving employment under the terms of the emergency relief appropriation act of 1938 if their employment is to be continued after March 5, it was announced today by State Works Progress Administrator H. P. Drought. Affecting an estimated 147,000 persons in Texas, the citizenship regulations written into the act by congress requires the execution of affidavits by all WPA and NYA project workers and student aid employes as well as supervisory and administrative personnel. In releasing instructions on methods of obtaining affidavits, Drought expressed the hope that it will be possible for destitute workers employed in the works program to obtain notary service without cost. WPA administrative employes who are notaries public will be relieved of regular duties to the fullest possible extent so that they may devote their time to notarial work. WPA administrative officers are seeking the cooperation of counties, cities and other sponsoring agencies to assist in providing free notary service to project workers. Project employes who lose working time in order to obtain citizenship affidavits will be given an opportunity to make up the time lost, Drought said.

FRAME GARDEN SUGGESTIONS

By MISS OLETA COLE

Farm Security, U. S. Department of Agriculture

Frame garden once was only early greens in the spring, now being called the year garden for farm security in the Texas Panhandle. Efficient moisture, drifting burning winds, hail, frost, and dust storms have caused farmers to select a small soil to provide vegetables families' use. Making the frame garden, separate plot that is on the side from shifting sand and dimensions of the garden should be four or five feet wide and any desired length. Four or five feet wide is suggested for the convenience of cultivating and harvesting from each side.

The side walls of the frame garden should be 12 inches in height. Eighteen inches high garden walls have proven expensive by having the cover broken or torn by the weight of dogs or chickens jumping on the frame. Scrap lumber, old tin, or any available material may be used for the side walls. One by 12 inch planks nailed together to make the side walls and wire, or 1 by 1 inch strips nailed across the frame every five feet to support the cover, is suggested. Tow sacks, cheese cloth, muslin cloth, cotton sacks, or any available material is used for the covering. The covering is tacked down on one side and some means of holding the covering down on the ends and other side provided—an iron is preferred. The cover is used from planting time until the harvest is over. It is rolled back only for weeding, watering, or vegetable gathering.

The soil over which the frame is to be placed should be fertilized with well rotted manure and spaded up to a depth of 10 inches or more. If the garden is to be sub-irrigated, the tile should be placed first. A trench 10 inches deep is used, allowing five or six inches of soil above the tile for vegetable planting.

We have found No. 2 cans (tin) very successful tile. Both ends are removed from the cans. They are placed end to end to insure an even distribution of water. The end is left in the last can so as to back up the water. Fourteen inches of an old inner tube may be tied around the first can, and this tube left protruding for the water entrance into the cans. Four or five thicknesses of newspaper are placed over the intersection of the cans to keep dirt from slipping into the cans.

The garden should be sprinkled daily until the vegetables have a growth of two or three inches. Then should be sub-irrigated once a week. If the garden is not sub-irrigated, watering may be done from a hose or a sprinkling pot, and should be sprinkled daily, or kept damp.

The vegetables rows are planted five to eight inches apart, being planted the narrow way to make cultivation easier. If a leafy vegetable is planted in the first row, then a root vegetable should be planted in the next row, etc. We find the leafy vegetable matures more quickly and is used first, leaving room for the root plant to develop.

As soon as the vegetables are used, rows are replanted, so that vegetables may be had the year round.

"We feel that the organization of a junior chamber of commerce chapter in Littlefield, will encourage such organizations in the other towns of this district and will bring about a closer relationship of West Texas."

In a letter received from T. L. Fontaine, president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, the local organization was urged to become affiliated with the State and National chapters, and Mr. Bartley stated that in the very near future the Littlefield group would become associated with these chapters.

The new organization will work in strict harmony with the Chamber of Commerce and supplement the older group's activities by adopting projects for the promotion of sports, recreational activities, park improvements and other functions that the junior organizations have been most successful in, throughout the country.

Meeting dates have been decided on as the second and fourth Tuesday nights in each month, at 8 o'clock. Next meeting is scheduled for Feb. 28.

Ford Exhibit Dramatizes Basic Industries

CATTLE raising is only one of the basic industries which contribute to the manufacture of modern motor cars. Pictured is one of the dramatic animated sequences to be seen on the huge "Ford Cycle of Production" in the Ford Exposition at the New York World's Fair. This spectacular exhibit, designed to show how Ford cars come from the earth via the factory, consists of a huge turntable, 100 feet in diameter and rising in tiers to a height of 30 feet. Grouped on these tiers are 87 exhibits showing the sequence of processes used to convert 27 basic raw materials into motor car parts. Many of these come from the farm. Leather plays an important part in the manufacture of motor cars. Hides are used for upholstery and in making hide-goods. Half million square feet from 30,000 cattle are each million cars. ## International Crisis Foreseen by British Leaders

The possibility of a new international crisis at an early date is foreseen by British leaders, and is also watched with interest by President Roosevelt.

While democracies and dictators took to the Spanish nationalist at Burgos their fight for European domination — with Britain and France bearing terms of the world's surrender — there were new danger signs:

Italy was said in informed circles in London to have called up 150,000 reservists and to be planning to have another 15,000 with the army "by the spring." The report was confirmed in Rome.

France took artillery to her key base at Djibouti after re-occupying a strategic Red Sea area in Italy under a 1935 accord which Italy subsequently denounced. The British government, reliable sources disclosed, was worried by information it had received that German army officers had been attached to Italian garrisons in Libya. It also was said to be aware of important troop movements in Italy and to be seeking to establish how they were "abnormal."

In Paris, Spanish government officials said the Madrid government authorized Britain and France to negotiate its surrender with only one condition—that there would be reprisals against former government fighters and sympathizers.

The Italian foreign affairs Review Relazioni Internazionali warned that Italian troops in Spain would go to the strategic Mediterranean island of Minorca or anywhere else "the common interests of Italy and Spain demand it."

France has been reported ready to counter any Italian occupation of Minorca with a military move against Spanish Morocco. The Italian Review's article was interpreted as a warning that Italy might move against the island if Britain and France were to make any military move to withdraw nationalist Spain out of Premier Mussolini's orbit.

Work Gets Underway To Reduce Cotton Surplus in U. S.

Work got underway Thursday by house agricultural sub-committee in a program to reduce the nation's 14,500,000 bales of surplus cotton to a normal level without disturbing the present production control system.

Representative Fulmer (D-S. C.), chairman of the sub-committee, said the discussion revolved around a proposal to impound 10,000,000 bales for use for five specific purposes over a three-year period.

The 4,500,000 bales left would represent a "normal surplus," he added.

Fulmer proposed that 2,000,000 bales of the impounded cotton be set aside for each of the following purposes:

1—For relief, to be manufactured into or exchanged for cloth to be made into garments in WPA sewing rooms.

2—For cotton crop insurance, for which he has already introduced a bill.

3—For military needs of the army and navy, in view of the armament expansion program.

4—For sale on the open market in such quantities and at such times as not to interfere with the marketing of new cotton.

5—For subsidizing its use as a substitute for products manufactured from imported fibres such as jute.

Fulmer explained the proceeds

Designed with the simplicity and good taste that children's clothes must have, this dress (8070) has little grown-up touches that the girls like—that pointed, basque-like waistline, and buttons down the front. Gingham, calico, percale and pique are excellent fabrics for 8070. Later on, in the fall, it will be charming in challis or thin wool—navy, dark red, or a warc plaid.

Pattern No. 8070 is designed for sizes: 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 6 requires 1 5/8 yards of 39 inch material. Contrasting collar and cuffs take 3-8 yard.

Pattern 8279—Imagine yourself in this, made of black or jewel-tone velveteen, and an old-fashioned, new-fashioned locket at your throat! Doesn't the mere mental picture bring a sense of satisfaction?

Either for daytime, in challis or wool crepe, or for afternoon, in velveteen or taffeta, this dress is just as smart as it is easy to make. If you make it of velveteen, omit the rows of trimming.

However, Mr. Peterson stated, the farmers there are receiving very little assistance from the government.

Season of Lent

Season of Lent, the time of fasting, of self-denial, and of penance in memory of Christ's 40 days fast, has been ushered in the Sacred Heart church as well as in all the Catholic churches throughout the world. On Ash Wednesday (Feb. 22) when the priest touched the foreheads of the faithful with blessed ashes saying: "Remember man that thou art dust and that unto dust thou shalt return."

This season of penance goes back to the apostolic days of the church. Christ, who had no sin, fasted, and we sinful mortals are bound to fast or to do some sort of penance.

More time is given to good works, to prayer, and to meditation on Christ's sufferings.

Dances, parties and all loud riotous feasting are forbidden.

With the words of L. M. Lindemann we call to you.

"Come to Calvary's holy mountain, sinners ruined by the fall; Here a pure and healing fountain Flows to you, to me, to all; In a full perpetual tide, Opened when our Savior died."

These services will be held every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The following are the dates and topics for these services:

"Outstanding Sins in the Passion Story"

Feb. 26--"Covetousness." March 5--"Hypocrisy." March 12--"Denial." March 19--"Expediency." March 26--"Indifference."

April 2--"Fanatical Rejection of the Savior." April 7--"Blasphemy." (Good Friday).

April 9--"Christ Risen Victorious" (Easter).

At all our rallies, as at regular services, we urge people to give their hearts to God, and live the Christ-like life. You are invited to bring your lunch and enjoy the day with us.

"JESSE JAMES" STARRING TYRONE POWER TO BE SHOWN AT PALACE SATURDAY MIDNIGHT, SUNDAY, MONDAY

The most romantic outlaw in the history of America, the desperado whose daring colored a whole era and endowed it with the title of the "Serious Seventies"—the man who invented bank holdups and introduced train robberies—has been brought to the screen at last in Darryl F. Zanuck's production, "Jesse James," the 20th Century-Fox technicolor epic, starring Tyrone Power, Henry Fonda, Nancy Kelly and Randolph Scott...

One of the most difficult problems facing producer Darryl F. Zanuck, who had already shown his good judgement by casting Tyrone Power in the title role, was to ascertain a fairly accurate picture of what Jesse James was really like, and then to present that picture with as much authenticity as possible, taking care neither to whitewash nor blacken the character of the man.

Two years of research into the life and times of this fascinating character before the actual production of the film was begun.

Henry King, the distinguished director of such Zanuck hits as "Lloyd's of London," "In Old Chicago" and "Alexander's Ragtime Band," was entrusted with the megaphone, and made a trip into the Ozark region to select actual locales. The little town of Pineville, Mo., was finally chosen, and it was here that a vast company, including, besides Power, Fonda, Miss Kelly and Scott, Henry Hull, Slim Sumnersville, J. Edward Bromberg, Brian Donlevy, John Carradine, Donald Meek, John Russell and Jane Darwell, travelled to shoot this gripping photoplay.

Pep Paragraphs

Due to the fact that the reporter didn't gather much news he decided to write a little about our Pep Community band.

True to its record of recent years the youthful but progressive Pep Community band continues this season to acquire music, members and popularity. Besides a number of new marches the organization has recently purchased and rehearsed several popular dance selections and cowboy ballads.

A campaign for membership drew Lewis Owen, an alto horn player and veteran musician, and Alvin R. Gerik, a promising young trumpeter, into the band fold. The total number of musicians now active with the group is 28. The band is concentrating at present upon preparations for several scheduled appearances in the near future, and in addition to this it appears monthly at the Pep Community club meetings every first Friday night.

Several of its members plan to attend the coming band meet at Littlefield on March 3 to observe the technique and finish of some of the junior musical organizations of this section; and here let me add that the Pep Community band has one of the best directors in this part of the county, Gordon Saunders, coming here from Dubuque, Iowa. He also had several years of musical training abroad.

Mrs. A. Urbonszyk and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jungman and family of Munday visited in the home of W. T. Jungman.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Roberts and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Eudy, all of Oklahoma Plate, visited in the home of L. L. Hill and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Owen and daughter, Carol, and Gordon Saunders were business visitors in Lubbock Saturday.

Miss Alice Frerich of Paducah spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. John Frueh.

Mr. John Kubocok made a business trip to College Station last Monday.

Walter Lupton and sister, Laurine, spent the week-end in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lupton, at Shallowater.

Mrs. Zelma Hancock of Dallas visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Burt.

Walter Lupton and Ray Gerik made a business trip to Morton the past week.

HELP KIDNEYS To Get Rid of Acid and Poisonous Waste Your kidneys help to keep you well by constantly filtering waste matter from the blood. If your kidneys get functionally deranged and fail to remove excess impurities, there may be poisoning of the whole system and body-wide distress. Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be a warning of some kidney or bladder disturbance. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out. In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. "JESSE JAMES" STARRING TYRONE POWER TO BE SHOWN AT PALACE SATURDAY MIDNIGHT, SUNDAY, MONDAY

The most romantic outlaw in the history of America, the desperado whose daring colored a whole era and endowed it with the title of the "Serious Seventies"—the man who invented bank holdups and introduced train robberies—has been brought to the screen at last in Darryl F. Zanuck's production, "Jesse James," the 20th Century-Fox technicolor epic, starring Tyrone Power, Henry Fonda, Nancy Kelly and Randolph Scott, which opens at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, continuing through Sunday and Monday.

One of the most difficult problems facing producer Darryl F. Zanuck, who had already shown his good judgement by casting Tyrone Power in the title role, was to ascertain a fairly accurate picture of what Jesse James was really like, and then to present that picture with as much authenticity as possible, taking care neither to whitewash nor blacken the character of the man.

Two years of research into the life and times of this fascinating character before the actual production of the film was begun.

Henry King, the distinguished director of such Zanuck hits as "Lloyds of London," "In Old Chicago" and "Alexander's Ragtime Band," was entrusted with the megaphone, and made a trip into the Ozark region to select actual locales. The little town of Pineville, Mo., was finally chosen, and it was here that a vast company, including, besides Power, Fonda, Miss Kelly and Scott, Henry Hull, Slim Summerville, J. Edward Bromberg, Brian Donlevy, John Carradine, Donald Meek, John Russell and Jane Darwell, travelled to shoot this gripping photoplay.

Pep Paragraphs

Due to the fact that the reporter didn't gather much news he decided to write a little about our Pep Community band.

True to its record of recent years the youthful but progressive Pep Community band continues this season to acquire music, members and popularity. Besides a number of new marches the organization has recently purchased and rehearsed several popular dance selections and cowboy ballads.

A campaign for membership drew Lewis Owen, an alto horn player and veteran musician, and Alvin R. Gerik, a promising young trumpeter, into the band fold. The total number of musicians now active with the group is 20. The band is concentrating at present upon preparations for several scheduled appearances in the near future, and in addition to this it appears monthly at the Pep Community club meetings every first Friday night.

Several of its members plan to attend the coming band meet at Littlefield on March 3 to observe the technique and finish of some of the junior musical organizations of this section; and here let me add that the Pep Community band has one of the best directors in this part of the county, Gordon Saunders, coming here from Dubque, Iowa. He also had several years of musical training abroad.

Mrs. A. Urbonczyk and song and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jungman and family of Munday visited in the home of W. T. Jungman.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Roberts and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Eudy, all of Oklahoma Flats, visited in the home of L. L. Hill and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Owen and daughter, Carol, and Gordon Saunders were business visitors in Lubbock Saturday.

Miss Alice Frerich of Poducah spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. John Frulich.

Mr. John Kubocok made a business trip to College Station last Monday.

Walter Lupton and sister, Laurine, spent the week-end in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lupton, at Shallowater.

Mrs. Zelma Hancock of Dallas visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Burt.

Walter Lupton and Ray Gerik made a business trip to Morton the past week.

Dirickson Falls In State Gloves

REACHES SEMI-FINALS ROUND; BOWS TO KOCK

Eight State Champs Are Named in Climax Monday Night

West Texas in general was well represented in the third annual Golden Gloves tournament at Fort Worth Friday, Saturday and Sunday, but ill fortune in the form of right and left-handed licks laid Lubbock district teams low. After some of the boys carried rabid foot luck, the Lubbock lads won the toughest competition in the tournament, and only one of a team of seven, Herman Dirickson, reached the semi-final round. Dirickson, winner of the light-heavyweight titles in the Littlefield invitation and Lubbock district tournaments won himself a technical knockout victory in the afternoon session over Jesse Harcrow, winner in the Brownwood district. In his semi-final appearance Saturday night, Dirickson was removed by Delmar Kock of Amarillo, the same favorite who had decided the pre-tournament favorite, Colebert of Houston in an early fight. Dirickson was completely outclassed by the older, heavier, experienced Amarillo lad, but stayed up until the gong sounding the first round. As the fight went off, Dirickson went under a hard right punch to the body. The Littlefield boy recovered quickly, but did not come back for the second round. It was a wise decision for him.

"RIGHT HERE IN BUSINESS 12 YEARS"

Curtis Lebow of Abernathy, winner of three previous tournaments this year was loser Friday night in an unpopular decision to Yanez Yanez, Mexican, of Big Spring. It was the fifth appearance of a Lubbock fighter, the fourth defeat, all by decisions. Tommy Coats, featherweight, Pete Nachlinger, welterweight, and Kermit Woodriddle, middleweight, lost decisions to tournament favorites Thursday night, while James Stotts, lightweight, made his second appearance Saturday afternoon. Gorona, winner of the recent state "Diamond belt" championship and one of the most experienced boxers of the tournament, had Stotts clearly outclassed, but the Slaton lad showed a world of courage in hanging with the Galveston champ through half the fight. Stotts stayed with the Mexican for a lively exchange of rights and lefts, finally staying down for the count after Corona jabbed with a hard right.

Harry Bell of Slaton fought a wise and courageous fight against the defending batamweight champion, Menchaca, Mexican of Port Arthur.

Two Amarillo fighters captured state gloves titles in the climaxing bouts Monday night, which proves that West Texas can still take the brilliant battling of the ring. Six other champs were named at the close of the annual mitt tossing at the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum in Fort Worth.

Winners in each weight division will represent Texas in the Tournament of Champions at Chicago next week.

Final results:
112-pound division: Harold Lawler, 107, Tyler, decisioned Ray Bumpers, 109, Houston (3).
118-pound division: T. B. Stanford, Fort Worth, decisioned Richard Menchaca, 117, Port Arthur and Galveston (3).

Heavyweight division: Bob Owens, 216, Amarillo, knocked out Pat Thornhill, 174, Fort Worth (2).

175-pound division: Delmar Koch, 170, Amarillo, scored technical knockout over Hugh Pitts, 174, Fort Worth (2).

Eddie Russey, 172, Wichita Falls, outpointed R. M. Robertson, 126, Pampa (3).

135-pound: Morris Corona, 133, Port Arthur, representing Galveston, outpointed Allen McCorvey, 136, Dallas (3).
147-pounds: George Porter, 146, Dallas, outpointed Dood Massey, 147 Amarillo (3).

Sports writers declared that the state tournament drew the finest amateur boxers ever developed in Texas, and possibly one of the best squads in the South; and in recognition of the contestants' excellent boxing, the greatest crowds in Texas amateur boxing history saw the events which annually climaxed some two months of eliminations between more than 1,350 eager, husky, young athletes. And—don't forget that Littlefield had a part in all of this!

A three-room house has been completed for E. W. McNutt, on his farm two miles west of town. Higginbotham-Bartlett company furnished the materials.

Work was started this week on the remodeling of the Day and Night camp, on highway 7. More rooms will be added to the camp and the building will be completely re-stuccoed.

W. D. WATKINS ARRIVES HERE TO ASSIST MASON

New Official at Oil Plant Comes Here From Plainview

W. D. Watkins who for the past several years has been connected with the West Texas Cotton Oil Co. at their Plainview plant, has been appointed assistant manager of the Littlefield plant. Mr. Watkins arrived with his family last Monday and they have moved into the Dalmatian apartments.

In introducing his newly appointed assistant, Hub Mason, the general manager of the local branch, stated that Mr. Watkins was one of the best known cotton men on the Plains and already had a large number of friends in this section. Mrs. Watkins and little Miss Sue Watkins accompanied the new official of the oil plant.

Elliott Roosevelt Suggests Luxury Tax For Pension

Elliott Roosevelt recommended either a luxury or income tax to pay Texas' pension bill in his bi-weekly radio broadcast. At the same time he urged that the people of Texas be given an opportunity to vote on legalized horse racing, with means of paying for the social security program.

He said the horse racing and liquor referenda should be voted on with a full explanation of how much revenue is to be obtained therefrom. A 50 per cent of the net "take" at the tracks was recommended as the state's share from horse racing, the state participating heavily in profits from the sport, and to be allowed to express themselves on legalization of liquor by the drink in all areas where bottle sales are permitted now.

The president's son called his luxury tax that, he said, for want of a better term, it would be placed on all commodities except food products, clothing and drugs and would yield — on the basis of 2 per cent — between 20 and 25 million dollars annually.

Roosevelt said he favored a state income tax of one-half of one per cent on annual salaries from $1,000 to $5,000 and 1 per cent on higher brackets as a way of trying to correct a consumers' tax of $1,000,000,000 and it might be several times that amount.

"If a fraction of the money that would be taken from consumers by this bill could be taken as a processing tax, the present program would be much improved."

MORTON IS HOST TO BOY SCOUTS FRIDAY NIGHT

Last Friday night Morton was host to the Boy Scout troops of several surrounding communities and towns of this district including Whiteface, Pep, Levelland and Whitharral at a first aid contest sponsored by the health and safety departments of the council. Teams winning first and second places in these contests competed in a contest at Lubbock Saturday evening for the championship of the area which includes 20 counties of the South Plains and when several district teams were on hand for the final contest. H. P. Wood was named chairman for the occasion.

The yearly cost of accidents in the United States, including loss of wages, has been estimated by the National Safety Council at $3,700,000,000.

FATHERS, SONS IN JOINT BANQUET END SCOUT WEEK

100 Participate in Annual Feast American Legion Auxiliary Serves

Fathers and sons gathered around the festive board, at the Methodist church last Thursday night, celebrating the close of the most auspicious Boy Scout week that had ever been staged in Littlefield.

The theme of this year's banquet was — "Developing Comradship Between Man and Boy," and over 100 men and boys participated. The banquet arrangements were in charge of Dr. Wm. N. Orr, district chairman; and the Littlefield Scoutmasters Bill Street, Eugene Latimer, J. E. Chisholm and F. W. Selfridge. J. G. West Jr. officiated as scoutmaster and proved a witty and graceful leader. Joe Hutchinson of Sudan, was the speaker of the evening. His subject was "Real Scouting as Related to Comradship." Mr. Hutchinson delivered some messages which sunk deep into the consciousness of all the fathers and sons present.

Little Ray Latimer played two solos on the piano. The little chap shows promise of a real musician. The treat of the evening was Charles Heathman, who has a voice of rare quality and strength. His songs made everyone feel that the banquet was most worth-while, and they felt that they were well rewarded for braving the inclement weather.

Pryor Hammons was called upon to delineate "A Father's Ideas." He delegated the task to F. O. Holes and Herb Teal. Pat Boone, Jr., presented the son's viewpoint in the relations between fathers and sons.

An intelligence quiz contest between fathers and sons, resulted in ignominious defeat of the elders. At 10 p. m. taps sounded and the entire gathering rose and joined in the closing song.
