Friday has been designated by County Clerk Charles Jones as the earliest possible date for completion of certification of signatures on a petition filed Monday requesting an election to determine whether or not Littlefield citizens will legalize the sale of all alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption only.

A proponent of the election said a "rough estimate" of the number of signatures on the petition is "around 900." Jones said at press time Wednesday his office had received 14 affidavits requesting the name of the signer not be counted among certified signatures. The affidavits will not physically remove the signatures from the filed petition which is public record, Jones had explained earlier, but will serve to reduce the number of signers to be counted.

Along with the petition, such affidavits will be presented to the County Commissioners Court to substantiate the net count of certified signatures. Jones said, "We are working diligently and the count is progressing smoothly."

Regular meeting of Commissioners Court is scheduled Monday, Nov. 13.

According to the Texas election code, when certification of signatures has been completed by the county clerk he then must present the petition and his certification findings to the Court at its next regular session.

If certification is complete by Monday, the petition will progress from the clerk's duties to those of the Court and will be presented before the Court Monday.

The Code states if the Court finds the petition in order, and the required number of signatures has been certified, it then must call an election not less than 20 days nor more than 30 days from the date of the call.

Although only the area within the city limits of Littlefield is designated in the request for election, proponents of the election decided a "safe" number of signers should be based on 25 per cent of the entire qualified voter count of Precincts 12 and 16 plus the entire absentee vote count for Lamb County during the last presidential election in which votes were cast for governor.

Portions of both Precincts 12 and 16 form the area within the city limits.

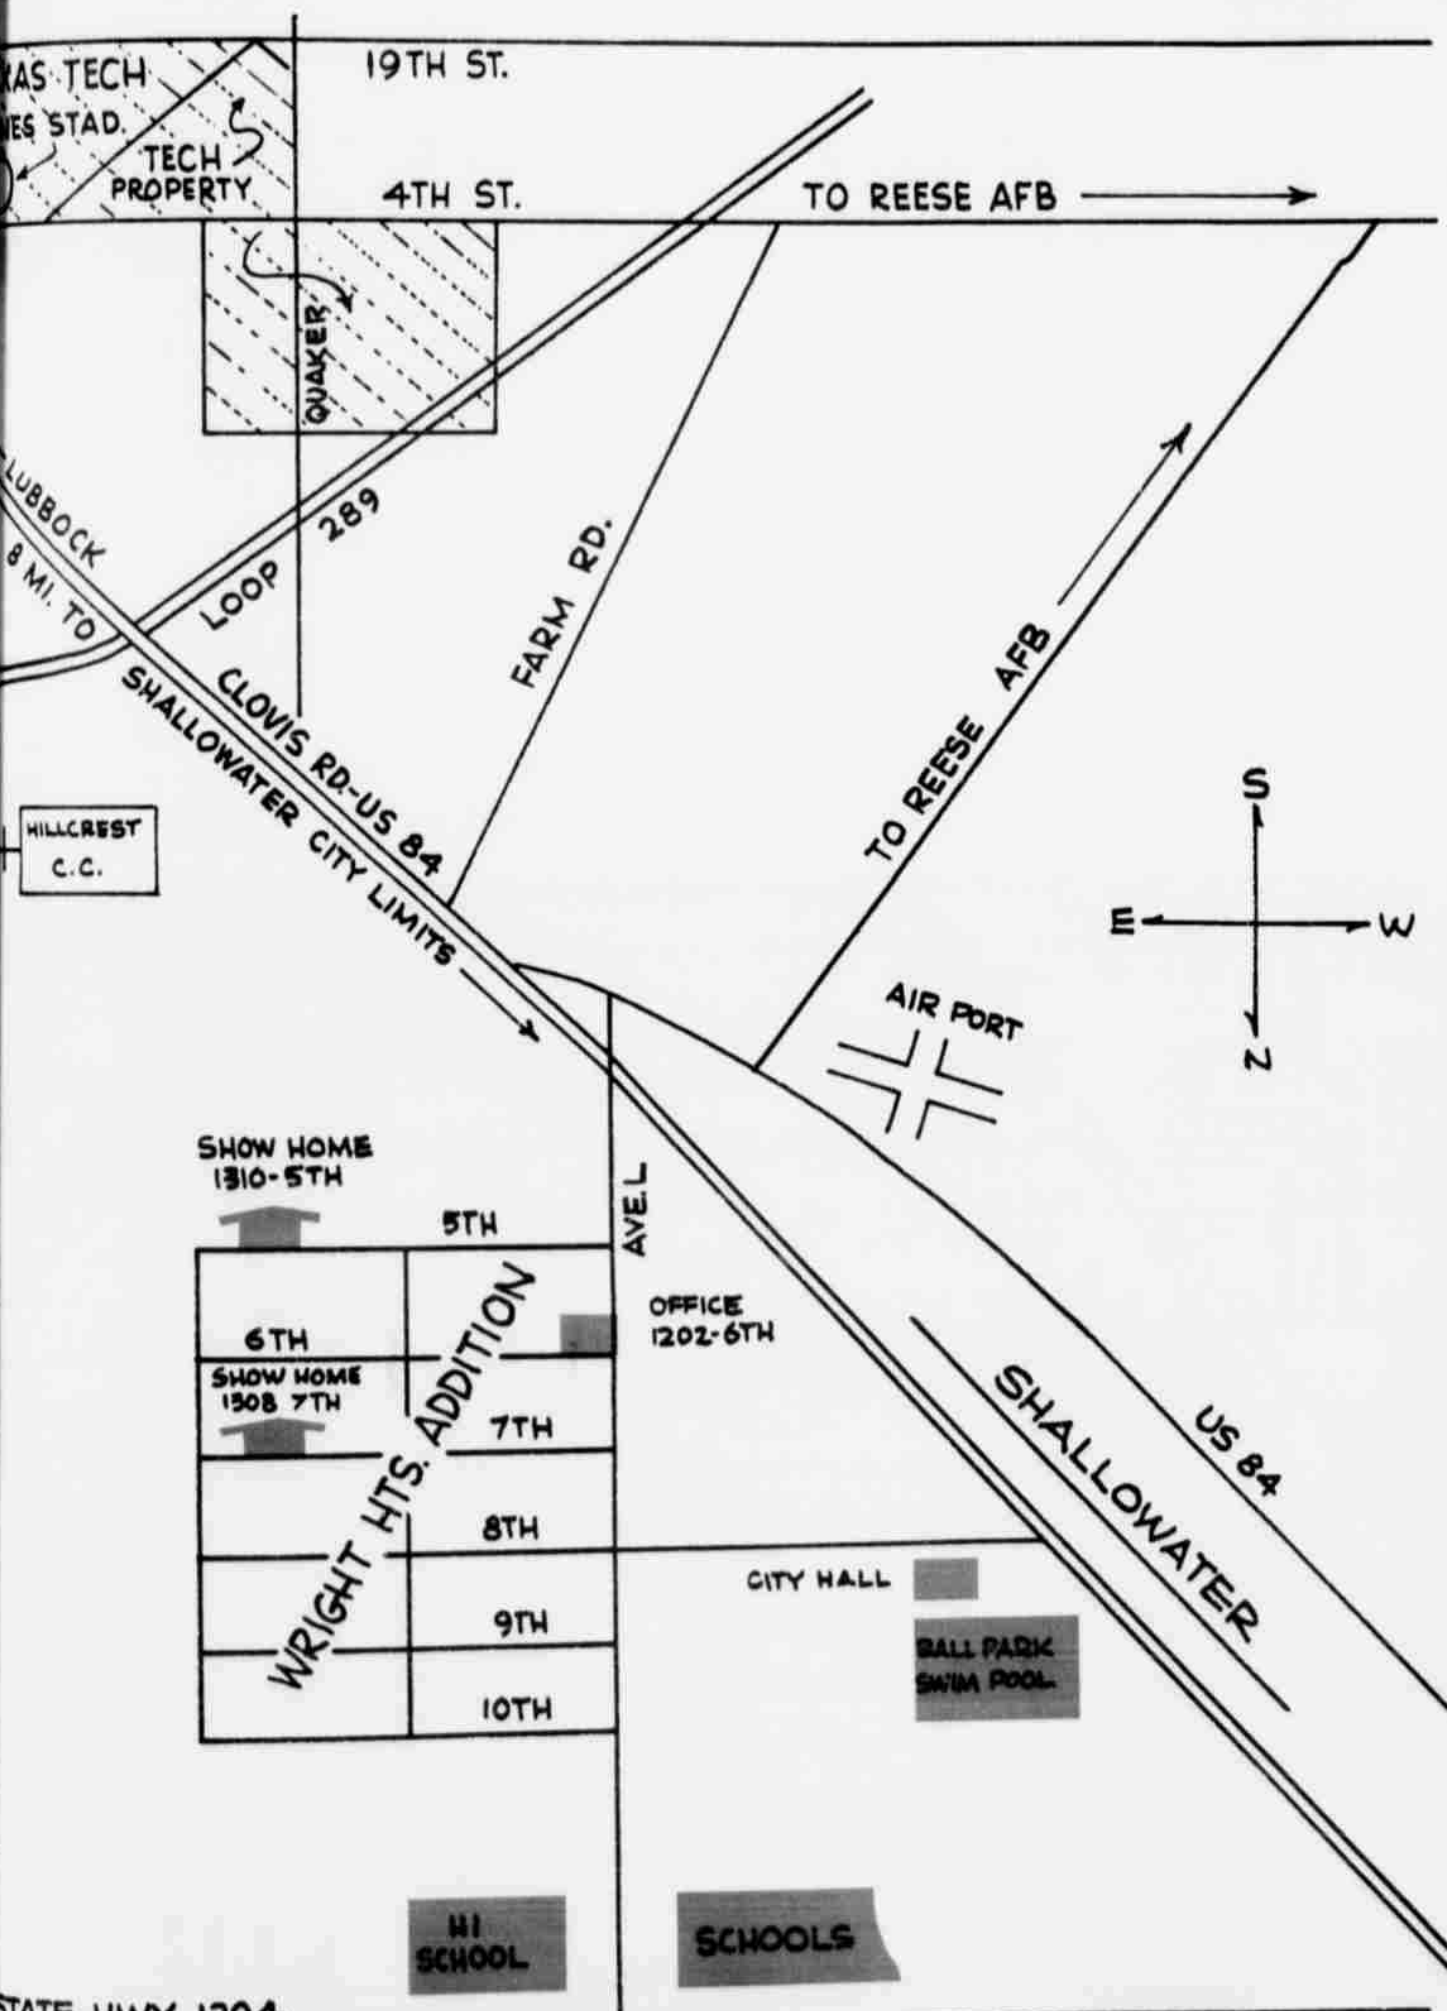

The number chosen as safe maximum was 712.

Use of affidavits to lessen the count of certified signatures was promoted by opponents to the election and the sale of alcoholic beverage within the city limits of Littlefield.

The opposition group is called "The Concerned Citizens of Littlefield." A spokesman for the group said several persons have asked if there is a way to join "The Concerned Citizens."

The group then decided an organization should be formed, spokesmen said, and a meeting for formal organization of "The Concerned Citizens" is scheduled Sunday at 3 p. m. in Lamb County Community Center, 600 W. 3rd. Slogan for the group

Show Begins Here Friday

Komormer Kapital Klub's 3rd Annual Bird Show is scheduled here Friday and Saturday at the Fair Barns on the Levelled Highway, U. S. 385, according to announcement by Jerry Williams, show director. About 150 birds, some from as far away as Yakima, Wash., are expected to be entered in the show.

Judge will be Fred Seibel of Denver, Colo., who judged the Grand National Show in California in 1965 and the show staged here in 1966.

In July this year, a bird show, which was a combined exhibit of Komormers and Helmets, was held here.

Judging at this weekend's show will begin Friday at noon. Winner of the 1st Annual Show here, in 1965, was Ted Grabski of Utica, Mich. Jim Joyner, now in the process of moving from Littlefield to Conroe, was winner of the second show.

Jerry Williams, who also is secretary-treasurer and now president-elect of American Komormer Tumbler Club, said the show here definitely is growing. "Our biggest show was 1966, with 219 birds. However, Joyner showed 100 of those birds and this year he is not showing any." The 150 entries expected do not include any Joyner birds.

Komormer Kapital Klub is a branch of American Komormer Tumbler Club, Williams explained. He said a Hall of Fame on the national level has been established, and the first two birds to be honored in the Hall "are from Littlefield." One is owned by Opal Joyner and the other by Jim Joyner.

Williams said also this year the first national level awards were given for outstanding breeder and outstanding member. Jim Joyner earned the title of outstanding Komormer breeder and Williams, outstanding member.

Williams also was named outstanding member of the American

WORLD WAR I DOCUMENTS

Vet Salutes 'Nov. 11' With Library Gift

With Veterans Day scheduled Saturday, Nov. 11, World War I veteran W. H. Cunningham decided to commemorate the vastness of the day's meaning by donating to Lamb County Library here a 50-year-old collection of World War I data numbering 146 volumes.

The presentation, made this week, contains much material which was classified -- or top secret -- at that time. Cunningham did "undercover" work in the Postal Department during that first world conflict.

Attached to the Civil Service, Cunningham was assigned to the Post Office at Austin. He explained that even at Austin there were persons with German associations whose activities and correspondence had to be screened.

Cunningham's job was to keep these persons under surveillance and report his findings to government agents.

As result, his name became added to the "mailing list" of the Allied countries and he was sent bulletins, documents, books and other forms of information as they were published. Most of these items were sent as complimentary gifts from prime ministers and other rulers -- and many contained classified or highly confidential information.

One item sent to him, which he and Mrs. Cunningham describe as "horrible," is a book telling about the "deportation" which actually was "liquidation" of the women of Lille, France by the Germans. Another book concerns German

AMY'S ADLIBS

Of Cats And Kings

By Amy Turner

THIS WEEK happens to be a very special week. In case you're in the dark and haven't started your celebration yet, let me hasten to tell you that this week, Nov. 5-11, is International Cat Week.

So all of you dog-lovers can stop reading right here. For the rest of you, highly intelligent, sensitive, superior feline-fanciers that you are, may I suggest this presents an excellent opportunity for a local be-kind-to-cats campaign.

I have personally been conducting such a campaign on a very local level since I believe, after all, that charity begins at home. Our family is fortunate enough to have, not one, but two charming cats honor us with their presence.

They have been variously named Black and White, Night and Day, Charcoal and Snowball for the obvious reason that one is solid black and other is solid white.

The Publisher has other names for them but I won't mention those. Personally, I just call them Cat and Cat because I am convinced that they couldn't care less.

This is, in fact, the very thing that I admire the most about cats.

CATS ARE the most completely independent creatures I have ever seen. Nobody owns a cat. Nobody teaches a cat. Nobody controls a cat.

Now, as much as I admire this freedom of spirit, I am forced to recognize that this is also the very basis of the trouble. When the mighty master of the household roars out his edicts, cats definitely do not leap forth to obey (as some lesser subjects have been known to do).

They ignore him and, if there's one thing a King can't stand, it's to be ignored, especially in his own castle. Another thing a King can't stand is to be challenged.

For example, we have (or had) in our house a large vase which Cat took a liking to. Translated into cat-language, that means "this is my area. Stay away."

She would climb into the vase and "hide" with only her eyes and ears showing and take a swipe at anyone who came to close.

Of course, she didn't mean to scratch anyone, just to come close enough so that most people gave her a rather wide berth. But not The Publisher. No one was going to tell him where to walk in his own house and he was going to teach that cat a thing or two.

Gray eyes of steel met green eyes of steel and the next color to appear was red—blood-red streaking across The Publisher's hand.

THE BATTLE-CRY, and a few choice words, raised the roof two inches just before The Publisher kicked, the cat leaped, the vase cracked and I screamed.

Later, after everything had settled somewhat, The King, licking his wounds, stalked off to his favorite chair.

Unfortunately, I was a little late in noticing two menacing, green eyes peering up from the seat of that chair, where The Publisher was about to deposit himself.

A howling, screeching, scorching ball of fur flew through the air and The Publisher did a rather odd thing. He took one giant leap and I could almost swear that he actually remained suspended in mid-air for a full 60 seconds.

Of course he did come down eventually and, when he started getting out his gun, I told him to be reasonable.

"Reasonable? I am unreasonable?" he yelled sweetly. "I sit on a dumb cat, nearly have a heart attack, fall and break my knee and I'm unreasonable? And you, you thing it is reasonable to shriek your wig off when you even see a picture of a snake!"

"Explain that to me, please," he demanded. "Dinner will be ready in 15 minutes," I explained.

I HAVEN'T worked up the nerve yet to tell him about the memberships. Did you know that for $250, you can have a lifetime membership in The American Feline Society, Inc.?

I am planning on buying nine, one for each life. And, in special honor of Cat Week, I will serve The Publisher his morning milk in a saucer.

I wouldn't want him to feel left out.

LAMB COUNTY LEADER

OWNER REPORT

By Bill Turner

A UPI ITEM came up recently with Al Capp, creator of "Li'l Abner." His remarks were from a recent "show on TV, as he followed the Brass.

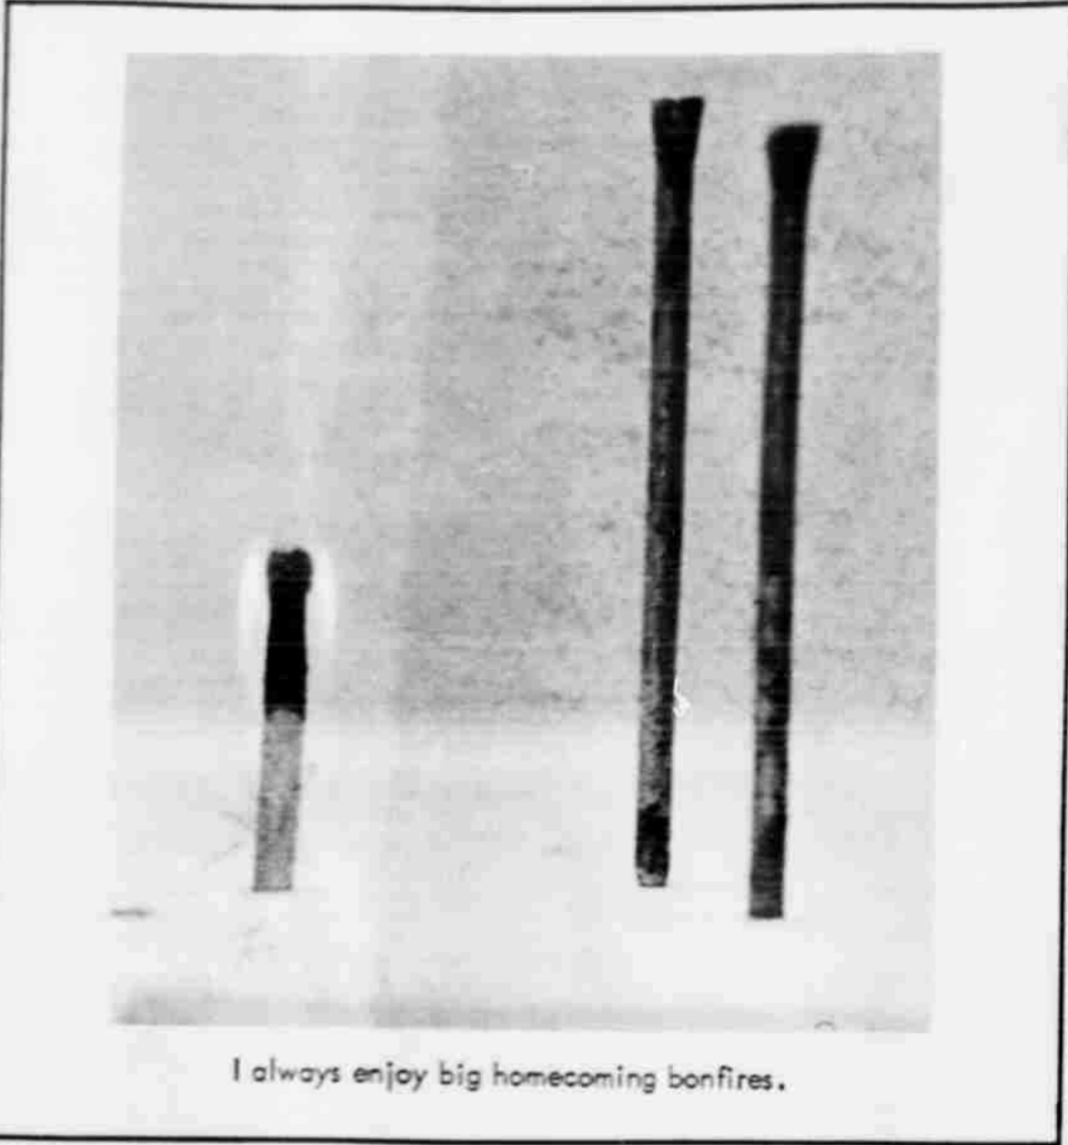

He said: "It's so refreshing to see a group of young musicians, who aren't about wars they've never been in, they've never done."

HE RELATED that at Chico State College he was asked -- "Don't you think opinions of teen-age students are valuable?" -- and that he replied, "Correct on subjects they know something about, as puberty and hubcaps."

Though he was not against student testing per se, he opined: "I don't think what they have to protest about. They longer have to shave. They're supported by the very adults they denounce. They the only monied leisure class."

CONCERNING songs of protest, he it wasn't the songs, but the singers he minded -- "When I hear a song about the misery of hard work sung by a who has never done any harder work, unbutton his shirt to his navel."

He also remarked, "my feeling is the student is an incomplete human being hopefully that he's studying how to be a useful citizen. He isn't one quite yet, don't want to hear his opinions on anything until he becomes a useful citizen, a longer a student, and is out in the world about 5 years surviving, then I'll listen to him."

THE FARMER'S WIFE

Lynda Bird And Trivia

BY LIBBY MUGGETT

"BEST FRIEND Grassie Rooks, did you read that article in McCall's magazine where Lynda Bird tells all?" "Yes. Silly, wasn't it?" "Sickening is a better word."

"McCall's is the best-selling woman's magazine in America and I have been trying to figure out why they would publish such drivel written in such a school-girlish style."

"I've been trying to figure out why they hired Lynda Bird ever since they did. Our local English teacher would have flunked her on every composition she's written so far."

"WELL, the answer to that is obvious. How many women's magazines have a President's daughter writing for them?"

"Also, you'll have to admit, Grassie, that we all read it. This particular article has been read and written about more than anything else since the Manchester book. McCall's no doubt knew what they were doing."

"Which just proves that the American public is obsessed with trivia."

"You'll have to include us in on that, Grassie. We not only read it but here we are discussing it."

"With disgust."

"Well, we had to read it to be disgusted with it. To read it, we had to buy the magazine. So there you are."

"IF I HAD a daughter that old who crawled around the whole bedroom wing at three in the morning and finally got in bed with her parents, I'd kill her if she wrote it up for a nationally read magazine."

"I'd throttle her if she told everyone how she cornered poor Capt. Robb in the solarium until he finally decided that what they'd better do was get married. The poor guy even says he had no plans of proposing before that."

"All females have these little strategies, but publish them? Never?"

"What about all those times she had the poor boob show up for a fourth at bridge? There he was serving as a White House social aide and a request from the President's daughter was practically a command."

"WONDER what she would ever have done if there had been no such things as White House social aides?"

"Call an escort service, I guess. Grassie, what would you do if your daughter 'requested' a young man to come play bridge with her and when he got there, she was in 'sort of an at-home robe' with her hair up in curlers?"

"I'd figure if she didn't have any more sense than that, she deserved to see the last of him. Of course, my daughter doesn't live in the White House."

"I'M JUST GLAD she's finally getting married. Remember last summer when Premier Kosygin met Johnson and his family at Glassboro?"

"Sure. Lynda had on that dress with the empire waistline and kept twirling around for the photographers."

"Correct. She looked for all the world like she was pregnant. I just knew that Kosygin would think she was! That was before she broke off with movie star George Hamilton, too."

"Who says she broke off with him? I'll lay money it was the other way around."

"WELL GRASSIE, here we are doing just exactly what we were talking about --- talking endlessly about trivia."

BITS AND PIECES

Bumps In The Sand

THONALU HOOD

A NEW "LOST GENERATION" is evolving on the American scene. My generation.

We either were born too soon or too late -- about two decades either direction. Because of the goings-on in today's world, it is difficult for us not to become suspended in a mid-world of our own. What we see happening around us -- everywhere we look -- is violating every principle carefully instilled within us during our youth.

FROM EVERY DIRECTION, even from the uppermost and most unexpected sources, we see the principles of democracy, humanity, honor, decency and normal discipline being trampled into the dirt.

We listen while hysteria proclaims civil rights. We watch while coercion and cunning are applied from almost every source to almost every issue.

WE RISE with the sun every morning to a world we no longer know. We are still young, and we must live in that world and with it.

But we live in constant anger and distress, because our basic teachings cannot -- and must not -- accept their own destruction. Only those born two decades later seem to be able to stomach today's extremism.

We are too old to accept them and too young to leave the battle for others.

HAD WE BEEN BORN two decades earlier, we would feel no differently about today's happenings, but we would know that we already had fought the good fight. While we would continue to use the power of our vote, we would no longer be young enough to carry the ball.

This new lost generation is caught squarely in the middle. There is no way "in," because there is nothing in our makeup that is compatible to the "ins."

There is no way out, because this is the world in which we still must make our living -- and which still is being molded, during our active years, to be handed down to posterity.

HOWEVER, my good friend Joella Lovvorn and I thought for a while we had found a way out.

Recently, after being deluged from every side and every level with events that violated even our most cherished principles, and after taking a look at the whole planetary situation -- which is always a mistake because then you can't see the forest for the trees -- we decided we didn't want any part of it.

So -- we concluded the thing to do is to go out into the sandhills, cover ourselves with a cloak and just sit there until time and the elements transform us into two little mounds.

to make ridiculous demands and have them granted. And as for the "bump in the sands of time" rather than only a grain -- this is the top motivation behind extremism.

What they really want is to create an impression -- to hold the eyes of the world, if only for a moment.

The extremists really don't care one whit how the world goes -- either for their so-called "cause" or anyone else's cause. They just want to be "at least a bump" and not just a "grain" to be lost in the sands of time.

They are to be pitied, not feared. They are to be ignored, not pampered. They are not formidable at all.

SO -- my good friend Joella Lovvorn and I decided not to retreat to the sandhills. But to stand up and be counted -- to stand up and fight.

Fight the "forcers" because, without principles, their foundations are made of sand.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Enhance Your Life

BY BOB WEAR

EVEN THOUGH there is much waste of life, and some kinds of waste are very extreme, life can be made worthwhile. It was intended to be worthwhile.

There are many elements in our social environment which can certainly cause us to feel downhearted, discouraged and even defeated.

The challenge is rough, but we can face it, and do so with dignity and nobility.

TOO MANY FOLK are losing by default. Of course, they become weary. They are disillusioned. They feel hopeless and probably helpless.

They forget that life does not consist in the abundance of the things they possess, and they forget some of the other essentials to an effective life.

They also forget that they have great potential strength and courage, and consequently they do not develop these qualities and put them to the proper use.

None of us are forced to give up. It is better that we keep trying, and just keep on keeping on. It we need help from others, then, by all means get such help, but don't give up.

self, but it seems to be a well-established fact that we possess great possibilities for enhancing our lives.

With a reasonable knowledge of our nature, including our potentialities for self-improvement, and an understanding of our purpose on earth (which is to glorify our Creator by making the best use of our lives); we can make continuous advancement.

This will lead us along every commendable avenue to broader vistas of enriched living. This can be done.

It is reassuring to know that such accomplishment is not based upon materialistic elements such as fame, and fortune, and power.

Dr. William James, the eminent psychologist, has said, "Compared to what we ought to be, we are only half awake, x x x x. Stating the thing broadly, the human individual lives far within his limits."

We can, with the guidance and help that is available to us, learn to cope with the world in which we live.

This means that we can also move gradually up to better levels of living and performance.

We must have a beginning, and there could be no better place to start than where we are; there is no better time than the present; and nothing better to do than make the best of current opportunities.

PAUL HARVEY SAYS

Strong-Arm Tactics

YOU ASK US CHICAGOANS, if we know names and addresses of the syndicate leaders, why don't we arrest them.

You ask me how come I can call Accardo and Sam Battaglia and Sam Accano and Paul Ricca gangsters and get sued -- and still they go free, without luxury.

Well, if you're having a hard time understanding this sad circus, imagine the press we have trying to convince our cynical children that crime doesn't pay.

RECENTLY, and for the first time, Chicago Crime Commission published Who in the Chicago underworld. The republished in local newspapers, gave us names and addresses of 214 leaders or puppets of the mob, plus the names of 42 business directly or indirectly controlled by the mob.

Many of the addresses are on the plush Gold Coast or in fashionable suburbs and the "boys" we all know well seem to call by their nicknames still reside apparently unmolested.

How come the black hand of the Mafia pick the pocket of almost every citizen in Chicago and get away with it?

VIRGIL PETERSON, executive director of Chicago's Crime Commission, doubts that resident or visitor could exist for 24 hours in Chicago without paying tribute to the mob.

Perhaps it's when you dry your hair in the restaurant washroom or when you buy your car in a public Lot or when you order a beer or put a coin in a slot machine or check your hat or buy a shirt or laundry it or pay your motel bill.

IT'S NOT LIKE the old days when you had to gamble or buy booze or narcotics or female flesh before Al Capone got New tax laws were designed to break up old gang of his -- but they didn't.

Required to show a legitimate source their spending money, they muscled legitimate business, put themselves on bona fide payroll. (High-living Tony Accardo testified that he is a beer salesman.)

But they run their quasi-legitimate businesses with the same old strong-arm methods you stock my stuff or buy my insurance use my service -- or else.

THE GANGSTERS who once almost allied themselves with courts, politics and police are more subtle now. They mouthpieces coach the 13 Big Boys on loopholes while using expendable puppets break the laws and take the risks and "sulate" their bosses from the courts.

From more than 25 years of living close to the Chicago scene, I see no hopeful signs.

Despite the best efforts of the syndicate lawyers, U. S. Attorney Ed Hanrahan managed to get convictions of several big names this year, including a few second lieutenants.

IN TRADITIONAL RIVALRY

Littlefield-Levelland Clash In Homecoming Tilt Friday

KENNY HORN, senior halfback, will be returning to the defensive starting lineup tomorrow night against Levelland after an absence of about three weeks.

Littlefield and Levelland clash here tomorrow night in a traditional battle that is almost as old as the two school systems.

And though it's homecoming for Littlefield High, neither that nor the season records, standings, comparisons or histories can be considered in projecting the possible winners. Nothing can be considered, except the game itself.

Neither team has a chance at the District 3-AAA championship. In fact, the Wildcats and Lobos won their first conference games last Friday night after losing their first four straight. Littlefield beat Lamessa 14-13 and Levelland won over Lake View 20-13.

A bonfire will be ignited this evening on the stadium parking lot to kick off the homecoming weekend.

The Wildcats have won one more game this season than have the Lobos. Besides Lamessa, they beat Muleshoe in the second game of the schedule.

Friday night was not only the Lobos' first loop victory, but their first of the season.

The 'Cats have scored 100 points in eight games, and allowed their opponents 146. In 3-AAA play, they have scored 51 points while having 93 to be scored against them.

In the same number of games, eight, Levelland has scored 84 points and allowed 186 for the season, and 51-93 in conference outings.

Though the Leader-News research was taken back only through 1955, it appears Levelland has won most of the games. The Lobos have seven victories in those years to five for the Wildcats. And several games of those were for titles.

Wildcat victories were 21-6 last year, 25-6 in 1965, 33-12 in 1963, 32-6 in 1962 and 13-7 in 1956.

The Lobos won 26-0 in 1964, 20-14 in 1961, 26-8 in 1960, 30-15 in 1959, 16-0 in 1958 and 39-7 in 1955.

Levelland has a better ball club than its record for the season indicates, Coach Raymond Birchfield said Tuesday night at the Quarterback Club meeting. He pointed out that the Lobos have moved the ball well against everybody, but, like TCU, just hadn't pushed the ball over enough to win the games.

"They have good size and fair speed in the backfield," the mentor commented, "and they get after you real well defensively."

Littlefield will field a team about as physically fit as at any time this season. Returning to play after extended recovery periods will be tackle Stan Harrell, halfback Kenny Horn and fullback T. J. Morgan.

Harrell has been out of action since the second game of the season, against Muleshoe, when he injured a knee. He will see limited action against the Lobos.

It was pointed out, however, that starting offensive end and defensive halfback Donnie Heard will be out for the balance of the season. The senior received a concussion against Snyder and sidelined the remaining games.

Horn, injured several weeks ago, will strengthen the defensive secondary and give Mike Grissom and Roy Burk more breathing time when the Lobos have the ball.

Back after several weeks also will be sophomore fullback Morgan, who spells Danny Bryson offensively.

Though he is at only three-quarters speed, Grissom will be playing. He was hurt against Dunbar, but has missed only one game since with the ailing knee.

Conference teams are the only similar clubs both Littlefield and Levelland have met this season. Snyder beat the Lobos 34-19 and the Wildcats 14-13. Sweetwater posted a 34-7 win over Levelland and 33-21 over Littlefield. In the meetings, Lamessa beat Littlefield 7-6, but Littlefield won the Tornados 14-13. Against Dunbar, the Lobos 28-7 and the Wildcats 16-10.

1968 OFFICERS for the Quarterback Club, elected Tuesday evening, are from right, president James Lee, vice president Floyce Pierce, secretary-treasurer Dr. Glenn Burk, directors Junior Graham and (absent) Joe Chambers. They take office the evening of the annual athletic banquet, for which has not yet been set.

SIGNAL CONFUSION

Story Left Wrong Idea, Says Dimmitt Coach Smith

Dimmitt's Bobcats were unhappy with the Leader-News this week following the account of the Dimmitt-Olton game carried in Sunday's paper.

Coach Brown L. Smith said he thought the story left the impression that his Bobcats deliberately tried to pull the Olton team offside with their defensive signals.

"We simply don't teach our boys to play that way," the coach said.

Dimmitt was penalized 15 yards midway in the third quarter by the officials, who ruled the Bobcats had interfered with the Olton offense.

The penalty put the ball on the Dimmitt 15 and two plays later the Mustangs led 12-7 after facing a 7-6 deficit at halftime.

The final score was 15-7, Olton, in a game that clinched the district title for the Ponies.

Coach Smith said he thought the confusion in the signals might have been caused by the similarity in sound between the words "Rex" and "Ready."

One of Dimmitt's defensive signals in "Rex" and the Olton team uses the word "Ready" in calling its offense.

Olton drew a total of seven 5-yard penalties during the game, most of them while on the offense.

"If there was confusion caused by our signals," Coach Smith said, "it certainly was a coincidence and not deliberate. We have used the same signals all year and have not had any problem."

The Dimmitt coach said, contrary to the Leader-News report, that his team was not warned about the signal confusion, or "we could have changed them to avoid it."

Coach Smith said he did feel the costly penalty probably was the turning point of the defensive battle.

But he added, "Olton has a fine team, and we hope they can go all the way."

SURE CANDIDATE for All District tackle is Littlefield's Larry Durham. Though the senior hustler weighs less than 200 pounds, he has given opponents of much larger size all they wanted throughout the season.

AREA ROUND-UP

Sudan, Farwell Go For District Title

Sudan's young Hornets will be attempting Friday night to join another Lamb County team in the state playoff parade when they meet Farwell for the crown of District 3-A.

The Hornets, who were supposed to be building a team for the future rather than playing for the championship, have waltzed through three of their conference opponents and have but one more to take the trophy.

Olton and Denver City school officials met Monday night and voted to hold that Bi-District contest Nov. 17 at Denver City.

The two schools have met twice in the past, at Levelland and Littlefield, in regional classes. Denver City won both.

Because of conflicting interests in both Levelland and Littlefield this year, the schools decided to meet on a home-and-home basis with Denver City winning the first site toss.

Olton clinched the District 3-AA title by defeating Dimmitt 15-7 last week and, regardless of what they do at Abernathy tomorrow night, will represent that league.

But Farwell might have other ideas for the Hornets. The Steers are also 3-0 in loop play, though their 4-3-1 season record isn't as impressive as the 7-2 carding of Sudan's.

They meet at Farwell, starting at 7:30.

Abernathy was eliminated from the 3-AA running Friday as result of the 14-13 loss to Friona. That left the Antelope with a 3-3 loop record and 6-3 for the season. Olton is 6-0 and 9-0, respectively.

It's homecoming at Littlefield and Bula this weekend.

The Wildcats host longtime rival Levelland.

Bula and Three Way will meet in a District 1-B Eight Man contest Saturday evening, starting at 7:30. A bonfire will be burned Thursday night, and homecoming activities start with registration of alumni at 3 p. m. the day of the game.

Three Way, 5-3 for this season, is still in the running for the 1-B crown with no defeats in two loop starts. They clash at Whitharral next week. Three Way beat Cotton Center last week 36-5.

Bula has a 1-6 season record and 0-1 for conference. The Bulldogs were idle last Friday

Anton must face tough opposition on the latter's grounds. The Bulldogs 4-4 and 4-2, while Sudan records are 4-4 and 4-3.

Traditional rivals Spanglake-Earth and Kress at Kangaroo Stadium starting 7:30 p. m. Friday. The Hornets lost to Plains Friday in a non-conference battle, while Kress was shut out by Sudan 26-0. Records are 2-7 and 1-2, and Kangaroos are 4-5 and

OFFICIAL LHS NEWSPAPER THE SKAT

LITTLEFIELD HIGH SCHOOL, LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS

Welcome Exes -- Let's Beat Levelland

SENIOR WILDCAT players are gathered together for a look at the coveted trap. This will be the last time these senior boys will assemble to battle that old rival, the Levelland Lobos. Standing left to right are the two captains Kevin Hutson and Mike Grissom. Next to them are Donnie Heard, Coach Raymond Birchfield, Mike Stafford, Danny Bryson, Stan Harrell, Larry Durham, and Ken Horn. Kneeling left to right are Henry Thompson, Jim Hill, Rosendo Soria, Jimmy Hutson, and Tommy Henson. Tomorrow night being Homecoming has a special significance for all Littlefield Exes, but it has another significance, the "Golden Trap" is up for grabs again. The "Golden Trap" came into existence in 1958 in an agreement between the student councils. Since then it has become a symbol of the rivalry between the two teams. Levelland has had the trap five times and Littlefield four times. This will be the tying game for the Wildcats.

Industrial Arts Club Makes Big Plans

The Littlefield High School Chapter of the Industrial Arts Club held their first meeting of the '67-'68 school year.

The meeting was held Thursday with Mr. Bill Richards telling the sixteen members present the background and purpose of the Industrial Arts Club. Industrial Arts Clubs were first organized five years ago in Snyder by a drafting teacher who later became the head of the State Clubs. The first club to obtain a charter was, of course, Snyder. Littlefield has the 88th Charter of the state of Texas.

Mr. Richards has a busy schedule planned for Industrial Arts members. There are many local fairs and contests and later in the year there will be the State Convention at Texas A & M. To earn money this year the Club is going to sell football jerseys in white with maroon trim with the class year and Littlefield written on the front. Windbreakers with the Wildcat emblem will also be sold by club members. Samples of these can be seen in the showcase.

Convention Set At Floydada

Littlefield High School Council delegates will attend the District Convention at Floydada, Saturday.

Since this is an all-state meeting, the representatives hope to learn new suggestions for a better year.

Leading a discussion for Donnie Heard, Bettye Holt, McBride, and Bill Nelson talk on social function.

Others attending the convention are Jan Christy, Grissom, Kathy Hill, Owens, Cheryl Reast, Richardson, and Sha Traugott.

Annual Bonfire Snake Dance Slated Tonight

The atmosphere at the Wildcat football stadium will be hot tonight as the Wildcat fans gather for the traditional homecoming bonfire.

Immediately after school day, all students who wish to participate, will gather and take it out to the stadium.

All week long, everyone has been locating the wood for gathering. There will be piles, and each class, senior, junior, and sophomore, will in competition with one another each trying to make the highest stack. No student will be let out of any class in the purpose of collecting wood. At the top of the stack of wood, which will be stacked close together, a "Lobo" will be placed.

The bonfire is scheduled to start at approximately 8:00 p.m. immediately after the football game which begins at 6:00 tonight.

After the bonfire activities, "snake dance" for all the school students is planned on main street. Everyone is urged to attend the bonfire and dance so we can start off homecoming activities right "Burn the Lobos!"

Decorated Cars Add Spirit To Levelland Game

If you happen to see a mass of maroon and white decorations coming down street, it will not be your imagination. For Friday, November 10, the LHS parking lot will be filled with decorated cars for the Levelland game.

Every year, cars are decorated by individuals to add spirit for the on-coming game and since we fully intend to beat Levelland this Friday, spirit sky-high.

Get busy and decorate your car. There will be a prize given away for the best decorated and most original car. Be careful! Don't stand in one spot too long! You'll get decorated!

In Harms Manner

By LEONA HARMS

Another week has passed again, bringing excitement and joy to many while tears and sorrows bereave others.

November 11, Veteran's Day, should have a deep and special meaning for us. In Arlington National Cemetery, on lonely country hillside where poppies are growing wild on graves, and in the many, many other cemeteries are row upon row of crosses.

November 11 was set aside to honor those dead, who have died giving battle for the cause of freedom.

Even now, as you read this, men are dying, because they know the price of freedom and they know their goal of making this a better world in which to live.

Many will never see the fruits of their labors. They die, never to know what the future holds for us, but they know that the future will be up to the living now. Will we be able to do honor to this heritage being left behind? Make each day count, for you can not relive it.

This is it Littlefield Wildcats! This is the last night you senior Cats will have a chance to tally a victory over Levelland. This will be last time you'll go out on the field to give battle to a veteran opponent, so Wildcats, take heed, and go out there and own that scoreboard tomorrow night!

A most exciting game was held last week with those Golden Tors at Lamesa. With the teamwork of those "Fighting Wildcats" and with a special effort put forth by Dan Bryson they won the game 14-13. It just goes to show that with determination, spirit, and Coach Birchfield we can win!

As I sit here writing this column, I keep thinking how fast time is going. I think of all the things I should do or should have done.

Time can be considered like money. Use it wisely and don't waste it. Don't feel that you've got "time to burn." Chesterfield put it this way: "Know the true value of time; snatch, seize, and enjoy every moment of it. No idleness, no laziness, no procrastination; never put off till tomorrow what you can do today."

Band Recieves II In Marching Meet At West Texas

Amidst bone-chilling wind and dark, cloudy skies, the annual University Interscholastic League marching contest began.

The Class AAA schools stepped off about 9:30 in performances ranging in wide varieties of music and marching.

The Wildcat Band performed their contest show at 10:45 after a twenty minute delay. Hats, plumes, and hair blew as each band fought to conquer the weather and win a first division. Various factors such as the cold, some mistakes in marching, and a slight defect in the quality of the sound brought Littlefield a Division II. This is an excellent rating which is the result of much hard work by every band member.

The band is now beginning to concentrate on techniques and new music for those interested in solo and ensemble contest. After football season, all time will be spent in preparation for concert season and contest in the spring.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Don't talk a lot and say nothing.

Behind The Line

By KENNETH HORN

Desire was the key word last Friday night as the Littlefield Wildcats won their first district battle by edging the Golden Tors of Lamesa by the score of 14-13.

Outstanding playing was turned in by Danny Bryson, Roy Burk, and Wendell Ashley. Bryson had a total of powered 75 yards with twenty carries. Roy Burk kicked both extra points to eventually decide the winning margin. Burk also netted 69 yards rushing. Ashley, whose performance was on the defensive unit, blocked a punt to set up Littlefield's winning touchdown.

Injuries still prevailed as the Wildcats played without the help of Stan Harrell, T. J. Morgan, Mike Stafford, and Donnie Heard. Sophomore linebacker Richard Ayala was sidelined in the third quarter after being knocked out.

Tomorrow is homecoming for the Wildcats who will host the Levelland Lobos. This is a traditional rivalry, and is expected to be billed as a fairly even match as far as winning goes. The Lobos also won their first district game last week against the Lakeview Chiefs.

The B team of Littlefield fell to Hereford last week by the score of 28-12. Kenneth Twitty scored both TDs for the B team.

The team will journey to Plainview tonight to battle the Bulldog B team. Let them know that you are supporting them. BEAT LEVELLAND!

John Ellzey was elected bell ringer. Last year Bobby Richey rang the bell and this year David Roden can be seen at all of Littlefield High School's pep rallies and football games ringing our Victory Bell across the District 3-AAA.

Homecoming Brings Back Fond Memories Of High School Days

Homecoming is a festive reunion when all the exes return to their good ole alma mater and renew fond memories of their high school days.

The tradition of homecoming in Littlefield was first started in 1938. Several of the exes from Littlefield High School had a reunion each summer. At one of these such reunions they decided that Littlefield should have a homecoming.

Ernest Mills, president of the class reunions, James Lumsford, Earl and Barbara Pierce, Patti Zahn, Bill and Mary Jo Weige, Virgie Haile, and Opal Brice, all exes of Littlefield High, were the main people who originated it. They planned and carried out Littlefield's first homecoming. This group went from house to house here in Littlefield and collected a dollar from each to help finance their idea.

Barbara and Mary Jo made the crown and the registration book, on which Elton Graham drew a Wildcat.

The homecoming included a coronation of the homecoming queen in which Penny Weige, flower girl, presented the queen with a bouquet of roses. Ex-students elected the first queen, Mrs. Roy Wade, from among their group.

After the game all the exes were invited out to the country club for refreshments. Prizes were given to the ex who came the longest distance, the ex who was the oldest, and the ex who represented the oldest class.

In 1959, and since, the LHS student body has elected the queen from the roster of senior girls.

Patriotic Plans Are Urged For Veteran's Day

Speeches, parades, and other celebrations will highlight Veteran's Day on November 11. This annual holiday was proclaimed as Armistice Day by President Woodrow Wilson in 1919, to celebrate the end of the fighting of World War I. Congress changed the name in 1954 to Veteran's Day to commemorate the people who served in the United States Armed Forces.

Veteran's Day was established to remind us of the courage and sacrifices made by those who served in the Armed Forces for our benefit.

Let us show our patriotism and respect for those who fought in wars so that all people could be free. Get out your flags and let them wave in the breeze on this holiday.

Not enough people are showing respect to the American flag. Americans tend to let the other fellow do all the work while we just sit back and take the credit for it. The public is too busy to take the time to display their flags. Let's show our respect to the flag and our country. Take off your hats and salute the flag whenever it passes. Be proud of your country!

The Victory Bell Rings Loud For Fighting Wildcats

The sound of the Littlefield Victory Bell can be heard every Friday night as our Fighting Wildcats push forward and raise their score with each touchdown. The Victory Bell was first presented by Trainmaster F. L. Elmerman, of Slaton, to District 1-AAA in an LHS assembly in May 1957. Representatives from other schools in the district were present, along with several officials of the Santa Fe Railroad.

The bell was removed from faithful old steam locomotive number 1264, which was put to use in 1907 by the Santa Fe Railroad.

From 1957 until 1964 the bell was claimed by the District 1-AAA winning football team. Wildcats rang the Victory Bell, loud and clear, through the 1957 football season, but either Levelland or Dumas has heard its peal since.

In 1964, the boundaries of District 1-AAA changed and the Victory Bell was awarded to Littlefield exclusively.

In the 1964 football season, Peggy Coffey and Janice Koller took care of the bell and rang it at our football halftimes. The student council then decided to elect an official bell ringer. In the 1966 season

REMEMBERING PAST HOMECOMINGS are the three candidates for 1967 Homecoming Queen. The 1963 WILDCAT provides a history of those LHS events. The girls were chosen by the student body from the senior class. Left to right are Cheryl Reast, Marbara Jones, and Shannon Traugott. The Queen will be revealed in half-time festivities tomorrow night.

Homecoming Spirit Backs LHS Cats

Homecoming queen, bonfires, and a fighting Wildcat team. Homecoming 1967 is here with all its excitement and anticipation. Petitions for homecoming queen were turned in by 4:00 last Thursday. The student body voted in a primary election Friday on these nominees for queen: Janice Barker, Johnita Crawley, Ruth Graham, Kathy Hill, Gwen Johnson, Marbara Jones, Nancy Keeling, Melinda Lasiter, Cyndi Montgomery, Sandy Penn, Cheryl Reast, Sharon Sorley, Diane Starnes, and Shannon Traugott. From this election the top three candidates were voted on Tuesday to determine the homecoming queen. The top three chosen by the student body are: Marbara Jones,

Cheryl Reast, and Shannon Traugott.

A bonfire will be held tonight. As usual there will be competition between the classes to see who can collect the most wood.

After the pep rally tomorrow everyone will be getting ready for the big game. The Levelland Lobos meet the Fighting Littlefield Wildcats here in the homecoming tilt.

Football homecoming, being an annual event at LHS is always filled with enthusiasm, activities, and a radiation of spirit. Seniors, this is your last home game and the last time to play against the Levelland Lobos. Let's make this homecoming game one of the best ever.

VOTER'S GUIDE

Published By THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS OF TEXAS • 1841 BINGLE ROAD • HOUSTON, TEXAS

TEXAS GENERAL ELECTION - Nov. 11, 1967

THE League of Women Voters of Texas is a nonpartisan organization which works to promote political responsibility through active informed participation of all citizens in their government. The League DOES NOT support or oppose any political party or candidate. It DOES publish and distribute factual information to help prepare citizens to cast an informed vote.

AMENDMENT NO. 1 - AUTHORIZES COUNTIES TO PUT ALL COUNTY TAX REVENUE INTO ONE GENERAL FUND WITHOUT REGARD TO SOURCE OR PURPOSE.

Financial irresponsibility in the post Civil War period caused the makers of the 1876 Constitution to adopt limitations on property tax rates. In 1883 the Constitution was amended to authorize counties to levy 3 separate taxes with maximum rates for each, and in 1907 a fourth tax was added. These taxes are for: county purposes, road and bridge, permanent improvements and the jury fund. This "Earmarking" of funds was very restrictive and was amended twice. Presently County Commissioners make 4 separate non-voted tax levies on property with the total not to exceed 80¢ on the $100 valuation. Money placed in each fund may be used only for the purposes of that fund.

FOR: Many times there is a surplus in one fund while a shortage exists in another. This has caused surplus funds to be used unwisely while another fund has a great shortage. By permitting all county revenues from non-voted taxes to be placed and used from one general fund, this proposed amendment would give the county commissioners greater control over budgeting procedures and would provide the flexibility necessary to permit the use of revenues collected to meet rapidly changing or unforeseen needs.

AGAINST: This proposed amendment would eliminate the safeguards of proper county budgeting procedure and prompt county commissioners to raise the tax rate to the 80¢ per $100 valuation. With all the money available for unrestricted use, the County Commissioners might not budget properly - they would use available money as the need arises without any consideration of prior need or future plans.

AMENDMENT NO. 2 - PERMITS MUNICIPALITIES, POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS, AND STATE SUPPORTED ENTITIES LOCATED WITHIN A HOSPITAL DISTRICT TO PARTICIPATE IN THE ESTABLISHMENT AND OPERATION OF MENTAL HEALTH, MENTAL RETARDATION, AND PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICES.

The current trend is to make mental health and mental retardation services available to people where they live. To this end the Texas Mental Health and Retardation Act was passed in 1965. It encourages local agencies to assume responsibility for the mental health and mental retardation services and gives local community centers authority to take advantage of staffing and construction grants available under federal legislation. The Attorney General of Texas has held that because the Texas Constitution does not permit other political subdivisions in the boundary of a hospital district to levy taxes for medical and hospital services these political subdivisions may not participate in the establishment of a community center for these purposes. This proposed amendment would change this by providing that the Legislature may authorize the creation of a hospital district and at the same time not restrict other political subdivisions within the hospital district from levying taxes to provide mental health and mental retardation services through community centers. Political subdivisions within existing hospital districts would be authorized to levy taxes for these purposes unless the statute authorizing the hospital district expressly forbids it.

FOR: Almost one-half of the Texas population is found in the metropolitan counties having hospital districts within their boundaries. The passage of this amendment would permit establishment of mental health and mental retardation services in local communities and encourage early treatment and diagnosis. Some political subdivisions have sources of revenue other than the property tax which support hospital districts, and new taxes to provide mental health and mental retardation services would not be necessary. Such taxes, when required at the local level, would eventually be offset by a reduction in the financial support now necessary for the large state mental hospitals and special schools.

AGAINST: A large share of the funds to support the community centers comes from state grants-in-aid. The local hospital district could receive this state aid in order to provide mental health and mental retardation services just as easily as could a community center supported by other than a hospital district. The proposed amendment makes possible a duplication of health programs within the area of a hospital district & could result in higher costs for services provided. Since hospital districts are already financed by a property tax, a similar tax by another political subdivision would create an unfair tax burden.

AMENDMENT NO. 3 - EXTENDS THE VETERANS' LAND PROGRAM BY AUTHORIZING THE SALE OF $200 MILLION OF STATE BONDS TO PURCHASE LAND TO BE SOLD TO VETERANS AND EXPANDS THE PROGRAM TO INCLUDE VETERANS OF VIET NAM.

Presently the definition of "Texas veteran" eligible to participate in the program is left to the legislature. This proposed amendment would incorporate these qualifications in the Constitution as follows: Prescribed military service; citizen of the United States and resident of Texas at the time he files his application to purchase land; honorable discharge from the service; resident of Texas at the time he entered the service or has resided in Texas at least 5 years before the date of filing his application to purchase land. The main change in this from the present statute is that it does not require the veteran to be a resident of Texas at the time he entered the service.

The proposed amendment also authorizes an additional $200 million in bonds to be issued for this program and increases the maximum interest rate on all bonds sold from 3½% to 4½%. This program was started in 1949 when enabling legislation was passed for the Constitutional Amendment adopted in 1946 creating a $25 million fund. In 1951 and 1956 amendments to the constitution were passed increasing the fund to $200 million. In 1963 and 1965 amendments were defeated that would have added to the fund. The program terminated on Dec. 1, 1965. This proposed amendment would re-activate the program and bring the veterans of Viet Nam under its provisions.

FOR: This program does not cost the taxpayer. It will produce an eventual profit on the $400 million from the sale of bonds. The difference in interest paid on the bonds and that received from the veterans puts the program on the credit side of the ledger. Traditionally Texans have shown their appreciation to veterans by making land available - it is only fair that veterans of Viet Nam should have the same privileges.

AGAINST: The availability of "cheap" money tends to invite land purchases by some veterans who have no intention of using it for productive purposes. The fact that the voters have twice defeated an amendment to increase the fund and extend the duration of the program shows that Texans do not want it. The program officially terminated in 1965 and should not be revived, as it is still too early to provide for veterans of Viet Nam, and veterans of other wars had ample time to take advantage of it if they had so wished. The Veterans Land Program may be considered unfair to private business since it is not a function of government to engage in the loan business.

AMENDMENT NO. 4 - AUTHORIZES COUNTIES TO PAY MEDICAL DOCTOR AND HOSPITAL BILLS OF COUNTY LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS FOR INJURIES RECEIVED IN LINE OF DUTY AND TO CONTINUE TO PAY SALARIES OF INJURED OFFICIALS DURING PERIOD OF INCAPACITATION.

This proposed amendment is permissive. At the present time the Texas Constitution prohibits the payment of medical expenses of county law enforcement officers who are injured in the course of official duty. This amendment would make it possible for counties to assume these obligations if they should desire to do so. It does not require that any Commissioners Court must assume this responsibility. It also permits payment of maximum salaries to these officers during their incapacitation or hospitalization until the expiration of their term of office.

FOR: Law enforcement is a dangerous business. County officers often work under hazardous conditions. The medical protection provided for in this amendment is badly needed by county officers, who are not now covered by workmens compensation. Recruitment of law enforcement personnel is one of the greatest problems in the state today. Passage of this proposed amendment would enable counties to be competitive in attracting well trained, capable people. Definite guidelines for the salary continuation of officials will standardize the procedure for all counties.

AGAINST: This is another intrusion of government into what should be private business. It would be better to increase the salaries of the officers and let them plan their own insurance and disability programs. Other county employees should have the same treatment: not some having preferential treatment. Wealthier counties can provide better medical plans; thus making recruitment even harder for counties in a poor financial condition.

AMENDMENT NO. 5 - AUTHORIZES THE PARKS AND WILDLIFE DEPARTMENT TO ISSUE AND SELL GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS IN THE AMOUNT OF $75 MILLION TO FINANCE ACQUISITION AND DEVELOPMENT OF LANDS FOR STATE PARKS AND RECREATIONAL AREAS.

Texas needs more park land. In the past, land has been offered to the State for parks and the offers have had to be refused because of lack of money for development. The Texas Park and Wildlife Department has a plan for the acquisition and development of park land for Texas, but it has been hampered by inadequate appropriations from the legislature. The creation of the Park Development Fund would allow the state to buy land and develop recreational parks. It would also provide for the preservation of 41 historical sites. No one should be more than 2 hours from some park. The Texas Water Development Board has recognized and stressed the recreational value of water resources to be created by it but no provision has been made for acquisition and development of recreational areas adjacent to the reservoirs.

FOR: The investment in state park land acquisition and development would be made by state park users. A $1.00 entrance fee at developed parks would pay off the principal and interest on the bonds. This method was proven feasible in the 1940's when repayment of a similar program was accomplished in 19 years instead of the 35 years expected. Texas needs to begin a program of land acquisition and development for park purposes to meet the demands of a growing population and to stimulate tourist trade. Money from the General Revenue Fund is not available to meet the immediate needs of such a program.

AGAINST: Many people feel that parks should be free with no admission fee expected. Maintenance must still come from legislative appropriation. Estimates of money to be received from admissions fees and costs of repaying the bonds are theoretical. The admission charges might not be sufficient and the taxpayers would have to pay part of the cost. The Land and Water Conservation Fund Act of 1965 provides federal funds on a matching basis for state park acquisition and development. The Legislature should appropriate funds to match federal grants after the amount of any federal grant is determined and as the need arises. It may be unnecessary to issue bonds to raise funds for matching federal grants.

AMENDMENT NO. 6 - PERMITS NON-ELECTIVE STATE OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES TO SERVE IN OTHER NON-ELECTIVE POSITIONS UNDER THE STATE OR UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT WHERE THERE IS NO CONFLICT OF INTEREST AND WHERE THE STATE WILL BENEFIT.

The present law does not permit one to hold 2 positions under the state or United States. Over the years this section of the Constitution has been amended to exempt active and retired officers and enlisted men of various branches of the armed services from this provision; however, these amendments were added before the Air Force and Air National Guard were created as separate branches of the military service. This proposed amendment brings the Constitution up-to-date in this respect. This proposed amendment also states that if the second position is of benefit to Texas or is required by state or federal law and does not conflict with the original position held, the non-elective state officer may hold 2 positions. Also, the proposed amendment prohibits members of the Legislature from holding any other office or position of profit under the state or the United States.

FOR: This proposed amendment would make qualified personnel available for additional state services, thus doing away with the employment of special consultants in many instances. It would also make it possible for personnel of our state-supported schools to serve on national boards with a strong influence on allocation of federal grants. The failure of Texas to receive more than a minimum number of research grants in comparison to some other states has been attributed to this lack of representation on the influential national boards. This could result in governmental economy as funds now used for duplicating activities among the several departments by employees of each would be reduced.

AGAINST: Employees working for both Federal and State governments would be subject to conflicting loyalties. It might have the effect of encouraging state officers and employees to increase their spheres of influence so that power would be concentrated in the hands of a few, and government would become less responsive to the people. The additional burden imposed on state officials and employees through an additional position permitted under this proposed amendment would be unfair and could also lead to less efficiency by requiring that person to divide his time and loyalty between the 2 offices or positions.

WORLD WAR I VETERAN, W. H. Cunningham, right, presented to Lamb County Library 146 authentic documents he has kept since doing undercover work for the Postal Service during the first world conflict. prisoners of war held by the Allies.

The items, mostly printed by leading universities in the Allied countries, were a general coverage of what actually was taking place on the war scene, including such things as peace moves made by various countries.

As Cunningham described them, "They are official information about things of which most people have only an inkling."

He said he had kept the material all these years and the time had come when he and his wife decided something should be done with it. He chose to give it to the Lamb County Library, in memory of the veterans of World War I, so that it could serve a useful purpose. Also, Cunningham thought veterans might like to browse through it.

The contents of the volumes are absolutely official, as described by Cunningham, and provide reliable research material for students or historians.

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham have resided on their farm miles southwest of Littlefield the past 35 years.

Cunningham, who was in the Austin vicinity, moved from there to Haskell, Okla. where he and his wife, Lela Belle, were married. They moved to Lamb County in 1932.

The Cunninghams have children.

HOW THE NEW VETERANS LAND PROGRAM WORKS:

Each veteran would be permitted to purchase under a contract of $10,000 worth of land with a 5 percent down payment, applied to service fees of $50, and legal and recording fees not to exceed $100. Interest charged the veterans on past purchases has not exceeded $10. Payments would be semi-annual and repayment would be completed within a period of 40 years. Any tract of land consisting of minimum of 15 acres may be purchased under the program, there is no requirement as to use. A veteran may also select a tract of more than $10,000, but he will be required to pay the difference between the purchase price of the land and $10,000, which is the amount that would be paid by the Veterans Land Program for each veteran.

A veteran may pay off the loan at any time without penalty and receive a deed to his property. He can also make improvements and carve out an acre for a homestead if needed. If he does not wish to off his transaction in full, under the law, after he has held the property for three years he may transfer his property to an eligible veteran non-veteran. The purchaser would assume the balance due on the tract and continue with the payments. The original veteran would receive his equity from the purchaser at whatever price is agreed between the two parties. Under the Amendment, men or women currently in service and who otherwise qualify may also participate under the Veterans Land Program.

Conservation Aids Soil, Wildlife

BY PATRICK J. RICE
LAMB COUNTY SCS

Soil Conservation practices recommended by the Soil Conservation Service do a lot more than just maintain the productivity of the soil.

Even though the maintenance of that soil is the primary concern of Soil Conservation Service, these practices also save the taxpayer money and provide many people with recreation.

A system of parallel terraces, a diversion or a grassed waterway can save the taxpayer money. Even a conservation cropping system which includes the management of crop residues often saves the taxpayer dollars.

For example, a field with a county road on the downhill side might concentrate enough water once a year during a heavy rain to wash out that county road. A system of parallel terraces could eliminate this maintenance job by retarding the flow of water and holding the washing effect to a minimum. In some cases a grassed waterway might be used or a diversion terrace, but the effect would be about the same depending on the situation.

A conservation cropping system is a system of farming whereby the benefits of a soil improving crop at least offset the detrimental effects of the soil depleting crop. It may include a cover crop and will include crop residue use, which is the management of residues by leaving them on the soil surface. This practice, crop residue use, can keep a road from being covered up with sand when the wind blows. The residue holds the wind up off the soil surface and doesn't let the sand blow. A cover crop of wheat can do the same thing and both of them can save the taxpayer some money by reducing the maintenance cost on that road.

Recreation is another by-product of applying good conservation practices.

The same maize stubble which kept the wind from blowing sand over the road also provides cover and a food supply for game birds, such as quail, dove, sandhill crane and pheasant. These areas provide recreation for people who like to hunt or just watch.

In areas where most of the land is in cultivation these game birds are often hard put to find nesting cover and a winter food supply. Grassed waterways and wind breaks provide these needed areas.

A grassed waterway is designed to carry excess runoff water from the adjoining farm, a diversion or a terrace system, but the quail and other ground nesting birds don't care about that. It provides them with a nesting place where they can nest without being run over by a tractor or a pickup.

A windbreak of trees or shrubs may be planted to protect a field from wind erosion but it also makes a good cover for quail to dust themselves or build a nest. Dove also like the windbreaks for nesting. Other animals like rabbits use them to hide in and as a place to raise their young.

Soil Conservation Service recommends that certain types and slopes of soils be planted to a cover crop of wheat or rye for soil protection, but north of the sandhills in Lamb County a few Pronghorn Antelopes find these areas to be fine winter grazing.
