

Amendments Up To Voters in Next Tuesday's Election Poll to Decide Good Road Amendments And Two Others

Texas voters will decide next Tuesday whether they want Amendment Number Three, popularly known as "Good Roads Amendment," when it comes up for ratification with two others.

Although it is number three on the list, probably no other amendment has created as much interest and discussion in many a year.

The first on the list, if ok'd by the people, will instruct the Legislature to pay for a building constructed at the Tarleton Agriculture College.

Number two, if the voters want it, will authorize the Legislature to provide for a retirement, disability and death compensation system for the officers and employees of the state and authorize the counties to provide such a system for their appointive officers and employees.

A fourth amendment creating a permanent land board will be submitted two days later. Due to a clerical error in transcribing the date of the election, it could not be held along with the others.

If passed, the good roads amendment will provide hard-surface roads, maintenance of school bus transportation, regardless of weather conditions. Better rural mail service, more work for Texas workmen, more safety roads, fewer traffic fatalities, wider distribution of manufactured products at less cost and increase the value of rural property.

Among other things the good roads amendment guarantees are: The use of motor vehicle registration fees and gasoline taxes for school and road purposes; constitutional allotment of one-fourth of the gasoline taxes to the schools; funds for securing the rights-of-way, construction, maintenance and policing of all public roadways; maintenance of county and road district roads; continuation of legal refunds on non-highway gasoline; present law of motor vehicle registration fees to counties; the ultimate construction of an adequate system of state and farm roads to meet the needs of the people of Texas.

The good roads amendment has the backing of Governor Coke Stevenson. In a statement issued for publication:

"From my study of road building problems as county judge, speaker of the House of Representatives, lieutenant governor, and governor, I am convinced that the good roads amendment should be adopted on November fifth."

Similar statements have been issued by Governor-Nominate Beauford Jester, and John S. Redditt, chairman, Texas Highway Commission. Other endorsements have come from nominees for state offices, heads of county organizations, legislators and former governors.

Two Men Seriously Burned in Spraying Johnson Grass

Two men were seriously burned Tuesday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock at the A. C. Chesher farm, about two and a half miles west of town, where they were spraying for the purpose of killing Johnson grass.

Mr. West sustained burns about his hands and legs and up to his chest, and was admitted to the Littlefield Hospital suffering second degree burns.

R. L. Thompson sustained second degree burns also on his arms from the top of his feet, and is a patient at Payne-Shotwell Hospital, where hospital attendants report he is doing well as can be expected.

According to Mr. West, he and Mr. Thompson had each a hose attached to a pump, located on a truck, and were spraying to kill Johnson grass. He started to take part of the hose off, when he noticed it was smoking, and tried to smother the flame and it immediately turned into a blaze of fire catching onto his clothing and that of Mr. Thompson. Mr. West walked to his home, and Mr. Thompson followed. Mrs. West rushed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J.

Pat Boone Endorses Amendment No. 3

Pat Boone, chairman of the good roads committee for Lamb County, in an interview Wednesday stated that he was strongly in favor of Amendment No. 3, which will be voted on November 5. His reasons for favoring this amendment are that it sets aside one cent out of every four cents for the benefit of the schools; it also sets aside a portion of the gasoline tax for farm-to-market roads, and school bus routes.

Mr. Boone also stated that: "I feel like in these new counties out here, where roads are needed so bad, an aid to our schools are needed—I feel like this, along with other good benefits of this amendment, will be of great help to this section of the state in the future."

The Littlefield Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star was accorded an outstanding honor in the election of Pat Boone of this city at the Grand Chapter of Texas last week, to the office of associate grand patron, which is the next to the highest office a man may hold in the Eastern Star of the state.

Mrs. Boone, who has been serving as grand chaplain but whose term has expired, was elected a member of the jurisprudence committee at Grand Chapter.

A large attendance is reported at the session.

Littlefield Chapter is especially proud of the fact that, although Mr. Boone had three opponents, of the 2343 votes cast he received 1273, or 101 more than was necessary to win the election. It was necessary that he receive 1172 votes to win.

Mr. and Mrs. Boone are both outstanding personalities, whose service to the city, county and state in which they live is priceless. They are both recognized as outstanding workers in all church, civic, club and patriotic undertakings for the progress of this section or the benefit of mankind.

The session, at which the Littlefield Chapter was well represented, opened Monday night, and continued throughout Thursday evening.

Those attending from here were: Mr. and Mrs. Boone, Mrs. G. M. Shaw, Mrs. J. D. Dodgen, Marvin Keefer, Mrs. Pryor Hammons, Mrs. Andrew McGeehe, Mrs. Addie Hewitt and Mrs. William Rumback.

The local party left here Saturday, October 19, some of the group returning Friday and the remainder Saturday morning.

Besides Mr. Boone, other officers elected were: Mrs. Hattie Lucille Dowell of Austin, worthy grand matron; Frank R. Phillips of Canyon, worthy grand patron; associate grand matron, Mrs. Cheba Dewees of Fort Worth; grand conductress, Mrs. Esther Baldwin of Wichita Falls; associate grand conductress, Mrs. Mabel Harle of Part Arthur; re-elected grand secretary, Mrs. Cora Posey of Arlington, Texas; re-elected grand treasurer, Miss Blanche Earl of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Boone are leaving Tuesday to attend the General Grand Chapter at Temple, Texas, which will convene November 11.

Ed Anderson Kills 30-Year-Old Elk In Colorado Hunt

Ed Anderson took time off last week to go up to Colorado and practice his trade on elk and deer, bringing home the carcass of a 30-year-old bull elk as evidence of his handi-craft.

A tag attached to his car showed that the old fellow had been turned loose in 1916. Mr. Anderson gave the tag to a Colorado game warden, who wanted to show it to his boss.

Obviously the "grandfather" elk had a secret of gumming his food which humans haven't discovered. He weighed over 1,000 pounds and didn't have a tooth in his mouth.

Mr. Anderson went to Colorado at invitation of his sons, Dr. Sidney, Bert and Edward Anderson, natives of Littlefield, who now reside at Alamosa, Colorado.

Besides the elk, Mr. Anderson killed a seven-point buck. Edward shot a two-pointer. Mr. Anderson brought all three back to Littlefield.

Thanks to Mr. Anderson, the Leader force will polish up their best store-bought teeth for a try at the old elk. Just in case we don't make it, the Littlefield butcher has given us some of the deer meat, so we won't go hungry that meal.

High School Students Tour Tucco Generating Plant

Littlefield High School physics and science students made an educational tour through the Tucco Southwestern Public Service plant Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Leo Duffey, principal of the High School, made arrangements through Hardy Shelby, local manager of the company.

During the war, according to Mr. Shelby, the plant was closed to every-one excepting company officials. These restrictions have now been lifted, and high school physics and science students are now permitted to

Knee Injury To Bench Brewster; Others Ailing

Conference Foe May Give Cats Plenty
Of Heartaches

R. L. Brewster will be out of the lineup Friday night with a twisted knee sustained in the Springlake game as the Wildcats travel to Abernathy to engage the Antelopes, winless in the conference so far.

In his place will be Charles Powell, 152-pound understudy, who shouldn't have too much trouble carrying out the right tackle duties, according to his practice performances.

The Cats may have more troubles than the statistics indicate they should have against the Antelopes. Coach J. S. Fikes was anything but happy Tuesday about the physical condition of his undefeated charges.

Besides the versatile Brewster, other mainstays will be haunted with minor injuries. Billy Sisson has a bruised rib, but it isn't serious enough to keep him out Friday night. Sabin Hendrickson was out of practice session Tuesday. He is expected to be ready to go against the Antelopes. So is Right End Jack Davis, who was also out of practice Tuesday with a bruised hip. A strained back kept Billy Arend on the sidelines.

Coach Fikes' worries were lightened a bit Tuesday by the return of Johnnie Srygley, second string quarterback, Srygley was injured in pre-season practice sessions and is just getting able to limber up a bit. He will be in there Friday to strengthen the field general's department.

Abernathy hasn't entered the conference win column yet, but they have three victories outside the conference against one defeat. Three other defeats have been conference games.

The Cats are eyeing the conference title this year and they go to Abernathy with the idea of adding another scalp to their collection before tackling Levelland, another conference foe, Tahoka and Sudan. Littlefield and Sudan are tied for first place at present, and from all indications they will be playing for the conference championship when they meet Nov. 29.

Sheriff Sam Hutson will accompany the boy to Gatesville at an early date.

Father of Mrs. Ira Woods Passes Away; Last Rites Friday

Dr. and Mrs. Ira Woods returned Sunday from attending the funeral of Mrs. Woods' father, G. W. Thomas, 77, of Chico, Texas, who passed away Thursday morning at 5 o'clock as the result of a heart ailment, at the home of a son, E. W. Thomas, at Fort Worth.

Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church, Chico, with Rev. B. F. Raits of Wichita Falls, Texas, former pastor of the family at Crafton, where the Thomas family had previously lived, officiating. Burial took place in the Chico cemetery.

Mr. Thomas had been in failing health for two years; he suffered a stroke of paralysis two years ago and a second slight stroke two weeks ago, which contributed to his death.

Deceased was born in Tennessee, and was brought to Texas by his parents when a small child. He had lived at Grafton, Texas, for over 70 years and had carried on farming operations until two years ago. He had not been known to ever be sick or consult a doctor up until that time.

Besides his daughter, Mrs. Woods, Mr. Thomas leaves surviving him his widow; a son, E. W. Thomas; and a brother, Oster Thomas, both of Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods left Littlefield Monday afternoon of last week in response to a message notifying them of Mrs. Woods' father's critical illness.

RELEASED FROM HOSPITAL

Clyde Akers, who underwent an appendicitis operation at the Payne-Sherwell Hospital early Tuesday morning of last week, is getting along nicely, and released from the hospital and went home Sunday.

Mr. Akers, employed in the mechanical department of the Lamb County Leader, will return to his duties soon.

Mrs. Akers, who is employed as bookkeeper at Dunlap's, is obliged to remain home a portion of the time with her husband.

Mrs. Akers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Spenser, of Dimmitt, and little son of Mr. and Mrs. Akers, who makes his home with his grandparents, spent Sunday here.

Here are three must "light rules for safer night-time driving — from the Texas Safety Association: One—see that all lights are kept working and in proper focus; two, hold down your speed so that you can stop within the beam for the other drivers you meet, whether they are as courteous or not. The owl and the pussycat can see better at night—but you can't so, SLOW DOWN!

TO ATTEND HEAVY APPLIANCE SCHOOL

E. E. Wesley, "Nig" Whitson and Charlie Brown, of the W-W Electric, are planning to attend the Hot Point appliance and household heavy appliance school, which is convening today (Thursday), Friday and Saturday at the Capitol Hotel, Amarillo.

Forty-three frequency modulation stations will broadcast educational radio programs in Texas, if the State Department of Education wins legislative approval of its plans.

The Texas Safety Association reminds motorists that the horn has but one purpose—to warn. An incessant screaming, tooting horn can confuse a driver so that he takes unnecessary chances and performs unreasonable acts. Perhaps the old Chinese philosopher who lived 5,000 years ago had something when he said, "The big voice betokens the small mind."

Ray Newsome One Of Distinguished Students at A. & M.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Newsom of Whitharral were recently notified by H. W. Barlow, dean of engineering in Texas A&M College, that their son, Horace Ray Newsome, had been listed as one of the distinguished students during the spring term of the 1945-46 session.

Dean Barlow said that a student who achieves such distinction must realize with considerable pride that he is accomplishing one of his major goals at this college.

Mr. Newsome also received a letter from M. C. Hughes, head of the electrical engineering department, commending his son, and reporting on the boy's progress as follows:

"The college has just published a Distinguished Student list for the spring semester of the 1945-46 session. It gives me a great deal of pleasure to be able to congratulate you and your son, whose name appears on this list.

"For your information, this distinguished rating is awarded to those students in the college who have made no grade less than 'C' and who have made a grade point average of 2.25 per credit hour. A straight 'A' record would be a 3.00 grade point average. Your son's average is 2.61.

"It sometimes seems that most of the time of the college instructors and officials is occupied with those students who are failing their work rather than those who are doing good work. We always take great pleasure each semester in singling out those few students who are doing fine work and notifying the parents of these boys concerning the excellent work they are doing. We hope you will encourage your son to continue his work in order that his name may appear on the Distinguished Student list each semester he is in college."

Santa Fe

..that's the System!

One shipper tells another: the way to get better on-time delivery of freight shipments to and from the West and Southwest is to ship Santa Fe.

Here are some of the reasons Santa Fe keeps freight service "on the advertised" (which is railroad language for "on-time performance"):

- ::: world's largest fleet of freight diesel locomotives.
- ::: more miles of double track than any other western road.
- ::: more miles of Centralized Traffic Control, which enables freight trains to meet and pass non-stop.
- ::: world's largest private telephone system, to keep shipments moving more swiftly.
- ::: increased yard capacity, and improvements along the line, such as curve straightening, new bridges, longer sidings.

It all adds up to getting what you want where and when you want it, when you ship Santa Fe.

Ship Santa Fe all the way

FANCY PANTS! . . . Six-months-old Nancy Sue Fohn, daughter of Mrs. L. J. Mothers in San Antonio took advantage of sale of hand towels, hence the labels, "Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, etc.," and in the case of twins there is always the "his" and her."

We'd Like a Telephone Harvest

If we could only reap a telephone harvest the way a farmer reaps a bumper crop! Then we could speedily provide telephones for everyone still waiting for service. Unfortunately, the "crops" which make up telephone service—switchboards, central office equipment, cable, etc.—do not grow on trees. Just as soon as we get our share of this much needed new equipment, you will enjoy the most modern and efficient telephone service available anywhere.

Launch Campaign For Farm-to-Market Roads and Highways

An important step toward establishing a sound financial policy to provide for the farm-to-market roads and primary highway needs of Texas was taken in Austin last week when the state's road leaders launched a campaign on behalf of the Good Roads Amendment to the Constitution.

Approximately 500 advocates of or-Nominee Beauford Jester, Lieut. or-nimonee Beauford Jester, Lieut. Governor-Nominee Allan Shivers, Congressman O. C. Fisher, San Angelo; State Representative Nevelle Colson, Navasota, and John S. Redditt, chairman of the State Highway Commission addressed the huge kick-off rally and urged the adoption of the Good Roads measure in the November 5th general election. Col. Ike Ashburn, Houston, served as master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers and other outstanding personalities present.

Jester, whose campaign platform stressed more and better roads, declared, "We face a critical need for more farm-to-market roads, a need we propose to meet. The roads Texas needs cannot all be built in a day. And if they were all built today it would not be long before the normal growth of Texas and the obsolescence of our road system would require still more roads.

"We must," the governor-nominee asserted, "recognize the fact that road building is a continuous, never-ending operation which must be planned and financed on a long-range basis if our road system is to approach the minimum needs of a growing Texas."

Jester said that Texas cannot realize the greatest value from its road funds until revenues are stabilized and agencies can effectively plan more than a year ahead.

"The Good Roads Amendment," he asserted, "has been proposed—not in the spirit of distrusting some future legislature's motives in diverting road funds to some purpose other than roads—but rather in the spirit of trusting the people by giving them the opportunity to vote on the disposition of their own road user taxes, and to assure that the financial policies the people shall approve by their vote will not be changed without their full knowledge and consent."

Author of the Good Roads Amendment, State Representative Nevelle Colson, told the gathering that schools and roads are of paramount importance to Texas. The only woman in history of the House of Representatives to successfully sponsor an amendment to the State Constitution, Mrs. Colson declared that the amendment not only will advance Texas in roads but also in the cause of public education.

"Transportation is the key to a successful rural school program, but Texas cannot have an adequate school program until we construct an adequate road system," the representative from Grimes and Montgomery counties charged. "In my studied opinion, roads and schools go hand in hand and head the list of the people's needs."

O'BRIEN TWINS ENLIST TOGETHER

Robert and Richard O'Brien of Big Spring, Texas, who were ushered into the world together October 2, 1927 in Munday, Texas, and since have approached life as a team, will not be separated while in the service of their country.

The twins, sons of Rev. and Mrs. P. Dick O'Brien, departed for the reception center at Goodfellow Field, San Angelo, last week, after enlisting in the U. S. Army at the local recruiting station and have been assured they can serve together.

Pre-med students at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, for the past year, the O'Briens volunteered for duty and hope to be assigned to the Medical Corps for the purpose of getting some practical experience in the field of medicine. They have been told they may be required to spend a portion of their enlistment—which will extend through 18 months—overseas.

The pair, who received almost identical grades while attending classes here, received their high school diplomas in May, 1945. A margin of one point distinguished their scores in the Army General Classification test, which they were required to take prior to induction.

While in school at Abilene, Dick and Bob served as co-managers of the Steer football team and neither players nor fans could tell them apart.

Save for their weight, they are practically identical. Each is six feet in height, but Robert at 155 outweighs his brother about 20 pounds.

After undergoing further processing at Goodfellow Field, San Angelo, Texas, the brothers will be dispatched for boot training at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

After the completion of their enlistment period, both plan to take advantage of the GI Bill of Rights and return to college to finish their medical training.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In order to provide them with another chance to rehabilitate themselves, the War Department has announced a program whereby qualified General Courts Martial prisoners can re-enlist for a period of 18 months with a view to eventual honorable discharge.

All suspended dishonorable discharges, however, will be executed prior to the prisoner's re-enlistment, it was stated, but if the prisoner who re-enlists serves without further disciplinary trouble for the term of his new enlistment, he may earn an honorable discharge and with it benefits under the GI Bill of Rights, the War Department announcement said.

At the present time there are about 14,000 prisoners in Army disciplinary barracks.

Prisoners chosen for rehabilitation must be physically, mentally and morally qualified for restoration to duty, the announcement added.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The 8th Air Force, which during the war drove the Luftwaffe from the skies over Europe and blasted the industrial might of Germany, is to be reactivated, according to announcement made here by Major General C. C. Chauncey, deputy chief of air staff. Headquarters will be at the Fort Worth (Texas) Air Field.

Brigadier General Roger M. Ramey, now commanding the 48th Very Heavy (B-29) Bombardment Wing at FWAAP will be acting commander general of the new outfit.

General Ramey, 42, native of Denton, Texas and 1929 West Point graduate, is a veteran of the air war in the Pacific and returned to the Fort Worth Army Air Field in August, after commanding "Task Force 1.5" which dropped the "Able" and "Baker" bomb in July during the Bikini atoll experiments.

EL PASO, Texas.—One hundred and ninety-nine enlisted men and nine officers from Fort Bliss are part of the "Task Force Frigid" now in Alaska—testing all types of equipment in weather which sometimes reaches 40 degrees below zero.

WASHINGTON—Over 60 per cent of the offices in the Army in both the war- and peace-time forces have been enlisted men according to an estimate of the War Department. The former enlisted men included many graduates of West Point, sent to the Military Academy from the ranks and a number of high general officers.

Texas 36th Division Pictured in History

Just off the press and in the mails for distribution to subscribers is a 360-page pictorial history of Texas' own 36th Division's combat from the bloody shores of Italy through France, Germany and Austria, it is announced by President Carl L. Phinney, Dallas, of the Division Association.

Publication of the history consummates an agreement made with the soldiers of the Division when they were on occupation duty in Germany. After deactivation of the Division, the Association agreed to fulfill all terms of the contract, although the price of the history had been set overseas so low there was question whether or not publishers in the United States could deliver on all promises.

Through more than 200 pages are pictures and text that tell the story of the Division's gallant fighting through the tortuous Italian mountains and winter; its rout of the enemy from Rome and north; its brilliant drives through France; its conquering of the vaunted Siegfried Line that was supposed to guard Germany; and its rapid push through Hitlerland on into Austria, where it was pursuing the Boche when surrender came. Through 150 pages are a roster of the more than 50,000 soldiers of the Division in combat.

All initial subscriptions having been filled in accordance with contract, the book is now available to others. To veterans of the Division, a price of $4.20 has been set. That includes, also, one year's membership in the 36th Division Association, which has a headquarters address of Box 2174, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas.

To all others and the general public, the price is $5 per copy.

NO QUOTAS NECESSARY

"Even if cotton acreage in 1947 should jump 50 per cent, it is doubtful that production and carryover would be sufficient to require the Secretary of Agriculture to order acreage quotas in 1948. With domestic and foreign consumption of American cotton expected to remain at high levels throughout 1947, the added production would still keep the 1948 carryover below the level normally considered adequate for supply and demand."—Edward Jamieson in The Cotton Trade Journal.

Figure this one out: He goes to lectures to improve his mind; to the optician to save his eyes; to the dentist to save his teeth; to the doctor to save his health; he uses hair tonic to save his hair; he exercises to save his waistline. But—he drives like mad in a car he never thinks to have checked. The Texas Safety Association reports that one out of three cars on Texas highways and streets today has dangerous mechanical defects. Check your car to save your life!

A Letter of Thanks On My 10th Anniversary

This month marks the 10th year that I have been agent here for the Sinclair Refining Company. I want all the people in this community to know how much I appreciate the extensive patronage you have given me during these years. It is through your support that I have been able to build such a dependable business.

I take this occasion to pledge you that I will give you even better service and supply you with even better Sinclair products in the years ahead.

Our Sinclair products have already been greatly improved by new refining methods developed during the war. For example, the new Sinclair gasoline is power-packed with the same 100 octane components used by Sinclair in producing famous warplane fuel.

And the new Sinclair premium-grade motor oils contain new, war-developed chemicals to keep your motor cleaner and more powerful.

And the other products in the Sinclair line meet the same high standards of Sinclair quality—standards so high that 150 American railroads, famous airlines and thousands of bus and truck owners and millions of motorists use Sinclair products.

I hope you continue to call on men for prompt, efficient service.

Very truly yours,

Oscar P. Wilemon

FIGHT TO PAY TAXES . . . One would normally see such a crowd rushing to get an item of scarce food—a steak or roast—or to procure tickets to a sold-out performance, or trying to crash a crowded train. This mob is pushing to—of all things—pay income taxes. The scene is Rome, Italy, where the mob waited until deadline to file their income tax returns—just as many do in America.

Old Man Weather is blamed for a great many things, but how responsible is he for automobile accidents? According to the Texas Safety Association, most crashes occur not on a rainy or foggy day, but in clear weather. When roads are wet and slippery, and driving seems to be dangerous, we have a tendency to slow down and redouble our alertness. As a result, accidents are relatively few. But when the weather is clear and the pavement dry, we are tempted to speed—and it is speed that kills. When you flout speed laws, Death rides the fenders!

Livestock Loses Recent Gains; Peanuts, Grains Move Upward

Livestock lost some of recent sharp gains, but cotton rallied then sagged, but wheat and sweet potatoes, grains and citrus moved upward, while eggs, poultry, potatoes and onions moved at southwest markets last week, says USDA's Production and Marketing Administration.

Wheat gained about half of recent losses early last week, but sagged later. Spot market activity was steady, but increased as prices advanced. Demand continued good for offerings. U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates domestic mill production 1946-47 at 9.5 billion bales, up from 8.8 billion in 1945-46, but half as large as the carryover of 1945-46, about 3.8 billion, at the beginning of the season and smallest since 1929.

Cattle fared better than poultry last week as more meat appeared. Southwestern markets reported good demand for steady prices, but dull demand for poultry at prices a nickel below recent high levels.

Receipts as six chief southwest markets last week totaled 16,225 head, about a thousand more than the week before, and about a third as many as arrived at Chicago alone. Hog prices were up $2 a cwt. at Littlefield to reach an all-time peak. Markets reported prices 50 cents to $2.50 higher than the previous week's close.

Over 93,000 cattle arrived at southwest markets last week, only slightly more than the previous week, enough to cause the worst shortage at Fort Worth since 1917. The city was forced to place an embargo on truck arrivals. Meat prices consumers kept demand high, but prices at some markets were below the previous week's top. Fort Worth quoted medium and good slaughter steers and yearlings $15 to $23 a cwt. and medium and good cows $11 to $14. San Antonio sold top medium and good short-fed steers at $21 to $22, and medium and good cows $10.50 to $14. At Houston common and medium steers and yearlings realized $12.50 to $14.50, and common and medium cows $8.25 to $11.25. Oklahoma City moved good and choice fed steers at $22 to $27 and beef cows up to $18. At Wichita medium to good slaughter steers brought $17 to $22 and common and medium cows $9.50 to $13.50. Denver sold medium grass fat steers at $18.50 and common and medium cows $10.50 to $13.50.

Most southwest sheep and lamb markets reported lower prices last week compared to the first days following decontrol. Good and choice lambs brought $16 to $16.75 a cwt., San Antonio. Medium and good slaughter lambs realized $16 to $18, Ft. Worth, and mostly $18, Oklahoma City. Denver quoted good and choice lambs at $20 to $21.

First citrus shipments of the season left the Rio Grande Valley of Texas last week. Trucks moved most of the supplies. Demand was active with truckers lined up at packing chutes. On-the-tree prices for grapefruit ranged from $49 to $60 a ton and for oranges from $50 to $60, depending on variety and size. Louisiana and Texas sweet potatoes held firm with the harvest about two-thirds over. Most supplies went into storage. Colorado shipping points reported slightly weaker prices for potatoes and onions.

Wheat, oats and sorghums were down the first of last week, but later moved up to the previous week's top. White corn held steady at recent declines but yellow offerings gained strength. Feed prices began to level off from the peaks following decontrol but demand failed to make as rapid comeback. Hay was firm, too.

Higher oil prices quickened interest in peanuts. However, farmers' stock held at support level. Shelled goods were in light supply and sales were reported at 14 1/2 cents with some at 15 cents for No. 1 goods.

U. S. Marines To Observe Anniversary Of Corps Nov. 10

On the tenth day of November, 1946, the United States Marine, wherever they are, will pause in the midst of their duties to give proper observance of the 171st Anniversary of the founding of their Corps—the nation's most honored organization.

Founded in 1775 by an act of the Continental Congress, the Marine Corps was originally authorized to consist of two battalions. These early Leathernecks enacted their first amphibious landing in the Bahamas and were with General Washington at Long Island and Trenton, in addition to serving at sea with the American Navy.

In later decades, the soldiers of the sea fought at Tripoli, the Mexican War, the Civil War, Spanish American War, Boxer Rebellion, Haiti, World War I, Nicaragua, World War II, and numerous smaller combat episodes to protect American interests abroad.

Outstanding attribute of the United States Marine Corps has always been its ability to be prepared and ready when the nation is in danger from aggressors. The quotation, "First to fight for right and freedom . . ." taken from the Marines' Hymn, was realistically portrayed in World War II when Leathernecks struck the first offensive blow at the enemy. Similar incidents have been much in evidence during the colorful 171 year history of the Corps.

Today's anniversary demonstrations will consist of banquets, speeches and dances. The Commandant, General A. A. Vandegrift, will issue his "Birthday" message and all Marines will enjoy a holiday routine.

On this its second birthday in more than a year of peace the members of the United States Marine Corps will pay homage to their brethren who have fallen on the field of battle in the nation's wars, particularly to the 18,986 Marines who gave their lives in the lately finished world conflict.

The sacrifices of all symbolize the prime aim of the Corps—to serve when needed—always faithful.

A move is underway to open a recreational reading room in the library of Texas Technological College in Lubbock, Librarian A. S. Gaylord, Jr., has announced. Some 500 volumes of popular fiction and non-fiction will be included in the new room, which is expected to open in about two months.

A MESSAGE OF INTEREST to all who await deliveries of new Chevrolets

We want you to know that everything possible is being done to speed deliveries to you; but production still lags far behind schedule—even though Chevrolet has built more cars and trucks than any other manufacturer from January through September 1946

WE REALIZE how eagerly you are awaiting delivery of the new Chevrolet you have ordered from us, and we want to pass on to you the latest information received from the Chevrolet Motor Division, even though that information isn't too encouraging at this time.

It is true that Chevrolet leads all other manufacturers in total production of passenger cars and trucks from January through September 1946, despite the fact that Chevrolet was out of production entirely during the first three months of this year. It is also true that Chevrolet has continued to maintain its lead in total production during the third quarter of 1946. And yet production is still running far below desired levels, with the result that Chevrolet's output of cars and trucks through September 1946 was only 38.7% of the number produced during the corresponding period of 1941.

This means it may take many months for the Chevrolet Motor Division to reach peak production of new Chevrolets—even longer to fill the unprecedented demand for this product of BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST—and, for the present at least, "there just aren't enough Chevrolets to go around," much as we wish there were.

However, we want you to know that new Chevrolets are leaving the plants in the largest numbers possible today. The Chevrolet Motor Division tells us it is doing everything it can, in the face of continued suppliers' strikes, material shortages and manpower problems, to step up shipments to us and to all dealers, in accordance with a predetermined distribution plan assuring each dealer of his fair allotment, based on 1941 passenger car sales. And we, in turn, are doing our best to deliver new Chevrolets to our customers as rapidly as they are received and in the fairest possible way. We are too appreciative of your loyalty and goodwill—too grateful for your patience and understanding—to do anything less than continue to serve you to the very best of our ability.

KEEP YOUR PRESENT CAR RUNNING

Meanwhile, the most important car of all to you is the car you are driving now. State Amendments Merit Consideration

The four proposed amendments to the State Constitution, which will be submitted to the voters in November, command the full consideration of the people so that there will be an adequate, intelligent expression at the polls on issues of widespread importance. Three amendments will be on the ballot of the general election, November 5, and a fourth, the creation of a veterans' land board, will be submitted two days later because of a clerical error in transcribing the date of the election.

The highway fund amendment, which has been indorsed by many civic organizations including the Texas Good Roads Association, is deemed the most important by its sponsors. It would prevent the diversion of motorists' taxes to non-highway purposes by freezing the present allocations. That is, schools would continue to receive the revenue from one cent of the gas levy, and 3 cents would go to highways as in the past. Counties would still benefit from allocations for retirement of their road bonds.

Stability in revenue for highway purposes is necessary to enable the State Highway Department to plan its road program years ahead in order to qualify for federal aid, which is in equal amount to state expenditures. This overall program includes both cardinal highways and farm-to-market roads. A diversion of highway taxes to other purposes would reduce this amount of federal aid to the advantage of other states, and the application of motorists' taxes to road building and maintenance is fundamentally sound and equitable. Future diversion of this revenue would return the burden of highway financing to the shoulders of property owners. It is difficult to see how voters could fail to approve the highway fund amendment, the wisdom of which has been fully established by experience.

A second amendment, to be submitted November 5, would authorize the state and local government units to provide retirement, disability and death benefits for appointive officials and employees. Legislative enactment would be required for the state plan of social security, and counties and cities would have to devise and approve their own plans before they became effective. The amendment itself would not provide the benefits, only authorization for them.

Once the state, or local governmental unit adopted its program of retirement, disability and death benefits, both employe and government would contribute in equal amount to the fund. These contributions would be limited by the amendment so as not to exceed 5 per cent of the employe's pay, or $180 per year. The sole question raised by the amendment is whether the people wish the benefits of social security, which are provided other employes, to be provided for appointive officials and employes of state and local government. If social security is sound, workers in public service should be included in its scope.

A third amendment to be submitted at the general election would authorize the payment of $75,000 for a building at John Tarleton College, Stephenville. Provision for payment for the building was made before its construction in a college appropriation bill, passed by the Legislature, but the section was omitted through error in copying, from the bill signed by the governor. Later, Governor Allred made a deficiency appropriation to cover the cost of the building, but the procedure was ruled illegal. The only way to rectify the mistake and to pay for a building, which has been accepted and used by a state educational institution, is by approval of the amendment. No tenable objection can be raised against the amendment.

Two days after the general election, a special election will be held to submit the veterans' land amendment. It would create a board, composed of the governor, attorney general and land commissioner, to administer a fund which would be created by issuance of $25,000,000 in state bonds. Legislative authorization would be necessary before the bonds could be issued. The receipts from the bonds would be devoted to purchases of land for veterans of World War II, and the land would be sold to them at low cost and interest rate.

It is contemplated that the program would be self-liquidating. If, however, veterans should not purchase all of the land offered by the state at the end of eight years, the board would be authorized to sell the remaining tracts to non-veterans. This provision was inserted to permit complete liquidation of the land holdings after an opportunity had been offered the 600,000 Texas veterans to buy tracts. The land plan would enable veterans to buy land at reasonable cost. Loan facilities already are provided by the GI Bill of Rights. Thus, the amendment fills a gap left by Congress in the veteran aid program, and in the case of Texas veterans, they would be offered the opportunity to become farmers and ranchers.

All five amendments merit approval by the voters, but the first consideration is that the people go to the polls and vote. None of the amendments should be rejected or approved by a minority. All are soundly conceived and would serve the interests of the people.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

of food and restaurant industries alone, some 1,500,000 workers were cut loose from wage control.

On the food list, only sugar, syrups and rice remain under OPA.

Frankly acknowledging that there is widespread belief in the government that Congress will come back primed to knock out OPA quickly and finally, one ranking official said privately the policy between now and year's end will get rid of ceilings rapidly but in orderly sequence.

This official said the view is that it would be to President Truman's political advantage to trim the controlled list to the bone, then let Congress take the responsibility if it wants to go the rest of the way.

Housewives and their husbands meanwhile watched retail costs to groceries, restaurants and liquor work.

stores, OPA officials predicted the cost of living and drinking would certainly go up, at least temporarily, as a result of the bread to beer retreat from ceilings.

Besides cosmetics, with soap excluded, today's new decontrol list ranged from hot water bottles and other drug sundries to assorted lumber and paper items.

The lumber items are the few needed neither in home building nor for pulp paper.

A rare scroll painting, "The Death of Bedu," will be exhibited at the West Texas Museum at Texas Technological College this week, through the courtesy of Dr. Linus Long of California, a collector of Oriental art work.

Children's Eyesight Sometimes Neglected

Emphasizing the urgent need for parental supervision of all phases of child life, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer this week said: "Much of the impaired eyesight of advanced years could be prevented if sufficient interest in early life were applied and a correction by means of temporary glasses made when required."

Parents, Dr. Cox asserted, should be watchful for danger signals in the child, such as frowning, squinting, persistent headache, eyecne, and watery eyes. If the youngster reads too closely or too far away from the face, that situation may also be significant of trouble.

"No child likes wearing glasses; nevertheless, it is the obligation of those responsible for the future of young folks to have their eyes examined by a reputable specialist if there is a suspicion that normal vision does not exist. It is much better for a child to wear defective glasses for a few years during early school life than to have permanently defective vision in later life," he declared.

Dr. Cox said that neglect of the eyes is by no means limited to children. Many older persons, some through vanity, indifference, or carelessness, fail to give proper attention to the care of their eyes. Penalties, he warned, are bound to occur for such inexcusable negligence.

"The eyes of any person, whether young, middle-aged or older, represent one of the most priceless of bodily possessions," the state health officer asserted. "To take care of them promptly and properly is a responsibility which never should be side-stepped."

BORIC ACID HIGHLY RECOMMENDED FOR TREATING CLOTHS

A solution of seven ounces of borax and three ounces of boric acid in two quarts of hot water will make fabrics fire-resistant and is highly recommended for treating children's clothes, drapes and upholstery, according to Robert H. Lucey, field representative of the American Red Cross safety service.

Lucey spoke on accident prevention work to a number of student groups at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, last week.

Wash fabrics may be made fire-resistant by dipping them in the solution, he said, while it may be sprayed with good effect on other cloths. The treatment has no effect on fabric appearance except to make it slightly stiffer in some instances, and is effective on all fabrics, including synthetics.

All U. S. Sailors To Leave Australia

A. U. S. Embassy spokesman said recently that personnel of the last United States naval units stationed in Australia would leave Sydney Oct. 25 aboard the liner Monterey.

Their departure will reduce the number of American servicemen on duty in Australia to approximately 200 members of the Army Air Forces, most of whom are stationed in Brisbane, the spokesman said. He added that they would leave for home shortly.

A car turned a corner at a intersection or, one wheel—the front wheel and come off, and car dragged on the axle 50 feet before it could be stopped. No one hurt. Had the car been on straightaway, speed probably would have been greater, deceleration slower, and the car probably would have rolled over before it stopped. The HIGH COST of NEGLECT

An ounce of prevention IS better than a pound of cure—and it costs a great deal less! Many a sickness that could have been cured quickly in the early stages can develop into a long and costly illness if symptoms are neglected. So, in the interests of your health, time, money, and comfort—see your doctor at the very first indication that all is not well within you. He, and he alone, is qualified to diagnose your symptoms and determine their cause and effect on your health. Carry out his instructions faithfully. Predict OPA Death In January, 1947

High Administration officials predict that Congress may kill OPA in January. But they added that by then only a slim list of very scarce, badly needed items in addition to rent will remain under ceilings.

As if to emphasize this forecast, OPA snatched its price tags from cosmetics and a long list of non-food products in a quick follow-up to the Thursday midnight sweeping food and beverage decontrols.

Together the two actions swept overboard another big segment of wage control because the government applies its pay curbs only when higher price ceilings are involved.

Life After 40 More Complicated

From a health standpoint, life after forty begins to be more complicated for the average individual, than it was in his earlier years. According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, the principal health foes confronting people in middle life are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, diabetes and arthritis.

Middle aged people of today are healthier than were those of preceding generations, and the present generation, when they reach middle age, should enjoy even better health than their parents of today.

Medical care in middle life has two important phases. The first is going to the doctor at regular intervals for a complete physical check-up, whether or not there have been symptoms that suggest the need for medical attention. The second is prompt attention to any illness which may mean the difference between prompt recovery and continued good health and prolonged invalidism. It is difficult to say which of these phases is the more important.

It has been found that men and women who faithfully pursue the habit of regular health examinations and who follow the advice arising from them tend to live longer, more satisfactorily, and freer from disease than those who simply take a chance and go to the doctor only when pain or disability forces them to give up their normal activities.

It is also a fact that many diseases of middle age respond to treatment in early stages, whereas if neglected until later stages they often cause permanent invalidism and even death. Good advice for persons over forty is that they have regular physical examinations and obtain prompt medical attention for any and all illnesses.

Old Cider Mill Is Autumn Mecca

Fall's crisp tang and vibrant colors give added zest to the week-end highway outing, so it takes very little inducement to lure the motorist away from home or office. Pretty Marlyss Pascoe found that National Apple Week, Oct. 26 to Nov. 2, was sufficient excuse for an outing in her new Chevrolet, and also a savory reminder that it's apple cider time once again. Robert A. McKee, at the picturesque old Franklin Cider Mill, near Detroit, provides the orchard's version of "brown October ale."

Information For Veterans

Q. I served only four months in the Army before I got a dependency discharge. Now I'm in need of an operation. Am I eligible to enter a veterans' hospital?

A. Yes, any veteran is eligible for hospitalization at a VA hospital providing he served at least 90 days in the armed forces and that his discharge is other than dishonorable. However, to be treated for non-service connected ailments, you must sign a statement that you are financially unable to pay for private treatment.

Q. Can a veteran be cared for in a private hospital at the expense of the government?

A. Yes, provided the ailment was incurred in or aggravated by service in the armed forces and prior authorization is obtained from VA region office. In the case of female veterans, the ailment need not be service-connected.

Q. Can I be treated at a VA hospital for malaria that didn't evidence itself until after I was discharged from the Army?

A. Yes. The VA rules that malaria may be service-connected, even though no attacks occurred prior to the veteran's release from service. Therefore, you may be hospitalized in a private hospital if an emergency or in a VA hospital. Out-patient medical treatment may also be authorized. If your illness is serious enough, you may also file a disability claim.

Q. Is a veteran's family entitled to care in a VA hospital?

A. Not unless they have attained eligibility in their own right by reason of service in the armed forces.

Q. May I be furnished a wheelchair by the VA?

Yes, if you have a service-connected disability requiring the use of one.

Q. Can an honorably discharged member of the WAC obtain hospital treatment and domiciliary care in a VA facility?

A. Yes. Former members of the WAC, as well as any other women's organization in the armed forces, are entitled to the same treatment as male veterans.

IRREDUCIBLE MINIMUM
"Any student of cotton who realizes the crop's proper place in a balanced Texas farm economy comes to the conclusion that we have about reached the irreducible minimum. There are many reasons why cotton acreage in Texas should increase."—Victor H. Shoffelmayr in The Dallas News.

INCREASES YIELD
"The cotton stalk destruction program has greatly increased the yield of cotton in this section. In 1945, I had 25 acres of cotton and made 16 bales; in 1946, I had 36 acres and made 33 bales."—Felix Keller, Cotton Farmer, Edcouch, Texas.

Friendship—Three Thousand Miles Apart

Ever play chess? It's a great game! One of the strongest friendships I know of started with a game of chess—between Dad Hoskins, in our town, and a man named Dalton Barnes, in England.

They've never seen each other, never met. But for the past eight years they've been playing chess by mail together—Dad puzzling over Dalton's latest letter, while he sends a chart of his next move to England.

Dad always thinks best with a mellow glass of beer beside his chessboard. And the Englishman writes him that he does the same. "You know, it's almost as if we shared a glass of beer together, too!" says Dad contentedly.

From where I sit, you can talk about diplomacy and foreign policy, but it's often those little things—like a game of chess or a glass of beer—that can make for tolerance and understanding . . . between people of all nations . . . between neighbors here at home!

Wildcats Rout Wolverines 69-19

Six Completions
By Price Are Good
For Four Tallies

Hendrickson Scores
Thrice to Make
Season's Total 113

Travis Price pitched like a big league baseballer to complete six out of ten passes, four of them for tallies, as the Wildcats coasted to a 66-19 victory over Springlake's Wolverines here last Friday night.

But Fullback Sabin Hendrickson and Tailback Gene Carter weren't satisfied to let their pitching claim all the glory. Hendrickson crossed the zero stripe three times to run his season's scoring to 112 points. Carter had a little better average for the evening, with three trips into pay dirt.

With the game less than five minutes old, Price, the man from down under, raced back to toss an uncertain oval into the waiting arms of Gene McCantles, who had to take it from a stubborn Wolverine. Possessing the old do-or-die spirit, McCantles managed to get one hand on it as he stood in the end zone and held on for the initial tally. The Wolverines added the extra point to make it a 7-0 lead.

Undaunted by the lightning thrust of the Wolverine, Glasscock took the Littlefield kickoff and hugged the sidelines on a 65-yard jaunt to pay dirt, only to be called back and penalized for clipping by an over-anxious teammate. This didn't dampen the spirits of the Springlakers. A few plays later they pushed over a score, but failed to tie the game, thanks to Billy Sison, who crashed through to block the kick attempt.

Littlefield scored their highest total of points for a single game this season. But the fans received the price of their tickets because the Wolverines were a constant scoring threat, with good downfield blocking. If their defense could have come close to paralleling their fine offensive work, the score would have been much more uncomfortable for the local club. As it was, the Cats tore the Wolverine defense to shreds and scored by air almost at will. It was just a case of Littlefield having the strongest offense. The 'Lakers tallied twice more after the first period score, but couldn't keep the pace.

a touchdown each. R. L. Brewster was credited with a fine blocking exhibition at his tackle post. He mowed down the opposition for Gene Carter on the latter's four touchdown trips. No individual deserved less praise than the other in the line. All seven men played a jam-up game. And the backs put on a ball-carrying exhibition that would make any contenders for district championships sit up and take notice.

Change Seen for Farm Production - Price Support Program

Hearing Held By House Agriculture Special Committee

Lamb County Group Attends Meeting To Study Farm Needs

Some changes are in sight for the proposed farm production and price support program on which Congress plans to start work soon after convening in new session next January, it was revealed by a summary of a day-long hearing held in Lubbock last Thursday by a special committee of the House Agriculture Committee on the problems of cotton.

Summarizing the day's testimony and discussion of the many problems of the cotton industry, Chairman Pace said it is apparent that farmers want: 1, continuance of the price support program; 2, parity payments (percentage undecided); 3, calculation of parity to include production labor costs; 4, continuation and expansion of the soil conservation practices on a voluntary basis; 5, increase and expansion of the one-variety cotton program; 6, a more flexible plan for quota allotment; and 7, a normal cotton carryover of approximately 4,000,000 bales annually.

Chairman Pace told the 200 gathered for the discussion that views expressed here are practically identical with those expressed by witnesses in Tennessee, Missouri, Arkansas and Mississippi. He expressed his and the committee's appreciation for "the splendid job of informing us of your wishes."

Begins in 1948

Chairman Pace explained that the revised program will begin in 1948 because restrictions have been lifted from the 1947 production due to readjustment following the war and belief that production will not be excessive.

Included in the parade of witnesses, composed of representatives appointed from the various counties, was W. O. Hampton, chairman of the Lamb County committee. Others in the group were L. T. Green, Frank Lehman, E. C. Clayton, Walter Gray, Bill Langford and Walter Martin.

As a whole the farmers from throughout the South Plains area agreed on most points, although there were naturally some differences of opinion on some problems.

Rep. George Mahon, of this district, presided. He sat at specially arranged tables in the district courtroom at Lubbock with the congressional committee composed of Representatives Pace; Tom G. Abernethy, Mississippi; George Grant, Alabama; Bob Poage, Waco; and all members of the sub-committee. Also at the desk was Rep. Gene Worley, of the Panhandle district.

Witnesses Questioned

Witnesses were subjected at times to a crossfire of questions by the congressmen, as sharp differences on certain detailed questions arose between committee members. This repartee was primarily between Pace and Poage, who were divided over the question of whether quotas should be on the basis of acres or bales of production.

Defending the acreage quotas, Pace wondered "what will happen to the soil conservation program?" if bale quotas are used. This was shared in by Abernethy and Grant, both from small-acreage and fertilizer using states.

Poage contended that Texas and Oklahoma have taken approximately 80 per cent of the total acreage reduction of the nation, and the two states now are producing only about half their cotton output as before controls were established, and that South Carolina, for example, is producing a yearly average of 110 to 115 per cent of pre-control production.

Opening the session, Jason O. Gordon, Lubbock county farm agent, welcomed the congressional party and other visitors, and introduced Geo. H. Mahon, representative from this district, as chairman of the proceedings for the day. Mahon said the cotton situation is a serious business, that the future of West Texas is wrapped up in cotton, and that "we have a big stake in any legislation that controls or regulates the product."

He cited also the peculiar problems of this area, which differ from other areas, such as Georgia, Carolina or the Mississippi delta, and said that production per man in this territory is the largest for any part of the world.

Mahon introduced members of the committee and other members of the party, and Chairman Pace outlined the purpose of the hearing in a prepared statement, in which he said the group recognizes the peculiar problems of this area and is seeking to co-ordinate and meet all problems in a fair national program.

First witness was W. L. Stangel, dean of the division of agriculture at Texas Tech College, who exhibited maps and graphs of the South Plains area and its crop production which, he said, reveal much room for expansion. He recounted crop diversification, naming grain, cotton and livestock as primary crops, with cotton the chief cash crop. He believes the area still is to be explored from a crop production standpoint.

J. N. Little, first assistant in the Chicopee Mfg. Corp. research laboratory at Texas Tech, recounted how his Massachusetts corporation decided on establishing the laboratory at Tech after a nation-wide survey. It was believed, he said, that this heavy cotton producing area offered the concern the best opportunity for all-around information. Little explained methods of fiber tests and determining strong and weak fiber.

Staple Little Short

Little said most of the cotton grown in this area is a little shorter than the 1 1/32 inch minimum staple desired by his company, but that staple here is coarse and easier to clean than in other areas. He said they find little difficulty in machine and hand picked cotton.

Answering a question by Chairman Pace, Little said coarse cotton is ideal for use by his mills which use millions of pounds a year. He said his firm is willing to pay more money for one-variety cotton.

H. J. Matejowsky, of the government cotton classing bureau at Lubbock, a branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, told the committee that most staple grown in this territory is short, varying from 3/4 inch to 1 3/16, but that irrigated land usually produces a staple some longer. It is hard, he said, to convince farmers of economy in growing the longer lengths due to harvest difficulties and other factors. He said, however, that better grades are in short length staple, and answering the question from Pace said extraneous matter is harder to remove from long staple than short.

W. R. Tilson of Meadow, state director of the Texas Farm Bureau, who cultivates 2,000 acres and "would prefer half of it in cotton," wants a largely expanded research program to find new uses for cotton, and feels that the new land problem is one of the biggest in this area. The sod, or new-land farmer, he said, is penalized under the program. On the labor cost situation, Chairman Pace said the farmer is now the only business man not permitted to include production costs in his price, and he hopes this will be included in the new law.

Wants Expanded Research

As the first county representative, W. O. Fortenberry, of Lubbock County, testified at length on farmers' views there, recounting action taken by a meeting of farmers Monday, October 21. He also wants expanded research through Congress,

MARLIN E. SNEED, NATIVE OF RANGER, TEX., PURCHASES DELANO CAFE FROM ONSTOTT

Marlin E. Sneed, a native of Ranger, Texas, has purchased the Delano Cafe from Emil Onstott.

An experienced restaurant man, Mr. Sneed pledges good service and the best cooked foods obtainable under present conditions.

Mr. Sneed comes to Littlefield from San Bernardino, Calif., where he was engaged in the restaurant business. Littlefield is not new to the restaurateur. He worked with his uncle on a cotton farm north of the city several years ago. Since then he was employed four years on the railroad at Clovis, N.M.

Witnesses at the afternoon session, which adjourned at 5:30 o'clock, brought generally the same information as those at the morning round, with general agreement in answer to question by Pace that the quota referendum about every three years would be sufficient.
