NEW HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION IS ORGANIZED

Body Pledges Support For Completing of West Texas Program

Dr. Ira E. Woods, president of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, was elected a vice-president of the South Plains Good Roads association, an organization which was perfected at Lubbock Friday afternoon.

The new organization pledged support for completion of the highway program in this section of West Texas and expressed opposition to any move to divert from the state gasoline tax for other uses than highway work.

Between 100 and 150 citizens of 31 counties attended the meeting.

In addition to Dr. Woods, Littlefield was represented at the meeting by J. W. Hale, secretary-manager of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce.

The County of Lamb was represented by Judge Simon D. Hay and Commissioners C. E. Strawn and Don Bryant.

Affiliated With State Group

The new association is affiliated with the Texas Good Roads association, an organization formed last October dedicated to the proper upkeep of existing highways and to the building of those sections of highways needed to complete the network of primary roads in the state.

Dr. Woods stated this week that he will launch a campaign in Littlefield to obtain members for the Texas Good Roads association.

Percy B. Ralls of Ralls was named president of the South Plains body. County Judge Phillip Yonge, of Lamesa, Dr. Ira E. Woods of Littlefield and Marlis D. Ratliff of Lubbock were elected vice-presidents. J. C. Watson of Lubbock is secretary-treasurer of the association and director of the state organization for this district.

Talks Are On Program

Road enthusiasts in attendance included county judges, commissioners, chamber of commerce officials, newspapermen and citizens of this area.

After hearing a brief address of welcome from Dr. I. E. Barr, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, the visitors listened to talks by A. B. Davis, manager of the

WORK IS GIVEN UNEMPLOYED IN CITY

BIG SAVINGS ARE MADE IN COST OF OPERATING CITY

CITY IS RUN IN PAST 11 MONTHS BELOW BUDGET

The City of Littlefield has expended in excess of $2,100 less in the general operation of the city thus far in the fiscal year, which opened March 1, 1932, than was estimated would be required, according to City Secretary W. G. Street.

A budget was made up by the city commissioners and the city secretary on March 1, and efforts have been directed throughout the past 11 months to stay well within the budget, with the result that the operating costs of the city have been reduced materially.

WHAT NEXT?

And now the Texas legislature has received a proposal to tax incomes, on a basis of from one to seven per cent on individuals and from two to six per cent on corporations.

We are wondering if there is any other form of taxation that state and national government can think up.

The great need of Texas, the great need of most other states, and the great need in national government, is the operation of all branches of government on a "pay as you go" basis; if there is no butter available without going into debt, then eat the bread minus the butter. Under that system of operation, it is never long until there is butter available—AND PAID FOR—with which to smear all over the bread.

That is the way people who are successful in private business operate, and why shouldn't such a system of operation be applied to state and national government.

What Do You Think?
P. S. The way to balance the budget is to cut operating expenses.

Work Starts On Community Church In Oklahoma Flats

Work is underway on a new one-room community church in Oklahoma Flats on the J. R. Wales farm, 11 miles south of Littlefield.

The structure will be 28 by 36 feet and is expected to be completed within 10 days. Funds for the building were raised by subscription and the citizens of the community are donating their labor without charge.

J. I. Wingfield, who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Clara Vouthier at Antlers, Oklahoma for the past three weeks, returned home Tuesday night.

Bill To Aid Farmers Offered

A bill to help the farmer who cannot pay off the mortgage on his land was introduced in the senate by Senator W. R. Poage of Waco.

Senator Poage would stop the practice of selling a farm for considerably less than the amount of the mortgage. If a loan company wanted to foreclose immediately, it would have to accept the land in full payment of the farmer's debt. If the company did not want to take the land in full payment, it would have to wait two years before it could dispossess the owner and sell the land to satisfy the debt.

Senator Poage predicted that unless such legislation were passed, Texas soon would be witnessing united resistance of farmers against foreclosure sales similar to the movement already underway in the middle west. He said that farmers of the Central Texas black land belt were angry at the action of loan companies in taking their land and obtaining judgments against them in addition.

Meat Demonstration At Foust Farm

APPOINTMENTS MADE TO FACULTY OF SCHOOLS

At a meeting of the school board Tuesday night, J. W. James was elected a member to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of A. P. Duggan, and he was then elected president of the board.

The board then elected Lois Kirkpatrick as a teacher to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Power in the primary department.

The board also elected Earl Hobbs as teacher to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Earl Hopping in the grammar school.

STEP FORWARD IN DEVELOPING THIS SECTION

Paved Roads Will Extend From Fort Worth To Clovis

Approximately $1,000,000 will be placed in circulation through paving projects which are to be carried out in this immediate section.

The total covers the paving of No. 7 for eight miles through Hockley county, the paving of No. 7 from the Hockley county line through Lamb county to three miles west of Sudan, the paving of No. 28 through Lamb county to the Bailey county line, and the paving of No. 28 from the Lamb county line to Muleshoe.

The estimate of the total amount of money which will be placed in circulation through the two paving projects is based on an estimated cost of $13,000 per mile. There will be eight miles of paving built through Hockley county in the hard surfacing of No. 7 and 27 miles through Lamb county. In connection with the improvement of No. 28 there will be 33 miles of paving through Lamb county and six and one-half miles through Bailey county.

"There will soon be pavement from Fort Worth to Clovis," said Judge Simon D. Hay, in discussing the paving projects which are to be carried out in Lamb and adjoining counties.

Paving Is Big Step Forward

The judge declared that pavement serving the territory from Fort Worth to Clovis will be a big step forward in the further development of this section of the country.

WORK UNDERWAY IN SETTING BACK FENCES

Work is under way in the widening of Highway No. 7 through Lamb county, preliminary to the paving of the road.

Work was started Tuesday in the setting back of the high line of the Texas Utilities company and the following day work was launched in the setting back of the fences.

The road will be made 100 feet wide from fence to fence.

The cost of the work is being paid partly by the county and partly from Reconstruction Finance corporation funds.

Highway No. 7 has been paved west from Lubbock for about 18 miles and also has been paved for a number of miles west of Sudan, commencing about three miles west of that city.

The present paving of No. 7, in so far as this work directly affects Littlefield and Lamb county, is the paving of eight miles through Hockley county and from the Hockley county line west to three miles west of Sudan where the present paving will be joined.

Clothing Exhibit To Be Held Wednesday At Amherst School

Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist of A. & M. college, will discuss and exhibit a complete woman's wardrobe at the auditorium of the Amherst high school Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The exhibit is being staged under the direction of the county council of the home demonstration clubs. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Jack Foust, who has been living in Sudan for the past two years, and recently been connected with the Sudan Drug, has returned to Littlefield to make his home.

She writes that the banquet she attended gave her the "send-off" in 4-H work. It was determined to return home "for something." She did, and the interest of Minneapolis people kept them spurred on. She did so well in 4-H work she was named state champion girl leader this past year. This year she not only received an invitation to their annual get-together, but was asked to speak.

She wrote this: "Three of the Civic and Commerce groups has done so much for me I can never thank its sponsors enough. It has started in life which no one could buy. The more I think about it and its contacts the more I love it. It has brought me closer to my family and my home. It has made my life so interesting. It has given me an education and shown me a way to get it. It has given me hope, faith and challenged me to be the best woman I can."

Leland Lowe Is Injured In Crash; Recovery Doubtful

Leland Lowe was injured in an automobile accident, which occurred on Highway No. 7, near Roundup, at between 6:30 and 7 p. m. yesterday, and was taken to the Lubbock Sanitarium. At a late hour last night the sanitarium reported that he was not expected to live through the night.

The car of the injured Littlefield man had been wrecked and Bob Nichols of Littlefield, who operates a truck, was assisting him when Lowe was injured. Reports reaching this city were to the effect that he was struck by a car driven by a Littlefield man.

Lowe was coming toward Littlefield when his car was wrecked. In the crash in which Lowe was injured, Nichols' truck and the car of the Littlefield man, which is said to have hit Lowe, were damaged.

Mrs. Leland Lowe, the injured man's brother, Tommy Lowe, his sister, Onita Lowe, and Walter Beer, who resides in the home of Mrs. M. E. Lowe, mother of the injured man, went to Lubbock immediately following the accident.

FINANCE CORPORATION FUNDS USED TO PAY LABOR

Probably the most important civic work which is being carried out in Littlefield at this time is that of the Red Cross and the employment being given men through Reconstruction Finance corporation funds. These projects are being carried out quietly but, nevertheless, they are accomplishing a task that means everything to the unemployed and the needy of the city.

Similar work is underway in the other cities of the county.

"WOODEN MONEY"

Not long ago one frequently heard the jocular admonition: "Don't take any wooden mney." We have been reminded of this in reading about the successful introduction of wooden money or its equivalent in various communities in different parts of the country.

It is true that any money is good money which everybody will accept as money. In the early days of America the Indians used money made from oyster shells, which they called wampum. It had no value in itself, but it was accepted everywhere as money, and served all the purposes of trade.

Wampum wasn't any good in foreign commerce, and the paper money which is being used locally in various parts of the country isn't any good outside of the communities in which it is issued except to such people as have an opportunity to spend it inside of those communities.

The plan is working successfully so far, however, in providing a circulating medium of exchange for local purposes. The painter out of a job, for example, is perfectly willing to trade his labor for a pair of shoes, but if the shoemaker doesn't need anypainting done but the blacksmith does, there must be found a way whereby the painter can work for the blacksmith and get something from the blacksmith which the shoemaker is willing to accept for shoes. And this local money, good only for a limited time and only within certain geographical limits, seems to answer that purpose.

To us this is a pretty good indication that American resourcefulness and initiative have not disappeared and that we are going to find plenty of ways of pulling ourselves out of the distress, of which we are now thoroughly tired.

CRIME

If you will take the trouble to check up on it, you will find that the majority of our hi-jackers and bank robbers are young men. Many of them are scarcely out of their teens. There seem to be a lot of young "smart Alecks" who haven't any more sense than to think that they can make a life of crime. They could not possibly make a greater mistake. Crime never pays, not even when the criminal gets away with the loot. And even the criminal who is able to get away with the loot the first few times will finally be caught or killed. There are two things the young criminals need; one is character, the other is common sense.—Lynn County News.

"Dear Comrade:

"In behalf of the veterans of the Richard New Post No. 301, Littlefield, Texas, we wish you to know that our heart-felt sympathy goes out to you.

"We feel helpless to express our appreciation to you, dear comrade, for the noble things you have done to further the advancement of the American Legion work in general but more especially your untiring efforts as commander of our local post. May we offer to assure you that since we cannot be with you in person, that our thoughts are constantly keeping you in our minds, hopeful that you will regain your health in the very near future.

We are not only offering you our condolence, but we trust that the same government you fought for in years past will come to your immediate aid and do for you all possible to cure you of your present malady.

"The Legion work here at home will need to be carried on where you left off. Possibly not as efficiently as you worked, but we want you to know that activity will continue along the same lines and to the best interests of the organization.

"Comrade Riley, accept our very best wishes to you for a speedy recovery. May it not be long when we may have you back with us, ready to assist and carry on as friends and neighbors, one to the other, working together for good."

LOWER WATER MAINS

The wearing away of some of the streets caused city water mains to become exposed in a number of places with the result that pipes became frozen in severe weather. This situation has been remedied, according to City Commissioner Homer Hall, by the digging of deeper trenches and the lowering of the pipes. More than 3,000 feet of pip have been lowered, Mr. Hall stated.

OPSIS: Pauline, sentimental, sincere and loving love, engaged and married Dennis in the belief that their blissfulness will continue unchanged all the years. On her wedding morning she awakens with a premonition that maybe love change, a thought buried in her by a letter from her closest friend, Barbara, the night before. Barbara, who had married, was the mother of a child who died, but now divorced and living a life which some of her friends could not understand. Barbara and Dennis is a seeming of personal dislike by both. Months after Pauline's wedding, Barbara comes for a short stay. During this visit Barbara confesses to Pauline that there is a man she really loves, but she refuses to tell his name. Barbara decides suddenly to go home. Pauline insists Dennis drive her to the station. Irritated, Dennis drives recklessly, and they are in a collision. Barbara escapes injury but Dennis' leg is broken. As he returns home, Pauline learns who the man is that Barbara loves. It's him—Dennis. Barbara spends several weeks in hospital. Barbara returns to stay with Pauline, but on one pretext or another fails to visit Dennis with her at the hospital. Pauline is highly for Dennis' return home. Barbara stays only one day after Dennis' return from the hospital. Barbara against his will Dennis finds a attraction in Barbara, who plays the same cool and detached role as Pauline. A fortnight after Barbara's return to New York, she receives a letter from Pauline that she and Dennis are coming to New York for a vacation. Upon their arrival at New York, Barbara gets away—throwing Dennis and Pauline much into each other's company. Dennis is in love with Barbara. He goes through all barriers and tells Pauline of his love. Pauline is called home by the illness of her mother. Dennis goes on. Barbara is happy. Both fight for the best love—but it's over powering. GO ON WITH THE STORY.

Dennis was silent for a moment, he said, the blood deepening in his face. "I want to say that, if it didn't hurt Pauline terribly, I would—let me go." "And you have been married only two months," said Barbara. "It doesn't take as long as a few days to discover a mistake." "I think life is horrible," she said. "It's horrible because we know we can't do the thing we want to do." "I agreed hoarsely. "Because it is a so-called code of honour says a man and a woman shall

"It's very unromantic." "It wouldn't be to me. Let me come to your home, Barbara, just once." "You won't be the first, Dennis. Jerry Barnett often comes." "It makes no difference." "Very well, your blood be on your own head."

But her heart beat with a happiness that was yet pain. It would be something to know that he had once been in the rooms where she had dreamed of him so often; something to remember when all this foolishness was at an end.

"You'll hate it," she told him as they went up in the lift to her flat. "It's like me—as you thought I was when you first knew me." She opened the door with her key.

He followed her into the sitting room, and Barbara stirred the fire into a blaze and looked around her with critical eyes.

Hitherto she had been rather proud of her flat, with its queer coloring and very modern lighting, but today she felt vaguely dissatisfied with it. She knew quite well why she felt dissatisfied. It was the presence of Dennis O'Hara that made her choice of furniture and fittings look tawdry and bizarre. Dennis himself was so wholesome, so clean. There was nothing artificial or pretentious about him; he had come into her life like a fresh breeze into a stuffy, scented room, with which she knew she would never again be satisfied.

She sighed again and came back to the fire.

"Take off your coat, won't you? There's whisky on the sideboard, and cigarettes. Mix me a whisky, please."

She sat down in one of the big velvet chairs and leaned her head back, watching him with grave eyes.

He looked so at home there in her sitting room, in spite of his tweed suit, which was oddly at variance with his surroundings; he looked somehow as if he belonged, she thought, and a little shiver of joy shook her as she realized how wonderful it would be if it was really his home as well as hers, if they had the right to shut the door on the world and be happy.

Unconsciously her eyes misted over as she looked at him. So dear! so beloved, but the husband of another woman.

Dennis came back with two whiskies.

Barbara rose to her feet.

"I want to talk to you. No—stay there at a nice respectable distance, please." She moved close to the fire and held her hands to its warmth. Barbara had beautiful hands, slender and white, and suddenly Dennis found himself contrasting them with Pauline's.

Barbara went on after a moment in a brisk unemotional voice.

was all the different loves of life that had never been hers, father, mother, lover, child—everything.

He held her very gently, his face against her hair, speaking words of which he had never believed himself capable. So often had he told Pauline that he could not "talk like a poetry book" and that she must take his love for granted. Poor little Pauline, who although she was his wife, had never been his love.

And then Barbara gently disengaged herself.

"I'm sorry, it's your fault. I've never been such a weak idiot before." The tears were streaming down her face, and though she tried to brush them away they still fell. "If I'd met you years ago, Dennis, I might have been quite a nice woman," she said sobbing. "And oh, look at your coat, all wet with my tears. Let me wipe them away."

But he held her wrists, preventing her.

"No, let them be, they are mine, anyway," he said; then he kissed her hands, the palm of each, and let her go.

"And all this doesn't help us or tell us what to do," he said ruefully.

Barbara laughed shakily. "We don't need to be told—we know already. You're married to one of the sweetest girls in the world, who adores you, and I—though I've got the reputation of being a husband stealer, somehow I can't steal you, Dennis. Perhaps it's the one decent streak in my nature coming to the top at last. I don't know. I can't understand myself. I'm not given to decent actions. It's not for Pauline, either. I'm fond of her, but not fond enough to wear a martyr's crown for her sake."

She was standing by the fire again now, her arm resting on the mantel-shelf, her eyes bent on the leaping flames. "It must be because I love you so much," she said after a moment. "You know, the sort of thing you read about in books. She loved him too well to spoil his life sort of thing," she said cynically; then suddenly her head went down on her arm. "Why need it have happened to me! I've never been given any happiness; all my life everything's gone wrong."

Dennis watched her silently; his arms ached with their longing to hold her, but he was afraid.

Barbara spoke suddenly: "You'd better go, Dennis. There's nothing more to say, and it's getting late. You've got to dine with Dr. Stornaway, you know."

"I can put him off."

"Nonsense." She turned and faced him bravely. "I look a sight, don't I? Women always do when they've been crying, and that's why they cry when there's nobody to see—I cry torrential tears at night."

He took her in his arms and kissed her. "Some day—" he said hoarsely, but she would not let him finish, she laid a hand on his lips, silencing him, and at that moment there was a sudden knock at the front door. Barbara gently disengaged herself.

"I expect it's Mellish. I'll let her in." She gave a hurried glance in the WOMAN LOST 10 LBS. IN A WEEK

Mrs. Betty Luedeke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruscher to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruscher in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drug store in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back.

But be sure and get Kruscher Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

mirror. "I look a sight, but she won't notice."

She turned to go, then came back and put her arms around his neck and kissed him, but then, when she would have gone, he held her and kissed her many times, and Barbara said breathlessly, "Do you remember the story of the plain princess who only looked beautiful when the man she loved kissed her, and so she always looked beautiful to him? Well, I think that must be me," and then, as the knock was repeated, she went swiftly away, and Dennis mechanically lighted a cigarette and walked over to the window.

As he stood there looking out into the gray afternoon his only emotion was one of passionate gladness that his great love for this other woman had been given to him. He had not lived until he kissed her; she only had brought rapture into the calm serenity of his life.

together no matter how much hate each other." "You couldn't do it. Nobody could."

"No, I didn't mean that. She's the best—the sweetest—"

There was a long silence; then she said suddenly:

"When we say good-bye after this Dennis, it is to be good-bye."

His face flushed and his lips trembled.

"For Pauline's sake, or for mine, or your own?" he asked.

"For your own," she said, and her eyes were world is upside down," she said. "Only the other told Jerry Barnett that it was of romance when a man says 'my dear,' but now it seems to me like the beginning of a love that will end, Barbara."

"We're like a sentimental boy and girl," she said. "Ask for the bill, and I'll pay."

"It's raining a little when they called a taxi—don't wait," Barbara said. "You imagine we are going to say good-bye like this?" "Not? It's as good a way as any."

"Good enough for me." "Dennis had fetched a taxi, and Barbara and Dennis drove away from the hotel. "I've never seen your home," Dennis said. "I've often tried to find where you live,"

"All this—nonsense has to stop, Dennis, you know that." She looked round at him and quickly away again. "We're behaving like—like a couple of rotters. There's Pauline."

She paused, but he did not speak, and she went on: "Are you going to break her heart?"

Dennis said, "It is a question of her heart or yours."

She cut in harshly. "Mine isn't the kind that breaks—you've only got to look at me to see that." She dared not look at him as she spoke, but she could have laughed at the contrast between her carelessly spoken words and the stark desolation in her heart.

"If he would only speak—only say something," she told herself in despair.

And then she heard him move and she felt his hands on her shoulders, gently turning her to him, and she raised her eyes slowly, slowly, till they met his. There was a little silence, then Dennis bent and kissed her lips.

"If this is what you call trying to play the game, Barbara, don't try any more. I know you, and I know that you belong to me as much as I belong to you, and that nothing will ever change it even if—if you say—it's got to end. Well?" he queried, as she did not speak.

Barbara's lips moved, but no words came. Then quite suddenly she put her head down on his shoulders.

"Love me, love! Please love me," she said wildly.

At that moment he was far more to her than just the man she would have married if he had been free: he

SOCIETY. AMERICAN LEGION SERVE SUPPER TO AUXILIARY AND LEGION MEMBERS

The members of the local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary met in regular session Monday night, January 23, at the Legion Hall, with the President, Mrs. W. D. T. Storey, presiding.

A short business session followed, during which a letter was read by the secretary, Mrs. R. E. Riley, from the Health Center, at Legion, near Kerrville, Texas, thanking the Auxiliary for the quilt, which was made and sent by the members of the local unit to the home for Christmas.

Plans were discussed for the making of another quilt to be sent to the Veteran's Hospital, also at Legion, Texas, and a meeting was called for the following Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock for the purpose of starting the quilt.

Plans were also made for the members to meet in the Red Cross Room at the City Hall, Friday, January 27, from 1 to 4, for the purpose of assisting with Red Cross work.

The members of the American Legion also met in regular session the same evening, when W. D. T. Storey, vice commander acted in place of Commander R. E. Riley in the latter's absence, and J. S. Hilliard filled the place of Adjutant Arthur Mueller, in his absence.

Following a short business session the members of the Legion Post served a supper to the Auxiliary members and Legionnaires. Claude Clark, Mess Sergeant, had charge of the arrangements, and was assisted by several other members.

A large attendance is reported at the meeting and supper, including a number of visitors from surrounding towns and communities. Mr. and Mrs. Ben McGee and Mr. and Mrs. Phelps of Amherst were among the visitors.

Members present were Misses Ernestine O'Connell, Wilda Courtney, Blanche White, Alice Lynn Street, Edna Bell Gillette, Blanche Crockett, and the hostess, Miss Ann Marie Harless.

The hostess served delicious hot chocolate and cake for refreshments. The club adjourned to meet February 11, 1933.

MISS HELEN PORTER ENTERTAINS

Miss Helen Porter entertained a group of her friends Saturday, January 28, with a party.

After playing various games, refreshments were served to the following: Misses Dora Bell Smith, Carleen Manley, Waunda Dunn, Grace Scott, Joyce Griffin, Olene Robbins, and Jack Norman, Jack Harvey, Lee Beckner, Delbert Falls, Straus Atkinson, George Glenn, Buford Eagen, Emery Glass and Opal Yeary.

MRS. J. R. COEN GIVES LESSONS ON HOME NURSING

The two classes in Home Economics II are having some interesting lessons in home nursing. On Monday, for the benefit of each of these groups and their teacher, Miss Collins, Mrs. J. R. Coen demonstrated the proper method of taking a patient's temperature, pulse and respiration. She also gave demonstrations of how to make the bed, and how to change the linen with the patient in bed. She showed the classes how to turn the patient and how to use pillows to make him more comfortable. On Tuesday she demonstrated the method of bathing the patient and caring for his hair and teeth. Bobby Coen and Maxine Pennington acted as patients for these demonstrations.

On Thursday, Marshall Burleson gave demonstrations or explanations of first aid to be rendered in case of burns, clothing on fire, poisoning, bandages for cuts, fractures and other injuries, artificial respiration, and snake bites.

CHURCH FEDERATION ELECT OFFICERS FOR ENSUING YEAR

Women's Church Federated Societies met with the Methodist ladies Monday afternoon, when a business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. L. W. Jordan, and reports were given by the several committees, including the benevolent committee, of which Mrs. Acree Barton is chairman. This committee reported a great deal of charity work carried out.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Mrs. W. I. Southerland; vice-president, Mrs. Ira Woods; secretary, Mrs. R. T. Badger; and reporter, Mrs. W. W. Gillette.

Pot plants decorated the church for the occasion, and a very interesting program was given by the ladies of the hostess church, under the leadership of Mrs. W. H. Gardner. The next meeting will be with the Presbyterian church ladies Monday, May 29.

Past Matrons Club Organized Saturday By Eastern Stars

At an Eastern Star meeting held at the Masonic Hall here Saturday afternoon a Past Matrons' and Patrons' club was organized and the following officers elected: Mrs. G. A. Foote of Sudan, president; Mrs. G. G. Hazel of Sudan, second vice-president; and Mrs. J. M. Stokes, secretary and treasurer.

For the present the club will meet once a month on the second Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The first meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Boone. All past matrons residing in Lamb county are urged to be present.

HOW TO ORGANIZE COUNTY UNIT OF AGRICULTURAL BUSINESS ASSOCIATION AT MEETING HERE THIS FRIDAY NIGHT

Organization of a Lamb county Agricultural Business Association of America is expected to be completed at a meeting this Friday night at the City Hall, Littlefield. The initial meeting bringing about 50 farmers of the county unit was held at Littlefield last week and was attended by about 50 farmers of the county.

The meeting was called by Frank Davis, who resides five miles west of Littlefield, who acted as chairman. Davis came in touch with the Agricultural Business Association through the Levelland, where the headquarters are located and the first unit came into existence last summer. Davis and Terry counties have partially organized and work is being done in completing the organization in these counties. The purpose of the association, as stated by Mr. Davis, is to bring about the products which the farmer produces and a reasonable price.

The association will be confined to farmers and the business of farming; we will not engage in commercial enterprise or other trade on business," said Mr. Davis. The meeting this Friday night will elect officers and carry out business in connection with the creating of a permanent unit of the association for Lamb county. The meeting this Friday night is called for 7:30. The purpose of the organization of the unit in Lamb county, steps will be taken to establish local units in the county.

Meeting Of Hatchery Ass'n

Frank Lehman, manager of the Littlefield hatchery, attended a division meeting of the Texas Baby Chick Hatchery, held in Lubbock Wednesday. The main topics discussed at the meeting were the organization of the association in Lubbock Thursday night, at which time E. L. Hicks was elected temporary president, L. V. Lynch of Hale Center, vice-president, and J. R. of Lubbock secretary-treasurer.

Peyton Packing Co. Reopens Feeding Pens

Littlefield will be used as a concentration point for nearby towns by the Peyton Packing company, who have reopened their pens near here to be used to feed out hogs bought in this section. The company has also purchased a feed grinding mill, which will be used in the feeding program.

LOCAL HATCHERY OPENS TUESDAY; PLANT REMODELED

LARGEST BUSINESS IN MANY SEASONS EXPECTED

The Littlefield hatchery started operation for the season Tuesday in their new location in the former Wright bakery building. Plans were made to start the incubators Monday, but remodeling of the plant was not completed in sufficient time. Frank Lehman, manager, stated that he expected one of the largest hatchery businesses in several seasons this year, due to the profit shown in poultry last year. He explained that the egg market was not so encouraging at the present, though it was understood by the majority of the poultry raisers that the egg and poultry markets were always at the lowest this season of the year. Mr. Lehman stated that he had one of the best equipped incubators on the South Plains and that special precaution was taken to insure 100 per cent sanitation. Settings are made on Mondays and Thursdays of each week.

MANY PARTICIPATE IN ANNUAL TOUR OF COUNTY TO VIEW FARM PROJECTS

Between 60 and 75 persons Friday went on the annual extension service tour sponsored by D. A. Adam, county agent and Miss Ruby Mashburn, home demonstration agent. Last minute changes had to be made in the schedule, because of unforeseen events, but the main program was carried out as planned.

Start was made from the First National bank, Amherst, 8 cars, all filled with people eager for the day's events. First stop was at the home of Martin White where a bedroom Mrs. White had improved with her own hands, was seen. Mrs. White, who has won high honors with her improvement work, had made over the bedroom at a cost of less than $6.

Cellar Is Improved

The cellar of Miss V. D. White, sister of Mr. White, was also inspected. Her cellar for the year included fruits, vegetables, pickles and preserves and other items of standard 4-H club pantry for a balanced ration for five persons. Her pantry was valued at $521.73. The only items not grown on the place included fish and some of the fruits.

At the home of Jess Money at Springlake, a club boy, two fine calves were seen. They are being prepared for spring shows. The bedroom of Edna Packard, a 4-H club girl at Spring Lake was inspected and the party then went to the home of Merrill Briganee, a 4-H club feeder at Olton where five calves were found on feed.

Lunch Is Served

Lunch was served at noon by the women of the Olton Home Demonstration club and the party then hurried to the L. L. George home, south of town. The trench silo of Mr. George was inspected and the six calves of Creager George, a club boy The home of Mrs. Walter Schrier, Sand Hill, was not visited. She has an improved wardrobe.

One Change Is Made

One change was made at Littlefield. The famous terraced garden of Joe Wells was not visited but instead the farm of Mrs. J. E. B. Robertson, east of town, was inspected. Here Mrs. Robertson has 125 capons, just about ready for market. The home of R. B. McQuatters, dairy demonstrator, was visited. Here two calves were found on feed.

The orchard and vineyard of G. D. Lair, one of the most extensive in Lamb county, was inspected. Mr. Lair is a grape demonstrator. A stop was made at the home of R. L. May, meat demonstrator, where his cured meat work was gone over. By the time the party had reached Amherst it was decided because of the late hour not to go to Sudan. Here the feeding projects of P. E. Boesen and the meat demonstration of C. J. Poor were scheduled to be inspected.

Included In Party

In the party were three men from other sections: G. W. Barnes, livestock specialist for marketing at College Station; R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the state experiment farm at Spur and Marsh W. Holland, editor of Farm and Ranch, Dallas. C. A. Duffey, cashier of the First National bank, also was in the party. Some of these whose places were visited, joined the party for a portion of the trip. There were a number of vocational agriculture and club boys, who wanted to look over the cattle feeding.

"We feel that the trip was very successful, considering weather conditions," Miss Ruby Mashburn, demonstration agent said. "There is more interest in demonstration work than ever before, in the four years I have been here."

Both R. E. Dickson and G. W. Barnes spoke highly of the fine quality of calves on feed. Mr. Holland said he was impressed with the cured meat work and the improvement of the women in the homes.

Marcus Gist and Dick Whittenburg of Odessa were guests in the A. C. Hemphill home over the week-end.

PERSONALS

J. H. Tack of Plainview moved his family here last week, and will make Littlefield his home.

Miss Mary Dale underwent a nose operation at the West Texas Hospital Saturday, and is doing nicely. She returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Foust returned to Littlefield Thursday after attending the funeral of Mrs. Foust's cousin, Morris Taylor of Sweetwater, who died the previous Tuesday. Funeral services and interment were at Hilton, Texas.

R. B. Miller, secretary of the State Seed & Plant board, was in Littlefield Friday in the interest of the pure seed program for the coming year, and met with W. H. Cunningham, secretary of the State Certified Sorghum seed Growers association, and W. A. Goeth of Abernathy and W. M. Pool, of Sudan, who were also here Friday.

Mrs. M. E. Lowe, who has been ill since Friday with acute indigestion, is slightly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Prior Hammons and family spent Sunday in Post visiting Mr. Hammons' mother, Mrs. J. Hammons.

Dr. and Mrs. T. B. Duke were called to Amarillo Monday on account of the serious condition of Dr. Duke's brother, Claude Duke, and returned home Tuesday evening. They report no improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McGehee spent the week-end with Mrs. McGehee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Glenn.

Miss Virginia Staggers left for Amarillo Sunday to visit friends.

Miss Thelma Davenport, representing Joncaire cosmetics, is giving demonstrations at the Marzelle Shoppe this week.

Miss Dahlia Hemphill, who is a member of the Odessa school faculty, spent the week-end at home.

Bryon Van Camp of Oklahoma City was a guest Monday of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Chesher.

R. M. Burleson, who has been ill at the Lubbock sanitarium for the past ten days, is much improved, and is expected home about the end of the week.

Mrs. Ansel Stone, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wales, for the past several weeks, left Wednesday morning for her home at Marshfield, Mo.

Mrs. Henry Prater and little daughter returned Friday from Roby, where they had been visiting relatives.

Miss Vera Foust returned Thursday from Eastland, Texas, where she has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. Melvin Greer, for the past month.

Conoco Company Shows Faith In Business Future

PONCA CITY, OKLA., Feb. 1.—Accepted as an expression of confidence in the business outlook for 1933 was announcement here by Continental Oil company of the approval of the largest advertising budget in the company's history, coincident with the release of an advertising campaign announcing a $10,000 prize contest in connection with the introduction of Conoco's new bronze high test gasoline.

"Not only will the 1933 advertising budget be the largest in the company's history," said President Dan Moran, "but the major portion of the appropriation will be devoted to the purchase of newspaper space."

The $10,000 prize contest, which has been announced in newspaper advertising throughout the country, offers $5,000 as a grand prize for the best name for Conoco's new bronze gasoline, and $5,000 in 74 cash prizes for the best slogans describing the merits of the new high test gasoline. The contest will close February 26.

MELVIN GREGG, R. R. DYER AND W. E. HEATLEY OUTSTANDING WINNERS IN LITTLEFIELD POULTRY SHOW FRIDAY

Wins First Place In Cotton Contest

Ansel Miller, 4-H club member from the Amherst club, and Lamb county cotton champion among the club members, was awarded the first place over 499 entries in the Cotton Contest sponsored through the Extension Service, by the Lankart Bred Seed Farms, Waco, Texas, according to report received by County Agent D. A. Adam. Ansel had a yield of 553 pounds of lint per acre and a return on his labor and investment of $239.54 on his 6 and 2-5 acres.

The records were judged on yield, profit, sowing of demonstrations, and the effect of the demonstration in his community.

Lamb county has a right to be proud of this boy, who has set a precedent that will be a mark for all other boys to shoot at. Ansel, also, won one of the Santa Fe trips to the International Livestock show last November.

Boy Scouts Meet Friday Evening

Friday night is regular meeting night for the Boy Scouts. We are expecting a program that will be worthwhile. Every Scout, every prospective Scout and every mother and father should be present. We are working to build up an interest in scouting and also to build our troops to full capacity. We need the help of the parents of the boys as well as the co-operation and interest of the business men of the town.

The end of the present scout year is about here. The registration for the next year will go in next month. Will every mother and father have enough interest in the work to see that their boys are registered, and also that he attends his meetings regularly. The Scout Masters are getting nothing for their work. It is all given for the benefit of your boy. Yet they are willing to give each Friday night to help your boy try to learn something that will benefit him in future life. Something that is not found in his every day school lessons, but that goes hand in hand with his school work. We are asking the parents to take more interest in the work and help us accomplish something in the Scout work. If you will help your boy to get into the work right, you will find that it will be worthwhile to him. Come with him to the meetings when you can. Show him that you have an interest in his work.

We expect to hold our next Court of Honor in March. Had a good class at the last one and hope to have a better one at the next. These Courts of Honor are held for the public and every one is welcome to attend.

Eugene Latimer and Carl Williams, Scout Masters.

LATEST IN SOUND SYSTEM INSTALLED IN PALACE THEATRE; MANY LEADING PICTURES CONTRACTED BY MANAGEMENT
Scarface, Tess of the Storm Country, Call Her Savage, Flesh, Silver Dollar, Mummy, and Many Other Famous Pictures Booked for February.

Installation of a new RCA Photophone sound system in the Palace theatre has just been completed, it was announced by W. J. Chesher, manager of the local theatre. The theatre was closed on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights of last week while the new equipment was being installed.
Mr. Chesher announced that the new machine is a high fidelity sound system which is the latest important development in the field of sound on film research and is declared to be the most significant achievement that has been introduced in the motion picture industry since the talking picture supplanted the earlier and silent form of screen entertainment.
The new system will reproduce sound at the highest fidelity ever attained. From a mere whisper at around 40 cycles to the boom of a cannon at 9,500 cycles both can be heard distinctly and without any distortion whatever.
After installing the new sound system the management promises bigger and better entertainment for the spring and summer seasons.
The first picture that deserves special mention is one that was selected by national critics as one of the ten best pictures produced in 1932, that is, the actual story of Al Capone's life, and which bears the title of "SCARFACE." Racketeering in all its ramifications is vividly portrayed, and especially the illicit liquor traffic as practiced in our big cities. This picture will be shown on Saturday, matinee and night, February 4th.
"Tess of the storm country," brings Charles Farrell and Janet Gaynor back to the local screen on Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday, February 5 and 6. This picture, which is the eleventh this famous pair of lovers have made together, deals with the hectic adventures of a sea-captain's daughter who comes to live ashore for the first time in her life. Picturesque settings of the shore scenes along the coast of Maine have added greatly to the entertainment value of this beautifully swift moving story.
"Call her savage," Clara Bow's latest vehicle, will be shown on Thursday and Friday, February 9 and 10. Flinging aside every restraint, disregarding all previous performances, Clara Bow strikes out to establish herself as a fully-matured and emotional actress in "call her savage." As the impulsive heroine of Tiffany Thayer's provoking novel she fights sincerely and passionately for the age-old, primitive rights of love.

"Willard the wizard," will appear on the local stage, in person, on Sunday and Monday, February 12 and 13. Billed extensively as the late Houdini, this act should be the outstanding attraction for the month. He has just finished the Public circuit in Texas, having appeared at the new Paramount theatre in Amarillo some two weeks ago. On the screen to complete the program will be presented Edward G. Robison in "Tiger Shark."

Duggan Introduces Important Bill
A bill relative to the removal of buildings and other property from encumbered real estate, has been introduced in the Senate by Senators Duggan and Hornsby.
The bill was referred to the committee on criminal jurisprudence.
The Senate Journal reports the various features of the proposed law as follows:
"S. B. 125, No. A bill to be entitled: 'An act making it a misdemeanor, punishable by fine of not less than Fifty Dollars nor more than Two Thousand Dollars and in addition thereto imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months, for any person who is the owner or part owner of any land, rural or urban, in this State which land is encumbered with a valid contract lien, to remove or knowingly permit removal from said land any house, out-house, barn, garage, fence or other improvement thereon or to willfully damage or destroy any such house, out-house, barn, garage, fence or other improvement thereon or permit it to be done during the existence of such lien without consent of the holder of such lien, and declaring an emergency.'
There has been legal actions arising out of the removal of property which is covered in the proposed law, and action of the legislators on the Duggan-Hornsby bill will be followed with much interest.

ER TELLS HOW 'BONUS' PAID NOW WILL AID BUSINESS RECOVERY

C. Hall, president and owner of Call Bond & Mortgage Company, president of the Terminal Corporation, both of Sioux City, Iowa, in a recent signed article, dealt with the payment of adjusted compensation to the veterans of the war, in United States currency, crying need of the times.

Tom Hunter Gives His Views On State Taxation Problems

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 1.—"No tax will reach all alike; we must have a blended tax system to properly allocate the burden," declared Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls, who is in Austin attending the sessions of the state legislature. Mr. Hunter was a candidate for governor at the last election.

"If we are to have a sales tax, one third of it should be retained by the counties in order that the county and school real estate tax might be reduced. Governmental expenses must be reduced.

"One pipe-line company, in a depression year, showed a net earning of $20,157,642.42. It paid a 40 per cent dividend. It paid a total state tax that year of only $471,877.47. The total tax to the state was only 2.3 per cent of their net earnings, while the home-owner of Texas paid 100 per cent of the net return value of his home in taxes. A part of the 2.3 per cent was the 69 cents on the $100 valuation, state ad valorem tax. To pass the sales tax and abolish the state ad valorem tax and to quit at that would mean that their tax was reduced 25 per cent on the one hand and no increase by reason of the sales tax, because they are not buyers.

"The voting of the constitutional amendment, exempting a $3,000 valuation on a homestead, was a great victory for the plain people. It contemplates the shifting of that part of their burden to the organized few of wealth that have heretofore evaded their just portion. Now the sales tax, and quit, and you will have this same burden back on this same crowd, increased because of the abolition of the state ad valorem.

"A graduated income tax, levied upon the extreme high bracket is the only tax that can pass on to the masses. I believe that in this hour of depression that every person, firm, and corporation should come to the rescue of a bankrupting state with the same degree of patriotism that the boys manifested in their enlistment in the recent war; shoulder proportionately the load that we must carry in order to avert these impending dangers—even the big moneyed combines should pay proportionately. Let an income tax be levied upon all who are not buyers and payers under the sales tax. For example, tax all incomes in excess of one hundred thousand dollars. On the first million levy a five per cent tax; on the second million a 10 per cent tax; on the third, 15 per cent tax; on the fourth and fifth, a 25 per cent tax; and on all in excess of five million a 35 per cent tax.

"Let's not only require these big boys to pay in proportion to their ability to earn; but let's discourage these merging combines that have been so destructive to employment. We must not give back to them the great victory that we won at the polls without remuneration for it. Let's don't forget that 60 per cent of our wealth is controlled by 1 per cent of our people; that the 99 per cent own the other 40 per cent of our wealth has heretofore been carrying the burden."

Appointed Dealers For U. S. Tires

The Hewitt Chevrolet Co., Littlefield, has been appointed dealers in this city for U. S. tires, according to an announcement Wednesday by L. C. Hewitt, head of the local concern.

A large stock of U. S. tires has been received by the Hewitt company, and are on display at their sales rooms.

There are three outstanding lines manufactured by the United States Rubber Co. They are the U. S. Royal, U. S. Peerless and U. S. Guard.

FOR A LIMITED TIME we can give you the McCalls and the Lamb County Leader, both 1 year, for the small sum of $2.00.

volume of money in circulation. When this comes, we shall see prices and wages rise, we shall see more money in the banks as deposits and more money passing through the cash registers of the merchants, leaving a profit as it passes.

"If we pay the bonus now, in cash, we shall get into circulation a good deal more money—about $19.16 per capita, if the administration figures of $2,300,000,000 are accurate. This would at once revitalize business in every line, from the farmer to the stock broker.

"It will distribute over two billions of cash throughout the land in comparatively small sums which will immediately find their way into the channels of trade either through the payment of debts or the purchase of new goods; the portion of it which would be directly deposited in banks as savings by the recipients would probably be negligible, though of course the entire sum would presently find its way into the banks in the form of increased deposits."

News Briefs

Prof. Carl D. Brandt, head of the textile department of Texas Technological college, is conducting an experiment to determine whether or not the tensile strength of cotton is increased by leaving it on the seed for a time after being picked. It is said that old Southern planters often held their cotton for this purpose for two weeks or more before ginning. The experiment will require a year to determine definite results.

Three hundred new students have registered at Texas Technological college this term, bringing the total for this session to 2248. The total enrollment for last year was 2053, making a net gain of 195 at this time. New students expected to enter at the spring term, March 21, are due to bring the year's enrollment to a new high mark for any long term.

An application for a six-mile extension to the Amherst rural route has been sent to Washington and Postmaster H. Slate expects an approval by the postmaster general within a short time. Present length of the route is 86.39 miles but if the extension is granted it will be 92.88 miles long.

A sixth annual Texas Panhandle Plains Dairy show will be conducted at Plainview, April 10 to 13 inclusive. D. A. Adam, county agent of Lamb county, will have charge of the Dairy Calf club show, which will be a feature of the event.

A bill to legalize race horse betting in Texas through use of the pari mutuel system of wagering was introduced in the house by Representative J. C. Duvall of Fort Worth.

Approximately 300 head of poultry were entered in the third annual Panhandle-South Plains Poultry show held in Slaton recently. At a meeting of the exhibitors of the show, D. O. Fox was elected president; E. L. Hicks, vice-president and A. J. Payne secretary, manager and treasurer. L. J. Goble, Mr. Cope, Joe Mears, O. G. Tumlinson, L. C. Wheeler, W. M. Burton, C. Murphy, L. F. A. L. D. Gann, N. S. Lofgreen and L. T. Jones were named new directors for the body.

Reconstruction Finance corporation funds are being used to pay labor in the paving of Main Street, Muleshoe.

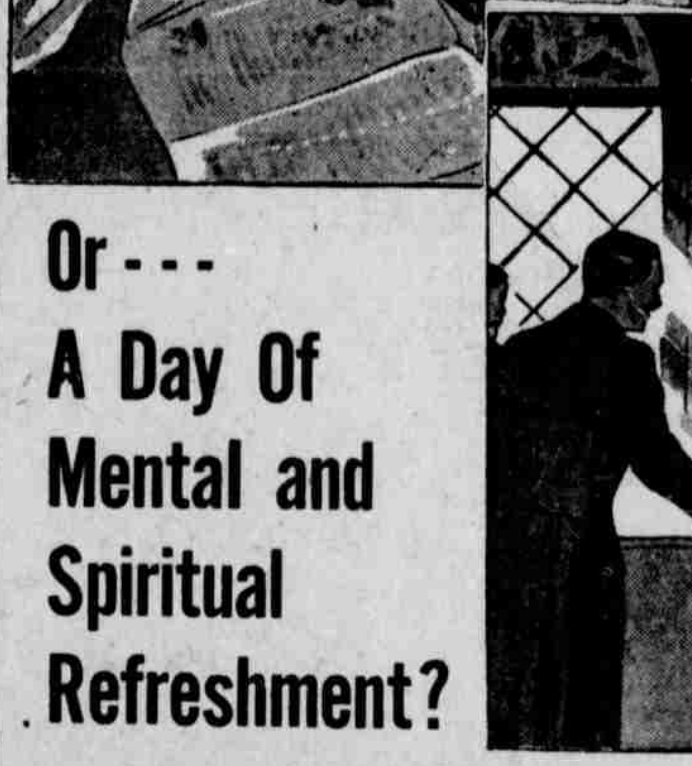

Texas' four-year-old "gin marriage" law, enacted to prevent hasty marriages, would be repealed if a bill passed Tuesday by the house of representatives were passed by the senate and signed by the governor. The house voted 93 to 36 in favor of the repeal bill. Sponsors of the repeal bill asserted the law had utterly failed in its purpose of preventing hasty marriages and that its only result had been to force Texas couples desiring to marry to go to other states where they were married without difficulty. The bill also would repeal the provision requiring the physical examination of males intending to marry.

Establishment of an elective state highway commission to take over the duties of the existing appointive commission was proposed in a bill introduced in the Texas house of representatives late last week. The elective commission would be composed of five members. The bill proposed that the commissioners be elected by districts. It empowered the governor to appoint the commissioners on the day the proposed law would become effective, the appointees to serve until the general election of 1934, when elective members would be selected in each of the districts. After the election, the members would draw lots for two, four and six year terms.

COLLEGE STATION—The names of five Texas farm boys selected as winners of a cotton production contest sponsored the past year by the Lankart Pure Bred Seed farm of Waco have been announced by M. T. Payne, state boy club agent of the extension service, Texas A. & M. college. Ancel Miller, Amberst, was first with a yield of 553 pounds of lint cotton an acre on 6 1-4 acres, and a return for his labor and investment of $239.54.

About one-fourth of the gold produced is used for coinage. The remainder is consumed in dentistry, jewelry, gilding and gold leaf work.

Will SUNDAY Be A Day Of Sulking And Fretting And Being Bored - - -

Or - - - A Day Of Mental and Spiritual Refreshment?

Go to Church Sunday

If you find yourself dreading next Sunday, that's a symptom. If Sunday, instead of being a rest day, is a lazy, listless, good-for-nothing day, that's another symptom. If you spend Sunday being bored with your own company, and bickering with the folks around you that, too, is a symptom. Symptoms of what, you ask? Of this! Of a strongly-felt, though not always conscious, need in your life. Church!

You will discover that Church provides mental and spiritual refreshment which will make Sunday, as well as all the days of the week to follow, more worthwhile. Church exhilarates. Church lifts up. Church inspires. Church banishes worry. Now you know the symptoms, the malady, the cure. If you want to feel tip-top next Sunday, go to Church.

ENOCHS' BREEZES

Our farmers are about to get settled for another year. We have several new families in our community now.

Mrs. Clyde McCormack was shopping in Lubbock Friday.

Mrs. H. C. Arnold visited her parents Sunday and brought Jewell Teal, her sister, home.

Bob Patterson and Red Hagan visited in Morton Sunday.

All the sheriffs department was in Enochs Sunday and found everything O. K. so they went on to Morton. We have a peaceable little stock sor Randle Weathers has two in his position with the MurrONT Enochs ranch and is now a reporter at Morton.

Our gin is ginning three days a week now trying to get in the late cotton.

The singing convention at Bula schoolhouse was well attended Sunday afternoon. The next Fifth Sunday Singing will be at Bula again on April 30.

Ovie Teal of Sudan, was introducing his new wife in Enochs Sunday. They were married Thursday, January 26. Mrs. Teal was formerly of Fort Sumner, N. M.

G. P. Howell, who has been sick for some time, returned from Milford, Kansas last week, where he had been to see a clinic.

We understand the baseball club will have another dance at the Enochs schoolhouse Thursday night.

Our basketball boys will play Morton at Goodland Wednesday night.

Durwood Howell, who is attending school at Lubbock, spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Howell.

Mrs. P. L. Wooley visited her parents in Muleshoe last week.

H. J. Welch, who had an operation at the West Texas hospital some time ago, is slowly improving and is expected home soon.

Jess Dick and Roy Helson made a business trip to Muleshoe recently.

PEP PARAGRAPHS

Wednesday evening a traveling vaudeville company gave a program at the schoolhouse.

Thursday there was a beef canning demonstration at the home of Mrs. M. A. Burt. Mr. Magee, the Hockley county farm agent, and Miss Nannie Hill, the home demonstration agent, directed the demonstration.

Thursday evening there was a public dance at the schoolhouse. Enough money was raised to finish paying for the piano and add a little to the funds of the community club.

Miss Helen Burt spent Sunday with Miss Blanche Stengel.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Simanacker are here visiting relatives and friends.

Messrs. E. J. Smith and G. C. Timely of Munday, Texas, visited in the J. A. Brogden home Saturday. Mr. Smith owns a farm here. The two gentlemen and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brogden made a short visit in the A. G. Jungman home Saturday evening.

The gin expects to close the ginning season this week.

W. J. Rutledge, who has been bookkeeper at the gin this year, expects to move to Arlington the latter part of the week.

Miss Ida Jungman has been nominated in the contest sponsored by the J. H. Ware store. She would appreciate any help we could give her.

The three small children of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Keith have been ill with the "flu" the past week.

Mr. Frank Witherspoon, Jr., of the Witherspoon Livestock Commission company of Kansas City, inspected the beef cattle on feed in this community Monday.

The excavations for the foundation and basement of Mr. M. A. Burt's new home are about complete.

Culver Scholarship Information Is Received By Boles

Detailed information has been received at the office of F. O. Boles, principal of the Littlefield High School, concerning the Emily Jane Culver scholarship in Culver Military academy which is offered this year in Texas. It will be awarded to the winner of a state-wide competition. The competition and the award are under the direction of a committee of prominent educators. Those interested may secure any additional information through Mr. Boles' office.

The scholarship is valued at $4,500 and is one of the most valuable awarded in any preparatory school. It covers all costs of tuition, board and room for three full school years. Eighth grade boys who have outstanding records and can meet other qualifications are eligible. They must be between 13 and 16 years of age, be in good health, and be able to enroll in Culver military scholarship assistance. A must be filed not later than March 1st. Blanks may be had by writing the secretary of the academy at Culver, Ind.

The Texas scholarship twelve established two years ago by the trustees of the Academic memorial to the wife of the founder. The other states list of awards are Iowa, and Wisconsin.

The Academy was founded in 1887. It is located in northern Indiana and is one of the foremost preparatory schools in the country. It is operated by a foundation and is not for profit.

RULES:

- 1 Names must be not more than 12 letters; slogans not more than 12 words. Submit either or both on single sheet; plain white paper; one side only; but preferably on official contest information-and-entry blank, free at Conoco dealers and stations. Elaborate presentations receive no extra credit.
2 Contest closes midnight February 23, 1933. Entries must be postmarked before that date and hour.
3 Continental employees, members of their families and others connected directly or indirectly cannot compete.
4 Should more than one person submit exactly the same name or slogan, each will receive full amount of any prize such entry may win. All entries become Continental Oil Co. property, and none will be returned.
5 The Company reserves prior rights to phrases and slogans of its own creation, already in prepared advertising. Also it reserves the names "Continental" or "Conoco" gasoline, "Conogas", and "101" gasoline. Whether or not the winning contest name is adopted, prize money will be paid; but the Company reserves the right to use a name of its own creation if decided more suitable and more protectable under trade-mark laws.
6 No purchase is required of contestants. Continental Oil Co. executives will be the judges and their decisions final. Winners will be announced over radio, and prize money paid as soon as possible after contest closes.
Address All Entries to "CONTEST OFFICIAL" Continental Oil Company P.O. Box 101, Tulsa, Okla.

You'll say:

"Whoa, Engine! what's got into you?"

Here's gas to excite motors. It makes them quick on the trigger . . . fast on the move. Choking is hardly required for a quick, snappy start and a take-off like a quail on the wing.

Even old motors . . . wheezy, snorting, complaining motors . . . cut capers you just can't believe. If you doubt it, just try it. It's like rich, racing blood injected into old veins.

This gasoline is so new . . . so "different" . . . so quick, fast, powerful, and economical, it's hard to give it a name. Perhaps YOU can. When you FEEL your motor's response, it may come to you like a flash.

Ask at any Conoco station for the new bronze-colored, high-test gasoline—and an entry blank. Help name it and describe it. You may win a part of $10,000.00. You are SURE to win a grand, new thrill, and that is worth a heap. Make the test TODAY.

about 18 miles, and has also been paved for a number of miles west, commencing at three miles west of Sudan.

The paving which is to be carried out in the near future on Highway No. 7 will eliminate the gap between where the pavement stops about 18 miles west of Lubbock to where the paving starts about three miles west of Sudan.

The new paving on Highway No. 28 will extend from where the paving stops east of Olton to Muleshoe, a distance of approximately 39 1/2 miles.

New Route West From Earth

The new route of Highway No. 28 is due west from Earth to Muleshoe. The present route is due west after turning north for one mile at Earth.

Much appreciation is due the county judge and commissioners for the vast amount of effort which they have expended in obtaining right-of-way and doing other work in connection with the bringing about of the paving of Highways No. 7 and No. 28.

chamber, and Marshall R. Diggs of Dallas, financial secretary of the state organization, who outlined the purpose of the association and told of its campaign to aid in highway development and preventing inroads on the state gasoline tax funds for general purposes.

Oppose Funds Division

Diggs pointed out that automobile owners paid 41 per cent of all taxes to the state and declared the two cents of the gasoline tax now set aside for highway system must be used exclusively for highway work and not diverted to other purposes.

Resolutions endorsing the work of the Texas Good Roads association, recommending the work of the state highway department and Gay R. Johnson, division engineer of this district, during the past two years and urging the department to continue its work for the development of highways in this section were adopted during the meeting.

Work Is Outlined

Mr. Johnson appeared on the program of the session and outlined the work done, planned and authorized in this area, illustrating his talk by a map of the roads of the division.

"It's a wonderful time to build highways," Mr. Johnson said, "for you can get two miles of road built now for the price you used to pay for one."

The association voted to hold its annual meeting in January of each year, the meeting place to be decided upon by the board of directors.

Committees Are Named

Counties within the confines of the South Plains association are: Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Motley, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Scurry, Borden, Dawson, Gaines, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Ector and Midland. Committees named in Friday's session were: nominating—W. P. Walker, Crosby, chairman; E. L. Pitts, Lubbock; and A. L. Duff, Seminole; resolutions—Grady Shipp, Plainview, chairman; C. T. Watson, Big Spring; H. E. Pipkin, Matador constitution and by-laws—Jess Mitchell, Muleshoe, chairman; J. Barrett, Brownfield, and T. L. Jones, Post.

Miss Alice Jones of Olton is spending this week with Miss Maurine Irvin.

A deal was consummated Tuesday whereby A. L. Porter transferred to Leonard Irvin of the Lowmore & Irvin gin, his four residences and ten lots in the north part of town, in exchange for a residence and business building at G. and 15th Street, Lubbock.

According to Mr. Porter, he will move the end of this week to Lubbock, where he will establish a produce business which he will conduct at his new location. It is also his plan to establish a produce connection at Albuquerque, N. M., which will be in charge of his son, Floyd, while his oldest son, J. D., will have charge of the Littlefield business.

We Think—

my country, leads the world; her prosperity is maintained by me; her great commerce is the work of my hands; her "balance of trade" springs from the furrows of my farm.

My reaper brings food for today; my plows hold promise for tomorrow.

I am the very soul of America, the hope of the race, the balance wheel of civilization. When I prosper, men are happy; when I fail, all the world suffers.

In the war I am absolute; in peace I am indispensable—my country's surest defense and constant reliance.

I live with nature, walk in the green fields under the golden sunlight, out in the great Alone where brain and brawn and toil supply mankind's primary need. And I try to do my humble part to carry out the great plan of God. Even the birds are my companions. They greet me with a sympathy at the day's dawn and chum with me until the evening prayer is said.

If it were not for me the treasures of the earth would remain securely locked; the granaries would be useless frames; man himself would be doomed speedily to extinction or decay.

Through me is produced the energy that maintains the spark of life. I rise with the early dawn and retire when the "chores" of the world are done. I am your true friend.

I am the farmer.—Wright County Press, Buffalo, Minn.

INDUSTRY—

Struve cheese factory at Abernathy produced 58,000 pounds of cheese last month.

We Think—

That Littlefield, too, should have industries which encourage dairying and other farm operations.

CHURCHES

TABERNACLE BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday School meets at 10 a. m. The Bible is the only literature we use. We are now in the Book of Acts. The second chapter is our next lesson.

Preaching at 11 a. m. The entire church is going to be in Lubbock Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in a fellowship meeting at the Tabernacle Baptist church on 16th and Texas Avenue.

Sunday evening service will be as usual at the church here. There will be two baptisms that evening.

The church is working in a great way. There are from two to three prayer groups who meet each Wednesday night. Last Wednesday one group met with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Yates north of town. There were twenty present and a fine meeting, including one conversion and a real spiritual feast.

The other group met with Mr. and Mrs. Brooks south of town with a large crowd, and a fine service.

We have Bible study every Tuesday night at the church. We have finished the study of the Book of Revelations, and will begin the study of the minor prophets, taking a book each study night, beginning with Daniel. All are welcome to worship and study with us.

Beh D. Johnson, Pastor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST 303 E. Eighth Street Sunday, February 5th

10:00 a. m.—Bible classes. 11:00 a. m.—Talk by R. L. Mayhew.

12:00 a. m.—Worship. 6:30 p. m.—Bible classes for young and old. Song service.

7:15 p. m.—Wednesday service. 3:00 p. m. Monday—Ladies' Bible class with Mrs. R. A. Bigham.

We had a splendid crowd and an interesting sermon by E. H. Garner last Lord's Day. If you were there there again next week and if you were not there, be sure to be there.

For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die; but if ye through the spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the Sons of God. (Rom. 8:13-14.)

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH Sunday, February 5

9:45—Sunday school. If the membership of the church will join with the officers and teachers, we will in a little while have the greatest Sunday school in the West.

11:00—A spiritual feast in song. Join with the singers. They will appreciate it and you will feel better.

11:25—Sermon, "How Christ Met the Critic."

6:45—B. T. S. Prof. Heatley, general director; Miss Lillian Hopping, Senior sponsor; Mrs. J. F. Grizzle, Intermediate sponsor; Mrs. Lon Smith and Mrs. F. H. Bostick, Junior sponsors.

7:30—Evening worship. Songs, prayers and sermon. The evening subject will be, "Too Light."

Come to church. Come to Sunday School. Come to B. T. S. Why not? We will appreciate your presence and your will feel better. Every legitimate interest of the town will be helped by your effort.

Joe F. Grizzle, Pastor.

METHODIST CHURCH Sunday, February 5th

Sunday school 9:45. There was a nice attendance last Sunday, and all enjoyed the lesson, so come next Sunday, and make it even better than last Sunday.

Preaching at 11 a. m. This will be Communion service, and we hope that you will help make it a great occasion. Remember, the Saviour said, "Take, eat and drink, for this is my body and blood of the New Testament."

The Leagues will meet at 6:30 p. m. There is a great time for all that will come and take part.

Preaching at 7:30 p. m. Subject, "An Unknown God." Come and worship with us—you will help us, and we will try and help you.

P. H. Gates, Pastor.

Mrs. R. E. Riley, Pat and Henry Prater visited R. E. Riley in the Government hospital at Albuquerque, N. M. Saturday and Sunday. The many friends of Mr. Riley will be glad to learn he is much improved.

Mrs. Perry Harris, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Central and South Texas, and Mr. Harris, who has been attending the School of Pharmacy, and just finished his exams at San Antonio, returned to their home here Monday evening.

chairman for Red Cross work and County Commissioner Ellis Foust is county chairman in connection with the obtaining and distribution of Reconstruction Finance corporation funds. However, each city and community is a unit in both Red Cross and Reconstruction Finance corporation work.

The finance corporation funds are being used to pay labor in the carrying out of various projects of a character which is of general benefit to the city.

Donations Are Sought

Rev. Mr. Grizzle announced this week that the local unit of the Red Cross is in need of used clothing, canned goods and other articles to distribute to the needy. All persons who have such items are urged to bring them to the Red Cross office at City Hall. If it is not convenient to deliver such items to City Hall, the donors are urged to advise the Red Cross office and some Red Cross worker will call for them. The telephone number of the Red Cross office is 120.

The Littlefield Red Cross office is in charge of Mrs. Carroll. The members of many women's organizations of the city have assisted the local Red Cross in a variety of ways, including donating sewing in the making of various garments from materials furnished by the national organization.

Systematic Distribution of Aid

The local Red Cross office is conducted in a systematic manner, designed to assure all needy of assistance, but to prevent any person from imposing on the services of the Red Cross by obtaining assistance to which they are not entitled. Before any articles are given out an order must be signed by one of the committee in charge of the local Red Cross work.

Several hundred men have been given employment through the Reconstruction Finance corporation funds, but like the Red Cross work, this assistance also is being handled in a systematic manner, in order that the greatest amount of aid may be available from the funds on hand.

During the 6 weeks that the local unit of the Red Cross has been in operation the following groceries, etc., have been distributed:

3,500 pounds flour, 1,600 pounds spuds, 1,590 pounds meal, 480 pounds bacon, 850 pounds beans, 93 gallons syrup, 41 gallons coffee, 50 cans vegetables, 206 pounds lard, and 2,000 pounds of onions, 250 yards of new goods and 575 garments.

Among those who are taking an active part in Red Cross and Reconstruction Finance corporation relief work in Littlefield are:

Rev. Joe F. Grizzle, J. W. Hale, County Commissioner Ellis Foust, City Commissioner Pat Boone, F. G. Sadler, L. A. Ratliff and Mr. and Mrs. T. Wade Potter. These are serving on the committees.

May Extend Car Registration P

The Texas legislature was late Wednesday to approve extending the motor vehicle registration fee payment period to March.

Under present laws, the registration fee expired at midnight last week. The house adopted a resolution questioning the governor to a suspension of farm mortgage closures until the legislature has opportunity to relieve the den farmers.

Just arrived! Another shipment of new Spring Hats in all the styles and shades at Marzell's Shoppe.
