County Cotton Acreage May Be Cut 15,856 Acres Off 1955 Crop

Lamb county farmers stand to lose 15,856 acres lopped off their 1955 cotton acreage allotment, Congressman George Mahon revealed this week in a letter to all farm leaders. The decrease in acreage from the present 203,856 acreage will come as the result of action proposed by the State ASC committee to transfer the allotment to West Texas counties and take it away from extreme West Texas farmers.

plus a further cut of about 100,000 acres in those counties so that East Texas and central East Texas counties may be given an increase of approximately 110,000 acres more than they had in 1955.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce states that the program is based on an estimate of a reduction in the state allotment amounting to 200,000 acres less than in 1955. It is anticipated that all cotton producing states will receive lower quotas than provided in 1955.

East Texas districts in 1953 will show cuts below 1953, ranging from 22 to 29 per cent. In West Texas counties, the allotments for 1956 will show more severe reductions ranging from 38 to 46 per cent below acreage planted in 1953. One district in the Lubbock area will show a decrease of nearly seven per cent below the 1955 allotment.

No provision is made in the program for the relief of low production areas in West Texas where average lint production per acre in the last five years has ranged from 30 to 65 pounds per acre in much of the area. Most East Texas counties will consistently show in excess of 200 pounds of lint cotton per acre.

The Agricultural Adjustment act of 1938 provides that the state ASC committee may set aside as much as 10 per cent of the acreage allotted to the state for a state reserve from which adjustments may be made for small farms, new farms, hardship and inequities and for trend adjustments.

Trend adjustments were first adopted in 1949 and have been used consistently in all states in the years following to provide sufficient acreage to each county under a special formula so that every farmer in the state would take no more than his fair share of the reduction in cotton acreage.

In 1954 and 1955 as much as 60 per cent of the state reserve was used to make trend adjustments in which as many as 200 of the state's approximately 240 cotton producing counties shared.

No provision has been made in the 1956 program for any trend adjustment.

Steps are being taken by West Texas Chamber of Commerce officials to prevent the adoption of the State ASC committee proposal, which is regarded by that organization as being unfair and discriminatory to West Texas cotton producers.

Harold Collard of Childress, former pastor of the Littlefield Drive Church of Christ read the ceremony before a background of greenery accented with candles and arrangements of gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Wedding Chorus Sings

The musical program presented by the Broadway Church of Christ wedding chorus included "Always," "Blest Be the Tie," "The Lord's Prayer," and traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown of pure silk taffeta, touched with hand-embroidered candlelight Alencon lace. Inspired by a Victorian court gown, it was fashioned in an hourglass silhouette. The bride wore a three-tiered fingertip veil of silk illusion which was attached to a pill box embroidered with sequins and rhinestones. She carried a spray of gardenias on a pale pink background.

Bridal attendants were Miss

Jay Shirley of Abilene, maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Miss Patty Benton of Duncan, Okla., and Miss Wanda Webb of Littlefield.

They wore identical princess style gowns of blue velveteen designed with scoop necklines. Each carried a nosegay of pale pink sweetheart roses.

Relatives Light Candles
Miss Glenda Pettiet of Midland, cousin of the bridegroom, and Max Weatherford, brother of the bride were candlelighters.

Don Collier was best man. A reception following the ceremony was held at the church in Fellowship Hall.

For a wedding trip to South Texas, the bride chose a terra cotta rad suit with black accessories.

Mrs. Pettiet attended Abilene Christian College at Abilene two years. Mr. Pettiet is employed by Dunlap's.

The couple will be at home at 3022 20th St., in Lubbock, after October 15.

Flammable Liquids Should Be Handled With Great Care

Gasoline, kerosene, and cleaning fluids improperly used often turn a peaceful farm into a holocaust of flame, according to Tex. as Farm and Ranch Safety Committee. Flammable liquids, carelessly handled, are among the top causes of farm fires. Store and handle them the safe way, advises the committee. Remember the slogan for Fire Prevention Week (Oct. 9-15): "Don't give fire a place to start."

An underground tank is the safest place to store gasoline and kerosene. If this is impossible, locate containers at least 40 feet from buildings. Containers must be metal and free from leaks. Small quantities are more safely stored than large, and a well-labeled safety can should always be used to draw off and handle the amounts necessary for immediate use.

Always keep these fluids away from flame and heat. Flame doesn't need to touch the liquid.

R. Moreno Hurt Wednesday At Union Compress

Ramon Moreno, 35, of Littlefield received a severe cut on his left wrist Wednesday morning at 10 am. He was standing on a ladder nailing sheet iron on a building at the Union Compress.

The ladder slipped and threw Moreno into the building, severely injuring his left wrist.

Moreno was admitted to Medical Arts Hospital and Clinic in Littlefield.

A spark may ignite invisible vapors. Gasoline vapors flow down hill like water. They also drift with the slightest breeze. Post signs near all flammable liquid storage areas.

Flammable cleaning solvents should be avoided, but when necessary should be kept in metal covered containers, and used out of doors or in a well ventilated room. Non-flammable solvents are fire safe, but should be used where the vapors cannot be inhaled.

REDDY'S Farm Report

FROM THE AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

Inexpensive lamp kit, put together at home, looks good and gives plenty of proper light for reading, sewing, studying and other close tasks.

Getting the correct lighting for reading, sewing or studying is easy with an attractive lamp kit which you can assemble at home and to suit your decorative tastes.

Many 4-H's have found fun in the project, and only recently Mrs. Harriet Brummett, County Home Demonstration Agent in Floyd County, Texas, assembled one of the kits in less than one afternoon.

"My husband thinks it is the best reading lamp in the house," says the proud Mrs. Brummett, who adds, "the amazing part about this quality lamp is the low cost. The kit and the approved R-40 bulb cost only about $4.00."

Your Home Demonstration Club, 4-H Club or other groups can set up a craft lamp-building project with the help of your County Extension Agent. It's not only fun, but the kits come in a variety of colors permitting the homemaker to choose lamps which harmonize with the motif of the home. The Floyd County Home Demonstration Clubs are already planning similar craft lamp projects for this winter.

Important is the fact that although the lamp is extremely attractive, it still entails the design of good lighting. Good lamp lighting requirements call for a shade that is open at the top for upward reflection of light, sloping sides which direct a soft but adequate flow of light downward on the subject matter being seen. The shade may be opaque and lined in white for maximum light output, or translucent and light in color.

For proper "seeability" a lamp is actually only as good as the bulb used. In this lamp recommended usage calls for a 150 watt, 150 R/W white indirect, bulb. This inside white bulb acts as its own diffusing reflector thus eliminating the use of a glass bowl for that purpose.

Again, the lamp is tall enough to cover a wide working area, and its base is large enough to prevent tipping.

Every home needs several good reading lamps, and here is your opportunity to have as many good reading lamps as you need at a cost you can well afford. With the school season in full swing, good lamps are an investment in good eyesight. Lamps can be replaced as styles change, but eyes are non-replaceable and should be given the proper light to see by.

Bula Bulldogs, regional contenders, will furnish another South Plains attraction as they clash with the Smyer Bobcats at Smyer at 2:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon (today).

Going into the district tilt with an intersectional win of 13-8 over Roaring Springs, the team that drugged the Bulldogs 60-20 in last year's regional skirmish, with district wins over Southland 40-8, Lazbuddie 33-6, and Three Way 47-0, the Bulldogs, resting from a bye last week, will be prepared for might battle, dynamited by the thunderous running and charging of backs Carl Hallford and Gerald Neal, both seniors.

Following the grizzly blocking of linemen like Don Blanton, Curtis Green and Robert George, the Claude Morrison deceptive "T" attack has moved at an unprecedented speed. Most remarkable about the Morrison-coached teams has been the almost unyielding defensive record of the past three years, especially in six-man football which is wild, wide open, and high scoring.

During the coaching career of Claude Morrison, the Bobcats and the Bulldogs have met three times with a result of 50-31, 45-41, and 50-12 victories for the Dogs in 1952, 53, and 54. Gaining for their first victory over the Bulldogs since the two schools began playing football several years ago, the Bobcats are expected to throw helmets and all into the fray.

The Bula Bulldogs, the only team left in the District six-man football race, seems to think that they already have the title sewed up with only Cotton Center the team likely to beat them out of their third district title in a row.

Coach Claude Morrison is already predicting that this will be his year to win his first regional championship. He has won district twice in his other 3 years at Bula but could never get that Regional crown. He says with pride that this is the best team that he has ever had at Bula and he has had some fine teams. With four victories already tucked away this year, including a win over Roaring Springs, the team that beat them out of regional last year, Coach Morrison's team's

District 2-AA Teams Ready For Action

District 2-AA is probably the weakest District in the state if looking at the win and loss column means anything. Teams in the district have won only six games while dropping 23 to their opponents.

Teams making up the District are Littlefield, Olton, Lockney, Dimmitt, Tulla and Muleshoe. Two teams, Tulla and Muleshoe have yet to win a game this year.

Dimmitt has the best record in the last week before they start district play. They have won two games while dropping two and are the only team still in the .500 class or better. But even Dimmitt will probably drop down this week to below .500 (they play Sudan). They have scored 65 to opponents 68 points.

Olton is in second place with two wins and three losses. Their wins were not too impressive as they were over Morton and Slaton, two teams that have yet to win a game. Their defense looks better than any in the District. They have allowed only 45 points to be scored against them while they themselves scored 71 (51 of them against Slaton).

Littlefield playing the roughest schedule of any of the teams have won 26 games while dropping only four and tying one.

In 1952, his first year there, they won four and dropped two, playing only six games that year. In 1953, they won nine and dropped a game in the bi-district tussle. Last year they won nine, lost one, to Roaring Springs in the Regional game and tied Lazbuddie.

Their remaining schedule is listed below. The game with Cotton Center at Bula on October 21 should be a sell out game for the little school just outside of the Lamb county border line.

Oct. 13—Smyer, There
Oct. 21—Cotton Center Home
Oct. 28—Pettlet, There
Nov. 4—Wellman, Home
Nov. 11—Spade, There

DOUG BRADLEY, UCLA quarterback is a former Littlefield resident, being born at Amherst and is the nephew of A. V. Woods of Littlefield. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wood side at Amherst. Doug is the son of Mrs. Geneva Bradley of Santa Monica, Calif. and is his third letter at UCLA after making the All-City Conference at Fremont High School in Angeles. He was the first team quarterback, and is only a junior, until he injured his leg in Texas A&M game recently. Bradley was married in July of this year. A. V. Wood returned week from a three weeks trip along the coast and saw the first game of the season when Bradley was hurt against the Texas team.

BULA BULLDOGS: The team pictured here seems certain to win the district championship with five games still to go. In the front row from left to right is Jimmy Clauch, Jerry Blackman, Lonnie Wilson, John Pool, Durwood Fred, and Venzell Lynn, Manager. Second row: Robert George, Curtis Green, Don Blanton, David Mansell, Burzey Roberts, Junior Austin, Dasty Bogard and Arvin Stroud. Third row: Coach Claude Morrison, Carl Hallford, Gerald Neal, Harold Nichols, Kenneth Hastings, Johnny Autry, Stan Nichols, Don McCord and Wendell Jones. This is the seventh in our series of pictures on football teams in the area.

Scores Of Area Teams . . . Sudan Tangles With Dimmitt To Be 'Game Of The Week' For Area Fans

By JIMMIE CHAPMAN

The mighty Sudan Hornets of District 2-AA clashes with Dimmitt of District 2-AA this week in the headliner for area games and it should be a capacity crowd with most all the other teams in District 2-AA having an open date before the conference race begins next Friday.

Both Coach Francis Smith and Leo Fields of Dimmitt seem confident that they will win and both will admit that the game will be hard fought. The two teams used to be in the same district and war never could get a win over the tough Bobcats.

But this should be Sudan's year. They have five victories against one defeat, a 13-12 loss to Sunday, while Dimmitt has won two and dropped two, one to Hale Center and one to Abernathy, both teams with high scoring backfields.

Sudan has a backfield, probably their best in several years, that should move at will against Dimmitt, a team that has allowed their opponents to score 68 points while they scored only 65. With Jim Baccus at quarterback, Dickey Hanna at fullback and Jimmy Williams and James Gore at the halfback slots the Hornets have scored 182 points to their opponents 37. Big Carl Humphrey, weighing 205 and Gayland Graves, 180, tackles help make the holes in the line for the Hornets back to roll through.

The game should be a thriller and we will stick with our Lamb County team and pick Sudan to beat the Bobcats by a score of about 21-13.

Another big game will take place at Amherst where the Bulldogs will play host to the Whitharral Panthers in a District 3-B contest.

Both teams have only one win this year, but Amherst has played much stronger teams than Coach Eugene Carter's Panthers. The Bulldogs should win, but it will be another tight game. We say Amherst by about 12 points.

Anton, still undefeated, will journey to Farwell for a conference game also. The Steers were upset by Whitharral last week and suffered their first loss of the campaign. Anton however, is still undefeated and should win it but it will be no run-away. Anton will probably get their first loss on October 21 when the Kress Kangaroos roll into Anton for a night contest.

Other games of the week with the winner picked in capital letters are listed below:
SUDAN at Dimmitt
BULA at Smyer
Whitharral at AMHERST
ANTON at Farwell
Slaton at FLOYDADA
HALE CENTER at Happy
All other teams in the area are enjoying an open date.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

The Littlefield Wildcats chose Jimmy McShan as the "Player of the Week" for his performance in the game against Tahoka.

Jimmy was outstanding in both defensive and offensive playing.

He played both halfback and fullback positions. While playing defensive, he stopped the long end runs made by Tahoka's Jerry Williams. He made yardage each time he carried the ball.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McShan, Jimmy is a senior and a three-year letterman.

Atomic Farming May Not Be Too Far In Future For Some

What will farming be like in the Atomic Age?

An article in the October issue of the Progressive Farmer, south-wide farm and home magazine, says that fancy cannot outrun some sober men of science are predicting.

Take a look at the farm of the future.

There by the machine shed is an atomic tractor, smaller, stronger than any known and capable of running for years without refueling.

Suitcase-size atomic engines are providing power for crop production, orchard spraying, and for irrigation. An atomic watermaker may be bringing a growing season in a drouth year. The fields themselves will be fuller; the plants may look different.

"Not only is it possible to increase substantially the yields of food crops now known," says Dr. John C. Bugher of the Atomic Energy Commission staff, "but through the application of radiation to plant genetics, it is feasible to compress into a span of two or three years what would have taken a century of laborious plant breeding and selection to accomplish."

Cattle, sheep, and other livestock may wear a new look. Since higher yields and resistance to disease can be induced in plants, atomic researchers are asking, why not animals? Scientists at Oak Ridge, Tenn., are now exposing mice to atomic radiation to learn more about its effect in animal breeding.

The possibilities include "new" hogs resistant to erysipelas, cattle that defy brucellosis and hot weather, sheep that produce improved wools.

Atomic power is handling the grain, grinding the feed, cleaning the barn, doing a hundred other chores that now require gasoline, electricity or manpower.

In the pasture is an atomic rocket scooter. Suppose you want to visit Aunt Georgiana who lives some 2,000 miles away. You can leave after church services and get back for services in the evening. Miles will be measured in seconds in atomic flight.

Atomic sky trucks will make the whole world a potential market for all the products of your farm. Perishables harvested one day will be for sale the next in South Africa, in Siam, and Australia.

Other research projects: to turn fuel directly into energy. Now coal is burned to get heat to make steam which turns the turbines, the turbines drive the generators from which we get electricity.

To produce food from carbon dioxide, water, and sunlight without using plants as "storage bins" to determine why we deteriorate with the years and to wipe out epidemics from infectious agents.

Human reasoning might have said, "An offering is an offering. What difference does it make whether a man be of Levi, or of the tribe of Benjamin?"

Religion appeals to reason, but Divine authority stands above human reason. To disregard that authority is presumption whether our powers of reason can fully comprehend God's law or not.

Let us also pray that we may be "innocent from the great transgression."

ty officials, we were already on the press with the back section. In it was an editorial which predicted that they would do just that and suggesting a way they could do it without increasing county costs.

Our predicting was not good enough to figure they would do it so soon after the public hearing at which they decided to wait until the opponents to the raise could circulate petitions.

Tex Happy To Be Back

The broad grin that spreads across the face of big "Tex," the 52-foot cowboy figure that is a fixture at the State Fair of Texas, indicates how happy the giant cowpoke is to be back for the 1955 State Fair, Oct. 7-23. Big Tex is the symbol of the size and scope of the Fair, the nation's largest annual exposition. This year's spectacle will run for 16 days and 17 nights, opening its gates at 5 p.m. Friday, Oct. 7.

Woman's Club To Award Prizes To Children

The Woman's Club has gone all out this year to educate the public to the importance of the oil industry to our economy. They have offered prizes to the school children for posters, scrapbooks, and essays.

Prizes will be awarded to the fourth grade room for the best poster on oil, and to the fifth and sixth grade rooms on the best scrap book. These prizes will be $2.00 each.

The seventh and eighth grade will write essays and a prize of $2.00 will be awarded to the boy or girl in each grade for the best essay. These essays may be on any phase of the oil industry in Texas, and will be one hundred words.

All of the winner's posters, scrapbooks, and essays will be on display at the "Black Gold" banquet, and the winners will be awarded.

On Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 19, Mrs. Roy McQuatters will speak to the Womans' Club on "Oil, Texas' Greatest Industry," and What It Means To Our Economy."

Since one-third of the nation's oil wells are located in Texas this should prove an interesting program.

Officers Continue Questioning Of Vandal Suspects

The Lamb county sheriff's office issued a report this week that several suspects have been questioned in the vandalism flooding of several public buildings in Littlefield, during the summer, but that no arrests have been made.

Officials said they were continuing to work on the case and following every lead, but had not come up with any arrests as yet.

Verney Towns Family Wins Master Farm Family Award

Verney Towns Family, county, is one of eleven families in Texas selected Progressive Farmer magazine to receive the "Master Farm Family" award. This is one of the highest honors that is given to farm families in America. The award is based upon distinguished achievements in farming, making and community served with ten other Master Farm Families at a State Award Dinner in Dallas in November. Their story will be told in a well-illustrated article in The Progressive Farmer sometime in 1956.

For a great many years The Progressive Farmer has had the reputation that we could render better service to Texas agriculture than to seek out and select farm families of outstanding merit," says Eugene Butler, editor and publisher. "In almost every line of human endeavor distinguished accomplishments are recognized and publicly honored. It is not always been the reward of farmers. Many notable families have gone unnoticed and unappreciated regardless of their achievements. It was to honor a few of our finest farmers that inspired The Progressive Farmer to make the Master Farm Family Award."

The Master Farm Family program is not a contest, he points out. Families compete only against the Master Farm Family Award. There are certain minimum requirements. The family must take good care of the land, making it pay a reasonable return on farming operations. There must be a good house with attractive surroundings. The family must take an active part in community life. And they must have interest and leadership in schools, farm organizations, 4-H clubs, soil conservation and all those group activities that are so vital to a happy, prosperous farm life.

Verney Towns family meets high standards required of a Master Farm Family. They are successful farmers, have a convenient home, and are active in their community. Verney Towns now owns an irrigated farm where he grows grain sorghum, cotton, and beef cattle and sheep help him in his farming operations. Verney and Mona Towns and two children, Sylvia Karo and James Edwards, are active in their church and in farm and civic organizations. Verney Towns family will be hon-

BIBLE SPEAKS
 Kenneth J. Foreman
 October 16, 1955

...one notable day the church does not celebrate. We say for the birth of Jesus, his presentation in the temple, a whole season (Lent) to his temptations, a day for his resurrection, the resurrection, Pentecost. But for remembering baptism, no day is set. It is well that the Sunday should do the church good; for baptism is one of the most important in his reason. The church should care to give this day the same importance. We do not know quite what it means. We know what Christian festivals mean—Easter Sunday, Christmas, Pentecost and so on. But what is the baptism of Jesus?

...of the difficulty is that Jesus was baptized by John. John's baptism, we know, was a baptism of repentance. So we can understand this way: Was the baptism of Jesus also a baptism of repentance, and if so, would he have had to repent? Or was it altogether different and if so, then what did it mean? Since the Bible does not answer this question clearly, we must look to the church for an explanation. The church has no doubt or "orthodox" explanation. Perhaps the best thing this church can do is to run over a few questions to that question: Was Jesus baptized? The church is invited to think about it and take his choice. One question which has three forms, the church has thought about, but has not taken a definite stand. It is the theory that Jesus was baptized, like every one else at the Jordan, in token of repentance for sin. One extreme of this theory is that Jesus was baptized of his own sins. Only a man who thinks of Jesus as an ordinary man could believe that. The church does not believe in either form of this idea. It is a theory of the idea being that it is a human nature that it is really human nature that it must be a sinful one even if he is sinless. (Just as one may have a weak constitution that never breaks down.) This again the church has overwhelmingly op-

...All Righteousness?" ...himself gave a reason for being baptized. The trouble did not explain what he said he did it "to fulfill righteousness." (Matthew 23:17) It is quite plain that he would not be doing right were not baptized. But just what "fulfilling all righteousness" meant? The explanation is widely accepted in the church that being baptized was a part of the Jewish law at the time that Jesus as a Jew observed this as he observed the laws of his religion. There are weak spots in this theory. There is little or no evidence that baptizing or being baptized was a regular religious practice among the Jews, and it is that Jesus did not feel bound to keep strictly all the laws of his religion. He would otherwise he would hardly have had the attitude toward the law which we know he had.

...of Sinners ...another explanation which is making a large number of converts today, is that Christ, in being baptized, was protesting that he did not do it, in a dramatic way, making the side of sinners. It is Jesus taking our part in presenting us on the Cross. It is asked, when did Jesus identify himself with sinners? Not until his last Friday night? On the contrary, the theory is that Christ there at the Jordan had the opportunity to place, publicly and in the presence of those who were proud sinners and made it their business to be proud sinners, or with those who were baptized were honest in confessing their sins and pressing their deep desire to be freed from them. So Jesus identified himself with all with sinners—not that he himself repented, but to show that he was with those who were repentant are his people. In the last, he was the baptizer of sinners.

Editorial is not a writ from on high; it's just one man's opinion"

Way To Raise Salaries Without Raising Costs

The county commissioners decided to determine their decision on increasing county salaries until those opposed to it can circulate petitions to indicate that most citizens are against the increases. Our own sampling of the opinion indicated to us that most citizens are opposed all right, but we doubt if enough people will go to the trouble to sign two or three thousand signatures on petitions. That runs into a major project which ordinary citizens cannot afford to undertake.

There is a good chance that the commissioners will go ahead in a few weeks and authorize the increases as set up in the budget. If so, they will probably make the raises effective January 1, 1956 instead of January 1957, when an ew term will start for about the county officers.

Such action will not be popular, although in personal opinion is that we would be able to pay some of our officers more money.
 We think there is a way in which raises can be given where needed and the people like it.

Each commissioner is now drawing $4000
 a year plus a car, which amounts to roughly $20,000 per year for the four of them.
 We suggest that they eliminate these salaries and their cars and draw $20 per day for each meeting they hold, then hire one qualified road man to supervise the road work in all four districts. This should get the efficient use of our road machinery and personnel and at about one third the salary
 we are now paying for four supervisors.
 The savings thus effected would not only raise the salaries to the other elected officers, but also to their deputies as well.

Such a change as this would not require action by the legislature. If the commissioners have the power to raise their own salaries, they must also have the power to raise them. And certainly they can hire other road employees if they like.

Hybrid Seeds May Increase Grain Sorghum Profits

(GUEST EDITORIAL)

An event which did not receive the notice it perhaps it should have received was an announcement by the U. S. Department of Agriculture a few weeks ago that a new type of hybrid grain sorghum had been successfully developed.

The development of this new hybrid seed
 may mean a drastic change in the farming operations of this area. It will increase yields from 20 to 40 per cent and the experts say that in a normal moisture year, yields of 110
 to 125 bushels per acre will not be uncommon.

This area has long been a grain sorghum area, and the acreage has grown rapidly in recent years with the development of improved varieties of combine milo. Now the stage is set for more acreage devoted to grain sorghum and reduction in wheat acreage.

The new hybrid seed, which is a dwarf type and will require less moisture and less soil than any varieties now being grown.
 The enthusiastic observers think grain sorghum may even push wheat out of the number one spot in our agriculture picture.

The agriculture department at Texas Tech has long worked on developing grain sorghum in the same position in this area as wheat occupies in the middle west.

Experts have long contended that the best use of agriculture in the Plains area is as a stock feeding center, using grain sorghum in place of corn. With proper development, this area could supplant the middle west feeder territory as the nation's major supplier of grain fed beef.

With the development of new grain sorghum varieties, we may see that day arrive.

Through A Glass Darkly

By CARROLL PONCEY

Ever wonder what happens to a box car
 when it leaves the freight yards or depot siding. We were waiting for a freight train to pass the other day and spotted a good old KCS box car, going toward Lubbock on a fast freight consist. We got to wondering where all that car had been since leaving the KCS lines between Kansas City, running down through Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas, Louisiana and winding up at Port Arthur,
 Texas.

We used to count the cars on every train that came through our little old home town in La., and got pretty well acquainted with the KCS, Southern Division, Shreveport, La.,
 headquarters. In fact, in our awkward envelope years (they still are) we even rode the rods to the county seat a couple of times without getting caught.

Anyway (Have you noticed how long it takes to get around to what we started out to say) Anyway, the railroads are pretty tricky about keeping up with box cars, and they can locate a car in a very short time.
 Don't understand just how it goes, but they use this IBM mechanical brain deal and can put the finger on a car just about any time they want to.

Isn't that interesting. You might add this to your list of things to wake up at night and think about.

Former residents of Littlefield, now living in Ord, Nebraska, of all places, have written the paper with a peculiar thing. It seems that this fellow works in a print shop up there and the other day he set a long list of books
 by different authors, and lo and behold one of the books is called Through A Glass Darkly. Written by Frederick H. Haines, the contents are supposed to "prepare you for your inevitable experiences after death." Sells for $1.25, and if it does that, it must be worth the money.

The other books on the list are equally squirrely. Listed among many others are such outstanding bloopers as "Witchcraft and Black Magic," by Dr. Montague Summers;
 The Transcenduntunity of Religions, by F.
 Schuon; You Can Speak With The Dead;
 Yogi Exercises For The Fit And Ailing; The Wisdom of Insecurity; and You Can Live Forever.

The only one we cant' seem to find to make the list complete is Through The Alimentary Canal With Gun And Camera,
 by Gomer Cool, PhD, DDT and SOL.

Lipstick Logic

By LOUISE ALLEN

Some of the hardest working women we know are those who dodge responsibility.
 To keep from doing things, they set up a resistance that takes a great deal more energy and will power than it would to agree, then, having turned down all requests to help with this or that project, they have to prove to themselves and the world just why they did right.

Some times, it's health. They regale everyone who comes along with what all's the matter with their necks, ankles, wrists, heads, stomachs and shoulder blades. Like as not, they convince themselves that it's true
 —then there's a doctor's bill to pay.

Or maybe they plead how busy they already are. Half the time they're not busy at all, so they must fly around seeming busy—to themselves and everyone else. Result:
 enough energy output to have done the job
 they were trying to escape.

If one of these draft dodgers is finally cornered and given a task, she'll stew over it so much that she builds up enough steam to make a teakettle boil.

We envy the woman with the will power to resist an invitation to help a cause—then is shameless enough to go ahead and enjoy her own wickedness. If she can sit back and laugh at the girls who haven't the gumption
 to say no—and can enjoy her own carefree days—then power to her. But if she's going to have a bad conscience about it, we say she might just as well be doing good with the effort she puts into proving she's right when she knows she's wrong.

No Blows Or Insults

One of the enjoyable things about the World Series is that the champs of both leagues feel like the crowd came to see them play baseball. They don't seem to feel compelled to swap blows with one another or insults with the umpires in order to keep the crowd amused.

Don't believe there was a single example of poor sportsmanship throughout the World Series this year. Possibly that's one of the reasons it is our most popular sports event.

The Sandhills Philosopher—

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has an odd theory this week, but that's not odd for him.)

Dear editor:
 I was out here on my farm yesterday afternoon wandering around just to be doing, most people have to have a purpose for nearly everything they do but I don't follow that policy, there are some aimless things worth doing in this life just for the doing and no man should be called on to explain why, when I took a newspaper away from one of my cows, she was chewing on it, lack of minerals in her diet, I guess, and she can have it back when I get through with it. Me and my cows operate on a free-choice basis, they chew and I read any paper we can get hold of.

I sat down and smoothed it out and over on an inside, or un-chewed, page I ran into an article that got me to thinking.

According to it, the population of the United States will be 190 million by 1975, and the population of Texas will almost be double, coming up to over 12 million. That's only 20 years from now.

While I didn't know there was any particular shortage of people in this world—the way it looks now the ones we got have a hard enough time getting along—I guess the people making the estimate know what they're talking about and we might as well face it, but what puzzled me is that nobody really explains why the population is increasing.

I think I know why. The reason is that the automobile manufacturers are making cars

 so fast the public is having a hard time buying all of them and yet if production is cut back it'll throw some people out of work and set up a chain reaction and consequently the only way to keep the population figures ahead of automobile production.

There are 2 things Americans can't stand.
 One is to see a car dealer with more cars than he can sell, and the other is to see a man walking when he could be riding, and my theory is that population figures are now definitely tied in with car production as definitely as deer are to the amount of grass available, and the population and car figures have no way to go but up.

It may get crowded eventually.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

The first frost of the season that appeared the morning of October 7th was just one day later than last year's for the North side of Lamb county a little bit earlier for the South part of the county. Last year the first frost hit on October 6th in the North part of the county and on October 14th on the South part of the county. Our real killing frost did not appear in 1954 until October 31st. With the exception of a few low places there does not seem to be any damage done by the frost that hit Friday morning. It is getting up close to the time of the year when we can expect a killing frost even though over a forty year period the average killing frost did not appear until November 4th. This certainly has not held true the last several years in Lamb county.

FIELD DAY

Thursday, October 13th, the Experiment Station will hold their annual Field Day at Lubbock. The station is located three miles northeast of the Lubbock County Court House at the junction of U. S. Highway 82 with the Farm Road No. 40. A lot of good information can be obtained by making the Field Day at the Sub-Station No. 8. Due to the heavy rains the Field Day had to be postponed from last Thursday to this Thursday. Among some of the things that will be shown and explained that day will be cotton breeding and improvements by L. L. Ray and Don Jones, grass seed production and adaptation studies, co-rean variety tests, special crops—cantaloupe, bean and sesame, fertilizers for cotton and grain sorghums and the influence of cropping systems on yield, soil improvement and soil conservation by E. L. Thaxton. Breeding and improvement on sorghums and hybrid sorghum production by N. W. Kramer and R. E. Carper. Irrigation water management for cotton and grain sorghum production, time and rate of application of water and cotton defoliation tests will also be discussed by E. L. Thaxton. Mechanization of cotton production, harvesting and processing, cover crop residue management, plant population studies and field storage but cotton will be covered by L. L. Ray. Mr. W. L. Owen Jr. will cover the treatment schedule for control of insects attacking cotton and the inter-relationships and control of insects attacking legumes and cotton. Probably one of the most interesting experiments carried on at the station is the one conducted in simulating hail damage to cotton by H. C. Lane.

Agricultural research seeks the whys, the whens, the wheres, and the hows of hundreds of problems which confront the farmers and ranchers and the many industries depending on or serving agriculture. The workers of Sub-Station No. 8 at Lubbock diligently seek to find solutions to a lot of the problems facing the farmers of Lamb county.

A tour of the farm will be made at any time between the hours of 9:30 am and 11:30 am, and each of the personnel will give a discussion of the problems after lunch. As in the past, you may take a sack lunch and drinks will be furnished or you may buy a barbecue dinner for one dollar.

BIND WEED

Field Bind Weed sometimes known as Possession Vine is a hearty climbing perennial with arrow shaped leaves and trumpet shaped flowers. The plant is a trailing vine that grows along the ground but climbs readily if supported. Field Bind Weed is a native of Europe and was introduced in North America along the Atlantic seaboard and was reported as early as 1739. At the present time, 32,000 acres of the weed occurred in the Panhandle of Texas on 28% of the farms threatening crop production on over a million and half acres of cultivated land. There is a continued increase in the number of plots in Lamb county and as the farmers who attended the Paymaster Farm Tour last week found out they have spent over four thousand dollars on their farm at the rate of $400.00 per acre in the control of this serious plant.

Since small infestations of Bind Weed should be eradicated before they spread and the cost does not get too high, we think that with a patch of it on your particular farm, regardless of the size, the treatment should be started now. Sodium Chlorate has been used for Bind Weed control since 1927, and seems to be getting the best results on the control of this weed at the Paymaster Farm. However, concentrated Barasol Atlaside Polybar Chlorate and Karmes-W have been used with good results at the Amarillo Experiment Station in the control of this plant. Application of soil sterilants usually does not completely eliminate the Bind Weed. The remaining plants should be spot treat about two years after the first treatment. If there are more than fifty plants per square rod remaining spot retreatment will be impractical and the entire area should be treated again with the soil sterilant. It is very important that the soil sterilant should be spread at least ten feet beyond the edge of the patch in order to kill all of the roots. It is also important that the amount of soil sterilant used be much higher than the manufacturers' recommendations. It is much more practical to apply them in their dry form than it is to mix them with water. Using any type of spreader or by hand being sure to get the top of the ground a very definite white cast.

Even a very small plot will be very expensive to kill so therefore we think it is most important that if you have Bind Weed on your farm that regardless of the cost it would be very wise to start eradicating now.

Research Paces Oil's Progress

There are three reasons why America's petroleum industry has been able to supply the ever-increasing demand for energy called for by our mechanized way of life: 1, it has fearlessly invested its capital in the hazardous search for oil and gas; 2, it has steadily expanded its facilities; and 3, it has conducted endless research to find better, more efficient ways to make the oil products America needs.

Research! That's the key to the petroleum industry's progress. And the Humble Company assures itself a place of leadership in this field with two great research laboratories.

In the Humble Research Center in Houston scientists and engineers study all phases of finding, producing, and conserving oil and gas.

In the Research Laboratory at Humble's Baytown, Texas, Refinery, highly skilled technicians seek to develop new and better petroleum products, to improve those we already have, and to develop methods for making these products more efficiently.

Just as America's progress depends on oil, so oil's progress depends on research.

Chryslers Offer Greater Power, Styling, And Push-Button Shifting

Such innovations as shift-shifting, high fire, LifeGuard door latch, and instant-heat air-heat, were announced by Chrysler dealerships to coast.

With spirit and vigor Corporation's Forward Look styling is accentuated still further. The 1956 Chrysler lines by completely original rear fenders," said general sales manager Division, Chrysler the 'PowerStyle' Windsor and 'PowerStyle' New Yorker models are the latest engineering—exclusive new Push-Button drive, new 12-volt system and new brakes of unprecedented efficiency and long wear."

V-8 engines—a more 200-horsepower Fire in the Chrysler New Yorker and a 225-horsepower in the Chrysler Windsor—outstanding performance increased economy efficiency power modifiable on Windsors and engines to a full power.

Chrysler also offers rear fenders, efficiency vacuum Pow-brakes, new pull-type brakes, new improved headlights and a new

1956 Chrysler Introduces Flight-Swept Rear Fenders

A beautiful Forward Look two-tone are the 1956 Chrysler Windsor convertible (foreground) and the 1956 Chrysler New Yorker six-passenger sedan which feature original flight-swept rear fenders, push-button drive, a new 12-volt electrical system and new center-plane brakes requiring 25 per cent less pedal effort. The Chrysler Windsor features a new 225-horsepower Spitfire V-8 engine and the Chrysler New Yorker is powered by a new 240-horsepower FirePower V-8 engine. Both cars feature new super-safe LifeGuard door latches, rotary-type deck-lid latch, and 135 color combinations. Wider Variety of Body Styles Offered The Chrysler Windsor is available in a completely new four-door hardtop, six-passenger sedan, Nassau hardtop, Newport hardtop convertible coupe and the Town and Country Wagon. The Chrysler New Yorker line includes a new four-door hardtop, six-passenger sedan, Newport hardtop, convertible coupe and Town and Country Wagon.

senger sedan, Newport hardtop, St. Regis hardtop, convertible coupe and Town and Country Wagon. New style-setting flight-swept rear fenders emphasize the low, slim, taut lines characteristic of the Forward Look. Fin-like, the new fenders lend an aircraft feeling to the overall design. Chrysler's 1956 hardtop and convertible models are five inches longer than last year.

Horizontal Line Emphasized In New Front End

The clean horizontal lines of the grille bars sweep out toward the front fenders, with the wide front parking lights adding to the feeling of width and lowness. The Chrysler New Yorker's unique "wing tank" outer bumper extensions also carry out the aircraft theme.

Completing the low, road-hugging look of both lines, the outer edges of the grille frames and parking light openings slope inward, accentuating the tumbled-home of the upper structure of the cars. Tail lights, stop lights and back-up lights of the 1956 Chrysler have been designed into a single integrated unit, fully protected at the top by a "brow" which juts out from the fender. Large wheel openings and distinctive wheel covers, emphasize the functional quality of the wheels. New easy-pull door handles have been designed to actuate the LifeGuard door latches.

Push-Button Drive on PowerLife

For 1956 Chrysler introduces a revolutionary new push-button drive, another step toward the completely-automatic automobile. Located conveniently to the left of the steering column, the push-button selector gives the driver true fingertip control over his car at all times.

The push-buttons are mounted on a panel projecting from the instrument panel. A light touch is all that is needed to change the driving range, and this can be accomplished without lifting the elbow from the arm rest. A hydraulic interlock prevents the driver from accidentally selecting reverse when he is traveling over ten miles per hour. The button in operation is dimly lighted at night, with the buttons not in operation brightly lighted for easy range selection.

Revolutionary LifeGuard Latches On All Chrysler Doors

For 1956 Chrysler offers as standard equipment an important new advancement in passenger safety, the LifeGuard door latch. Extensive tests have proven that this new latch, with inter-locking pieces of heavy-gauge steel on both door and striker, virtually eliminates the possibility of car doors flying open on impact. It literally ties the doors and the body together into a strong unit.

New V-8 Engines Have Higher Horsepower, Displacement, Torque

Taking advantage of today's higher quality gasolines, Chrysler has increased the compression ratio of its Spitfire engine in the Chrysler Windsor line from 8.0 to 8.5 to one, increased its bore diameter to 3.81 inches, and increased its displacement 331 cubic inches for 225-horsepower at 4,400 rpm. With the new super power modification offered as optional equipment, the Spitfire delivers 250 horsepower at 4,600 rpm. The FirePower engine in the Chrysler New Yorker line has a new compression ratio of 9.0 to one, a bore diameter of 3.94 inches, and an increased displacement of 354 cubic inches for a full 280 horsepower at 4,600 rpm. The stroke of both engines is 3.63 inches.

New Center-Plane Brakes Give Up To 20,000 More Miles of Service

Standard equipment for 1956 are revolutionary new floating-shoe center-plane brakes. This design gives up to 20,000 more miles of brake lining wear than conventional brakes, making possible up to five years of normal operation without re-lining. Pedal-effort required for the new brakes is 25 per cent less than for conventional brakes. Only one minor brake adjustment per year will be necessary for most drivers.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By VERN SAUFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—A big political question this week was what effect Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey's new job as national Democratic committee man from Texas will have on his and Texas' political future.

Ramsey, quiet-mannered and nearly 52, was elected at a Fort Worth meeting of the state executive committee last week. He succeeds Wright Morrow of Houston.

Often mentioned as a prospective candidate for governor, the San Augustine lawyer was catapulted into the committee job without advance fanfare. He was labeled a surprise "compromise" nominee after agreement could not be reached on 14 others.

Some viewed it as positioning him on the inside track in the governor's race with firm conservative support and maybe some "loyalist" backing. A few seemed to consider the job a political blind alley. A few others thought Ramsey already had made up his mind against running for anything and welcomed the committee post to stay in public life.

Ramsey himself said he was "grateful and happy," but kept mum on personal political aspirations. He said his only purpose was to help get the best man for the Democratic nominee and to assist in electing him president.

Both House Speaker Sam Rayburn and U. S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson promptly expressed approval of Ramsey's selection. Their approval had been part of the requirements laid down by national party leaders for an "acceptable" committeeman from Texas. Morrow had not been recognized nationally since his bolt from the party ticket to support Eisenhower.

Johnson said Ramsey can do the kind of job that should unite Texas Democrats. Rayburn called him "a good man for the place."

SHIVERS SEES VICTORY
Gov. Allan Shivers has launched his drive for conservative control of next year's Democratic Party conventions.

Executive committee members planned convention strategy behind closed doors at Fort Worth last week. Then Shivers took the rostrum for a stirring speech at a $10-a-plate barbecue and rally.

He challenged those who agree with him on party principles to capture next April's precinct conventions.

He said Texas votes in the national convention may be the decisive ones. "We cannot allow—we must not allow—those votes to be cast against the interests of Texas by a delegation representing a minority of Texans," he said.

"We must fight on if we do not want to see the hand of federal power reach further into the classrooms of our children. We must fight on if we are to hold the right to enforce our own laws and police our own communities."

"The time for quitting has not come. We have won before and we are going to win again."

DUVAL INDICTMENTS FALL

Officials seeking to clean up Duval County's alleged corruption may have to re-do nearly two years work.

A storm of reaction greeted the Court of Criminal Appeals ruling last week that the Duval grand jury which returned 104 indictments was illegally organized.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, who worked with the grand jury for months, termed it "a tragic loss."

Specifically, the judgment overturned conviction of R. L. Adams, former Duval County school superintendent charged with felony theft of public funds. But all other indictments by the same grand jury would be subject to the same challenge.

District Judge A. S. Broadfoot named the jury commission that chose the grand jury. He had been sent to Duval county in March 1954, by the State Supreme Court to replace Woodrow Laughlin, removed for misconduct in office.

Judge Broadfoot's dismissal of the grand jury panel selected under Laughlin and naming a new commission "of his own choosing" was held improper. An open-court hearing should have been held, the appellate court said, to determine if there was cause for dismissal of the old panel.

Judge K. K. Woodley dissented in the two-to-one ruling. He pointed out that in a similar case the court had upheld Broadfoot.

Shepperd also commented on the court's about-face. "The U. S. Supreme Court took 80 years to reverse itself on segregation, but this court reversed itself in 18 months," he said.

He promised re-indictments would be sought before the present Duval grand jury. He also said the hearing would be asked before the appellate court and disqualification of Judge Lloyd W. Davidson might be sought.

Grounds, he said, would be that Judge Davidson had "expressed himself" on the Duval cases before he became judge.

Davidson took office Jan. 1, replacing retired Judge Harry N. Graves. In the previous decision, Judges Graves and Woodley had voted together, with Judge William A. Morrison dissenting. In the new decision, Davidson joined Morrison to reverse the court's previous stand.

BELL INDICTMENT UNCERTAIN

Indictments seemed to be falling like ninepins. In Seguin the grand jury which indicted Congressman John Bell in connection with a veterans land deal was ruled "illegally constituted."

Another unrelated case was involved when the court upheld an attorney's contention that the jury was not qualified because

World Agriculture Keeping Up With Population Increase

World agriculture production, excluding countries in the Communist bloc, was more than 25 per cent greater in 1954 than in 1946-47, according to a report from the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

Reviewing agricultural development of the decade since the end of World War II, and since its own birth in 1945, the FAO says that food production in areas outside the Communist bloc has slightly outweighed growth in population since before the war. Consequently production per head is slightly above prewar levels.

Leaving out the Communist bloc for which figures are still incomplete, the world is now, for instance, producing about 20 per cent more rice, milk, and cotton than before the war; about 30 per cent more wheat, fat and meat; 50 per cent more fruit and sugar; and 80 per cent more natural rubber.

Against this background of greater abundance, the FAO report shows, however, that in many Far Eastern and in some Latin American countries the consumption of food per person still remains below the very inadequate prewar levels. Generally, over large parts of the world the problem is not yet solved of providing people with the means to buy as much food as they need.

The striking aspect of trade in agricultural products according to the FAO report, has been the change in the pattern. Up to 1952, North American food exports were 3 to 4 times as much as before the war, but then began to decline with the recovery of production in other parts of the world. On the other hand, food exports from the Far East are still less than half the pre-war volume. European food imports, which shortly after the war were unusually high, seem to have settled down at about 10 per cent lower than before the war while North America's food imports show a slowly rising trend the Latin American food imports, although they have increased sharply, remain relatively small.

Sewell Infant Rites At Spade Held Monday

Funeral services for Eddy Dwayne Sewell, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Sewell, were held Monday at 3 pm at the Spade Church of Christ.

The child was born September 7, and died October 9 in a Lubbock hospital. The parents live 16½ miles northeast of Littlefield.

Interment was in Littlefield Memorial Park under the direction of Hammons Funeral Home.

one member had not paid his poll tax.

It seemed certain that Bell's indictment and several others connected with the land scandal investigation also would be invalidated.

Bell, a former state senator who helped set up the veterans land program, was charged with conspiring to steal $154,000. He repeated his claim of innocence after hearing of the impending quashing of the indictment against him.
