JC RODEO STARTS THURSDAY NIGHT

Cotton Men Discuss Harvest, Defoliation And Boll Worm

About 40 persons attended the cotton meeting at the Community Center Tuesday afternoon sponsored by the Cottonmill mill and the Lamb county Farm Bureau in cooperation with the Texas extension service.

Fred Elliott, cotton work specialist, told the group, "Cotton defoliation does not work as satisfactorily on the High Plains as in other parts of the state because of the short growing season. We need as many days as we can get for our cotton plant to mature out."

In applying defoliation he recommended that it be used two weeks prior to frost, (average frost date is Nov. 5) or when 80 to 90 percent of the bolls have opened. He stressed that there is no one material that will give satisfactory defoliation in all instances.

The three main types are: cyanamide which is a dust defoliation to be applied at from 25-40 pounds per acre; endotal and sodium pentachlorate, which are both sprays and should be applied at rates of one to eight pounds per acre, mixed with 20-25 gallons of water. Defoliation guides are available in the office of County Agent Dave Eaton.

Freeman Fuller, entomologist, discussed the control of the boll worm and the red spider. He cautioned farmers to check the cotton patch every three to five days, particularly for the bollworm when it is very small and feeding on the terminal buds. When the bollworm is large it may be 1/2 or 3/4 inch long and 1/8 inch wide worms per 100 plants, the situation warrants control. In most instances, he said, unless both egg and worms are found, control might be a waste.

He cautioned that the cotton bollworm and the cotton leaf worm are both appearing in large numbers as close as Tahoka. Over the weekend very heavy flights of cotton bollworms, cotton leaf worms and careless worm, or Millers, did show up in the south part of Lamb county. However, Fuller said it is too early to tell if the county is going to get an infestation. He urged every farmer to keep a close check on the cotton.

Ed Burk, cotton gin specialist, said, "Because of the surplus of cotton, both our foreign and domestic trade buyers are becoming a little more particular as to the type of cotton bought. Instead of the mills buying on grade and staple as they had in the past, they are buying on grade, staple and maturity."

He said the micronair, an instrument which forces air through a sample of cotton giving an indication of the coarseness or fineness of the fiber which is determined by the stage of maturity of cotton, is being used. This year micronair reading will be on about 10 percent of the classing curls received by the farmer.

Burk cautioned farmers to use better harvesting practices than have been used in the past. Better practices will mean from five to ten dollars per bale difference in price.

Practices stressed were:

- Use slatted side or wire side trailer rather than a solid sided trailer because cotton will undergo sweat while waiting on the gin yards and moisture will have an even distribution throughout the

TEC Reports Surplus Of Workers Now

The Texas Employment Commission has reported that agriculture employment has picked up since some dryland cotton is open, but not enough to justify bringing in additional labor. Dryland cotton is also very scattered.

TEC officials said labor will not be needed for harvesting irrigated cotton before Oct. 1. They expect the feed harvest to begin sometime this month.

Mrs. Mickey Ratliff of the TEC office said there is a surplus of workers at present.

Entries From All Parts Of State In For Ninth Annual Jaycee Rodeo

ONE OF THE Gilbert Brothers themselves will be the clown at the JC Rodeo this weekend. All the specialty acts will be furnished by this famous rodeo group. Featured will be trick roping and riding acts.

Entries have been submitted from all parts of the state for the ninth annual Jaycee rodeo in Littlefield Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, according to Deverle Lewis, rodeo publicity chairman. The rodeo is being sponsored by the Littlefield Jaycees and is the ninth annual rodeo presented here by the organization.

The rodeo, formerly professional, is strictly amateur this year and is NPRA approved, Lewis said.

Kicking off the Rodeo activities will be a parade through Littlefield at 4:30 Thursday afternoon. Numerous highschool bands, including the Littlefield Wildcat band, have been invited to participate and will each receive a plaque. Bands will not be judged competitively.

Prizes amounting to $100 will be given for the best three floats in the parade, with $50 going to the first place float, $30 to second, and $20 to third.

Area riding groups participating in the parade will include the Lamb county Sheriff's posse, the Morton Sheriff's posse, and the Woodruff Riding Club. Vehicles will be entered by the automobile and farm equipment companies.

Deadline for submitting entries is Thursday at noon. Entry fees for the calf roping and double munging is $10 per 20 round. All money added back. The entry fees for saddle bronc riding, bareback riding and bull riding is $7.50 per 20 round with $25 per 20 round added. There is a $5 entry fee for the ladies barrel race. $50 will be added for best averages, split $25, $15 and $10. All prizes will be split 40, 30, 20 and 10 percent.

Highlights of the rodeo will be the Roman Horse acts presented by Gilbert Brothers of Hooper, Oklahoma. Stock for the rodeo will be furnished by W. W. Branson of Newcom and the announcer and Jesse Eversen of Littlefield is rodeo clerk.

Performances begin at 8:15 each night. Tickets are available at the Rodeo Headquarters in the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce office at $1 for general admission, $1.50 for reserved seat, and 50 cents for children. Business men will be at all of the gates to handle all ticket sales at the gates.

Jaycees have been working all week preparing the lights for the night performances, getting the grounds in shape, and enlarging the seating capacity of the stadium. Seats on the east side of the arena are for general admission. The large bleacher on the west side contains reserved seats and more seats have been added north of the reserved seat stands for general admission.

To publicize the Rodeo, Jaycees flew over cities throughout the area dropping pamphlets about the rodeo. Radio programs were also used to publicize the annual event.

Following the rodeo, a dance will be held at the Coen Cola building on the Lovell highway each night. Music will be furnished by Bob Tucker and his Sky Riders. Tickets, which are $1.50 per person, may be purchased at the Coen Cola building after 8:30 each night. The dance will begin at 9 p.m. and last until 1 a.m. Thursday and Friday nights. It will begin at 9 p.m. and last until 12 p.m. Saturday night.

Proceeds from the Rodeo will go into the Jaycee civic fund. Projects of the Jaycees during the past year which were made possible through this fund included the Christmas baskets, sending local boys to a diabetes camp, sponsoring local boys at Boys Ranch, the Jaycees' participation in the clean-up campaign, and the work done in the campaign for a new central school building.

City policemen arrested nine persons over the weekend. Five were charged with being drunk and two fled on for disturbance of the peace. One "wetback" was transferred to the border patrol and another person was charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

Blair Admitted To Hospital With Sleeping Sickness

F. T. Blair of Earth was admitted Tuesday morning to the Plainview hospital where Dr. Sniderman, attending physician, diagnosed his illness as encephalitis, or sleeping sickness.

Sniderman said several children are hospitalized there with the disease, but Blair is the first case from this area to his knowledge.

The move is expected to be completed this week. Meanwhile, both locations will be open for business.

"In making the move, we feel we will eliminate the parking problem," Woods said this week. Bob Cox is owner of the building.

Littlefield Motor Parts, established in 1946 by Henry Banks, the present owner, has been located at 316 Phelps in a building owned by F. M. Dodd. During the past eight years, the business has expanded until it now serves as wholesaler for many automotive products in a 15-county area.

File Charge For Swindling By Worthless Check

Charges have been filed by county attorney Curtis Wilkinson against Cecil Tubbs of Amherst for swindling by worthless check.

Wilkinson said that Tubbs is charged with giving Kenneth Haire of $114.08 worthless check for a load of alfalfa hay. The check was not honored by Tubbs' bank because of insufficient funds.

Warrant was issued by Judge G. S. Glenn and Tubbs was arrested by the Sheriff's department.

He was arraigned by Judge Glenn and bond was set at $1,000, returnable at the Sept. 13 session of Grand Jury. Tubbs posted bond and was released.

Cameron & Co. Quitting Here

Wm. Cameron & Co., who have operated one of the largest lumber yards in Littlefield for several years, announced this week that they will close this yard as soon as the stock, equipment and real estate can be disposed of.

They advertise heavily cut prices on their stock this week in an attempt to clear it out quickly.

Buster Owens sr., Cameron's local manager, says he will be here for some time yet and is not sure where he will go from here.

Hall and Stewart Complete Second Well And Start Third

Hall and Stewart Drilling Company completed another oil producer in the Littlefield oil pool Tuesday and immediately moved across the road to the R. W. Woods 18 acre tract. Wednesday they had set surface pipe and were waiting on the cement to harden.

The well they had just finished on the Goulsby tract (known officially as Littlefield Unit No. 1) was reported as being "about the same as the Humphries well". That well swabbed over 100 barrels a day.

No report on what is pumping is yet available.

Tom Hewitt's No. 1 C. H. Callery was drilling at 5200 feet Wednesday. This is a San Andres test well nearly three miles north of present production.

George Livermore told reporters Wednesday that there is nothing more to report on the possible farmout of the Littlefield school drilling blocks to him. There is a possibility that he may make a deal with the Texas Company for these two leases. Drilling permits previously paid for by Texaco expire September 19.

Harmon Elliott Is PCA Field Representative

Harmon Elliott has been named field representative for this area and assumed duties in the Plainview Production Credit Association office here this week. possession of it, there was the prophet Elijah waiting for him. Elijah denounced him so fiercely for his sin that Ahab quailed before him. Here as elsewhere in the Old Testament, the prophets stand boldly for the rights and liberties of the ordinary citizen. They were foes of tyranny.

Throughout the world there have been many attempts to take property from one person and give it to another. All along the way, philosophers, economists and preachers have cried out against the immorality of disregarding the rights of individuals. The Christian doctrine of stewardship states that man holds property in trust for God and with social responsibilities. However the very doctrine of stewardship places property in the hands of individuals and not in the hands of a few controllers over many.

Freedom is not primarily a political concern. It stems from religion. Freedom is a quality of life that has its roots in the worship of God. Worship develops in men a high sense of moral responsibility. Such men do not need external restraints, but develop a society in which law, penalty and government are reduced to the minimum and freedom is enlarged to the maximum.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

Responsibility toward our fellow-men and the moral limitations of freedom which we must impose on ourselves is taught all through the Bible. Even the Old Testament, written in a period when Judaism recognized coercive powers, emphasizes the connection between personal freedom and responsibility.

Read Old Testament history with open eyes and you will find a most fascinating repetition of stories of the struggle between democratic and despotic ideas of statecraft. Consider one example.

King Ahab was a strong and wicked king, who rode roughshod over human rights. One day he acquired a certain vineyard near his palace. He approached the owner, Naboth, and offered to buy it. Naboth refused to sell the land where his fathers had lived. It furnished his means of living and he had no desire to become a part or a soldier.

According to Deuteronomic law, Naboth had his rights, and he did not have to sell. This tyrant king was up against a shielding democratic law. He went back to his palace and sulked like a spoiled child. He couldn't reconcile himself to not getting what he wanted. He dared not, however, go against Naboth's rights as a citizen and freeholder. The King's ruthless wife had no such scruples. She had Naboth falsely accused and killed under a pretense of law, and then told Ahab the vineyard was his. When Ahab went down to take

This Week's "Player of the Week"

(Five Dollars will be given to Bob Crawley for this week's winning letter.)

Dear Sirs:

I think Keith Davis deserves to be "Player of the Week" in last week's game.

All the boys played real good. They showed up good against such a big school as Clovis.

But Keith Davis made three tackles where he threw Clovis for losses, each time stopping a big drive. Two times Keith caught their big runner from behind to save a touchdown.

Keith also blocked real good every time on that end position.

He's starting out real good as a Senior and those linemen deserve credit.

Yours truly,
Bob Crawley

Local 12 Year Old Is Talented Artist

By Mrs. Ralph Douglas

Ronnie Carden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Carden, and just twelve years old is a talented artist who accepts his ability to paint on canvas, seems that possess him as casually as another child would his ability to write the alphabet. Neither his parents nor Ronnie, a sixth grade student this year, can remember when he started drawing but they think when he was four years old.

Mrs. Carden displayed a rock which Ronnie fashioned with a hammer when he was a very small boy. As a surprise for his mother on some occasion when he felt a gift was in order, he smoothed the face of the rock, painted the word LOVE and in smaller letters underneath it wrote "Mother" and enclosed the word picture in several colors. She says this is one of the things she has kept of the remarkable things he has made.

Before Ronnie started in school, his father was operating a grocery store and he found it hard to keep Ronnie for his own use because Ronnie was always taking them for his drawings. Mr. and Mrs. Carden did not realize, however that Ronnie had more than the usual ability until his third grade teacher Mrs. Howard Burk urged them to give him art lessons. He has had lessons about two and one-half years now and is enrolled in an art class again this year.

Mrs. Carden says she empties his pockets before purchasing his clothes and finds drawings of bottles, trees and other scenes, or perhaps just a decorative frame or a magazine. He sketches scenes while they are on vacation and then paints them when he returns home.

A Head of Christ that he painted some time ago is Ronnie's favorite picture, he says. He won second prize two years ago at the Lamb County Fair on a scene at Valsita Lake, Colo., where they had vacationed. The artist in him prompted him to add a cheerful line of clothes near the outline in a clearing he painted. He was selected ten at the time and competed in a class of children up to 18 years of age.

This year he will enter one or two pictures at the Fair if he can decide which to choose of the many pictures he has painted. He displays great versatility in his subjects, choosing sometimes to paint horses or other animals, or people, and quite often scenes from mountain vacations. One of his best pictures is the "E. L. Home" home which he sketched while looking out the school window.

Funk Celebrates Birthday Friday In Polio Center

Herbert Funk, polio patient in the Plainsville Polio Center, celebrated his 32nd birthday in the hospital by sharing a large birthday cake with nurses and other patients in the convalescent ward.

Funk is the oldest patient in the polio ward. The youngster is a six week old baby admitted last week.

Funk is reported by hospital officials as still improving. He still has some paralysis in one leg, but last week he walked without the aid of braces or crutches or any support.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Newton, sons, Roger and Allen, drove to Amarillo on Sunday to visit with Newton's sister Mrs. B. B. Williams, and family.

SPORT SHOTS

By Harold V. Raliff

Associated Press Sports Editor

Another football season blooms with anything other than the T formation a novelty. The game is more methodical and set in pattern with the T; the thrills of the forward pass have largely faded out. But it's still a great sport to watch and you can expect little difference this season than last in the style because the changes in the rules are virtually nil.

The principal point about the rules is one of those statements having to do with ethics—leaving the matter up to the coaches. But while it is not a rule and the coach does not have to follow it, prospects are that not all will do so because otherwise they would be subject to great public criticism.

Coach Gene Carter is looking for men of "last year's" Whitharral Panther football squad but has picked up some weight for this year's District 3-B contest.

Tom Bess' muscular and free ability has dropped from the year's roster for various other reasons. However the 1954 squad will average 15 pounds per man more than the Panthers of last fall.

There will be five starters and eight other lettermen returning for the first game Friday with Idalou. This season opens begins at 7:30 p.m. at Idalou.

Whitharral won 1 out of 10 last year but squared into the championship of District 3-B when Rossina, who beat Whitharral, was upset twice in a row. Some sports writers into the Panthers' teeth in their district this year, but with the heavier squad and possessing young players that probably can become a real threat to the championship.

Leslie Hulse, an all-district end of last year, though weighing only 112, seems to add experience to the heavy line.

Another all-district contender this year is Charles Demmy, left side tackle moved to halfback in their district this year. He was selected ten at the time and competed in a class of children up to 18 years of age.

This year he will enter one or two pictures at the Fair if he can decide which to choose of the many pictures he has painted. DON'T LOSE THE PROFIT ON YOUR GRAIN!

The Government or The Bank Will Help You Build Your Own Storage Bins on Your Farm.

Elevators are almost full. You may be forced to dump your grain on the ground and suffer all the loss from weather damage yourself.

The government will loan you 80% of the cost grain bins on your farm. Your savings will more than pay off the loan in two seasons.

Doerr steel grain bins have a ventilator to prevent spoilage and to remove the excess moisture from damp grain.

The government will make the same price support loan on grain stored on the farm as it will in the elevator.

Even if you can get commercial storage space why do so when the money you pay for storage would pay for your own steel grain bins in two seasons.

actually caused the statement on ethics to be inserted in the rule book. Notre Dame wasn't the only college feigning injuries; it just happened to be more in the spotlight and the acts figured in an important result.

Anyway, the rule book has this statement in the front "An injured player must be given full protection under the rules. However, the feigning of an injury by an uninjured player for the purpose of gaining additional, underserved time for his team, and the other practices of deceit such as falsely claiming that one's playing equipment is in need of repair, are dishonest, unsportsmanlike, and contrary to the spirit of the rules. Such tactics cannot be tolerated among sportsmen of integrity."

That's pretty strong. Now if a team feigns injury it can be immediately labeled unethical and sportsmanlike.

Football has long given us the idea of legislating against feigned injuries. It can't write a rule that will be fair. To leave it to the judgement of the officials whether a player actually is injured would be placing an undue burden upon him. The official would be bound by the thought that he might be calling an injury feigned that would turn out to be real. Only a physician would be qualified for such a duty.

When Alabama's Tommy Lewis Dicky Moege of Rice in the Cotton Bowl it brought a rule that is expected to prevent any such thing in the future. Actually there was a rule that permitted a player to be disqualified but it never was enforced.

The reason was that there was another rule, specific regarding a tackle from the bench, which said a touchdown would be allowed if in the judgement of the officials the runner would have scored anyway and if not a 15-yard penalty might be assessed.

This year the rule remains the same but the provision has been added that the bench tacker is automatically disqualified.

The rule that could have provided for disqualification in the past is that one still in the books that says any act palpably unfair calls for the official to do what he thinks equitable.

No new rule was placed in the books to control the false start or the illegal shift but the chairman of the rules committee sent out a list of interpretations of the ways in which the rule might be violated. They include the center moving the ball, placing his body, foot or head in a quick, jerky motion, the T quarterback moving his hands like he was taking the ball from the center but not taking it and the man in motion simulating reception of the snap.

This actually serves as the insertion of a specific rule. The officials all will follow the admonition of the rules chairman.

Two new signals were added—something of interest to the fans. One was to indicate an illegal shift—hands in front of the chest with fingers touching. The other signifies an illegal substitution by waiting the top of the head with both hands.

In the Southwest Conference there was not a single instance of an illegal substitution, so no signal was needed anyway.

The substitution item was one of the things left up to the ethics of the coach last year.

The two-platoon system was abandoned but the players were given the right to enter a game six times, once each quarter and four minutes before the end of the second and fourth period. Whether this rule was observed was the obligation of the coach; the officinals didn't keep track of situations. Since the coaches must assume they will do it when placed on their guard, feigned injuries.

Both the government and local banks are ready to loan up to 80 percent of the cost of storage bins, Williams says.

New Littlefield Business Will Sell Grain Bins

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Williams and plans an intensive sales campaign living at 701 East 6th. They are former residents of Amarillo. Mr. Williams is factory representative for Doerr steel grain bins and plans a intensive sales campaign in Lamb County. He has advertised for four experienced salesmen to help him contact every local farmer in time to get storage installed for this year's grain sorghum crop.

Williams says that elevator operators are all agreed that there is not nearly enough storage available to take care of this year's large crop, so he thinks a great many farmers will erect their own storage when they learn how simple it is and how quickly it will pay for itself. Government support loans can be made on grain stored on the farm, the same as if it were in the elevator, Williams says. He also contends that the cost of elevator storage will pay for steel bins in two years. Loss from storing on the ground will pay for the storage in one year.

Both the government and local banks are ready to loan up to 80 percent of the cost of storage bins, Williams says.

"Just a simple twist of the wrist washes and dries our clothes!"

says: MRS. WARREN M. BARTON
1814 Boyd St. • Borger, Texas

"My husband is a mechanic, and has dirty, greasy clothes every day. And, of course, Janna Lynn, my five-months-old daughter, has to have clothes washed every day."
"It's so easy with an automatic washer and a dryer — especially the dryer. I can come home from work, and throw the dirty clothes in the washer, and then dry them that very evening, ready to be worn the next day."

"We have our washer and dryer in our garage now. Sometime soon, we'll have a laundry room. But I just had to have a dryer, and it works out fine in the garage."

"Convenience is important to me—time, too—so I am also employed outside the home. I have plenty of time to spend with Janna Lynn in the evening, after washing and drying my clothes with a simple twist of the wrist."

Mrs. Olen Walker's Hobbies Are Creative And Practical

By Evelyn M. Scott
Mrs. Olen Walker, housewife and mother of three, finds time for not one—but several hobbies. She does oil painting, coppercraft, aluminum etching, ceramics and—last but not least—drives a "neat nail" when she has the urge for a new piece of furniture for their brick home on Shannon Addition.

try. Mrs. Walker's tastes in furniture building lean definitely to the Modern.
Mrs. Walker studied oil painting, but, she says, "I acquired the techniques of my other hobbies mainly through experience and observation."
She does a lot of sewing for her family, but this is one activity that she definitely does not like to do. She considers it "work". With three children, sewing is strictly a necessity with me," states Mrs. Walker. "But," she comments, "I regard my gardening and yard work as a sideline hobby."
She is an active member of the Sudan Garden Club and is serving as vice-president of the organization this year.
Mrs. Walker is looking forward to still another hobby as she plans to take up china painting in the future.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

STOP, THEN PASS HALTED SCHOOL BUS AT 10 MPH. LAW SAYS

School leaves over the state have now begun the task of carrying thousands of children to and from their studies. Soon to be expected are the inevitable tragic reports of deaths and injuries occurring when impatient youngsters dash across busy highways to greet their waiting parents or to board the bus. Most of such accidents could be avoided if motorists would adhere strictly to the letter of the law pertaining to the passing of school busses.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent," not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution of such children.

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 or en when an accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed when another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-stripe on our highways. Well known are the restrictions, when approaching within 100 feet of a railroad grade crossing, that even when passing on the right section of a highway where movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no-passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center

Humble's new HOUSTON RESEARCH CENTER

... is dedicated to man's impelling curiosity in the search for knowledge and its useful application in the specialized fields of petroleum exploration and production.

Dedicated to Man's Impelling Curiosity

Most of us interpret the value of research in terms of immediate benefits. Research means that we get a better automobile, an improved gasoline, or an outstanding motor oil.

At Baytown Refinery, the Humble Company maintains one of the finest laboratories in the petroleum industry for that kind of research.

But behind the study that goes into the improvement of the products it sells, Humble for years has fostered basic research related to the discovery and production of oil and natural gas.

The United States uses so much oil from day to day, and needs so much more to provide for the emergencies of national defense, that studies leading to the discovery of new supplies and the more efficient management of existing reservoirs are more important than ever before. Consequently, Humble's expenditures on this sort of research are the heaviest in the Company's history and its staff of research scientists is larger than it has ever been.

To house the expansion of these research sections, Humble recently completed its new Research Center at Houston and will formally dedicate it this week end.

Here the scientists of the various departments involved in the discovery and production of oil will utilize common facilities, and here they will have the stimulation of close association with other scientists whose efforts are dedicated to a common end.

Band Parents Meet Thursday

Parents of beginner, intermediate, Junior high and Senior high band students will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday night, Sept. 9, at the band hall, according to G. V. Walder, secretary of the Band Parents club.
 Walder urged that all parents be present for the meeting.

Back to school doesn't always mean back to the classroom, at least not for the lady of the house. But all the same it's back to school for her, too—back to an orderly way of life.
 No more late sleepers, to delay the morning's work. No more ten o'clock breakfasts, to break into the one hour before noon. The house is quiet now—at times too quiet—for most of the day. The meals are served on time—at seven a.m., twelve noon, and six-thirty in the evening.
 The courses she's enrolled in for the next nine months aren't exactly lecture courses, with written work to hand in. Her subjects will be Home Life, Family Responsibility, Meal Planning, Sewing

Cadillac

A Ride Is an Education!

There has never before been a time—since the beginning of the automotive industry—when you could learn as much about motor car performance in a single hour as you can today!

All you need do is slide behind the wheel of a new 1954 Cadillac—and head for the open highway.

That great Cadillac engine introduces you to a new measure of power and performance. It takes even the most challenging hills in easy stride—and sweeps you out of a difficult traffic situation with only the slightest pressure on the accelerator.

Cadillac's improved Hydra-Matic Drive is unbelievably responsive and silken and smooth—and takes you from a standing start to your desired rate of speed in one continuous flow of power.

You guide the car with only a feather-light touch on the wheel. It seems almost to follow the weight of your hand around the corners—and it takes you over the winding highway as if it were reading your mind.

Vision is so wide and clear that a single, sweeping glance acquaints you with traffic on every hand. Braking is unbelievably sure and easy. And you ride in such comfort and quiet that you seem to be resting in your favorite easy chair.

Yes, it's an education to take the wheel of a 1954 Cadillac—an education in all the good and wonderful things of motordom.

So stop in any time—slip into the driver's seat—and head for your favorite stretch of highway. You're in for the greatest surprise of your motoring life!

Hope In Death

By TOMMY WILLIAMS, Minister

A christian and an atheist talked together. Said the atheist, "I have an advantage over the Christian. I am not afraid to die; and if some few items of my business were settled, I would be perfectly willing to die at any moment."
The Christian replied, "You say you have no fear in death; have you any hope in death?"
The atheist was compelled to answer, "No."
The Christian pointed to an ox standing in the shade, whisking off the flies, then said to the atheist, "You are on the level with that brute. He has fed till he is satisfied, and there he stands in the shade, and has neither fear nor hope in death."
This story illustrates what is perhaps the greatest difference between the believer and the unbeliever. Christianity points to a greater life after this one and gives hope in death. No other religion or philosophy can give hope and make the life good.

Any view of Christianity which confines its benefits to this life and omits its promise of eternal life is a world to come would be from it the greatest blessing it has to offer. Such a view is not the view set forth in the Bible.
"If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of men most miserable." (1 Corinthians 15:19)
